Fox sightings alarm pet owners

BY ANDREW HEISERMAN STAFF WRITER

ROCHELLE-Recent fox sightings in town have many owners of small pets thinking twice about letting their house animals outside unattended. In the last few weeks, multiple residents have commented on social media about a fox roaming around their neighborhoods, and on occasion reported attack attempts on rabbits and cats near homes. Two recent sightings in Rochelle were reported near Central School on Ninth Street and at St. Paul Church and School on 10th Avenue near 14th Street.

"I was on the phone with my mom and all of a sudden she started screaming and said the fox was right up by her porch,"

Rochelle resident John Shank captured this photo of what the Illinois Department of Natural Resources has identified as a red fox. Shank encountered the wild animal while walking his dog near St. Paul Lutheran Church on 10th Avenue early Thursday morning. The animal came running out of the 14th Street intersection to chase down a baby rabbit on the St. Paul grounds just 25 feet from Shank and the small dog, and then quickly ran off with the prey across the street before disappearing behind a neighbor's yard.

local resident Bree Celine said. "It was looking right at her cat and lunged for it. Luckily she screamed to scare the fox away and got the cat inside before it was too late."

Celine said she called local authorities and county animal control about the incident and was directed to the Illinois Department of Natural Resources. After speaking with an IDNR official, she was told private trappers would need to be hired to capture the fox.

"I just really hope that something can be done about this," Celine said. "Because I don't want anything to happen to anybody's pets."

While many people might wonder why foxes chose to come into town and how to get rid of them, local resident Emily Page believes that it is to protect their young from predators.

"I grew up on a farm and have seen this before," Page said. "If they (foxes) are out in the wild, there is no protection from coyotes that hunt for their babies. So, the foxes go where they are protected and surrounded by people where coyotes will not go. Then, once the kits are old enough, they go back out where they are supposed to be."

According to the IDNR, foxes are very important to the ecosystem by helping control the population of rabbits and rodents, but they can sometimes become a nuisance in com-

The best way to prevent a fox from attacking pets is to limit the opportunities of it happening.

Preventing wildlife attacks on pets

Having a pet attacked or killed by wildlife is a traumatic experience. However, there are easy steps you can take to prevent attacks and keep your pet(s) safe.

Watch out for your pets. Keep pets inside when possible. When a pet does go outside, make sure it is on a leash or in a fenced-in yard with access to shelter. Small dogs, cats, rabbits and other domestic pets should never be left alone outside at night.

Library hosting virtual events

Summer reading program and annual pet show happening online

BY ANDREW HEISERMAN STAFF WRITER

ROCHELLE - To keep everybody safe during the current COVID-19 pandemic, the Flagg-Rochelle Public Library announced it will be holding some of its annual events and programs virtually.

The library recently announced it will be conducting its annual Pet Show and summer reading program completely virtually this year. The library has partnered with a program that allows individuals to sign up and keep track of their reading both online and on their own.

The summer reading program is open to people of all ages and is broken up into different age groups accordingly. To register themselves, their child or both, individuals can visit www.flaggrochelle.readsquared.com, answer a few registration questions and they will be assigned to the proper age group.

The different age groups are: Infants to age

"Many of the kids are so busy all of the time, so it is hard to get them to come into the library for the program. So, with it being different and them keeping track on their own, we are hoping that it will spark the interest of more readers."

garten), age 5 (attending kindergarten) to 12, ages 13-17 and ages 18-19+. While individuals keep track of their reading online, the library will also be monitoring the progress and will announce surprises throughout the program.

"We will be keeping an eye on things and throughout the summer we have some specials things planned to reward them for their reading," said Connie Avery, youth services librarian and assistant library director. "If they participate this week, maybe they will get a book bag or something like that."

The library is currently accepting applicants for the program and readers will have until mid-August to finish books. While the program will be conducted much different than it has in the past, the library is hoping the new online system will increase flexibility and allow for more readers to participate.

"Many of the kids are so busy all of the time, so it is hard to get them to come into the library for the program," Avery said. "So, with it being different and them keeping track on their own, we are hoping that it will spark the interest of more readers."

Pet show

The library has also

"For years, every pet has won a blue ribbon for something special that pet is first place at. So, we are hoping people tell us a little bit about their pets so that they can all be a winner at something."

Connie Avery

announced that its annual Pet Show will be conducted online as well. This would have marked the 60th year the show has taken place at the library, but out of concern for safety, it will be conducted online.

While the library cannot allow pets and people in person, it still wants to showcase pets within the community. The library is asking anybody who would like their pet featured on Facebook to email a photo of the pet, along with something special about the pet, to Connie Avery at ConnieA@flaggrochellepubliclibrary.org.

