AZACA awards JC Castaneda 2022 Animal Control Officer of the Year

Relieved Gila County residents gratefully reunited with a beloved lost dog – or who have adopted a lovable new pet from the animal shelter – already know ‘JC’ Castaneda as a dog-lover willing to go to great lengths on behalf of animals. This week the Arizona Animal Control Association (AZACA) reaffirmed what so many locals already know, by recognizing JC’s three-decade career and surprising him with a trophy commemorating him with a statewide

Drones to take flight over San Carlos Apache Reservation

For years, San Carlos Apache Gaming Enterprise has prided itself on hosting two Independence Day fireworks displays. In previous years, the displays were postponed due to the seasonal wildfires that plagued the region. In lieu of the traditional fireworks display, this year they are taking a unique approach and opting for a drone show. The show will be a 15-minute display showcased by Hire UAV Pro, a global leader in all things drone.

A major benefit to the drone show, a benefit veterans and pets are sure to enjoy, will be no loud explosions. You will be amazed by the precision and creativity of the drone displays; come out and join us and see for yourself. The first show takes place on July 1 at Apache Sky Casino at 9:30 p.m.; the second will be July 2 at 9:30 p.m., at Apache Gold Casino. These events are open to the public.

For more information, please call Apache Gold Casino, (928) 475-7800, or Apache Sky Casino, (928) 475-0077. To learn more about Hire UAV Pro, check out www.hireuavpro.com.

Caregiver early literacy training for friends, family and neighbors

It is estimated that family, friends and neighbors care for 7 million children under the age of 5 in their homes each day, making it the most prevalent form of regular, nonparental childcare.

Caring for the children of family, friends or neighbors is very important work and your library can be a partner in this effort.

Public libraries can be a great support to these caregivers, especially with pre-reading and other learning resources. The Arizona State Library has organized a team of library professionals to present hands-on educational workshops for nonparental caregivers, hosted in rural public libraries. Here are the scheduled workshops for August.

Aug 10 Page Public Library Coconino

Aug 13 Coolidge Public Library Pinal

Aug 16 Globe Public Library Gila

Aug 17 Pima Public Library Graham

Aug 18 Show Low Public Library Navajo

Aug 19 St. Johns Public Library Apache

Throughout the day there are dozens of things caregivers do with children that may not seem like learning opportunities, but learning can happen anytime and anywhere!

In these free workshops, participants will explore how to make daily routines more exciting and educational by simply talking, singing and playing.

Participants will receive a free activity kit and books to take home. Please contact the hosting library to sign up and learn more.

This project is supported by the Arizona State Library, Archives & Public Records, a division of the Secretary of State.

Community assistance needed for Baby Åskar

An open letter of request for donation help

Many of you may have seen cash donation jars around various businesses in the last two months for a sweet baby boy named Åskar Kannegaard. These have been placed in these locations in hopes of obtaining much needed funds for heart transplant-related expenses, which as of this week was successfully performed at Phoenix Children's Hospital.

Baby Åskar was born with a severely underdeveloped heart last year, and even with two major surgeries experienced within the first six months of his life, has been residing at Children's Hospital since March, awaiting his new heart.

The Children's Organ

Transplant Association (COTA) is a non-profit organization that helps manage funds for children and families who will have lifelong medical needs. As such, they have asked the Kannegaard family to raise $25,000 by November of this year. To date the total stands at about $14,000, but if this amount is reached by the fall, the COTA organization will provide an additional $2,500. The end goal is to raise $50,000, however.

We humbly ask our wonderful community to financially support this precious child and his family at this time. If 200 people would consider donating $50 each, we could easily reach that $25,000 goal by the November deadline. And if 400 people donated that same amount, the larger goal of $50,000 would be reached much sooner. Of course any amount, small or large, will be received most graciously.

Thank you in advance to all of you, neighbors, friends, church fellowships, businesses and all others who can financially contribute to this little one's well-being at this time. You may donate online at <https://cota.org/>, referencing baby Åskar's full name there, on your check, or through cash donations around town.

May God bless you richly for your donations and prayers.

