

Veterans Day Tribute

Honoring our veterans

The firing of the volley is performed by the Mendota VFW Post 4079 Veterans Memorial Squad during the Veterans Day ceremony on Nov. 11 at Veterans Park in Mendota. A quaint crowd attended the ceremony, which is held to honor and remember all Veterans, both alive and deceased, for their commitment and contribution to our present way of life, and the benefits of liberty and freedom on both domestic and foreign soil. The presentation of colors was performed by the Mendota VFW Post 4079 Veterans Memorial Squad and Mendota American Legion Post 540. Following the program, Hume Carnegie Museum was opened to browse the museum's veterans exhibit and to thank featured veterans for their service. (Reporter photo)

MENDOTA—Reimagine Mendota and its work with the Community Heart & Soul Seed Grant Program has brought action and results to Mendota.

Since the grant was submitted on Feb. 25 and awarded on March 31, Reimagine Mendota has established a fiscal sponsor for tax-exempt donations through Starved Rock Country Community Foundation, convened various community members to form the Heart & Soul workgroup, secured $10,000 in grant match, created Reimaginemendota.org, expanded Facebook presence to over 1,000 followers, and has a volunteer mailing list of 82 representing different businesses and organizations in Mendota.

Reimagine Mendota and Community Heart & Soul has attended Cinco de Mayo events, YMCA Healthy Kids' Day, soccer games, Railroad Crossing Days, the Farmer's Market, Mendota High School summer band concert, while also hosting a street sale on Illinois Avenue to clean out the fire damaged buildings, has partnered with the Mendota Area Chamber of Commerce to host a Business After Hours at the Elks Lodge, was a presence at the Sweet Corn Festival, sent information fliers to over 4,000 Mendota households, held 20 data collection listening events to reach as many people in the community as possible, and set up Food Truck Mondays throughout the fall.

Now, Reimagine Mendota is asking you to come to one of two meetings, 9-11 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 18 or 6-8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 20 at the Mendota Civic Center, to help decide the future of Mendota.

“The meetings on Nov. 18 and Nov. 20 are the same meeting twice, so we can try to have as many people as possible who have busy schedules,” said Amy Brewer, who is a co-director of the Community Heart & Soul workgroup with Annie Short. “We’re going to present all of the value statements and the rough draft. They’ll have electronic clickers, and they can click yes or no to vote if they agree or don’t agree with what we have put together.

“Then we’ll have feedback on the valued statements so they’re truly reflective of Mendota and what the citizens want. We will use

Mendota Rotary Club, Graves-Hume Library partner for Story Walk

By BRANDON LaCHANCE

MENDOTA – Jessica Dykstra and Emily Kofoid had unionized before to have a Mary Lincoln Todd performer come to Mendota.

With a partnership already solidified, when Dykstra received grant money for the Mendota Rotary Club, she decided to stop in at Graves-Hume Public Library and see if the director, Kofoid, had any projects with need of grant money.

“Fate struck for this to happen. We had the grant without a project and the library had the project without the grant,” Dykstra said. “The Story Walk is something unique to Mendota. It’s a long-term project and it is going to be forever changing as the library plans to change the book seasonally.”

Kofoid and the library had talked about The Story Walk Project for some time, but nothing came to fruition.

When Dykstra asked the question, Kofoid immediately had an answer.

“This is a great opportunity for people to get outside and read a book. Hopefully, they’ll come into the library and find more books they like,” Kofoid said. “We would love to eventually have crafts and programs coordinated with the book that is on the Story Walk. We will change the book seasonally.”

“We wanted to do the Story Walk for a long time, I just didn’t know how to implement it. When Jessica Dykstra came to me and asked if there was anything the Mendota Rotary Club could do to help the library, I immediately said yes and told her about the Story Walk. I thought it was perfect.”

The Story Walk has 16 plaques, which all 16 holes were dug by the City of Mendota staff, for a book to be placed and read.

The first plaque has to be about the Story Walk, how it originated. The Story Walk Project was created by Anne Ferguson of Montpelier, Vermont and developed in collaboration with the Kellogg-Hubbard Library. Story Walk is a registered service mark owned by Ms. Ferguson.

However, the other 15 stands will be used to tell a story. Any story, as there are no restrictions.

“The initiative is to get people outside but to also be creative and show we’re not a stuffy old library like the old stereotypes tell people,” Kofoid said. “We’re not just four walls anymore.

Top, Mendota Rotary Club member Jessica Dykstra levels a stand for the Story Walk in front of the Graves-Hume Public Library while her husband, Alan Dykstra, stirs the concrete mix to strengthen the foundation. The Rotary's Susan Paugels shovels dirt into the upcoming stand holes to make sure they're all the same height. The Story Walk is a combined effort from the Mendota Rotary Club and the Graves-Hume Public Library. (Reporter photos)

A wake will be held at the Mendota Civic Center on Sunday, Nov. 19, from 11 a.m.-4 p.m. A memorial service will be scheduled for a later date.

Mary was born Nov. 15, 1951, in Chicago. She was raised by her two loving parents, Bruce and Ruth Mainous, in Urbana. Mary attended Urbana High School, graduating in 1968 after only three years. After graduation, at the age of 16, she moved to Paris, France. She continued to live there for the next 11 years, and gave birth to her two daughters, Alicia and Paule, before moving back to Illinois.

Mary is survived by her husband, Bob Chinn of Mendota; her daughters, Alicia (Erin) Verdier of Houston, Texas, and Paule Verdier of Evanston; step-sons, Rob (Laura) Chinn of Lapel, Ind., Chris (Mae) Chinn, of Los Angeles, Calif., and Patrick (Joanna) Chinn of Downs; sisters Martha (Gary) Dougherty and Nancy (Paul) Mitchell; brother Lowell (Laura) Gentry; mother Barbara Cox Palmer; and grandchildren, Hannah (Austin) Crouse, Aidan Drury, Meredith Hammonds, Maeve Chinn, Henry Chinn, Isaac Chinn, Noah Chinn, and Ezra Chinn, as well as many beloved nieces and nephews.

Mary was preceded in death by her parents, Bruce Mainous and Ruth (Daugherty) Mainous Urbana, and Spencer Gentry of Polo.

Mary started working for the University of Illinois and began taking undergraduate classes as a non-academic employee. As an undergrad student, Mary also was the leader of her beloved Girl Scout Troop 94, the PTA president at her daughters' elementary school, and always home to put the girls on the bus and meet them after school. She completed her undergraduate degree in Biochemistry in 1989, with her sustained academic achievements being recognized with placement of her name added to the University of Illinois Bronze Tablet. She was then accepted to the University of Illinois Medical School. In 1991, she met and fell in love with Bob Chinn. They shared their love of canoeing and hiking together, and a year later, were married. Mary completed her medical school program in 1993, and then went on to do her residency in rural family practice at Union Hospital in Terre Haute, Ind. In 1996, Mary began her practice in Mendota, where she continued to work for the next 27 years.

Anyone who ever met Mary knew that she could do anything she set her mind to do. She could create anything with her hands, from sewing to knitting to jewelry making to refinishing furniture. Mary always enjoyed making music, whether it be singing or playing the guitar and ukulele. She had a love for gardening and cooking. Mary loved the outdoors, hiking, and backpacking, spending the majority of her vacation time visiting their second home near Glacier National Park in Montana.

