Three county schools receive Grow Your Own grants

news@ccheadliner.com

The Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE) has awarded the first-ever state-funded "Grow Your Own" grants to 125 local education agencies (LEAs).

DESE's Fiscal Year 2024 budget includes $2.5 million to support one-time grants of $10,000 to LEAs to create or strengthen their local "Grow Your Own" program, designed to increase recruitment of quality teachers in LEAs across the state.

"Teachers remain the number one school-level factor that can impact student achievement," said Commissioner of Education Margie Vandeven. "We appreciate the General Assembly recognizing the urgent need to address the educator workforce shortage here in Missouri, and how important Grow Your Own programs are in solving this issue."

Billings R-IV School District, Nixa Public Schools and Spokane R-VII all received Grow Your Own grants in Christian County.

Grow Your Own programs work to attract local students, as well as non-certified school staff, such as paraprofessionals and substitute teachers, to the teaching profession. Many programs also support those future teachers through their post-secondary education

Ozark FFA students host Fall Fest for 3rd graders

By Leah Greenwood leah@ccheadliner.com umpkin decorating, hayrides, s'mores — what beter way to celebrate autumn than a fall fest? On Friday, Oct. 20, Ozark third graders got into the fall spirit when they attended a special Fall Fest put on just for them by the Ozark FFA students at the FFA farm.

Third graders Morgen McHaffie and Ellianna Jewell love going on field trips and were especially excited for the hayride at the Fall Fest.

"Fall is my favorite season," Jewell said. "I like the leaves."

Fall is also McHaffie's favorite season.

"Halloween is my favorite part (about fall)," he said. Lauren Carson, a junior at Ozark High School and an Officer in the FFA, noted that the chapter normally puts on a fall

Ozark Middle School celebrates Unity Day, talks about bullying prevention

By Headliner News Staff news@ccheadliner.com

Usually, red is one of the most prevalent colors students are sporting at Ozark Middle School (OMS). But on Wednesday, Oct. 18, the hallways were filled with a sea of orange. The shades of orange weren't to celebrate fall, although students and teachers alike are happy about that. October is National Bullying Prevention Month and OMS celebrated National Unity Day by wearing orange in support of kindness, acceptance and inclusion.

"I love the heart of our OMS students and staff. But even with all the amazing people we have, kids can feel lost sometimes and struggle to reach out for help when they need it since we are such a large school," OMS sixth grade Counselor Danielle Monsanto said. "I want all of our students to know that they are not alone and that we are here to help."

Organized by the school counselors, OMS participates in National Bullying Month each year, working anti-bullying and harassment counseling lessons into their Tiger Focus and hosting a spirit week, all in hopes of raising awareness and helping support the message of bullying prevention.

"Bullying or unkind behavior is something that affects almost everyone at one time or another," OMS fifth grade Counselor Craig Kondracki said. "We don't want to become complacent in discussing the topic just because it's something everyone knows about. We use Bullying Prevention Month as an opportunity every year at the middle school to educate students

Ozark North CUB concentrates on community service

By Headliner News Staff news@ccheadliner.com

Most of us probably take socks for granted. But, there is a group of North Elementary third and fourth graders that may think a bit more about the importance of socks when they put them on after they hosted a sock drive in October.

Appropriately named Socktober, the community service project was part of the North Elementary Campus Union Board, known as CUB. Two representatives are elected from each third and fourth grade class to form CUB, which meets once a month after school.

"The purpose is to allow students to have an opportunity to become leaders and role models for our school," said Amanda Idell, North third grade teacher and CUB sponsor. "These students must sign a form agreeing to work diligently to complete all of their schoolwork and always act as a model citizen for our school."

Third grader Oliver Clough said he has lots of socks at his house, and this project made him think about kids who don't have as much as him.

"I think it's fun to help the community. I just care for others," he Heidi Moore, daughter of Dewey (Margaret) Moore and Patricia Carroll Arthur (Mike), a resident of St. Louis (Nixa) has received a Ph.D. in Public Policy Analysis from Saint Louis University (SLU).

Heidi is a 1993 graduate of Nixa High School. She received her A.A. from OTC, her B.S. from Drury University and her M.S. from the University of Central Missouri.

SLU's commencement ceremony was held May 2023, in Chaifetz Arena on the campus of Saint Louis University. She defended her dissertation, "Navigating the Registry," on Oct. 11, 2023.

Nixa student attends summer academic program at Mizzou

By Headliner News Staff news@ccheadliner.com

University of Missouri's Brian Consiglio reports that William Beadle of Nixa is among Missouri's brightest high school students who attended the Missouri Scholars Academy (MSA) in June at the University.

MSA began in 1985, and, each summer, provides more than 300 rising high school juniors the opportunity to expand their educational and social skills. The program provides enrichment opportunities to support learning and personal development for gifted Missouri students, and offers a variety of daily extracurricular activities to enhance critical thinking and communication. More than 11,000 students have completed the academy to date.

Beadle, who attends Nixa High School, is the son of Holly and Bill Beadle. As a rising junior, William participates in tennis, math team and FBLA.

As the state's largest and oldest public, land-grant university, Mizzou has more than 30,000 students, 13,000 full-time employees and 305,000 alumni. Since 2015, the Missouri Scholars Academy has been administered by the MU Honors College.

The Building our American Communities grant program provides funds to Missouri 4-H clubs and FFA chapters. SUBMITTED PHOTO

Building our American Communities grant funds announced

By Headliner News Staff news@ccheadliner.com

The Missouri Department of Agriculture recently announced the availability of Building our American Communities (BOAC) grant

The BOAC Program provides $12,000 annually to Missouri 4-H clubs and FFA chapters for projects aimed at developing and advancing Missouri's rural communities.

Twelve $500 4-H BOAC grants and 12 $500 FFA BOAC grants are awarded annually, two per each of the six districts.

Projects must benefit an agricultural community and/or promote community development. Projects may include improvements to existing facilities, grounds or buildings that are used by various groups or organizations in the applicant's community.

The Department will accept applications postmarked or received electronically by Dec. 1, 2023. Recipients awarded funding will be notified in early January. Projects must be completed by Aug. 1, 2024.

Apply at agriculture.mo.gov.

Nearly $50 million in grants available to strengthen forest products economy

By Headliner News Staff news@ccheadliner.com

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Forest Service is making nearly $50 million in grant funding available for projects between healthy forests. strong rural economies and jobs in the forestry sector.

Made possible by the Inflation Reduction Act and Bipartisan Infrastructure Law, the funding will that support crucial links spark innovation, create new markets for wood products and renewable wood energy, expand processing capacity and help tackle the climate crisis.

> "Our region relies on a strong forest products industry to improve forest resiliency and wildlife habitat, while supporting local economies and creating jobs," said Bob Lueckel, Deputy Regional Forester for the Eastern Region. "Through these grants, we are directly supporting the tribes, organizations and businesses that are finding innovative ways to grow markets for forest products, store carbon in our buildings and infrastructure and provide firewood to those who need it."

