Groundbreaking for Citizens Memorial Hospital this Thursday

The public is invited to a groundbreaking ceremony at 11 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 28, for the Citizens Memorial Hospital expansion in Bolivar. Lunch will be served after the ceremony.

"This groundbreaking is in conjunction with the 41st anniversary of the hospital opening on Sept. 28, 1982," said Michael Calhoun, CEO/executive director of CMH and the Citizens Memorial Health Care Foundation. "All inpatient areas will move to the expansion. We will repurpose space within the current hospital facility after construction is complete."

The three-story, 117,000-square-foot expansion on the south side of the hospital will double the size of the hospital. Patient care areas moving into the new space include an expanded emergency department, private medical/surgical patient rooms, and an expanded intensive care unit and birthing unit. Additional services include a new kitchen and dining area, the hospital pharmacy and an expanded gift shop.

"We will always be thankful for those who formed the Hospital District in the 1970s," Calhoun said. "Their persistence and vision for a better future for Bolivar, Polk County and beyond is inspiring. With this expansion, we position CMH for continued growth and service for patients in the community and the region."

Work will begin this fall on "make-ready" projects to prepare the construction site. These projects include relocating offices, the kitchen and cafeteria, and additional parking. Construction on the new facility will start in early 2024.

"Our 41st anniversary is a fitting time to kick off the largest facility expansion in the hospital's history," Calhoun said. "Please join us to celebrate this historic event."

Missouri Governor Mike Parson will give special remarks during the ceremony. Hospital and community leaders will present the hospital's history, mission and vision, and the Bolivar High School Chorus will sing the national anthem.

Terri Kirksey, owner of Center Stage, received a call from Nascar in April asking if they would like to perform at Nascar, and she was very excited to have this amazing opportunity for her dancers. Terri hand picked a group of students that were dedicated and up for the task of working hard for hours a day during summer break to put together a great show. The girls worked many hours every week during the summer to perfect a

Prostate cancer survivors stress the importance of early detection

By Linda Simmons
news@bolivarmonews.com

Talk to your physician... don't wait.

Kermit Hargis and Neal Taylor, both want to stress how important it is to always pay attention to your body and what it might be trying to tell you. Prostate cancer symptoms can mimic other health issues and should never be ignored, while screening isn't recommended on a routine basis, talking to your physician and following up with tests that they think are necessary can mean the difference between catching the cancer in an early stage over a more advanced stage.

Kermit Hargis was only 56 years old when he was diagnosed with stage 1 prostate cancer, which is very young for that diagnosis. Hargis was told that most likely his was hereditary, but since his father died at the age of 61, there was no way of knowing for sure. After his treatment, Hargis found that the cancer had returned six months later and proceeded with radiation therapy at that time.

Neal Taylor was 63 at the time of his diagnosis. Taylor was told in the beginning it was most likely an infection and given antibiotics, but when that treatment didn't take care of the problem, he was screened and got the cancer diagnosis. That was when he went forward with surgery.

Both Hargis and Taylor were very active and felt like that was a big help with the recovery and getting back to work and activities.

Taylor returned to work part-time after 10 weeks post-surgery and full-time after 12 weeks. Both men experienced tiredness for six months post-surgery.

Symptoms can vary from person to person, some not having any symptoms at all. Most commonly the symptoms men experience are trouble starting urination, weak or interrupted flow of urine, urinating often, trouble emptying the bladder, pain or burning during urination, blood in the urine or semen, painful ejaculation, and unrelenting pain in the back, hips or pelvis. All men are at risk for prostate cancer and experiencing any of those symptoms warrants a visit with their physician.

Prostate cancer is the most common cancer among men in Missouri.

About one out of nine men in Missouri will be diagnosed with prostate cancer.

All men are at risk for prostate cancer. The older a man is, the higher the risk. Other risk factors are race (African-American men are more likely to develop prostate cancer) and family history (those with a family history are more likely to develop prostate cancer).

Both Hargis and Taylor say there are a lot of options to be considered when a man is facing a prostate diagnosis. Those options need to be considered according to age, lifestyle, and stage of the cancer and each man has to decide what option will be best for him.

Having a support system is also very important, both men were fortunate to have family, friends, and co-workers supporting them through the whole situation. As with any life-threatening diagnosis, depression can be a battle that many men come up against. Hargis and Taylor both stress how important it is to reach out and ask for help. They both are here to prove that when caught early prostate cancer is treatable. Both men are available for support and can be reached via email at kermit.hargis@polkcounty-health.org or neal.taylor@citizensmemorialhospital.com or call 417-326-6000 or 417-326-7250.

Walking for a cure

By Linda Simmons
news@bolivarmonews.com

The Davolt family started their St. Jude Run/Walk teams six-years ago when their granddaughter, Ellie, was diagnosed with leukemia right after her 13th birthday. Thanks to St. Jude and their cutting edge treatments and incredible doctors and nurses, Ellie is cancer-free and starting her freshman year at MSU.

They have supported their team in Tulsa, Oklahoma and one in Kansas City. The local St. Jude Walk in the Dunnegan Memorial Park was started three-years ago and the Davolts have been overwhelmed by the response and support from this community!

"We are so thankful for each and everyone who made the St. Jude Walk such a worthwhile event," said Sue Davolt, "together we raised over $3,000, with additional pledges still pending."

The Davolts are often reminded of St. Jude's motto: Let's cure childhood cancer. Together

2nd Annual Play Fore Pink Golf Tournament To Benefit Babb Cancer Center

Golfers and sponsors alike will have the chance to turn an upcoming round of golf play into a tremendous benefit for a serious cause this October during the first Play Fore Pink golf tournament.

With an 8:30 a.m. tee time on Monday, Oct. 9, the event at Silo Ridge Golf and Country Club in Bolivar will raise money for breast cancer survivors and patients, plus raise awareness of the disease that afflicts 250,000 individuals each year and claims 46,000 victims annually.

GENESIS OF A GREAT IDEA

The Play Fore Pink tournament is the brainchild of Jim Figg — a labor of love for his wife, Jonnie, who lost her own courageous fight with the disease in 2021.

"Jonnie was one in a million, but her story is only one of millions," Figg laments. "We all think it will never happen to our loved one, but no one is protected from this awful disease."

And though men can develop breast cancer also, the proportion of victims is overwhelmingly female, so Figg especially wants to bring more awareness to how men can support their spouse or partner through the difficult seasons of diagnosis and treatment. Play Fore Pink became the perfect idea for reaching men right where they are at — on the golf course, quite often — with more information about the cause along with opportunities to help.

2022 PROVED A SUCCESSFUL EVENT

The inaugural Play Fore Pink Golf Tournament held in October 2022 raised $10,000 that was donated to the Carrie J. Babb Cancer Center. Funds donated support additional financial services for breast cancer patients and survivors.