Most of all, Mary loved helping people. She was an immensely generous person, always ready to lend a hand in any way needed. She cared for her patients like they were her family, always ready to do a house call at any hour. And Mary was loved by her patients, in return. In 2015, she was awarded the Physician of Excellence Award by the Illinois Rural Health Association, and Illinois Legislature, in recognition of her outstanding achievements as a physician - a true testament to her unending dedication as a family practice doctor.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Mary Chinn Memorial Fund, which is dedicated to continuing Mary's lifelong desire to support others in need. Condolences may be left at wasmerfuneralhome.com.

Doris and Wayne were involved in the community as they started the Paw Paw Veterinary Clinic and later established the Tri-County Veterinary Service in Earlville, where Doris helped in the clinic. In 1982, Doris and Wayne led the Paw Paw Centennial Committee, and they authored One Hundred Years of Veterinary Medicine in Illinois, a pictorial history with stories.

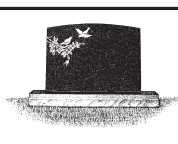

Doris was active in the American Veterinary Medical Assoc. (AVMA) Auxiliary serving as editor of VET SET magazine in the Illinois Auxiliary chapter. She was a member of P.E.O., a national philanthropic and educational group, Paw Paw Presbyterian Church, and Collegiate Presbyterian Church after Doris and Wayne retired in Ames.

One of her greatest joys was connecting with wonderful friends and families in the small towns where she lived and worked. Doris loved to initiate gatherings with a seasonal theme, and she had a job suggestion for everyone including her family members. She played golf in ladies leagues and couples' events, and she enjoyed socializing during competitive bridge games. Doris cherished her marriage to Wayne for 61 years.

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to the Wayne W. Brown, DVM and Doris B. Brown Memorial Scholarship Fund for veterinary students at Iowa State University College of Veterinary Medicine. Visit Iowa State Foundation, enter Wayne Brown, DVM and Doris Brown Memorial Scholarship.

the valued statements with decision making at the City Council and writing grants.”

Also at the meeting, the group will talk about the projects people suggested and ideas for the future of Mendota to see if they’re feasible, what impact they’ll have, and will choose some to prioritize.

In another activity on Nov. 18 and Nov. 20, meeting attendees will be given a pretend grant of $2,500 in fake bills.

“They will put the fake money in the jar or jars of the project they want to support,” Brewer said. “You can put all of your grant money in one jar or you can spread it out, but that’s our way to see what people will support and what they suggest.”

“This is the opportunity for the public to say what they want.”

The meetings at the Civic Center come after a meeting on Nov. 2 at the Mendota High School where attendees wrote the rough draft for the guiding statement using the data collected.

Brewer said 1,700 interviews and surveys will be filed from community members, which is 24 percent of the town.

“We entered all the data into spreadsheets and cut all of the pieces apart. We brought the spreadsheets to the meeting and had it organized by businesses, parks, and different categories,” Brewer said. “Then they sorted it into what people valued about Mendota. They turned the information from interviews and surveys into valued statements saying this is who we are, and this is what we care about.”

On Nov. 6, the group went to the Mendota City Council meeting to present their information and the next step.

“We said here is our rough draft. We wanted the City Council to see it first because we wanted their input,” Brewer said. “We also gave them a list of all of the projects and ideas people had on the surveys and interviews. We asked if any of those would be feasible for the public to take care of and discuss or if they wanted to within City Council.”

“There wasn’t anything that they didn’t want on there. We had a great response and discussion with the City Council.”

Reimagine Mendota is at the end of Phase 2 of the four-phase Community Heart & Soul Seed Grand Program.

After the Nov. 18 and Nov. 20 meetings, the group will take a break in December, but will begin Phase 3 in January. Phase 3 is how to turn projects into action and Phase 4 is how to continue the action.

IVCC Board adopts tentative ‘23 tax levy

OGLESBY – Illinois Valley Community College’s Board adopted a tentative $15 million 2023 tax levy, a 4.99 percent increase from the 2022 actual tax extension of $14.3 million.

The levy is based on an estimated 8.96 percent increase in the district’s eight-county combined equalized assessed valuation. The levy will result in a decrease of 0.0131 cents in the tax rate. The average $100,000 home that has no change in its assessed value will realize a decrease of about $4.32 in taxes.

Adoption is expected next month. Since the increase is less than 5 percent, no truth-in-taxation hearing is required by statute.

In her monthly report to the Board, President Dr. Tracy Morris:

- Reported that the IVCC Choir was invited to participate in the IL-ACDA Two-Year College Festival on Saturday, Feb. 10, 2024, at the Geneseo High School Performing Arts Center.
- Noted that all of the Licensed Practical Nursing students, and 91 percent of the Registered Nursing students, passed their state licensure exams on the first try.
- Reported that math instructor Mary Black became the eighth IVCC instructor to complete the ION Master Online Teacher program.
- Announced that a basic-needs drive to supply Eagles Peak kept growing past its month-long collection deadline, and a total of 1,024 basic needs products have been collected to date.

In other business, the board:

- Approved three Protection, Health and Safety projects costing $1.9 million. Those projects include interior lighting upgrades throughout campus, Building C mechanical room structural repairs and waterproofing, and loading dock reconstruction.
- Approved an update to a policy that governs review and update of policies and procedures and updated two other policies governing chronic communicable diseases and animals on campus.
- Discontinued the forensic science certificate.
- Approved a change order to the lighting and security updates project not to exceed $100,000, and a change order to the lighting project in the Truck Driver Training area amounting to $10,200.

The board also learned of the following:

- Appointments of Christian Carboni, welding instructor; Eric Johnson, Controller; Susan Monroe, IVCC Foundation Alumni and Donor Relations Coordinator; Laurie Polte, student services information specialist, and Karsen Gromm, marketing coordinator.
- Resignations of Tina Lowande, assessment center specialist and Grace Norris, electronic resources librarian.

The library does different things and wants to be there for anyone. We can have any book on the Story Walk. We have to buy three books for Story Walk because we have to slice two of them for the pages to work on the plaques and then one for the library for checkout.

“It’s really awesome to partner with the Rotary. I can’t do half of the stuff we do without the help of other organizations in Mendota. We can’t do anything in Mendota by ourselves. We’re a community and should be partnering for events and projects. It takes a village.”

Dykstra and the Rotary Club feel the same way.

Like she said, fate struck.

“I’m really glad that we were able to make it happen,” Dykstra said. “For the Rotary, we applied for a grant to be able to create the Story Walk. The focus of the year for last year was literacy. Every year there are grants available and there are very specific criteria for the grants. The other times we looked at getting a grant for a project, we just couldn’t meet all of the criteria.”

“With this, the Story Walk, being a literacy project, it worked out for us to apply and be approved for the grant.”

No justice for Jane Doe

By Scott Reeder

Imagine being a woman locked in a state prison who is repeatedly raped by a male staff member.

Recently, a federal jury in Springfield awarded a woman referred to in court documents as “Jane Doe” $19 million for such violations she suffered while incarcerated at Logan Correctional Center in Lincoln.

And how much did Attorney General Kwame Raoul’s office initially offer to settle the suit? $10,000.

You read that right. Our state’s chief legal officer put a value on this woman’s victimization somewhere below the price tag of a 15-year-old pickup truck.

She wasn’t just victimized by her rapist, but also by lawyers representing the state. They poooh-pooohed her trauma with a lowball offer. They may well have been betting that the former gymnastics instructor from McHenry County didn’t have the grit to tell a courtroom full of people what had been done to her.

