ROCHELLE — After St. Margaret's Health Hospital in Peru closed its doors Jan. 28, Rochelle Community Hospital hosted a job fair in Peru Jan. 30 aimed at those who lost positions at that facility. RCH will host another job fair Feb. 13 in Peru from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at St. John's Lutheran Church at 2000 Luther Drive, Peru, IL 61354.

RCH Chief Executive Officer Gregg Olson said Feb. 7 called the situation with the Peru hospital "very tragic" for the community just short of an hour south of Rochelle. The St. Margaret's Health hospital attributed the outcome to a healthcare climate "plagued by economic concerns," COVID-19, a cyber-attack that impacted billing and payment, and severe staff shortages.

"I hate to see anything like this happen to a community,"Olson said "After hearing that, we felt terrible for the community and we feel sad for the employees that I'm sure were very dedicated people that are now potentially displaced. We wanted to do what we could to help. We obviously have some needs with open positions. We thought maybe a job fair would be in order to coincide with that closing. And it did."

RCH currently has about 40 open positions amid a years-long, nationwide staffing shortage. 15 of those positions are full-time, 11 are part-time and 14 are PRN, which is a shift or so a month, Olson said. Not all of RCH's employment needs are due to workforce shortage, Olson said. Some of the need is due to services growing at the hospital.

Several other area health systems held job fairs in Peru like RCH did and will. Olson said "lower numbers" were seen at RCH's first Peru job fair, but it has already yielded two hires, including an infection control preventionist and a respiratory therapist.

"Out of that small group that we were able to talk to, we have two quality people," Olson said. "And we think there's more that came to see us that we're following up with. We're getting what we need in hard-to-fill positions and these people are getting options for career decisions."

Creston board: Water system issues impacted service Engineering update given on multiple projects during Tuesday meeting

BY JEFF HELFRICH

MANAGING EDITOR

CRESTON — At its monthly meeting Tuesday, the Creston Village Board heard an update from Village President Tom Byro on water issues that took place Jan. 11-15 that caused water to be shut down to the entire village periodically and boils orders to be put in place.

Repairs were being made Jan. 11 to a water main at the corner of Grove and Cederholm Streets and water at the site could not be turned off. That required the water tower to be shut down, which affected the entire village. After water was restored, a different water main in the area needed repair and water was shut down village-wide again Jan. 13. Water was restored the same day and a boil order was in effect until Jan. 15.

"It ended up being a $20,000 week," Byro said. "We spent $5,500 in parts and Queens Construction was there for three days. We ended up with a real mess. We thought we had it Wednesday and worked there all day and had to shut the water down for the whole town. We came back Thursday morning and had a big leak. Queens came back to help us and it was two days before they got it back together. We ended up putting three new valves in down there. It was quite a project. We probably spent $20,000 on that corner and unfortunately there's a lot more corners like that that will be coming up."

Byro said he would like the village to install more valves in its water system to shut portions of the village off without having to shut down the entirety of Creston. Village Trustee

Curt Ward said the early January water losses were two separate incidents and an attempt was made to isolate part of the system, but a valve failed.

RCH: Hospital hosting next job fair Feb. 13

I think it's a win-win for everybody. It was just really nice to meet these people and I give a lot of credit to my team that went down there. It was a great team effort and we got some quality people. For us, it was a success and we'll be doing it again."

Olson said that hospital closures are something that he's starting to see a lot more of in "a difficult time" for the healthcare industry. He said he recently saw a study that showed that over half of 900 hospitals of all sizes were losing money, and those that were making a profit were "on slim margins."

While his knowledge of the industry didn't make the Peru hospital closing much of a surprise for him, Olson said he "hated" seeing it happen so close to Rochelle, or anywhere for that matter.

"We're starting to see hospitals shuttering across the country," Olson said. "That's unnerving. A lot of rural hospitals are safety net hospitals in very low-populated areas. Where are these people going to go for care? Are they going to drive an hour or more? If you wake up at 2 a.m. with chest pain, RCH will host another job fair Feb. 13 in Peru from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at St. John's Lutheran Church at 2000 Luther Drive, Peru, IL 61354.

that's not a good scenario."

RCH marketed itself for the Peru job fairs as "an independent and stable critical access hospital." It operates and makes decisions locally.

"Rochelle [Hospitall is a strong organization, independent from any health system," Zac Heward, patient financial services manager for RCH, stated in the Peru job fair press release. "For anyone who has gone through a merger or acquisition - I'm sure [the difference working for an independent facility would not go unnoticed."

