Trustees replacing generator system

BY RUSSELL HODGES SPORTS EDITOR

HILLCREST — Village trustees voted to approve the replacement of the current generator powering the water system during the October board meeting Wednesday evening.

The new generator will cost $180,000 and the village has $75,000 in grant funding it could use to help cover the cost of the project. The generator will provide power for the village water system as well as village hall in the event of an emergency outage. Village trustees were undecided on whether or not to add village hall to the generator's load. which upped the project cost from $140,000 to $180,000, during the previous board meeting in September.

The village board also approved a motion to begin the application process for an Illinois EPA Grant that could provide up to $5 million in funding for the village's future infrastructural improvements. The meeting concluded with an approved motion to pass a $55,707 tax levy.

The village still plans to recognize Rochelle Municipal Utilities for its work in the Hillcrest community over the past several months. The next schedule meeting is Wednesday, Nov. 11.

City of Rochelle begins leaf vacuuming Monday

ROCHELLE-The City of Rochelle will begin providing leaf vacuuming services for residents on Monday, Oct. 19.

The vacuuming service will end Dec. 1 or upon an accumulating snowfall, whichever occurs first.

During this period, other landscape waste (grass, plants, weeds and leaves) may continue to be placed in paper landscape bags or standard garbage containers marked with an "X," (maximum size 32 gallons weighing under 50 pounds), and set at the curb by 5 a.m. for pick-up weekly on your regular garbage day.

Leaf collection will begin at 7 a.m. and will end by 3 p.m., Monday through Friday based on need and weather. The leaf vacuum, towed behind a dump truck, forces the leaves from the parkway into the truck bed. During peak season two leaf vacuums will be operated.

The following rules shall be followed:

Please rake leaves into a pile or row up to the curb, or edge of the road if you do not have a curb. To ensure all leaves are collected, piles and rows shall not exceed 5-feet in width. Do not place leaves on the street as they will clog storm water inlets and could cause flooding.

Please do not place leaves behind obstacles such as trees, poles, hedges, etc.

Please do not park vehicles within 30 feet of a leaf pile or row.

Please do not mix trash, yard waste such as limbs, weeds, grass or any other material with the leaves. Yard waste or other materials mixed with leaves can cause safety concerns and equipment malfunction. For these reasons, these piles will not be accepted.

LOCAL NEWS What to know about the graduated tax amendment

Amendment language, proposed rates and arguments for and against

BY JERRY NOWICKI

CAPITOL NEWS ILLINOIS/JNO-WICKI@CAPITOLNEWSILLINOIS. COM

SPRINGFIELD —

One of the major questions Illinois voters will answer on Nov. 3 will be on the ballot statewide – whether to amend the state's constitution to allow for a graduated rate incometax. Strictly speaking, the amendment removes a provision from the Illinois Constitution that requires any income tax to be levied at a flat rate on any level of income – the current rate is 4.95 percent. Passage of the amendment would allow lawmakers to apply different tax rates on varying levels of income. Of the 42 states that have an income tax, 32 and

Washington, D.C., have a graduated rate structure, while Illinois is one of nine that impose a flat tax.

While the amendment itself does not set any tax rates, legislation already passed by lawmakers and signed by the governor would take effect in January if the amendment passes. The rates created by that legislation would apply to six tax brackets, ranging from 4.75 percent on income up to $10,000 to 7.99 percent on all income for individual filers making more than $750,000.

Here's a look the amendment, the accompanying rate legislation, some of the arguments being made and who is funding the advertising campaigns for and against it.

amendment

Specifically, Article 9, Section 3 of the Illinois Constitution would be amended if the ballot question passes. The new language would read:

"The General Assembly shall provide by law for the rate or rates of any tax on or measured by income imposed by the State. In any such tax imposed upon corporations the highest rate shall not exceed the highest rate imposed on individuals by more than a ratio of 8 to 5."

That would replace the current language, which states:

"A tax on or measured by income shall be at a non-graduated rate. At any one time there may be no more than one such tax imposed by the State for State purposes on individuals and one such tax so imposed on corporations. In any such tax imposed upon corporations the rate shall not exceed the rate imposed on individuals by more than a ratio of 8 to 5."

