Rabies vaccine required for all cats

Local veterinarian office hosting open house to discuss new law

BY ANDREW HEISERMAN STAFF WRITER

ROCHELLE – The Rochelle Veterinary Hospital will be holding an informational open house event to discuss the new state law requiring all cats that interact with humans to be vaccinated against rabies. Anyone looking to learn more about vaccines, rabies or the new state law is urged to attend the open house meeting.

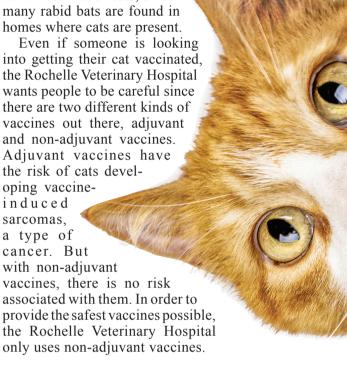

The meeting will be held at the Rochelle Veterinary Hospital on Thursday, Jan. 30, from 6 to 7 p.m. to discuss what rabies is and some of the risks it presents to animals and humans, why all rabies vaccines aren't created equal and why the state has made this change to the law.

There will also be dinner provided as well as speakers Dr. Warren and Tracey from Boehringer Ingelheim to answer any questions or concerns attendees might have. The event is free to attend, but the veterinary hospital kindly asks that people RSVP by Jan. 28. They can do so by phone at 815-562-5207 or through email at rochellevet@mail.com.

"We are excited to educate the community a little bit on the vaccines and give them a better understanding of why there is a change and why the state is requiring it now," explained Dr. Marquardt, doctor at Rochelle Veterinary Hospital.

According to the Illinois State Veterinary Medical Association, there are about 250 to 300 cases each year, and each case is 100 percent fatal to the pet. The animals most likely to spread the disease are bats, skunks, raccoons, foxes and coyotes. While these are all outdoor animals, rabies can affect indoor cats, since many rabid bats are found in homes where cats are present.

wants people to be careful since there are two different kinds of vaccines out there, adjuvant and non-adjuvant vaccines. Adjuvant vaccines have the risk of cats developing vaccineinduced sarcomas. a type of cancer. But with non-adjuvant vaccines, there is no risk associated with them. In order to provide the safest vaccines possible, the Rochelle Veterinary Hospital

Worldwide organization now has local chapter

BY ANDREW HEISERMAN STAFF WRITER

ROCHELLE – Thanks to the efforts of three local women, a worldwide organization with chapters throughout the United States and Europe has recently created a local chapter in Ogle County.

100 Women Who Care is an organization with 650 county chapters spread across the United States and Europe. 100 Women Who Care gathers to raise money and make an impact on nonprofit organizations located within the same county as the chapter. The goal of each of the chapters is to donate $10,000 to a local charity in one hour, four times a year by following a formula from the organization.

"Fundraising takes a lot of hours of leg work on the part of the volunteers and with system, only four meetings a year, if we can get 100 women members who are willing to donate $100 we can raise $10,000 in one hour," explained Deanna Forrest, one of the three founders.

Group members will meet four different times a year for one hour each time, where they will each donate $100 and choose the organization that will receive the $10,000 donation. At the meetings, each member brings a check for $100. Then members nominated organizations to be put into a hat to draw from. Three organizations are drawn at random at the meeting.

Nominating members of each of the chosen organizations make a 5-minute presentation about the organization or charity for the entire group to vote on which cause to support. Once an organization is chosen by the group they receive the funds immediately.

Battle of the Bulge: The Ardennes Counter Offensive

BY CHUCK ROBERTS MILITARY HISTORIAN

¬HIS January is the 75th anniversary of the Battle of the Bulge.

In December 1944, the Germans were retreating on all fronts. The front line was along the border between Germany and the countries of Belgium, France and Luxembourg. Hitler wanted to stop this advance with a desperate thrust toward the port of Antwerp in Belgium to divide the Allies and cut off their supply

The plan was a huge gamble in that the Germans had only enough fuel to travel about one half of the way toward Antwerp. They assumed that they would capture Allied fuel supplies along the way, which would allow the tanks and other vehicles to make it to Antwerp.

The Germans massed a large force in the Ardennes Forest in eastern Belgium with the intention of attacking a weak area in the Allied lines, drive toward the port of Antwerp and capture it. This area opposite the German force was lightly defended by American units. Allies were preoccupied with attack plans and crossing the German border.

Intelligence did not detect the significance of the build-up because of the radio silence practiced by the Germans, the camouflage of the forest from air observation, and the lack of reconnaissance units patrolling the Ardennes Forest.

