Positive mindset helps Herren fight her battles

MENDOTA – Gerri Herren has dealt with life’s punches. Severe punches. Her husband, David Herren, passed away 13 years ago, which brought her back to her childhood home in Kasbeer after 30 years in Peoria.

She was diagnosed with a rare form of Leukemia nine years ago and about a year ago, thyroid cancer was added to life’s punching resume. “This is a new journey. Because of the rare form of Leukemia, I’ll have chemotherapy every day for the rest of my life,” said Herren, who is a 1981 Princeton High School graduate. “About a year ago, I lost my voice. I thought it was because of allergies because I have allergies really bad. Around Jan. 1, I felt something wasn’t right. Because I have Leukemia, everything goes through my cancer doctor. We started doing scans. In Ottawa, they said there was nothing they could do for me and sent me to a specialist in Peoria. They immediately said I needed surgery and I had a surgery on my throat on July 12th. “With everything that life has dealt me, I’ve just learned to go with the flow. I’m not one of those to sit around and feel sorry for myself people. Life is what it is, and you just have to keep pushing forward. This mindset has helped me at work.”

For this mindset, her kindness, and priority of making every customer at Beck’s BP feel welcomed, Herren was awarded the Tom Merwin Gold Star Employee Award at the Mendota Area Chamber of Commerce Annual Dinner and Awards Night on Friday, Nov. 3 at the Elks Lodge in Mendota.

Herren has been a part of the Beck’s team for the last 10 years and was promoted to assistant manager five years ago.

“I wait on the customers, help with paperwork and orders, I know how to prepare all of the food, and I help keep the store organized,” Herren said. “A lot of people yell at me for saying this, but I feel like I’m just doing my job.”

“I love my customers. I have a lot of stuff going on in my personal life, health wise, and these guys are the best support system ever. When I was in the hospital, they sent me cards and texted me. They yell at me for saying this award isn’t something I should have because I’m just doing my job, but I’m very honored.”

On Sunday, two days after winning the award, there was a bouquet of flowers on the clerk counter at Beck’s because one of Herren’s customers brought them because she won the award.

Horace Hume Outstanding Service Award

McConville is all about community participation

Long-time First State Bank president bestowed Hume Outstanding Service Award

By BRANDON LaCHANCE
Staff writer

MENDOTA – Tim McConville was enjoying the Mendota Area Chamber of Commerce Annual Dinner and Awards Night on Friday, Nov. 3 just like all the rest.

The First State Bank president sat at the FSB table with his wife Lori and a gathering of his employees through dinner and the usual festivities.

Then it was award time and MACC Board President and FSB Loan Officer Evan Wixom began to announce who the 2023 Horace Hume Outstanding Service Award winner was.

Wixom got to the first accomplishment under McConville’s community resume and McConville pieced together that he was the winner.

“When Evan said a 1973 Mendota High School graduate, that was the tipoff that I might be the winner of the award,” said McConville. “Soon as he said 1973, I looked around to see how many people were that old. That’s when I got worried.”

“I never really thought I’d win the award. I was caught off guard. I was surprised when my family walked in also. It was neat to have my family there. They have their lives also, so it was nice for them to be come.”

“There were a lot of surprises that came my way. I was numb for the most part and going through the motions. Getting the Horace Hume Award is great. It’s a great award to receive. It’s all very good.”

After McConville graduated from MHS, he went to Illinois State University where he received a degree in agriculture business even though his original intent was to teach math and coach baseball and wrestling.

Once he graduated and was looking for a job, he walked into First State Bank for the first time.

“My neighbor was an agriculture loan officer at First State Bank. I came in and asked if he knew of any jobs in the banking world,” said McConville. “He asked me what brought me in to the office. I told him my mother told me to come in. The president and chairmen were in the lobby. They came in and we did an interview right then. It was very sudden.

“A lot of people don’t know this because it’s disguised, but we occupy eight buildings downtown. They look like four different store fronts, but once you go behind the scenes, it’s like one big building. We could have moved to the outside of town and built something, but the downtown has had it tough in small communities. We wanted to stay right here. We have about 80 people that work for First State Bank downtown. It helps a little bit to make the downtown area better.”

McConville has worked for FSB for 45 years and has been the president for the last 30.

Along with his long list of responsibilities he has made sure himself and First State Bank are active members of the community.

City Council hears about tax levy

By KIP CHEEK
Staff writer

MENDOTA – The Mendota City Council heard information about the city tax levy and announced it will make improvements to city property at the Nov. 6 regular meeting.

ALDERMANIC REPORTS

Alderman Jim Fitzpatrick reported the notice of bid letting for new restrooms at Blackstone Park and Lake Mendota. Bids will be due at 9 a.m. Monday, Dec. 4 in the city clerk’s office.

Fitzpatrick said one bid was received for the Pennsylvania Avenue culvert project. By a straw vote, the council approved the bid of Gillan Construction LLC of Cherry in the amount of $89,270. The council will formally approve the measure at its next regular meeting. The work will consist of removing the old culvert top and replacing it with a new concrete top.

Fitzpatrick said the final day for the city burn pit to be open is Friday, Dec. 1, weather permitting.

Alderman John Holland presented preliminary numbers for the 2023 payable in 2024 tax levy. He said the 2024 tax levy is proposed to be $2.274 million, which is slightly less than a 5 percent increase from last year. However, due to other circumstances, Holland said homeowners should see a decrease in their 2024 property tax bill. The levy ordinance will be on the Dec. 18 agenda for the council’s consideration.

Alderman Vicki Johnson gave a reminder that the sixth and final food truck mania will take place from 4-8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 13. She said there are eight trucks committed to attend. “This has been a huge hit and thank you to the community for its support,” Johnson said.

DEPT. HEAD REPORTS

Tim Kimrey, public works director, reminded homeowners to unhook their garden hose from the outside faucet to prevent freezing of pipes. He also said that residents who participate in the leaf vacuum program should rake their leaves to the curb and not place them in the street. The leaves must not contain sticks and twigs.

Police Chief Greg Kellen said 87

city ordinance violations have been issued for various offenses since July 1. He added that the deadline to submit police officer applications is Monday, Nov. 13.

Fire Chief Dennis Rutishauser announced that a new full-time hire is going through the necessary requirements for beginning employment.

OTHER ITEMS

Annie Short and Amy Brewer of the Reimagine Mendota group gave a preliminary report on survey results and information gleaned so far from nine ‘community chats’ and other information-gathering events held in September and October. The events were held so residents could hear from each other what makes Mendota special and what can be done to make the community even better.

The final results of the information and ideas obtained will be presented at two Focus on Mendota Summits on Saturday, Nov. 18 from 9-11 a.m. and Monday, Nov. 20 from 6-8 p.m. at the Mendota Civic Center.

The next regular meeting of the Mendota City Council will be Monday, Nov. 20 at 5:30 p.m.

In the afternoon, the students participated in various organized games and activities prepared by the room parents. The students rotated around to different classrooms and the gym for the fun activities. The students then enjoyed a snack back in their own classrooms. Thank you to the staff and room parents for organizing and running the Halloween activities and

Throughout the years he has helped with the Mendota Sweet Corn Festival in different fashions, while supporting his FSB staff to do the same thing.

First State Bank sponsors different Mendota organizations, sports, events, and anything else that is a benefit to the "World's Greatest Little City."

"I'm happy to do as much as we can in the community. We try to do everything we can to be pro-community and pro-Mendota," McConville said. "We participate in just about everything we can participate in and try to be big sponsors in anything that makes sense to us."

After Wixom present the award at the annual dinner, Mendota City Clerk Emily McConville said a few words about the Horace Hume recipient.

After words of respect, congratulations, and thanks, she presented a blown-up photo of Tim McConville and his Halloween costume this year.

