Sweet Holiday Recipes from Clinette Wolf

Many of us who attended West Concord High School remember the home economics class. I believe the girls all were enrolled in a number of the subjects and by the time I was a high schooler the boys each had a semester of home ec just for guys. I still have the apron we each sewed during the class. I went to Leuthold's in Kasson and picked out the material. It was a blue fabric with a nautical theme. Later in the year we made a meal and invited our mothers in to serve them lunch.

One thing that I have heard from a number of WCHS alumni is that they would love to have some of the holiday recipes they recall from Ms. Wolf's class. I contacted Clinette and she was so kind as to send a few of the recipes she had. We will publish a few in the November and December issue of the Messenger for you to try in time for holiday enjoyment. (recipes on page 4)

Christmas in West Concord

Saturday, December 2, will be the annual West Concord Community Christmas Celebration. Start the day out with fresh homemade doughnuts at the American Legion from 7 to 11am. The West Concord Fire Department will be collecting "Toys for Tots" at Centennial Park from 7am to 4pm. Wescon Lanes will have breakfast from 8 to 10:30am.

At the Bell Tower starting at 8am you can have coffee and cocoa with the council, and check out the Festival of the Trees and the Cardinal Club fundraiser for the parks. Caseys has free coffee and door prizes from 8am to 2pm. Boe Auto Center has open house with coffee and cookies and the Dollar General has door prizes and candy for the kids all day.

Heritage Bank will have Santa from 9am to noon, a Lions child vision check and a coloring contest as well. The library has craft activities for kids and at city hall the WC police Department will host cookies with the cops. The silent auction will be held at City Hall with bidding ending at 2:30pm. At 10am the library will host Kids Snowplow safety.

The West Concord Historical Society will have a Craft Fair from 9am to 2:30pm with lunch served from 11am to 1pm with live music.

Cookies with the cows will be held at Gochnauer Dairy farm with hot beverages from 11am to 2pm. The West Concord muni will have Bloody Mary's from 11am to 3pm. There will be a Festive Bar and music from 7 to 11pm. The Wescon Lanes will have lunch specials and free bowling from 11am to 3pm.

There will be a program with tree lighting, bell ringing, candle lighting, live nativity and Christmas drawing starting at 4pm at the Bell Tower. A concert with organ, piano, harp and vocal music will follow. From 5:30 to 7pm the West Concord EDA will have a free supper featuring spaghetti, French bread, salad, dessert and beverage.

Baking Help for the Holidays from Angela

By Cheri Roshon

As the holidays start creeping up on us, there are always so many things to do. Deep clean the house to ready it for company. Be sure to get all the groceries you'll need for the holiday feast.

Don't forget to invite Aunt Agnes to the party. It's literally a doubly busy time of year! So, if you could eliminate one time-consuming but necessary task from your holiday list, what would it be?

I believe the top answer would be all the extra baking! You have the detailed decorating, the extra groceries that aren't staples in the pantry, and of course, the time it takes to actually do it right to make the holidays special.

Many of us grew up with family get-togethers to help make this task more fun, and less time consuming. I remember my childhood and into my adulthood, looking forward to all the cousins, aunts and grandmas getting together to pass on the traditional holiday treat recipes that were passed down the generations for as long as I can remember. I loved dipping the Rosette irons into the batter, and watching it sizzle in the oil, carefully rolling the Krumkake, and flipping the Lefse. Norwegian baking is the best! But as I got older, the family got smaller, and the relatives got busier, until it was just me and my girls doing the traditional stuff that I loved.

So, last year, I finally bit the bullet and ordered the Rosettes,

"On Matthew 5:38-48: A Portion The Sermon on the Mount"

By Rev. Chad Christensen
Trinity Lutheran Church, West Concord
Dodge Center United Methodist Church

In the book Restoring Your Spiritual Passion, Gordon MacDonald writes:

"One memory that burns deep within is that of a plane flight on which I was headed toward a meeting that would determine a major decision in my work. I knew I was in desperate need of a spiritual passion that would provide wisdom and submission to God's purposes. But the passion was missing because I was steeped in resentment toward a colleague.

For days I had tried everything to rid myself of vindictive thoughts toward that person. But, try as I might, I would even wake in the night, thinking of ways to subtly get back at him. I wanted to embarrass him for what he had done, to damage his credibility before his peers. My resentment was beginning to dominate me, and on that plane trip I came to realize just how bad things really were with my resentment.

As the plane entered the landing pattern, I found myself asking God for power both to forgive and to experience liberation from my poisoned spirit. Suddenly it was as if an invisible knife cut a hole in my chest, and I literally felt a thick substance oozing from within. Moments later I felt as if I had been flushed out. I had lost negative spiritual weight, the kind I needed to lose: I was free. I fairly bounced off that plane and soon entered a meeting that did in fact change the direction of my life."

Spiritual passion cannot co-exist with resentments. The Scriptures are clear. The unforgiving spirit saps the energy that causes Christian growth and effectiveness.

The work of forgiveness is difficult work. It is difficult. We can only repay evil with good, forgiving others and praying for those who harm us, to the degree that we can live into our God-given identity as blessed and beloved children of God. You cannot give what you don't have; only those who have experienced love can in turn share it with others.

We need to know and believe and feel that we are loved, before we can love and forgive others. This is a basic truth. But this, too, is not easy. So many things, especially our perception of our selves, get in the way.

Jesus' Sermon on the Mount is a challenging sermon. These words of Jesus challenge us today—not only to love and forgive one another, but also to love and forgive ourselves. Perhaps the most challenging verse in this Matthew text is the last verse (v. 48): "Be perfect, therefore, as your heavenly Father is perfect." When we hear that command, most of us hear an injunction to a kind of moral perfection. But that is not what Jesus is saying. "Perfect" in this case, stemming from the Greek word telos, means an "end," a "goal," or a "purpose." The sense of this word is about becoming what is intended, accomplishing one's God-given purpose in the same way that God constantly reflects God's own nature and purpose.

If we harbor hurts in our own heart then certainly that hurt has been deep and valid enough! And, so, it is easy to carry a grudge against another.

--We hate rather than love,

--We wound rather than heal—especially when we ourselves walk so much of our lives wounded and hurt.

Jesus, endured the shame and humiliation of the cross on our behalf, and embraced death itself so that we might know, experience, and trust just how much God loves us. When we realize this we may have an abundant life. This Jesus not only commands, but he understands just how hard it is for us to forgive, let alone love, those who have hurt us. But as Gordon MacDonald wrote: "It is good to lose negative spiritual weight—forgiving lets the poison ooze out. This is freeing!"

Ark of the Church

In [the ark] only a few people, eight in all, were saved through water, and this water symbolizes baptism that now saves you also. . . . — 1 Peter 3:20-21

In our reading for today, the apostle Peter mentions Noah and the ark, which we discussed on October 4 (Genesis 8). Do you remember another story this month that also pointed to the ark? In Exodus 2 (Oct. 5), as you may recall, Moses' mother places him as a baby in a "basket," and the Hebrew word for that can also mean "ark." Moses' mother did this, in faith, hoping that her little boy would escape the murderous reach of Pharaoh, the king of Egypt (see Exodus 1:22).

In the New Testament, the apostle and fisherman Peter states that just as God rescued Noah and his family "through water" while other people were swept away in judgment, Christians are rescued from judgment by Christ's death and resurrection, which is symbolized in baptism. If believers in Christ are symbolically rescued (like Noah and his family) "through water" (baptism), then what is the "ark"? What is the vessel of God's rescue for us and indeed for the whole creation? It seems that this would be the church, the community of faith. Remember, baptism places us in the nurturing community of the people of God with its worship, prayers, sacraments, and fellowship. In this "ark" we are on the way to the resurrection and full life in God's renewed world.

Lord, we praise you for the church, which, though it can be rocked by powerful winds and waves, is nonetheless piloted by you and is the place of your grace and salvation. Amen.

Daniel Lee Porisch

Daniel Lee Porisch, 64, of Dodge Center, MN passed away on Thursday, November 2, 2023, at his home surrounded by his family.

Dan was born on September 21, 1959, in Mountain Lake, MN to Richard and Marie (Allen) Porisch. He graduated from Mountain Lake High School in 1978. He spent one year at Jackson Minnesota Technical College. He continued his education by earning his Bachelor's Degree in Education, from Mankato State University in 1983. He taught Industrial Education at Claremont High School, where he also coached football, girls' basketball, and track and field. He went on to achieve his Master's Degree in Counseling in 1989 from Winona State University and then became Triton High School's counselor in 1990. In 1994, he started at Owatonna High School as their counselor. Dan was a creative, precise, meticulously talented craftsman. He started his own company, Porisch Cabinetry in 1999, and continued his craft until his passing.

He married the love of his life, Karen Duerksen on October 12, 1985, and together they had two sons, Tanner and Madison. He loved spending time with his family and many friends. He also enjoyed hunting, trapping, fishing, camping, etc.

Dan is survived by his wife, Karen Porisch of Dodge Center, MN; children, Tanner (Cory) Porisch of Lake City, MN and Madison (Bre) Porisch of Jeffers, MN; siblings, David (Dee) Porisch of Anoka, MN, Pat (Joe) Deklotz of Delafield, WI, Pam (Sandy) Sweeney of Duluth, MN; brother-in-law, Dale (Vicki) Duerksen of Plymouth, MN; sisters-in-laws, Brenda (Chuck) Behrends of Lakefield, MN and Michell Porisch of Canton, MI; grandchildren, Spencer (Alexis), Anthony, Lauren, Dylann, Camryn, and Jaxon; great-grandchildren, Addison, Alexander, and Baby Scarlett on the way; special aunt, Mary Gohr and many other aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Richard and Marie Porisch; parents-in-law, Erwin, Georgine and Milton Duerksen; brothers, Byron Porisch and Richard (Dick) Porisch; brother-in-law, Chad Duerksen and grandson, Tyler Senn.

A memorial service was held at 11:00 a.m. Saturday, November 11, 2023, at Faith Lutheran Church, 308 2nd St NW in Dodge Center, MN. Pastor Jessica Bakken Busch officiated. Visitation was one hour prior to the service at the church. In lieu of flowers, memorials are suggested to the family.

Karen Jo Gullickson

Karen Jo Gullickson, 50, of Wanamingo, passed away on Monday, November 13, 2023 at her home with her family by her side.

