Kate Fox, Chamber president and CEO, and Shelby Weide, administrative assistant, joined Quintana in painting the names of all 2020 graduates of Mendota schools on downtown windows. With the stay-at-home order in Illinois continuing through May, schools will not be able to hold graduation ceremonies at their usual time or manner. Mendota High School is hoping to have an in-person graduation ceremony this summer. Northbrook will hold a ceremony on May 28 in which students are given their certificates and any awards while in their family cars in the front driveway of the school. (Reporter photo)

Northbrook sets plans for 8th grade commencement

□ Ceremony to be held May 28th

By Reporter staff
MENDOTA – Northbrook Middle School will hold its eighth grade graduation ceremony on Thursday, May 28. The ceremony will not be the same as previous years due to the COVID-19 pandemic, but Northbrook Principal Paula Daley said the school has worked very hard to make this a memorable celebration for students, parents and the community.

“We are going to have a graduation ceremony and it is going to look different,” Daley said during a Facebook Live video on May 8. “But with every ounce of who I am and how much I love this school and love these kids, the eighth grade team and I, along with Dr. School and the school board, have worked to make it the respectful, honorable ceremony these eighth graders deserve.”

In the video, Daley discussed details for the graduation ceremony as well as dates and times for all students to turn in school-owned materials and pick up their locker belongings. A letter was sent to all parents with instructions for the end-of-year activities and Daley’s video is available to view on Facebook and YouTube.

Key Dates and Info
Locker clean-out, gown pickup - Thursday, May 21 and Friday, May 22 - 8 a.m.-3 p.m.
• All students - Everyone is asked to wear a mask and gloves and stay six feet apart while in the building. Students will turn in all school-owned materials (textbooks, library books, Chromebooks, etc.), and all outstanding fees must be paid (school fees, library fines, lunch balance, etc.). Daley said phone calls are being made this week to families with outstanding fees. Students will also pick up their locker belongings.

• 8th graders - Eighth grade students will also pick up their graduation gown and a special gift bag during this time. There will be a special section set up for eighth grade. Students will also be asked to confirm with the school if they are taking part in the graduation ceremony. Those participating will receive a number and that will be their place in the lineup of cars.

Daley said any eighth grader who cannot come to school those two days, should call or e-mail her and other arrangements can be made. However, anyone who does not pick up their gown or contact her will be excluded from the ceremony.

Historic home burns near Sublette

SUBLETTE – An historic Sublette area home was destroyed by fire under suspicious circumstances on May 4.
The home, located on Todd Road just west of U.S. 52, was owned by Thomas Ray and was one of the most historic homes in Sublette Township. The fire call was received at 1:37 a.m. May 4 with the Sublette and Amboy fire departments responding. Firefighters were on the scene for 2 ½ hours. The home was completely gutted and is of a suspicious nature. The State Fire Marshal has been on scene investigating.

The fire is one of several suspicious blazes that have occurred to structures in the rural area recently, spanning from Manlius to Sublette.
The rural Sublette property was the homestead of Prescott Bartlett, who came to Sublette in 1855 from Conway, Mass. Bartlett was convinced that the civil war was imminent. He studied cavalry tactics in the winter of 1860 and the following spring he raised a cavalry company.

In 1861, he enlisted and was sworn in, receiving a Captain’s commission in Company D of the 7th Illinois Cavalry Company. The company consisted of 98 men – 25 from Sublette and the rest from Mendota, Amboy and Lee Center.

Captain Bartlett was president of a military commission in Memphis for six weeks. He also served as a

Pritzker gives regional, phased-in plan for reopening state economy

□ Lawmakers could return briefly to address budget, other critical issues

By PETER HANCOCK
Capitol News Illinois
SPRINGFIELD — Gov. JB Pritzker unveiled a plan last week for the gradual reopening of the state’s economy on a region-by-region basis, but he suggested it could take several months or even a year before the state fully reopens.
“Until we have a vaccine or an effective treatment or enough widespread immunity that new cases fail to materialize, the option of returning to normalcy doesn’t exist,” Pritzker said during this daily briefing in Chicago.

“That means we have to learn how to live with COVID-19 until it can be vanquished.”
Pritzker outlined the “Restore Illinois” plan that divides the state into four regions and lays out the criteria for each one to move through five stages of reopening.
The four regions are drawn around the Illinois Department of Public Health’s emergency medical service regions. They include a northeast region, primarily Chicago and its surrounding suburbs; a north-central region; a central region; and a southern region.

The first phase, known as the “Rapid Spread,” is what all of Illinois was in from mid-March through the end of April. During that phase, a strict stay-at-home order and social distancing guidelines are put in place and only essential businesses remain open.
Beginning May 1, all of Illinois moved into the second phase, “Flattening,” in which the rate of infection among those tested and the number of patients admitted to hospi-

A Public Health Approach To Safely Reopen Our State

Phase 1 Rapid Spread	Phase 2 Flattening	Phase 3 Recovery	Phase 4 Revitalization	Phase 5 Illinois Restored
Strict stay at home and social distancing guidelines are put in place, and only essential businesses remain open. Every region has experienced this phase once already and could return to it if mitigation efforts are unsuccessful.	Non-essential retail stores reopen for curb-side pickup and delivery. Illinoisans are directed to wear a face covering when outside the home and can begin enjoying additional outdoor activities like golf, boating & fishing while practicing social distancing.	Manufacturing, offices, retail, barbershops and salons can reopen to the public with capacity and other limits and safety precautions. Gatherings of 10 people or fewer are allowed. Face coverings and social distancing are the norm.	Gatherings of 50 people or fewer are allowed, restaurants and bars reopen, travel resumes, child care and schools reopen under guidance from the Illinois Department of Public Health. Face coverings and social distancing are the norm.	The economy fully reopens with safety precautions continuing. Conventions, festivals and large events are permitted, and all businesses, schools and places of recreation can open with new safety guidance and procedures.

MHS vocalist chosen to perform National Anthem

MENDOTA - Emilio Raya, a Mendota High School choir student, has been selected to perform the National Anthem at the Girls Volleyball State Tournament to be held in November.

The process of selection began during the past school year at the ILMEA district festival, where Raya auditioned and was nominated as the District 2 delegate to audition at the all-state festival, where singers are ranked and turned over to the Illinois High School Association (IHSA).

MHS was notified that Raya received this very prestigious honor in February. He is one of only two MHS singers to ever be chosen for this honor and one of only a handful of singers in Illinois to be selected this year.

State waiving E-Check payment fee through Aug. 2

◆ Renew online now & avoid facility lines later

SPRINGFIELD - In an effort to further encourage online transactions with the Secretary of State's office at www.cyberdriveillinois.com, Secretary of State Jesse White and Treasurer Michael Frerichs have worked to waive the payment processor fee associated with e-checks through Aug. 2. White and Frerichs successfully partnered with National Cash Register (NCR) – the Treasurer's approved payment processor company – to remove the e-check payment processing fee for three months.

This e-check payment processor fee will be waived for the following online services:

- renewing a vehicle registration;

- obtaining a duplicate driver's license or ID card; and

- renewing a driver's license through the Safe Driver Renewal program.

"Don't wait, renew online by e-check," said White. "By renewing your vehicle registration or your driver's license or ID card by e-check through Aug. 2, you won't have to visit a Driver Services facility once they reopen and the payment processor fee will be waived. This will save you money and time. I commend Treasurer Frerichs for his efforts in working with NCR to make this happen."

"We are pleased to work with Secretary White and NCR to waive the processing fee for e-checks," Frerichs said. "We hope this encourages more people to consider online transactions through the Secretary of State's website while we follow the social distancing guidance from state and federal health officials during this pandemic."

Paying with an e-check is simple. Customers first visit www.cyberdriveillinois.com to begin their transaction – either renewing a vehicle registration or a driver's license or obtaining a duplicate driver's license/ID card. Then they are automatically connected to NCR where they provide their routing number and bank account number on the secure payment page. After the transaction is completed and the e-check is verified, the Secretary of State's office will begin the process of mailing the vehicle registration sticker or DL/ID card.

Even though White extended expiration dates for at least 90 days after Driver Services facilities reopen for vehicle registrations, driver's licenses and ID cards, he strongly encourages customers to renew online if they are able to do so.

White also reminded the public that the federal government extended the REAL ID deadline by one year. The deadline is now Oct. 1, 2021.

ICC warns residents of potential COVID-19 scams

CHICAGO - The Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) is warning residents to be on alert for potential scammers using the COVID-19 pandemic to exploit and defraud victims.

"Unfortunately, there are individuals who are using this public health emergency to take advantage of and deceptively obtain money or personal information from unsuspecting residents. It's important everyone protects themselves and their loved ones by being on the lookout for these deceptive, illegal practices," said ICC Chairman Carrie Zalewski.

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, the ICC recently issued an order to stop door-to-door marketing by alternative retail electric and gas suppliers (ARES/AGS). The Commission also issued a moratorium on electric, gas, water and wastewater service disconnections and the suspension of late fees by large public utilities.

The ICC has received reports from utilities of suspicious cases of individuals knocking on customers' doors claiming to be a utility representative demanding payment for utility bills and threatening disconnection.

