Happy Joe's Galena set to close

by Dan Burke
dburke@galgazette.com

GALENA—Happy Joe's Galena is closing its doors after 35 years of operation.

Friday, June 15 will be the last day the long-time restaurant will be open to the public, read a press release from the franchise office in Bettendorf, Iowa.

Happy Joe's Galena opened in 1984 and was best known as a kid's destination for pizza, ice cream and games. Long-time employee, and now general manager, Valerie Deiningering said she'll miss Happy Joe's.

"It's disappointing," said Deiningering. "Happy Joe's has always been a part of my life. I am sad to see it go."

Deiningering said she started at Happy Joe's Galena in 2004 and worked her way up through the ranks to general manager. She also met her husband through the restaurant.

"Everybody is sad to see Happy Joe's leaving," said Deiningering. "Many of my staff has been here for more than 10 years."

While the restaurant has been a community staple for 35 years, Deiningering said there is always change and the only thing to do is move forward.

"Things change and we just have to move on," said Deiningering.

According to a press release, the last few years "have proven to be somewhat difficult." The press release cited the death of Galena owner Carl Schoenhard and changes in tourism, demographics and a lack of population growth.

A quote from Joe Whitty was included in the press release.

"Carl Schoenhard and his wife, Ann, were fantastic business partners and friends," said Whitty. "We cannot say enough good things about them. We all have such wonderful memories of this location."

Ann Schoenhard could not be reached for comment.

Galena Lions honor Junge

GALENA—The Galena Lions Club recently presented member Greg Junge with the Melvin Jones Award, the highest humanitarian honor of Lions Clubs International.

Junge's recognition is well-deserved, having consistently served and provided leadership for the club for over 15 years, while taking on a 10-year reign as chairperson for the annual Galena Oktoberfest committee.

"It was a complete surprise to receive this award," Junge said. "Whatever good I've done for the club was with a lot of help from the Galena Oktoberfest committee, which is still very strong today."

Junge was brought into the club by his neighbor, Fred Borsdorf, who also introduced Phil and Chet Schuler, as well as Jeff Holder, all leaders and active members in both the club and on the Oktoberfest committee.

When the yearly golf outing fundraiser became more work than it was profitable, the executive committee of the Galena Lions Club decided to choose a different direction for fundraising. Galena Oktoberfest plans, to include wiener dog races, live music, and polka dancing, began on Junge's outdoor deck that evening. At the next meeting of the membership, the event idea was unanimously passed, and nearly all of the club members joined the committee to make it happen.

As the chairperson for the Galena Oktoberfest committee, Junge suggested three priorities in this order: the committee must have fun organizing and running the event; the patrons must have fun attending it; the club would make money and all proceeds would go to those in need.

With Junge's leadership model, continued involvement on the committee, and teaching several German songs that are sung at meetings, the committee's priorities have remained.

The club is now planning the 13th annual Galena Oktoberfest, which will be held on Saturday, Oct. 5 at Depot Park.

You are in for a treat. The Cemetery Walk—one of the Galena-Jo Daviess County Historical Society's major fundraisers—is a challenge for the performers, who typically have anywhere from five to seven pages of script to memorize, polish and perform in anywhere from a light, cool breeze, to 90-degree direct sunlight. The treat this year is in the new location: Old City Cemetery. You can see in great detail the historical restoration efforts by Dale Glick, The Galena Foundation and others, committed to preserving this unique Galena landmark.

Both the performers and audience are surrounded by history. It's a great honor and responsibility, to be asked to be part of the Cemetery Walk. The lives of the people portrayed provides a glimpse into the past. It's your challenge to talk how they would have talked, think how they would have thought, and live how they would have lived. In short: you're bringing this person back to life. It's also tough on audiences emotionally. Each character, after all, has passed away. I expect many in the audience to leave some of the scenes in tears.

With a new location, there's the chance to explore Galena through the eyes of the early settlers:

- Hezekiah and Charlotte Gear, portrayed by Michael Crawford and Robyn Davis;
- Captain David Garth Bates, portrayed by Dan Thornton;
- Joseph Russell Jones, portrayed by Robert Mahan;
- Victims of cholera, portrayed by Evan Soat, Emeline Seeley Denio by Caitriona Terry, Susan Gratiot by Carmen Ferguson, Alexander Colard by Robert Armstrong and Clarissa Landin by Elimina Henderson;
- Florine Sackett Rogers, portrayed by Lisa Schoenrock;
- Joseph and Eliza Waggoner, portrayed by Phil and Terri Jackman;
- Ronn Toebaas bases his scripts on the historical research conducted by Scott Wolfe and Kris Chapman. I can't imagine the challenge of distilling everything about a life into a handful of pages, but Ronn does, and he can find the unique qualities of even the most every-day people.

Bryan Ackerman is stage managing, and clutch when it comes to props. Leslie Waltman is working as the assistant state manager, and for the indoor performance, Robin French will be the pianist.

Of particular note this year are the outstanding costumes. Douglas Mahan costumed the production, and has set an impressive bar. The costumes are brilliant. I hope Douglas becomes the go-to source for the event in the coming years, no matter which cemetery.

Support the Galena-Jo Daviess County Historical Society, and come by Old City Cemetery on Saturday and Sunday, June 8 and 9. Shows start every 20 minutes from 2 to 4:30 p.m. There is also the indoor performance at Grace Episcopal Church at 7:30 p.m., Friday, June 14. Admission is $15.

Jay Dickerson is advertising manager of the Gazette. jdickerson@galgazette.com. You don't see names like "Hezekiah" nowadays, and that's a shame.

LETTER FROM OUR READERS

Bad news. Good news. Hope.

by Peggy Stortz, Galena

Editor's note: The author served on the Galena Public Library's board of trustees. At the May organizational meeting, she was not elected board president and opted to resign.

- What's the bad news?
- Monthly financial reports at the library are so riddled with errors as to be of no practical use to anyone.
  - Work on the next fiscal year's budget is delayed until the eleventh hour, providing no time for productive discussions or revisions.
  - The library's audit revealed a host of deficiencies which are caused by the board's lack of oversight and supervision.
  - Purchases such as the holiday dinner party are not clearly delineated as budget items so the public can be aware of them.
  - Nine months after our library director began her tenure with us, the board president still hadn't made time to make her an authorized user on the library credit card.
  - Lacking a common vision of what the library means to our community and how it should move forward, the board wastes taxpayer money when it haphazardly begins and then abandons projects.
  - Anyone who dares to point out problems is cast as a malcontent, a disgruntled troublemaker.

Write to us

• Galena Gazette, P.O. Box 319, Galena, IL 61036.
• cnewton@galgazette.com.
• galenagazette.com

• Hand delivery: 716 S. Bench St.
• Letters must be signed. Include a telephone number so we can confirm authorship.

What's the good news?

- The Galena Public Library has an outstanding library director. Many thanks to Ginni Yarbrough and Rick Pariser for finding Nita Burke for us.
- All of the bad news listed above could be addressed if the library board president wouldn't alternately neglect and then rush the responsibilities of his office. He also needs to allow our very competent and capable library director to perform her duties without interference.
- I hope the board will work diligently to build a transparent and balanced budget in a timely fashion and to provide necessary fiscal oversight throughout the year. It is essential that all financial information provided to the board and to the public is accurate and reliable.
- I hope the board will take the time to formulate a common vision to keep the Galena Public Library safe and relevant as we move into the future.

Am I disheartened that I couldn't help achieve these goals for the library?
• Yes.

Residential development needed

by Donald Hudson, warden,
Thomson Prison

The Thomson prison is not a new subject and to imply it has been a long journey is an understatement. State and federal governments have made large investments in this prison and I realize the local communities have matched these efforts.

The Administrative United States Penitentiary (AUSP) at Thomson currently employs nearly 400 staff, with a future full staffing complement of over 600. While a majority of our staff and their families are from the local area, a large number have transferred from other institutions and now reside in your communities.

They are a diverse group with diverse needs and their presence has a compounding effect as salaries are redistributed throughout the local area, in housing, food, goods, services, and taxes.

As our staffing levels continue to grow, the demand for homes and other amenities also increase. Affordable and desirable housing along with good quality schools and day care centers determine where Bureau of Prisons' staff reside. They need apartments, rental houses, starter homes and larger homes for their expanding families.

Unfortunately, for some, commuting a long distance is necessary, with some staff traveling as far north as Dubuque and south beyond the Quad Cities.

AUSP Thomson is now offering new correctional officers a sign-on bonus of 10 percent of their salary and after successfully completing one year of service; new staff will receive a one-time bonus of over $4,000. However, this may not be enough to entice staff to reside in the local community.

Therefore, I humbly request your assistance in advocating for more housing development. Please do what you can to create conversations among community leadership and residential developers. I fear that without noticeable development, the lack of housing may become a determining factor against relocating to this area.

As always, thank you for your interest in AUSP Thomson and the hospitality provided to Bureau staff and their families. The local communities have always made us feel at home and AUSP Thomson intends to be a good neighbor.

If you have any questions or need additional information, please contact me at 815-259-1000 or TOM/ExecAssistant@bop.gov.

Exciting times

by Chuck Wemstrom, Mt. Carroll

This is an exciting time to live in Illinois. For too many years our state has been mismanaged. Now with Gov. Pritzker's leadership, we are finally headed in the right direction. The referendum has been a long time coming, and the new pro-choice guidelines are overdue. A new infrastructure bill is in the works (the only caveat is be sure and consider climate change in every project and more money for public transit.) and once the referendum passes we can talk about a meaningful reduction in property taxes.

