32nd Annual Apache Leap Mining Festival planned for March 13 -15

SUPERIOR — From interactive mining-themed activities to music and dancing, this one-of-a-kind event offers fun for visitors of all ages from Friday, March 13 through Sunday, March 15.

The Superior Chamber of Commerce will present the 32nd Annual Apache Leap Mining Festival, a fun-filled event that showcases Superior's rich history as a mining town. The theme of this year's festival is "Celebrating Mining Machinery, Past and Present." Featuring an exciting line-up of family-friendly activities — including a parade, carnival, live entertainment, and opportunities to learn about the history of Superior and the mining industry — this unique event is much-loved by locals and visitors each year.

The Apache Leap Mining Festival will launch on Friday evening with a carnival, vendors selling food and handcrafted goods, music and dancing on Main Street. The festivities will continue on Saturday, beginning with the annual parade and hilarious Chihuahua races, which feature a runoff between the fastest small dog and the fastest Chihuahua. Live entertainment will contribute to the upbeat atmosphere throughout the day, culminating with Saturday night's headliner band, Power Drive.

Each year, the Festival features a variety of fun hands-on activities for all ages. For instance, attendees will not want to miss the mining competition, in which participants perform grueling tasks such as sawing, mucking, spiking and drilling in a battle to win a portion of the coveted prize of $3,000. Less strenuous options will include a tug-of-war competition and rock painting for a project called Superior Rocks, in which small painted rocks are hidden throughout the downtown area, found and admired, and then re-hidden for someone else to find. Younger members of the family will enjoy the Kid's Zone, where they will learn about mining through hands-on activities, like panning for pennies. After a full day, attendees can relax and enjoy a refreshing beverage in the Blasting Zone Beer Garden.

Offering a unique educational opportunity, representatives from different mine companies will be eager to share information about Superior's history and the past, present and future of the mining industry, while historian speakers will bring to life the area's captivating mining stories. Nature lovers will enjoy an interactive presentation by Wildman Phil, who will perform with his desert reptiles — and choose brave members of the audience to assist him!

The Apache Leap Mining Festival is free to the public, with the exception of vendors, the carnival and the beer garden. Festivities will run from 5-11 p.m. on Friday, 10 a.m.-11 p.m. on Saturday and 11 a.m.-5 p.m. on Sunday. The Superior Chamber of Commerce is proud to invite visitors to "Discover Superior—a well-kept secret of an amazing little town."

For more information, visit www.superiorarizonachamber.org, call 520-689-0200 or stop by the Superior Chamber of Commerce at 165 W. Main St., Superior, Ariz. 85173

AZ Speaks: Honky Tonks, Brothels and Mining Camps

AZ Speaks: Honky Tonks, Brothels and Mining Camps March 26 from 6 to 7:30 p.m. at the Globe Chamber of Commerce. In pioneer Arizona, among the best places to experience the performing arts were in the mining towns. Striking it rich meant having disposable income, and miners, like the well-heeled of the Gilded Age, wanted to demonstrate their sophistication with culture. From the early popular music of ragtime and minstrelsy during the forming of these communities, evolved orchestras, opera and glee clubs—all in hamlets like Tombstone. Dr. Cravath shares stories and music of a time when performing live was the only way to enjoy the arts. This program is made possible by Arizona Humanities.

SafeTALK Suicide Prevention Workshop March 18

CASA of Gila County is teaming-up with Community Bridges Inc. to host a Wednesday morning training in suicide awareness and prevention March 18, starting at 9:30 a.m. in the Gila County Probation Department Conference Room at 1350 East Monroe Street in Globe. CEU credits are available for those who complete the workshop! Space is limited - to register please RSVP by email to Communityeducation@cbridges.com or JGardner@cbridges.com

The SafeTALK class teaches participants to apply basic TALK steps (Tell, Ask, Listen, and Keep-Safe) for improved suicide alertness that can help in many settings, whether with family, friends, co-workers and in more formal helping relationships. The fact that safeTALK is a half-day program that can be given to larger groups increases opportunities for improving suicide alertness on a community scale. SafeTALK participants will be better prepared to:

- recognize invitations to help are often overlooked
- move beyond common tendencies to miss, dismiss and avoid suicide
- notice and respond to situations in which thoughts of suicide may be present
- connect the person with thoughts of suicide to suicide first aid help and further community resources.

