149 plungers get bold and cold for Special Olympics

MENDOTA—It was a sunny day, but the big yellow sphere didn't do much to warm up the icy waters of Lake Mendota, as can be attested by the participants in the 2022 Illinois Law Enforcement Torch Run Polar Plunge on Feb. 26.

A total of 149 plungers decided to be bold and get cold in this year's Mendota event that benefits the more than 23,000 traditional athletes and 13,000 young athletes of Special Olympics Illinois. This year's Mendota plunge raised $37,470 for Special Olympics Illinois.

The polar plunge concept is simple: participants raise a minimum of $100 in donations from friends, family and co-workers in exchange for getting icy for the athletes of Special Olympics Illinois. This year, Plungers were able to choose if they would like to Plunge OUR Way or Plunge YOUR Way.

Plunge OUR Way was the same as in past years — attending the plunge in-person and jumping into frigid Lake Mendota. Plunge YOUR Way is the newest version of the Polar Plunge, as participants were able to get as creative as they wanted, whether that was at home in a kiddie pool, at the office with buckets of water, or any way to safely "plunge." Plunge YOUR Way participants were asked to commemorate their plunge by taking pictures and videos, and sharing them with Special Olympics Illinois.

Nearly $25 million has been raised by more than 87,000 Plungers since the event's inception 23 years ago. Its purpose is to simply raise funds to enhance Special Olympics' mission: To provide year-round sports training and athletic competition in a variety of Olympic-type sports for children and adults with intellectual disabilities, giving them continuing opportunities to develop physical fitness, demonstrate courage, experience joy and participate in a sharing of gifts, skills and friendship with their families and other Special Olympics athletes and the community.

The first Plunge in Illinois was held in 1999 in Lake Bluff. The Mendota Plunge was added in 2017.

MENDOTA — The Mendota City Council awarded a bid for an upcoming project and approved several requests at its Feb. 22 regular meeting.

Alderman Jim Fitzpatrick presented three bids for the 2022 curb project. The council accepted the low bid of $61,093 from Ladzinski Concrete Finishing Co. of Peru. The project will involve both sides of Springfield Street from Pennsylvania Avenue to Indiana Avenue, and the south side of 16th Street from Augustine Avenue to Lincoln Avenue.

Also from Fitzpatrick's report, the council approved a request from the Mendota Museum & Historical Society to close a portion of Eighth Street for its Railroad Crossing & Country Fair Day event to be held Saturday, June 18. The council also agreed to a request from Whitney Rupp to hold a UKC Elite Shed Dog event on April 22, 23, 24 at Snyder's Grove Park.

Alderman Jay Miller presented two ordinances for the council's consideration, both of which were approved. The council agreed to increase the video game terminal license fee to $250 and also approved the video gaming terminal push tax.

Alderman John Holland said the city will accept bids for the sale of excess property located at 1107 Third Ave. Bids must be submitted to the city clerk's office at 800 Washington St., Mendota, between the hours of 7 a.m.-4 p.m. on Monday, April 4. Bids shall bear the legend "PROPOSAL — SALE OF 1107 3rd AVENUE" and the name, address and phone number of the bidder. All bids received will be publicly opened and read aloud at the regular meeting of the City Council at 5:30 p.m. April 4.

During the Mayor's Report, Mayor Boelk acted on a proclamation recognizing May as Motorcycle Awareness Month.

Mask mandates come down in schools, most public places

New executive order issued in light of updated CDC guidance

By PETER HANCOCK
Capitol News Illinois

SPRINGFIELD — Facial coverings are now optional in most public places in Illinois, including schools, after Gov. JB Pritzker issued new guidance Feb. 28 to comply with new U.S.

Gov. Pritzker

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention guidelines.

"Across the state, Illinoisans are taking their masks off today knowing that most eligible adults are boosted, and our hospitals have much more capacity to save lives," Pritzker said. "I'm proud that Illinoisans have done the hard work that has made our state a leader in the Midwest, with more of our residents vaccinated than any other state in the region."

Under a new executive order issued by Pritzker on Monday, masks are no longer required in most indoor public places, including K-12 schools and day cares. But schools and private businesses can continue to require masks at their own discretion.

Face masks are still required in health care settings and on public transportation such as buses, trains and airplanes, as well as transportation hubs like airports and bus stations.

Those developments came after the Illinois Supreme Court on Feb. 25 declined to hear the state's appeal of a temporary restraining order (TRO) issued Feb. 4 by a Sangamon County judge, calling the issue "moot."

In its ruling late last week, the court, in a 5-2 vote, echoed a 4th District Court of Appeals decision from a week earlier that said the issue of the TRO was moot because the emergency rules that the Illinois Department of Public Health had issued in September had expired and the legislative Joint Committee on Administrative Rules voted Feb. 15 not to renew them.

Because the issue of the TRO was moot, the state's high court said the order itself was vacated and the case was remanded back to Sangamon County to be heard in its entirety.

Justices Michael J. Burke and David K. Overstreet dissented in the decision.

"Across the state, Illinoisans are taking their masks off today knowing that most eligible adults are boosted, and our hospitals have much more capacity to save lives."

—Gov. JB Pritzker

The court said a written dissenting opinion would be forthcoming.

"We are pleased the court acted quickly to vacate the TRO, as the state requested," Attorney General Kwame Raoul's office said in a statement. "However, as the case is returned to the circuit court, we will continue to defend the governor's executive orders to protect all Illinois residents and mitigate the spread of COVID-19."

The Supreme Court's ruling, however, was one that left both sides in the dispute claiming victory.

"I'm gratified that the Supreme Court vacated the lower court's restraining order, meaning that if a school mask mandate needs to go into effect in the future, we continue to have that authority," Pritzker said in a statement released by his press secretary.

But Republican lawmakers who have questioned Pritzker's use of executive orders and criticized the Democratic majority in the General Assembly for not exercising oversight, said the ruling will serve as a check on the governor's powers.

"The Illinois Supreme Court found the governor's mask mandate moot and not enforceable thanks to a bipartisan group of legislators who decided to strike it down earlier this month," Senate GOP Leader Dan McConchie, of Hawthorn Woods, said in a statement.

"Pritzker will now have to go back to those same legislators if he wishes to issue a similar order, where he is likely to meet the same fate," he added. "The governor should accept defeat and allow us to begin to govern the way we ought to be — through collaboration of the legislature and local stakeholders."

FFA Alumni Draw Down to return in 2023

MENDOTA - The Mendota FFA Alumni & Supporters have decided not to hold their Annual Draw Down Fundraiser in 2022. With the success of the postponed 2020 event, which was finally held in September 2021 and the current status of the global pandemic, organizers feel it will be best to move forward with plans for an event next year, which has been tentatively scheduled for Saturday, March 25, 2023.