The funding is through three key grant programs: Wood Innovations Grants, Community Wood Grants and Wood Products Infrastructure Assistance Grants. The Forest Service is seeking proposals that support innovative uses of wood in the construction of low-carbon buildings, as a renewable energy source and in manufacturing and processing products. These programs also provide direct support to expand and retrofit wood energy systems and turing facilities. Eligible entities in the private, nonprofit and government sectors include tribes, local and state governments, businesses and for-profit entities and institutions of higher education, as well as public utility, fire, conservation and school districts, among others. Businesses that are engaged in or support the forest products economy are eligible to apply for funding to expand manufacturing capacity.

These investments will support forest management projects to improve forest health and reduce wildfire risk across all land ownerships. Byproducts of these activities, like small-diameter timber and woody biomass, have historically been of little market value. Thanks in part to these Forest Service grant programs, funding is available to support the use of this often-unused material in many types of wood products.

Visit the Forest Service webpage for more information on these grant opportunities. For more information on the Eastern Region's Forest Markets program, visit the regional webpage.

BBB offers tips for consumers on reverse mortgages

By Headliner News Staff

news@ccheadliner.com

Make sure you understand all the costs, terms and conditions before applying for a reverse mortgage.

Reverse mortgages are widely advertised to older adults as a way to convert part of the equity in a home to cash in the form of a loan — without having to sell the property. The cash may be paid to you in installments or a lump sum, and you must pay back the loan when you sell your house, move or pass away.

This arrangement can be useful if you have paid off most or all of your current mortgage and want to access that equity without having to move. However, because these loans are so attractive, unscrupulous individuals sometimes try to cash in and will target older adults in particular.

Reverse mortgages may also come with strings attached. The amount you owe toward the reverse mortgage will grow substantially over time with interest, and can end up equaling the value of the home. If you want heirs to inherit your home, keep in mind that the loan will impact your assets in the event of your death. You are also still responsible for home property taxes, insurance and maintenance costs when you take out a reverse mortgage.

Tips to consider before applying for a reverse mortgage:

• Know the basic requirements. To apply for a reverse mortgage, you must be 62 years or older and have equity in the home. The home must be the primary residence and remain in good condition. A Home Equity Conversion Mortgage (HECM) is the only federal government-insured reverse mortgage, and the loan process can't be initiated until the senior receives counseling from an HECM counselor. Factors such as your age, the type of product, the value of your house and how much you owe on your house all contribute to the amount you may borrow.

 Watch out for up-front fees. It is likely a red flag if a company tries to charge you excessive, up-front fees for services that are available free of charge or at a very low cost through the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). Check your options with HUD before making any decisions.

• Consult an HECM counselor. An HECM counselor will help answer questions regarding eligibility, financial implications and other alternatives. The Fair Housing Association (FHA) does not recommend using any service charging a fee for referring a borrower to an FHA lender, as FHA provides all the information free of charge, and HECM housing counselors are available free or at a low cost. For a list of approved counseling agencies, call 800-569-4287.

• Check out lenders with the Better Business Bureau (BBB). Search BBB.org to find trustworthy lenders near you, and read reviews and complaints to see a company's track record.

• Talk to your heirs. A reverse mortgage affects the assets of the borrower in case of death, which means it could impact your heirs. Discuss the reverse mortgage with heirs before making a decision.

· Check if a reverse mortgage makes sense for you. Ask yourself if it is feasible for you to keep the home long enough to make the reverse mortgage economical. You should consider your future health care needs, and whether the home will always be safe and easy to get around. If the answer is "No," look into other options.

 Consider all the costs. Processing a reverse mortgage usually involves fees such as an origination fee, closing costs, a mortgage insurance premium, a servicing fee and the interest rate.

• Understand the repayment terms. A reverse mortgage loan must be repaid in full when the owner dies or sells the home. Other conditions that affect loan repayment include failure to pay property taxes or hazard insurance, allowing the property to deteriorate, and if the borrower permanently moves, has a new primary residence, or fails to live in the home for 12 consecutive months.

Governor Mike Parson proclaims October as Pork Month in Missouri

The official proclamation has been presented to Missouri Pork Association

By Headliner News Staff news@ccheadliner.com

Governor Mike Parson has proclaimed October as Pork Month in the state of Missouri, in recognition of the high-quality pork produced by Missouri pig farmers and their families. Missouri's pork industry ranks seventh in the nation and contributes nearly $800 million to the state's economy annually.

"Missouri continues to be a leader in United States pork production, and we are proud to recognize the industry," Gov. Parson said. "Missouri pork producers provide nutritious protein for people across the country and around the globe. Their commitment to quality should be celebrated every day, especially during Pork Month."

Tremendous progress has been made in the pork industry through research in genetics, resulting in an economical and nutritious product for today's consumers. Pork producers across the country continue to make progress in overall sustainability by being more efficient every day.

"It is our responsibility to produce a safe, nutritious and sustainable protein for families across the United States and the world," said Adam Dohrman, chairman of the Missouri Pork Association Board of Directors. "That's why pig farmers are working to make pork a leading sustainable protein by caring for the animals and the environment with the highest ethical standards, in October and all year 'round."

Missouri Director of Agriculture Chris Chinn, members of the Missouri Pork Association and industry leaders joined for the Pork Month proclamation ceremony at the Missouri Department of Agriculture.

"Missouri's pork producers work hard every day to make sure they are providing quality products for consumers across town and across the globe," Chinn said. "Thank you to Governor Parson for honoring our state's farmers, who continue to innovate and increase efficiency."

State Highway Patrol encourages a safe Halloween

By Headliner News Staff

news@ccheadliner.com

Colonel Eric T. Olson, superintendent of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, encourages everyone to have a safe Halloween.

It's that time of year when young ghosts, vampires, superheroes and cartoon characters are planning their night of trick-or-treating. While some local events take place in large parking lots the weekend prior, many trick-or-treaters will be out on Halloween night. It's imperative that drivers and pedestrians stay alert.

Young children excited by Halloween could dart in front of a vehicle. Slow down and drive with extra caution. Expect an increase in the number of slow-moving vehicles in neighborhoods as motorists pick up and drop off trick-ortreaters. Please be courteous and stay alert for trick-or-treaters of all ages. Distracted drivers are dangerous drivers - when you're driving, keep your eyes on the road, not on your phone. Parents, please remind children to approach only familiar houses that are well-lit. Remind them they should never enter a stranger's house or vehicle. Consider trick-or-treating with your children for their safety and because it's a fun way to spend an evening. Give some thought to safety when choosing a costume. Consider using make-up rather than wearing a mask, which can obstruct a child's vision, making it difficult to see an oncoming car. A light-colored costume is easier for drivers to see at night and adding reflective tape to dark costumes makes them visible. Flame resistant costumes are encouraged.