Talgo-Bishop is here to help kids and families

By SUSANNE
JEROME
Staff Reporter

Susanne Jerome/Copper Country News

Thuy Talgo-Bishop is available to help little kids and their families in the San Carlos Apache Nation.

Thuy Talgo-Bishop wants everyone in the San Carlos Apache Nation to know who she is and what she can do for the little kids and their families. She can be found at events and in neighborhoods all over - San Carlos. She spreads the word to kids and adults about how to protect their eyes and ears in addition to screening children, one through 5 years of age, for eye and ear problems and for lagging developmental markers.

It is a screening not a diagnosis, she insists. She works through a grant from the U of A to First Things First. And she is a person who can help families navigate all the services which some kids need if they are to arrive at kindergarten able to learn properly.

She is helped by ingenious ways of checking even infants' eyes and ears. A checklist for each age group helps Talgo-Bishop and parents to assess the progress kids have made in talking and listening skills, motor skills, problem-solving and social skills.

If problems are detected, she can refer the family to any one of several agencies so that they are not locked into one Doctor or agency.

And what she would like most for everyone to know is that they can make a positive impact on the lives of their children, grandchildren, nieces and nephews and even neighborhood children. Just listening and talking to them can cause good things to happen, as can intervening early before kids can fall behind in kindergarten.

"You have the right to an attorney; if you cannot afford one, a lawyer will be provided for you." This civil right is one of the pillars of our legal system - and this month Gila County Superior Court is recruiting qualified attorneys to provide legal representation to indigent defendants.

Who can apply?

Proposals are due by March 12; the most basic and minimum requirement is to be a licensed lawyer and member of the Arizona

Bar Association.

Once that prerequisite is met, applicants will be ranked on a variety of criterion ranging from 'years of experience,' to 'references/recommendations,' and 'criminal specialist certification.'

Points will also be awarded for 'Willingness to Travel to Payson and Globe,' and 'Willing to Accept Appointments in Various Case Types.' Examples cited in the RFQ range from adult felony and misdemeanor charges, to juvenile delinquency/incorrigibility, direct appeal and post-conviction relief. Proposals are due by March 12; contracts that are approved will begin with the next fiscal year on July 1. # Canyonlands is pleased to announce the addition of 3 new full-time providers to our healthcare team

Globe native, Jean Turney-Shaw returned to Globe from Flagstaff in 1993 after receiving her Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree from Northern Arizona University. She worked as a registered nurse and public health nurse in the local community until completing her Master degree in nursing and Family Nurse Practitioner certificate in 2002. Jean has been practicing in Globe-Miami since then and is board certified by the American Nurses Credentialing Center. Jean has worked in a variety of settings including family practice, OB/GYN/family planning, geriatrics, occupational health, and urgent care. A desire to provide comprehensive health care along with her passion of greater access to quality healthcare led Jean to Canyonlands Healthcare to join the mission of providing affordable, and accessible healthcare. Jean and her husband, Steve, have raised two children in the Globe-Miami area. She enjoys camping, hiking and spending time with family.

Jenni Kuker, FNP-BC, comes to us from Buena Vista, Colorado. She obtained her MSN in the Family Nurse Practitioner Program at Regis University, her Bachelor of Science in nursing from the university of Portland, and a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from Pepperdine University.

Jenni is certified in Ostomy Management from Emory University, in Wound Management from the University of Washington and is a Certified Medical Surgical Nurse. She was also a Public Health Volunteer for the United States Peace Corp in Zambia Africa for two years.

We are also happy to announce the addition of a full-time, on-site behavioral health counselor.

Steve Kittridge, LCSW, MSW, comes to us with over two decades of clinical and administrative experience in Behavioral Health. Mr. Kittridge received his Bachelor of Arts Degree in Psychology and his Master of Clinical Social Work from Arizona State University. Two years later, the Arizona State Board of Behavioral Health Examiners awarded Steve independent practitioner status as a Licensed Clinical Social Worker. Since that time, Steve has worked in the Phoenix area as a Clinical Director over numerous Outpatient Behavioral Health programs. Most recently, Steve has been working in private practice. Steve and his wife, Maribeth, have two daughters. He likes to travel, hike, read and watch old movies.

