Jennie Espinoza, center, didn't think she would get accepted for the Mendota Business Professional Women scholarship given to women returning to school, but when she did, she put it to good use and now has a bachelor's and master's degree from Northern Illinois University. Mendota BPW group offering scholarship

Woman returning to school will be recipient

By BRANDON LaCHANCE Staff writer

MENDOTA – The Mendota Business and Professional Women have supported girls and women who want to receive an education for over two decades with scholarships

In the spring, the scholarship applications are directed to students who are just graduating high school, while the fall application is directed toward women who are jumping back into school

"This year we were able to give more money in the spring because Kim Abel, with Nightengales, made a donation and we were able to give away five, $750 scholarships in the spring to high school graduating girls," said Jeri Atherton, a retired Mendota High School counsellor who has been with the MBPW for over 20 years and has been in charge of scholarships for most of her tenure. "We have $500 for a woman in the fall. We like to help a woman returning to school for career education.

"This year, we'd like to give the scholarship to someone in the medical field if possible because the money was donated in honor of Patty Moyer, who volunteers two days a week at Nightengales.''

Although the medical field is preferred, all women in Mendota and the surrounding area should apply.

The application for the fall scholarship is on the Mendota Business and Professional Women Facebook page or ask Atherton to send the application through email at athertonj64@gmail.com.

Atherton is accepting finished application until Nov. 1 through email or in the mail to Jeri Atherton, 1100 S. Park Ave., Mendota IL 61342.

"We do not specify how this money is to be used and that is very unusual," Atherton said. "We don't care if they use it for gasoline, books, or shoes. We don't care as long as they use it to promote their wellbeing in their education. And honestly, gasoline may be the biggest thing these days. Most of them travel. They travel to Illinois Valley Community College and to Northern Illinois University. A long time ago, we had one travel to Aurora College.

"It thrills me to see how these women go on and contribute to our community. They all live here. We gave a scholarship to a woman from LaMoille a few years ago and she is a social worker for the state of Illinois. How much better can we get."

Jennie Espinoza, a 1999 MHS graduate who earned a bachelor's degree (in 2020) and a master's degree (this past May) from Northern Illinois University, didn't think she was going to be selected when she applied for the MBPW.

But when she was, her appreciation put the scholarship to good use.

'It gave me more motivation to keep going because it's hard to be a parent and a wife, and then add a student," said Espinoza, who is a behavior therapist at St. Margaret's Midtown Health Center in Peru. "It gave me motivation and hope to con-

Area communities receive COVID-19 relief funds

□ $371 million in funding distributed to small local governments

SPRINGFIELD - Governor JB Pritzker and the Illinois Department of Commerce and Economic Opportunity (DCEO) announced that more than 1,200 small cities, towns, and villages across Illinois - Non-Entitlement Units (NEUs) - will receive $371 million as part of the second round of funding through the federal American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) specifically designated for NEUs. NEUs are receiving a total of $742 million between the first and second funding allocations.

"As communities continue to recover from the pandemic, we are issuing the second round of federal funding for a total of $742 million specifically designated for smaller localities," said Governor JB Pritzker. "This critical funding will help localities cover remaining pandemic-related costs incurred while supporting communities in every region of the state."

Area communities receiving funding and their total amount are: Amboy $315,852.47; Arlington $24,631.32; Compton $38,511.95; Earlville $215,966.34; LaMoille - $92,401.48; Leland - $124,381.37; Mendota - $951,776.04; Ohio $65,320.64; Paw Paw $115,399.79; Sublette - $57,291.63; Troy Grove -$32,388.14; West Brooklyn - $18,099.26.

Through ARPA, in accordance with federal rules, COVID-19 relief funding was provided directly to localities with a population above 50,000 while states distributed relief funds to NEUs – which are cities, towns and villages that did not receive direct aid from the federal government. NEUs received funding as part of the first tranche in the fall of 2021 and recipients who claimed funds last year will automatically receive the second half of funding. The funding can be used to cover expenses incurred while responding to the COVID-19 pandemic. "Under Governor Pritz-ker's leadership, Illinois has leveraged all opportunities to support our communities and accelerate a strong economic recovery," said DCEO Director Sylvia I. Garcia. "The funding issued today is part of billions of dollars of support that has been provided to small cities and towns across Illinois. This final round of Federal funding will serve as additional resources for communities that have incurred unexpected costs due to the pandemic."

The funds can be used to cover revenue losses and the costs of responding to the COVID-19 public health emergency or to its negative economic impacts on households, small businesses, impacted industries, essential workers, and the communities hardest-hit by the crisis. These funds can also be used to invest in building, maintaining, or upgrading water, sewer, and broadband infrastructure.

During the first round of funding, localities were required to claim their allotments and unclaimed funds were re-distributed to other recipients. During the first

Law enforcement community opposed to cashless bail

SPRINGFIELD - Members of Illinois' law enforcement community are united against a new law taking effect Jan. 1 that eliminates cash bail under most circum-

At a recent town hall meeting, the Illinois Freedom Caucus focused on what the SAFE-T Act does, what it means for Illinois communities, and what citizens can do to repeal it.

Several Republican Illinois lawmakers, law enforcement officers and states' attorneys from across the state as well as county judges participated.

Macon County State's Attorney Scott Rueter said that under the SAFE T Act, many criminals, including violent offenders, would not be putting people in jail while they await trial.

"One of the main things in the law is that you can only be detained for offenses in which if you are convicted, you have to go to prison," Rueter said. "Things like first-time arson and first-time burglary are not detainable offenses under the act."

Gov. J.B. Pritzker signed the bill into law last year. It will abolish cash bail on Jan. 1, making Illinois the first state in the country to do so. The bill also includes a provision that will allow most people charged with crimes, including some violent felonies, to be released without posting bail.

For violent offenders, prosecutors will have to submit a request for detention and persuade a judge that the offender poses a threat to public safety. The state also is required to provide each suspect a hearing within 48 hours to determine if the suspect should be released.

State Rep. and IFC member Blaine Wilhour said the act would result in officials alleged criminals. "This is going to lead to people having to make snap judgments on these matters and make snap judgments on whether somebody, in legal terms, is a threat to their community," Wilhour said. Pritzker's team did not return a request for comment.

Under the law, many non-violent offenders cannot even be taken into custody. law enforcement officials argue.

Blackstone School Report

Stacy Kelly, Principal

Thank you to all of our wonderful parents who have responded to the volunteer form that was shared. We appreciate your support of our school. If you signed up, we will contact you throughout the school year to help as needed.

The students nominated for the principal award were Leila Wallace, Jorge Castaneda, Cainan Sellers, Antonio Vergara, Koreeann Riniker, Ruben Calamaco, Amy Lopez and Hayden Wheeler. The winners were Kylee Smith, Isla Full, Lylah Cervantes-Escatel and Keegan Mauch. Congratulations to all of you!

Our students and staff practiced a severe weather shelter in place drill this past week. We hope we never have to implement these procedures, but the students did a great job and I'm confident they are prepared if there was ever a weather emergency.