On the ballot, voters will see the question worded as follows:

"The proposed amendment grants the State authority to impose higher income tax rates on higher income levels, which is how the federal government and a majority of other states do it. The amendment would remove the portion of the Revenue Article of the Illinois Constitution that is sometimes referred to as the "flat tax," that requires all taxes on income to be at the same rate. The amendment does not itself change tax rates. It gives the State the ability to impose higher tax rates on those with higher income levels and lower income tax rates on those with middle or lower income levels. You are asked to decide whether the proposed amendment should become a part of the Illinois Constitution." They'll be able to vote

"yes" or "no," and the amendment has two paths to passage. If it receives 60 percent of the vote from those voting on the question, it passes. But if it fails to reach the 60 percent threshold for those voting on the question but still musters "yes" votes from more than half of those voting in the election, it would still pass.

The rate

mean anyone earning $250,000 or less will pay the same or lower income tax rates under the graduated structure, while those earning above that amount would pay higher rates.

The measure also raises the corporate tax rate to 7.99 percent from 7 percent and does not change the Corporate Property Replacement tax of 1.5 to 2.5 percent which already exists in current law.

It also raises the property tax credit from 5 percent to 6 percent, and creates a $100 per-child tax credit for joint filers earning less than $60,000 annually and single filers earning less than $40,000 annually. The tax credit would decrease by $5 per child for every $2,000 of income a filer has above those amounts.

In estimates released before the COVID-19 pandemic, the governor's office said the graduated tax is expected to bring in about $1.2 billion for the current fiscal year as it would be in place for only part of it, and $3.4 billion once it is in place for a full year.

Neither the amendment nor the accompanying legislation would change the level of authority lawmakers have to raise tax rates. A simple majority vote from both chambers in the General Assembly and a signature from the governor is all that is needed to raise rates currently, and that would remain the case with the passage of the amendment.

The fiscal

For proponents of the measure, the amendment and the rates approved are all about raising more revenue without increasing rates on middle-income earners or making drastic budget cuts to state services, education and public safety. Pritzker frequently notes he inherited a state government "hollowed out" by budget cuts from previous administrations and a two-year state budget impasse during which the state spent roughly $5 billion more than it took in each year, driving a backlog of unpaid bills up to $16 billion. Pritzker has estimated the budget shortfall for the current fiscal year at $6.2 billion, as the COVID-19 pandemic has blown a hole in state finances. Without the graduated tax, which would be in effect for only half of the fiscal year, the shortfall could reach $7.4 billion, he said in April. To fill that gap, the governor has left open the option of borrowing billions from the federal government and has lobbied for greater aid to states in another federal stimulus package. But even before the pandemic, Pritzker pegged Illinois' structural, year-after-year budget deficit at $3.2 billion, and he has framed the graduated tax debate as a choice between 15 percent across-the-board cuts to state government, a 20 percent flat tax hike or passage of the graduated rates.

The proposal to put the amendment question on the ballot was approved with support from only Democrats, as was Senate Bill 687, the accompanying legislation to set graduated rates beginning in January 2021, should the amendment pass. Again, the current rate is 4.95 percent on any taxable income.

The new rate structure would create six tax brackets, with rates applying to margins of taxable income instead of every penny of an earner's income, except for those in the top bracket. The rates would be:

4.75 percent on single orjoint filers' first $10,000 of taxable income

4.9 percent on single or joint filers' income from over $10,000 to $100,000

4.95 percent on single or joint filers' income from over $100,000 to $250,000

7.75 percent on a single filer's income from over $250,000 to $350,000 and joint filers' from over $250,000 to $500,000

7.85 percent on a single filer's income from over $350,000 to $750,000 and joint filers' from over $350,000 to $1 million

Once a single filer exceeds $750,000 or joint filers exceed $1 million, the top rate of 7.99 percent will apply at a flat rate to every penny of income. For all other earners, the previous brackets apply.

RATE: Opponents argue graduated tax would add to tax burden

On Sept. 24, Lt. Gov. Juliana Stratton said lawmakers "will be forced to consider raising income taxes on all Illinois residents by at least 20 percent, regardless of their level of income" if the graduated income tax fails. That would push the current tax rate to about 6 percent, and would require a simple majority vote in a Legislature dominated by Democrats with or without the passage of the amendment.

