Memorial Cross for Emily Pike

By Tina Nixon

Michael Collins, who resides in Texas, generously donates his time, skill and labor of love to create amazing memorial cross projects for families who have lost loved ones tragically, especially young people. It all started when he lost his son Brady in a car accident. The Lord said build a memorial and he did. Then for the kids in Uvalde, then for Athena Strand who was taken by the FedEx driver and murdered and most recently for Laken Riley who was murdered while jogging in Georgia. Laken's memorial cross was just finished and will be delivered to Elon Cemetery in Woodstock, Georgia on March 29. His latest calling was for Emily Pike, a young member of the San Carlos Apache Tribe whose remains were found North of Globe on Valentine's Day. Mr. Collins stated "Indigenous voices will be heard through this cross for sure!"

He will be delivering Emily's memorial cross to the San Carlos area in May. This will be the largest cross he has ever made and delivered. Collins sister, Shawna, spearheads the Gofundme pages for all of the crosses and travel expenses. There is currently a Gofundme account for Emily's cross materials and travel expenses to get himself, his team and the massive cross to San Carlos. You can donate by scanning the QR Code displayed below or via Venmo: SLMPICKINS1976 or Cash App: $SLMPICKINS. Let's all come together as a community and generously donate so we can help get Emily's memorial cross from Texas to Arizona.

The Christian Life Can't Be Explained, It Must Be Experienced

By Greg S. Baker
Pastor of First Baptist Church of Miami.

One of the challenges I have as a pastor is trying to convey to non-Christians the value of turning to Jesus Christ and God. For the dedicated Christian, this is a no-brainer. We're talking eternal life, a God who bestows His blessings richly upon us, a life full of purpose and direction, a spirt-filled life, the tools to fight depression, anxiety, and stress, strong relationships with those I love, and a personal relationship with the God of the universe. Again, it's a no-brainer.

But for non-Christians, they tend to only see the so-called restrictions of Christianity. And it's true. God asks for us to make changes in our lives, one that reflect His holiness, His righteousness, and His purpose. I live a certain way, don't do certain things, and avoid certain places so that my life is a reflection of God's holiness. He asked us to be holy because He is holy (1 Peter 1:16). To do that takes sacrifice, dedication, and the willingness to change your old lifestyle. I'm not perfect at it. Far from it. I'm, at best, a sinner saved by grace. But I do try for several reasons. First, I owe my eternal destiny to Jesus Christ who died on the cross to pay for my sins—sins that would send me to hell otherwise. Second, the Christian life has brought me so much joy, happiness, and fulfillment that it defies my ability to express it. And that's the point. Even if someone could prove there is no God, I would still live the Christian life because of what it has given me. But non-Christians aren't necessarily convinced of hell or even of God's existence. They often seek a life that is fulfilling to them, doing things they think will bring them happiness. They can't see that end result in the Christian life, and I won't be able to argue it successfully.

Because the Christian life must be experienced to understand it. There are some things in life that simply must be experienced to fully appreciate and comprehend it. Take skydiving. Until you strap on a parachute and jump out of an airplane, you will never fully appreciate or understand the thrill (or terror) of it. It can only be experienced, not explained. The same is true with the Christian life. If I could convince people to truly give the Christian life a shot, to make the sacrifices and changes necessary, I believe everyone—and I mean everyone—would want to be a Christian simply because of what God does for each person who comes to Him. I can't explain it with words. It must be experienced. In fact, there are many Christians who have not strapped on the parachute and not jumped out of the airplane. They may go to church. They may claim a belief in God or Jesus Christ, but they have never really experienced the Christian life. They still cling to worldly habits and ways. This keeps them from fully enjoying everything that God would love to give them. My only advice to anyone reading this is give Jesus Christ a try—a real try. I dare you. OBITUARIES

Frances Jane Bechtold

Frances Jane Bechtold passed away in Mesa, Arizona, on February 27, 2025. Jane, as she was known to family and friends, was born in Lubbock, Texas, on August 11, 1944, to Carl W. Bechtold and Virginia Lee Simmons Bechtold.

She grew up in Lakewood, Colorado, and graduated from Lakewood High School. Later she graduated from McNeese State University in Lake Charles, Louisiana, with a bachelor's degree in art education, and went on to earn her master's degree in fine arts from North Texas State University in Denton, Texas.

Jane appreciated good art and classical music. She taught art in Louisiana and Texas at both the public school and university levels, including serving on the Governor's Program for Gifted Children in Louisiana.

Jane's other love was for animals, wildlife, and the beauty of nature. She worked for many years with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service introducing children and adults alike to nature and the history of the people and the land, along with providing for the protection of endangered species and important habitats. While working at the Wichita Mountains Wildlife Refuge in Oklahoma, she led the design team for the new visitor center, and designed the display cases for the museum. She made strong, lasting friendships during her working years, and was respected for her knowledge and her commitment to public service.

