Farmer's Market Fundraiser: Tortillas, root beer floats & more

Sanchez-Cañez Memorial Foundation signs and public service announcements have been credited with saving lives in our communities. Prominent signs like the one at Beer Tree Crossing are a sobering reminder to "turn around, don't drown" during the monsoon season. to stay alert and aware of local weather conditions and above all, to stay out of desert washes when rainfall can turn them deadly.

Stop by the Globe Farmers Market Saturday morning. August 28, for a root beer float or Regina Ortega's fresh homemade tortillas. Those and raffle items will be available by donation, and proceeds help the Sanchez-Cañez Foundation continue to amplify their life-saving message.

July 22, 2019 is an unforgettably sad date for so many friends and family of Cathy Sanchez-Cañez, who was tragically swept away when flash flood water roared down Irene's Wash here in Globe. Cathy was a beloved teacher, daughter, sister, mom and friend -- a special education teacher who spent most of her life working with students in the Globe-Miami area.

Friends and family turned their grief into action in her memory, with roadside "Turn Around, Don't Drown" signs and raising awareness of the deadly danger of flash floods. Monsoon season has arrived; never underestimate the power of water during a flash flood. Phone and Internet Discounts Available to CenturyLink Customers

The Arizona Corporation Commission designated CenturyLink as an Eligible Telecommunications Carrier within its service area for universal service purposes. CenturyLink's basic local service rates for residential voice lines are $18.47 per month and business services are $35.00 per month. Specific rates will be provided upon request.

CenturyLink participates in a government benefit program (Lifeline) to make residential telephone or broadband service more affordable to eligible low-income individuals and families. Eligible customers are those that meet eligibility standards as defined by the FCC and state commissions. Residents who live on federally recognized Tribal Lands may qualify for additional Tribal benefits if they participate in certain additional federal eligibility programs. The Lifeline discount is available for only one telephone or broadband service per household, which can be on either wireline or wireless service. Broadband speeds must be 25 Mbps download and 3 Mbps upload or faster to qualify.

A household is defined for the purposes of the Lifeline program as any individual or group of individuals who live together at the same address and share income and expenses. Lifeline service is not transferable, and only eligible consumers may enroll in the program. Consumers who willfully make false statements in order to obtain Lifeline telephone or broadband service can be punished by fine or imprisonment and can be barred from the program.

If you live in a CenturyLink service area, please call 1-800-201-4099 or visit centurylink.com/lifeline with questions or to request an application for the Lifeline program.

Registration open for National CleanUp Day

The Adopt a Highway Volunteer Program welcomes you to make a positive difference on National CleanUp Day, Saturday, Sept. 18.

In 2020, over 330 Adopt a Highway volunteers collected 4.3 tons of trash in one day. That's triple from the previous year and we hope to meet or beat that record with your help.

Permitted volunteer groups or those interested in conducting a one-time cleanup may register to participate now. ADOT grants one-day permits on a first-come, first-served basis and we'll do our best to find an adoptable section near your desired location.

For existing Adopt a Highway Volunteer groups, or one-day permit holders that decide to keep their permit for two years, this event counts toward your annual cleanup requirement.

All groups must report litter bag totals and number of volunteers to ADOT within three days after the event. ADOT tracks litter data each year to help improve the program and share the accomplishments of 4,700 volunteers.

Groups reporting this important information receive a printable certificate of appreciation for participating.

The Adopt a Highway team plans to visit as many volunteer groups on-site as logistics allow. If your segment is along our route on Sept. 18 we will contact you prior to National CleanUp Day.

We'd love to see and share your National CleanUp Day photos on social media. Please use the hashtag #NationalCleanUpDay and tag your photos with @ArizonaDOT.

Thank you for considering ADOT as an opportunity to unite and reduce litter. Visit Adopt a Highway at azdot.gov for more information.

At this time we are asking volunteer group leaders and all volunteers to respect guidelines for social distancing during cleanups

Keep groups as small as possible, as recommended by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Globe City Council takes bold step toward making Globe "another jewel in Arizona"

By Carol Broeder

Contributor

"Business-friendly and pro-development."

That's how Mayor Al Gameros describes the City of Globe, boasting its newly evolved Economic and Community Development Department.

With Linda Oddonetto as director, the new department combines Economic Development, Plan Review, Zoning Administrator, Building Official/Permitting, Code Enforcement, Development Services and Besh Ba Gowah Archaeological Park & Museum.

By combining departments, "we are now able to offer consistent, high-quality service, cut the red tape" and provide necessary information to interested developers and investors, says Gameros.