All trick-or-treaters are reminded to watch for traffic while they are out and about this Halloween. Remember to look both ways when crossing the street. Use sidewalks wherever possible and trick-ortreat while it is light outside. If you do go out after dark, increase your visibility by using a flashlight and wearing a light-colored costume. An adult should always accompany small children, and older children should stay in groups.

for children. Many adults enjoy dressing up and visiting haunted houses or attending gatherings of friends. If you are driving to a costume party, make sure your costume doesn't hamper your vision. If you attend a Halloween party that includes alcohol, designate a sober driver for the trip home. Alcohol, even in small amounts, slows reaction time and dulls the senses. Driving after you've had alcohol could have a sad and possibly deadly result.

SUDOKU

Fun by the numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off.

Here's how it works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into the nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

on what bullying is and how they can help themselves and others when bullying or unkind behavior occurs."

OMS counselors — as well as counselors and staff districtwide - strive to help students remember that they are not alone.

"The staff and students at OMS want to help those who feel like they are being bullied," Monsanto said. "We hope our students feel more empowerment to help combat bullying on their own by learning practical ways in which they can be an upstander instead of a bystander when unkind or bullying behavior happens around them."

The district also wants parents and the community to know that bullying is taken very seriously at all of our school buildings.

'We want to keep an open line of communication between home and school when any student expresses that they are being treated unkindly or are being bullied," Kondracki said. "The home and school connection is an important partnership - we need to be in communication when concerns arise."

Students set a goal to collect 1,000 pairs of socks during Socktober. After sorting and counting, putting all their math skills to the test, they were excited to learn they exceeded their goal with 1,042 pairs of socks, which will all be donated to the First Baptist Ozark Clothing Ministry to help make this winter warmer for our neighbors in need. Idell said CUB focuses on service projects throughout the year to help the school and community. "We focus on showing kindness to others and doing projects that truly make a difference right here in our community," she said. "Students are able to act as leaders by organizing these events, creating signs to hang around the building, setting goals for how many items we collect, and they even make announcements to the entire school to promote each service project. CUB students love knowing that even though they are kids, they can do big things to make a difference in the world!"

And that's certainly true for third grader Ella Duev.

fest for the community after school or for other grade levels, but decided to host one for the Ozark third graders this year.

"Kids tend to enjoy a pumpkin patch and hayride, and then we just started adding bits and pieces from there," Carson said.

The third graders rotated through different stations, where they got to have a story read to them by an FFA student; sit at the bonfire and make s'mores; play some outdoor games; go on a hayride, where they got to choose a pumpkin from the field; decorate their pumpkin and get their faces painted; and get an up close experience with horses, goats, chickens and even a calf in a petting zoo.

"We have some horses, so we figured they would enjoy a petting zoo, and then we used one student's goats, another student's chickens and another student's calf," Carson said. "It's fun getting to work with the kids. There's a decent amount who know about (agriculture), but a lot of them, their faces light up when they see a horse."

The Fall Fest not only provides a fun autumn day for the kids, but also exposes the younger kids to agriculture in a way that maybe not all of them have been able to experience before.

Ozark High School has one of the largest FFA chapters in the state. Jeremy Sisco, an FFA teacher at Ozark, said that the Fall Fest is an opportunity for the FFA Leadership students to plan an event, but it also gives the third graders a place to come for a field trip and allows the FFA to showcase the school farm.

"We get to bring students out here and they get to learn how to saddle and ride a horse, feed calves or goats, or whatever we have," Sisco said. "We get to introduce a lot of our students who have never been around any of that to ag. And, same thing with the third graders; they get to come out here and know that this exists and get a little bit of agriculture."

"A lot of these kids have never seen a bigger animal up close like this before," said Shelly Chesick, a mother on the field trip. "To know that our school has this, and to let these kids do this – most kids don't have the opportunity — that's great.

"If just one kid develops a passion and an interest to be in the FFA whenever they get into high school, that's our goal," Chesick added.

the son of Joe and Anita "Annie" (Mendoza) Hernandez.

John was known as one of the friendliest people you would ever meet and always made those around him laugh. He attended Borger High School in Borger, Texas, and continued his friendships with his classmates throughout the years.

He married Carole (Meek) on Sept. 12, 1974, and both were employed by Phillips Petroleum Company. He loved children and youth, and served as a bus driver for Fellowship Baptist Church for many years, busing kids to church. He spent many Saturdays visiting the families of those children and formed life-long bonds with many of them. One of his favorite things in life was going to church camps and making memories with the church youth. John and Carole's lives revolved around their church and ministering in music. John was a talented gospel soloist, and Carole played the piano while he sang. Together, they traveled, singing in churches, prisons and choirs in Texas. When they retired, they moved to Ozark and continued leading worship in area churches and singing gospel music in Branson.

In addition to his love of music and ministry, John loved watching his grandsons, Dallas, Dalton and Dylan, play sports. He regularly attended their games, and everyone knew when he was in the stands cheering them on. He was a great encourager to them and their biggest fan on and off the field. Even after his grandsons graduated high school, John was known and loved in the Ozark school system as a supporter of youth sports and cheered many students on throughout the years.

FAMILIES/NEWS

When he was young, while in Basic training for the Navy, John suffered a lifelong injury. Because he could not walk long distances due to a hip injury, he spent much time sitting on benches. John, who never knew a stranger, struck up conversations with other bench-sitters and often talked with them about Jesus. He led several of them to Christ. He had a gift for making people feel seen and appreciated, and he cared about the lives of others.

He was a loving and faithful husband to Carole and doted on her. He built a wonderful life with her that will bring many eternal rewards. He loved fellowshipping with his dear friends over good meals, discussing the latest sports stories and family dinners with lively conversation. He loved all of his daughters and prayed for them. He loved phone calls with loved ones near and far, and he enjoyed teasing and laughing with his great grandchildren. His gift of humor made family gatherings full of laughter, and he will be missed by all. Most of all, John loved Jesus. His life is a testimony to all that God dearly loves His children and He uses people like John to express that love. John was a member of Fremont Baptist Church.

Survivors include: His wife of 49 years, Carole Hernandez of Ozark: his daughters. Stacy Hulm and husband Nick of Ozark, Dana Fite and husband Chuck of Brewster, Kansas, Tina Hogue and husband Dale of Dumas, Texas, Lisa Hernandez of Borger, Texas, and Rita Jackson and husband Jack of Amarillo, Texas; his grandchildren, Dallas Hord, Dalton Hord, Dylan Hord, Amber Kite, Angeleah Malone, Emily Rahorst, Kourtney Yankovich, Zachary Jackson, Aaron Hardy, Matthew Hogue, Kristal Hogue and Chelsea Hogue; and many great grandchildren.

John was preceded in death by his parents; two sisters, Carma Bontke and Patricia Rosas; a daughter, Sydney Hickerson; and a grandson, Timothy Lee Rahorst.

