WEEKEND EDITION | WWW.ROCHELLENEWS-LEADER.COM

BY JEFF HELFRICH MANAGING EDITOR

ROCHELLE — At Tuesday's meeting of the Rochelle Rotary Club, From the Heart President and Founder Dave Eckhardt and Rotary President Sarah Flanagan presented four $8,500 checks to local nonprofits from the recent From the Heart Gala.

Representatives from HOPE of Ogle County, Shining Star Children's Advocacy Center, CASA and Focus House all received checks Tuesday. The From the Heart Gala raised a record of just over $68,000 in its 14th year.

That money is split evenly between eight nonprofits.

"I don't care how long I've done this for," Eckhardt said. "This is the best part of the whole event right

Executive Director for Foundation for Focus House Jeni Hardin said From the Heart is one of her foundation's biggest contributors.

"On behalf of all of us from Focus House and the foundation, thank you so much," Hardin said. "We really can't do what we do without you guys. For Rotary and everyone that donated and came to the House, we appreciate you."

CASAExecutive Director Trisha Tayon said she was extremely appreciative of the donation, especially in a year where CASA had to cancel fundraisers. Her organization recruits volunteers that serve abused and neglected children in the court system in Ogle County.

"Last year we served the most children we ever have," Tayon said. "Our caseload has grown quite a bit and this will help with our training program and allow us to support more volunteers."

Library vote June 28 Referendum for Creston-Dement residents

BY JEFF HELFRICH MANAGING EDITOR

CRESTON — A referendum will be on the June 28 election day ballot for residents in the Creston-Dement Library District to decide whether or not it gets a new library.

At a public meeting on Tuesday, a presentation was made on the years-long process of bringing a new library to Creston and the plans for a new building. Library Board President Doug Kroupa said the district has outgrown its current location at 107 S. Main St. and a new library would be built at the corner of Main and Cederholm Streets on land that was donated 10-12 years ago for a new library.

The total cost of the project is $2.6 million. At least $400,000 of that will be covered by grant dollars. The bond amount the district will ask for is $2.2 million.

body. It covers more than Creston, expanding into the surrounding area to the edge of Lee County and towards Hillcrest. About 950-1,000 people live in the library area, Kroupa said.

With a 3.75 percent interest rate, which is the lowest and where the market is now, the property tax increase on a homeowner with a $100,000 home would be $72 on an annual basis. At 4.75 percent, the worst scenario for an interest rate, it's a $79 year property tax increase for a

"There's a lot of decisions we make that affect people's pocketbooks as we go along," Kroupa said. "We are very keenly aware of that and the reason we took the steps that we did is to make sure the way we spend our money is the most financially-responsible way to do it. We've studied this thing and have made it something the town needs and something that will grow as the town grows."

OCHD's Kyle Auman addresses the Ogle County Board during its meeting on Tuesday, March 15.

COVID plunging in Ogle County

BY BRAD JENNINGS

OGLE COUNTY LIFE EDITOR

OREGON – The CO-VID-19 positivity rate in Ogle County has plunged, the County Board learned at it March 15 meeting.

Kyle Auman, Ogle County Health Department administrator, told the board that the positivity rate in the county was 2.14 percent, which he said was the "lowest we've seen in quite some time."

The last time Auman reported to the board on COVID-19 in the county was in January, when the positivity rate was 22.58 percent.

Auman said the number of cases continues to taper off, with the county health department seeing about five cases per day.

He told the board the CDC has changed the data it uses to measure COVID, and that Ogle County is now considered to be at a low level.

Auman said throughout the pandemic, the health department addressed 13,897 cases of COVID. A total of 60.18 percent of the county's population is vaccinated and there was a total of 128 deaths from COVID to date.

Overall, 64.03 percent of the population in Illinois is vaccinated.

"Hopefully we'll keep these levels where they're at and we'll continue to taper off and we'll be able to get back to more routine business at the health department."

Kyle Auman

"Hopefully we'll keep these levels where they're at and we'll continue to taper off and we'll be able to get back to more routine business at the health department," Auman said.

That includes a recently completed assessment of health services in the county. Auman said the top areas the county identified to address are mental health, chronic disease and access to care. "We're looking forward to addressing those over the next couple of years and partnering with local organizations to address those issues," he said.

