Highway 60 through Miami, Claypool and Globe is justifiably famous for the bright Mexican goldpoppies alongside the road. Even in dry years robust patches of this photogenic flower bloom through the sidewalk cracks in Claypool (near mileposts 244-246). They are most vibrant of all near the Rod Plant just east of Miami. For those who want a breathtakingly immersive and unforgettable poppy experience, Peridot Mesa is about a 10-minute drive east of Apache Gold Casino on Highway 70. The mesa is luring photographers from across the United States to a 'super-bloom' of more than 1,000 acres of Mexican goldpoppies and lesquerella. Color should remain at peak April 3-10. Make sure to buy your San Carlos Apache Tribe daily recreation permit – Peridot Mesa is on Apache land, and permits are required. They're just $10 for adults (or a family with minor children), sold at the tribe's Recreation and Wildlife Department office. The office is about a five-minute drive past Peridot Mesa on Highway 70; hours are Monday-Saturday 8 – 4:30 and Sunday from 8 – noon. Also, during this first week of April look on the hillsides above Highway 60 for tall wallflower (stalks topped with orbs of lemon-yellow) and other primary colors; red penstemons, blue lupine and phacelia.

Night-scented stock

What's the name of the purple flower covering hillsides behind Fry's, throughout Central Heights and in Globe's Round Mountain Park? The flower that releases that sweet, candy-perfume smell in the evening? A native of Eurasia that has spread across our communities, night-scented stock (Matthiola longipetala) colors entire hillsides now – even beautifying the road up to Russell Gulch Landfill. With colors ranging from pink to purple, these flowers are as fragrant as they are prolific. Opening as evening approaches, they release a strong, sweet and spicy fragrance that perfumes the surrounding air.

Round Mountain Park

The single best place for hikers and photographers to see and enjoy wildflowers is Globe's Round Mountain Park. An evening walk during April brings your chance to see the soft glow of greenish-yellow hillsides gilt with yellow bladderpod, complemented by evening primrose (Oenothera primiveris) and wallflower blooming right along the relaxing dirt paths of this popular park. Round Mountain Park offers miles of hiking trails, is easy to find and admission is free. To get there, turn north at Denny's Restaurant; the park is just a short drive up the dirt road on the west side of the Samaritan Veterinary clinic. Other flowers that are usually easy to find at Round Mountain include false garlic, scorpionweed, blue phacelia and fragrant berberis shrubs. Robust penstemons can be distinguished by their color: 'firecracker' penstemons are red, while the taller Parry's penstemon is hot pink. Striking sky-blue delphinium (also called larkspur) blooms in April, along with the showy strawberry hedgehog cactus. Preview hiking trails via this viewable and downloadable brochure: globeaz.gov/departments/recreation/round-mountain-park.

Can't sleep?

Chronic insomnia affects millions of Americans, but many don't talk about it with their doctor.

Treatments can help

Medications and behavioral therapy are both recommended treatment options.

What treatment is best?

COZI is a national research study to find out which insomnia treatment is best—behavioral therapy, medication, or both.

Today, doctors don't know.

Comparing Three Ways to Treat Insomnia in Adults Living in Rural Areas

The University of Arizona seeks adult volunteers, ages 18 – 80 with chronic insomnia for a research study. The purpose of the study is to learn which type of treatment is most effective at treating chronic insomnia; 1) Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT-i), 2) Medication (Zolpidem or Trazadone), or 3) Combination of both, CBT-I + Medication.

Study involves filling out online questionnaires, sleep diaries, and follow up assessments AFTER 9 weeks, 6 months, and 12 months and surveys at 1 and 9 months, after taking medication and completing internet based cognitive behavioral therapy, or both. All visits/questionnaires are completed online. There are no in-person clinic visits Cognitive Behavioral Therapy is provided free of charge. Participant's insurance company will be billed for medication.

Compensation for study completion is ($75.)

She grew up and lived most of her life in the Globe-Miami area, graduating from Miami High School in 1961. Randy D. Lang Attorney Randy Lang stands in front of the San Carlos Apache Tribe's administration office in June 2022. He, along with supporters, met with the Tribe's Council to address issues which were never resolved.

He organized local legal representatives to establish the first San Carlos Apache bar association.

Attorney Lang worked within the system to improve positive outcomes for defendants rather than just the terms of indefinite incarceration. He attributed his interest in the law to his mother, who raised four children on her own after his father suddenly died. He often said that it was his mom who instilled in him a "fighting spirit." Friends said Attorney Lang carried a warrior spirit, remembering him as an ardent advocate for the Apache People until his final days. Attorney Lang was a veteran, honorably discharged from the United States Army. He is survived by his wife, son, daughter and a new grandson. A memorial service was held in Phoenix.

After his term in the military, Benny started his career in mining as a general laborer until he gained his apprenticeship as a pipefitter/welder. He worked at Inspiration Copper, Asarco and BHP Billiton during his mining career.

A private celebration of life will be planned for a later date.