"A legitimate utility worker will never come to your home to demand money or prepaid credit cards, or ask for your personal information. Do not share your utility account or social security numbers with a stranger at the door or on the phone. Do not hesitate to immediately shut the door, and call the utility or your local police to report the incident," said ICC Commissioner Sadzi Martha Oliva.

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) is also warning consumers about other scams that involve hoax text messages or robo-calls that prey upon consumers' fears by advertising fake cures, home testing kits, phony insurance plans or HVAC duct cleaning services claiming to kill the COVID-19 virus. Other potential scams include text messages from entities posing as the federal government, offering $30,000 in COVID-19 relief money, or posing as the World Health Organization (WHO) claiming to raise funds for charity. Clicking on links or attachments to these kinds of text message can lead to the spread of malicious spyware or computer virus on your electronic devices, compromising your personal information.

Scammers are also aware that many individuals have or will be receiving federal COVID-19 economic stimulus checks and might attempt to contact you electronically asking to "verify" your personal information to release the funds to your bank.

"It is important to remember that no one from the government or a public utility will ever contact you asking for personal information. If you happen to receive a suspicious call, text or e-mail, do not respond or click on any links or attachments," said ICC Commissioner Maria Bocanegra. "Your best protection against scammers is to stay informed and be able to recognize the potential traps they set."

If you believe you have been scammed, contact your local law enforcement agency immediately. If you have been illegally solicited in person by an ARES/AGS, you can file a complaint by calling the ICC's Consumer Services Division at 1-800-524-0795 or online at <https://www.icc.illinois.gov/complaints/>. Additional tips to protect yourself can be found on the FCC's website at <https://www.fcc.gov/covid-scams>.

Zoom safely: Tips from 4-H Tech Changemakers

OGLESBY - With more and more people utilizing Zoom to stay connected, Bureau, LaSalle, Marshall, and Putnam counties' 4-H Tech Changemakers have compiled a list of safety tips.

Each Tech Changemaker highlights a tip in this video, which is viewable at <https://extension.illinois.edu/blmp>.

This is the first in a series of technology videos being released by the 4-H Tech Changemaker program. The Microsoft and 4-H Tech Changemakers partnership empowers youth to help close the broadband internet gap.

Access is only half the problem. Feeling secure and knowledgeable, enough to adopt and use the technology is the other half.

This partnership elevates teens as teachers to provide training and communication to assist adults in their community with increasing their comfort level in utilizing new technology.

For more information about the 4-H program, contact your local 4-H and Youth Development Program Coordinator via e-mail at the following addresses: Bureau County (des85@illinois.edu), LaSalle County (fusinatt@illinois.edu), or Marshall-Putnam counties (amscheel@illinois.edu).

Extension offices are located in Princeton, Ottawa, Henry and in Oglesby on the IVCC campus.

- Participated in livestock activities in 4-H or FFA and pursuing higher education.

- Coming from a background of livestock production and pursuing higher education.
- Pursuing higher education in livestock production or animal husbandry.

Individuals may receive this scholarship only one time.

All applications must have a postmark no later than Tuesday, June 30. Please mail to: LaSalle County Stockman's Association, P.O. Box 853, Streator, IL 61364.

Questions may be directed to Dave Isermann at (815) 673-1151. Applications are available through the LaSalle County Stockman's

Facebook page.

The mission of LCSA is to enhance and promote the livestock industry LaSalle County by uniting producers, consumers and the agriculture sector while establishing and promoting family and youth livestock activities within the county.

OSF Saint Paul to provide non-emergency services beginning May 26

MENDOTA - As OSF HealthCare begins to restart services that had been closed in response to the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, the health care Ministry will have a phased approach to bringing non-emergent procedures and surgical services back online through the end of May.

A phased approach is necessary to ensure there is adequate personal protective equipment available, along with appropriate levels of testing, supplies, and staffing.

As part of this effort, OSF HealthCare hospitals with fewer than 50 beds and within 35 miles of an OSF sister hospital will resume elective surgeries in phase two, which begins May 26. This includes OSF HealthCare Saint Paul Medical Center in Mendota.

"It is important to provide the elective services our community needs as quickly as possible, but even more important is that we do this in a safe manner," said Dawn Trompeter, President at OSF Saint Paul Medical Center. "Our Mission Partners have been working diligently on plans to ensure the continued safety of our patients and cleanliness of our facilities that our communities have come to know and trust. We appreciate the confidence and loyalty of our patients as we continue to serve you with the greatest care and love."

OSF HealthCare hospital emergency departments are open and safe. If someone is experiencing signs of a heart attack, stroke, or other emergency situation, call 911 to be treated quickly to have the best recovery results.

All OSF HealthCare hospitals, urgent care centers and medical offices are following strict guidelines provided by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention for cleaning and disinfecting. Patients coming to OSF for a scheduled surgical procedure can expect additional safeguards in place, including a COVID-19 test 72-hours prior to the appointment.

We understand this may impose an inconvenience, but it is an important step to keep everyone as safe and healthy as possible.

Every individual entering our facilities including patients, employees, providers and vendors will continue to be screened at the entrance. As has been the case since May 1, OSF HealthCare requires anyone entering an OSF facility to wear a mask. Exceptions are made for those younger than two or those with medical conditions that prohibit wearing a mask.

At this time, the safety of everyone requires limiting visitors. Patients needing mobility assistance, pediatric care, and end-of-life situations are exceptions. There are critical situations where we will offer guidance and direction. Patients are encouraged to include family or other supporters in their care by connecting by phone. Additionally, OSF care teams can suggest an array of communication tools and technologies.

OBITUARIES / LOCAL NEWS

Kenneth L. Alshouse

CLARION TOWNSHIP - Kenneth Leon Alshouse, 77, a lifelong resident of Clarion Township passed away May 10, 2020 at OSF St. Anthony's Hospital, Rockford.

Graveside services will be held at 11 a.m. on Thursday, May 14 at Clarion Lutheran Cemetery with Rev. Phillip Gronbach officiating. Merritt Funeral Home, Mendota is handling arrangements.

Kenneth was born Aug. 13, 1942 in Mendota to Lawrence W. and Ella Eileen (Hoffman) Alshouse. He married Wilma Theresa Parr on June 27, 1998 at Clarion Lutheran Church.

Survivors include his wife, aunts and many cousins. He was preceded in death by his father in 1951, his mother in 1988 and one brother, Norman L. Alshouse in 1987.

Kenneth was baptized and confirmed at Clarion Lutheran Church where he was a member. He was a farmer, which was his life. He enjoyed antique tractors, loved his dogs and his 1967 Mustang.

Memorials may be directed to Samaritan's Purse at www.samaritanspurse.org.

Carol Carnahan Vehrs

VISALIA, Calif. - Carol Elizabeth Carnahan Vehrs, 80, formerly of Compton, died May 9, 2020 in Visalia, Calif.

Interment will be at the Neptune Rose Garden in California. Carol was born Nov. 10, 1939 to Clifton and Margaret (Halboth) Carnahan. She married Henry Vehrs on Aug. 29, 1988.

Survivors include her husband; one brother, Kent Carnahan of Compton; three nieces, Margo (Steve) Ban, Paige (Patrick) Nussbaumer and Whitney (Dustin Lemmon) Carnahan; three grand-nieces and two grand-nephews.

She was preceded in death by her parents; her dog, Oliver; their cat, Coco; as well as other devoted pets throughout the years.

Carol was active in 4-H and attended Compton grade school and graduated from Mendota High School in 1957. She attended Iowa State University in Ames, Iowa graduating with honors in 1961, with a Bachelor of Science in Food and Nutrition, Experimental Foods. After graduation, she worked as a junior economist in the Betty Crocker Kitchen of General Mills, Minneapolis, Minn. She later moved into research and development at General Mills, where she helped develop some of the early versions of cake mixes and products such as Fruit Roll-Ups. In 1986, she went to Lund's Bakery and developed recipes and worked in the bakery until her retirement in 1994. She and Henry lived in St. Paul until moving to Visalia, Calif. in 1994. While in Visalia, Carol was a docent at Sequoia Riverlands Trust, where she gave tours of prairies on various land preserves. She enjoyed quilting and baking, antique sales, gardening and walking.

Doris R. Billhorn

CHICAGO - Doris Rose Billhorn, 86, of Chicago, a longtime resident of LaMoille, died May 7, 2020 at her home in Chicago.

Memorial arrangements will be announced at a later date via Facebook.

Doris was born Nov. 29, 1933 in Spring Valley to Rose and Leo Pinter. Later, upon her mother's remarriage to Alfred Loebach of Peru, Doris took her stepfather's name. In January of 1951, she married Dale Billhorn of LaMoille.

Survivors include six children, Mick Billhorn of LaMoille, Patti (Leslie) Schultz of LaMoille, Janice (Daniel) Myers of LaMoille, John (Jill) Billhorn of Chicago, Jodi (Frank) Hoare of Chicago and Jackie (Kevin) Martin of Princeton; four sisters, Betty (Chuck) Scoma of LaSalle, Kay (Bud) Bima of Morongo Valley, Calif., Alice (Tim) DeMoss of Peru and Peggy (Joe) Burgoni of Peru; 18 grandchildren; 27 great-grandchildren; and one great-great-grandson, Ryder of Texas.

