Seven years –and three shootouts – as an Arizona Ranger: James T. Holmes

By David Sowders
Assistant Editor

On Halloween night of 1905, Arizona Ranger James T. “Shorty” Holmes confronted a bootlegger in Roosevelt who was suspected of selling liquor to the Indians. The suspect tried to fight his way past Holmes, which ultimately proved fatal. It was one of three shootouts Holmes took part in during his seven-year Ranger career.

James T. Holmes originally hailed from Denmark. He became a trombonist in Michigan until he “got something wrong with his lip and had to go to work at something else.” Holmes was attracted to Arizona, where he worked as a cowboy for a time. In 1902, at the age of 30, he was enlisted into the Arizona Rangers at Bisbee by Captain Thomas Rynning; it was Rynning’s second day in the position.

In 1905 Holmes was stationed at Roosevelt, where the dam was under construction. On October 31 he intercepted the bootlegging suspect, Bernardo Arviso. A pistol duel broke out when Arviso tried to fight his way past the Ranger. A government teamster named Bagley tried to aid Holmes but caught a bullet in the arm from Arviso. The Ranger fired back, killing Arviso on the spot.

Holmes would serve as a Ranger until 1909. He was there when the Rangers were sent to Morenci during the 1903 mining strike. During that assignment, on June 11, 1903, they posed for group photographs taken by Rex Rice, who managed the Phelps Dodge mercantile.

The most pressing Ranger business of early 1904 was the capture of former Ranger Billy Stiles and his fellow escapee, Burt Alvord. A few years earlier Stiles, Alvord and Augustin Chacon had received aid from Henry Wood, who helped run the Ashburn Ranch near the border. Questioned by Holmes, a second Ranger and a third man, Wood proclaimed his innocence. The Rangers then confiscated and penned an Ashburn Ranch steer. Wood went after the animal, tore down the gate of the pen and drove the steer back to the ranch.

The company soon confronted Wood, who was unarmed and seated on a horse, demanding he return the steer. When he refused, they shot his horse four times and rode away, leaving him pinned under the horse. He was able to crawl free with the aid of the rancher’s

Pecan pie makes a perfect dessert this Thanksgiving

A Thanksgiving dinner table can be a sight to behold. For foodies and others who love the array of comfort foods on display come the second Monday in October (in Canada) or the fourth Thursday in November (in the United States), Thanksgiving is a day to circle on the calendar each year.

While a mouthwatering turkey and sides like mashed potatoes and stuffing garner the bulk of the attention on Thanksgiving, the dessert table also can be a tempting place to direct one's eyes. Though no dessert is off limits on Thanksgiving, pie is a particularly popular option on Turkey Day. With that in mind, those tasked with crafting something for dessert this Thanksgiving can consider the following recipe for "Pecan Pie" courtesy of Lines+Angles.

Pecan Pie

Makes 8 servings

1 9-inch unbaked frozen deep dish pie shell, thawed

1 1/2 cups pecans, coarsely chopped

3 eggs, lightly beaten

1 cup light corn syrup

1/2 cup brown sugar

1 tablespoon molasses

2 tablespoons butter, melted

2 tablespoons flour

1/4 teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract

1. Preheat oven to 350 F.
2. Spread pecans along the bottom of the prepared pie shell.
3. In a large bowl, mix the remaining ingredients and pour over pecans. The pecans will rise to the surface of the pie.
4. Bake for 60 to 65 minutes until the filling has set. Pie is done when the center reaches 200 F. Pie center when lightly tapped should spring back. Remove pie from oven and let cool on a wire rack for at least 2 hours.

5. Serve.
Preparation time: 15 minutes

Cooking time: 1 hour, 5

minutes

Cooling time: 2 hours

Total time: 3 hours, 20 minutes

Court Appointed Special Advocate program seeks volunteers

In 1977, a juvenile court judge concerned about making drastic decisions with insufficient information conceived the idea of citizen volunteers speaking up for the best interests of abused and neglected children in the courtroom. This created the Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) program.

CASA volunteers are appointed by a judge to a child living in foster care. They read the case documents, gather information from the child's team, and most importantly, meet with the child. They collect information on how the child is doing and what the child's needs are, then report back to the court.

The primary responsibilities of a CASA volunteer are to:

Gather information - Review documents and records, interview the children, family members and professionals in their lives.

Document findings - Provide written reports at court hearings.

Appear in court - Advocate for the child's best interests and provide testimony when necessary. Explain what is going on - Help the child understand the court proceedings.

Recommend services - Ensure that the children and their family are receiving appropriate services and advocate for those that are not immediately available. Bring concerns about the child's health, education, mental health, etc. to the appropriate professionals.

Keep the court informed - Update the court on developments with agencies and family members. Ensure that appropriate motions are filed on behalf of the child, so the court knows about any changes in the child's situation.

CASA volunteers play an important role in the cases they are appointed to, but currently there are not enough volunteers for the court to provide an advocate to the children in need.

CASA volunteers must be 21 years of age or older, pass a thorough background screening and complete 30 hours of free pre-service training, either in person or virtually. On average, advocates in Gila County dedicate about 10-15 hours per month attending virtual meetings, documenting findings, and seeing the child. Volunteers must be willing to stay appointed to the child until a permanent resolution of the child's family's case has occurred.