We are currently finalizing a school spiritwear store. Parents should be on the lookout for an order form coming home soon for our students and parents who would like to show off some Blackstone school spirit. Looking ahead, we have a busy schedule coming up the week of Oct. 3. We will host a Scholastic Book Fair throughout the week. Volunteer notes will go home with students. We would appreciate parent volunteers to help us run the book fair. We couldn't have the book fair without parent support! In addition, mark your calendars for Blackstone's open house. It will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 4 from 5:30-6:30. We hope everyone can attend to see our school, meet staff and take a look at what our students have been working on.

MENDOTA - Graves-Hume Public Library will present an exciting and informative program, Abraham Lincoln: A New Birth of Freedom, on Monday, Sept. 26 at 6:30 p.m.

Adults and children alike will enjoy hearing a firsthand account from Abraham Lincoln himself of the history of the United States of America during his time, from his childhood on the frontier to the 12 turbulent years from 1854 to 1865, which nearly destroyed our young nation but eventually resulted in a "new birth of freedom."

Mr. Lincoln is portrayed by Kevin Wood, a professional Lincoln presenter who bears a remarkable resemblance to "the Great Emancipator" and who is extremely knowledgeable about his life and times. He quotes from his best-known speeches and writings and talks about his inspiring story. Mr. Wood has been portraying Mr. Lincoln since the year 2000, and on a professional basis since 2015.

LaSalle, Ogle county residents asked to collect ash seeds for regional forest health efforts resistance to the beetles.

Got ash? Researchers sure hope

Ever since the emerald ash borer arrived outside Detroit in 2002, the invasive pest has been spreading across the country, ravaging ash populations in its wake. The shiny green beetle had reached most of Michigan's lower peninsula by the mid 2000s, and a decade later had reached nearly all of Ohio, Indiana, northern Illinois, southern Wisconsin and more. Researchers estimate that a mature ash tree can die from a borer attack in about six years, which means some areas in the Midwest have been missing their trees for a while, while others are just starting to watch their ash disappear.

Since the emerald ash borer arrived in the U.S., researchers have been working to understand the biology of the beetle and ways to stop its spread. Although certain pesticides seem to slow it down, tens of millions of ash have been lost and the end of the devastation is not yet in sight. Even where humans can easily adjust to the loss, wildlife that rely on the trees may not be so fortunate. That's why forestry professionals are starting to consider other ways to prevent an ash-free future.

"We're fighting back while planning ahead," says Rachel Kappler, forest health coordinator for the Great Lakes Basin (GLB) Forest Health Collaborative. "We're collecting seeds from ash trees that might be resistant to the beetles, relying on the help of private citizens to help locate the trees. Our hope is that a tree breeding program will allow restoration and reforestation efforts to save the species — and save our forests."

Restoring Forests Lost

In January 2021, ecologists, foresters and other conservation professionals from across the Great Lakes Region launched a new collaborative effort to save the ash and other trees currently affected by invasive pests. The GLB Forest Health Collaborative's goal is to unite efforts to breed ash, American beech and eastern hemlock trees that are pest-resistant and can be widely used to restore our forests.

As word has spread, some landowners have begun sending Kappler reports of their trees directly. But many more are using the popular citizen science app, TreeSnap, to submit their observations. By downloading the app onto their smartphones, any person can submit an observation of any tree they observe. TreeSnap data is used for a wide variety of research projects nationwide, while the GLB Forest Health Collaborative watches specifically for observations of native, naturally growing American beech, eastern hemlock and various ash species. When someone submits a healthy, mature tree in an otherwise pest-infested area — what they call a lingering tree — they take notice.

Once a healthy tree, like an ash, has been reported, the research team may plan a visit to confirm that it's truly a lingering tree. If it is, they collect either seeds or a sample of the tree in the form of a cutting they can bring back to their base at the Holden Arboretum outside Cleveland, Ohio, for propagation of test trees. If the tree passes the test, and isn't affected by emerald ash borers, it can be used for breeding pest-resistant trees.

Seeds Wanted from Local Counties This fall, the GLB Forest Health Collaborative is expanding their seed collection efforts for ash trees. They're targeting trees from places in which the emerald ash borer was detected in 2010 or earlier, since those areas should have already seen widespread tree death significantly increasing the odds that any remaining large, healthy trees have

Twenty-six counties are particularly important for ash seed collection this fall. Among the counties are LaSalle, Ogle, McHenry, Stephenson, Jo Daviess and Will in Illinois.

Ash seeds need to be collected while they're mature, which happens in late summer and fall. The trees make winged helicopter seeds like maples, which are called samaras. Proper collection of ash seeds does require following a few guidelines, but it's not difficult. Experts recommend:

- Wait until September for black ash and October for all other ash
- Collect seeds directly off of trees with pole pruners Don't pick up seeds off the ground,
- as they have been rejected by the tree early and are likely bad • Put up to one gallon of seed in a
- paper bag and store below 70°F before shipping it to the GLB Forest Health Collaborative. For those wanting more information, ash seed collection guidelines from the U.S. Forest Service and ash seed collection resources are available online. And for anyone not comfortable or able to collect seeds themselves, help is available through the GLB Forest Health Collaborative, says Kappler. Their experts can walk you through the process or put you in touch with a county forester in your area who may be able to stop by to collect the seeds. "We couldn't do this work without the private landowners who let us know where potentially resistant trees might be," says Kappler. "Without these trees, we wouldn't have our breeding tinue and finish what I set my mind to do."

Going back to school after a break is not easy.

Without the support of her husband of 22 years, Rene Espinoza, and their children Adrian (graduated from University of Illinois in May), Bianca, who is attending University of St. Francis, and Isaac, a middle school student, Espinoza doesn't know if she would have applied for the scholarship, went back to school, or finished her education.

"I wouldn't have been able to do this without my husband's support. He has been the one suffering this entire time, too," Espinoza said. "It shows you don't have to know exactly what you want to do when you graduate high school. In my mind, I wanted to be a teacher. That was my goal. Life happened and things changed. You find what you're meant to do."

Espinoza only received the MBPW scholarship during her education journey. She'll never forget the assistance and how it helped her education and her mindset toward the community. "This was the only scholarship I applied for or received. I did try at NIU, but I didn't get the few I applied for. I used the scholarship for gas and books since I was commuting three times a week from Mendota to DeKalb," Espinoza said. "I feel like a lot of people think that since they can't check off a box that they won't qualify for a scholarship. I didn't think I was going to get the scholarship from BPW, but I suggest to other people to not be afraid and try.

"You never know. You could be selected, and the money helps with your future goals. Don't be afraid to put yourself out there. I was very grateful for that scholarship. It shows that being part of a small community, it is looking for ways to help out others. I was very grateful for that and in return I want to give back to the community. I probably won't be able to give out scholarships, but I want to give back."

Effingham Country Sheriff Paul Kuhns said the consequences for law enforcement making the wrong decision could impact how their jobs are done. "I know something my

IVCC Board names presidential search committee

OGLESBY - The Illinois Valley Community College board appointed a 12-member presidential search advisory committee Thursday that includes community leaders, trustees and IVCC faculty, staff and administrators.

