MT. MORRIS—The Mt. Morris Fire Protection District Board of Trustees recently announced the next step in planning for its new firehouse in a press release.

On Aug. 15 the district completed the purchase of land for the new firehouse site. The land is comprised of four parcels located in the 10 block of South McKendrie Avenue. The site includes to the north, the two previous hardware store buildings and the house on the corner of Main & McKendrie. To the south, it includes the house on the corner of Front Street & McKendrie Avenue and the house immediately to the west.

The district has spent over a year seriously considering and evaluating several sites in the process. Staying central in the district was parfirehouse from the core of the village would have changed response times, especially to the outlying areas of the district with the new site allowing quicker access to Illinois Route 64. Additionally, homeowners' insurance rates could have increased for some if the firehouse had moved too far from its current location. The chosen site was by far the best for utility access as there is "excellent" access to the sanitary sewer, storm sewer and fiber optic lines all located on McKendrie Avenue. Additionally, there is a large 16-inch water main located on McKendrie, which is the largest in the village and needed to fill the apparatus quickly. Firefighters will use the current structures on the new property for emerConstruction Beginning Spring 2024

While the timeline is still being finalized for the next phase of the project, plans are to demolish the structures in early fall. After some light grading and site preparation, the final phase will be the construction of the new facility, starting in the spring of 2024. Barring any major setbacks, completion of the new building would be in early 2025. After the new facility is in operation, the district's century-old firehouse will be put up for sale. The district has been able to secure funding through federal, state and local sources

"The most humbling has been the funds donated by the past and present community members who believe in the district's mission," the Aug. 15 press release said.

County farmers impacted by drought Kern: 'I think we're going to struggle to get to an average yield'

With fall approaching,

OGLE COUNTY —

Ogle County farmers have been impacted by drought conditions over the summer, Ogle County Farm Bureau Manager Ron Kern said Aug. 8.

While rain hit the area that same day of Aug. 8, Kern said rain before harvest may not make a difference in the quality of the corn crop due to the lack of moisture that has been seen. Rain could still make a difference for the 2023 bean harvest, he said.

"Basically as far as the crop goes, most likely what's out in the corn fields now is what it's going to be," Kern said. "At this point with the rain, unless it was very late corn, the rain isn't going to help the corn crop as much as it will the bean crop. A lot of corn is starting to already drop. It will be what it is. The rain from here on out won't help out help to boost that yield a little bit. Beans tend to be much more drought tolerant than corn."

Kern said that when looking at corn fields around the county, he's seen some crops that look

DROUGHT: Farm bureau's Kern discusses dry weather's impact on harvest

"The ears are probably a little shorter and maybe not quite as thick with maybe not quite the number of kernels on the ear that you'd usually get," Kern said. "If I was going to take a very uneducated guess right now, I'd say our corn crop is going to be somewhere around 10 percent off of average, maybe a little more or a little less. I think we're going to struggle to get to an average yield."

Kern emphasized that the county has been short on moisture for more than the current growing season. A dry winter was seen this past year, and the past two growing seasons saw less rain, despite showers coming when they were needed.

"Droughts run in cycles," Kern said. "And I guess maybe this year was our turn in the saddle, I don't know. Last year was one of those years where we were dry, but we got rain just when we needed it each time. This year has kind of been the same way. We really haven't had normal moisture in the area for the past 2-3 years. We've been short."

The smog that has been seen in the area in recent months can have an impact on the photosynthesis process for crops, Kern said. Other growing factors this summer have included temperatures, but Kern said warm temperatures are needed to grow crops and the mostly-seen midto-upper 80s conditions in Ogle County have been ideal for crops. He hasn't seen much heat stress in crops this year where plants are forced to put more energy into staying alive than trying to grow an ear of corn or a pod of beans.

With the ongoing drought, Kern said not many farmers in Ogle County have irrigation systems in their fields. Those are seen more south of the area in Lee and Whiteside Counties, Kern detailed the ideal conditions he would like to see in the upcoming months ahead of harvest.