But opponents argue that without spending reforms, particularly to unfunded state pension obligations which exceed $137 billion, voters should not consider sending the state more revenue. They also note both graduated tax measures are devoid of any meaningful immediate property tax reforms. Property taxes are levied and collected locally, not by the state, and they fund such things as schools, local governments, fire departments and libraries

Those in favor of the amendment argue the added revenue could make it easier to fully fund the evidence-based funding formula for K-12 schools, which – years down the line, they say – could alleviate property tax pressures by shifting funding responsibility from local taxes to the state.

But opponents are skeptical of what the added revenues would be used for, as the amendment and accompanying legislation contain no guarantees and the state's pension burden continues to increase.

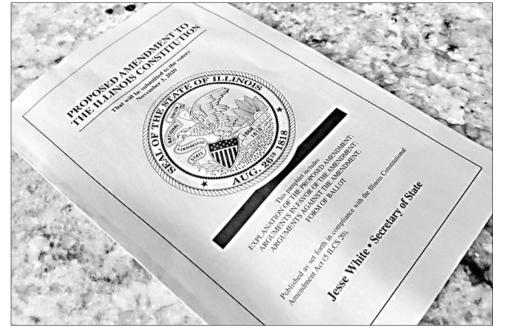

Opponents also point out that Illinois' combined total tax burden - including state and local sales taxes, income taxes, property taxes and others – is the highest in the country, according to the personal finance website Wallethub. The graduated tax would only add to that, they say, claiming that it might drive high-earning residents from the state. Pritzker has said it is middle-income earners who have thus far been more likely to leave the state because, he says, the tax burden is "unfairly" distributed.

Proponents of the amendment, including Pritzker, cite a breakdown which shows the bottom 20 percent of Illinois earners pay 14.4 percent of their total income to state and local taxes, while the top 1 percent of earners pay 7.4 percent of their income in taxes. That's according to a report by the left-leaning Washington D.C.-based Institute on Taxation and Economic Policy.

Other

arguments

Opposition, led in large part by the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, has centered on what the tax would do to businesses and what lawmakers might do in the future if voters give them the opportunity to levy taxes on portions of the electorate at any one time, rather than on every taxpayer at once.

They also point out the added revenues would not cover state budget deficits amid the pandemic and would require further tax hikes in the future, which could mean adjusting the brackets to raise rates on middle-income earners.

The idea, according to much of the advertising against the amendment, is that giving Springfield politicians the authority to raise taxes on just a small group of taxpayers at any one time makes it easier politically to raise taxes, even though the simple majority vote threshold remains unchanged.

Opposition groups also point to June comments from Treasurer Michael Frerichs, a Democrat who has no role in setting tax rates, who said it was "worth a discussion" to consider taxing retirement income on certain brackets.

While the graduated tax would make it possible to implement taxes on high-earning retirees without taxing all retirees, Pritzker has said he and Democrats in the General Assembly oppose taxing any retirement income, and the idea remains widely unpopular in Illinois – one of 12 states that do not tax retirement income. Of those 12, nine do not levy income taxes at all.

The senior advocacy group AARP held a news conference earlier this month noting added revenue from the graduated tax could make lawmakers less likely to tax retirement income in order to fill budget gaps. But opponents continue to point to Frerichs' comments, although the treasurer has since said he does not support a retirement tax.

While those against the measure say the increase to the corporate tax rate will hit job creators hard at a time when the pandemic is already making it difficult to remain afloat, proponents note that businesses structured as pass-through entitiessuch as S corporations, sole proprietors and others who claim business income on personal taxes – will see taxes decrease if they earn less than $250,000 annually in taxable income.

Opponents also take issue with the amendment's removal of language which states "there may be no more than one such tax imposed by the State for State purposes on individuals and one such tax so imposed on corporations," claiming the removal of the language allows for tax bills such as "education surcharges" or other such fees on top of the regular income tax.

Those in favor of the bill, however, say the prohibition on levying multiple income taxes was simply a companion to the requirement for a single flat tax rate. The framers' inclusion of the language, proponents say, was aimed at stopping lawmakers from creating a multi-tiered tax structure through a series of limited flat taxes on different levels of income. Allowing for a graduated tax renders the language moot, they argue.

The funding

The omnipresent TV and social media advertising regarding the amendment has largely been funded thus far by two billionaires whose combined donations top $100 million.

The first is Gov. JB Pritzker, who has donated $56.5 million of his personal fortune to the Vote Yes for Fairness ballot initiative committee.