On the national level, in the next eighteen months we are going to have the opportunity to fully debate and decide our country's future. Of the twenty plus Democratic candidates, there are more than a handful who would make great presidents.

We need Nick Hyde and David Simpson right now to help shape the debate about income taxes and property taxes, to help explain and defend the new pro-choice regulations, and help shape and fine-tune the infrastructure bill. We need them or other potential candidates to help lead the discussions on changes in the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services. We need them to be forthright about the necessity for increase funding in most state agencies, especially the parks and state police.

And we must reconsider the inadequate funding levels which are starving the state university system

GAZETTE THROWBACK

For too long, we've had to listen to Republicans say, "no" and "then again, on the other hand, no" or "quite simply, no." And we wonder why the rest of the state ignores our legislators.

Let's bring the debate home to northwest Illinois, and let's all work together to get the referendum passed and the state moving in the right direction.

The nothing report

by Art Ricker, Galena

It all began in May 2017 when Robert Mueller was appointed special counsel to investigate Russian interference in the 2016 presidential election. The much anticipated 400-page report was released this past March. After holding us in suspense for nearly two years, and contributing to the division that characterizes our nation of late, Mueller held a news briefing (no questions, please) this past Wednesday announcing his retirement and the closing down of the investigation. Adding nothing to the already non-conclusion, it was simply a poor attempt by a career bureaucrat to get out of Dodge unscathed.

Well, if good old J. Edgar were still in charge, the investigation would have taken less than a week and those Russians would have been promptly served some good old U.S.A. justice and there would have been a one-page report on what he would do to prevent such happenings in the future. Times change. In truth, I didn't watch the entire briefing, flipping the channels and opting instead to watch Mike Lindel tout his "My Pillows" for the thousandth time. After all this minutia I at least would spend some quality time being consoled on how to get a good night's sleep.

The cost of the investigation is estimated to be between $35 and $40 million. To put this in perspective, it is double our county's annual operating budget. If asked I would have enthusiastically traded not having to pay the county portion of my tax bill for two years versus a report that "does not conclude that the president committed a crime" but also "does not exonerate him". What?

It is further reported that 40, yes 40, FBI agents were assigned to the investigation. Just consider the positive results of those agents being assigned to work with local police officers on the west side of Chicago instead. We just might have several children still with us instead of them losing their young lives by getting innocently caught in the crossfire of the continuing gang violence that plagues the city.

So we will have a choice this summer watch the unending analysis of the "nothing report" on the news or getting outside and facing those pesky gnats. Pass me the Absorbine Jr. I'll face the gnats.

Good guy award

by Janelle Keeffer,

City of Galena facilities manager

This spring, volunteers from throughout the city—countless individuals, families, groups, schools and employers and employees—united to assist in doing "spring cleanup" throughout Galena. While there are many who may be unnamed, I would like to take the time to thank everyone involved and recognize those we know who participated in the city's 11th annual Galena Beautification Project held during April and May. They are all deserving of the good guy award.

We estimate that nearly 100 volunteers collected hundreds of pounds of litter from Galena's parks and roadways.

Special thanks to: Pam Bernstein, Kim Cook, Dale Glick, First Community Bank of Galena, Illinois Bank & Trust, Galena Middle School seventh grade class, Galena Music Boosters, Galena Boy Scout Troop 95, Galena Nanny Goats bike group, Cash In/Trash Out Geocacher's group led by Kirk Foecking, Grosshans family, Kiwanis Club of Galena, Mary Jo Losey, Harry Lunde, Moran family, Cindy Pepple, Pleasant View 4-H Club, Deb and Don Rury, Shelke family, Montgomery Trucking, the Galena Area Chamber of Commerce and the Galena Downtown Business Association.

Thank you to all of our citizens who help keep our community beautiful!

Has someone gone out of their way to help you? If so, please send your Good Guy nomination to: cnewton@galgazette.com; fax, 815 777-3809; mail, P.O. Box 319, Galena, IL 61036.

Honor all that is 'wondrously made'

What in the world could my discovery of liverworts in a close-up photo of mosses along my stream have to do with brothels in Jo Daviess County in the mid-19th century?

A week ago while I was hiking along my stream to discover what the storms had churned up, I was surrounded by the rich vibrancy and variety of greens. I focused my camera on a bit of moss which caught my eye because of its intense color.

When I got back up my hill to check it out, I enlarged the photo allowing myself to zoom in on what seemed like tiny leaves.

To my astonishment, they were like nothing I had ever seen! They had no veins like ordinary leaves and instead had what seemed to be a scaled surface.

I posted my picture on Facebook with a question, "Does anyone know what this is?" Fortunately, Randy Nyboer, naturalist, responded.

"A fine specimen of liverwort," he wrote.

I immediately looked up liverwort and discovered that the plant is ancient! It was here on our planet before plants had roots and vascular systems. I suspect what had drawn me to it was some message from 470 million years ago, for that is when liverworts appeared. Our sweet, tender planet! How wondrously made! How much I have missed seeing in my lifetime.

Liverwort photographed on the rocky cliff next to the author's stream. Lynn Werner photo

Recently, I have been paying particular attention to groups of people whose history often renders them invisible. Surely, they also are also wondrously made and deserving of reverence.

This week, I have been listening to a series of fine BBC podcasts on the struggles of worldwide refugees. Though I know of such struggles from my own fieldwork, I am particularly agonized by the plights of young women caught by human trafficking in the sex trades.

Because the Friends of Wapello (Galena Gazette, May 22) were clearing what had reputedly been a location where a 1940s brothel once stood, I began to wonder if prostitution existed in our region in the 19th century. I could not help but think about the women themselves.

There are a few references to houses of prostitution in the Galena Daily Gazette. On April 14, 1883, the Gazette wrote of the grim discovery of the remains of a woman. The article continues, "A house of prostitution is said to have located many years ago near where the gas works now stand, and it is thought by some that the remains were those of some unfortunate inmate."

On May 8, 1874, the Galena Daily Gazette reports that the "keep of the bawdy house on the East Side expires tomorrow. If moral and legal suasion will not have the effect to abate this nuisance, the neighbors propose to resort to other means."

Even earlier on July 18, 1859, a woman's name is published while the man remains protected. "Yesterday a Teutonic gentleman and Mary St. Peter were caught in flagrante delicto, for which both were fined $5. Mary, not possessing the 'ready-go-down,' was sent to the calaboose. The Dutch Lothario gave security for the payment of the cost of violating the city ordinance."

Was the unfortunate Mary a prostitute who the reporter assumes was not yet paid? Or was she attacked? The man is described as a Lothario at the same time he is described as a gentleman. In 1859, he was a protected seducer while Mary was named and humiliated.

One of the "oldest landmarks in Galena," which had been built in 1828, was torn down in 1887. It was located on "lower Main street, near Casserly's corner." The Galena Gazette of June 6, 1887, states that it "was at one time a notorious house of ill repute."

Though I will need to do more thorough research to add to this still rudimentary information on brothels, I do wish to include what is the tragic tale of Lizzie O'Rourke who, when charged with prostitution according to the Galena Daily Gazette, Jan. 28, 1879, had her son taken from her by the county superintendent. What great human suffering in that tale about which we know so little!

Because we are living in a time when life itself is threatened on our planet, I am finding all life exquisitely remarkable. Thus, I am left with the apparently odd similarity between liverwort and prostitution.

One does not have to be religious to appreciate the 139th Psalm. When I lived for a time as a hermit after experiencing such violence in my own life, that Psalm gave me comfort. Especially, that I was "wondrously made."

I remained awed by a bit of liverwort sending me its 470 million-year-old message. All life, liverwort and prostitutes are "wondrously made." With reverence, we must honor them both with equally gentle tenacity.

Cemetery Walk remembers early settlers

Actors present living histories at Old City Cemetery, Grace Episcopal June 8, 9, 14

GALENA—Performers of the June 8, 9 and 14 Cemetery Walk are exploring the rugged lives of early settlers, sharing stories of prosperity and the challenges of intersecting cultures, politics and cholera.

Cemetery Walk is one of the Galena-Jo Daviess County Historical Society's major fundraising events. A team of researchers, actors and supporters put countless hours of preparation into each year's Walk to create a remarkable experience.

Writer and Director Ronn Toebaas relies heavily on research by local librarian Scott Wolfe and Historical Society Board Member Kris Chapman to find the facts behind the people who are portrayed in each Walk.

"Finding the information to help build the scripts is an especially monumental task this year," Toebaas said. "We're talking about some of the first settlers to come to the area."

The information Wolfe and Chapman found helped to develop eye-opening and touching stories.

"There are emotional stories to tell here," Toebaas said. "For some of our portrayals, we're looking at the lives of people who lost everything, built it up again and kept on going. There are many stories of real courage."

This year's performers include Michael Crawford and Robyn Davis, Dan Thornton, Robert Mahan, Robert Armstrong, Evan Soat, Carmen Ferguson, El-limena Henderson, Caitriona Terry, Lisa Schoenrock and Phil and Terri Jackman.

In addition, the production staff includes Bryan

Ackerman, stage manager; Leslie Waltman, assistant stage manager, and Douglas Mahan, costumer. Robin French will provide music for the indoor performance.

