CLINTON - Warner Hospital & Health Services staff is taking ongoing steps to be prepared for a possible local outbreak of COVID-19. Hospital CEO Paul Skowron said Monday the hospital is updating its protocols daily to deal with the current virus climate.

"We have to be very flexible with our response," Skowron said. "Every single day we have assumption, this hospital was now the preparing for a possible surge in local cases.

Hospital staff is following all Centers for Disease Control (CDC) recommendations and procedures and will tell patients they cannot be tested if they do not qualify for testing.

"That by itself will be disturbing to some folks," he said. "But, we are preparing for that kind of surge in the coming weeks."

CLINTON — Four of the six county board candidates backed by DeWitt County Residents Against Wind Turbines easily advanced Tuesday's Primary in Election. Two others failed in their bids to unseat incumbents, while voters reelected state's attorney Dan Markwell to run in November. While DeWitt County residents might be restricting their travel because of the coronavirus, voter turnout actually was consistent with past primaries at about 24 percent. Turnout in the 2018 March primary was 25.48 percent. DeWitt County voter turnout in the 2018 November General Election was 56.72 percent.

In the District A county board election, the three anti-turbine-backed candidates, Republicans Jamie Prestegaard and Aaron Kaymmeyer were chosen to move on to the General Election in November, tying at 479 votes each, with Buck Carter also advancing with 488 votes.

Incumbent Cole Ritter lost his bid with 262 votes. Voter turnout in District A was 27 percent.

In the District C county board election, Republican incumbents Jay Wickenhauser and David Newberg were chosen to run in November, Wickenhauser with 337 votes, Newberg with 335 votes.

School food distribution to stop for spring break

Junior high principal to be reassigned

KatyO'Grady-Pyne kpyne@theclintonjournal.com

At Tuesday night's school board meeting, Superintendent Curt Nettles said the distribution of meals has been "smooth" but he added the process is "ever-changing." The district has been offering breakfasts and lunches for school children via pick up during the state's mandated school shut down due to the corona virus. He added that no food will be distributed next week while the district is on its scheduled spring break.

"I'm proud of our staff for their attitudes and efforts during this crisis," said Nettles.

to update our policies and procedures for emergency preparedness."

There currently are 105 reported cases of the virus across 13 Illinois counties, Skowron said.

"One of those cases is in Clinton County, not DeWitt County," he said. "But, we have to be prepared as if one of those cases could occur in

DeWitt County."

He said the escalation of cases before the hospital was able to conduct proper testing was such, "we just have to assume once all the hospitals do have testing facilities and we're really able to see what the numbers are, the number of folks presenting themselves to the hospital could be overwhelming." Skowron said, based suggest outbreaks of the virus could continue through the summer, possibly even into next year. Most have resisted whether speculating warmer weather could eradicate the virus. At this point, those experts say there is no way to really know.

In addition, the board approved the reassignment of Clinton Junior High principal Josh Maxwell to another position within the district for next school year. Nettles said he was unable to comment further because it is a personnel issue.

hospital The is restricting what staff consider unnecessary activity at the facility. Starting on Monday, the hospital suspended elective surgeries until the virus appears to be under control and reported cases is declining. That recommendation came from the office of the U.S. Surgeon General.

Skowron said this would protect patients and staff and help preserve hospital supplies for "the long haul."

The hospital also is restricting patient flow. Restrictive policies for visitors is now in place. In an emergency, one member of a patient's family may visit, such as one parent of a child who is in the emergency room.

"Those are the kinds of common sense restrictive measures that we are taking,"

Also, everyone who the hospital enters through admitting, emergency or the Family Medicine building is currently required to wear a mask.

"So we can reduce the transmission of any germs," Skowron said. "This kind of activity is going to only get heightened as each day goes on."

Staff at Warner is in contact with the Illinois Department of Public Health each day after IDPH had received upto-date guidance from the CDC.

Skowron the said hospital also was preparing for a "forward triage" area at the hospital to screen patients in case of a large number of local COVID-19 cases.

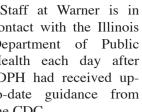

City Public Health and Safety commissioner Dan Ballenger offered the hospital the use of a staging tent used by the fire department. The tent could be heated if necessary and set up quickly for use as a triage site.

On Tuesday, the hospital temporarily suspended its wellness programs. Meetings will resume later.