It's something the previous city council was interested in and "we still are focused on this priority for our future growth and sustainability," says Councilman Freddy Rios, now in his second term.

While Councilman Fernando Shipley hears concerns Economic Development is already doing too much, he disagrees. He is glad City Manager Paul Jepson is "divvying out some responsibilities to other people, utilizing our current staff and resources in the best way possible.

"As long as it doesn't get bogged down, I'm all for it," Shipley says. "It's worth a try, and if it doesn't work out, we can always fix it."

According to Oddonetto, the recent Council vote simply made official the way her department has operated for nearly 10 months now. "It is designed to provide the best customer service experience possible for both new and existing businesses," she says.

Economic Development Specialist Melissa Steele explains that now, a business who comes to the City "can work with one department through the entire process."

"It makes perfect sense bringing in and maintaining the contact, giving us the chance to go through the life cycle of a business," says Councilman Mariano Gonzalez, deeming it "one stop shopping."

"They are there for the development of the city for both businesses and citizens," he says.

"Now they have only one point of contact instead of multiple," says Code Enforcement Specialist Michelle Yerkovich, who has been with the City nearly five years now and has established a strong code enforcement program.

As part of the ECD staff, Yerkovich gets in on the process earlier and plays a different role -- more involved in the development side now.

"We are working closely together," she says. "It's exciting to be involved from a more proactive approach."

Under Yerkovich's supervision, Carl Hacker has been the City's building inspector since November 2020.

While it's "all new" for Hacker, now he is part of a team "building a new department; creating more intuitive procedures and making it more streamlined than it was before," he explains.

Hailing from the Payson and Tonto Basin areas, Hacker was previously a building contractor. "My experience in the field definitely helps me in this position," he says.

"I am an open book for anyone who has questions," says Hacker, who does "courtesy inspections" for residents considering a building permit. They are not real estate home inspections or full-blown code evaluations, but rather part of a "permit guiding process," he explains.

Having worked in the Globe area before, Hacker understands many buildings are more than 100 years old. "People did the best they could with the materials they had, and there were no building codes back then," he explains.

"My door is always open," says Hacker, who wants to help residents get through the permit process.

Rios points out that the "aging" issue applies to City infrastructure as well.

"That's one reason I support economic development," he says. "We live in a 100-year-old city and our infrastructure is reaching the end of its useful life. We want to pass on good, solid infrastructure for the next 100 years."

Faced with too many challenges, such as being surprised with a required permit they didn't know about, new entrepreneurs may decide not to do business in Globe, Rios says.

"We don't want to get in the way. We want to help and welcome them," he says. "The community can be assured that the current Mayor, Council and staff are breaking down the barriers for the city and business community."

To grow, "you have to be pragmatic and creative," says Gonzalez, describing ECD staff as both--thinking of things that haven't even occurred to Council members.

"We are on the cusp of economic development the magnitude of which we have never seen," says Gonzalez. "We're going to be the next Sedona or Prescott—another jewel in Arizona."

Jesus Nazareo Rivas, Sr.

Jesus Nazareo Rivas Sr. was born June 12, 1959 to Esteban Rivas and Petra Rodriguez in Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas, Mexico. He was raised an only child and began learning what hard work was at the early age of six. Jesus would go to work with his father, stomping in mud pits where mortar was made to create bricks, then he would carry buckets of mud over to the brick makers. He was doing his part to help his mother.

At the age of 14 he had the opportunity to come to the United States on a student visa. He came to live with his aunt and uncle, and attended Burbank High School in San Antonio, Texas. While in school he was a member of the JROTC drill team and would attend competitions. Jesus also worked while he was in school. He worked in a Mexican food restaurant, where he started as a dishwasher, and by the age of 16 was trusted with managing one of the many restaurants his bosses owned. Working all those years in the restaurants he gained incredible cooking skills. Anything he cooked, he made with such ease and it was delicious!

At the age of 17, while working at Lupita's Restaurant, he met Adelina Garcia. He said he knew she was the one because every time she would enter the room he had butterflies in his stomach. Shortly after meeting they became boyfriend and girlfriend.

Jesus loved and raised Adelina's two oldest children Jessica and George, and together they had an additional three, Juliette, Jesus Jr. (Jesse) and Jennie. Jesus and Adelina were together 45 years and married for 40 years. He mentioned more than once that he never stopped having butterflies when he would see his wife, his first and only girlfriend. During their time together Jesus and Adelina would work together for many years. They became master merchants for Church's Chicken franchises they would help run for their friends.

