Volunteers drive renovation

June 28, 2021

Progress continues to be made on Byron's Veterans memorial

BYRON – A generous Byron area community has worked quickly together to provide time, talent, and the financial resources to begin renovations of the Veterans Memorial located at 405 E. 5th St.

The project, led by Byron Kiwanis, had a Big Day on June 17th with a team of incredible volunteers - a skilled group, with lots of talent, tools, drive and "can do" attitudes.

A great group of Kiwanis members and Exelon employees from E*MAC (Exelon Militaries Actively Connected) gave of their afternoon because honoring Veterans is important to all of them. As a group they have been instrumental in finding resources, procuring equipment for demolition, engendering enthusiasm and being a conduit to the Byron Exelon Generating Station site VP.

Hazel's Cafe owner Candace Rivera has expanded her business by going mobile.

On The Go

Hazel's Cafe food truck serves coffee, baked goods, breakfast, lunch and more

By Jeff Helfrich Rochelle News-Leader

KINGS – In between customers, Candace Rivera helps her kids with their summer school homework.

The owner of Hazel's Cafe in Oregon expanded her business in April and now has a food truck in Kings Tuesday through Friday and hopes to expand into Rochelle in the near future. The truck serves coffee, baked goods, breakfast, lunch and more.

"I'm trying to open up more hours and hopefully find a consistent couple of days to be in the Rochelle area," Rivera said. "I think Thursdays and Fridays in the May Mart area. That's kind of my goal. We do events, too. We're doing the sip and shop in Rochelle in July."

Since the state reopened after COVID-19, Rivera has been doing weekend events and some weeknight events. Last week she did four events in four days.

GO: Unique, trendy drinks set Hazel's food truck apart

The pandemic pushed Rivera to start the food truck operation. Prior to COVID-19 she noticed Hazel's had a calling at events. She didn't find a tent and table to be much fun.

"We wanted something more mobile that we could haul around," Rivera said. "All of our communities around here are big on events and we wanted to be a part of those as much as possible. The way to do that is to launch a coffee truck we can take with us just about anywhere. COVID-19 gave me a little bit of downtime because I shut down the shop for a couple of months. It really pushed me to shop around. Just think about how I could plan it and work it out."

Rivera said it's been tough to run the shop and the coffee truck. She's worked some 14-16-hour days. After hiring a new employee, she was able to step away completely from the Oregon shop to run the truck.

Rivera runs Hazel's On The Go on her own. When she works as a vendor at events, she gets her mother or her husband to help. She hopes to hire someone in the future to help with the truck due to "very overwhelming" demand so far.

"There's a lot going on this year with everything opening up," Rivera said. "It's hard to say no. We're almost completely booked for the summer. It's been going pretty smoothly."

Rivera runs the truck from 5 a.m. to 2 p.m. She's had to get used to getting up at 4 a.m. She's been happy to see events and businesses opening up after having to close her shop completely for two months during the pandemic.

"It's so heartwarming and very positive," Rivera said. "It kind of makes you forget that COVID-19 happened. The shop is doing very well and we're pretty much back to normal, if not a little bit busier than we were the year before COVID-19. It feels really good."

Rivera believes unique and trendy drinks set Hazel's Cafe On The Go apart. She bakes muffins, scones and cookies herself. She prides herself on knowing where Hazels' ingredients come from.

"We do sell breakfast bowls and burritos along with lunch," Rivera said. "We try to have a little bit of something for everyone whether they're a coffee drinker or not."

The truck is just off Illinois Route 64 in Kings and there are signs to follow. Rivera is happy to be part of the food truck family. The business model is something that has started to grow in the area in the past year.

Rivera said running a food truck was never a thought for her when she first started the Oregon location. The cafe became busy and chaotic. She's glad that she had the time and ability to open the truck, which she operates near her home. "It's really nice because I am a mom and they're on summer break," Rivera said. "I'm able to be here and they can hangout and I help them with their summer school and that kind of stuff. Otherwise, they'd be at the shop every day and they'd be stuck there. It's nice to be able to be home. It's a huge plus."

4-H club has unique but busy year

It has been a unique year for the By-Y-Badgers 4-H Club.

The club expanded beyond their usual meeting location at the United Church of Byron to hold some meetings outdoors and others were held virtually due to COVID restrictions.