Skowron reported Monday to Four candidates endorsed by the antiwind turbine group were elected in 2018. The group has been fighting since 2017 a special use permit application by Tradewind Energy for a proposed wind energy project in northern DeWitt County. The project first was proposed in 2008. In 2014, county officials began rewriting the county's wind energy ordinance in preparation for wind farm applications.

Newberg is the current county board chairman and Redman vice chairman. The two were chosen to their posts following a two-year board tumult during which a group of anti-landfill candidates, known informally as the "Reform Coalition," controlled the board.

Primary thoughts

First, all local candidates and their supporters deserve a thank you for their efforts in their respective campaigns. That most of the political signs have been removed by Wednesday morning is also a positive sign on behalf of all the candidates. Thank you.

The only race of consequence on the democratic side was the presidential nominations. It certainly appears that Biden has delivered a knockout blow to Bernie. Any path that was open for Bernie to the nomination two weeks ago appears to have been closed by the Biden campaign. The question now is, will the Bernie supporters actually vote for Biden in November?

That is a big question. Biden has always been known as a deal maker and a center left moderate. He has never had a progressive label. That may be changing as Biden has now moved a little bit to the left, which is typical of Democratic presidential nominees before the nominating convention. Historically, the candidate then moves towards the middle for the national election. Will Biden be able to hold onto Bernie's base. That is questionable.

Bernie's base is a youthful group who fervently, perhaps rabidly, believe in their progressive mission of "free" (government provided services to the populace). Bernie's supporters are idealists on the positives of a socialistic approach to government. Whether one agrees or disagrees with their views, there is no denying the political force they are currently possessing. If this block of voters believes they have been disenfranchised by a Biden nomination they may simply not vote and let their lack of support be their idealistic vote for the change they want. That is the fear of the Democratic Party. Time will tell and how Bernie responds may well be key to the Democratic Party's chances in November.

Locally, the election was a mixed bag, with contested Republican votes for State's Attorney and County Board Districts A and C. It should be noted there may still be some absentee votes that have not been tallied, but it is doubtful they are significant enough to change the results stated in DeWitt County her entire life, except for college years. Republicans chose by 52 percent to 47 percent to keep Markwell as their nominee. No Democrat ran for nomination on the Democratic ticket.

In District A, Republicans Prestegaard, Kammeyer and Carter all received 28 percent of the vote to Ritter's 15 percent. The overriding issue in this race was the wind farm. Ritter was a strong supporter of the wind turbines and the others were opposed. The results simply speak for themselves. The top three move forward and will be challenging incumbent Democrats Redman and Reece in November for the three seats in District A.

District C had a different perspective for the three seats in that District. Incumbent Republicans Wickenhauser and Newberg have voiced support for the wind farm and each received approximately 21 percent of the vote. However strong windmill opponent Myers received the highest vote count. Wind farm opponents Oswald and Koshinski trailed at 19 percent and 18 percent respectively. The top three Republicans will contend with Democrat Nimmo for the three seats in District C in November.

It is obvious that the wind farm has divided the voters of DeWitt County. While the County Board has cancelled its meeting this week to vote on the wind farm, that meeting being cancelled due to the Corona virus restriction, the issue will remain on the voter's minds. The wind farm issue, as regards to zoning approval or denial, should be determined several months before the November election. The voters' support or opposition to the windm farm may well last into the foreseeable future.

Department of Defense is shortchanging veterans

The Inspector General for the Department of Defense has discovered that millions of dollars intended for servicedisabled veteran-owned small businesses didn't go to eligible veterans. Instead the money went to businesses that didn't qualify.

The goal is for every department to set aside at least 3% of its contracts service-disabled for who veterans own businesses. Each of those small businesses must be at least 51% owned by a service-disabled veteran who is hands-on with the business, directing daily operations and in control of management. Each business is allowed to subcontract a certain percentage of its work.

The DOD failed. Out of 27 contracts valued at $827.8 million, it gave the money to 16 businesses that didn't meet the requirements. The DOD expected those contractors "self-certify" to and swear they qualified. Additionally, the DOD did not check compliance at the subcontracting level, handing out $164.7 million to three contractors who didn't qualify.

The DOD Inspector General report, of course, had recommendations ... coordinate this, implement that, etc. The acting director of the Office of

llinois records its first COVID-19 death

Peter Hancock

Capitol News Illinois

SPRINGFIELD

Illinois recorded its first death from the novel coronavirus disease, COVID-19, on Tuesday as the number of confirmed cases in the state rose to at least 160, spread across 15 counties.