This task would bring them to Arizona in 1985. bringing along their family of seven. Before moving to Arizona. Jesus and Adelina joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. They would raise their children in the church. and were sealed for time and all eternity on Nov. 22, 1987. Jesus later worked in construction, and was part of the surveying team that built the new bridge going into Apache Junction. Jesus worked on continuing his education while working in the copper mines, then changing careers once again. He graduated from Eastern Arizona College, and began work as a case manager for DES. He was later hired on at Horizon, where he helped to rehabilitate special needs individuals.

Jesus lived a life of service. He served in many church callings throughout his life. Being responsible for the missionaries in his area, he made sure all the young men and women serving were on track. He guided them, parented them and made sure they always had clean clothes and plenty to eat. He prayed daily for service opportunities.

He enjoyed playing and watching soccer. Jesus was an avid martial arts enthusiast. He loved all things Bruce Lee, Star Trek, old westerns and the Incredible Hulk.

Above all things he loved the Savior and his family.

Jesus is preceded in death by his parents Esteban Rivas and Petra Rodriguez, daughter Jessica Rivas and son George Rivas.

He is survived by his wife Adelina Garcia Rivas of Globe, Az.; daughters Juliette Rivas and Jennie Hernandez (Marc), both of San Antonio, Texas; son Jesus Rivas Jr., of Mesa, Az.; and nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Sat. Aug. 21, 2021.

Assisting the family; Lamont Mortuary of Globe.

Fred Edward Ruiz, age 84, of Globe, Az. passed into eternity on Aug. 14, 2021 at his home in Mesa, Az.

Fred was born in Miami, Az. on April 23, 1937.

Fred married Sally Sanchez, of Safford, Az. and they had three children: Rosemary Crawford, of Mesa; Eddie Ruiz, of Glendale, Az.; and Fred Ruiz, deceased.

Prepare now for 2022 spring draw

Portal account needed to access draw results; automated phone service ending

The dog days of summer are officially here, but this is the perfect time for hunters to be doing some spring cleaning, metaphorically speaking, of course.

For those planning to apply next month for 2022 spring turkey, javelina, bison, bear and raptor capture permit-tags, the Arizona Game and Fish Department (AZGFD) offers the following tips — none of which requires breaking a sweat to do it.

- Check your AZGFD portal account. Take this time before the opening of the spring draw to review your personal data, including your application history and total bonus points (bonus, loyalty, hunter education). If something seems amiss, call AZGFD at 602-942-3000 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.
- Open an AZGFD portal account. Just visit accounts.azgfd.com/Account/

Register and fill in the reguired information. Note: AZGFD no longer provides draw results through its automated phone service. The department encourages all customers to have an AZGFD portal account; that's the only place where draw results will be posted. Family account features are now available with a portal account, so everyone - including youth — can view their draw results online as soon as they are available.

Applicants must possess a valid Arizona hunting license (or combination hunt and fish license) to apply online for a hunt permit-tag. That license must be valid on the last day of the online application period (Oct. 12). Licenses are available online, and at any AZGFD office or license dealers statewide. Note: When purchasing an Arizona hunting (or combination hunt and fish) license online, the license number will appear at the bottom of the customer's receipt. Don't throw it away! That license number will be required as part of the draw application process.

- Know your Department ID or Customer ID. This is a must to submit an application. There are three ways to locate a Department ID or Customer ID: Log into your AZGFD portal account, and click on "View Details" under "My AZGFD Dashboard;" check your hunting or combination hunt and fish license, if it was purchased online or at any AZGFD office; or call AZGFD at 602-942-3000 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.
- View "What You Need to Know," a list of frequently asked questions (FAQs), at www.azgfd. com/Hunting/Draw/.

Obituary deadlines are on Fridays at 8 a.m. for the Copper Country News. Obituaries can be submitted by email at obits@silverbelt.com, or in person at 298 N Pine Street in Globe.

AZGFD to host virtual public meetings to discuss plans for the future of the state's wildlife

Courtesy photo

The Arizona Game and Fish Department (AZGFD) is updating its 10-year conservation plan — the Arizona Wildlife Conservation Strategy (AWCS) — and is sharing the core elements of the new strategy based on public input to date.

The department will host three virtual meetings in September to discuss enhancements to the AWCS and obtain feedback from the public. The meeting dates and times are:

- Monday, Sept. 20, 7-8
- Tuesday, Sept. 21, noon to 1 p.m.
- Wednesday, Sept. 22, 7-8 p.m.

To attend a meeting from your computer, tablet or smartphone, visit https://global.gotomeeting.com/join/938773205. Those who haven't previously used the GoToMeeting app can download it from that link. Alternatively, people can dial in by phone at 1-669-224-3412, access code 938-773-205.