The committee includes LaSalle County Regional Office of Education Supt. Chris Dvorak; trustees Jane Goetz and Bill Hunt; student trustee Austin Dille; instructors Art Koudelka, Tracy Lee and Mike Phillips; Foundation President Dr. Susan Schmitt; administrators Dr. Gary Roberts and Jennifer Scheri; and staff members Dr. Kathy Hart and Marlene Merkel.

Led by search consultant and former Seneca High School Supt. Dr. Jim Carlson, the committee will review applications, select semi-finalists and conduct round 1 interviews before recommending a slate of candidates to the board.

From that list, the board will select 3-5 candidates for final interviews before choosing IVCC's 11th president. Applications are due by Oct. 9 at www. ivcc.edu/presidentialsearch; the board expects to name a president by the end of the fall semester.

In a related action, trustees approved Dr. Jerry Corcoran's retirement request. Corcoran, president the past 14 years, announced Aug. 18 he will retire June 30 after 33 years at the college.

In a letter, Corcoran said, "My love for being on a college campus began in 1970 (at the University of Illinois) and has never gone away. So many of the students I have met have been inspirational and I have enjoyed watching them achieve their academic and career goals.

"Our financial position is strong, facilities are beautiful, we have the best technology money can buy and a well-deserved reputation for quality."

In other business, the board ap-

- A master plan update by DKA Architects of Chicago for approximately $30,000. The plan was last updated in • Phase 1 of a farm tiling project not Petitions must be filed 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Dec. 12-16 or 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday, Dec. 19 with board secretary Judy Day in Room C301. Seats held by Bill Hunt, Dr. Maureen Rebholz and Angie Stevenson are up for election for six-year terms.

Closed session minutes from Aug.

The board also learned:

 That IVCC is a member of a consortium that will share in a $5 million federal Strengthening Community Colleges Training grant to be used for manufacturing and logistics needs. The college will also receive a $580,000 grant to support a Pipeline for the Advancement of the Healthcare Workforce initiative. Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs Bonnie Campbell was credited for helping design both projects.

- · Campbell, who is retiring from full-time work at the end of September, was recognized for 25 years of service to the college. · A tentative five-year agreement has - been reached with Constellation Energy Nuclear Power Station (formerly Exelon) that will increase the plant's value 14 percent – resulting in an additional $235,000 in property taxes to IVCC beginning in FY24.
- Sarah Goetz has been hired as Student Services information specialist and Mark Cotter as Truck Driver Training specialist. · Pending Commission on Dental
- Accreditation (CODA) approval, the dental hygiene will admit students in fall 2023 and begin second-year hygiene courses in fall 2024.
- The 26th annual scholarship recognition reception Sept. 1 drew a record 441 scholarship recipients, donors and guests to the gym. Corcoran credited Foundation and Community Relations staff Fran Brolley, Donna Swiskoski, Janice Corrigan and Samantha Manahan and volunteers Angie Dunlap, Peggy Schneider, Aseret Loveland, Gracelyn Quesse, Susan Monroe, Ashlee Fitzpatrick, Kim Herout, and Chad Brokaw.

Corcoran said, "There's something magical about seeing generous donors and their scholarship recipients meeting for the first time. It often leads to relationships that last a lifetime."

round, 99.9 percent of funds were claimed by eligible communities with less than 0.1 percent redistributed. ARPA established the Coronavirus Local Fiscal Recovery Fund to provide a critical source of relief for local governments, including smaller governments, which had not received direct fiscal assistance from the federal government in response to the COVID-19 pandemic prior to the passage of ARPA. States, including Illinois, are receiving funding from the U.S. Treasury Department to distribute to smaller local governments on a per-capita basis. Larger cities and counties already received funding directly from the federal government. Communities will receive the same amount of funding as the first round. Each local government receiving funds will be required to provide a project expenditure report to the U.S. Treasury by the end of April, then annually thereafter. Each must follow all federal compliance and reporting responsibilities. DCEO will continue to help local governments navigate the reporting requirements.

National 4-H Week is Oct. 2-8

STERLING-4-H members in Illinois will join the 6 million youth across the country in celebrating National 4-H Week Oct. 2-8. Clubs around Illinois celebrate this week by highlighting the remarkable 4 H youth in their communities and showcasing the incredible experiences that 4 H offers young people. Illinois 4-H is the flagship youth program for the University of Illinois Extension and the largest out-of-school youth organization in Illinois. 4-H youth development programs challenge youth to "learn by doing" with fun, hands-on activities. Kids can learn, practice, and demonstrate new skills while exploring the interests that are important to them. In 4-H, youth are brought together in clubs, led by caring adults, who welcome them as a part of the larger 4-H family. Illinois 4-H members range in age from 8 to 18. Youth who are 5 to 7 years of age may join 4-H as a Cloverbud member.

During National 4-H Week, clubs have been challenged to show their 4-H spirit with a family Facebook challenge and a window/club display competition in their communities.

About Illinois 4-H: Illinois 4-H is the flagship youth development program of University of Illinois Extension and administered through the College of Agriculture, Consumer, and Environmental Sciences. 4-H grows true leaders, youth who are empowered for life today and prepared for a career tomorrow. The handson approach in 4-H gives young people guidance, tools, and encouragement, and then puts them in the driver's seat to make great things happen. Independent research confirms the unparalleled impact of the 4-H experience, demonstrating that young people are four times more likely to contribute to their communities; two times more likely to make healthier choices; two times more likely to be civically active; and two times more likely to participate in STEM programs. About Extension: Illinois Extension leads public outreach for University of Illinois by translating research into action plans that allow Illinois families, businesses, and community leaders to solve problems, make informed decisions, and adapt to changes and opportunities.

Hazards of a journalist

By Scott Reeder

A former colleague of mine was stabbed to death in his yard this month, apparently for writing something someone didn't like.

Reeder

His name was Jeff German and he was a crackerjack reporter who spent a career covering crime and corruption in Las Vegas. We worked together at the Las Vegas Sun some 23 years ago.

I won't lie to you and tell you we were close. Jeff was one of an assortment of newsroom characters I've worked with over the years.

He believed he deserved a private office in the shabby building where we worked. So, he erected makeshift walls around his desk, which was topped with piles of books, documents notebooks and other journalistic debris.

I never heard him say a bad word about anyone – except for the reporter with the same beat at the other newspaper in town. To hear Jeff tell it, that fellow was Satan incarnate the purveyor of numerous journalistic transgressions – and not to be trusted.

That just shows you how much things have changed in the news business. Newsrooms are leaner now. And the struggle isn't so much to beat the competition but to write the best story that one can with the resources

We're competing against ourselves.

German's reporting was phenomenal. When I worked with him, his adept reporting essentially solved the murder of casino boss Ted Binion. Looking back, I'm amazed at what he was able to accomplish. Law enforcement essentially followed his lead on one of the highest profile murders in the state's history.

Recently, a county official blamed German for an election loss. He had written an exposé about the official and malfeasance in his office. An informed and angry electorate went to the polls and tossed him out of office.

The official, Robert Telles, has been charged with Authorities said his DNA matched specimens found at the scene of the crime. A GMC Denali registered to Telles's wife and parked at his home was picked up on surveillance video near German's home before and after his killing. A straw hat allegedly used by Telles to disguise himself was found during a search of his home and car.