The patient, who lived in Chicago and was being hospitalized for the illness, was described as a woman in her 60s who had underlying health conditions and had been in close contact with another affected person.

"I want to extend my condolences to her family members," Gov. JB Pritzker said during his daily briefing in Chicago on the epidemic. "I want them to know that the entire state of Illinois with them. mourns May her memory be a blessing."

Pritzker also announced that an outbreak had been detected at a DuPage County long-term care facility where a resident had tested positive for the virus last week. Since then, 17 other residents and four staff members of that facility have tested positive.

"All of the individuals who have tested positive are now isolated at the facility or at a hospital, and visitors have been restricted," Pritzker said. State public health Director Dr. Ngozi Ezike warned that additional outbreaks might occur at other long-term care facilities and she issued updated guidelines for nursing homes. Those guidelines include: restricting all visitation except in certain cases such as end-of-life residents; restricting all volunteers and nonessential health care personnel such as barbers; all canceling group activities and communal dining; and implementing active screening for all residents and health care workers for fever and respiratory symptoms. developments Those came on the first full day in which all K-12 schools in Illinois were closed while bars and restaurants were restricted to drivethrough, curbside pickup or delivery service. Those restrictions are scheduled to remain in place through March 30. In addition, the Illinois Secretary of State's office said the Capitol and the Stratton state office building will be closed to the public starting Wednesday. Non-state employees will have to be escorted by a state employee to enter either building. Dr. Allison Arwady, Chicago's public health commissioner, called those measures necessary, but said the number of confirmed cases is still expected to grow steadily in the coming days, in part because more people are being tested for the virus. "The aggressive containment measures that we've been talking about, and that all of you have been taking, will not show up in the numbers today, or tomorrow, or in the very short term," she said. "These measures that we've taken are about bending the curve over the long term."

Tuesday's developments also came on the day of Illinois' primary elections as polling places throughout the state had to operate with extra precautions.

Those elections appeared to be going smoothly in most parts of the state, except Chicago where the Chicago Tribune reported some voters were turned away from their polling places amid "extremely low turnout." The Chicago Board of Elections chairman openly criticized the governor Tuesday for refusing its request to convert the election to an all-mail ballot election and extend the voting deadline to May 12.

"It was a snowball we could all see coming down the hill," Chicago elections board chairman Jim Allen told reporters Tuesday, according to the Chicago Sun-Times.

But Pritzker fired back his briefing, during arguing that he did not have the legal authority to do what the board had asked and that the board had not shown that all election jurisdictions in the state could effectively convert to an all-mail ballot election for May 12.

"It is exactly in times like these when the constitutional boundaries of our democracy should be respected above all else," Pritzker said. "And if people want to criticize me for that ... well, go ahead. I'll wear it like a badge of honor.'

$14.6 million in federal funding to respond to the pandemic, and the Department Chicago of Public Health had received another $8.7 million.

That money comes from an $8.3 billion federal funding package to combat the coronavirus that Congress approved two weeks ago.

Raoul warns of price gouging, hoaxes and hoarding

Illinois Attorney General Kwame Raoul said during the briefing that his office has been aggressively investigating reports of alleged price gouging on certain products in stores and of illegitimate offers of products to cure or treat COVID-19.

"Let me be clear," Raoul said. "I will use all the powers and tools available to my office to address price gouging in Illinois. The governor has set forth authority for my office to take action, if necessary, for any unreasonable increase in price of medical supplies, protective equipment, medication and other and services goods connected to COVID-19. We will also utilize our authority under the consumer fraud act to address any unfair pricing practice related to other products that is prohibited under the law."

He also warned the public not to believe ads or buy products that are marketed as cures or treatments for COVID-19. "These claims are absolutely false," he said. "The (U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention) has said that there is currently no vaccine to prevent COVID-19 or no medication approved to treat it at this point. People should ignore such online ads, delete email solicitations and report any scams."

Finally, Raoul addressed the issue of people buying excess supplies of things such as toilet paper, paper towels and other products that have been disappearing off the shelves of supermarkets throughout the state.

"I want to implore people to act as one Illinois, to think of their neighbors, the elderly and others who are vulnerable and encourage everyone during this trying time to buy only what they need," he said.