RTHS inducts 2022 National Honor Society members

BY VICKI SNYDER-CHURA SPECIAL TO THE NEWS-LEADER

ROCHELLE — In a candlelit ceremony on the auditorium stage Monday night, 23 students were inducted into the Rochelle Township High School Chapter of the National Honor Society.

Established in 1921, the National Honor Society (NHS) is the oldest and most respected student recognition organization in America. Membership in NHS distinguishes students who have committed themselves to the pursuit of academic excellence, community improvement, and personal develop-

While academic achievement is a core component of the NHS, today's students need much more than just good grades to get ahead. The NHS focus on service, leadership and character helps students build the skills and the relationships to accommodate success throughout academic years and beyond.

When NHS members participate in community service projects like the RTHS Quarterly Blood Drives or attend leadership events and serve as ambassadors to their schools & communities, they connect with faculty, community leaders and local business leaders who can provide recommendations and references as well as leads on future internships and jobs, they build a portfolio of life achievements for use on college and career applications, begin networking with other student leaders focused on personal growth and building a solid foundation for future endeavors and become more effective leaders and learn why leadership skills are an essential tool at any stage of life.

NHS applicants prepare for a faculty committee review. In their applications, they have to prove they possess the qualities of leadership, scholarship, service and character which are the cornerstones of the organization.

The induction ceremony is very traditional and very impressive. This year it was even more so as new gowns and sashes were on display. It began with the lighting of the candles.

Yard waste recycling and brush pickup underway

ROCHELLE

Northern Illinois Disposal resumed weekly yard waste recycling with pick-ups beginning March 14. Yard waste is collected on your regular garbage day.

All yard waste such as grass, leaves, flowers, plants and sticks are recyclable through the yard waste recycling program every week, beginning March 14 and continuing through Dec. 15. All stick bundles must be tied together with string and cut in lengths of five feet or less with individual limbs not to exceed four inches in diameter. Larger limbs should be placed at the curb for brush pickup. Yard waste may be placed in kraft paper bags or a standard garbage container with handles, although not a recycling container, at a maximum size of 32 gallons and weighing less than 50 pounds. Plastic bags are not permitted for yard waste recycling. Place your yard waste at the curb by 5 a.m. on the morning of pickup.

Rochelle Street Department will resume brush collection on the third Monday of the month beginning March 21 and continuing through December. Brush should be placed in the parkway by 6 a.m. for pickup.

The city's brush collection program is for the removal of brush and tree limbs too large for weekly yard waste recycling. Brush and tree limbs set out for the parkway, parallel with the curb, not exceeding eight feet in length. Limbs larger than 6-8 inches in diameter should be in a separate pile cut for crews to safely handle. Do not place brush in the street or over sidewalks. Brush and tree limbs removed by a contractor must be properly disposed of by that contractor. The city will not accept brush or tree limbs set out by contractors. Brush may be loaded with a tractor or chipped. ### LIBRARY: Referendum for Creston-Dement residents set

"It's not a Taj Mahal in any way, shape or form. It's a rough, basic, functional, long-term investment for the town."

If the referendum passes in June, construction would likely start in 2023. The library board has worked with an architect and has plans made up. The 7,200 square-foot library would be a high-durability building with a children's area, adult area, study rooms, facility for meetings, a staff area, bathrooms that could be used as storm shelters, storage space, a patio, handicap parking and a 30-spot parking lot.

"There will be a lot of opportunities for learning and activity to make the town grow," Kroupa said. "If we ever needed an expansion of it, that's planned in."

In 1986, a group of volunteers in Creston started the library with book trucks and the library didn't have a permanent location before it began renting its current location from Headon's Fine Meats. The library grew and expanded into the space next door as well.

Kroupa said that until 2009, the library had 60-90 patrons come in monthly and operated 15-20 hours a week.

In 2010, changes were made and the library is now open over 40 hours a week and has seen 500 patrons a month at different times. Computers and resources have been added such as 3-D printing and model rocketry.

"We're packed to the gills," Kroupa said. "A larger facility is needed for the patrons. Those strategic business plans we made for a library focused on the needs of the community so we could grow with the community and have a facility in town that met the needs of the school, seniors, young people without a place to go and anyone who needs additional information. It's been a very active community. This is a very crowded environment we're in now."