"The award is a fantastic honor. It was neat being surprised and embarrassed all at the same time," Tim McConville said. "The photo is just one of those sins you never quit paying for. I was Malibu Ken for Halloween. It was really funny."

And Herren laughs when she tells the story of what her boss, Beck's Manager Tiffany Bloomfield says.

"My boss told me, 'I can never win with you. If you're here, they ask if you ever get a day off. When you're gone, they ask where you're at and don't like that you're not here.'"

However, with her health conditions, the latter may be the more frequent reaction.

Herren may have to make a difficult choice.

"It's a struggle right now because of my health issues, but I do love my job. One of the first things I ask my doctor is if I'm still going to be able to work," Herren said. "Being a widow, I have to support myself and this is my getting out of the house."

It's kind of sad, but I do see it coming to an end. I've talked to my boss, Tiffany Bloomfield, about going to part time and working 20 hours a week instead of full time while I collect my husband's Social Security, since I'm old enough.

"It's sad in a way. When I think about it, I get teary-eyed. It's a discussion that's coming sooner than I want to admit that it's going to be a reality."

Whether it's as a full-time or part-time employee she is going to enjoy every second of helping her customers at Beck's BP.

And when she has to resign completely, she has the Tom Merwin Gold Star Employee Award to remind her of the memories of the people she worked with and her customers.

Smashing the century mark

IVCC opened its centennial celebration by taking aim at another century mark. The campus set out to raise 100 basic need items for the on-campus Eagles Peak food pantry and the campus and off-campus communities' generosity was overwhelming. The drive yielded a total of 860 dental care items, soaps, deodorants and tissue packs, and four of the categories completely surpassed 100 items each. Illinois needs to undo nuclear ban

By PAIGE LAMBERMONT
Competitive Enterprise Institute

Illinois has banned construction of new nuclear power plants for the past 36 years, since 1987. That’s a real predicament for a state that already relies heavily on that energy source for 53% of its electricity needs.

Now there’s a chance to end the nonsensical ban as the legislature may be poised to vote – again – on a plan to do just that. Only six months ago, the legislature overwhelmingly passed legislation, SB 76, to get rid of the ban, but it was vetoed by Democratic Gov. J.B. Pritzker.

Starting Nov. 7, lawmakers may have a chance to override the governor’s veto, giving the people of Illinois the chance to expand access to affordable, reliable, abundant energy to power their future.

“There is a pathway to override this veto, however, it will come down to whether the Speaker allows this bill to be called in the House,” State Sen. Sue Rezin, the bill sponsor, told WCSJ News.

In recent years, many states that had similar bans on nuclear power have acted to change them. West Virginia passed legislation repealing its nuclear ban in 2022. Since 2016, Montana, Kentucky, and Wisconsin have done the same. Connecticut has also amended its ban to allow for new construction at its existing plant site, Millstone Nuclear Power Plant.

The barrier to reform in Illinois is the governor.

Gov. Pritzker said he wasn’t happy with SB 76’s inclusion of large reactors, which he views as being less safe. When it was initially put forward, the bill only applied to small modular reactors that are smaller than conventional reactors, both in physical footprint and in electrical output. Ultimately, the bill that passed was expanded to include more reactors.

But it’s important to note that despite the governor’s misgivings, the only reactors included in SB 76 are newer designs with enhanced safety and performance features. This includes the type of reactor that just came online in Georgia earlier this year and is already producing a whopping 1,100 megawatts of reliable power, enough to power 500,000 homes.

In the event that the veto override attempt is unsuccessful, Sen. Rezin has also filed an alternative version of the bill, SB 2591, which reverts to the previous language limiting the reactor types that could be built to small modular reactors. This version would be more likely to get the governor’s support but would exclude some reactors that are included in SB 76.

Given that the bill originally passed with a supermajority in both chambers, the override is likely to pass if it comes to the floor; but if that doesn’t happen, the alternative bill will provide an opportunity for small modular reactor construction, which will still be an improvement on the blanket ban.

Ultimately, it makes no sense for Illinois to ban further progress on nuclear power. Illinois uses the most nuclear power of all U.S. states—nearly 100,000 gigawatt-hours in 2022. The state’s citizens and businesses rely on six different power plants that have 11 reactors in total. To put this in context, the amount of electricity that Illinois nuclear plants produce every year could power more than 9 million households at average consumption.

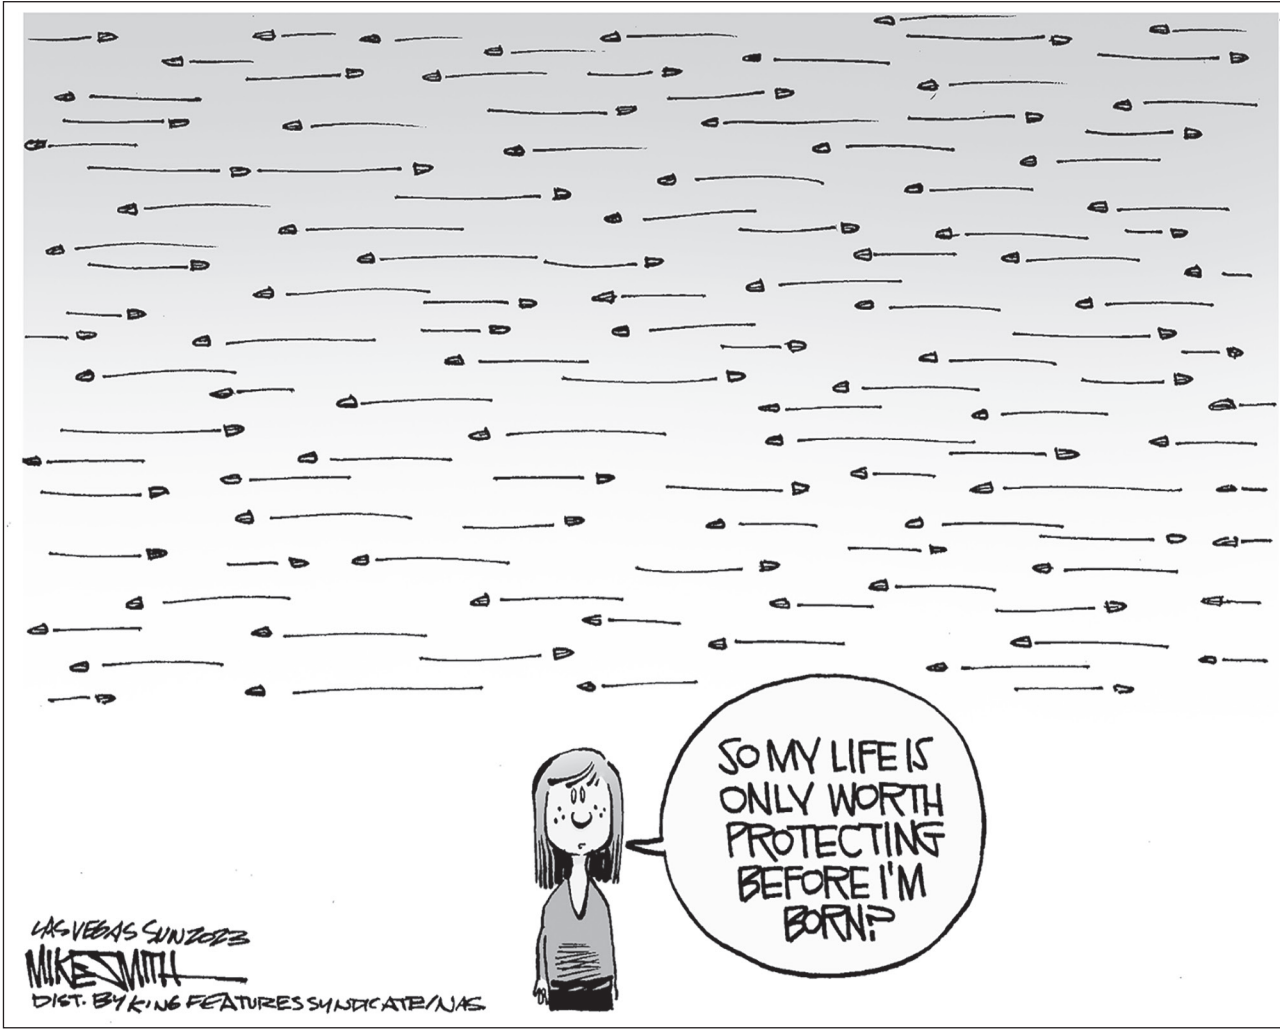

Illinois legislators have already demonstrated that they recognize the importance of nuclear power and getting rid of this outdated and misguided ban. Now they need to override the governor’s veto.

