State Senate bill would outlaw live animal prizes at carnivals

By BEN ORNER
Capitol News Illinois

SPRINGFIELD – It is a mainstay of fairs and carnivals around the country: sink a ping pong ball into a fish bowl and win the goldfish swimming inside.

But if a bill in the Illinois Senate becomes law, carnivals would no longer be allowed to award live animals – such as fish, reptiles and hermit crabs – as prizes.

Illinois’ Humane Care for Animals Act already prohibits rabbits, ducklings and baby chicks as carnival prizes, but Senate Bill 2472 would expand the law’s protections to all animals – including the goldfish that winners can take home in a plastic bag.

Sen. Suzy Glowiak Hilton, a Democrat from Western Springs, introduced the bill with backing from the Humane Society of the United States.

“This isn’t just a ‘goldfish bill,’” she said. “Carnivals across the country give out other animals as prizes, specifically iguanas and other exotic reptiles.”

Glowiak Hilton said these reptiles can grow up to six feet long and become a burden to people who did not consider the specialized care the animals need.

“Many are simply abandoned and wreak havoc on our natural wildlife, or are turned into local animal control centers, which are not equipped to handle them,” she said.

Her county, Cook, is one of at least four municipalities in Illinois that have banned live animals being used as prizes. The other three are Kane County, McHenry County and the city of St. Charles.

Illinois would join Iowa, Massachusetts, South Carolina and Vermont as states that outlaw all live animals as prizes, according to Fish Feel, an advocacy organization for the humane treatment of fish.

Glowiak Hilton’s bill applies only to carnivals. She plans to add an amendment to expand it to fairs.

Ken Tyrrell, president of the Illinois Association of Agricultural Fairs, says SB 2472 could affect the $170 million the Illinois fair industry contributes yearly to the state economy.

“That’s how these people make their money,” said Tyrrell, whose organization represents Illinois’ 104 county fairs, its two state fairs and hundreds of vendors.

“It affects the people that bring those games to fairs and it affects the fairs if they don’t have that,” he said.

Rollo church among Illinois sites added to National Register of Historic Places

❑ Church built in 1913 described as having elements of the Romanesque Revival style

SPRINGFIELD—Thanks to the efforts of historic preservation advocates in Illinois, 12 sites in the state were added to the National Register of Historic Places during 2019, the Illinois Department of Natural Resources (IDNR) announced recently.

The places recognized are located throughout the state and include a replica of the Leaning Tower of Pisa, a stone wine cellar, and three historic districts that, when combined, include more than 60 significant properties.

Among the sites added to the National Register of Historic Places is the Rollo Congregational United Church of Christ north of Earlville in DeKalb County, listed Aug. 27, 2019.

The Rollo Congregational United Church of Christ is a good example of a side steeple vernacular church with elements of the Romanesque Revival style. Completed in 1913, the church was designed by a small group of church members. The church was constructed with volunteer labor, which was supervised by an experienced local builder hired for the project. Presently, the church remains in excellent condition with no new additions and most of the work completed in the building having only been done for maintenance purposes.

Historic places are added to the National Register by the National Park Service based on recommendations from the State Historic Preservation Office, a division of the IDNR.

“Each of these places tells a unique story that is a part of the rich fabric of Illinois history,” said IDNR Director Colleen Callahan. “We are proud to work with local preservationists to obtain national recognition for these historic buildings and neighborhoods.”

The National Register of Historic Places is the official list of properties that merit special attention and preservation. Every Illinois county has at least one property or historic district listed in the National Register. Together, they represent a cross section of the Prairie State’s history from its early settlement to the mid-20th century.

In general, properties must be more than 50 years old to be eligible for the National Register. A listing places no obligations on private property owners but does make properties eligible for some financial incentives.

Other 2019 additions to the National Register from Illinois include:

- Chicago Municipal Tuberculosis Sanitarium District, Chicago, Cook County Listed Sept. 26, 2019
- Copley Hospital, Aurora, Kane County Listed April 18, 2019
- Louis Fredrick House Barrington Hills, Lake County Listed June 24, 2019
- The Forum, Chicago, Cook County Listed April 16, 2019
- Leaning Tower of Niles, Cook County Listed April 17, 2019
- Lilacia Park Historic District, Lombard, DuPage County May 9, 2019
- Alton Gas and Electric Powerhouse, Alton, Madison County Listed Aug. 28, 2019
- Downtown Urbana Historic District, Urbana, Champaign County Listed Aug. 27, 2019
- Hunziker Winery Site, Warsaw, Hancock County Listed Nov. 18, 2019
- Paris High School and Gymnasium, Paris, Edgar County Listed April 16, 2019

MHS Symphony Concert to feature percussionist Kieffer

❑ Event scheduled for February 16 in high school auditorium

MENDOTA—The Mendota High School Concert Band will present the 61st Annual Symphony Band Concert at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, Feb. 16 at the Mendota High School Auditorium. This year, MHS will be joined on stage by composer, percussionist and educator Olivia Kieffer.

Admission is free and the concert is open to the public. A reception will be held in the high school cafeteria immediately following the concert.

This year’s program will include “First Suite in Eb for Military Band” (Gustav Holst), Three Movements: I. Chaconne, II. Intermezzo, III. March; “The Seal Lullaby” (Eric Whitacre); “Ritual of the Tribe” (Chris Brooks), Percussion Ensemble, “...and then the Universe exploded” (Olivia Kieffer).

Kieffer will work with MHS band students on her composition, “...and then the Universe exploded” for several days prior to the performance, and she will also work with the percussion ensemble.

A native of Wisconsin, Kieffer’s music has been described as “immediately attractive,” “like a knife of light” and “honest, to the point, and joyful!”

Kieffer is currently pursuing a DMA in Music Composition at the Frost School

Voices from the Prairie & Princeton Library to co-host programs on U.S. Constitution

PRINCETON - A series of four evening programs titled "The U.S. Constitution: Why it Matters" has been scheduled at the Princeton Public Library. The sessions will take place at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesdays, Feb. 19 and 26, and Thursdays, March 5 and 12.

The first program of the series will feature Amanda Cook Fesperman, professor of political science and history at Illinois Valley Community College, speaking on "What Were the Founders Thinking?"

"The United States Constitution is often treated like a sacred document that should be literally interpreted and rarely amended. However, it emerged as a compromise among competing interests and since 1787, has been amended 27 times," Cook Fesperman said.

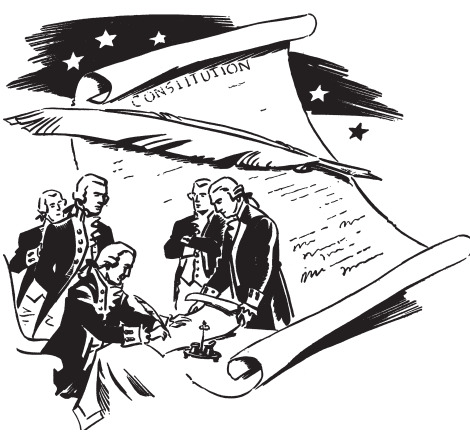

Addressed in the program will be the contentious debate over slavery that took place at the Constitutional Convention. Cook Fesperman will also discuss how other debates among the founders continue to haunt us. This includes how much power the president should have and whether the very small and very large states in population should still get equal representation in the senate.

Cook Fesperman has taught at IVCC for the past 20 years and is also chair of the IVCC Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Committee and is the coordinator for International and Multicultural Education and Study Abroad. Her academic interests lie largely in the study of women and minority groups in American and African history and in contemporary American and African politics.

Free copies of the Constitution and resource lists will be provided to participants.

The second will be presented by Matt Schafer, assistant general counsel, litigation at ViacomCBS, New York. Schafer is a graduate of Princeton High School.

All four programs will be offered with support from the Interactivity Foundation, a non-partisan, tax-exempt organization that promotes civic education and small group discussions of current issues. Shaw Media, publishers of the Bureau County Republican, Ottawa Times and News Tribune newspapers, is collaborating along with WNJI of Northern Public Radio.

Students and adults of all ages and political perspectives are invited to participate in the free sessions.

Stephanie VanOrdstrand of Voices from the Prairie said the series begins by addressing the history and writing of the original document and the Bill of Rights. It continues, with audience engagement, by looking into the impact of the Constitution and later amendments on everyday life and current affairs.

"In this election year, it's more important than ever for us all to have a more thorough understanding of not only the key legal foundations, but the historical, social and moral issues that brought us to where we are today," VanOrdstrand said.

The project will include presentations and group discussions, a trivia night, and other learning activities as well as media outreach to schools and community groups.

Voices from the Prairie is a grassroots citizens' movement committed to promoting open, ethical, and fair governance and upholding the values of tolerance, fairness, and inclusion in American society and political life. For further information, visit www.facebook.com/voicesfromtheprairie.

Blackstone School Report

Stacy Kelly, Principal

We have had so much illness going through our school in the last few weeks. We appreciate parents that are following our 24-hour rule. Students should not return to school until they are 24-hour fever/vomit free without any medication to control the symptoms. If students do return too early, we have been contacting parents to pick them up until they are completely over their illness to prevent other students from getting sick. It would be a great idea for parents to wash their child's coat, hat, snow pants, etc. to help us continue to try to fight off the germs. The school has been taking extra cleaning measures to fight the germs as well.

The students nominated for the Principal Award last week included Alistair Ward, Daniella Arteaga, Arianah Garcia, Austin Wire, Emma Dunne, Camilla Valencia and Dakoda Bonnell. The winners were Ethan Weech, Gabby Diaz, Jayla Francis and Jaxon Villegas. Congratulations to all of you!

