Illinois CEO program. The program is not only a classroom course, in which students receive credit toward graduation, it's an ongoing series of field trips to businesses large and small.

Students meet business leaders and receive an insider view into what makes those businesses, and the people who run them, tick.

Clinton High School junior Trenton Sanders is part of the CEO group. He said the group of students had visited dozens of businesses so far this school year.

"Probably over 50," Trenton said. "In a week's time we go to probably about three businesses."

Right now, Trenton doesn't know if he would business for go into himself.

Gordon Woods / Journal Program mentor Karol Wilson touches on some points about business during students' recent visit to Wilson Chrysler-Jeep.

"Right now, I'm just his business and how trying to figure out what I want to do after high school," he said.

But, he is gaining valuable knowledge that program facilitator Melanie Brown said will be useful in whatever field a student decides to go

Sheriffs angry about release policy

Some say new policy 'aids and abets' undocumented immigrants released after felony convictions

Jerry Nowicki Capital News Illinois

SPRINGFIELD Sheriffs and Republican state lawmakers calling on Gov. JB Pritzker to scrap a new policy that they say prohibits communication between state, federal and local law enforcement agencies when an undocumented immigrant is released from a state prison after serving a felony sentence.

"I'm here to sound the alarm that a recent policy change by the Illinois Department of Corrections is making our communities and neighborhoods less safe," Kankakee County Sheriff Mike Downey said Tuesday at a Capitol news conference with House and Senate Republicans.

Downey said department contracts with U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement to coordinate the pickup, transfer and detainment of people released from state prison but still subject to federal detainers due to immigration status.

Prior to the change, IDOC would transfer them to the Pontiac Correctional Center, where Kankakee County Sherriff's Department would pick them up an hold them at the Jerome Combs Detention Center in Kankakee County until their immigration case is reviewed and adjudicated.

Davis announces Senior Corp grants for Dove, Inc

From the office of Rep. Rodney Davis

Washington, D.C. - U.S. Rep. Rodney Davis (R-Ill.) announced this week Dove, Inc., in Decatur, has received two federal grants for Senior Corps programs that help engage seniors in their communities. They will receive $70,268 for the Retired & Seniors Program Volunteer (RSVP) and $86,750 for the Senior Companion Program through Corporation for National and Community Service

(CNCS). "Dove, Inc does so many great things for the Decatur community, including organizing volunteers through Senior Corps," said Davis. "The grants will help seniors and others who are retired stay engaged by connecting them with volunteer opportunities, delivering Meals on Wheels, mentoring students, and providing other services."

"Dove counts RSVP as one its most successful programs, having hosted the program since the mid-70s. RSVP members are key to supporting Dove and so many social service programs across Macon and DeWitt counties. We are so grateful to be funded again to keep this vital program growing and providing support to all our amazing RSVP volunteers," said Barbara Blakey, Director of Volunteers and Community Relations, Dove, Inc.

He said the Wilson dealership generally sells about 275 percent Chrysler's requirement.

Wilson also gave an impromptu lesson in selling, not just cars, but anything. He demonstrated with one student as the salesperson and himself as customer.

He said it was important to put the product, in this case a pen, into the customer's hand. Or, in the case of his business, to get the customer into the vehicle.

"Don't let the customer leave without buying something," he said.

Key in this pursuit was establishing a rapport with customers, he said.

With sales in general, customers frequently buy from a particular sales person because they like them.

Wilson described how much more competitive the automotive industry is compared to when he started.

"And, you'll into that too," he said. "Competition." He also touched on other aspects of selling, emphasizing the need to be attune to customers' needs. Wilson talked about advice his father Joe, founder of the dealership, gave him early in his career. said, 'the car business has been good to me'." "And, I would tell my kids the same thing." But, Wilson said his dad advised him to do what he wanted to do.

"He said, 'Don't worry about me, don't worry about keeping our name out there'."

Wilson said his father told him he welcomed him to come to work for the dealership, but, most importantly, to do what he wanted to do.

Program facilitator Melanie Brown said students in the program were receiving not just business knowledge but life skills as well. The current group of students are from Clinton High School, Blue Ridge High School and Warrenburg-Latham High School.

Blue Ridge High School senior Brenden Flannell said he values the connections he's making through the program. "It's definitely been a lot of networking," Brendon said. "Meeting people, learning names." Brendon said he was getting experience and

But because of the policy change, which sheriffs said they learned of indirectly on Jan. 30, all such transfers at the request of ICE are no longer allowed, Downey said.