Corn belt farmers suffer – 1917

(The following is from Jessica Nashold’s Backtracks & Sidetracks column reprinted from Nov. 12, 1997.)
By Jessica Nashold

In November 1917, farmers in this area were dealing with truly horrendous conditions. First came an early frost, killing cornstalks and “leaving corn in the milk.” Some of it was cribbed and was now sprouting (two inches or more) or turning black. The corn still in the field was softer than it had been weeks before.

The oldest inhabitant cannot recall when the corn was so wet and unfit to crib.

Some farmers stopped husking to sort the corn already in the cribs, trying to save what they could. About one-half was thrown out as unfit. A few tried shelling and shipping to Chicago “at their own risk.” Although the market was quoted on Nov. 15, 1917, as 95 cents to $1.65, one shipment from Triumph brought only 60 cent per bushel.

The government was fearful that enough seed would not be available the following year. The USDA sent representatives into the fields to assist farmers in selecting the best seed and instruct them on proper storage. The goal was to retain a two-year supply of seed.

Farmers had been urged to raise as many hogs as possible “to feed the world.” But they were obliged to cut back as a sufficient supply of feed for the hogs was doubtful.

Questionnaires with 148 questions were sent to nine million men registered in the draft. They were required to answer a minimum of 26 questions but not more than 100 questions on the list.

Claims of studying for the ministry, providing for dependents or industrial occupation as a reason for exemption had to be supported by affidavits from others.

Failure to receive the questionnaire does not excuse them.

On the basis of answers provided, the men will be divided into five classes. Only the fifth class will be exempt.

Backtracks & Sidetracks

Men placed in other than Class 1 of the new draft will probably never be drawn for service.

The Great American Store, a grocery chain, leased an Erbes building on the north side of Washington Street. District superintendent Will Hummer and Raymond Pike visited Mendota to make arrangements for the opening of store #155. Pike was to be the local manager.

The Great American differed from traditional groceries here. They sold only for cash and provided no delivery service. The goods were said to be “fresh and of the highest quality.”

Thus, the Great American would be able to sell at figures “far below the wholesale prices.” Grocers burdened with backlogs of unpaid accounts and the expense of home deliveries could not compete.

The Great American chain believed in advertising and reserved space in the Sun-Bulletin to announce the opening.

They realize that our circulation is just what they want.

A national effort to raise funds for the YMCA was launched. The quota for LaSalle Co. was $25,000. Mendota Township’s share was $1,000. A house-to-house canvass was undertaken here.

The Y provided recreation houses where servicemen could enjoy singing or movies, coffee, soft drinks, chocolate. They could also don boxing gloves for informal bouts. Writing paper, pen and ink were available.

Every letter home is one more “clutch on a man’s soul to preserve him from recklessness or vice.”

The Y also scheduled “wise and encouraging talks” for the servicemen who stopped by. Mendota Township soon collected $1,370 in donations and expected the rural response to raise the total to $1,500.

The Illinois Central installed a new heating system in the Union Depot. Steam from the waterworks pumping plant north of the depot would furnish the heat. Estimated cost was $7,000.

The Mendota Athletic Club ordered new suits for basketball players. Practice would start as soon as baskets were installed in the gym at the new township high school. Good support was desired “even if it will require a long walk to attend games.”

The walk will be good for you.

Writing from Camp Dodge, in Iowa, Eugene Mueller, former Mendota Scoutmaster, said he had been on guard duty, guarding “a lot of mules and wagons.” He described the camp as a city of 40,000 men with electric lights, streets and hot and cold water in the barracks. Everything modern.

No one could ask for anything better.

Among Mendotans already overseas in November 1917 were Harold John, Don Tower, Tracey Tower, Nick Coss, Harold Dudgeon and Will Swisher.

The Recruit Welfare League voted to give $20 to each Mendota serviceman in camp, whether enlisted or drafted. The men could decide whether to take it themselves, have it given to a parent or contributed to a society benefiting boys in camp.

A pump installed in connection with the new Burlington well was “the only one of its kind in this division.” It was automatic. As soon as water in the large tank dropped to 11 feet, the motor would begin running and continue until the water reached 13 feet.

It requires no attention with the exception of oiling the machinery about twice a week.

Anti-Israel demonstrators hate the West

By Rich Lowry

The cataract of anti-Israel sentiment on college campuses has been shocking, but it shouldn’t be surprising.

It is the poisoned fruit of teaching a generation of college students to despise their own civilization.

Jesse Jackson famously led a chant at Stanford University in 1987, “Hey, hey, ho, ho, Western Civ has got to go.” He was talking about the college course, but he might as well have been talking about the thing itself.

Jackson and his allies had extraordinary success in extinguishing the teaching of Western Civ. Not only have we largely stopped transmitting the story of our own civilization, we have substituted an alternative narrative that the West is reducible to racism, imperialism and colonialism.

It is in this context that the current outburst of anti-Zionism has to be understood. Yes, it has been fed by anti-Israel agitation on campus over the decades and yes, students are susceptible to witless radicalism in the best of circumstances. Yet the loathing of Israel is particularly intense because it is viewed as an outpost of Western civilization and all its alleged ills.

The hatred of Israel is tainted by and, in some cases, driven by anti-Semitism. Another way to look at it, though, is that it’s not so much about hatred of the “the other,” as progressives put it, as hatred of ourselves and all our works.

It is, on one level, incorrect to consider Israel exclusively an artifact of the West. The Jews are indigenous to the region going back to Abraham, with their story caught up in the story of the land. A large proportion of the current population traces its origins from the Middle East and North Africa, rather than Europe.

But there is no doubt that Israel is a Western society -- in its political system, in its respects for rights, in its innovative economy, in its mores. Someone sitting in a coffee shop in Tel Aviv could easily think they were in any thriving coastal society in the West.

From any rational perspective, this would be something to celebrate. Many legitimate criticisms can be made of Israel, and indeed are a feature of the Israeli domestic debate itself, but there’s no doubt that it is a flourishing society.

If Gaza were equally Westernized, it would be worrying about whether it’s overbuilding seaside real estate rather than having to get water and electricity from the neighboring country its governing authority -- a savage terror group -- is trying to destroy.

Yet this is the society that anti-Western opinion holds up and wants to sweep all before it. This point of view loves Gaza for its failure and hates Israel for its success; loves Gaza for its terror and hates Israel for its self-defense; loves Gaza for its vicious anti-Western sponsors and hates Israel for its Western allies, especially the United States.

If this seems perverse, it’s what you’d expect of students and young people who have absorbed the premises of Michel Foucault, Howard Zinn, Edward Said and their imitators. Even if students have never heard of them, these men and their thought suffice higher education.

But what about the violence? How can these kids look past it, or implicitly endorse it?

Violence is part of the radical anti-Western vision. The anti-colonial bible, “The Wretched of the Earth,” written by Frantz Fanon in 1961, is widely taught on campus. Fanon sketched out a woke worldview before anyone used that term, arguing that, as a New Yorker essay put it, “the Western bourgeoisie was ‘fundamentally racist’ and its ‘bourgeois ideology’ of equality and dignity was merely a cover for capitalist-imperialist rapacity.”