German was 69 when he died. He was part of that vanishing breed of characters who used to populate

Just about every newsroom I've worked in has had such folks. To them journalism wasn't a vocation – it was a calling. No one ever entered the profession for the prestige or the money. There is little of either.

But newsrooms were a happy habitat for those who marched to a different drummer.

I think of a Texas county government reporter I worked with who drilled a hole in the floor of his van and attached a hose and funnel so he wouldn't have to stop for bathroom breaks between assignments

Or there was the Texas photographer who, while on assignment at the mall, stood on a park bench and spoke in tongues. (He remains the most gifted shooter I've ever known.)

Or in Nevada there was the reporter who married a woman who was always threatening suicide – when he was on deadline. She would have a gun to her head threatening to shoot, while he would be trying to talk her down on the phone while simultaneously pounding out a city council story on deadline.

I've never met a journalist who handled deadline pressures better.

All of these people are long gone from newspapers. And some have left this life. But each was a gifted newspaper person who I'm proud to have called a friend.

Newspaper work is hard. The hours are long and irregular. Your mistakes are public. And the criticism is constant. But the reward is making a difference.

Las Vegas is a better community for the decades Jeff German kept an eye on corrupt politicians and underworld figures.

Was he quirky? Yes. Tenacious? Certainly. Courageous? Absolutely.

Communities across this nation are the better because of people like German.

When one thinks of German or the five Annapolis, Md., journalists killed in their newsroom in 2018 the loss is obvious and profound. Their lives were sacrificed because someone didn't like what they wrote.

We mourn not just the loss of their lives but the silencing of their voices.

Other newsroom voices are silenced not with a bullet or a knife but with an accountant's pen.

Regardless, the question remains the same: When a watchdog's voice dies, who will hold those in power accountable?

More about the Big Bands – 1930s

Backtracks

(The following is from Jessica Nashold's Backtracks & Sidetracks column reprinted from Sept. 21, 1994.)

By Jessica Nashold

Not all the big band names who played at Puritan Park were mentioned in a recent column on the subject. To continue.

On Memorial Day 1929, Guy Lombardo was at Puritan. Admission to the park was 50 cents and dancing for the evening was $1 per couple. Al Katz and his Victor recording orchestra was booked for July 10 and Wayne King played on Aug. 11. The Ipana Troubadors were in Mendota on Sept. 22, and on Sept. 29, Ray Miller from the College Inn at Hotel Sherman in Chicago was here. The Reporter emphasized that law and order was a priority. The management of the dance pavilions desire to have their places kept as orderly as possible and deputy sheriffs are on hand each evening they are open.

During 1930, Ted Weems played on June 4 and on Oct. 7, Puritan scored a real coup, outbidding all others for an appearance by Paul Whiteman with his 19-piece orchestra.

Although rain interfered with attendance that night, those who were there found it a memorable experience. From the very first number until after midnight the people were constantly being entertained. It was a rare treat.

Many came to Mendota from distant cities that evening, drawn by Whiteman's celebrity as a performer with the Ziegfield Follies and in "The Jazz Singer." Under contract to Victor –

He has made and sold vastly more records than any other recorder in the world.

Whitman returned to Puritan on May 10, 1931. This time he brought 27 entertainers and musicians. Features included Mildred Bailey - Oueen of Blues; Jack Fulton - Prince of Ballads; Paul Sisters - Court Harmonizers; King's Jesters - Troubadors of Boop-

Some of the bands made Hotel Faber their headquarters while playing in area pavilions. Ben Bernie, "The Old Maestro," and his orchestra spent a weekend

Sidetracks at the Faber in 1931. They traveled in a large motor bus.

Other big bands playing Puritan in 1931 were Coon-Sanders and Herbie Kay. It was mentioned that Herbie Kay was only 24 years old and the members of his band had an average age of 21

"They know what the young people like."

Art Kassel & His Kassells in the Air were in Mendota June 14, 1931, while Husk O'Hare & His Genial Gentlemen of the Air played on July 1. Wayne King was with us on July 19.

One hot evening in July, there was dancing in the swimming pool as well as in the pavilion.

On Aug. 2, 1931, Ted Fio-Rito was the attraction. Fioi-Rito was composer of several well-known numbers: "Toot Toot Tootsie," "Charley, My Boy," and "Laugh Clown Laugh.'

Next came Louis Panico on Aug. 9, identified as leader of the Canton Tea Garden Orchestra.

During 1932, the big name bands visiting Puritan were Herbie Kay on June 5, Husk O'Hare on June 26, Wayne King on July 3 and Art Kassell on Aug. 7.

Walter Winchell wrote of Husk O'Hare -Dance band leaders, and especially Husk O'Hare, inspire more marriages than moonlight nights, glorious sunsets or the darkened interiors of movie houses. O'Hare has the softest, dreamiest and most romantic music of all.

As things turned out, Art Kassell may have been the last of the big name band leaders to play at Puritan. However, advertising sometimes stated that a big name band would appear, without indicating which one. No mention can be found of Cab Calloway, for example, although some remember hearing his band in Mendota.

In 1933, Mendota, with the rest of the country, was coping with depression and Puritan featured Depression Dances. Admission was 15 cents for gents, 10 cents for ladies and dancing was free. Some of the bands appearing in the Puritan pavilion during the last weeks before the big fire were Hollywood Play Girls, Iowa Blue Devils, Sword's Ten Collegians, Hinkey's Royal Commanders, Paul Lester and Lloyd Hoelle. On Aug. 22, 1933, a benefit for the Holy Cross building fund was held at Puritan – a card party, ice cream social and dance for which Ed Bieser's orchestra furnished the music. After the fire, a dance floor was erected under a tent west of the tea room, and dancing continued through September

1933, followed by roller skating.

Meantime, at Kakusha, the Log Cabin had its grand opening on Saturday noon, Aug. 19, 1933, and dancing continued at the Kakusha pavilion until 1953.

Many may remember a small local group, the Arabian Knights, who made their first public appearance at the Sublette Armory on June 18, 1931. The initial group included Robert Ellingen on piano, Henry Zolper on saxophone, Donald Bader on violin, Glenn E. Koropp on trumpet and Arthur Walters

In the fall of 1933, the group played for weekly dances from 8-11 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Admission was 25 cents for men, 10 cents for ladies.

on drums. From time to time, the personnel changed.

During this period, the National Bank of Mendota was just getting established. Beer licenses became available at $100 a year. Gasoline was 16.6 cents a gallon and 10-pack cartons of Lucky Strike, Old Gold, Chesterfield or Camel cigarettes were priced at $1.15.

Able-bodied men on relief were offered a chance to work for the city of Mendota at the rate of $1.25 for a six-hour day. The sum of $1.00 was credited toward the relief and 25 cents was paid in cash. Relief would be denied any able-bodied man refusing to "render service." The wage was later increased to 30 cents per hour.