"I still would like to see us pick up rain between now and the middle to end of September," Kern said. "We're short and we need it and we're going to need it going into next spring. It would be nice if in October or November we could see decent temperatures, a lot of sunshine, a nice breeze and low humidity to dry this crop out naturally in the field so farmers don't have to take out wet corn and spend money on propane and natural gas and time to dry it out. That slows down the harvest. If we get those ideal conditions in October and November with nice weather and good drying conditions, I think that will improve a few attitudes. It will depend on what they see on yield monitors as they Zoning fee schedule sent back to committee Committee Chairman Janes: 'I want to make sure we stay in compliance'

BY JEFF HELFRICH MANAGING EDITOR

MONDAY, AUG. 21, 2023

OREGON — At its monthly meeting Tuesday, the Ogle County Board voted unanimously to send a potential zoning fee schedule update for the county back to the committee level so changes could be made before an eventual approval.

The move was made due to a high number of recent bills being signed into law at the state level that could impact an Ogle County zoning fee schedule that will have to be reviewed, Zoning Committee Chairman Dan

"I want to make sure we stay in compliance," Janes said. "Everybody raise your hand who has read the 174 bills that were passed in the last two weeks by the governor. Nobody? I haven't either. There are a lot of moving parts, so I'd like to go back to the zoning committee to look at everything."

Zoning Committee Member Ryan Reeverts said a lot of discussion has been had on the fee schedule to this point involving fee structures for building and zoning. He said he wants to make sure the county is charging the right fees to make sure it can cover its expenses.

"With a three-year probationary period, we could adjust our fees by resolution or ordinance if needed if we knew that the fee we're using is insufficient for the zoning expenditures we're trying to cover," Reeverts said. "We could then unlock it from that three year probationary period and adjust it at that time. It gives us some flexibility to adjust if we're not covering our costs. I look forward to looking closer at all of this and bringing it back before this board for a vote."

The board unanimously approved a request to use American Rescue Plan Act funds for $660 worth of training by Teska Associates, Inc. for its zoning department. The county has paid for a number of expenses using the federal COVID-19 relief ARPA funds in recent months.

Bridge

The board unanimously approved a petition for county aid from Forreston Township for bridge repair for on Mt. Vernon Road. The county will pay for 50 percent of the local share of the project. The total cost of the project is said to be $28,500.

Exercise

Ogle County Board

Chairman John Finfrock praised Ogle County Sheriff Brian VanVickle and Ogle County Emergency Management Coordinator Tom Richter for their work on the July 26 county disaster exercise that re-update for the county back to the committee level so changes could be made before an eventual approval. The exercise is done in conjunction with Constellation Energy and the Byron Nuclear Plant and Finfrock said county emergency operations officials received high marks for their work on the exercise.

BYRON — John "JB" Bruce Northrop, 73, of Byron was born on July 27, 1950 in Saint Marys, West Virginia. He passed away, one day after his birthday, on July 28, 2023. JB married Karen (Dietrich) Northrop in 1985 and they moved to Byron. They resided in the beautiful trees of Woodgate Ln, where JB spent years working in his shop and socializing with "The Boys." JB could do many things, but he was best at ignoring his "honey-to-do list" and joining his friends. Whenever JB was present, fun was to be had. Growing up, JB was a die-hard St. Marys Blue Devil, where he was an All-State football player. After graduating in 1968 he attended West Virginia Tech and years later Concordia University. Like many of his family members, JB started his career at Quaker State but then moved on to Westinghouse and eventually Chrysler, where he retired in 2015 as a skilled electrician.

Although he was loved by so many, JB's heart belonged to his family. His love and dedication for his wife, children, and grandchildren was unmatched. When "Papa" walked in the room eyes would sparkle, smiles would beam, and giggles would fill the room. He was always ready for a drink and a good adventure, whether that was fishing, woodworking, trailriding on his UTV, or snowmobiling.

JB is survived by his loving wife of 38 years Karen; children, Amy, Heather, John, and Joslynn (Cody) Lindsey; grandchildren, Victoria, Jacob, Connor, Cohenn, Laine, Colton, and Locklan; great-grandchildren; siblings, Richard (Freda) Northrop, Robert (JoAnn) Northrop; brothers and sisters-in-law, Beverly (Terry) Olson, Randy Dietrich, Kris (Burns) Mullins, and Mark Dietrich; many nieces, nephews, and loving friends. JB was preceded in death by his parents, Richard and Betty Northrop; and first wife, JoAnn (Becker) Northrop in 1983.

