auction; prices will be marked on the items. The sale takes place from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

"The building where we've stored surplus furniture and equipment has to be moved to make space for the expansion of the Russell Gulch Landfill," explained Finance Director Mary Springer. "In past years we auctioned items like these – but landfill expansion plans make time of the essence, and we need to dispose of this furniture and equipment quickly so the building they're in can be dismantled. As a result, buyers can expect yard sale bargain prices – and be able to equip an office on Saturday with one-stop shopping. Bring cash only – no credit cards or checks. Items must be paid for on the day of the sale."

Items will be sold "as is" and must be removed from the premises by 2 p.m. on Saturday. Photos are not available, but the list of items includes 17 desks, 17 chairs, 1 refrigerator, 1 washer/dryer set, 20 file cabinets, 8 bookcases, 1 patio heater (propane), 2 TV carts, 4 TVs, 1 fryer and 1 coffee maker.

If we want the Lord to be number one in our life, we have to consider how we spend our time.

The Lord has plans for each of us and specific work that He has called us to do. This might be hopeful news to you, or it might be overwhelming if you're already struggling to manage all that's on your plate. Thankfully, balancing five areas of our schedule can help us live according to God's purposes.

1. Our top priority should be spending time with the Lord each day. We can read and meditate on His Word, pray, listen for His directions or simply be with Him.

2. Relationships are essential to God's plans for us. We should allot time to family and friends, since Galatians 6:2 says bearing others' burdens fulfills the law of Christ.

3. The area most likely to become imbalanced is our work. The Lord disapproves of laziness but He doesn't want us to be overly consumed with our careers, either.

4. It's vital to take care of our body, allocating adequate time for rest, recreation and exercise.

5. The Scriptures urge meeting together regularly with other believers for worship (Hebrews 10:24-25).

These general areas all need space in your life, but I can't tell you how each day should look. Ask the Lord to direct your schedule. Seek His guidance, watch for His answers and make the changes He brings to mind.

Fear of age

By DR. DAN MORTON
Contributor

One morning before our worship service was to begin, I was chatting with a family. The older of two sons confessed he was afraid of his next birthday, for he would then be eighteen. I listened attentively and then said he need not fear, for I have been eighteen four times and am still here.

When I worked in an office in Scottsdale, Arizona, years ago, the space next door was for drivers' license testing. Frequently people would come into my office by mistake. What I noticed was that the older people were afraid of having to renew their license. They had been driving for sixty years, but perhaps the fear came from thinking what it would mean to fail.

I read a piece this morning written by a man who had recently turned sixty and had completed his degree in a new field. He had applied for a job he was trained to do but was haunted by the fear of failing. If you fail, you are not the first! Pick yourself up, dust yourself off and try again. Time for a pep rally! In high school we had them each Friday, before the evening's football game.

What I have learned is that if you don't apply for the job, you've already been turned down by yourself. If you don't try you've already failed. Give it the best you have and know that that will be acceptable to someone.

San Carlos Reservation tent meeting in July

“Someday is now (2 Corinthians 6:2)!”

You are all invited to a tent meeting on the San Carlos Apache Reservation, at approximately the third house behind the old Boys and Girls Club. The meeting will be held July 8-30, 2022, at 6:30 p.m. nightly.

Free family movies on first Saturdays

Divine Grace Church will be offering a free family-oriented movie on Aug. 6. Movie showing will begin at 1:30 p.m. sharp in our Fellowship Hall (downstairs). Free gourmet popcorn will be offered, along with root beer floats for all “early birds.” Doors will open at 1 p.m. so you can find your favorite seat. Bring a friend! The church is located at 305 Live Oak St. in Miami. All are welcome.

A burden for Globe-Miami

By ELVIN FANT
Contributor

Luke 5:27-32 (NKJV): “After these things He went out and saw a tax collector named Levi, sitting at the tax office. And He said to him, ‘Follow Me.’ So he left all, rose up, and followed Him. Then Levi gave Him a great feast in his own house. And there were a great number of tax collectors and others who sat down with them. And their scribes and the Pharisees complained against His disciples, saying, ‘Why do You eat and drink with tax collectors and sinners?’ Jesus answered and said to them, ‘Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick. I have not come to call the righteous, but sinners, to repentance.’”

