Coyotes committing to winning land auction for arena

By Stephen Whyno
AP Sports Writer

The Arizona Coyotes said Thursday night they're committed to win a land auction that could pave the way for the NHL club to remain in the Phoenix area after years of arena uncertainty.

The team hopes to buy the 110-acre (445,154 square meter) plot of land on the northwest corner of Scottsdale Road and Loop 101 in north Phoenix and build a privately funded arena and entertainment district.

The Arizona State Land Department set the auction for June 27 in a legal notice published Thursday. The starting bid is $68.5 million.

"Arizona is our home, and an incredible market where the Coyotes belong," owner Alex Meruelo said in a statement. "This district would provide a beautiful home for the Arizona Coyotes for decades to come. Our loyal fans deserve this vibrant gathering place that would serve as a landmark to create lifelong memories."

The Coyotes are nearing the end of their second season at a 5,000-seat rink on Arizona State's campus while looking for a long-term solution. NHL Players' Association executive director Marty Walsh has voiced concern about being the second tenant in that small of a building, saying several deadlines have passed.

This plan is another ray of hope. The Coyotes plan to construct a 17,000-seat arena along with a new practice facility, a concert venue, restaurants and more.

Commissioner Gary Bettman in an interview with The Associated Press last month said Meruelo was working on the situation.

"It's hard work, and he's committed to it," Bettman said, declining to put a deadline on the process. "I think sooner rather than later. I think people are craving certainty. And we are, too, but this isn't a 60-minute game where the light goes on and the game's over. He's working on it. We still have some time."

Meruelo and president and CEO Xavier Gutierrez over the past year have shifted focus to an arena plan that would not require voter approval, after a referendum was rejected by Tempe voters.

"We are thrilled by the prospects of building this historic development for Arizona Coyotes fans and fans in waiting," Gutierrez said. "This is more than just an arena project — it is a best-in-class urban redevelopment project that would transform a perfectly located parcel of land into an Arizona landmark, and create a vibrant neighborhood for individuals to live, work and play."

Thanks from Hunt family

On behalf of my family, I would like to share our appreciation for the outpouring of compassion, love, and support that has been sent our way following the sudden loss of my husband, Randy Hunt. The flood of cards, flowers, meals, and countless acts of kindness provided comfort and strength when we needed it most. Above all, thank you for reminding me that I am not alone.

It is a true blessing to be part of such a generous and thoughtful community.

With heartfelt gratitude,
Lynette Hunt

With Love and Thanks from the Family of Jilliyn Alexandra Marin Feb. 25, 2005-Mar. 11, 2024

Jilliyn, you are an Angel now, it is your calling. Our hearts are open to the signs we feel from you, they show us that you are well and remain near. So, thank you darling, they sustained us in these challenging times, they give us hope.

We cannot begin to express how deeply we appreciate the outpouring of LOVE, kindness and support we have received in these sorrowful and simply unimaginable times.

All the thoughts, all the prayers, the food, flowers, cards, donations, and most importantly the kind words are more than we could have ever imagined. The love showered upon us is incredible, it has given us tremendous comfort. From the very bottoms of our hearts, we are eternally grateful, thank you.

Over the next couple of decades in California, Marian married George Reams and they had two daughters. She would replaying dominoes with her Mexican Train Gang friends.

Letter Carriers Association Food Drive

Saturday, May 11 marks the 32nd anniversary of one of America's great days of giving - the National Association of Letter Carriers Stamp Out Hunger Food Drive.

Letter carriers walk through the community every day, often coming face to face with a sad reality for too many - hunger.

So, each year on the second Saturday in May, letter carriers across the country collect non-perishable food donations from our customers. These donations go directly to local food pantries to provide food to people in Tucson, Arizona and surrounding Southern Arizona communities who need our help.