She was preceded in death by her parents, a sister and a grandson.

Doris attended nine different grade schools over her primary academic career. Undaunted by different curriculums and the disruption of friends and teachers, the A and A+ grades she received would be a precursor to her earning two college degrees, including the ultimate Master's degree she earned from Vanderbilt University in 1992. After her family came to rest at a farmstead in Bureau County in the 1940s, Doris attended LaMoille Community High School into her senior year. Although she is prominently featured in the school's 1951 yearbook as a senior, her final year was interrupted. She did not officially obtain her GED until she returned to LCHS in 1970 for night classes under the careful tutelage of Edith Bauer and the encouragement of Patty Billhorn (Trembley). After perfecting her care-taking skills as a stay at home Mom and area cake baking specialist on the family farm in Clarion Township, in 1971 Doris expanded her working career with a job in the food service department of Mendota Hospital. It was there her nurturing skills really came to fruition, and Doris set her sights on becoming a nurse. In 1974, she returned to her pursuit of education and in 1976 earned an Associate Degree in Nursing from Illinois Valley Community College. She then returned to Mendota Hospital and ultimately worked as the office nurse for Dr. Faulk in Mendota.

In 1984, Doris relocated to Nashville, Tenn. While working in the home health care industry in the Nashville metro area, Doris ultimately pursued a three-year Master's curriculum

Ricky W. Wlodarchak

MENDOTA - Ricky Wayne Wlodarchak, 62, of rural Mendota, passed away May 8, 2020 at his home.

A celebration of life will be held at a later date. Arrangements are through the Fiochi Funeral Home, Cherry. Private online condolences may be left for his family at www.FiochiFuneralHomes.com.

Ricky was born Jan. 11, 1958 in LaSalle to Richard and Kathleen (Ellerbrock) Wlodarchak. He married Carol Newell on June 1, 1985 in Arlington.

Survivors include his wife of rural Mendota; one daughter, Courtney K. Croissant of Hixson, Tenn.; one son, John Wlodarchak at home; his mother-in-law, Elaine Newell of Arlington; numerous aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces and nephews; and his beloved dog, Cody.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Richard Wlodarchak and Kathleen (Ellerbrock) Christian; his father-in-law, Everett "Shorty" Newell; and one brother-in-law, Raymond Newell.

Ricky worked as a machine operator for Tee Group Films in Ladd and was a past owner and operator of Cherry Small Engine. He volunteered for the Cherry Fire Department and was a member of the Cherry Booster Club. Memorials may be made to Ricky's family or the Illinois Cancer Center in Peru.

in one of the nation's first geriatric nurse practitioner programs at Vanderbilt University. In 1992, she graduated with Honors from Vanderbilt and after graduation started one of several Director of Nursing jobs in nursing home settings. Before leaving Nashville, she was appointed to an adjunct instructor position in the School of Nursing at Vanderbilt. She returned to Vanderbilt in 2016 to make her personal donation to the nursing school, giving back to the scholarship programs that helped her reach her dreams. (Read the Vanderbilt story at <https://nursing.vanderbilt.edu/news/tag/news-home/page/18/>.)

In 1996, Doris returned to Illinois where she also held several Director of Nursing jobs in the City of Chicago. Doris loved the urban life and all that Chicago had to offer and reveled in trying new restaurants, attending theatre and workshops and hitting neighborhood thrift shops looking for those deals her Mother Rose gave her an eye for. Along with Cubs games and being frustrated by the Bears on Sundays, in 2016 Doris tapped her foot and snapped her fingers to the hip-hop musical sensation "Hamilton" and thought Lin-Manuel Miranda was "such a handsome young man."

After her retirement from nursing in 1999, Doris held a teaching position at Oakton Community College in Des Plaines where she successfully imparted her nursing expertise to hundreds of nursing students. She also spent her retirement time sewing blankets for each and every grand and great grandchild, traveling to Iowa to see her dear friend Pat Merrill at Horse Camp, her nursing mentor Nancy Meidinger in Texas, enjoying beading with her best friend Ellen Zurliene of Nashville and beaming over the ever growing family troop she had created.

Doris was well-known in the professional nursing community for her battles with corporate front offices over issues of patient care as well as the treatment and compensation of the nurses who worked under her direction. Always an advocate of quality care and employee morale, her views did not always square with the corporate world. Equally well known was her penchant for an inexpensive red wine, a stiff Manhattan and a tequila Brave Bull. She could often be found where the action was, maybe striking up a song at the end of the bar.

The nursing legacy established by Doris has carried on in the immediate family. She was proud to share with the world that four of her granddaughters pursued or are pursuing education and careers in the nursing field. Julia Tyrone (Schultz), Tori Sadnick (Adkins), Denise Billhorn (Barkman) and Melanie Harden (Billhorn) have all followed in their grandma's honorable nursing footsteps. Doris had a passion for knickknacks and earrings of which she owned many.

Memorial donations to her designated charities (Vanderbilt School of Nursing and St. Jude Children's Research Hospital) will be detailed when a memorial service is announced.

Natural Hazards Mitigation Plan to be presented in online public meeting

LA SALLE COUNTY - The 2020 LaSalle County Natural Hazard Mitigation Plan (NHMP) will be presented to the public by the North Central Illinois Council of Governments (NCICG) at 3 p.m. on Monday, May 18 during an online presentation. For details on how to participate, e-mail info@ncicg.org.

The plan is an update to the 2015 LaSalle County NHMP. The public is invited to attend to learn about the plan and to provide feedback on the update before it is submitted for approval by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

In order for a county or municipality to receive federal funding for pre-disaster mitigation or flood mitigation assistance funds, the county must have an adopted and approved FEMA

Natural Hazards Mitigation Plan. The purpose of the plan is to identify the types of natural hazards that impact a jurisdiction, to assess each jurisdiction's vulnerability to those hazards, and to formulate mitigation strategies that will lessen the severity of natural disasters by protecting human life and property. Every five years, plans must be reviewed and updated to remain active.

NCICG is a not-for-profit regional planning agency that provides administrative assistance to local governments. The plan is available at www.ncicg.org. Comments will be taken until May 19. To submit questions or comments about the 2020 LaSalle County Natural Hazard Mitigation Plan, please e-mail info@ncicg.org with subject title: LaSalle County NHMP.

tal and ICU beds increases at a slower rate. Illinoisans are directed to wear face coverings when outside the home, and limited outdoor activities like golf, boating and fishing are allowed while observing social distancing guidelines.

Once a region's infection rates and hospitalization usage begin to stabilize or decline, it can enter the third phase, "Recovery," in which face coverings and social distancing will still be the norm. But manufacturing, offices, retail, barbershops and salons may reopen to the public, provided they comply with capacity limits and other safety precautions mandated by IDPH. People will also be allowed to gather in public in groups of 10 or fewer.

Once a region reaches the point when 20 percent or fewer of people tested are positive for the disease and the hospitalization rate remains stable or declines over a period of 28 days, it can enter the fourth phase, "Revitalization," in which public gatherings of up to 50 people are allowed, bars and restaurants reopen, travel resumes and child care and schools can reopen under guidance from IDPH. But face coverings and social distancing will remain the norm during that phase.

The earliest that could happen for any region would be May 29, Pritzker said.

To be cleared for that phase, regions also must demonstrate that testing is available for anyone, regardless of symptoms or risk factors, and that contact-tracing can be completed within 24 hours on at least 90 percent of patients who test positive.

The final phase, "Illinois Restored," will occur only when a vaccine or highly effective treatment is widely available, or there are no new cases reported over a sustained period. Only at that point will a region's economy fully reopen, including public festivals and large gatherings, businesses and schools, although safety precautions will continue.

"It brings me no joy to say this, but based on what the experts tell us and everything we know about this virus and how easily it spreads in a crowd, large conventions, festivals and other major events will be on hold until we reach Phase 5," Pritzker said.

Revenues plunge, lawmakers might meet briefly in May Pritzker also said the General Assembly might begin meeting before the end of May to address a handful of critical issues, including the state budget.

"This is a big state and representatives come from all over the state, hours away, so it may be very difficult to do a lot during the month of May, and certainly while we're in a stay-at-home order and need to remain in this order," he said.

According to the latest revenue reports, lawmakers might have a bigger budget hole to fill when they return than was initially feared.

The Commission on Government Forecasting and Accountability, or CoGFA, reported that base revenues in April came in $2.6 billion lower than the same month last year, largely because the state pushed the income tax filing deadline from April 15 to July 15. CoGFA also reported that total revenues so far this year are now $1 billion below last year's level, with two months remaining in the fiscal year.

In mid-April, Pritzker said Illinois would likely come up $2.7 billion short in the current fiscal year, and $6.2 billion short in the fiscal year that begins July 1. Those were based on estimates from the Governor's Office of Management and Budget, which works closely with CoGFA. But CoGFA said it will be "recalibrating" its estimates over the coming days.

Asked when he plans to release concrete details of the budget adjustments he will recommend, Pritzker said he is working with members of the General Assembly.

"I know they have plans, thinking about getting together in May, and so my hope is that we'll be able to work together on a budget for the year," he said. "This is clearly the most unusual budget that anybody will have ever seen, because who has ever seen — at least in our lifetimes — the drop-off of revenue because of a pandemic? And so there's no doubt there's going to have to be a lot of collaboration, even across the aisle, to get things done."