"For years, every pet has won a blue ribbon for something special that pet is first place at," said Avery. "So, we are hoping people tell us a little bit about their pets so that they can all be a winner at something."

Photos of any kind of pet, alive or stuffed, will be accepted and featured on Facebook. In previous years, the library has featured dogs, cats, lizards, a horse and even a pair of ducks last year.

The library is currently accepting photos and will post a new animal each day on its Facebook page until the photos stop coming in. Both the kids within the community and the library staff look forward to this event every year.

"This is one of my favorite days all year long," said Avery. "Not every library has something like this, so it is something very special that our library does for the community."

If anybody has any questions or concerns about either of the events or help logging into the summer reading program website call the library at 815-562-3431 or email Connie Avery at ConnieA@flaggrochellepubliclibrary.org.

Ogle-Lee Fire Protection District in need of paid-on-call volunteers

BY ANDREW HEISERMAN

STAFF WRITER

LL fire departments within the Ogle-Lee Fire Protection District are asking the community for its help as they are currently in need of more paid-on-call volunteers.

The Ogle-Lee Fire Protection District consists of five different fire departments that work and train together as one unit. The departments include Rochelle, Hillcrest, Creston, Flagg Center and Steward and all are in need of volunteers.

Paid on-call volunteers are called in for help anytime the department needs the extra hands. whether full-time employees are on vacation or out on a separate call. The Rochelle Fire Department currently has 28 paid on-call volunteers, but some are more active than others. While these volunteers can be called in at any time of the day or night, the department is especially in need of individuals who can be available between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

"We staff four firefighters a day, essentially enough for one call," said Rochelle Fire Chief Dave Sawlsville. "But, frequently

"I would like to emphasize that all five stations are really looking hard and could use the help. If you have an interest and the time, you are going to be helping out your community and your own neighbor."

Chief Dave Sawlsville

we will get simultaneous calls, we will get two or three ambulance calls going at the same time. When this happens, we have to use our full-timers and call in our paid on-calls at the same time.'

Anybody who is over the age of 18 and under the age of 65 can sign up to be a paid on-call volunteer, as long as they meet four requirements. Individuals must have no criminal background, a valid driver's license, an equivalent to a high school diploma and pass a drug screening.

Pay for on-call volunteers starts at a minimum of $10 an hour depending on certification. This pay can go up or even turn into a full-time position if an individual seems to be a good fit for the department. Along with the pay and helping local communities stay safe, being an on-call volunteer also offers valuable experience.

"Once you become a volunteer, we send you through a lot of training," Sawlsville said. "We will get you licenses in Emergency Medical Training and we will send you through a basic ops firefighters class to get you certified as a firefighter.'

Anybody who's interested in signing up to become a paid oncall volunteer can get an application from their local fire department on Monday from 7-9 p.m. Applications for any department in the Ogle-Lee Fire Protection District can also be acquired by stopping by the Rochelle Fire Department, located at 401 5th Ave. in Rochelle.

"I would like to emphasize that all five stations are really looking hard and could use the help," Sawlsville said. "If you have an interest and the time, you are going to be helping out your community and your own neighbor."

FOX: Tips given to pet owners

Reduce food sources. Property owners should limit the availability of unintentional food sources such as spilled bird seed, pet food, ripe fruit or trash. When these resources are available, they attract mice and other small mammals. That in turn attracts predators such as coyotes and foxes to the neighborhood.

Use a leash when going for a walk. Like any parent, wildlife will aggressively defend their young. If a coyote or fox starts following you and your dog while you are walking, you may have accidentally gotten too close to a den. Keep your dog close to you, wave your arms, throw rocks (to scare the animal away, not to injure it) and shout until the animal stops following or goes away. Find another route to walk for a few weeks.

Talk with your neighbors. Let others know if you've seen covotes or foxes in the neighborhood. A coyote or fox moving through a neighborhood is not usually cause for concern. A coyote or fox that approaches people may indicate a situation that could later escalate. These animals should be driven away from homes and yards so they don't become comfortable in these areas. Yelling, arm waving, banging pots or pans or spraying water from a hose are all ways to let the animals know they aren't welcome in that area.

Carry an umbrella. Sometimes hawks, red-winged blackbirds or other birds will "dive bomb" people or pets. Using an umbrella will keep the bird a safe distance away from you and your pet.

Cyclospora cayetanensis is a parasite composed of one cell, too small to be seen without a microscope. This parasite causes an intestinal infection called cyclosporiasis. Cyclospora is spread by people ingesting something—such as food or water—that was contaminated with feces (stool). Cyclospora needs time (typically, at least 1–2 weeks) after being passed in a bowel movement to become infectious for another person. Therefore, it is unlikely that Cyclospora is passed directly from one person to another.

