Fun for Families - Flaherty's Northfield Lanes

Flaherty's Northfield Lanes' Manager Adam Tulkki and Owner Adam Flaherty says Flaherty's provides family fun for all ages.

Families, friends, and neighbors can find Flaherty's Northfield Lanes driving south on Highway 3 on the west side of the highway. Since last fall, the business has been making some noticeable changes — both on the outside and on the inside.

Owner Adam Flaherty's family has been in the bowling business for five generations. The Flaherty business started in Arden Hills and built a name for themselves, being recognized as one of the best bowling alleys and bars with arcade games in Minnesota by WCCO. When Adam Flaherty heard the bowling alley was for sale in Northfield, he saw the space as an opportunity for expansion.

Flaherty drove down to Northfield to check the space out. The previous owner not only showed Flaherty the bowling alley, but also the community.

Pit Stop Revelations

Revelation 7: 9-10, 13-17

A pitstop is when the racing car comes in to get serviced during a race. They come in for new tires and fuel- and sometimes other mechanical issues too. If something major is required, the race will be over- the average time for a pitstop is from 7-15 seconds. That's fast! They need to be fast because they need to get the car back on the track and back in position to have a chance of winning the race.

Jesus is taking John aside to show him something entirely different from the 6 seals that have been broken in chapter 6. It's as if God is pausing for effect. To what purpose? To bring hope to those who believe on the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. As we look at the events of the end of times, you and I can become fearful and wonder, 'will anyone be able to survive?' The answer unfolds during our tire change in chapter 7 of Revelations.

As we read chapter 7 in Revelations, we are seeing a great multitude- many, many people, so many we aren't able to have a number for them. There's so many no one can count, and they are from every 'nation, tribe, people and language.' Jesus doesn't divide by any of these- we are all His creation, valuable and chosen to become a member of His family. This multitude represents all that have received Jesus Christ. This multitude is often considered to be those that survived the great tribulation. They remained faithful during the times of persecution and struggle. This also shows that this refers to Jews and Gentiles because it includes all nations- this is an awe-inspiring sight of people from all times and all places gathered to sing praise to God. John is taking all this in. He's seeing it and probably struggling to understand what it all means. Who are these people and where have they all come from?

This is the church triumphant! They stand before the throne and are wearing white robes. To stand before the throne means they have fellowship with Jesus, that they are in His presence and are ready and willing to serve Him- The Lamb of God, the Redeemer of the sinner. God has saved His people! They are crying out, "Salvation belongs to our God, who sits on the throne, and to the Lamb." Salvation belongs to our God- not to us. We cannot save ourselves- only through the blood of the Lamb. Only because of Jesus great sacrifice can we receive forgiveness and obtain the salvation that belongs to Jesus. We don't, and we can't save ourselves!

In Revelations 7:11-12, The angels are giving praise to God. They are worshiping Him before the throne- they fall prostrate before Him and sing. Only God is worthy and the angels are giving the praise rightfully to the only one that truly deserves it. By writing this, John is making a statement that these attributes only belong to the one and only true supreme being: God.

This is one of the main reasons I personally like Celebrate Recovery's approach to wholeness for anyone struggling with addictions and hurts and hang-ups. Celebrate Recovery's 12 steps are basically the same as AA's, but with one major distinction: Celebrate Recovery teaches and proclaims that the supreme being that each of us really need in our lives is Jesus Christ. Without Him, there is little hope of healing and a future free of hurts, hang-ups and habits. When we make Jesus supreme, we can truly find freedom from our hurts, our hang-ups and our habits/addictions. The first 3 of the CR steps are powerful:

1 We admitted we were powerless over our addictions and compulsive behaviors, that our lives had become unmanageable. Romans 7:18

2 We came to believe that a power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity. Philippians 2:13

3 We made a decision to turn our lives and our wills over to the care of God. Romans 12:1

Jesus alone is worthy of all our praise and honor. The angels have the right idea, and we are directed to do the same. When we keep Jesus at the center- our life will change! We are excited to be able to offer a Celebrate Recovery beginning this fall on October 2. If you or someone you know would benefit from this ministry, please get the word out. Also, if you would like to know more or get involved, please contact me or check out the Celebrate Recovery Website.