Chartered in 2002 and celebrating 20 years of support for the Mendota FFA Chapter and agricultural education at Mendota Township High School, the Mendota FFA Alumni & Supporters is open to anyone interested in supporting the future of agriculture. As a local affiliate of the Illinois and National FFA Alumni & Supporters organizations, membership is open to anyone regardless of whether or not you were an active member of the National FFA Organization. Anyone interested in joining may opt for annual or life membership.

Over the past 20 years, the Mendota FFA Alumni & Supporters have supported the local agriculture program by providing funds, volunteer hours, and professional expertise. The Mendota FFA greenhouse was constructed thanks in part to the Alumni and recently underwent an approximately $20,000 upgrade thanks to the Alumni and the generous community support of the annual Draw Down. The large concrete pad around the greenhouse and Waldorf Agriculture Education Center was also a very significant recent upgrade made with the support of the Alumni.

The Mendota FFA Alumni & Supporters continue to make funds available to Mendota FFA members to attend State and National conferences and conventions such as Washington Leadership Conference (WLC). In the past several years the group has offered a $500 endowment to State FFA Degree recipients and a $1,000 endowment to American FFA Degree recipients within the Mendota FFA Chapter.

The Mendota FFA is always looking for parents, agricultural professionals and former members willing to share their professional expertise with high school students either in mentoring their Supervised Agricultural Experience (SAE) projects; helping to coach a team for various Career Development Events (CDEs) or Leadership Development Events (LDEs); or giving the time to serve as a judge for proficiency interviews and CDE and LDEs.

The Mendota FFA Alumni & Supporters meet the second Monday of the month at 7 p.m. from November to April in the Mendota High School classroom (unless otherwise posted). Learn more by visiting <https://bit.ly/3s9bleZ> or contact Mendota High School agriculture teacher/FFA Advisor Matthew Meyer at (815) 539-7446, extension 534 or via e-mail at mmeyer@mendotahs.org.

Just a few of the things she and Roland enjoyed together were dinners out, golfing and winter trips to Texas over the years. Up until this time, she was a devoted farm wife and mother who worked hard each day for her family. She helped with the livestock, farming and, of course, her daily duties of cooking, cleaning and taking care of their six children. She was an avid seamstress, making the majority of the clothing for her children. She loved design and colors and created beautiful skirts and dresses for her daughters. She was also wonderful at creating a beautiful home; interior design was a passion that she shared with her husband. All of this was in addition to being a wonderful cook and baker. She grew up during the Great Depression and learned to be creative, conservative with money and became a very astute businesswoman. When she married Roland, life was not easy at first, however, they had plans to create a great life for their family and she knew it would only get better. They bought farmland and established the Currier Family Farms, adding land and livestock to it as the years passed by, only to have their marriage cut short by tragedy and the death of Roland. At this point, Donna had to reinvent herself. She was a determined, fierce woman who held onto the family farm and expanded it over the years. She took up golf and yoga and expanded her love of sewing into the world of quilting, making brilliantly colored quilts, some of her own design, gifting them to family over the years. She worked in the business sector for many years after her husband's death while her son ran the farming operation. She graduated from Kewanee High School in 1948 and attended Brown Business School and Black Hawk College, furthering her knowledge of the business world. She was very passionate about learning until the day she died. Just days prior she was saying she needed something new to learn. One thing that you could always hear her saying to her family was, "You can never stop learning. You must keep your mind active."

In addition to schooling, she was a 4-H Leader, a member of the Stark County Homemakers Extension, Toulon PTA, Business Professional Women, member of several quilting clubs (Stark County Quilters, Neponset Quilters Club, Prairie Queen Quilters of Bishop Hill, Covered Bridge Quilt Guild of Princeton & Gems of the Prairie Quilters of Peoria) and was an Elder and lifelong member of the Elmira United Presbyterian Church. She was also instrumental in putting on a quilt show at Courtyard Estates in Galva. In addition, she tutored children and went so far as making a high school graduation dress for a girl who had nothing to wear. She was generous in many ways to many, many people behind the scenes. As a child, she had a beloved horse named Penny that she enjoyed riding. She lived a very full life, constantly adapting, changing and pivoting to meet the demands of life with grace and dignity. She will be forever missed by all who knew her. She was an inspiration to many young women, especially her granddaughters who admired her perseverance and independence. She was brilliant.

Memorials may be directed to Elmira United Presbyterian Church or the donor's choice. Condolences may be left at wasmerfuneralhome.com.

Jason was born Nov. 2, 1980 in Dixon to Jeffrey and Janice (Olson) Bonnell.

Survivors include his grandparents, Donald and Kathryn Bonnell and Mary Olson; his mother, Janice (Olson) Bonnell and Don Phelps; two brothers, James (Rebecca) and Jacob (Stephanie) Bonnell; nieces and nephew, Leah, Grace and Jeffrey Jacob; and many aunts, uncles, cousins and friends who will miss him more than words can express.

He was preceded in death by his father, Jeffrey Bonnell; his grandfather, Robert Olson; and an infant nephew.

Jason attended Amboy High School, continuing at Illinois State University where he studied agriculture, graduating in 2003. Those fortunate enough to know him loved him for his generosity, kindness, humility and care for others. He worked hard and put others' needs before his own, being someone to rely on in a time of need. He made friends easily because he made those around him feel important and welcome. Jason spent his days proudly as a farmer raising crops and livestock in Amboy. He embodied the poem, "God made a farmer" and was blessed to do so with his grandparents and uncle. His hard work ethic, patience and faith provided him with the passion to fulfill his lifelong dream of being a farmer. He was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity, Lee County Farm Bureau, and Alcoholics Anonymous. He enjoyed the outdoors and could be found riding snowmobiles, four wheelers, or motorcycles with friends and family. Above all, Jason loved his family dearly. He was inspired by his mother's strength; he valued his close relationship with his grandparents. He was a great brother, leading James and Jake through life's challenges. Jason cherished being an uncle and was intentional about making lasting memories with his nieces and nephew. He called often and made sure they knew how important they were to him and for that they adored their Uncle Jay.

Memorial donations in remembrance of Jason may be made to the Amboy Fire Department and EMS or Amboy FFA Alumni Association. Online condolences can be left at www.thejonesfh.com.

Governor Pritzker's gas tax relief plan faces opposition

By PETER HANCOCK
Capitol News Illinois

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. JB Pritzker's plan for pausing a scheduled automatic increase in the state's motor fuel tax is facing opposition from several quarters, including engineering companies that design road and bridge projects.

Last week, officials from the American Council of Engineering Companies of Illinois said pausing the scheduled increase could have long-term consequences that could endanger funding for future transportation projects.