Health care advocates say legal lifting of stay-at-home order would be 'devastating'

□ They say restriction has prevented catastrophes in Illinois hospitals

By REBECCA ANZEL
Capital News Illinois

SPRINGFIELD — The novel coronavirus pandemic's historic impact on Illinois warrants Gov. JB Pritzker's stay-at-home order, four state health care advocacy organizations argue in a court filing.

That restriction, in place with modifications since March 21, prevented the accelerated spreading of COVID-19, health care facilities from using up stores of personal protective gear, hospitals from running out of beds and the short-staffing of personnel, attorneys for the organizations wrote.

At each step of the lawsuit filed by Xenia Republican Rep. Darren Bailey challenging Pritzker's authority to issue successive 30-day disaster proclamations, the Illinois Health and Hospital Association, Illinois State Medical Society, Illinois Society for Advanced Practice Nursing and the state's chapter of the American Nurses Association have submitted their argument in support of the governor.

The novel coronavirus is not restricted to any one region of the state nor does it adhere to the 30-day timeline the Illinois Emergency Management Agency Act references, the groups wrote.

Dr. Michael Wahl, medical director of the Health and Hospital Association, testified that without the stay-at-home order, the financial cost and public burden of COVID-19 would have been "catastrophic."

Wahl is also an emergency medicine physician at hospitals in suburban Chicago.

And the impact of lifting the stay-at-home order, according to the filing, "cannot be overstated: There will be a resurgence of the virus that will have devastating, widespread, and long-lasting effects" once Illinois' hospitals are overrun with cases.

Hospitals, assisted living facilities and other health care centers would be unable to restock gowns, gloves,

Almost everyone is sacrificing

By Scott Reeder

SPRINGFIELD—Just because you can do something doesn't mean you should do it.

At least, that's the advice my mother used to dispense. I was thinking about that axiom this past week, as I watched men carrying rifles descend on state capitols across the nation to protest shelter-in-place orders.

The states where they did this have "open carry" laws. So, the protestors point out they are just exercising their rights.

Having spent much of my life working in the Illinois statehouse, I can't help but roll my eyes. Do they really think these sorts of antics are going to help their cause?

If anything, they have marginalized their concerns and alienated themselves from lawmakers and much of the public.

A rather agitated acquaintance of mine demanded to know if I thought this was such a bad idea, just what I would do.

The right to petition our government for a redress of grievances is one of the most fundamental of rights.

And since I was asked, here is what I would do: Leave the guns at home, put on a shirt and tie and contact my lawmakers and share my concerns. I'd peacefully assemble in front of the statehouse — keeping 6-foot apart — and speak out.

And I sure as heck wouldn't show up at the rally with signs calling Gov. J.B. Pritzker a Nazi as protestors in Chicago and Springfield did recently. Name calling is never productive and it is particularly offensive to use this slur against a Jewish person who helped create the Illinois Holocaust Museum.

It's hard to assess how well, or poorly, the governor is handling the state's response to the pandemic. Have we flattened the virus curve sufficiently? How well have the state's economic needs been balanced with the state's health needs?

One thing is certain. There is a lot of suffering. A nursing home not far from my home has 70 percent of its residents infected with the disease and 10 have died. On the other hand, in the working-class community where I live, hunger is stalking the families of barbers, waitresses, cooks and other ordinary folks who have never experienced unemployment before.

There are no easy solutions. But everyone is sacrificing.

Well, almost everyone.

One can't help but ask: Are there different rules for the rulers than the ruled?

For example, the New York Times reported Ivanka Trump, President Trump's eldest daughter, traveled with her three kids from Washington to New Jersey in order to celebrate the first night of Passover with family. They did this despite a non-essential travel ban in Washington, D.C. where they live and work. And they did this despite the senior White House adviser's public statements for people to stay home.

Chicago Mayor Lori Lightfoot went to her hairstylist for a trim despite a state order closing down all salons. And according to The Patch, Gov. J.B. Pritzker's wife and children traveled from Chicago to their $12-million Florida horse farm, despite the governor's order barring non-essential travel.

When questioned by a reporter on this subject, Pritzker said, "My official duties have nothing to do with my family, so I'm just not going to answer that question. It's inappropriate, and I find it reprehensible honestly that that reporter wrote a story about it."

Gosh, that doesn't sound like the governor is denying the accuracy of the story. It just sounds like he is angry that it was written.

Well, Governor, there is a lot of anger out there. Folks are angry that they are out of work, angry that their loved ones are dying and angry that they can't leave their homes.

We may not have the epidemical or economic data that the White House, governors and mayors use in their decision-making.

But one thing we can do is smell a hypocrite a mile away — even with our masks on.

Truckers under rock attack – 1934

(The following is from Jessica Nashold's Backtracks & Sidetracks column reprinted from May 12, 1999)

By Jessica Nashold

On the evening of May 16, 1934, and the early morning of May 17, trucks arrived in Mendota with broken windshields. Some of the truckers had to be treated for cuts inflicted by flying glass.

Good-sized rocks had been thrown through the windshields.

Most of the incidents had occurred on Route 92 between Princeton and LaMoille. Mendota police alerted state police and the sheriff's office who soon had officers patrolling the area. In one truck, a 15-year-old boy had been riding in the cab with his father. He was treated for cuts at the Harris hospital, then left overnight at the Faber Hotel. His father continued on to Chicago.

Two of the rocks were held at Fahler's garage in the hope that they would yield fingerprints. The rock-throwers had followed a procedure of turning a spotlight on windshields to see if there was a union label. If not, a rock was thrown. It was believed one of the alleged organizers of Truckers' and Helpers' Union No. 710 of Chicago was involved. The union was attempting to secure return cargoes for its members so they could return home with loads. Many truckers had dropped their memberships or refused to join. It was thought the rock-throwing was an attempt to compel truckers to join the union.

In the May 17, 1934 Reporter, it was recorded that a severe windstorm the previous week had caused havoc.

So much dust was blown against fences that fields were laid bare.

Some fields had already been planted and the corn was exposed. In fields that had been "worked up," the greatest damage occurred. One farmer in Earlville loaded a wagon with the deposits along the fence and sold it to people in town for gardens.

It is the best dirt.

It was suggested that farmers haul the dirt caught in fencerows back on their fields.

The Mendota Reporter was offering to accept eggs valued at 1 cent above market price in payment for subscriptions, including past due subscriptions and advance subscriptions. The Reporter rate on Saturday, May 12, was 14 cents per dozen. Many farmers appreciated the opportunity to pay for subscriptions with eggs.

On the morning of May 11, 1934, the thermometer was down to 36 or 37 degrees. The leaves on some shrubbery "look as if they had been frosted."

The honor of laying the first brick in the new Holy Cross Catholic Church went to Henry Zolper, Mendota's oldest contractor.

With Holy Cross under construction, the parishioners attended Saint Mary's. On Sunday, May 5, 1934, they took part in a drive to stamp out immoral shows and pictures. At all Masses they were asked to repeat a pledge to the Legion of Decency. They promised to stay away from or immediately leave any immoral performances to express their disapproval of the concerns sponsoring them.

Action was taken by the city council to amend the liquor ordinance, reducing the licensing fee from $250 to $200. Class C liquor licenses were made available to stores where liquor was sold but not consumed on the premises. Class C licenses were $100. Establishments selling beer only, asked if this was allowable without a license.

The city attorney stated it was not, and they were treading on very thin ice.

R.A. "Pap" Herbert, who had been operating a tavern in the basement of a building on Washington Street, was obliged to move when basement taverns were outlawed. He had the grand opening of Pap's Rainbo Tavern in the Erbes building on North Main Street on May 19, 1934.

Henry Kohl, commander of American Legion Post 540, entertained the members at a stag party on May 7, 1934. It was in recognition of "going over the top" in a membership drive. The recently organized Mendota Dramatic Club provided entertainment. One of the numbers on the program was the reading of "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," read by Ken Butler and performed by a cast of eight. Marguerite Meisel was at the piano.

The Reporter carried the names of farmers in Mendota and Troy Grove townships who had signed contracts under the 1934 Corn-Hog Production Adjustment program. Figures on 1932-33 corn acreages were included. Anyone believing the figures published were inaccurate was urged to make a confidential report to the allotment committee.

Mayor John Faber said he had been censured for reporting prevailing labor wages in Mendota to the state. He said it was not the fault of anyone in particular.

As sworn statement had to be made and the truth had to be told.

The city well was sounded and it was learned that it was only 229 feet deep. It had been 490 feet when drilled through St. Peter's sandstone. Cost of rent on a machine to clean the well would be $25 per day. Ald. Harry Ossman urged this work be undertaken as many country wells were going dry and farmers might soon be coming to the city for water. Also, the canning plant used a lot of water.

The council voted to proceed, but keep the cost under $500.

It was brought out that during the summer of 1933 the city had to pay $300 to handle water from the canning plant in the filter beds. For $2,000 the company could take care of its waste water and the city thought it should.

The city can no longer take the blame for polluting the creek.

State inspectors visited the high school.

No poor teaching was observed.