A celebration of life will take place Friday, Aug. 4th, at 3 pm, at SMSF Club (1010 Sandy Hollow Rd, Rockford). Please wear plaid, or buffalo plaid, and join us in reminiscing memories of JB's life. In lieu of flowers, a memorial fund has been set up under JB's name at Holcomb Bank. Donations will be given to his favorite local club, Byron Sno-Blasters. Fitzgerald Funeral Home & Crematory, Mulford Chapel assisted the family. Send condolences and share memories at www. fitzgeraldfh.

Christian Religion or Godliness

Is there a difference?

Let's face it: the Christian religion is on the decline in this country. Why is this? Is there anything Christians can do about it?

When we speak of "Christian religion", we generally mean the belief in God as Creator of the universe and the inspiration of the Bible; and belief in Jesus Christ His Son, who died to save us from sin and Hell. Anyone who is a Christian should believe that Jesus Christ is the answer to each person's

If Christian religion is belief in God and the Bible, then godliness is making personal choices based upon that belief. Godliness means "being like God." Jesus said, "You will know them by their fruits." He also said, "Not everyone that says, 'Lord, Lord' will enter the kingdom of Heaven, but he that does the will of God." Read Matthew 7:15-29

Have too many people been offended by Christians who say they believe in God, but don't bother obeying Biblical commands for daily life and simply continue in ungodly lifestyles? The theological excuse that "you can't lose your salvation" has been largely responsible for the decline in Christianity in recent years. What is the point of living a righteous life if a sinner's prayer is a permanent ticket to Heaven, no matter what you do afterwards? Many have come to despise Christianity, thinking it does no one any good; and it doesn't, if we just believe it in our minds, without allowing it to affect our lives.

To be clear, we must first be saved by accepting Jesus into our hearts, but we must also repent, and with repentance, God promises power to live in victory over sin. Romans 8 describes this process. And the New Testament is full of verses that emphasize the need to live godly lives. We are saved by grace, it is true, but we will be judged by our works. James 2:14-26

Let us demonstrate to the world that "Life in Christ is life at its best!" Only in this way can Christians truly make a difference for good in this nation.

MT. MORRIS — Lavonne Irma Anderson, age 100, passed away on July 1, 2023 at Allure at Pinecrest Manor, Mt. Morris. Lavonne was born on Sept. 24, 1922, on the family farm in Cherry Grove Township, Lanark, one of six children born to Elmer and Etta (Bolinger) Gaul.

She married Harry William Anderson in Mt. Morris on April 22, 1945, at the Mt. Morris Church of the Brethren. Lavonne & Harry met roller skating in Lanark.

Lavonne attended one room school in Cherry Grove. At 13 she moved into Lanark with Dr. Seyfrath and family where she was a nanny for their two children. This allowed her to attend high school. She graduated from Lanark High School Class of 1941.

In her early working years Lavonne worked at the Savanna ordinance depot soldering ammunition cans during WWII. She also waitressed, performed bookwork, worked at Lawton's Dairy and the Royal Blue Store. She sold World Book' Encyclopedias for decades. She assisted Harry in running the Poultry Tribune Experimental Farm for Watt Publishing Co. south of Mt. Morris. Lavonne retired from the sandstone building of Watt Publishing in 1984.

Lavonne was a member of the Mt. Morris Church of the Brethren where she taught Sunday School. She had a faith that made her grandchildren envious. She had an unbelievable ability to give life's struggles to the hands of the Lord. She was also a Girl Scout Leader when Jan and Jo were young. 1956 moving from the farm, Harry and Lavonne completed their brick home on South McKendrie Ave. Side by side they dug the basement by hand, poured the concrete, cut the rafters and laid all 7,000 bricks. Lavonne lived on the same street for nearly 80 years. From the Poultry Farm, to the brick house, to Pinecrest, Lavonne moved less than one mile.

She was an accomplished seamstress and quilter and was a member of the Pinecreek Ladies. She loved playing Rummikub and Bridge, of which she belonged to several clubs. She and Harry were avid antiquer's and loved collecting their entire lives. They traveled all across the country, from Maine to Hawaii. They even traveled abroad several times. Their visit to the Holy Land was exceptionally important to them.

Monroe Center fire results in minor burn injury, stove damage

MONROE CENTER

The Monroe Township Fire Protection District responded Aug. 14 at 11:14 a.m. to a stove and kitchen on fire in the 18,000 block of Crill Road, where a single-family residential building was found to have light smoke showing inside from an open front door and all occupants standing in the driveway, a Monroe Township Fire and Ambulance Protection District press release said. Firefighters from Stillman also responded.