Symptoms

Cyclospora infects the small intestine (bowel) and usually causes watery diarrhea, with frequent, sometimes explosive, bowel movements. Other common symptoms include loss of appetite, weight loss, stomach cramps/pain, bloating, increased gas, nausea, and fatigue. Vomiting, body aches, headache, fever, and other flu-like symptoms may be noted. Some people who are infected with Cyclospora do not have any symptoms.

consideration in planning a funeral, but there are other things to take into account as well. One of them is finding a funeral director you trust, one comfortable during emotional and trying time. If you do not know a funeral

Understanding faith and how it works

THAT is faith? And what does it look like to actually live by faith? These are important questions, because we receive and experience the blessings God has for us Hebrews 11:1 says, "Faith is the assurance (title deed, confirmation) of things hoped for (divinely guaranteed), and the evidence of things not seen [the conviction of their reality – faith comprehends as fact what cannot be experienced by the physical senses]" (AMP).

I like to define faith as the hand that reaches out and receives what God has for us. By faith we believe what God says in His Word is true, that it's for us, and that we will receive everything He wants to give us. We believe we have His promises before we get them or experience them.

Everyone has faith, but not everyone puts their faith in God. For example, when a person sits in a chair, they have faith that the chair will hold them. People drive to work because they have faith in the traffic laws that make it possible to travel on the roads.

But first and foremost, we need to put our faith in God and the truth of the Bible.

Romans 1:17 says, "For in the gospel the righteousness of God is revealed, both springing from faith and leading to faith [disclosed in a way that awakens more faith]. As it is written... 'The just and upright shall live

This verse reveals that we're saved by faith and we are created to live by faith. In order to live by faith, we have to release it, and there are three ways we do that: praying, saying and doing.

Prayer is the greatest privilege we have! It's amazing that we can personally communicate with Almighty God, the Creator of the Universe. That means we can talk to Him and He hears us, and He wants to talk to us.

One of the main ways we hear God's voice is through His Word, which is why it's critically important for us to study the Bible. When we diligently study the Word, we get revelation of who God is, how He loves us, and what His will is for our lives. We learn how to pray for the things He wants to give us...the kind of life Jesus died for us to have.

James 4 says that people live in strife, quarreling and fighting, because they try to get what they want and they're jealous of what others have, but they can't make it happen for themselves. Verses 2-3 say, "You covet but cannot get what you want, so you quarrel and fight. You do not have because you do not ask God. When you ask, you do not receive, because you ask with wrong motives, that you may spend what you get on your pleasures" (NIV).

Have you been trying to get something or make something happen and you're frustrated because you can't achieve it? Maybe you're struggling because you're striving to do it in your own strength or you're going after things that aren't right for you or in God's plan for your

We need to pray and ask God for what we want, but we need to ask for the blessings He wants to give us. I often pray like this: "God, I'm going to ask You for everything I want, but if I ask for something that's not right for me, please don't give it to me. I really only want what YOU want for me, because You know what's best for me.

There are some situations where we may not know for sure what God's will is, and that's when we need to trust that if we don't get what we think we want, it's because He has something better for us. But there are many things we can ask for with assurance and confident expectation that God will give them because He promises them to us in His Word. Here are a few...

You don't have to be lonely because God is always with you (Psalm 73:23; Hebrews 13:50).

You can have peace in every situation (John 14:27; Philippians 4:6-7).

You can have God's wisdom for every decision (James

You have the strength, in Christ, to do whatever you need to do (Philippians 4:13).

God loves you and He has an amazing plan for your life (John 3:16; 1 John 4:9-10; Jeremiah 29:11).

God has so much more for you than what you have experienced so far in your life. Make it your number one priority to spend time with Him every day in prayer and Bible study, and begin boldly asking Him to give you every good thing He's planned for you.

Put your faith in God in every area of your life and everything you do, and you'll discover how living by faith really is an amazing adventure.

Masks important in stopping spread

THERE has been an explosion of CO-VID-19 cases in several states. Masks are now mandatory in Miami, with businesses and individuals possibly facing fines for not wearing masks.

experiencing surges in cases. Illinois seems to be holding steady...hopefully that will continue.

Again, masks are an important weapon in containing the virus. Even if someone does not feel sick, they may be positive. Masks will contain their sneezes, coughs and breath exhales, which means the rest of us will be safer.

Some residents in Miami compared the mandatory mask rule to communism, socialism, an erosion of freedom, and even the devils's work.

Scientists, doctors and the Centers for Disease Control officials continue to say masks help contain the virus. They also suggest staying home if you are not feeling well, washing your hands often, and avoiding large crowds.