The other is Kenneth Griffin–Illinois' wealthiest person, founder of the hedge fund Citadel and former major donor to former Republican Gov. Bruce Rauner – who has donated $46.75 million to the Coalition to Stop the Proposed Tax Hike Amendment, a business-tied group led by the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

PARTICIPATING IN FUNERAL

Whether they are religious or not, traditional or not, services after a death are important to survivors. They help us acknowledge that death is real, but they also provide a public way of remembering and paying tribute to the life that is now ended. Both of those purposes are important.

Participation in the funeral service can have special importance to individuals. Whether it is being called upon to read a poem or share a remembrance, taking an active role in the funeral can be rewarding. This includes being called upon to be a pallbearer.

There was a time when this was the exclusive role of men. Today, however, in some parts of the country, women are frequently asked to help bear the coffin of a friend or loved one. Grandchildren in their teens and twenties are often ideal candidates. By placing strong, experienced bearers in strategic positions, almost any can serve the meaningful role of pallbearer.

LOCAL NEWS Embracing freedom over fear

EAR is an enemy that torments the soul and seeks to steal our life. Conquering it is not something that we do in one day; it's something we conquer one day at a time with God's help. Keep confronting them. Galatians 5:1 (NIV) shas set us free. Stand fir be burdened again by a Fear can show up unexpectedly. One of our goals should be to recognize it so we can deal with it right away.

I remember a time when I was waking up at about 2 or 3 in the morning and then having difficulty going back to sleep. After two nights of that, I found myself going to bed with a vague sort of fear that it would happen again, and it did until God reminded me that I could pray and resist Satan, the source of all fear. According to God's Word, the sleep of the righteous should be sweet (Proverbs 3:24). So I prayed immediately and went back to sleep and have not had any problems since then.

Being free from fear doesn't mean that we will never experience fear or be confronted by it. It means that we are committed to not allowing it to rule our lives, and when necessary we will do what we need to do, even if we have to "do it afraid."

Each time you feel fear and decide to do it afraid, you will experience a new freedom and become more determined to end your days of slavery to fear. That doesn't mean you won't still need to confront your fears, but it does mean that you will be more and more resolved to has set us free. Stand firm, then, and do not let yourselves be burdened again by a yoke of slavery." This scripture is very clear that even though we have been completely liberated from a yoke of bondage, we will need at times to "stand firm," and not allow ourselves to be entrapped by it again.

Galatians 5:1 (NIV) says, "It is for freedom that Christ

Satan is very shrewd and he doesn't give up easily. I guess we can say that he never completely gives up the hope of drawing us back into bondage. We must live watchfully, ready to recognize and immediately confront the things that steal our liberty in Christ.

> The Bible says that the righteous man falls seven times and gets up again (Proverbs 24:16). I love that scripture and I'm greatly encouraged by it. Even the most righteous person fails to do everything he knows to do all the time, but he is committed to not giving up. So when you have a weak moment, that doesn't mean you have lost your victory.

> But if we give up, even God can't help us because we receive His help through faith, not through hopelessness. We need to stay positive, hopeful and filled with faith, and when we do, we can overcome anything with God's help. I often say that anyone can succeed if they refuse to give up.

Some fears are more deeply rooted in us than other ones are, and we need to be more aggressive against them. Mine is the fear of making people angry. My father was always angry, and I never really knew if I had done something to make him that way or not. I would like to be able to say that after all of these years of teaching others, I no longer have to deal with this fear, but that's not the case. However, the good news is, now I recognize it and deal with it, so I still have the victory.

Being able to recognize the lies, deceits and strategies of the devil is so important. We should always be ready to resist him at the onset of his attacks. Because the longer we let a fear remain, the more difficult it is to get rid of it. So make a decision to be a person of action, and remember that in Christ, you have what it takes to win.

The Word of God says that we are more than conquerors through Christ who loves us (Romans 8:37). God has given us everything we will ever need to overcome our fears through Christ...every spiritual blessing (Ephesians 1:3)...and His power and authority to overcome the power of the enemy (Luke 10:19). We have what it takes, but we must be active and never give up.

I want to encourage you to be patient with yourself. Possessing the full freedom that is yours in Christ is a journey. And it's important to enjoy your progress instead of merely looking at how far you have to go. Today is a new day, and every day you can be one step closer to conquering your fears.

kidding. In reality the dino sold for a little over $31 million and it was sold to a private individual, who has not been identified.

