GUIDE 2022-23

Welcome to Mendota!

Mendota was founded in 1853. The name "Mendota" is derived from a Lakota word meaning "junction of two trails," which was found appropriate for the city since there was a nearby railroad junction.

Mendota's population is 7,061 people as of the 2020 census: 24.5 percent are ages 0-18 and 75.5 percent are ages 19 and older.

Mendota is located in LaSalle County. The median property tax in Mendota is $3,900 per year for a home worth the median value of $125,000. LaSalle County collects, on average, 2.1% of a property's assessed fair market value as property tax.

City government is an aldermanic form with a mayor and eight aldermen. The city council meets formally at 5:30 p.m. the first and third Monday of each month except when a holiday falls on the Monday. Meetings are held at 607 8th Ave. The city has a revolving loan fund and tax increment financing. An industrial park offers business and light manufacturing opportunities.

Mendota Police Department has 16 full-time and three part-time commissioned officers. The department has one K-9 officer who handles K-9 Johnny. Illinois Valley Regional Dispatch handles 24-hour emergency communication for police, fire and ambulance calls, including the Enhanced 911 emergency call system. Fourteen radio-equipped cars are on 24-hour service. The police department also has one resource officer for Mendota High School.

Mendota Fire Department/Emergency Medical Service is located at the firehouse at 610 Main Street. It has a combination of career and paid-on-call personnel for fire, rescue and paramedic services. The department responds to all fire, medical, and rescue calls for the city of Mendota, and also provides contractual response for the Mendota-Troy Grove Rural Fire Protection District.

The fire protection district is approximately 130 square miles and is one of the largest in the State of Illinois. They are a member of the Illinois Mutual Aid Box Alarm System (MABAS) Division 25, which includes all of LaSalle County (second largest in Illinois) as well as part of Bureau County. This mutual aid association gives the Mendota Fire Department a vast number of available resources for fire, medical, and specialized rescue responses.

The department's fleet includes two fire engines, one aerial tower, a heavy-duty rescue vehicle, one rapid response vehicle and three ALS ambulances. The city of Mendota has a class 4/8B fire insurance rating.

Sewage service is by a modern tertiary process with a capacity to treat a maximum of 2,400,000 gallons per day. There is once-a-week garbage pickup and every other week pickup for recyclables.

Four deep wells provide about 750,000 gallons of water for Mendotans daily. The tower near Lake Mendota has a capacity of 500,000 gallons. The tower near I-39 has a capacity of 750,000 gallons. Treatment capacity is 4,000,000 gallons per day. The 750,000-gallon tower was put into service in November 2010. A shallow well and treatment facility was completed in 2015.

Mendota's streets, all 100 miles of them, are hard-surfaced and most have curbing. Resurfacing is done where the greatest need is evident each year as funds are available.

Utilities serving Mendota are Commonwealth Edison from the district office in Dixon, 1-800-334-7661; Northern Illinois Gas served from the Ottawa district office, 1-800-942-6100; Frontier telephone 1-800-483-4000; cellular phone service and internet providers are also available.

The trading area extends for about a 20-mile radius from town and has a population of about 20,000. Agricultural wealth in the area is among the highest in the nation. The city is served by three federal highways - U.S. 52, 34 and 251; one state highway, Rt. 92; and one interstate, I-39. Interstates 80 and 88 are nearby.

Mendota's weather shows a mean annual temperature of 50 degrees, an annual rainfall of 33 inches and humidity average of 70 percent. The town is 760 feet above sea level.

Three local museums showcase Mendota's past

Mendota is fortunate to have three museums within the city, all within blocks of each other. The Hume-Carnegie Museum is a showcase for memorabilia of the past highlighting area businesses, industries and families as well as being a historic building itself. The Union Depot Railroad Museum is a working Amtrak station that houses railroad memorabilia and across the street, the Breaking the Prairie Museum and Chapel features agriculture and the lives of the early settlers.

Hume-Carnegie Museum opened in 1996 and is housed in a former library, a Carnegie building completed in 1904. The museum is a result of the vision of Horace D. Hume. Old and new were merged in the remodeling of the structure and the historic flavor of the original building was thus retained.

One of the many displays in the museum contains pictures and articles about Wild Bill Hickok, who was born in Troy Grove. In 2008, a life-size bronze statue of Wild Bill was placed in front of the Hume-Carnegie Museum. In addition to the many displays of local history, various exhibits throughout the year highlight Native American artifacts and memorabilia, pictures from the Civil War, World War I and II, the Korean Conflict, the Vietnam War, and the Gulf War. Of special fascination to young and old alike is the collection of photographs of Mendota, its businesses, homes, streets and people from the past. The photo collection was reproduced and assembled by Norma and Leo Muhlach.

The Hume-Carnegie Museum is located in Veterans Park on Washington Street. Hours are 1-4 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays

Union Depot Railroad Museum

March through the second Sunday in December and at other times by appointment. Guests are greeted at the library's original circular front desk under the dome. For information call (815) 539-3373.