Please wear a mask... do it for the rest of us.

It was great to see the community send-off for Dr. Joe and Norma Thiele, long-time Rochelle residents, heavily involved in our school systems, and generally nice people. Best of luck in your new life

I can see on the label where my shirt comes from and I can learn where my newest tool is made. Hundreds of everyday items are labeled with country of origin.

But not most of our food. Stuff we put into our bodies usually does not have a country of origin label.

Reaching a milestone I never expected EOPLE used to get a job and stay there for life. Great pension, good benefits and the comfortable feeling of a familiar job.

That has changed over the years, of course. An actual pension is hard to find these days, as most companies offer a 401K retirement fund that you fill with your money. Yes, many companies also offer a match, but that is also not as common as it was even a handful of years ago. Benefits are also not quite as good as they were at many companies, and wages for most workers have not kept up with the cost of living.

Honestly, most people can't afford to stay in one job forever, unless you work for a great company or enjoy union benefits – something that is also disappearing.

I have never been a member of a union, and I have never worked for a company that offered a pension – well, the military did offer retirement, but I was not in long enough. The newspaper companies I have worked for have ranged from great to horrible, but they have all offered me a chance to do a job I love, and for that I am thankful for them all.

Believe it or not, this month marks quite an anniversary for me, one that I find improbably and a little sad, honestly. As of right now, working for this newspaper marks my longest tenure at a job in my adult life.

Like I said, a little sad. Not sad because of the job, I love my job. But sad that I had to bounce around so much to reach career goals.

Journalism can be a very unstable job in recent years. Sure, I could have stayed at my hometown newspaper, where I worked from 1992-96. I could have stayed at the paper in California where I worked from 2006-11. Actually, I probably couldn't have stayed in California. Like a lot of newspapers, that one has been sold multiple times since I left.

So, as I have worked at the Ogle County Life now for more than five years, this is my longest tenure at a single paper. I worked at the paper in California for five years to the day. Here it has been five years and a couple of weeks.

Break out the Champaign! Honestly, if I had not wanted to move up in my career, I wouldn't have moved. I could be a report-Jennings er or a copy editor in my hometown and still sitting at the same desk, I am sure. I might be comfortable, but I would never have lived in the places I have lived or experienced the things I have experienced.

My goal was to be the editor of a daily newspaper by the time I was 35. As I was in the military and didn't even start going to college until I was 24, I was behind at the start. But I worked hard and took some chances and by the time I was 35 was editor of a daily newspaper.

Before that happened, I was an intern at a paper, worked in sports and news at another in Arizona, worked in sports, news and as a copy editor at my hometown paper and then served as city editor at a daily newspaper in Nebraska, a great newspaper with a publisher so horrible I have tried to block that time from my memory. Finally, I went to a paper in Wisconsin as a city editor, and after the paper sold found myself in the big chair. Honestly, I wasn't that great at the job, but I had fulfilled my goal. After that it was Minnesota for a few years, then to California, then to Illinois to work at corporate for a large company. That was also pretty soul crushing and kept me away from the things I love about journalism telling people's stories and producing a product for them to enjoy.

So, I came to the Life in June of 2015 - myfirst time working at a weekly newspaper. I fell in love with Ogle County and, well, here I still am.

How long will this last? I have no idea. But one thing the last nearly 30 years has taught me is never say never.

Brad Jennings is Editor of The Ogle County Life.

PRIME TIME

Questions to ask when your doctor prescribes a new medicine

HOUGH few people may times a day," does that mean four want to take medicine each day, prescription drugs prolong lives and help people manage conditions that might otherwise make it difficult to live life to the fullest.

A 2017 survey from Consumer Reports found that 55 percent of people living in the United States take a prescription medicine. The survey also found that those who take prescription drugs use an average of four such medications. That figure might alarm some people, especially aging men and women whose bodies might be more susceptible to conditions that are often treated with medication.

There's no denying that prescription drugs can save lives. But men and women have a right to explore their options when doctors prescribe them medications, and asking the right questions when doctors suggest medication can help men and women decide if prescription medicine is their best option.

To help men and women make the best decisions regarding their healthcare, the National Institute on Aging advises people to ask their physicians these questions when being prescribed a new medicine.

- What is the name of the medicine, and why am I taking it?
- Which medical condition does this medicine treat?
- How many times a day should I take the medicine, and at what times should I take it?
- If the prescription instructions say the medicine must be taken "four times in 24 hours or four times during the daytime?

- How much medicine should I - Should I take the medicine on its own or with food? Should I avoid certain foods and beverages when taking this medicine?
- How long will it take this medicine to work?
- Will this medicine cause problems if I am taking other medicines?
- Can I safely operate a motor vehicle while taking this medication?
- What does "as needed" mean?
- When should I stop taking the
- What should I do if I forget to take my medicine,?
- Can I expect any side effects? What should I do if I have a problem?
- Will I need a refill, and how do I arrange that?