"We're open to working with all parties to find options for relief," ACEC Illinois president Kevin Artl said during a news conference. "But I think the history here in Illinois is that when you skip payments, it only makes things worse. And in this instance, skipping this adjustment will lead to a half a billion dollars in lost funds for infrastructure projects over five years."

The automatic, inflation-adjusted increase in the tax was part of the funding package for the $45 billion "Rebuild Illinois" capital improvements plan that lawmakers approved in 2019. Proceeds of the tax are used for transportation projects such as road and bridge repairs.

Administration officials have estimated this year's increase would be a little more than 2 cents per gallon. But in his budget proposal for the upcoming fiscal year, Pritzker called for a one-year pause in that increase, which would save consumers about $135 million over the year.

That was part of a nearly $1 billion package of tax relief measures that Pritzker offered to help soften some of the impact of inflation on Illinois consumers. Administration officials have said the one-year pause in the tax increase would not affect funding of any future projects or the state's ability to repay bonds that are backed by motor fuel tax revenues.

But P.J. Fitzpatrick, with the firm HR Green Inc., said the inflationary increases in the motor fuel tax were an important element of the Rebuild Illinois program because without it, revenue from the tax could not keep up with the rising cost of construction projects.

"HR Green works on quite a few IDOT-related projects, in addition to some local agency projects. And some of the projects we've worked on have experienced some delays in funding over the years," he said. "This delay in funding has created what we'll call a backlog of projects, and that backlog prior to the Rebuild Illinois program was created because as inflation increased, the funding stayed flat and the ability to fund those projects didn't exist."

Other groups that benefit from state transportation funding have come out against the proposed tax freeze as well, including road construction companies and the International Union of Operating Engineers Local 150, which represents road construction workers.

State lawmakers are still working on a budget package for the upcoming fiscal year, and they have not yet acted on Pritzker's proposed one-year pause on the gas tax hike.

"There've been different groups who've had differing opinions pro and con on that," House Majority Leader Greg Harris, D-Chicago, said during a separate news conference. "So that'll be one of the topics both the House and the Senate are going to discuss. Do you keep it as the governor introduced in his budget? Do you do a modification? Or is there a better alternative somewhere?"

Artl noted one option

that's been floated in the General Assembly is to replace some the revenue that would have come from an increase in the gasoline tax with a portion of the revenue from the state sales tax on motor fuel purchases.

State law already provides for an incremental shift of the sales tax charged on motor fuel from general revenues to the road fund. For the upcoming budget year, road fund's share of motor fuel sales tax will increase from 16 percent to 32 percent, making for a $109 million increase to the road fund.

Artl said the engineering profession would prefer to leave the motor fuel tax program in place.

"At the end of the day, we wanted the adjustment for inflation in the package in Rebuild Illinois because we learned the lessons of the past," he said. "And when you don't have that automatic index to reflect the current state and cost of living, you automatically fall behind."

Natural gas companies push back against effort to repeal surcharge

❑ Consumer advocates say fee is no longer needed

By PETER HANCOCK
Capitol News Illinois

SPRINGFIELD — Natural gas utilities in Illinois warned of job losses and possible risks to public safety if state lawmakers repeal a law allowing them to add a surcharge on customer bills that consumer advocates say is being used to gouge customers.

"This provides around 500 good jobs annually and creates opportunity for diverse contractors," Eric Kozak, vice president of gas operations for Ameren Illinois, told a House committee. "And modernizing the system sets the stage for the state of Illinois to become a leader at utilizing renewable natural gas, synthetic natural gas, and even hydrogen, which can attract new businesses and retain industry."

At issue is a 2013 amendment to the Public Utilities Act that allows large natural gas utilities — those serving more than 700,000 customers — to add a surcharge onto customer bills to recover costs associated with investments in "qualifying infrastructure plant," or QIP.

Those include a return on investment and depreciation allowances related to things like replacing old, leaky gas lines and meters. Those surcharges are subject to review by the Illinois Commerce Commission, but only to determine whether they qualify under the statute.

The commission also has authority to review a company's actual expenses to determine whether customers were overcharged and are owed a refund.

That law is scheduled to sunset at the end of 2023, but House Bill 3941 would move that date up one year, to Dec. 31, 2022.

"Over the past decade, through formula rates and QIP, Illinois has stripped away regulatory protections, supercharging the utility incentive to spend money to make money and raise rates as fast as they can," said Abe Scarr, director of the consumer advocacy group Illinois PIRG. "The utilities have responded to these incentives with billions of dollars of wasteful spending. This is not surprising. It's exactly what we should expect. The question now is how will the General Assembly respond?"

As an example, Scarr pointed to the Naperville-based Nicor Gas, the state's largest natural gas distribution company, which he said has raised its rates 77 percent in the last four years. That came after Nicor's rates had risen only 28 percent over the previous 37 years.

"Rate increases and utility profits are largely driven by capital spending," he said. "Nicor's capital spending sharply increased since it began using QIP in 2015. Since then, QIP has accounted for half of Nicor's capital spending, making it a major contributor to the company's massive rate hikes."

Consumer advocacy groups like Illinois PIRG have pushed for its repeal for years, to no avail. But this year, with rising natural gas prices across the board, and amid a global push to move away from fossil fuels to combat climate change, advocates think they have a better chance.

"Unless the General Assembly ends this unnecessary surcharge now, ratepayers will be stuck paying for stranded assets of a gas delivery system that will eventually become obsolete and not a part of the clean energy future that this legislature envisioned when it passed the Clean Energy Jobs Act and asked ratepayers and utility companies to move away from carbon- and methane-producing energy," said Karen Lussan, staff attorney at the National Consumer Law Center.

Mask

Pritzker had previously announced that the general statewide mask mandate would expire Feb. 28 if the state's hospitalization usage and other metrics continued on a downward trend. He had previously planned to leave school mask mandates in place, however.

Since he made the announcement at the beginning of the month, the governor's office said in a statement last week, the number of people in the hospital with COVID-19 has been cut in half and the number of intensive care beds available increased by 24 percent, while the state's weekly COVID-19 case rate has also decreased by 70 percent.

While previous guidelines were based on metrics such as case counts and test positivity rates, the new guidelines are based on factors such as the number of hospital beds being used, hospital admissions, and the total number of new COVID-19 cases in an area.

According to CDC data, most counties in Illinois are considered low or moderate transmission areas. Counties designated as high transmission areas are located mainly in southern Illinois and in pockets along the state's eastern and western borders.

The status of individual counties throughout the United States is available on the CDC's website, cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/your-health/covid-by-county.html.