I'd like to think a rich relative bought it and is giving it to me for as a Christmas present, but I doubt it. Mainly because I don't have any rich relatives.

I can't help but think what $31 million could buy besides a dinosaur but what an individual decides to do with their money is none of my business.

Over the summer a billionaire gave the city of Chicago $5 million to repair a portion of the lakefront recreation path. That is a lot of money. But if you have $10,000 and give away $1, percentage wise you are giving about the same as the billionaire.

I love watching the flocks of starlings or grackles as they go into and out of corn fields after a harvest. They form a cloud that is constantly shifting. I am mesmerized by their movements and wonder how they don't fly guess my idea for the is also doing very well.

Have you ever watched ants at work? That's what I think about whenever I see a farmer harvesting. Their machines are like ants munching up the corn and soybeans at an amazingly fast rate.

Two weeks ago fields were full, now most are barren.

Kudos to the farmers and the truck drivers, tractor drivers, and all the other people involved in getting the harvest in safely.

And remember, harvest time is a dangerous time for all those people involved. If you approach a farm vehicle on the road slow down and give it plenty of room. Watch for semi trucks turning from one road to another; they frequently need a lot of room to make that turn.

Younger people give me hope for future

ALKING with teenagers always makes me feel two things.

First, it makes me feel old. And I mean really old. Old like a piece of my body might fall off at any time. Old like when I breathe out a puff of dust flies into the air.

Old like I want to take a shot of Metamucil and tell them all to get off my lawn.

You know, old. The other thing it makes me feel is hopeful. You know, hopeful like maybe the world isn't completely doomed after all. I had these feelings last week when I had a chance to talk with a class at Oregon High School. This was a small class of students who were working on the school paper. Who better to talk with them than the editor of the local newspaper? OK, maybe an astronaut would have been more exciting. Certainly a TV personality or someone who understands what Billie Eilish is so down about would be better. But they got me.

(If you have no idea who this Billie Eilish person is, you are in worse shape than me, pal.)

I enjoy talking with school groups, or any group, really, about my chosen profession. I am very proud of what I do, and I have had the opportunity to do some cool things as a journalist. But I especially love to talk with younger people about it. Let's face it, journalism is often maligned and dismissed these days. That, of course, makes me sad. But it also makes me not envy the young. Sure, they have the world at their fingertips. That cellphone in their pocket/purse/backpack can open up the world to them. Pretty much any piece of information can be googled and brought to them in a matter of seconds.

That's good, right? Yes, it certainly is a good thing. But in such a divisive world with legitimate news sources harder to find than a politician who actually has personal integrity, instant information can be an enemy to a free country.

What sources do you trust? That is a question that will haunt this country and this world into the future. If you have no history under-Brad standing what a good Jennings source is, you are more likely to fall for the false sources that are multiplying on the Internet daily And how about the failing environment? We can ignore the truth, but it is still the truth – global warming is here and it is a massive problem. I will probably be dead before the catastrophe comes, but these young people will have to deal with things my generation and those before us have ignored.

And as I mentioned before, we have never been more divided as a nation. Just recently a plot by militia members to abduct the governor of Michigan because they disagreed with her was uncovered and stopped. The fact that this wasn't a bigger deal than it was says a lot about our country. And none of it is good.

But when I meet and talk with younger people, I am always reminded that they can be smart and inquisitive and they understand the world they live in - probably better than we do. They grew up with cellphones and social media and horribly divided politics. They have a nose for the truth and reality that many of us do not. I feel better knowing that the future is in pretty good hands. We all should feel good about that.

The road project in the downtown area is nearing completion. Streets have been blacktopped and crews were painting crosswalks and parking spaces this week.

Rochelle Edward Jones office supporting Toys for Tots drive

ROCHELLE — Anthony Rowley, a local Edward Jones financial advisor, is supporting the Ogle County Toys for Tots program by using his office as a drop-off location for this year's toy drive.

Local residents may help needy children in the area by bringing in a new, unwrapped toy to the office, 326 Lincoln Highway, during regular business hours beginning through Friday, Nov. 20.

"With the holiday season around the corner, we are all getting ready for the festivities," Rowley said. "And as this is the season of giving, now is a great time to remember the less fortunate in our community."

Lady Hub doubles teams start strong at IHSA 1A Rochelle Sectional

BY RUSSELL HODGES SPORTS EDITOR

ROCHELLE — The only way that Lady Hub tennis players Jordin Dickey and MeLisa Young could reach the third round of the IHSA 1A Rochelle Sectional on Friday was to defeat two doubles players from Freeport who bested them in match play earlier in the week.