When discussing medications with a physician, it's imperative that men and women be forthcoming about any other medicines they might be taking under the guidance of other doctors.

In addition, men and women should tell their physicians about any overthe-counter medicines or vitamins and supplements they are taking. Sharing such information can prevent potentially serious complications from arising.

Medicine saves lives every day. Smart patients can help medicine do its job by learning about their medications and discussing them openly and honestly with their physicians.

Healthy eating options for seniors

LET food be thy medicine" is a quote attributed to Hippocrates, the ancient scholar considered to be the father of modern medicine. The saying relates to the notion that what people put in their bodies can heal and/or prevent certain conditions.

For seniors with medicine cabinets full of over-the-counter and prescription medications, the idea of relying predominantly on food to promote optimal health may be tempting, and various foods can be particularly useful to the 50-and-over demographic.

According to the World Health Organization, poor diet is a major contributor to many of the diseases that affect older people. Poor diet has been connected to the development of diabetes, and degenerative diseases such as osteoporosis also may be linked to the foods ones eat. The National Council for Aging Care says micronutrient deficiency is often a problem among the aging due to factors like lack of variety in diet and reduced food intake. Eating a variety of foods can provide all of the nutrients people need to stay healthy as they get older. Certain foods may be particularly helpful.

• Brain-friendly foods: Foods such as avocado, leafy vegetables, sunflower seeds, blueberries, and salmon are good sources of vitamin E, antioxidants, omega-3 fatty acids, and other nutrients that may help ward off dementias like Alzheimer's disease, advises Sonas Home Health Care.

 Anti-inflammatory foods: Foods rich in omega-3 fatty acids may help prevent inflammation that can cause cancer and rheumatoid arthritis. Aging.com says foods that are high in omega-3 fatty acids, like salmon, should be consumed at least twice per week.

 Fruits and vegetables: Fresh, canned or frozen produce tend to be high in micronutrients, including a variety of important vitamins that are essential for all components of health. The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics advises eating dark green vegetables, such as leafy greens or broccoli, and orange vegetables, such as carrots and sweet potatoes.

• Energy-boosters: Choose whole grains that can provide sustained energy by way of healthy carbohydrates over processed grains.

• Bone-friendly foods: Calcium-rich foods, such as milk, yogurt and cheese, can prevent calcium from being leached from the bones, which contributes to conditions like osteoporosis.

• Digestive system-friendly foods: The digestive system slows down as the body ages, as the walls of the gastrointestinal tract thicken and digestive contractions that push waste along may slow down and become fewer. Foods rich in fiber can promote proper digestion by moving food through the digestive tract mor easily. High-fiber foods also may help naturally reduce blood cholesterol levels.

Without enough iron in the body, a person may feel tired and lethargic from a reduced production of hemoglobin, which carries oxygen in the blood from the lungs to the rest of the body. A lack of oxygen in body tissues from anemia can be serious, says the National Council for Aging Care. Tofu, spinach, lentils, pumpkin seeds, and fortified breads and cereals are high in iron.

• High-iron foods:

Smart food choices can help seniors live long and healthy lives.

Who is most vulnerable to osteoporosis?

STEOPO-ROSIS is a disease in which the density and quality of bones are reduced. According to the International Osteoporosis Foundation, age and gender are two of the fixed risk factors for osteoporosis. Fixed risks factors are things that cannot be changed, and the IOF notes the importance of being aware of these factors.

Awareness of the fixed risk factors for osteoporosis allows people to take steps to reduce bone mineral loss in an effort to prevent osteoporosis. Bone loss is gradual and painless, and people may experience no symptoms suggesting they are developing osteoporosis, even though the National Osteoporosis Foundation notes that as many as one in two women and up to one in four men over age 50 will break a bone due to osteoporosis. In addition to age and gender, the NOF notes that certain diseases and conditions can increase the likelihood that people with develop osteoporosis.

Autoimmune disorders like rheumatoid arthritis, lupus and multiple sclerosis and certain types of cancer, include breast cancer and prostate cancer, also can elevate a person's risk for osteoporosis. People who have neurological or nervous system disorders, such as Parkinson's disease and spinal cord injuries, also may be more vulnerable to osteoporosis than those without such conditions.

Men and women age 50 and older should discuss their medical histories and their risk factors for osteoporosis with their physicians.