Agriculture education is on the move this fall at Nixa's Mathews Elementary

By Headliner News Staff with Missouri Farmers Care

news@ccheadliner.com

Missouri Farmers Care (MFC) Foundation's Agriculture Education on the Move (AEOTM) is announcing a partnership this fall with Mathews Elementary to educate third grade students about agriculture.

AEOTM, a program of the Missouri Farmers Care Foundation, is a proactive, educational effort in which passionate, trained educators spend time in the classroom helping elementary students build agricultural literacy. During the ten-week program, Mathews Elementary students will cused lessons and curriculum meet state learning objectives. Hands-on activities provide fun and interactive ways of learning as students make soybean germination necklaces, corn plastic, butter, feed rations, soil profiles and more. Students connect with real Missouri farm families through the curriculum and learn how their dedication and vear-round efforts affect our daily lives.

Commissioner of Education Margie Vandeven stepping down

By Headliner News Staff news@ccheadliner.com

Missouri Commissioner of Education Margie Vandeven recently announced she will be stepping down from her position effective July 1, 2024. She has served as the Commissioner of Education for more than seven years, from January 2015 to December 2017, and again from January 2019 to present.

During a regularly scheduled board meeting on Oct. 17, State Board of Education President Charlie Shields announced that he had received Vandeven's resignation and invited her to share remarks. "Serving as Commissioner of Education for the great state of Missouri has been the honor and the opportunity of a lifetime," Vandeven said.

In her remarks, she credited the collaborative work of a diverse group of stakeholders for improvements made to better serve Missouri's nearly 900,000 public school students and their families.

Those statewide improvements Vandeven discussed include

- gathering stakeholders to discuss innovative, modern approaches to address the educator recruitment and retention crisis:
- ensuring schools remain among the safest
- places for students; • increasing expectations, accountability and supports for continuous improvement for districts, charter schools and virtual education providers;

- expanding career and technical education programming and apprenticeship opportunities;
- streamlining early care and education efforts through the newly created Office of Childhood;
- implementing of a statewide approach to teaching reading; and
- responding to the COVID-19 pandemic and administering historic levels of relief funding.

"Commissioner Vandeven has led the department through unprecedented events and challenging times, but her focus has never wavered — she always works to do what's best for students," Shields said. "Missouri is better because of Margie's service to our state, and I know stakeholders across the state will join me in thanking her for her commitment."

"Margie has been a true champion for public education and a steadfast leader throughout her tenure as Commissioner of the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education," said Governor Mike Parson. "During COVID, Margie kept a level head and successfully led Missouri schools through a global pandemic. Margie will be missed, but my team and I wish her the best. We are grateful for her commitment and dedication to our Missouri administrators, teachers, students and parents."

Vandeven said she announced her resignation now to give the State Board of Education ample time to complete the process of finding a successor, pledging to work tirelessly in her final months on behalf of Missouri students and educators.

CHADWICK NEWS

typed up and sent my news Sunday afternoon. My phones and internet have been out for a week. They just now got back up and running. I guess I didn't throw enough big fits each time I called them. I try to not throw fits, but, I have been ready a few times this week.

The repair folks were working on Brightspeed between my house and Chadwick. And, I thought they would be at my house soon, but then, I find out one has to be the one to call in an outage before they come. I called four times last

CHADWICK HISTORIAN

We got to see some really good games on Monday evening with the junior high teams. I love all those kids. They are so special to me.

I hear that our volleyball girls did their best in the tournament at Bradleyville last week. Our volleyball teams have been doing really well. But, I don't have time to check Facebook to see all the results.

Runners are doing great and they are just about to the end of the season.

I sure have enjoyed watching our junior high basketball teams this season.

The beavers have been working below my slab to build a dam across the creek. It sure has the water backed up. Maybe, if we get the rain being predicted, it will wash all that mess down stream. It is good that younger kids know how beavers work.

A friend told me that the Persimmon Day at Sparta was a big success. Sorry I had to miss it; things got over-busv.

When my phone is working again, I will touch base to get more information for next week. This is eye doctor week. Now, to get new glasses; these older ones are not what my eyes need and I lost a pair while cleaning last week.

The bug going around is hitting all families, and it is not good.

Joey took some ripe tomatoes home with her and we picked a bunch of green ones. Looks like they will be good to the beginning of November. Several late gardeners are sharing the crops.

Happy Halloween next Tuesday. The churches will sponsor a Trunk or Treat in the middle of Chadwick Sunday evening from 4:00-7:00, I think.

Late happy birthday to all my friends I have missed. Get well to all the sick folks, and I am sorry for recent losses. That gets very difficult.

Happy birthday to my 1st granddaughter, Joey, on Halloween. She is planning a big celebration. You all have a good week and stay well and happy.

THE GREAT OUTDOORS

Deer crossing signs

ou may have heard this story: A city guy who had never been deer hunting decided he wanted to try. He bought a rifle and hunting clothing and thought he was a deer hunter now.

He drove to a small town out in the country and stopped at the local convenience store. He went in and asked if anyone knew where he could go hunting.

"Sure," one of the locals said, "just go up the road a couple of miles until you see a sign that says 'Deer Crossing.' Wait there until one comes along and then shoot it."

He thanked him, left the store and missed hearing all the laughter he caused. An hour later, he was back in town and came into the convenience store to thank the gentleman again for the tip. Then, he asked if anyone there knew how to skin the deer with the big antlers hanging out of his car trunk.

I don't know whether that story is true or not. But, there is a good reason those deer crossing signs are there. It is because there were too many deer in that area. They cross the road near the sign and cause vehicle accidents. If I were you, I would check with landowners near deer crossing signs to see if they allow hunting.

HOT PINK DEER HUNTING CLOTHING

Most states require hunters, for safety reasons, to wear hunter orange clothing during firearms deer season. After extensive testing, researchers concluded that hunter orange clothing, even in disruptive patterns, is like a neon sign to deer. Their extensive testing must not have been in the deer woods with us hunters who have worn hunter orange for vears and taken a lot of deer.

A vision expert confirms the discovery, adding that if hunters want to be invisible to deer, battleship gray is the most effective color, followed by drab green. Unfortunately, these colors also make hunters invisible to other hunters. Vision experts, who must not be deer hunters, suggest a startling color like hot pink. It is not found in nature because it is a blend from opposite ends of the rainbow that deer see only as neu-

The problem is that states requiring hunters to wear fluorescent hunter orange clothing would have to change their laws to allow deer hunters to wear hunter hot pink clothing. The hot pink would make you safe and invisible to the deer. Your wife or girlfriend would love it. You would also be adorably cute sitting in your treestand in hot pink clothing.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

"Go afield with a good attitude, with respect for the wildlife you hunt and the forest and fields in which you walk. Immerse yourself in the outdoor experience. It will cleanse your soul and make you a better person."

- Fred Bear

For over 40 years, Nixa native Larry Whiteley has communicated about the great outdoors across America through newspapers, magazines, blogs and a syndicated radio show heard in all 50 states and around the world by our military men and women on the American Forces Radio Network. Larry's book, "Seasons: Stories of Family, God and the Great Outdoors," is available on Amazon.