During club meetings this year, members have enjoyed special presentations to learn more about a wide variety of topics. They expanded their knowledge about pumpkins, including the fact that Illinois is the top producing state. Members gained a better understanding of the importance of communication skills thanks to a soccer group juggling activity. Bruce Gehrke shared knowledge on harvest, combines, and farm safety. In a game of Kahoot, members and their families had fun while learning more about Christmas traditions, including those in other countries. Members discovered how important "soft skills" are in the workplace, and how to develop those skills. Several officers and members of the junior leader team presented information about the climate, weather, and the water cycle. Members enjoyed the Elephant Toothpaste experiment presented by Nick Cassens.

While following COVID protocols, members still had the opportunity to participate in community service projects. They provided non-perishable food items that were given to People Helping People and donated additional food items to Ogle County 4-H's National Day of Service project. Families also provided the Rockford Rescue Mission with donations from their urgent needs list. Additionally, club members supported Ogle County 4-H by participating in their annual garbage bag and cookie dough fundraiser.

Officers for the club this year are: President - Renee Gehrke, Vice-President - Carter Conderman, Secretary -Alex Cassens, Treasurer-Bruce Gehrke, Reporter - Jacob Hickman, Historian -Lauren Carlson, and Recreation Officers - Sam & Nathan Boehm. Junior leaders are Kendall & Kade Boatman, Kenny Boehm, Nick Cassens, and Carson Conderman. Other members of the club are Gabe & Michael Boehm, Adrian & Alex Booker, Allison Druien, Colton & Luke Gehrke, Andrew & Lauren Hickman, Alayna & Wyatt Swanson, Ella & James Tunink, and Brandon Whelan. Carmon Conderman, Julie Carlson, and Crystal Boehm serve as club leaders.

Members that completed record books for the 2019-2020 4-H year received a Club Experience Award. Colton Gehrke earned the Bronze Award. The Silver Award was earned by Adrien Booker, Alex Booker, Andrew Hickman, and Jacob Hickman. Members earning the Gold Award were Kade Boatman, Kendall Boatman, Lauren Carlson, Alex Cassens, Nick Cassens, Bruce Gehrke, and Renee Gehrke. Michael Boehm and Luke Gehrke received Cloverbud Awards.

Most recently, the club celebrated Dairy Month at their June meeting with an ice cream social. Currently, members of the By-Y-Badgers 4-H Club are working hard to get their fair projects ready for judging, which will be held in conjunction with the Ogle County Fair later this summer.

Tudor donates display cases to library in husband's memory

FORRESTON - A recent donation to the Forreston Public Library by Lorraine Tudor will aid in bringing some local items into the public eye.

Two display showcases have been donated in memory of her husband Robert Tudor who passed away in 2015. He served as Public Relations Director at Morton East & West High school which included the responsibilities of heading the library, newspaper, and yearbook. He was a member of Forreston American Legion Post 308 and Tudor most recently was president of the Forreston American Legion Auxiliary.

Having a safe, secure location will allow the library to display some items from its archives, which include a copy of "The Early History of Northern Illinois" by Charles Knapp Carpenter of Baileyville, Ill. Published in 1948, this book is an account of the early history of the Crane's Grove area. Other early Ogle County histories will also be displayed, as well as many Sauerkraut Day items.

The second showcase will focus on a different subject each month. As June is recognized as Dairy Month, this month's display features the past dairy industries of Forreston.

If you have a subject you would like to see featured or have items available for future displays, please contact Julie Voss at the library.

Visit the Facebook page "Forreston Public Library" for updates.

Fooling God?

It's never been done, and you can't do it either, but folks keep trying. Many live like they have already pulled the wool over God's eyes. As it turns out instead of fooling God, they have only deceived themselves. Around 50 AD the Apostle Paul wrote, (Galatians 6: 7,8) "Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting." Even in his day and age thousands of people were already trying to fool God.