About 2004 Jane moved to Arizona for her health, settling on the mountain between Globe and Winkelman, never giving up her passion for nature. She inspired us to look, with a curious eye, at the world around us, with wonder and awe. She became active in social activities in Globe, enjoying the book club, volunteering at the Center for the Arts, selling fresh limeade at the Farmers Market, assisting with many Humane Society activities, and appreciating the meals and friends at the Globe Active Adult Center. She was a generous friend to many and is held close in our hearts and minds.

Jane was preceded in death by her parents. She is survived by her siblings, Carl W. (Bill) Bechtold, Jr. (Jean), Nancy Lee Vardell (Woody), Mary Alice Stahley (Charlie), and John Ad Bechtold (Mary), as well as many nieces and nephews. Jane will be remembered as the keeper of our family history and for her ability to keep us spellbound with storytelling; for her adventurous, indomitable spirit; her beloved dogs who were almost always by her side; and for her many contributions to each of our lives.

Memorial contributions may be made in Jane's honor to the High Desert Humane Society, Inc., 150 W. Mesquite St., Globe, AZ, 85501; or The Gideons International, c/o Hermitage Camp, P.O. Box 8476, Hermitage, TN 37076-8476.

Lawrence "Lazo" Lopez Contreras

Lawrence Lopez Contreras "Lazo" was born to Juan Contreras and Emilia Lopez Contreras on August 18, 1937, in Globe Arizona. He came from a large family of 10 brothers and sisters. He passed away at his residence in Globe on February 13, 2025, he was 87 years old.

He attended Noftsgar Hill Elementary, Hill Street Jr. High and Globe High School, he was a lifelong Tiger of the genuine variety. He grew up on Euclid Ave. surrounded by all of his lifelong buddies "The Termites" led by Benny Guerrero Sr. and his wife Gloria Sanchez Guerrero. He always said that Euclid was called tough street and the farther you went up the tougher it got, and he lived in the last house!

His passion for building model cars and airplanes led him to becoming a well known local car customizing painter and pinstriper. He also learned the art of sign lettering with the inspiration from local painter Howard Hinkle. After high school one of his first jobs was working for Joe DeAnda picking up produce in Phoenix and delivering to stores in the local Globe Miami area. He served his Country in the US Army Ready Reserve from 1958 to 1962 at the Southern California Base Ft. Ord.

He married a local Miami girl Evelyn Casillas after a love at first sight incident in Midland City. They were married on his birthday August 18, 1962. Their marriage of 13 years gave them two boys Lawrence Paul and Mark Anthony. He worked as a track foreman at the Magma underground mine in Superior from 1963 to 1973. He began working at Inspiration Copper in 1973 for Plant Services as a painter until his retirement from Cypress Copper. While putting in an 8 hour day at the mines he also had a side hustle of painting cars and signs in his backyard garage. After retirement he continued to do Sign work and painting jobs until his Son Paul took over the Sign business. His hobbies included building and flying his model air planes, having a few beers, telling a few jokes and enjoying visiting with friends old and new.

He shared his later years with his dear friend and companion Josie Rubalcava Hinderberger. They enjoyed 27 years together before she passed away on September 18, 2017. He loved music, especially Jazz, "Take Five" & Oldies "Just Because", which were his favorite songs and he would play them for everyone. His passion was also watching his "Phoenix Suns". He was a lifelong fan since they started playing at the Madhouse on McDowell, until their current lineup, he was never a fair-weather fan, he was always there to support "His Team".

Lazo was preceded in death by his parents Juan Contreras, Emilia Lopez Contreras, siblings Alphonso, Edward, Richard "Dick", Ernest, Helen Jimenez, Emilia Herrera, Consuelo "Connie" Ortega and his son Lawrence "Paul" Contreras. GLOBE, AZ – Cobre Valley Regional Medical Center (CVRMC) is excited to announce the future opening of its much-anticipated "Highway 60 Clinic," a walk-in clinic located near Cal Ranch and Walmart. This new facility is set to provide essential healthcare services to the community, offering a convenient option for those seeking immediate medical attention without the need for an appointment.

The journey to establish the Highway 60 Clinic has not been without challenges. The initial plans for the clinic encountered an unexpected delay when it was discovered that the proposed location fell within a designated floodway.

Determined to bring this vital service to the community, CVRMC worked with local and federal agencies to reassess the flood maps that impacted the clinic's location. Through extensive modeling, updated maps were drawn to better reflect the actual conditions of the area. CVRMC then submitted a request for a Letter of Map Revision (LOMR) to the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), requesting an official change to the flood designation.

On July 29, FEMA issued a LOMR, paving the way for the new clinic. The new facility will offer extend hours to walk-in patients, providing a convenient, affordable option for healthcare services. While the specific timeline for construction and opening is still being finalized, the team is working diligently to bring the project to completion as swiftly as possible.

CVRMC is committed to keeping the community informed as progress continues. Updates on the clinic's development will be shared regularly, with a focus on ensuring that residents are aware of the new healthcare options that will soon be available.

The opening of the Highway 60 Clinic represents a significant step forward in CVRMC's mission to provide comprehensive, accessible healthcare to the region. The medical center looks forward to welcoming patients to this new facility and continuing its tradition of high-quality care for the community.
