Long shadow of the past: Darkness encroaches in new season of 'The Wheel of Time'

By Sarah Passingham

TV Media

e's got the whole world in his hands. In the much-anticipated third season of the expansive fantasy series "The Wheel of Time," premiering Thursday, March 13, on Prime Video, the Dragon Reborn contends with dark threats against the light as the last battle looms on the path

The first three episodes of the new season will be available to stream on premiere day, with new episodes following each week. The season wraps up with a thrilling finale on Thursday, April 17.

Once simply a shepherd from the village of Emond's Field, Rand al'Thor (Josha Stradowski, "Gran Turismo," 2023) has proven himself to be the prophesied Dragon Reborn, a powerful figure with the ability to either save the world from the Dark One or break it again.

Rand was discovered by Moiraine Damodred (Rosamund Pike, "Saltburn," 2023), an Aes Sedai of the Blue Ajah, a matriarchal order committed to protecting humanity and healing it from the devastation brought on by the last Dark One. Broken by men, the world has been repaired by the women of the order, but now the future is out of even their powerful hands.

This season, Moiraine and Rand, tragically tethered in every timeline that lies ahead of them, must face an agonizing reality.

"I have seen a thousand thousand futures. In every future where I lived, Rand dies," Moiraine narrates over a montage of possible ends in the official teaser trailer for the upcoming season. "The only way he lives is if I don't," she makes very clear.

The future of humanity rests on Rand's survival and the choice he must make between darkness and light. As he grows stronger, the darkness begins to turn his head away from the light and his allies, Moiraine and Egwene al'Vere (Madeleine Madden, "Pine Gap").

Per Prime Video, "These powerful women, who started the series as teacher and student, must now work together to prevent the Dragon from turning to the Dark ... no matter the cost." Those who crave power are just as interested in Rand as those who want humanity to

Also starring in "The Wheel of Time" are Daniel Henney ("Criminal Minds") as al'Lan Mandragoran; Zoe Robins ("Black Christmas," 2019) as Nynaeve al'Meara; Marcus Rutherford ("Funny Woman") as Perrin Aybara; Donal Finn ("Roque Heroes") as Mat Cauthon; Ceara Coveney ("Young Wallander") as Elayne Trakand; Kate Fleetwood ("Scoop," 2024) as Liandrin Guirale, Natasha O'Keeffe ("Peaky

Madeleine Madden and Zoe Robins in "The Wheel of Time"

Blinders") as Lanfear; Ayoola Smart ("Juliet, Naked," 2018) as Aviendha, and Kae Alexander ("Collateral") as Min Farshaw.

Joining the cast this season are Isabella Bucceri ("Finally Me," 2023) as Faile Bashere, a Saldaean relic hunter; Nukaka Coster-Waldau ("Agent") as Blair, a wise elder member of the Taardad Aiel; Salome Gunnarsdottir ("Pennyworth") as Melaine, a Wise One of the Taardad Aiel with mystical powers; Bjorn Landberg ("Unter uns") as Taardad Aiel clan chief Rhuarc; and Synnove Macody Lund ("Ragnarok") as Melindhra, a Malkieri raised by the Taardad Aiel.

Based on the bestselling fantasy book series of the same name, this latest season jumps into the fourth installment, "The Shadow Rising," by author Robert Jordan. The visual manifestation of the magical powers rendered by the series' characters has more than lived up to readers' imaginations, with the show having been nominated for a BAFTA in 2024 for visual effects.

Expanding on the already incredible sets and effects of its first two seasons, the official trailer for the upcoming season highlights the terrifying beauty of the "Wheel of Time" world. The White Tower is being literally and figuratively torn apart, Moiraine conjures power in a desolate desert and battles are waged over all kinds of terrain.

In a description from Prime Video, the upcoming season "will take viewers to many new regions and cities across the fictional continent of the Westlands, including the vast deserts of the Aiel Waste, the intoxicating and dangerous port city of Tanchico, and the forbidden and fogshrouded ancient city of Rhuidean, where Rand and Moiraine will both experience life-changing revelations."

The action-packed season is split between a journey toward open-ended prophecy fulfillment and the wars that are waged as a result. "We don't win battles with politics and prophecies. We win with armies," Alanna Mosvani (Priyanka Bose, "Lion," 2016) preaches in the official trailer. Meanwhile, Moiraine receives torturous visions in the rings.

"The Wheel of Time" book series, initially authored by Jordan then by Brandon Sanderson after Jordan's passing in 2007, rivals J.R.R. Tolkien's "The Lord of the Rings" for the title of most beloved fantasy epic. The series has sold over 90 million copies since its first book, "The Eye of the World," was published in 1990. Known for their doorstopper length, the series includes 14 installments, a prequel and three companion books, and its popularity has inspired comics; card, video and role-playing games, and even a soundtrack.

Catherine Zeta-Jones to lead revenge thriller series

By Michelle Rose

TV Media

Get back: Fresh off filming the second season of Netflix's "Wednesday," actress Catherine Zeta-Jones ("Chicago," 2002) has signed on to star in an upcoming revenge thriller series.

The Oscar, BAFTA and Tony Award winner is starring in and producing "Kill Jackie" (working title) for Fremantle and Steel Springs Pictures, with streaming and distribution rights split between them and Prime Video.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Co-written by Conor Keane ("North Sea Connection") and showrunner Tom Butterworth ("Britannia"), with Damon Thomas ("Killing Eve") set to direct, "Kill Jackie" is an adaptation of the 2018 novel "The Price You Pay" by Aidan Truhen (a pseudonym of Nick Harkaway).

There is a twist: the novel's male lead has been replaced by a female lead for TV, as you can guess from this casting news.

As cameras are scheduled to roll this month, Zeta-Jones is playing the role of Jackie Price, who, according to the official description, "has lived a wealthy, luxurious existence for the last 20 years — traveling the world, selling fine art using sophisticated tax loopholes and, above all, trying to stay anonymous after escaping a dangerous past as an international cocaine dealer." As you'd expect from a story about someone running away from their past, things take a sudden turn "when she discovers The Seven Demons, a squad of the world's most terrifying hitmen, have been hired to kill her."
