The nagging sense of dissatisfaction

COURTESY PHOTO

If your soul feels depleted, make unhurried time with Jesus a priority.

Have you ever found yourself simply standing in front of the refrigerator, not looking for anything specific but wanting to fill a longing?

At other times, our craving involves something other than food, such as a career, possessions or relationships. Our souls are continually trying to find satisfaction, but nothing in this world will fill the void.

Since we were created for relationship with God, He placed deep within us a yearning for Him. Though we may not recognize it as such, everyone knows this feeling of dissatisfaction and whenever we attempt to find fulfillment with worldly substitutes, disappointment and disillusionment are bound to follow.

We can choose to fill our empty souls from one of two menus. Satan's is long and full of enticing options that seem to promise fulfillment and pleasure, perhaps by means of riches, renown or acceptance. His choices look as if they will bring contentment, but it's pure deception. God's menu, on the other hand, is quite small—it offers just one option: Jesus. He is the only one who can truly fill the void.

Have you found the satisfaction you seek, or is there always a vague sense of discontent in your soul?

When you spend focused, unhurried time with Jesus, He will satisfy you as nothing else can.

WORSHIP

Stronger than before

By DR. DAN MORTON

Contributor

Barbie and I have conducted grief support groups for many years and many people. Because the recovery involves several steps, we refer to it as a "process." Allowing time to receive the new information, digest it and change one's thinking, we generally extend the meetings to at least four weeks.

During the first session, we are getting acquainted and watch as others either renew old acquaintances or find new friends. We stress the need for confidentiality and at first people are hesitant to reveal much about themselves or the reason they have come to such a meeting.

Within two or three sessions, we find them opening up and digging deeper into the hurt they have covered up and kept hidden for years. As they open the wound, it begins to heal and they find they are not alone. In many instances, a person will discover that someone who seems not to have a care in the world has suffered as we all do.

Getting through the steps may seem like climbing a mountain, but when you have persisted you are rewarded with a wholly new view of life. You come out of the dark space in which you have been hiding and all is well.

One other thing you will notice is that you have now risen above the level at which you entered and are truly thankful for having made the effort.

Bible clubs are back at Maranatha

At Maranatha Baptist Church we are excited to announce our upcoming Awana and Answers Bible clubs for kids! This year, our K-6 students will have an opportunity to explore God's word with our new Answers in Genesis curriculum. Our 3- and 4-year-olds will continue using our proven Awana curriculum. As always, we are committed to the belief that the greatest impact for Christ starts with kids who know, love and serve Him. Maranatha Baptist Church has been serving the families of the Globe-Miami area through our Bible programs for more than 30 years. We look forward to continuing that legacy as we reach the next generation of kids with the Word of God.

This semester we will be holding our clubs on Sunday afternoons from 4 - 5:30 p.m. Registration is $25 for the year and includes a club shirt. Registration begins at 3:30 p.m. on Sunday, August 21. We welcome new members joining us for the first time. Our program serves kids ages 3 thru 6th grade. We hope to see you there! We are located at 1320 E. Saguaro Dr. in Globe. ## The God I never knew (Part 4)

By ELVIN FANT

Contributor

There are two ways you can know God's will; the general will of God and the specific will of God. We know the general will of God by his word, and the specific will of God by his voice. If you want to know how to be married and treat your spouse, it's in the Bible, the general will of God. But if you want to know whom to marry, it's not there. If you want to know which job to take, where to live or what house to buy, that's not in there. But how to operate your finances or manage your business in a scriptural way, or how to be a godly husband and father, that's in there. If you want to know precisely how to deal with the gifts of each child, that's not in there. How are you going to do that?

The Holy Spirit will guide you in all truth. If you want to know what to pray for, you must know the Holy Spirit. None of you knows what to pray. I'm going to show you scripture that says we do not know what to pray, although the Spirit does. How many of you have ever heard of Romans 8:28? It says that we know all things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are called according to his purpose. OK, we all like the scripture. But we're going to two verses right before Romans 8:28. "Likewise, the Spirit helps in our weaknesses, for we do not know what to pray for."

Do you see that? Did the Bible say we do not know what we should pray for? Because some of you are thinking, "I know what's right." No, you don't; I just read the Bible to you. Don't argue with the Bible. You don't know what to pray for without the Holy Spirit. If you know what to pray, it's because he told you. It's the only reason any of us would know what to pray. We do not know what to pray for as we ought, but the Spirit himself makes intercession for us with groanings that cannot be uttered.

Next week we will continue this teaching by Pastor Robert Morris of Gateway Church. As Paul Harvey would say, "Stay tuned for the rest of the story."