Olson said that when he reads about hospital closures in other areas, he shares them with the RCH "Because I think we're actually doing very well in this climate," Olson said. "We're stable. Are we printing money? No. But we're going better than keeping our head above water. And I think that's good for the Rochelle community, our patients and staff. In this climate, I think we're close to thriving."

Staffing shortages have caused RCH to utilize agency or traveling staff, the cost of which Olson said "isn't sustainable." That's caused the hospital to prioritize employee retention. Other hospitals are in the same predicament, he said. RCH sits in a competitive hiring market, with 11 hospitals within 40 miles of Rochelle, despite the rural area.

"We're sorry for what's happened in Peru and wouldn't wish it upon any community," Olson said. "We're going to do our part. The geography doesn't work to transfer their patients here. We try to help where we can. And selfishly speaking, we're getting some quality people that are coming to RCH now who may relocate and live here. So it's good for the community."

Lewis recognized as region's IPA Principal of the Year Award winner

ROCHELLE — Rochelle Township High School District 212 announced in a press release Friday that RTHS Principal Dr. Christopher R. Lewis has been recognized as the Illinois Principal Association (IPA) High School Principal of the Year for the state's northwest region.

Dr. Lewis will represent Rochelle's region as the IPA choses a state High School Principal of the Year from all the regional principals winners. There are 13 total regional winners from the state of Illinois.

Of the High School Principal of the Year recognition, Dr. Lewis said, "I am very honored by this recognition, but we have a great team of teachers and staff who really make this place run effectively. We believe we provide a great education for our community's students and that has to do with all of the people in the building. I am truly appreciative of the support our parents and community gives the school."

"Dr. Lewis has worked tirelessly to promote the best possible learning environment during his years as part of the leadership team at RTHS," RTHS District #212 Superintendent Dr. Jason Harper said. "During Dr. Lewis's tenure as principal, we have seen great changes in educational approaches, but one thing has not changed, and that is RTHS's commitment to doing the best for all our students. That commitment is seen every day in Dr. Lewis's leadership and communication."

Longtime RTHS Board President Tom Huddleston said, "Our district and community are lucky to have Dr. Lewis working for the best outcomes for our students. His passion and commitment to excellence are impressive."

Dr. Lewis has been a principal at RTHS for six years. He has worked at RTHS for 22 years. He was a teacher before becoming assistant principal during the 2012-13 school year.

CRESTON: Village board amends liquor ordinance and Ward said it's been sociates and unanimously

"Maybe we can figure out some money we can put aside to put in some valves so we can keep the town running," Byro said. "It's not good for the community, but right now that's all we can do and unfortunately we have to live with it. I just wanted everyone to know what went on there. It turned out to be quite the three days."

Engineering

Village Engineer Kevin Bunge presented updates on a trio of projects the village currently has go-

The rehabilitation of Well 3 is still planned to take place in the spring. The well hasn't been pulled for maintenance since it was installed in 1980. The village plans to have a new pump motor on site when the well is pulled for maintenance to use while repairs take place. Bunge said the only preparation left is to pick a point in the village to pump unusable water to during the work.

The village will hold a bid opening later this month for a separate water main project planned for the northeast part of the village using American Rescue Plan Act money.

"The bidding process is open now," Bunge said. "We could have decent bids or we could see bids that are 250 percent high like I've seen in other places. Right now it's a matter of who can get the materials and how busy they are.'

Bunge said he has an engineer that plans to meet with Village Trustee Curt Ward early next week about a future quiet zone project to alleviate train horns in Creston. The work would require improving railroad crossings for safety and meetings and inspections with various officials.

"We have some concepts done and want to make sure they match with what the village had in mind," Bunge said. "As soon as that looks good to Curt, we'll be setting up that meeting with the parties to move the project along. We're in better shape with that now."

Resurfacing

The board resolved to sealcoat the north side of Creston this year. The village has $82,000 in motor fuel tax funds for the work

"close to 4-5 years" since the north side has been sealcoated.

"I think we need to do the north side," Byro said. "It's their turn. We need to take care of that before it gets any worse."

Water operator

Byro notified the board that Village Water Operator Mike Megurdichian plans to retire this year and work will begin on replacing him. Megurdichian has worked with the village since the early 1990s. Byro expects to replace and move on from him in the next six months.