For the past forty years, I've had a burden for the lost in our community. Unfortunately, I've spent ninety-nine percent of those years in service to those who were in no need of a physician. While listening to 91.9 FM one day about three months ago, I heard an inspirational message by Pastor Robert Morris of Gateway Church, a megachurch in the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex. That wonderful experience changed my spiritual life in a beautiful but drastic way. At last, here was a venue that not only reached my soul but provided a vehicle to serve my burden for all of Globe-Miami.

I want to encourage all of my readers to do their due diligence and investigate the blessings of following the teachings of Pastor Robert and Gateway Church. There are many avenues you can pursue in your investigation. You can join our Church Gatherings, where our mission statement is: Soup For the Tummy and Soup For the Soul. We gather every Sunday afternoon in the park on Sullivan St. in Miami. You can get the blessing of the message in your home on the internet, but we want to encourage you to join us in the park. There we can pray with you, laugh with you and cry with you.

If you would like more information, don't hesitate to contact me anytime at 928-310-7110 or srfant1944@gmail.com.

Be near me in my time of weakness and pain; sustain me by your grace, that my strength and courage may not fail; heal me according to your will; and help me always to believe that what happens to me here is of little account if you hold me in eternal life, my Lord and my God. Amen.

Stellar Vista Observatory Sky Report, July 11-17

BY JOHN MOSLEY
Contributor

The Sky Report is presented as a public service by the Stellar Vista Observatory, a nonprofit organization based in Kanab, Utah that provides opportunities for people to observe, appreciate and comprehend our starry night sky. Additional information is at www.stellarvistaobservatory.org. Send questions and comments to John@StargazingAdventures.org.

The moon is full on Wednesday, July 13, at precisely 12:38:26 p.m. MDT. How long is the moon full? Just for that one instant. It's full for as long as it's midnight, or any other time – just for that moment. In practice we say the moon is full for that entire night. But what do we think when the moon is full at approximately noon, as it is this month? Is it full the entire day that began at midnight on the morning of the 13th and ends at the following midnight? Or is it full from the afternoon of the 13th until the following afternoon? It's up to you. Generally you can consider it full on that one calendar day.

But what about other time zones? If it's full at, say, 12:30 a.m. in the Mountain Time Zone, it's full at 11:30 p.m. on the day before in the Pacific Time Zone. This is true for any astronomical event that happens at only one moment; it happens at a different time in each time zone and at different days where the time zone changes at midnight from one day to the next. It's a consequence of living on a globe and astronomers have learned to live with it, but it can cause confusion. When looking up dates of full moons in a table, for example, you need to know which time zone the table was prepared for.

So where is the moon when it's full on the evening of the 13th? It's quite low, in the middle of Sagittarius, the Centaur/Archer, a composite beast that is half man and half horse (the front half is the man!). Being opposite the sun – which is what a full moon is – it rises at sunset and is above the horizon the entire night. Sagittarius is in the direction of the center of the Milky Way, and that is the brightest part of the Milky Way, but you won't see the Milky Way because the moon's bright light washes it out. Look next week when the moon is out of the way, and perhaps I'll have more on that then.

On the 13th, 40° to the left of the moon is the planet Saturn, shining as bright as the brightest stars. On the 15th and 16th the moon is much closer to Saturn, passing closest to it at about 2 p.m. on the afternoon of the 15th, and if you were on the opposite side of the earth you'd enjoy a very close conjunction.

Jupiter is another 40-some degrees to the left of Saturn, and it's brighter than any star. It rises around midnight, and it rises a half-hour earlier each week – as do all the planets except Venus.

Mars is 30° to the left of Jupiter. Mars is the same brightness as Saturn.

Last but far from least is Venus, which rises two hours before the sun and which is low, but brilliant, in the east-northeast in morning twilight.

PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENT

Hope 4 Hearing Center announces unique hearing aid trial program, with NO upfront cost, NO commitment and NO risk

Who is a good candidate for Flex:trial?

You may be a good candidate for the Flex:trial program if you:

- Suspect a hearing loss but haven't had your hearing tested
- Had a hearing test but decided against hearing aids
- Currently wear hearing aids but are looking for something better

The Flex:trial program is accepting appointments from potential participants for a limited time only.

Supplies of the Flex:trial hearing aids are limited, call today.

Area residents who want to try today's most advanced hearing aids — without upfront cost, commitment or risk — are urged to get in touch with Hope 4 Hearing Center.