THE ISSUES THAT MATTER

- ✓ INVESTMENT TRANSPARENCY
Will bring a high standard of transparency regarding investment performance.
- ✓ ELECTION INTEGRITY
Fought for election integrity by volunteering for 15 session as an observer at the 2020 Maricopa audit.
Strong supporter of turning HB2289 into law.
- ✓ PROTECT OUR BORDERS
Illegal immigration has caused lower wages, higher unemployment, and a huge tax burden with an overt threat to our security.
- ✓ NO BANKING GREEN NEW DEAL
The left's control over the financial system could mean having our freedom eroded without any legislation being passed. Biden can't pass the New Green Deal through Congress, but banks can certainly implement it. As Treasurer I will not do business with a bank that is pushing this agenda. Aggressively demand you elected officials to introduce laws that will bar Personal Social Credit Scores.
- ✓ CONSTITUTION CONSERVATIVE AND A PROLIFE AVOCATE

'First Five Years' Parenting Classes Start Aug. 3

Earn a free child's car seat or valuable gift card while learning about the stages of your baby or toddler's development. A new series of four parenting classes begins Aug. 3, conveniently scheduled for 10 a.m. either online or in person – a 'hybrid' class.

Even if you're an experienced parent, caregiver or grandparent you'll add to your child-rearing skills in the free series of First Five Years workshops coached by Charlene Becker, Cobre Valley youth and family educator with Arizona Youth Partnership's Starting Out Right program. And you'll find a supportive local community group, too!

Participants score more than parental coping skills. Those who complete the series earn bonuses that usually include free diapers, sometimes gift cards and a free child's car seat or booster when available. There's a convenient new signup portal at azyp.org/youth-and-family-service-programs/ftf-registration - or just email Charlene@azyp.org to request she send the link by email. You can also call Charlene with any questions at (928) 812-0555.

Lessons over the series of four classes include:

- Interaction and time spent with your child help with their brain development
- Setting up routines with your child helps them feel safe and secure
- Nutrition plays a huge part in your child's brain development

- Building a bond with your child
- Discipline methods
- Positive ways to set boundaries
- Balanced parenting style

Awesome Resources

Maribel lives in Globe and is mom to a loving and happy seven-month-old. She enjoys every moment of watching her daughter grow and feels confident in celebrating each milestone as they approach. She said, "Thank you, AZYP, for having these awesome resources for us!" and described Charlene's classes: "As a first-time parent, you create so many different questions or scenarios in your head and worry if you'll know the correct answers or solutions when the time comes. One of my favorite things about Charlene's Active Parenting First Five Years Class is how real and open it is. We discussed real-world issues and their solutions, watched examples of different parenting styles - learning the long-term effect of each - and were able to decide for ourselves the route we chose to take with our child or children. Charlene not only shares her own personal stories and connects with you, but she also makes you feel comfortable to ask any question that comes to mind. She is super observant and eager to get everyone signed up to take this class. I agree with her! Not only does it put those first-time parent jitters to rest, but it also opens opportunities for you to have support from other parents and from a trusted, local business as well."

Miami mom Vanessa agrees, and says the Active Parenting First Five Years class gave her particular insight that helps with her energetic one-year-old. "I appreciated that the classes were over Zoom, and that we were able to still be a 'mom' when needed during class (we could mute ourselves but still listen in). One topic we discussed was how to respond to tantrums. Charlene uses examples that you can relate to and understand. She told us how sometimes toddlers throw tantrums over silly things like 'I don't want the red cup. I want the blue cup!' But to them, it isn't silly. As an adult, you open the cupboard and pick what cup you want. Charlene explained to us how we can give them choices such as, 'Do you want the red or blue cup?' In addition to this, though, we discussed how to teach our child that cup color is a small thing to get upset about versus a huge thing that warrants that type of feeling or emotion. I encourage every mother to take this class, whether you are a first time mother or not. We discussed so many great and important topics. It gives you the opportunity to sit down and really think about these things."

Deadly heat wave continues: Follow these safety tips

More than 100 million people across the country are facing dangerously high temperatures and oppressive humidity as the relentless heat wave continues. Heat warnings are in place in as many as 28 states and the National Weather Service reports the scorching weather will remain in place through the rest of the week.

Facing the highest risk for the deadly heat are the Southwest, Central and South-central US, the coastal mid-Atlantic region and the Northeast. The combination of heat and high humidity leave many open to the possibility of heat-related illness or heatstroke.

Some people are more at risk of developing a heat-related illness, including adults age 65 and older, those with chronic medical conditions, people who work outside, infants and children, and athletes. Some may take medications that make the effects of extreme heat worse. People with heart disease, poor blood circulation, obesity and mental illness are at risk for getting sick if the temperatures climb.

Working outside can produce heat stress, resulting in heat stroke, heat exhaustion, heat cramps or heat rashes. Heat can also increase the risk of injuries in workers as it may result in sweaty palms, fogged-up safety glasses and dizziness. Important safety information is available from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), at <https://www.cdc.gov/niosh/updates/upd-07-02-18.html#:~:text=Working%20outside%20can%20produce%20heat,up%20safety%20glasses%2C%20and%20dizziness>.

