County puts hold on wind permits

County board votes to suspend future building permits for Alta Farms II

Gordon Woods

CLINTON — On July 22, the DeWitt County Board voted 6-4 to stop issuing any more building permits for wind turbines, at least for the time being.

A majority of board members voted to suspend further building permits for the Alta Farms II project until its developer, Enel Green Energy, can prove it would be able to curtail the turbines during periods of severe weather.

The procedure known as "curtailment" involves slowing or stopping the rotation of wind turbine blades. This is believed to reduce potential with interference DOPLAR weather radar used in tracking major storms and tornadoes.

Discussion and possible action on the curtailment agreement appeared under "old business" as the last item on the July 22 meeting agenda. Board member Megan Myers suggested the board approve the

CUSD returning to all in -person learning

Masks will be optional, social distancing allowed when possible

Katy O'Grady-Pyne kpyne@theclintonjournal.com

CLINTON - During a special meeting earlier this month, the Clinton school board approved in-person learning for all students with classes beginning Aug. 18. Masks will be optional for students and staff. Social distancing will be allowed when possible.

The school board also voted to maintain the same health protocols, meaning students and staff with symptoms of illness will remain at home until symptoms are gone or have been cleared by the district nurse, staff or doctor.

Superintendent Curt Nettles will monitor health community factors and stay in with communication local health services, making changes or modifications to the district based on the health information provided.

motion citing the concern Enel had not shown their ability to comply with the requirements of the agreement.

Board members Aaron Kammeyer and Buck Carter agreed with the action as a way to ensure Enel would comply with the agreement. But members David Newberg and Jay Wickenhauser felt the matter was not specific enough in how it was presented on the agenda so should not be put to a vote during that meeting.

They also said the board should first seek advice from the state's attorney, who was absent from the meeting.

Although the June county board meeting was largely dominated comments from by about wind residents project construction traffic, Don Waddell did reiterate some of his concerns with the project interfering with weather radar.

I-74 work in DeWitt County begins

FARMER CITY – The Illinois Department of Transportation announced that construction on Interstate 74 in DeWitt County began on July 26.

$535,000 The project involves the microsurfacing of centerlines and joint ramps, which will extend the life of the pavement. The work will require intermittent lane closures on I-74 and is expected to be complete in September.

Motorists can expect delays and should allow extra time for trips through this area. To avoid the work area, when feasible, use of alternate routes should be considered. Drivers are urged to pay close attention to changed conditions and signs in the work zones, obey the posted speed limits, refrain from using mobile devices and be alert for workers and equipment. Over the next six years, IDOT is planning to improve more than 3,500 miles of highway and 9 million square feet of bridge deck as part of the Rebuild Illinois capital program, which is investing $33.2 billion into all modes of transportation. Accomplishments through Year Two included approximately $5.2 billion of improvements statewide on 3,020 miles of highway, 270 bridges and 428 additional safety improvements.

Survey: Fewer drunk driving arrests during pandemic

Since 1990, the alliance has conducted a survey of Illinois police departments to determine how many DUI arrests they make give recognition and to the most productive departments.

"The main purpose was to obviously save lives and then see just how well a job some departments are doing compared to others," AAIM Executive Director Rita Kreslin.

The decrease is being attributed to pandemic restrictions that limited bar ad restaurant service and resulted in a decline in the number of people on the roads.

Man sentenced in Blue Ridge schools, Special Olympics fraud

CLINTON — A former Blue Ridge School technology District coordinator was sentenced last week to 30 months in prison after he pleaded guilty in February to stealing more than $354,000 total from the district and a former employer, Special Olympics Illinois.

Joshua Raymer, 45, of Clinton, admitted to using school district funds to buy computer switches and then reselling them and keeping the money.

Most of the money Raymer was accused of stealing was from the school district, but $17,898 was money he admitted to taking while he was employed Special Olympics by Illinois.

Wire fraud can carry a maximum sentence of 20 years.

U.S. District Court Judge Sue Myerscough took into account submitted letters on Raymer's behalf but also acknowledged the seriousness of the crimes. Raymer said he intended to repay all of the money.

The current Blue Ridge Superintendent said the loss to the district extends to higher insurance rates it now pays because of the theft.

elcome to my little corner culinary of delights. There are simply certain recipes that are automatically designed for gourmet eating. Most of those you will find to be French recipes. I wonder why? It is not a matter of conditioning a recipe to fit gourmet procedures. The procedures are built into the recipe. The only detraction would be not to follow the recipe exactly by using inferior products and/or to be unskilled in performing certain tasks. I am rather anxious to proceed.