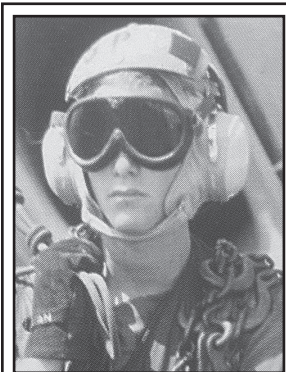

Fanon wrote that “decolonization is always a violent phenomenon,” and in a preface to the book, the French philosopher Jean-Paul Sartre declared that the wretched of the earth “become men” through “mad fury.”

By this standard, Hamas is a good and worthy anti-colonial organization, and there’s no wonder it has found supporters and useful idiots among the West’s self-loathing radicals.

All payments must be made in the LaSalle County Treasurer's office by 4:30 p.m. on Nov. 14. No payments, even postmarked payments, will be accepted after Nov. 14. All unpaid taxes will be sold Wednesday, Nov. 15.

Interest amounts change as of Nov. 7, so if you are unsure of the amount that you owe, call 815-617-4196.

The Treasurer's office will only accept certified funds: cashier's check, money order, credit card or cash. You can pay by credit card online at taxes.us/il.lasalle or by calling 1-833-975-2500 until Monday, Nov. 13. You will be able to pay by credit card in the Treasurer's office until no later than 3 p.m. Nov. 14.

The drop box will be closed at 3 p.m. Nov. 14.

The Treasurer's office will be closed on Friday, Nov. 10 for the Veterans Day holiday.

OGLESBY – Students in IVCC's Early Childhood Education program returned to campus this fall to find their conventional college classroom had been transformed into a child's wonderland that gives the adults space to explore and practice what they learn.

The transformation is IVCC's part of a $200 million state initiative to address academic and socio-economic barriers to establishing a better trained and better paid professional workforce. The plan aims to put a university education and credentials within easier reach of more people who are already working in childcare, preschools and classrooms, while supporting those professionals who return to college to complete their degrees.

The 61 colleges and universities all established mentor programs to guide and support, and tailored programs to meet local needs such as transportation assistance, flexible attendance schedules and academic and other support. A state-funded scholarship that covers education costs was established.

While the initiative is aimed at adults, ultimately, "the whole focus is about what that child needs. That child needs a highly trained, qualified teacher in each classroom," said ECE Program Coordinator Tammy Landgraf.

gram Coordinator Tammy Landgraf.

IVCC focused on supplementing supplies: providing students with computer laptops, establishing workstations to link worksites to the college for training and reference purposes, creating a lending library of children's books and materials and providing classroom toolkits for online scholars to complete the courses.

IVCC also is making updated textbooks available to students through Jacobs Library so they don't have to purchase them.

The 55 ECE students love the remodeled spaces, Landgraf said. For the first time, the role they envision for themselves becomes real, and they use supplies that support the work they do. "They're just grateful," she said.

Previously, "our students were doing makeshift activities in a college classroom when they really needed to be able to see the classroom environment set up appropriately. It was the difference between looking at a Power Point slide or walking next door and arranging the furniture in a way that supports active engagement by children yet ensures supervision by an adult."

The ECE Lab also becomes a key collaboration station. "The lab is a space where students connect, talk about their projects, figure out what the assignment is and how to navigate their group work dynamics," Landgraf said.

Next door, the Resource Center was remodeled into a study lounge with seating equipped with laptop ports, color printer, an expanded library of children's books and tools to design classroom materials and displays.

IVCC's Annual Agriculture Job and Internship Fair is a chance to explore careers and job and internship prospects. The event runs from 9 a.m. to noon on Thursday, Nov. 9, in CTC 124-125. (Photo contributed)

IVCC Ag Job & Internship Fair planned Nov. 9

OGLESBY – IVCC's Second Annual Agriculture Job and Internship Fair on Thursday, Nov. 9, demonstrates that agriculture isn't just about farming. The event takes place from 9 a.m. to noon in CTC 124-125.

Job-seekers will learn about employment and internship prospects and explore careers in ag-related science, engineering and research from 15 agribusiness employers showcasing what their companies offer.

"We have representatives signed up from companies in a variety of agriculture industries including ag sales, chemical and crop research, soil improvement, cannabis production, and more," said Ag Program Coordinator Jennifer Timmers. "There are opportunities for individuals interested in anything from product sales to research and development. You may find an opportunity that you never knew existed."

Participants should bring resumes they can present directly to employers. "It's not often a job seeker can put their resume directly in the hands of a potential employer," said Ag Program Coordinator Willard Mott. He added, "Students are always blown away by the number of career opportunities available locally in agriculture. They rave about how excited employers are to meet them and hire them. After last year's fair, almost all job seekers left with an offer for a follow-up interview."

Timmers added this advice. "One key component about job-seeking today is about who you know. The person you meet at a job fair today may be the person who has a job opportunity for you two years from now."

Companies expected to attend are: ADM; Ag View FS; CNH Industrial; Consolidated Grain & Barge; Corn Belt Ag Services, LLC; Corteva Agriscience; FSGROWMARK; GRAIN-CO FS, Inc.; Green Thumb Industries; Helena Agri Enterprises; Northern Partners Cooperative; Nutrien Ag Solutions; River Valley Cooperative; Sun Ag, Inc., and U.S. Department of Agriculture (FSA, NRCS, RD).

Model Train Fair & Farm Toy Show set in Princeton

PRINCETON – Fifteen years ago Bill Costerisan had a dream of holding a Model Railroad and Farm Toy Show at the Bureau County Fairgrounds. He went to several shows and compiled a group of vendors. While getting the show details organized he wasn't feeling well. He went to the doctor and was surprised to find out he was diagnosed with cancer. A week later he passed away and never made it to the show he had so carefully planned.

For the last 15 years his wife Kathy has run the show, knowing that he would be happy that it is still going on. The 2023 Model Railroad and Farm Toy Show will be held on Saturday, Nov. 18 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the heated buildings at Bureau County Fairgrounds. The kids young and old will love the large working model railroad layouts in HO and N Scale. There will be all sizes of die cast cars and trucks for sale including Hot Wheels and Ertl. All scales of trains and equipment will be sold including Lionel, O and G scale, HO, N and even Thomas the Train. John Deere, International, Allis Chalmers and all types of farm equipment will be sold too.

This is a great time for shopping for Christmas gifts for the kids, young and old. There are items for sale from $1 Hot Wheels up to pricy large scale farm equipment and train engines. You could pick up a complete train layout that would look wonderful set up around your Christmas tree. This is also the weekend for the Christmas Open House in downtown Princeton, which makes it fun for shopping for the whole family.

Admission to the Model Train and Farm Toy Show is $5 for adults. Children are admitted free. There is a concession stand in the building with breakfast and lunch items. Doors open at 9 a.m. For information call Kathy Bauer 815-866-3606 after 4 p.m. or see www.bureaucountyfair.com. The fairgrounds is located at 811 W Peru St, Princeton.

MPD: Always lock vehicle

MENDOTA – Members of the Mendota Police Department would like to remind citizens of an important safety tip. Whether your vehicle is in your garage, driveway or parked on the street, always keep it locked.

Do not leave the keys in the ignition of your vehicle, even if you are only parking it for a short period of time. Do not leave purses, wallets or other valuables in your vehicle, as this attracts unwanted attention from a would-be thief.