Church folks a minority f statistics are to be believed, I'm part of a shrinking minority: I go to church every Sunday. Researchers tell us only 24 in 100 of us do the same. I think I know the other 23. They're in my Sunday school class, but I can't account for the other 76.

If the numbers are accurate, we ought to qualify for some sort of government program. It ought to at least be a hate crime if Christian conservatives are forced to work on Sunday. It used to be illegal for stores to sell alcohol on Sunday, or even be open at all in some areas.

Blue laws, they called them. I reckon I'm dating myself if I remember such things, let alone somewhat agree with them. Yes, I'm a dinosaur.

The same sort of internet statistics show half of us seldom, or never, attend church. I didn't need a pollster to tell me that. The number of boats on area lakes in summer is a pretty solid clue. If I were 40 years younger and had a boat, I might be among them. I haven't always taken Sunday as seriously as I do now.

Though a church-goer since childhood, I didn't hesitate to load up the kids and head for the lake, the mall or Silver Dollar City any Sunday when my girls were young.

Most weeks, Sunday was the only free day I had. I was lucky if even Sunday was free. Such was the life of a country newspaper editor. Many of the things happening in the community were over the weekend, when most folks weren't working, and the rest of the week was spent putting all the collected news and pictures into print. Today's notion of a 40-hour week was unheard of. News knows no time clock.

So, I understand folks missing church on Sundays. Many of them are busy feeding, protecting and otherwise taking care of us so we can have our Sundays free.

It's kind of ironic that we might disapprove of folks missing church, but still expect them to have dinner waiting for us 10 minutes after the last "amen."

I guess what concerns me is not just the number of folks who don't go to church, but the number who don't see any reason to go. It wasn't that way when I was a boy.

I know many of my friends weren't in church, but I'm pretty sure most, if not all, of them thought they should be. They were mostly "one of these days" folks.

Well, I'm personally thankful my "one day" became every Sunday as I matured. I have a Christian mother and successive Christian wives to thank, as well as a host of other folks who reminded me of the truths I've known since childhood.

Fact is, I don't mind being part of a minority, but I'd love to see the scales tip in the other direction; not for me, but for that other 76 percent, whoever they might be.

Improvement for Estes equals COC runner-up finish

Sports Editor

patd@ccheadliner.com

Elsie Estes placed runner-up at the COC Championships on Tuesday and perhaps most impressively, topped the girls field in most improved time from last year to this year.

The Ozark sophomore shaved a remarkable 2:22 off her time of 21:32 from a year ago en route to posting a personal record of 19:10. None of the leaders in the girls field even approached her improvement.

"It makes me feel good to know that the work I've put in paid off," Estes said. "It comes from consistency in me training, being there every day to put in the work."

Estes was pleased with her finishing kick. She held off Nixa's MacKinzie Harris, who placed third (19:14).

"I finished as hard as I could. I pushed pretty hard," Estes said.

Estes fell behind the group of lead runners in the early going at Nixa's Inman Elementary Course. A slow start had her in catch-up mode.

"I struggle getting up there at first," Estes said of her starts. "It's difficult because there are so many people. The first lap, I made my way up."

Republic's Gracie Troester was a runaway winner (18:28). Her winning time of a year ago was 19:00.

Estes enjoys having an elite runner the likes of Troester to chase after.

"It's hard to keep up with her, but I like running with her," Estes said. "I see her in track a lot, too. She's kind of what motivates me. She's strong. I look up to her."

Ozark had four finishers among the top nine. The Lady Tigers' Madison Felton was seventh (20:09), Lane Garner eighth (20:15) and Sydney Lister ninth (20:17).

Ozark won the team championship with 48 points, nine ahead of runner-up Nixa.

Ozark already has collected three COC championships this fall. The Lady Tigers' volleyball team and the Tigers' soccer team also won COC titles.

Nixa's Adelyn Jenssen was 11th (20:25), Cassidy Williams 12th (20:26), Briana Bidinger 14th (20:30) and Meliah Copley 17th (20:43).

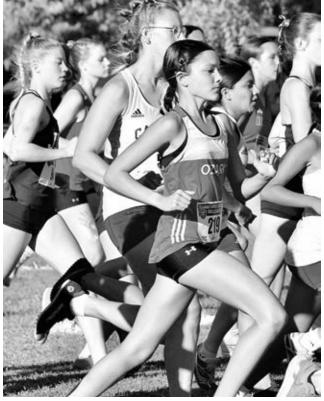

In the boys race, Nixa's Aaron Ashley took:35 seconds off his time from last year on his way to a thirdplace finish (15:48).

Ashley led five Eagles in the top nine. Devon Kemp was fifth (15:59), Long Richart sixth (16:02), Zane Novinger eighth (16:07) and Reyes Martinez ninth (16:12).

Joplin's Ian Horton claimed the boys championship in 15:28.

Nixa won the team title with 31 points, 28 points ahead of the field.

Nixa will host Districts this weekend.

Cook has fed the ball enough to teammates Reagan Baade, Tara Venable, Skylar Hilton and Ashya Thompson for them to all have 172 kills or more. She's kept opponents guessing who she will go to. "Is it hard to sometimes make that decision in a split-second? Yes, but I always trust they all can put the ball away," Cook said. "With the hitters we have, they all want the ball. On game points, if I'm on the front row with Reagan or Skylar, they're like, 'Give me the ball. I want the last ball.' Any hitter who wants the ball and is going to go after it aggressively is going to get it." 'We have a lot of offensive weapons and she is doing a good job dispersing our offense," Brewer said. "Reece is doing a good job at finding the hot hand."

With Bray also spreading the wealth, Nixa's Ava Owens, Chloe Judd, Amelia White, Gwen Kubik and Taylor Wood all have at least 150 kills.

"Our hitters trust her and she can deliver consistent balls for them," Lady Eagles coach Annie Zimmerman said. Being at setter very much fits the personalities of Cook and Bray.

"I love being in that position," Cook said. "I'm very much a perfectionist and I love being in control. I'm there to kind of glue everyone together."

"I definitely am a vocal leader on the court, especially having the job I have by being the floor general," Bray said. "Having to know what's going on at all times for me is very natural and I enjoy it."

"She is a very big personality on the court," Zimmerman said. "Sometimes, trying to get that focused in and moving in a positive direction is a big key. We've talked a lot about her keeping her head clear, so she can make the best decision in those fast moments. She's done a good job of that."

Cook and Bray are well-rounded players. Cook's stats line also includes 40 kills, 27 blocks, 175 digs, while Bray's profile also includes 118 kills, 19 blocks and 281 digs.

"I'm having to be more offensive. It's been a good challenge to figure out how to get around blockers," Bray said.

"Jacy is getting the ball where it needs to go and is also an attack option herself," Zimmerman said. "We've encouraged her to be aggressive and not to be afraid to score points herself at the net. She is obviously a very important piece of the puzzle for us."