The residents were confirmed evacuated without incident after the fire department's arrival.

All persons escaped; one juvenile was evaluated with minor burns at the scene. The property was noted as not having working smoke alarms at the time of the fire. The fire was discovered by the occupants who smelled a burning odor.

The fire was extinguished prior to the fire department arriving on the scene, by the 15-yearolds quick actions. Damage is estimated at $5,000. The Monroe Township Fire Protection District investigated the cause and origin of the fire which is believed to be accidental in nature. The fire occurred due to placing a small plastic container on the electric stove. It was not known that a burn was on very low, causing the plastic to melt and ignite. Damage was confined to the stove, the range hood immediately above the stove, and light smoke staining inside the kitchen.

The Monroe Township Fire Protection District would like to remind its residents to have working smoke detectors and test them monthly. They also recommend each family to have a designated meeting place once evacuating the home.

Two bands set to play at Mt. Morris Band Shell Aug. 25-26

MT. MORRIS—The Mt. Morris Jamboree is pleased to announce the return of Chicago Tribute Anthology to our bandshell stage for a free twohour concert on Aug. 25 from 7-9 p.m. In April of 1969, a new rock 'n roll band burst onto the scene garnering nationwide attention. Born in the Midwest and infused with elements of jazz, blues, and Latin influences, the first album by "Chicago Transit Authority", or CTA as they were commonly known, went double platinum. Such hits as Beginnings, Does Anybody Really Know What Time It Is?, and Question 67 & 68 propelled the band to popularity. With a rock rhythm section led by the brilliant guitarist Terry Kath, a powerful horn section, and unique vocals, the band now known simply as "Chicago" released their second album in January of 1970. Considered by many to be the band's breakout album, Chicago 2 would also go platinum with hits like: Make me Smile; Colour My World; and 25 or 6 to 4.

Chicago became a dominant force in popular music during the 1970's, producing at least one new album each year. This period was marked by the release of classic songs like, Free, Saturday in the Park, Dialogue, Just You 'n Me, Feelin' Stronger Every Day, Call On Me, and Old Days, to name a few.

CTA brings to life the 'Golden Age' of Chicago by meticulously recreating many of the great songs from the first 11 albums. Members include Tom Anderson, Paul Bata, Terry Geraci, Paul Mabin, Chuck Parrish, Reed Pauley, Dan Peters and John Springbrunn. Learn more about the band at http://www. chicagotribute.net. Enjoy CTA live and experience all of these classic songs just the way you remember them!

MOMENTS IN TIME

* On Sept. 4, 1925, laws were enacted to ensure that farm wagons would be equipped with lights for traveling at night, due to an increase in the number of accidents the wagons were involved in during peak corn-packing season.

* On Sept. 5, 1969, U.S. Army platoon leader Lt. William Calley was charged with premeditated murder in the death of 109 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai, where Calley had led his men in a massacre that included women and children. Though hushed up at first, the event was made public a year later.

* On Sept. 6, 1997,

an estimated 2.5 billion people around the world watched the four-mile funeral procession of England's beloved Princess Diana as her coffin was carried to Westminster Abbey. After the formal service there, a private ceremony was held in which she was laid to rest on an island in the heart of her family's estate at Althorp.

* On Sept. 7, 1907, the RMS Lusitania set sail on her maiden voyage from Liverpool, England, setting a new trans-Atlantic record when she arrived in New York City a mere five days later.

* On Sept. 8, 2006,

only a week after permission was granted for helicopter flights over the ancient Incan ruins of Machu Picchu in Peru, the country's government declared the area a no-fly zone following protests by environmentalists who claimed such flights would adversely affect rare plants and animals in the area.

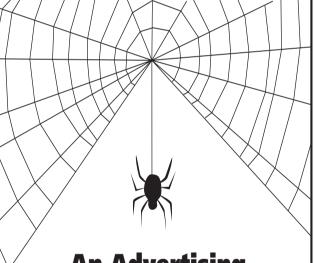

* On Sept. 9, 2007,

the NFL discovered that the New England Patriots were illegally videotaping coaching signals from the New York Jets at an unauthorized location in a Week 1 game in East Rutherford, New Jersey. News media quickly dubbed the scandal "Spygate."