She was born in Owatonna to Raymond and Linda (Knutson) Courson. Karen was a part of the first graduating class of Triton High School. After school she went and worked various jobs before working at Sheldahl Flexible Technologies in Northfield. Karen loved to add stamps to her collection, and put Diamond Dotz photos together. She loved to ride her Harley Davidson Motorcycle, and go camping at different campgrounds around the area. But most of all, Karen loved to spend time with her family, especially her children and grandson.

She is survived by her children Taylor and Karissa Rasmussen; grandson, Kaden; father, Raymond (Kathy) Courson of West Concord; brothers, Jim (and Vicki) Courson of Eyota, Josh (and Lisa) Courson of Faribault, sister, Sharon (and Daren) Mitchell of Zumbrota.

She was preceded in death by her husband Jimmy Gullickson; mother, Linda Courson; grandparents, Gordon (and Selina) Courson, Reuben (and Pearl) Knutson.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday, November 18th, 2023 at 1PM at the Michaelson Funeral Home in Kenyon with a visitation one hour prior to the service. Pastor Tim Smith will be officiating the service. Interment will be in the Wanamingo Cemetery at later date.

Krumkake and Lefse, and you know what? They tasted just as good as mine did-- maybe even better!

That left me with more time to finish the last of the gift making with no stress!

Angela Larson lives in West Concord and has been baking since she was old enough to reach the kitchen counter. Her mother, grandmothers and aunts were her teachers, and she found that she loved to bake. While she tends to gravitate toward offering items made using tried-and-true family recipes, she has learned how to go fancy with wedding cakes, Norwegian and other sweet treats, and some rather unusual specialty items. She just finished making a catsup bottle cake! I would say that takes a bit of imagination!

"Baking is my creative outlet that brings joy to others' celebrations" she shares. Angela is employed as the office manager for 6 Catholic parishes, and along with that she has worked at food and beverage venues for many years. Over the years, she has been creating specialty cakes for friends and family, and finally last year, decided to make it a business, and let her imagination run wild! Lucky for the rest of us, we can now support Angela in her creative endeavors by pre-ordering our holiday treats that will impress our guests with the traditional favorites, and more!

I asked her what the hardest part of making her dream come true has been. She answered, "I had to learn the marketing aspects, liabilities, web design and social media stuff." Good for you, Angela, you are doing it all right! She has made her presence known by having a float in the Survival Days parade, and most recently during West Concord's Trunk or Treat celebration.

Word of mouth has certainly helped, and getting the word out through local advertising has helped immensely.

Now she is preparing for the busiest time of the year, and is taking orders for holiday baking, and even offering classes monthly, each with a different, seasonal theme, to learn how to decorate your own treasures, and have fun doing it! You can find all the details on her website, angelalarsonbaking.com, and on her Facebook page @angelalarsonbaking. There you will find pictures of some of her creations, her class schedule, and her pre-order form. So, if this is the year to give yourself a break, and still indulge in the holiday traditions you love, give Angela Larson Baking a try. I believe you will be glad you did!

That's the Latest Fishing

By Emery Kleven

Emery is now a retired farm broadcaster after starting at KDHL in Faribault in 1987. He's a 1971 graduate of West Concord High School. You can view past columns at his website RoadFarming.com. You can email him at emery@roadfarming.com.

I was never much for fishing but I am always intrigued enough to read about it but very seldom do I dabble in it myself. I read with interest the other day that a North Dakota fisherman caught a record walleye in South Dakota. Aaron Schuck broke the record in the 'hook and line' category when he caught a walleye that weighed 16 pounds and 8 ounces on Lake Oahe. Oahe is the 4th largest reservoir in the U.S. It stretches 230 miles from roughly Pierre to Bismarck north of the Oahe dam on the Missouri River in central South Dakota.

My old farm broadcasting partner, Colonel Jon was an avid fisherman and he loved South Dakota fishing. He could recite state records for most of the fish species. Col and I each had a trailer at Breske Bay on Lake Waubay in northeast South Dakota for a number of years. There was the time when Col Jon was fishing with a guy named Toby who also had a trailer at the same campsite. Toby was a big fisherman, literally and figuratively. Toby weighed well north of 300 pounds. One day, Toby and the Col were fishing on the east side of the bay when big Toby caught a carp. I know enough about fishing to know that was not the game fish he was looking to catch. He pulled it up and out of the water when Col Jon says that looks like a

Emery and his guide after a day of fishing on Detroit Lake at the 1988 Governor's Fishing Opener.

Thank you letter from the Governor state record, that thing must weigh 35 to 40 pounds. Toby said, nope, I don't want my name associated with any carp, state record or not and he threw it back in.

After I read about the big walleye caught on Oahe, I had to look up what the current record is for a carp in South Dakota. Turns out its 37 pounds and caught on where else...Lake Waubay. I figure it was the one that Toby threw back into Waubay. I never doubted Col Jon's ability to tell me what a fish weighed before it was actually weighed. That's the experience of his lifetime of fishing. He did the same thing with cattle. That came from being a world-class livestock auctioneer for many years.

My fishing experience or lack thereof goes back to my youth when we would go to the old wooden bridge that was part of the Concord Township road by our farm. The bridge was between the Louie Wenzel farm and the Bob Rhodes farm. The township took the bridge out in the 60's and never replaced it as the road came to a T by the Rhodes farm. So they just put up a dead-end sign by highway 56.

I was told that bullheads sting if you touch them. Years later I learned that they don't really sting but they can poke you with sharp spines concealed on their top and sidefins. But I wasn't about to lose a hand or any other appendage, so I never touched any kind of fish. That is until many years later. When I became the Farm Director at KDHL radio in Faribault, I was told by the then owner Jack Hyde that the farm director was to attend and report on the Governor's fishing opener. So in May, 1988, Jack and I head to Detroit Lakes for the fishing opener. We had pretty good luck catching some walleye on a windy day. The guide, who lived on the north side of the lake, along with Jack Hyde and me, hit our limits. It was great fun and better yet, no bullheads.

I did use bait to catch these walleye. I know my sister Sylvia would ask if I was. She remembers I would as a young kid, because of those errant rumors that bullheads could kill you, would often fish without bait so as to not have to deal with a bullhead or any other kind of fish. But at the 3 different Governor's openers I attended, I would actually grab ahold of the fish and take it off the line and onto a stringer.

The 1989 Governor's Opener was held at Breezy Point Resort near Pequot Lakes. The 1990 Governor's fishing opener was held in Grand Rapids. It was during this opener that Governor Rudy Perpich signed legislation that would make it a misdemeanor if you were caught spreading the invasive Eurasian watermilfoil from one lake to another. You had to wash your boat and trailer, much like years later when you washed for zebra mussels. One member of the media went through the salad bar that evening and he swore that the salads had Eurasian watermilfoil in them. We just told him to wash his salad bowl before he goes out to the lake again. And if it was milfoil in the salad, it was rather tasty.

After those experiences, my only other fishing was on Lake Waubay with Col Jon a few times catching walleye and white bass. Fortunately, there was no carp nor were there any bullheads.

Kimberly Klejeski Accepts Position of City Administrator for the City of West Concord

I am pleased to announce that Kimberly Klejeski has accepted the position of City Administrator for the City of West Concord. Mrs. Klejeski is a focused professional coming with a management background from the Mayo Clinic. Her past experience also includes food shelf manager through SEMCAC, laboratory technician, and residential manager with a group home. This background of safety monitoring, license and compliance, policy development and enforcement, budgeting, volunteer and customer service shall serve her well! Kimberly and her family reside within ten (10) miles of West Concord so she will be vested within the community. Her transition date is November 13, 2023.

Please join me in welcoming Kimberly to her new role as part of our community!
Mayor Jeffrey E. McCool

Chief Inspector Armand Gamache #1

The discovery of a dead body in the woods on Thanksgiving Weekend brings Chief Inspector Armand Gamache and his colleagues from the Surete du Quebec to a small village in the Eastern Townships. Gamache cannot understand why anyone would want to deliberately kill well-loved artist Jane Neal, especially any of the residents of Three Pines - a place so free from crime it doesn't even have its own police force.

But Gamache knows that evil is lurking somewhere behind the white picket fences and that, if he watches closely enough, Three Pines will start to give up its dark secrets...

Mayor's Christmas Medallion Hunt

Come to the Bell Tower (401 Main Street) from 8:00 a.m. – 11:00 a.m. for one of the hunts, and 4:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m. for the other hunt, during Christmas in West Concord on Saturday, December 2, 2023. Find the Mayor's medallions (2- one in the AM, one in the PM), examples pictured below. The medallions are hidden somewhere within the Bell Tower Center, in plain sight, in a public location. You are asked when located to inform the Mayor where it is located, and you will win one of the American Eagles pictured below. Only two chances, one prize for each medallion found, first come first serve! Children must be accompanied by an adult.

What the medallions you are looking for look like:

Prize: The two people to find the medallions will win a Proof 2023 American Silver Eagle, current value at $80.00! One with a mint mark of West Point and the other with San Francisco. These are valued with both the current silver market and proof collectable value.

What Are Proof Coins?

Proof coins originated as evidence that the master die the mint used to stamp the coin worked correctly. The first proof coin was a test of the die and was struck multiple times to bring out the detail in the die design. Typically, a few proof coins were stamped to make sure there would be no coin errors. If the coins looked correct, the proof was approved, and the die was then used to strike coins meant for circulation. These coins were then struck only once and released to the public.

Today the U.S. Mint produces silver and gold proof coins not as a test of the dies, but as the highest quality copy of the coin. Proof coins are struck at least twice and hand polished before they are placed in protective packaging to preserve them. As a result, proof coins have a mirror-like background and a sculpted, matte foreground. Every detail of the coin's design is completely visible. These are rare coins, so their potential to appreciate in value over time is greater. They are often used as gifts for coin collectors at holidays, birthdays, or other celebrations.

Proof coins are manufactured solely for collecting. Because of this they will sell for much higher prices than circulated versions of the same coin.

Silver Eagles Donated by Mayor McCool

Festival of the Trees

Themed Christmas trees are decorated by individuals, families, and businesses to be auctioned off, with all proceeds going to help the Cardinal Club of West Concord.

The 2023 Festival of Trees will take place on December 2 at the West Concord Bell Tower Center. Incredible community volunteers will create and donate the most beautiful holiday decorations that could include extravagant trees, stunning wreaths, hand-crafted gingerbread houses, and much more to be bid on in a silent auction. All funds raised support the Cardinal Club of West Concord. Funds will be used to promote or enhance our parks, recreation, and education in and around West Concord.

Join us Saturday, December 2, 2023

The Festival of Trees is a great way to start your Holiday season off with family and friends while supporting the Cardinal Club of West Concord.