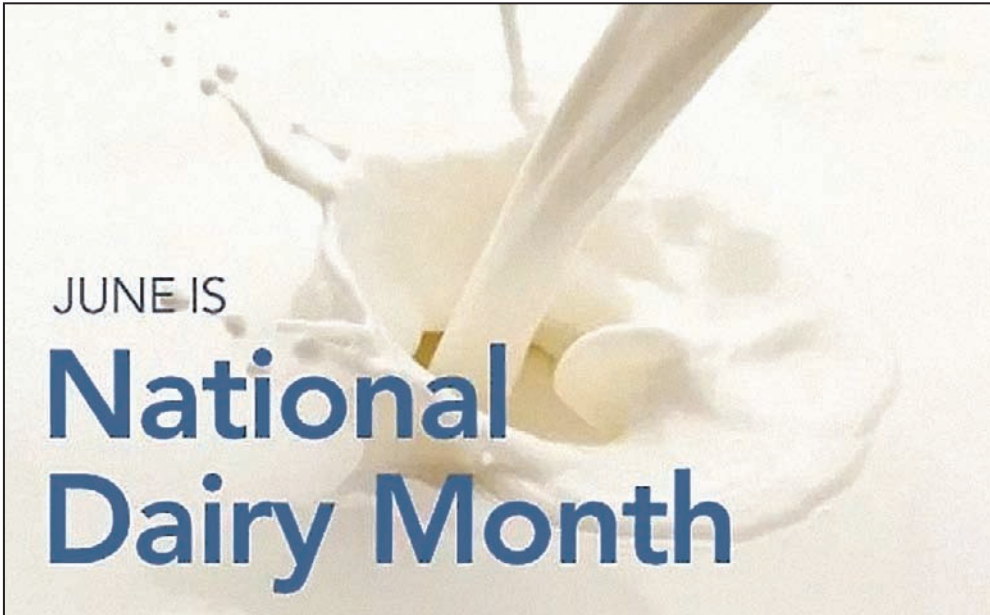

You can be a living witness at Old City Cemetery on Saturday and Sunday, June 8 and 9. Shows start every 20 minutes from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Old City Cemetery is located at North Dodge Street, between Hill and Washington streets.

An indoor, seated performance is set for 7 p.m. Friday, June 14 at Grace Episcopal Church, 309 Hill St. Admission for both the outdoor and indoor events is $15, and proceeds go to the Galena-Jo Daviess County Historical Society's mission to preserve the stories of our region.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2665 sponsored this year's Cemetery Walk.

For more information, phone 815-777-9129 or visit galenahistory.org.

Tickets are available at the gate only on the day of the performances.

The Galena High School chapter of the Highland Community College Servant Leadership Program recently donated $1,000 to The Workshop, for the purchase of iPads for its consumers to use. Other activities of the servant leaders include the sale of breakfast pizza before school, a hat day at Galena Primary School and two raffles for Apple watches, one for high school students, and one for the public. Watch winners were James Salazar at the high school and Jay Dickerson. After making the donation servant leaders were able to tour The Workshop and observe the work that is done there. Participating in the check passing were, back, from left, Maddie Miller, Olivia Kropp, Gracie Wubben, Sami Wasmund, Mackenzie Muehleip, Alexis Engle, Lilly Dickerson, Workshop Program Director Laura Moyer; and, front row: Angie Spautz and John Asta. # Apple Canyon Lake serves up barbecue

by Dan Burke

dburke@galgazette.com

APPLE CANYON LAKE—The billowing smoke and smells of barbecue emanating from the grills dotted around the parking lot at Apple Canyon Lake's fitness center served as a siren song, inevitably pulling in everyone who passed by.

With cooperating weather, Apple Canyon Lake hosted a barbecue grill competition on Saturday, May 25. About seven participants set up shop and put their barbecue and grilling skills on display.

Jon Sonntag, who is from Wood Dale but has a home in Apple Canyon Lake, said he helped organize this year's event with Calvin Stalls of Freeport. Sonntag said this was the first year he entered the contest.

Participants came from as far east as Freeport and as far south as Shannon. The event started at 2 p.m. and lasted until about 6 p.m.

Council considers liquor licenses

by Hillary Dickerson

hdickerson@galgazette.com

GALENA—Galena will soon have a new category of liquor license, this one for salon/day spa businesses.

At the Tuesday, May 28 Galena City Council meeting, the council approved, by a 4-2 vote, the first reading of an ordinance amending city code to create a liquor license for salon/day spa businesses.

Council member Jerry Kieffer, who spoke out at the last meeting in opposition to another classification of licenses, remained against the move, as did council member Pam Bernstein, who was not at the May 13 meeting.

Council members Chris Allendorf, Robert Hahn, Marc McCoy and Jerry Westemeier voted in favor.

At the May 13 council meeting, Tina Knautz, who is planning to open the Studio One Green Spa and Salon in the Gateway Park Subdivision, made the request.

In approving the first reading, council members discussed better defining the time period for the new license before eventually settling on 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

McCoy said that by establishing the new classification, there is some type of monitoring taking place. He also likes that Galena is doing something different.

When it came to a creating a liquor license for beer and wine only, without an associated restaurant, what would be called a "Class J-1" license, the city council opted not to move forward. Instead, the council plans to expand the number of available Class A licenses and issue one to the business. The Class A is a full-service license intended for bars. The Class A permits the sale of all alcoholic beverages.

Currently, all eight Class A licenses authorized by the city code are issued to operating businesses, so an ordinance is needed to expand the number.

The issue arose at the May 13 meeting when Lisa Kempner, who plans to open a high-end champagne bar on Main Street with her sister, requested the new type of license.

In examining the Class J-1 concept, Allendorf was opposed. He noted that pretty much every business in Galena would qualify for a liquor license with that model and he didn't like the idea of this type of business competing against already established restaurants with bars.

McCoy and Bernstein both said they thought an additional Class A license made sense in this situation.

Both requests will eventually go before the liquor commission for approval.

Other business

In other business, the council:

- approved a request by the Galena Center for the Arts to use two parking spaces on Main Street for Chalkfest on June 14 and 15. The area will be in front of the Coatsworth building.

- Allendorf, who was concerned with taking away parking spaces on a busy weekend, voted no. All others were in favor.

- approved installation of curb and gutter adjacent to the Greenwood and St. Mary's Cemetery on Gear Street. Estimated cost for curb/gutter and sidewalk including design and construction engineering will be $104,926, funds will come from street resurfacing budget item which contains $373,400.

- approved a contract to install parking for persons with disabilities at Grant Park. Wiene Excavating and Landscaping will install two parking spaces at a cost of $17,065.

- approved a license for St. Matthew Lutheran Church to install lighting on Cemetery Park property.

- approved an internet services agreement with Northern Illinois University for the internet service at the fire department.

- approved a change order for $2,815 for All Star Power Wash for the swimming pool sandblasting and painting project.

- approved a request by Midwest Medical Health and Fitness for the 15th annual fun walk/run on the Galena River Trail for Oct. 5.

- approved a request by Northern Illinois Wine Growers for the Corkless Wine Festival at Depot Park on June 22.

- approved a license for 1628 Field St., for garage improvements on the Hamilton Street right-of-way.

- approved a request by the Galena ARC to host the Fourth of July Community Day at Rec Park, including the Buckhill Run, on Thursday, July 4, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

- approved a budget amendment for year-end budget adjustments.

- heard the monthly water and sewer operations report from Matt Trotter, project manager for Veolia.

Miller-Steinke Galena license suspended, fined

by Dan Burke

dburke@galgazette.com

GALENA—A long-time Galena funeral home does not have a licensed operator.

Ommar "Michael" Badran, Miller-Steinke Funeral Home's owner/operator in Galena, who also operates in Chicago and DuPage County, had his license indefinitely suspended and was fined $15,000 by the Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation.

According to a Freedom of Information Act request fulfilled by the Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation (IDFPR), Badran had his license suspended in February for billing for services he did not provide, making false statements and dishonorable, unethical or unprofessional conduct of character likely to deceive, defraud or harm the public.

According to the documents, Badran promised certain services, and accepted payment for those services, but did not deliver. After the IDFPR filed a complaint against Badran, he neither filed a written reply nor did he appear at subsequent hearings.

Badran's failure to reply or appear was constituted to be an admission of the allegations, accord-

'Badran acted in a dishonorable, unethical or unprofessional conduct of character.'

Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation, about why Ommar "Michael" Badran's license was indefinitely suspended and he was fined $15,000

ing to the IDFPR.

According to the documents, the family of Frances Skaggs made arrangements with Badran for a funeral service in 2017, and paid Badran $3,000. Badran charged for, but did not provide, a singer, tent and chairs and an obituary.

The documents state Badran provided a debit agreement to the family in October 2017, but incorrectly dated the agreement Sept. 19, 2017, which was declared a falsification of documents.

The IDFPR listed a second complaint against Badran, on behalf of the Janet Nelson Schlitt family. The complaint states arrangements included a religious service involving a pastor and a musician, burial at Greenwood Cemetery in Galena and an inscription on the headstone. The documents show Badran was paid $12,000 through Schlitt's insurance.

Schlitt passed away in 2017 in Minnesota. Prior arrangements were made in 2014 with Miller Funeral Homes, before the location was bought out by Badran.

The Gazette reported Badran purchased the Galena location in 2017. After Schlitt's death, Badran was supposed to pay the Minnesota funeral home and pay for a headstone inscription.

The IDFPR states Badran failed to account for the funds he received as well as failing to return excess funds to Schlitt's beneficiary.