These three providers join Sara Bennett, DNP, FNP-C, who has been with Canyonlands Healthcare

ADOT MVD Commercial Driver License services now available at all full-time MVD offices

PHOENIX - The days of Commercial Driver License (CDL) customers only being able to go to a handful of MVD offices for those services are over.

The Arizona Department of Transportation Motor Vehicle Division now offers most CDL services at all full-time MVD locations statewide. Previously, CDL customers were required to travel to a limited number of MVD locations.

“As part of our continuous improvement efforts under the Arizona Management System, we’re training all MVD Customer Service Representatives to perform commercial license transactions,” said MVD Stakeholder Relations Manager Jennifer Bowser Richards.

She added, “That means someone who needs to get a CDL or most other commercial driver service doesn’t have to go to a special CDL office anymore; they can be served at any full-time MVD office. The only exception is commercial driver road tests, which are available at many, but not all, MVD locations.”

The expansion of CDL into more MVD locations is in addition to the existing CDL system. The existing CDL offices, some of which are separate from MVD locations, will continue to operate. This change means staff at all existing CDL offices now serve as examiners who are able to provide a larger number of skills tests by appointment.

“MVD is always looking for ways to improve customer service,” Bowser Richards added. “Adding literally hundreds of employees who can serve commercial customers will speed up those transactions and make all of MVD more efficient.”

Hymn Time

By DR. DAN MORTON
Contributor

Many hymns have been written at the peak of one's lifetime or at the depth of despair. Reading them can evoke a sense of well-being or can add a light when we seem to be living in a perpetual shadow, as if eclipsed.

Perhaps you have had the urge to give a large sum of money to a worthy cause, "When I win the lottery." One hymn cautions us, "Do not wait until some deed of greatness you may do..." The simplest effort on our part may be the ray of sunshine to another and totally change their life.

John Wesley had a courageous philosophy by which he lived.

"Do all the good you can, By all the means you can, In all the ways you can, In all the places you can, At all the times you can, To all the people you can, As long as ever you can."

The motivating word is "can." There is no "t" on the end. It doesn't stop you from doing your best to serve another. Try it that one must first understand them the way the original audience understood them. In other words, a Bible passage cannot mean something to modern readers that it didn't first mean to the original audience.

The necessity of the historical-cultural context is seen in Paul's instructions on head coverings in 1 Corinthians 11:2-16. Do the ladies in your church wear head coverings to Sunday morning worship? If not, are they being disobedient to Paul's words in this passage? While some Christian traditions have made head coverings an important aspect of the gathered church today, others understand that Paul's concerns had to do with specific practices within the Greco-Roman culture at the time of his writing.

Paul implores men to pray with their heads uncovered as opposed to the Roman men who prayed to false gods with their heads covered by their togas. Similarly, Paul implores women to pray with their heads covered, the proper cultural symbol of a wife's relationship to her husband, as opposed to the Roman women who flaunted their sexual rebellion by removing their head coverings. Therefore, in order to properly follow the teaching of this passage, one would have to ask: what parts of our culture do we need to keep out of our worship services and what parts of our culture symbolize sexual rebellion?

What about Jesus' words to the church in Laodicea? "I know your works: you are neither cold nor hot. Would that you were either cold or hot! So, because you are lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spit you out of my mouth" (Revelation 3:15-16). Now, I've heard these words used to teach that God would rather you be completely wicked than be an apathetic Christian. Is that right? "If you're going to be evil, go big or go home." Is that what Jesus is saying here? I don't think so. A look at the geographical location and historical context of Laodicea will give us some insight.

Laodicea was a city in the southwest of Asia Minor known for its great wealth. However, the city did not have a good water supply and piped it in from other places. Contrarily, nearby cities of Colossae and Hierapolis were both known for their useful water. Colossae had cold water good for drinking and Hierapolis had natural hot springs good for therapeutic baths. However, by the time the water was piped into Laodicea, it was neither cold (good for drinking) or hot (good for baths); it was lukewarm and good for nothing. Jesus is not saying to the church in Laodicea that if you are going to be wicked just go all the way. Rather, He is saying that in their current state of indifference they were good for nothing.