Union Depot Railroad Museum, a working depot, was dedicated in August of 1997 during the Sweet Corn Festival. Located at 783 Main St., the museum is open from noon to 4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday from March through the second Sunday in December. For information call (815) 539-3373.

Mendota was born from the junction of three railroads so the museum holds special meaning for the town's residents, many of whom worked on the railroad, had family members who did, or just recall railroading in earlier days.

The highlight of this museum is the HO railroad layout of what Mendota looked like in the 1930s and '40s. It highlights the railroad tracks and yards as well as Main Street in downtown Mendota. The model fills most of one room and was lovingly constructed over several years by Ray Tutaj. James Carrow continued to keep the model in working condition and added some interactive rails to the model. There is also an interactive HO model with a station handmade by master craftsman Charlie Martin.

Photos of the past show what early Mendota looked like including the old steam engines, the buildings that were required to run the railroad and the people who tended them.

Three trains, the Illinois Zephyr, the Carl Sandburg and the Southwest Chief, each stop twice daily at the Amtrak station/museum picking up and dropping off approximately 14,000-15,000 riders per fiscal year.

The third museum, Breaking the Prairie, was built in 2001 and features exhibits about agriculture. Displays explain the role early cultivation tools and practices played in transforming the great prairie, which was important in the beginning of Mendota's history. It is located across the street from the Union Depot Railroad Museum on 5.8 acres of land where the railroad and railroad yards were once located, tying together the two industries that originally brought people to the Mendota area. The Mathesius Brothers' Barn was expanded in 2013 to accommodate more exhibits.

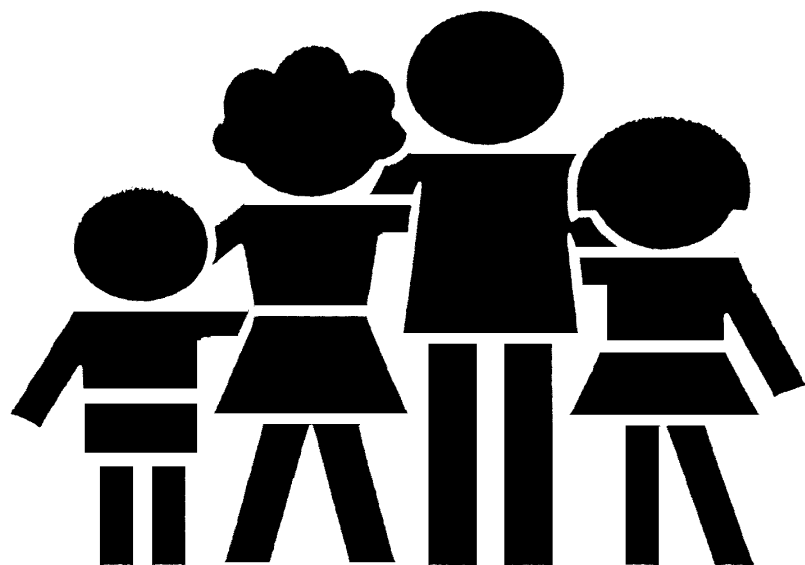

A chapel was then added to the Breaking the Prairie Museum to honor the role that the church played in Mendota's beginnings and the importance of spirituality and socialization in the agricultural community. Special artifacts include a leaded glass window and pulpit from Compton Immanuel Lutheran Church, a Western Cottage organ manufactured in Mendota in the 1880s and '90s, white poplar pews constructed by the International Fellowship of Christian Farmers and several hand-carved wooden items which demonstrate the abilities of Roland Zimmerman, a local craftsman and member of the Mendota Museum and Historical Society. The chapel is available to be rented for weddings, baptisms, or other activities.

Fun things to do in and around Mendota

In the Mendota area, many activities are available for all ages, from structured groups and family fun events to spur-of-the-moment happenings.

Cultural events offered include plays presented by Mendota Community Theatre, ranging from comedies and dramas to musicals and reviews. In addition, a summer production is sponsored by the Mendota Education Foundation (MEF), which shares resources with Mendota Community Theatre and Mendota High School. Because of this cooperative effort, the summer shows have been coined "3M productions."

Mendota High School's Fine Arts Department also presents several events each year. Drama students present a play every other year. The other years, students put on a musical. Music students perform several concerts a year, both instrumental and vocal.

Two summer events that bring fun and excitement to town every year are the Mendota Sweet Corn Festival held the second weekend in August and the Mendota Tri-County Fair held over Labor Day Weekend.

The Annual Sweet Corn Festival held in downtown

Mendota has been the highlight of summer for generations with plenty of food, carnival rides, music, pageants, craft and flea market vendors, a huge parade and, of course, free Del Monte sweet corn served to the thousands of festival goers.

The Tri-County Fair, also a long-time Mendota tradition, takes place at the historic fairgrounds on First Avenue along the east edge of town. Demolition derbies, truck/tractor pulls, moto cross and plenty of food are part of the excitement of the four-day event.