Byro said he plans to talk to a few potential replacements for the parttime position.

"I've talked to Adam Lanning of Rochelle Municipal Utilities and he's considering maybe helping us out that way and doing the water operation," Byro said. "That way RMU could come over and do the water testing and sampling. I'm meeting with another person this week that Mike has used extensively. We have 2-4 people we're going to talk to. Mike will be missed. He knows this town. Hopefully we can keep him around to finish up with the well maintenance we have planned. He will definitely be done by October."

Audit

The board heard a presentation on its audit for the year ended April 30, 2022 from Newkirk & As-accepted the audit.

Liquor

The board voted unanimously to amend its liquor ordinance to allow for the Moose Knuckle to serve alcohol with its Sunday breakfasts. The new Sunday hours will be 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. after the hours previously started at 10 a.m. Alcohol serving hours begin at 6 a.m. every other day in the village.

Furnace

The board resolved to spend $3,600 to purchase a new furnace for its maintenance building.

HILLCREST: Board of Trustees discuss water tower

Village Attorney Paul Chadwick asked for time Wednesday to review recent state legislation concerning local authority on solar and wind farm projects.

"There have been some revisions on the state side on governing solar farms and whether counties have jurisdiction," Chadwick said. "I don't know if it applies to municipalities and I haven't had the chance to research that detail yet. I think you can still have the ability to regulate as a municipality and my understanding was that it only pertained to taking control from the county. I'd like to look into that further to see if it'd impact what we can and can't say to properties in the village limits."

Chadwick told trustees that he will have a proposed ordinance or a recommendation on how to handle the issue at next month's meeting.

Water tower

During his department report on water, Trustee Dan Potter discussed recent recommendations stemming from a recent report that Pittsburg Tank & Tower Group conducted on Hillcrest's water tower. The report recommended work on critical deficiencies, non-critical deficiencies, possible OSHA violations and small issues that can be done by village maintenance with little expense.

"There's a lot that goes into that and we'll have to do the work in bitesized pieces," Potter said. "There's some things that can be done by people in the area at some cost and then there's some that our maintenance people can probably do at inexpensive cost. And then there's a bunch of other things that should be done and need to be done. But I don't think it all needs to be done at once."

Potter said the village does not yet have pricing on work that Pittsburg would potentially do on the water tower and those numbers will likely be available for the next meeting.

"Looking at the pictures and what Pittsburg said about it, it seems pretty comprehensive and pretty valid in my opinion," Potter said. "There's a lot of things on here. We need a sign on the gate that says it's a federal offense to tamper with it. That's something we could do in-house. The ladder going up is not what it should be. That could be expensive. We're going to have to do this in bite-sized pieces. I don't think it's going to be done all at once. There's a significant amount of work that needs to be done that has not been done in probably 10-15 years if not longer. Some of them are potential water quality issues. A lot of them are structural issues in terms of people working on and around it."

Snow removal

Village trustees discussed snow removal delays that were seen during a recent snowfall due to a number of issues. Village President Randy Salsbury said he fielded calls from residents during the snowfall with questions about village snow removal.

The issues included a village maintenance before the snowfall, a delay in getting a load of salt and plow trucks needing repair. The village is also awaiting delivery of an additional snow plow "We have the plow trucks up and going now," Village Trustee Rick Rhoads said. "We had employee resigning just trucks going down with issues at the same time and our contractor was good about coming out and getting them going. They're putting together our new truck now. Our two trucks have been in for maintenance four different times. I'll ask tomorrow about a definite date on our new one."

A cautionary tale of journalism kinda skeptical. She goes,

In the small town of Eldridge, Iowa, just north of the Quad-Cities, lives a young woman named Madison Russo. Scott Campbell, the longtime editor of the North Scott Press heard that the 19-year-old received a $500 grant from a local group that helped people with pancreatic cancer.

Campbell decided to write a feature story.

"I just texted her cold and I said, 'Hey, Maddie, this is Scott Campbell. I heard about your diagnosis. Would you be interested in telling your story?' And she sent me a text back within two minutes: 'You betcha. No problem at all.' So, we set up an interview for the next morning. ... She had set up a GoFundMe page. I saw a couple social media postings that she'd posted."