Harvest time of each year bears out the first object lesson Paul cites: You reap what you sow. No stalk of corn has ever produced oats, nor has the thorn apple yielded a peach. No cow ever gave birth to a donkey. God said every species would reproduce AFTER HIS KIND. (Genesis 1: 11.12.21.24)

As surely as plants and animals produce "after their kind", deeds and attitudes also yield a predictable harvest. Wrong choices bring a bitter harvest. "He that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption" We reap what we sow physically and socially. Human bodies have their limits. Abuse them with alcohol, drugs, promiscuity, and partying and they will let you down. Many abuse the institutions God established for our happiness: marriage and the home. No wonder they reap hatred instead of love, and heartaches instead of security. Following the instincts of our natural desires corrupts us spiritually, and our sin, unless we repent of it, will destroy us eternally. "But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolators, and all liars shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone; which is the second death" (Revelation 21:8)

Sow a good crop instead. God offers seeds of faith and repentance by which we may reap eternal life. "Turn now from your life of sin" is the offer, "and I will save you" (Ezekiel 33:11) "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved" (Revelation 21:8)

Learning life's lessons of sowing and reaping convinces us that God will have the last word. To fail God's lessons and waste a lifetime thinking that somehow the rules will change is a tragedy for which one will suffer eternally.

Quit fooling yourself; you can't fool God.

Garrett had been tracking the Kid for three months after the gunslinger escaped from prison only days before his scheduled execution. * On July 17, 1955, Disneyland opens on former orange groves in Anaheim, California. Due to counterfeit invitations, thousands showed up and the opening did not go well. Food and drink ran out, and the steamboat nearly capsized from too many passengers. Just a little fair warning. This column is going to start out with an anecdote from my recent trip to see my son. While everything is factual, it is also a little gross – funny – but a little gross. Now, please continue...

It was a beautiful day in Nebraska. Well, as beautiful a day as you can have in Nebraska. Nebraska, while a fine state, is not exactly known for its vast beauty.

I was traveling to Wyoming to see my son on Father's Day weekend. He is all alone in a very small town, so he needed a little family connection. So, I was riding my motorcycle out to see him.

So here I was on I-80, where the speed limit is 75. I will tell you I was going probably 80, but most traffic was going even faster. I come up to a cattle hauler, which has just moved into the left lane to pass another semi. I am now behind the cattle hauler.

Now, I am sure we have found ourselves behind cattle haulers many times in our lives. I can't count the number of times I have been behind one. But this time, I was in for

Living the Life By Brad Jennings

Sure it's gross, but it's a great story

a surprise.

I was a reasonable distance back from the semi when I saw something shoot out of the right side of the truck. It took me a fraction of a second to realize what it was: A geyser of cow urine.

I ducked as quickly as I could behind my windshield, and thankfully, most of it hit my windshield. Some did hit my riding goggles, but I came out of the whole thing in pretty good shape.

Except on a warm day, the smell is not good. At all. I quickly made an exit and found a McDonald's so I could clean myself off.

This was truly one for the books. And yes, I got a pretty good laugh out of it. This trip had a little bit of everything, really. I rode about four hours the first day, because I still had to work that day. By the time I got to Des Moines, Iowa, it was 102 degrees and I felt like I was about to burst into flames. Riding a hot motorcycle on a hot day is not a great idea.

I was just glad to stop for the night and get off the interstate. While Iowa can be a lovely state, the drivers are left-lane campers of the highest order. They even make the questionable drivers in Wisconsin look good by comparison. Please people, pass in the left lane and then move to the right. Don't stay left.

I got up early the next day with a more than 600 miles to ride and it was a beautiful morning. The sun was just coming up and I was all smiles. Until I saw the clouds. I pulled over and put on my rain gear – great to have but not fun to wear – and continued on. The rain started about five miles later. The intense lightning started about 15 miles after that.

When the lightning gets intense, it is smart to pull over. So I found a gas station and parked my bike under the shelter at the pumps and went inside. It was one of those places with tables where the locals go for a morning chat. I ran into a local rancher who was nursing a coffee. We had a great conversation about life, travels, the state of the world.

I love moments like this when I travel. I enjoy making a momentary connection with someone with a life far different form my own. These moments enrich my life.

That is one thing I love about traveling on a motorcycle. People always talk to me. They ask about riding in the weather. They ask how far you are traveling. They ask about the bike itself. They talk about their own experiences on a motorcycle. This stuff doesn't happen when I am traveling by car.

I had a great visit with my son. It is always great to see him and spend time with him. He is a great dude.