It's been a fulfilling senior season for Bray, particularly after she had to fight through rehab from a torn ACL she suffered last basketball season.

"My rehab was long and hard, but so worth it for me," Bray said. "It took a toll on me, but I worked very hard for six months and got to start playing again this summer.

"Being injured never really stopped me from getting touches," she added. "I was still consistently working on my game, just in a different way. There were a lot of mental adjustments, getting myself ready for high-level games again and trusting myself to do the things that came naturally to me, like jumping and turning. I always set high expectations for myself and, so far, I feel like I've met them."

POTENTIAL

"We have two of the best receivers in the COC and the state," Michel said. "When we do get the ball thrown to us, we take advantage and get good yards. I think we'll take advantage of all our opportunities. We still got, what, five more games ahead of us — keep the ball on the ground and whenever they defend our ground game, we throw the ball in the air and me and Wyatt will take over."

Michel has proven to be clutch and reliable over three seasons. His route-running, soft hands and field vision after a catch allow him to excel. Through eight weeks, he had 23 catches for 452 yards.

Vincent is a burner who can stretch the opposing defense. Through eight games, he had 13 receptions for 453 yards, an average of 27.2 yards a catch.

Vincent gave Ozark fits in last week's Backyard Brawl on deep routes by simply running past the Tigers' defensive backs to get open.

Vincent wasn't touched while receiving a 62-yard touchdown pass from Blevins.

"He hit me in stride and when he hits me in stride like that, I knew I had room to take off," Vincent said. "I caught it in stride and saw the safety was still five or six yards away from me, so I knew it would be a touchdown.

"I know I'm the fastest dude in the state," he added. "When I get the ball in the open field,

I'm gone."

Vincent's baseball duties keep him too busy in the spring to give track a try. He's curious how he would fare as a sprinter.

"I'd want to run the 100," he said. "I was actually going to do track my seventh-grade year, but we had COVID (cancel the spring sports season), so I ended up not doing track."

Vincent has never raced against former Nixa wideout and track standout Austin Mc-Cracken, who is now a volunteer assistant coach with the Eagles.

"It would be fun," Vincent said of a race between him and McCracken. "He's pretty fast, too. We have never officially raced, but we did a chase drill together."

Vincent adds he shares the unofficial title as Nixa's fastest player with safety Spencer Ward.

"On any given day, one of us will win," he said.

Nixa's offense has featured a rotation at running back with Rebura and Rider since Week Two. But the rotation at quarterback between Uber and Blevins was essentially scrapped after a few weeks, with Uber taking the snaps unless the games get out of hand.

Neither quarterback seemingly ever separated himself. Through eight games, Uber was 40-of-63 passing for 872 yards, while Blevins was 11-of-20 for 234 yards. Uber had a QB rating of 140, while Blevins was at 136.3.

Although Uber is a righthander and Blevins a lefty, Michel and Vincent report that has a minimal effect on them when they're catching

"(The ball) spins the other way, but that's a given," Michel said. "We practice enough with them and get enough balls from both of then that we're comfortable with both of them." "Most people think the different spin would throw us off, but it doesn't," Vincent said. "You don't even think about it during a game. They throw it, we go get it. It's just about catching a pass. The ball is there and they both throw it pretty good."

Nixa's quarterbacks have the benefit of exceptional receivers to work with and a top-notch offensive line to give them all the protection they could ever ask for. Opponents have recorded just one quarterback sack against Nixa the entire season.

It all adds up to a passing game that could be worth keeping an eye on.

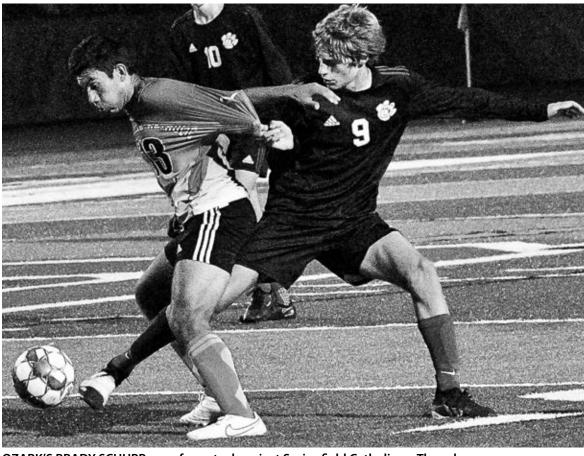

"It's a good quarterback room," Michel said. "They make it easy on us. They're super accurate. They throw a good ball and keep a good spiral on it."

With all that said, Michel and Vincent will be willing and able to do their part to help Nixa continue to establish its ground game.

"We do a lot of blocking drills," Vincent said. "The first couple of weeks, it was pretty rough on us. But, we realized it was going to be (important) for us to block on the outside and we began to take it more seriously."

OZARK'S BRADY SCHUPP goes for a steal against Springfield Catholic on Thursday.

Figers net 18th win on season by beating Irish

By PAT DAILEY Sports Editor patd@ccheadliner.com

Brady Schupp is adding to Ozark's collection of sophomores who are seeing quality minutes and helping the Tigers continue their winning ways.

Schupp made his third straight start at midfielder in Ozark's 4-1 triumph versus Springfield Catholic on Thursday Schupp is subbing for senior Jason Martin since Martin suffered a concussion at Carthage last week.

"My minutes have gone way up," Schupp said. "Jason is supposed to be back for Districts. I get to play it out until then."

Ozark (18-2-2) has totaled 23 goals over its last three matches.

"I feel like I'm distributing the ball well," Schupp said. "The upperclassmen keep building me up and making me better. This is getting me ready for everything to come."

Coach Zack Owens has been impressed with Schupp's job at both ends of the field.

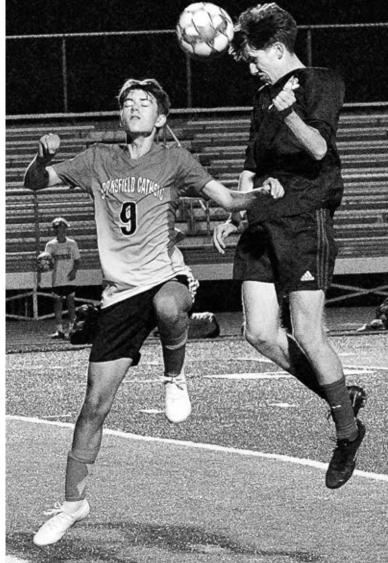

The Tigers have outscored their last three opponents 23-2. Two of those teams, Catholic (14-8) and Joplin (10-8) have winning records.

"He's doing a great job controlling the ball and he sees the field well. He has good vision for what his next plan of attack is and where he needs to send the ball," Owens said. "One of his number one jobs is to stop (the opponent's) attack up the middle and he's been doing a phenomenal job of that.

"It's been awesome to see Brady step up as a sophomore," he added. "He's played consistent. He doesn't get too worked up out there and minimizes his mistakes, which is very important at that position."