We can have real hope for the future when we truly worship God. We can lay it all down before Him-offering ourselves as living sacrifices.

Chapter 7 ends with a beautiful picture of our Savior as our Shepherd. "For the Lamb at the center of the throne will be their shepherd; 'he will lead them to springs of living water.' 'And God will wipe away every tear from their eyes.'"

The lamb will be at the center of the throne! He is the one worshiped, He is the one deserving all our praise and He is the one that will lead us and care for us as a shepherd care for His flock. (John 10) Jesus is the good shepherd, He cares for his people- and as we enter the great throne in heaven, he will continue to care for us. He is calling you and I by name. He knows you- He loves you! Jesus sacrifice for you prepares the way for you to be with Him forever! That's the good news from chapter 7. That's the message for us today- Who will be saved? Those that have believed on the name of Jesus Christ. He loves you. He wants you to be with Him forever. He is our only hope to survive in the end. When we put our faith in Him now- we are assured of a place with Him forever! There is power in His blood to wash away every sin!

Looking for a Home

I will say of the Lord, "He is my refuge. . . ." — Psalm 91:2

It was a scene of great joy when three siblings and their family members were reunited after a long separation. Seeking safety, they had fled their homeland in the midst of a civil war, and for eight long years they had lived in different refugee camps, moving from one place to another and searching for each other. Now, in a crowded airport, they were finally reunited. Our church, responsible for their resettlement, had provided housing, but it would not be "home" until the arrival of their loved ones.

Home is supposed to mean safety, belonging, and welcome. But for millions of people their home region has become dangerous and unwelcoming. War, violence, discrimination, and even natural disasters have forced millions to leave their homes. Some get to start a new life. Others languish, homeless and growing hopeless.

Baby Jesus was a refugee when his family fled to Egypt to ?escape death (Matthew 2). He later said that he had nowhere to rest his head. He understands the pain and sorrow of a refugee.

God has great concern for ?refugees. Psalm 68 says that God will give the desolate a home, and in Isaiah 65 we read of a "new" time when people can build houses and stay in them. More than that, God offers the deep shelter of belonging to him — under his wings we find refuge.

Heavenly Father, we give thanks for our homes. Please care for the homeless. Thank you for being our dwelling place. In Jesus, Amen.

Two Generations of Coloring the World

At that time, they had their family home adjacent to the store. Isabel was able to run next door and put in a load of laundry while making lunch. If you needed help, you knew to ring the buzzer on the store's counter.

Lori and her husband, Bruce, took over the business in January 1993 when Bruce's parents (Isabel & Dale) decided to retire. The business had evolved and earned a strong reputation for selling quality products like Benjamin Moore paint and providing outstanding customer service.

Lori began her career in retail selling children's clothing for 15 years. She was a natural salesperson and learned the paint world along the way. She's extremely shy about discussing her part of the business and kept telling me to use her husband's name and information.

I wasn't able to chat with Bruce, but I know he would agree that she was a huge part of their shared success.

We discussed all the hard, long hours involved in self-employment. You have to do everything from the cleaning to the book work. Both Lori and Bruce knew that their 30-year anniversary as owners was coming up. So, when opportunity knocked, they deserved to answer the call! The new owners are Bobbi & Josh Horesji who have operated the flooring store right down the road for years. When they take over, they'll bring their expertise in flooring to the business and relaunch it as Dundas Paint Center & Specialized Flooring.

Lori mentioned several times how thankful they were for the massive support their small business received over the years. Selling is quite a process after this amount of time, so the slow remodel of the space as well as the training of the new folks is underway. If any of you knew their dog, Teddy Bear, he's getting acclimated to being a house dog instead of being the greeter at the shop. He's also decided he really likes riding shotgun in Bruce's truck.

When I asked Lori what she was looking forward to in retirement, she said she isn't sure yet. The store has been such a huge part of her life, she's going to have to reprioritize her time a bit. She might even have a chance to read a book or have lunch with her kids (Gwen & Brandon). She also loves being outside and gardening while Bruce is a "car guy."

Teddy Bear

He loves the Back to the 50's Car Show at the St. Paul Fair Grounds as well as a good road trip or long hunting weekend. Suffice to say, they'll both be fine figuring what their next adventures will be. In the meantime, Lori told me to say she hopes folks will continue supporting small businesses that make our community so special!