* On Sept. 10, 1897,

25-year-old London taxi driver George Smith had the dubious honor of becoming the first person ever arrested for "being drunk when in charge of a motor car" after he slammed his cab into a building, breaking a water pipe and window. Smith later pleaded guilty and was fined 25 shillings.

An Advertising Proverb

When Mark Twain was editing a newspaper in Missouri, one of his subscribers wrote in, saying that he had found a spider in his newspaper and wondered whether it was a sign of good or bad luck. Twain's response: "Finding a spider is neither good luck nor bad.

The spider was merely looking over our newspaper to see which merchant was not advertising, so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door, and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

Kern: You can't fix stupid A SIapproach my pregnant and her contract was killed when he got ging trip. On an overcast 67th birthday I have almost too many things to look back on. Memories, people, events and where I'm headed today sayings.

We've all heard some

We've all heard some of the most popular adages from the past like:

from the past like:
All that glitters is not

A picture is worth a thousand words.

All good things come to an end.

Beggars can't be choos-ers.

Ajourney of a thousand miles begins with a single step.

A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush.

Actions speak louder than words.

But I must admit my all-time favorite is "You can't fix stupid."

With that in mind let's prove this old adage correct.

An Illinois man, pretending to have a gun, kidnapped a motorist and forced him to drive to two different locations with automated teller machines; then proceeded to withdraw money from his own account.

Police in Los Angeles had good luck with a robbery suspect who just couldn't control himself during the suspect lineup. When detectives asked each man in the lineup to repeat the words "give me all your money or I'll shoot" the man shouted "That's not what I said."

A man spoke frantically into the phone, "My wife is tions are only two minutes apart!" The doctor asked, "Is this her first child?" To which the man replied, "No, this is her husband." In Modesto, California, a man attempted to hold up a local bank without a weapon. He used his thumb and finger to simulate a gun, but unfortunately he pulled his hand out of his pocket. Near Bakersfield, California on Lake Isabella some folks who were new to boating were experiencing a problem. No matter what they did or tried they could not get their new 22-foot Bayliner to perform. It wouldn't get on a plane in the water, was very sluggish during every maneuver and seemed to lack power. After about an hour of trying to get the boat to go, they headed back to the marina hoping someone there could diagnose their problem. One of the folks at the marina agreed to help out and did a topside check revealing nothing was wrong. The engine ran fine, the prop and outdrive were fine. So he then jumped into the water to check the underside. He came up choking on water he was laughing so hard. Under the boat, still strapped firmly in place was the trailer.

In Kalamazoo, Michigan, a man was killed trying to repair a farm truck. The man, a mechanic, got a friend to drive the truck down the road while he hung underneath to find the problem. The man wrapped in the driveshaft.

A lawyer in Toronto fell

A lawyer in Toronto fell to his death demonstrating the safety of windows in a skyscraper. The man was explaining the strength and safety of the building's windows to a group of law students when he lunged at the window with his shoulder, the pane broke and he plunged 24 stories down. According to the law firm's senior partner, the lawyer had done this several times before. The senior partner was quoted as saying the lawyer "was one of the best and brightest" in the 200-member

A gentleman waiting for many years for execution in South Carolina stemming from a murder conviction had his sentence changed to life in prison. Lo and behold a month later he was sitting on the metal toilet in his cell and was attempting to fix his small television set when he bit into a wire and electrocuted himself.

And finally from the Arkansas Democrat Gazette:

Two local men were injured when their pick-up truck left the road and struck a tree near Cotton Patch, Arkansas. The county deputy investigating the incident reported it around midnight. The driver from Des Arc and his passenger from Little Rock were treated and released at the local hospital.

The accident occurred as the men were returning to Des Arc after a frog gigging trip. On an overcast night the pick-up truck's headlights started malfunctioning. After inspection the men determined the fuse for the headlights had burned out. Having no replacement, one of the gentlemen determined that a round from his .22 caliber pistol fit perfectly in the fuse box. In it went and the headlights came on with the men proceeding down the highway. After traveling 20 miles and just before crossing a bridge the round heated up and discharged, striking the driver in the groin. The vehicle swerved sharply off the road through the ditch and hit a tree.

The driver suffered only bruises and cuts from the accident, but will require surgery on his groin. The passenger suffered a broken collarbone and various cuts. The passenger was quoted as telling the deputy at the scene, "Thank God we weren't on that bridge when my buddy shot his balls off or we might both be dead."