But this will always be the trip where I got hit by cow pee. That is just the way it will be remembered. But you have to admit, it's a great story.

Many ways to re-engage in sports, recreation

The State of Illinois officially moved to Phase 5 on June 11th and businesses and organizations could reopen without capacity limits or significant restriction. The reality of life resuming some sense of normalcy is welcome news to the Oregon Park District, whose purpose is serving the residents of our community.

For the past 15 months, for children and adults. Participating allows us to improve our cardiovascular health, strength, and overall fitness. Mentally, we experience benefits from the increased socialization as we return to a more structured routine.

One of the largest emerging trends for 2021 is an increased focus on health and well-being. The focus has been heightened as a result of COVID-19 and will continue as park and recreation agencies continue to work towards meeting the social needs of our community. The first step in meeting these needs is our ability to reopen our facilities and programs and allow our residents an opportunity to choose their recreation outlets. Whether it be inside or outside, the Oregon Park District, State Parks and neighboring recreation areas are ready and willing to meet the needs. Local providers have a common understanding of expectations, outcomes, and satisfactions regarding recreation needs.

No one expected the pandemic to last for 15 months, but it did. Businesses and local organizations did their part under difficult circumstances and remained focused on the end. Phase 5 is accompanied by relief and an injection of hope. Relief the worst is behind us and hope that we will be stronger because of the journey we were forced to endure. I encourage each of you to seek out recreation opportunities in your community. I promise, you'll be surprised at what you find.

* On July 12, 1979, disco music died at Chicago's Comiskey Park when a "Disco Demolition" night is held. Organizers grossly underestimated the number of fans who would want to blow up their disco records: a sellout crowd inside the stadium and 40,000 outside who stormed the field and lit bonfires on the diamond.

Letters will be published in the order that they are received, unless there is a time factor involved, space permitting. our focus has been forced to shift and to distance patrons from one another when our true passion is to bring people together. While our community has continued to thrive while using the many open space resources at our disposal, we have been forced to restrict organized activities. Until now!

Nash Recreation Center is fully reopened, a full slate of programs is scheduled, and special events are back. Youth sports have resumed and allowing our patrons to socialize through recreation is our number one priority.

The sounds of patrons in the fitness center, on the baseball field or at our first Concert in the Park in two years are sounds we embrace as a staff. We as adults, and especially the youth in our community, need recreation. Re-engaging in sports, recreation, and physical activity with friends has both physical and psychological health benefits

Keep coming back to the flag and the 13 folds

While I never intended to keep the theme of the last column going, again it seems very fitting. I have certainly been thinking over the past month mainly about the American flag and the 13 folds.

While many people enjoy the three-day weekend, spending time camping, grilling out or even time-honored traditions like the Indianapolis 500, Memorial Day is much more than that. Memorial Day has always been a time to remember those who paid the ultimate sacrifice for our freedom. This freedom was paid so generations could have a better place to call home, by continuing and perpetuating the ideas our founding fathers built this country upon.

While May concluded with this holiday, for many in law enforcement it also began and continued in this light. The first week in May is time set aside to honor law enforcement who gave their lives protecting our communities and our values. This ceremony includes many of the same traditions as Memorial Day, including speeches by community members, the sound of trumpets and 21 guns, but it also concludes with a flag folded 13 times. The one aspect most notably missing from the Police Memorial in Springfield this year, was not the families of the 10 officers who ended their watch in 2020 or the agencies they represented, but the State leaders. For the first time in many years, the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and Attorney General did not participate in the service. This is something to think about.

With that said, I keep going back to a different flag folded 13 times and it was a funeral for someone that I've never met but a brother in blue. A brother that left four daughters and a wife, two different law enforcement agencies, and many in multiple communities behind. I attended this funeral in Decatur and listened to Chris' daughters speak about his love for them and all the funny stories they hold dear. When Amber, Chris' wife, spoke everyone heard her challenge. Ambers' challenge was to quit being the silent majority, stop turning the other way when it's uncomfortable and be passionate about how we want our communities to be long after we are gone.