Most of the ingredients are donated by local growers and are fresh right from the farm, garden, beehive or berry patch. Dinners can be picked up to take home, or you can plan a picnic in the park, or take your meal to one of the participating businesses in Oregon with outdoor seating. FOUR REASONS TO CHOOSE

Kish College Over a Gap Year

'n the wake of the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, many . recent high school graduates are rethinking their plans to attend a four-year college right away. However, a "gap year" may not be the best plan—the National Postsecondary Student Aid Study found that students who take a gap year are about half as likely to graduate with a bachelor's degree as those who progress directly to college. So why not stay local and take classes at Kishwaukee College for a year? Here are four reasons why you should enroll at Kish:

You can transfer your credits to a four-year university when you're ready and keep your graduation goals on track. You may not want to travel to attend college during such uncertain times, but that doesn't mean you need to extend your timeline for graduation. Most freshmen at four-year universities take several general education courses—vou can complete those requirements during a year at Kish and have more time to pursue your major and other interests after you transfer.

Earn a quality education with outstanding faculty. We have a 16:1 student to instructor ratio, so you will receive the individual attention you need. Additionally, we offer online options staffed with topquality teachers—so during a time when many college students are forced to learn online, you'll be paying less to do the same thing.

Save money. Classes at Kish cost significantly less than classes at a four-year university, You can also live at home, so you save on room and board. If you find a part-time job while you're taking classes, you can put away much of that money for future expenses.

Stay involved with student activities and athletics. Kish has a wide variety of student organizations and 13 athletic teams. These groups and teams give students a unique opportunity to form new friendships and develop leadership skills—and you'll be able to stay connected with your peers.

We get it. There's a lot of uncertainty and questions about what college will look like in the fall. But a gap year may not be the best solution for you. Kish is working on a plan for fall that is flexible, safe and effective—to keep you on track to reach your academic goal. Most of our fall classes are online and some labs and career technical classes will be on campus with safety precautions in place.

Even though adjustments are being made to the fall schedule, this doesn't mean you have to wait to enroll. It's your life. It's your education. We're ready when you're ready.

A round to remember

Thiravong shoots 69 to open Girls Midwest Golf College Showcase

BY RUSSELL HODGES

SPORTS EDITOR

INDIANAPOLIS —

Since beginning her freshman season at Rochelle Township High School, rising senior Megan Thiravong has been shooting to achieve a single-round score of 69. That dream became a reality when Thiravong battled over 100 prep golfers during the 5th Annual Girls Midwest Golf College Showcase at Winding Ridge Golf Club this past weekend.

Thiravong outpaced the entire field over the qualifying round, carding 69 on the number before scoring 76 during the final round to place second overall in the 124-player tournament. While the tournament's nonaggregate scoring prevented her from winning the title, Thiravong was the only player to shoot under par for any round at the par-72 course in Indiana.

"Shooting under par is a very rewarding feeling," Thiravong said. "I greatly appreciate all of the support gifted to me from the community. I would like to emphasize the encouragement from my parents for always providing ample tools to achieve success on and off the course, my coaches [Glen] Mehrings and [David] Cartwright for always cheering me on, the RTHS athletic department and the beautiful city of Rochelle for working together towards making this community a fabulous place to live and raise the next generation like myself."

Thiravong said her approach shots and her level-headed demeanor spearheaded her charge on the course, which featured numerous hazards including hills, prairie grass and water. While her practice routine has been largely unaffected, Thiravong said the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic erased the majority of her summer events and competitions, leading her to use the range simulator in her family's garage to continue sharpening her skills as the fall season nears.

"I appreciate all of the work that golf courses have put into establishing social distancing guidelines while allowing players to retain the joy of playing golf," Thiravong said. "I expect to continue golfing well into the regular season with my favorite RTHS team members, and I think that we all will improve together as a unit. All of the boys have much potential that they have yet to showcase. I am positive we will have a great season this year."

A three-time IHSA State Championship qualifier, Thiravong will return to the Hubs this fall looking to make even more history as the school's first-ever four-time state qualifier. Thiravong will also be seeking to defend her Interstate 8 Conference Championship, and she'll be Rochelle's top returning varsity player from a group that hauled in six victories in 2019.

"My approach shots and short game need to be the focus of my practice for upcoming tournaments in order to improve my overall average," Thiravong said. "I have changed the angle of attack with my irons in order to enhance the height of the ball while increasing the amount of spin generated upon contact with the green. In addition, I narrowed my putting stance while straightening my swing plane."

Rochelle Township High School golfer Megan Thiravong shot a first-round score of 69 to open the 5th Annual Girls Midwest Golf College Showcase in Indianapolis this past weekend.