The district's Little Caesars fundraiser is still going on. Students brought home order forms and they are due back to the school on Friday, Feb. 21. We really appreciate your support with this fundraiser to continue to help us support our students. The orders will be delivered on March 10.

There is one last chance to order preK-4th grade yearbooks. Yearbooks can be ordered online at www.inter-state.com/yearbook. The flyer code is 45959H for online orders. If you would like to turn the order envelope in by sending it back to school, please do so as soon as possible. Yearbooks will be printed and delivered later this spring.

Looking ahead on the calendar, I want to remind parents that school will be in session on Monday, Feb. 17 due to changes with the district's yearly calendar. There will be an early dismissal on Wednesday, Feb. 19. Kindergarten students will be dismissed at 11:25 a.m. and first grade at 11:35 a.m. for a teacher's inservice. No lunches will be served on that day.

4-H computer science SPIN club opens enrollment

LA SALLE - Youth ages 8-14 are invited to participate in the 4-H's computer sciences club, Game Changers. This 4-H

SPIN (SPecial Interest) Club is a highly engaging experience that teaches coding skills through fun exercises. Participants will learn how to use computer science (CS) to create games, solve problems and engage themselves in topics they are passionate about.

Developed by Google and West Virginia University Extension Service, this hands-on experience includes a computer-based activity on Google's CS First platform, as well as two unplugged activities that bring coding to life through games, physical activities and puzzles. Game Changers is perfect for first-time and beginner coders, ages 8 to 14.

The 4-H Game Changers

SPIN Club will meet for six sessions at the University of Illinois Extension Education Center and Community Teaching Kitchen, 944 East First St., LaSalle beginning on Saturday, March 7. The one-hour sessions will start at 10 a.m. Additional sessions will be on March 14, 28 and April 4, 11, 18. Session locations may vary due to club activity.

For information and to enroll, contact the LaSalle County office at (815) 433-0707.

Beekeeping for beginners offered

OTTAWA - Interested in becoming a beekeeper? The Illinois Valley Beekeepers Association invites the public to attend an Introduction to Beekeeping Workshop on Saturday, Feb. 15. The workshop will take place from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the University of Illinois Extension Center, 1689 N. 31st Road, Ottawa.

Those participating will learn Honey Bee Biology, Basics of the Hive, Beekeeping Equipment, Inspection and more. Lunch will be provided.

Cost of the session is $15 per person ($5 for 4-H members). Registration is required by calling the U of I Extension Center at (815) 433-0707. Payment will be collected at the event.

Imagine Mendota enters HGTV's 'Home Town' makeover competition

MENDOTA - When HGTV recently launched a nationwide call to find towns that could use a "Home Town" makeover, Imagine Mendota answered the call. The network is planning a new series called "Home Town Takeover," in which the hosts will lead a team of renovation pros as they makeover a small town with a population of 40,000 or less.

Communities had until Feb. 4 to enter a short video and explanation of why their town deserves to be featured in the special series. Applicants were asked to highlight aspects of their town that make it special, fascinating, historic or unique and include distinctive features such as vintage period architecture, special destinations or a classic main street.

Steve Lauer of Imagine Mendota said even though it's a long shot to win, the group decided to go ahead and enter. "Tom Smith put together a nice film and wrote a story to go with it," Lauer said. "We'll see what happens."

OBITUARIES / LOCAL NEWS

Dale R. Peters

MENDOTA - Dale R. Peters, 86, of Mendota passed away Feb. 3, 2020 at OSF St. Anthony's Medical Center, Rockford.

Graveside services were held at 1 p.m. on Feb. 6 at Peru City Cemetery Mausoleum with Rev. Tom Reddig officiating. Merritt Funeral Home, Mendota handled the arrangements.

Dale was born Nov. 7, 1933 in Peru to Ralph and Rose (Pinter) Peters.

Survivors include one sister, Arlet Lunn of Pennsylvania; two nieces, Judy Marlar and Lynn Kinney; one nephew, Barry Lunn; and his good friend, Celina Reyez.

He was preceded in death by his parents and one sister, Elaine Kutter.

Dale was a self-employed farmer his entire life. He served in the National Guard from 1955-1962.

Memorials may be directed to the Mendota Lutheran Home.

MaryLou Reeser

OREGON - MaryLou Reeser, 76, passed away Feb. 5, 2020 at Serenity Hospice and Home in Oregon.

Visitation was held from 9-10:15 a.m. on Feb. 8 at St. Patrick Catholic Church, Rochelle followed by a funeral service at 10:30 a.m. with Father Ruben Herrera officiating. Burial was at St. Patrick Cemetery, Rochelle.

MaryLou was born Oct. 22, 1943 in Mendota to Raymond and Anna Mae (Stephenitch) Gehant. She married Gerald "Jerry" Reeser on May 18, 1963 in West Brooklyn.

Survivors include her husband of Rochelle; two children, Mark (Denise) Reeser of Rockford and Margaret (David) Lundquist of Loves Park; six siblings, Karen (Melvin) Bonnell, Susan (Larry) Eddy and Pat (Terry) Moyer, all of West Brooklyn, Kathy (Tim) Burkardt of Amboy, Sherrie (John) Jacobs of Dixon and Mike (Colleen) Gehant of Mendota; one sister-in-law, Barb Gehant of Mendota; and four grandchildren, Hayley and Nolen Reeser and Cameron and Mary-Margaret Lundquist.

She was preceded in death by her parents; two brothers, Raymond and Don (Tonna) Gehant; and one sister, Janet Hornung.

MaryLou worked for over 30 years at the Rochelle Newsleader. She loved spending time with her family, especially her grandchildren. She enjoyed their pool and vacationing with Jerry for several years at Marco Island. She was a Longaberger basket collector and had one for every occasion.

In lieu of flowers, memorials may be directed to St. Patrick Catholic Church or Serenity Hospice and Home. Visit www.ungerhorner.com to sign the online guest book.

The Board then moved into executive session to discuss the appointment, employment, compensation, performance, or dismissal of specific employees, student discipline, and to consider a grievance arbitration.

The next District 289 Board of Education meeting will take place at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 20 at the district office, 1806 Guiles Ave., Mendota.

State releasing broadband expansion funding

By JERRY NOWICKI

Capitol News Illinois

SPRINGFIELD - The state is accepting applications for the first $50 million in disbursements of a $420 million grant program aimed at increasing internet access across the state.

Gov. JB Pritzker announced the release of funding recently at Ridgeley Elementary School in Springfield, noting that the rights to "health care and education and economic opportunity" are all "tied to digital connectivity" in the 21st century.

"I want to be clear though," he said, "this isn't about a person's ability to go online and just look at their Facebook page. This is about a small business owner having the tools that she needs to reach new customers. This is about an elderly couple's ability to get access to medical experts anywhere in the nation, even if they live in a rural community. This is about giving children like the ones that are here today the ability to research their homework assignments online."

The program, known as Connect Illinois, is part of the $45 billion capital infrastructure plan that the General Assembly passed last year.

Applications for the first $50 million can be submitted through Friday, April 3. Applicants can receive up to $5 million per project as part of the first round of funding, but they must provide at least 50 percent of the project's funding.

Matt Schmit, head of the office of broadband within the Illinois Department of Commerce and Economic Opportunity, said he expects applicants to include internet service providers, rural broadband cooperatives and possibly communities looking to invest in broadband.

"We'll have an inclusive process when it comes to applicants," he said. "The point is that you've got to have a strong track record of demonstrating that you can do this kind of work. And so we're going to be very diligent in making sure that any applicant that the state partners with is up to this work, and that we're making sound investments for the long haul."

He said he also expects to see community and provider partnerships in some circumstances.

"And we want to hear ideas, we want to hear from you," Schmit said. "Because this is not a state-driven approach. This is a partnership between our providers, our communities and folks who are interested in getting a better connectivity future for our communities around the state."

Schmit said the $420 million accounts for "the nation's largest competitive matching grant program" for broadband expansion. He said $20 million of that funding will go to maintenance of the Illinois Century Network, which is the high-speed state system that serves educational, research, governmental and health care organizations across the state.

"A year ago, our administration made a daring promise to prioritize not just with our words, but with action to bridge the digital divide that hinders so many rural and urban communities," Lt. Gov. Juliana Stratton said at the news conference.

She chairs the governor's Rural Affairs Council, and said she has met with rural and agricultural leaders who relayed that a "primary need" was expanding broadband.

"About 10 percent of the population is underserved when it comes to broadband access, and those communities are overwhelmingly people of color or those living in remote parts of our state," she said.

Pritzker likened the need for broadband in rural communities to a period when rural communities lagged behind on electricity. He also noted several neighborhoods in Chicago lack reliable internet access.

Two Ag Info Sessions scheduled

OGLESBY - Illinois Valley Community College's agricultural program will host two Ag Information Sessions for prospective students and parents.

An evening session is 6 to 8 p.m. Monday, Feb. 24 and a morning session is 9 to 11 a.m. Friday, April 3; both sessions are in rooms CTC124-125.

Led by co-program coordinators Willard Mott and Kathryn Lillie, guests will interact with current students and faculty, hear an overview on the revitalized program and tour campus. Enrollment, financial aid and scholarship information will be provided.

Refreshments will be available. RSVP at www.ivcc.edu/ag-infosession. For information, contact Mott at willard_mott@ivcc.edu or Lillie at kathryn_lillie@ivcc.edu.

SAT Test Prep course offered

OGLESBY - Illinois Valley Community College's Continuing Education office offers "SAT Test Prep" on its main campus and Ottawa Center (321 W. Main St.) in February.

The main campus option is 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 15 and 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 22. Ottawa Center is 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 22 and 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 29.