Teachers, administrators reach agreement about school closure time

Illinois teachers and other public school employees will continue to be paid while schools are closed and they will not have to use vacation days or sick leave to account for their absence.

Instead, the days off will be counted "Act of God" days and employees will be paid as if they were performing normal duties.

That was part of a deal announced Tuesday between the state's two major teachers' unions and associations representing administrators school and principals that was negotiated by the Pritzker administration and the Illinois State Board of Education.

School employees may, however, be asked to perform some workrelated duties during the period although details of that work will have to be negotiated through mutual agreement.

"These are unprecedented times, but we are all together with the goal of caring for students," the groups said in a joint statement. "Our organizations are truly inspired by the phenomenal cooperation shown across the state and encourage all of our members to be reasonable, creative, and generous while determining what's best for our students in Illinois."

Pritzker also stepped up his criticism of the federal government's response to the pandemic, saying it has been slow to release testing kits and related medical supplies to the states.

"My team and I have been on the phone day and night communicating with the medical testing supply chain, but the federal government is monopolizing supplies and not providing them to the states," he said. "They set deadlines and they blew through them."

Pritzker said university researchers, hospitals and national laboratories in Illinois were reporting similar issues.

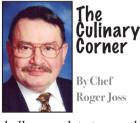

"This is an incredible failure by the federal government and every day that they continue abdicate their to responsibilities is another day that we fall behind," he said. "I've requested and now I'm demanding that the White House, the FDA and the CDC produce a rapid increase in test deployment nationwide, or get out of the way and allow us to obtain them elsewhere ourselves."

There was, however, some good news for Illinois from the federal government. U.S. Sens. Dick Durbin and Tammy Duckworth, both Democrats, announced Tuesday that the Illinois Department of Public Health had received elcome to my little corner of culinary delights. Basting is not a subject I find detailed in culinary matters. I hardly find it explained in cookbooks. One would at least think it should be important to teach in culinary classes. I do not recall even the basics of it being mentioned at the school I attended. I do, however, recall an incident at school suggesting it should be taught.

This one student was smearing regular butter all over a whole turkey. She even applied it under the skin. Knowing the purpose for basting, I asked what she was hoping to accomplish. After receiving a scolding look, she informed me it served the purpose of browning the turkey. Turkey can easily brown on its own. I shall now relate to you the details for understanding basting.

Traditionally, basting is done using the drippings from the pan as the meat is roasting. To apply any oils or juices prior to the roasting process achieves very little. As the meat heats up, the oils and/or juices roll off before having a chance to adhere to the surface. You need the meat to first be hot. As the oils or juices are added, they can immediately sear to the meat thus becoming part of it. Basting in this case does not add moisture but serves to trap the moisture inside. This is also why steaks, hamburger patties and other meats are seared over high heat first thing and then slowly grilled. This is important since dry open-air heat tends to drive moister out of food. The crust that forms can add a measure of flavor but generally on the exterior. Other methods are needed.

To ensure true flavor within the meat where it belongs, there are three methods. One is to marinate the meat overnight prior to cooking it. Procedures for marinating is discussed in a previous article. The other is to inject flavorings into the meat. The last is to put aromatic vegetables, such as course chopped onions, inside the carcass and/or place celery under the bird. I do not care for the latter suggestion since heat tends to reduce the potency of the vegetables as explained in my previous article on simmering. Marinating is an excellent method for adding both moisture and flavoring. However, it requires much time. Injecting pan drippings is excellent. It can be done immediately before or during roasting.

If oils are to be used for basting, it would be wise to use those having a high smoking point. Smoke indicates that something is burning. Burning generally produces carbon. The taste of carbon is not very good. Therefore, use oils such as clarified butter that has a high smoking point. Regular butter has too many impurities and so does virgin olive oil just to mention a few examples. In one of my articles, I have detailed the different types of cooking oils and their smoking points.

Until next time, peace to all.

Four CHS athletes sign letters-of-intent ... together

Photos Marc Rogers / Journal The Clinton Lady Maroon Track & Field in support of their own.

Marc Rogers jmarre@frontier.com

CLINTON — There was an unusual college signing last week at Clinton High School. For the first time in memory, four athletes from a single sport all signed their letters-of-intent at the same time.