Hurdles in Kroupa's 12 years as board president working on the project included surveys and getting the land cleared for the project. Fundraising activities were done and over $25,000 has been raised in donations since announcing plans for building the library. Donations can be made to the project by mail,

Jumping the gun on the weather

Brad

T never fails. People always jump the gun when the weather gets even a little nicer. Let's face it – last week was nice. It was nice enough to walk around without a sweatshirt. It was even nice enough to open a few windows and turn the heat off. For me that is always a joyous occasion.

But there are always those people Jennings who act like it is the middle of summer that first nice day of spring. You know the person. They pull out the shorts, tank top and sandals and strut around town like they are at a Fourth of July celebration.

I was at the grocery store early in the week (see recent column) and there he was, the guy in the shorts and tank top, walking with his head held high and looking at the rest of us hunched over in our hoodies like we were extras on the set of "The Walking Dead."

That guy always thinks he is superior, but he is not. He is testing Mother Nature, and that is never a good or smart thing to do. Because of that guy, I fully expect temperatures to plummet and snow to fly just to remind us that no, it is not summer and yes, that guy is jumping the weather

The Early Shorts Guy (or ESG) is always a guy. Women are too smart to break out summer wear too early. He is also usually between the ages of 22-36. Let's face it, if you are 22 you really don't know any better. You are a babe in the woods. You are barely old enough to drink legally, and probably shouldn't vote if you are wearing shorts and tank tops this early.

The 36-year-olds are the failure to launch types. They are generally single and living at home still or again. Maybe they were married to their high school sweetheart, but she dumped him because he spent much of his time playing video games in his "man cave" with his "bros" from college. He didn't graduate from college, of course, but he was there long enough to pledge a frat and meet a group of similarly-stunted

Of course, when it comes to the ESG, there are outliers. There are the guys who just lost weight and discovered working out so they can't wait to break out a tank top. There are the guys who spend all winter in the tanning booth and need to remind the world that they are, in fact, brown year around. Skin cancer be damned! There are the "cool grandpa" types who want to prove that they are still cool. If you must break out the shorts this early to prove you are cool, I have news for you – you aren't. And too many in this category still choose to wear socks with their sandals. No matter how many of you tell me you do this and like it, it is a horrible fashion choice. You are embarrassing your wife, trust me.

The ESG is a dude who probably played sports in high school but was never quite as good as he thought he was. He is more likely to have bought a class ring than the average guy in high school.

He was probably pointing at the camera in his school photo. His car wasn't (or isn't) fast but was (is) very loud. When he plays his car stereo, everyone around him hears it.

The ESG has about a 0.00000002 percent chance of being a vegetarian.

So, in this short window of time before the warm temps stick around, we will deal with the ESG. But at least those lily-white legs are a sign that winter is almost over.

Punishing the spouses of politicians always feel bad for the spouses. When politicians get charged with a crime, the political powers that be go after their Early this month, Gov. JB Pritzker booted Shirley Madigan from her position as chair of the Illinois Arts Council. It's a position that she served well and ably in for 37 years.

When she took that job, Ronald Reagan was president, J.B. Pritzker was in high school and House Speaker Chris Welch was in the third grade.

In the decades I covered state government, I've never heard a bad word about her. Ever.

She has done remarkable work on behalf of the people of Illinois bringing art programs throughout the Land of Lincoln. For example, last month my oldest daughter competed in a poetry recital sponsored by the Arts Council.

And she has developed partnerships with public television to educate viewers about Illinois artists. The job is voluntary. She has never received a dime for her work but has contributed mightily.

But this month Pritzker said he wants to take the council in a new direction and fired her. No one believes the governor. He gave her the boot because her husband former Speaker Mike Madigan is in trouble and Pritzker wants to distance himself.

So, a few hours before Mike Madigan was indicted on corruption charges, Pritzker picked up the phone and called him to let him know his wife was fired. Oh, they dressed it up a bit and let her submit her resignation. But you get the idea.

The implications of the conversation were clear: a powerful man was talking to a once powerful man and letting him know his wife's fate. She wasn't a part of the conversation. She was treated as an appendage, not someone contributing in her own right, not even worthy of being spoken to directly when being let go.

It smacks of sexism.