According to a report by the legal news service Law360, the state attorney general’s office offered to settle the lawsuit, at first offering Doe $10,000, and finally $50,000.

The report didn’t say whether a shrug accompanied the offers. But there might as well have been one.

A sick sociological calculus often accompanies negotiations such as these. Inmates are the untouchables in the American caste system. Their worth is seen as somehow “less than.” For some, prisoners are viewed as less than free people. For others, less than human.

But a jury saw things differently. It awarded $8 million in compensatory damages and $11.3 million in punitive damages against prison counselor Richard Macleod, lead prison investigator Todd Sexton and Warden Margaret Burke.

The civil complaint alleges when Doe would go to Macleod’s office to make phone calls to her child, he repeatedly exposed himself to her. On two occasions, he demanded and received oral sex and on two other times had nonconsensual intercourse.

“Nonconsensual intercourse?” Oh, how I hate how lawyers sanitize the most reprehensible acts. How about just calling it what it is? Rape.

No one deserves to be raped. No one. In fact, Illinois law prohibits sex between inmates and prison workers. Such contact is always nonconsensual. Always.

Doe showed up in court and told her story. But Macleod was nowhere to be seen.

“The actual perpetrator, Richard Macleod, never showed up to defend himself,” Doe’s lawyer Nicole Schult said. “So, everything that our client alleged happened was taken as a matter of law to be true. So, the state itself never had a chance or an opportunity to say that none of this happened. No one in the course of this trial has ever said that what happened to my client didn’t happen.”

Macleod left the Illinois Department of Corrections in 2018 but according to his online resume, he’s now a captain in the U.S. Army.

With substantiated civil allegations like these levied against him, why is he serving in a position of such authority? More importantly, why hasn’t Logan County State’s Attorney Bradley Hauge filed criminal charges?

Schult said her client has never been given a reason by the prosecutor. I reached out to Hauge to see if he would give a reason to the folks who elected him. I never received a call back.

When a prosecutor won’t communicate with either victims or those who elected him, one has to ask: Who does he really serve?

Well, rural Logan County has two state prisons. And correctional officers are important constituents. Could the political clout of the guards have this prosecutor shaking in his wingtips?

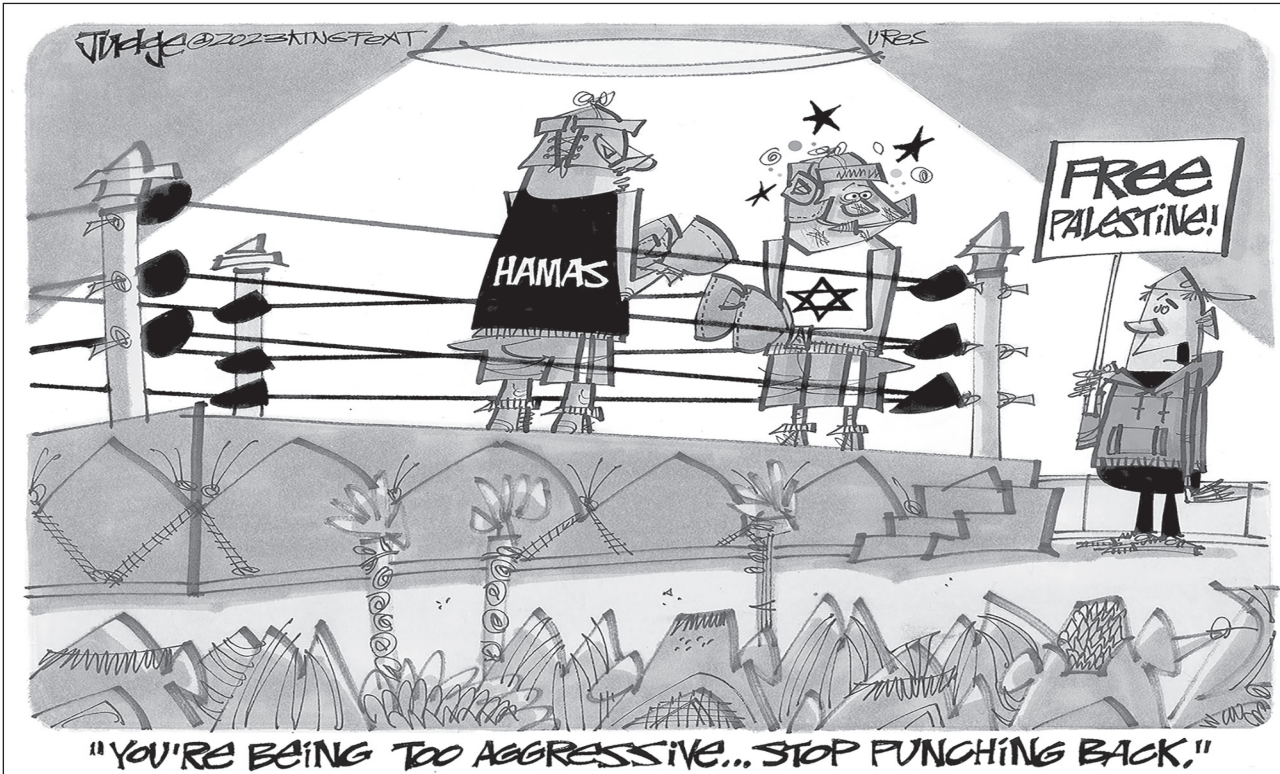

We don’t know. He’s not talking. For that matter, Attorney General Kwame Raoul’s office remains mum on the civil lawsuit.

But the jury did speak: loud and clear.

Illinois Day at Atlanta Expo – 1895

(The following is from Jessica Nashold’s Backtracks & Sidetracks column reprinted from Nov. 15, 1995.)

By Jessica Nashold

It sometimes happens that even very big news in one time period is totally forgotten with the passage of years. Who now remembers the celebration of Illinois Day at a big exposition in Atlanta? That day was Nov. 12, 1895, a hundred years ago.

A special train carried the Cook County Democrats’ Club to Atlanta to participate. They were met at the station at 7 a.m. by the Young Men’s Democratic League of Atlanta. The two clubs joined forces in a parade after which Gov. John P. Altgeld of Illinois, together with exposition officials and Georgia officeholders, were escorted to the fairgrounds by the First Illinois regiment.

Altgeld reviewed the troops, then spoke at length, emphasizing that Illinois was in Atlanta on a mission of good fellowship, not for any commercial reason.

The people of the south have held out a friendly hand and we have come down to grasp it.

Altgeld reminded the listeners that the south had risen to its present admirable situation from dismal beginnings.

Thirty years ago the southern states lay prostrate – industry was dead and agriculture lay helpless. The institutions of society had been destroyed.

Yet, Algeld said, the exposition had demonstrated to the world vitality of republican institutions. Had it been under a monarchy, the south would have been unable to recover.

In response, a speaker from Atlanta declared –

The same love of country that blazes among the fields of Illinois, inspires each patriotic heart among the hills of Georgia.

This exposition must have continued for some time. The CB&Q was offering to sell round-trip fares from Mendota to Atlanta and return until Dec. 15, 1895. The return was valid until Jan. 7, 1896. The cost was $33.55.

Even as the Atlanta exposition was in progress and many patriotic sentiments were being expressed, the author of “America” with its familiar opening line, “My country ‘tis of thee,” died in Boston on Nov. 18, 1895. He was Samuel F. Smith and he had reached the age of 87. He wrote “America” while a theological student and it was first sung at a children’s celebration in a Boston church on July 4, 1832.

