cy Planning Committee convenes for a conference from 9 a.m. – 4 p.m. Lunch is included, and thanks to donors there will be raffle prizes for attendees, including Igloo, Fenix, DeWalt, Kershaw and Coho. Police and fire chiefs from across Gila County typically attend these meetings hosted and arranged by Gila County Emergency Management Department staff, and new members are always welcome. Emergency responders who aren't already on the invitation list, and should be, are invited to sign up with an email to Gila County's Emergency Management Specialist, Justin Quarles, at jquarles@gilacountyaz.gov or call him at (928) 402-8764.

"These meetings have two main objectives," said Quarles. "First is to convene and update all of our members, and second is to explore a few topics that are specific to emergency planning as we've experienced it during these past two years of the pandemic - and demonstrate the importance of building and maintaining partnerships well before new emergencies arise. Another topic will be the successes and challenges of responding when communication or support is not effective."

God wants you to trust Him when calamity strikes

Have you ever wondered why God lets bad things happen to you or your loved ones? Hardships and suffering are a consequence of sin and the fallen condition of the world, but why is He allowing distress in your life? Though trials are painful, understanding the Lord's purpose can bring joy and hope.

When a person is saved, he or she begins the lifelong process of becoming ing holy. And few things build character like sorrow. Unfortunately, our spiritual growth may be slow during pleasant times, but pain brings us to our knees in dependence upon God as we seek His help, strength, comfort and grace.

Another reason the Father allows trials is to test and refine our faith. When we go through the fire of affliction and remain true to the Lord, we'll come out more sure of our salvation. Not only that, but we will have greater trust in God's character and dealings with us. Then when the next difficulty arises, we will remember His faithfulness during the previous trial and be able to rest confidently in Him. If we submit to the Lord He'll use our hardships to mature us, and that's reason to rejoice.

Auto Gate

By DR. DAN MORTON

Contributor

Wyoming is a beautiful state, with many wonderful people. A former State Senator described his state as "a small town with long streets." The Census for 2010 and for 2020 didn't change much for total population. Both recorded approximately 500,000 people in the entire state. They are all friendly and try to help you in any way they can, as do people in a small town.

What the Census doesn't list is the number of cattle. This figure has been estimated to be 600,000 head. I don't have the figure at hand, but there must be a comparable number of deer, antelope, bison and other "wild" animals roaming free on the "open range." Although these animals do not have a vote, their presence is acknowledged when major issues are discussed.

In Arizona, people outnumber the cattle, which are kept somewhat in check by "cattle guards." We are all familiar with them as we drive across the steel beams set in place and hear and feel the rumble. In a few instances on paved roads, these have been replaced by lines painted on the pavement.

When you visit a foreign nation or even another state, you may note the differences from your own state. Wyoming is the only place I have seen road signs cautioning drivers of the traditional cattle guard but calling it an "auto gate." Perhaps that is looking at it from the viewpoint of the majority.

Do you consider others when making decisions?

Movie screening at Globe Christian Center

"Faith Under Fire" will be shown at the Globe Christian Center on Sunday, August 14 at 5:30 p.m.

"Faith Under Fire" is the story of a firefighter who lost his wife to cancer two years ago. Now his daughter has cancer, and he's not taking it well. He gets angry, he gets drunk and he makes things worse, hurting those who are trying to help him.

He rudely tells a pastor, "I'm not looking for a new friend," and, "You can't help me." The pastor says, "Let me try," and others rally to support him. His best hope, however, is the example of his little daughter, facing death with the faith of a child.

Bible clubs are back at Maranatha

At Maranatha Baptist Church we are excited to announce our upcoming Awana and Answers Bible clubs for kids! This year, our K-6 students will have an opportunity to explore God's word with our new Answers in Genesis curriculum. Our 3- and 4-year-olds will continue using our proven Awana curriculum. As always, we are committed to the belief that the greatest impact for Christ starts with kids who know, love and serve Him. Maranatha Baptist Church has been serving the families of the Globe-Miami area through our Bible programs for more than 30 years. We look forward to continuing that legacy as we reach the next generation of kids with the Word of God.