Each meeting will include information on proposed changes to the Strategy, including designation of Conservation Opportunity Areas, a Conservation Analysis Tool and Data Warehouse and a new way for the public to engage with the Strategy online, followed by a Q&A session. The same content will be covered in all three meetings.

The AWCS encourages collaboration with partners to make focused strategic investments in the management, conservation, and mitigation of areas that will have the greatest benefit for wildlife using the best available science.

Because everyone in Arizona is integral to the success of the AWCS revision, understanding mutual interests and needs, sharing data and information (where feasible), and developing collaborative implementation strategies will maximize the plan's effectiveness and the collective efforts to conserve Arizona's fish and wildlife resources.

Developing the AWCS included a statewide survey, focus groups, and meetings with partner organizations. Following the public meetings, AZGFD will distribute another statewide survey for the public to share perspectives on the AWCS, which is slated to be completed in 2022.

For more information on the AWCS, including survey results, summaries of focus group discussions, and a link to the 2012-2022 Arizona State Wildlife Action Plan, visit https://www.azgfd.com/wildlife/actionplan/.

Capstone thanks ADOT for support

US Highway 60 (US 60) is a vital road that connects the communities of Globe and Miami, near our Pinto Valley Mine, to the Phoenix metro area. In the early hours of August 11, two sections of US 60 sustained heavy damage due to flash floods and had to be closed. This disrupted traffic and added approximately 90 minutes travelers' commutes due to road diversions. We quickly joined forces with the Arizona Department of Transportation (ADOT) and worked together with Ames Construction, on behalf of ADOT, to load trucks with limestone rock from Pinto Valley's open pit that were placed to shore up the roadway.

Within 36 hours, the damaged sections of US 60 were repaired and the road was reopened. Kudos to Pinto Valley's team, who worked with and coordinated the safety protocols that allowed ADOT access to Pinto Valley Mine to carry out the road stabilization operation. We are proud to work alongside ADOT to support our communities.

ADOT trucks work to repair US 60.

United Fund: Agencies that serve the community

By CAROL BROEDER

Contributor

We look this week at the Punchers Tackle Football Program and Gila County 4-H Leadership Program, as part of our ongoing series featuring 21 local nonprofits United Fund supports.

Gila County 4-H Leadership Program

4-H has been part of the community since 1965, when its first Livestock Show and Sale was held in Globe. Before that, area youth exhibited and sold in Pima County. Wanting to give youth opportunity to show locally, interested community members approached the County Board of Supervisors with a plan for developing a facility. The group's vision included a race track and supporting structures, paid for by parimutuel betting. It worked! The track, grandstand and barns were built, and other buildings and structures followed—all for the benefit of county youth, says Karen Donaldson, now in her 12th vear with local 4-H.

This year, the local 4-H has 112 youth members and 23 adult volunteer leaders.

"To Make the Best Better" is the 4-H motto. While 4-H is often seen as a youth livestock club, Donaldson says it's not. Rather, it's "an organization of project clubs, limited only by the availability of volunteers. Youth join multiple project clubs because they can, which broadens their experiences."

4-H isn't only about competition and rewards. "It is about finding out what the youth is interested in, setting goals and working toward those goals, learning along the way that obstacles must be met and plans adjusted, with value and personal growth in the process," she says.

UF support makes a "huge difference" for the program in both quality and reach, Donaldson says.

With some 4-H families struggling with economic hardship in the past year, "UF funds allow us to make everything the program offers available to all youth. We can plan to enjoy more educational and fun activities, confident that we will be able to include everyone," she says.

Examples include sending youth to camps and 4-H Summit at the University of Arizona, where they explore possible careers while experiencing campus life, Donaldson says.

UF support allows 4-H to start new projects like kayaking and buy club supplies and materials, such as STEM Club items, with which youth create rockets and dissect frogs, she explains.

Yet, 4-H is not all fun and games. After recent flooding in Miami and El Capitan, local 4-H youth volunteered, contributing to the cleanup in ways both large and small: from moving tons of hay at a ranch damaged first by the fires and then by flooding to scooping up mud on the streets of Miami, helping move belongings out of a flood-damaged house near Pinto Creek and more.

"These are tomorrow's leaders and, frankly, they are leading today and serving as fine examples of young men and women in our community and beyond," Donaldson says. "UF helps, in a big way, make all of this possible."

Punchers Tackle Football and Cheer Program

Formed in the community about five years ago, Punchers is part of the eight-program Northern Arizona Youth Football League.