Located in Globe, Hope 4 Hearing Center is among a handful of hearing healthcare providers nationwide selected and certified to participate in the Flex:trial™ program, developed by hearing aid manufacturer Unitron.

Flex:trial uses a unique three-step approach to hearing healthcare and consumer satisfaction:

1. Interested individuals undergo a hearing test. If the testing indicates a good fit for the program, participants go home — the very same day* — with Flex:trial hearing aids.
2. Participants wear the Flex:trial hearing aids on a trial basis at home and in all of their other familiar environments. There is no upfront cost or obligation during the trial period.
3. At the end of the trial period, participants decide whether they want to continue with the listening experience...or walk away and owe nothing.

"Other trial programs require consumers to pay for the hearing aids in advance and then go through the process of obtaining a refund if they're not satisfied," explains Hope 4 Hearing Center. "The Flex:trial program removes the upfront cost for participating patients — and the fear of getting stuck with hearing aids they don't like. In fact, the risk is all mine."

Supply of Flex:trial hearing aids is limited. This offer is valid through April 30th, 2022, on a first-come, first-served basis. *Subject to availability.

Miami volleyball preparing for new season

By STEPHEN PALMER
Contributor

Summer heat is not the only thing spiking in Miami, Arizona. Volleyball is two weeks into their open gym summer program and participation is high. With camp right around the corner the volleyball Vandals of Miami are wasting no time in their efforts to prepare for their next season.

Passion. Dedication. Hard Work. Three pillars that head coach Jaymie Swift-Hooke has chosen for the foundation of this year's team building. "We had a young group last year, a lot of first year players. Freshmen had to step into big roles. With having that one season under their belt they are coming in with confidence," explained Coach Swift-Hooke when asked about her expectations for varsity volleyball this year. "It is going to be great to see how much they have grown and how much more they will work together as a team."

The summer programs are not only for varsity players. Sixth grade students Lilliana Light and Autiana Garner are enjoying the open gym, after their first season as volleyball players. Lilliana looks forward to "getting to play more" this next year, and Auti looks forward to "games counting" because she plans to make the junior high varsity squad.

The Miami Vandal volleyball program is being prepped to run for the long haul. Young students are engaging in the game, veteran students are finding success and the energy in the gym is palpable. The young varsity squad made their league playoffs last season. Could this be the year that they find a way to win once they are in?

Caregiver early literacy training for friends, family and neighbors

It is estimated that family, friends and neighbors care for seven million children under the age of 5 in their homes each day, making it the most prevalent form of regular, nonparental childcare.

Caring for the children of family, friends or neighbors is very important work and your library can be a partner in this effort.

Public libraries can be a great support to these caregivers, especially with pre-reading and other learning resources. The Arizona State Library has organized a team of library professionals to present hands-on educational workshops for nonparental caregivers, hosted in rural public libraries. Here are the scheduled workshops for August.

Aug. 10 Page Public Library Coconino County

Aug. 13 Coolidge Public Library Pinal County

Aug. 16 Globe Public Library Gila County

Aug. 17 Pima Public Library Graham

County

Aug. 18 Show Low Public Library Navajo County

Aug. 19 St. Johns Public Library Apache County

Throughout the day there are dozens of things caregivers do with children that may not seem like learning opportunities, but learning can happen anytime and anywhere!

In these free workshops, participants will explore how to make daily routines more exciting and educational by simply talking, singing and playing.

Participants will receive a free activity kit and books to take home. Please contact the hosting library to sign up and learn more.

This project is supported by the Arizona State Library, Archives & Public Records, a division of the Secretary of State, with federal funds from the Institute of Museum & Library Services.

Knitting and Crochet Group at Globe Public Library

The Knitting and Crochet Group is moving its time to Saturdays at 9:30 a.m. If you would like to learn how to knit or crochet, or if you just want a group of other crafters to work with, this friendly group is the one for you. All ages and abilities are welcome. We have knitting needles and some yarn you can use if you are just getting started. This program is free for all to participate.

Card Game Club at Globe Public Library

On July 9 at 2 p.m., Globe Public Library will be having our Card Game Club. Do you like trading card games like Pokémon and Magic: The Gathering? Would you like to learn how to play one? This is an activity for you. Ages 10 and up are invited to join. We will have supplies for those who are participating. All levels of experience are welcome. You can bring your cards if you want to use your deck.