The ladies signed together because the girls track & field team has always been a "family" of teammates who cheer each other on, support each other, and spend time together as a "family," athletes said. The girls were introduced as they sat at the signing table. First was Olivia Earl, the daughter of Wanda and Tim Earl. She will attend Olivet Nazarene to further her pole vaulting career and to study elementary education with a minor in Christian children's ministry. The christian family atmosphere is what drew Olivia to this particular university.

(IWU), furthering her sprinting career, while studying in the nursing program. Tori was drawn to IWU because of the chemistry of the track & field team, some of what she felt at Clinton from her coaches, also IWU attendees.

The third Lady Maroon to sign was Aryn Scott, the daughter of Amanda and Tony Scott. She will attend Greenville University as a distance runner and expand her studies in biology and chemistry. Aryn chose Greenville because of it's family atmosphere and because it is a Christian university. And, there was Payne Turney, the daughter of Jody and Josh Turney. She will attend Purdue University as a distance and cross country runner. Payne is planning on studying biochemistry at Purdue to hopefully pursue a career in the agricultural industry. She was drawn to Purdue because of it's rich history of high standards in academics and athletics.

Next was Tori Burke, daughter of Tracey and Tim Burke. She will attend Illinois Wesleyan

Personal best records set at final indoor meet

Marc Rogers

jmarre@frontier.com

CLINTON — With the outbreak of virus in our world, it has cut short many seasons. So, goes the track & field indoor and (possibly) outdoor seasons.

The Lady Maroons did get in one final indoor meet (held at Illinois Wesleyan) on March 11, just ahead of the outbreak. The meet was limited in the number of entrants, but it was still a productive meet. There were several Lady Maroons who placed or had personal best events. And, as always, the peer chosen athlete of the meet.

The Lady Maroons finished the meet in 10th place out of 18 schools (both large and small).

Those with top five finishes or personal records during the meet follow:

• Payne Turney - 1st place in the 1600 meter run (Payne currently is #3 in this event in the state) • Olivia Earl - matched her personal indoor pole vault record (10')

• Autumn Brinkotter matched her personal indoor pole vault record (7')

• Alayna Earle - set a lifetime personal record in the triple jump (8 meters)

• Maddie Bartles - lifetime personal record 4 x 200 split

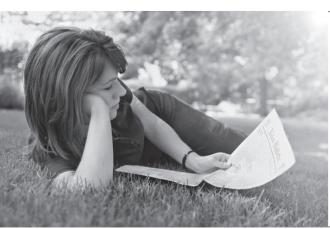

• Natalie Rhodes - lifetime personal records in 4 x 200 & 4 x 400 splits

• Jayd Rich - lifetime personal record 4 x 400

split

• Chloe Barth - lifetime personal records in 4 x 400 & 4 x 800 split

And the peer athlete of the meet was Alexa Harris. She not only ran her personal best times in 4 x 400 & 4 x 800 relays, but when a teammate had to drop from a relay, Alexa stepped up and ran with the 4 x 200 relay squad. This meet was a good effort for the team.

BRIDGE BITES

THE GRIFFINS CLUB

If you are looking for a hilarious bridge read, try the Bridge in the Menagerie series, written by the late Victor Mollo. The setting is the Griffins bridge club, and the protagonists are named for animals whose characteristics they exhibit. Our favorites are the hopeless (but amazingly lucky) Rueful Rabbit (RR) and the insufferably brilliant, claret-swilling Hideous Hog.

The contract is an ambitious 7. West

Plays the Queen from Dummy, hoping to tempt East into covering. But East plays the order from burning, hoping to tempt teast into covering. But teast plays low, knowing that West would not underlead an Ace against a grand slam. Declarer's Ace wins the trick and trumps are drawn. Next, Declarer cashes the  $\star K$ , finesses the  $\star J$ , cashes the  $\star A$  and ruffs a Diamond. The  $\star Q$  provides an entry to the long Diamond and that's 13 tricks for Declarer. Routine stuff, eh?

That may be the normal way to play and defend, but RR doesn't do normal. To spare himself the chore of thinking (which he finds quite difficult) he lives by certain rules ... third hand high ... cover an honor with an honor ... and many others. So, at Trick 1, RR does cover the  $\mathbf{v}Q$ , gleefully following two rules at one fell swoop! This "mistake" gives Declarer an option. Now, instead of relying on the 50% Diamond finesse, he can triumph whenever Diamonds are 3-2 (a 68% chance) ... draw trumps, cash the  $\mathbf{v}K$ , cross to the  $\mathbf{v}A$ , pitch a Diamond on the Rabbit-created Heart winner, and ruff a Diamond. But, alas for Declarer, this fails when Diamonds are 4-1 and he goes down in his cold grand. RR strikes again!