The IDFPR concluded that Badran made false statements to the Skaggs family and collected fees for services not rendered.

"(Badran's) conduct regarding the falsely dated debit agreement constitutes knowingly making any false statements of a character likely to influence, persuade or induce others in the course of performing professional services or activities," states the IDFPR complaint.

In both the Skaggs and Schlitt cases, the IDFPR concluded that Badran acted in a "dishonorable, unethical or unprofessional conduct of a character likely to deceive, defraud or harm the public."

Also, in both complaints, Badran did not provide either family with an agreement signed by both parties. The IDFPR indefinitely suspended Badran's funeral director and embalmer license and imposed a fine of $15,000.

Documents show Badran initially failed to appear or respond, either in person or through counsel, to the IDFPR complaint in October 2018.

Badran also failed to appear or answer to the complaint in November 2018. Attempts to contact Badran for this story were unsuccessful.

Scholarships

Galena Rotary honors 25 area students

GALENA—Students smiled. Parents and grandparents smiled. Rotarians smiled. It always happens this way when the Rotary Club of Galena awards $1,500 scholarships to area high school seniors.

But, this year, one graduate, kept everyone laughing with his humorous commentary about his post-high-school life.

This year, Galena Rotary awarded scholarships totaling $37,500 to 25 deserving high school seniors.

But it was Stockton High School senior Stanlee Rillie, the last senior to receive a scholarship, who stole the show.

"You have saved the best for last," he told the crowd, and noted that he was going to University of Wisconsin-Platteville—"otherwise known as 'P-Vegas,'" he said—to study agribusiness and minor in finance.

He noted that he grew up on a small farm and that his family was involved in other endeavors and that he understood agriculture but "wanted to learn the business aspect of agriculture."

"Basically I want to be rich," he said.

He mentioned Mark Zuckerberg of Facebook fame and how he gained fame and had his image on magazine covers at age 23 when he made his first million.

"The question I have," he continued, "is why you have to wait until you're 23 to make your first million?"

Referencing the marketing phrase—Abraham Lincoln spoke here—which the DeSoto House Hotel uses, Rillie said he was looking for the day when he was 22 years of age, had made his first million, had his image on magazine covers and when the DeSoto House promoted itself as the place where "Stanlee Rillie spoke here."

Each student had the opportunity to share a few comments. Highlights include:

- Olivia Winter, Scales Mound: "I love meeting and talking to people."

- Julie Cogan, Scales Mound: Shared that she wanted to acquire the skills at college to continue her father's business of making vegetation maps for the National Park Service.

- Collin Anglese East Dubuque: Shared that his family had faced challenging financial situations from time to time and as a CPA wanted to help people through those challenging times.

- Mia Schemmel, East Dubuque: "I am passionate about improving and changing schools."

- Lazime Lumani, River Ridge: "My dad came here with no money and did not know the language. I know that if he could do it, I can."

- Emily Raab, Warren: As she was leaving for an all-state music event, the Warren student body formed a line which she went through, just as happens with athletes. She said, "It was the best feeling ever."

- Abby Moyer, Galena: Shared how inspired she is when she sees her brother, Ben, learn. The experience is shaping her career decisions.

- Jack Dregne, Galena: He likes to record music late at night in his bedroom. It's right next to his parents' bedroom. "In the fall (when he's off to college) my parents will sleep better," he noted.

- Hannah Smith, Stockton: "I love to care for others."

- Jenna Beneventi, Stockton: "I want a career to help others."

For the first time ever, the Rotary Club of Galena awarded the Merle and Bernard Berlage Scholarship which has been endowed by their family.

Forest Therapy Walk at Sinsinawa June 29

SINSINAWA, Wis.—Nature will provide the setting for a new program at Sinsinawa Mound. Forest Therapy Walk will be held 9-11:30 a.m. Saturday, June 29.

Forest therapy is inspired by the Japanese practice of Forest Bathing. Forest therapy is not a naturalist walk. Rather, it is a slow, meditative walk in nature that takes a holistic view to the physiological, mental, emotional, and psycho-spiritual benefits to be derived from an embodied contact with nature and aims to engage humans through their senses, not their intellects. Studies have demonstrated a wide array of health benefits, especially in the cardiovascular and immune systems as well as stabilizing and improving mood and cognition. The goal is to build on those benefits by reminding people that we are a part of nature, not separate from it, and are related to all other beings in fundamental ways. The forest therapy walk draws on the latest developments in the field of nature connection and ancient traditions of mindfulness and wellness promotion.

The walk requires no exceptional skill or exertion and will be limited to 15 participants. The facilitator will be Richard Collins, a guide-in-practicum for the Association of Nature and Forest Therapy (ANFT) who is based in Morristown, N.J. His company, Friendly Territory, specializes in forest therapy walks.

The registration deadline is Friday, June 28, and the fee is $10. For more information, contact guest services at 608-748-4411 or visit sinsinawa.org/moundcenter.

School board committee decides against policy for hiring faculty as coaches

by Hillary Dickerson
hdickerson@galgazette.com

GALENA—The Galena School Board's policy and legal update committee decided Tuesday, May 28 that establishing a board policy to address coaching opportunities for faculty members might not be the best course of action.

Superintendent Greg Herbst showed the committee—Brian McIntyre, Chuck Korte and John Rosenthal—a chart that showed which coaches are faculty members, which are employees of the district in another capacity and which are not otherwise employed by the district. For IHSA-sanctioned activities, there are more non-employees than faculty members.

Herbst said that up to this point there haven't been teaching candidates who have declined a position because a coaching opportunity wasn't available, but that is a possibility.

Herbst said he wanted to be proactive before something like that might occur and the district lose an excellent teacher. Coaches are at-will and hired every year.

Rosenthal was the first to point out that establishing a policy might not be best.

"Once you put it into a policy, I think it kind of ties your hands," he said.

Herbst gave the example of new-hire Michael Decker, who will teach physical education next year. There is currently an opening for a middle school football coach, but Decker coached at the varsity level and could potentially be a candidate for head football coach at some point, Herbst said, so perhaps an assistant varsity position would be a better fit.

McIntyre and Korte agreed with Rosenthal that the administration having flexibility is a good thing.

Herbst said he appreciated all the comments in support of administration making the decisions they believe are in the best interest of the students. In a small town, Herbst noted, emotions can run high, and the board's trust in administration is very important. He agreed that continuing without a formal policy would be better.

The committee also discussed making sure coaching decisions are made earlier than they are currently so that coaches know what the future holds.

Switching gears, the committee also addressed the district's attendance and truancy policy, which Herbst will discuss with the district's attorney to possibly clear up some language issues to make the policy more clear.

River Ridge seventh graders use resources to learn about Weston

HANOVER—Seventh graders at River Ridge Middle School are published authors thanks to Studenttreasures publishing and author P.J. HarteNaus.

Seventh graders spent part of their literature program researching the now extinct and nearby Weston community.

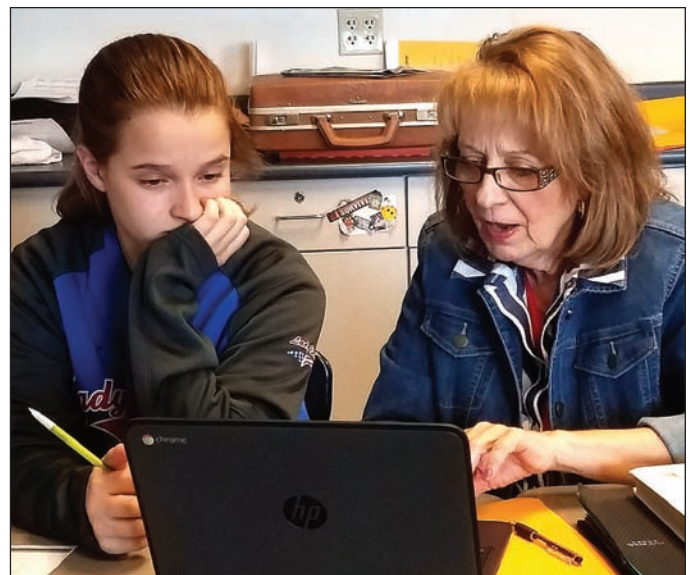

Research began with a visit to the Weston Cemetery located north of River Ridge School. Students also used a variety of primary sources reviews including information from the Elizabeth Historical Society and the Galena Public Library's Alfred Mueller Historical Collections Room. Students also collected information from ancestry.com.

Students incorporated the facts into pieces of historical fiction which culminated into an anthology, Weston Writings. Weekly writing workshops were conducted by P.J. HartNaus allowing students to see the writing process from an author's perspective.

Her visit also allowed students to use their writing talents in a real world situation.

Copies were given to local libraries, historical societies as well as the Galena library's historical collection's room.

Parents had the opportunity to purchase copies as well.

Hendren retires after 30 years of teaching

by Dan Burke
dburke@galgazette.com

HANOVER—Al Hendren is wrapping up a teaching career that has spanned more than three decades.

For the last two years, Hendren knew he was retiring at the end of this school year, though this school year has stretched longer due to the brutal winter and multiple days missed. His initial plans for retirement are simple: "Drink lots of coffee and do a lot of fishing."

For a man who loves the outdoors, and who even loves winter, Jo Daviess County has been the home Hendren has always wanted.

"Jo Daviess County really is a perfect place," said Hendren.

Originally from Ventura, Calif., Hendren said he wanted to go to college in the Midwest, which proved to be a life-changing decision.