The deputy in his report listed, "I've been a deputy for 10 years in this county but this is a first for me. I can't believe those two would admit too how stupid they were."

When the deputy called the driver's wife to inform the driver's wife to inform her of the accident she only asked, "how many frogs the boys had caught and did anyone get them from the truck?"

State's investment in infrastructure makes the road ahead bright for Illinois

OR more than 200 years, Illinois'strength has been rooted in making connections.

With its major metropolitan area of Chicago and its surrounding suburbs right in the middle of the Heartland, the Prairie State helps millions every day make the connections that matter. Our economy thrives from our intricate network of rail, roads, airways and ports that connect the coasts and all points in between. With every vehicle traveling that network around the clock, millions of families have better lives and support each other everywhere they go.

Over time, Illinois policymakers lost focus on the importance of ensuring those connectors that make up our transportation infrastructure could hold up under the strain. Pavement broke and crumbled. Road surfaces wore thin. Bridges became less safe. Barges struggled to travel our rivers. Buses broke down. Without help, we faced a real crisis.

In 2019, Gov. JB Pritzker and state legislators stepped up and approved Rebuild Illinois, a longterm funding capital program to answer the call. This year, Illinois is setting new records for investing in connecting infrastructure and our future is bright.

The Transportation for Illinois Coalition is an umbrella organization of business, labor, transit agencies and transportation advocates who know how important investing in our connection strength is to our state's and its people's success. We formed nearly 25 years ago to build support for the investments we are seeing now – investments in our economy and our future success.

In July, our team joined the Illinois Department of Transportation to release a new Multi-Year Program for the next six years of planned spending on infrastructure improvements and expansions. The results are record-setting and worth celebrating:

Illinois' largest-ever Multi-Year Program, with annual spending of about $4.6 billion for highways and bridges.

More than $27 billion in improvements for highways and bridges, addressing more than 3,000 miles of roadway and nearly 10 million miles of bridges.

More than $9 billion for transit agencies.
94 percent of state interstate road pavement and 96 percent of state interstate bridges will be considered in acceptable condition when these improvements are completed.

IDOT has created a comprehensive set of maps and explaining documents to support the program here: https://idot. illinois.gov/.

Making these connections is about much more than filling cracks and shoring up concrete and asphalt. It's about helping people build their connections.

These improvements will reduce the costs and time delays to ship goods and services. They will reduce the time you sit in traffic or ride on buses and trains to get to work or to your family event, and the costs you face to fix your vehicle from a run-in with busted pavement.

They will draw young engineers back to Illinois, who had no choice but to leave a few years ago when there were no projects to work on here. They will support many dedicated union workers and their families, including minorities who will have opportunities that simply didn't exist until now. They will support small and large contracting businesses, who hire local workers and spend their money locally to boost fellow businesses in our communities.

As you see the orange cones and flags pop up more frequently on our roadways across Illinois this year and beyond, we hope you will see them as a sign of progress. Thank you to Gov. Pritzker and legislators for helping strengthen the support system that will ensure we can all connect more safely and with more certainty, today and for many years to come.

Kevin Burke III, PE, of Springfield is the executive vice president of the Illinois Asphalt Pavement Association and a co-chair of the Transportation for Illinois Coalition. Pat Hosty is the executive director of the Chicago Area Laborers-Employers and Education Trust and a co-chair of the Transportation for Illinois Coalition.

F you're a homeowner, you might be torn on whether or not to sell your house right now. Maybe that's because you don't want to take on a higher mortgage rate on your next home. If that's your biggest hurdle, understanding your equity may be exactly what you need to help you feel more comfortable making your move.

What Equity Is and How It Works

Equity is the current value of your home minus what you owe on the loan. And recently, that equity has been growing far faster than

Over the last few years, home prices rose dramatically, and that gave your equity a big boost very quickly. While the market has started to normalize, there's still an imbalance between the number of homes available for sale and the number of buyers looking to make a purchase. And it's because homes are in such high demand that prices are back on the rise today. Rob Barber, CEO of ATTOM, a property data provider, explains:

"Equity levels were high even during the recent downturn, and now they are going back up and better than ever."