In Ukraine, there's no substitute for hard power

The ongoing Ukrainian counter-offensive, if successful, could reshape the war and the geopolitical contours of Europe. It is a testament to Ukrainian pluck and staying power but, above all, to the advanced weapons that the West has put in the hands of the Ukrainians. Soft power, the coinage of political scientist Joseph Nye for the ability of a country to get others to do what it wants without coercion, is important; hard power is absolutely indispensable. This is easy to forget in a West that believes deeply in democratic ideals and moral example. Even if it is true, as optimists believe, that the arc of moral history bends toward justice, an armored division can smash and bend it back.

The history of the West is in part the history of arms races, in fortresses, cannons, ships, rifles, aircrafts and much else. Empires have risen and fallen on the strength of military hardware. Cities have conquered or been destroyed. Armies have triumphed or dissolved. After the Russian invasion of Ukraine, Volodymyr Zelenskyy had bucketfuls of soft power. He was the most admired man in the world. He spoke at the United Nations, to Congress and other national legislative bodies, and even at the Grammys. What did that get him? It helped solidify the good will of Western countries, which was essential. He constantly tried to leverage that sentiment, though, for the hardheaded priority of more weapons. Zelenskyy could still be admired in death, or in a Russian prison, or as an exile. Yet, if he wanted to continue to be admired as the leader of an independent country, he needed Ukraine's cause hasn't gotten any more just or inspiring over the last couple of months; it's gotten better armed. Ukraine couldn't win a straight-up artillery fight with the Russians, and in fact it was losing one in a grinding war of attrition. A HIMARS, or high mobility artillery rocket system, versus artillery fight, though, is a different matter.

The Ukrainians have used these long-range, precision systems provided by the U.S. to hit Russian artillery parks, ammunition dumps and logistical hubs. The strikes have caused breakdowns in Russia's fuel and ammunition supplies as well as in the cohesion of its troops and command-and-control.

The Ukraine war has been a conflict of stark phases and strategic adjustments and re-adjustments. The Russians will presumably have their answer to the current Ukrainian push, and if they don't, one reason will be that they are running out of those pillars of hard power -- men and materiel.

Paul Lockhart writes in "Firepower," his book about the history of weapons of war: "Technological sophistication and military might are, to be sure, not synonymous but closely connected, and military might is a vital factor in the calculus of international relations. Great powers tend to have great weapons, or at least a lot of really good weapons."

We should be mindful of this, not just in the assistance we provide to Ukraine but in our priorities for ourselves. Our military budget needs to be much bigger, and our defense industrial base is wholly insufficient to the new, more threatening international environment. We would run out of rockets quickly in a war with China. Even supporting Ukraine at the current level has been a strain.

The United States is a marvel of soft power, binding allies to us, attracting people all over the world who want to come here, and reaching the most far-flung places in the world. What we've been able to provide Ukraine that has been most telling, though, hasn't been diplomatic or moral support, rather a system that can put a rocket directly on a target up to 50 miles away.

That's been the game changer, as better, more sophisticated military technology has always been from long bows, to arquebuses, to fighter jets. There is simply no substitute for hard power.

Q: Where have I seen the actress Michelle Yeoh before? I recently saw her in the film "Everything Everywhere A 11 a t Once," and I know I've seen her in other movies a long time ago. She's a really great actress, and I'd like to see more of her work.

A: Michelle Yeoh was a big action star in Hong Kong before making it in Hollywood, and she was even known for doing her own stunts. Here in America, she starred opposite Pierce Brosnan in the James Bond film "Tomorrow Never Dies," but it was in 2000 that she garnered the most attention yet by starring in the Oscar-winning international film"Crouching Tiger, Hidden Dragon,"directed by Ang Lee.

ever since in movies like "Memoirs of a Geisha," "Guardians of the Galaxy Vol. 2" and "Crazy Rich Asians." She's also part of the "Star Trek" family, having played an emperor on the series "Star Trek: Discovery," but her upcoming role might possibly be her biggest one yet. She'll play Dr. Karina in the next four(!) "Avatar" films, which consists of four sequels being released from 2022 to 2028.

Yeoh has worked nonstop

"Everything Everywhere All at Once" is the best showcase yet for Yeoh's acting talent and could very well result in Yeoh earning her first Oscar nomination.

Q: Was Leah Remini at her best friend Jennifer Lopez's wedding? I never read anything about their friendship ever since J.Lo reunited with Ben Affleck. -- N.W.

A: No, Leah Remini did not attend her bestie's Georgia wedding ceremony to Ben Affleck, but she appears to have had a good reason. Her daughter was going off to college that same week, and Remini didn't want to miss spending that milestone with her. Some people are speculating that Remini might not approve of Affleck, since he broke Lopez's heart when they first dated 20 years ago, but if that's the case, Remini isn't sharing her thoughts with the public.

The lovebirds did have their own children in attendance: Ben's three kiddos were there, along with Lopez's twins. Also among the guests was Affleck's best pal, actor Matt Damon. The two famously won an Oscar together as screenwriters of the 1997 film "Good Will Hunting" and have weathered many ups and downs over the years.

Q: Is it true that "Dr. Quinn, Medicine Woman" is being rebooted? Will Joe Lando be returning along with Jane Seymour? -- D.W.

A: There aren't any plans at the moment to revive the early '90s western drama "Dr. Quinn, Medicine Woman," but the Lifetime network is reuniting the attractive stars in an upcoming holiday movie. It's been three decades since Jane Seymour and Joe Lando first graced our screens on CBS on Saturday nights, but fans only have to wait until November for their movie to premiere.

According to "Variety," in "A Christmas Spark," Seymour will play a recently widowed woman who decides to direct the town's Christmas pageant, while visiting her daughter over the holidays. There, she meets Hank, played by Lando, "the town's most eligible bachelor."

I met 17-year-old Lori Loughlin when she starred as Jody Travis in "The Edge Of Night" in 1980. She then starred in "Full House" (1988-1995) and "Fuller House" (2016-2018), and was also a Hallmark series star in "When Calls the Heart," from 2014-2019. But, her career came crashing down in 2019, when she and husband Mossimo Giannulli were arrested for their part in the 2019 "entrance exam cheating scandal." She was immediately removed from filmed episodes of "When Calls the Heart" and became untouchable work-wise. After Loughlin served two months in prison, paying a $150,000 fine and completing 100 hours of community service, Hallmark quietly brought back her series 'Garage Sale Mystery.'' Hallmark's decision to reinstate her (perhaps for next season's "When Calls the Heart" as well?) followed after an overwhelmingly positive reaction from loyal, dedicated Hallmark fans, who feel Loughlin deserves a second chance. Anyone who disagrees with that, we "Call the Heart-less!"

Rhode Island man finds his great-grandma's gravesite at Evergreen Cem.

SUBLETTE—On Tuesday, Aug. 16, some Sublette residents had a visit from a man that had found contacts through the internet searching for the gravesite of his great-grandmother, Mattie Hewitt.

Coming from Providence, R.I., Charlie Hewitt met with Don Dinges, Chris Leffelman, Doug Erbes, and Maurice Zimmerlein. John Stenzel was unable to attend. After lunch at La Fiesta and a tour of the village, including the Union Church that Mattie attended, the Sublette Evergreen Cemetery on Inlet Road was visited, and where the gravesite was found.