She claimed to have Stage II pancreatic cancer and acute lymphoblastic leukemia, Campbell said. "She said she had gone through 15 rounds of chemo and 90 rounds of radiation," Campbell said. "I asked for some pictures and she texted some photos. In none of 'em did she look sick at all. I didn't have any reason to doubt her. I thought maybe they were older pictures. She just told me she'd been through hell. And then right at the end of the conversation she dropped this bombshell: 'By the way, I just found out today that I've got a football size tumor in my lower back.' And I said, 'Oh, crap. That's crazy.'"

Crazy. Yeah, that's one word for it.

But despite her year of "hell" she said she was able to finish her first year of college at St. Ambrose University and maintain a 4.0 grade point average, land a plum internship at Deere & Co., continue to play golf -- and run six miles a day.

look at, some family members have asked that I never share them - the memories they conjure are just too painful.

But in the photo Russo sent the North Scott Press she looks pretty as a prom queen. Her skin has a healthy glow, and she has a full head of hair.

Campbell said he chatted with Russo over the phone – but never met with her in person. No news happens in the newsroom. You have to leave your desk and talk to people. Please note, I said "people" as in the plural of person.

Campbell's story quoted one person: Russo. He said he reached out to her mother, but she never got back folks with medical experience started calling the newspaper – and the police. They said the story didn't add up.

Russo's medical records, obtained by subpoena, show that none of the medical facilities in the Quad-City region have diagnosed Russo with any kind of tumor or cancer.

She was arrested on theft charges Jan. 11 while in class at St. Ambrose. And police said they seized her 2023 Kia Sportage, a paper bag with medical supplies, bank records, an IV pole with a feeding pump filled with

The NSP is one of the best community newspapers I've encountered. None the less, the role it played in this matter is an embarrassment – not just to the newspaper but to journalists everywhere.

Some folks find it off-putting when reporters are suspicious and seek verification. Too bad; that's our job.

How could a journalist have avoided this predicament? Here are a few thoughts: interview the subject in-person, be skeptical, ask tough questions, seek documentation of the person's claims, talk to more than one source -and listen to your spouse.

cember Christmas freeze I'm just starting to defrost my brain. Seems like it was in a fog there for a while. Betwixt the cold weather and finally catching COVID-19, I'm starting to get back to normalcy. The COVID-19 thing really ticked me off as I calculate I made it 32 months without catching it from when it was first detected. Oh well, guess I've got to find another streak to start. For some reason I've been spending quite a bit of time looking back over the last year from a work perspective. I can't figure out why, but I suppose knowing retirement is inching closer may have plenty to do with it. So join me in our trip back across 2022.

We hosted a very successful lunch with our area state legislators. The meeting gave us an opportunity to catch up on the goings on in Springfield and discuss meaningful legislation that was important to agriculture. As always, our state lawmakers were engaging and participated heartily in dialogue. Unfortunately we say goodbye to two of the General Assembly's best; Senator Brian Stewart and Rep. Tom Demmer. Both were excellent to work with and served our area with honesty, dignity and integrity. They were champions for agriculture and northwest Illinois. Most importantly they knew how to get things done. Their leadership and representation will be missed. We at the farm bureau thank them for their service and wish them the best in future endeavors.

With that we welcome new legislators into the fold. Representative Andrew Chesney steps into the senate role vacated by Mr. Stewart; incumbent Tony McCombie's district shifts eastward due to redistricting; Brad Fritts assumes the Representative duties in the majority trict; and incumbent Win Stoller picks up a southern portion of Ogle County in the senate district.

We look forward to working with all of them moving forward and advancing agriculture in our area and the state.

Redistricting also brings a new face on the national level. Due to the new district lines, U.S. Rep. Adam Kinzinger decided not to seek reelection and incumbent Darin LaHood's district moved north. I've had the opportunity to meet with Congressman La-

Hood on various occasions and I can tell you he will be good for the district and a friend of agriculture. We say farewell to Congressman Kinzinger. I know that several people have been outspoken lately about him, but please let me tell you that during his tenure in the House of Representatives he was a stand-up guy. He worked tirelessly for his district and to prove the point he had the highest voting record with the farm bureau of any of our Congressmen from Illinois. He served with integrity, dignity and honesty and was always present to engage his constituents in dialogue. I'm going to miss him and I wish him well moving forward. Onto other things. Our Young Leader group grew leaps and bounds

this year going from four to 16

active members.