ANIMAL continued from page 1

sionately advocate for the health and well-being of Gila County animals, and models that behavior to those around him.” Among the main accomplishments AZACA highlighted were JC’s tireless efforts to improve animal welfare with the grand opening of a new state-of-the-art animal care facility, which opened in September 2021. The new facility near the Gila County Fairgrounds is far more spacious than the original cramped and outdated shelter. Gila County’s new animal shelter includes 27 separate indoor/outdoor kennels for dogs, two larger kennels specifically designed for puppies and three kennels for quarantined dogs, or those requiring medical care and individual accommodation. Also new? A grooming room, a ‘get acquainted room,’ and an adjacent fenced yard where potential adoptees and prospective new owners may spend time together to ensure a good match. The fenced yard expands opportunities for volunteers, too; people willing to help socialize shelter pets can chaperone them for outdoor play and exercise. Gila County’s new animal shelter was built for cats, too – with a ‘Community Cats’ room and ‘Catio,’ along with feline-specific meet-and-greet rooms. Ten individual cages allow cats to be housed separately when needed. Industrial grade HVAC will keep animals cool and safe through Gila County’s frequent 100+ degree summer days, and together with an integrated pressure-washer, ensures a hygienic and sanitary environment. Additional spaces include a surgical area and animal quarantine unit, rooms for animals other than cats and dogs, and a sally port where a mobile veterinary van can provide additional surgical, medical and dental services. “In my sincerest opinion, JC is among the most dedicated employees in the entire state of Arizona when it comes to the profession of animal care and control,” said Beck. “John loves animals. He is passionate about his program and that passion can be seen in his work, and in his life outside of work. He cares about the safety and love of animals in Gila County, and he lives what he preaches. He remains an expert in his field, he is respected as a leader in the field by other counties and he has the utmost respect of our management staff.” AZACA’s prestigious award also recognized the 24-7 effort that JC and his few staffers made to accommodate pets and livestock during 2021 when Gila County dealt with two of the largest fires in Arizona history: the Telegraph and Mescal Fires. Each brought evacuations in Globe, Miami, El Capitan, and the surrounding areas – even the former animal shelter was forced to evacuate and temporarily move animals in its care to temporary and air-conditioned quarters on the grounds of the High Desert Middle School. JC collaborated with the Governor’s Office to acquire a portable stand-alone, air conditioned, shelter to act as a fully operational evacuation center and animal control facility for the county. His impressive efforts were realized and the county was able to care for all animals throughout the duration of the fire; livestock, too. JC worked all hours during the weeks of those evacuations, even unloading a tractor-trailer load of hay by hand and bale-by-bale, to feed evacuated farm animals. “Mr. Castaneda’s team continues to meet the program goal that 100 percent of incidents are responded to within 1-2 hours, with resolutions being made within 24 hours thereafter,” added Beck. “His work with the mobile adoption trailer, community relationships and increased collaboration with Arizona Animal Welfare League (AAWL) as well as other animal shelters, has supported the adoption of numerous unwanted animals to responsible homes for Gila County. Perhaps more importantly, Animal Care and Control under John’s leadership has increased the “live release” rate of owner-surrendered and adoptable animals, reducing euthanasia rates of impounded/shelter animals by 60 percent over the last decade. Now we’re proud to report our live release rate is an impressive 82 percent . . . and our goal there is even higher. His supervision of the Animal Care and Control Facebook page currently has led to over 3,386 likes and followers, among Gila County’s most popular Facebook communities – and a place where the public can conveniently check from their phones to see all the stray and adoptable animals we have at our facility. One of the blessings about Facebook? Our page has proven to be an effective and powerful tool for returning lost pets, sometimes within hours of them being admitted – and finding forever homes for adoptable dogs and cats. “As a program manager, I believe John’s passion and leadership are to be admired and cheered by all in the state as the standard for how we should be inspired to lead our programs and departments . . . he has educated me to the importance of stating that he is not a dog catcher, we are not simply a shelter and we do not simply control animals. We provide care and compassion. If you want to judge Gila County, look no further than how we care for our animals, as that is the truest reflection of our moral progress. JC Castaneda has been the foundation to that concept in Gila County for 30 years.”