Hub midfielder earns starting role his senior season

BY RUSSELL HODGES

OCHELLE Township High School senior Carlos Nambo had played soccer with most of his Hub teammates since he was 12 years old. With several years of experience together on the field, it's no surprise that Nambo and the Hubs have ushered in arguably Rochelle's most successful stretch of varsity soccer in program history over the last few

A four-year player for the Hubs, Nambo became a varsity midfielder during his sophomore season in 2017, when Rochelle went 11-8-1 and won the War on 34 in Earlville. Nambo remained in a reserve role as a junior in 2018, but his ball control in the midfield helped the Hubs record their best season in school history, winning 20 games including an IHSA over Providence Catholic,

Nambo's favorite mo-

"My favorite memory was winning the sectional semifinal game and knowing we had done something that no team in school history had done before," Nambo said. "The RTHS soccer team taught me how to push myself to my limits in everything I do." After the Hub soccer program graduated a large and talented 2019 class, Nambo earned a starting midfield position this past fall, totaling four assists on the season and guiding the Hubs to a 13-8 record. Nambo, who has played soccer since he was 5, said he plans to study business at Kishwaukee College before transferring to a four-year university to finish his academics. "I really enjoyed the bus rides home after wins," Nambo said. "I think I improved my communication the most and I became more of a vocal leader throughout my career. My teammates and I played together for a long time."

Hub senior Etes shines as two-sport athlete

BY RUSSELL HODGES SPORTS EDITOR

019 was a very kind year for Rochelle Township High School senior Ethan Etes. Not only did Etes grow into a versatile starter for the Hub baseball team in the spring, but he also stood out as the starting quarterback and free safety for the Hub football team

While the COVID-19 pandemic erased the 2020 baseball season, Rochelle finished 16-9 during its 2019 campaign as a member of the Northern Illinois Big 12 Conference, with Etes alternating at the second base and catcher positions. Etes, who averaged .324 with three homers and 18 RBIs in 2019, was an integral cog in an offense that scored nearly eight runs

"My favorite moments from this past season were all of the home runs we hit." Etes said. "Our bus rides home after wins were always really fun as well. Playing baseball at RTHS taught me a lot about behavior off the field and understanding how one player's actions affect the team."

A four-year baseball and football player for the Hubs, Etes entered his senior football season this past fall as Rochelle's two-way starting quarterback and free safety, earning an All-Conference Honorable Mention from the Interstate 8 on defense. Etes totaled 271 yards and one touchdown on offense while securing the secondary with a team-high three interceptions. Etes said he plans to apply for a career with an operator's union after high school.

"I always enjoyed playing in front of the home crowds," Etes said. "The Superfans brought so much energy to our games and they really hyped us up on the field. Beating Ottawa in double overtime this past season was one of my favorite memories with the team. Playing football at RTHS also taught me about how one person's behavior can affect a whole team."

"I always enjoyed playing in front of the home crowds. The Superfans brought so much energy to our games and they really hyped us up on the field."

ELEBRITY EXTRA Q: Christian Slater is one of my favorite actors from the '80s. I loved him in "Heathers." Does he have any new projects coming out once the pandemic is over? — C.U.

A: Slater, who looks fantastic at 50, had his first role in the daytime drama "Search for Tomorrow" before he was even a teen. His father, Michael Hawkins, also acted on soaps ("Ryan's Hope), and his mother, Mary Jo Slater, was a casting director. The first time I remember hearing Christian in the movie "Heathers," where he channeled a young Jack Nicholson, that his stock soared. While he's been gainfully employed for more than 30 years now, his career has had its ups and downs. Fortunately, it's been on the upswing for the past five years, resulting in a Golden Globe win for his role in the critically acclaimed series "Mr. Robot."

Slater's name was in 1989 when he starred as a skateboarder in the film "Gleaming the

Also, you don't have to wait until after the pandemic to see him in something new. He's currently starring in the second season of the anthology series "Dirty John" on the USA Network, which is based on the true crime story of Betty Broderick.

Q: I was so sad to hear that Andy Cohen

A: Producer and talk-show host ("Watch What Happens Live" on Bravo) Andy Cohen recently made the tough decision to rehome his dog, Wacha, but it's a place the beagle mix knows well -- a residence in Connecticut where he stayed when Cohen vacationed.

Fans know Wacha well from his visits to Andy's talk show set and Instagram page, but he did have a reputation for being a bit unpredictable. (He reportedly nipped at pal Anderson Cooper one time). After Andy's son Benjamin was born, Wacha seemed to be adjusting Christian Slater well to the change, but apparently something happened recently where dog behavior experts told Cohen it would be best to rehome his four-legged friend. Cohen recently visited Wacha at his new second season? -- P.A. A: We could use some more uplifting shows right about now, but unfortunately "Perfect Harmony" isn't going to be one of them. The NBC comedy about a small-town choir starring the always terrific Bradley Whitford ("West Wing") and Anna Camp ("Pitch Perfect") just wasn't music to everyone's ears, averaging less than 2 million viewers per week, which is small for network television. NBC also canceled another freshman series, "Lincoln Rhyme," starring Russell Hornsby as a serial killer profiler.