Last spring they donated grain bin rescue augers to three area fire departments. Grain bin entrapment rescue is all about time and the efficient use of it. These rescue augers can and will save lives. The group was active in the fair this year setting up ag safety awareness demonstrations and holding a food drive for local food pantries. Through the Young Leaders food drive and their Harvest for All bushels collection they donated over $10,000 to the Northern Illinois Food Bank for distribution to food banks throughout Ogle County. I would be remiss by not mentioning that Josh Bolen and Ryan Reverts participated in the prestigious Illinois Farm Bureau Young Leaders Discussion Meet. The meet was held during the Illinois Farm Bureau Annual Meeting held in December in Chicago. Josh finished in the top 10 and Ryan won the meet. He will represent the Illinois Farm Bureau at the American Farm Bureau Federation Annual Meeting in Puerto Rico.

Your county farm bureau has been involved locally on your behalf. This spring we worked on convincing the county to not change our zoning code by adding a new AG-2 land use district. We have been participating in the county's efforts to expand broadband service throughout the county through various federal and state grants and programs. This year the county will rewrite our comprehensive land use plan and we will be involved in the process.

We were involved in various legislative issues including farm input pricing, rail strike, trade, waters of the U.S. and nutrient loss reduction. I can tell you that these issues will continue to dominate a lot of what we do moving ahead through 2023. We are at the table and working for you, our farmer members.

That's about all the throwback my feeble mind can come up with for now. Next week we will talk about the priority issues the organization has established for this year.

Hubs outlast Hawks

Rochelle overcomes late rally to score 82-74 win over Oregon on Monday

BY RUSSELL HODGES

SPORTS EDITOR

OREGON — The Rochelle Hub varsity basketball team overcame a 3-point shooting barrage from the Oregon Hawks on Monday evening, when the purple and white nearly saw their 20-point first-half lead disappear midway through the fourth quarter of nonconference action.

Rochelle controlled the first half with its tempo and effort on the boards, attacking the painted area and opening the game with solid shooting from the perimeter. But the Hawks nearly flipped the game on its head during the fourth quarter, where guard Noah Johnson buried triple after triple to help bring Oregon within two points with about three minutes remaining. Despite six 3-pointers from Johnson, Rochelle held on down the stretch, defeating the Hawks 82-74.

"I thought we put everything together that we wanted," head coach Tim Thompson said. "We guarded them hard and we were pressing well. We knew Oregon was a good 3-point shooting team, but we were running and jumping with them so we could slow them down. We were sharing the ball and not turning the ball over, so we were getting the shots we wanted."

Junior Eli Luxton finished with a team-high 24 points for the Hubs (9-17, 3-9 Interstate 8), who punished the Hawks with their offensive rebounding and fast tempo during the first half. After falling behind in the first few minutes, Rochelle broke off a 14-2 run that enabled the Hubs to take a 29-14 lead after the first quarter. Luxton grabbed a team-high 16 rebounds in the win.

"I told our kids that between our three games coming up against Sandwich, LaSalle-Peru and Byron, if we can turn that first quarter against Oregon into four quarters against each of those teams, then I believe we have a chance to win all of those games," Thompson said.

Junior Jack Tracey converted a pair of 3-pointers in the first half, where he totaled 10 of his 13 points to keep the purple and white well ahead of the Hawks.

Lady Hubs drop season finale against Dixon Rochelle and Kaneland scheduled to battle in IHSA 3A Regional Semifinals

BY RUSSELL HODGES SPORTS EDITOR

DIXON — The Rochelle Lady Hub varsity basketball team will look to hit the reset button after a tough loss against the Dixon Duchesses to close out the regular season on Thursday night.

In a rematch of tournament play from earlier this season, when Dixon defeated Rochelle 45-30 at the KSB Holiday Classic, the Duchesses smothered the Lady Hubs on the defensive end, holding Rochelle to only five second-half points in a 54-18 win over the Lady Hubs on Thursday. Rochelle (8-23, 6-8 Interstate 8) committed 30 turnovers in the loss and will shoot to bounce back when the IHSA 3A Sycamore Regional begins with the semifinals this coming Tuesday.

"We knew Dixon was going to guard us hard and we knew that if we turned the ball over between 25 and 30 times, we weren't going to have much of a shot," head coach Ryan McQuade said. "We had 30 turnovers tonight and that's been an Achilles' heel for us all season long. When we talked with the girls after the game, we talked about the regional coming up and the girls know they have another game to prepare for. We have to be ready to play Tuesday."