Foot Print

One night a man had a dream...

He was walking along the beach with the Lord, and across the sky flashed scenes from his life.

In each scene, he noticed two sets of footprints in the sand;

one made by him, and the other by the Lord.

(When the last scene of his life flashed before him, he looked at the footprints in the sand, and noticed that many times along the path of his life there was only one set of footprints. He also noticed that it happened at the worst times of his life.

His bothered him, so he asked the Lord about it.

"Lord, You said that once I decided to follow You,

You'd walk with me all the way.

But, I've noticed that during times of trouble

there is only one set of footprints.

I don't understand why You left me when I needed You most."

The Lord replied, "My precious child, I love you and would never leave you... During your times of trouble where you see only one set of footprints,

I was carrying you."

Telegraph Fire Projects Public Outreach Meetings June 29-30

Gila County Public Works has scheduled two public meetings this month to inform residents about the County's Telegraph Fire Flood Mitigation Projects – ongoing mitigation following the 2021 Telegraph Fire, which burned more than 180,000 acres last year, resulting in floods once the summer rains began. The meetings will discuss plans, specifications and estimated costs for the projects. A short PowerPoint presentation will be followed by the opportunity for property owners, local residents and members of the public who are potentially impacted by construction to meet one-to-one and speak with county engineering staff, other county officials and JE Fuller representatives to discuss project specifics and ask questions. Both meetings will be held in the Board of Supervisors conference room on the west side of the Gila County courthouse at 1400 E. Ash St., on these dates and topics:

* June 29 from 6 – 8 p.m. This meeting will cover Six Shooter Canyon channel stabilization project improvements and the Ice House Canyon Project

* June 30 from 6 – 8 p.m. This meeting will cover the Russell Gulch channel improvement project

July 12 is deadline to apply for Local Sportsmen's Group grants

The Arizona Game and Fish Department (AZGFD) is accepting applications for $75,000 in annual grant funding for local sportsmen's organizations to provide public, mentored projects that are focused on the recruitment and development of new hunters and anglers.

The Local Sportsmen's Group grants program places a high priority on projects that involve the pursuit or harvest of fish or wildlife with a valid license (and any necessary hunt permit-tag) and are geared toward participants who have the appropriate experience and skill levels relevant to a particular project.

Grants will be awarded through a competitive application process. Online applications and instructions are available at www.azgfd.gov/LSG. Applications must be received no later than 11:59 p.m. (Arizona time) Tuesday, July 12.

"This grant program continues to provide much-needed funding for Arizona's conservation organizations to connect with the public through quality, mentored projects at a time when there's a huge demand for traditional outdoor and wildlife recreation like hunting and fishing," said Doug Burt, AZGFD's recruitment, retention and reactivation (R3) manager.

"The projects from these funds, and the efforts of these community groups, return far more in value than the grant dollars would on their own by providing education about safe and ethical hunting and fishing, and how sportsmen play an important role in wildlife conservation."

There is no cost to Arizona taxpayers for the grant program. Game and Fish does not receive any of the state's general funds and operates under a user-pay, public-benefit model. The grant program is an investment in the continuance of wildlife conservation efforts and outdoor recreation participation in Arizona.

To learn more about how hunters, anglers, shooters and boaters fund wildlife conservation, visit www.azgfd.com/hunting/wsfr/.

Happy 4th of July!

Tips for planning a 4th of July party

More than 332 million people live in the United States, according to the most recent data from the U.S. Census Bureau.

There's a good chance that, come July 4th, a considerable number of those individuals will be hosting or attending parties to celbrate American independence.

This year those planning a July 4th party can consider these tips as they prepare to celebrate with family and friends.

- Borrow a second grill. Those tasked with grilling often find themselves standing there for hours over hot flames. Cut down on time at the grill by adding an extra cooking surface. That's easily achieved by having more than one grill going simultaneously. Cook fast-cooking items like hamburgers and hot dogs on one grill, and reserve the other for sausages and chicken, which may need more time to reach safe levels of doneness.

- Stop peeking. Resist any urge to check the food too often. Every time you flip, press or move the meats, you compromise flavor and could make the food dry out.