Rochelle and Freeport faced each other on Tuesday, with Pretzel netters Amiah MIsek and Reese Coon topping Dickey and Young in two sets. The two doubles combos squared off once again Friday afternoon in the second round of the sectional tournament, but it was Misek and Coon who were on the defensive, as Dickey and Young claimed the first set to take the lead.

The Lady Hubs fell behind late in the second set, trailing 5-4 before a crucial break point tipped the scales briefly in Rochelle's favor. The set ultimately went to a tiebreaker point, with Dickey and Young finishing strong to win the point and the match 6-4, 7-6(2).

"We really wanted to beat the Freeport girls because we lost to them on Tuesday," Young said. "Our intentions were to go out and play our hardest and that's what we did. We knew we had to hit the ball where they weren't and keep our intensity up. It was a tough match, but it's only going to get tougher so we have to come back and continue to do our best."

Dickey and Young are one of two Lady Hub doubles pairs who are still alive in the sectional tournament. The two juniors opened their side of the bracket with a first-round victory over Newman Central Catholic's Brynlee Hermeyer and Maddy Verdick (6-4, 6-3), overcoming a nearly two-hour-long rain delay late in the second set of their match.

Seniors setting example for returning players

Ohlinger, Harrington among underclassmen ready to step up next season

BY RUSSELL HODGES

SPORTS EDITOR

ROCHELLE — Head coach Glen Mehrings wasn't sure what to expect from his players when the Rochelle Township High School golf program teed off the 2020 season in August. While the COVID-19 pandemic limited practice opportunities during the spring and summer, the Hubs pushed through the unprecedented circumstances and posted a sixwin season along the way.

Rochelle finished 6-6 overall and 2-5 in the Interstate 8 Conference this fall. It was the second straight season the Hubs recorded six victories, and although Rochelle will be graduating three varsity seniors, there are several returning players who could step up for the Hubs in 2021.

"It's hard for e kids to develop the kids to develop great physical habits when we only have a seven-week season," Mehrings said. "The kids tried really hard to develop their swing mechanics and their mental framework for how to attack the course, negotiate tough shots and stay calm under pressure. There are so many variables that go into becoming a better golfer, and our kids had to negotiate through a lot of stressful situations this year. The kids followed the example set by our seniors and they never panicked throughout the season. It was a great group of kids."

Among Rochelle's graduating seniors will be Megan Thiravong, who departs as the most accomplished player in school history. Thiravong finished her career as a four-time conference, regional and sectional medalist as well as a three-time IHSA State Championship qualifier. The Lady Hub standout was Rochelle's first-ever female conference champion and as a freshman, she became the program's first female player to qualify for state in over two decades.

"Megan set an example for the other kids," Mehrings said. "She was always willing to help out the other players and she's easily the most decorated golfer I've had in my 28 years here. She would have been a four-time state qualifier this year, and she improved her scores at the state meet each year. It was a pleasure to see her develop over her four years with the program."

Seniors Reese Kirk and newcomer Dominic Williams are also set to depart after holding down two of the team's top four varsity spots in 2020. Sophomore Griffin Ohlinger, who earned an All-Conference Honorable Mention this season, headlines a trio of underclassmen that could see varsity action next year. Sophomores Damen Harrington and Wade Smith, as well as juniors Brett Ferguson and Levi Lawhorn, could see their roles increase in 2021.

Freshman Alivia Henkel could also be in line to carry the torch as Rochelle's lone female player next season.

"Good things will happen when our players put in the time to improve, and it was really nice to see a new player like Dominic do that because the younger players see that," Mehrings said. "Reese is a player who really loves golf and wants to practice and compete every day. He has a competitive, fun personality and he helped set an example for our team over the last four years... Reese was a great athlete with a lot of raw talent who wanted to get better each year."

SPORTS GIRLS: McGee, Hasz clinch top-4 doubles finish

"We worked together really well today and we were talking to each other a lot," Dickey said. "We only made a few mistakes throughout the day. Our serves were really strong toward the end of the Freeport match and we were really hyped up to win. As long as we keep working together, I think we have a chance to come back and play really well."