Superintendent M.E. Steele was highly commended and a fine spirit of "cooperation and politeness" between teachers and students had been noted. Minor suggestions for improvements were painting the walls, modernizing electricity and purchasing special pieces of educational equipment.

Burlington Motor Bus Service advertised two round trips daily on a route covering Chicago, Mendota, Moline, Rock Island and Davenport.

The science cop-out

By Rich Lowry

If you thought the coronavirus presented difficult policy questions, don't worry -- we have science.

California Gov. Gavin Newsom tweeted the other day, "The West Coast is -- and will continue to be -- guided by SCIENCE."

Joe Biden has urged President Trump, "Follow the science, listen to the experts, do what they tell you."

Neil DeGrasse Tyson calls the crisis "a giant experiment in whether the world will listen to scientists, now and going forward."

The invocation of science as the ultimate authority capable of settling questions of how we should govern ourselves is a persistent feature of modern Western life going back several centuries, and has always been a mistake. It is especially so in this crisis, when so much is still unknown about the coronavirus and immensely complicated and consequential public policy questions are in play.

Modern science is obviously one of the wonders of our age. We owe it an unimaginable debt -- for technological advancements in medicine, transportation, industry, communication, computing and more. All honor to Newton, Turing, Curie and Einstein.

The world was slow to react to the coronavirus, and yet the genetic code of the virus was publicly posted by China on Jan. 20, and South Korea had deployed a test kit by early February. It's possible we'll have a vaccine by the end of the year.

Science has a limited competency, though. Once you are outside a lab setting and dealing with matters of public policy, questions of values and how to strike a balance between competing priorities come into play, and they simply can't be settled by people in white lab coats.

Science can make the atom bomb; it doesn't tell us whether we should drop it. Science can tell us how to get to the moon; it doesn't tell us whether we should go. Science can build nuclear reactors; it doesn't tell us whether we should deploy them.

If we are going to unquestioningly accept expert opinion, we'd better prepare for whiplash. At first, the elite consensus was that wearing masks was unnecessary. Now, we are told it's an essential piece of getting out of this mess.

We worried about running out of ventilators, but in recent weeks some doctors have been wondering whether they have been overused.

Then, there are the big questions. Science can't tell us how we should think about the trade-off between economic misery caused by shutdowns and the public health risks of reopenings. It can't determine the balance between shutting down a hospital's elective surgeries so it can prepare for a COVID-19 surge, and tanking its business.

The people in our political debate who most volubly insist that they are simply following "the science" tend also to be most resistant to nuance and prone to unscientific fervency. They are using "science" as a bludgeon and conversation stopper.

Obviously, science already has made an enormous contribution to our fight against the coronavirus, and may -- through therapies or a vaccine -- go a long way to solving this crisis. But life is not an equation, and neither is politics or policy.

We as a free people will have to decide the important questions raised by this crisis, not the doctors on TV or the researchers in the labs.

Marquee available for photos - Tuesday, May 26

• The marquee sign in front of Northbrook will be updated and available for graduate photos May 26-31. (NO PICTURES will be allowed from 3 p.m. on May 28 until the morning of May 29.)

The sign will have a congratulatory message for eighth graders and be decorated with flowers and ribbons for photos. Daley stressed that if a student/family is there taking photos, other families should wait and maintain appropriate space according to social distancing norms. She also reminded everyone that students/families will not be allowed to get out of their cars during the ceremony on May 28.

"Prior to the day of the ceremony, students can come dressed in their gowns for pictures," Daley said. "We'll make the front of the school look amazing and beautiful to honor our phenomenal eighth graders and this will be a photo op time for them. We do not want students leaving their cars during the procession."

In planning the ceremony, Daley said some concern was expressed about students gathering in groups. "People are worried that the kids will want to be together and take pictures - we understand that," she said. "It's our job to protect them to the best of our ability. We are going to have designated times for pictures and we want you to respect that. When you pull up to take pictures, if others are there, wait in your car until they leave."

Facebook Live Awards Presentation - Wednesday, May 27 - 6:30 p.m.

• Eighth Grade Awards will be announced on Facebook Live. Immediately following the presentation, the eighth grade video will be presented on District 289's Facebook page and on YouTube. Daley said the eighth graders have been working on the video with Mrs. Gehant.

Thursday, May 28: Promotion Ceremony

• Ceremony procedure

6:30 p.m. - Students and their families will begin lining up in their cars. The eighth graders will receive a number when they pick up their gowns, and that will be the order they go in the lineup of cars. The lineup will be directed by school personnel and the Mendota Police Department.

• Ceremony begins

7 p.m. - The promotion ceremony will be live broadcast on WGLC's Facebook page and afterward, it will be posted to Mendota 289's Facebook page and YouTube page. The live broadcast will allow family and friends to watch the ceremony safely from home.

The cars will be timed as they proceed in front of Northbrook and each student's name will be announced on the speaker system as they drive through the circle. The car will pull in the driveway where students will receive their certificate and any awards they won. Eighth grade teachers will be on the sidewalk to safely congratulate and support the students.

Daley said staff and school board members will be the only people allowed out of their vehicles and on the sidewalk during the ceremony. She also emphasized the importance of safe driving practices put forth by the Mendota Police Department. "We have to remember everybody is going to be super excited that night and we have to practice safe driving," she said.

In case of rain, the ceremony will be held on May 29.

"I know this isn't what everybody envisioned in their head, but it will be beautiful, special, celebratory, and it is going to highlight each child as they pick up their certificate at the end of the drive," Daley said. "Everything about this is for our Northbrook kids and this class especially. If there is a group of people who should be honored in a unique way, it's this group of 100 students."

In closing, an emotional Daley stressed how very proud everyone is of this eighth grade class. "This is where resiliency is going to shine for them," she said. "Please know we have put our heart and soul into this and we want it to be beautiful and special and memorable, most of all memorable. It has been well thought out and planned."

"We love them and we're very sad their eighth grade year is going to end without the traditional ceremony," she continued. "Part of my heart is very sad but I know after doing this cycle so many times, they're ready to be ninth graders, ready to say I'm a Mendota High School Trojan. So, sending them off brings me joy because they're ready to go to that beautiful school with that beautiful system."

Daley said anyone with questions, worries, comments or fears is welcome to contact her by e-mail at pdaley@m289.org or by calling the school at (815) 539-6237.

masks and other personal protective gear "at a time when the ability to rapidly replenish such supplies is unavailable," according to the court filing.

As Bailey's case moves back to the Clay County Circuit Court, the advocacy organizations warn in the document that residents in that area would be "heavily impacted by any surge in cases" there.

The only hospital in the county has no intensive care unit beds, needed if the condition of a patient with COVID-19 worsens. That hospital also has only 20 beds available for residents, according to the court filing.

The groups' argument also applies to a related lawsuit filed by Machesney Park Republican Rep. John Cabello. His case also alleges Pritzker overstepped his authority in ordering Illinoisans to stay at home to prevent the spread of COVID-19. Its outcome is applicable to all Illinoisans, whereas Bailey's lawsuit applies only to himself.

Public Nuisance Ordinance

MENDOTA - The Mendota Police Department would like to remind home and business owners of city ordinances regarding public nuisances.

It is against city ordinance to have accumulations of trash, building materials, abandoned automobiles, machinery, scrap metal, discarded tires, vehicle batteries or any other material that creates a public health hazard on your property. It is also a violation to permit weeds, grass or plants other than trees, bushes or flowers or other ornamental plants to grow to a height exceeding six inches anywhere in the city. Also, all multi-family structures, including structures that consist of both residential and commercial units, and structures which share a wall or walls with another structure, shall be kept free from infestations of insects (including but not limited to bedbugs, cockroaches and disease-carrying insects), rats or other vermin.

The city of Mendota requests anyone who is in violation of the above mentioned nuisance regulations to remove the item(s) from your property. Anyone found in violation will be subject to receiving a citation, which involves a court date and fine.

POLICE BLOTTER

WARRANT ARREST

Treshon A. Cook, 28, of Streator, was arrested at 8:49 p.m. April 30 on a valid LaSalle County failure to appear warrant for the offense of driving while license suspended. The subject was released with a LaSalle County court date.

MOTORIST CITED

Ellen M. Stienke, 23, of 505 Fourth Ave., Mendota, was charged with no valid driver's license, no vehicle registration and operating an uninsured vehicle after a traffic stop at Meriden and Main streets at 12:34 p.m. May 5. The subject was released with a LaSalle County court date.

Burn Ordinance

MENDOTA – It is unlawful to burn any materials other than small and dried quantities of branches, leaves, weeds or grass at any time. The burning of any material such as rubber, tires, leather, tar paper, old batteries or any material that emits an offensive odor when burned is unlawful within the city limits of Mendota.

Limited amounts of yard waste material may be burned provided the material is dry and does not create an offensive odor, nuisance or fire hazard due to excessive high winds. Combustible yard waste material may be kindled from 10 a.m. through 4 p.m. on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays only. All fires must be constantly tended by a competent person, until such fire is properly extinguished. The continued smoldering of slow-burning combustible yard waste after 4 p.m. is a nuisance and anyone kindling such a fire that will emit obnoxious odors after 4 p.m. will be considered performing an unlawful act. Burning on Sunday by commercial establishments shall be considered an unlawful act.