As such, Punchers plays against "all the schools up north," says Punchers Board President Marcos Franco, involved since its 2016 inception.

"We started with handme downs for jerseys and all our equipment," he says. "Now we are one of the most efficient programs in the league. We have leagues calling to see where we get our helmets and shoulder pads, etc."

"Without United Fund we wouldn't be where we are today," Franco says.

Due to financial hardship from Covid-19, this year Punchers lowered its costs to participate with help from United Fund.

Now there are more than 100 children in the program, with three football divisions and 25 in cheer.

There is currently one girl playing football and Franco says if boys want to cheer and girls want to play football, the choice is up to them.

"Punchers is a great organization that builds teamwork and skills you use throughout life," says Franco, who describes it as a "good family bonding experience." Because of that, the local program has one of the league's largest fan bases attending and traveling to the games.

For anyone interested in signing up, registration is held in the spring. Follow the Punchers Facebook page for further information. How to help the agen-

Ana Medina to lead PGCSC into the future

After 40 years as a recognized leader in aging and senior services, Olivia B. Guerrero, BSW, MS., will be retiring as President/ CEO of Pinal-Gila Council for Senior Citizens (PGC-SC), Board of Directors Chairwoman Joan Koczor has announced. "During her 31 years of service for the organization she represented Pinal and Gila seniors well," said Koczor. "We thank Olivia for her vears of dedicated service to the seniors of Pinal and Gila Counties, and the incredible success of PGCSC under her leadership. Olivia's legacy of unwavering leadership and advocacy will live on, and we wish her all the best in her retirement "

Guerrero will be retiring from PGCSC on Aug. 31, 2021 and will spend her time both in Globe and in Casa Grande with her mother Gloria, 94, and her family.

PGCSC Chief Operating Officer Ana G. Medina has been named as Guerrero's successor and will take on the leadership effective Sept. 1, 2021.

Under Guerrero's leadership the organization is seen as a reputable and innovative 501(c)(3) organization. Guerrero added new services as they became available since 1990 under the Older Americans Act, including the Ombudsman, Medicare Counseling, Minor Home Repair, Direct Case-Management Services, Family Caregiver Services. Behavioral Health. Health & Wellness Programs, Substance Abuse Prevention, Mobility Management and many other projects. She will always be recognized for fulfilling the organization's longtime goal of having a permanent home, the administration building on 8969 W. Mc-Cartney Rd. and the newly dedicated "Jim Norris Central Kitchen." She in turn credited the Board of Directors, Advisory Council, Administration and Program Directors, the entire staff and volunteers, and Area Agency - Provider Network who work tirelessly on each of the programs.

"They are the ones who molded and developed their programs to fit the needs of our seniors. They are the real heart and soul of the agency's success," Guerrero said. "I have always felt the agency was blessed because the common goal is to care for our seniors as if they are our own parents."

A longtime colleague, Ms. Mary Lynn Kasunic, President/CEO of the Area Agency on Aging, Region I – Maricopa County, said, "I have always admired her innovations in serving minority and rural elders. Her retirement will leave a gap in the aging field and the state of Arizona."

Among her many affiliations, Guerrero served on the National Association of Area Agencies on Aging Board of Directors in Washington D.C. and chaired their first Diversity ad-hoc aging committee. She is also a co-founder of the Latino Familia Initiative in Pinal County.

Through the succession planning process, the Administration has been working over the last few vears on a plan to assure a smooth transition for the leadership of PGCSC when the time came. The Board of Directors selected Medina to be the next president and CEO of PGCSC, reporting directly to the Board. She has been a longtime resident of Eloy/ Casa Grande, has an A.A. in Management from CAC, a BS in Public Administration, and is a Certified Public Manager with over 30 years of experience in local government and non-profit operations. She is also a graduate from the National Association of Area Agencies on Aging Leadership Institute and the Hispanic Leadership Institute-Pinal. Medina has successfully held the chief operating officer position for the last 13 years. While overseeing 10 senior centers in Pinal and Gila she was able to solidify the Aging Provider Network while instituting the new Meals on Wheels of Central Arizona Operations. Her hard work will now enable Meals on Wheels and Senior Center Congregate meals to be extended to unincorporated areas and reach new communities. Besides running the corporation, she will provide oversight in fulfilling the designation requirements and mandates as the designated Area Agency on Aging for Region V. The Area Agency on Aging is the focal point for regional aging services and is responsible for the planning, advocacy and administering of senior services and funding under the OAA and State DES, Aging & Adult Services (DAAS). Mary Lou Rosales, Pinal-Gila Foundation Board and CAHRA Executive Director, is "confident Ana Medina is the right person to lead PGCSC into the future with her experience in governmental, non-profit and aging programs. Her keen sense of senior and community needs, and the value she places on the people/ organizations who serve them, is the right combination for future success."