The opera house, also known as Germania Hall, had been renovated and the Germania Society conducted a week-long fair starting Nov. 18, 1895. There were numerous contests and drawings as well as entertainment, including a program by the men’s singing groups from LaSalle, Peru and Mendota.

A 25-cent supper could be enjoyed in the German Village in the basement although no “spiritous liquor” would be served.

Ald. E.P. Cook returned from a trip during which he inspected sewer systems in Ohio, Massachusetts and New York. He also stopped to visit his son, Ed, who was enrolled at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore. Dr. Cook observed that there had been a “democratic downfall” in Maryland.

It was the steadfast purpose of ridding the state of boss rule that granted the republicans a victory, with the aid of “good” democrats.

A Rebekah Lodge was organized Nov. 13, 1895, by Mendota Lodge No. 293 I.O.O.F. It had 28 charter members.

We hope to see it prosper and do good. Years ago, Mendota had one which was very helpful in the work of the order.

The CB&Q broke a record when the “Katy Flyer” left Galesburg for Chicago one hour late. They covered the 80 miles from Galesburg to Mendota in 85 minutes with four stops. When they reached Chicago on time, they had made up 60 minutes in running 162 miles. Engineer was Jim Kingan, fireman was John Healey. Engine 512 “did the business.”

Electric light for the streets and “domestic use” was restored Nov. 15 after being unavailable several days because repairs parts could not be obtained sooner.

The people who are using electric light gladly welcome its return.

E. Munson, the jeweler, announced he would award a diamond ring on New Year’s Day to Mendota’s most popular clerk, “either lady or gentleman.” Customers could cast a vote in the clerks’ contest with every dollar purchase.

William Schaertlein, who had for a short time been associated with Mauer’s Bakery & Restaurant on Main Street, returned to his former location on Sixth Street, east of the tracks.

His old east side friends will be glad to have him back.

Schaertlein advertised for a few more “boarders” at his restaurant – customers who would eat there on a regular basis.

Max John built an addition to his grocery store on Main Street.

It will have a special flour room, which will be absolutely dust and mouse proof.

Sturman & Ziebarth were making ready to open a cigar store in the new Faber building on the south side of Jefferson Street.

Henry Scherer moved his barbershop into the same building, probably in the basement.

He will be pleased to have customers call for a clean shave, a good haircut or anything in his line.

Someone provided statistics on the distances walked by a farmer putting in and attending to 40 acres of corn: to plow – 350 miles; to harrow – 50 miles; to cultivate – 300 miles. The grand total was 700 miles, in addition to miles walked while “gathering the crop.”

The Department of Agriculture gave a preliminary estimate of corn yields for 1895 – 26.2 bushels per acre.

There’s one easy trick to winning in 2024

By Rich Lowry

Robert F. Kennedy, Jr. has a history, and a present, of promoting wild conspiracy theories. His independent bid for the presidency is quixotic at best. And yet a new Quinnipiac poll has him getting an impressive 22% in a three-way contest with Donald Trump and Joe Biden, and with a narrow lead among independents.

This should be less encouraging to RFK than a warning sign to the major parties that they are courting disaster by nominating two candidates so unappealing that a solid bloc of voters, at first blush, would prefer someone, anyone really, with the last name Kennedy.

Democracy is usually the art of giving voters what they want. But, apparently, not in 2024.

Usually the obvious political considerations prevail in presidential politics.

It was pretty obvious that Joe Biden was a stronger general-election candidate in 2020 than Bernie Sanders, and lo and behold, Biden rose from the dead and won the Democratic nomination.

Sometimes passion, calculated risk-taking, delusion or stasis overwhelm the obvious, though. When this happens to one party -- think of the Barry Goldwater or George McGovern nominations -- it often suffers a debacle. But what if both parties succumb to these forces at same time?

Then, you get a clash of weakness where each party risks throwing away a winnable race through its insistence on a desperately flawed nominee.

The Republican reaction to the likely re-nomination of President Biden is, in effect, “We’ll see and raise your unpopular incumbent who looks like he could tip over at any moment with an unpopular former president who will likely be convicted of felonies next year.”

The Democratic reaction to the likely re-nomination of Donald Trump is, in effect, “We’ll see and raise your radioactive standard-bearer with a president who is trailing him in polls and who most people think can’t serve another four years.”

Both parties think they are going to win anyway. Even if they are right, their chances of victory would go up appreciably if they switched away from their current presumptive nominees.

A generic Democrat who is not festooned with Biden’s failures and weaknesses and is not in his or her 80s would almost certainly readily defeat Trump. (The unpopular Kamala Harris does not meet the definition of such a Democrat.)

A generic Republican who hasn’t spent years making him – or herself hateful to suburbanites, who isn’t wedded to ridiculous yarns about the 2020 election, and who isn’t in serious legal jeopardy in multiple jurisdictions would almost certainly readily beat Biden.

According to the latest USA Today/Suffolk poll, Trump leads Biden on who’s best to handle the economy, foreign affairs and the border, while surveys consistently find about three-quarters have doubts about Biden’s ability to serve another four years. And yet the mandarins of the Democratic Party believe he’s best suited to beating Trump.

On the other hand, despite all his troubles, Biden has a higher favorable rating (39% positive, 49% negative) than Trump (35% positive, 54% negative), according to a recent NBC News poll.

There’s no doubt that Trump could eke out a win against Biden, the way he did against Hillary Clinton in 2016. But why settle for hoping for a narrow win against such a debilitated incumbent?

With Trump, the GOP will be asking the middle of the electorate to conclude, “We can’t stand this guy and there’s nothing that can make us change our minds about him, but things are so bad in the country that perhaps we should give him a try again, anyway.”

Maybe that happens, but it isn’t the strongest grounds on which to contest an election.

The parties show no sign of doing something different, though. Benefiting from incumbency, Biden is all but unchallenged, and Trump continues to have an incredible grip on Republican voters.

So, both parties will probably roll the electoral dice unnecessarily next year, and try to give the voters what they don’t want, good and hard.

IVCC welcomes college educators from The Netherlands

OGLESBY – Two college educators from The Netherlands expected to learn how Illinois does college. Now they can also add Halloween, Walmart and bald eagles to their list of discoveries.

Ryan Smulders and Judith de Kloe recently spent two weeks in the Illinois Valley before returning home to Den Bosch and Eindhoven, The Netherlands. They work in two colleges in cities about 30 minutes apart.

On campus, the pair observed classes and labs and met faculty, staff and administration. Smulders, who teaches social sciences for nursing students, spent a day shadowing IVCC nursing students at the Ottawa hospital. De Kloe, who is involved in student services and retention, conferred with counterparts with similar roles.

“They’ll participate in all aspects of college life,” said Amanda Cook Fesperman, coordinator of IVCC’s International and Multicultural Education and Study Abroad program. “They see how we do our work and share how their colleges function similarly or differently. We all have a chance to learn and grow.”

Both visitors were struck by how IVCC faculty and staff support students in classrooms and throughout training. College faculty and programs bridge the leap between school and workforce here, Smulders said.

While observing an adult education class, de Kloe noticed the lesson didn’t start immediately because the instructor took time to talk with students. “He realized students are going through a lot mentally, and he took the time to talk about things happening in their lives,” she said.