On the other side of the bracket, senior Sawyer McGee and junior Sylvia Hasz clinched a top-4 sectional finish after winning both of their doubles matches Friday afternoon. The Lady Hubs received a first-round bye before defeating Dixon's Miriya Jones and Kyarra McGlown 6-2, 6-2.

"We knew we needed to step up today and stay focused," Hasz said. "We need to come back with the same mindset we had today and be ready to go if we want to win."

McGee and Hasz had no trouble in the third round, beating Belvidere's Teresa Madera and Jasmin Camargo 6-2, 6-1 to earn a spot in the semifinal round Saturday morning. In the singles bracket, senior Anna Guevara fell 0-6, 0-6 against Freeport's Jamie Rodriguez, while junior Emma Hicks was taken down by Sterling's Madison Hubbs, losing 1-6, 1-6.

"We kept our energy up throughout the whole day, even during the rain delay,' McGee said. "The tennis team has been doing so well this year, and even though there have been times where we haven't taken home the win, finishing in the top four is really awesome."

Freeport

The Lady Hubs played their final regular season match Tuesday, falling 4-1 against the Freeport Pretzels to move to 6-12 overall.

Juniors Megan Thompson and Josie Lundquist teamed up to score one point for the Lady Hubs, defeating Freeport's Caroline Helms and Angelina Wolford 8-4 at No. 3 doubles. Senior Anna Guevara fell 2-6, 0-6 against Pretzel netter Anika Foster at No. 1 singles, while junior Emma Hicks fell 3-6, 0-6 against Freeport's Kyla Plowman at No. 2 singles.

NIU Football

Huskie defense has share of youth, experience

DEKALB — Fall was definitely in the air as the Northern Illinois University football team took to the practice field for the 11th time this preseason camp Wednesday morning.

With temps in the mid-40s, the Huskies worked out for an hour and 40 minutes in full pads in what marked the midpoint of this unconventional camp. Each side of the ball had their moments during practice and there has been plenty of give and take.

"It's been very competitive on both sides of the ball," said NIU head coach Thomas Hammock. "I couldn't be more pleased where we're at with this team. The things they're showing, especially the second year in the program. I know what it looked like last year, and it looks a lot different [this year]. We have to continue to stack days, continue to do the things necessary to keep improving as a football team, but I'm very excited about the progress right now. We grade every practice. I have a grading system I brought with me from Baltimore and it grades different things at practice. The whole goal is to make practice as competitive as possible. We had a stretch where the defense won two days in a row, then the offense came back and dominated. What I explained to the team is there should be some give and take on both sides of the ball if you have a good team." Freshman wide receiver Trayvon Rudolph had a good day Wednesday. Rudolph was given a one-onone rep early in practice. Unbeknownst to him or the coaching staff, Hammock had a scholarship available for Rudolph, who made the catch and earned a scholarshiptoNIU.Hevalidatedhis coach's faith making a pair of incredible catches during the team periods.

The defense had its moments during practice as well. Linebacker Jordan Cole stepped in front of an Andrew Haidet pass in the flat for a pick six and newcomer Eddie Jackson made an incredible interception off Ross Bowers at the boundary, grabbing the ball in midair and coming down with his feet in bounds. Associate head

with what his charges have done in camp so far, given that the last few weeks have been the first time he's been able to work with them as a unit this year.

mer," Jackson said. "It being kind of a non-traditional year, all the hands-on things that would've benefitted the young guys, you're teaching guysovervideo, aplaybook, etc. and not be physically in front of them. You don't get that look in their eyes or they don't get the mental reps. This last week and a half have been the first time to actually see them play football to assess where they are."

NIU's defensiveunitisamixof youth and experience, and sometimes you get that in one player, like linebacker Nick Rattin. The defensive side of the ball was hit hard with injuries last season, losing linebackers Lance Deveaux

Both Pugh and DeVeaux Jr. are back, as is safety Dillon Thomas, who saw a lot of action late in the season as injuries mounted and players shifted positions. Weston Kramer provides a veteran presence for the Huskies up front.

"If you asked, how would you want to build a defense, we'd say you obviously need someone up front to lead, you need someone in the middle at the second level to lead and you'd need someone at the backend to be able to communicate," Jackson said. "We have a communicator, with experience, at all three levels of our defense. They're all really good guys with working with our younger guys.

Hammock is impressed with what's he's seen from Huskie defense. "When you have a physical mentality and approach, you're trying to get to the ball with bad intentions. These guys are fun to coach. They bring a lot of energy. They bring a lot of urgency."