Instructors Tricia Haynes and Bernie Moore will teach students test-taking skills, strategies for answering each type of question, time restraints and the SAT scoring system. Practice questions for the English, reading and math portions of the exam will also be reviewed.

"This class is designed to coach you to do your best on the SAT and demystify college admission testing," Haynes said. "Preparing for the SAT will not produce perfect scores, but it will improve your performance by reducing test anxiety that can hinder performance."

Cost is $99 and the textbook "Accelprep for the SAT Test" is included. Students should bring a pen or pencil and notepaper to class. Seating is limited. Call (815) 224-0447 to register.

Carnivals

Tyrell also says the bill erases the nostalgia of taking home a small pet from the local carnival.

"I've been in the fair business all my life, and people have a tendency to go back and play the same games every year," he said. "If your small children look forward to going and playing the game where you have the possibility of winning a goldfish, they're going to be very disappointed."

Glowiak Hilton included a workaround in her bill, though. Carnivals can offer a coupon or voucher to winners so they can buy the animal from a licensed pet store.

"(SB 2472) will allow prize winners to go into a pet shop and fully understand the animal that they are going to be caring for," she said.

"As far as nostalgia, this bill will create an even better experience for kids who win the coupons," she added. "They will be able to go to a pet store with their parents and pick out exactly which animal they want."

Tyrell, however, said teaming up with pet stores is unrealistic for carnival workers who are constantly on the road.

"Carnival people travel all over the state and all over the country," he said. "They don't have those local associations to do that. That would be very difficult, time-consuming and expensive."

SB 2472 was assigned to the Senate agriculture committee. If it passes committee, the bill will go to the full Senate for a vote.

Rubbing Lincoln's nose

By Scott Reeder

SPRINGFIELD – It doesn't seem like a decade has passed since my then 4-year-old daughter, Grace, announced that her luck had run out – and something needed to be done.

"Daddy, I rubbed Mr. Lincoln's nose for good luck two weeks ago but now my luck is all gone. We need to go to Mr. Lincoln's tomb right away," she told me with more than a bit of desperation in her voice.

With Lincoln's birthday approaching, I got to thinking about that long-ago trip to Springfield's shrine to Illinois' martyred saint.

Going to the tomb and rubbing the nose of the Abraham Lincoln statue for luck is one of the more unusual of Illinois' customs.

Sightseers in the state capital notice that the nose of Lincoln is shiny from visitors' touches. In fact, it's touched so often that a metalsmith periodically is dispatched to fix the nose when a hole is rubbed through.

The statue was created by Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor who also shaped Mt. Rushmore.

When you are born in Illinois on Lincoln's Birthday, February 12, as I was, you quickly become immersed in Lincoln lore.

When I was a kid, I read every Lincoln biography in the school library, had a picture of Honest Abe that I'd cut out of the Farm Journal thumb tacked to my bedroom bulletin board and could rattle off Lincoln trivia the way other boys can recite baseball statistics.

When I was 8, I wanted to go to Gettysburg – not Disney World.

Other states have nicknamed themselves after their crops, heritage or natural attributes.

Illinois, on the other hand, is the only one that has chosen a person as a symbol of state identity – thanks to state Sen. Fred Hart of Streator, who in 1955 sponsored legislation designating the state as the "Land of Lincoln."

Illinois is a wonderful place to live but it lacks a strong sense of identity. Lincoln seems to be the stitch in the fabric that holds the state together. School children are taught at an early age to revere Lincoln. My second-grade teacher told my class how he walked five miles to return 6 cents to a friend, and that is how he came to be known as "Honest Abe."

Being a cynical journalist, I'm more than a bit skeptical of such tales. But there is no denying that myths are part of what unites a state.

When my daughter Grace asked to be taken to Lincoln's Tomb on a chilly Sunday a decade ago, I wasn't exactly thrilled. That tomb just plain creeps me out.

Maybe it's not an idol. But it's certainly a graven image many in the Prairie State revere.

Folks travel to the tomb to lay Lincoln pennies on the headstone of the original burial place of the Great Emancipator.

Despite my misgivings, my daughter continued to pester me to take her to see Mr. Lincoln's tomb.

So, we drove to Oak Ridge Cemetery, which is just a few minutes from our house. Grace scampered to that statue and said, "Lift me up, Daddy. Lift me."

After she gave Lincoln's nose a vigorous rub, she hit me up for three pennies.

She left one at the tomb – and kept two for herself. Maybe the nose rubbers weren't the most gullible to visit the cemetery that day.

When the banks closed – 1932

By Jessica Nashold

Reporter readers of a certain age, living anywhere in the United States in 1933, can easily recall the time President Franklin Delano Roosevelt ordered banks to close. For Mendotans, this was not a new experience. As early as January 14, 1932, the Farmers & Merchants State Bank in Mendota had closed its doors to protect funds on deposit there.

On January 23, 1932, Mayor John U. Rutishauser issued a proclamation declaring a six-day moratorium on banking in Mendota. (Sunday, January 24 was not counted.) The Mendota Reporter issued a rare Extra Edition on January 23 to spread the news.

Although the First National and Mendota National banks were not in financial difficulty, Mayor Rutishauser and his advisers agreed –

No bank can stand heavy withdrawals.

Before the six-day moratorium had expired, plans were already being discussed to open a new bank to operate until the old established banks reopened. The temporary bank would then dissolve.

Meantime, school, church and other funds were tied up in the closed banks. Teachers were paid in warrants. A grade school operetta, "Tulip Time," was presented in February. Director Harlan Peithman announced there would be no admission charge.

On February 11, The Reporter learned that a Rockford man, who had been negotiating to buy a 51 percent interest in the proposed interim bank, had withdrawn his offer. His Rockford bank had closed February 10.

Also on February 11, it was reported that Federal bank examiners were in town to get information needed in order to reopen the closed banks. A week later, on February 18, 1932, it was announced that a receiver had been appointed by the Federal Government for the two national banks in Mendota. Urban Tracey of McPherson, Kan., was named receiver for both the First National and National banks. The State Banking Commission appointed Vincent Reem of Peru as receiver for the Farmers & Merchants State Bank. It would take $150,000 to open the Farmers & Merchants, which had not yet given up hope.

In this same February 18 issue, it was noted that 47 individuals had agreed to purchase stock in a new bank. A week later, on February 25, 97 shares had been spoken for.

On March 5, 1932, County Treasurer J. Ward Smith informed County Judge B. Harry Reck that he was sure Mendota would have a bank. He planned to present a resolution to the LaSalle County Board of Supervisors, asking that the Mendota bank be named as a depository for tax money received.

Earl Lewis and Arthur Landgraf, formerly with Farmers & Merchants, opened an insurance office on the second floor of the F & M bank building, behind the dental office of Dr. B.N. Hughes.

On March 9, there was a mass meeting at the Elks to discuss further steps needed in order to open a new bank. At the start of the meeting, 77 shares needed to be purchased.

At the close, new stock was oversubscribed.

The March 17 issue of The Reporter indicated that the Continental Illinois Bank & Trust of Chicago had been selected as the mandatory corresponding bank. The news on March 31 was that all 500 shares in the new National Bank of Mendota had been paid for and the required sum of $65,000 sent to "the Chicago bank."

A charter will come in a few days.

The April 7 issue confirmed that the National Bank of Mendota would open on Saturday, April 9 in the former Mendota National Bank building, northwest corner of Washington Street and Illinois Avenue.

On opening day, deposits totaled $76,500. First to open a savings account was Paul Engelbrecht. First to open a "regular account" was C.A. Harbaugh.

The officers were: D.L. Barnett, president; Joseph L. Zolper, vice president; C. Walter Jacob, cashier; F.J. Reichardt, assistant cashier.

Meantime receivers for the two national banks were representing the interests of deposition in these two institutions. On September 8, 1932, checks were forwarded to Washington, D.C., for the signature of the Controller of Currency. On September 20, the checks were ready for distribution here – a 50 percent allocation to Mendota National depositors, 45 percent to First National depositors.

Farmers & Merchants State Bank depositors met with a State Bank Examiner to continue exploring the possibility of reopening.

It was believed that if depositors left 50 percent of their deposits in the bank and limited withdrawals to 5 percent each month, the bank could continue. Instead, depositors elected to receive a percentage of what they had in the bank when it closed.

A cleaning and pressing shop opened with Don King in charge. • National Tea bought the Erbes Grocery on Illinois Avenue and moved there from Washington Street. Erbes retained his meat market at the same location. • Ed Wixom opened an ice cream parlor on Washington Street in the building vacated by National Tea. • A cheese factory decided to locate in Mendota. • St. John's Lutheran Church went forward with plans for a parish house. • Alger leased the Strand Theatre building from Degenhardt and later opened the State Theatre there.

Moving fast forward to March 1933, Roosevelt's order closing all national banks affected the National Bank as well. Under this order, the bank could make a change and allow access to safety deposit boxes. In addition, the National Bank of Mendota accommodated the public insofar as possible, by accepting money "off the books" and keeping it available on demand as a "convenience."

In the Mayoral Proclamation of January 23, 1932, all business activity was suspended from January 23 through January 30 except those businesses dealing with "the necessities of life." Groceries, meats, drugs, coal, gasoline and the public utilities.

All others will desist from gainful occupation.

The end of 2016

By Rich Lowry

And so 2016 finally draws to a close.

It's been the longest election year in American history. It ran from Feb. 1, 2016, the date of the Iowa caucuses, to the Senate vote to acquit President Donald Trump in early February 2020.