Event Times
Saturday, December 2, 2023
8:00 a.m. – 11:00 am
3:00 p.m. – 7:00 pm

Location
West Concord Bell Tower
401 Main Street, West Concord, MN 55985

Tree Silent Auction

The silent auction opens December 2 at 8:00 a.m. and momentarily closing at 11:00 a.m. for a brief break; it then reopens at 3:00 p.m. and closes to final bidding at 4:00 p.m. Please note the festival will be located on the second level and it is stairs only access. Trees will remain on site and available for viewing until 7 p.m.; no trees will leave the premises on December 2. Winning bidders may pick-up their trees on the following days & times: Sunday, December 3 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. or Monday December 4 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Other arrangements may be made if needed.

Tree Providers- Sponsors/Decorators must provide an artificial tree of their choice - major part of the display must be the tree • Maximum tree height is 8' – minimum height is 3'. Maximum display space allowed is 5x5 feet. (If you have a small tree, we ask you have a table to display it on so it is at eye level (table will not be sold). Battery or LED electrical lights only will be allowed. Trees must be artificial and new (never been used). Trees must use a Festival of Trees approved tree stand (free standing, not bolted or wired to the building and floor protected from scratches). We will accept the first 8 registered. All trees fully decorated stand and all are sold through silent auction.

Tree Registration- Must be completed by November 20th, 5:00 p.m. Forms are available on the city website or in City Hall. All forms must be dropped off to City Hall by the due date to be accepted. Registered trees can be set-up and decorated at the following times at the Bell Tower: Thursday, November 30th, 6 p.m.-9 p.m. and/or Friday, December 1st, 9 a.m. – 9 p.m. All set-ups must be completed by Friday, December 1 by 9:00 pm.

West Concord City Council Meeting Minutes

Dodge County Environmental Services is seeking the City of West Concord's advice on whether they should issue the permit or if the City will require them to hook up to City Services based on City Code Book Ordinances (705.01- 705.11 Use of Public Sewers Required). Joe Palen of Stantec, commented that the forced main and grinder station would

Mercy Meals event to be held in West Concord

The citizens of West Concord and surrounding communities are invited to help put together Mercy Meals for an Orphan Grain Train/Mercy Meal packaging event on Saturday, November 18, 2023. The Mission of Mercy Meals is to fight world hunger and reverse the effects of malnutrition. 795 million people in the world today are undernourished. By volunteering one hour of your time at a Mercy Meals event, you can make a huge impact in fighting world hunger.

To date, Mercy Meal volunteers have packaged 8,077,522 meals which have been distributed to 19 countries as well as places within the United States such as local food pantries, disaster relief sites, and the Navajo Indian Nation. One hour of volunteer time can feed a child for an entire year! Developed by nutrition scientists, these highly nutritious, wellbalanced meals provide a source of easily digestible protein, carbohydrates, and vitamins needed to reverse malnutrition.

Mercy Meals food products are made up of 4 dry ingredients that are easily packaged (rice, dried vegetables, soy flakes, & dried chicken flavoring) and need only boiling water to prepare. The cost per package, which provides a meal for one person is about 17 cents. Volunteers will provide the labor to package and vacuum seal each meal. This event will take place at the West Concord Historical Society building from 8:00 a.m.-8:00 p.m. and is open to all ages and organizations to volunteer. Through this one simple event, by giving of our time and talents, we can make a difference in other people's lives and develop an appreciation for the blessings in our own lives!

Sign up at: <https://www.signupgenius.com/go/10C084ACA82BA2F8C61-45052569-mercy>. The event is being sponsored by Trinity Lutheran Church of West Concord, Faith Community Church of West Concord, and Concord Church of Christ along with assistance from the West Concord Historical Society and the City of West Concord. We are asking for do-giving by check, please make your check out to "MN Southern Orphan Grain Train". All who donate by check will be sent a tax-deductible receipt from the Orphan Grain Train Organization. Questions may be directed to: Mark Ellingsen, West Concord Orphan Grain Train/Mercy Meal event coordinator, at 507-251- 3547 or Shari Ellingsen at 507-251-4246.

nations to assist in purchasing the raw materials used to prepare the meals. The goal is to raise $4,000 for the event, which will provide 24,000 individual meals. Monetary donations may be dropped off at any of the local churches listed above, as well as the West Concord City Hall. Cash or check only. If

A Million Images In A Million Brains

By Colleen Sathrum Hayne

I learned to tell time by the “Arthur Godfrey Morning Show” on the radio. I was six years old and I so much wanted a Cinderella Disney watch. My parents said that if I learned to tell time they would get me one. I matched the time Arthur Godfrey’s morning show came on with the time on the kitchen clock and it wasn’t long before I understood how the clock worked. It was 1956 and we didn’t yet have the TV that some families had. I also remember listening to “Gunsmoke” on the radio. When my dad came in for the noon meal that we called “dinner”, he always shushed my sister and me so that he could listen to Cedric Adams’ Noontime News and the farm markets.

The Golden Age of Radio was alive and well from the 1920s to the 1950s. Although you could certainly listen to news on the radio, newspapers still reigned in the news world and families looked to the radio for entertainment. The exception to that was the series of 31 Fireside Chats that President Franklin Roosevelt gave over the radio from 1933 to 1944. They were from 11 to 44 minutes in length and reinforced the power of broadcast media. Americans who were living through two terribly difficult times, the Great Depression and World War II, found comfort and reassurance in Roosevelt’s chats.

At the Museum recently I had a chance to discover the radio programs West Concord’s seniors were listening to in the 1940’s. I looked at the individual “sketches” of Seniors in the classes of 1941 (my dad’s class) and the class of 1947. In those particular years students were asked what their favorite radio programs were. I’ve had so much fun exploring their answers.

One of the radio shows mentioned most often was “Lux Radio Theatre” brought to the air by Lux Soap. For 20 years this program adapted Broadway plays and Hollywood movies for the listening audience. Many famous stars appeared week after week, from Katharine Hepburn and Shirley Temple to Humphrey Bogart and Cary Grant. Another program in the same genre was called “The Little Theater Off Times Square”. The host, Mr. First Nighter, strolled along Broadway until he reached the theater. There listeners imagined that they were seated in the center of the front row, just in time for the show, usually a light romance or melodrama.

One high school senior liked the Jell-O program best and I couldn’t imagine what that would be. It turns out it was actually the Jack Benny program—Jack always liked to feature his sponsor when each week’s program was announced.

“Your Hit Parade” was a successful show for 24 years. Sponsored by Lucky Strike cigarettes, every Saturday night the top tunes of the week were presented by artists of the caliber of Frank Sinatra and Dinah Shore. “American Melody” was a variety show that featured tunes of the past and future. My dad’s favorite program listed on his senior profile was “Major Bowes Amateur Hour”, sponsored by Chase and Sanborn coffee. This program was later adapted for television and known as the “Ted Mack Amateur Hour”. Major Bowes featured new talent: from Frank Sinatra’s quartet, The Hoboken Four, to Swiss Bell ringers, to Maria Callas singing opera from Madame Butterfly at age 11. Remind anyone of “America’s Got Talent”, “The Voice”, or “American Idol”?

One very amusing program was called “It Pays to Be Ignorant”. It was a comedy spoof show, sponsored by Chrysler and DeSoto. A panel of comedians answered ridiculously silly questions like: “For what meal do we wear a dinner jacket?” and “How long does it take a ship to make a five-day journey?”

Crime shows like “The Crime Doctor” were popular, too. Sponsored by Philip Morris cigarettes, the main character of Crime Doctor was originally a “crook”, but after a blow on the head suffered amnesia and built a new life as a doctor who studied criminal psychiatry. Quite an interesting theme . . . “Gang Busters” was another crime show that featured authentic police histories, basing the shows on crimes that had been solved.

Other favorite shows that our 1940’s alumni mentioned included “The Bergen and McCarthy” show of puppet-ventriloquist fame. With guests like Lucille Ball, Judy Garland and Orson Wells, the show was ranked the best radio show for ten years. The quiz show, first known as “Take it or Leave it” and later as the “$64 Question” had its loyal fans, too.

Some people loved Gene Autry’s “Melody Ranch” program sponsored by Doublemint Gum. We know its theme song well, “Back in the Saddle Again”. For those who preferred classical music there was the “Ford Sunday Evening Hour” that originated from Orchestra Hall in Detroit and featured selections of classical music, hymns, ballads, and opera. Henry Ford himself chose the program’s theme music, “The Children’s Prayer”, from Hansel and Gretel. If you liked Soap Operas there was a good one for you called “Those We Love” which ran from 1938 to 1945.

If the Golden Days of Radio are nostalgic to you, we invite you to the Flame Room to sit by the 1930 RCA Console Radio and imagine you’re back in those days. Or you could venture upstairs and take in the 1940’s Philco Floor Model Radio that’s in the 50’s/60’s room. Sit down and imagine that you’re listening to “Hit Parade” and be transported to a different time.

I like columnist Peggy Noonan’s quote about radio: “TV gives everyone an image, but radio gives birth to a million images in a million brains.” Radio is my trusty companion through many of my days. How about yours?

2023 Section 2AA Champions

The Triton High School Football team are the 2023 Section 2AA Champions. The Cobras entered the section playoffs with a record of 3-5, after playing one of the toughest regular season football schedules in the state of Minnesota. Triton earned the third seed in Section 2AA, even though they dominated top seeded Maple River 27-6 in the first week of the season.

After the bracket was set, the Cobras showed their might by beating JWP 43-6 in the quarterfinals and St.Clair-Loyola 40-16 in the semifinals. The Cobra victories in the first two rounds created a showdown in the Section 2AA Championship with the top seeded Maple River Eagles.

With a state tournament berth on the line the Cobras got off to a great start as they recovered the opening onside kickoff and scored on a touchdown pass from Pierce Petersohn to Brody Munnikhuysen a few plays later. The Cobras took a 14-0 lead into halftime and held off Maple River to win 21-14.

The Section 2AA Championship was the tenth section title in Triton High School history, and the first since 2010. The Cobras playoff run was ended by Cannon Falls in the MSHSL Class AA Quarterfinals on November 9th. However, this season will set the tone for the future of Triton Cobra Football for years to come.

Congratulations to the players and coaches on a fantastic and memorable season! We Are Triton!