For more information on the CASA of Gila County program, visit www.CASAof-GilaCounty.org or call 928-474-7145 for the Payson Office or 928-402-4427 for the Globe Office.

Did you know?

Thanksgiving is as synonymous with football as it is with turkey. When sports fans tune into the big games Thanksgiving day, two teams are on the field every year: the Dallas Cowboys and the Detroit Lions. There is no rule in place that says these teams have to play on Thanksgiving, but it has become tradition. When the National Football League makes its Thanksgiving schedule each year, the Lions get scheduled for an early afternoon game and the Cowboys a late afternoon matchup. These traditions can be traced back to publicity stunts to draw in more fans. The Lions played their first Thanksgiving game in 1934, while the Cowboys started the tradition in 1966. Other teams had played on Thanksgiving prior to these years, but the Lions solidified their place when then-owner George A. Richards (also an NBC-affiliated radio station owner) established a contract with NBC to show his Lions games on Thanksgiving across 94 stations. In 2022, there is once again a tripleheader on Thanksgiving day. The Buffalo Bills will play the Detroit Lions at 12:30 p.m. ET; the New York Giants will play the Dallas Cowboys at 4:30 p.m. ET; and the New England Patriots battle the Minnesota Vikings at 8:20 p.m. ET. Fans can watch the Lions on CBS, the Cowboys on FOX and the Vikings on NBC.

GLOBE, AZ – Cobre Valley Regional Medical Center (CVRMC) is excited to announce the future opening of its much-anticipated "Highway 60 Clinic," a walk-in clinic located near Cal Ranch and Walmart. This new facility is set to provide essential healthcare services to the community, offering a convenient option for those seeking immediate medical attention without the need for an appointment.

The journey to establish the Highway 60 Clinic has not been without challenges. The initial plans for the clinic encountered an unexpected delay when it was discovered that the proposed location fell within a designated floodway.

Determined to bring this vital service to the community, CVRMC worked with local and federal agencies to reassess the flood maps that impacted the clinic's location. Through extensive modeling, updated maps were drawn to better reflect the actual conditions of the area. CVRMC then submitted a request for a Letter of Map Revision (LOMR) to the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), requesting an official change to the flood designation.

On July 29, FEMA issued a LOMR, paving the way for the new clinic. The new facility will offer extend hours to walk-in patients, providing a convenient, affordable option for healthcare services. While the specific timeline for construction and opening is still being finalized, the team is working diligently to bring the project to completion as swiftly as possible.

CVRMC is committed to keeping the community informed as progress continues. Updates on the clinic's development will be shared regularly, with a focus on ensuring that residents are aware of the new healthcare options that will soon be available.

The opening of the Highway 60 Clinic represents a significant step forward in CVRMC's mission to provide comprehensive, accessible healthcare to the region. The medical center looks forward to welcoming patients to this new facility and continuing its tradition of high-quality care for the community.

OBITUARY

Mary Lou Brockert

Mary Lou Brockert passed away peacefully in her sleep on Oct. 13, 2024 surrounded by her loved ones. She was born Sept. 13, 1936, in Miami, Arizona. She was 88 years old and lived a full life.

Mary Lou was a woman of many passions. But her number one priority was her family.

One thing all her kids could agree on is that Mary Lou was the best mom ever. She was a hardworking woman, a mentor and a great role model who was always there for us. Mary Lou was always involved in all the activities her children were involved in from baseball to softball, volleyball to cheerleading mom.

She graduated from Miami High School and went on to study interior design at Mesa Community College. She applied her interior design talents toward decorating showrooms for her and her husband's plumbing store.

One of her biggest passions was helping her husband, Jim Brockert, launch and manage Brockert's Plumbing Supply, which still operates on the corner of East Ash Street and South East Street.

She was also a member of the Pinal Mountain Emblem Club, a chapter of the Supreme Emblem Club of the United States of America Inc.

Mary Lou worked for the Globe Active Adult Center

and eventually became its director. She saw there was a need in the community, and she lit up when she saw the elderly and always wanted to make sure they were fed and cared for. She implemented Meals on Wheels for the elderly who could not make it to the center to eat. Through all of her work with the senior center Mary Lou was appointed to the Arizona Governor's Advisory Council on Aging (GACA) by Gov. Rose Mofford, (D-Ariz.)

Working with the elderly really was her calling, but when her husband, Jim Brockert, became ill, she returned to the plumbing shop. Mary Lou continued to help her husband with the business until he passed away in 2011. Soon after, she began experiencing memory loss and was diagnosed with dementia which eventually forced her to close the shop.

Mary Lou spent her final two years in her daughter Sheila's care, which truly was a blessing for her and the family. She is survived by her sister Betsy Moreno, children and grandchildren: Matthew Brockert, Mckenzie Brockert; Sheila Rodriguez (husband, Art Rodriguez), Yesenia Rodriguez, Byron Ellsworth (wife, Marcella Ellsworth), Krystal Ellsworth, Art Rodriguez, Blanca Rodriguez and Briano Rodriguez (wife, Ashley Rodriguez); Earl Brockert (wife, Julie Brockert) Brenna Alleman (husband, Jerod Alleman), Colton Brockert; Geneva Brockert.