- Lure insects away. Bees are attracted to sweet smells, but wasps and hornets are drawn to meats. Put a saucer of very sweet soda and some chicken scraps in a far corner of your yard to attract yellow jackets and other stinging insects to that area, drawing their attention away from guests and their meals.

- Give neighbors a heads-up. Parties and barbecues on July 4th are largely expected, but you can offer a courtesy to neighbors by informing them of your plans, including the start time and proposed ending time. If you are close with neighbors, consider inviting them to participate.

- Skip the fireworks. Even if fireworks are permitted where you live, it's best to avoid the potential safety hazards and leave fireworks displays to the professionals. Shooting off fireworks in neighborhoods causes debris to rain down on guests or land in pools, and it may even be ingested by pets or wildlife. Even sparklers can be dangerous, as they burn at 2,000 F. In fact, the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission says sparklers account for around 60 percent of injuries among children under five during summer festivities.

- Create a patriotic playlist. Use your favorite music streaming service to curate a music list that features America-specific songs, songs about summer and general party tunes. Be sure the music is in the background and does not overpower the conversation.

July 4th plans are heating up. When hosting a party or barbecue, keep it simple and safe.

Cobre Valley Independence Day Celebration begins this weekend

The Cobre Valley Independence Day Celebration is back and better than ever. We the American people mark two hundred and forty-six years of independence this July 4th, and the blessings of our liberty which we have shared with the world. On this most sacred of American holidays, we do not celebrate barbecue and trips to the lake. We do not celebrate fireworks and firecrackers. We celebrate our independence as a nation and liberty as individuals. We remember the sacrifices of our ancestors who made our celebrating possible. This we do under the waving colors of our flag.

Begin your celebrating Friday night, July 1, at the City of Globe's First Friday event. Get out to the Globe-Miami Gun Club Saturday morning, July 2, by 9 a.m. for the Independence Day Open House. Bring the whole family to learn about gun safety and proper handling. Participate in the .22 rifle golf ball shoot. Bring your guns if you have them, but bring yourselves even if you don't. Certified trainers will be onsite with a limited number of rifles and handguns for the public to experience.

Get yourselves down to Veterans Memorial Park on Sullivan St. in Miami Monday morning, July 4. Come early and take in the graceful sounds of the Centennial band. The mic goes hot at 8 a.m. for the opening ceremonies to begin. Watch the American Legion Riders escort our nation's flag in a convoy of Harleys and the Globe JROTC color guard present it for the singing of the National Anthem. Local talent Luis Rodriguez will do the honors this year of performing the anthem. Stay tuned as the Legion Riders exit for a very special treat this year with Rose Baca's Patriotic Preschoolers, who with precious young voices will perform "God Bless America" and recite the Pledge of Allegiance. More fun will follow with the Copper Cities Players performing this year's historical skit, "The Heritage of American Liberty."

Ready yourselves after the talent-packed Opening Ceremonies for this year's Patriotic Parade. Locals and out-of-towners alike will be riding, driving and walking in the parade. There will be classic cars, horses and fire engines. Greet this year's Grand Marshal, Lance Corporal Ryan Madrid, United States Marine Corps Reserves. Give a wave or a salute as we honor our eldest of local veterans riding with the VFW. Watch with anticipation to hear which float will be the winner of our first annual Patriots Award for best decoration, a $100 cash prize sponsored by Rural Air Heating and Cooling. There is tons of fun waiting for you and family at the Cobre Valley Independence Day Parade. Run over to the Globe-Miami Chamber of Commerce, or stop in at C and Ces Auction on Sullivan St. in Miami to pick up a parade entry form and enter this year's parade. If out of town, email visitorinfo@globemiamichamber.com.

But we are just getting started. Get over to the American Legion Hall located on South Broad St. in Globe at noon for a free Independence Day luncheon. Hamburgers and hot dogs will be free to the public, and bring a side or dessert dish to share if you wish. Wrap up the night with the Independence Day Tailgate Party beginning at 5 p.m. on the Hilltop lot located on the southwest corner of Hwy. 60, hosted by the Cobre Valley Republican Club, and free to the public. Bring your barbecue grill and refreshments, but no alcohol please. Live DJ Shon Bywater of 92.7 FM will entertain us through the night with all your music favorites. Get yourselves ready for a weekend full of patriotic celebrating with the 2022 Cobre Valley Independence Day Celebration!