American units in this area were newly trained, were without combat experience or were resting after extensive deployment. Allied commanders did not believe that the German army could attack through such a dense forest. Nevertheless they did. The battle started on Dec. 16, 1944 and lasted until Jan. 25, 1945. The German code name was "Operation Watch on the Rhine." The Germans started with a 90-minute artillery barrage to soften up Allied positions. It was thought by the Allies that this was a localized counter-attack to reverse recent advances by the Allies over the Siegfried line, the German defensive line near the German border. The weather was bad; a heavy snow storm had moved in. This was a mixed blessing for the Germans. The storm severely limited Allied air attacks, but also made it difficult for German vehicles to advance.

On Dec. 16, 1944 the Germans attacked toward the town of Bastogne and St. Vith in Belgium, primarily in the American sector. The Allies thought this was a small counter-attack, however as the attack progressed with many ente German divisions and the latest model of heavy tanks, it became obvious to the Allied command that this was a significant counter offensive. The Germans made a huge bulge in the front lines as they attacked, resulting the battle being called the "Battle of the Bulge." Despite the lack of a defensive plan, American units, no matter how well armed or trained, stepped up and began to resist the onslaught.

The Germans pushed on to the town of Bastogne and an area called Elsenborn Ridge. Bastogne was a central crossroads town on the way to Antwerp. The Germans had to capture this town in order to reach their objective. As American resistance increased, the German attack became behind schedule, slowed and was eventually stopped at Bastogne and other towns.

Despite being surrounded, the 101st Airborne Division under General McAuliff was ordered to defended Bastogne, while the 82nd held off SS Panzer Divisions at Elsenborn Ridge.

Meanwhile, General Patton's 3rd Army disengaged from a winter battle to the south and turned north to relieve Bastogne. Patten knew that when there was a bulge in the line, it was easy to go behind the bulge, and trap the enemy in a pocket. The 4th Armored Division of Patton's 3rd Army relieved Bastogne on Dec. 26, 1944. The German offensive began to fail as a result of fuel shortage, supply interruption, stiff American resistance and improving weather allowing Allied aircraft, which had air superiority, to attack German positions.

By mid-January, many German vehicles had been abandoned from lack of fuel, but the German army made a successful fighting withdrawal, reducing the bulge to the configuration of mid December 1944.

involvement

Some Rochelle veterans were involved in the Battle of the Bulge

Gerald Wine, member of the 334 Infantry Regiment of the 84th Infantry Division in an anti-tank company which engaged a large German armored column at the Ardennes Forest in December 1944, was wounded and survived the battle.

Ralph Walker was in the 106th Infantry Division at the battle. Edward Heron was killed in action during the battle.

Stanley Larson was killed in action during the battle.

Walter Dailey of the 9th Army was captured

during the battle and survived the war. Charles M. Eyster, member of the 103rd Combat Engineers, survived the hattle Gerald Jacobs was reported missing during the battle, but ended up as a prisoner of war and survived.

Oville Gentry was in the 79th Division during the battle and survived the war.

Overall

To review, the battle started on Dec. 16, 1944 and ended on Jan. 25, 1945. The American losses were 19,000 killed, 47,000 wounded and 26,000 missing. The U.S. lost over 700 tanks. The German losses were 12,000 killed, 38,000 wounded and 30,000 missing.

The Germans lost over 500 irreplaceable tanks and 5000 soft skinned and armored vehicles.

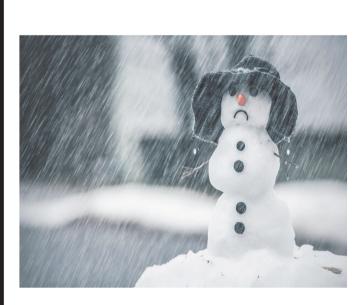

By the end of January, the lines between the Allies and the Germans were roughly that of December 1944. The battle delayed the Allied advances into Germany by several weeks. The German forces were so depleted that this was the last major offensive by the enemy during World War II.

At the end of it all, Winston Churchill declared that the Battle of the Bulge was an American victory.

The "Battle of the Bulge" was the bloodiest for U.S. forces in WWII.

Ashton firefighters responded to a garage fire Wednesday at 9:40 p.m. on South Second Drive. The resident had been working in the shop, had just gone inside the hosue and taken his shoes off when he heard a noise in the shop. He opened the door and was met by a wall of flames. He exited the building and called 911. Other departments that responded were Franklin Grove, Flagg-Center and Rochelle. There was a pickup truck, snowmobile, fork lift, motorcycle and tools in the shop damaged. The cause of the fire is still under investigation. The structure has a sheet metal wall between the shop and the residence which likely spared the residence from more damage.