Now, I'll be the first to say that the governor has every right to put whoever he wants into that job. And no one owns a job forever. But one has to ask if this is a gracious way to cut someone loose. Her only transgression would appear to be that she is married to the wrong fellow.

No doubt, some will say she almost certainly wouldn't have received the position if it wasn't for her husband. I won't argue that. But I'll also point out that anyone who gets elected to high office in Illinois or serves in a prestigious post like heading the Arts Council is there because they have the backing of powerful, influential people.

A few years ago, I heard similar sentiments expressed against Illinois Chief Justice Anne Burke.

"Illinois voters should be appalled that Justice Burke has been named chief justice in the wake of her husband being under federal investigation. It's scandalous that we would have a couple like that, the wife of an indicted alderman sitting as the Chief Justice of our Supreme Court. In Illinois, you just can't make it up," former state Rep. Jeanne Ives told the DuPage Policy Journal.

Anne's husband, Ed Burke is Chicago's longest-serving alderman. He faces 14 federal corruption charges.

And let me emphasize this: Both Burke and Madigan are merely accused of breaking the law. They have not stood trial or been convicted of a crime. In the United States of America, a person is innocent until proven guilty.

Regular readers of this column know my strong libertarian sentiments. I'm skeptical of government. I'm not a fan of either Mike Madigan or Ed Burke's political philosophies. That's OK. In a democracy, we want diverse points of view in the public forum. While I admire the work and intellect of Anne Burke and Shirley Madigan, I haven't always agreed with their positions, either. But this isn't a defense or an endorsement of either person's policy positions.

It's merely an observation that in the American legal system relatives of those accused of crimes are not punished simply for their kinship. And the American sense of fair play would seem to command that should be the case for public life as well.

Even after her husband, former Gov. George Ryan, went to prison, his wife Lura Lynn continued to serve on the Abraham Lincoln Bicentennial Commission. She was instrumental in helping make the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum a reality.

President Barack Obama sought her out when he spoke in Springfield to honor our sixteenth president. That was a kindness that spoke well of the man. He gained nothing by talking to the wife of a convicted politician. But that didn't stop him from according her the dignity and respect she deserved.

It sets an example of graciousness worthy of emulation.

Mississippi man sentenced after local sexual assault

OREGON — Ogle County State's Attorney Mike Rock announced in press release that on March 15, Rocky Lara, 25, of Mississippi, was sentenced to six years in the Illinois Department of Corrections after a sentencing hearing held by the Honorable Judge John C. Redington for predatory criminal sexual assault of a child. In 2015, the Rochelle Police Department investigated a sexual assault complaint made by a female minor against a male. During the investigation, Lara was developed as a suspect. The case was reviewed by the Ogle County State's Attorney's Office and charges were authorized. The defendant plead guilty on Jan. 12, 2022 and the matter was continued for sentencing.

Predatory criminal sexual assault of a child is a Class X felony with a sentencing range of 6-60 years in the Illinois Department of Corrections followed by three years to natural life of mandatory supervised release.

The sentence is served at 85 percent. The defendant will have to register as a sex offender for natural

The challenges climate change poses to agriculture

LIMATEchange poses an array of challenges. The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration notes that the impacts of climate change on various sectors of society are interrelated, a connection that mirrors the ripple effects of the COVID-19 pandemic. The human health crisis that arose during the pandemic affected all aspects of life, as illnesses limited worker productivity, thus affecting the global supply chain, including the availability of food.

Scientists warn that a similar scenario could play out as a result of climate change. The agricultural sector could face considerable challenges in the years to come. The Fourth National Climate Assessment is a government-mandated report that must be delivered to the United States Congress once every four years. Among the many aims of the report are to provide an analysis of the effects of global changes on the natural environment and agriculture. The report also must project major trends for the next 25 to 100 years. The most recent report, delivered in 2018, noted that changing precipitation patterns could intensify in the coming years, leading to more intense periods of heavy rain and longer dry periods.

Those shifting patterns and other changes could lead to an increase in conditions and weather events that pose unique challenges to the agricultural sector.

• Flooding: The Union of Concerned Scientists notes that many agricultural regions of the United States have already experienced increased flooding. The effects of flooding on the agricultural sector are often devastating and include accelerated soil erosion, water pollution and damage to infrastructure that challenges farmers'ability to get food from their farms to stores and, ultimately, consumers? dinner tables.