That which I desire to walk you through is an old French classic which is not only traditional but elegant and very delicious beyond compare. But then again, as in art, it is in the eyes of the beholder. In this case, the taste of the beholder. This particular recipe uses every stovetop technique of which I know. It is because of this that it is one of my favorites to perform. It is quite involved. It may then take more than one article to complete it properly. Get your apron on and let's go. Coq-au-vin is a classic of French cuisine to satisfy any claim to culinary excellence. It can be made up days in advance and still maintain its superb exquisite delight. The flavors are delicately balanced and interestingly blended. The wine sauce creates a culinary curiosity for the consumer. In the execution of this dish, one experiences a variety of preparatory methods and stove top procedures. This one dish alone is a

Çulinary Corner By Chef Roger Joss

Those knowing this should be anxious to learn it.

The equipment needed is very basic. If the required brazier or rondeau is unavailable, a Dutch oven or small stockpot with a lid will do nicely. I really hope by now that many of you have purchased a sturdy whisk from a restaurant supply store. You will want sauté pans but fry skillets will do. A saucepot with wire basket or slotted spoon will be needed for blanching the pearl onions and bacon. Cutting board with chef's knife and boning knife are necessary. It goes without saying that measuring cups, spoons and weight scales should always be handy. Have your kitchen spoons, tongs and serving fork near the stove. Have mise-au-place bowls ready and near the cutting board. Have a strainer close by.

As with all ingredients, there is a need for miseau-place wherein you measure out and prepare all of your ingredients to be ready for use. For the pearl onions, removing the ends and then crisscross piercing the ends. Blanch enough to slip off the skins. Reserve. Next, cut the bacon into chunks. Blanch to extract the salt and smoke flavor. Reserve. Then break down the chicken in the French style (ten pieces). Cut-up the mushrooms to complete the mise-auplace. Our next article will proceed into executing the recipe.

When your veneer begins to crack t wasn't really about the new phone, or having to re-program my Bluetooth, or the lost photos from my Cloud, although that last one was what made me collapse into tears. It was about the fact that, exactly a week ago, I had held my sweet Rhody in my arms as she left me. And that I had picked up her remains from the vet on Thursday. And that I still hadn't found the strength to vacuum the dog hair from the corners of the bedroom. And that when the sunlight fell just right across the wood floor, I saw the ghost of her pawprints because I couldn't bring myself to mop, either.

When the AT&T guy came to my door to set up my service, he asked if I had a dog. I hesitated, eyes glancing to Rhody's collar, hanging on a hook by the door where her leash used to hang. Then I realized he was talking about going into my neighbor's back yard.

"It's a duplex," I explained. "The yard isn't mine. And yes, my neighbor has a German Shepherd." He brightened at that and told me he, too, had a German Shepherd, and so for a few minutes we talked about the challenges of protective dogs.

My veneer began to crack, ever so slightly.

Later, when he was in the living room, he asked if I had a hand vac or something for him to clean up the mess he'd made, drilling a hole in the wall. I didn't want to get the vacuum out and told him I'd take care of it.

First Person Singular

By Janet Pritchard Meils

"Oh no," he joked. "My mom would hate it if she knew I'd left my mess for you to clean up."

I smiled and told him he'd been raised right, and hauled the vacuum out of the closet. Stray dog hairs clung to the plastic body, and when he turned it on, the unmistakable whiff of "dog" entered the air.

The crack grew a big bigger.

I went to the bathroom to get some aspirin, and from behind the closed bedroom door where I'd contained the cats, I heard a noise of distress. "Oh, you're alright," I automatically called, forgetting that my dog wasn't around to whine.

"What?" asked the technician and I realized my error. It was the neighbor's dog, on the other side of the wall.

The crack widened and allowed a couple of tears to sneak through, though I hastily wiped them before returning to the living room.

It after was the technician had left, and the coordinator had tried and failed to recover some photos I'd saved to another service's Cloud, and I realized that my Bluetooth (upon which I heavily depended) wasn't working, that the crack completely broke open and I lost myself in the emotions I'd been holding in.

I stormed from room to room in my tiny house, ranting at AT&T for being there, yelling at Verizon for not being able to recover my lost photos, berating myself for not just leaving well enough alone, and then, finally, the truth came out: "I WANT MY DOG BACK. DAMMIT!!"

And then, the tears were able to flow.

There's a post I've come across several times and it strikes me as particularly true right now: "I sat with my anger long enough, until she told me that her real name is grief".

Be gentle with those who are in its throes, especially if it's your own self.