Charlie's interest in his family history stemmed from his possession of Mattie's daily diary from 1881 and several photos of that era. She passed away in 1882 at age 34, shortly after giving birth to a surviving son.

Sublette residents concerned for public safety

ByTONJAGREENFIELD Publisher

SUBLETTE — Sublette residents expressed their concerns for public safety to the Sublette Village Board and a Lee County Sheriff's Deputy at a recent meeting.

The Sublette Village Board met for its monthly meeting on Monday, Sept. 12. All members were present except trustees Mackenzie Belan and Jeff Meyers.

Sublette resident Marlene Egler brought to the board's attention that the people are disregarding the stop sign at South Front Street. Egler said people drive right through the stop sign all day, every day, and voiced that if people aren't going to use it, then the village should just get rid of it.

Egler said she is concerned about her granddaughter running across the road and right in front of a driver speeding by. She also mentioned a toddler who lives across the corner.

"When they go through the stop sign they go fast," Egler said. "Those cars, they don't watch, they just go. Someone is eventually going to get killed."

Lee County Sheriff Matt McGrail was at the meeting and addressed Egler's concerns. He said it's not up to the sheriff's department to decide if a stop sign should be in the village or not. He did say that disobeying the stop sign is an enforceable offense. He told the board that the sheriff's office has two deputies patrolling the county during the day, and there were three deputies on patrol during the village meeting.

Sublette Village President John Stenzel asked Egler if the stop sign was helping.

Egler said most people will come up very slowly, but there are certain drivers who deliberately go through fast.

Stenzel suggested the sheriff's office do some patrolling, and recommended if residents see someone consistently running the stop sign to call the sheriff's office.

McGrail said the department does what they can with the complaints they receive.

Sublette Village Trustee Julie Kessel said it's constantly in the morning around 7-8 a.m., and after Amboy High School football practice. She said a specific driver, who is a high school student, sees you, flips you off and then steps on the gas.

Kessel asked the sheriff's deputy to come down and patrol in Sublette, even one day a week.

"Let them know someone is here once in a while," Kessel said.

McGrail said the sheriff's office could do enforcement at that stop sign for a week straight, and then three months later, you will still see that problem.

Stenzel said maybe the village should make every street 20 mph. He added that people know when the cops are working in the village.
Sublette Village Treasurer

Will Klein said that he thinks if you give the offender a ticket, they may think twice before doing it again.

Stenzel said he appreciates all that the deputies do and that maybe if a couple of key people get a ticket it will change what is happening.

McGrail said the department would like to do more drug enforcement in the county, and that meth is a huge problem. He added that there are other villages/towns in the county that have worse problems than Sublette.

Sublette resident Lori Hansen spoke up at the mention of drugs, saying the sheriff's department needs to look at the street she lives on. "I should not be afraid to live in my house," Hansen said. "I'm tired of it. I'm terrified to be in our own house."

She told the board she would like to see a police presence in the village. Stenzel reminded residents that they need to call the sheriff's office when they see something suspicious.

McGrail said he would take the concerns from this meeting to his higher ups.

He also recommended residents call their Lee County Board members about their concerns as well.

Stenzel suggested the village have a community meeting, inviting the sheriff's department down where

According to the Environmental Protection Agency, it is illegal to connect/discharge sump pumps into the local sewer line. If households were allowed to deposit their sump pump discharge, the sewer lines would be frequently overburdened by the influx of water during rainy months. This would lead to cases where both sewer water and rainwater were expunged into the water

The whole process increases the pollution of areas the water was deposited into, so the sump pump discharge being connected to sewer water is illegal. Connecting it to a storm drain still functions well and is fully legal, but the connection to actual sewer lines is not permitted.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Do you qualify for Social Security spouse's benefits?

By Mike Weitl

Social Security benefits are a crucial part of millions of Americans' retirement income. If you don't have enough Social Security credits to qualify for benefits on your own record, you may be able to receive benefits on your spouse's record.

To qualify for spouse's benefits, you must be one of the following:

• 62 years of age or older.

· Any age and have in your care a child younger than age 16, or who has a disability and is entitled to receive benefits on your spouse's record.

Your full spouse's benefit could be up to one-half the amount your spouse is entitled to receive at their full retirement age. If you choose to receive your spouse's benefits before you reach full retirement age, you will get a permanently reduced benefit.

If you wait until you reach full retirement age to receive benefits, you'll receive your full spouse's benefit amount, which is up to one-half the amount your spouse can receive. You'll also get your full spouse's benefit if you are under full retirement age, but care for a child and one of the following applies:

• The child is younger than age 16.

• The child has a disability and is entitled to receive benefits on your spouse's record.

If you're eligible to receive retirement benefits on your own record, we will pay that amount first. If your benefits as a spouse are higher than your own retirement benefits, you will get a combination of benefits that equal the higher spouse

For example, Sandy qualifies for a retirement benefit of $1,000 and a spouse's benefit of $1,250. At her full retirement age, she will receive her own $1,000 retirement benefit. We will add $250 from her spouse's benefit, for a total of $1,250.

Want to apply for either your or your spouse's benefits? Are you at least 61 years and nine months old? If you answered yes to both, visit www.ssa.gov/benefits/retirement to get started today.

Are you divorced from a marriage that lasted at least 10 years? You may be able to get benefits on your former spouse's record. You can find out more by visiting www.ssa. gov/planners/retire/divspouse.html for more

It also shows estimates for retirement, disability, and survivors benefits you and your family may be eligible for.

We also mail Statements to workers age 60 and over who aren't receiving Social Security benefits and do not yet have a my Social Security account. We mail the Statements three months prior to your birthday.

Question:

I'm expecting a baby soon. What do I need to do to get a Social Security number for my baby?

Apply for a number at the hospital when you apply for your baby's birth certificate. The state agency that issues birth certificates will share your child's information with us and we will mail the Social Security card to you. You can learn more about the Social Security number and card by reading our online publication Social Security Numbers for Children, available at www.ssa.gov/pubs.

RETIREMENT

Question:

I am receiving Social Security retirement benefits and I recently went back to work. Do I have to pay Social Security (FICA) taxes on my income? Answer:

Yes. By law, your employer must withhold FICA taxes from your paycheck. Although you are retired, you do receive credit for those new earnings. Each year Social Security automatically credits the new earnings and, if your new earnings are higher than in any earlier year used to calculate your current benefit, your monthly benefit could increase. For more information, visit www.ssa.gov or call us at 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778).

Question:

I plan to retire soon. When are Social Security benefits paid?

Social Security benefits are paid each month. Generally, new retirees receive their benefits on either the second, third, or fourth Wednesday of each month, depending on the day in the month the retiree was born. If you receive benefits as a spouse, your benefit payment date will be determined by your spouse's birth date.

Day of month born: 1-10, second Wednesday; 11-20, third Wednesday; 21-31, fourth Wednesday.

DISABILITY

Question: I have a 38-year-old son plan to apply for retirement benefits. Will he be eligible for benefits as my disabled child? Answer: Yes. In general, an adult disabled before age 22 may be eligible for child's benefits if a parent is deceased or starts receiving retirement or disability benefits. We benefit because we pay it on the parent's Social Security earnings record. The "adult child" — including an adopted child, or, in some cases, a stepchild, grandchild, or step grandchild —must be unmarried, age 18 or older, and have a disability consider this a "child's"

I applied for disability benefits, but was denied. I'd like to appeal. Can I do it online? Answer:

that started before age 22.