• Drought: The National Integrated Drought Information System reports that the primary direct economic impact of drought in the agricultural sector is crop failure and pasture losses. The Government of Canada notes that areas of western Canada are already experiencing frequent and severe droughts, and scientists expect other areas of the country to be affected by drought more often in the years to come. The same goes for the United States, which the UCS notes has already dealt with severe drought in California, the Great Plains and the midwest. Depleted water supplies are a byproduct of drought, and such depletion can take a toll on crops and livestock.

• Economics: The effects of climate change on farmers to make potencrops and livestock may tially costly investments force farmers to change the in machinery and other nature of their farms. The changes as they make the UCS notes that farmers transition. may be forced to choose crop varieties and animal breeds that are suited to the

Explaining precision agriculture

■EW, if any, aspects of life in the 21st century have not been touched by technology. Advancements in technology have affected everything from the way students learn in the classroom to how senior citizens connect with their grandchildren. Technological advancements also have left their mark on industry, including the agricultural sector.

Modern agriculture bears some similarities to farming of past eras. Technology has affected the agricultural sector for centuries, and modern farmers know that's no different today. One of the more recent developments in the agricultural sector is the rise of precision agriculture, a farming management concept that can pay dividends for generations to come.

Precision agriculture (PA) is rooted in improving crop yields through the utilization of technology. PA is designed to help the agricultural sector maximize resources and improve yields and the quality of crops. That's a critically important function as the world population continues to grow and the demand for food increases as a result.

Sensors are a prime example of PA technology that helps make farms more efficient and productive. Sensors serve various functions by helping farmers gather data on the availability of water in soil, the level of compaction in soil, leaf temperature, insect and disease infestation, and other areas.

Weather modeling is another component of PA that can help farms be more cost-effective and efficient. Whereas in years past many farms would need to manually assess certain variables to determine when to harvest, weather modeling technology has enabled some farmers to generate remote readings, saving time and money. Each situation is unique, but the principles of PA can help farmers acess a wealth of information. It might have been possible to access such information in the past, but PA has sped up the process and made it more hands-off, allowing farmers to save both time and money. PA technology can help farmers maintain accurate records of their farms; inform their decisions; make it easier to detect and identify problems, sometimes before they escalate into larger issues;

Creating connections to

and avoid potentially

costly mistakes. Technology has left no industry untouched. The growth of precision agriculture is a testament to the influence that technology is having on a vital sector of the global economy.

AGRICULTURE WEEK

How farmers and growers can adapt to meet emerging demands

HE world is ever-changing, and L those changes include consumer preferences. Identifying what consumers want is a challenge for any business, and farmers and growers are no exception. Food trends come and go, but identifying key segments of the population and catering to their needs and interests can help farmers and growers meet consumer demand and increase profits.

Baby Boomers may no longer be the largest living adult generation, a distinction that the U.S. Census Bureau reports now belongs to Millennials. However, there are still more than 71 million Baby Boomers in the United States, and Statistics Canada reports that this influential demographic, which includes individuals born between 1946 and 1965, makes up nearly 30 percent of the Canadian population.

Such figures underscore how lucrative it can be for farmers and growers to cater to the Baby Boomer demographic. Many Baby Boomers have reached an age where their doctors have recommended certain foods to reduce their risk for problems associated with aging, such as heart disease. The Mayo Clinic reports that whole grains are great sources of fiber that can help regulate blood pressure and heart health. Many seniors are urged to eat more fruits and vegetables as they grow older, ideally increasing their intake of these nutrient-rich foods while simultaneously cutting back on high-calorie foods like meat and cheese.

Generation X is the generation between Baby Boomers and Millennials. Gen Xers include individuals born between 1966 and 1980, though some metrics suggest Generation X extends into the early 1980s. Older Gen Xers are nearing retirement age, and that means they likely have more disposable income than Baby Boomers, many of whom are now retired, and Millennials, who are just beginning their careers or still raising families. A report on consumer trends from the consultant firm Technomic Inc. found that Gen Xers are willing to pay extra for fresh foods and prefer foods that benefit their overall health by promoting better sleep and providing more energy. Such foods may include blueberries, kale, quinoa, and watermelon.