"I was extremely pleased with the support and results from our inaugural event," stated Figg. "It was a beautiful day to play golf, men were educated about breast cancer and how to support their wives, mothers, sisters and female friends, and we provided some financial assistance to patients and survivors. Those were the goals of last year's tournament and they are the same for this year's tournament."

PLAYING AND PROMOTING WITH PURPOSE

Figg welcomes four player teams to participate in the tournament but has made numerous sponsorships available also for people wishing to offer their support in other ways.

"For $500, a team of four can Play Fore Pink with mulligans, lunch, snacks, water, shirts, microfiber towels, and swag bags included," Figg explains. "But all breast cancer patients and survivors will have their player fees waived, so this is going to be a tournament with lots of heart and purpose."

One very special opportunity is once again being made available: each of the 18 holes will feature a pink hole flag that for $150 can be customized in memory of or in honor of a special person who has experienced breast cancer. Following the tournament, sponsors will be given their flag as a keepsake. Those that purchased commemorative flags for last year's tournament can bring them back to fly again for $100.

BREAST CANCER FACTS AND FIGURES

Breast cancer is a disease that strikes fear into women in particular, and understandably. In 2020, 3.8 million women claimed some history of the disease that is the second leading cause of death in women.

Locally, the Carrie J. Babb Cancer Center at Citizens Memorial Hospital in Bolivar serves hundreds of patients in partnership with Central Care Cancer Center in Kansas. A neighboring hospitality house serves friends and family traveling with their loved one to the cancer center for treatment. Money raised from the Play Fore Pink tournament will assist the Carrie J. Babb Cancer Center in providing oncology, hematology, radiation, and other medical or support services.

"There are lots of great causes out there," Figg adds. "But this one hits close to home for me and a great number of others, so please come out and support this tournament. Together, we will defeat this disease eventually."

For more information about playing in or sponsoring the Play Fore Pink golf tournament, please contact Jim Figg at 573-842-8371 or jim.figg@gmail.com.

15 QUESTIONS WITH Ellie Rocco

Freshman at MSU, leukemia survivor

Family? My mom is Shawna Rocco, Jim and Sue Davolt's daughter, my dad is Mike Rocco, and I have an older sister named Lauren.

Hometown? Tulsa, Oklahoma

Hobbies? I really just love spending time with my friends. Whether that be reading together, watching a show, going to the store, or doing a craft, I'm happy if it's with them.

Favorite time of year? My favorite time of the year is probably summer — for the fashion.

What are you majoring in in college? I am majoring in child and family development with an emphasis in child life.

How old were you when you first went to St. Jude's? I had just turned 13 years old.

What about St. Jude's did you love the most?

I loved the staff the most. They were all incredibly kind and some of the best people I have ever had the pleasure of knowing. I knew every doctor, nurse, and receptionist genuinely wanted the best for me.

What was the most frightening part about being there? The most frightening part was not knowing what would happen to me. I knew I was in the most capable hands in the world and I tried to keep a positive attitude but there was still that underlying fear of death.

What other country would you want to visit? I was able to go to Italy with some classmates my junior year of high school and would love to go back. But my dream trip that I've never done would have to be Greece.

What advice would you give a young person that is going to St. Jude's? It will all be okay. You're in the best place in the world and they will take care of you.

What website do you visit most on the web? Unfortunately, it's probably Blackboard for my school assignments.

Favorite book? My favorite book is Second Chance Summer.

CENTER STAGE

15-minute non-stop routine that was race car themed for the Nascar opening ceremonies.

Dancers were entertaining the spectators right before the races began, then were able to enjoy the heart bounding sounds of engines as the race started. Performers, family and friends, totalling 131 in the Center Stage group, watched the dancers perform on stage and then enjoyed the rest of day watching the race and getting to see cars and drivers up close and personal.

Terri has been able to take her dancers on many amazing adventures like performing in Hawaii at the 75th Anniversary of Pearl Harbor, the 100th running of the Indy 500, Disney World (twice), Harlem Globetrotters, Macy's Parade and now the 75th running of Nascar. She prides herself on creating these amazing memories, experiences and opportunities for her students. Her next big adventure is in the works. We will have to wait and see what she has planned.

Honoring Our Veterans

This Nov. 11, the Polk County Genealogical Society (PCGS), will be honoring veterans with a display of carnations on the front steps of their building. Individuals will have the opportunity to purchase a carnation to honor a veteran. A card will be attached to the carnation with the veteran's name and service information. Then PCGS volunteers will place the carnations on the steps of the PCGS Research Facility early on Nov. 11. Any veteran, whether living or deceased may be honored. The veteran does not need to be from Polk County.

If you have a veteran to honor, you may go online at <https://forms.gle/J6aZFxkgGwd8R1qm7> and submit the information. Then send a check to PCGS or stop by with payment. Forms are also available at the PCGS Research Facility at 120 East Jackson in Bolivar. The cost is $10 per carnation and veteran honored. Payment is due by Oct. 27.

There are two purposes with this project. First, and most importantly, is to honor the veterans who have sacrificed for the United States with their time and in some cases with their lives. Also, this is a fundraiser so PCGS can continue to promote genealogical research and preserve the history of Polk County.

The Polk County Genealogical Society is open Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. The Polk County Genealogical Society may also be reached by telephone at 417-777-2820.

MEMORIALS

The following are paid memorials provided by family and friends.

A. Delores Heimsoth

Dec. 25, 1937-Sept. 20, 2023

A. Delores Heimsoth, 85, of Sedalia, passed away on Wednesday, Sept. 20, 2023, at E.W. Thompson Health and Rehabilitation Center in Sedalia. She was born on Dec. 25, 1937, in Huron, Polk County, MO, the daughter of Ernest Wilson Barker and Zelma Jewel Barker, who preceded her in death.

Delores was the oldest of four sisters. She attended school in Bolivar, and made many trips to California as a child while her parents worked in the fruit harvest. She married Neil Heimsoth in 1963 and was blessed with two sons. The family lived in Rogersville, Rolla, and finally, Sedalia. Delores completed high school in Bolivar, and later in life, attended State Fair Community College.

She was baptized as a child into the Baptist church. Delores was baptized and confirmed on May 4, 1967, at Redeemer Lutheran Church, Springfield. Later in life, Delores joined Our Savior Lutheran Church and later worshiped the Lord at Broadway Presbyterian and First Christian Church in Sedalia, which became her church home with many friends.

Delores worked for Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in Springfield, early in her career. Later, she worked for State Fair Community College in Sedalia, rising to secretary to the president. She also worked for the Sedalia Area Chamber of Commerce and the Katy Depot.