Cleaning out government

By Brad Weisenstein

Illinois is sort of like that spouse with bursting dresser drawers because all those old T-shirts and jeans hold favorite memories or once fit oh-so-well. But the outdated items for our state are little government units – we’ve got more than 6,000 of them, not counting school districts – and the wardrobe is about to collapse.

It’s time to ask: What do we really need and what can we do without?

Do we really need a township that sits atop the city boundaries? Do we need special government units to attack mosquitoes, clear ditches or pay the streetlight bill?

These government units were once valuable solutions to 19th century problems, when time and distance were measured by horse-drawn vehicles. But now they are mainly duplication, often irrelevant and too often job sources and pension plans for reprobate brothers-in-law.

All of that nostalgia conspires to help push Illinois to No. 2 for highest property taxes in the nation. And it’s kind of crazy to keep 6,000 of something when that means you have 1,000 more than neighbors Indiana, Iowa and Kentucky combined.

Right now, getting rid of the excess is daunting. Belleville Township is Exhibit A.

Belleville Township once collected $10 in taxes for every $1 it handed out, mainly as gift cards to 10 needy folks a week who met specific criteria. It took six employees, a building and about $550,000 a year in taxes to perform this one function for a government layer with boundaries exactly matching the city of Belleville.

Seems like a no-brainer for elimination: someone at City Hall could hand out 10 gift cards a week in less time than it takes for a coffee break. The effort to end this embarrassment started in 2012, but Illinois has 40 pages explaining its statutes for changing government structures.

Five years, a state law and a few million extra in property taxes later, Belleville Township was gone thanks to some dedicated and hard-headed residents. That same process is needed for the remaining 17 townships that mirror cities, and for the 1,400 total townships in Illinois that are notorious for corruption and whose retirees cost nearly $300 million in pension benefits over 20 years.

It shouldn’t be that hard. State lawmakers have a chance to let Illinoisans clean out the government that no longer fits.

Illinois House Bill 5276 would let local voters more easily petition for a ballot referendum to dissolve a unit of government, giving citizens direct control over how many layers of government they want. It simplifies those 40 pages of instructions, following the recommendations of a bipartisan task force that looked at the problem in 2016 and saw little reason all those little governments couldn’t be rolled up into cities or counties to cut duplication and overhead.

Instead of making reformers get petition signatures equivalent to 10% of the voters in the last general election, it drops the threshold to 5%. It lays out rules ensuring voters in all affected areas approve of dissolutions or consolidations, and for how responsibilities and property are transferred after approval.

You might get a little misty over giving up that Van Halen T-shirt, but get rid of a government layer in Illinois and the taxes you save will have you dancing in the street.

Hume gift merits award – 1994

(The following is from Jessica Nashold’s Backtracks & Sidetracks column reprinted from March 3, 2004.)

By Jessica Nashold

It was just 10 years ago, on March 3, 1994, that Secretary of State George H. Ryan, presented the first-ever Library Partners Carnegie Award to Mendota’s Horace D. Hume. As state librarian, Ryan had fostered the concept of partnerships between Chambers of Commerce and public libraries. He was instrumental in establishing an award to recognize individuals making important contributions to libraries “in the Carnegie tradition.” Ryan traveled to Mendota to present the first award to Hume in person. Hume had donated a new library building to the community in memory of his son, James D. Hume. In accepting the award, Hume mentioned it had been “just a year to the day” since he had announced the gift to the library board, on March 3, 1993. The Graves-Hume Library had been dedicated on Jan. 9, 1994.

SIDETRACK – The Graves name had been retained since the Graves Public Library for decades, prior to the gift of a new library building from Andrew Carnegie, in 1904. The Carnegie name had been retained in the Hume-Carnegie Museum.

The award was made on March 3, 1994, in the new library. Certificates were presented to Garry White, president of the Mendota Chamber of Commerce, and Neil French, representing the library board. It was noted that Graves-Hume was one of 12 libraries in Illinois forming partnerships co-sponsored by the Illinois Chamber of Commerce. Rose Buck, director of the Mendota Chamber, agreed with Ryan, that as partners, the libraries and Chambers could help each other in many ways.

Following the presentation of the award, Ryan was taken on a tour of the new library by Loretta Causa, director. A reception concluded the afternoon.

Backtracks & Sidetracks

THE HISTORY

A history of the Mendota Library, published under the auspices of the Mendota Museum & Historical Society, became available in 1994. It covered the many changes since its founding in 1870, and included an account of the new Graves-Hume. Research was assigned to Geraldine Haag, Kathy Berggren, Jean Swanson and Jessica Nashold.

THE STORM OF 1994

Among noteworthy storms in Mendota was the blizzard of Feb. 25, 1994, a Friday. Parking lots at the Super 8 Motel, a gas station and Busters were jammed, as cars, trucks and semis exited I-39. Other vehicles were stuck in ditches along the interstate. Hundreds of travelers filled the hallways and waiting rooms at the Super 8. Many visited the Mendota police station and were directed to the Firemen’s Building on Fifth Street. The police called Juanita Castiglia, director of the Mendota Civic Center, seeking help in accommodating stranded motorists. The driveway at the center was drifted shut, but willing hands had it open by 8:15 p.m. Castiglia later said that ham was brought in for sandwiches. The center refrigerator was raided and 50 pots of coffee were consumed. The last trucker left at 10 o’clock Saturday morning. Among disappointed travelers were six girls on their way to spring break in Florida. They played cards and snacked. At the Firemen’s Building, the doors were opened at 3:45 Friday afternoon. Bill Politsch, ESDA director, said the 86 motorists housed there included out-of-state families and college kids.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK

In 1994, March 23-29 was designated Girl Scout Week. The first scout meeting ever held had been in the home of Juliette Gordon Low, in Savannah, Ga., on March 12, 1912. A group of 18 girls had assembled there that day. Membership has grown to a half million in 1994.

ANYTHING GOES

Chris Benson began auditioning cast members for Cole Porter’s “Anything Goes.” It was to be presented by the Fine Arts Department on the stage at the MHS auditorium March 17-19. Song and dance numbers predominated. Director Benson said costumes for the cast of 52 presented a challenge. Some were borrowed from Mendota Community Theatre, some were rented and some were created by five volunteer needlewomen.

BALD EAGLE SEARCH

A field trip to search for eagles near the Mississippi River was scheduled for March 12, 1994. Those engaged in the search might get a ride from Lowell Park in Dixon, or they could drive to the Savanna Army Depot, where the search would begin. Children were welcome to take part, but if under 10 years of age were required to be accompanied by an adult. Those engaged in the search were advised to “dress in layers” and bring binoculars, field guides and a sack lunch.