IVCC music instructor nominated for state award

OGLESBY – Illinois Valley Community College part-time music appreciation instructor Jennifer Mills of Princeton has been nominated for a state award.

Mills, Director of Bands at Aurora University and a 15-year member of IVCC's Wind Ensemble, has been nominated by IVCC for the Illinois Community College Trustees Association Outstanding Part-time Faculty Member Award.

A 10-year instructor at IVCC, she won the college's Outstanding Part-time Faculty Member Award in March. Therapeutic massage instructor Roxanne Cherpeske of Oglesby was also nominated for the IVCC award.

Mills provides students with fun, interactive, internet-based assignments such as YouTube scavenger hunts, beatboxing mixes, the use of videos to create their own compositions, and uses modern music to enhance traditional assignments thus making a lecture-style course more relevant to her students' modern lives.

She uses her past performances at Carnegie Hall and for the Chicago White Sox, Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals to help students better understand music performance and the music industry.

Mills inspires students to share her passion for music. Bill Strong of Ottawa, who nominated her for the IVCC award, said Mills' class led him to a far greater appreciation of music.

Mills said it is a privilege to teach music: "I believe ours is a special profession and that through this magnificent vehicle we call music, we have a unique means by which we change and enrich lives forever."

Highly qualified for the classroom, Mills has 17 years teaching experience and holds an associate of arts from Lincoln Trail College in Robinson, a bachelor's in music from Eastern Illinois University and a master's in music education from Kent State University.

"I attended a community college, so I feel I can offer my students something special because I've done what they're doing," said Mills.

She was a music teacher and band director downstate for three years before moving to the Illinois Valley area in 2006. She continues to be a music educator, conductor, adjudicator and clinician, and performs regularly in the area. Her primary instruments are flute and piccolo.

The state winner is scheduled to be announced at the ICCTA's awards banquet June 5 in Chicago.

Leland Legion cancels Memorial Day services

LELAND - American Legion Post 570 of Leland has announced the cancellation of its Memorial Day services this year. A press release from Post Commander Lance Brown stated that due to continued social distancing requirements, they believe it best to cancel public services but they encourage people to reflect on what this day really means within their own home.

"Memorial Day is a day to remember all of the veterans who have given their lives while serving our country and suffered and paid the ultimate sacrifice; they leave behind loving family members. Please remember your veterans as well. Every day should be treated as Veterans Day by thanking those who have served our country and continue to serve our community. As always, the Legion is here in support of our veterans and community. If you need us during this trying time, please call the Legion Hall at (815) 495-2263 and someone will return your call as soon as possible."

Master Gardener Q&A — Ready your garden tools

OGLESBY - The University of Illinois Extension Master Gardeners are here to help you with your gardening questions. Today, they will discuss how to get your gardening tools ready for the season.

You've cleaned up your garden, started your seeds, and planted your cool season vegetables. All seems ready, but don't forget to get your gardening tools in shape for the season! Garden tools go through much wear and tear, and often come out of winter hiding looking less than great, which could lead to improper function and act as objects that could harbor plant disease.

- The first thing you will want to do is thoroughly clean all of your tools. Any residual soil or plant debris on tools can harbor pathogens that will transfer to other plants. Start by using a hard brush and a stream of water to remove soil and other debris. Now you are ready to disinfect your tools. You can use a bleach solution using one part bleach to nine parts water. Please note that bleach can be very corrosive to metal, so it is best not to use it on tools that require a sharp edge such as pruners. Alternately, a second option is to use a hydrogen peroxide solution or rubbing alcohol to disinfect your tools. All options will kill any remaining fungi, bacteria and viruses. Rinse all with clean water and allow to dry before storing.

- Next, you will want to check for splinter areas or cracks in any wooden handled tools. You will need to repair or replace any that have considerable wear and tear.

- Third, any tools with an edge should be sharpened. A sharp tool is a safer tool, as you need to use less force to get the proper results. Sharpen tools that have a v-shaped blade or only a one-sided blade, like scissors, safely with gloves on, and always sharpen away from your body. Dull blades can be revived using a whetstone or a file. If sharpening blades is not your thing, many garden centers offer tool sharpening as a service.

- Lastly, oil any moving parts on the tools to keep them working properly and efficiently. Be sure to check on your tools as the season continues and touch up, clean and/or repair blades and handles as needed. Don't forget to clean your garden tools each time you use them, preferably between each use on individual plants, in an effort to keep from spreading plant diseases. You may also want to rub tools down with an oily rag with each use to keep rusting and drying of wooden parts at bay.

Do you have some additional questions for us? Remember, you can e-mail meo@illinois.edu (be sure to put "Gardening Question" in the subject line) or call the University of Illinois County Extension Unit Office at (815) 224-0889. Please note that due to the COVID-19 epidemic, offices are closed until further notice.

Extension honors senior 4-H members

LASALLE COUNTY - The University of Illinois Extension Bureau, LaSalle and Marshall-Putnam 4-H is honoring the seniors of 2020. This week, they are highlighting Kassidy Brady, a member of the Dimmick Braves in LaSalle County.

Brady's favorite project is showing her Black Angus cattle. When asked what she learned from 4-H, Brady responded, "4-H has taught me how to be a leader, how to be a confident public speaker, and how to always persevere and never quit."

Looking back, her favorite memory from 4-H was as an 11-year-old when she received reserved grand champion with her heifer, Candy.

Brady offered some advice to younger 4-H members. "I would tell any 4-Her to never let the fear of failing hold you back," she said. "It can be scary to try new things, but stepping out of your comfort zone will only help to make you a better leader."

Brady plans to attend the University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign and major in chemistry.

In closing, Brady expressed her appreciation to all 4-H volunteers but especially to her club leader. "All 4-H volunteers deserve a huge thank you, but my Dimmick Braves club leader, Michelle Rich, has helped form me into a better leader and has trusted me to take on responsibilities even when I wasn't sure if I could handle them. Thank you Mrs. Rich!"

Brady

If you have questions or if you would like information about joining 4-H, e-mail Toni Pienta at fusinatt@illinois.edu for LaSalle County, Danielle Gapinski at des85@illinois.edu for Bureau County or Anne Scheel at amscheel@illinois.edu for Marshall-Putnam, or call University of Illinois Extension - Bureau, LaSalle, Marshall, Putnam Unit at (815) 224-0889.

A first-ever Illinois River Road Scenic Snaps Photo Contest was planned this year to inspire participants to explore the sites and scenery along our National Scenic Byway. Since the world is a bit different today - the contest is encouraging people to look through their saved photos from around the route to enter in the contest.

Individuals may submit any original photo featuring nature, history and the Illinois River for a chance to win $100 for first place, $50 for second place, $25 for third place and Illinois River Road merchandise.

Once entries are posted online, encourage your friends and family to vote for your photo. Entry deadline is

May 22; must be 18 to enter.

Photos should reflect opportunities along the geographic boundaries of the Illinois River Road National Scenic Byway (roughly defined from Ottawa in the north to Havana in the south).

Visit <https://www.illinoisriverroad.org/contest/> to submit photos, review contest rules and to vote for your favorites.

Sleep and COVID-19

• Getting rest during a pandemic is a must

ROCKFORD - During a pandemic, there's certainly enough to worry about - your health, the wellbeing of loved ones, job loss - so it's no surprise that people would experience sleeping difficulties during this unprecedented time. That's why experts agree that consistent, high quality sleep improves virtually all aspects of health, which is important now more than ever.

"Sleep is always important," said Dr. Theodore Ingrassia, medical director, OSF HealthCare Saint Anthony Medical Center Sleep Center. "It's a biological process. It helps us. It empowers our immune system. Having sleep heightens our brain function. It enhances our mood and it improves our mental health."

Ingrassia says anxiety and worry tend to be the biggest problems. During the COVID pandemic, people are worried about getting the infection themselves, they worry about friends and family who may be ill, losses of loved ones, and economic concerns. Depression, stress and isolation can also become problematic - all which can cause fatigue, digestive problems, headaches and many sleepless nights.

"There are several reasons sleep will suffer during a pandemic," Ingrassia explained. "Disruption of daily life. It can be difficult to adjust to a new daily schedule or the lack of a schedule. Keeping track of the time. People lose track of time. It can be difficult without typical time anchors such as a work schedule or a day time schedule. Not going to the gym or social events can screw up your circadian rhythms. Being stuck at home, especially if it has low levels of natural light, can affect your circadian rhythm. If people are not working they can tend to oversleep and too much sleep can affect the quality of your sleep and your daytime energy level."

There are many ways to improve our sleep habits during this critical time. For example, pick a consistent bed time, shower and get dressed every day even if you are not leaving the house. Eat meals at the same time every day, block off specific time for work and exercise. Turn cellphones and TV off at least an hour before bedtime. The blue light in televisions impacts the melatonin cycle, and can suppress the secretion of melatonin which makes you sleepy and cycles your circadian rhythm, which is a natural, internal process that regulates the sleep-wake cycle.

Be careful with naps. If you sleep in the afternoon and have difficulty sleeping at night, naps may not be a good idea. If, however, if you can take a quick 20-minute nap during the day that does not impact your nightly sleep habits, then go for it. And pay particular attention to what you eat.