November is always an interesting month due to the proximity to the end of the year and the increasingly colder changes that we see in the weather. If you made it past October without putting on the heat, you will definitely be turning it on in November! The sound of the wind this time of year can give you a chill. It is also the month that celebrates Thanksgiving. I always used to think of Thanksgiving as a time to eat a fabulous meal and relax while enjoying a long weekend. That can still very much be the case, but with age I have learned to appreciate being with family and enjoying the opportunity to get together. A time to truly be thankful and while reflecting on another year that seems to have gone by so swiftly. Even though it may seem to have gone by quickly, you start to reflect on all of the happenings of the year, and unfortunately many times reflecting on the people that have passed away and are no longer with us to celebrate. It is an opportunity to cultivate a spirit of gratitude that permeates every aspect of our lives. It enhances our relationships, and deepens our connections with family and friends. It brings peace to our hearts which reduces stress and anxiety. Gratitude is powerful and it can permeate our life with joy and contentment.

November, with its unique blend of reflection and gratitude, serves as a reminder that life is a complex blend of experiences, emotions and connections. It prompts us to cherish the moments we have had with our loved ones and to be thankful for the lessons we have learned along the way. It encourages us to embrace both the beauty and the finite existence of our lives. As we gather for Thanksgiving, it is essential to remember that gratitude is not something we should do alone. It is even better when we share our appreciation of others. Expressing our appreciation of others not only through words, but also through acts of kindness and generosity. It is an opportunity to help others that are less fortunate and give back. I have often shared with our others that I am happiest when I am fulfilling my "why." One of the best parts about my profession is when I am able to help others. For me, it is the reason I have continued to pursue a career in education.

As we enter the holiday season, it is also a time to reflect on the value of gratitude. Thanksgiving, with its name alone, embodies this sentiment. Gratitude is not merely a fleeting feeling but a practice that can transform our lives. It invites us to recognize and appreciate the abundance that surrounds us, even in the most challenging times. It reminds us that in the face of adversity, there is always something to be thankful for.

Please reach out to me with any questions that you may have regarding our school district. You can email me at schlich@triton.k12.mn.us or you can call me at 507-418-7530 to reach me at the district office. I would be happy to set up a time to meet with you or your organization. Communication is an important aspect of my job responsibility, and I welcome the opportunity to gain experience from your perspective. GO COBRAS!

Triton High School Concurrent Classes

By Christi Runnells

Each issue of this school year's Triton Times, I'd like to highlight Triton High School's concurrent course offerings available to our students. A concurrent course is a class that upperclassmen can take to earn both high school and college credit—FREE and right at Triton. Concurrent courses are taught by our own Triton teachers to sections made of only Triton students. Students earn anywhere from 1-4 credits for each class, depending on which class they take. Teachers must have a master's degree and a minimum of 18 graduate credits in that field. This month we'll look at the Science department offerings.

Concurrent Physics is the equivalent of Rochester Community & Technical College's (RCTC) PHYS 1103 Principles of Physics. Successful completion of this yearlong course earns the student 3 college credits. This course is open to juniors and seniors who have a qualifying reading AND math ACT or MCA test score or pass into college level on the Accuplacer test. We first offered this class in the fall of 2020 and have run the class two of the last four school years (classes need to have at least 10 students to run). Brian Felten is the instructor for this course and we are happy to be running it this year. Mr. Felten stated he enjoys teaching this class at Triton because of its real-world connections, "Physics is all about understanding real phenomena in our world. Students can see and directly experience many of the concepts. It is also applied math. It allows students to see the application of concepts from algebra and geometry." This class is great for any student planning to go to college as it can count as one of their science general education requirements. Additionally, students going into a healthcare related career may find this class especially helpful as it is often a required class for many majors. Students are able to enjoy the class at a little bit of a slower pace since it is stretched over the course of the school year. Mr. Felten added, "It is a challenging course that requires problem solving retention and understanding of mathematical concepts from all throughout high school, as well as motivation to do work outside of class time."

We are also fortunate to be able to offer two concurrent classes in the biology department as well. Concurrent Biology is the equivalent of RCTC's BIOL 1101 Elements of Biology and Concurrent Environmental Science is the equivalent of RCTC's BIOL 1100 Environmental Biology. Each semester class earns the student 3 college credits, upon successful completion of the course. Students must meet the same reading requirements to take this course, but there is no math entrance requirement. Ms. Swanson completed her Master's in biology while teaching at Triton specifically so that she could provide our students with the opportunity to earn college level biology credit while still in high school. We first offered Concurrent Biology in the 2018-2019 school year and ran two sections that year and the following school year. Since then, we have run one section when we had enough students register. Then in the 2021-2022 school year we brought Concurrent Environmental Science to Triton for the first time. Last year and this year we had so many students interested that we run two sections each school year and we anticipate continuing that trend. Ms. Swanson especially enjoys "having the opportunity to take a deeper dive into biology and environmental science concepts with students that are excited to learn. Because I have all the students in biology prior to either of these classes, I have a good idea of what their background knowledge is, so that enables us to take our learning to the next level. Additionally, the students that elect to take these courses are generally highly motivated students that are excited to dive into science at a deeper level, so that energy is awesome." Ms. Swanson agrees with Mr. Felten on the value of this class for our students pursuing college as it can take care of a science general. In fact, students who take both a concurrent biology class and the concurrent physics class will completely satisfy the general education requirements for science at a Minn State college/university. Ms. Swanson adds that in addition to college credit, concurrent science classes give students an excellent experience that makes them even more prepared for college level courses and a higher level of rigor. We are proud to be able to offer three different science classes to our students for college credit.

On behalf of the staff at Triton Elementary, Middle, and High School, we are proud to report that we are continuing to have a fantastic school year. Although we are doing very well, that does not mean we have not and will not have challenges in navigating academic programming, student behavior management, and overall operations. We realize when managing a school we have the important opportunity to help the families of roughly 950 students continue to improve and progress academically, socially, and emotionally. So obviously, there will be times when breakdowns happen. When these challenges occur, it is important to work together to make sure we reach a resolution that is appropriate and respectful. To help navigate this, we have made a continual effort and worked on strategies to improve communications so all families and community members can openly communicate concerns as they surface. As administrators, we welcome all feedback to help us guide the educational experiences of your children and implement practices that are in line with our local expectations.

We want all students at Triton Elementary, Middle, and High School to experience success and continue to improve. We are at the time of the school year where patterns have emerged and staff, students, and families can step back and assess strengths and areas of needed improvement. When looking at areas of improvement, it is important to note that success in school and in life does not happen by accident. The most successful people have developed habits of excellence and implement them over time with great consistency. When student progress seems to be suffering, it is a good time to step back and evaluate the following habits listed below and look for areas of needed improvement.

- Attend school as frequently as possible
- Arrive to school on time prepared and ready to learn
- Complete all learning practice "assignments" to the best of their ability
- Share school experiences (successes and struggles) with parents and family
- Know that parents and family expect their absolute best behaviorally and academically
- Communicate concerns and successes to school staff to help guide future experiences

We hope these practices will help us continue to improve the overall educational experience for all students at Triton. We thank you for your continued engagement, support, and feedback. Please feel free to contact us with any questions, comments, or concerns.

The district spelling bee is held on January 11 at 8:30 in the middle school library.

American Education Week happens the week prior to the week of Thanksgiving. Each day of the week has its own theme, during which we celebrate our public school community. Festivities honor the team of people who work in our nation's public schools, everyone from the bus driver and classroom teacher to the cafeteria worker and administrative staff, plus countless others.

It's Been a Busy Month for Triton Elementary

It has been a busy month for our Triton Elementary students and staff. We have enjoyed getting a brand-new sport court, adaptive playground equipment, field trips, Veterans Day Program, and received a grant for STEAM items in our library. It is a great time to be a Cobra!

Our students have had the opportunity to play on our brand new "sport court" the last couple of weeks. This project was made possible completely by donated money, equating to zero expense to the school district. The space allows a safe space for our students to play basketball and volleyball during recess. In addition to recess time, the space will be undoubtedly used before and after school for many years to come. Thank you to the donors for making this possible.

More recently, the adaptive playground equipment that was paid for by TEAM has been installed. Students are enjoying using the equipment on a daily basis. The money for this project came from our BoosterThon Fun Run last spring totaling over $16000. Thank you, TEAM, for making this equipment available to our students! Our time outside is now filled with students making music!

Our third grade attended a play in Rochester put on at RCTC. We continue to look for ways to expand our students' knowledge not only within our school, but also within the surrounding communities. The students enjoyed the performance, and we plan to attend again in the future.

Our fourth grade participated in the Kindness Retreat put on by Youth Frontiers. Throughout the day our students were at Faith Lutheran Church participating and learning about kindness. Our students participate in the Kindness Retreat in fourth grade, Courage Retreat in eighth grade, and the Respect Retreat in tenth grade. We even had our staff participate in the Purpose Retreat to begin the school year. Youth Frontiers does a great job connecting with our students while delivering important messages.

November 10th marked the day for our annual Veterans Day celebration. We thank our local veterans for their sacrifice and commitment to our nation. Students sang "America The Beautiful", read poems and articles honoring our veterans, and we had an opportunity to honor all family members that have served. We had a great showing of veterans and a huge thank you to the high school band for their excellent playing of patriotic music.

Last, but not least, we wanted to recognize Mrs. Bradford who received a grant from KIMT for items within our library. Mrs. Bradford has expanded the happenings in the library to include many STEAM activities. STEAM activities include hands-on experiences with science, technology, engineering, art, and math. The students love their time with Mrs. Bradford and are learning while having fun.

Cooking Healthy with High Schoolers

In conjunction with their unit on nutrition, the high school Exercise Physiology class conducted a cooking lab. Students were broken into groups and assigned a particular dining course to create a recipe from. Using the MyPlate cooking guidelines and recipes, students created a meal incorporating whole grains and various fruits and vegetables. Their meal consisted of an appetizer of homemade queso dip, a side of whole grain macaroni and cheese with onions, a main course of whole grain flatbread pizza, and a dessert of angel food cake topped with fresh berries.

The students greatly enjoyed this activity as it gave them an opportunity to apply what they were learning all about. As junior, Tessa Tushaus stated, "I thought it was really interesting to be aware of all the healthy foods you can use when cooking. Our food item (pizza flatbread) was surprisingly very good!" Zach Barker echoed Tessa's sentiments by adding, "I was surprised at how cheap it can be to eat healthy. We had cost limitations set by Mrs. Horejsi and, even with those, we still had plenty of healthy recipes to select from."

If you are interested in exploring some of these recipes and many more, please check out <https://www.myplate.gov/myplate-kitchen/recipes>.