On March 27, certificates were awarded to four children; Guy Curzon, Scarlet Curiel, Roman Johnson and Aiden Moses. The children were being recognized for their ongoing success as they master the names of the alphabet and the numbers 1-25. They have also been improving in their coloring ability, and learning the words as we salute the flag each day as we begin our work; they do so in both English and Spanish. Another daily practice they have learned to do as they prepare for their lunch is to wash their hands with a sanitizer, while saying "láva, láva, lávate las manos," and this they enjoy saying.

Stairizona Trail guided tours April 8

Arizona's newest urban trail is right here in Globe – a walk that is both invigorating and inspiring – with artistic murals along staircases that ascend hills above scenic downtown Globe. A choice of routes take you in and around hidden concrete outdoor staircases, through neighborhood pathways and alongside unique works of art created during the past two years by community volunteers and professional muralists. This walk is pet-friendly, and truly a superb way to get your kiddos outside for some exercise - but strollers are not recommended.

This event is part of Poppy Fest, a month-long celebration of wildflowers during April, sponsored and scheduled by the Globe-Miami Chamber of Commerce. Events continue all month; for details, call Globe-Miami Chamber staff at (928) 425-4495 - and find more Poppy Fest fun at azpoppyfest.com.

These projects went from idea to reality thanks to volunteers. Would you like to be involved with public art projects in Globe? Call Thea Wilshire at (928) 200-8733.

Globe student among state art contest winners

Globe student Olivia Boutwell, a home school student in the 3rd grade, was among the 14 winners of the AZ529 Art Contest honored during a March 28 ceremony at the State Capitol. The contest challenged K-6 students from around Arizona to draw their dream jobs; Olivia would like to be a marine biologist. Each winner received a certificate and a giant $529 check, representing the money that will be put in an AZ529 Higher Education account on their behalf.

Blood donors needed April 7 and 25

Your donation of a pint of blood can save up to three lives, and the need for donors is so great that each of Arizona's largest nonprofit blood banks will visit Globe-Miami this month. This Friday, April 7, Arizona Red Cross returns to the Globe Elks Lodge near Denny's for a drive from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Walk-ins are accepted, but you can also call 1-800-RED-CROSS to reserve one of the appointments or pick your choice of times and schedule yourself conveniently online at redcrossblood.org. How often can you give blood? According to the Red Cross: "Wait at least eight weeks (56 days) between donations of whole blood, or 16 weeks (112 days) between Power Red donations. Whole blood donors can donate up to 6 times a year." Read more at redcrossblood.org.

On Tuesday, April 25 Vitalant staff and volunteers will return to the Cobre Valley Golf Course in Miami, where Freeport-McMoran hosts a blood drive in the Copper Room at 4877 Cypress Way, from 8 a.m. to noon. Schedule your appointment conveniently online at vitalant.org (search by zip code 85501) or call 877-258-4825. Vitalant supplies and donates blood to 62 hospitals in Arizona and urges Globe-Miami donors to help offset a statewide critical blood shortage. Donors with Type O blood are especially needed because that universal type of blood is used to treat emergencies and trauma. Questions about giving blood? Read more at vitalant.org.

When we learn to delight in the Lord, we are forever changed and discovered unspeakable joy.

What is your greatest desire? It's not uncommon for someone to talk about a prayer request and then add, "God promised to give me the desires of my heart." But in context, that scripture reveals the Lord's principle for purifying our desires and issues a call for devotion to Him. To delight in the Lord means to take pleasure in discovering more about Him and in following Him. As we do, the Holy Spirit aligns our heart's desires with His, which positions us to experience His blessings.

When we commit our way to God, we allow our thoughts, goals and lifestyle to be shaped by His will and the things He loves. In other words, we acknowledge His right to determine whether our longing fits His plan. If we rest in the Lord and wait patiently for Him, we can rely on Him to work out circumstances, even when the desire He's given us seems impossible. When He is our first love, our heart becomes focused on making His glory known with our life.

God wants to give us our heart's desires in His time, when we're aligned with His will. As we learn to enjoy Him for who He is, our self-focused wants are replaced by His perfect will and purpose for us.

Lately my wife and I have been sorting through stacks of photos. I have a pile of those taken during years while living in Wyoming, Arizona and Connecticut. There are those of early school years, through high school and on into the military. Then those while engaged in various civilian occupations.

I once worked for a gentleman, president of a company which he founded and which had grown to doing business in forty-five states. On one wall in his office were photos of him in twenty-nine different jobs. As you would scan these, they told you a great deal about the qualities of the man. Perseverance, creativity, successes and not-so-successful, but together you could see the ingredients necessary to build a corporate president.

As I look at others and then look at myself, I think of the hard work and commitment it took to accomplish what has been done. This is not to be prideful, but to give myself credit for being the best-that-I-could be.

Most mornings I start by shaving. In the mirror I see what others see at first glance. We can make slight improvements by the way we comb our hair – or even the color of it – but “what you see is what you get.” Inside, hidden even from my view, are the scars, the failing eyes, the impaired hearing, the wear and tear of daily living. Qualities that come from a life well lived. Be grateful for what you have.