It's true that Nov. 6, 2016, was a signal event in this long election year, but it didn't really conclude anything, even though the result wasn't in doubt. Usually, contested elections are ties or near-ties. This is the first time an election has gone into overtime, with repeated attempts at what were in effect recounts, despite the winner comfortably prevailing (Donald Trump won handily in electoral votes, the measure that determines the outcome, 304-227).

Immediately Democrats concluded that they'd been robbed, and Hillary Clinton did indeed get some bad breaks during the campaign, most consequentially at the hands of then-FBI director James Comey. Such is life in the arena. But no one on the left was in a mood to move on.

Rather taking stock and recalibrating as warranted, Democrats remained fixated on 2016. Rather than simply mobilizing opposition to Trump's agenda and reelection, as any opposition always does, they mused about how to reverse the 2016 result. Rather than acknowledging the near-impossibility of removing a duly elected president, they indulged in fantasies about how to do exactly that.

Above all, they obsessed about Russia as the cause of their undoing in 2016. With enough investigation, all would be made plain, the Trump-Russia conspiracy would be unraveled, the walls would close in, and the world would be restored to its axis. The rightful winner of 2016 wouldn't take office, but the wrongful winner would be vanquished. What voters in Michigan, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin failed to do, the grinding machinery of investigation would achieve.

When the Mueller probe didn't produce the impeachment that the Democrats had expected with such fervent certainty, it seemed briefly they'd finally have to accept the outcome of 2016, however grudgingly. Then, Ukraine emerged, and impeachment was, thankfully and gloriously, back on.

Russia was a proximate cause of the impeachment over Ukraine. The Democrats charged that Trump sought Ukrainian interference in our elections, just as he had sought Russian interference (for all their interest in the Mueller investigation, Democrats have never absorbed its conclusion that there is no evidence that Trump colluded with the Russians). Absent their conviction that Trump is an illegitimate president, Democrats would have been, understandably, outraged by Ukraine and determined to investigate it, but they wouldn't have impeached over it.

In this sense, the Senate trial is the last act in the 2016 election. It establishes, once and for all, that he won't leave office prior to the end of his first term. It makes it clear that another election, not some other mechanism, will be necessary to remove him. It represents the final failure of the investigatory apparatus around Trump's alleged Russian collusion to deliver Democrats from the consequences of their 2016 defeat.

Trump, obviously, isn't blameless in any of this. But he is not a Russian agent. He won the presidency in a free and fair election, and despite his attempted removal, will have a chance to do so again. On to 2020.

Q: I've always enjoyed "The Big Bang Theory" and loved Laurie Metcalf as Sheldon's mother. The actress who now plays his mother on the spin-off series "Young Sheldon" has so many of Laurie's facial expressions, quirks and attitude. My daughter said that they are mother and daughter. Is that a fact? -- A.V.

Zoe Perry

A: Your daughter is correct. Actress Zoe Perry is the offspring of Laurie Metcalf ("Roseanne") and actor Jeff Perry ("Grey's Anatomy"). Zoe's first acting role came in the early 1990s on a couple episodes of "Roseanne," where she played Metcalf's character, Jackie, as a young girl.

For those who haven't tuned in, "Young Sheldon" is a sitcom that takes place in the early 1990s and airs Thursday nights at 8 p.m. ET on CBS.

Q: Why does there have to be such annoying, loud background noise/music throughout so many shows these days? My main complaint is with the three "Chicago" shows on Wednesday nights and also "New Amsterdam." They are all NBC shows, and I have written a complaint to that network, for all the good it will do, but I'm reaching out to you as well. Can you help? -- L.T.

A: I wish I had the power to change it. Take some comfort that you are not alone. While researching the issue online, I found many complaints from viewers that they were not able to hear the dialogue due to the blaring background music. Alas, these complaints went back several years, and since it's still an issue it's obvious that NBC hasn't done anything about it and, I fear, doesn't plan on changing its ways.

Some people online theorized that the sound distortion is due to our modern flat-screen TVs. The speakers are smaller than the ones on the large tube TVs of the past. However, it wouldn't be an issue at all if the networks would cease with the loud music!

In the meantime, keep those letters coming to NBC. If more people write them at www.nbc.com/contact-us then perhaps they will listen.

Q: What happened to the "SEAL Team" program? I watched it regularly and then it suddenly disappeared and hasn't been on for weeks. What happened? Please tell me it hasn't been canceled! -- J.P.

A: "SEAL Team," which stars David Boreanaz ("Bones") as a member of the elite Navy SEALs, was in its third season on CBS when it took a planned break this winter. Fortunately, it will be back with seven new episodes beginning Wednesday, Feb. 26.

Joining the cast in 2020 as recurring characters are Rachel Boston ("Witches of East End") and Tim Chiou ("iZombie"). Boston plays a childhood pal of Sonny's (AJ Buckley), and Chiou will play a new member of the SEAL team who thrives on tough conditions. I think "SEAL Team" will be around for a while. In fact, it earned some of its highest ratings just this past December.

HOLLYWOOD -- Bradley Cooper will follow his "A Star Is Born" success with

B. Cooper

Guillermo del Toro's "Nightmare Alley," co-starring Cate Blanchett, then direct himself in the title role in the upcoming Netflix bio-picture of Leonard Bernstein. Bernstein is best remembered for his groundbreaking score of "West Side Story," which Steven Spielberg has just completed remaking for a December release.

In addition, Bernstein scored the classic Marlon Brando film "On the Waterfront," the Broadway musicals "Candide," "Wonderful Town" (for which he won a Tony Award), "Peter Pan" and "On the Town" (for which he earned his only Oscar nomination when it was made into a movie with Frank Sinatra and Gene Kelly). He also won 16 Grammys and seven Emmys. Even though Bernstein was married and fathered three children, the film will deal with his extramarital affairs with men. He died five days after retiring, at 72. Because of the pre-release success of "The Irishman," Netflix will give it a limited theatrical release before making it available for streaming.

Once upon a time in Hollywood there were five major studios: Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer (MGM), Warner Brothers, Columbia, Paramount and 20th Century Fox. Between them they created the majority of the greatest films made from the 1935 through the 1960s (when the studio system began to decline due to the success of television). MGM claimed they had "More stars than in the heavens." Warner Bros. had Bette Davis, Olivia De Havilland, Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall. Columbia made "It Happened One Night," "From Here to Eternity" and "On the Waterfront." Paramount had Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, and the "Road" pictures with Bob Hope and Bing Crosby. Fox gave us Marilyn Monroe, "All About Eve," "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid," "M*A*S*H," "The King and I," "The Sound of Music" and the "Star Wars" saga.

When the crash came, MGM sold its backlot to condo builders. Sony acquired Columbia, then bought what was left of the MGM lot and moved Columbia there. Warners and Paramount had no backlots but retained their studios, while 20th Century Fox sold its backlot, which became Century City.

Now Disney has acquired 20th Century Fox and stripped it of the Fox name, calling it 20th Century Studios. When I moved to Hollywood, in 1967, I was able to explore and wander around the still-great studios, then more into TV production, such as "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea" at Fox, and "Dr. Kildare" at MGM. I was in heaven. The five major studios paved the way for the new wave of movie-making today, operated by five streaming services: Netflix, Disney+, Amazon Prime, Hulu and Apple. Time marches on ... either love it or don't stream it!

Couch Theater

(Movies reviewed in this week's column have just been released on video and DVD.)

"Playing With Fire" (PG) -- John Cena stars as a tightly wound supervisor of a top tier team of firemen. He and his squad -- comedy backup by Keegan-Michael Key as Mark, and John Leguizamo as Rodrigo -- rescue a trio of plucky kids (Brianna Hildebrand, Christian Convery and Finley Rose Slater) from a raging wildfire, and they're going to have to look out for them until their parents are located. Big boy babysitters get a lesson in wildly unpredictable forces of nature: kids. The laughs resonated with the 10-13 set. Also stars Judy Greer as Amy Hicks, a child psychologist and wholesome love interest.

"Doctor Sleep" (R) -- Building on the 1980 iconic terror of "The Shining" and loosely based on Stephen King's story, we find little Danny Torrance (Ewan McGregor) all grown up and 40 years removed from the snow-encapsulated events at Overlook. Now in control of his psychic abilities, he's a hospice worker in a small East Coast town. Abra (Kyliegh Curran), a teen who shares Dan's strange powers, seeks to form an alliance against a group of roving extrasensory power thieves called the True Knot. Headed by Rose the Hat (Rebecca Ferguson), the group has targeted Abra, and Dan must submit to his own powers in order to help her.

"The Nightingale" (R) -- A young Irish woman (Aisling Franciosi) is bound to the cruel Lieutenant Hawkins (Sam Claflin) in colonial Australia. At the end of her indentured service, he refuses to free her, and she is victimized by Hawkins and his cadre of friends. With no saviors, and no authority to turn to, she enlists the help of an aboriginal man named Billy (Baykali Ganambarr) to guide her as she tracks down her attackers. Although distrustful, he helps the girl, and the pair find commonalities between them. Determination for retribution is a fearsome thing to behold, and the mood is set perfectly by director Jennifer Kent.

"Last Christmas" (PG-13) -- Emilia Clarke and Henry Golding play an odd couple in director Paul Fieg's sassy comedy based on a song by the 1980s pop group Wham! It's meant to be inspirational -- and in many ways it is -- but as cute as the leads are, it doesn't quite live up to its promise. Kate (Clarke) is a retail clerk in a year-round Christmas shop. She isn't the most successful elf, having just been kicked out of her apartment. One day she meets an extraordinary man named Tom (Golding) who is affable and uplifting, generous and optimistic. As London blossoms into full magical Christmas season, she is influenced enough by him to open up about an illness she's just gone through. There's a heck of a twist at the end.