TOO COSTLY

Widening and raising clearance at the Fourth Avenue viaduct was considered by the Mendota City Council at a meeting on March 7, 1994. When the estimated cost was believed to be in the neighborhood of $6 million, the necessity was reassessed. Two cars could make it through the viaduct side by side if the drivers were careful. The 9-foot, 3-inch clearance was not sufficient for the new fire truck, which would require 11 feet. The aldermen decided against the expense involved. Said the mayor: “I guess the fire truck will have to keep going around the viaduct.”

BLM is a political, moral and policy disaster

By Rich Lowry

The Democratic party is finally realizing its vulnerability on culture issues, and perhaps no group better exemplifies the problem than Black Lives Matter.

The group’s eponymous slogan swept all before it in recent years. It was repeated by Democrats around the country. Corporate leaders paid obeisance to it. Sports leagues displayed it. Such was its totemic power that a more inclusive version of the three words -- all lives matter -- was considered a dangerous heresy.

The BLM agenda on criminal justice -- based on the idea fewer criminals should be arrested and held in jail -- took hold in blue jurisdictions, and the slogan “defund the police” got traction despite its utter impracticality and obvious political destructiveness.

Now, it’s obvious how shortsighted and foolhardy all this was. The rise in violent crime is a clear and present danger to the Democratic majorities in the House and Senate, and progressive prosecutors allied with BLM who have pursued soft on crimes policies in the midst of a crime wave are under fire, facing either recalls or heavy criticism.

BLM the group is continuing to find ways to underline its own extremism as it withers under scrutiny for its dodgy finances.

If a right-wing purveyor of internet misinformation wanted to discredit BLM and its allies, he couldn’t do much better than concoct a story where a disturbed activist attempts to shoot and kill a local politician and immediately gets bailed out by his BLM brethren spouting cliched attacks on the criminal justice system.

It’s what happened in Louisville, Ky., though. After 21-year-old Quintez Brown allegedly shot at -- and missed -- mayoral candidate Craig Greenberg, the BLM chapter in Louisville quickly posted his $100,000 bail. From attempted murder to walking free a couple of days later is quite the turnaround.

The BLM organizer in Louisville, Chanelle Helm, explained it was necessary to bail out Brown because: “They are calling for this individual, this young man who needs support and help, to be punished to the full extent. It is a resounding message that people are down for the torture that has taken place in our jails and prisons.”

Everyone agrees that Brown has mental health problems and needs treatment, but given the violent act he’s accused of, common sense dictates that he receives it while confined.

In the wake of George Floyd’s death, BLM’s radicalism was very good business. The group’s co-founder, Patrisse Cullors, said the other day that the money raised itself, as practically every entity in America that wanted to bolster its “social justice” credentials tried to buy its way into BLM’s good graces. “People have to know we didn’t go out and solicit the money,” Cullors explained. “This is money that came from white guilt, white corporation guilt, and they just poured money in.”

If that sounds a tad defensive, it’s because BLM raised $90 million in 2020 and it’s unclear who has stewardship of the funds or how they’re being spent. BLM has gone from a sainted group to one that’s on the run. California and Washington have ordered BLM to stop fundraising in those states and, in a telling symbolic blow, impeccably woke Amazon has kicked BLM off its charity platform, AmazonSmile.

Cullors has the explanation that you’d expect for the new focus on BLM’s lack of financial controls -- “anti-Black racism.” Yes, good accounting is racist, now.

Democrats wonder how they can blunt GOP attacks on culture issues and believe that if they explain their positions better, they’ll be fine. But the party is positioned so far left that it needs bold gestures. If it wanted to send an unmistakable signal of change, it would denounce the leadership of BLM, call for investigations into its finances, declare that the group’s priorities aren’t those of the Democratic Party, and wear the ensuing furor from the left as a badge of honor.

But Democrats won’t do that and can’t do that -- which is why they are in such trouble.

LOCAL AND AREA

Illinois' combined state and local sales tax is highest among neighbors, 8th in country

SPRINGFIELD – Combined state and local sales taxes in Illinois rank among the highest in the country, according to new research by the Tax Foundation.

The report looked at a population-weighted average of local taxes in addition to the statewide rate of 6.25%. Illinois' combined rate of 8.81% ranked eighth in the country.

"It's primarily due to the local rates," said Katherine Loughead, senior policy analyst with the Tax Foundation. "If you look at the state rate alone, it's still above average, but it's not quite as high. Illinois' state rate of 6.25% is the 13th highest."

No state sales tax rates have changed in the U.S. since Utah increased its rate in 2019. That means most of the movement on the list comes from local municipalities making adjustments.

"The really high rate in Chicago of 10.25%, that's weighted heavily," Loughead said. "Some of the less densely-populated areas of the state are the ones that have slightly lower rates across the board."

Illinois' combined rate is also higher than all neighboring states, which could lead shoppers to slip across the border for purchases.

"Wisconsin has one of the lowest sales tax rates in the country," Loughead said. "Indiana, Iowa, Missouri, and Kentucky all have lower combined rates as well. Really anywhere along those borders, there's a pretty strong incentive to shop across state lines."

Loughead said with so many population centers like Chicago, Rockford, and Moline located on or near a border, Illinois likely is losing revenue to surrounding states.

"It's definitely easier for people to cross state lines and I'm sure a fair amount of that activity is happening," Loughead said. "It would make sense for Illinois to look at trying to find ways to make those rates more competitive and then for the high tax regions within Illinois, like Chicago, to look for ways to get that rate lower than it is right now."

Louisiana and Tennessee have the highest average combined state and local tax rates in the country at around 9.5%. Five states, Alaska, Delaware, Montana, New Hampshire, and Oregon, do not have a statewide sales tax.

Have peace and keep calm in your daily life

Peace is an amazing gift God offers us. I know what it's like to live without peace — upset most of the time, anxious, fearful and worried. It's miserable! Since I've discovered how to live with God's peace, I will do anything I need to do to have it.

We have to understand the value of peace if we're going to have it. Because if you think it's really no big deal to lose your temper, worry, be stressed-out or upset all the time, you won't do what you need to do to live with peace.

I think it's interesting that one of the last things Jesus told His disciples before His crucifixion was about peace. John 14:27 (AMP) says, "Peace I leave with you; My [perfect] peace I give to you; not as the world gives do I give to you. Do not let your heart be troubled, nor let it be afraid. [Let My perfect peace calm you in every circumstance and give you courage and strength for every challenge.]"

In John 20:19, "Peace to you!" is the first thing Jesus said to His disciples after His resurrection. Verse 21 says, "Then Jesus said to them again, 'Peace to you....'" Notice the word "again." He must have wanted them to realize how important it was to maintain their peace.

Take a moment to think about how much peace you have. Do you worry, get upset or feel stressed-out often? Many people do...but that's not the way God wants us to live.