Take steps towards a 5K? Globe Library Walk/Run Club says: Yes You Can!

The best incentive for more exercise is to have a reliable workout partner or join a group. Globe Public Library's 5K Club has done more than that over the past three years, and promises that participants "can go from no exercise to walking or running a 5K -- that's 3.1 miles -- in just a few months"

What the group lacks in fees (there are none), it makes up with a supportive atmosphere and fun incentives, such as weekly raffle prizes -- ranging from exercise gear for people, to 'Chuck-It' tennis ball throwers for well-behaved and leashed dogs who join their people on evening outings. The club's new season resumed Monday with a 7 p.m. meetup outside the Library, but you haven't missed out -- new members are welcome to join this Wednesday and Thursday, and again Monday-Wednesday-Thursday over the next eight weeks of September and October, encouraging each other to go just a little farther or shave another half-minute off their roundtrip time -with a goal of completing to the Witch Way 5K on Oct. 18. And once again this season participants are welcome to join a hybrid version of the club. Meet in person each Monday. Wednesday and Thursday for 7:00 downtown walks from the Globe Public Library, or participate virtually by posting your FitBit or Apple Watch screenshot of your mileage and time to the group's page on Facebook, to be eligible for weekly prize drawings each Thursday. All ages and all anytime. Walks continue fitness levels are welcome -- even walkers who use a walker are welcome (see photos on our group page). "We have a running group and also a walking group," said a club organizer. "We'll start with realistic goals, and in two months we'll participate with an actual 5K! We follow a program known as the 'Couch to 5K' that is designed for people who get little exercise or none.

This is also a chance to experience our great city of Globe from ground level. We'll be walking and jogging streets you may never have walked or explored, and we'll choose various locations each evening, meeting as a group and starting from the Library."

Contact tracer? Clerk? Road equipment operator? Gila County is hiring

Last week Gila County Public Health reported 115 positive cases of Covid-19. With each new case, the detective work begins; confidential interviews with the Covid-positive patient, followed by equally confidential outreach to alert family, friends, coworkers and parishioners potentially exposed to the coronavirus. It's a job well suited to those with a knack for research, with good people skills, a deep appreciation for discretion and solid person-to-person communication.

The job title is 'Communicable Disease Specialist' with Health and Emergency Management. New hires are invited to apply, and the pay ranges from $34,610 - $47,589. What leads the task list? Here we go again...

By Pastor Nick Jones

Maranatha Baptist Church

I don't know about you, but I had hoped that after this crazy summer of fires and floods that we would be getting back to some sense of normalcy around here. You may ask, "What is even 'normal' anymore?" Perhaps I am a little naive or even just too much of a dreamer, but I thought our life patterns could resemble what they did a few years ago. I long for the time before Covid. The time before the fires and floods brought so much devastation to our community. The time before the Taliban takeover of Kabul brought uncertainty to so much in the world. Lately, I often wake up every morning wondering what could possibly go wrong in the world today.

As I've reflected on this, however, I've come to remember that nothing "goes back" but only moves forward. With our news cycles filled with more devastation in our own community and around the world, we must buckle up and prepare to move forward. We may not know what tomorrow holds, but God does. We must look to Him through these ever changing moments.

The big question is "How?" You may admit, "I just feel so anxious and overwhelmed with it all." I'll confess that I have moments when I feel the same way. Yet we must remind ourselves, especially if we profess faith in Christ, that God is still on His throne and this world still belongs to Him.

If you are a follower of Christ today and you are struggling during these upsetting times, let me assure you that you are not alone. Those feelings of anxiety and worry are shared by many. "But doesn't the Bible say not to be anxious?" Yes! The Apostle Paul writes, "Do not be anxious about anything" (Philippians 4:6). Even just reading those words out of context can make Christians anxious; now I'm anxious about being anxious. Yikes, that's an unhealthy spiral to fall down!

You see, while we pull passages out of context, trying to use them either as a bit of fortune-cookie wisdom or even as some sort of spiritual bandage, we must remember that those words were given within a bigger context. Therefore, the first thing we should point out is that anxiety is something that is part of our experience. It's not a good part, but it is a part and therefore, the Bible is being realistic about human nature. We are going to be anxious at times. The question then is what are we going to do about it?

This passage in Philippians gives us a good place to start. Here is the passage in context: "The Lord is at hand; do not be anxious about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus. (Philippians 4:5-7). Paul is not just giving instruction on what not to do, he is offering guidance on what we should be doing instead.