This semester we will be holding our clubs on Sunday afternoons from 4 - 5:30 p.m. Registration is $25 for the year and includes a club shirt. Registration begins at 3:30 p.m. on Sunday, August 21. We welcome new members joining us for the first time. Our program serves kids ages 3 thru 6th grade. We hope to see you there! We are located at 1320 E. Saguaro Dr. in Globe. Gila County Superior Court seeks comments on jury pools

Gila County Presiding Superior Court Judge Timothy M. Wright has announced that the Superior Court is seeking comments on a proposal to create northern and southern jury pools for the county. If approved by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, the proposal would eliminate citizens of Northern Gila County traveling to Globe for jury duty or citizens of Southern Gila County traveling to Payson for jury duty. The goal of the proposal is to make jury service easier for all citizens in Gila County by drastically reducing the travel time and expense for those who are called to report for jury service. Those who wish to view the proposal may access it online at www.gilacountyaz.gov/government/courts/index.php.

Those who wish to comment on the proposal may do so by emailing any comments to: GilaCAdmin@courts.az.gov on or before Aug. 26, 2022. Judge Wright wishes to thank Judge Bryan B. Chambers for his substantial efforts on this initiative and Clerk of the Court Anita Escobedo for her support.

Stellar Vista Observatory Sky Report

By JOHN MOSLEY

Contributor

The Sky Report is presented as a public service by the Stellar Vista Observatory, a nonprofit organization based in Kanab, Utah, which provides opportunities for people to observe, appreciate and comprehend our starry night sky. Additional information is at www.stellarvistaobservatory.org. Send questions and comments to John@StargazingAdventures.org.

The good news is that the best meteor shower of the year happens this week. The bad news is that bright moonlight will ruin it.

Every year the earth passes through a swarm of debris shed long ago by Comet Swift-Tuttle and we see a meteor shower as these sand-size debris particles fall through our atmosphere and burn up as meteors. The swarm is still fairly condensed – it hasn't had time to spread out and diffuse – so the shower has a short peak with one meteor every few minutes on the night of August 12 and fewer meteors the few nights before and after. However, this year the moon is full the day before the peak and its bright light will wash out the fainter meteors, just as it washes out the fainter stars. That still leaves the bright ones, which will fall at the rate of one every few minutes, so all is not lost and it's still worth observing.

To see the shower, get warm and comfortable (but not so comfortable that you fall asleep!) late in the evening (the later the better) and look up. Meteors will radiate from the constellation Perseus, which is low in the northeast at midnight, but they appear all over the sky. If a meteor you see comes from Perseus, it's a Perseid Meteor and is part of this shower; if it has a different path it's a random meteor, and they appear too. Perseus rises higher as the hours pass and you'll see more meteors during the morning hours than the evening. Good luck.

At midnight both Jupiter and Saturn are up too, but both are low. Jupiter has just risen in the east and it's the brightest thing in the sky other than the moon, which on the 12th is slightly higher in the southeast. Saturn is to the upper right of the moon and it's as bright as the brightest stars.

Mars rises two hours after Jupiter, and it's in line with Saturn and Jupiter. It's the same brightness as Saturn.

I had invited people to determine from their own observations when Saturn, Jupiter and Mars would be equally spaced in the sky. All three planets are moving eastward against the background stars, but their speed depends on their distance from the sun; the closer a planet is to the sun the stronger it feels the sun's gravity and the faster it travels, in miles per hour as well as in degrees per day, across the sky. That date when they're precisely equally spaced is August 11. (On that evening Saturn is almost 5° above the full moon). After the 11th Mars moves on ahead, slowly leaving both Jupiter and Saturn behind.

By far the brightest planet is Venus, which rises 90 minutes before the sun and is almost 20° high at the moment of sunrise. Its great brilliance lets you see it in morning twilight – and beyond, if you know precisely where to look.

Globe Public Library would like to send a huge thank you to Cobre Valley Youth Club for the use of their facility on Ash Street. We used this facility for the Jungle Jill program on July 26. Thanks to the Cobre Valley Youth Club we were able to have Jungle Jill back for a second year. She brought several fun animals to share with our community.

Globe Public Library would also like to thank Globe Unified School District and High Desert Middle School for the use of the auditorium on July 30 for our Ocean

Adventure program Meet Dory's Best Friend: The Whale Shark. A special thank you goes out to Christa Dalmolin-East, who made a special trip out to the school to open it up. She got everything up and going, then came back to close everything down that afternoon. We have a great school district and this is just one example.