Delores loved to travel. She traveled to Ireland, New Zealand, and Australia with her second husband, Kenneth Lumpe. She cherished her trips to New Orleans to see her son, Greg, and his husband, Angel. Her good friends Mary Lee McGuire, Nedra Zimmerschied, and Sandy Larsen often accompanied her to New Orleans and had many wild adventures. She would spend long hours in telephone conversations with her friends, loved tea parties, playing cards, and especially winning at dominos.

Delores had many close friends, all thought of at this time, including Betty Goldsmith, whom she considered a sister, having been friends since 1974, and Theresa Walker, a cherished friend who introduced Delores to much of her family's history through genealogy research.

She leaves two sons, Christopher Heimsoth of Jefferson City and Gregory Heimsoth, a son-in-law, Angel Soto of New Orleans; two grandchildren, Cole Heimsoth and Hope (Jacob) Vogt; she is also survived by one sister, Phyllis Wilkinson of Springfield, and one brother-in-law, Bob Andrews of Bolivar; and many nieces, nephews, and friends.

In addition to her parents, Delores was preceded in death by two sisters, Rita Renee Meadows and Hazel Andrews.

Delores' two sons follow her wishes to be cremated with no services held.

Memorials may be made to First Christian Church, Hospice, or the charity of your choice in lieu of flowers.

Arrangements are under the direction of Rea Funeral Chapel.

The following is printed at Delores's request.

"Do not stand at my grave and weep...

I am not there, I do not sleep.

I am a thousand winds that blow. I am the diamond glints on snow. I am the sunlight on ripened grain. I am the gentle autumn rain. When you awake in morning's hush, I am the swift up flinging rush of quiet birds in circling flight. I am the soft star shine at night.

Do not stand at my grave and cry...

I am not there. I did not die."

Harold Lee Weaver

Jan. 20, 1931-Sept. 15, 2023

Harold Lee Weaver died at Presbyterian Hospital of Santa Fe on Friday, Sept. 15, 2023, at the age of 92, due to congestive heart failure. Harold was originally from Kansas City, Kansas, born Jan. 20, 1931. He retired to Fair Play, in 1989, and relocated to Santa Fe, New Mexico in November 2022.

He is survived by his son, Steven Harold Weaver, of Santa Fe, New Mexico, and by his sister, Donna Ramos, of Kansas City. He was predeceased by his wife, Gatha Stinnette Weaver, and his son Douglas Lee Weaver. He is also predeceased by sisters Ivan Sullivan, Hazel French, Betty Goforth, Barbara Jean Weaver, and brothers Charles Weaver, and Leon Weaver.

Harold worked as a sales representative for over 40 years as an employee for Fred Pauls & Co., Ebling-Case Co., Case Supply, and Flintkote, selling floor covering, tile, carpeting, and hardware supplies. He served as a member of the Army National Guard in Kansas City in his 20's. He ran unsuccessfully for office in the city government of Kansas City, Kansas, but served on a public board.

Late in life, he became more private, but his great love was his home which looked out over Stockton Lake to the west, and his dogs, his garden, and nature. His final challenge was vascular dementia, which he weathered with impatience, but grace, for the last three years.

No services or memorial are scheduled.

Dee remembered by many

Bear with me as we take time to remember Dee, for more than 23 years my South Dakota Bride, but much more than just the local newspaper editor's wife.

Dee was a force and personality all her own. Born DeAnn Joy Galbavy on April 28, 1952, in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, at age 14 she was one of six children left fatherless by her dad's untimely death.

When we met in the fall of 1970 Dee had come to Springfield to attend Baptist Bible College, and subsequently took a job as a bus girl at Bonanza Sirloin Pit, where I was an assistant manager. By Christmas we were an item of scandalous talk — a BBC freshman and an SMS senior — and in March we were married in her church.

For reasons I've never known, Dee had "unsettling" experiences before we met, living for a time with a couple from church, for a summer with an aunt in Washington State, and another summer on a mission trip in Taos, New Mexico (where she developed a passion for sopapillas).

Though not the eldest sibling, at the time Dee seemed the glue that held her disparate family together. Her older sister was married to a musician and living in Arkansas, her older brother was a US Marine veteran recently returned from Vietnam, her younger sister was a college student, and two younger brothers still lived at home with their mother in Sioux Falls. Though just 18, she was way more mature than I was at 23.

Dee and I were scarcely wed when Uncle Sam called and we headed for North Carolina, where our daughter, Angela, was born on the last day of 1971. Not quite five years later, while I was news editor in Bolivar, a second girl, Melissa came along.

Wife and mother were arguably Dee's most important roles, but along the way she was a bus girl, deli worker, waitress, heat-seal machine operator, store clerk and a newspaper advertising director, none of which allowed her to finish college.

Though she never aspired to a newspaper advertising career, she excelled at it — all the while feeling insecure because she did not have the college degree touted by many of her contemporaries.

She might have realized that goal, had she not lost her life on Sept. 30, 1994, three years and four months after our eldest daughter was killed in a car crash.

Cancer got the blame, but I have to believe it was a mother's grief that claimed the life of my South Dakota bride.

JIM HAMILTON
JHAMILTON000@CENTURYTEL.NET

Yet, she is remembered, not just by friends and family, but by legions of newspaper advertising professionals. Shortly after her passing, Dee's peers on the Missouri newspapers made her their "Old Pro Award" namesake.

Today the award is officially the Missouri Press Advertising and Marketing Executives Dee Hamilton Memorial Sales Pro Award. The most recent recipient was Pam Simmons, senior account executive with the St. Louis American Newspaper.

Let that soak in. Dee's name hangs on the wall in that big St. Louis newspaper, as well as dozens more around the state.

We should all be proud. She was Buffalo's "Old Pro" before even she knew.

Archery deer season

Urban deer hunters (bow hunters, archery hunters) hunt in urban park and near urban housing developments in Columbia, Missouri. They meet and interact with citizens. They also harvest a deer and bring it out of woods near residential house. They use deer stands. CLIFF WHITE

November is still the prime month for deer hunters, but more and more whitetail enthusiasts are circling Sept. 15 on their calendars, too.

As many local deer hunters know, Sept. 15 is the opening date of Missouri's archery deer season. (Technically, it's the opening of the archery deer and turkey season because turkeys taken by archery methods are legal harvests during this season, too. However, when most people refer to the "bow season," they're talking about this season as it applies to hunting deer.)

As usual, the season has two segments — Sept. 15 to Nov. 10 and Nov. 22 through Jan. 15. These segments wrap around the November firearms season.

The season limit for an archery permit is two deer (and two turkeys if you choose to archery hunt for turkeys), providing that only one antlered deer is taken prior to Nov. 10. In addition to this, bow hunters can buy additional archery antlerless permits for most counties in Missouri. These permits are for antlerless deer only. The map of where these permits are valid can be found in the "2023 Fall Deer & Turkey Hunting Regulations and Information" booklet, a free publication available at all Missouri Department of Conservation offices and most sites that sell hunting permits.