Burn Ordinance

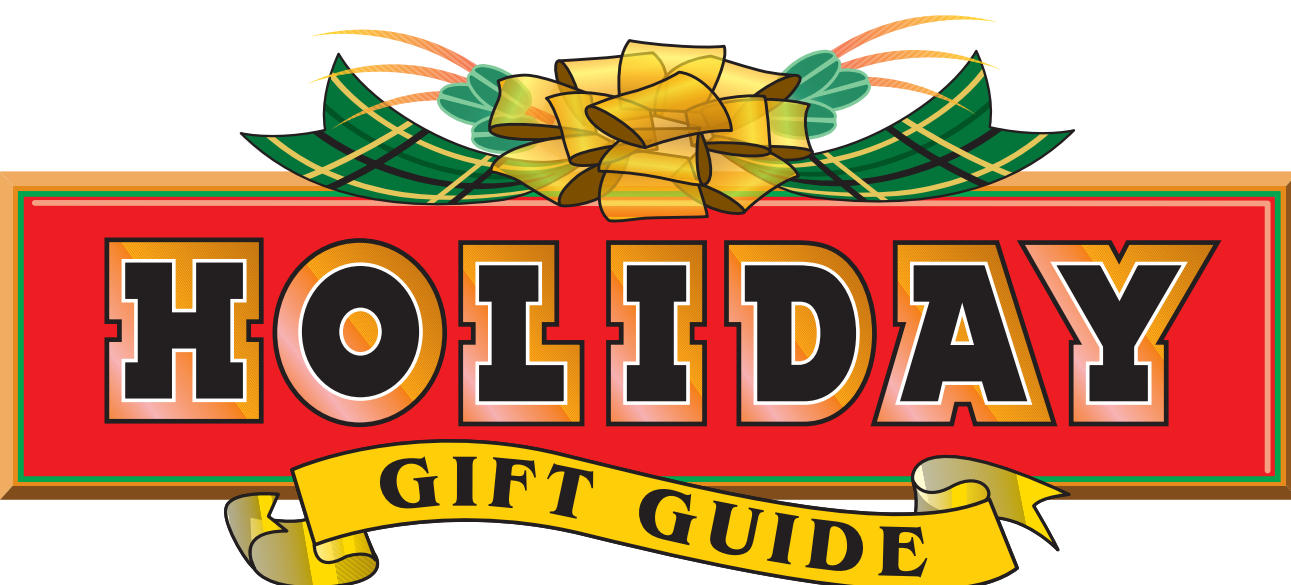

MENDOTA – It is unlawful to burn any materials other than small and dried quantities of branches, leaves, weeds or grass at any time. The burning of any material such as rubber, tires, leather, tar paper, old batteries or any material that emits an offensive odor when burned is unlawful within the city limits of Mendota.

Limited amounts of yard waste material may be burned provided the material is dry and does not create an offensive odor, nuisance or fire hazard due to excessive high winds. Combustible yard waste material may be kindled from 10 a.m. through 4 p.m. on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays only. All fires must be constantly tended by a competent person, until such fire is properly extinguished. The continued smoldering of slow-burning combustible yard waste after 4 p.m. is a nuisance and anyone kindling such a fire that will emit obnoxious odors after 4 p.m. will be considered performing an unlawful act. Burning on Sunday by commercial establishments shall be considered an unlawful act.

The worst World Series ever?

Believe it or not, I wasn't alive for the first Major League Baseball World Series in 1903. Or for any Fall Classic until 1985 when I was born on the same day as Game 2 of the World Series (Oct. 20) between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Kansas City Royals.

Not the Last Chance
By Brandon LaChance

Another believe it or not, I'm not a huge, game-in and game-out baseball fan as it currently sits third on my top sports list behind basketball and football but has been outside of the Top 5 in previous year's rankings as boxing, MMA, hockey, track and field, and high school volleyball has surpassed.

May sound crazy to you, but to someone who watches sports for action, baseball fails in comparison sometimes. Like this year's World Series between the Texas Rangers and the Arizona Diamondbacks.

Before I discuss my reasons why, I'll state my claim: the 2023 World Series was the worst, most uninteresting World Series of all-time.

Not being alive until 1985 and footage not always being stored or available of every pitch or every hit in a baseball game, this claim is biased toward age, technology, TV/ESPN, records, area (always been 1 1/2 hours or less away from Chicago), and love for sports in general and not just baseball.

When the 2023 MLB Playoff bracket was constructed, the Texas Rangers were the No. 5-seed in the American League, and the Arizona Diamondbacks were No. 6 in the National League.

Although it had a David vs. Goliath feel that two high seeded Wild Card teams made it to the World Series, it also means that five lower-seeded teams in the NL and four lower-seeded teams in the AL, who played better baseball during a 162-game season were not in the final series.

Whether it was bad luck, bad calls, or baseball gods favoring the Rangers and the D-backs, the best baseball of the season wasn't an opportunity for the World Series.

Does that sound mean? Well, look at the scores outside of Game 1.

The Rangers took the first game 6-5 with a walk-off home run by American League Championship Series MVP Adolis Garcia.

Actually, after Game 1, I was optimistic that the level of baseball and the series would be good if you start the first contest by going 11 innings and a major player having to make a major hit.

Then...we get back to my point. Game 2 was a 9-1 thumping by the Diamondbacks to give them their lone win of the series.

The Rangers won Game 3, 3-1, Game 4, 11-7, and Game 5 (which was last night as I write this on Nov. 2), 5-0.

In other words, three blowout games, one game, Game 3, that was fairly boring besides Texas scoring all three of its runs in the third inning, and one awesome, walk-off home run game.

This was the World Series? This was fun to watch? When speaking to people about sports, the NFL, the NBA, UFC, and the University of Michigan football team video recording signs were spoke about before the World Series.

Maybe, it's because I'm in the Midwest and the Rangers and the Diamondbacks are not.

But when the New York Yankees, the Philadelphia Phillies, the Boston Red Sox, the Los Angeles Dodgers, the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Atlanta Braves and the New York Mets have been in the World Series, the talk spread through the Midwest.

And still does to this day. People who were alive to see those World Series remember those teams and players.

And if you weren't, ESPN, TV, YouTube, internet, technology remind us and offer us showcases to dive into baseball history.

Besides the Rangers winning their first ever World Series, no one is going to remember this World Series.

The games were boring. The teams were boring.

Besides Arizona's Corbin Carroll who is NL Rookie of the Year and Texas' Garcia and Corey Seager, who won the World Series MVP, his second, to become the first player to win the award as an AL and NL player, the players were boring.

Hardcore baseball fans may disagree.

But to a person like me who lives, breathes, makes a living covering sports, my friend who fell asleep watching three of the games, the group of 10 people I just spoke with who couldn't tell me the two teams in the World Series, or it was over, or who won, and many others who may have similar stories, the 2023 World Series was the worst, most uninteresting cap of a MLB season ever.

The Cardinals won Game 2, 4-2, after winning Game 1 the day before, but lost the series in Game 7 on Oct. 27, 1985.

Another believe it or not,

High school sports participation continues rebound toward pre-pandemic levels

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Participation in high school sports eclipsed 7.8 million in the 2022-23 school year, reflecting a sharp increase from the previous year as the NFHS completed its High School Athletics Participation Survey for a second time after the pandemic interrupted its collection of data.

A total of 7,857,969 participants competed in high school sports in 2022-23, an increase of nearly 240,000 and up more than three percent from 2021-22 totals. The total includes 4,529,789 boys and 3,328,180 girls, according to figures obtained from the 51 NFHS member state associations, which includes the District of Columbia.

This year's total marks the first upward movement in participation data since the all-time record of 7,980,886 in 2017-18, which was followed by the first decline in 30 years in 2018-19 and the two-year halt in data collection related to the pandemic.

"We were optimistic that the trends we saw in 2021-22 would continue, and our dreams were realized this past year as more and more students continued to pursue opportunities in education-based sports in our nation's schools," said Dr. Karissa Niehoff, NFHS chief executive officer. "Perhaps the most encouraging news with this year's survey is that most every sport for boys and girls registered an increase from the previous year. Certainly, that is the goal of these programs — to meet the needs of as many students as possible. We salute coaches, administrators and everyone involved in school-based sports the past few years for their efforts in keeping these programs alive."