Senior Torrin Nantz hit two first-half 3-pointers for the Lady Hubs, who battled on defense throughout the opening quarter as the Duchesses looked to feed the ball inside. Rochelle's interior defense held its own through the first half, where Dixon built a 25-13 lead before blowing the Lady Hubs away during the third quarter. Harvest Day fueled the surge for the Duchesses, attacking off the dribble and finishing at the rim. Day led all players with 14 points on Thursday. As Dixon's lead ballooned, Rochelle struggled against the threequarter-court press and half-court defense from the Duchesses, who forced a flurry of turnovers on the perimeter. The result was a 46-18 lead for Dixon entering the fourth quarter, where a basket early on led to a running clock as the Lady Hubs finished the quarter without making a field goal.

BOYS: DeKalb shuts down Rochelle in Tuesday matchup

Senior Raul Aguirre also knocked down consecutive perimeter shots including a triple and a long-range 2-pointer to get the Rochelle offense moving in the first quarter. Sophomore Cayden Moore's aggression off the dribble made him a frequent visitor to the free-throw line, where he went 8-for-10 in the game.

Moore and Aguirre each finished with 12 points for the Hubs, who led Oregon 50-32 at halftime. Oregon's comeback began during the third quarter, where a series of over-the-back foul calls on Rochelle resulted in empty Hub possessions. Oregon entered the bonus early in the fourth quarter, where Johnson sparked the Hawks from 3-point range, knocking down multiple triples to bring his team within a field goal of taking their first lead since the opening quarter of play.

Rochelle also struggled with turnovers down the stretch, where Oregon increased its defensive pressure and made passing lanes difficult for Hub ball handlers to navigate. While the Hawks nearly pulled off we would make everything the improbable comeback, Oregon was unable to make free throws or shots in the final minutes, whereas Luxton took command of the Hub offense and sealed the victory with a pair of putbacks at the rim.

DeKalb

The Rochelle Hub varsity basketball team struggled to create much offense against a physical and athletic DeKalb defense during Tuesday's nonconfernece matchup.

Jackson Kees drilled four first-half triples for the Barbs, who held Rochelle to only three first-quarter field goals and held a 19-8 lead entering the second quarter. DeKalb's man-toman defense overwhelmed the Hubs, who fell behind early and couldn't find any offensive rhythm in a 70-40 loss to the Barbs. Rochelle (9-18, 3-9 Interstate 8) faces Sandwich on the road Friday.

"The way DeKalb guarded us tonight reminded me of the way we used to guard here at Rochelle," head coach Tim Thompson said. "We would press hard and our opponents did difficult. Even when we struggled offensively, we could hang our hats on the defensive end. We haven't been that team this season, but I'm glad that we played a team like DeKalb because our younger kids see what it takes to play against a team like that."

Sophomore Carson Lewis swished two consecutive 3-pointers in the first quarter to give the Hubs early life. But the Barbs dominated the second quarter, where 6-foot-4 freshman forward Davon Grant became a matchup nightmare, using his physical frame and offthe-dribble attacks to finish layup after layup at the rim. Grant put home eight field goals between the second and third quarters, finishing with 18 points and helping DeKalb take a 39-19 halftime advantage.

The Barbs continued to penetrate the Rochelle defense in the third quarter, where 6-foot-3 forward Darrell Island converted three layups and guard Cooper Phelps hit the second of his two triples in the game. Despite 3-pointers from

With the regular season now over, Rochelle will prepare for the regional tournament, where the Lady Hubs are the No. 5 seed in the semifinal round. Rochelle will face the No. 4 seed Kaneland, who the Lady Hubs faced twice during the Interstate 8 Conference schedule. The two teams split the home-and-home conference series, with

Rochelle falling 59-54 at home on Saturday, Dec. 3 before outlasting Kaneland 59-56 on the road Saturday,

"I like our matchup against Kaneland," Mc-Quade said. "There are teams on our schedule that we play well against for whatever reason and that's Kaneland for us. We're excited about the matchup and I think it'll be a fun atmosphere. We have to limit we were able to do that the last time we faced them. We made shots in key moments and had a big lead until we started turning the ball over at the end. If we can force turnovers, I like our shot."

LaSalle-Peru

The Rochelle Lady Hub varsity basketball team concluded the Interstate 8 Conference slate on Tuesday, falling 42-30 against rin Nantz finished with 13 points and four rebounds while making three 3-pointers to lead the Lady Hubs (8-22, 6-8 Interstate 8).