Anxiety is an emotional reaction to our circumstances. When we feel powerless over a situation or worried about how something will turn out, we experience anxiety. Fear of the unknown, stress induced by unforeseen events, restlessness brought on by constant thoughts of uncertainty; these are an unhealthy experience of anxiety. Therefore, Paul's guidance is for believers to first remember that God has not left His people but is ever with them. While we may feel far from God at times, God is not distant from His people (Psalm 34:17-18; Matthew 28:20).

Second, God's people must continue to come to Him in prayer. Don't limit your prayers to three sentences before you eat your meals. Rather, find time to spend extended periods of time in prayer. Read a psalm and use those words to reflect your own prayers to God. Finally, Paul instructs believers that when we reorient our anxiety towards God, He will bring us peace that is beyond any peace this world can offer.

So as you long for all this mess to be over, as you long to push pause on our current cultural moment in order to catch your breath, as you just wish you could get a little rest from it all, take some time to consider the call of Christ; He offers of the kind of rest you will never find apart from Him. Listen to these words from Jesus Himself: "Come to me, all who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me, for I am gentle and lowly in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light" (Matthew 11:28-30).

Let me leave you with a brief disclaimer. These ideas are not the equivalent of a muffin recipe. I'm not telling you that if you just follow these three steps everything will magically get better. Like all things, time and patience are important. However, if you are a follower of Christ today, I can guarantee that God will use our current circumstances to work on you in some way. Why not start here? This is what I intend to do. Recognize the anxious feelings you are dealing with and use this as an opportunity to draw closer to our God. Will you join me?

Interim Pastor, Dr. Robbin MacDonald.

Film screening at Globe Christian Center

A film on the Rapture, "Before the Wrath," will be shown at the Globe Christian Center on Sunday, August 29, at 5:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome.

When Jesus spoke of His coming again, He often compared the event to a wedding. Some of the meaning may be lost to modern readers, whose wedding customs may be very different. In "Before the Wrath," popular Bible teachers explain a marriage of ancient Galilee. Images of a fictional, typical couple depict long-ago customs that relate to events today.

In Galilee, mutual consent and long planning ended with a "surprise" wedding ceremony. As the hour approached the bride had to be ready at any moment, just as believers today are urged to be ready and watchful. Only the father of the groom knew when he would announce that the moment had arrived. Then the bride would be whisked off on a litter to her new home, where joyful festivities were begun.

Majesty

Dr. Dan Morton

Contributor

We see stories of the royalty of England almost daily, along with their family squabbles and good items as well. When a person has been put on a pinnacle in view of everyone, they must be aware that their life is no longer their own. Such is the cost of majesty.

The apostle Peter was explaining the apostles' association with Jesus Christ and the acceptance of Him in II Peter 1:16: "We did not follow cleverly invented stories when we told you about the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we were eyewitnesses of his majesty. For he received honor and glory from God the Father when the voice came to him from the Majestic Glory, saying, 'This is my Son, whom I love; with him I am well pleased.' We ourselves heard this voice that came from heaven when we were with him on the sacred mountain."

Here was one of the many who saw Jesus, heard his teachings and witnessed the healings as they travelled with him. Hearing the pronouncement from God was confirmation of a majestic being even as they saw it themselves.

David was praising the Lord in a large assembly, as written in: I Chronicles 29:11: "Yours, O Lord, is the greatness and the power and the glory and the majesty and the splendor, for everything in heaven and earth is yours."

When we accept Jesus into our life, we acknowledge that we are a part of a royal team.

Sausages and Peppers Country Style Serves 8 generously

- ablespoons olive oil
- spicy or sweet Italian sausages (11/2 to 2 pounds total)
- red bell pepper, thinly sliced
- yellow bell pepper, thinly sliced
- 1 medium onion, sliced
- 6 cloves garlic, thickly sliced
- teaspoon red pepper flakes
- tablespoons chopped fresh Italian parsley
- teaspoons chopped fresh rosemary 2
- cup white wine
- 141/2-ounce can Italian-style stewed tomatoes, drained and chopped; iuice reserved
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

PAVING

1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper

In a large saute pan, heat 2 tablespoons of the olive oil over medium-high heat. When the oil is hot, brown the sausages on all sides. Remove the sausages to a big plate, slice each into thirds for easier serving, and cover to keep warm. In the same pan, in the oil left from the sausages, fry the bell peppers over high heat until just brown, about 3 to 4 minutes. Transfer to the plate with the sausages. Add the remaining 2 tablespoons olive oil to the pan, reduce heat to medium. When the oil is hot, add the onion, garlic, red pepper flakes, 2 tablespoons of the parsley, and rosemary until the onion is tender, about 6 to 8 minutes. Add the wine, stirring gently to dislodge any browned bits from the bottom of the pan. Continue cooking to reduce liquid by half, for about 3 to 4 minutes