"Watch what you eat and drink. Many people tend to eat out of stress and that's unhealthy," Ingrassia added. "Certainly, caffeinated beverages will impact your ability to sleep. It takes 12 hours to get caffeine out of your system. That means if you've had a cup of coffee in the morning a quarter of that caffeine is going to be in your system at 4 a.m. So be conscious of that. Avoid eating fatty foods or large dinners if you have problems with indigestion or reflux that can interfere your quality of sleep."

If, after trying many of these things you don't find your sleep habits improving, it might be time to seek medical help.

"And lastly, if you are really feeling put out by the COVID pandemic and are having a lot of difficulty with your sleep, you're going to want to contact your physician, who may prescribe medication or give you other recommendations that can help with your sleep," Ingrassia noted.

Farm Bureau offers seniors chance for free membership

LA SALLE COUNTY - The LaSalle County Farm Bureau will recognize five LaSalle County graduating high school seniors by giving them a chance to receive a one-year LaSalle County Farm Bureau Professional membership ($52 value) and a LaSalle County Farm Bureau T-shirt.

This offer is open to graduating high school seniors who live in LaSalle County and have a passion for agriculture.

To be nominated for a chance to win, either a qualifying student or someone else must comment the student's name below the announcement on the LaSalle County Farm Bureau Facebook page before 4 p.m. on Friday May 15.

The drawing will take place on Monday, May 18. The winners will be asked to e-mail khinrichs@lcfb.org with their name, T-shirt size and mailing address to receive their prizes.

LaSalle County Farm Bureau congratulates all graduating seniors on their accomplishments.

Levitt AMP Galva Music Series postponed, video series announced

GALVA - Due to the COVID-19 pandemic and uncertainty about a time-frame when public gatherings will again be permitted, as well as great concern for the health, safety and well-being of the community, Galva Arts Council has made the difficult decision to postpone the 2020 Levitt AMP Galva Music Series. In place of the normal concerts, the group will host "virtual" concerts.

The decision did not come easily, as it impacts many people in the community including their dedicated staff and crew, artists, presenting partners, community partners, volunteers, vendors and sponsors, in addition to the thousands of friends, families and neighbors who enjoy free Levitt AMP concerts in Wiley Park every summer.

As everyone navigates this unprecedented time, in addition to safeguarding the health of the community, they also had to consider the long-term sustainability of their nonprofit organization. To successfully plan and coordinate a Levitt AMP concert series takes months, from securing stellar artists to forging media partnerships to amplifying the lawn experience through impactful community and vendor partnerships. If they continued to move forward with planning this summer's concert series and concerts were then cancelled following mandates from local government and public health authorities, Galva Arts Council would suffer significant financial losses.

A video series, in which performers will be recorded without an audience, is currently being planned.

Americana groups, "The Deep Hollow" from Springfield and "Harvest Sons" from Peoria, are some of the groups planned to be featured as part of this series. More regional groups will be announced shortly.

"We hope these concerts bring the community joy and hope in these trying times, and for the artists, a much-needed paycheck. Live music has been one of the hardest hit industries and will be the last to reopen once the virus is behind us," said series organizer John Taylor.

The Mortimer & Mimi Levitt Foundation has been very gracious to allow AMP Grant recipients who postpone their 2020 series to be guaranteed the grant for 2021 without a new application or voting period. Donations and sponsorships are welcome and greatly appreciated. Funds raised will be rolled over to 2021.

For updates visit GalvaMusic.com or LevittAMP Galva Music Series on Facebook.

ENTERTAINMENT

By Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD--George Clooney and Netflix quickly finished shooting "The Midnight Sky" on Feb. 21, just before Hollywood shut down. The film, with Felicity Jones, Kyle Chandler, David Oyelowo and Sophie Rundle, is a post-apocalyptic tale about a lonely scientist (Clooney) in the Arctic, who races to stop Jones and her team of astronauts from returning home to a mysterious catastrophe. Timely.

Clooney

Matt Damon hurriedly got his two films in the can before the shutdown. In "Stillwater," due in November, a father (Damon) travels to France to help his daughter (Abigail Breslin), who's been arrested for a murder she didn't commit. In "The Last Duel," directed by Ridley Scott and written by Damon, Ben Affleck and Nicole Holofcener, he co-stars with Adam Driver, Jodie Comer ("Killing Eve") and Affleck. It's based on a true story from 14th century France, where a knight (Damon) is ordered to fight a duel to the death with his squire (Driver), whom he has accused of raping his wife (Jodie Comer). It's due for release Christmas Day.

"Joker" best actor Oscar-winner Joaquin Phoenix hasn't chosen his next project; however, "C'mon, C'mon," written and directed by Mike Mills (Oscar nominated for the screenplay of "20th Century Women"), was completed in January before his Oscar win. It co-stars Gaby Hoffman (a child actress in "Sleepless in Seattle," "Field of Dreams" and "Uncle Buck"). It wasn't so long ago that Joaquin announced on a talk show that he was quitting acting. Now since "Joker," his price has risen to new heights.

Sandra Bullock's price also soared after she won her Oscar. In 2018 she made "Ocean's Eight" and "Bird Box," but nothing in 2019. Now she's working with director Nora Fingscheidt on an untitled project based on the 2009 British TV series "Unforgotten." Sandra plays an ex-convict trying to rebuild her life post-prison. She's also producing the film.

Glenn Close finished shooting director Ron Howard's Netflix film "Hillbilly Elegy," with Amy Adams, in January. It's about three generations of an Appalachian family. Close was due to start shooting the movie version of Andrew Lloyd Webber's award-winning musical "Sunset Boulevard" this summer, but now due to the shutdown they're hoping to begin filming by the end of the year. Rob Ashford will direct.

Laura Dern, this year's best supporting actress Oscar winner (for "Marriage Story"), hasn't signed for any new projects. Her "Jurassic World: Dominion" completed shooting before the shutdown and is still set for release June 11, 2021, while they add special effects. However, co-star Chris Pratt's sci-fi film "The Tomorrow War," due out Christmas Day, has now been pushed back to July 23, 2021.

On a happy note, Netflix has picked up 20 million new subscribers. The phoenix rises from the ashes!

Couch Theater

(Movies reviewed in this week's column have just been released on video and DVD.)

"Bloodshot" (R) -- Vin Diesel stars as Garrison, an elite soldier killed and brought back thanks to RST, a nanotechnology warfare outfit headed by Emil Harting (Guy Pearce). Harting outfits Garrison with an army of nanobots in his blood that not only give him superstrength, but also repair physical damage at lightning speed, making him indestructible. He's basically a cybernetic superhero. But RST has control over this nanobot army, and Garrison's brain, too, so that his memories may or may not be real -- especially the ones that compel him to take revenge for his wife's kidnapping and murder. It's definitive Diesel -- plenty of slick action and gun sequences married with charming commentary.

"I Still Believe" (PG) -- This faith-driven drama is based on the real-life love story of influential Christian rock artist Jeremy Camp (KJ Apa) and his first wife, Melissa (Britt Robertson). At the beginning of their courtship and at very tender ages -- he 23, she 21 -- Melissa is diagnosed with ovarian cancer. The couple sticks together, complete with a fairy-tale wedding on the beach, but while she's a paragon of faith, Camp struggles with his faith in God's great plan. It's a sweet love story, if tragic, that's not wholly overshadowed by the background sermonizing. Have tissues ready when Camp sings the title song, a tribute to his beloved.

"The Jesus Rolls" (R) -- "The Big Lebowski" was an iconic moment in cinema, highly quotable and with some larger than life peripheral characters, among them the eccentric, lawless competitive bowler Jesus Quintana (John Turturro). Lo, these many years later, The Jesus is resurrected for a crime caper with a love triangle twist, featuring the return of John Turturro, who not only takes the title role, but also writes and directs. Jesus is released from prison, picked up by his bestie Petey (Bobby Canavale), and the pair go on a spree, stealing a vintage car, hooking up with a beautician (Audrey Tatou) and causing general lighthearted mayhem.

"Gretel and Hansel" (R) -- A poverty-stricken brother (Sammy Leakey) and sister (Sophia Lillis) set out into the woods in search of shelter and food. A fearfully strange witch (Alice Krige) with an overlaid table lures the children inside her cursed home. The tale is familiar, but now layered with lore, suspense and witchcraft in addition to the monstrous evil that lurks in the woods for small children. The architecture of the woods and the witch's house is gorgeous and stylized, but I found the story a bit too slow to be truly terrifying.

Celebrity Extra

By Dana Jackson

Q: What happened to Lisa Vanderpump, and why isn't she on the new season of "Real Housewives of Beverly Hills"? Also, who is the woman who replaced her named Garcelle? My sister said she was she a supermodel in the '80s. -- B.W.

Vanderpump

A: Lisa Vanderpump, who was an original castmember of the "RHOBH," didn't show up for the on-camera reunion hosted by Andy Cohen at the end of last season, reaffirming that she was done with the show after nine years. The tipping point seems to have been "puppygate," which started when fellow castmember Dorit Kemsley adopted a dog from Lisa's rescue organization. After the pup nipped at one of her kids, she rehomed it with a friend, who reportedly brought the dog to a shelter. This really upset Lisa, and she accused Dorit of being the one to abandon the dog. The rest of the cast then accused Lisa of selling the "puppygate" story to "Radar," which Lisa denied.