Of course, it needs to be remembered that the archery deer season isn't only an opportunity for hunters to bag deer; it's also a chance for landowners to alleviate deer problems they may be experiencing. People who do not have the time or interest to hunt white-tails might be able to solve their deer problems by asking for help from people who hunt. This doesn't have to be a blanket invitation that opens your land to all hunters. Talking to your neighbors or asking people at your workplace or church if they'd be interested in hunting deer are good ways to stay in control of the hunting traffic on your land. Your acreage may be too small to be viable for firearms hunting, but archery — a method that consists of shots made from a much shorter range, is often a viable solution to deer problems.

FRANCIS SKALICKY
MISSOURI DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

As you, the landowner, talk to people interested in hunting on your land, here are some questions that will help you screen prospective hunters:

- How long have you been hunting deer?
- When will you be hunting — morning, evening, weekday, weekend, specific dates, etc?
- Will you be bringing anyone with you?
- What kind of vehicle will you be driving?
- Can you give me a courtesy call the day before you come to my land?

- Would you be willing to hunt only does? (If you have deer problems due to an overabundance of deer, studies have shown that taking does is the most effective way of reducing overall deer numbers.)

None of these questions should be considered invasive. As the property owner, you're merely trying to learn more about the hunter or hunters whom you're going to trust to be on your land. Conversely, there are also questions responsible and courteous hunters should ask landowners. These questions will not only help with this year's hunting but may pave the way for hunts in future years as well. Hunters should ask:

- Where are your property boundaries?
- Are there any restrictions on when or where I can hunt?
- How do your neighbors feel about hunting?
- Can I use tree stands, screw-in steps, etc.?
- Do you mind if I field-dress the deer on your land? (If the answer is "yes," ask where you can field-dress deer so that you'll be able to dispose of the waste parts in an out-of-the-way area.)

Also, unless told otherwise, always presume that any gate you pass through on the property needs to be shut behind you, both when entering and exiting the property.

More information about this year's archery season, or about other upcoming deer hunting opportunities can be found in the above-mentioned publication or at mdc.mo.gov.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

Hi, my name is Joyce Moss, I have spent 40-plus summers at Lake Pomme de Terre. We became homeowners in 1999, and moved here permanently in 2018. We have watched the lake's clarity degrade over those forty years. In 1984 you could see your feet when you swam, that's long gone now. I believe the worst degradation has happened in the past 5-years. We've had toxic blue-green algae blooms closing down beaches and making people sick.

Now we have a meat processing plant apply for a permit to discharge 350,000 gallons of effluent daily from their Pleasant Hope plant. How on earth can this not be harmful to our beautiful Pomme de Terre Lake? The ecological impact would be devastating to a lake and river already stressed by other pollutants.

Destroying Lake Pomme de Terre would reduce the state's revenue from outdoor recreation which is such a huge money generator for the State of Missouri. Tourism is big in this part of the state. If the lake becomes contaminated, lost revenues for every business that rely on tourists would be devastating.

Clean water is essential. It's irreplaceable. I want our children and grandchildren and for all the generations ahead to be able to splash along the shore at sunset. It's time for us to act. It's time to make the commitment to keep contamination out of our water.

I am reaching out to you to see what you can do to ensure the waste coming from this plant does not become an environmental disaster.

Sincerely,
Joyce Moss

Grief support program offered to the local community

The loss of a loved one can have powerful effects on each of us. If you are looking for a caring small group in which to find support, encouragement, and help, then our GriefShare groups might be just the thing you are looking for. This program is a grief support group that features Christ-centered, biblical teaching that focuses on grief topics associated with the death of a loved one. The DVD seminar features nationally respected grief experts, counselors, and real-life stories of people just like you, followed by a small group discussion about what was seen on the DVD.

The fact of the matter is that many grieving people find they are only beginning the work of healing when friends or family have returned to their daily life routines. Your bereavement experience may be recent or not so recent. You will find encouragement, comfort, and help in grieving the death of a spouse, child, parent, sibling, other family member, or friend. No matter what the cause of your loved one's death, this is an opportunity to be around people who understand what you are feeling.

Through this program you will learn how to recognize the symptoms of being stuck in grief and that you do not need to live in bondage as a slave to certain emotions.

Community Outreach Ministries – continue to fight hunger

COM's food pantry is visited by all kinds of people. About one quarter of pantry shoppers are seniors, others are unemployed individuals, and many are working one or two jobs.

COM operates a shopper's choice, grocery store-style pantry that is open three days per week. Families can come to the pantry and shop to pick out their own food. This not only allows them to get food they like and will use, but as they shop they are also able to have conversations with volunteers, staff, and other shoppers. We believe this relational aspect is really important.

COM also does a mobile food pantry at LIFE Church in Humansville once a month on the second Tuesday at 8:30 am.

At COM, combating food insecurity is a two-prong strategy. Providing food through the pantry is just the first step. We offer food in order to remove that concern from people so they are in a better position to focus on long-term goals. But, the second step is engaging with people to work on long-term development goals that improve their stability. This is done through our life skills classes and one-on-one case management opportunities.

COM offers a shopper's choice, walk-thru food pantry three days a week where individuals can pick out free food to take home. STAFF PHOTO/LINDA SIMMONS

MDC confirms 117th confirmed mountain lion sighting in Missouri

This sighting was confirmed in Shannon County on Sept. 12

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. – The Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) confirms that an adult elk was killed by a mountain lion in Shannon County on Sept. 12.

Reports of a mountain lion sighting were sent to MDC staff early on Sept. 12, and members of MDC's Large Carnivore Response Team responded to the area later that same day to confirm the sighting. Trail camera images were used to confirm that a mountain lion was in the area and had returned to the elk carcass to feed. "Mountain lions are natural predators to elk, and this scenario is nothing to be concerned about," says MDC Furbearer Biologist Nate Bowersock. "Here in Missouri, we have an abundant of natural foods for mountain lions. While we do get questions regarding livestock, there has never been a confirmed instance of a mountain lion killing livestock in Missouri."

Mountain lions are known to travel through Missouri, but there is no known breeding population in the state. MDC staff did collect genetic samples from the site which are in the process of being analyzed to provide further information about the animal such as the sex of the animal. Most confirmed sightings of mountain lions in Missouri are males.

MDC continues to monitor confirmed mountain lion sightings in the state, and this sighting marks the 117th confirmed sighting since 1994. Suspected mountain lion sightings can be reported to MDC by emailing photos, video, or physical evidence to mountain.lion@mdc.mo.gov. More information about mountain lions in Missouri can be found at <https://short.mdc.mo.gov/4eV>.