Yes. In fact, the best way to file a Social Security appeal is online. Our online appeal process is convenient and secure. Just go to www.ssa.gov/ disability/appeal to appeal the decision. For people who don't have access to the internet, you can call us at 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778) to schedule an appointment to visit your local Social Security office to file your appeal.

SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME

 $I'm\,38\,years\,old\,and\,have$ been approved to receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI) disability benefits. I was surprised to learn payment will be reduced because I live with my mom. Why's that? Answer:

SSI is a needs-based program, so any other income you receive—including non-monetary income such as help with your bills or other expenses—can have an effect on your benefit payment. Your SSI payments may be reduced if you are receiving food, shelter, or monetary assistance. If you move, or if the situation in your mom's household changes, be sure to contact Social Security. For more information, visit www.ssa.gov/ssi. Ouestion:

My brother died recently and left me some money. Will this inheritance affect my SSI benefits? Answer:

We consider the money inherited from your brother as income for the month you receive it. That could make you ineligible for SSI that month, depending on the amount of the inheritance. If you keep the money into the next month, it becomes a part of your resources. You cannot have more than $2,000 in resources and remain eligible for SSI. You should call Social Security at 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778) between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m., Monday through Friday and report the inheritance. Representatives can tell you how the inheritance might affect your SSI eligibility. Find out more at www.ssa.gov/ssi.

MEDICARE

Question:

I found out that my daughter submitted incorrect information about my resources when she completed my Application for Help with Medicare Prescription Drug Plan Costs. How can I get my application changed now to show the correct amount? Answer:

You can call 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778) and let us know. We will match information on your application with data from other federal agencies. If there is a discrepancy that requires verification, we will contact you. For additional information about Medicare prescription drug plans or enrollment periods, visit www.medicare.gov or call 1-800-633-4227.

Ouestion:

If I call 1-800-772-1213, can a Social Security representative take my application for Medicare prescription drug help over the phone?

If an interviewer is available when you call the 800 number, he or she can take your application over the phone. If an interviewer is not immediately available, we can schedule a telephone appointment for you. For the fastest and most convenient way to apply for Medicare prescription drug help, go online to www.ssa.gov/prescriptionhelp.

BCC blanks kickers, 2-0; Trojans wallop Streator

MENDOTA – In a rematch of last year's supersectional battle, Bloomington Central Catholic made the trek to Mendota for a regular-season showdown between two of the state's top Class 1A soccer teams. Unfortunately for the Trojans, it was the Saints that came out on top again, this time by a 2-0 count on Sept. 14 at the MHS field. Central Catholic defeated Mendota 3-2 in a penalty kick thriller in last year's supersectional.

Central Catholic scored a goal in each half. The first goal came with 19:05 left in the first half when the Saints tallied on a header off of a corner kick.

The Trojans came out strong in the second half and had four excellent scoring opportunities in the first three minutes that were all saved by Saint goalkeeper Auston Koch.

Central Catholic made it 2-0 with 12 minutes left before one last comeback attempt by Mendota. The Trojans' Rafael Romero put two great headers on goal in the last 10 minutes, with one just missing wide and the other being saved by the keeper.

Martin Murillo had seven saves in goal for the Trojans.

"We played well and had multiple chances to score in the game, but just failed to capitalize on those chances," said Mendota coach Nick Myers. "BCC played excellent defense and did not make any big mistakes during the game, making it difficult for our offense to break them down.

"It's great to play this type of competition in the middle of the season to get us ready for post-season games."

The Trojans got back on the winning track with a 7-0 triumph over Streator on Sept. 19 at the MHS field.

Jasiel Watson led the attack with three goals, while Mauricio Martinez had a pair of goals and an assist. Johan Cortez also found the net. Other assists went to Martin Murillo, Isaac Guzman and Sebastian Carlos.

Mendota improved its record to 12-3.

Golfers face tough competition

Mendota's golfers went up against two Three Rivers Conference opponents in a triangular meet at Monmouth on Sept. 13. The host school shot a sizzling 162 to claim top honors, followed by the Trojans at 170 and Kewanee with a 205.

Owen Aughenbaugh continued to pace the Trojans with a low score of 38. Clay Buffington was next with a 41, while Braden McPheeters turned in a 45 and Cale Strouss carded a 46. Evan McPheeters and Brody Hartt both had a 47 for Mendota.

John Jusczyk of Monmouth was the medalist with a 36.

Three teams posted three outstanding scores with Sherrard taking the top spot in a triangular at Sheffield on Sept. 14. Sherrard had four of the six players score in the 30s and ended with a 151. The Storm took second with a 160 and the Trojans carded a 170.

Aughenbaugh led Mendota golfers with a 37, two shots off the medalist score. Braden McPheeters checked in with a 42, followed by Hartt at 44 and Strouss at 47. Buffington and Evan McPheeters each had 48s for Mendota.

LaSalle-Peru edged the Trojans, 180-182, on Sept.

Carter Fenza of L-P was the medalist with a 43.

Mendota posted a 185-206 win over L-P in junior varsity action.

Jack Mikolasek of the Trojans claimed meet medalist honors with a 42. Also in the lineup for Mendota were Cayden Escatel (47), Dane Doyle (48), Jace Baird (48), Grady Jones (51) and Nick Sheridan (57)

Princeton races past Trojan F-S gridders, 54-0

PRINCETON – The Mendota freshman-sophomore football team dropped a 54-0 decision at Princeton on Sept. 19.

Princeton zoomed out to a 28-0 first-quarter lead on touchdown runs of 33, 57 and 64 yards, and a punt return for a touchdown of 55 yards. The home team added two more TDs in the second period on 9 and 36 yard runs.

The Tigers completed the scoring with one touchdown each in the third and fourth frames of 61 and 18 yards.

Mendota's offense was totally stymied by Princeton as it had a negative 4 yards for the game. Quarterback Aden Tillman completed two passes for 35 yards, but the Trojans had negative 39 yards rushing. Giovanni McIntosh had two pass receptions for Mendota (0-4).

Princeton running back Casey Etheridge churned out 191 yards rushing on just four carries as the Tigers accumulated 378 total yards.

Powerful Princeton dominates Trojans, 70-21

MENDOTA – Trailing high-powered Princeton by just a 7-0 count after a whacky first quarter had Mendota feeling pretty good about itself. Then came the second quarter.

The Tigers were suddenly uncaged in the second stanza as they tallied an astounding 49 points on their way to a 70-21 triumph over the Trojans in Three Rivers Conference East Division action on Sept. 16 at the MHS field.

The loss evened Mendota's records at 2-2 overall and 1-1 in the league, while Princeton remained undefeated at 4-0, 2-0.

In what can be described as a bizarre first quarter saw only one touchdown scored, that by the Tigers. A Mendota onside kick to open the game was recovered by the Trojans' Isaac Smith, only to have Princeton recover a fumble on Mendota's first play from scrimmage. Then on Princeton's first offensive play of the night, it fumbled and Mendota's Angil Serrano pounced on it at Mendota's 43-yard line. Oh, and a dog ran onto the field, briefly halting play.