The top 10 sports remained the same for both boys and girls, with boys' tennis leapfrogging boys' golf as the eighth-most popular sport, and girls' basketball and girls' competitive spirit each moving up a spot on the girls' side. On the boys' side, eight of the top 10 sports registered increases in participation, while nine of the top 10 sports on the girls' side added participants.

One of the biggest increases in participation for boys and girls was in the sport of wrestling. Boys' wrestling jumped 10 percent, adding nearly 25,000 participants, to more than 256,000 — the largest total since 258,208 in 2014-15.

Amazingly, the increase in girls' wrestling was even larger with 17,473 additional participants — a massive 55-percent increase from 2021-22 — to reach a record total of 49,127. Just 10 years ago, there were fewer than 10,000 girls in high school wrestling. In addition, 36 states now offer separate state wrestling championships for girls.

Eleven-player football remained the most popular boys sport with the total climbing back over one million participants. The total of 1,028,761 participants marks an increase of 54,969 and 5.6 percent from the previous year. Not only did 11-player football top the one million mark, this year's increase was the first in the sport since 2013 and only the second increase since the all-time high of 1,112,303 in 2008-09. There also was a slight gain (34,935 to 35,301) in the number of boys in 6-, 8- and 9-player football.

The number of girls playing football — particularly flag football — continued to climb as well. A total of 20,875 girls participated in flag football in 2022-23 — an increase of 32 percent. Seven states now sponsor a state championship in girls' flag and more are in the planning stages. The number of girls in 11-player football increased 18 percent with 3,654 participants.

Altogether, boys and girls participation in all versions of football increased from 1,028,976 to 1,089,880 — a jump of six percent.

On the girls' side, outdoor track and field (+6.5%) and volleyball (+3.6%) remained in the top two spots, while basketball reclaimed the third position from soccer, jumping 3.5 percent and adding 12,896 participants. In addition, girls' competitive spirit added 9,142 participants, an increase of 6.5 percent.

This year's survey also captured Esports participation data for the first time with 20,001 boys and 3,921 girls recorded. Eighteen states reported Esports participation, with Illinois and California leading the way, each with more than 3,000 participants.

Texas remained atop the list of state participation with 827,446, but California closed the gap in second adding 25,000 participants to climb to 787,697. New York is third with 356,803, followed by Illinois (335,801), Ohio (323,117), Pennsylvania (316,587), Florida (297,389), New Jersey (272,159), Michigan (268,070) and Minnesota (219,094), which climbed into the top 10 past Massachusetts.

The NFHS High School Athletics Participation Survey was started in 1971 and was compiled in its current form through the 2018-19 school year, resuming annually last year with the 2021-22 survey. The complete 2022-23 NFHS High School Athletics Participation Survey will be available soon on the NFHS website at www.nfhs.org.

Scholastic sports can teach student-athletes valuable lessons they take with them for a lifetime, all the while engaging them in the thrill of competition. High school student-athletes may aspire to continue their playing careers in college, but data from the National Collegiate Athletic Association indicates only a small fraction of young people will get that chance. The NCAA reports that roughly eight million students currently participate in high school sports in the United States, while less than half a million athletes compete at the collegiate level. Football is among the most popular sports at both the high school and college level. Though more than one million student-athletes compete in high school football, data from the NCAA 2018-19 Sports Sponsorship and Participation Rates Report indicates that just a little more than 73,000 played college football during that school year.

Q: I recently saw the movie “Killers of the Flower Moon,” which is based on a true story. Who is the lead actress in it? Is she of Native American heritage?

Gladstone

A: Yes, actress Lily Gladstone is of Blackfeet and Nez Perce indigenous ancestry and grew up on the Blackfeet Indian Reservation. She earned her bachelor’s degree of fine arts in acting/directing at the University of Montana with a minor in Native American Studies. “Killers of the Flower Moon,” the newest film by acclaimed director Martin Scorsese, isn’t her acting debut, but it will very likely lead to her first Oscar nomination, as she has wowed audiences with her performance in a film that also stars Robert De Niro and Leonardo DiCaprio.

According to an article in Entertainment Weekly, what cemented Gladstone’s decision into taking the role in “Flower Moon” was the fact that Scorsese “sought out input from the Osage community.” The movie, which is based on the book by David Grann, is about a series of real murders in the 1920s that took place on the oil-rich land of Oklahoma’s Osage Nation, which led the newly formed FBI to jump on the case.

Before landing this high-profile role, Gladstone auditioned but never won roles on the hit series “Yellowstone,” a show she calls “delusional” in its portrayal of her native people. She has appeared in several critically acclaimed series, however, including Showtime’s “Billions” and FX on Hulu’s “Reservation Dogs.”

Q: With all the delays because of the strikes, what is the latest on the upcoming “Snow White” movie? Will it be in theaters or just on TV? -- H.O.

A: The live-action Disney film “Snow White,” starring Rachel Zegler (“West Side Story”), has postponed its release date. Originally planned to debut in theaters in March 2024, it’s been pushed back to March 21, 2025. It’ll be directed by Marc Webb and co-star Gal Gadot (“Wonder Woman”) as the Evil Queen.

The original animated “Snow White” film was released in 1937. While the upcoming release is technically live-action, the seven dwarfs will be digitally enhanced with CGI.

Q: Whatever happened to actress Bridgette Wilson? I remembered that she was in the first big Adam Sandler movie “Billy Madison,” but I haven’t seen her in anything lately. -- K.J.

A: Bridgette Wilson won the Miss Teen USA pageant in 1990 before making a name in Hollywood over the next couple of decades. After playing Sandler’s love interest in the hit comedy “Billy Madison,” she starred in the action film “Mortal Kombat,” the horror flick “I Know What You Did Last Summer,” and the romantic comedy “Love Stinks.”

In 2000, she married tennis champion Pete Sampras and changed her name to Bridgette Wilson Sampras. The couple has stayed under the radar since Pete retired in 2002 and has been raising their two sons in California. Sadly, Pete recently announced that Bridgette has been battling ovarian cancer and asked for “good thoughts and prayers for our family as Bridgette continues to thrive on her healing journey.”

Hollywood

By Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD -- Millie Bobby Brown, veteran of two “Godzilla” films, two “Enola Holmes” films with Henry Cavill, and the Netflix series “Stranger Things” (as Eleven), is a confirmed bachelorette! She admitted she didn’t grow up dreaming about marriage: “That wasn’t my dream. My dream was to have a baby. I wanted to be the woman that my mom is to me, and I wanted to be the woman that my grandmother was to me. So that was never my ... intention to be a wife.”

But all of that changed when she met Jake Bongiovi, son of rocker Jon Bon Jovi. She’s 19, and he’s 21. Oh, young love! They’ve been together since 2021 and got engaged this past April, but there’s no date for the couple’s “I do’s” quite yet.

His next film is “Sweethearts,” and hers is “The Electric State,” opposite Chris Pratt, Ke Huy Quan, Stanley Tucci, Brian Cox, Anthony Mackie, Jason Alexander and Billy Bob Thornton. “Stranger Things” was renewed for a fifth season, and although they started shooting in June, they have been delayed by the strike.

Even before he decided to play Elvis Presley in “Priscilla,” Jacob Elordi starred opposite Zachary Quinto in the true-crime serial-killer film “He Went That Way.” The film’s release was delayed due to the pandemic and the death of its Australian director Jeffrey Darling, who drowned while surfing in March 2022.