Happy 4th of July!

Getting to know the Declaration of Independence

The Declaration of Independence is a formal document that served as the signatory colonies' statement that they were now "free and independent States." It is a vital document in American history.

On July 1, 1776, delegates from the original 13 colonies, making up the Second Continental Congress, met in Philadelphia to vote on Richard Henry Lee's motion for independence. After some deliberation, ultimately 12 of the 13 delegates voted in favor. In recognition of those 12 delegates, here are 12 facts regarding the Declaration of Independence.

1. The drafted document was officially adopted on July 4, 1776, two days after freedom from Britain was approved. However, most delegates signed the document on August 2, 1776, while others signed on a later date. John Dickinson and Robert R. Livingston never signed the Declaration of Independence.

2. John Dunlap was the official printer of Congress at the time. He worked all night and into the morning of July 5 to produce the large, single-sided sheet, known as a broadside. About 200 copies of Dunlap's broadside were made.

3. The University of Virginia owns two copies of a rare early printing of the Declaration. It is on display in the Albert and Shirley Small Special Collections Library. It is believed the copy once belonged to George Washington.

4. Benjamin Franklin, George Read, Roger Sherman, Robert Morris, George Clymer, and James Wilson signed both the Declaration of Independence and the U.S. Constitution.

5. The Declaration of Independence and the Constitution were hidden at Fort Knox during World War II, two weeks after Pearl Harbor was attacked.

6. Despite what the movie "National Treasure" will have one believe, the message on the back of the document is visible and reads "Original Declaration of Independence dated 4th July 1776."

7. Richard Stockton, a lawyer from New Jersey, was a signer of the Declaration who later recanted his support of the American revolution. He subsequently swore his allegiance to King George III after being captured by the British.

8. In 1989, an original Dunlap Broadside was found hidden behind a picture a Philadelphia man bought at a flea market for $4. It later sold for $8.1 million. Ultimately, 26 copies of the original prints have been found.

9. The United States celebrates Independence Day on July 4th, even though independence was accepted on July 2nd.

10. Early on, not everyone in America was supportive of the Declaration of Independence. Partisan politics led to discord. Federalist John Adams was feuding with Republicans and Thomas Jefferson. The anniversary date of the signing was not widely celebrated until the Federalists were no longer involved in politics.

11. The one-year anniversary of Independence Day and the celebration of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence slipped the minds of Congress in 1777. When they remembered it was July 3rd, they planned a last-minute celebration on July 4th, and each year thereafter.

12. John Trumbull's painting "Declaration of Independence," which was made into a lithograph replica by Ralph Trembly, hangs in the Rotunda of the U.S. Capitol. It is a fictional depiction of the five-man drafting committee presenting their draft to Congress, and not the signing. The painting shows 42 of the 56 signees, since Trumbull couldn't get likenesses of all involved. The men featured in the painting were never all in the room at the same time during the Declaration's debate and signing.

The Declaration of Independence is a key document in American history, and its words are celebrated each Independence Day.

God's voice is clearer when the distractions are few.

1 Kings 19:11-13

In the Song of Solomon, the bride says, "I was asleep, but my heart was awake. A voice! My beloved was knocking: 'Open to me, my sister, my darling'" (Song 5:2). In a similar way, God reaches out to us. He is speaking, knocking and seeking entrance to our lives.

Unfortunately, our restless hearts are prone to wander and our minds are distracted by the many voices competing for attention. Do you ever pull away from the clamor and try to distinguish the sound of the Beloved knocking and calling?

Jesus said that His sheep know His voice (John 10:4), but that recognition is gained through a lifelong habit of listening. In Psalm 46:10 (NIV), we are admonished to be still and know that the Lord is God. To do this, we must first shut out the noisy distractions of this world. Elijah is a good example—while standing on Mount Sinai, he expected God's presence would be in the wind, fire and earthquake, but nothing happened until it was quiet. Then he heard a voice.