Instead, those individuals are released locally from the facility where they were held without any notification of law enforcement entities.

"I am dumbfounded that we had to learn that dangerous felons were simply being released into our county and into our community without notice, coordination or even a courtesy call to local law enforcement," Livingston County Sheriff Tony Childress said at the news conference.

Downey said he learned of, but was not given a reason for, the change when IDOC informed his office that all scheduled transfers were canceled. At that time, his department notified ICE, which was eventually forwarded correspondence from IDOC detailing the policy

"We've never been told anything as to what the rationale was, which is disappointing," he said.

A spokesperson for IDOC did not directly answer questions from Capitol News Illinois, but issued a statement pointing to the Illinois Trust Act, a 2017 law signed by former Republican Bruce Rauner Gov. restricts which local law enforcement from handing undocumented immigrants over to federal agencies without a judicial warrant.

"Under the Illinois Trust Act, the Illinois Department of Corrections is prohibited from detaining an individual solely on the basis of an immigration detainer or non-judicial immigration warrant. All incarcerated individuals are released at the expiration of their sentence. with state law," IDOC said in the statement.

In 2019, Downey said, his officers transported 223 inmates to Kankakee after they were released from one of 21 state correctional facilities which were coordinating with federal authorities. Downey said transfers included individuals who were found guilty of sexual offenses against minors; 11 of murder, attempted murder or intent to kill or injure; 19 of predatory criminal sexual assault; 33 of a criminal offense involving a weapon; 50 of drug offenses involving a substance other than cannabis; and 55 of felonylevel traffic offenses including aggravated DUI and other such offenses.

"This is not a policy that is affecting people that should have amnesty," Rep. Linday Parkhurst, R-Kankakee, said during the news conference. "This is a policy where we had 223 people in 2019 that were safely transported and deported to their country of origin because of their violent criminal nature."

Downey IDOC said officials were also instructed not to comply with ICE requests.

The sheriffs and lawmakers said it is unknown how many individuals have been released without notification since the policy change was enacted.

"Nobody knows where they are, that's the problem," state Sen. Chapin Rose, R-Mahomet, said during the news conference.

State Sen. Jil Tracy, R-Quincy, said people here illegally don't have a home county and are unlikely to be put into the probation system if they are not released to law enforcement entities. Childress said illegally immigrated sex offenders who are released are not likely to be entered into national databases without release to law enforcement.

Voters, this may possibly be the most important election within county in several decades. The reason being the urgency to elect county board members who will assertively address issues facing us now and in our future. 1. Pro-job creation for our work force. 2. Keep property taxes affordable. 3. Maintain safety and emergency services in our out their stances on the issues at hand.

The future financial security of this county hangs in limbo. When financial challenges become reality, some may choose to leave DeWitt County while others will choose to stay to protect and preserve the place that is and has been their lifelong home. Help protect the future of our county by voting for Cole Ritter, David Newberg, and Jay Wickenhauser.

Using wine soberly in cooking

'elcome to my corner culinary delights. I covered last time about red wines. The same sort of wine tasting and comparisons holds true with white wines. But note that white wines are generally lighter with an unobtrusive flavor or taste. They usually give a lighter sense to the flavoring of foods and thus used in delicate foods. Rarely would there be a need to reduce white wine.

A good rule of thumb is to only use the type of wines in cooking that can be enjoyed as a drinking wine. Always taste the wine before using it in cooking. Choose which wine to use for cooking by knowing its quality and its recommended use with foods. If for example, a certain Beaujolais is recommended for drinking along with beef stroganoff, then obviously it will be good as a cooking wine for beef dishes. White wines are good in light soups, red in your robust soups. Chinese wok cooking often requires rice wine. This information should fish and pasta dishes but be enough to get you into the ballpark. Getting a homerun is up to you. Your attention to these articles may get you to first and perhaps second and third base. Reduction of wine is very important in most cooking procedures. So, pay attention. Reduction of wine entails only the wine. Since it is a long process, anything with it could be over cooked by the time the wine is sufficiently reduced. If on the other hand the wine is initially poured into a concoction or soup, it cannot be reduced without reducing everything else and thus ruining the results. Keep in mind, that the main purpose for reducing wine is to concentrate its flavor. This process therefore makes it thicker. The syrupy aspect is especially necessary when the finished food item is being used as a spread or topping as for hors d' oeuvres and in icing or frostings on cakes and other desserts. You can enjoy such fantastic results using wine, rum, or liquors in or with disserts. I have used liquors in making a multilayered cake and Irish crème as well as rum in frostings. The sky is the limit.