TRITON PUBLIC SCHOOL'S BACKPACK PROGRAM

The Triton Public School's Backpack Program provides individual bags with kid-friendly foods to be used over the weekend when school meals are not available. The goal is to provide 2 breakfasts, 2 main meals, 2 fruits, and 2 snacks per child for the weekend. In addition, each family receives a Dodge Center Kwik Trip voucher every week that may be used for bread, milk, or eggs.

We deliver the bag of food to each child's locker on Thursday or Friday every week. Children in Triton Middle School and High School are also welcome to use the program. Every effort is made to keep those involved in the program anonymous.

This is a free program; there is no cost to the families or the school. Generous donations from the community have provided the funding to support this program. This year the backpack program is experiencing greater costs to purchase food. Most food items used are obtained through the Channel One Food Bank. The selection of food items in the bags are limited to the Channel One inventory.

If you have any questions about entering the program or wish to donate to the Triton School Backpack Program, please contact us at: backpack@triton.k12.mn.us

Musical
Chanhassen Dinner
Theatre,
Chanhassen, MN

The soundtrack of a generation inspired this BROADWAY SMASH HIT! For six years, Beautiful: The Carole King Musical thrilled Broadway audiences with the inspiring true story of Carole King's remarkable journey from teenage songwriter to Rock & Roll Hall of Fame music legend. As a woman in the music industry, King broke barriers and became one of the most prolific songwriters of our time! Carole King wrote hits for the biggest music acts from The Shirelles to The Righteous Brothers – then recorded her Grammy-winning masterpiece, TAPESTRY. The musical takes you on a joy-filled, emotional ride of a lifetime! Featuring over two dozen hits including "One Fine Day," "The Locomotion," "So Far Away," "Natural Woman," "You've Lost That Lovin' Feelin'," and "Will You Love Me Tomorrow," this Tony and Grammy Award-winning musical is filled with the songs you remember and a story you'll never forget. A huge cast of singers and dancers bring more than 24 of her greatest hits to life in a triumphant celebration!

Lunch is ordered off of the menu and served at your table. Water, Tea and coffee are included. Soda, alcohol and dessert is an extra that the individual is responsible for these costs.

The musical captures the memorable day when four Rock n' Roll greats made music history. On December 4, 1956, an auspicious twist of fate brought together Johnny Cash, Jerry Lee Lewis, Carl Perkins, and Elvis Presley at Sun Records' storefront studio in Memphis, TN. The man who made it happen was the "Father of Rock'n'Roll," Sam Phillips, who discovered them all. This was the only occasion the four legends-to-be played together, and it has come to be known as one of the greatest rock jam sessions of all time.

We will have lunch at the Cast and Cru dining room at the Old Log.

Lunch choices are:

- Off the bone beef short ribs, mashed potatoes, and seasonal vegetables
- Chicken Breast, mashed potatoes, and seasoned vegetables
- Vegetarian pasta with house marinara

All lunches are served with dinner rolls, dessert, and coffee. Bar service is available at your own cost.

Cost: $88, includes coach bus ride, lunch and ticket to the theatre.

Giving a Voice to Rural Entrepreneurs

Tim Penny
So. MN Initiative Foundation

As a fifth generation southern Minnesotan, I like to say that I “bleed rural.” Not only have I lived here my entire life, but I have had the great fortune of serving rural Minnesota throughout my career – first during my time in the U.S. Congress, and now as president and CEO of Southern Minnesota Initiative Foundation (SMIF).

Living in rural Minnesota comes with many benefits that have tied me to this place for so long. Even in the relatively larger cities of our region, like Owatonna where I live, there is a neighborly feel – I like that I can stop by the grocery store or the local brewery and run into people I know. We’re surrounded by natural beauty – from bluffs to lakes – and the cost of living is much lower than in larger cities.

Giving a Voice to Rural Entrepreneurs

In fact, a 2020 report from the Center for Rural Policy and Development found that wages in rural Minnesota can go further in meeting the cost of living compared to the seven-county metro area.

Despite the many benefits of living here, there are challenges, too, and it can feel like the “rural voice” is diminished or misunderstood. The Rural Voice, a statewide series supported by SMIF, three other Minnesota Initiative Foundations, Compeer Financial and Otto Bremer Trust, was created to act as a town hall style forum for community members to discuss and be heard about topics that are top of mind to those living in Greater Minnesota: workforce, health care, mental health, social isolation and business development. Hosted by Kari Miller from Minnesota Public Radio, the most recent Rural Voice event was held at Schell’s Brewery in New Ulm about what it takes to build a business in rural Minnesota.

One of the things that we heard in this meeting is that rural entrepreneurs need mentors, financial resources, education and networks to support growth. Fortunately, SMIF, in addition to our partners at the Small Business Administration, SCORE and the Small Business Development Centers, Region Nine Development Commission and local chambers of commerce (to name a few) are well-positioned to help entrepreneurs in all of those areas, either through our own programming or as a connector to our partners. At SMIF, we offer lending and equity opportunities, technical assistance and peer networks, supporting nearly 1,000 entrepreneurs annually.

Another thing that stood out to me during this session was the number of young people who either decided to stay in rural Minnesota or moved here. For some, work from home opportunities have allowed them to live where they want to live instead of where their work is located. For others, like Tristan Blue, owner of Big Hitter Games in Lafayette, rural living has drawn them to the region to start businesses. Tristan shared that his desire to be closer to his family brought him from Minneapolis and Milwaukee to the Mankato area in 2014.

When the pandemic began, he began reevaluating his career (he had been working in the service and construction industries while also performing as a musician). Tristan used the time as an opportunity to explore his childhood dream of creating video games which eventually turned into a business. Due to the online accessibility of partnerships for indie game developers, Tristan found rural Minnesota an easy place to locate his business. When he and his wife had their first child in 2021, they were ready to buy a home and were motivated to move to Lafayette due to the affordability, proximity to his wife’s job in St. Peter, the geography and history of the area, and the small town experience for raising a family. This is one example of many entrepreneurs moving to the region that I have heard in recent years.

I was also struck by the number of newer businesses that draw tourists to rural Minnesota – breweries, distilleries, wineries. Those types of businesses, combined with the natural beauty of our region, and our charming downtowns, can culminate in an economic boost for small towns. According to Explore Minnesota Tourism’s Leisure and Hospitality Industry report, our 20-county southern Minnesota region generated $2.7 billion in gross sales and $93 million in state sales tax in 2021, supporting 28,000 private sector jobs. At SMIF, we have seen the success of tourism businesses through many of our loan clients – from Pleasant Grove Pizza Farm in Waseca to Black Frost Distilling in New Ulm. I’m convinced that the more people who visit here, the more people who will want to move here.

Whether you move here to start a business, or are an entrepreneur already living in southern Minnesota, SMIF is here to play a supporting role. Entrepreneurs are going to keep our corner of the state vibrant – they will create the jobs of the future. Personally, there is no place I would rather be than in rural Minnesota.

You can listen to a recording of the Rural Voice event at mprnews.org.

What’s the Right Diet for Your Dog?

Taking a quick trip to the pet store can be challenging, given the myriad of options now available. In particular, there is a confusing and even frustrating array of diets for our canine companions. Dr. Gene Pavlovsky, medical director of the University of Illinois Veterinary Medicine South Clinic in Urbana, has advice for owners about picking a diet that’s right for their dog.

Possible Risks of Boutique Diets

In recent years, many pet food brands have advertised themselves as being grain-free and have even linked such a diet to being better than grain-inclusive ones. However, in 2018, the US Food and Drug Administration issued an alert about increasing cases of dilated cardiomyopathy (DCM) developing in dogs that were otherwise not genetically predisposed to the condition.

“A common thread linking these dogs was the consumption of certain diets, including some boutique, exotic, or grain-free commercial formulations,” says Dr. Pavlovsky. “Improvement in the affected dogs’ hearts after a diet change [away from a boutique/grain-free one] was an important part of what alerted veterinarians to the potential cause.”

Yet, the DCM-boutique diet link is not as straightforward as a single ingredient.

“Not all dogs with diet-associated DCM had been eating strictly grain-free diets,” says Dr. Pavlovsky. “The current data implicates diets containing high levels of pulse ingredients (seeds of legumes, such as peas, chickpeas, lentils, and beans). Less commonly, potatoes or sweet potatoes have been linked to diet-associated DCM, whether the diet was grain-free or not.”

Still, it is important to note that diets labeled grain-free are more likely than conventional diets to contain the ingredients listed above as a carbohydrate source.

What Is Canine Dilated Cardiomyopathy?

“DCM is a condition that involves gradual thinning of the heart muscle, resulting in enlargement and weakening of the heart,” says Dr. Pavlovsky. It is the second most common type of heart disease in dogs. While the condition has a genetic component, especially in breeds such as Doberman pinschers, boxers, and great Danes, it can also develop in any breed.

Dogs with DCM may show no clinical signs or only mild signs initially. However, coughing, exercise intolerance, or the development of an arrhythmia—an abnormal heart rhythm—can be associated with DCM, according to Dr. Pavlovsky.

Picking a Diet

To help owners navigate the abundance of choices in the dog food aisle, Dr. Pavlovsky advises, “Look for diets that have been tested via feeding trials in accordance with the guidelines developed by the American Association of Feed Control Officials. Choose a diet developed for a specific life stage of your pet, such as puppy or adult.”

Dr. Pavlovsky says that diets created by companies that take part in veterinary nutrition-related research and that employ veterinary nutrition experts are likely to be of higher quality. A sampling of brands that fulfill those criteria includes Hill’s, Purina, and Royal Canin.

“Stay away from products making grand statements or claims that seem too good to be true,” advises Dr. Pavlovsky. “These diets are good for attracting customers but are rarely rooted in solid science.”

Additionally, homemade diets and raw meat-based diets may carry significant health risks for pets. Homemade diets are often nutritionally incomplete and can result in long-term nutritional deficiencies or excesses, especially in growing animals.

“If a homemade diet appeals to a pet owner, a board-certified veterinary nutritionist should be consulted to help formulate a complete and balanced diet,” says Dr. Pavlovsky.

Raw meat-based diets increase the risks of bacterial and parasitic pathogens, not only for the animals eating the diet but also for the people living in the home, he warns.

“Science is ever evolving, and what we know and believe now may change,” says Dr. Pavlovsky. However, by partnering with your veterinarian to choose the best diet for each individual pet, you can ensure that your pet is eating a diet that is rooted in the most current scientific research and knowledge available.