A lot of Christians pray for God to give them peace, but they need to realize that as believers in Christ, they already have His peace. We need to pray for God to help us learn how to walk in peace.

Philippians 4:6-7 (AMP) says: "Do not be anxious or worried about anything, but in everything [every circumstance and situation] by prayer and petition with thanksgiving, continue to make your [specific] requests known to God. And the peace of God [that peace which reassures the heart, that peace] which transcends all understanding, [that peace which] stands guard over your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus [is yours]."

We can learn a lot about how to pray powerful, effective prayers by studying Scripture. Instead of praying for peace, notice that in Philippians the apostle Paul is encouraging believers to trust God in every circumstance so they can have His peace as they go through challenges.

If we don't have peace and we want it, we have to be ready to make some changes. The world around us probably isn't going to change, so we need to change our approach to life. We need to make a conscious decision to trust God in every area of our lives, every day.

We're called believers, and that's what we're supposed to do: Believe God! When we trust Him, we enter His rest and can enjoy our lives.

Years ago, I remember when God helped me to learn this lesson as I studied James 4. In verses 1-4, we see what causes quarrels, strife and discontentment. Verse 2 (NLT) says, "You want what you don't have, so you scheme and kill to get it. You are jealous of what others have, but you can't get it, so you fight and wage war to take it away from them. Yet you don't have what you want because you don't ask God for it."

Wow! This is basically saying, "You want something, so you strive to get it your way or make it happen on your own, but it doesn't work. If you would just ask Me, I would help you." It's important to point out here that God won't just give us anything we ask for. He loves us and wants what's best for us, and when we ask for things that are in His plan and purpose for us, He will give them to us.

I used to think I wanted a lot of things that ended up making me miserable after I managed to get them. But once I started giving up my will and asking God to do what He wants to do in my life, I experienced peace and contentment that I'd never known before.

It was so freeing for me to give up trying to run my own life and instead focus on seeking God and trusting Him to give me what He wants me to have. Psalm 37:4 (AMP) says, "Delight yourself in the Lord, and He will give you the desires and petitions of your heart."

I want to strongly encourage you today to purposely choose to seek God and delight yourself in Him before anyone or anything else in your life. He is the Source of love, joy and peace. And you can calm down and cheer up as you live in Him!

Surcharge

Utility executives, however, argued that rising global prices for natural gas, not the surcharges, are the primary source of rising customer bills.

"Ninety percent of the current high prices are being driven by global demand and prices, not this act," Kozak told the committee.

Patrick Evans, president of the Illinois Energy Association, recalled that the surcharges came about partially in response to a natural gas pipe explosion in San Bruno, California, in 2010 that killed eight people, left 58 injured and destroyed 38 homes.

"At the time, Illinois' own (former Congressman) Ray LaHood was Secretary of Transportation," Evans said. "And in response to this tragic incident, he actually issued a formal call to action, requesting that all natural gas utilities in the country begin to accelerate their pipeline replacement program to ensure that these incidents are minimized in the future."

He said that led to negotiations between the industry and lawmakers, which resulted in an agreement to end what he called the "regulatory lag" between the time a company invests money for system improvements and the time when it recovers those investments.

"That term simply means

Patrick Whiteside, senior vice president of operations for Nicor Gas, said the surcharge has enabled the company to improve the safety and reliability of its entire system.

that we get to recover our investments quicker than the traditional method, which requires us to go to the (Illinois Commerce) Commission first," he said. "It does not eliminate commission oversight. We will always have to prove up our investments at the commission. The standards have not been changed."

Patrick Whiteside, senior vice president of operations for Nicor Gas, said the surcharge has enabled the company to improve the safety and reliability of its entire system.

"Nicor Gas' system was able to support our customers and communities through the polar vortex of 2019, the single largest delivery of energy ever recorded on our system, without interruption to service or pressure situations for our customers," he said. "By replacing poorly performing materials, we are driving the rate trends down and reducing greenhouse gas emissions across the overall system."

But J.C. Kibbey, a clean energy advocate with the Natural Resources Defense Council, noted that his own personal gas bill from Peoples Gas in January had a $15 surcharge, more than the company had previously said it would cost in a year, and that it had more than $95 in total infrastructure charges.

"These big charges are worrying and so is what they pay for," he said. "They're building out a gas system to burn methane gas, fossil fuel, much of it in our homes. To be clear, this gas is no more natural than coal. Burning gas harms our health by releasing carbon monoxide and other pollutants in the air and our homes. This pollution disproportionately hurts underserved communities and people of color."

The committee did not take action on the bill, which was on the agenda for discussion only.

In a separate email, Illinois PIRG's Abe Scarr conceded that getting the bill through the General Assembly was a "long shot." But he said he hopes the concerns that his group and other advocates are raising will deter lawmakers from extending the surcharge past its current 2023 expiration date.

Make sure pets are included in your disaster plan kit

SPRINGFIELD - While every household should have a disaster supply kit stocked with food, water, flashlights and batteries, homes with pets need to take additional steps when planning for disasters. Whether an emergency forces people to seek shelter within the home or evacuate, advanced planning can ensure the safety of your animals.

"A family's disaster supply kit should address the needs of every family member, including your pets," said a spokesperson for the Illinois Emergency Management Agency (IEMA). "Every emergency situation is stressful, particularly for animals. But if you have a kit and a plan, you can help your pet stay safe."

The IEMA recommends that pet owners should stock a pet preparedness kit with items such as:

- At least a three-day supply of food and water
 - Extra supplies of pet medicines
 - Copies of pet registration, vaccinations and other important documents
 - Photo of your pet in case you are separated during an emergency
 - Pet first-aid kit, including cotton bandage rolls, tape, antibiotic ointment, flea and tick prevention and isopropyl alcohol
 - Collar with ID tag, harness or leash
 - Crate or other pet carrier in case of evacuation
 - Pet litter and box, newspapers, paper towels, plastic trash bags and household chlorine bleach for pet's sanitation needs
 - Toys, treats or other familiar items to help lessen your pet's stress during the emergency
- For more information about pet preparedness, visit the Ready Illinois website at www.ReadyIllinois.gov.

Princeton arsenal too much for Trojans in Hall Regional

❑ Mendota bows out after 65-55 setback in semifinals

SPRING VALLEY - Having played Princeton twice during the regular season, Mendota was well aware of the many weapons the Tigers have in their arsenal. After a slow start, Princeton launched those weapons with a fury and rolled over the Trojans, 65-55, in the semifinal-round of the Hall Class 2A Boys' Regional Basketball Tournament on Feb. 23 at Spring Valley.

The Tigers displayed a versatile offensive scheme that posed a difficult task for Mendota to defend. Princeton knocked down 11 shots from beyond the three-point arc that came from four different players, and also utilized its big men to cause fits for the Trojans down in the paint. Of the seven players that scored for Princeton, four of them totaled at least eight points, with three hitting double-digits.