Janet Pritchard

Meils was born and raised in Wichita, Kansas. She moved to Central Illinois in 1991 and lived there for 21 years, being a farmer>s wife, raising two daughters, and working for some of those years as the editor of the Minonk News-Dispatch. After «life happened,» she returned to Wichita in 2012 and currently lives with two old cats and the newest member of the family, a rescue dog named June. Someday she hopes to return to Illinois and smalltown living, where she will have a large garden and a clothesline.

Illinois State Police made 5,947 DUI arrests last year, compared to 7,468 in 2019.

The Decatur Police Department led the state last year in DUI arrests among city departments, with 344 2020. in They were followed Rockford (304), by Bloomington (254) and Naperville (242).

"The Decatur Police Department understands the incredible danger that impaired driving poses to the community," states Decatur Police Chief James Getz, Jr. "As such, for several years we have made DUI enforcement one of the priorities in our daily duties."

Of the 10 top departments with the most arrests, the numbers were down except for in one city. Waukegan made 18% more arrests last year than in 2019.

The highest DUI arrest rate in the state among departments making at least 200 arrests was Carol Stream, which had 3.80 arrests per sworn officer. Since 2006, Carol Stream has been one of the top ten departments in DUI arrests per officer.

Kreslin said recreational cannabis continues to be a concern.

"It is hard to prove that marijuana is involved unless of course there is a crash and there is blood drawn, but marijuana is the second toxin found in their system next to alcohol when they are arrested for DUI," Kreslin said.

Please help us build 'Strong Kids' at the Y

Dear community members:

I sat down to write this announcement on Father's Day morning to announce the start of the Clinton YMCA Annual Strong Kids campaign. This year I have volunteered to lead the campaign.

For those of you who do not know, my father passed away in December of 2020. Our YMCA also lost one of our valued staff members in David Torbert, the youth sports coordinator and a man dedicated to the mission of the YMCA. My inspiration while drafting this came from David, his family, and my father on our first Father's Day without them.

What does this have to do with the YMCA Strong Kids campaign? I grew up loving sports. Our local YMCA was one of the first places I can remember playing in youth basketball, youth soccer, and swim. My father was there with me, coaching and teaching me and other kids the joy of these sports. I also think of David coaching Youth sports with a smile on his face.

Our YMCA is not just a gym. The Y is a Christian organization that seeks to allow those who can and cannot afford to pay for a membership, to be able to use the pool, the basketball court, the weights and equipment with the helpful staff and volunteers that enable us to strive toward a healthy body, mind, and soul.

It is because of this campaign that we are able to raise funds for our Y, funds that provide for the children in our community whose parents cannot afford to pay for them to participate in basketball, soccer, summer camp, and swim. We do not turn these children away. We do not tell them that they cannot play.

However, the ability to subsidize or waive the fees to those of our community that cannot afford to enroll their children in Y programs still comes at a cost.

The lights do not stay on for free. This Strong Kids Campaign will help to pay for our YMCA to continue to provide for an investment of $117,000 in financial assistance in our youth, as we invested last year. Those of you reading this can be a part of helping a child attend summer camp, participate in youth sports and swim lessons, and continue to use the Y's facilities.

David and my father volunteered as coaches and Christians. In the coming weeks, you might

My family has now lived in DeWitt County for over 31 years. Our children view DeWitt County as home, although the older kids still have some fond memories of Sesser and Franklin County. bottom line is, we have chosen to live and raise a family here. Is Clinton and DeWitt County the perfect place to raise a family? I don't think anyone can truly answer that question, but DeWitt County is a pretty darn good place to raise a family when you take our nation's communities into perspective. Yes, we debate, even argue, over wind turbines and landfills. We complain about taxes. There are pot holes, and somebody else's road got repaired before ours. The internet went down, and the roads are shut down at times for construction. We love or hate nuclear power, but we all want the tax dollars the plant pays. The zoning codes are too strict or too loose depending on our wishes of the day. We are a rural community. The national news, starting in Chicago, simply sickens me. Chicago had 70 shootings this past weekend with 12 killed. The previous weekend, 56 people were shot in Chicago, and 11 died.

be contacted by me, other YMCA board members, Clinton YMCA staff like Rennie, Gretchen, Bonnie, and Pat. We ask you to join us as campaigners donations in seeking from other community members and donating yourself.

OK, HE JUST FELL ASLEEP. I'M NOT SURE IF I SHOULD BE RELIEVED OR OFFENDED.

Please consider not waiting to be contacted if you read this and wish to volunteer by contacting me or the YMCA. I pray that each of you will think of men like David and my father to give of yourself and join us in our mission to bring the light of Jesus and hope to the youth of our community.

A little perspective

1991 - In China, construction began on the Oriental Pearl Radio & TV Tower.

1998 - A group of Ohio machine-shop workers (who call themselves the Lucky 13) won the $295.7 million Powerball jackpot. It was the largest-ever American lottery.