The film is a wicked spin on “buddy road trip” pictures, set in 1964 following 19-year-old serial killer Bobby (Elordi). It was based on the true story of celebrity animal trainer Dave Pitts and his fateful three-day encounter with serial killer Larry Lee Ranes, and premiered at this year’s Tribeca Film Festival. Quinto can also be seen in “Down Low” with Simon Rex, Audra McDonald and Judith Light, which dropped on Oct. 10. He also starred in the sci-fi film “Distant” with Anthony Ramos, set to be released on Jan. 19, 2024.

Netflix, despite Wall Street’s expectations for increased earning growth per share and subscribers in the third quarter, is planning a new round of price hikes. Anticipating that they will soon settle the strikes with the writers and actors, the company feels that the new contracts will create some emptiness in free cash flow. Having to pay more for actors and writers is being called “a bridge too far” by the streaming service.

Rodgers and Hammerstein were the royal kings of Broadway musicals for many years. Many of their musicals were adapted into films that became major blockbusters, such as “Oklahoma!” starring Gordon MacRae and Shirley Jones. It grossed $7.1 million in 1955. Another was “South Pacific” starring Rossano Brazzi and Mitzi Gaynor, which grossed $17.5 million in 1958. When “Oklahoma!” was screened this past July in 800 cinemas around the world, it was a box-office sensation, so you can expect more classic films like these to return to cinema glory. It definitely makes for “Some Enchanted Evening!”

“The Curse” (TV-MA) -- Known usually for beautifully captivating the big screen in films like “La La Land” and “Cruella,” actress Emma Stone decided to produce and star in a television series that premieres on Nov. 10! Stone portrays Whitney Siegel, wife of Asher (Nathan Fielder), and together, the pair star in a home-improvement show called “Flipanthropy.” The concept of the show is simple: Whitney and Asher flip buildings in the lower-class area of Espanola in ways that are supposed to reflect the community. But when their careless actions don’t reflect their “honest” intentions, a young girl from the community places a curse on them just as they are trying to conceive their first child. The genre-bending series is an intriguing caricature of how gentrification runs rampant in our society through the pretense of being virtuous. (Paramount+)

“The Buccaneers” (TV-MA) -- Move over, “Bridgerton.” There’s another high-society drama series in town with even more of a modern twist. Taking place in the 1870s, a group of five American girls are graciously invited to London by Lord Richard Marable (Josh Dylan) for the debutante’s ball. Once the girls arrive, however, their new-money culture clashes with Britain’s old-money traditions, and things don’t kick off as smoothly as expected. But with their best friends by their side, and whirlwind romances in ample supply, the girls still plan to make special memories for a lifetime. Starring “Mad Men’s” Christina Hendricks, “Looking for Alaska’s” Kristine Froseth and Alisha Boe of “13 Reasons Why,” this series premieres its first three episodes on Nov. 8, with episodes following every Wednesday thereafter. (Apple TV+)

“The Killer” (R) -- Director David Fincher (“Gone Girl”) went neo-noir for his latest action thriller, which premieres on Nov. 10. Fincher also brought actor Michael Fassbender (“X-Men: Dark Phoenix”) back to the big screen after a four-year hiatus from movies. Starring in the lead role, Fassbender plays a haunting professional assassin deemed “The Killer,” who is a master of his craft. Even though he thinks he has his fatal methods down to a science, one of his hits goes left. Once the cracks start to appear in his previously sturdy foundation, he’s on the fast track to a terrible psychological crisis. Tilda Swinton (“Asteroid City”) and Charles Parnell (“Top Gun: Maverick”) also co-star. (Netflix)

“Fool’s Paradise” (R) -- Another comedic actor -- Charlie Day (“It’s Always Sunny in Philadelphia”) -- has decided to put on his director’s hat for the first time. In this satirical comedy out on Nov. 10, Day stars as a patient who gets released from a mental hospital that can no longer afford to treat him. He resorts to selling oranges on the street, where he is then found by a Hollywood producer who claims he has an uncanny resemblance to the failing method actor Sir Tom Bingsley (also played by Day). The producer then hires him to replace Bingsley, which quickly propels him from homelessness into stardom. Even though the cast is full of heavy hitters -- Ken Jeong, Adrien Brody, Jason Sudeikis, Edie Falco, Jason Bateman, and even a posthumous performance from Ray Liotta -- the film received generally negative reviews. Accessing God’s power through grace and faith

God has a great plan for each person’s life, and He wants us to enjoy every day of our lives. But we can’t do it if we live in fear and lack confidence. Confidence is the belief that you’re able to do what you need to do. God gives us confidence, but we need to know how to access it by faith.

God-given confidence is actually the grace of God. We usually hear grace defined as God’s undeserved favor or God doing something for you that you don’t deserve. But it’s really more than that. It was life-changing for me to learn that grace is also God’s power, freely given to me, to enable me to do with ease what I could not do on my own with any amount of struggle or effort.

Think about this for a minute. Everyone who accepts Jesus as their Savior is taught that we’re saved by grace through faith. Ephesians 2:8-9 (NKJV) says, “For by grace you have been saved through faith, and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God, not of works, lest anyone should boast.” But the same way we are supposed to live. In other words, once we are born again, God wants us to do everything in life by grace through faith.

This has been one of the greatest revelations of my life. I remember how exciting it was to realize that God is not just there to help us when we have an emergency. God wants to be involved in every single thing we do on a day-to-day basis. There’s nothing you’re involved in that God doesn’t care about, and He wants you to pray and ask Him to help you with every detail of your life. He doesn’t want you to live striving in your own effort to do anything. God wants to be your close, personal, intimate friend.

I was a Christian for years before I learned how to access God’s grace, or power, to live my everyday life. First, I had to get an understanding that once I was saved, God didn’t expect me to live right by my own strength. Just as I couldn’t “earn” salvation through my own works or effort, I also couldn’t really change my heart or behavior in my own strength. Jesus says in John 15:4 (NIV), “...

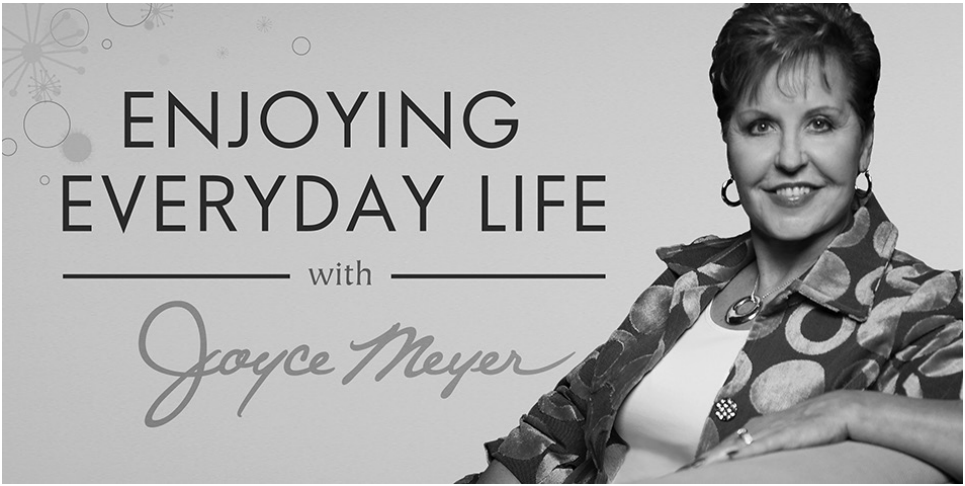

No branch can bear fruit by itself; it must remain in the vine. Neither can you bear fruit unless you remain in me.”

Every day we need to come to God and tell Him, “God, I can do nothing without You. Nothing in my life is going to work without You. Apart from You, there is nothing good in me. My confidence is in You. I need You all the time. I believe You and trust You, Lord.” When we humble ourselves before God and ask Him for help, we can access His grace through faith.

So, to help you do that, I want to share three things that commonly short-circuit our faith, cutting off our access to God’s power: complaining, self-pity, and pride.