"The organization with the most votes receives our donations and checks are made out directly to that organization on the spot," Forrest said in a press release.

The other two founding members are Linda Graber and Debby Katzman. The first meeting will be on Jan. 23, at Hickory Grove in Rochelle from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m., with a social hour and then the official meeting will be from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. The organization is inviting any women to come out and attend and there will also be visitor from the Stephenson County Chapter to help get everything started. The founders think this is an organization that can really impact the county considering the number of charities located within it.

"I am excited to start this adventure with other women in our county, and I know we can do great things for many of the 401 not-for-profit registered charities in our county, while creating a bond of women who truly care about issues regarding children, seniors, and others who have programs for members in our communities," said Forrest.

The rest of the meetings are set for April 23 at Maxson Riverside Restaurant in Oregon, July 23, at the Holiday Inn Express in Rochelle, and Oct. 22 at Alfano's Pizza in Rochelle. Attending the first meeting is not a commitment to join, but rather to find out more information about the organization. For more information on any of the founders can be contacted through email at forrestdeanna@hotmail. com, Lingraber204@comcast.net, or kaytiebo@ yahoo.com.

In recent years, anywhere from two-to four scholarships have been awarded to both incoming freshman and transfer students who are residents of Boone, Winnebago, Ogle and Stephenson counties.

Applicants should have an ACT score of 22 or better and a GPA of 3.0 or higher. Applicants should have a demonstrated history of leadership in work, school or service settings. Students meeting those criteria, who come from a household with an income of $75,000 or less, also may be eligible for the Huskie Pledge which covers all tuition and fees not met by other sources of aid during a student's freshman year, with ongoing support for up to four years.

To apply, applicants need to complete an online application (https://go.niu.edu/MyScholarships) and select the David and Diane Graf scholarship. The application deadline is Jan 31, 2020.

The scholarship was established using funds David and Diane Graf. David Graf served as dean of the NIU College of Business from 1994 until 2005 before leaving to become dean of the United Arab Emirates University College of Business and Economics (UAEU). His wife, Diane Graf, is an NIU College of Business alumna and retired business educator/administrator.

Individuals interested in making a donation to the scholarship fund can do so by visiting https://foundation. myniu.com/give.php and typing in "David and Diane Graf College of Business Endowed Scholarship."

Harvell named 2019 High Performer

ROCHELLE — Rochelle Community Hospital named Tom Harvell as its 2019 High Performer of the Year. Harvell was selected among the 12 High Performers of the Month in 2019. He has been employed at the hospital for two years as a skilled maintenance technician.

SUNDAY, JAN. 19, 2020

Nominations

He received three nominations in January 2019:

"Tom is always willing to go above and beyond for the hospital. He is always willing to stay late or come in early to complete any projects or issues we have going on. During the last snow storm he came in Sunday evening and put in more than a 12-hour shift when he wasn't on call and was not expected to be here. His positive outlook, can do attitude, and knowledge have been a great asset to maintenance and the hospital as a whole."

"Since Tom joined RCH he has been willing to do whatever is asked of him, doing it efficiently and timely. Tom's range of capabilities is a reason for envy as you will find Tom doing electrical wiring, painting and whatever else is needed – whether by plan, prevention or emergency. Tom (along with select others) really carried the load in maintenance as a result of the manager's resignation and other staff being off. During this time the maintenance department didn't miss a beat, they just kept going. More recently – during the late November snowfall, Tom started plowing snow at 6 p.m. Sunday evening and was still on site at 7 a.m. Monday morning. Tom gets along well with most everyone, greeting everyone he comes in contact with. Tom is a pleasure to have around RCH and the most enjoyable part is he's always smiling."

"He always has a smile on his face, and is super pleasant to work with. He also has been doing an insane job on getting all the painting done in the hospital. He is a painting beast, and we appreciate him and his mad skills very much."

It's deja vu all over again

once said, "It's deja vu all over again.' Winter weather is moving into the area over the weekend with a possible five or 72 inches of snow, freezing rain, cold temperatures and hazardous conditions. I think that was the same forecast last weekend. You may have noticed, we did not get blasted by snow and freezing

Terry Dickow

I admire weather forecasters, I really do. They try to predict what an unpredictable force will do three or four days from now. It has to be a difficult job. They have nowhere to hide when the forecast goes horribly off, like last weekend. I make fun of their inaccuracies, but still watch.

Speaking of watching, I tuned in the Green Bay Packers game last week and was surprised by the halftime news report from the Rockford station airing the game. Free rides New Year's Eve were offered, the Bears lost, and the temperature was going to be 50. News that was two weeks old at the time. And they wonder why people like me want to watch Chicago stations.