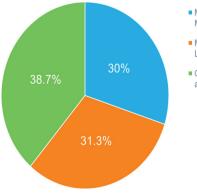

How Equity Benefits You in Today's Market

With today's affordability challenges, that equity can be a game changer when you move. Here's why. Based on data from ATTOM and the Census, nearly two-thirds (68.7%) of homeowners have either paid off their mortgages or have at least 50% equity (see chart

Americans Sitting on Tremendous Equity

68.7% Have Paid Off Their Mortgage or Have at Least 50% Equity and Clear

That means roughly 70% have a tremendous amount of equity

Once you sell your house, you can use your equity to help with your next purchase. It could be some (if not all) of what you'll need for your next down payment. It may even be enough to allow you to put a considerably larger down payment on your next home, so you don't have to finance quite as much. And, if you've been in your current house for years, you may have even built up enough equity to pay in all cash. If that's true for you, you'd be able to avoid borrowing altogether, so you wouldn't have to worry about today's mortgage rates.

How To Find Out How Much Equity You Have

The best way to learn how much you have is to reach out to a trusted real estate agent for a Professional Equity Assessment Report (PEAR).

Bottom Line

If you're planning to make a move, the equity you've gained can make a big impact. To find out just how much equity you have in your current home and how you can use it to fuel your next purchase, connect with a trusted realtor from RE/MAX of Rock Valley.

DRIVE TIME

What to do after suffering an auto accident

AR accidents occur every day. According to data from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, there are more than five million car accidents in the United States every year. Forty-three percent of car accidents resulted in injuries in 2020.

No one wants to get into an automobile accident, which can be stressful and even fatal. Even accidents that do not result in any major injuries can be traumatizing. Knowing what to do in the immediate aftermath of an accident may make such instances less stressful.

The insurance experts at GEICO® advise individuals involved in an accident to first determine if any of the involved parties suffered an injury. If you are injured, stay put. If not, check on the condition of the other driver. At this point do not admit any fault or reveal any policy limits. Next, make a call to emergency services to request assistance from the police and an ambulance, if necessary.

If possible, pull the vehicle over to a safe, welllit public location. This is especially important if you believe you were the victim of a staged accident, says the Insurance Information Institute. If the car will cause another road hazard, it is best to move it over to the side and use flashers to alert oncoming traffic. It is important that you don't leave the scene, according to American Property Casualty Insurance Association. Have the police write up an accident report. You should take pictures of the damage to your vehicle, the other vehicle, if possible, and the scene of the accident, including any skid marks, debris and/or property damage. If there are any witnesses to the accident, get their names and contact information. You'll need this information when filing an insurance claim.

Collect the names, phone numbers, addresses and email addresses of other drivers and vehicle occupants and exchange insurance information with all drivers involved. That includes the insurance company name, policy number and the name of the insured.

Even if the accident is not serious, you may want to call a friend or family vehicle towed or returned member to provide emocare you need. tional support. If you've been injured, a friend or family member can meet you at the hospital and/

Automotive accidents can be nerve-wracking. Knowing the steps to take can alleviate some stress.

Maintenance intervals that all drivers should know among the most costly expenses individuals have. According to data from Kelley Blue Book, the average price paid for a new vehicle in the United States in September 2022 was $48,094. Canadian car buyers face an equally expensive reality in their country, where the average MSRP for a new car is more than $45,000.

Since vehicles are such sizable investments, it behooves motorists to do as much as they can to keep their cars and trucks running smoothly. Vehicle owner's manuals typically recommend maintenance intervals and should be drivers' first resource for information regarding how to take care of their cars and trucks. But the following are some standard maintenance intervals drivers can keep in mind.

The 3,000-mile marker used to be the benchmark for changing oil, but modern vehicles can now go longer between oil changes. However, it's still a good idea to check other fluid levels every 3,000 miles. Windshield washer fluid, coolant, brake fluid, transmission fluid, and power steering fluid should all be checked every 3,000 miles and topped offiflevels are low.

It's wise for drivers to perform some additional maintenance checkups every 3,000 miles. Check tire pressure, inspect hoses (which should not be leaking or bulging) and clean the interior of the vehicle every 3,000 miles.

Many vehicle manufacturers now recommend oil changes every 5,000 miles. Tire rotations also can be part of service visits at this interval, and drivers can ask their mechanic to check their fuel filters and batteries every 5,000 miles as well. Many may already do this as part of their comprehensive maintenance packages, but it's still good to confirm if they do and request they do so if it's not part of the plan.