Hendren graduated from Valparaiso University in Indiana, where he met his wife, Barbara. She was from Elizabeth and the two migrated to Chicago. Hendren said his first few teaching years were in Chicago, but a conversation with family made him aware of a teaching opportunity in Warren.

Hendren said he made every mistake a big city dweller could make when moving into a small town but also said he loved his time in Warren. After 21 years of teaching at Warren, the long-time history teacher made the move to River Ridge School in Hanover. Hendren said he never wanted to leave the county.

"When we were in Chicago, we were coming out here every weekend," said Hendren. He and his wife have called Apple Canyon Lake home for the last 30 years. "I hit the hills and I fell in love. I grew up hunting and fishing and fell in love instantly with Jo Daviess County."

Even now, with retirement looming, Hendren said he will always live here, though more traveling is a large piece of his retirement plans. While he said he looks forward to retirement, he will miss his students.

"I love being around the kids," said Hendren. "It is so rewarding."

Hendren said teaching in a small school, in a small town, has allowed him to know his students and their families.

"You don't get that at other jobs," said Hendren. "I will miss the kids. Being able to build those relationships has been so important to me."

The familiarity and comfort of knowing students over multiple years is something he wishes all teachers could experience.

"I wish teachers from larger areas could see what we have here," said Hendren.

Building relationships with his students was what has kept Hendren coming back each school year. Throughout the county, Hendren still runs into former students who compliment him and his class.

Hendren said both Warren and River Ridge are supported by great communities.

"Warren, Elizabeth and Hanover have just been amazing," said Hendren.

Giving up being around the students was the hardest part to give up, said Hendren.

"The hardest part in making my decision to retire is this," said Hendren, motioning to his classroom.

But Hendren also said he is now "at peace" with retiring and came to the realization it was time for him to start the next chapter in his life. Hendren said he knows his replacement and that the kids are in good hands, which made his decision to retire easier. Looking back on his career, Hendren said he has been very lucky.

"I consider myself so lucky," said Hendren. "What I wanted, I got. It's been fun."

Hendren said he looks forward to traveling with his wife and being able to spend more time outdoors. He said he's an avid hunter, fisherman and loves to go snowmobiling.

As his former students know, Hendren is a big Chicago sports fan and has his classroom decorated with memorabilia. His parents were originally from the south side of Chicago before moving to California.

Chesney will speak to retired teachers June 19

ELIZABETH—The Jo Daviess County Retired Teachers Association will hold their next meeting on Wednesday, June 19 at 11 a.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 411 W. Catlin St., Elizabeth. The speaker will be state Rep. Andrew Chesney. Also a report will be given by members who are attending the Area 1 Leadership Training Conference at Illinois Valley Community College the preceding day.

A lunch will be held, following the meeting, at noon. Lunch is $10. Reservations for the lunch need to be made by Tuesday, June 11 with contact people or to Colleen Korte at 815-947-3784. The meal is prepared by members of the church.

This June meeting is hosted by retired teachers from the Stockton area. The next meeting will be held on Aug. 21. With questions or additional information, contact President Tim Sabin at 815-990-0281. All retired teachers or administrators who have formerly been employed in the nation's schools or in a federally sponsored school are invited to become members. Associate membership is open to a spouse or anyone interested in the work of the association.

DNA program at ED library

EAST DUBUQUE—Have you had DNA testing and don't know quite what to do? A June 13 program at 4:30 p.m., at East Dubuque District Library might be of help.

Dr. Daniel Hubbard of Personal Past Meditations will be giving a program and answering questions. The program starts with a discussion about DNA and genealogy and then moves onto inheritance patterns, mutations, testing and testing strategies.

JDCF bluebird trail walk set for this Saturday

GALENA—The Jo Daviess Conservation Foundation (JDCF) invites the public to a free bluebird trail walk on Saturday, June 8, 9-11 a.m., at Casper Bluff Land & Water Reserve, 870 S. Pilot Knob Road, Galena.

Guided on a short walk with bluebird monitors, young and old can observe bluebird boxes, get a glimpse of the nests inside and learn about proper care of bluebird boxes. Guides will share with visitors the history of the bluebird recovery program and its success in Jo Daviess County.

This activity is geared for all interested people, and will be especially appealing for families to share this experience of bluebirds, up close and personal. Dress for the weather.

Retired Col. Paul Herbert, right, a 1968 graduate of Galena High School, was the speaker at the Galena program on Sunday and at Appleton Monday. At Galena he spoke about the three things one must do to honor the memory of those who gave their lives for their country: revere them, be grateful and "lead the kind of lives and be the sort of community and country that is worthy of such profound faith and service." Herbert said, "Our lives, our liberty, our prosperity, our pursuit of happiness are all due in part to their willingness to take such risks on our behalf. We owe them dearly." Listening to Herbert speak was VFW member Dave Oldenburg.

River Ridge/Scales Mound

Earns Sectional Championship; ousted in Super Sectional

by Brian McLane
sports@galgazette.com

The River Ridge/Scales Mound Wildcats took home a 4-2 victory over Newman Central Catholic on Saturday, May 25 to win the IHSA Class 1A Lena Sectional Championship.

River Ridge/Scales Mound got on the board early when Jared Underwood singled on a 2-1 count, scoring one run in the first inning.

Micah Knauer was the winning pitcher for the Wildcats. He allowed five hits and two runs over seven innings, striking out six.

RRSM smacked one home run on the day. Underwood put one out in the fifth inning. Underwood went 3-for-3 at the plate to lead the Wildcats in hitting.

The Wildcats advanced to the Lisle Super Sectional Final on Monday, May 27, where Mother Nature intervened as rain shortened the game to five innings.

Elgin Harvest Academy led 3-1 after five innings and a storm rolled in just as the Wildcats were about to bat in the top of the sixth with the heart of their order coming up.

"As soon as I heard it thunder, I knew our season was over," said Wildcats Coach Jeremy Knauer.

The game was called due to weather, giving the Lions the super sectional victory and a trip to the state tournament in Peoria.

"Maybe one of the most difficult things I have ever had to do was walk back on that bus and tell our players our season was over, despite only being down 3-1 with six outs left," Knauer said.

Both teams were strong on the mound on Monday, but Elgin harvest academy was just a little bit stronger at the plate.

Tayden Patterson started the game for River Ridge/Scales Mound Wildcats and recorded 15 outs.

The Wildcats got on the board first, scoring one run when Micah Knauer doubled. Elgin Harvest Academy tied the game, scoring on a stolen base.

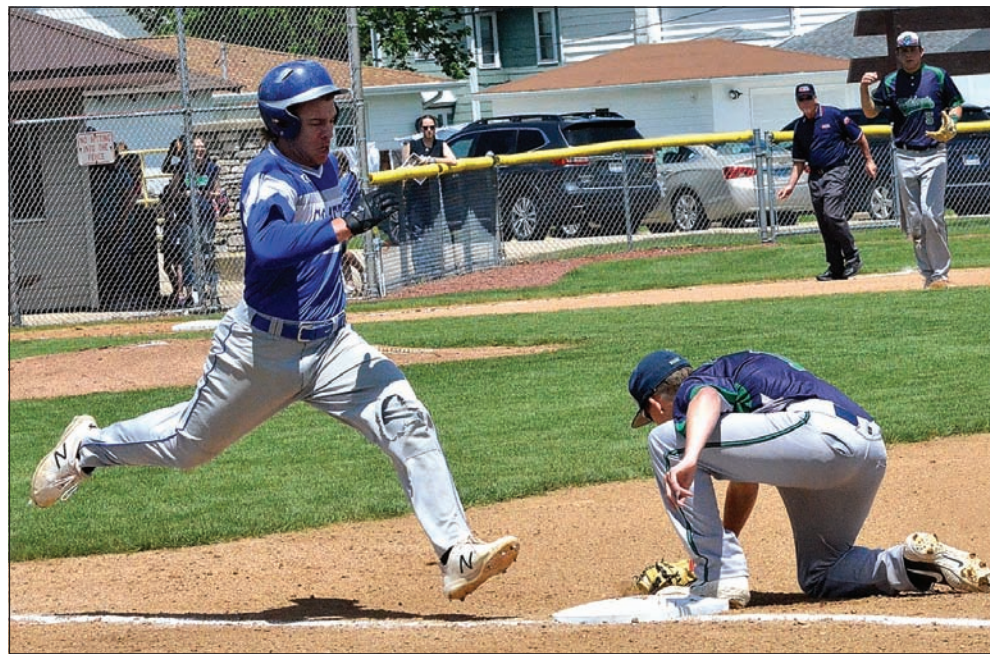

Elgin Harvest Academy scored one run on a stolen base to tie the game in the bottom of the second inning.

The Lions pulled away for good with two runs in the third inning on a two-run home run.

Patterson took the loss for River Ridge/Scales Mound. He surrendered three runs on four hits over five innings, striking out seven and walking none.

Knauer and Andy Wurster each managed one hit to lead the Wildcats at the plate.

River Ridge/Scales Mound ended its season

21-9 record.

"The season was a remarkable one," Coach Knauer said. "This is a group of kids that I have coached for the last 12 years from tee-ball to varsity every step of the way."

Knauer added that many of the players have gone "above and beyond, giving up a majority of their last seven summers traveling around on weekends across the Midwest."

He said the team had high hopes going into the season. A 4-6 record to start the season didn't seem to affect his players. They "didn't panic or lose faith," Knauer said.