I think we need to start a pool on what will go into the former Nippon Sharyo building. Sold for $15 million to an unknown LLC, you would think there would be some announcement of a

S Yogi Berra plan for the building.

Tesla making electric cars here? Another railroad car manufacturer? Mercedes Benz? Inquiring minds want to know.

The same can be said for the development just south of the tollway in DeKalb. That site is rumored to be an international food manufacturer/processor and will be the biggest manufacturing site in DeKalb.

The "significant but unnamed" manufacturing/warehousing complex could eventually employ approximately 1,000 people.

Maybe some of those who left the state for greener pastures will be coming back for the greener pay.

Sometimes I get an email from a company about an order I placed. Actually, an order I did not place. There is always a link so I can get my payment refunded. A payment I have not made, mind you.

This is phishing... and it can be profitable for scammers.

A school district in Texas had a construction project ongoing and the "builder" sent an e-mail to the district financial office explaining that the payment process had been changed and gave the new information.

Long story short, the district sent more than $2 million to a bogus account.

Be aware friends. Be very aware.

We need art in our lives now more than ever

ET'S face it the world is not a sane place right now.

From the politics to the wars to raging fires and horrible weather events, things are crazy and getting crazier every day, it seems.

We can simply ignore as much of this as possible, of course. Sticking our collective heads in the sand won't help anything, and might have the opposite effect, but it can at least give us a little peace. That peace is hard to find on social media or at loud family gatherings.

Some retreat to their families. Others enjoy going outdoors and communing with nature. Others play sports or workout to retune their minds and bodies.

These are all great things to do, but I rely on the one thing that has helped me since I was a kid: Music. I spent hours listening to music when I was young, of course. And my teenage years were so engrossed in music I barely had time for school. And yes, I had the grades to prove it.

I started playing an instrument (trumpet) in the fifth grade, and moved to baritone by seventh grade. I did some time in the high school marching band before making the guitar my main instrument.

I wrote music and played in bands in high school, like many teens do. No, those songs weren't that great, but being creative was a muscle I loved to flex, and still do. In fact, it is a muscle I have to flex to survive, it seems.

I played while I was in the military. I played during college. I snuck in song writing and recording sessions while covering high school football games at night and county board meetings during the day as a new reporter.

Being creative was an outlet I had to have in my life. The stress of being a new father and > working long hours and buying my first home were all washed away when I plugged in and played – or simply strummed my acoustic guitar.

I have hours and hours of tapes filled with songs I have written and recorded. Some are very good. Some are not so good. But all of them were a great emotional release when I needed it. And at times, these creative sessions have truly saved my sanity. I still write and play music multiple times a week. My wife and I preform as an acoustic duo doing songs we wrote. We also play in an all-original rock band in the region. Yes, I am still playing loud rock music and I plan to do so as long as I can. No, it is not a young man's game. It is not a game. It is the heartbeat of my life, and the life of many others.

Brad

If you have a son or daughter or grandson or granddaughter and they want to play an instrument, please encourage them to do so. Put up with the drumming, or the piano playing or the awful early stages of them learning the guitar. It might lead nowhere, but it might also be the beginning of a lifelong passion that gives them limitless jov.

In today's crazy world, we need to find our joy. We need to find an outlet from the crazy. We need art in our lives, I believe. For me it is music. And without it, I would not be who I am.

Youth-led groups can apply for grant program

ROCKFORD — The Community Foundation of Northern Illinois will accept applications for the In Youth We Trust (IYWT) grant program until 5 p.m. on Feb. 6. Applications must be submitted by youth-led groups or organizations serving youth in Boone, Ogle, Stephenson, or Winnebago counties, using the forms found at cfnil. org/grants/youth. Applications will be reviewed by the In Youth We Trust Council, a group of local high school students who convene monthly at the Community Foundation of Northern Illinois to learn about grantmaking, volunteerism, and community leadership.

Applicants can request a maximum of $3,500. Last year's recipients included Aquin Catholic School Theater Department, Auburn High School Capstone, Boys and Girls Club of Rockford, DiversCITY Youth Group, GiGi's Playhouse, Harlem Veterans Project, Winnebago County CASA, Parenthood Promise Scholars, and Winnebago FIRST Robotics Team.

The IYWT Council looks for projects that:

Promote collaboration and teamwork

Provide creative solutions to community issues

Create community awareness and understanding of youth issues

Have a clear, practical plan for implementation Have a realistic budget.