Drivers also can request that cabin air filters are inspected at this point, though they can generally last a year before they need to be replaced.

Around the 5,000-mile mark, wiper blades also may begin to show signs of wear and tear, including streaking on the windshield or scratching noises when in use. Each of those signs indicates the wipers need to be replaced. However, drivers should take note of these signs regardless of when they appear. Some may not make it 5,000 miles before they begin to wear down. In such instances, they should be replaced immediately regardless of how many miles it's been since they were installed.

Some vehicles may only require oil changes every 10,000 miles. That's not uncommon in vehicles that use synthetic oil, though drivers are urged to consult their owner's manuals.

Brake pads also may need to be replaced around this time, and one telltale sign of that is a squeaking noise whenever the brakes are applied.

Drivers can ask their mechanics to check the alignment of their vehicles around this interval as well. Though many vehicles won't develop alignment issues, it's best to check for such issues every 10,000 miles or whenever a vehicle feels as though it's pulling in one specific direction.

Maintenance intervals are created to serve as a guideline for drivers. Any issues that arise should still be brought to the attention of a mechanic regardless of how many miles have been added to the odometer since the most recent trip to the garage.

The Invention of the Year

The world's lightest and most portable mobility device

Once in a lifetime, a product comes along that truly moves people. Introducing the future of battery-powered personal transportation ... The Zinger. Throughout the ages, there have been many important advances in mobility. Canes, walkers, rollators, and scooters were created to help people with mobility issues get around and retain their independence. Lately, however, there haven't been any new improvements to these existing products or developments in this field. Until now. Recently, an innovative design engineer who's developed one of the world's most popular products created a completely new breakthrough . . . a personal electric vehicle. It's called the Zinger, and there is nothing out there quite like it.

"What my wife especially loves is it gives her back feelings of safety and independence which has given a real boost to her confidence and happiness! Thank You!"

-Kent C., California

The first thing you'll notice about the Zinger is its unique look. It doesn't look like a scooter. Its sleek, lightweight yet durable frame is made with aircraft grade aluminum so it weighs only 47.2 lbs. It features onetouch folding and unfolding - when folded it can be wheeled around like a suitcase and fits easily into a backseat or trunk. Then, there are the steering levers. They enable the Zinger to move forward, backward, turn on a dime and even pull right up to a table or desk. With its compact yet powerful motor it can go up to 6 miles an hour and its rechargeable battery can go up to 8 miles on a single charge. With its low center of gravity and inflatable tires it can handle rugged terrain and is virtually tip-proof. Think about it, you can take your Zinger almost anywhere, so you don't have to let mobility issues rule your life.

An intriguing storyline is starting to unfold as a result of talented quarterback Brock Smith graduating. Janicke and staff have decided to put their faith and trust in sophomore signal caller Brady Gill. This is a somewhat unique opportunity to have the chance to bring along a player as important as quarterback for three full seasons.

Janicke feels that Gill, a three sport athlete, is up to the task.

"He knows our offense really well and isn't going to make a lot of mistakes," Janicke said. "He can command a huddle, has a good arm and throws a pretty good ball."

Gill got a taste of things to come thanks in part to dual camp scrimmages over the summer against the Rochelle Hubs.

"Those practices were so beneficial to me because it gave me a realistic look of how teams will approach their attack," Gill said.

Another set of eyes who keeps tabs on Gill's progress is his father, Nick, who is the quarterbacks coach. He was also the starting quarterback for the team back in the 90s and holds the schools passing records. Gill spoke to just how special it is to have his son follow in his footsteps.

"I'm immensely proud of what he's done so far with his work ethic, demeanor and how he's worked behind the scenes to put himself in a good spot to mesh with the upperclassmen," Nick Gill said. "I'm looking forward to watching his growth and maturity for the next three years."

"My dad usually doesn't mention his past or the records and tells me that I don't have anything to live up to but myself and to create my own legacy," Brady Gill said. "My dad is always positive and it's neat to get to do this together."

The Cardinals open play at home Aug. 25 against Fulton, who according to Janicke have had their number the last couple of years.

"Fulton has gotten the best of us recently and the team has had this game circled on the calendar all summer long," Janicke said. "This has become a good rivalry against a quality opponent. We are excited for week one and are not looking past that."