Finally, the historical-cultural context helps correct previously misunderstood passages. For example, in Matthew 19 Jesus explains it is hard for the rich to inherit the Kingdom of God by using a visual illustration. He says, "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God" (Matt. 19:24). It has been a popular preaching point that the "needle's eye" was a low gate in Jerusalem that a camel could not get through without kneeling. Therefore, the rich could only enter in the kingdom if they were truly humbled, as symbolized in this kneeling picture. That sounds good, right? The only problem is that no such gate ever existed!

In this case, historical-cultural insight corrects erroneous information that has been widely disseminated. When Jesus speaks of a needle, He is speaking of a needle similar in size and use to modern day needles. The idea of the "needle's eye" being a low gate in Jerusalem is merely fiction. His point is that it is impossible for the rich, like any other person, to enter the kingdom of God by their own merit. This is why Jesus next states, "With man this is impossible, but with God all things are possible" (Matt. 19:26).

The Bible didn't just fall out of the sky. While the Bible was fully inspired by God, we must remember that it was written by men over a span of 1,400 years, by over 40 different individuals, in many different cultures and situations. Therefore, to rightly interpret the Bible we must understand the world in which was written.

The Acceptable Motive

is a verb, not a feeling," the saying goes. Indeed, Jesus said we're to love our enemies (Matthew 5:44).

In another sense, however, love is not a verb but the motive that prompts and guides other verbs—certain actions. I love my enemies first by forgiving them for their harmful actions toward me, then by seeking their welfare in appropriate ways.

Love needs other verbs to give it hands and feet. This can be seen in 1 Corinthians 13 where Paul used love as a noun, the subject of a whole list of action statements: Love is patient, love is kind, it does not envy, it does not boast, and so on.

The converse truth is that love gives validity to my actions and makes them acceptable to God. I can seek my enemies' welfare so they won't harm me again. That's manipulation, not love. It's looking out for my welfare under the guise of looking out for theirs.

Love for God is the only acceptable motive for obeying Him. This love may express itself in reverence for Him and a desire to please Him, but those expressions must spring from love. Without love, my apparent obedience may be essentially self-serving. I may fear God's punishment or His withholding of blessing, or I may conform to a certain standard of conduct because I want to fit in with the Christian culture around me. I might even obey simply because I have a compliant temperament.

All these motives may result in outward obedience, but not obedience from the heart. Only conduct arising from love is worthy of the name obedience.

Playground tradition fascinates me. I'm talking about those little games and rhymes that are passed down from kid generation to kid generation. "Eeny, meeny, miny, moe, catch a tiger by the toe, If he hollers, let him go..." I'm not sure if one could even trace the origin of some of these.

Playground tradition also entails "kid culture". There are particular bits of knowledge needed in order to be a kid on the playground. For instance, one learns early on what a pinky promise is and why you must never break it. "No tag backs" is also vital when with a group of kids. Finally, when I was a kid, if you didn't know "ink-a-bink a-bottle of ink" you would most likely be "it" next. To make it on the playground, a kid must learn the culture of the playground. Similarly, to understand a historical text, like the Bible, one must have a grasp of the time and culture in which it was originally produced.

Last week, we looked at the importance of understanding the literary context of Bible passages. This week, we will explore the necessity of understanding the historical-cultural context of a Bible passage.

The historical-cultural context places each passage within the time, geographical location, and culture in which it was originally written. For instance, to rightly understand Paul's letters, you have to remember that Paul originally wrote his letters to specific people in specific places. While that doesn't mean that his letters don't have any significance today, it does mean

Learn silversmithing and wire-wrapping with the Gem and Mineral society

GLOBE-MIAMI — This has got to be one of the most 'smokin deal' bargains in Globe-Miami: join the Gila County Gem and Mineral Society – and you can learn how to do silversmith and wire-wrapping, for free, during classes every Wednesday afternoon. Learn the art of silversmithing from 1–3 p.m., followed by wire-wrapping from 3 – 5 p.m. Membership is a bargain, too, at $15 per person or $25 for a couple (or $5 for students under age 18, or $40 for a family).

Silversmithing has quite a history here in Gila County – for more than a century artisans have fashioned jewelry, ornaments; utensils, trophies and more from silver extracted from our local mines. And wire-wrapping? Deceptively simple, it's among the oldest ways to make unique jewelry by hand – and without having to solder or melt metals.