Strange But True

By Samantha Weaver

* It was American cartoonist, humorist and journalist Kin Hubbard who made the following sage observation: "There's no secret about success. Did you ever know a successful man who didn't tell you about it?"

* Next time you're in Iowa, you might want to stop by the rural town of Riverside, which touts itself as the future birthplace of Captain James T. Kirk. Yep, the [SET ITAL] future[ENDITAL] birthplace. It seems that "Star Trek" creator Gene Roddenberry asserted that the character of James Tiberius Kirk was born in Iowa, but he didn't specify exactly where. In 1985, the Riverside City Council voted to declare their town the future birthplace of the character, later writing to Roddenberry and receiving his approval. In honor of its newfound claim to fame, the city began hosting an annual Trek Fest, complete with a Spockapalooza battle of the bands.

* If you enjoy cooking, you might have heard of some of the following cookbooks: "Kill It and Grill It," "The Joy of Pickling," "Full of Beans," "The Stinking Cookbook" and "I Can't Believe It's Not Meat!" Then again, maybe not.

* The term "bric-a-brac," usually used to refer to a collection of tawdry trinkets, comes from the French, where its original meaning was "at random."

* Most parents of small children know that trampolines can be dangerous, and they are. Every year, nearly 100,000 people receive emergency-room treatment for injuries sustained while using trampolines. Those injuries are hardly ever fatal, though. Pools, on the other hand, are far more deadly; more than 1,000 people in the United States die in swimming pools annually.

Isaac and Michaela Olson

Denault-Olson say vows in Mendota

Michaela Denault and Isaac Olson were married on Dec. 7, 2019 at First United Methodist Church, Mendota. Michaela is the daughter of Gerald and Diane Denault of Mendota. Isaac is the son of Brian and Carrie Olson of Waterman.

Matron of honor was Kelsey Greer, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Haley Querciagrossa, Holly Denault, Jamie Denault, Alicia Detmers and Britain Patenburg.

Best man was Richard Gray, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Robert Johnson, Ricky Cruise, Josh Elliot, Jake Olson and Zack Woodbury. Ushers were Bryan Denault and Kye Denault.

Michaela wore an off-the-shoulder white gown with a full train, embellished with an all-over embossed sparkling flower pattern. The two-tiered, fingertip length veil was rhinestone edged. The flowers were red and white silk roses and white silk lilies.

The bridesmaids wore red halter style full length dresses. The groom, groomsmen and ushers wore black tuxedos with red vests and ties.

A reception was held at the Grand Bear Lodge Ballroom in Utica.

Lenten services to begin March 4

MENDOTA – All are invited to join in this year’s Wednesday morning Lenten services beginning on Wednesday, March 4, sponsored by the Mendota Church Women United, an ecumenical group representing a number of local churches.

This ecumenical series of services will be held for five Wednesdays in Lent at Zion United Methodist Church beginning at 9:30 a.m.

This year’s program continues the study from “Twelve More Women of the Bible,” based on teachings from Karen Ehman, Bianca Juarez Olthoff, Lisa Halper, Chrystal Evans, Margaret Feinberg, and Courtney Joseph.

A time of worship, video presentation and small group discussion will be held each week.

Though this study, some of today’s best-loved authors look at the spiritual lessons learned from women in the Bible and what they mean for women today. Each study will look at these women’s successes and failures, see how they drew near to God in the midst of trials, and learn how they each overcame rejection and disappointment. Their stories serve to inspire women to persevere through difficult times and find joy in the hope that Jesus has provided.

Refreshments will be served in the fellowship hall after the service.

Upcoming services:

March 4—Esther: Letting God be in Control, hosted by Zion United Methodist Church

March 11 – Priscilla: Living a Life of Blessed Ordinary, hosted by Holy Cross Church

March 18 – Elizabeth: Waiting Game, hosted by First United Methodist Church

March 25 – Martha and Mary: Finding Life in Death, hosted by St. John’s Lutheran Church

April 1 – Anna: How to Live a Life Devoted to God, hosted by First Presbyterian Church

All services will be held at Zion United Methodist, 808 Jefferson St., Mendota. The church is accessible.

LaSalle County 4-H welcomes new members

LA SALLE COUNTY - Have you heard of 4-H? University of Illinois LaSalle County Extension invites all youth, ages 5-19, to participate in the many opportunities 4-H offers.

As the youth development program of the University of Illinois, 4-H is the largest out-of-school youth program and is located in many countries around the world. The 4-H Program is over 100 years old and provides youth with many different and fun opportunities to explore their interests, learn new skills, meet new friends, and to consider and plan for their career.

4-H is not something you do alone. Once someone signs up as a 4-H member, they will choose a local 4-H Club to join and that is where all the magic happens. With more than 1,600 clubs across Illinois, there is sure to be one close to you.

What is a 4-H Club?

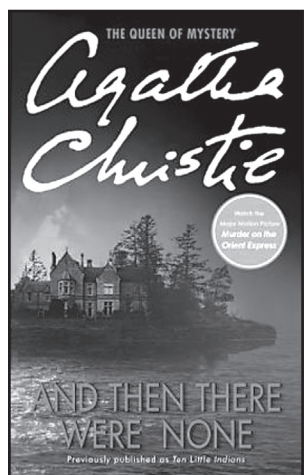

A club is a group of five or more 4-H members. Each club has screened adult volunteer leaders who help members in their 4-H journey. Members meet together as a club at least six times during the year. During club meetings, 4-H members learn new skills, such as running a meeting, speaking in public, working together as a team, and making decisions. Members help out in their communities and lead activities while they practice the skills they will need in school and careers.

What do 4-H members do?

That is really up to the members. Club members vote on the things they do as a club whether planting flowers at a local park, visiting the local police headquarters, having a robotics demonstration, touring a museum or choosing to build and launch rockets. Many clubs also go on fun outings or field trips with the members in their clubs. There is no way to list all the things youth can do in their 4-H Club because there is no limit to their imagination.

All young people are welcome regardless of race, color, religion, gender, national origin, ancestry, marital status, familial status, sexual orientation, or disability and may enroll in 4-H. Members must enroll in at least one project of their choice. There are over 200 projects to choose from such as shooting sports, natural resources, small pets, dogs, cats, livestock, crops and much more. Youth are expected to join the 4-H Program in the county where they live but can participate in community clubs, after-school clubs, workshops, summer camps and more.

To learn more, like them on Facebook at www.facebook.com/blmp4H. For information about joining the 4-H Program, contact Toni Pienta, 4-H Program Coordinator, University of Illinois Extension, LaSalle County Office at (815) 433-0707.

Book club selects Agatha Christie’s “And Then There Were None”

MENDOTA – Join the conversation at Graves-Hume Public Library’s 2nd Tuesday Book Discussion. This month will feature “And Then There Were None” by Agatha Christie.

Just stop by the library to pick up a copy of the book.

The meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 10 at 1 p.m. and 6 p.m. Registration is required.

Fair City Quilters to meet Feb. 17

SANDWICH - The Fair City Quilters will hold their next meeting at 7 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 17 at the Federated Church, 403 N. Main St., Sandwich.

This month’s meeting will feature Bill Van Buskirk of Big Rock as he tells the history of his family’s 1790s heirloom quilt.

Fair City Quilters welcome quilters of all levels and encourage all to join the group’s quilting adventures. A $5 guest fee is asked, but guests are always welcome.

Kish holding Visit Day for prospective students & families

MALTA - Kishwaukee College will host Visit Day on President’s Day, Monday, Feb. 17 for prospective students and their families.

Check-in will begin at 8 a.m. in the Kish Conference Center with a continental breakfast. The formal program will get started at 8:30 a.m. and end at noon.

“It’s important to find a college that’s right for you and the best way to make that decision is by visiting campus,” said Graciela Horta, Kish’s student outreach coordinator. “Come to Kish’s Visit Day, tour our campus, talk with current students and attend a session or two. I think you’ll be surprised by how much Kish offers.”

Visit Day is a conference-style event, allowing participants to select from 2-3 different sessions for each timeslot. This flexible schedule will allow for a customized day with sessions that will most benefit individual participants.

Session topics include: Paying for College, College 101, Career Technologies Programs, TRiO Student Support Services, WIOA Youth Program, Student Activities, Athletics, Foundation Scholarships, Honors Program and Supporting Your Student for parents/guardians.

Visit Day will also include a tour of the academic divisions as well as an optional campus tour and an Information Fair.

Participants are encouraged to park in lot A and enter through door 16 or 17. Register for Visit Day at www.kish.edu/visitday.

For more information on Visit Day, contact student outreach at student-outreach@kish.edu or call (815) 825-9460.

Barn cats: Made to live in the great outdoors

Whether your feline friend is curled up next to you on the couch or lives outdoors, cats have a way of making their way into our hearts one way or another.

When Dr. Elizabeth Jeter is not lecturing in the Texas A&M College of Veterinary Medicine & Biomedical Sciences’ Department of Veterinary Pathobiology, she can be found bringing fourth-year veterinary students to care for the animals at the Aggeland Humane Society, including those in the Barn Cat program.

While some cats do prefer living outside, Jeter said all cats are considered domestic but there are some differences that set these felines apart from others. One of those differences is that barn cats serve a specific purpose.

“Most people seek out barn cats for the main purpose of having a form of organic pest control,” Jeter said. “They help control mice and rat populations, which is especially important in barns due to diseases that can be transmitted to livestock.”

Jeter says outdoor cats can have a wide range of personalities - they can be very social and friendly or they can be feral, meaning they do not associate with humans and may even avoid human contact altogether. “Each cat is as unique as a person,” she noted.