NIE Newspapers in Education

Those who designed our constitutional system wrestled with the matter of the presidency. We fought the Revolutionary War to escape the tyranny of King George. Yet, the first attempt to govern ourselves under the Articles of Confederation failed in part because of the lack of a single executive officer. The prospect of a President of the United States of America was frightening to many, yet the Framers realized the country could not succeed without one.

This ambivalence is captured in the contradictory positions presented by those who created our system of government. Alexander Hamilton argued in favor of an executive chosen for life, with a veto power that could not be overridden by Congress. Thomas Jefferson countered this idea, writing "I am astonished at some people's considering a kingly government as a refuge." John Adams thought the chief executive should be referred to as "His Highness, the President of the United States and Protector of their Liberties." Benjamin Franklin saw the presidency in a starkly different light: "In free governments, the rulers are the servants."

Despite these disagreements, most of the Framers recognized the necessity of overcoming these differences and successfully completing their vital task. As Gouverneur Morris observed, "And this must take place or general anarchy will be the alternative."

The answer for the Framers of the Constitution was to establish a President of the United States, while creating check after check upon the power the president would possess and exercise. The president's authority as commander-in-chief was limited by providing Congress with the ultimate decision on whether war should be declared.

The president's capacity to negotiate treaties with other nations was restricted by the requirement of Senate ratification.

"THE IDEA OF SEPARATING THE EXECUTIVE BUSINESS OF THE CONFEDERACY FROM CONGRESS, AS THE JUDICIARY IS ALREADY IN SOME DEGREE, IS JUST AND NECESSARY."
THOMAS JEFFERSON
TO JAMES MADISON, 1787

Similarly, while the president was given the power to make appointments to key governmental posts, those positions would not be filled until the Senate provided confirmation. The president is empowered to veto legislation passed by Congress, but the Framers gave Congress the ability to override that veto. The president leads the Executive Branch, yet the Constitution imposes the requirement that the president faithfully execute the laws enacted by the Legislative Branch. Finally, the president can be impeached by the House of Representatives and removed by the Senate.

The Framers' uncertainty about the executive foreshadowed later controversies over presidential power. Since the end of World War II, Harry Truman's seizure of the nation's steel mills during the Korean War, Richard Nixon's assertion of executive privilege during Watergate, Bill Clinton's claim of presidential immunity from a sexual harassment suit and George W. Bush's policy of detention of enemy combatants after 9/11 each resulted in Supreme Court rulings that these presidential actions were inconsistent with the Constitution.

The genius of the Constitution is that the president is empowered to do what is necessary for the government to function, but that power is inevitably checked to ensure additional voices are heard and the whim of one person does not become the policy of the United States. Looking back, the Framers' varied ideas came together to ensure that for more than two hundred years the president has functioned as a servant of the public and the Constitution and no single individual within the government operates as the ultimate protector of our liberties.

By Cameron Holcomb
news@bolivarmonews.com

After a good start by the Liberators on Thursday, Sept. 21, the team fell short of Glendale 3-11. Bolivar put up a 3-2 lead through the first 4 innings.

Putting the team on the board was Carly Cribbs with a well-executed bunt hit driving in a run. This was followed by a great hit-and-run play by Kacey Jenkins. On the defensive side, Bolivar's starting pitcher, Makayla Methvin, started off well allowing less than five hits and only two runs in the first four innings.

In the last four innings, everything stopped for the Liberators, as the Glendale Falcons put up nine total runs in the fifth and sixth innings. The offense could not keep up as the bats fell silent. Quickly the momentum Bolivar had built, faded.

The Liberators fell to a 7-and-11 record following the loss. They look to right the ship in this week filled with strong competition.

On Tuesday, Sept. 26, Bolivar will play Lebanon, a familiar opponent and one who they beat 10-4 earlier in the season. Thursday, Sept. 28, the Liberators will host their senior night as they play Kickapoo. The team wraps up this month of softball with a double header on Saturday, Sept. 30, hosting both Aurora and Monett.

This team is filled with lots of young talent that continues to show flashes throughout their season. The Liberators need to win out this week to end the year over .500 going into the postseason. Head coach Kenyon Breedlove looks to take this team to the potential they have going forward.

2nd basemen Harper Rowell ends the top of the third inning with this catch.

LaSalle's Liberators defend the crown 49-28

By Bob Campbell
news@bolivarmonews.com

After a full day of Homecoming festivities, the Bolivar Liberator football team squared off with the Glendale Falcons at Plaster Stadium on the campus of Southwest Baptist University.

The Liberators were looking to rebound from defeat at Lebanon who is one of the best running teams in Southwest Missouri. They were facing a Falcon team who lives and dies with the passing game. Last season's Liberators struggled to stop teams who ran this type of offense.

Both teams had identical winning records at 3-1.

Glendale started the game with the ball first and with the first play from scrimmage scored on a 78-yard pass play to go up 7-0.

Bolivar fumbled the kickoff but recovered on the 23-yard line.

Bolivar moved the ball for a first down but penalties forced them to punt.

The Falcons lost the ball when Liberator Mason McCurry jarred the ball loose and recovered the fumble. The Liberators had the ball on the 46-yard line.

Gardner Casey took a pass from Drake Durham good for 22 yards, but a penalty made it 1st down with 15 yards to go. The next play the Liberator quarterback ran into a stiff Falcon defense and was sacked for an 8-yard loss. After two more incompletions, Bolivar was forced to punt.

The Falcons completed a 35-yard pass to the 45-yard line. Two plays later they struck with a pass to the 13-yard line. With Glendale, threatening penalties forced the Falcons to try a field goal. The snap was not good and the Liberators had stopped another advance.

The Liberator's offense began to gel. Starting at the 25-yard line Casey snared a pass to the 40-yard line. The Liberators were forced to take an 8-yard loss, but Evan Nickels moved the ball back to the 40-yard line to allow Trenton Patke to sneak a 17-yard run.

Bolivar punted and Glendale could not move the ball partly because of pressure from Bolivar's defensive line.

Patke fielded the punt on the 30-yard line and returned it to the 24-yard line. Durham and Patke got in sync in the running game as they have most of the season, as Patke ran for a 13-yard touchdown and Durham scored two points after — Bolivar 8-7.

The second quarter began with the Falcons going four downs and out turning the ball to the Liberators on the 46-yard line.

Casey drew a pass interference call and Durham ran the ball to the 19-yard line. Durham finished off the drive with a touchdown to put Bolivar up 14-7.

The Falcons moved the ball down the field until the Liberator's defensive back, Conner Neal picked a Falcon pass off.

Patke continued to advance the ball on the ground and Neal made a nice reception before Durham made a 40-yard run to paydirt to spread the lead to Bolivar 21-7.