Mendota didn't make it easy for Princeton early in the game, however, as the Trojans owned a 16-12 lead after the opening stanza and continued to build on the margin in the second quarter. After Isaac Guzman gunned in a three and Krew Bond added a two-pointer, the Mendota lead swelled to seven (21-14).

But the game took a drastic turn after that as Princeton suddenly woke up and reeled off 20 of the next 24 points to seize a 34-25 advantage. Guzman took away some of the pain for the Trojans when he canned another trifecta to end the half and make it a 34-28 contest at intermission.

Princeton's Teegan Davis and Guzman exchanged three-pointers to open the second half before the Tigers tallied five straight points to take the first double-figure lead (42-31) of the game. Mendota was as close as seven points (42-35) midway through the third quarter, but Princeton was able to stretch the margin back to double-digits (52-39) when Kaden Monroe closed out the period with back-to-back baskets down low.

Princeton started off the fourth frame with six points in a row to take its biggest lead (58-39) before Mendota's Rafael Romero tallied a hoop to snap a 10-0 Tiger run with 5:10 left in the game.

"Princeton is extremely athletic and very difficult to defend," said Trojan coach Steve Hanson. "We have no excuses, they were a better team than us tonight."

Mendota, which closed out the season with an 8-22 record, was led by Romero with 16 points and Bond with 15. Guzman helped out with nine markers. Davis paced Princeton with 17 tallies, followed by Grady Thompson with 15 and Monroe with 12. Davis and Thompson both fired in four three-pointers.

"I thought we came a long way this season and I'm proud of the kids," said Hanson, who turns the head-coaching reigns over to Steve Wasmer for the 2022-23 season.

Deer hunting seasons conclude with hunters in Illinois taking preliminary total of 147,004 deer

SPRINGFIELD - Hunters in Illinois harvested a preliminary total of 147,004 deer during all 2021-2022 archery and firearm seasons that concluded Jan. 16. The total preliminary deer harvest for all seasons compares with a total harvest for all seasons of 162,752 deer in 2020-2021.

During the 2021-2022 deer seasons, hunters took 43.75% does and 56.25% males.

Archery: Archery deer hunters in Illinois took a preliminary total of 67,637 deer during the season that began Oct. 1 and concluded Jan. 16. The total archery harvest during the 2020-2021 season was 75,106 deer.

Youth: Youth deer hunters harvested a preliminary total of 1,829 deer during the three-day Illinois Youth Deer Season Oct. 9-11, compared to 2,322 in 2020.

Traditional Firearm Season: Hunters took a preliminary total of 69,990 deer during the Illinois Firearm Deer Season Nov. 19-21 and Dec. 2-5, compared with 77,160 deer taken during the 2020 firearm season.

Muzzleloader: Hunters using muzzleloading rifles harvested a preliminary total of 3,043 deer during the Muzzleloader-Only Deer Season Dec. 10-12, compared with a harvest of 3,451 deer in the 2020 muzzleloader season.

Late-Winter Seasons: The 2021-2022 Late-Winter Antlerless-Only and Special CWD (chronic wasting disease) deer seasons concluded Jan. 16 with a combined preliminary harvest total for both seasons of 4,505 deer. Season dates for the seven-day Late-Winter and CWD seasons were Dec. 30-Jan. 2 and Jan. 14-16. During those seasons in 2020-2021, a harvest of 4,713 deer were taken.

Sixteen northern Illinois counties were open to the Special CWD season, which is used to assist in slowing the spread of chronic wasting disease in the Illinois deer herd.

A total of 21 counties were open for the Late-Winter Antlerless Season in 2021-2022. Counties that are at or below their individual deer population goal for two consecutive years may be removed from the Late-Winter season.

ENTERTAINMENT

By Tony Rizzo
HOLLYWOOD -- It's taken 13 years for anyone to attempt to make a bio-pic of Michael Jackson's life (he died in 2009 at 50). This comes right on the heels of "I Wanna Dance With Somebody," the biopic about Whitney Houston (who died in 2012 at 48). Set for a Dec. 23 release in theaters, Naomi Ackie embodies Houston, while Aston Sanders plays Bobby Brown and Stanley Tucci plays record mogul Clive Davis.

Graham King, producer of "Bohemian Rhapsody," is in the process of casting someone to portray Michael Jackson. There are a bunch of Jackson impersonators in Vegas and touring clubs across the country, but finding the right one to handle the complicated in-depth portrayal of the King of Pop won't be easy. The film covers him from his beginnings in The Jackson 5 and through his trials, both criminal and civil addressing allegations of child sex abuse. On the plus side, the Jackson estate is allowing them access to all his music. Hopefully his legacy and musical magic has transferred to the newer generations.

The late Bob Saget will live on in his last film appearance in the comedy "Killing Daniel," shot in the Grand Cayman Islands last spring. Saget was practically a newlywed, since he married Kelly Rizzo (no relation), in October 2018. Rizzo is the host of "Eat Travel Rock TV," in which she takes viewers through the best of food, travel and music on ETR-TV. It was recently revealed that Saget died from a head injury he sustained earlier the night he died. When he retired the night of Jan. 8 at the Ritz-Carlton in Orlando, Florida, after performing his show at a comedy club, he had no idea he was leaving us at 65 years of age.

If you, like many, are still

wary of going to a theater to see films such as "West Side Story," fear not, it will hit Disney+ and HBO Max on March 2.

We told you Anthony Ramos was a star on the horizon. The Crown Royal commercial spokesman went from "In the Heights" and "Hamilton" on Broadway to the film versions and beyond. He's back from Budapest, where he shot the sci-fi film "Distant," with Naomi Scott and Zachary Quinto. He was cast as THE STAR of "Transformers: The Rise of the Beasts," filming last summer in Los Angeles, Machu Picchu, Montreal and Brooklyn for a June 9, 2023, release. Now Ramos is top-lining the upcoming six-episode Disney+ series "Ironheart," co-starring Dominique Thorne, star of "Black Panther: Wakanda Forever," due Nov. 11. This guy's risen faster than yeast -- maybe we should call it The Rise of the Ramos!