Because of this, the level of interaction between barn cats and humans will depend on the cat as well as the human. “Some cats become a household icon, greeting everyone who comes to the barn, while others are rarely seen,” Jeter said. “Both cats are still working cats - they just have different attitudes.”

Barn cats have the same basic needs as other pets, but Jeter says it is important for owners to acknowledge that caring for barn cats looks a little different.

“Special care needs to be taken with these cats, since they do not obey the same rules as friendly or indoor cats and are often treated more as wildlife,” she said. “An example of this special care may be working with veterinarians who understand how to handle feral cats, since they cannot be caught and handled like friendly or indoor cats and may need to be trapped in humane live traps.”

When owners bring a new barn cat home, they should be placed in a secure location, such as a tack room or an indoor enclosure, where they cannot escape for the first three to four weeks.

“This allows them to acclimate to their new environment and familiarize themselves with where they will be fed,” Jeter said.

As with any other pet, it is important to provide outdoor cats with protective medical care, including vaccinations and spaying/neutering. Jeter explained that long-term medical care is necessary, especially since barn cats are exposed to hazards such as wildlife more than the standard house pet.

“It is most ideal to spay or neuter barn cats so they are not reproducing or displaying nuisance behavior, such as fighting or yowling. Spaying or neutering will also help them to do their job more effectively and make them more likely to stick around,” Jeter said. “Sometimes the barn cat life chooses you, and other times there may already be outdoor cats established in your area. It’s important for prospective owners to be willing and able to provide care for their outdoor companions to help them live their best lives.”

SUBLETTE

Sublette board approves new billing software, passes resolution to ban cannabis sales within the village

By TONJA GREENFIELD

Staff writer

SUBLETTE — The Village of Sublette approved a motion to change to a new billing software for its water bills.

The board met during its regular monthly meeting on Feb. 10 at the Ellice Dinges Center. All board members were present.

In January, Acting Village Mayor John Stenzel introduced the board to UBMax, an online utility management software, for water bills. He said with this software residents could look up their bills, review their history and pay their bills online.

At Monday night's meeting, Stenzel reviewed the costs of the software with the board. He said the total cost for the first year would be $1,425, which would include a $865 one-time fee and a $50 conversion to the new software fee. After the first year, Stenzel said the cost to the village would be $510 annually. He said the current software the village is using costs them $758. Stenzel said his goal is to have it up and running by the next fiscal year. He added that if the conversion from the old software wouldn't take a long time, saying if they started using the software on a Friday, everything would be transferred over to the new software by Monday. He said that customers opting for having bills emailed would save the village postage and envelopes expenses.

Sublette Village Board member Julie Kessel made a motion to approve the switch to the UBMax software with Sublette Village Board member Scott Hanson seconding the motion. The motion was approved 6-0.

In other board news:

• Based on the consensus from the board at Monday's meeting, Stenzel will have the village attorney draft a resolution to be voted on in March, stating that the village will not allow the sale of cannabis in the village.

• Don Dinges reported that work on the upcoming Sublette Toy Show is going well. The dates of the show this year are March 14 and 15. He said they are working on the details of the dinner during the toy show. Tickets are $20 each. For the toy show, Dinges said they are not doing a silent auction this year, so instead he has been approaching businesses about being corporate sponsors.

• Dinges also reported that the Sublette Business Association is looking to host an event in June welcoming back the campers. He said it's about the 60th year of the first campground in the area. He said the first campground was Pleasure Acres, which is now Mendota Hills Campground.

• The board approved the purchase of a chlorine bulk tank and containment tank for $330 from Hawkins. The board also approved the purchase of a pallet fork safety platform for the tractor in the amount of $200 from Jayson Stamberger. Finally, the board approved the purchase of two 12-foot stainless steel sheets cut and bent for the maintenance building benches at a cost of $150 from American Machine.

• The board is looking at moving its July meeting from July 13, due to Grace Fellowship Church using the Ellice Dinges Center for its vacation bible school. No new date for the July meeting was set.

• Stenzel gave an update from IDOT that it will be three years before U.S. Route 52 is resurfaced. He said he was drafting a letter to IDOT to inform them that three years out is too long.

• Upcoming events:

*Sunday, March 1 at 3 p.m., the free showing of the moving "SILO" at the Sublette Community Building, 103 S. John St., Sublette. This event is free and open to the public. Free popcorn and refreshments will be provided. Inspired by true events, "SILO" follows a harrowing day in an American farm town.

Disaster strikes when teenager Cody Rose is entrapped in a 50-foot-tall grain bin. When the corn turns to quicksand, family, neighbors and first responders must put aside their differences to rescue Cody from drowning in the crop that has sustained their community for generations. This event is brought to you by Sublette Farmers Elevator, CoBank, Sublette 365, Pioneer State Bank & Sublette Fire Department.

*Sunday, March 8, at 3 p.m., the free showing of the documentary "All The Queens Horses" at the Ellice Dinges Center. This event is free and open to the public. Refreshments will be provided. How could one woman steal $53 million without anyone noticing? As city comptroller of Dixon, Rita Crundwell stole $53 million of public funds across 20 years — making her the perpetrator of the largest case of municipal fraud in American history. She used the funds to build one of the nation's leading quarter horse breeding empires, all while forcing staff cuts, police budget slashing, and neglect of public infrastructure. "All The Queens Horses" investigates her crime, her lavish lifestyle and the small town she left in her wake.

*March 14 and 15 is the 38th Annual Sublette Farm Toy and Antique Tractor Show featuring International.

*Saturday, April 18 is the village's annual Clean-Up Day. More details to come.

The next village board meeting will be held at 7 p.m., on Monday, March 9, at the Ellice Dinges Center.

Fire Chief retires

A retirement open house was held for Sublette Fire Chief Doug Erbes on Feb. 9 at LaFiesta. Erbes celebrated more than 31 years on the fire department serving Sublette, with 14½ of those years as chief. Erbes, right, is congratulated by Sublette's new fire chief, Kevin Schultz. (Photo contributed)

Tee off for Machine Shed Masters, Feb. 16

SUBLETTE—Around Sublette, machine sheds are not only used to store farm machinery. On Sunday, Feb. 16, nine machine sheds will be part of a golf course for the fifth annual Machine Shed Masters.

Golfers will register at the Ellice Dinges Center on West Street in Sublette after 12:30 p.m. They will then proceed from machine shed to machine shed around the community to complete their round of golf. Golfing goes from 1-4:30 p.m. and then dinner will be served at the Dinges Center.

Teams of four may register at a cost of $100 per team. Profits from the tournament go to the FFA Alumni.

Everyone is invited to start the golf season early at the Machine Shed Masters. This has become a popular event in the community.

Free program on houseplants to be presented by Master Gardener

PRINCETON - Houseplants can be a wonderful way to bring the outdoors in, especially during long winter months. Sometimes keeping plants healthy and in the right conditions to can flourish can be tricky.

The public is invited to join University of Illinois Extension Master Gardener Natalie Martin at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 20 at the Princeton Public Library for a free program on houseplants. Martin will discuss the best plants to choose, types of containers to allow plants to thrive, light requirements, and other concerns such as pets and children. The program is free to the public.

The mission of the University of Illinois Extension Master Gardener program is "Helping Others Learn to Grow." The Master Gardener program offers free educational programs to the public to fulfill the objective of distributing science-based horticultural information in local communities.

CARDS OF THANKS

We would like to thank all of the family and friends of Montie who reached out to us and supported us during this difficult time. For everyone who attended his Celebration of Life and who stopped by to show us care, we truly appreciate your kindness. Our sincerest appreciation is extended to the OSF Saint Paul Medical Center employees who put their hearts into doing everything that they could for our family. Everyone at Merritt Funeral Home and the members of the Mendota Moose Lodge 714 went above and beyond to make sure that our family and friends had endless support and the most beautiful opportunity to say our goodbyes. For that, we truly cannot thank you enough. We are beyond grateful for the kind and healing words shared by Father Peter Pilon at this time as well. We cannot extend enough gratitude for the blessings and compassion that were shown to us all during this difficult time.

The family of Montie L. Melau

Whether you sent a card or money, made a phone call, expressed sympathy on the street, stopped by our house, said a prayer or offered to take care of our animals while we went north, your thoughtfulness means the world to us and will not be forgotten. Paw Paw is a great place to live and such a caring community. It makes getting through this difficult time much easier. God Bless you all.

The family of Mari Jo Dettore John, Steph, Emily, Mitch and Hannah Deon, Dustin and Tracy, Derek and Liz and their families

POLICE BLOTTER

IDENTITY THEFT, OTHER CHARGES

April N. Capsel, 30, of Grayslake, was charged with forgery, unlawful use of an ID card and identity theft on Feb. 4 by the Grayslake Police Department after a multi-agency investigation into the report of identity theft from a Mendota resident in December 2019. During the investigation, Grayslake Police also charged Roderick Smith, 40, of Grayslake, with two counts of unlawful use of a weapon by a felon, armed habitual criminal and possession of a controlled substance 15g-100g. Both subjects were transported to the Lake County Jail where Capsel's bond was set at $250,000 and Smith's bond was set at $1 million. The Mendota Police Department will be sending its case to the LaSalle County State's Attorney's Office for review of further charges against Capsel.

AGGRAVATED BATTERY

Seth M. Schwemlein, 20, of 205 Sandra Ave., Mendota, was charged with aggravated battery after police officers responded to a 911 call of a domestic dispute in the 200 block of Sandra Avenue at 8:15 p.m. Feb. 4. The subject was transported to the LaSalle County Jail to appear before a judge for a bond hearing.