The Falcons took the kickoff and moved the ball through the air to the Bolivar 40-yard line. The Falcon quarterback left the game with an injury and the Liberator defense forced a punt which Liberator defensive lineman Tate Mashburn blocked, giving his team the ball on the Bolivar 32-yard line.

Durham found Jason Wilkinson open for a 32-yard touchdown strike — Bolivar 28-7.

Glendale answered after the kick-off with an 82-yard score of their own to make the score, Bolivar 28-14.

The Liberators to the kickoff and went to work.

#61 Brayden Benjamin leads the offensive line to block and spring #38 Trenton Patke free for another big gain.

The Falcons held Bolivar and forced them to punt.

Liberator defensive back Boone Shockley picked off a Falcon pass and the Liberator's offense went back to work.

Durham moved the ball on a run to the 3-yard line and slipped into the end-zone to score his third touchdown of the night, Bolivar 35-14.

After Liberator head coach Jamie LaSalle went to the locker room at half-time, he and his staff must have given them a lot of energy drinks because they came out and played the second half strong.

Bolivar took the kick-off and Patke fumbled at the 33-yard line for a Falcon touchdown, Bolivar 35-20.

Patke redeemed himself on the kick-off scoring a 10-yard touchdown minutes later

With a 43-20 lead both teams had a hard time getting any traction in the third quarter.

The start of the fourth quarter saw some fireworks as the Falcons connected on a couple of big pass plays to get closer, 42-28.

Workhorse Patke moved the ball on the ground to get Durham in position for his fourth touchdown, Bolivar finished 49-28 with their record at 4-1 at the midseason point.

Bolivar will host a strong Camdenton team on Friday, Sept. 29, at home for their next game.

IT ALL ADDS UP...

Kcee Reichert

By Deanna Moore
news@bolivarmonews.com

...the feeling you get when you get to be a tiny reason for someone's success, it's worth everything.

Kcee Reichert is a high school math teacher at Bolivar High School. She has developed a way to make math and school fun for many students. She didn't go into teaching until after taking a different path, but eventually realized her true love was math and being able to pass that along to others led her to becoming a teacher.

What inspired you to be a teacher?

I tutored at OTC while I was in college pursuing a different career path. One of my math teachers would sometimes help in the tutoring center and he said that I would be a great teacher. He said I had a way of adapting to whomever I was tutoring and explaining things where they understood what I was saying. He convinced me that I had a gift. The rest is...well, math. :)

Who has been the biggest influence in your life and why?

Bar none...my mother. Even though I only had her for 15 years, her voice is who I hear cheering me on and/or advising me. She was a fantastic mother, a hard worker, and the most loyal friend a person could have. Who wouldn't want to be just like that?

What do you consider the most challenging part of teaching?

It's definitely not the kids!! They are the best reason to show up everyday. I am not the best at the boring part of teaching. I enjoy teaching the kids, but the days when we are there, but the kids are not...that's the most challenging part.

- Are you a woman?
- Are you 35 - 64 years old?
- Are you without insurance?

SCAN ME

If you had not become a teacher, what path would you have followed?

I worked 11-years in pharmacy before becoming a mathematics teacher. I could easily see myself in the medical field. I love helping people so a job like a physician or nurse practitioner would be right up my alley.

What is one of your funniest teaching experiences?

When I first started teaching, my new classroom contained everything I needed, including a phone. I noticed the little red light on the phone, but I assumed it was indicating that the power was on...since it was plugged into the outlet too. I think it was the end of October when a co-worker pointed to the light on the phone and said, "Voicemails, I hate 'em." I wanted to quit and never return. Instead, I answered the 900 voicemails I had been racking up since August. Oops.

What advice would you give someone wanting to pursue a career in teaching?

Teaching is not for the faint of heart. You worry about being a good teacher, you worry about your students, way beyond working hours and content. You spend an enormous amount of time investing in your job because it matters to so many kids. But the feeling you get when you get to be a tiny reason for someone's success, it's worth everything.

If you could time travel, would you travel forward to when or backward to when? And why?

Backward. I'm scared to go forward. There are several decades I would love to experience, but the ones where I got to relive my childhood with my mom and sister would be the time I wanted to live in the most.

FRIENDS '74 Sisters

FOR LIFE

By Linda Simmons
news@bolivarmonews.com

When six little girls started first-grade at Fair Play school in 1962 they would never have thought about what they would be doing – together – in 2023! How could they have known that the bond they were forming in first grade would continue to grow until graduation in 1974 and then get stronger and never fade, all the way into 2023. Karren Pickering Bruce, Vicki Ellison Sterling, Becky Hornbeck Meyerpeter, Mary Anne Snodgrass Courtney, Rona Dickerson Counts and Karel Mitchell Jeffries are not just friends, they are the “74 Sisters” and no amount of time or distance can change that.

All through their school years these friends were working and playing together and they all agree that having their mothers and grandmothers help them with class parties and events was one reason they all stayed so close and active.

While they all had their activities that they were involved in — cheerleading, basketball, softball, volleyball, high school musicals — they were always there to cheer each other on and have each other's backs.

They managed to raise funds to help cover their senior trip to Disney World and to Atlanta to watch Hank Aaron play for the Atlanta Braves.

After graduating in 1974 the girls all went their own way, with jobs, college, getting married, moving away, but even then they stayed in close contact with each other. Raising their families and going through life's many changes — birth of children, losing family members — keeping in touch was always very important to them.

And the memories they have made on their annual "Girls Trip" is what will always give them reason to laugh and poke fun at each other. They always travel together, in the same vehicle, that's what makes the memories even more fun to remember. Traveling to Gulf Shores, Savannah, Tennessee, South Carolina, Hannibal, Oklahoma — every trip has memories that will last a lifetime and always make them laugh.

The bond these girls have is very true and special. Proof of that has to be recognized by the memory they shared from Rona's wedding on Sept. 28, 2018. All five were in the wedding party, and the wedding was in a creek. Not on the creek bank, but IN Bear Creek. A beautiful setting with the wedding party all in white and so happy for their friend. That is until the snakes decided to join the party, that gave them all reason to question how strong that friendship bond really was! But they stuck together and the wedding took place — and they are all still friends and able to laugh about it today!

In 2013 Karren Bruce was diagnosed with breast cancer and had surgery. That is when the 'sisters' were there through it all, doing everything they could to help Karren during this ordeal. Even taking care of her store during a busy Christmas open house event. That has been nearly 10 years ago and now they still come and help out each Christmas during that busy time.

So, those little girls in 1962 are now getting ready to celebrate their 50th class reunion soon and they have not let time nor distance change their hearts — they were best friends then and they are best friends now — "Nevermore 74".

How could they have known that the bond they were forming in first grade would continue to grow ...all the way into 2023.