Free Entrance to Minnesota State Parks and Recreation Areas Nov. 24

Minnesotans encouraged to explore outdoors with friends and family over the holiday weekend

By Minnesota DNR

The Minnesota Department of Natural Resources is waiving entrance fees to all 75 state parks and recreation areas on Friday, Nov. 24 – the day after Thanksgiving. This “Free Park Day” is one of four days each year when the DNR waives the requirement for a vehicle permit at state parks and recreation areas. The goal of Free Park Days is to encourage Minnesotans to get outdoors and enjoy the health and wellness benefits of spending time in nature.

“During the hustle and bustle of the busy holiday season, Minnesota state parks and recreation areas are the perfect places to enjoy the tranquility of nature,” said Ann Pierce, director of the DNR Parks and Trails Division. “We encourage people to get outside with friends and family after Thanksgiving gatherings to enjoy the calming sights and sounds of nature.”

Many published studies show the positive physical and mental health benefits of spending time in nature. According to the American Psychological Association, the calming and restorative qualities of nature help lower cortisol levels, which leads to reduced stress and improved cognitive function.

Some state parks will offer naturalist programs on Nov. 24. Among the programs planned on Free Park Day are guided nature walks at Whitewater, Wild River and Split Rock Lighthouse state parks. Most naturalist programs are free, but sometimes require advance registration. Check the parks and trails event calendar webpage for details.

Most state park offices and visitor centers will be minimally staffed on Nov. 24, so visitors are encouraged to plan ahead and arrive prepared for their visit.

Check visitor alerts and find directions on state park webpages.

Download the Avenza app and the geoPDF map for the park you’ll be visiting before the trip. The app and maps are free, and maps will display a user’s current location even when not connected to the internet or cell service. Find information on the DNR’s geoPDF map webpage. Visitors without a smartphone should look for paper maps outside the park office.

Visit the self-orientation signs near the park entrance for suggestions on what to see and do in the park.

Check the weather forecast before leaving home, and dress appropriately for the conditions. Be sure to pack water and snacks.

For more information, visit the free park day webpage.

DNR sets winter walleye fishing regulations for Upper Red, Mille Lacs lakes

The walleye limit for Upper Red Lake will decrease from the five allowed during open water season to four this winter while the Mille Lacs Lake walleye limit will remain at one.

“Fall netting assessments on both lakes suggest these harvest levels will keep walleye populations sustainable and healthy,” said Brad Parsons, fisheries section manager for the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources. “We’re pleased to offer anglers harvest opportunities on both lakes.”

Effective Wednesday, Nov. 1, anglers fishing on the state waters of Upper Red Lake can keep up to four walleye with one longer than 17 inches.

Beginning Friday, Dec. 1, Mille Lacs Lake anglers can keep one walleye 21-23 inches long or one longer than 28 inches.

The DNR sets winter regulations for these lakes after completion of annual fall population assessments.

Results from Upper Red showed an optimal level of walleye spawning stock and a high overall net catch rate, especially of nearly mature walleye.

Mille Lacs’ results found slightly lower walleye numbers than in 2022.

But the continued strong presence of walleye born in 2013 and 2017 and acceptable numbers of walleye born in 2021 and 2022 suggest there are adequate numbers of younger fish to keep the population sustainable as they mature and reproduce to replace fish caught by anglers.

Complete winter fishing regulations are available on the Upper Red Lake regulations webpage and the Mille Lacs Lake regulations webpage.

How Seniors Can Get Help Paying for Everyday Needs

What types of programs are available to help seniors struggling with their everyday bills, and how do I go about finding them? Since I lost my husband last year, my Social Security survivor benefit is barely enough to get by on.

--Searching Senior

Dear Searching, I’m very sorry for your loss, but you’ll be happy to know that there are dozens of different financial assistance programs and government benefits that may be able to help you with your everyday costs.

To locate these types of programs, your best resource is BenefitsCheckUp.org. This is a free, confidential online screening tool designed for older adults and people with disabilities. It will help you find federal, state and local benefits programs that can assist with paying for food, utilities, health care, medications, housing and many other needs. This site - created by the National Council on Aging in 2001 - contains nearly 2,000 programs across the country.

To identify benefits, you’ll first need to type in your ZIP code and choose the types of benefits you’re interested in. Then you’ll need to answer a few questions regarding your personal and financial situation. Once completed, you’ll get a list of programs to choose from, followed by a personalized report that explains each program, and tells you where you can get help or how to apply.

If you need some assistance or you don’t have internet access, you can always speak with a benefits support specialist by calling 800-794-6559. You can also get help in-person at any of the 85 Benefit Enrollment Centers located across 41 states. See NCOA.org/article/meet-our-benefits-enrollment-centers to search for a center in your area.

Types of Benefits

Depending on your income level, location and circumstance, here are a few of the many different benefits you may be eligible for:

Nutrition assistance: Programs like the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) can help pay for food at the grocery store. The average SNAP benefit for 60-and-older households is around $105 per month. Some other nutrition programs that are available to seniors include the Senior Farmers Market Nutrition Program and the Commodity Supplemental Food Program.

Utility assistance: There’s the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) that provides assistance in lowering home heating and cooling costs. And for broadband assistance, the Affordable Connectivity Program provides a $30 monthly subsidy that can be applied toward your home internet costs.

Health care and medicine: Medicare Savings Programs and Medicaid can help or completely pay for seniors’ out-of-pocket health care costs. And for assistance with medications, there’s a low-income subsidy program called ‘Extra Help’ that helps pay premiums, deductibles, and co-payments on Medicare (Part D) prescription drug coverage. You can also search for prescription drug help through patient assistance programs or your state pharmaceutical assistance program at Medicare.gov.

Supplemental Security Income (SSI): Administered by the Social Security Administration, SSI (see ssa.gov/ssi) provides monthly payments to very low-income seniors, age 65 and older, as well as to those who are blind and disabled. In 2023, SSI pays up to $914 per month for a single person and up to $1,371 for couples.

In addition to these benefits, there are dozens of other programs BenefitsCheckUp can help you identify, like housing assistance, property tax reduction, home weatherization assistance, tax relief, veteran’s benefits, senior transportation, caregiving support, free legal assistance, disability services, job training and more.

Flu Prevention Strategies and Flu Vaccine Dangers

By Shauna Burshem, D.C.

The flu vaccine is recommended for pregnant women even though there exists evidence that the vaccine could place their pregnancy at risk. Research funded by the Center for Disease Control (CDC) found a link between being vaccinated for the flu during pregnancy and increasing the risk of miscarriage (8 fold). In general, data from the federal Vaccine Injury Compensation Program shows that the flu vaccine is now the most compensated claim filed. Between January 1, 2006 and December 31, 2019 five thousand four hundred and seven injury claims were filed for the flu vaccine. In addition, CDC data demonstrates that the flu vaccine is less effective for senior citizens. According to the CDC data, the influenza A and B vaccine had an effectiveness rating of 12% for those over the age of 65. Statistically, the CDC includes death from secondary infections (like pneumonia, sepsis and other respiratory infections) in the total mortality rate from the flu. These secondary infections account for the majority of deaths attributed to the flu each year.

Boosting your immune systems capabilities have been shown to be way more effective than the flu vaccine for preventing the flu or increasing the likelihood for a mild case and or quicker flu illness recovery. Vitamin D3 taken with vitamin K has been shown to lower your risk of flu illness. Vitamin D is the sunshine vitamin. Sun exposure naturally produces vitamin D in the body. This is why flu season is in the fall and winter months. People have lower levels of vitamin D when not able to be out in the sunshine with safe sun exposure. Taking a vitamin D supplement throughout the fall and winter (and even summer if you do not have adequate sun exposure) will boost your immune system function. Functional medicine and nutritional experts have found that the proper dose of vitamin D in the winter season is 30 units per pound of bodyweight. This means if you weigh 150lbs your D supplementation should be 4,500 units per day. People whose levels are below the normal range are at risk for becoming sick with illness and if exposed to covid-19 they are also at a higher risk for hospitalization and death.

In addition to vitamin D (and K), your flu prevention medicine chest should contain elderberry extract and vitamin C (1000mg capsules). If you start to feel the signs of illness coming on begin taking elderberry extract 3 x per day. Elderberry boosts immune function but also has a high amount of antiviral properties and works really well with respiratory infections. Also, increase your vitamin C consumption to 3000 mg and take your C 3-4 times per day, every 3 to 4 hours. Do this until you feel better.

Lastly, chiropractic spinal adjustments have a positive effect on increasing immune system function. Mid back adjustments to the thoracic spine have an immediate effect on white blood cell production. White blood cells are your infection fighting cells. Research has also shown that chiropractic spinal adjustments increase the rate at which your body's DNA repairs itself. DNA repair is an important marker for immune system function. Additional research has also shown that people who receive regular chiropractic care (at least 1 adjustment per month, every month) have higher resistance enzyme levels than people who do not receive chiropractic care.

Use Wild Rice to Turn Your Leftover Turkey Into a Scrumptious New Meal

By Minnesota Wild Rice Council

No other holiday is more closely associated with a specific meal than Thanksgiving – a radiant, golden-brown turkey, piping hot mashed potatoes and gravy, cranberries, and a delicious pumpkin pie topped with a dollop of whipped cream – mouth-watering to be sure. And while we all look forward to this holiday classic, many of us are just as excited about the following week’s-worth of Thanksgiving leftovers – everything from soups, to sandwiches, to casseroles that are enjoyed almost as much as the Thanksgiving meal itself. Wild rice is an “all-purpose” ingredient, versatile enough to be used in virtually any type of recipe. Its great taste and distinctive flavor is a great way to add flair and elegance to your holiday leftovers. Try incorporating the unique flavor of wild rice into your Thanksgiving leftovers by trying some of these easy-to-prepare recipes:

Classic Creamy Wild Rice Soup

The ideal way to use turkey leftovers is in one of America’s favorite soups – Classic Creamy Wild Rice Soup. Hearty, simple, and extremely flavorful, this comforting soup blends the great flavor of wild rice with turkey, onion, sherry, and almonds. It also freezes well to allow you to enjoy it long after your holidays are over.

Turkey & Wild Rice Quesadillas

Adding some flair to an ethnic favorite, Turkey & Wild Rice Quesadillas combines wild rice with succulent turkey breast, corn, spinach, pepper, onion, and cheese for a ‘wild’ twist on an old favorite. Turkey & Wild Rice Quesadillas make a perfect appetizer or a hearty main course.