This program is free and brought to you through partnerships with the Friends of the Globe Public Library and the United Fund of Globe-Miami.

The Globe Public Library will be holding splash events on July 9 and July 23 at 9:30 a.m.

Splash events at Globe Public Library

As a way to help keep everyone cool this summer as we wait anxiously for the Globe Pool to open, Globe Public Library will be hosting two splash events at the library. These will be held in the dirt parking lot on the Cottonwood side of the library. The parking lot will be blocked off. Prepare to get wet; don't forget your towel and a possible change of clothes.

These splash events will be held on July 9 and July 23 at 9:30 a.m.

Big changes take shape at High Desert Humane Society

By C.F. YANKOVICH
Staff Reporter

Gila Rabies Control's decision to build a new shelter out at the county fairgrounds was a stroke of luck for High Desert Humane Society. Demand had outgrown the group's small dog rescue facility downtown. The old shelter on Hackney had been built by HDHS about 1970 and had been leased to the county a few years later. Now High Desert would have room enough for all.

Unfortunately, Rabies Control's announcement came during a rocky time for High Desert. The Hackney Street shelter needed major repairs, volunteers were tired, the pandemic kept people home and Cheryl Brazzell, long-time ramrod of HDHS, needed to step down.

Unwilling to surrender, Brazzell reached out to Cynthia Carr, who had been involved with the state rescue community for the last 10 years.

In November 2021, Carr was elected president of the organization. Ever since, she has spent three to four days per week working on projects ranging from working with Gila County IT to install a computer and data system to contacting potential donors to setting up a work party to spruce up the shelter. Under Carr's leadership, Anna Ortiz and the original board installed a plaque on the HDHS thrift shop/dog rescue building recognizing all that Richard and Cheryl Brazzell have done.

Carr energized and impressed those who worked with her. Several HDHS volunteers have called her a blessing. Another uses the word "driven." Cheryl Brazzell describes her as "amazing" and "dedicated."

On May 17, Carr announced that the Hackney Street shelter project was definitely going forward. In early June, volunteers Lorraine and Fran Beder spent three days painting while other volunteers cleaned and removed trash.

Globe volunteer Sandi

Power said, "I can't believe they (participants from San Carlos, Tucson and the Phoenix area) will drive all the way up here to volunteer."

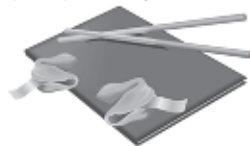

Carr also managed to convince several contractors to help with the renovation project including Jonovich Companies, MDC Electric, and DSR Heating and Cooling. Paint and epoxy were donated by Pinnacle Peak Ace Hardware. Others donating materials included Lauren Arterburn, Sky Sanctuary Rescue, Fur the Paws and Elizabeth Doggies.

Fundraising is essential to all charities, and Carr has not neglected that aspect. Four Paw and Friends raised $1,150 with their June 19 weekly raffle in honor of HDHS. For the month of July, those who round up purchases at Pinnacle Peak Ace Hardware will be donating to HDHS.

After the building on Hackney is ready for occupants, plans are that all dogs ready for adoption will be moved there. Only dogs that are not ready for adoption will remain at the downtown dog rescue. Although the Hackney location does have room for cats, the cat rescue will remain on Broad Street.

Carr hopes to announce a grand opening in July, after final inspections are completed. Everyone will be invited to the celebration.

Every day, prepared.

Wildfire preparation protects you, the community and first responders.

Providing you safe, reliable energy is our top priority. That's why we work year-round to prepare for wildfires by updating equipment, working with first responders on emergency action plans, performing visual inspections of lines before and during an outage, and managing vegetation and other potential hazards around our equipment. Power lines may be temporarily taken out of service to protect firefighters, which could result in outages that might last longer than usual. Working together, we can be prepared. Here are some things you can do:

- Keep grass, weeds, trees and shrubs trimmed. Dispose of trimmings and trash properly.
- Get emergency alerts through local resources and visit ein.az.gov to create an emergency preparedness plan.
- Sign up for outage alerts and view our interactive outage map at aps.com/outagecenter.
- Have flashlights, batteries, a portable cell phone charger and water handy.

Please visit aps.com/wildfiresafety for more information.