If the Hog had been sitting East he also would have covered with the ♥K at Trick 1. But in his case the Hog would (somehow) have divined that it was the winning play and we can still hear him chortling in between celebratory gulps of Chateau Margaux 94 (perhaps some of them even from his own glass).

Governor Pritzker launches coronavirus.illinois.gov

Murphysboro, Ill. – Following an earlier stop at the St. Clair County Health Department in Belleville this morning, Governor JB Pritzker held his administration's daily COVID-19 press briefing in Jackson County today and announced the launch of a new website detailing the state's evolving response to COVID-19 and resources available to Illinois residents during this challenging time.

"My administration is doing everything in our power to support our working families and our small businesses during this time-which means a lot of new information coming at you every day. Consider our new website as a hub for all the resources we've developed in response to this crisis," said Governor JB Pritzker. "If you want to review our announcements on unemployment eligibility benefitswhich we expanded and sped up for those impacted by COVID-19—or the work we've done to prevent utility shut-offs, expand health care, and support small businesses, you'll find it all on this new website at coronavirus.illinois.gov."

In another effort to provide timely and accurate information to the public, Coronavirus.illinois.gov centralizes the breaking updates from state government, prevention and preparation tips, frequently asked questions and resources from public health experts.

• News: The latest announcements from the Governor's Office and state agencies on the evolving response to COVID-19.

• Prevention: Tips to keep safe and healthy practices at home, in the office, in long term care facilities, in homeless shelters, around local neighborhoods and during day-to-day activities.

• Preparation: How to take effective actions to plan for a situation where you may get sick, such as implementing family action plans, and what to do if you suspect you may have been exposed to COVID-19.

• FAQs: Answers to general questions on COVID-19 and more specific questions related to education and unemployment.

Resources: Guidance from experts at the Center for Disease Control (CDC) and crucial information for both families and medical providers.

About Coronavirus: What is coronavirus? Instructions on what individuals can do to protect themselves and help prevent community spread.

ILLINOISANS: STAY HOME

Social distancing is the paramount strategy for minimizing the spread of COVID-19 in our communities. The Governor continues to make tough calls to keep Illinoisans safe, including mandating that events of 50 people or more be canceled, suspending dine-in operations of bars and restaurants and temporarily closing public and private K-12 schools. Public health officials continue to urge Illinoisans to stay home as much as possible.

Those experiencing symptoms should call a health care provider who will help arrange medical treatment without putting others at risk of exposure.

The Illinois Department of Public Health has a statewide COVID-19 hotline and website to answer any questions from the public or to report a suspected case: call 1-800-889-3931 or visit IDPH. illinois.gov.

Arcosa Voices Support for Alta Farms II Wind Project

Clinton, Ill., February, 2020 -

The proposed Alta Farms II wind project has earned a key endorsement from a local wind tower manufacturer. In a letter to the DeWitt County Zoning Board of Appeals dated January 27, an executive of Arcosa Wind Towers, Inc. cited local job benefits in urging the board to recommend the project.

"The Alta Farms II project will not only give DeWitt County an opportunity to participate in the ever-growing enterprise of clean energy production, it will provide immediate direct economic benefits to all of the citizens of DeWitt County," said Wesley Bourland, senior vice president and general manager of the manufacturer. "Because the developers of the Alta Farms II project have committed to sourcing local components from Arcosa Wind Towers, this project presents a unique opportunity for DeWitt County that should not be missed."

"We're thrilled to have the support of one of DeWitt County's largest employers," said Tom Swierczewski, senior development director with Tradewind Energy. "The endorsement of Arcosa Wind Towers further emphasizes the wide economic impact Alta Farms II will bring to this community, and we're excited to see momentum continue to build for the project."

Alta Farms II is projected to create an array of economic benefits to DeWitt County, including over 230 new construction jobs, $13.8 million in new earnings during construction, $22.1 million in total school district net revenue over the life of the project and over $4.6 million in county property tax revenue over the life of the project. These benefits are conditional on timely approval of the project application as proposed, which would enable Alta Farms to begin operating in 2021.