Dakotah Lear & Chayla Hughes

By Linda Simmons
news@bolivarmomnews.com

Dakotah Lear and Chayla Hughes have been friends for somewhere in the vicinity of eight-years. They became friends through mutual friends and Dakotah's brother and sister-in-law. They have always enjoyed doing life together as friends, never knowing where that friendship would take them. Little did they know, God had a plan for them the whole time.

After having their son Tyten, Dakotah and Tyler later found out that they were not going to be able to have any more babies. The doctors told Dakotah she had a decision to make regarding her health and that decision led to her having a full hysterectomy. This decision was not something that came easy and they kept it a total secret, not informing family in the beginning. "It's really not something a 28-year-old woman wants to hear, especially when you're trying to conceive," said Dakotah.

"Literally, it wasn't 24-hours after we made this decision that I told Tyler I felt like I needed to tell Chayla," said Dakotah. Tyler wasn't sure why and when he asked about it, Dakotah said she really didn't know why either, she just felt like she needed to tell her what was going on.

Making this decision to have the surgery the idea came to light that maybe Dakotah could preserve her eggs before surgery. The doctor confirmed that would be a possibility, if they could get it done promptly.

Again, the thought and feeling that she needed to tell Chayla never left Dakotah's heart. Even then, it wasn't really clear as to why she had that feeling that she needed to tell Chayla, they were friends, but not to the point that they called each other every day to report on their day.

Making contact with the doctor in Kansas City, Dakota had her eggs retrieved and in less than 2 weeks, had a complete hysterectomy. After that she asked Tyler, "What are we going to do with these embryo's?" His response was, "Your guess is as good as mine!" Surrogacy agencies are available, but neither of us wanted to go that route. "We were not ok with a total stranger carrying our child. We wanted someone that would forever be a part of our lives, and our children's lives" said Dakotah.

That's when Chayla came to mind again, just the need to reach out to her, kept getting heavier on my heart. To see if maybe she knew somebody that could carry for us. "I just didn't know, I just knew God was telling me to talk to her and maybe she could give us some direction," said Dakotah. Tyler suggested they invite them over for dinner to have this conversation, not send them a text! "But, of course, I didn't listen to him, I was afraid they would dart for the door, once I brought it up! So I sent her a pretty long text briefly telling her what was going on and that she has been heavy on my heart from the beginning and I didn't really know why. At the end of the message, I included 'maybe we can have dinner and talk more about it.' As I was sending that text, it was like a weight was being lifted off my chest, I just knew I was supposed to reach out to her.

It took Chayla a day to reply — being a person that has to analyze things a little, she needed some time to give this text a little thought. But after that Chayla's response was — let's have dinner! "Tyler and I knew from that, that she would have some type of direction for us!"

Chayla has family that had been involved with surrogacy and that really helped for her to be able to get their input about what she was going to be proposing to do for the Learns.

GOD THING!

Chayla was a Gestational Carrier.

Gestational Carrier Definition: a woman who carries & delivers a child for another couple (intended parents). Carrier does not have any biological connection to the child.

Tyler and Dakotah Lear were Intended parents.

Intended parents Definition: a couple who cannot conceive on their own. An embryo is created by the intended parents and implanted into the gestational surrogate welcome! “Our family and friends showered Dyce with wonderful gifts and we were able to shower Chayla with love and honor to the Hughes family for all the sacrifices they have made for us, it was a wonderful and emotional day for all of us,” said Dakota.

December quickly arrived. With both of Chayla’s children, she had delivered early. With the size Dyce was growing and with her history, they really thought he would for sure be here before Christmas! “My mother even bought us a ‘Baby’s 1st Christmas’ 2022 ornament! I really think that jinxed us,” said Dakotah.

Christmas came and went and still no baby. We hired a birth and postpartum Doula for Chayla. At this point, we wanted no more than to keep her comfortable and we knew they could do just that!

In this situation, a birth plan had to be created a little differently. Dakotah and Chayla had to make one individually and then they made one together.

“After the baby’s arrival, Chayla and I both wanted her to have her time to close this chapter however she felt necessary, and the baby and Tyler and I were supposed to leave the room. But God had other plans. As traditional Lear style, Dyce decided to arrive fashionably late. Arriving on Jan. 4, 2023.

He was 9 pounds 6 ounces and 22 inches long. Chayla delivered him naturally and they were all in a room together. “Even though it didn’t go as planned, I was glad it worked the way it did. I was able to witness Dakotah and Tyler meet their son for the very first time. It was a very humbling and rewarding experience. I had a sense of empowerment that I had never felt before,” said Chayla.

“The feeling of ‘I actually did this!’ was truly an experience I will never forget,” said Chayla.

As for the Lear family, there will never be enough “thank you’s” to give Chayla or her family. “I have never met a person like her and I’m not sure we ever will. Chayla gave us LIFE and completed our family. And little did we know, God had this planned out when our paths crossed,” said Dakota.

As for now, both families are still adjusting and getting back to routine. We are raising our children and making sure they all know how amazing Chayla really is.

On April 14, 2022 they did their last and final transfer. Chayla, Dakotah and their spouses knew that they had done everything possible for this to either be a start of a new beginning or a closing to an unforgettable journey. Just 10-days later, which just so happened to be Tyler’s birthday, Dakotah arrived at Chayla’s house. “I remember sitting in her drive praying for this to be a new beginning. And to be honest, I hadn’t gotten anything for Tyler for his birthday, because I so badly wanted to be able to surprise him with baby news,” said Dakotah. “I remember walking in the door and Chayla saying, “Dakotah, I’m not sure I even need to take a test, because my body is really telling me that I’m pregnant.” Sure enough, she was! There were tears of joy flooding the Hughes home. And they couldn’t wait to tell their families. “Dyce’s due date was supposed to be the same week both my kids were born, on December 26, I thought how neat would it be if they had shared the same birthday,” said Chayla.

After celebrating the news with the families, it was but a couple of weeks, Chayla became very sick. “Dakotah and I spent three days at the hospital in Kansas City. My levels were low, but by the time we had left, I was already feeling better,” said Chayla.

By the second trimester, Chayla was already showing and was ready to tell the kids. Colter was still fairly young so he didn’t have many questions, but their daughter, Landri, was very curious. “We bought them books about surrogacy (a kangaroo) that helped them understand that this baby wasn’t going to stay at our home, that he was going to stay at Tyten’s home,” said Chayla.

Dakota said she couldn’t speak for Chayla, but she thoroughly enjoyed the kids being so involved. Tyten attended every baby appointment, when he wasn’t in school and if he was, he had them record it, so he could hear his baby brother’s heartbeat.