Both of these programs were well attended. Thank you to the Friends of the Globe Public Library and the United Fund of Globe-Miami for sponsoring and funding these programs.

Power Elite Dance Academy trains with Tremaine Dance Conventions

Dancers from the greater Globe/Miami/San Carlos area who are members of Power Elite Dance Academy's Competitive Company traveled to Henderson, Nevada to attend the 41st annual Power of Dance tour with Tremaine Dance Conventions. This national leading dance education circuit boasts a professional faculty led by Joe Tremaine and his staff, bringing best-in-the-industry classes to dancers around the states. The Company Dancers from Power Elite, led by owner Tina McCarey, prepare rigorously for this event in hopes to place in competition and bring back accolades to their hometown – and this year did not disappoint!

PEDA Company dancers ages 6 to 18 attended this event, training in master classes from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. for three straight days in subjects such as ballet, tap, hip hop, contemporary and classic jazz. Dancers and teachers also had the opportunity to attend lectures and panels with the guest artists and faculty, making it a tremendous learning experience for all. Tremaine is known for its high-quality training in all subject areas but stands above all as a leader in keeping the fundamentals of classic jazz dance alive. Students are led through hour-long classes among some of the best dancers in the nation within their respective age categories, creating new friendships, pushing the limits of the mental and physical aspects of dance, gaining growth in self-confidence, and receiving a renewed sense of love for the athleticism and expression of their art.

Dancers from Power Elite Dance Academy

One of the most unique aspects of Tremaine Dance Conventions is its focus on higher education and inclusivity of all cultural and classically-based techniques within the dance world. PEDA students were all given the opportunity to audition for scholarships; awards ranging from one-time Tremaine event tuition awards to the coveted yearlong Tremaine event tuition passes and the most sought-after prize of college tuition scholarships to the prestigious AMDA College and Conservatory of the Performing Arts, with merit-based awards in the amounts of $40,000-$60,000 given to high school students entering their junior or senior year.

McCarey often fondly refers to the competitive section of Tremaine as "the icing on the cake" when addressing members of her dance company. The chance to represent our community on the main stage during the two nights of competition is a highlight of the event. This year the PEDA Company secured a large array of top-placing awards from the youngest group of dancers to the top tier team, as well as placing within the top three for all production numbers which include multiple PEDA groups. Many of the students also bravely took to the stage to compete in solo dances and were showered with praise. While bringing home a slew of trophies is quite the accomplishment, it's the memories made between staff and team members that will last a lifetime.

This year, PEDA Senior Anisa Spurgeon was a member of the coveted Tremaine Dance Company. She attended several stops across the nation on the Power Dance Tour, and represented her studio with grace and gratitude. It was a proud moment for all to watch as she took the stage in the closing ceremonies, performing in the Tremaine Faculty Show among the other members of the TDC from this season. It was a moment of pride and accomplishment that the PEDA staff and dancers will look to for years to come as a source of inspiration to work hard and set big goals in their dance careers, with McCarey at the helm and heart of it all.

'Critical blood shortage': Red Cross needs donors Aug. 12

July's blood drive was abruptly cancelled due to reasons beyond the Red Cross' control. If you were unable to donate, please sign up now for the next date on Friday, Aug. 12. Healthy donors are urgently needed for our community's blood drive at the Globe Elks Lodge on Maple Street near Denny's. Call 1-800-RED-CROSS to reserve one of the appointments, or pick your choice of times and schedule yourself conveniently online at redcrossblood.org. All healthy donors are welcome. Giving blood is safe - facemasks are required, as well as pre-arranged appointments in order to help Red Cross staff and Elks Lodge volunteers schedule the most efficient drive day possible. A critical blood shortage continues; Arizona fell 4,000 donations short during the winter months. Type-O blood is especially needed. Type-O is often used in trauma situations, especially Type-O negative, which can be transfused with any blood type. Appointments are available for 'Power Red' donations, which allow you to safely donate two units of red blood cells during one donation. Blood is drawn from one arm by a machine that separates and collects two units of red cells, then safely returns the remaining blood components, along with some saline, back to you through the same arm - and just one needle jab is required. A Power Red donation takes approximately 30 minutes longer than a whole blood donation, so plan on about 35-45 minutes in the chair and you're limited to donating approximately once every four months. New donors are welcome, and urgently needed.