Smulders and de Kloe want to bring back examples of campus clubs and their influence. Smulders believes activities help motivate students. By contrast, in Holland, clubs and activities take place off campus.

Both visitors have drawn curiosity and questions in classrooms, and the exchanges have been enlightening for both sides.

Unlike Illinois community colleges where students might range in age from 16 to 60, most college students de Kloe and Smulders work with are in their teens and 20s. While Dutch colleges prohibit cell phone use on campus, American students use theirs as teaching and learning aides, de Kloe and Smulders noticed.

De Kloe was excited to immerse herself in a campus that acknowledges and celebrates learning diversity and “listens to what students need and understands that everybody brings something different.” Her task now is to transmit that understanding and energy to faculty at home.

Smulders and de Kloe also enjoyed off-campus adventures. It’s been hard to miss Americans’ love of Halloween and decorating, which easily outpaces Holland’s, as do fast-food choices. Americans shop at stores with a bewildering array of goods, where hunting supplies are found next to Christmas décor which is next to pharmaceuticals, Smulders observed.

De Kloe looked forward to exploring an Ottawa bookstore, while Smulders tasted Cracker Barrel chicken dinners, warm apple cider and cider donuts – and enjoyed them all.

A riverboat trip down the Illinois River “was marvelous. And we saw eagles!” de Kloe said. In Holland, where 17 million people are packed into an area the size of Maryland, nature isn’t always available right out the back door. But de Kloe says there’s still corn growing, though “not as big as here.” Dairy cows are abundant, and so are tulips.

And Illinois terrain? “People call Illinois flat ... well, come to Holland. That’s FLAT!” de Kloe said.

Smulders and de Kloe were here through the Illinois Consortium for International Studies and Programs, a student and professional study abroad program. Their hosts, Director of Admission Tom Quigley and psychology instructor Rick Mangold, will travel to Holland next spring.

LaSalle County given tentative multiplier of 1.0000 for ‘23 taxes

SPRINGFIELD – LaSalle County has been issued a tentative property assessment equalization factor of 1.0000, according to David Harris, Director of the Illinois Department of Revenue.

The property assessment equalization factor, often called the “multiplier,” is the method used to achieve uniform property assessments among counties, as required by law. This equalization is particularly important because some of the state’s 6,600 local taxing districts overlap into two or more counties (e.g. school districts, junior college districts, fire protection districts). If there were no equalization among counties, substantial inequities among taxpayers with comparable properties would result.

State law requires property in Illinois to be assessed at one-third (1/3) of its market value. Farm property is assessed differently, with farm homesites and dwellings subject to regular assessing and equalization procedures, but with farmland and farm buildings assessed according to standards based on productivity.

The equalization factor is determined annually for each county by comparing the sales price of individual properties sold over the past three years to the assessed value placed on those properties by the county supervisor of assessments/county assessor.

If this three-year average level of assessment is one-third of market value, the equalization factor will be one (1). If the average level of assessment is greater than one-third of market value, the equalization factor will be less than one (1). And if the average level of assessment is less than one-third of market value, the equalization factor will be greater than one (1).

Assessments in LaSalle County are at 33.34 percent of market value, based on sales of properties in 2020, 2021, and 2022.

The equalization factor currently being assigned is for 2023 taxes, payable in 2024.

Last year’s equalization factor for the county was 1.0000.

The tentative factor is subject to change (1) if the County Board of Review takes actions which significantly affect the county assessments or (2) if local officials or others can present data showing that the Department of Revenue’s estimates of the average level of assessments in the county should be adjusted. A public hearing on the tentative multiplier will be held between 20 and 30 days after the tentative factor is published in a newspaper of general circulation within the county.

A change in the equalization factor does not mean total property tax bills will increase or decrease. Tax bills are determined by local taxing bodies when they request money each year to provide services to local citizens. If the amount requested by local taxing districts is not greater than the amount received in the previous year, then total property taxes will not increase even if assessments may have increased.

The assessed value of an individual property determines what portion of the tax burden a specific taxpayer will assume. That individual’s portion of tax responsibility is not changed by the multiplier.

A BIG THANK YOU!

TO MENDOTA HIGH SCHOOL

On behalf of Northbrook Middle School and Holy Cross School, we are extremely grateful to the Mendota High School administration, staff and students for hosting our “Hoops for the Hungry” basketball games at MHS on November 1. Our administrators, coaches, players, parents and fans cannot say enough about the exciting atmosphere including MHS Super Fans, the MHS music department, and the “spotlight introductions” at the start of the 8th grade game! Special thanks to Steve Wasmer and Gary Barrera for their support.

Although the basketball games were a great experience for our students, the real winner was the Mendota Food Pantry! Thanks to all who donated a total of 396 pounds of food that will make for a happy Thanksgiving for people who are in need.

With much appreciation!

Burn Ordinance

MENDOTA – It is unlawful to burn any materials other than small and dried quantities of branches, leaves, weeds or grass at any time. The burning of any material such as rubber, tires, leather, tar paper, old batteries or any material that emits an offensive odor when burned is unlawful within the city limits of Mendota.
Limited amounts of yard waste material may be burned provided the material is dry and does not create an offensive odor, nuisance or fire hazard due to excessive high winds. Combustible yard waste material may be kindled from 10 a.m. through 4 p.m. on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays only. All fires must be constantly tended by a competent person, until such fire is properly extinguished. The continued smoldering of slow-burning combustible yard waste after 4 p.m. is a nuisance and anyone kindling such a fire that will emit obnoxious odors after 4 p.m. will be considered performing an unlawful act. Burning on Sunday by commercial establishments shall be considered an unlawful act.

Celebrating the best basketball team in Mendota H.S. history

A statement saying something or someone is the best ever is usually contradictory, sparks debates, and there is evidence sustainable in court to rebut the original claim.

In this case, I'm sure there will be attempts to dethrone my statement or the team, but I think it's fair to say the 1998-99 girls' basketball team is the best hoops team Mendota High School has seen.

Not the Last Chance By Brandon LaChance

C o a c h Mike Kilmartin and players Jaci Bice, Tyan Childs, Meredith Eich, Jamie Emm, Stacie Engstrom, Erica Henry, Jamie Kromm, Sammy

Kromm, Megan McConville, Leah Neubauer, Megan Norris, Melissa Rose, Allison Skinner, Janelle Sonderoth, Erin Wujek, and manager Claudette Weber (all maiden names) will be celebrated by the current Lady Trojans and Mendota fans between the junior varsity and varsity game on Nov. 21 against Oregon.

And deservedly so.

In a two-class system instead of the now four-class system, the '98-99 Lady Trojans added a fourth-place state trophy to the Mendota trophy case after a 26-7 season.

To this day, 25 years later, it's the only state basketball trophy, boys or girls, in the case.

Mendota beat Eureka 59-39, Stark County 67-53, and Cissna Park 52-47 in the playoffs to make it to the IHSA State Tournament, which took eight teams instead of four at the time.

The Lady Trojans defeated Rockford Christian Life to be one of the Final Four teams in the state in Class 1A. However, Mendota fell to Carrollton 45-37 in the semifinal and lost to Okawville in the third-place game to finish fourth.

Although the '98-99 team didn't win its last game of the season, it advanced further than any Mendota team before them or after them.

"This team is the greatest team in girls' basketball history. Girls' basketball started in 1972 and this team won more games and went the farthest in school history," said Kilmartin in the 1999 MHS Yearbook. "Jaci Bice was a four-time MVP, a record that can only be tied."