• Complaining is a negative attitude that keeps us from being thankful for all God has done, is doing, and will do. It is a sin we need to repent of, and then be determined to thank God in all things, at all times. His grace and blessings always outweigh the things we think are wrong in our life.

• Self-pity is simply a “poor me” attitude. It is a form of idolatry because it causes you to focus on yourself and think, “What about me?” But we can’t be pitiful and powerful at the same time, so let’s decide to give up all self-pity.

• Pride takes credit for what God has done and steals His glory. It makes us independent of God, and we can’t bear good fruit apart from Christ.

Before I learned how to live my life by God’s grace, I was a mess. I was a nagging wife, a manipulator, and controlling. And I wasn’t satisfied living like that. Then God helped me by opening my eyes to see that I couldn’t really change until I started taking His Word seriously and trusted Him to change me. When I made a firm decision to pray and study the Word in areas where I was weak, then God’s grace gave me the power I needed to overcome the things that were wrong. And I keep going forward in my journey with God the same way today.

God has all the power you need to do anything you need to do. He loves you and wants to give you His power to live your daily life with joy. Lean on Him with absolute trust in His wisdom and goodness, and live with God-given confidence.

If I Can

By William Arthur Ward

If I can write one verse of truth today
Or give my fellow man a song to sing;
If I can push one needless cloud away
And help men live as children of the King:
If I can lend someone a helping hand
Or warm a place where friendship needs to be;
If I can build a bridge where fences stand
And light a lamp that other men might see;
If I can open doors of hope this day
By letting someone know that others care;
If I can speak in words that seem to say:
I know the heavy burdens that you bear.
If I can guide a pilgrim on his way
Or pause to bid him stay for food and rest;
If I can do these, Father, this I pray:
"O let me do them with my very best."

LaMoille author garners awards for his novel ‘A Week and a Day’

Hal Adkins honored by American Book Fest

LaMOILLE – Hal Adkins, an area author, and photographer, recently received notice that his novel, A Week and a Day, has been honored as the winner in both the Mystery/Suspense–Historical, and the Science Fiction - Parallel Universe/Alternative History, genres and categories, awarded by American Book Fest, during their 2023 American Fiction Awards Competition.

States the author, “I am very pleased and gratified that the novel did so well; it was quite an exciting and encouraging development! Many thanks to American Book Fest for their recognition. The genesis of A Week and a Day came about after several years of pondering two intriguing ‘what if’ scenarios, along with a corresponding, and virtually unexplainable, real-life experience that, when blended, became an engaging story, a mystery with overtones of science fiction and thriller, generously spiced with romance and humor. Individual storylines are linked to create an ending few readers will be able to predict. The novel presents a unique experience that explores the fragility of time, when one man’s past, collides with our present.”

Adkins, who operates his studio in La Moille, has worked as a professional photographer since way back in the last century, and along with providing writing and photography to magazines and newspapers, also published a book of humor in 2011. A Week and a Day is his first published novel, having been released in March of 2022, encompassing four years of research, rewrites, and endless editing before being completed to his satisfaction. A prolific writer of fiction, he is not, and prefers the term, “methodical.”

The life of World War II fighter pilot David Hamilton, the primary character, suddenly and mysteriously takes an ominous turn as he finds himself lost and alone in a different time, place, and perhaps, even identity. Enlisting the help of two young strangers, he embarks on a desperate cross-country journey in a vintage automobile that possesses its own secret past and purpose. Stunning revelations and characters, both good and bad, are encountered as the miles roll past during the quest to find his way home and fulfill a promise made to the most important person in his life.

For more information, contact Hal Adkins at 815-638-2152 or email halaphoto@live.com

A Week and a Day is available from Amazon in paperback and eBook versions, as well as Kindle Unlimited, or directly from the author.

Former Dixon mayor announces candidacy for 37th Dist. State Senate

DIXON – Former eight-year mayor of Dixon, Li Arellano, is announcing his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the 37th State Senate District currently held by Senator Win Stoller, who is retiring.

Arellano recently completed eight years of service as mayor of Dixon this past May. He term limited himself and stuck to his pledge despite being elected both times with over 60 percent of the vote.

Arellano was compelled to step up and run for Dixon mayor by the epic embezzlement of $54 million by ex-Dixon City Comptroller Rita Crundwell. Arellano pledged to rebuild the city’s badly damaged finances and he did just that, including paying off generational pension debt, leaving the city on track to be debt free.

As mayor, he led a wide array of reforms and accomplishments for the people of Dixon and is now determined to take those skills to serve the people in the State Senate.

“I can’t sit idly by while our state declines,” said Arellano. “My passion and experience in local government, the military, and small business along with my passion for tried and true conservative principles are exactly what our state needs, and that is why I am now stepping up to serve in the State Senate.”

Arellano, 42, is a life-long conservative Republican and small businessman. He owns and operates a restaurant in Dixon and two in Rock Falls. As such, he has dealt successfully with Illinois’ high taxes and regulations, but also recent phenomena such as hyper-inflation and a labor shortage.

Arellano also still serves in the U.S. Army Reserves and has been deployed three times to combat zones in the Middle East. He was motivated to join the Armed Forces after the attacks on Sept. 11, 2001.

Arellano and his wife, Jamie, met in high school at Faith Christian School in Grand Detour, and now have four children, ages 13 to 5. Arellano believes the State Senate needs more members raising young children for a proper balance in membership and intends to be a staunch advocate for working families.

He also believes the Senate needs more small business people and people who know first-hand the negative effects of state policies and unfunded mandates on local government.

In 2015, Arellano’s wife left her job as a Registered Nurse (RN) to serve at the pro-life Hope Life Center. She served for three years until the birth of their fourth child. She recently returned to her career as an RN, joining the team at KSB Hospital in Dixon.

Arellano is a conservative Republican, pro-life, a Second Amendment supporter, who supports much lower government spending and taxes, law and order, enhanced parental rights and involvement in their children’s education, and is strenuously opposed to illegal immigration and any attempt by Chicago—which declared itself a “Sanctuary City”—shipping the overwhelming cost to small communities that did not do so.

Arellano concluded: “Our state and country have taken a disastrous hard left turn. I will work tirelessly to change the direction of our state. The rule of law has been diminished and crime is out of control. Our state finances are also out of control and over-taxation is driving people out of our state. Freedoms have been taken away. I have experienced first-hand the new hardships small business people are forced to endure. Public schools have been driven to indoctrinate children and parental involvement has been deliberately excluded. I will also be an outspoken advocate against illegal immigration and state policies such as being a “Sanctuary State.”

The primary election is on March 19, 2024, with the general election following in November.

“I’m on the move again with my UPWalker®!”

The UPWalker is a revolutionary new mobility device that can change your life by changing the way you walk. It enables you to stand upright when you walk— with your spine straight and your eyes looking straight ahead. Your weight is supported by your upper arms and shoulders, some of the strongest parts of your body. Traditional walkers and rollators force you to put the pressure of your body weight on your hands and wrists. You push them in front of you, looking at the ground instead of where you going. The UPWalker moves with you, with your body perfectly aligned and your feet free to walk in a normal fashion. Its easy-adjust height system allows it to be the perfect fit/height for anyone from 4’10” to 6’1” and supports up to 300 pounds. The new stand-assist handles enable you to distribute your weight across your arms and shoulders, not your hands and wrists to help reduce back, neck, wrist pain and discomfort. It features comfortable arm pads, hand brakes, a fold-down seat, a backrest and two storage bags. It’s built

When Mark Twain was editing a newspaper in Missouri, one of his subscribers wrote in, saying that he had found a spider in his newspaper and wondered whether it was a sign of good or bad luck. Twain's response: "Finding a spider is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our newspaper to see which merchant was not advertising, so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door, and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."