The size of this generation can make it hard to define its needs and wants, as it includes a diverse array of people born between 1981 and 1996. However, Millennials can be an especially valuable market for small farmers and growers, as research indicates individuals in this demographic prefer small and midsized manufacturers over larger producers. Research from Wells Fargo found that, as millennials matured and gained more buying power between the years of 2012 and 2017, small and mid-sized manufacturers accounted for 46 percent of overall industry grains.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports that millennial households buy more unprocessed foods, including fruits and vegetables, than the generations that came before them. Recognition of consumer demands is important, especially for small farmers and growers trying to increase profits and serve the needs of an evolving consumer base.

How agricultural technology can improve sustainability

USTAINABLE agriculture is an approach to farming that will allow modern farmers to meet the needs of a growing population while enhancing environmental quality. That can benefit both current and future generations, and technology will play a vital role in realizing the goals of sustainable agriculture.

According to the National Sustainable Agriculture Coalition, sustainable agriculture is designed to meet the needs of the present without compromising future generations' ability to meet their own needs. That's a worthy goal, especially in the face of a growing global population that the United Nations estimates will increase by two billion persons by 2050.

There are numerous benefits to utilizing sustainable agriculture technology, which can be especially advantageous to modern farmers. Modeling technologies can be utilized to make more efficient use of land. According to Sustainable Brands, a global community of brand innovators, modeling technologies can be employed in a host of ways, including to identify tillage practices and the status of tile drainage. Certain agricultural technologies have been designed to predict the performance of cropland, which can allow farmers to more effectively and efficiently use their land. Farmers also can employ modeling technologies to determine soil health and water needs and usage, which can benefit the land and ensure resources aren't wasted. Utilization of such technologies ensures farmers can meet the needs of modern consumers without affecting future farmers' ability to do the vironmental Protection Agency notes that runoff poses a significant threat to the environment. When runoff occurs, fertilizer, bacteria and other pollutants find their way into streams, rivers, lakes, and the ocean. Sustainable Brands notes that nanotechnology is an efficient way to deliver nutrients to crops that can improve both the efficacy of the nutrients and reduce runoff.

Ward nets 14 saves as Lady Hubs begin spring with 7-0 loss against Harlem

BY RUSSELL HODGES

SPORTS EDITOR

MACHESNEYPARK

- The Rochelle Lady Hub varsity soccer team kicked off the 2022 season with a nonconference road matchup against the Harlem Huskies on Thursday. The Lady Hubs hung tough early in the first half, but the Huskies proved too strong in the end, capitalizing on the quick turf field and their back-wind advantage to score a 7-0 victory over Rochelle.

Sophomore Danica Ward battled in net for the Lady Hubs (0-1), totaling four of her 14 saves over the first 15 minutes of regulation to keep the match scoreless. Harlem broke the match open with a flurry of goals midway through the first half, however, scoring in the 15th, 16th and 19th minutes to take a 3-0 lead. Goals in the 26th and 40th minutes put the Huskies up 5-0.

"It wasn't the score we wanted, but I thought we battled in the first half and we had some injuries that hurt our momentum there," head coach Brad Male said. "I think Danica has come a long way and she's shown great leadership on our team. I'm looking for her to keep our girls organized in the back and keep them on the ball so we can minimize our shots on goal. I thought she had some tremendous saves during the match and I thought she never gave up."

Rochelle started the second half strong on defense, holding the Huskies without a goal for nearly 25 minutes until Harlem found the net in the 64th and 66th minutes. The Huskies outshot the Lady Hubs 32-7 and 21-3 in shots on goal. Sophomore Kara Martinez led Rochelle with two shots on goal in the second half. while freshman Makayla

Hubs return versatile varsity lineup this season

Three All-Conference players back including First-Team pitcher Alfano

ROCHELLE—Depth and versatility are two strengths of the Rochelle Hub varsity baseball team that head coach Jarrod Revnolds will lean on when the 2022 season tees off this Rochelle will open the seasonwithanonconference road game against Boylan Catholic on Wednesday, March 23 at 4:30 p.m. The Hubs are looking to improve on their 7-12 overall record and 4-10 finish in the Interstate 8 Conference during the summer season this past year.

"We have a big roster and we have a nice blend of juniors and seniors," Reynolds said. "We have a lot of flexibility on defense and we have three players who can catch. It's nice for us to have those options in case of injuries or illnesses. We'll have a lot of kids who will push each other and compete for playing time. We have a lot of depth and we've had a lot of kids throwing bullpens over the offseason. Hopefully we'll play most of our earlyseason games."