Roasted Poblano Turkey Wild Rice

Roasted Poblano Turkey Wild Rice features wild rice with tender turkey breast, roasted poblano peppers, onion, garlic, corn, and shredded Mexican cheese for an exotic blend

- ½ cup finely chopped onion
- 6 tbsp butter
- ½ cup flour
- 4 cups chicken broth
- 2 cups cooked wild rice
- ½ cup shredded carrots
- 1 cup cooked, cubed turkey breast
- 3 tbsp slivered almonds
- ½ tsp salt
- 1 cup half and half
- 2 tbsp dry sherry

In large saucepan, sauté onion in butter. Add flour, stirring until bubbly; gradually stir in broth. Stir in wild rice, carrots, turkey, almonds, and salt; simmer 5 minutes. Stir in half and half and sherry; heat through. 6 servings.

TURKEY & WILD RICE QUESADILLAS

- ¾ tsp ground Mexican seasoning
- ½ lb cooked turkey breast, cut in bite-size pieces
- 1 tbsp canola oil
- 1 pkg (12 oz) frozen corn, prepared as directed on pkg
- 1 pkg (9 oz) frozen chopped spinach, prepared as directed on pkg, squeezed to remove moisture
- ½ cup diced red pepper
- ½ cup diced red onion
- 1 tsp minced garlic
- 1 cup cooked wild rice
- 8 6" flour tortillas
- 1 cup shredded Mexican cheese
- ½ cup sour cream
- ½ cup salsa

In large skillet, season turkey with Mexican seasoning; cook in oil. Add corn, spinach, red pepper, onion, garlic, and wild rice; heat through. Divide mixture on 4 tortillas, sprinkle with cheese; top with remaining tortillas. In another large skillet, cook each quesadilla 3-4 minutes on each side. Top with sour cream and salsa. 4 servings.

ROASTED POBLANO TURKEY WILD RICE

- ½ cup chopped onion
- 1 tsp minced garlic
- 2 tbsp butter with canola oil
- 1 cup cooked, cubed turkey breast
- 1 cup cooked wild rice
- 1 pkg (9 oz) frozen corn, prepared as directed on pkg
- 2 large deveined, chopped, roasted poblano peppers
- 2 tbsp sour cream
- ½ cup chicken broth
- ½ cup shredded Mexican cheese
- salt and pepper to taste

In large skillet, sauté onion and garlic in butter. Stir in remaining ingredients; heat through. 4 servings.

TURKEY THAI WILD RICE WITH PEANUT SAUCE

- 1 cup each: shredded carrots and zucchini
- 1 red bell pepper, sliced
- 1 tbsp canola oil
- 2½ cups cooked, cubed or shredded turkey breast
- 4 cups cooked wild rice
- ¼ cup thinly sliced green onion

Peanut Sauce (whisk together; set aside):

- ½ cup crunchy peanut butter
- 4 tbsp brown sugar
- ½ cup soy sauce
- 2 tsp each: lime juice and sesame oil
- 1 tsp minced garlic

In large skillet, sauté carrots, zucchini, and red pepper in oil until tender. Add turkey, wild rice, and sauce; heat through. Top with green onion. 4-6 servings.

of flavors. The unique combination of roasted peppers and wild rice give this dish a distinctively smoky flavor unlike anything you’ve tried before.

Turkey Thai Wild Rice with Peanut Sauce

This super-easy casserole offers healthy monounsaturated fat from the peanut butter, whole grains from the wild rice, and lots of veggies. Turn your turkey into a prize-winning family dinner – they won’t even realize they’re eating leftovers.

Coffee: Pros and Cons

By Noel Aldrich, PhD, CNS
Licensed Nutritionist

In last month's article, I presented the concept that food can be used as medicine. I presented some ideas for managing acid reflux. In that article, I mentioned that coffee can be a trigger for acid reflux. So how does coffee relate to nutrition? What are the positive aspects of coffee and what are the negative considerations? Can a person use coffee as medicine?

First, a little history. As reported by Tori Avey in "The Caffeinated History of Coffee," the first reports of coffee originate around Ethiopia and Yemen. The ripe coffee fruit is red, and the coffee bean is the seed of the fruit. Roasted coffee beans were first produced by Arabs and the Arab community had control of the coffee market until the Dutch were able to acquire some seed and start plantations around the world. In 1773, when Americans were revolting against the tax on tea, coffee became the acceptable, patriotic choice.

According to the National Coffee Association, more than 65% of Americans drink coffee each day. The average American consumes just less than 3 cups of coffee per day. The United States is the top coffee consuming country in the world with coffee being the first-choice beverage over tea, soft drinks, and juice. Berkeley, California wins the prize for the most coffee shops according to ApartmentGuide.

So, with all this coffee consumption what are the PROS or CONS of coffee consumption?

PROS –

- Moderate coffee consumption (1 – 4 cups per day) is linked to longer life
- Decreased risk of liver cancer
- Decreased risk of Parkinson's disease
- Improved clarity in thinking
- Improved regularity of bowel movements

CONS –

- Inflammation (measured as CRP) can increase with more than 1 cup of coffee per day
- Heart and neurological challenges among infants of mothers who regularly consumed

coffee during pregnancy

- Anxiety increased with excessive consumption of coffee
- Difficulty sleeping associated with coffee consumption
- Trigger for diarrhea episodes
- Can promote fatigue through caffeine addiction

Coffee can be a powerful medicine. Caffeine is one of the active ingredients, but there are additional compounds that demonstrate antioxidant and stimulant activity. An important note to understand is that coffee does not produce energy. A black cup of coffee has almost no calories at all. The energy boost from coffee comes from the body response to caffeine, which stimulates the adrenal glands to produce epinephrine. The release of epinephrine causes the body to release more energy from its storage areas, in the same way a whip will cause an animal to move that was not moving before. For an individual who is extremely tired in the morning and "needs" the cup of coffee to get started for the day, this individual is battling a fatigue that is only increased by the regular consumption of coffee.

Coffee can be a good aid for digestion. A small cup of black coffee with a meal will stimulate the digestive process and increase the acidic mixture in the stomach. Between meals only water should be consumed to allow the digestive system to rest. There is no need to stimulate digestion by drinking coffee between meals.

An additional use of coffee by health practitioners throughout the centuries has been the use of coffee as an enema. A properly prepared coffee solution carefully introduced into the rectum has been an effective way to remove constipation and blockages in the colon. Reportedly, this enema was effectively used during World War 1 in the military hospitals when nurses used the coffee enema to aid the recovery of recovering wounded in the military hospitals.

Overall, pay attention to how your body responds when you consume a cup of coffee. Consider what other ingredients such as cream, sugar, or other flavors are being added. What happens if you stop drinking coffee for a day or two? You only get one body in this lifetime. Make sure you take good care of it and do not wear it out sooner than necessary.

I welcome your questions and enjoy the opportunity to discuss healthy options with those who reach out to me with questions.

“ASK A TROOPER”

By Sgt. Troy Christianson of the Minnesota State Patrol

Question: I see a lot of people that have their fog lights on and when I am meeting them on the road and some are very bright and make seeing the road very difficult. Some of them appear to be out of alignment and are blinding. What is the law that covers this?

Answer: If the fog lights are aimed too high and/or are too bright they are illegal, even if they are in compliance with the rest of the law. All vehicle lights allowed by statute must also be approved by the Commissioner of Public Safety.

Minnesota law says that any motor vehicle may be equipped with not to exceed two fog lamps mounted on the front at a height not less than 12 inches nor more than 30 inches above the level surface upon which the vehicle stands and so aimed that when the vehicle is not loaded none of the high-intensity portion of the light to the left of the center of the vehicle shall at a distance of 25 feet ahead project higher than a level of four inches below the level of the center of the lamp from which it comes. Lighted fog lamps meeting the above requirements may be used with lower headlamp beams.

Minnesota law also states that when a motor vehicle equipped with headlamps, as (herein) required, is also equipped with any auxiliary lamps, spot lamps or any other lamps on the front thereof projecting a beam of intensity greater than 300-candle power, not more than a total of four of any such lamps on the front of a vehicle shall be lighted at any one time when upon a highway.

It's the law to have head lights and tail lights on during rain/snow and when visibility is reduced, but best practice is to keep your lights on at all times to make yourself more visible to other drivers.

Anytime your vehicle's height is altered by adding larger tires/rims or any type of suspension lift, your headlights and fog lights may need to be adjusted so they are not blinding to other motorists.

You can avoid a ticket — and a crash — if you simply buckle up, drive at safe speeds, pay attention and always drive sober. Help us drive Minnesota Toward Zero Deaths.

If you have any questions concerning traffic related laws or issues in Minnesota send your questions to Sgt. Troy Christianson – Minnesota State Patrol at 2900 48th Street NW, Rochester MN 55901-5848. (Or reach him at, Troy.Christianson@state.mn.us)

The Law of Vibration: Unveiling the Hidden Harmony

By Susan Hinrichsen
CHC, CLC, MC
susiecoaches@gmail.com

In the vast tapestry of the universe, there exists a symphony of vibrations that weave through the fabric of reality. This intricate dance is governed by the second universal law, the Law of Vibration. As we explore this cosmic principle, we delve into the profound concept that everything is in a constant state of motion, emitting its unique vibrational frequency.

At its core, the Law of Vibration posits that all matter is in a perpetual state of motion, oscillating at a specific frequency. This concept has ancient roots, echoing through various philosophical and spiritual traditions. In essence, it suggests that nothing rests; everything moves, and each entity carries its own vibrational signature.

One of the key tenets of the Law of Vibration is the interconnectedness of all things. Every particle, every atom, every living being resonates with a distinctive vibrational frequency. This interconnected web of vibrations forms the basis of the intricate dance of existence. It implies that there is a hidden harmony that unites all elements in the cosmos.

Moreover, the Law of Vibration extends beyond the physical realm into the realm of thoughts and emotions. It suggests that our thoughts and feelings also emit vibrational frequencies, influencing the overall vibrational tapestry of our personal reality. This principle underscores the importance of mindfulness and the impact of positive or negative energy we contribute to the collective vibration.

The ancient wisdom of the Law of Vibration finds resonance in modern science, particularly in quantum physics. Scientists have discovered that at the subatomic level, particles are not static entities but exist in a state of constant motion and vibration. This scientific revelation aligns with the age-old spiritual understanding that everything is energy in motion.

Understanding and harnessing the Law of Vibration can empower individuals to navigate their lives with greater awareness. By cultivating positive thoughts, emotions, and actions, one can elevate their vibrational frequency and attract corresponding positive experiences. Conversely, dwelling in negativity can lower one's vibrational state, leading to a magnetism for less desirable outcomes.