Josh will take ownership on September 1st and move his flooring business into the building. Lori will stay on during the month of September to help with training for the paint part of the business.

Fall Vegetable Garden

Teri Knight

sweeter with a frosty coating!

Remember to check the growing information to make sure the veggies you plant have time to grow to maturity in our colder climates.

Consider radishes, perhaps a purple cauliflower or burgundy broccoli. Maybe some bush beans too.

I just talked about how the heat has affected their production. Here's your chance to go for it again! The University of Minnesota Extension has more excellent information on mid-summer garden planting.

As always send me your comments, questions and suggestions for future bites! What do you want to know about? tkgardenbite@gmail.com

Teri Knight became a Master Gardener with Dakota County, Minnesota in 2003. She currently produces her website, www.gardenbite.com. Teri's been involved in community projects which include a Junior Master Gardener program for 8 to 12 year olds, designing and planting a garden for a women's center and various other organizations!

Planning a Fall vegetable garden. Those vegetables we grew in spring can be repeated and add brussels sprouts and beets too!

I eat salads nearly every day for lunch. Planting lettuce, kale and other "leafies" sounds like a good idea!

Yum – mix up those colors and try something different! There are some pretty cool reasons for planting as our temperatures begin to cool off.

Pests are fewer, those that irritate our plants and those that irritate us. Mosquitoes are first to come to mind.

Some crops actually taste better with cooler temperatures too. Arugula is one of them. In the summer heat, arugula can become bitter instead of savory.

The National Garden Bureau reports that kale and brussels sprouts taste

Bush style green beans in container 2021.

Looking back now, Flaherty says the tour of Northfield sealed the deal.

"They took the time to point out where the city was growing and highlighted some of the areas," Flaherty said. "After the tour, that is actually what sold it – the tour of the town."

Flaherty bought the business September 1, 2021. Changes soon followed, including bowling alley renovations and arcade game upgrades. One element that did not change, however, was the staff. While some employees were added, Flaherty promised to keep the original Jesse James Lanes employees.

Current manager Adam Tulkki appreciates the consistency and admires the improvements. When asked what his favorite part of his job is, he used one word — everything.

"I love the bowling side. I love the bar side, the game side, doing business with kids, and coaching," Tulkki said. "I love everything about the business."

Flaherty shares Tulkki's love. A father of eight, Flaherty focuses on family fun. Over the past year, he has seen Flaherty's Northfield Lanes benefit local families.

"We've been in the business since 1938, and the sole purpose is family entertainment," Flaherty said. "That's what we're built around."

Flaherty hopes recent improvements enhance families' experiences. One of those improvements is Flaherty's Pub and Grill.

The restaurant will feature a family-friendly menu, a full bar and an outdoor patio, complete with seating, sand volleyball and turf for bags/cornhole. Like Flaherty, Tulkki hopes the community stops out and enjoys the fun.

"I hope everybody comes out and enjoys the volleyball, and the bags, and the patio and the new menu," Tulkki said.

Flaherty's Pub and Grill opened Friday, August 12.

For more information on Flaherty's, head to their website.

Loan Client Spotlight: CannonBelles

By Southern Minnesota Initiative Foundation

CannonBelles, an award-winning cheese company based in Cannon Falls, received a Small Enterprise Loan from SMIF in 2021. Deeann Lufkin, co-owner of CannonBelles, shared some of the history of how she and her business partners started their business, and how SMIF has supported its growth.

Back in the fall of 2012, my friend Jackie and I decided to try to make cheese for the first time. We had been making beer and wine together for a few years and were ready for a new challenge. Jackie had also married a dairy farmer, so she had a fresh supply of great milk.

Tell us about your business.

The first cheese we made was a quick mozzarella. We thought it was great at first, but an hour later we realized it was a flavorless cross between mozzarella and “the blob.” We decided to try again, but this time we used cheddar cheese cultures and a recipe we got from a local beer-making supply store which also sold some simple cheese-making ingredients. This time, it looked, felt, smelled and tasted like cheese! We thought we’d keep trying, and it just got better!