How often can you give blood? According to the Red Cross, "Wait at least eight weeks (56 days) between donations of whole blood, or 16 weeks (112 days) between Power Red donations. Whole blood donors can donate up to 6 times a year." Questions about giving blood or a Power Red donation? Read more at redcrossblood.org.

Early childhood adventures at Globe Public Library

Family Storytime is back, starting August 1 at 10:30 a.m. This is an early literacy program for children 0-5 and their caregivers.

Parents are invited to bring their children 0-5 to Free Play Friday. This open playtime at the Globe Public Library offers different things to explore each week. This child-directed exploration will feature Ocean Exploration on August 12 and Fall on August 19. Items will be cleaned before and after Free Play Friday. Parents must stay with their children.

Tuesday, August 16 at 5:30 p.m. Globe Public Library is offering an Early Literacy Workshop for Family, Friend and Neighbor Caregivers. We are inviting all grandparents, aunts, uncles, neighbors and friends who care for young children ages 0-5. We have a fun-filled workshop for you! Caring for the children of family, friends and neighbors is very important work and your library can be a partner in this effort. Throughout your day there are dozens of things you do with children that may not seem like learning opportunities, but learning can happen anywhere! In this free workshop, you will explore how to make daily routines more exciting and educational by simply talking, singing and playing. All participants will receive a free activity kit and books to take home. Light refreshments and childcare will be provided. Please call Globe Public Library at 928-425-6111 to reserve your spot. If you are bringing children please let us know how many and their ages so we can plan for them as well. The project is supported by the Arizona State Library, Archives & Public Records, a division of the Secretary of State, with federal funds from the Institute of Museum & Library Services.

Saturday, August 20 at 9:30 a.m. Christine Carlson from the University of Arizona Cooperative Extension is offering Gowa: Teachable Moments for Apache Children in person at Globe Public Library. These are designed for children 0-6 and their parents. All children regardless of ethnicity are welcome with a parent or guardian.

The 1,000 Books Before Kindergarten Program is going strong at the Globe Public Library. This program is to help children read 1,000 books before entering Kindergarten and encourage lifelong reading habits. You can register online at <https://globepubliclibrary.azsummerreading.org/> or come to the Globe Public Library for the paper form. If you have used the summer reading program online, you can use the same login to register for 1,000 Books. For every 100 books, children will receive a reward. They will receive a grand prize when they finish the 1,000 books. Porter S. has finished the 1,000 Books Before Kindergarten Program over the summer.

Do you wish someone would read you a story? Now you can call the Globe Public Library Dial-a-Story phone line and hear a new story every week. The phone number is (855)

614-6111. You can call this number at any time and get a story read to you. Listening to a read-aloud story is fun and engages everyone in literacy. Even passive listening teaches reading and vocabulary and helps a child's brain grow. This program is brought to you by the Arizona State Library, Archives, and Public Records through the Institute of Museum and Library Services.

All these programs are free and brought to you through partnerships with the Friends of the Globe Public Library and the United Fund of Globe-Miami.

Caregiver early literacy training for friends, family and neighbors

It is estimated that family, friends and neighbors care for 7 million children under the age of 5 in their homes each day, making it the most prevalent form of regular, nonparental childcare.

Caring for the children of family, friends or neighbors is very important work and your library can be a partner in this effort.

Public libraries can be a great support to these caregivers, especially with pre-reading and other learning resources. The Arizona State Library has organized a team of library professionals to present hands-on educational workshops for nonparental caregivers, hosted in rural public libraries. Here are the scheduled workshops for August:

Aug. 10 Page Public Library Coconino County

Aug. 13 Coolidge Public Library Pinal County

Aug. 16 Globe Public Library Gila County

Aug. 17 Pima Public Library Graham County

Aug. 18 Show Low Public Library Navajo County

Aug. 19 St. Johns Public Library Apache County

Throughout the day there are dozens of things caregivers do with children that may not seem like learning opportunities, but learning can happen anytime and anywhere!

In these free workshops participants will explore how to make daily routines more exciting and educational by simply talking, singing and playing.

Participants will receive a free activity kit and books to take home. Please contact the hosting library to sign up and learn more.

This project is supported by the Arizona State Library, Archives & Public Records, a division of the Secretary of State, with federal funds from the Institute of Museum & Library Services.