Graves-Hume Public Library is not just a place for printed material but also has a wide variety of DVDs, CDs and videocassettes; an extensive collection of audiobooks; a microfilm reader and printer; four computers with free internet access; and WiFi. Periodically, special programs are offered for children and adults. In addition, Graves-Hume Public Library is part of the Reaching Across Illinois Library System and PrairieCat Online Catalog with access to the collections of over 136 libraries along with eReadIllinois and Libby for downloadable e-books and audiobooks.

Mendota has three museums, due to the generosity and hard work of its citizens.

Hume-Carnegie Museum highlights the everyday and business life of the city's past. Special exhibits are presented periodically.

Union Depot Railroad Museum houses the Amtrak depot and railroad memorabilia including a model of the rail yards and downtown area as it looked in the 1940s.

The Breaking the Prairie Agriculture Museum focuses on the lives of early settlers and explains the role early cultivation tools and practices. The Breaking the Prairie Chapel honors the role played by the church in Mendota's beginning and the importance of spirituality in the agriculture community.

Scouts for both boys and girls and the Mendota Agri Kids 4-H Club provide structured learning and fun groups for youngsters.

For the sports-minded, organized baseball programs are available for several age groups from Little League to men's and women's leagues. The Strouss Sports Complex provides an opportunity for younger boys and girls leagues. A youth soccer league gets underway each spring.

Basketball, rollerblading, tennis and volleyball courts provide places for casual athletes to just have some fun.

The Mendota Area YMCA building on Rt. 251 South was completed in 2013. The facility is equipped with Nautilus, elliptical and cardio equipment and offers a variety of fitness classes. Youth programs include various recreational and sport programs, an after-school program and summer day camp. As a satellite of the Illinois Valley YMCA in Peru, local membership allows patrons access to both facilities.

Mendota has several parks located throughout town. Probably the most visited is the 18-acre Lake Mendota set in a 68-acre park. Trees along the shore shade fishermen, picnic tables are available in the open and under shelters, and playground equipment keeps youngsters occupied.

Lake Mendota is also a favorite place for walkers who want to get in a little exercise in a tranquil setting. Geese and other waterfowl have made the lake their home, and park visitors often enjoy feeding the birds.

Lake Kakusha, a larger lake, was installed originally for flood control but has evolved into a great fishing hole. There is a shelter by the boat dock. Only boats with small trolling motors are allowed on the lake.

Another park that appeals to nature lovers is Snyder's Grove Nature Preserve located east of Mendota on the Triumph Blacktop. Trails lead hikers over a bridge and through the trees where wildflowers bloom and wild animals and birds may be seen or heard. The grove has picnic tables, a shelter and restrooms.

On the east side of town is Blackstone Park, which offers picnic facilities, a shelter, and playground equipment.

Apple Orchard Park, located in the southwestern part of town, winds along Mendota Creek and has playground equipment.

Veterans Park in the downtown area is where many of the activities are held during the Sweet Corn Festival the second weekend in August each year. During the warm months, everyone looks forward to Lunch in the Park held every Friday. Local civic and school organizations take turns sponsoring the picnic lunch under the park's huge shade trees.

Mendota Swimming Pool is another favorite place for people of all ages during the hot summer months. Swimming lessons are available for young and old.

For those who concentrate on fitness, Doenier Field offers a place for the public to run, jog or just walk.

OSF Saint Paul Medical Center provides quality healthcare for area

OSF HealthCare Saint Paul Medical Center, a 25-bed critical access hospital, has been dedicated to providing quality health care to Mendota and the communities we serve since 1951.

Relocated to its new state-of-the-art facility at 1401 E. 12th St. in Mendota in 2011, OSF Saint Paul became the 11th OSF HealthCare hospital on April 1, 2015.

OSF HealthCare is a Catholic, 15-hos-

Chamber of Commerce a source for information

Mendota Area Chamber of Commerce serves as an information center for new residents in the community. A newcomer's packet is available, which lists all pertinent information on schools, business, housing and churches in Mendota.

Both local and regional phone books are available at the chamber office, a national chamber of commerce directory, community calendar, recreational activities, organization listings, profile books, business and industry directories as well as maps of Mendota, LaSalle County and the State of Illinois.

Event and activity guides for LaSalle County and the Heritage Corridor region are available at the Chamber office, as well.

Mendota gift certificates, which can be redeemed at more than 65 stores in the community and make excellent gifts, may be purchased at the Chamber along with memorabilia from the Sweet Corn Festival.

The Chamber also posts a monthly calendar in The Mendota Reporter to list events sponsored by local not-for-profit organizations.

The Chamber is housed at 800 Washington St. in downtown Mendota, phone (815) 539-6507. For more information visit their website at www.mendotachamber.com, the festival website at www.sweetcornfestival.com or e-mail Shelby Weide at sweide@mendotachamber.com.