With two full months between Ozark's season-opener and its final regular-season match, the Tigers feel it's important to see their depth play out.

"Brady has done a great job stepping up," midfielder/forward Caleb Lepant said. "Coach does a good job in games the starters don't really need to be playing by keeping us fresh.

OZARK'S PHIN SCOTT makes a pass.

And, we've got a ton of players. Everyone wants to get on the field."

Ozark received a pair of goals from Caleb Lepant and one each from James Nemeti and Alex Williams.

The match featured physical play and repeated yellow cards. Following one Ozark tackle, tempers flared and shoves and a bit of profanity were exchanged.

"I didn't expect the cards to be coming the way they did," Lepant said. "I think the refs did what they needed to do to get the game to slow down."

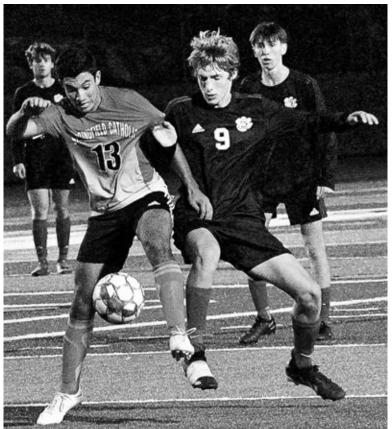

"We were physical," Owens said. "You have to knock (Catholic) off the ball a little bit and get a little physical with them. The card count showed that tonight."

The Tigers were in control on the scoreboard, but the Irish controlled the ball a great portion of the night.

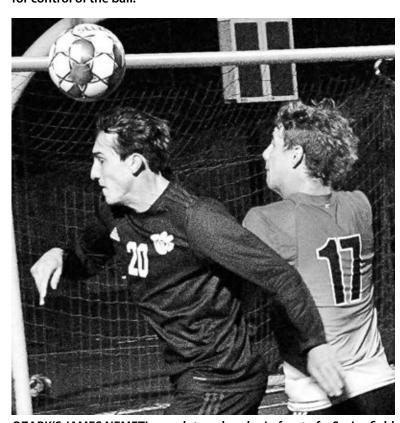

"We knew they would possess well, they always do," Owens said. "We had a tactical game plan for that and I think we executed it well. It took us a little bit to get settled in because it's not a formation we run all the time. We had to adjust to them and it worked in our favor."

"We weren't 100 percent," Lepant said of Ozark's play in general. "There were late tackles by us. I don't hate it. I'd rather have us go in for those tackles than not go in and lose the ball."

Ozark will look to close out an undefeated run within the COC and repeat as outright league champions by winning at Neosho (7-9) next week. The Tigers have won 17 straight COC matches and overall own

19 straight victories against

COC opponents. "Neosho is an interesting environment. Anything can happen," Owens said. "We like our chances of going back to back. I want the outright title. I don't want to share it."

"Caleb's a competitor, so he wants that notch on his belt," Owens said of the record. "But it's not making him selfish or anything like that. He's still distributing the ball and getting assists. It's not just about chasing that record. His assists and goals translate into wins for us. He's making sure he's doing everything he can to make the team successful."

Lepant had nine goals and 16 assists as a junior last season. He realized his scoring would need to pick up to help the Tigers continue to win.

"Before the season began, there were some chirps about how I needed to get goals since Adrian is gone," Lepant said. "I feel my junior season was a little underwhelming, as far as goals. I didn't get as many as I expected. But this year it's picked up. I've been good at finding the back of the net."

It's been a fulfilling season on many fronts for Lepant. He's nearing the goals he set for himself and the team and establishing a legacy that puts him among the program's alltime greats.

"Me and my Dad were talking about that in the pre-season and for personal goals I wanted to get pretty high up on our school leader board, as far as points," Lepant said. "I'm in seventh place right now. I also wanted 30 goals.

"It'll be fun to see your name up on the board, something that may stay up there for a minute," he said.

Lepant is likely on his way to receiving lofty post-season awards, particularly with Ozark repeating as COC champions. Last season, Ortega was the COC Offensive Player of The Year.

Lepant and Carthage's Welle Welle figure to be top contenders for that honor this time around. Welle currently has more goals than Lepant, but Lepant scored the winning goal in Ozark's overtime win at Carthage that decided the COC championship.

"I like the way you think," Owens said when told the latter should decide the Offensive Player of The Year winner.

NIXA'S SPENCER WARD AND ETHAN CHO hold up the Backyard Brawl trophy Friday.

OZARK'S BRODY LAWRENCE is met by a trio of Nixa defenders.

Eagles post first undefeated regular season since 2003

By PAT DAILEY Sports Editor patd@ccheadliner.com

The Backyard Brawl on Friday featured the same storyline as a year ago, along with the same final score as a year ago.

Safety Spencer Ward donned jersey number 10 for the first time in honor of his injured teammate and best friend, Brody Mabe, as Nixa ran its winning streak in the Backyard Brawl to four games with a 51-7 rout of Ozark.

Last season's 51-7 Eagles win at Ozark in the Backyard Brawl saw running back Ramone Green sport jersey number 1 as a salute to his injured teammate and best buddy, Austin McCracken.

"I got the idea from Ramone, same situation," Ward said. "Right after the game last week, I decided I wanted to make a gesture toward Broden and his family. That's my dawg. I'm still sad I can't play with him. But I'm glad to get a 'W' with his jersey.'

Ward related Mabe was proud to have his jersey back on the gridiron. The senior safety suffered a torn ACL two weeks ago against Willard.

"When I told him, he was like, 'Man, I'm going to cry," Ward said.

Ward will have to wait to watch film from Friday's game to see how he looks wearing two digits, rather than his customary number 9.

"We don't have any mirrors in (the locker room), so thankfully it didn't throw me off," Ward said. "I asked my teammates how I looked and they said, 'You look good' look good and play good, I guess."

Nixa (9-0) completed its first undefeated regular season since 2003. It's been a long time coming for Ward and his senior teammates.

"We finally did it, we finally got an undefeated regular season," he added.

"Their secondary was solid," Vincent said. "But our quarterbacks had really good ball placement."

Kicker Jordan Cribbs booted a 25-yard field goal and made 6-of-7 extra-point attempts.

This week's Class 5 firstround District matchups involving COC teams include Parkview-Republic, Springfield Central-Willard, Branson-Glendale, Sedalia Smith Cotton-Carthage and Neosho-Raytown South.

In Class 3 District 5, Clever (0-8) will play at Mountain Grove (6-3). "I'll figure some game to go to," Ward said.

Nixa will have homefield advantage throughout its District run.

The Class 6 District 5 champ will move on to the Quarterfinal round to play the winner of a Class 6 District 6 field that includes Lee's Summit North (9-0), Rockhurst (8-1) and Lee's Summit West (7-2).

Something to keep in mind, all Quarterfinal and Semifinal games in all classes will be played on Saturdays.