You must learn to use wines and spirits expertly if you are going to use them at all. Otherwise, it can totally ruin the results. Even if all else was properly executed to become a masterpiece, adding wine improperly prepared can destroy all of your hard work. This is probably why average cookbooks rarely if at all attempt including wine in their recipes. By so doing, many wonderful recipes are avoided. The cook must make their own judgement on such matters.

Only in very rare cases would a person need to use an alcoholic beverage with the intent of saving the alcohol in it. Normally, it is only the flavor that is sought and alcohol lacks flavor.

Until next time, peace to

CJHS Lady Maroons volleyball splits home finale

Marc Rogers jmarre@frontier.com

CLINTON — Tuesday evening, February 25, was the final home volleyball match for the season for the hometown Lady Maroons of Clinton Junior High School (CJHS). The team has one more away game and then tournaments.

This final home stand, with 8th grade recognition added, was bittersweet for the home teams. The foe for this evening's matches was the Warrensburg/ Latham Lady Cardinals.

First on the agenda was the 7th grade match. The Lady Maroons started the first set in lackluster fashion and were trailing near the end by 9 points. However, the home team found an inner strength to come within one point before taking a 22-25 loss. But the team would not give up, fighting a tough opposition to take the second extended set 28-26. This set up a third set playoff, and this was another hard fought set.

Both teams seemed evenly matched in their run for the win, neither giving an inch. Finally, in another extended set, the Lady Maroons flinched one to many times and lost 27-25. The Lady Cardinals took the first match 2-1.

Next for the evening was the introduction and recognition of the 8th grade players before their final match at CJHS.

Those playing their final match, presented with their families, were Kelsey Friesland, Chyneah Holt, Kyndall Taylor, Lesley Guerrero, Macy Carter, Addie Koritz, Brooke Reeves, Aubrey Thayer, Ashley Armstrong, Heidi Humble, Leah Foehr, Kaylee Cornwell, and Alyvia Helfand.

Then it was on to the final 8th grade match. Clinton began sluggishly and just never could catch up in the first set, going down 25-19. The second set was a wake-up call to the Lady Cardinals as the Lady Maroons not only hung on to keep the set and match interesting in a tightly contested tussle but came away with a 25-23 win to set up the second playoff

This was another tough set with neither team backing off, but the Lady Maroons were not going down without a fight. This time it was the Lady Cardinals who had the hiccup, letting the Lady Maroons through to win the final set 25-20, giving the home team a win on their celebration

The 7th grade Lady Maroons had several bright points to celebrate. Lady Maroons track & field compete in Missouri

Marc Rogers imarre@frontier.com

The Clinton High School Lady Maroons track & field team spent this last weekend in Missouri.

The Lady Maroons competed against some of the best track & field competition from around the country. Many were from track clubs, not schools. The ladies did well, even though they may not have placed in the finals. A run down follows:

Olivia Earl - pole vault - lifetime indoor best of 10'0"

Autumn Brinkotter pole vault - lifetime best of 7'0" (one foot better than last week)

Savannah Burton pole vault - lifetime best of 7'0"

Kaitlyn Rauch - long jump - lifetime indoor best

200 meter dash - lifetime indoor best (dropped 2 seconds from last week)

Sierra Spaugh - long jump - indoor lifetime indoor best

Mac Reeser - shot put - improved lifetime best by 1'0" on first attempt proved lifetime best by another 1'0" in finals

Emma Fought - shot put - lifetime best

Natalie Rhodes - triple jump - lifetime best meter dash - lifetime best Jayd Rich - 400 meter dash - lifetime best Alexa Harris - 800 meter run - lifetime best Aryn Scott - 3200 meter run - indoor lifetime

Jessie Wertz - 3200 meter run - indoor lifetime

Chloe Barth - 3200 meter run - indoor lifetime

And, to finish off, there is always the athlete of the meet as picked by her peers. This meets athlete was Payne Turney. She competed in the 3200 meter run and not only ran a lifetime personal best, but broke the school record at 11:11:28. She also came in second in the run and ran the last 200 meters in 35 seconds, narrowly missing first place.

Maroons finish tough season at Riverton

jmarre@frontier.com

RIVERTON The Clinton Maroons traveled to Riverton on Monday to face the Monticello Sages in a regional battle.

This would be a severe test for the Maroons, facing a team from an athletic program that has consistently been a thorn in the side.

The Maroons came into the game appearing to be totally out of touch, having trouble on defense as well as offense.