Our foundation was built from these now quiet or even at times silent ideologies and if we continue down this path the "changes" will be our fault. If the funeral procession was any indication of the sleeping giant you are certainly not alone but we do need to remember this challenge and make sure other points of view are heard. LOCAL NEWS Let Freedom Ring

Let freedom Ring, a Mount Morris tradition, is back and better than ever. Mount Morris has been celebrating the Fourth of July since it's founding in 1848. The festival was officially named Let Freedom Ring in 1963. LFR offers fun, affordable and often times free entertainment of all types for all age groups. Bring the family and enjoy a great weekend in Mount Morris!

A magical experience will be had by all at Let Freedom Ring

MOUNT MORRIS - Local magician, The Amazer Jeremy Haak, will bring his amazing magic show to the band shell stage on July 3 at 4 p.m.

The Amazer Jeremy Haak learned his first magic trick when he was 13. At age 16, he started performing as "The Amazer." Since that time, Haak's magic has entertained people from all walks of life including a Miss America, Two Legends of Professional Wrestling and even other magicians. Haak is a certified Doctor of Magic by the International Magicians Society and is the first and only 5-time winner of The Magician of the Year of Ring #11 of the International Brotherhood of Magicians.

Haak has entertained for car shows, boat races, private parties, bars, grand openings and several other places. Come uptown and be amazed by Jeremy Haak, the 5-time magician of the year award winner!

The festival's music kicks off on July 3 at the Band Shell

MOUNT MORRIS - Let Freedom Ring Presents Anderlik and Church of WACO on the Band Shell July 3.

Talented Chicago guitarists Rob Anderlik and Mike Church have performed on our band shell in past years as AOC and WACO and will be returning this year with special guests Josh McPartland on Mandolin and Drew Littel on cajon. Two of the top bluegrass musicians in the Chicago area, Rob and Mike first met at late night jam session and felt a deep musical connection from the moment they played together. Even better, they discovered they shared a wide range of musical interests, ranging from Southern and classic rock, blues, swing, jazz standards, cinematic instrumentals, folk music and of course, bluegrass.

They have quickly built a reputation as one of the most versatile acoustic bands in the Midwest. Their music has been described as Bill Monroe meets Robert Johnson at the crossroads and they'll be playing a selection of blues, bluegrass and American Roots Music from 5-8 p.m. on July 3.

Musical fireworks set for July 4

MOUNT MORRIS - Hometown boy, David Orr brings his band, Flibbertijibbet down from La Crosse, Wis., to celebrate Independence Day with a free concert on the band shell from 5-8 p.m. on July 4th.

With Orr playing drums, this band has been together for 30 years and brings to the stage an eclectic blend of rock, Americana, jam and folk music all wrapped into one package. Lead by singer, songwriter and guitarist Drew Dockry, Flibjib is starting their extensive Midwest tour here in support of their new CD, "A Mississippi Life." The band includes Eric "Guido" Lemon on bass, Kyle Renfro on lead guitar and vocals and Matt Salvo on keyboards.

Coming from different backgrounds they fuse their approach to deliver their version of some of the finest rock-n-roll a la The Band, The Grateful Dead, The Rolling Stones, Counting Crows & Phish. Proud to call themselves a Jam Band they might string three songs together and play for 20 minutes just as much as delivering straight up songs about characters who've always lived in the American diaspora. There's songs about the Old West, young lovers, rebels and seekers but perhaps the overarching theme of their music is happiness with a rich vein of songs celebrating life.

Come join the fun on our beautiful, historic campus in the center of Mt. Morris, two blocks south of Rt. 64 on Wesley Avenue.

Park concert fun

What a beautiful night it was at Oregon Park West on Tuesday, June 22 for the second Concert In The Park. With the cooler temperature, people were all smiles enjoying good music, dinner and tasty treats from the food trucks, and the chance to be with friends and family and enjoy time together in the park. A very special thank you to the KSB Clinic of Oregon for sponsoring Soda. The band played many classic rock hits from the 80's, featuring horns. The kids loved this band as they were able to play shakers and dance and even sing with the band. It was a great night and so fun to see people out enjoying themselves! We couldn't do it without our generous sponsors. Thank you KSB Clinic. Join us next Tuesday, June 29 at Park West for the 6:30 p.m. concert. The WindBreakers will be playing "Yacht Rock" tunes from the 70's and 80's, sponsored by The Harvard State Bank.