In essence, the Law of Vibration invites us to become conscious co-creators of our reality. By aligning our thoughts, emotions, and actions with higher vibrational frequencies, we can harmonize with the cosmic dance of existence and unlock the latent potential within ourselves. It's a reminder that, in the grand orchestra of the universe, each of us plays a unique note, contributing to the symphony of life.

Integrating the Law of Vibration into daily life involves adopting mindful practices and cultivating awareness of the vibrational energy one emits. Here are several practical steps to help individuals align with this universal law:

- Mindful Awareness:
  - Begin each day with a few moments of mindfulness. Reflect on your thoughts, emotions, and the energy you carry into the day.
  - Throughout the day, periodically check in with yourself. Notice the quality of your thoughts and feelings. Are they positive or negative? What kind of vibrational energy are you emitting?
- Positive Thinking:
  - Practice positive affirmations. Consciously choose thoughts that uplift and inspire. Affirmations can help shift your vibrational frequency towards positivity.
  - Avoid dwelling on negative thoughts. When negativity arises, acknowledge it, but then consciously choose to redirect your focus to more positive and constructive thoughts.
- Gratitude Practice:
  - Cultivate a habit of gratitude. Regularly express appreciation for the positive aspects of your life. Gratitude carries a high vibrational frequency and can attract more positive experiences.
  - Keep a gratitude journal and write down things you are thankful for each day.
- Conscious Communication:
  - Be mindful of the words you use. Words carry energy, and their vibrations can impact both you and those around you.
  - Strive to communicate with kindness and positivity. Choose words that uplift and inspire rather than words that convey negativity or criticism.

- Emotional Regulation:
  - Develop emotional intelligence. Understand and accept your emotions but strive to respond to challenging situations with calm and centeredness.
  - Practice techniques such as deep breathing or meditation to maintain emotional balance.
- Energetic Environment:
  - Surround yourself with positive influences. Be conscious of the people, environments, and media you expose yourself to.
  - Create a positive and harmonious living and working space. Decluttering and organizing your physical space can also have a positive impact on your energy.
- Self-Care:
  - Take care of your physical well-being. Exercise, proper nutrition, and adequate rest contribute to a higher vibrational state.
  - Engage in activities that bring you joy and fulfillment. The energy associated with activities you love can enhance your overall vibration.
- Visualization and Meditation:
  - Incorporate visualization and meditation into your daily routine. Envision the positive outcomes you desire and feel the corresponding emotions.
  - Meditation can help quiet the mind, allowing you to connect with your inner self and the higher vibrational frequencies of the universe.

Remember that integrating the Law of Vibration is a continuous practice. It involves a conscious and intentional approach to thoughts, emotions, and actions. By making these practices a part of your daily life, you can elevate your vibrational frequency and align more harmoniously with the cosmic dance of existence.

Life coaching serves as a guiding light on the journey to integrate the profound principles of the Law of Vibration into one's daily life. A skilled life coach provides the support and tools needed to navigate the intricacies of mindful living, helping individuals to cultivate positive habits and align with higher vibrational frequencies. Through personalized guidance, a life coach empowers individuals to overcome challenges, break through limiting beliefs, and foster a deeper understanding of themselves. This transformative process not only enhances personal well-being but also ripples outward, positively influencing relationships, career, and overall life satisfaction. Life coaching becomes a catalyst for self-discovery and empowerment, offering a roadmap to unlock the immense potential within, and inviting individuals to dance in harmony with the universal rhythms of existence.

Plaza Morena Gets New Owners

By Cheri Roshon

Where can you go to get authentic Mexican food when you are nowhere near the Mexican border? Look no further than 411 W. Highway Street in Dodge Center! I am a very picky customer when it comes to Mexican food, and from the first bite at Plaza Morena, I have been addicted! There are actually 3 other locations in our area, so it is a growing franchise. Owatonna, Faribault and Medelia also have a Plaza Morena, but today we will focus on the Dodge Center location, because congratulations are in order. Mario Leon and his two partners in the franchise, Jaime Gonzalez and Rene Marcos took ownership of this location in April of 2023.

I was able to sit down with Mario and chat with him about his new adventure. I asked him what made him decide to jump from employee to employer.

"It all started when I was working in Iowa at a restaurant where my wages were my tips". He had moved from Nashville, Tennessee to Iowa, and wasn't making the kind of income he needed to support his family of 3, so when his sister in law called him from Dodge Center and told him about the opportunity to work at a new Mexican Restaurant that was opening, and he would earn wages and tips, he jumped at the opportunity. That was 4 years ago. "I was already working 24/7 at the restaurant, and when the franchise owner offered us the opportunity to own the restaurant, we decided to go for it."

As I was interviewing him and munching on some chips and queso, I noticed some changes. The tables have all been refinished, and the chairs are all new, and brightly colored. I asked Mario if there were more changes that I couldn't see, and he said the kitchen equipment has all been updated, and the menu has been added on to. He likes to try new things, so each week you will see his newest additions to the menu. They have monthly specials, and are always willing to listen if you have any requests or ideas to try. They have a social media presence at Plaza Morena Dodge Center, and will soon have a local delivery service for those who would rather enjoy their authentic Mexican fare at home. Right now, you can call the restaurant at (507) 374-9555 to order by phone, or order online at dodgeplazamorena.com for eat in, or take out.

When you walk in the door, the daily specials will be posted to get your tastebuds going, and Monday through Friday there is a well stocked lunch buffet. There are new food creations that people come from all over to taste, and they have added pull tabs to play while you wait. For larger groups, you can make reservations ahead of time. They do catering for any size event, and you can also have a party in the back dining area. Taco bars and fajita bars are the most popular for catering events, but all the food is authentic and quite tasty!

The hours are Sunday through Thursday from 11 am to 9 pm, and Friday and Saturday from 9 am to 11 pm.

I asked Mario if he had any personal goals for his new restaurant. "Yes! My goal is to be the best Mexican Restaurant around!" Well, if you ask me, he has already achieved that distinction, so I can't wait to see how he can do an even better job of providing top fare for the lucky locals in Dodge Center and beyond! "And I also like to experiment with fun drinks, like our signature Watermelon Margarita," he chuckled.

The new owners at Plaza Morena love their new community, and are visible at many local events. They host lunches for businesses, are present in the parades in town, they support the Booster Club, do raffles, donate gift certificates for fundraising events, and are now members of the Chamber of Commerce. Lucky for us all, I'd guess they are here to stay!!

Changes in Latitudes, Changes in Attitudes My Grandfather, Otis.

By Terry Campbell

This column is written by Messenger editor and Minnesota native Terry Campbell. Terry now splits his time between Minnesota when it's warm here and Tennessee when it's cold here.

I never knew my grandfather, Otis Campbell. He passed away the year I was born. But my grandmother and father told me many stories about him that just piqued my interest in him. I always enjoyed the character by his name in the Andy Griffith show, but unlike the Mayberry Otis Campbell, my grandfather was stone sober.

Most people remembered him for his dry wit. The only tangible evidence I had of that was the story my dad relayed about the day my grandpa almost ran over Elvis. It was written in pencil on the granary wall and mostly faded from sight by the time I was a kid. Turns out Elvis was the family dog, but it made a great story.

Harold Avery was a friend of Otis, and they were members of the Concord Church. When a new preacher was hired, Harold volunteered to take his livestock truck out to the western part of the state to move the new minister back, and Otis rode along to help. As the two filled the box of the truck with the new parson's household belongings, they constantly harped on each other over how to load each item. Once loaded the new pastor climbed in the truck cab between the two bickering furniture movers and had to endure the constant insults they plied each other with. His concern was that they may stop the truck and come to blows from the endless feuding. He was starting to reconsider the wisdom of coming to a church where two of the good members seemed to dislike each other so much. He later learned that they each loved to rib each other mercilessly and were in fact best friends.

The church had an old coal furnace in the basement and one cold winter day it broke down. A couple of the men took turns laying on their backs inside the firebox and hammering with a cold chisel to remove the broken part. Dean Loquai told me years ago about the day in question, how the minister came over to see how they were coming along. Dean told him to head back to the parsonage as they were some words coming out of the furnace he might not want to hear.

My grandfather's hired man was Perry Bartholomew and one evening Otis stopped by their house on the farm to visit. Perry's wife loved the suspense theater on the radio and was sitting on a kitchen chair listening to the radio show with rapt attention. At the precise time, Otis reached out and put his hand on her shoulder. Her reaction was more than he expected as she jumped, sending the chair backwards, where the rear leg caught in a knot hole in the wood floor and she nearly fell onto the floor. She was not as amused as the two men were.

One evening Otis and a younger hired man had walked down to the country schoolhouse for a community meeting. As they walked back along the dark and deserted gravel road in the dark, a sound came from the cornfield to their right. It was the sound of cornstalks being broken and knocked down by a large and rapidly approaching object. The hired man in his terror took off running for the farm, leaving his older boss in his dust. Otis simply stopped and waited as a large buck deer burst out of the corn rows and raced across the road in front of him. My grandfather thought the whole event was too funny to be mad at the poor kid.

A Minnesotan: Thanksgiving Traditions

By RosaLin Alcoser

Across the country every family has their own Thanksgiving Day traditions. Holiday traditions are a great way to bring families closer together on the holiday as everyone has something to look forward to knowing that no matter what that one thing will take place on that day. It can even be a good way to feel connected to your family on the holidays if you are far away from them during the holidays. As you can at least do that one thing knowing that your loved ones are also doing it at the same time.

Some families cook the same meal every year, or watch football, others go outside to play football, while others do Turkey Trots or volunteer at soup kitchens. My family does none of these things.

Over the years we've done a number of things on Thanksgiving Day over the years. There have been years when we had venison or ham instead of turkey. There have been years that it was warm enough for us to go for a walk after dinner or where we had gone back south and could do that. While there have been other years where we talked about how if it wasn't snowing we could go for a walk. Mostly though we have no strong traditions that we have to do on Thanksgiving Day no matter what.

Except for one. Every single year we all watch the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade no matter where we are. There isn't a single year in my entire life that I can recall not watching that parade on Thanksgiving Day. Even though we can't all be together on Thanksgiving Day every year, which is most of it these days, we all make sure that we are up and watching the parade at the same time.

For my family at least, watching the parade has given us all something in common about the holiday while apart for over a decade now. Which means at the end of the holiday we all have at least one shared experience to talk about no matter what else happened allowing for that feeling of togetherness that traditions create.