In October, Dakotah’s dear friends hosted a “family shower” where spouses and kids were

After the dinner and the idea was proposed there were a lot of things going forward that had to be done and covered before the doctors would even go into the process. Counseling, attorneys for each party, paperwork to draw up and sign. “Chayla and I were more on the handshake and a hug wavelength with our plans, but that isn’t how it works, which did make it more stressful for both families,” said Dakotah.

In the fall of 2021, they finally did the first transfer — which didn’t work. “I felt like our prayers weren’t answered. As a mother, I felt bad for Tyten for not being able to experience the bond that I share with my own siblings, for Chayla and the endless amount of sacrifices she made to prepare her body and family for this journey, and not to mention the overall expense of it all.”

“A second attempt didn’t really seem like an option for us, for multiple reasons,” said Dakotah. But for Chayla (gestational carrier) it was. “After accepting to do this, I told Dakotah and Tyler (intended parents) that I would be willing to do two attempts.”

After months of research and praying for some kind of guidance, I brought it up to Chayla again. I wanted to see how she felt about it and within a week, we started preparing! Chayla spent countless hours going to acupuncture, chiropractic, yoga — all while taking care of her own family.

FINDING THE BLESSINGS IN LIFE

Mackenzie Slack

By Deanna Moore
news@bolivarmonews.com

Wife, Mother, Photographer & Nurse- Mackenzie Slack of Bolivar has started a Ladies Blessing Box to help women in need of feminine hygiene products. Mackenzie started the blessing box as a tribute to her beautiful angel daughter, Caroline to help support women and girls in our community.

What inspired you to start the Ladies Blessing Box?

Last September, our baby girl was diagnosed with anencephaly at 12 weeks gestation. During the pregnancy, we tried to celebrate her life and our lives together as much as possible. Caroline was born in February of 2023, and stayed with us for the most incredible 84-minutes of our lives before she slipped into paradise. Going through this was extremely physically, mentally, and financially hard on our family, but it changed us in more ways than I could have ever imagined. Our experience really opened my eyes to not only how fortunate we are, but how much we take for granted every day. After her birth, I was finally able to fully open my boudoir photography studio. My business really focuses on helping women see that they are worthy, strong, and beautiful — but I had and still have this deep desire to do more. I couldn't help my girl, but I knew that I could help other girls and women. I meditated for a while on what I could do to help women in the community that I love. One day, I saw a Facebook post regarding the blessing boxes around town - and I had the thought to designate a box for feminine hygiene products. The cost of these products can be a huge burden on women and teens without access or for those who are in a season of financial struggle. There's never a day that it feels like this small effort to help is enough, but you have to start somewhere. My goal is that as my business grows, to eventually expand this to be able to help more women in more ways.

There's never a day that it feels like this small effort to help is enough, but you have to start somewhere.

Who has been the biggest influence in your life and why?

The person who has been the biggest influence in my life is my daughter, Caroline. I've learned more during and after my time with her than I had learned in the 27-years before. I've gained perspective, a deeper understanding of love and grief, and what it means to serve others and be all that I can be.

What advice would you give your teenage self?

I'm not sure that all of the advice I would give my teenage self would fit inside an entire book, much less a newspaper. I guess I've had a lot to learn over the years.

But, one of the most important pieces of advice I would give my younger self actually came to me this week while I was working on the blessing box. The blessing box is not perfect or pretty and will likely need to be replaced before winter. But in a moment of frustration the thought came to me "It doesn't have to be perfect".

The box doesn't have to be "perfect" to hold products that help women.

Just like...

Your business idea doesn't have to be "perfect" before you start.

You don't have to be "perfect" before you join a team, group, etc.

Showing up for someone in a season of grief or loss doesn't have to be "perfect".

Your body doesn't have to be "perfect" before you wear your favorite dress.

Your house doesn't have to be "perfect" before you invite your friends in.

I could go on and on... but my point is - if you wait for "perfect," you'll miss out and so will those around you.

What would be your ideal day off?

My ideal day off would be a Summer day spent with my husband, our son, and maybe a yard full of family and friends. Eating delicious food, singing all of our favorite songs, riding dirt bikes around the neighborhood, and laughing. No stress, no to-do lists. Just a day full of love.

If people want to add to the Ladies Blessing Box.. how would they go about that?

There are a few ways to contribute to the Ladies Blessing Box. You can directly put items into the box (located at 207 East Jackson Street), give them to me in person, send them from our Amazon wishlist, or donate money so that I can purchase items the box is missing.

If they need to get in contact with me, my email is Mackenzieslackphotography@gmail.com or you can message me through Facebook.

Keeping the box stocked is expensive, so each and every donation is extremely appreciated.

STAY ACTIVE — ENJOY LIFE

Trish Brummell

By Linda Simmons
news@bolivarmonews.com

Trish Brummell has been a para with the Bolivar Primary School for 23 years. That is a full time job and keeps her busy, but not busy enough. Three years ago she started holding an exercise class. That adds to her busy days, but that wasn't enough either. Now she has a hat business, making designer cowgirl hats.

The Bolivar Herald-Free Press visited with Trish about her busy life and found out a little about what 'drives' her.

What does your para career consist of and mean to you?

I work with students with special needs, helping them navigate throughout the day. I have had the honor to work with some of the best students and some days I'm not sure who is helping who. Most days they keep us all on track. BPS has been a second home for me for many years. The friendships that I have made are so special and have gotten me through good and bad times. I wouldn't want any other work family. All the relationships I have made with students and their families are so special. How could you not love big hugs and high fives throughout the day!?

Your Real Local Florist

Who has been your biggest influence in all of your endeavors?

I have had many, but the ones I have to name are my parents, John and Pam Scott. My dad has been and still is one of the hardest working men I know, and my mom for all of her patience for working alongside my dad for so many years, all while raising four kids. Also, my husband, Jason, watching him turning a hobby into a second full-time job and seeing his hard work pay off, showed me you can do anything if you work hard enough for it.

How did you get started with the exercise classes that you do?

I was going to classes at a local gym and had been asked to cover class for the instructor and loved it. That class consisted of a lot of teachers attending and when it ended I had several ask if I would do it and have them at the school. I got permission to do that and the rest is history. This started in 2020 and now I have classes at 3:40 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays and 8:30 a.m. most Saturdays.

What do you enjoy about the exercise class the most?

The friendships, the encouragement that each one gives each other. To watch the strength in each person grow or something hard become easier, is amazing to be a part of. It's just a huge stress reliever. Watching your day melt away with every drop of sweat is amazing.

Your new hat journey...how did that get started?

The hats are so much fun! I got started after seeing a few on Pinterest and thought, I can draw. So after a few ruined hats and some practice — here we are!

What do you enjoy about it the most?

I love being creative and making the hats have personality for the person that's going to wear them. They are available to purchase at Hawk Fertilizer.

Where do you see yourself in 5 years.. still doing all three!?

Hopefully! I am hoping to still be as active as I am now!