Over the course of its 31-year history, the drive has collected well over 2.11 billion pounds of food, thanks to a postal service universal delivery network that spans the entire nation, including Puerto Rico, Guam and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

The need for food donations is great. Currently, more than 42 million Americans are unsure where their next meal is coming from. More than 12 million are children who feel hunger's impact on their overall health and ability to perform in school. And nearly 5.2 million seniors over age 60 are food insecure, with many who live on fixed incomes often too embarrassed to ask for help.

Our food drive's timing is crucial. Food banks and pantries often receive the majority of their donations during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holiday seasons. By springtime, many pantries are depleted, entering the summer low on supplies at a time when many school breakfast and lunch programs are not available to children in need.

Participating in this year's Letter Carrier Stamp Out Hunger Food Drive is simple. Just leave a non perishable food donation in a bag by your mailbox Saturday, the 11th day of May, 2024 and your --- -- letter carrier will do the rest. With your help, letter carriers and the US Postal Service can add to those 2.11 billion pounds of food. Please help us in our fight to end hunger, as we celebrate our 32nd anniversary year in America's great day of giving. Thank you for your generosity!

COMMUNITY

Community Cleanup returns April 12-14

The City of Globe Clean and Beautiful Community Cleanup is April 12-14 from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. This year it will include a document shredding event on Saturday, April 13 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., or until 300 file boxes have been filled with paper.

Free dumpsters will be located at 1316 N. Broad St. (east of Multitech), behind the teepee next to Globe Library, next to the dog park (closest to North St.) and a fourth site to be determined. The document shredding event will take place at the dog park location. Metal, appliances, tires and batteries go to the dog park location only. Hazardous liquids and refrigerators with freon are not allowed.

The city is also collecting used electronics in any condition. These items will be given to AZStRUT.ORG, an organization that refurbished and distributed over 10,000 computers in 2023 and prevented over 1 million pounds of computer waste from going to the landfill.

A Heart for Wisdom

When you feel inadequate for the task in front of you, where do you turn?

When we find ourselves in a new environment or unfamiliar situation, it's natural to feel unsure. Even Solomon felt lost and inadequate in taking on his new role as king of Israel. He said he felt "like a little boy [who did] not know how to go out or come in" (1 Kings 3:7). Can you relate?

Maybe you're embarking on a second career. Or perhaps you're stepping out of your comfort zone to serve in an area of ministry you've never experienced. Maybe you're a new grandparent who feels the weight of responsibility as a positive influence in your grandchild's life. Whatever the uncharted circumstance, we each have a choice when we're unsure what to do next: We can either lean into our own understanding and try to figure things out on our own, or we can ask God to guide us.

Solomon's realization of his own inadequacy caused him to cry out to God for the wisdom to do his job well. And his prayer was answered. We, too, have the opportunity to turn to God for help. Next time you feel unsure of yourself or your abilities, remember to follow Solomon's example. Ask the Lord to give you a heart of wisdom to do—with excellence—what He has called you to.

Put God's Priorities First

If we trust God and seek to honor Him in our decisions, we'll have the chance to see Him work mightily.

Imagine if God showed up and said, "What do you want? Ask, and I'll give it to you." How would you answer? Most of us would ask for loved ones' safety, enough money to meet our needs, or a long, healthy life. Solomon may have been tempted to name something similar—but he made a different request. What he wanted was an understanding heart so he could serve God's people well.

Solomon's life was full of personal needs and desires not so different from our own. But when given the opportunity to ask God for anything, he prioritized the Lord's concerns. God was so pleased with the request that He gave Solomon not only wisdom but riches and honor as well (1 Kings 3:13)! This encounter foreshadows Jesus' words in the Gospel of Matthew: "But seek first His kingdom and His righteousness, and all these things will be provided to you" (Matthew 6:33).

God won't necessarily give wealth, influence, or long life because we put His priorities first, but He will always be faithful to provide all we need according to His purposes. Solomon's heart was set on seeking God's kingdom and righteousness, and the Lord honored that in a multitude of ways—both tangible and intangible. When we make God's priorities ours, we too will have the chance to see Him work mightily in our life.