CANNABIS IN VEHICLE

Clarence E. Fox, 32, of Ottawa, was charged with possession of adult use cannabis in a motor vehicle after a traffic stop at Illinois Avenue and Monroe Street at 8:43 p.m. Feb. 6. The subject was released with a LaSalle County court date.

Mendota's Amellia Bromenschenkel tries to avoid contact with Paige Champlin of LaSalle-Peru while putting up a scoop shot on Feb. 5 at the MHS gym. (Reporter photo)

MHS girls end regular season at 20-10

□ Lady Trojans finish 5-5 in BNC

Mendota and LaSalle-Peru hooked up in a wild duel from start to finish that finally ended up in Mendota's favor, 66-64, in varsity girls' basketball action on Feb. 5 at the MHS gym.

Neither team could put much separation between itself and its opponent. L-P held a 30-27 halftime lead, but Mendota fought back to tie the count after three (47-47) to set the stage for a heart-stopping fourth quarter.

The Lady Trojans scored the first five points of the fourth frame on a bucket by Amellia Bromenschenkel and a three-pointer from Anna Bokus. L-P then reeled off nine straight points to move in front, 56-52. The Lady Cavs still owned a four-point margin (60-56) with 1:50 to go when three straight steals by Mendota resulted in two baskets and two free throws by Bromenschenkel to push the Lady Trojans into the lead, 62-60, with 40 seconds left.

L-P's Lauren Klein made good on a conventional three-point play with 24 seconds on the clock to give her team a 63-62 lead. Bromenschenkel was then fouled at the 10.4 second mark and she connected on both free throws to put the Lady Trojans back in front, 64-63. On L-P's ensuing possession, Klein was fouled and she could only sink one of two free throws, and the game was tied at 64-all. The Lady Cavs were whistled for a foul on Bromenschenkel on a Mendota inbounds pass and the junior calmly drained both free throws with 3.3 seconds left. L-P's Sara Peters attempted a three-pointer at the buzzer, but it missed the mark.

"What a fun game to coach," said Mendota's John Hansen. "That being said, I lost three years of my life and gained 16 grays due to the stress from this one."

"I loved the way we handled being down late and did what we needed to win. Bromenschenkel was a monster down the stretch. Her competitor came out and she willed us to this win."

Second-half surge lifts girls in regional opener

STILLMAN VALLEY – Mendota took control in the second half and pulled away from Bureau Valley for a 59-34 win in the opening round of the Stillman Valley Class 2A Regional on Feb. 10.

The Lady Trojans, who beat Bureau Valley by 30 points in November, trailed 12-11 after the first quarter. But Mendota picked up the pace in the second period and took a 29-24 lead at intermission. Anna Bokus dropped in four field goals from three-point range and Daisy Arteaga added a pair of treys as they combined to score 23 of Mendota's 29 first-half points.

The second half was all Lady Trojans as they outscored the Storm, 30-10, to win in convincing fashion.

"Our offense was clicking despite Bureau Valley doing a nice job of packing it in on us," said Mendota coach John Hansen. "Our defense was working, but we gave up probably 14 to 16 second-chance points in the first half."

Arteaga led the squad with 18 points, followed by Bokus with 15 and Amellia Bromenschenkel with 13. Bromenschenkel provided five rebounds, six assists and three steals. Jenna O'Donnell also picked off five boards.

Mendota's next regional game was Tuesday night against Port Byron (Riverdale). A win would propel the Lady Trojans into the championship game at 7 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 13.

MHS's Connelly advances to Oregon Wrestling Sectional

PLANO – One Mendota Trojan wrestler extended his season after the team competed in the Plano Class 1A Regional on Feb. 7-8.

Ty Connelly qualified for the sectional after finishing third in the 160-pound division. The top three wrestlers in each weight class earn berths in the next round.

T. Connelly

The MHS junior won three of four matches at the regional. He began the action with a pin win over Wil Collins of Plano at the 1:41 mark. Connelly dropped a 9-1 decision to Isaac Marques of Seneca in the semifinals before bouncing back with a pair of wins. He posted a hard-fought 2-0 decision over Ben Sylvester of Putnam County and then secured a 17-2 victory over Jared Banister of Somanauk in the third-place bout.

Three other Trojan wrestlers participated in the regional. Ethan Hanaman posted a 1-2 record at 120 pounds, Kailyn Jezewski dropped both of her matches at 138 pounds and Sam Lawrence went 1-2 at 152 pounds.

Sandwich won the team title with 219.5 points. Mendota finished 10th out of 11 teams with 19.5 points.

Connelly advances to the Oregon Sectional to be held Feb. 14-15.

Kuntz qualifies for sectional

STERLING – One Mendota Lady Trojan bowler qualified for the sectional round after the team participated in the Sterling Regional on Feb. 8.

D. Kuntz

Senior Dria Kuntz rolled a 1066 series, which placed her among the top 10 bowlers not on a sectional qualifying team. Kuntz turned in scores of 177, 184, 181, 152, 216 and 156.

Regina Harmening of East Moline (United) was the individual regional champion with a round of 1280.

Rock Island captured the team title with a score of 5760. Mendota finished ninth in the team standings with a 4124.

The sectional will be hosted by East Moline (United) on Saturday, Feb. 15.

Other Lady Trojans competing in the regional were: Kaylee Barkman (150, 126, 171, 167, 131, 118 – 863); Isabelle Escatel (131, 101, 105, 120, 94, 122 – 673); Hanna Mastny (175, 115, 105, 124, 100, 151 – 770); Janeth Hermosillo (112, 120, 136, 144, 130, 110 – 752).

Trojans fall victim in 3 more games

Oregon kept Mendota winless in the Big Northern Conference after a 71-47 triumph over the Trojans in varsity boys' basketball action on Feb. 4 at the MHS gym.

The Hawks burned up the net for 28 first-quarter points and they led 28-13 after one. Oregon kept up the onslaught in the second period and took a 50-21 lead to intermission.

Mendota's top scorer was Emiliano Arteaga with 16 points, while Abraham Guzman and Jae'Shaun Hughes added six points apiece.

The Trojans fell to 0-7 in conference play.

St. Bede handed the Trojans a 73-48 nonconference loss on Feb. 5 at Peru.

Retiring coach shown some love

Family members, friends, current and former players, coaching colleagues and well-wishers gathered together at the Mendota High School gymnasium to recognize MHS coach Brian Blumhorst (center with basketballs) upon coaching his final game in the MHS gym on Feb. 5. Blumhorst's basketball coaching career spanned 33 years, including the last 22 at Mendota High School. He coached in the boys' program for 18 years and the girls' program for four years. He was presented a commemorative basketball from MHS and also a special basketball from Dr. C.E. Lewis, a long-time supporter of MHS athletics. Blumhorst will retire from teaching and coaching at the conclusion of the 2019-20 school year. (Reporter photo)

The Bruins jumped on Mendota early, grabbing a 21-13 advantage after the opening stanza. The count was 36-22 at the half and 58-35 after three.

Emiliano Arteaga was the lone Trojan in double digits with 17 points. Chris Sandoval, Gavin Glazebrook and Krew Bond each provided five markers.

A tall and talented Plano team overwhelmed the Trojans, 66-27, on Feb. 8 at the MHS gym.

The Reapers deployed a blanketing full-court trapping press that Mendota had trouble breaking. Plano converted many of Mendota's 25 turnovers into easy baskets.

The Trojans got a three-pointer from Emiliano Arteaga to take a 3-0 lead, but then Plano reeled off the next 29 points to put the game away.

Cole Stremlau led Mendota (2-26) with six points.

Bromenschenkel finished with 43 points, including scoring 16 of Mendota's 19 fourth-quarter points. She also led with 16 rebounds and tied Jenna O'Donnell with four assists apiece. O'Donnell and Daisy Arteaga each added eight points, while Bokus came away with six steals.

Ten of L-P's 22 field goals came from three-point range, including seven by freshman Brooklyn Ficke, who led her team with 21 tallies.

Mendota tried to dig itself out of a big first-quarter hole, but couldn't quite get there and it fell to Rockford Christian, 54-51, in the Big Northern Conference and regular season finale on Feb. 6 at Rockford. The Lady Trojans ended the conference season with a 5-5 record.

Christian opened up an 18-7 lead after the opening stanza, which forced Mendota to play catch-up. It did trim the margin down to six at halftime (23-17), and then crept closer in the third, climbing to within one (33-32) with one quarter to play.

Both teams' offenses clicked in the fourth frame, and the Lady Trojans were finally able to overcome Christian with just over a minute left to play, but the Royal Lions connected on a pair of three-pointers in the final minute to pull out the victory.

"We had a brutal first half," said Hansen. "We played hard enough to at least keep it close. We just couldn't make up for the crummy first quarter."

Bromenschenkel led the Lady Trojans with 22 points, 10 rebounds, eight steals and four assists. Bokus dropped in five three-pointers for 15 points.

JV girls conclude season

LaSalle-Peru picked up a 46-19 victory over the Mendota junior varsity girls' basketball team on Feb. 5 at the MHS gym.

The Lady Trojans fell behind 13-4 after the first period against a much taller L-P squad. The Lady Cavs held a 28-11 halftime advantage and a 35-15 margin after three.

"We battled, but couldn't quite overcome their height advantage," noted Mendota coach Brian Blumhorst. "But this was an improvement from the first time we played them when there was a running clock." Mendota lost to L-P, 41-6, in December.

Isabella Tolentino led the Lady Trojans with four points, while Katie Jenner, Lilly Gehant and Kya Delao each had three points.

The game was the final one coached by Blumhorst at the MHS gym as he is retiring at the conclusion of the season.