RR/SM went on to win their last nine conference games to win their first conference championship since 1995. They went on an 11 game winning streak, the longest in the history of the program. The Wildcats went 17-2 over their last 19 games and won back-to-back regional championships for the first time in the program's history. They were the second Wildcat team to ever make it to the Elite 8.

"It's a terrific group of seniors," said Knauer. He pointed out that they not only won two baseball regional championships, but basketball as well.

"This is a group of seniors that I have watched every step grow into a terrific group of young men; ones that I know will go on to do great things," Knauer added.

Knauer said he was concerned about the weather forecast for the super sectional game and would have liked to see the game time moved up in hopes of getting in a complete game before the rain moved in, but that didn't happen.

A few errors by RR/SM and two controversial calls that resulted in Wildcat outs didn't sit well with Knauer.

"We left some plays out on the field for sure, and we don't want to come across that the umps cost us the game or the weather," he said. "It was just a really bad combination of a lot of things."

"One of the things I made sure to get across to our players is that sports, life - whatever, isn't always fair," Knauer said. "But you deal with it and you try and handle with as much integrity as you possibly can. The ending to our season doesn't lessen what we accomplished or take away the great memories that we made."

Warren man receives 300 years

by Dan Burke

dburke@galgazette.com

DEER LODGE, Mont.—A Warren man received 300 years in Montana prison for the rape of a child.

According to the Montana Standard, Charles M. Byrne, 47, Warren, was found guilty of three counts of sexual intercourse with a person under the age of 12. Byrne was sentenced to the maximum allowed by law, 300 years, where he has to serve 50 years before being considered for parole.

The case mirrors a 2010 case in Jo Daviess County where Byrne pleaded guilty to two counts aggravated criminal sexual abuse, both class 2 felonies. Byrne received eight years in prison for his abuse of two sisters, who at the time, were under the age of 13.

According to Jo Daviess County court transcripts, during a victim impact statement, one of the victims said, "You deserve life in prison for doing these things. I only wish I could make that happen."

That sentiment came partially true as, according to the Standard, the two Illinois victims testified at Byrne's trial. Byrne was sentenced to three consecutive 100-year sentences with no chance of parole for 50 years.

Misdemeanors

• Benjamin Vasquez-Beliz, 55, Lena, was arrested on May 25 by Jo Daviess County deputies for unlawful violation of an order of protection, a class A misdemeanor. Vasquez-Beliz is alleged to have been in a vehicle with Anita Giardino, a protected party.

• Joseph R. Kane, 29, Dubuque, Iowa, was arrested on May 24 by East Dubuque Police for resisting a peace officer, a class A misdemeanor. Kane is alleged to have fled from officers to prevent arrest.

• Patricia M. Curley, 20, Chicago, was arrested on May 29 by Stockton Police for possession of a firearm without a FOID card, a class A misdemeanor. Curley is alleged to have possessed a taser without a FOID card.

• Christopher J. Garnett, 27, Hanover, has an active Jo Daviess County arrest warrant issued on May 30 for theft, a class A misdemeanor.

Garnett is alleged to have stolen U.S. currency from Vinny Vanucchi's.

Felony charges filed, theft warrants

Traffic stop turns into chase

Jarrett J. Hiatt, 29, Warren, was charged on May 20 with unlawful possession of methamphetamine, a class 3 felony, and three counts aggravated fleeing or attempting to elude, all class 4 felonies.

According to court records, deputies attempted to perform a traffic stop on a vehicle for no front registration plate and the vehicle fled and crashed. Hiatt is alleged to have been the driver of the vehicle and to have been in possession of a crystal like substance that later field tested positive for methamphetamine. Bond was set at $10,000.

Meth possession charge

Jordan L. Carr, 31, Epworth, Iowa, was charged on May 21 with unlawful possession of methamphetamine, a class 3 felony, and unlawful possession of a hypodermic syringe or needle, a class A misdemeanor.

Carr is alleged to have possessed a glasses case with several syringes, one of which contained methamphetamine. Bond was set at $20,000 recognizance.

Felony theft warrants

Zachary A. Brenner, 32, Holy Cross, Iowa, has an active Jo Daviess County arrest warrant issued

Jarrett J. Hiatt

Jordan L. Carr

Jacob G. Heller

Michael W. Baker

on May 25 for two counts of theft, both class 2 felonies. Brenner is alleged to have stolen property from Timothy M. Petitgout, being a 1989 Hallmark trailer, a custom built race car, tools and racing gear.

Coltin J. Katzenburg, 26, Dubuque, Iowa, has an active Jo Daviess County arrest warrant issued on May 25 for two counts of theft, both class 2 felonies. Katzenburg is alleged to have stolen property from Timothy M. Petitgout, being a 1989 Hallmark trailer, a custom built race car, tools and racing gear.

Disseminating sexual images

Jacob G. Heller, 34, Galena, was charged on May 22 with 10 counts of non-consensual dissemination of private sexual images, all class 4 felonies. Heller is alleged to have disseminated images of an individual only identified as L.F. and as a person over 18 years of age, without the consent of L.F. Bond was set at $25,000.

Felony charge for false name

Michael W. Baker, 28, Davenport, Iowa, was charged on May 29 with obstruction of justice, a class 4 felony. Baker is alleged to have furnished a false name to deputies knowing he had an active warrant for his arrest. Bond was set at $100,000 recognizance.

Sheriff's report

Accident with injuries

STOCKTON—On May 28 at approximately 1:39 p.m., Jo Daviess County 911 received a report of a traffic crash with injuries, which occurred on U.S. 20, in the area of Logemann Road.

Upon arrival deputies found a vehicle driven by Keeley J. Schrader, 26, Freeport, lost control, left the roadway and overturned coming to rest on its side.

The vehicle was occupied by two additional passengers, Kiley J. Schutz, 24, Stockton, and a male juvenile.

Schrader was transported to FHN Freeport by ambulance. She is charged with operating a motor vehicle with an expired drivers license/failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

Assisting agencies included Stockton EMS, Stockton Fire Department and Stockton Police Department.

Motorcycle accident with injuries

HANOVER—On June 1 at approximately 9:06 a.m., the Jo Daviess County 911 Dispatch Center received a report of a one vehicle motorcycle crash involving injuries. The crash was located on South Speer Road approximately a half mile north of West Speer Road, rural Hanover. Thomas M. Swiss, 52, Chicago, was driving his orange 2010 BMW F800 GS motorcycle southbound on South Speer Road when he lost control of his motorcycle on the gravel road. Swiss then overturned his motorcycle onto its side. The Elizabeth Ambulance Service transported Swiss to Mercy Hospital in Dubuque, Iowa.

Elizabeth Ambulance and Hanover Fire Department assisted at the scene.

Elizabeth hosts a spring fling

by Dan Burke
dburke@galgazette.com

ELIZABETH—The village of Elizabeth held its spring fling on Saturday, June 1.

Events were scattered around town on Saturday, from a petting zoo with an Asian Golden Pheasant to an 1800s era wedding reenactment, to finally the great American pastime, little league baseball games. The wedding highlighted some differences in what society sees as important today as compared to the 1800s.

A Little League baseball tournament was also held during the Saturday event.

Matilda the goat was at the petting zoo.

Crystal Mason was one of the reenactors for the 1800s style wedding during Elizabeth Spring Fling events on Saturday, June 1. Mason was decorating what would be the wedding cake. Dan Burke photos Deb Paus helped gather the bride's belongings that she would have collected for many years before marriage.

EMS committee mulls paid service

by Dan Burke
dburke@galgazette.com

ELIZABETH—Small and large scale solutions to the county's EMS crisis were discussed during the Jo Daviess County Board's ad hoc committee on EMS sustainability meeting on Friday, May 24.

The committee has been tasked by the county board to explore long-term solutions to declining EMS rosters and missed pages and calls. Committee members have generally agreed that the county's EMS situation will only get worse if left unchecked, and that sometime in the future there will have to be a paid EMS service.

Committee member Scott Greene said every EMS agency will fail at some point.

"Looking at (missed calls and pages), it's going to fail," said Greene referencing data showing how many missed calls each agency has had since 2017.

Greene said the Hanover EMS collapse is only the beginning and that other county agencies are on track to fail as well. He suggested the committee start seriously considering laying groundwork for a paid service.

In 2017, there were 64 county EMS calls that went unanswered, with 24 due to no crew. In 2018, there were 60 unanswered calls, with 20 attributed to lack of personnel. In the first three months of 2019, there have been 15 unanswered calls with 9 due to no crew.

Committee member Mary Jo Losey said EMS is a public health and safety crisis and that a paid service

'Looking at (missed calls), it's going to fail.'

Scott Greene, EMS committee member, about the fate of volunteer EMS in the county.

will ultimately be the only answer left.

"Public health and safety is the primary reason governments work for us," said Losey. "It's inevitable to go to a paid service."

Committee member Dan Schleicher also said a paid service is inevitable.

"In my mind, at some point, we are going to have to hire someone to do it," said Schleicher. "We just have to find a way to pay for it."

Committee member Richard Robinson said a paid service will be needed at some point.

"I think we have to move toward a paid position," said Robinson.

In exploring smaller scale solutions, committee member and county board chair Scott Toot said the committee's purpose is to look at as many options as possible.

"Every option needs to be explored for this report," said Toot.

Toot suggested a smaller-scale solution of having law enforcement personnel certified as emergency medical responders (EMR) or technicians (EMT).

Toot said many times law enforcement is dispatched to the scene of medical calls and are often the first to arrive. Toot recognized the change would be a "band-aid," but one that could have a large impact.