As a junior high-aged kid who moved to Mendota in 1998, I had heard about the team by eavesdropping because as the new kid I wasn't cool enough to be in the cliques.

I never had the opportunity to go to a game coming from a non-sports family, but I made sure I kept my ears to the hallways and to the lunch tables to find out any information I could.

Fast forward after high school and college graduations and I was in a position to write "Where Are They Now?" stories for a newspaper in northern Illinois.

I always had Kilmartin (2014 Illinois Basketball Coaches Association Hall of Fame inductee) and Bice (a 2022 inductee of the IBCA Hall of Fame, MHS's all-time leading scorer with 2,111 points – Amellia Bromenschenkel would have passed her but didn't because of COVID-19 – was a four-time All-NCIC selection and a two-time All-State First Team player) at the top of my contact list.

However, Kilmartin was coaching at St. Bede so we knew where he was and Bice had joined the Army and was unreachable.

But there was always something about the 1998-99 team that was fascinating and memorable even though I never had the chance to see them play.

But for those who were in attendance or were on the teams, the smiles when they talk about the team are from ear-to-ear.

The '98-99 Mendota girls' basketball team deserves to be announced and recognized on Nov. 21 between the junior varsity and varsity games and to have a reception afterward because of what the team not only meant to themselves and to the record books, but to the community as well.

Jamie Kromm hosts basketball camps and I believe any of the '98-99 team members would love to give some of the current hoopsters some advice to keep a winning tradition within the Lady Trojans.

Pool, UW-Madison special places for McGann

□ MHS senior taking swimming talents north to Wisconsin

MENDOTA – When Bridget McGann jumped into a swimming pool for the first time at the age of 6, she knew it was a special place.

Fast forward 11 years.

When Bridget McGann stepped on the campus of the University of Wisconsin at Madison on a recruiting trip to be a collegiate swimmer, she got that same feeling she had back when she was a little girl. UW-Madison was a special place, and she knew right then that she wanted to spend her next four years as a Badger.

The Mendota High School senior made it official on Nov. 8 when she signed a letter of intent for a full-ride scholarship to be a member of the UW-Madison swimming team beginning in the fall of 2024.

"It felt right to where it was more than just the swim team that attracted me to Wisconsin," McGann said. "It felt like I would have a home for the next four years and for the rest of my life. The campus is so beautiful and the student atmosphere is incredible."

Since Mendota High School doesn't have a swimming team, McGann had to reach outside of the community where she could pursue her passion for the pool. She did that by becoming a member of the Academy Bullets Swim Club at Marmion Academy in Aurora. Her specialties are breaststroke and individual medley, and she admitted that breaststroke is one of the harder strokes to master.

"The breaststroke is very heavy into technique, so if your technique is off, things can get pretty whacky," McGann said.

One person that has helped her hone that technique is Todd Capen, her club coach. He saw something special in McGann from the first time he began coaching her.

"She is proof that hard work pays off," Capen said. "Bridget is going to do the things that others aren't going to do to make her achieve her success."

"Some kids don't do the things they need to do to help them succeed. Bridget is not one of them. She puts in the time and the effort to make herself the best that she can be and it's gotten her a scholarship as a Division I swimmer."

McGann was also attracted to Wisconsin for its academics where she will major in kinesiology and minor in psychology with the goal of being a sports psychologist.

"Sports psychology doesn't get enough attention and I hope I can break the stigma at Wisconsin to show how important it is for sports and the public in general," she said.

Jumping into the swimming pool at age 6 also started the Olympic dream for McGann, and she still has that aspiration today.

"I'm going to go to Wisconsin and support the Badgers, and then on my own I'm going to pursue my Olympic dream," McGann said. "Then after that, I hope to help as many people as I can through sports psychology."

McGann, who initially thought a warm-weather college would be her destination, had offers from Auburn University in Alabama, as well as Missouri and other Big Ten schools Minnesota and Indiana.

But staying close to home was also important to her, and UW-Madison won out over all the rest.

Q: I thought Tom Brady was going to become a football commentator after he retired. Who is he working for now? -- P.T.

Brady

A: The seven-time NFL Super Bowl-winning quarterback signed a huge deal with Fox before he retired earlier this year. However, he's not expected to take the mic away from current co-analyst Greg Olsen (with Kevin Burkhardt) until the 2024 NFL season begins. Brady has stated that "decompression is important," explaining that he wants to excel at commentating and avoid jumping into the role immediately.

As for Olsen, his contract with Fox doesn't end until the 2026 season concludes, so where that will leave him once Brady joins the booth is still uncertain.

Q: I started watching cable TV again and wonder if I'll still be able to watch my favorite classic Christmas movies this season. Is "It's a Wonderful Life" on cable? What about other classics? -- K.J.

A: With so much programming to choose from on network and cable TV as well as a plethora of streaming services, you could probably find holiday entertainment on your screen 24 hours a day. Fortunately, the old classics are still around.

"It's a Wonderful Life," which was first released in 1946 and stars James Stewart and Donna Reed, will air on NBC on Dec. 24 at 8 p.m. ET. Prime Video, Roku, FuboTV and DirecTV Stream will also carry the movie in December, if not sooner. Two versions of "A Christmas Carol" (1984 with George C. Scott and 1999 with Patrick Stewart) are also available. Scott's will air on TCM on Dec. 18, as well as on Starz, Tubi and Roku, while Stewart's will air on TNT on Dec. 14 and on DirecTV Stream.

TNT is also continuing its tradition of airing "A Christmas Story" marathon-style on Dec. 24 at 8 p.m. for 24 hours straight. It'll also be available on that same channel during other times in November and December, so be sure to check your cable guides.

TVLine.com has a wonderful comprehensive guide online of over 100 old and new holiday films and specials. Search for your favorites and discover new ones at www.tvline.com/lists/christmas-tv-movies-2023-schedule-netflix-hallmark-lifetime/.

Q: How is Marcia Cross doing since her cancer diagnosis a few years ago? I haven't seen her since "Desperate Housewives," so I hope she's doing well. -- C.D.

A: Marcia Cross, who first made a name for herself in the 1990s as Dr. Kimberly Shaw on "Melrose Place," became even more of a household name as Bree Van De Kamp on another hit show, "Desperate Housewives." Unfortunately, five years after that show concluded, Cross faced a battle she didn't expect -- a cancer diagnosis. During a routine exam, her doctor discovered an abnormality that, after further testing, was discovered to be anal cancer. Cross underwent chemotherapy and radiation, and has since been in remission.

She's also still acting, most recently in the Netflix series "You" and the Fox series "Monarch," the latter of which was unfortunately canceled. However, once the SAG-AFTRA actors' strike is over, I'm sure that Cross will be back on our screens posthaste.

HOLLYWOOD -- Jada Pinkett Smith's revelation in her book "Worthy" that she and husband Will Smith have lived apart for seven years didn't endear her to readers, and her book is being considered a "flop." It's been out sold so far by Arnold Schwarzenegger's "Be Useful: Seven Tools for Life," Britney Spears' "The Woman in Me" and even John Stamos' memoir "If You Would Have Told Me."

Not written in a book was Meryl Streep's admission that she and her sculptor husband of 45 years, Don Gummer, have been living apart for six years. (She's 74, and he's 76.) A representative on behalf of Streep admitted: "While they will always care for each other, they have chosen lives apart."