Classes will repeat on Wednesday afternoons throughout March – just one of many benefits of membership in the Gila County Gem and Mineral Society.

Members also have access to rock-saws, cutting and polishing equipment – and a weekly invitation to learn from knowledgeable Globe-Miami geology enthusiasts.

Located in the very heart of Copper Country, the club was founded in 1956 by locals who shared a love for rocks and minerals. Our Cobre Valley is rich in mining history and continues to be a major source of copper, gold, silver and mineralogical treasures such as turquoise, azurite and chrysocolla.

Club leaders gather on the first Thursday each month for a business meeting; all other Thursdays are reserved for weekly workshops from 7 p.m. – 8 p.m. when members stop by to cut, polish or work on rock projects, or just socialize and check out other members' works-in-progress. Download or print a membership form, or read more, online at gilagem.org, or mark your calendar for Thursday evening and stop by to meet Gem Club members at 413 Live Oak Street in Miami, next to Oasis Insurance. New members are also welcome to simply mail a check or money order with your club dues to Gila County Gem and Mineral Society, PO Box 487 Miami, AZ 85539. Questions? ### April-September Camp hosts needed at Timber Camp and Pioneer Pass

GLOBE — Here's an opportunity for 'work campers' in the Tonto National Forest: Globe Ranger District can provide a water buffalo, solar panel, pump, generator and propane if you have a pop-up, travel trailer or fifth-wheel and want to spend the spring and summer living at Timber Camp or Pioneer Pass as a camp host.

Questions? Want an application? Call Sheryl Cormack, USFS Recreation Management Specialist at 928-402-6200 or email sheryl.cormack@usda.gov.

What's required? 24 hours of volunteer work per week per person residing in the camp site during a continuous 90-day commitment, with your work schedule to be determined by Globe Ranger District staff. Camp hosts greet Tonto National Forest visitors and give helpful information about campsite amenities -- and friendly reminders about Forest Service rules and regulations. Hosts inform the public about camper safety, answer question related to hiking trails and camping (such as: "where's the nearest out-house?"); and report compliance or maintenance problems to Forest Service staff. Additional duties may include landscaping pruning; replacing signs, picking up trash, dousing unattended campfires and cleaning out fire rings and grilles. Work Campers are essential 'eyes and ears' in dispersed recreation areas, and should expect to work efficiently - but with limited daily supervision from Globe Ranger District staff. Tools, equipment and training are provided while working in recreation areas.

Volunteers are not to act in a law enforcement capacity.

Requirements?

- Be a U.S. citizen and provide a permanent mailing address
- Pass a background check and possess a valid state driver's license
- Provide your own personal camping accommodations (maintained to be welcoming and approachable by the public)
- Able to be self-sustained in a dry camping environment if necessary
- In good physical condition, with a positive and helpful attitude
- Able to operate a variety of hand and power tools
- Work safely without daily supervision
- Prepared to work under varied conditions, including inclement weather
- Provide a professional reference to verify experience

Pancake puffs make a sweet treat at any time of the day

Aebleskivers Makes about 3 dozen

- 1 Aebleskiver pan
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cardamom
- 1/2 teaspoon kosher salt
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 3 large egg yolks
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 2 cups buttermilk
- 3 large egg whites
- 1 tablespoon unsalted butter
- Raspberry or strawberry preserves
- Powdered sugar

In a medium bowl, combine the flour, baking powder, baking soda, cardamom, salt, and sugar.

In another bowl, beat the egg yolks, vanilla and buttermilk with a whisk or handheld mixer until frothy. Stir the dry ingredients into the wet ingredients just to combine.

In another bowl, beat the egg whites until frothy and stiff peaks form. Gently fold the egg whites into the batter.

Rub a little of the unsalted butter into each indentation of a well-heated aebleskivers pan. With a paper towel, remove excess butter. Place about 1 tablespoon batter in each indentation, top with about 1/2 teaspoon of preserves of choice, and add another tablespoon of batter on top. Cook until the sides are set and bottom is golden brown, about 2 minutes. Using two wooden skewers, carefully turn the aebleskivers over to cook the other side. Cook for 1 to 2 minutes more. Transfer to a platter, dust with powdered sugar, and serve hot. Repeat with remaining batter.