The Maroons were down by 16 points at the halftime buzzer.

The third quarter was a runaway as Clinton failed to score, but Monticello racked up another 13 points, putting the Maroons down by 29 points at the end of the third quarter.

The Maroons managed to outscore the Sages in the fourth quarter, 6-5, but finished with a crushing 28-point loss 50-22.

This ends the struggling season of the Maroons with a 5-26 overall record and a 1-6 record in the conference. Next year will be a building year as the Maroons are losing five seniors but have promising prospects from a good junior varsity and freshman team pool.

DIFFERENT CONTRACT, SAME PLAY

Both Vulnerable West North East South Dbl Pass 2♠ Pass

After this beginning the contract might reasonably be 3NT (played by South) or 4♠ (by North). Let's dispose of the 3NT contract first, because this one our readers will make in their sleep. West leads a Club, Declarer holds up until the third round (in case the Clubs are 5-3), and makes her contract when both enemy Aces are with the short Clubs. Nine nervous tricks!

Now watch North declare 4♠ and see where he goes wrong. East (aggressively) leads a Club, and Dummy's Ace wins the trick. Then a Spade is conceded to East's Ace and the Club continuation is ruffed by Declarer. Next, trumps are played but Declarer comes unstuck when the suit is 4-1. East will get in with the ♦A and persist with Clubs, at which point Declarer will have lost trump control.

North should have taken a leaf out of the No Trump playbook. That hold-up play in Clubs, which is almost routine when playing No Trump, can also work in a suit contract. North can win the opening Club lead with Dummy's Ace but, when East gets in with the ♠A and continues Clubs, the correct play is to refrain from ruffing immediately. When a third round of Clubs is played, North must ruff, but West never gets in again to do damage with his Club winners. What's good for No Trump is also sometimes good for suit play!

Six quick tips for winter driving (NAPSI)—When comes to winter car care, many motorists tend to think of antifreeze and batteries—but vehicles need extra attention in winter, especially when the temperatures drop.

"Making sure your vehicle is properly prepared for all of winter's elements will help you avoid the aggravation of an unplanned road emergency," says Rich White, executive director, Car Care Council.

The non-profit Car Care Council offers six quick tips to help your vehicle perform at its best during cold weather months:

- 1. Keep the gas tank at least half full; this decreases the chance of moisture forming in the gas lines and possibly freezing.
- 2. Check the tire pressure, including the spare, as tires can lose pressure when temperatures drop. Consider special tires if snow and ice are a problem in your area.
- 3. Have the exhaust system checked for carbon monoxide leaks, which can be especially dangerous during cold weather driving when windows are closed.

Vehicles require extra care to keep running smoothly in the winter.

- 4. Allow your car a little more time to warm up when temperatures are below freezing, so that the oil in the engine and transmission circulate and get warm.
- 5. Change to low-viscosity oil in winter as it will flow more easily between moving parts when it is cold. Drivers in sub-zero temperatures should drop their oil weight from 10-W30 to 5-W30, as thickened oil can make it hard to start the car.

6. Consider using cold weather washer fluid and special winter windshield blades if you live in a place with especially harsh winter conditions.

Drivers should also stock an emergency kit with an ice scraper and snowbrush, jumper cables, flashlight, blanket, extra clothes, bottled water, dry food snacks and needed medication. In addition, the Car Care Council recommends a thorough vehicle inspection by a trusted professional service technician, as winter magnifies existing problems such as pings, hard starts, sluggish performance or rough idling.

The Car Care Council is the source of information for the "Be Car Care Aware" consumer education campaign promoting the benefits of regular vehicle care, maintenance and repair to consumers. To order a free copy of the popular Car Care Guide, visit the council's consumer education website at www.carcare.org.

THANK YOU FOR ALL YOUR CONTINUED SUPPORT!

Your steadfast commitment to this project has been an outstanding display of your care and concern for your community and the future of DeWitt County.

We remain confident in the application, which clearly meets or exceeds all of DeWitt County's ordinance requirements and details a first-rate wind farm that will be an asset to the entire community.

We look forward to the next step in the approval process and to bringing this project and its many community benefits to fruition.

WHAT'S UP NEXT

The final phase for approval is the consideration of the SUP application by the DeWitt County Board.

The DeWitt County Board is the final decision maker and will review ALL information provided during the RPC and ZBA hearings.

The County Board vote and decision is the final step and completes the SUP application process.

Together we are leading the change for health and prosperity for all residents of DeWitt County.