"It would be a band-aid," said Toot, "but one that would help for several years."

Toot said law enforcement would have their EMT or EMR training paid for and receive a stipend for their efforts.

The committee's ultimate mission is to explore sustainability options and present its findings, recommendations and suggestions to the county board. All decisions regarding future actions will be made by the county board.

Mike Dittmar, committee member, said the committee isn't receiving input from all county EMS agencies. Losey said it is "vital" to have input from Warren and Stockton, whose representatives haven't attended meetings for the last few months.

Toot said Warren and Stockton "are trying to work out a solution between themselves."

East Dubuque Fire Chief Joe Heim is on the committee but has previously expressed East Dubuque is in good shape and does not have the same issues other county agencies have.

"It's vital we have their input," said Losey. "Their input can be very valuable."

Dittmar said at some point, the committee must proceed without agencies who are not participating.

"If they are not showing up," said Dittmar, "we can't keep hoping they show up."

Dittmar suggested looking at a smaller EMS cooperative, such as Galena, Elizabeth and Hanover. He said after Hanover shut down, the three districts have cooperated to provide coverage and could serve as a framework for a countywide service.

"All three are working well together," said Dittmar.

Dittmar said he believes a fear among agencies is they will lose their ambulance service and the county will step in and take over. Dittmar said he sees a place for private EMS agencies and there can be cooperation between agencies without county control.

Losey said the committee was formed to help all county EMS agencies. The purpose of the committee, said Losey, is to make sure each community has EMS coverage, not take away agencies.

Dittmar said moving to a hybrid agency, with some paid and some volunteer members, could work on a smaller scale and the price tag would be smaller.

The committee continues to research different areas of EMS operations and one focus will be contacting other Illinois counties that have made the transition from volunteer to paid service.

Louise M. Tippett

GALENA—Louise M. Tippett, 88, rural Galena, entered into heaven on Friday, May 24, 2019, at the Galena-Stauss Nursing Home.

Louise Tippett

Louise was born on Oct. 2, 1930, the daughter of John and Antoinette (Buenger) Haug in Freeport.

She graduated from Hanover High School with the class of 1948.

After graduation, Louise attended Concordia Teachers College in River Forest. Louise married

William “Bill” Tippett on Aug. 7, 1955, in St. Paul Lutheran Church, Elizabeth. Bill died on Dec. 30, 2017, in Elizabeth.

Louise was a homemaker who treasured caring for her family.

In her younger years, she taught at Rock College School, rural Elizabeth, and later for the Pleasant Hill School.

She later worked for Old Northwest Land Company and the ASCS office in Elizabeth.

She was a longtime member of Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church, Elizabeth, where she played the organ, sang in the choir, taught Sunday school and was active with the LWMS.

She was also a member of the Jo Daviess County Homemakers Extension.

She enjoyed crocheting, sewing, reading, singing and playing the piano.

She loved going to the theater and watching her children and grandchildren perform. Louise was even known to make an occasional appearance on stage herself.

She also enjoyed traveling with her husband, Bill, especially on their trips to Cornwall, Alaska and Hawaii.

Most of all, Louise cherished Sunday dinners with family and spending time with her close family and friends.

Louise will be dearly missed by one daughter, Vicki (Clay) Riness, Coon Valley, Wis.; three sons: Tom Tippett, Roger (Dana) Tippett, and Ron (Judy) Tippett, all of Galena; eight grandchildren: Chris Tippett, Cole (Annie) Riness, Justin Tippett, Grace Riness, Ken Tippett, Joe Tippett, Conner Tippett and Ryan Tippett; one great-grandson, Kaiden; two brothers, Edward Haug, St. Clair Shores, Mich., and Tom (Barb) Haug, Medford, N.J.; three sisters: Mary Norwood, Neosho, Mo.; Jacqueline Schultz, San Francisco, Calif.; and Carolyn (Don) Crawford, Hanover.

Louise was preceded in death by her parents; her husband, Bill; and one brother, Bob Haug, in 2013.

Funeral services were held Thursday, May 30, at Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church. Burial took place in Greenwood Cemetery, Galena.

Memorials may be given to Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church in her memory.

Online condolences may be left for the family at lawjonesfuneralhome.com.

Rosemary Jackson

SIMI VALLEY, Calif.—On Friday, May 24, 2019, Rosemary Jackson passed away at home in Simi Valley, Calif., at the age of 78, in the care of her loving sister, Cathy.

Rosemary Jackson

Rosemary was born July 11, 1940, in Toronto, Canada, to Louis and Mary (Hill) Collins.

She attended Loyola University, receiving her nursing degree in 1963.

On Oct. 16, 1965, she married William Lee Jackson in Park Ridge. They had one daughter, Mary Kate, and four sons, Louis, Charles, Andrew and Ian.

Rosemary and Bill were both avid thespians and involved in local theater in Park Ridge when their children were young. This included acting, singing, dancing, writing and a host of other theatrical activities that inspired their children for decades.

After Bill's passing, she moved to Galena, where she continued her nursing career as a pediatric hospice nurse until retiring in 1996 to open the Rosebud Bed & Breakfast.

Rosemary was the light in every room she entered and thoroughly enjoyed hosting, entertaining and cooking for the visitors to her home, whether guests of the B&B, family or friends.

In 2004, she left behind innkeeping and moved to Simi Valley, for actual retirement. She published two books, “Rosey’s Rambles” and “Rosey Rambles On,” with a third book to be published posthumously.

Rosemary’s passion for life and finding the good in people and situations was both comforting and infectious to those who knew her.

She was a loving dedicated mother and as protective as any mother bear of her cubs.

As an active member of the Bahá’í faith for over 30 years, no matter where she lived, she was always seeking to help and comfort others.

She was an exemplary figure in her community, volunteering at the historical society and befriending a legion of people who always remembered her because she remembered not only their names but their stories, worries and loves.

She is survived by her children: Mary Kate, Louis (April), Charles, Andrew (Anngela), Ian and Dore; her grandchildren: Elizabeth, Hannah, Ashley, William, Amber Rose and Imogene; her sister, Cathy; brother, John; as well as many cousins, nieces and nephews. Rosemary was preceded in death by her parents, Louis and Mary; her brother, Michael; and her husband, Bill.

A graveside service was held May 29 at Conejo Mountain Memorial Park, Camarillo, Calif.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to St. Jude’s Children’s Hospital.

Margaret A. Nelson

DUBUQUE, Iowa—Margaret A. “Maggie” Nelson, 92, Dubuque, Iowa, formerly of Galena, passed away Wednesday morning, May 29, 2019, at Mercy One Dubuque Medical Center, Dubuque, with her family by her side.

Marge was born on June 8, 1926, in Dubuque, the daughter of Peter and Theresa (Gansemer) Kiebel.

She was united in marriage to Roland F. Nelson on Feb. 25, 1947. He preceded her in death on Feb. 12, 1998.

She and Roland purchased and operated a bakery in Tama, Iowa, later moving to Galena where they operated Nelson Bakery until Margaret’s retirement in 2003. Prior to operating Nelson Bakery, they worked in various bakery departments in the area.

Margaret always looked forward to their yearly trips to Hawaii.

She was a 1944 graduate of the Academy of the Visitation, Dubuque.

She was a collector of lunch boxes and cookie jars.

Surviving is her daughter, Susan (Eldon) Koerperich, Farley, Iowa; a grandson, James (Denise) Kruser, Dubuque; and two great-grandchildren, Leah and James Matthew.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Peter and Theresa; her husband, Roland; siblings, Mary Sweeney; Joseph, Melvin and John Kiebel.

A Memorial Mass of Christian Burial was June 1 at St. Michael Catholic Church, Galena. The Rev. Thomas Srenn officiated.

Burial was held at Rock Island Arsenal Cemetery, Rock Island.

The Miller Funeral Home of East Dubuque is serving the family.

Online condolences may be left for the family at millerfhed.com.

Gayle G. Monahan

GALENA—Gayle G. (Edmonds) Monahan, 96, of Galena, passed away Sunday, June 2, 2019 at Prairie Ridge, Galena.

Visitation will be from 4-7 p.m. on Thursday,

June 6, at the Miller Funeral Home in East Dubuque, where arrangements are pending.

Burial will be in Prospect Hill Cemetery, rural Galena.

Senior Resource Center holding satellite office and Medicare class in Galena

FREEPORT—If you’ve wanted more information on Medicare, Medicaid, tax freezes, prescription drug savings or other benefit programs closer to your hometown, you may be in luck. The Senior Resource Center is offering satellite office appointments on Wednesday, June 12, and a Medicare Basics/Turning 65 class, on Wednesday, June 19. Both will be at the West Galena Township Office in Galena.

At the satellite office appointments, resource specialists will be available for questions and to accept applications for benefits from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. June 12 at the West Galena Township Office, 607 Gear St., Galena. Staff will assist seniors with license plate sticker discounts (BAAs), property tax freezes and senior citizen homestead exemptions.

They also will provide general information regarding programs individuals may qualify for such as Medicare Extra Help, which helps pay for prescription drugs. Call 815-235-9777, Ext. 228, to make an appointment.

The Medicare Basics/Turning 65 Class is set for 10 a.m. June 19 at the West Galena Township Office. Please call 815-235-9777, Ext. 258, to reserve your spot. The one-and-a-half hour class is designed to help people navigate the complexities of Medicare. It is ideal for those who are within three years of going on Medicare, who are already receiving Medicare and need a refresher, or for children or caregivers of people who are planning to go on Medicare or are already on Medicare.