Couch Theater

"Worst Roommate Ever" (S1) -- They say the scariest thing is a brilliant psycho. When that psycho is renting a room in your apartment, that fear is multiplied. Far worse than the lying, emotional hypochondriac dormmate of my own freshman year, the subjects in this original miniseries found themselves living with evil personified. All seemed normal at first: the sweet grandmother type who turned out to be a killer, the fun-guy-turned-scammer, the quiet man who used his vast knowledge of the law to ensure he couldn't be evicted while becoming ever more menacing. It'll make you think twice about placing that Craigslist ad. (Netflix)

"Joe vs. Carole" (NR) -- Joe the Tiger King is the gift that keeps on giving. For those who watched the original series, the year-later follow-up, and Joe's sad phone interviews from jail, we now have a satirical dramatic scripted series featuring the craziest characters of the big cat bunch. Based on the podcast "Over My Dead Body," the series centers on the feud between rival wild-cat breeders/rescuers Carole Baskin and Joe Exotic. "Saturday Night Live's" Kate McKinnon is brilliantly cast as Carole, and "Girls" actor John Cameron Mitchell takes on the role of the Tiger King. (Peacock)

"Brad's Status" (R) -- Ever since Greenberg I have had an affinity for Ben Stiller's dramatic endeavors playing the annoying-yet-familiar middle-ager. This Amazon Original stars Stiller as Brad, a GenX dad taking his high school-aged son on prospective college tours. Along the way Brad has a crisis of not just identity but also of life success rank, comparing his career and finances to those of his own college pals. Projecting his regrets on his son, he creates more stress for the boy, who of course has a few astute observances for his dad, leading him to a full-circle conclusion. Somewhat predictable, but Stiller again gives a skilled, nuanced performance. (Prime Video)

"Race Across the World" (NR) -- Remember back when we had to read paper maps and ask strangers for directions, pay cash for everything, and if you couldn't afford a plane ticket you might just hitch a ride? Apparently those practices are so far removed from our collective psyche that someone made a reality competition show out of them. In this series, teams of two are challenged to get from point A to point B faster than the other teams, and the starting and end points are in different countries. They are given cash, maps and a GPS, but no cellphones are allowed and they are forbidden from flying. The fastest journeyers win a handsome monetary prize. (Discovery+)

"Three Identical Strangers" (PG-13) -- In a twisted psychosocial experiment, a New York adoption agency conspired to separate and adopt out three male triplet babies to three different families, without ever telling any of the families involved. As young adults, the triplets found each other by chance, and their truth slowly unraveled. As it did, the joy of discovery gave way to disbelief and anger at having been so manipulated. (Hulu)

Celebrity Extra

By Dana Jackson

Q: Is John Krasinski returning as "Jack Ryan" anytime soon, or is he sticking with movies from now on? I hope "Jack Ryan" wasn't canceled. -- D.B.

A: Even though John Krasinski will always be known as Jim Halpert from the cult hit comedy series "The Office," he's been fortunate to act in a wide range of projects over the past decade. Most notably, he directed and starred in the blockbuster sci-fi horror flick "A Quiet Place" and its sequel. He even has a third installment in the works.

In between his box-office successes, he's starred in the Amazon original series "Tom Clancy's Jack Ryan" and is currently filming its third season. Four other actors have portrayed Ryan in films preceding the series: Alec Baldwin in "The Hunt for Red October," Harrison Ford in both "Patriot Games" and "Clear and Present Danger," Ben Affleck in "The Sum of All Fears" and Chris Pine in "Jack Ryan: Shadow Recruit." "TV Guide" recommends several similar shows to tide viewers over until "Jack Ryan" the series returns. They include "Reacher," also on Amazon, which is action-packed and based on a series of successful novels. Amazon also acquired the rights to another Tom Clancy project, the film "Without Remorse," starring Michael B. Jordan, and on Netflix there's "Bodyguard" starring Richard Madden, about a war veteran assigned to protect a politician from a terrorist attack.

Q: Is the new movie "Dog" based on a true story? Can I watch it at home or just at the movie theater? -- E.A.

A: The new movie "Dog," starring Channing Tatum, is not solely based on a true story but inspired by one. Tatum, who directs and stars in the film, said that he was creatively motivated to do the film after taking one last road trip with his dog Lulu after she was diagnosed with cancer. Tatum's Lulu was a pit bull-Catahoula mix, but the Lulu in the movie is a Belgian Malinois. Tatum plays an Army Ranger who has to drive Lulu down the Pacific Coast for her owner's funeral. This is Tatum's first major role in several years after taking a break from acting. He had a small role in the comedy action film "Free Guy" with Ryan Reynolds and did some voice work in the animated films "Smallfoot" and "The Lego Movie 2."

Q: Will there be a televised Oscars ceremony this year with the stars walking the red carpet, or will it be virtual? -- K.S.

A: Yes, the Academy Awards will be broadcast live on ABC on Sunday, March 27, with an anticipated audience full of Hollywood's biggest stars. There also will be a host -- actually a trio of hosts (Wanda Sykes, Amy Schumer and Regina Hall) -- for the first time in four years.

In hopes of boosting ratings, the Academy has a new additional category of "Fan Favorite Film." You can vote online at OscarsFanFavorite.com.

Strange But True

By Lucie Winborne

* The movie "The Godfather" does not contain the words "mafia" or "la cosa nostra" because of a deal struck between the producer and the mafia.

* Limping became a fad in Victorian England when young women admired the genuine limp of Alexandra of Denmark, bride of the Prince of Wales, and went around fake limping (the "Alexandra Limp"). Shopkeepers even sold pairs of shoes with one high and one low heel!

* The stick -- as in a small tree branch -- was inducted into the U.S. National Toy Hall of Fame in 2008.

* In 1858, a brawl involving 50 congressmen broke out on the U.S. House floor. It ended when someone knocked off a man's wig, which was then accidentally put on backwards, causing both sides to laugh and stop fighting.

* God and Jesus are the only characters in "The Simpsons" to have five fingers on each hand and five toes on each foot.

* New Zealand is not part of any of the world's seven recognized continents but is instead situated upon the submerged continent of Zealandia.

* Former NASCAR driver Dick Trickle drilled a hole in the front of his safety helmet and installed cigarette lighters in his race cars so that he could smoke while racing. NASCAR permitted it during race caution periods.

* A startup company called Juicero lost $120 million of investor money after customers realized the contents they put in their $700 juicing machine, which squeezed bags of pre-sliced vegetables into juice, could actually be squeezed faster by hand.

* In South Korea, children under 17 are banned from playing online games past midnight, which is monitored by their KSSN (Korean Social Security Number).

 WAITING TO BE POLISHED!!

Question of the Week

What is a seller's market?

Answer: The financial resource Investopedia defines it as a marketplace in which there are fewer goods for sale than there are interested buyers, giving sellers the ability to dictate prices. Since mid-2020, there has been an extremely low inventory of homes for sale but a very high interest among purchasing parties. These factors have led to a surge in competition from buyers, including bidding wars on homes and all-cash offers to entice sellers. So where does this leave buyers interested in relocating? Work with a real estate agent. These are complicated times and it pays for buyers to have a professional working in their corner.