The Huskies, who open the six-game regular season schedule on Wednesday, Nov. 4 when they play host to Buffalo, return to the practice field Friday. Game times and television for the 2020 season will be announced at a later date.

Huskie fans are invited to support NIU studentathletes from all 17 sport programs and contribute to the department's CO-VID-19 relief efforts this month during the Huskies Invest: The Campaign fundraising effort. To donate, click here or call 815-753-1923 Monday-Friday. For more information, go to huskieathleticfund.com/ huskiesinvest.

"The challenge that we're having is installing a defense with over 50 percent of the guys haven't been on this campus until the sumJr. before the season and KylePughinweektwo.Asa result, guys like Rattin were put out on the field earlier than anticipated.

the unit through the first two weeks of camp.

"They're physical and they're not afraid to mix it up," Hammock said of the

CELEBRITY EXTRA

Q: What is Jim Caviezel doing these days? I really loved his portrayal of Jesus in Mel Gibson's movie years ago. -- O.S.

NBC's "SNL" and Josh on Fox's "Mad TV." Sethnow has his own talk show on NBC,

"Late Night with Seth Meyers," while Josh is still writing and acting. He also pops up occasionally on "Late Night" doing celebrity impressions, including his hilarious Matthew McConaughey and California Gov. Gavin Newsome. Jim Caviezel

A: Jim Caviezel grew up in a Catholic family and likely caught the acting bug from his mom, as she was a theater actress. He first gained attention for his role in the war movie "The Thin Red Line." In 2004, he gained worldwide fame starring in "The Passion of the Christ."

Since the mid-2000s, he has done some smaller films, but is probably recognized more for his role on the hit TV show "Person of Interest." It ran for five years on CBS and also starred Michael Emerson ("Lost") and Amy Acker ("Angel"). The 52-year-old Caviezel's current project is the action film "Infidel," which premiered in theaters in September, and the upcoming "Sound of Freedom," which is noted to be in the post-production stage and also stars Mira Sorvino.

If you're keeping track of Gibson's career, he's set to direct a remake of the Sam Peckinpah film "The Wild Bunch," about a group of bandits chased by bounty hunters.

Q: Doesn't Seth Meyers, who used to do the news on "Saturday Night Live," have a twin brother who was on "Mad TV"? Is he still acting or is he doing something else these days? -- G.P.

A. Seth and his younger brother Josh may strongly resemble one another, but they're not twins. For a while they were on competing sketch comedy shows at the same time, Seth on

Q: Who is actress Helen Mirren married to? I always thought it was a famous director, but my husband said it's Keanu Reeves. -- P.S.

A: British actress Helen Mirren has been married to Hollywood director Taylor Hackford for more than two decades. His credits include the Oscar-nominated Ray Charles biopic "Ray," which starred Jamie Foxx, and the acclaimed "An Officer and a Gentleman," which starred Richard Gere and Debra Winger.

He met Mirren while directing her in the drama "White Nights," about a Russian ballet dancer. However, they took their time with their relationship and didn't marry until a decade later. In fact, Mirren has said in interviews that previously she had no intention of ever walking down the aisle, but then she "met the right turnip" in Hackford, and they've been together ever since.

As for Keanu Reeves, your husband might have gotten the idea because Reeves' silver-haired girlfriend, artist Alexandra Grant, resembles Mirren. He walked the red carpet with her last spring, and online message boards lit up with questions asking if Keanu was dating Mirren. Both of these beautiful, accomplished ladies probably took this as a compliment.

Part-time mailroom position

The Rochelle News-Leader has a parttime mailroom position open that would include inserting flyers, banding bundles and occasionally help stacking papers coming off the press.

The position typically calls for 24-28 hours per week over four or five days per week, and includes mandatory shifts on Fridays and Saturdays when work load is heaviest.

Applicants must be able to quickly insert advertising flyers into newspapers, strap and lift medium-sized bundles onto a delivery truck, and work well as a team with others to follow instructions, pay attention to detail and get newspapers out the door.

Mailroom staff members are also asked to perform other basic duties in the department as needed, and may be trained to drive a fork lift.

Anyone (18 years or older) interested in this position should apply in person at the Rochelle News-Leader office, 211 Hwy. 38 E., Rochelle, IL 61068.