The Class 6 state championship game will be played Saturday, Dec. 2 at Mizzou's Faurot Field.

The Eagles plan to be there.

"We've got five more games to play," Michel said.

Sports Elite setters providing each other an assist

By PAT DAILEY Sports Editor patd@ccheadliner.com

The Ozark-Nixa rivalry has helped produce two of the best setters in the state this season and, fittingly, they give each other an assist for spurring their development.

The Lady Tigers' Reece Cook and the Lady Eagles' Jacy Bray rank 1-2 in assists in Class 6 statewide, in accordance to teams who track their stats on MaxPreps.com.

Cook entered the start of Districts over the weekend with 914 assists and Bray had 890.

Cook and Bray thrive off of competing against one another. They'll be on opposite sides of the net tonight, as Ozark and Nixa tangle in a Class 5 District 6 semifinal at 6:30 at Waynesville.

"Knowing she's right down the street at our biggest rival helps push me to try to beat her in assists," Cook said of Bray. "It also shows our area has a lot of great players."

"Our quality of play in Christian County is some of the best,' Bray said. "We play for very well-coached teams with amazing players. I respect Reece. I think she does a lot of good things for her team and has great hitters. Coming from an undersized setter myself, I think she does a very good job of being an offensive threat and a good blocker for her team."

milestone for her career at the Ozark Grand Slam Tournament. She set an Ozark record with 1,085 assists last season. The previous single-season mark was 864, set by Kendra Sater in 2015.

Of course, with MSHSAA's change from a best-of-3 format to a best-of-5 beginning 2020, records boards statewide require some sort of clarification distinguishing the eras.

Lady Tigers coach Adeana Brewer notes Cook's average of 10.9 assists a set is comparable to her predecessors at setter in Ozark's rich history.

"We have beaten a lot of teams in three sets this season. She would have an even larger assists number, if we were playing four- and five-set matches," Brewer said. "What's most impressive is her average of 10.9 assists a set."

"I'm proud of that number. Looking at that number helps me know I'm getting better every year," said Cook, whose assists average per set was 10.3 last season.

"I couldn't do it without the people I'm surrounded by," she added. "It makes my job easier when I have great hitters who are able to put balls down and help me break these records."

SHOWING POTENTIAL

NIXA'S WYATT VINCENT hauls in a reception while defended by Ozark's Brady Owens in last week's Backyard Brawl.

Nixa passing game may prove pivotal in playoffs

By PAT DAILEY Sports Editor

patd@ccheadliner.com

Nixa wide receivers Rylan Michel and Wyatt Vincent have been content playing in the shadows of the Eagles' vaunted running game, given their offense's prolific results and the team's undefeated run to the COC championship.

"Obviously, we want the ball," Michel said. "But whenever the running game is as good as ours, with Malachi (Rider) and Dylan (Rebura), and I think our O-line is the best in the state, you run the ball."

"You want to get the ball, but if the running game is going to get it done and win you games, you've got to be a team player," Vincent said.

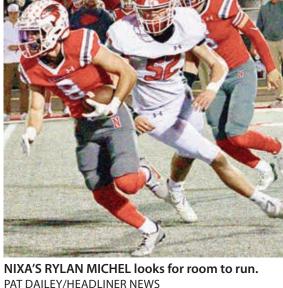

Nixa's passing game has put up most of its numbers in blowouts against overwhelmed opponents and only after the running game built a lead.

The only passes of real consequence have been Drew Blevins' game-winning touchdown pass to Michel against Webb City in Week One and Nate Uber's strike to Michel to gain a pivotal first down at Republic in Week Eight.

Looking ahead to Districts and possibly beyond, the Eagles' passing game will likely have to make more of an impact to keep opposing defenses honest.

Michel and Vincent vow they'll be ready when called upon.

Districts have more byes than games

By PAT DAILEY Sports Editor patd@ccheadliner.com

With the number of Class 6 teams up from 30 a year ago to 42 this season and the number of Class 6 Districts up from four to eight, it's taking time for players, coaches and fans to become familiarized with the upcoming playoff picture.

"I'm not going to lie, I still don't really know how the District is working," Nixa safety Spencer Ward said after the Eagles closed out their regular season slate with a 51-7 win versus Ozark.

Nixa (9-0) is the Class 6 District 5 No. 1 seed, just as the Eagles were for Class 6 District 3 a year ago. But unlike last season, coach John Perry's team has a firstround bye.

It's the first bye Nixa has had in the playoffs since the Eagles received a first-round pass for Class 5 District 6 in 2019. They were awarded a win by forfeit due to COVID for a Class 6 District 3 firstroad game against Lee's Summit North in 2020.

Like Ward, Nixa's Rylan Michel wasn't exactly sure after the Backyard Brawl how Districts are set up. The senior wide receiver initially planned to use the Eagles' upcoming idle Friday night to scout a possible District opponent.

"I'll probably go to a game with someone in our District," Michel

When told the only first-round Class 6 District 5 game will involve No. 6 seed Ozark (1-8) playing at No. 5 Waynesville (2-7), Michel wasn't sure he would want to make that 190-mile round-trip.

The Ozark-Waynesville winner will advance to face Nixa in a semifinal.

Ozark has lost eight in a row. Waynesville's wins have been against Parkview (0-9) and Hillcrest (1-8).

On the other side of the Class 6 District 5 bracket, No. 2 seed Kickapoo (8-1) and No. 3 Joplin (6-3) also will receive a first-round bye. They will prepare for a semifinal matchup against each other at Kickapoo.

Joplin was awarded a bye after beating only one team, Carthage (5-4), with a winning record.

Altogether, 22 of the 42 Class 6 teams have been granted a first-round District bye. There will be just 10 Class 6 first-round games statewide.

"It's weird," Michel said of playoffs getting under way with so few

By the way, the Class 6 enrollment break for football was set at 1,277. Lafayette, with an enrollment of 1,277 is the smallest Class 6 school. The next COC school to make the jump to Class 6 may be Carthage, which is at 1,232. Republic is at 1,148.

OZARK'S CALEB LEPANT celebrates a PAT DAILEY/HEADLINER NEWS

Lepant in striking range of Ozark goals record

By PAT DAILEY Sports Editor

patd@ccheadliner.com

Let the countdown begin for Caleb Lepant's chase toward Ozark's single-season goals record.

Through 22 matches entering the Tigers' trip to Marquette over the weekend, Lepant had 29 goals. The program's current standard is 33, set by Adrian Ortega during his standout senior season last year.

Ortega remains a fixture at Ozark matches and sits with his former teammates on the Tigers' bench.

"I kind of feel bad, I've got to let him sit on his record for a little bit," Lepant joked.

All kidding aside, he'd very much like to have the record.

"It's something I have in mind," Lepant said. "I think it's achievable. It's getting very real."

Ozark coach Zack Owens long ago nicknamed Lepant 'The Facilitator,' for his penchant to pass out assists. Owens feels that nickname still sticks, even as Lepant's scoring has taken off.