Their four children all became actors. Henry Wolfe Gummer, 43, is a singer-songwriter and actor ("The Good Shepherd"). Mamie Gummer, 40, acted in "The Good Wife" (2010-15);

"The Good Fight" (2018); "Cake" (2014); and "Ricki and the Flash" (2015), along with her mother and Rick Springfield.

Grace Gummer, 37, is a Theatre World Award winner for the revival of "Arcadia" in 2011. She was also in "The Newsroom" and "American Horror Story: Freak Show," and had regular roles in "Extant" and "Mr. Robot." Louisa Jacobson (Gummer), 32, appeared in the HBO series "The Guilded Age." Not quite the Fonda family, but an up-and-coming showbizzy family no less.

Tom Cruise's "Mission: Impossible -- Dead Reckoning Part One" opened on July 12 and grossed only $567.5 million against its $291 million cost. Paramount hoped "Part Two," which was set to open in June 2024, would make a hefty profit, but their hopes were temporarily dashed when they were forced to move the opening to May 2025 due to the actor's strike.

Their silver lining is that after delaying "Top Gun: Maverick" from July 2019 to May 2022 due to the pandemic, they grossed well over $1 billion. They've also pushed back "A Quiet Place: Day One" until June 2024, and Sony's "Paddington in Peru" has been moved to January 2025.

Director Matthew Vaughn gave us "X-Men: First Class" (2011) and the "Kingsman" trilogy, to name a few of his credits, but now he wants to remake the original "Star Wars," which starred Mark Hamill, Carrie Fisher and Harrison Ford back in 1977. Vaughn admitted, "Everyone is going to go bat* crazy, but let's bring it on." He also advised Disney that "if you want a new generation, make the movie for them. The old generation, hopefully, you make it well enough that they enjoy it."

But for now, though Lucasfilm is focused on expanding George Lucas' universe beyond the Skywalker saga and not planning to retell his story with new actors.

Couch Theater

"Spider-Man: Across the Spider-Verse" (PG) -- In the sequel to the 2018 hit animated film "Spider-Man: Into the Spider-Verse," Shameik Moore reprises his role as Miles Morales. Miles is currently trying to balance his newfound Spider-Man title with the qualms of life when he comes across an old friend, Gwen (Hailee Steinfeld). Feeling more misunderstood than ever, Miles gets enticed by the fact that Gwen is now in a task force of spider-people who protect the multiverse and decides to join her amid his inexperience. In turn, his thirst to prove himself leads him down a rocky road where sacrifice is inevitable. Putting the stellar voice cast aside (Issa Rae, Oscar Isaac, Daniel Kaluuya), the animation of these films continues to be inventive and breathtaking, and it excels in building on Miles' unique origin story. Out now. (Netflix)

"A Haunting in Venice" (PG-13) -- Director and actor Kenneth Branagh brought back his version of Agatha Christie's sharp-witted detective Hercules Poirot for the third time in this spooky mystery film out now on streaming. The now retired (but not for long) Poirot decides to accompany writer Ariadne Oliver (Tina Fey) to a Halloween party in a Venetian palazzo. At the party, opera singer Rowena announces a seance to contact her recently deceased daughter, but shortly after the seance ends, a murder is committed in perfect timing for Poirot to jump on the case! This film is a much better addition to Branagh's trilogy than his previous "Death on the Nile," having garnered $119 million in the box office with a $60 million budget. Plus, Oscar winner Michelle Yeoh is always a welcome sight! (Hulu)

"Fingernails" (R) -- In this sci-fi romance film, Anna (Jessie Buckley) and Ryan (Jeremy Allen White) are a seemingly perfect match -- with evidence to prove it! Three years before, they took and aced the fingernail test created by the Love Institute, an institution that works to help to establish certainty and rid doubts in romantic relationships. Curious to know more about the institute, Anna takes up a job there and starts gravitating toward another instructor named Amir (Riz Ahmed). Finding herself torn between her longing for Amir and the stability she has with Ryan, Anna grapples with whether she's truly with her perfect match, or if such a thing even exists. Out now! (Apple TV+)

"Please Don't Destroy: The Treasure of Foggy Mountain" (R) -- The comedy troupe Please Don't Destroy, consisting of Ben Marshall, John Higgins and Martin Herlihy, was founded in 2017 while the trio were students at New York University. In 2021, they were hired as writers for "Saturday Night Live" and have since been featured in a variety of different sketches on the show. Now, the trio has made a jump from TV to movies with lead roles in a comedy film produced by Judd Apatow and narrated by John Goodman. They play three clueless department store workers who attempt to find a treasure from their childhood, but unbeknownst to them, they're not the only ones searching for it. Conan O'Brien and "SNL's" Bowen Yang also star in the film, premiering Nov. 17. (Peacock)

What’s in your heart?

Proverbs 4:23 says, “Above all else, guard your heart, for everything you do flows from it” (NIV).

The Bible has a lot to say about your heart; not your physical heart, but what’s going on inside of you—your thoughts, motives, and desires. These “hidden” things are important because they eventually come out through your words, attitudes, and the things you do. If you have a healthy heart, then it leads to a healthy life.

So, I want to ask you today: What is in your heart? Is it full of murmuring and complaining? Or is it filled with praise and thanksgiving to God?

Just like it’s possible to have a physical heart murmur, I believe we can also suffer from a spiritual heart murmur. We can get into a habit of complaining or “murmuring” about the things we aren’t happy with in life. These murmurs are often the result of jealousy, resentment, or a lack of gratitude.

For instance, I can remember a time years ago when my next-door neighbor was given a brand-new coat—the very coat I had been praying for! I thought, Surely, they delivered it to the wrong house by accident. Instead of being happy for her, I seethed with jealousy and grumbled about how I deserved it more than she did.

The truth is, God can never bless us to the degree He wants to until we learn how to truly be happy for other people. If all we can do is complain about what others have and what we don’t have, it just keeps us stuck.

The Israelites are the perfect example. Because of their unbelief and bad attitudes, they literally wandered around in the wilderness for 40 years. The Bible says “All the Israelites grumbled against Moses and Aaron, and the whole assembly said to them, ‘If only we had died in Egypt! Or in this wilderness!’” (Numbers 14:2 NIV).

They complained when they were hungry, and so God supernaturally provided them with manna every morning. Although they were satisfied for a little while, they began to grumble because they wanted meat instead (Exodus 16:11-16; 17:1-7).

It’s easy to read about the Israelites and think, How could they be so ungrateful? However, we often do the very same thing! We can pray to have children, then later complain about all the hard work that comes with it. Or we can desire a bigger house and then get upset because we have to spend more time cleaning it.

I used to be a chronic complainer. I would make my list and ask God for all the things I wanted, while complaining about the things

I already had. One day, the Lord spoke to my heart and said, “Joyce, if you’re not thankful for what you have now, why should I give you more to complain about?” That got my attention!

Maintaining a grateful heart is the cure for a spiritual heart murmur. Psalm 50:23 says, “He who offers a sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving honors Me; and to him... I shall show the salvation of God” (AMP). When we are thankful, it opens the door for God to answer our prayers and bring blessings into our lives.

What we focus on has the ability to make us either happy or miserable. We can either dwell on the negative things or choose to magnify the good. When we choose to be thankful, we become happier, and we bring more joy to those around us.

The old saying “Count your blessings” is terrific advice. I think it’s easy to get used to all of the wonderful things God does for us and take them for granted. That’s why it’s so powerful to take even just a few minutes each day to thank Him for the blessings in our lives.