Seniors Braden Alfano and Andy Buskohl headline Rochelle's returning starters on the pitcher's mound this season. Senior Nate Burdin will also see an increased role in the Hub rotation after largely throwing as a reliever last season. Senior Eric Briseno returns as one of the team's leading hitters, while senior Josh Lloyd could have a bigger role with his speed on the bases.

"Braden had a great season last year and we're going to be counting on him moving forward," Reynolds said. "Andy and Nate will both have a big role as starting pitchers as well. I think those three guys are going to be huge for us as we get ready to enter the confer-

Jacobs begins first season as Lady Hub head coach

All-Conference honorees Smardo, Dickey highlight returning varsity starters

BY RUSSELL HODGES

ROCHELLE — The Rochelle Lady Hub varsity softball team will return to the diamond this season under new leadership as head coach Deanna Jacobs prepares for her first year at the helm. Jacobs takes over for Lindsay Suess, who had served as head coach of the Lady Hubs since 2016.

Rochelle will look to improve on a 6-11 overall record and a 3-10 finish in the Interstate 8 Conference during the summer season this past year. The Lady Hubs will tee off the 2022 season with a road matchup against Belvidere North on Friday, March 25 at 4:30

"We've already seen a lot of improvement from the girls over our first couple of weeks," Jacobs said. "I'm looking forward to seeing what our girls will bring to the table and I'm excited to begin putting that puzzle together. We're looking to continue building our skills and we're looking forward to improving and bringing our best effort during every game this season."

The Lady Hubs will return multiple senior starters including infielders Jordin Dickey, MeLisa Young and Ashley Knight. Junior Morgan Smardo returns after earning All-Conference First Team honors last season, while freshman Lauren Dyer could emerge as a significant contributor on the pitcher's mound. Junior outfielder Addie Friestad and sophomore catcher Ella Alfano are two more varsity returners from last season. Rochelle will play a 14game conference schedule.

"I think we have some pretty solid pitchers this year which will be really nice because it's tough to make up the rest of the lineup when we don't have solidpitching," Jacobs said.

"I think we have some solid bats as well and I can tell already that our girls have put in a lot of time over the offseason to work on their hitting and make the little tweaks to put the ball in play."

The 14-game conference schedule will include one home game and one away game against each of the seven other Interstate 8 schools. Rochelle will also play 14 nonconference games.

HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD — When Tom Hanks came down with COVID while filming "Elvis" in Australia, production was shut down and he and his wife returned to the U.S. Once he recovered, he hit the ground running. "Moulin Rouge" director Baz Luhrmann reopened filming "Elvis" once it was safe to resume. Hanks and "Elvis" (Austin Butler) made up for lost time, and it's now due June 24.

Hanks then assumed the role of Geppetto for Robert Zemeckis' live-action "Pinocchio," with Joseph Gordon-Levitt as the voice of Jiminy Cricket. Hanks and Zemeckis (now 70) won Oscars for "Forrest Gump" (1974) and collaborated on "Castaway" (2000) and "Polar Express" (2004). Hanks next reported to Wes Anderson for another of his all-star-cast films, "Asteroid City," with Margot Robbie, Scarlet Johansson, Jeffrey Wright, Maya Hawke, Adrien Brody, Bill Murray, Tilda Swinton, Bryan Cranston, Jeff Goldblum, Liev Schreiber and Matt Dillon. As if he isn't busy enough, Hanks is currently producing the war mini-series "Masters of the Air" (related to "Band of Brothers" and "The Pacific"), with Steven Spielberg and his Amblin Entertainment for Apple+.

Also working on a TV anthology series for Apple+ is Meryl Streep, who is starring in "Extrapolations," along with Tobey Maguire, Marion Cotillard, Forest Whitaker, Sienna Miller, Kit Harrington, Matthew Rhys, Daveed Diggs and David Schwimmer.