We must develop the habit of settling ourselves in order to hear the Lord. Can we say to our Bridegroom that our hearts are quietly listening, even when we sleep?

Summer

By DR. DAN MORTON
Contributor

It has been said that Mark Twain made the comment, "If complaining did any good, the weather would be perfect." Perhaps he was wiser than we know, for God said: "As long as the earth endures, seedtime and harvest, cold and heat, summer and winter, day and night will never cease." Genesis 8:22

I have a friend who owns and operates a store selling winter clothing, boots and everything you might need in cold weather. Fortunately for him the store is in Gillette, Wyoming. When the temperature drops below freezing and the winds howl, he sees a great day for business.

Having lived in a climate where summer may last five months with temperatures exceeding 100 degrees, I learned to adapt. Having lived in a climate where the temperature drops below zero and seems to be stuck, I learned to adapt. Then I found a climate that generally is very comfortable, with four seasons distinguishable and little adaptation required.

Life is like that. There is the good and the bad; hot and cold; gentle and tough. Fortunately, we are adaptable because God made us that way. He knew things would be variable in our environment, our work and our play. His design for us was perfect. Sometimes we mess it up, but those are the times to go back to the "owner's manual" and ask God not to change things for us, but to change us for things.

Free Saturday movie July 2

The community is invited to beat the heat and enjoy free popcorn and root beer floats at Divine Grace Presbyterian Church on Saturday, July 2 at 1:30 p.m. Come to our fellowship hall to see a great old movie that is guaranteed to make you laugh, titled The Gods Must Be Crazy. Join us for some summer fun and bring a friend!

Lord God, Creator of all things, guide our steps and strengthen our hearts during these months of summer and vacation days. Grant us refreshment of mind and body. We ask this through Christ our Lord.

We prayed, God answered

By ELVIN FANT
Contributor

"And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose." (Romans 8:28)

All things include the good things that happened to the Kannegaard family and the perceived bad things the family of the lost child is experiencing today. In times such as this we all have mixed emotions, happy for one child and extremely sad for the parents of the other.

On April 27, Copper Country News published a call for community prayer for Askar Kannegaard. The outpouring of the Holy Spirit through our citizenry was nothing short of supernatural. It presented the needs of the Kannegaard family to the throne of God. Psalm 22:3 tells us that God "inhabits" the praise of His people. There are many ways to praise the Lord, and fervent prayer is on the top of that list. When the church comes together in corporate prayer, God moves in a mighty way. Our prayers were answered today; the

Saving Faith

Yesterday we discussed the knowledge required to become a Christian. Now, let's look at the remaining elements of saving faith: conviction and trust.

Knowledge of Jesus must be accompanied by confidence that the facts apply to us personally. First, we must own the truth that I have broken God's law, and that makes me a sinner. Second, we acknowledge that none of our efforts can earn His favor. Third, we agree that Jesus died for each of us and paid for our sins, no matter how terrible the transgressions

Lord provided a new heart for Askar.

Greater love has no one than this, that one should lay down his life for his friends. Jesus Christ laid down his life for all, and on June 21 a small child gave up his life so his friend Askar could live. We serve a sovereign God, and His ways are higher than ours. I know it's hard for the family of the lost child to understand, but the short life was planned before the foundations of the world. Now, as a community of believers, we need to hold this family up in prayer just as we did for the Kannegaard family. The family has lost their intimate relationship with their child for a short time. Scripture tells us that to be absent from the body is to be ever-present with the Lord. The mother and father will someday be absent from the body and join the Lord and their child. In time they will realize that the passing was not in vain, and that heart now continues to live in the body of Askar Kannegaard. Over the past year, many prayers have been offered. They have been answered. Let us give thanks to God.

may be. Fourth, we believe that this payment for our wrongdoing is fully sufficient; nothing else is needed. Finally, we accept by faith that we've been adopted into God's family. The invitation is extended to all humanity.

Once we are convinced that Jesus is our Savior, trust is demonstrated through action. As "new creatures" (2 Corinthians 5:17), we will have a fresh perspective and different values. Jesus, our Lord, now has authority over our life, and He alone deserves to be our highest priority.