We liked our cheese so much that we thought we could start to sell it. Our friends and family seemed to really like it, so why wouldn’t everyone else? We knew we needed the help of a dairy expert, so we asked our friend, Kathy, if she’d like to join our venture. I don’t think we got the question out completely before she said yes. She grew up on a dairy farm, used to have her own herd, and has a degree in animal husbandry.

With the three of us ready to go, we really began researching what we needed in order to make this a successful business. We visited numerous cheese plants in Minnesota and Wisconsin, asking questions of anyone we could. We joined the American Cheese Society. We took courses to learn as much as possible. We found contractors who helped us develop business plans and write grant proposals. We also joined SMIF’s Local Food Peer Network to meet with other artisan food-makers from southern Minnesota.

In the Fall of 2015, Jackie got a message from Dave Maroney, the Director of Economic Development and Planning for Cannon Falls. He had heard we were looking for a home for our business, and asked us to come meet with him. We did, and loved what we heard. Thus was born our relationship with our new hometown, Cannon Falls.

CannonBelles Cheese is now an award-winning artisan cheese company. While our business is located in Cannon falls, we had been making cheese at the University of Minnesota Pilot Plan since August 2016 because that is one of the only places in Minnesota to rent commercial cheese-making equipment. However, we just opened our own plant in Cannon Falls where we will be making Gouda, Cheddar, Cheese Curds and our American Cheese Society, First Place winning Queso Fresco! We also own CannonBelles Coffee and Ice Cream Shop which opened in 2019 and doubles as a retail location for our cheese.

How did the loan from SMIF help your business grow?

It helped us pay for marketing, such as social media, website and professional pictures. These items will help take our marketing materials to a more professional level as we begin to reach out to more stores to expand our markets.

Why did you choose SMIF as a lender?

We chose SMIF to help grow our business because they are easy to work with and invited us to be a part of their Food Peer Network. Everyone we’ve worked with at SMIF has been nothing but wonderful! They are friendly, patient and very understanding of us. We couldn’t be where we are today without their help! We also received professional help from SMIF after the loan (like help with Quick Books).

What was your experience like working with SMIF?

Our experience with SMIF has been exceptional! We LOVE everyone at SMIF. They truly feel like a partner and not just a lender. They truly care about each of the small businesses they help. SMIF has been a godsend to our company. Without their help and guidance, we would not be in the great position that we are today.

SMIF’s Small Enterprise Loan program provides micro loans through a partnership with the Small Business Administration (SBA). These loans support small business owners or start-up entrepreneurs who create service, retail, local foods, and manufacturing businesses. Small Enterprise Loan recipients are eligible for free technical assistance.

OLD BUSINESS

Consider Request from Dundas Dome Owners to Amend the PUD and Current Development Agreement

Administrator Teppen stated the owner of the Dundas Dome have submitted a letter requesting the City Council consider another amendment to the PUD for an extension to the Development Agreement to 2024 for completion of the parking lot requirements. She stated the current agreement expires this October, and the request is for an additional two years to October 2024. She indicated the owners believe pricing of the improvement is currently too high and they have not recovered financially from being shut down during COVID.

Sherry Foster, one of the owners, was present to seek the City Council's approval of the extension. Mayor Switzer indicated to Ms. Foster they should have been planning for the completion of the parking lot well in advance of the October 1, 2022, deadline. He said he would only support another extension if the Dome's owners could provide evidence they have done the engineering work and are prepared to move forward with the completion of the parking lot. The timeline for the owners to provide to the City Council prior to the upcoming deadline was discussed with Ms. Foster.

Motion by Fowler, second by Modory, to table pending submission of requested documentation to City Staff. MCU

She recommends the adoption of an interim ordinance prohibiting the sale, testing, manufacturing and distribution of THC products. She stated staff will work with others in Rice County and MN League of Cities to bring a recommendation back to Council in a couple of months.

Unwelcome Road Hazards

By Terry Campbell

This column is written by Messenger editor and Minnesota native Terry Campbell. Terry now splits his time between Minnesota when it's warm here and Tennessee when it's cold here.