FOURTH OF JULY

The history of America's Independence Day

EW summertime holidays elicit as much excitement as the Fourth d of July, also known as Independence Day in the United States. Each year, family, friends and revelers anticipate the arrival of the holiday so they can host barbecues, enjoy the sun, listen to their favorite summertime tunes, and commemorate the freedoms afforded by the monumental events that led to the holiday's establishment.

Independence Day became a federal holiday in 1941, but July 4th has stood as the birth of American independence for much longer. July 4th marks a pivotal moment in the American Revolution. According to PBS, the colonies were forced to pay taxes to England's King George III despite having no representation in the British Parliament. "Taxation without representation" became a battle cry and was one of several grievances colonists had with Conflict between the colonies had been going on for at least a year before the colonies convened a Continental Congress in Philadelphia in June of 1776, says Military.com. On July 2, 1776, the Continental Congress voted in favor of independence from England. Two days later, on July 4, 1776, delegates from the 13 colonies adopted the Declaration of Independence.

The Declaration of Independence is an historic document drafted by Thomas Jefferson. Jefferson was considered the strongest and most eloquent writer of the declaration writing committee charged with putting the colonies' sentiments into words. Richard Henry Lee of Virginia was one of the first people to present a resolution for American independence, and his commentary was the impetus for the formal Declaration of Independence. A total of 86 changes were made to Jefferson's original draft until the final version was adopted. The signing of the document helped to solidify independence, and eventually lead to the formation of the United States of America.

A total of 56 delegates signed the document. Although John Hancock's signature is the largest, it did not hold more weight than the other signatures. Rather, rumor has it, Hancock signed it so large so that the "fat, old King could read it without his spectacles." However, the National Archives says it was also customary that, since Hancock was the president of the Continental Congress, he be the first person to sign the document centered below the text.

The Pennsylvania Evening Post was the first newspaper to print the Declaration of Independence on July 6, 1776. The first public readings of the Declaration were held in Philadelphia's Independence Square on July 8, 1776.

Tips for hosting a fun 4th of July party

HE Fourth of July is a day to celebrate in the United States. Much about July makes the fourth day of the month the ideal time to celebrate. School is out, the weather is warm and the generally relaxed attitude of summer has typically set in by the first week of July.

People tasked with hosting Fourth of July festivities may not feel the same pressure when hosting such gatherings that they would when hosting more formal affairs. The relaxed nature of summer often pervades Fourth of July festivities, but hosts can still take a crash course in summer hosting to ensure everyone has a good time.

• Don't try to break the mold. Some hosts may be tempted to think outside the box in regard to the foods and beverages they'll serve at their Fourth of July parties. While hosts can still experiment and serve new foods and creative cocktails at their parties, many guests will be anticipating some Fourth of July staples, such as grilled hot dogs and hamburgers and cold beer and lemonade. Making sure such foods and beverages are served alongside more experimental fare won't disappoint traditionalists, and those looking for something beyond the norm won't be disappointed, either.

• Embrace the red, white and blue. When decorating, opt for red, white and blue decorations. This gives the party a distinctly Fourth of July feel. Red, white and blue napkins and tablecloths are readily available come July, and hosts with a gift for crafts can even create their own decorations to use year after year.

• Prepare to entertain. Unlike holiday season gatherings that typically begin in the evening, Fourth of July parties tend to begin in the afternoon and extend into the night. That means hosts must not just feed their guests, but entertain them as well. Since Fourth of July parties tend to take place outdoors, plan lots of backyard games, such as badminton, bocce, Wiffle ball, horseshoes, and more. Hosts with swimming pools should have pool games readily available as

• Leave the fireworks to the professionals. Hosts should not succumb to pressure, real or perceived, to supply fireworks at their Fourth of July parties. Fireworks can lead to injuries and accidents and are best left to the professionals who put on community fireworks shows. Discourage guests from bringing their own fireworks by making it known they will be asked to leave the party if they do.

• Arrange transportation home for guests. To make sure everyone gets home safe and sound, arrange in advance for some guests to serve as designated drivers. Hosts also should abstain from consuming alcohol during the party so they can get people home safe if necessary. Keep a list of local taxi company phone numbers on hand and encourage guests who plan to consume alcohol to use ridesharing apps to get to and from the party.

Fourth of July festivities typically are less formal than other celebrations, but hosts still must plan their parties to ensure everyone has a fun, safe Independence Day.