It felt a little awkward at first, but I’ve made a habit of being thankful. As I go about my day, I’ll thank God for His help with my work, the beautiful day He has provided, and even the coffee I get to drink. I praise Him for the people He has placed in my life and for the strength He gives me to keep on going when I feel too busy or overwhelmed.

It’s not only important to thank God for who He is and all that He does for us, but we also need to regularly thank the people who make our lives better. I think you would be amazed how much your relationships would improve if you simply began saying, “I appreciate you” from time to time.

Are you dealing with a heart murmur of your own? Have you been tempted to complain about the things you don’t like instead of focusing on the blessings in your life? If so, I encourage you to practice being a person of gratitude. Voice your thankfulness to God for the wonderful things He does for you each and every day.

As you do, you will fill your heart with joy and gratitude...and release the power of God’s goodness into your life like never before.

WINTER CAR CARE

How to prepare your car for winter

Summer and fall can stake their claim as road trip season, and even devoted drivers may admit that winter is generally a less desirable time to take to the open road. The elements factor heavily into that reputation, as fewer hours of daylight, snow and ice are just some of the variables that can make it less enjoyable, and potentially more dangerous, to drive in winter.

In anticipation of adverse driving conditions, vehicle owners can take various steps to prepare their cars and trucks for winter.

- Upgrade your wiper blades. Perhaps nothing is compromised more than visibility when driving in winter compared to other times of year. Snow makes it hard to see when driving, but fewer hours of daylight also can affect visibility. In fact, the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety reports that approximately half of all fatal crashes occur between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m., even though the number of drivers on the road during those hours is considerably lower than it is during the daytime. The difficulty of driving at night is even more significant when wiper blades are not up to the task of keeping rain and snow off drivers' windshields. Prior to winter, inspect wiper blades and upgrade them, if necessary. Streaks left on a windshield are a telltale sign that blades need to be replaced.

- Purchase winter tires. Winter tires may not be necessary in regions with relatively mild winters. However, drivers accustomed to winters marked by heavy snowfall and/or icy roads should consider replacing their existing tires with winter tires. Many newer vehicles are now equipped with all-season tires, which the tire experts at Bridgestone note provide great performance but are not designed to handle extreme winter conditions like snow and ice. Winter tires are specially designed to handle such conditions, making them a worthy investment for drivers who live in regions where it's not unusual to encounter snow and ice throughout the winter.

- Study up on your engine oil. Some vehicle manufacturers recommend different grades of oil depending on the range of temperatures a car or truck will be driven in. The owner's manual will likely indicate if the manufacturer recommends using a different type of engine oil in especially cold temperatures. Even if the manual does not include such a suggestion, drivers can seek the advice of a local mechanic.

- Schedule a pre-winter tuneup. Even if a vehicle is not due for a tuneup, it can be wise to have it looked over by a local mechanic before the arrival of harsh winter weather. A mechanic can check the radiator, hoses and other components that could be affected by especially cold weather in the months to come. If any issues are found, address them immediately. After all, it's better to be proactive than leave yourself vulnerable to breakdowns or other issues once the mercury drops.

As fall gives way to winter, drivers can take steps to keep their cars running strong and safe in the months ahead.

3 simple maintenance strategies that can keep cars running longer

The last few years have not proven the most advantageous times for new car buyers. According to the Consumer Price Index Summary from the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, buyers paid 12.2 percent more for new vehicles in January 2022 than they had in January 2021. Faced with such a significant increase in price, many drivers understandably want to keep their current cars longer than they might have initially planned.

Data released by S&P Global Mobility in early 2022 indicated that the average vehicle on the road is 12 years and two months old, which marked the highest number in the 20-plus years such information was tracked. A host of variables affect how long drivers keep their cars, but the rising cost of new vehicles has undoubtedly compelled many drivers to aspire to keep their cars for longer periods of time.

Aging cars may require a little more TLC than vehicles that are right off the dealership lot. But the following are three simple tips that can help drivers keep their cars running longer.

1. Become a more careful driver. A careful approach when behind the wheel is safer than aggressive driving and beneficial for your vehicle. When starting, avoid revving the engine, which needlessly wears it down. When out on the road, avoid rapid accelerations, which also contributes to needless wear and tear. Even excessive idling can adversely affect the engine, so keep winter warm-ups to around 30 seconds to prevent damage to engine components.

2. Know when and how to fill up. Every driver has likely visited a filling station when an oil tanker is busily filling the tanks. That's traditionally been considered a less than ideal time to fill up, as the theory is that filling the tanks stirs up sediment that could then find its way into consumers' gas tanks, adversely affecting their vehicles. However, that's often dependent on the station itself and how much its owners prioritize maintenance of the tank and filtration systems. Drivers who trust their local station owners can likely fill up when the tankers are present without worry. In addition, avoid topping off once the nozzle clicks when filling up. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency notes that topping off is harmful to the planet and the vehicle, as gasoline needs room to expand. When you top off, the extra gas may damage the vapor collection system and cause the vehicle to run less efficiently.

3. Change oil more frequently as the vehicle ages. It's true that modern vehicles no longer require oil changes for every 3,000 miles driven. However, as vehicles age, drivers and their vehicles' engines may benefit from more frequent oil changes than the owner's manual necessarily recommends. Oil changes remove dirt and metal particles from the engine, potentially contributing to a longer life expectancy. More frequent changes can be especially beneficial for vehicles that are routinely driven in stop-and-go traffic.

Rising vehicle costs have compelled many drivers to keep their cars longer than they initially planned. Some simple strategies can help drivers achieve that goal.

Warning signs that brakes are faltering

Automotive problems are often best left to professionals. Though seasoned car enthusiasts may be capable of diagnosing and fixing car troubles without the assistance of a trusted mechanic, most drivers are better off letting the pros address issues under the hood.

But drivers can still play a vital role in vehicle maintenance. Learning to recognize warning signs of various problems that can affect cars can prevent breakdowns and potentially costly repairs. And in certain instances, such as when the brake system is not working properly, knowing how to spot problems before they escalate into something larger can make drivers and their passengers safer and potentially prevent accidents.

Television shows and movies have lent credence to the notion that brake problems are marked by the sudden cessation of a vehicle's ability to stop. Though that can happen, warning signs of fading brake systems tend to be more subtle.

- Noises: Much like a knocking sound typically indicates a problem with a vehicle's air-fuel ration mixture, certain noises also suggest there are problems with the brakes. The most noticeable such sign is a high-pitched squeal that occurs when drivers apply the brakes. But grinding sounds and noises like scratching and scraping also warrant a visit to a brake specialist.

- Increase in stopping distance: An increase in the distance a vehicle travels before it stops after the brakes are applied indicates that there's an issue with the brakes. This issue may or may not require a brake replacement. In fact, it's sometimes indicative that brake fluid levels are low, which can be remedied quickly and easily. However, an increase in stopping distance is significant enough that it should be brought to the attention of a brake specialist immediately.

- Pulling upon stopping: Another warning sign of brake problems is when the vehicle noticeably pulls to one side as it comes to a stop. This indicates that one side of the brakes is malfunctioning while the other is working properly. Like other issues with brakes, this one requires immediate attention from an automotive professional.

Brake systems should be inspected during routine maintenance visits. But issues with brakes can arise even after such inspections, which underscores how important it is that drivers learn to recognize the warning signs of brake problems.