5 Things Homebuyers Need To Know When Making an Offer

1. Know Your Numbers

Having a complete understanding of your budget and how much house you can afford is essential. That's why you should connect with a lender to get pre-approved for a loan early in the homebuying process. Taking this step shows sellers you're a serious, qualified buyer and can give you a competitive edg local real estate agents do this every day, and we know what works. That expertise can be used to give you a significant leg up on your competition. An agent can help you consider what levers you can pull that might be enticing to a seller, like: Offering flexible rent-back options to give the seller more time In such a competitive market, emotions and prices can run high. Use an agent as your trusted advisor to make a strong, but fair offer based on market value, recent sales, and demand.

5. Be a Flexible Negotiator

If you followed tip #3, you drafted the offer with the seller's needs in mind. That said, the seller may still counter with their own changes. Be prepared to amend your offer to include flexible move-in dates, a higher price, or minimal contingencies (conditions you set that the seller must meet for the purchase to be finalized) in a bidding war.

2. Brace for a Fast Pace

Today's market is dynamic and fast-paced. According to the Realtors Confidence Index from the National Association of Realtors (NAR), the average home is on the market for just 17 days - that means from start to finish, a house for sale in today's climate is active for roughly 2.5 weeks. A skilled agent will do everything they can to help you stay on top of every possible opportunity

3. Lean on a Real Estate Professional

While homebuying may seem like a whirlwind process to you,

Your ability to do a quick close or make an offer that's not contingent on the sale of your current home

It may seem simple, but catering to what a seller may need can help your offer stand out.

4. Make a Strong, but Fair Offer

Let's face it - we all love a good deal. In the past, offering at or near the asking price was enough to make your offer appealing to sellers. In today's market, that's often not the case. According to Lawrence Yun, Chief Economist at NAR:

"For every listing there are 5.1 offers. Half of the homes are being sold above list price."

Bottom Line

When it's time to make an offer, it's important to consider not just what you need, but what the seller may need too. Contact a professional at RE/MAX of Rock Valley for expert advice on this step in the homebuying process. Relying on a RE/MAX of Rock Valley agent and their knowledge and guidance can help you put your best offer on the table.

ARTS

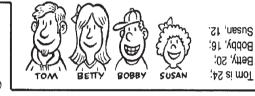

A TRICKY PROBLEM!

Make up eight cards with the numbers 1,2,3,4,5,7,8 and 9 printed on them. Then, lay out the cards so that they form two columns of four cards each, as shown. Now rearrange these cards, moving as few as possible, so that the numbers in the two columns add up to the same total. Get your friends to try it! P.S.: There's a catch, natch.

Illustrated by David Coulson

AGE SAGE! Can you figure out the ages of our four friends? Tom is four years older than Betty, who is four years older than Bobby, who is four years older than Susan, who is half the age of Tom.

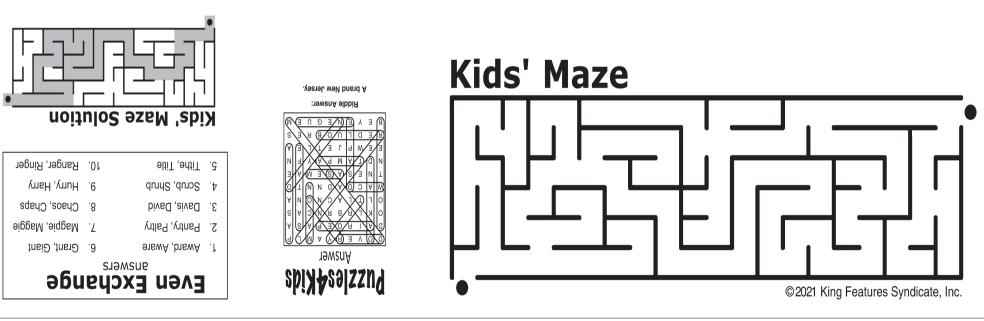

TWIN TOWERS! On the top floor of Tower 1 you'll find the word ARTS. Rearrange the letters to form four new words that you can enter in the remaining floors. When you're done, do the same with EAST on Tower 2. seat, teas (any order is OK).

Tower 1: Arts, rats, star, tars, tsar. Tower 2: East, eats, sate, column now adds up to 18. upside down, making it a 6. Each 8 end the 9 to column 2. Turn the 9 One way: Move the 8 to column 1