The Lady Trojans concluded the season with a 53-17 conference loss at Rockford Christian on Feb. 6. MHS finished at 6-22 overall and 0-9 in the Big Northern.

Christian zoomed out to a 19-4 first-quarter lead and owned a 36-10 cushion at intermission.

"Christian is 24-4 and first in the conference for a reason," stated Blumhorst.

Jenner, Emily Stewart and Naitzy Garcia all had four points for Mendota.

For the season, Jenner led the squad with 150 points and Natalie Bodmer dropped in 113 points.

Mendota JV boys post two victories

Mendota's junior varsity boys' basketball team tasted victory twice last week, starting with a 41-21 triumph over Oregon in Big Northern Conference action on Feb. 4 at the MHS gym.

The Trojans took control from the opening tip, sprinting out to a 16-4 lead after the first period. Oregon closed the gap down to six (23-17) at halftime, but Mendota outscored the visitors, 18-4, in the second half.

Krew Bond pumped in 22 points to pace Mendota. He hit five three-point field goals.

The Trojans pulled away in the fourth quarter to down St. Bede, 47-39, on Feb. 5 at Peru.

The game was tight through three frames, with Mendota owning a 37-35 lead heading to the fourth. The Trojans scored 10 points in the final period, including eight from the free throw line, while St. Bede managed only four tallies.

Bond led the attack with 20 points, followed by Josue Arteaga and Rafael Romero with eight points apiece.

Plano rallied in the fourth quarter to nip the Trojans, 39-38, on Feb. 8 at the MHS gym.

After playing to a 16-16 halftime tie, Mendota went up by three (28-25) with the final quarter to play. But Plano overcame the deficit in the fourth to pull out the win.

Bond's 19 points paced the Trojans. Romero chipped in with seven tallies.

Freshman cagers get first BNC win

MENDOTA — Desperately in search of a win, the Mendota freshman boys' basketball team came up with a 45-25 victory over Oregon in a Big Northern Conference contest on Feb. 4 at the MHS gym.

Trailing by three at halftime (19-16), the Trojans came out smoking in the third quarter and outscored the visitors, 23-2, to take a commanding 39-21 lead.

"This was a really good win and a really impressive second half," stated Mendota coach Matt Gehm. "After halftime, the boys came out inspired and played a very active defense. We forced 31 turnovers, with most of those being tipped and intercepted passes."

Nathan Ruiz and Angelo Quintana shared top scoring honors for the Trojans with 11 points apiece. Jose Rocha and Quintana handled 10 and eight rebounds, respectively, while Ruiz delivered four assists and Jasiel Watson came up with six steals.

Mendota notched its first conference win in five tries.

Bureau Valley rolled over the Trojans, 50-15, on Feb. 6 at the MHS gym.

Mendota trailed 25-8 at the half, and then scored only seven second-half points, including none in the fourth period.

"We lacked energy and allowed Bureau Valley to put this one away early," said Gehm. "We struggled in every facet of the game."

Ricky Orozco had six points and three steals and Quintana pulled down six rebounds for the Trojans.

Plano jumped on the Trojans from the opening tip and cruised to a 65-35 win on Feb. 8 at the MHS gym.

The Reapers sprinted out to an 18-1 lead after the opening period and took a 36-13 advantage at intermission.

"In the second quarter, we found a group of seven or eight who were willing to scrap and battle, and they played the Reapers much more competitively," explained Gehm.

Rocha led the Trojans with seven points and tied Ryne Strauss for top rebounder with eight.

Mendota is 3-16 on the season.

Shamrock 5K early entry fee deadline is March 1

MENDOTA — Holy Cross School is sponsoring its fourth annual Shamrock 5K Run/Walk on Saturday, March 14. Check-in opens at 8:30 a.m. in the Holy Cross gymnasium and the race will start at 10 a.m. at Holy Cross School. The finish line is also at the school. Walkers will start immediately after the runners.

The entry fee is $25 by March 1 and $30 between March 2 and March 14. Participants who pre-register by March 1 are guaranteed an official Shamrock 5K T-shirt.

Awards will be presented to the first overall male and female runners in the 5K. In addition, first-, second- and third-place finishers in each age division for male and female will be awarded medals. Refreshments will be available after the race.

Entry forms are available at Holy Cross School or Holy Cross Church Vestibule, or sign-up online at www.runrace.net. A minimal fee applies for online registration.

Proceeds will benefit Holy Cross School.

Illinois deer hunting seasons preliminary harvest totals given

SPRINGFIELD — Hunters in Illinois harvested a preliminary total of 153,048 deer during all 2019-20 archery and firearm seasons, which concluded Jan. 19, 2020. The total preliminary deer harvest for all seasons compares with a total harvest for all seasons of 151,709 deer in 2018-19.

During the 2019-20 deer seasons, hunters took 45 percent does and 55 percent males.

Archery: Archery deer hunters in Illinois took a preliminary total of 67,696 deer during the season which began Oct. 1, 2019 and concluded Jan. 19, 2020. That compares with the harvest of 61,096 deer during the 2018-19 archery season.

Youth: Youth deer hunters harvested a preliminary total of 3,775 deer during the three-day Illinois Youth Deer Season Oct. 12-14, 2019, compared to 1,660 in 2018.

Traditional Firearm

Season: Hunters took a preliminary total of 75,349 deer during the Illinois Firearm Deer Season Nov. 22-24, 2019 and Dec. 5-8, 2019, compared with 80,957 deer taken during the 2018 firearm season.

Muzzleloader: Hunters using muzzleloading rifles harvested a preliminary total of 3,061 deer during the Muzzleloader-Only Deer Season Dec. 13-15, 2019, compared with harvest of 3,900 in the 2018 muzzleloader season.

Late-Winter Seasons: The 2019-20 Late-Winter Antlerless-Only and Special CWD deer seasons concluded Jan. 19, 2020, with a combined preliminary harvest total for both seasons of 3,167 deer, compared with a harvest of 4,096 deer taken during those seasons in 2018-19. Season dates for the seven-day Late-Winter and CWD seasons were Dec. 26-30, 2019 and Jan. 17-19, 2020.

Expectations that build a great marriage

My husband, Dave, and I have been married over 50 years, and I can honestly say we have a great marriage. But it didn't start out that way. Like many people, I learned that it takes effort and a willingness to let God change us if we're going to have a healthy marriage. One of the most important things we can do is examine our expectations.

Having unrealistic expectations can sabotage a marriage before it ever begins. So many people enter marriage expecting their spouse to be something they are not. Or they have the unrealistic expectation that he or she will be able to keep them happy all of the time.

For starters, I think it's important to realize that the way you feel when you're dating is different than how you'll feel after you've been married for a while.

In the beginning, everything is new and exciting, and emotions are running high. But a day will come when all of those emotions won't necessarily be there, and that's okay.

For instance, just because I don't melt into the carpet every time Dave walks into the room, it doesn't mean I love him any less than before. In fact, I love him more. Our love is deeper because it's based on years of experience and getting to know each other. We have a quality of relationship now that is so much greater than when we first met.

The key to building a healthy marriage to Dave has been a serious commitment to be as close to God as I can possibly be. Maturing spiritually in Christ has changed me in wonderful ways that have healed and restored my soul and filled me with His love.

In Ephesians 3:17 (AMP), the apostle Paul prayed for the church in Ephesus, "that Christ may dwell in your hearts through your faith" and that they would be "[deeply] rooted and [securely] grounded in love." Being changed by the love of God has given me the ability to love Dave the way I should love him, rather than expecting him to be everything I think he should be.

It's become a long-standing joke—especially for women—that we look at the person we're going to marry and think, I can change them. Sadly, this is the way I viewed my husband during the early years of our marriage.

Dave and I have completely opposite personalities. He's naturally laid-back and easygoing, always looking at the bright side of things. I'm more of your typical "Type A" personality. I'm highly motivated but can also be too harsh and insensitive.

Well, for years, I tried to get Dave to be more aggressive like me, especially when it came to stepping out into new things. He would inevitably say, "Joyce, you're always out ahead of God." And I would reply, "And you're always ten miles behind Him!"

On one occasion, after I continued to criticize his behavior, Dave finally said, "Joyce, you better be glad I'm this way. Because if I wasn't, you wouldn't be doing what you're doing." And he's right!

The Lord used this experience to show me the dangers of nit-picking Dave about things I perceive as weaknesses. Even if Dave does need to change in an area, God is the only One who can change him—my pestering will only make things worse and drive a wedge between us.

I used to just pray for God to change Dave. Now, I pray more like this:

"God, I would really like for Dave to change in this area, but maybe he's not the problem—maybe it's my attitude. So, first, I ask You to change anything in me that needs to be changed. If there's something Dave needs to change, I pray that You will work in that area of his life. In the meantime, please help me to focus on all of the great things about my husband."

If you're constantly trying to change your spouse, you end up focusing on all of their weaknesses and things you don't like. And you'll overlook their strengths and good qualities.

Dave is a great husband, and I honestly have no complaints. But if I just focused on the things that annoy me from time to time, I would eventually see nothing else and make myself miserable.

But when I focus on the good things and everything I really like about him, it produces feelings of gratitude, love and joy...and the "bad stuff" suddenly seems less important.

Take a moment right now and pray for your spouse.

Commit your relationship to the Lord and ask Him to help you focus on everything you like about them. No one is perfect, but when you choose to love your spouse for who they are, you open the door for God to bless your marriage in amazing ways.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE

But now, O Lord, You are our Father;
We are the clay, and You our potter;
And all we are the work of Your hand.
Do not be furious, O Lord,
Nor remember iniquity forever;
Indeed, please look
we all are Your people!
