March 4, 2020

Dear Toy Show visitors,

On behalf of the village of Sublette and surrounding communities, we are happy to see our returning friends and new faces at the 38th annual Sublette Farm Toy and Antique Tractor Show.

We thank our many volunteers, exhibitors, organizations and visitors who make the Toy Show a huge success each year.

We offer our warmest hospitality to all of the guests who visit our village. Be sure to visit our fine business establishments. Be sure to check out the other upcoming events in Sublette.

Best wishes for a fun and successful Toy Show.

Sincerely,
John Stenzel
 Acting Village President

Sublette Mini Mall open for business during show

The Sublette Mini Mall will be open during the Sublette Toy Show. This is a great opportunity to explore the mall's unique shops. Ellie Rae's is a quaint boutique offering gifts and clothing. Furniture

Overload is a shop offering repurposed furniture. The store specializes in unique refinished and repurposed pieces of furniture. Then, Local Cup and Cake is the place to get your special cup of coffee along with cupcakes and muffins. The shop is listed on the Blackhawk Chocolate Trail, so you may find some special chocolate items on the menu.

There will also be some toy farm layouts on display in the mall during the weekend.

International Harvester to be featured line of equipment at this year's Farm Toy Show

This year's featured line of farm equipment for the Sublette Farm Toy Show is International Harvester.

International Harvester has deep roots in Sublette. Paul Stephenitch opened a hardware store in the late 1800s and soon became an International Harvester dealer. Upon his death in 1934, his son, Leroy, continued the hardware and implement dealership until 1948 when the business moved to Mendota.

A new building was constructed on the north edge of Mendota according to plans drawn by Harvester. The building was state-of-the-art and served as an IH dealership under the name L.J. Stephenitch and Sons.

After Leroy's death, Don and Rich Stephenitch continued the business. After a number of years, the IH line was discontinued and the business became a hardware store.

The store is still operating as a hardware store by Gene and John Stephenitch. The business recently celebrated its 125th anniversary.

Toy Show organizers took a chance 38 years ago

It has been 38 years since the first Sublette Farm Toy Show was hosted in the village.

Several people were discussing the possibility of having a toy show in Sublette. No one was quite sure if it was a good idea as no one had any experience in planning a show.

IT'S SHOW TIME!

Finally, Dan Tastad said, "You will never know unless you try it."

That is what set the ball rolling. The group made plans for a one-day show at the community building. When over 600 people attended, it was deemed a success and from there the show has continued to grow. It has spread over eight buildings and another building houses a craft show. Other events that have taken place over the years include a farm tractor show, a semi-tractor show and an operating train layout.

Visitors usually represent about 15 states. Many travel for many hours to attend. The show has become one of the largest shows in the Midwest.

The show usually has over 150 volunteers helping to make it a huge success.

IH display promises to be big

When International Harvester is featured at the Sublette Farm Toy Show this year, it brings a large number of exhibits. Chapter 2 of the IH collectors will be in charge of the International Harvester farm equipment that will be displayed, and they expect a large turnout. They are hoping to line the streets with nearly 200 tractors, trucks and farm machines.

IH will set up headquarters in the Sublette Farmers Elevator warehouse and will have vendors with IH parts, memorabilia and toys.

The toy show dinner on Saturday, March 14 is a joint dinner between the toy show and the IH collectors.

Toy show dinner tickets available

Tickets for the annual Sublette Toy Show Casual Dinner are available at Pioneer State Bank. The dinner will take place at 6 p.m. Saturday, March 14 at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Parish Hall.

Tickets are $20 each, which includes dinner and entertainment.

Volunteerism shines through to make show happen

An event as large as the Sublette Toy Show could not be done without a lot of volunteers. It takes volunteers to plan, volunteers to set up, volunteers to work at the show and volunteers to clean up.

It is estimated between 150 and 200 volunteers are involved annually in staging the show. These volunteers are not just from Sublette, but many of the neighboring communities, and some even travel for many miles to help with the show as they enjoy the small town atmosphere and farm-related activities.