As temperatures rise to over 100 degrees in many regions, the American Red Cross offers steps you can take to help stay safe when the temperatures soar.

Heat Safety Tips

Hot cars can be deadly. Never leave children or pets in your vehicle. The inside temperature of the car can quickly reach 120 degrees.

Stay hydrated by drinking plenty of fluids. Avoid drinks with caffeine or alcohol.

Check on family, friends and neighbors who do not have air conditioning, who spend much of their time alone or who are more likely to be affected by the heat.

If you don't have air conditioning, seek relief from the heat during the warmest part of the day in places like schools, libraries, theaters, malls, etc.

Avoid extreme temperature changes.

Wear loose-fitting, lightweight, light-colored clothing. Avoid dark colors because they absorb the sun's rays.

Slow down, stay indoors and avoid strenuous exercise during the hottest part of the day.

Postpone outdoor games and activities.

Use your oven less to help reduce the temperature in your home.

Check on animals frequently to ensure they are not suffering from the heat. Make sure they have plenty of cool water and shade.

Excessive heat can lead to sunburn, heat cramps, heat exhaustion and heat stroke. If someone is experiencing heat cramps in the legs or abdomen, get them to a cooler place, have them rest, lightly stretch the affected muscle and replenish their fluids with half a glass (about 4 ounces) of cool water every 15 minutes. If someone is exhibiting signs of heat exhaustion (cool, moist, pale or flushed skin, heavy sweating, headache, nausea, dizziness, weakness and exhaustion), move them to a cooler place, remove or loosen tight clothing and spray the person with water or apply cool, wet cloths or towels to the skin. Fan the person. If they are conscious, give small amounts of cool water to drink. Make sure the person drinks slowly. Watch for changes in condition. If the person refuses water, vomits or begins to lose consciousness, call 911.

Heat stroke is life threatening. It usually occurs by ignoring the signals of heat exhaustion. Heat stroke develops when the body's systems are overwhelmed by heat and begin to stop functioning. Signs include hot, red skin which may be dry or moist; changes in consciousness; vomiting; and high body temperature. Call 911 immediately if someone shows signs of heat stroke. Move the person to a cooler place. Quickly cool the person's body by immersing them up to their neck in cold water if possible. Otherwise, douse or spray the person with cold water, or cover the person with cold, wet towels or bags of ice.

The Red Cross Emergency app can help keep you and your loved ones safe by putting vital information in your hand with more than 35 customizable severe weather and emergency alerts. The Red Cross First Aid app puts instant access to information on handling the most common first aid scenarios, including heat emergencies, at your fingertips. Download these apps for free by searching for 'American Red Cross' in your app store or at redcross.org/apps. # EAC Gila Pueblo welcomes Nelson to dental assisting program

GLOBE — For students looking to move into a career, the dental assisting program at Eastern Arizona College's Gila Pueblo Campus offers a way ahead — and, starting this fall, a new full-time instructor will be on hand to guide them.

Starting with Gila Pueblo as a part-time instructor in the 2022 spring semester, Donna Nelson is making the transition to full-time in August. She came to campus from the San Carlos Apache Healthcare Corporation, where she served as dental assistant supervisor. Nelson spent 34 years as a working dental assistant, 13 of them as a supervisor. In addition to San Carlos, she has worked in Colorado, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

"I look forward to getting this program going," said Nelson. This fall she will be teaching Dental Health & Safety (Mon.-Tues., 8:30-11:20 a.m.), Intro to Dental Assisting (Wed., 8:30-11:20 a.m.), and Oral Health & Prevention (Thurs., 8:30-11:20 a.m.).

"I was really impressed with the Gila Pueblo Campus; it makes it easy for the students because it's not a large, bustling campus. There's lots of opportunity to work with students one-on-one," she said. "The staff here was welcoming and more than helpful. You can't say that about too many places."

Graduates of EAC's two-semester dental assistant certificate program can go on to such specialties as orthodontic, pediatric or oral surgery; become a lab tech, making retainers or dentures; go on to dental hygiene school; and even, with enough experience, manage a dental office. Students who finish the program will earn a Certificate of Proficiency from the college, which prepares them to take the national certification test through the Dental Assisting National Board. Arizona law requires dental assistants in order to take X-rays, but they don't have to wait for graduation to take the test.

For a tuition rate of $1,350 a semester with the cost of books, graduates could move into dental assistant positions. In addition, financial aid can bring tuition costs down considerably. Many dental assisting students in the area receive the full tuition rate from Pell Grants, paying nothing out of pocket.

Enroll today in EAC Gila Pueblo Campus fall classes: Fall semester begins August 22. Financial aid is available for students who qualify. EAC offers a tuition waiver for students 55+ who have lived in Arizona for over a year. For more information on how to register, call the EAC Gila Pueblo Campus Administration Office at (928) 425-8481.