She is also survived by her great-grandchildren: Siamana Lou Brockert; Jiraiya and Amiyah Lou Ellsworth; and Roman, Stryder, and Titus Rodriguez.

May Lou is preceded in death by her husband Jim Brockert, sister Ramona Daniels, and brothers Ernie Romero and David Romero.

Funeral services are scheduled for Nov. 18, 2024, at Holy Angels Catholic Church, 201 S. Broad St., Globe, AZ, rosary 9:30 a.m. and mass at 10 a.m. She will then be memorialized at Globe Cemetery.

Celebration of life will follow services at the Globe Elks Club, 1910 E. Maple St. Globe, AZ.

All Our Strength

Who gets our best effort? Who in our lives gets our all? It isn't always our boss, as we spend valuable minutes of our workday checking Facebook or managing our fantasy football teams. It also isn't always our kids, as we half-heartedly play catch in the backyard while talking on the phone with a client. And it certainly isn't always our spouse when we can't even look up from our screen while they tell us about their day.

In our Bible reading today, we find God demanding one thing from us: "Love the Lord your God with all your strength." But there are some days that we barely have the strength to get out of bed, let alone serve or worship God. Many days, we hardly have enough time to enjoy our hobbies, let alone study the Bible. We all have limited strength, and often, God does not get all of it—even when we try to give our best effort. So often, we lack the strength required to love and serve our God.

When we fall short, See STRENGTH on page 8

Seek the Lord

COURTESY PHOTO

A close relationship with the Lord doesn't happen accidentally. It requires continual, deliberate decisions to pursue Him. Intimacy can't be achieved in an inspiring weekend conference, nor can it be accomplished by reading a chapter or two of the Bible and praying indifferently. Seeking God is a lifetime commitment—day by day, year by year.

Too many believers are satisfied to have a shallow, superficial relationship with the Lord. They'll approach God for relief from suffering or fulfillment of other needs but are unwilling to sit quietly for an extended period of time just getting to know Him through prayer and His Word. Yet the most important pursuit in a believer's life is building a relationship with God. (See Ps. 27:4.) To forfeit this great blessing is a tragedy.

God doesn't need anything from you, but He desires your loving devotion and intimate fellowship. Ask yourself, Is this what I want, too? If your answer is yes, are you willing to See SEEK on page 8 we look to the One who did not. Jesus gave every ounce of strength he had in his service to God. It took strength that you and I can only imagine as he endured the flogging and ridicule that came his way. He dug deep and found the strength to carry that cross up the hill, knowing his enemies would nail him to it. Jesus found the strength to stay on the cross and suffer and die even though he had not done anything wrong. Jesus' love for God and for you and me was so strong that he gave his life in our place.

Then, his strength was on full display as he rose from the dead, forever defeating death for us.

So, the next time you are lacking strength in your life of faith, look to Jesus. The One who lived and died for you will give you renewed strength to love the Lord and serve him in your life.

An Advertising Proverb

When Mark Twain was editing a newspaper in Missouri, one of his subscribers wrote in, saying that he had found a spider in his newspaper and wondered whether it was a sign of good or bad luck. Twain's response: "Finding a spider is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our newspaper to see which merchant was not advertising, so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door, and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

 wife, who came out and lifted the dying horse's head. Wood asked her to bring him his gun, but she demurred. The Rangers brought Wood before Judge Henry Marsteller, who not only released him but admonished the Rangers for an improper arrest. In this admonishment, the judge was joined by Sheriff Charles Fowler.

He came into some scrutiny for using excessive force on a double murder suspect. Holmes captured the suspect after beating him on the head with a frying pan and then tethered him around the neck and dragged him into town. The locals took notice and were not amused. The suspect "was fortunate he had not been shot."

On Dec. 6, 1904, three Rangers including Holmes apprehended Antonio Nuñez, regarded in some quarters as "about the most notorious uncaught desperado in Arizona and Sonora." A longtime boasted he could never be taken alive, Nuñez surrendered tamely.

On Feb. 18, 1906, near Roosevelt, Holmes clashed with an Apache outlaw known as "Matze Ta 55." The Apache was shot to death, but Holmes won complete exoneration by a coroner's jury. In 1907 Holmes was in action again, this time trading shots with smugglers. Holmes never suffered a wound and was cited for distinguished service in the 1906 and 1907 engagements.

In April 1907, however, Holmes was criticized in some quarters for rough treatment of a prisoner. A black man named Baldwin had murdered a Mrs. Morris and her daughter near Roosevelt on Jan. 31, 1907. Holmes finally apprehended Baldwin just outside Roosevelt. Baldwin wisely surrendered, but Holmes – never kindly disposed towards murderers – beat him over the head with a frying pan. Then he tied a rope around Baldwin's neck, mounted his horse and spurred away, dragging the prisoner "for a considerable distance." Holmes stopped long enough to tie Baldwin's hands, then dragged him on into town, where residents took notice and were not amused.