Add tomatoes, salt and pepper, and cook until nearly dry, about 7 to 8 minutes. Return the sausages and peppers to the pan, and add the reserved tomato juice, stirring to incorporate. Bring to a boil, then simmer, stirring often, until the sausages are cooked through and the sauce has thickened, about 15

Serve with homemade or pre-purchased polenta.

Relief to local ranchers | Business classes

County Supervisor Woody Cline presents a $30,000 check from the Board of Supervisors to Gila County Cattle Growers Association President Frank DalMolin. The money will help local ranchers affected by this year's wildfires and flooding. "I'd like to thank all the supervisors for their generous donation," said DalMolin. "It will certainly help the ranchers that lost all their infrastructure and some that had to sell all their cattle."

Business classes return to Gila Pueblo

The fall semester at Eastern Arizona College's Gila Pueblo Campus has begun – classes started August 23 – and it will feature the return of classes that haven't been offered in years, at least in person.

Business classes are coming back to campus, including Introduction to Business (BUA101), Business Communication (BUA259) and Introduction to Entrepreneurship (SBM110). The classes will be led by new instructor Simon Agus, who brings over 30 years of business experience and holds a Master's in Business Administration. In addition, Agus is certified as a Career Technical Education teacher in business and marketing and is a OuickBooks Certified Pro-Advisor.

Agus has been a financial controller, consultant, trainer, accountant and analyst for various companies, works as owner/entrepreneur/consultant of SLA Accounting, Tax & Consulting Services and has led training seminars at San Carlos Apache College.

He is a head deacon with the Church of Christ in Globe and has taught with Children's Worship Service for 18 years. "I love to be involved in a not-for-profit organization for community service delivery and advocacy works," he said.

In the new courses, students will gain a background in business terminology as well as better understanding of available career opportunities and business' role in the American economy (Introduction to Business); develop knowledge and skills for effective communication within the field (Business Communication); and gain insight into managing a business (Introduction to Entrepreneurship). "I am so thrilled to teach and impart my expertise in these subjects," said Agus. The three new classes will be taught on Fridays starting at 6 p.m. and Saturdays starting at 2

Applications open for fire-related damage compensation

Private landowners dealing with emergency infrastructure repairs for damage resulting from fires or fire suppression activities: applications are being accepted starting Friday Aug. 20 for relief ranging from $5,000 - $500,000. In June Governor Doug Ducey authorized $100 million to address Arizona wildfires and aftereffects on the people of Arizona. The Arizona Department of Forestry and Fire Management is overseeing $10 million of that total specifically dedicated to assist private and public landowners. Awards will be limited to a minimum of $5,000 and a maximum of $500,000 per award. Some projects may be offered only partial funding depending on the severity of demonstrated need and funding availability at the time of the request. The Arizona Post-Wildfire Infrastructure Assistance Program will allocate $10 million to support infrastructure recovery efforts to mitigate the impact of Arizona wildfires. Awards will be limited to those applicants most significantly impacted, on a first-come, first-served basis. Applicants will be those whose needs were not met by other funding sources, such as insurance, federal agencies, etc. and who can demonstrate the DFFM Post-Wildfire Infrastructure Assistance Program is the payer of last resort.

How to Apply

The application period opened Friday, Aug. 20; links have been posted online at dffm.az.gov will be posted with application information and instructions. Once all funds have been expended the application period will close.

Please review the Request for Proposal Guidance for additional information on eligibility requirements, program goals, application process and submission.

The Arizona Department of Forestry and Fire Management invites proposals from public and private landowners for emergency repairs for infrastructure damaged by fires or fire suppression activities which occurred on July 1, 2020, and after. The Post-Wildfire Infrastructure Assistance Program goal is to assist in infrastructure repairs to physical systems, operational structures, and facilities needed for the use of urban, rural, agricultural, cultural, and natural resources. HB 2001 stipulates that DFFM must be the payor of last resort and requires that these monies be used to supplement, not supplant any federal monies. We interpret this to mean that applicants will have to exhaust all other funding sources before we can fund their project. Also funded under HB 2001 were

- * $25 million for the Healthy Forest Initiative
- * $19 million for wildfire suppression
- * $36 million in funding for mitigation projects to address post fire flooding