2000 - Jennifer Aniston and Brad Pitt were married

2001 - Lance Armstrong became the first American to win three consecutive Tours de France.

2003 - In Mexico, the last 'old style' Volkswagen Beetle rolled off an assembly line.

want to defund the police, but there are 400 fewer police officers in Chicago now than in previous years. Mayor Lightfoot is an astute black politician, but sometimes common sense goes out the door.

At this time, she declines one-on-one interviews with journalists who are not of color. She then decries racism in the city. Isn't her choice of which reporters she will allow to interview her racism 101? Lightfoot's actions speak volumes about what it is like to live in Chicago.

In California, Barbara Boxer, an 80-year old, retired U.S. Senator and Representative was mugged simply to take her phone. Portland continues to riot, and Minneapolis is festering. California also has a governor recall election coming up in a couple of months. COVID appears to be making a new surge with a new variant, which really affects those who have not

Then, we have Clinton and DeWitt County. We don't seem to have riots. Our police officers are respected, and there hasn't been any efforts made to even consider defunding police. Minority the children are part of the school and church systems here. Those children are actively involved in school and church activities and their parents who I have talked with are pleased with the community.

Our community facilities are very adequate for the needs of the community. We have parks and a YMCA for use by all age groups. There is a senior citizens center and The Vault for after school activities for junior high and high school youth. Summer youth leagues are present and the schools have a plethora of activities for children, if they wish to participate. 4H is available to those youths who want those activities.

We have two large and fully stocked grocery stores. Both are truly handicap accessible. Both are very safe to enter and leave, which is not the case in many parts of the country. We have very good local doctors and dentists and specialized care is usually less than 45 minutes away.

We may not have a Michelin restaurant, but we have some pretty good mom and pop restaurants that put out a very good fare.

When you put it all in perspective, Clinton and DeWitt County is an excellent place to live and raise a family. Let's keep it that way.

BRIDGE BITES

EAST TO THE RESCUE

N-S Vulnerable South West North East 1NT Pass 3NT Pass Pass Pass

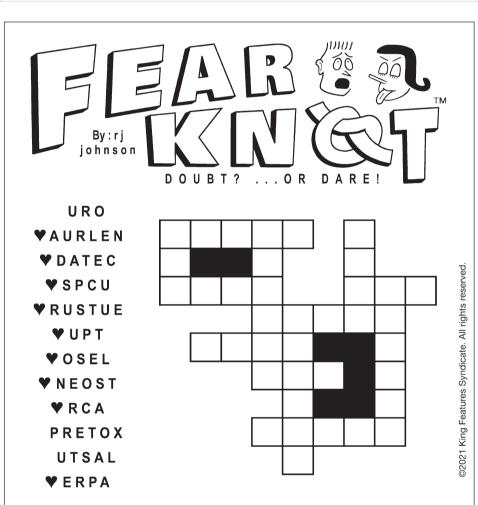

North saw no good reason to show his Clubs and went straight to 3NT, giving West the minimum amount of information for his opening lead. But West guessed well, leading her fourthhighest Heart, not only attacking the defense's best suit, but also knocking out Dummy's entry to the Clubs.

The opening low Heart lead was ducked, in the hope that West had led from the King-Queen. But East took his King and continued the suit, after which Declarer had to bring home the Clubs if he was to make his contract. The obvious play was to cash the \bigstar K, and lead towards Dummy, either playing for the drop, or finessing against the Queen. Playing for the drop is the slight favorite, but that became a moot point when West showed out on the second round of Clubs. Now things were hopeless, and Declarer could score no more than six tricks.

North had obviously forgotten that Dummy's main role in life is to be supportive and soothing when Declarer fails in his contract. Instead, he conducted an unhelpful post mortem. "You knew, from the opening lead of the Heart Two, that the suit was 4-4, so you could afford a safety play in Clubs, protecting against East holding Qxx. Just run the Club Nine on the first round of the suit. East wins the Queen, but the defense has only four tricks. When you get in again you overtake your ♠K with the Ace and run the suit. Nine easy tricks!"

But North had been guilty of faulty analysis as well as poor behavior, and it was East who came to the rescue of Declarer. "That line won't work", she explained, "I simply duck the first round of Clubs!" Yes, indeed, that would be a fine play.

Unscramble these twelve letter strings to form each into an ordinary word (ex. HAGNEC becomes CHANGE). Prepare to use only ONE word from any marked (♥) letter string as each unscrambles into more than one word (ex. ♥ RATHE becomes HATER or EARTH or HEART). Fit each string's word either across or down to knot all twelve strings together.