One of my concerns with traveling 720 miles in one day across five states is encountering breakdowns on the highway. I am usually pulling a loaded trailer so there are more tires to contend with. I always carry a spare for the trailer along with a jack and wrenches. My first experience was a couple years ago, and the flat was on the trailer. I had just stopped for fuel in New London, Missouri and I noticed a low tire on the trailer. I pulled over to the air hose at the station and pumped up the tire. I could hear it hissing out as fast as I put it in. Since it was 100 degrees and the noon sun bearing down, I decided to pull into town and find a shady spot under a tree to change the tire. What I found was a repair shop and I pulled up and asked the guy if he would do the job for me. He wheeled his five-ton floor jack over and buzzed the lug nuts off with his air wrench. After changing the tire in about two-minutes he told me he had a tire to replace my spare. Another five minutes and the spare was full of air and good to go. I asked him what I owed him and he said $20. I handed him $40 and he looked at me and handed one of the Andrew Jackson's back to me.

Last month I had another road hazard. I was coming home one night and just as I swung into the turn lane I heard a bang from the area of my rear tire. Sounded like a gunshot. This was not good, I thought and sure enough, my low tire pressure light came on within in a couple minutes. I backed onto the concrete in the garage and there in the driver's side rear tire was a shiny, large chunk of metal sticking out of the face of the tire. My first thought was to change the tire, but after removing all six lug nuts I found that even with a fence post pounder, I couldn't knock the rim off the hub.

So, the next attack was to plug the damaged tire. I could not pull the object out so I drove it in. Then I had a hole almost big enough to put my little finger in. I got three repair cords in the shank of the tool at the same time and squeezed the tube of glue liberally over all three. Then I plunged them into the face of the tire and slowly worked the tool back out. I pumped the tire up to 40# of air and went to bed. The next morning there was only 20# of air in the tire. I pumped it back up and drove for the tire shop.

I had been laying water and electrical line in a two-foot deep trench in the hot Tennessee sun and the wet chirt soil. Chirt soil is the standard ground covering down there and it is gravel and clay mixed together. Add sweat and it will stick to you like mud.

So, when I walked into Barrett's Tire shop in dirty jeans and a ripped sweat soaked-shirt and asked for a 275/65 R18 tire, I might have not looked like a promising customer. The girl looked at me and said, "we have an entry level tire for $149." I said, "I want the best tire you have." Her look back at me was one of disbelief and pity. "But that one is a Cooper and it costs $229.00." I handed her my card and said put it on and I would like to see the object that pierced my tire.

Thirty minutes later the Ford F-150 was sporting a brand-new tire and I had I my hand half a wheel weight that was the culprit expensive delay. I was thankful this had happened a couple miles from my home and not out on the busy Interstate somewhere far from help. Both events occurred at a place where I could easily resolve them.

A Minnesotan: Boats

By RosaLin Alcoser

I have said it before and I will say it again. Minnesotans live our lives on the lake. We swim in it, we look at it, we fish in it, and we boat on it.

Recently I went home from the Twin Cities, back home to the Zumbro River Valley to the Zumbro Lake. During my visit home I not only spent time looking at the lake but I also went boating on the lake.

As a Minnesotan I have been boating many, many times, but this time was different because this time my grandpa taught me how to run the boat's outboard.

Now anyone of you who has ever run an outboard knows that you have to steer right to go left, left to go right and push against the torque to keep the boat straight.

It took me a little while, and a break in the middle, to get a handle on everything. I also went fairly slowly so that I would not lose control of the boat and was fairly nervous the entire time.

Learning to do this was great and also overwhelming at times mostly because I was terrified of docks, people and other boats that were also in the water. So, I would say that I did probably like 75% of the boat running and Grandpa did the rest.

Still 75% is not bad for my first time, in fact I even brought the boat into the dock at the end. So, all in all I think that we can count this experience as a massive success.

Follow these important rules on the school bus for your safety and the safety of your fellow passengers.

- Arrive at your bus stop at least five minutes early. Running to catch the bus is very dangerous.
- Stand at least three giant steps away from the curb when you see the bus approaching your bus stop.
- Stay put until the bus stops, the door opens and the driver tells you it's okay to enter the bus.
- Always use the handrails when entering and exiting the bus.
- Never walk behind the bus. If you must cross the street, cross in front of the bus. Walk on the sidewalk alongside the bus at least five giant steps before crossing in front of it, making sure you and the driver can see one another.
- Stay seated and wear your seatbelt the entire time the bus is moving. Avoid yelling or loud talking that could distract the driver.