All classes are taught by Ralph Norman, who has more than 40 years of experience in insurance and financial services. He is also a licensed SHIP counselor.

Expect to learn basic Medicare information such as the parts of Medicare, about Medicare supplements, and Advantage plans plus senior tax exemptions with time for a Q&A. Norman encourages people to bring their burning Medicare questions.

For more information, call 815-235-9777, Ext. 254, or go to the center’s website, seniorresourcecenter.net.

1969: 400 attend opening day at pool

10 years ago: June 10, 2009

The Jo Daviess County Court Watch has reported that 83 percent of felony sexual assault or abuse cases were dismissed in Jo Daviess County Court from October 2007 to February 2009, according to judici.com. Air Force Airman Nicholas R. Winter graduated from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

Hannah M. Eshelman, daughter of Paul and Laurel Eshelman of Elizabeth, was named with high honors to the spring 2009 dean's list at Northwestern College in St. Paul, Minn.

25 years ago: June 11, 1994

Kristine D. Fishler of East Dubuque received her bachelor of music degree from Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, at the university's May 22 commencement.

Jeff Bailey, a sophomore at River Ridge High School in Elizabeth, was selected to attend an all-expense paid weekend leadership seminar at The Lodge in Oakbrook, in early May.

James Gephart, 13, of Scales Mound, made it all the way to the sixth round of the Scripps Howard National Spelling Bee in Washington, D.C., before he misspelled the word "animalcule," a word for a microscopic organism.

50 years ago: June 5, 1969

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends," began the Rev. Robert Devine at funeral services for Sgt. Michael Lyden, 21, who was killed in action at A Shaw Valley in Vietnam May 15.

Almost 400 youngsters enjoyed swimming for the first time this season when the city pool opened Memorial Day. But attendance on the dreary Saturday that followed was down to 239 and the pool was closed succeeding days because of unseasonably cold weather.

The Rockford Memorial School of Nursing, Rockford, will hold its 80th annual commencement on Friday, June 6 at 8:15 p.m. at the Second Congregational Church. In the graduating class will be Cheryl Birkbeck Redington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin T. Birkbeck, Council Hill Road, Galena.

75 years ago: June 8, 1944

Miss Anna Vaughn is spending a week at her home in this city after which she will leave for Washington, D.C., Miss Vaughn has accepted an appointment in the medical social work division of the Pacific Area of the American Red Cross.

Rev. A.J. Bishop had an experience he does not wish for a long time. Rev. Bishop keeps his car in the old fire house next to the church. He had just placed the car in the building and was about to leave the building when the brakes gave way and the car ran down the incline, across Bench Street and up on the sidewalk, just missing H.I. Clauer and little Freddie Yost, who were standing with their backs to the oncoming car.

Gerald Breed received a letter from Jimmie Hudson somewhere in New Guinea which stated that he had the surprise of his life recently when he ran into Paul Sullivan at the American Red Cross center. This is the first fellow Jim has met from around here since he arrived in New Guinea.

100 Years Ago: June 5, 1919

A large barn and shed adjoining the barn on Thomas Pooley's Mt. Zion farm on the Scales Mound road about five miles out of the Mound was completely destroyed by fire Tuesday evening. The fire was started by a fierce bolt of lightning at ten o'clock in the evening. The flames lighted up the sky for miles around and many people in Galena said they could see the reflection for some time.

Supporting the Community Council in its endeavor to beautify Galena, and with the desire to encourage civic pride, Dr. Jerome McGlade will present Sunday evening at the South Presbyterian Church, the theme "The City Beautiful." A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Raymond Jeffrey and Frank Vega arrived in Galena Friday night from Camp Grant where they were honorably discharged from overseas service.

Summer fun at library

GALENA—The Galena Public Library is kicking off two summer programs.

Want to be a VIP?

Adults are being invited to participate in the Galena Public Library's 2019 Adult Summer Reading Program, GalenaReads. Keep track of the pages you read including books, audio books, magazines and eBooks. Each page read (or minute listened to) counts toward a collective community goal of 150,000 pages. Pages can be submitted at the library, using social media (Facebook, Twitter, or Instagram) or via email to distlerl@galenalibrary.org.

When the program is completed and the goal has been met, all participants will be named Galena Public Library VIPs. Benefits will include: fine free at the library until May 31, 2020 (does not include replacement costs); 10 free copies/prints; 10-percent off at Chocolat' 229 until May 31, 2020; ice cream from Casey's General Store; coupons from the Market House Restaurant and Fritz and Frites Bistro; exclusive VIP swag.

The page counts will be tallied weekly. Call 815-777-0200 or email Larissa Distler at distlerl@galenalibrary.org for more information.

'It's Showtime!' at the library

The Galena Public Library will run its annual summer learning program June 11 to Aug. 3.

Festivities will kick off on Tuesday, June 11 at 4:30 p.m. with "How Many Hands is a Horse?" Ehrler Ranch will bring a horse, pony and chicken to the library for children to see and pet. Participants will also have the opportunity to learn about the science of horses and how to care for them.

This program is designed for families with children going into grades one to six. Weekly programs will be held for the remainder of the summer and include music, a puppet show, yoga, science, crafts and sharks.

A STEAM Week (science, technology, engineering, art and math) will be held on June 17-19 and 21, 4-5 p.m., for children entering grades three to six in the fall. In keeping with the theme, children will work as a team to use these disciplines to produce a short film and upload it to YouTube. Registration encouraged.

Graphic Novel Book Club for children is also starting this summer. The first meeting is Saturday, June 29 at 10 a.m. Children going into grades two to five are asked to bring a graphic novel they love to share and discuss with their friends. The July meeting date will be determined at the June meeting.

Children entering grades one through six in the fall may play the learning game, wherein they will be given game boards with different learning activities on each space. These include reading, science, math, community engagement and physical activity. Upon completion of each of the five game boards, the child will win a prize.

The teen reading program encourages youth going into grades seven through 12 to log the books they read this summer. For each five books read, they will be given an "It's Showtime!" prize basket. Each log will also be an entry for the grand prize of five movie passes to AMC theater for a movie party.

Teens are also invited to participate in the Teen Advisory Board (TAB) the library is launching this summer. Meeting every Friday at 3 p.m., June 14 to July 26, TAB is designed to give teens a voice in the library by planning and implementing programs, creating a fun and attractive teen space, advising on book purchases for young adults.

Preschool story time for children 3-5 years of age is held every Wednesday at 10:15 a.m. Toddler story time, for children between the ages of 1 and 3 and their grown-ups, is held every Friday at 10:15 a.m. Both sessions include stories, songs, movement, crafts and playtime.

This summer program is sponsored by Friends of Galena Public Library. To learn more, call 815-777-0200 or email lenstrar@galenalibrary.org.

Scales Mound seniors finish high school

by Dan Burke

dburke@galgazette.com

SCALES MOUND—After a journey that started in kindergarten, 11 Scales Mound seniors graduated on Friday, May 17.

Valedictorian Nicholas Davis spoke about using past successes as a road map for future accomplishments. Eve Nottrott was salutatorian and two seniors, Kantemir Kydyrbaev and Jakub Medovic, were foreign exchange students and will return to their respective homes to finish their education.

As has been tradition in Scales Mound, graduating seniors were honored with a slide show and received video congratulations from the younger students at Scales Mound School.

After seniors presented their parents, or host parents, with flowers, the graduating class of 2019 finally received their diplomas.

The graduates were able to select who presented their diploma, with many having a parent or friend hand out their diploma.

After the ceremony, graduates assembled in front of the school where the community was able to congratulate the group.

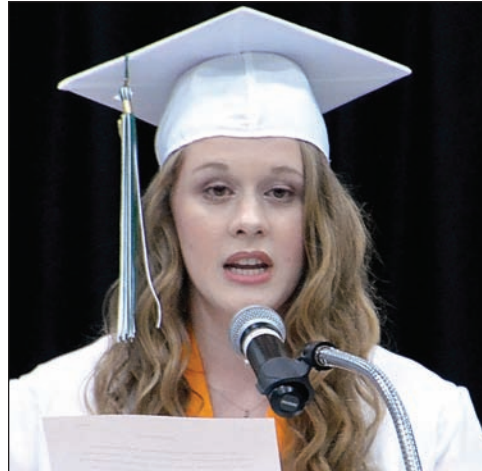

The tight-knit community came out to support their new graduates and the gym was filled with family, friends and well-wishers.

Graduating seniors McKenna Peart, Isaac Stadel and Olivia Winter perform one last choir song as Scales Mound students.

Salutatorian Eve Nottrott gives her speech on Friday, May 17.

Galena Bible Church sets Bible school dates: June 24-28

GALENA—Galena Bible Church suggests that it's time to gas up the all-terrain vehicle and head out on a wilderness adventure with its Vacation Bible School. It's an opportunity to get up close and personal with elephants and egrets, polar bears and penguins, cockatoos and crocodiles, and so much more.

This summer's Bible school focuses on some real-life encounters with Jesus to discover truth—Jesus Christ is the Messiah, the Son of God and by believing we can have life in His name.

Each day students will make crafts, play games, enjoy snacks, sing songs and learn about missions. For children age 4 through sixth grade, the program is free. Dates and times are June 24 to June 28, 9 a.m. to noon. The week ends with a dinner on Friday, June 28 for children and their parents at 6 p.m.