Things finally settled down, and the Tigers tallied the only touchdown of the first quarter on a 17-yard pass from Teegan Davis to Andrew Peacock with 8:39 left in the first. Carlos Benavidez added the extra-point kick.

The rest of the first period went scoreless, although the Trojans had a great scoring opportunity when Princeton fumbled the ball away to Mendota for a second time, this time recovered by Dean Gilbert at the Tiger 29-yard line. After the first quarter ended, Serrano attempted a 29-yard field goal that just

After that, the Tigers went wild. There were eight touchdowns scored in the second quarter, seven of them by Princeton. Four of the seven were on long pass plays from Davis to his big 6-4 target

Noah LaPorte.

Davis and LaPorte hooked up for an 80-yard touchdown

Mendota turned the ball over on downs on its ensuing possession at the Princeton 46-yard line, and the Tigers needed just five plays to find the end zone, capped off by a 39-yard TD run by Davis. Benavidez's kick was good.

The Trojans got on the board on their next series and it took just one play – a 70-yard touchdown scamper by Anthony Childs at the 6:25 mark. Serrano's extra-point kick made it 21-7.

With half of the second quarter gone, it seemed unfathomable that 35 more points could be scored, but indeed it happened, and all on the Princeton side of the scoreboard.

Mendota's kick after its touchdown went just 8 yards and Princeton took possession at the Trojan Princeton got the ball back 22 seconds later when LaPorte intercepted a deflected pass from Justin Randolph at the Mendota 39. Six plays later, Davis squirted into the end zone from the 1-yard line and Benavidez kicked the extra point.

The Trojan offense turned the ball over on downs on its next possession and Princeton needed less than a minute to go 40 yards, the final play being a 13-yard pass from Davis to LaPorte with 2:48 left in the half. Benavidez was perfect on the PAT kick.

The Tigers had two more interceptions before halftime and turned both into scores. Brady Byers got one at his own 35 and then the Davisto-LaPorte connection struck again, this time for a 65-yard TD. Then with 23 seconds left, Davis, who's headed to Eastern Illinois University next year, swiped a pass and returned it 42 yards to paydirt. Benavidez hit both extra-point kicks and Princeton took a 56-7 lead to the locker room.

With the more than 40-point separation, the entire second half was played with a running clock.

Each team scored a third-quarter touchdown. Mendota's was a 68-yard pass from Randolph to Ryne Strouss. Serrano added the PAT kick.

Princeton answered when Peacock found the end zone from 53 yards out. Benavidez's kick split the uprights.

The same held true in the fourth, as both teams put a TD on the board. Casey Etheridge had a 19-yard touchdown scamper for the Tigers and Benavidez completed a perfect night kicking.

Mendota scored the final touchdown on a 72-yard pass from Randolph to Childs with 1:49 left. Serrano booted the extra point.

The Trojans finished with 298 total yards compared to 535 for Princeton. Childs ran it 15 times for 111 yards, while Randolph completed 6 of 17 passes for 174 yards. Childs, Strouss and Smith each had two receptions.

Davis was a perfect 8 of 8 passing for 310 yards. LaPorte reeled in four aerials for 206 yards.

God's plan in your broken places

There's a story about a little boy who was very poor and needed shoes. He was standing in front of a shoe store, barefoot and shivering with cold. A woman approached him and asked him why he was standing there, looking through the window. He told her, "Well, ma'am, I was asking God to give me a pair of shoes.'

The woman took the boy into the store, washed his dirty, bare feet and put new socks and shoes on them. The boy was so touched by her compassion that he asked her, "Ma'am, are you God's wife?" He assumed if she showed him that kind of love, she must be related to God.

This story is one of the best examples of what it means to walk in love. And our goal as Christians is to show God's love so people see Jesus shining through us.

It Starts with Communion

Matthew 26:26 (NASB) says, "...Jesus took some bread, and after a blessing, He broke it and gave it to the disciples, and said, 'Take, eat; this is My body." It's interesting to see here that Jesus blessed the bread, broke it, and then gave it to the disciples.

We usually refer to this scripture when we have communion to remind us of the sacrifice He made for us. And just as He gave His life and was broken for us, we must be broken so we can live for Him.

We don't like to think about God breaking us, but it's really a wonderful thing. See, when we're born again, the seed of God's nature—all that He is—is planted in our

First Peter 1:23 says, "You have been born again not of seed which is perishable, but imperishable, that is, through the living and enduring word of God." And 1 John 3:9 tells us that as believers, "God's seed [His principle of life, the essence of His righteous character] remains [permanently]" in us (AMP).

This means we have what it takes to be like Jesus and love others the way He loves us. But we all need God to do a work in our souls for us to be able to walk in love. We have to grow spiritually for our soul-mind, will and emotions-to be molded into the image of Christ.

We don't need to pray for God to give us love, because we already have His love in us. We need to pray for Him to show us how to walk in love...for God to do whatever He needs to do in our lives so His love can flow through us to others. When we do, He will deal with whatever is in us that is standing in the

How Brokenness Works

Isaiah 64:8 says, "O Lord, You are our Father; we are the clay, and You our Potter, and we all are the work of Your hand" (AMP). I know what it's like to be broken and molded by God. I used to have so many problems; I was hard to get along with and harsh. There were a lot of things I didn't understand because I had been mistreated, and I thought it was good to be hard and not let anyone push me around. I believed everyone else had a problem,

I remember praying so diligently for God to change my husband, Dave, because if he would just be the way I wanted him to be, then I would be happy. But one day God spoke to my heart so strongly and said, "Dave is not the problem." My response was, "Well, who is? It's just me and him. What do You mean Dave is not the problem?"

It was devastating to realize that I was the problem, but it was also the beginning of a beautiful work God wanted to do in me.

EVERYDAY LIFE

Even though I was hurting and hard to get along with, I really loved God and wanted to live for Him, but I had to give Him control so He could mold me into His image. I began to pray things like, "God, do whatever You need to do in my life to change me. I'm the clay and You are the Potter. Romans 8:29 says You foreordained me to be molded into the image of Jesus, and I want to be everything You've created me to be."

The journey hasn't been easy, but I can honestly say that the hardest times in my life became blessings because God used them to bring me close to Him so I could know Him and grow spiritually. That's His plan for all of His children.

I want to encourage you today to spend time with God and search out the promises He has for you in His Word. Trust His wisdom and do what He shows you to do. As you put your faith in God to break you, mold you and make you what He's created you to be, the Potter will make you an amazing work of His hand!

If I can write one verse of truth today Or give my fellow man a song to sing; If I can push one needless cloud away And help men live as children of the King:

If I can lend someone a helping hand Or warm a place where friendship needs to be;

If I can build a bridge where fences stand

And light a lamp that other men might see; If I can open doors of hope this day

By letting someone know that others care; If I can speak in words that seem to say: I know the heavy burdens that you bear. If I can guide a pilgrim on his way Or pause to bid him stay for food

If I can do these, Father, this I pray: "O let me do them with my very best."