After quitting the show, Lisa told "Extra" TV news: "I just had a horrible time with the show and the women. It was a very sad time in my life, and it wasn't made any better. I decided just to walk away."

As for her replacement, Garcelle Beauvais did start out as a model but quickly transitioned to acting. I first remember seeing her in "Models Inc.," a spinoff of the popular soap "Melrose Place," but she's probably better known for her regular roles on the sitcom "The Jamie Foxx Show" and the police drama "NYPD Blue." She also has a role in the upcoming Eddie Murphy film "Coming to America 2." She's had quite a successful acting career!

Q: Will the historical drama "Victoria" be returning to PBS this year? -- J.M.

A: So far there have been three seasons, consisting of seven to eight episodes each, of the critically acclaimed Masterpiece series "Victoria." However, with the pandemic shutting down production in Hollywood and overseas, any news of a fourth season is simply up in the air. The best way to receive the most up-to-date information is through a free online newsletter, which you can sign up for at: www.pbs.org/wgbh/masterpiece/. If a fourth season is on the horizon, you'll surely read about it there.

Q: Whatever happened to the CBS newscaster Giselle something? I think she was a reporter on "60 Minutes" and was a big deal about 20 years ago, but then she just disappeared. -- R.R.

A: You're probably thinking of Giselle Fernandez, who rose through the ranks at CBS News, but not "60 Minutes," and then went over to NBC. She even interviewed Fidel Castro. Then in the mid-to-late 1990s she transitioned into entertainment news, co-hosting the syndicated "Access Hollywood," and then later worked for a local news affiliate in Los Angeles. Now, at 58 years old, Fernandez anchors "Your Morning on Spectrum News 1" in Southern California, as well as the weekly news program "LA Stories."

Strange But True

By Lucie Winborne

* A swarm of 20,000 bees followed a car for two days because their queen was inside the vehicle. The insects were removed by a beekeeper after the car was parked, but were back the next day, as the queen was still inside.

* Peter Ostrum, who portrayed Charlie Bucket in the original "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory," declined the offer of a three-picture deal and bought a horse with his movie earnings. His resulting love for animals led him to pursue a career not as an actor, but a veterinarian.

* During World War II, Coca-Cola wanted soldiers to have a taste of home and opened bottling plants near Europe. However, the soda was synonymous with the States, making it problematic for non-Americans to be seen drinking it, especially in the Soviet Union where it was viewed as a symbol of American imperialism. Soviet Gen. Marshal Georgy Zhukov, a fan who didn't want to be seen consuming it himself, appealed to the company to make a clear version. A chemist at the Austrian bottling plant obliged by removing the drink's coloring, after which "White Coke" was bottled in clear glass with a white cap and red star.

* "Jeopardy" fan Cindy Stowell dreamed nearly her entire life of being a contestant on the show. In 2016 she successfully auditioned and became a six-time champion even while battling Stage 4 cancer during filming. Sadly, she didn't live to see her episodes air, but her $103,000 in winnings was donated to cancer organizations.

* "Alice in Wonderland" author Lewis Carroll wasn't the best at personal finance. Sure, he paid his debts on time, but would also often overdraft upwards of 7,500 pounds sterling -- in spite of being a mathematics scholar at Oxford!

* The Vatican Bank is the world's only bank that allows ATM users to perform transactions in Latin.

Finding joy in EVERY part of your life

John 10:10 has been one of my favorite scriptures for many years. It says: "The thief comes only in order to steal and kill and destroy. I came that they may have and enjoy life, and have it in abundance (to the full, till it overflows)" (AMPC). This verse clearly shows us that God wants us to enjoy our lives—in abundance, to the full, until we're overflowing with joy!

I remember when God gave me the revelation that it's His will for me to enjoy my life. It was life-changing because I used to be a miserable person who was emotionally unstable and couldn't be happy unless I got my way most of the time. Because of the abuse I had experienced throughout childhood, I was insecure, angry and didn't trust anyone. But once I started seriously studying the Word of God, I came to realize that He didn't want me to live this way. I could be healed and whole in my mind and emotions, and I could learn how to really enjoy my everyday life.

Now, when I say God wanted me to enjoy my everyday life, I'm talking about doing ordinary life with calm delight and a smile on my face (see John 15:11). It's about not dreading the daily responsibilities you have to do whether you like it or not, things like cleaning the house, mowing the grass, going to work, and the list goes on and on. And it's not a "working for the weekend" mentality or an attitude that says "I'll be happy when...I get to go on vacation" or "the kids are back in school" or "I get that promotion" and so on.

It seems today that most people believe they have to wait for their circumstances to change before they can enjoy life. But the truth is you can make the decision to enjoy your ordinary life and make it extraordinary, regardless of your circumstances.

Doing Life with God

One of the ways you can take ordinary life and make it extraordinary is to learn to do every single thing you do with and for God. We make a mistake when we separate our sacred life from our secular life. We can be just as close to God in the grocery store as we are at church. And He wants us to do everything we need to do WITH Him.

It actually adds an edge of excitement when we let God be involved in everything we do. He's everywhere, all the time, and He's just as interested in the routine, mundane tasks of our lives as He is in the more "spiritual" things we do.

It's amazing to realize that God wants to have fellowship with us—He wants to spend each day with us. Don't just settle for seeking Him once a week at church or when you're in a desperate situation. Decide that you are going to enjoy your everyday relationship with God!

The Truth About Real Joy

The abundant life Christ offers goes deeper in our hearts than the way we feel about things. It's an amazing thing when we learn how to have the peace and joy only God can give in every area of our lives, instead of the type of enjoyment that's just based on emotional excitement.

The joy of the Lord is much greater than simply feeling happy. It brings peace and contentment to your soul, even when your circumstances are difficult and don't make any sense. Nehemiah

8:10 says, "The joy of the Lord is your strength."

This kind of joy makes the Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday routine enjoyable. And since most of life is Monday through Friday, we need to enjoy it!

The World Can't Give It to You

In John 15:11, Jesus says, "I have told you this so that my joy may be in you and that your joy may be complete." The Amplified translation says "that your joy and gladness may be of full measure and complete and overflowing." In the ten verses leading up to this one, Jesus is talking about abiding in Him, because that's the key to living with His joy.

Abiding means "to live, dwell and remain in"; it's not just visiting once a week at church. It's having a personal relationship with Christ, being one with Him and doing life together. The truth is apart from Jesus, we can do nothing of real value, but with Him, we can bear much good fruit (John 15:5).

God wants to abide with you every day, all throughout the day. He doesn't just want you to seek Him when you go to church or when you're desperate. His desire is to have a personal relationship with you, so you can experience His presence in everything you do. That's when your everyday life is really enjoyable!

Written by Thomas Merton, 1968:
My Lord God,
I have no idea where I am going.
I do not see the road ahead of me.
I cannot know for certain where it will end.
Nor do I really know myself, and the fact that I think I am following your will does not mean that I am actually doing so.
But I believe that the desire to please you does in fact please you.
And I hope I have that desire in all that I am doing.
I hope that I will never do anything
apart from that desire.
And I know that if I do this you will lead me by the right road, though I may know nothing about it.
Therefore will I trust you always though I may seem to be lost and in the shadow of death.
I will not fear, for you are ever with me, and you will never leave me to face my perils alone.

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE

The City of Mendota will hold a public hearing on Thursday, May 21st, at 5:30pm, in the City Administration Offices at 800 Washington Street, Mendota, IL 61342 to provide interested parties an opportunity to express their views on the proposed Downstate Small Business Stabilization application funded by Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funds. Please know that space will be limited to 5 people in order to maintain social distancing. Persons with disabilities or non-English speaking persons who wish to attend the public hearing and need assistance should contact Emily McConville, 800 Washington Street, Mendota, IL 61342 and 815-539-7459 no later than Tuesday, May 19th, 2020. Every effort will be made to make reasonable accommodations for these persons. People are encouraged to dial in to the hearing by calling (786) 535-3211 and using access code 578-413-957. On or about May 22, 2020 the City of Mendota intends to apply to the Illinois Department of Commerce and Economic Opportunity for a grant from the State CDBG program. This program is funded by Title 1 of the federal Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended. These funds are to be used to provide working capital for the benefit of The Head Hunter Salon. The total amount of CDBG funds to be requested is $25,000 and will address the urgent needs of the business due to the COVID-19 emergency. Information related to this application will be available for review prior to the public hearing as of May 14 at the office located at 800 Washington Street, Mendota, IL 61342. Please call 815-539-7459 to make an appointment to view the materials since office hours are limited due to the COVID-19 emergency. Interested citizens are invited to provide comments regarding these issues either at the public hearing or by prior written statement. Written comments should be submitted to Emily McConville — 800 Washington Street, Mendota, IL 61342 and 815-539-7459 no later than May 19th to ensure placement of such comments in the official record of the public hearing proceedings. This project will result in no displacement of any persons or businesses. For additional information concerning the proposed project, please contact or write to Emily McConville — 800 Washington Street, Mendota, IL 61342 or email at emconville@mendotacity.com or 815-539-7459.