These helping hands are greatly appreciated for their efforts in promoting the show.

Plenty of food choices available for Toy Show attendees

When several thousand visitors converge on a small town, it is no small task to have food ready. However, there is no need to go hungry during the Sublette Farm Toy Show weekend.

The Sub-Let Indians and Maytown Comets 4-H clubs serve food at both the Sublette Community Building and the Sublette Elevator Building. These 4-Hers have been serving food for the event for all 37 years since the show first began.

The Sublette Volunteer Fire Department will serve a pancake and sausage breakfast on Sunday from 7 a.m. to noon at the Ellice Dinges Center.

Food is also available at the LaFiesta Restaurant, the Rt. 52 Roadhouse Pizzeria and Pub, Bonnell's General Store, Sublette BP, Sublette Saloon, located three miles northwest of town on Tower Road, and the Mendota McDonald's located seven miles to the southeast on Route 52.

Crafts galore can be seen at OLPH Hall

On Sunday, Our Lady of Perpetual Help Parish Hall next to the church houses a large craft show as part of the Sublette Toy Show. Crafters and independent consultants will fill the hall with items for sale. There is a shuttle bus operating all day on Sunday to transport visitors from the downtown area to the craft show.

Money derived from Toy Show used for scholarships & local community projects

Each year the Sublette Toy Show awards five scholarships using some of the funds generated at the show. One scholarship is awarded to a member of the two local 4-H clubs – the Sub-Let Indians and the Maytown Comets. One scholarship is given to a member of the Amboy FFA Chapter and one scholarship is given to a member of the Mendota FFA Chapter in memory of Dan Tastad, one of the original toy show promoters. The last scholarship is given in the name of Max Armstrong to a member of either the Amboy or Mendota FFA chapter.

All of the remaining money from the toy show is used for local community projects and charities.

Get your 50/50 fix

Each year the Sublette Toy Show committee sells 50/50 tickets to help fund local community projects. They are sold by committee members and at local businesses prior to the show. Then on toy show days, tickets are sold at a trailer located at the corner of Main and Richmond streets. The winner of the drawing will receive one-half of the money taken in. Each year the fund reaches a higher level.

Toy Show held during Ag Week

Since 1973, the United States has set one week aside and designated it National Agriculture Week. Ag Week is a celebration to honor the millions of men and women responsible for producing the most abundant, highest quality and most reasonably priced food and fiber in the world.

Since Sublette lies in one of the richest agriculture regions in the Midwest, it is fitting that the Sublette Toy Show is always held during Ag Week.

Author of IH book to have signing March 14

Paul Wallem, author of the book, "The Breakup-What Really Happened," will be signing books at the Sublette Farm Toy Show. The book delves into the causes of the dissolution of the International Harvester Company.

How did one of the biggest selling brands in history go under? Wallem spent 13 years as an IHC executive and another 17 years owning two International Harvester dealerships. He spent two years interviewing dealers, farmers, restorers and collectors as well as former IH executives involved in the merger of IH with Case Company.

Anyone interested in International Harvester or even interested in farming in general will want to read this book. Wallem will be signing books in the Sublette Elevator truck building on Saturday, March 14 during the toy show.

The forward for the book was written by Orion Samuelson.

See the beauty of OLPH church during tour on Sunday of show

One of the most beautiful Catholic churches in northern Illinois, Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, is located on East Main Street in Sublette. The church was built beginning in 1902 and has magnificent windows, which were imported from Innsbruck in the early 1900s. This large church was built by only 68 families and has served the community for six generations.

The church will be open for tours from noon to 3 p.m. on Sunday of the Sublette Toy Show. It is located next to the building that houses the craft show.

There will also be Masses on the weekend and visitors are welcome to take part in the services. There will be a Saturday Mass at 4 p.m. and a Sunday Mass at 10:30 a.m.