Last week we told you about Melissa Joan Hart's two-year contract with Lifetime to produce, direct and star in made-for-Lifetime films, following her success in Hallmark's "Mistletoe in Montana." Hallmark has a stable of stars they use for most of their original productions. The undisputed queen of Hallmark could well be Lacey Chabert, who developed, executive produced and starred in the recent six-hour "Wedding Veil Trilogy." Lacey first earned her stripes on the soap "All My Children" and in the TV films "Gypsy," starring Bette Midler, "A Little Piece of Heaven," opposite Cloris Leachman, and "What If God Were the Sun," opposite Gena Rowlands. She began making Hallmark films in 2010 and has starred in 30 original films since then.

As soon as word came out about Hart's two-year deal, Hallmark also gave deals to Danica McKellar ("The Wonder Years") and Jen Lilley, who went from the film "The Artist" (2011) to "General Hospital" (2011-2012) and "Days of Our Lives" (2013-2018), three Lifetime and 12 Hallmark movies from 2015-2022. Also signed was Trevor Donovan, a regular on "Days of Our Lives" (2007) and as Teddy in "Beverly Hills 90210" (2009-2013), followed by 12 original Hallmark films.

Hallmark has a contract roster of players in the tradition of MGM, which in its heyday claimed to "Have more stars than in the heavens!" Guess you can say Hallmark has more stars than in their cards!

The "Home & Family" daytime talk show was canceled after nine seasons. It went through several creative changes over the years, with original hosts Cristina Ferrare, Michael Burger and Chuck Woolery in the late 1990s. It was renewed by the Hallmark Channel in 2012 with new hosts Paige Davis of "Trading Spaces" fame and Mark Steines from "Entertainment Tonight."

SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Davis' run was very short-lived, and she was replaced with former host Ferrare. In 2016, Ferrare was let go in favor of Debbie Matenopoulos ("The View"), while Steines stayed until 2018, when he was abruptly fired. The seventh season welcomed new co-host Cameron Mathison ("All My Children"). The show went on hiatus in 2020 during the pandemic and never fully recovered, returning in early March 2021 only to be canceled soon after.

Q: When is the new "Jurassic Park" movie coming out? I want to make sure I don't miss it on the big screen. Movies don't seem to last very long in theaters these days. -- B.D.

A: "Jurassic World Dominion" is expected to premiere in theaters nationwide on June 10. It will no doubt be a big hit as it stars not only Chris Pratt, but features the return of characters from the original "Jurassic Park" trilogy -- Jeff Goldblum, Laura Dern and Sam Neill

In the newest installment, humans and dinosaurs must learn to co-exist, and Bryce Dallas Howard leads the movement as the founder of the Dinosaur Protection Group. Steven Spielberg, who directed the original "Jurassic been acting professionally? -- B.B.

A: Benedict Cumberbatch started out on the stage in London, which is no surprise given that he is the son of two actors, Wanda Ventham and Timothy Carlton. He's been earning screen credits for the past 20 years, but the British mystery series "Sherlock" was his breakout hit. Before then, he built up an impressive resume with small roles in U.S. films like "August: Osage County," starring Meryl Streep, and "12 Years a Slave," starring Chiwetel Ejiofor. After joining the Marvel Universe as Doctor Strange, Cumberbatch's name is now above the title. He recently reprised star in "Doctor Strange in the Multiverse of Madness. He'll also soon learn if he can add Oscar winner to his list of accomplishments, as he's a Best Actor nominee for his role in "The Power of the Dog." The Academy Awards will air Sunday, March 27, on ABC.

These community-minded businesses donate faithfully to local youth sports programs, community clubs, nonprofit groups and churches – just to name a few. Shouldn't we look to those same businesses first when we need goods and services? Of course we should!

Seeking health care in your hometown brings the comforts of receiving qualified care from people you know and trust. Whether it be a trip to the dentist, regular health care screenings, a visit to a specialist or an emergency, you need not travel. It's all right here.

Banking with people who know you is a luxury found only in hometowns.

You don't have to show your ID every time you go in. You can get a loan from people who know you and understand your needs, whether it be money for your first car or to help your business grow. Local banks believe in the value of community members helping one another.

No one wants to have to make an insurance claim, but it's painless when your agent is your neighbor.

You don't have to convince them that there was a hail storm, or that the wind nearly took your roof off. They know because they live here. Which do you want when you've had a bad day: A face-to-face meeting with your local agent, or a machine answering the phone at that big national insurer that advertises on TV?

Customer service after the sale is invaluable. Local retailers not only take responsibility for the product