The IYWT program is an opportunity for high school students from all over the region to learn about and practice philanthropy. The students help establish grant criteria, evaluate proposals, and recommend grant awards for youth led projects. IYWT empowers youth to expand their moral imagination and "See the good." This year IYWT celebrates its 25th year of philanthropy and leadership in northern Illinois and anticipates surpassing $500,000 in grantmaking for youth-benefiting projects in our region.

Sign class set for Feb. 5

OREGON – Custom signs and wall décor continue to be a popular trend. Together, the Oregon

Park District, Timber + Tribe, and Cork & Tap continue to offer fun stenciling and sign making classes. Custom signs are awesome because you can make them whatever size and shape you want and make them say whatever

The classes offered through the Park District typically offer the participant many choices of sayings. Signs can be decorative, motivational, inspirational, romantic, funny and more. Some of the Park District participants enjoy creating, the experience and the social environment and make their signs to give as gifts.

Timber + Tribe instructor, Charlotte Bauer, teaches the basic techniques, tips and tricks to successful stencil application. Each design is individually crafted choosing from a variety of stain and paint colors that Charlotte has available. The classes make for a fun night of painting, laughing, and sipping on your favorite beverage at Cork & Tap while creating a sign.

Registernow for the next T+T sign making class. The Long Board Porch Sign Class is Wednesday, Feb. 5 at 6:30 p.m. The last day to register is Jan. 28. These signs will be 10 inches wide by 48 inches tall and participants can choose from 10 different sayings to stencil on their board.

Register through the Oregon Park District by calling 815-732-3101, on line at www.oregonpark.org.

Hubs recognize three players before season finale against Streator

BY RUSSELL HODGES

SPORTS EDITOR

ROCHELLE — The Hubs came close to sending their three senior bowlers off with a victory when Rochelle hosted Streator for its Senior Night match at T-Byrd Lanes on Thursday. Despite winning the third game by nearly 20 pins, the Hubs were unable to recover from their early deficit, falling 2,892-2,814 and finishing the regular season with a 1-12 overall record. Seniors Nick Jensen, Jordan Dobberstein and Logan Ortega were honored before the match.

"The seniors have made big improvements this season," head coach Jim Lyles said. "Nick and Jordan were both first-year members of the team and they improved throughout the whole season. Logan's been fairly consistent this season even though he struggled a little bit this evening."

Hubs extend streak with Winnebago-Belvidere sweep

Nay seals Rochelle's 11th straight dual win on match-clinching pinfall

BY RUSSELL HODGES

SPORTS EDITOR

BELVIDERE — Behind 13 points with only three bouts remaining, the Rochelle wrestling team needed to win out in order to have any chance of defeating Belvidere on Tuesday.

285-pounder Zack Capes was first to step up for the Hubs, recovering from an early takedown to pin Bryan West and bring Rochelle within seven points. Belvidere forfeit the 106-pound match to Rochelle's Ivan Pineda, setting 113-pound freshman Weldon Nay up against Alejandro Banuelos for the final bout of the dual with the Hubs trailing by one point.

that featured a combined six takedowns, five escapes and three nearfalls, Nay and Banuelos remained tied 13-13 with less than 15 seconds remaining in the bout. A missed shot nearly cost Nay the match, but with one final effort, the freshman turned Banuelos over, taking the lead before pinning him

In an absolute thriller with five seconds left in the third period. The victory pushed Rochelle over Belvidere 38-33 and extended the team's dual win streak to 11 matches.

"It was a real team effort tonight," head coach Alphonso Vruno said. "It's really Weldon's first full year wrestling and he's really improved every week... We coached him through the match and we did whatever we could to help him be successful, and he followed the plan. It was all heart at the end of the match, and even though he took a bad shot, he found a way to finish on top."

The Hubs never led before Nay's victory in the 113-pound bout. Rochelle fell behind 12-0 after conceding a forfeit in the 120-pound bout and losing the 126-pound bout when Antonio Alvarado won by fall over Caleb Nadig. Grant Thompson got the Hubs started in the 132-pound bout, reversing Izaac Palmer and pinning him in the second period. 138-pounder

followed Thompson's win with a 17-7 major decision against Caden Lendman, totaling a teamhigh eight takedowns in the match.

"We're in Keegan's ear all the time about wrestling all six minutes," Vruno said. "I think that's the biggest jump he's made from last season. I think he can take down any kid in the state, and I watched him make four takedowns in the third period of one of his tournament matches on Saturday. He's done an excellent job for us this season." Belvidere scored a fall victory in the 145-pound bout, leading to an extremely close 152-pound match between Rochelle's Zeke Horn and Alexander Piloni. Horn trailed 9-6 in the third period, but a takedown and a stalling penalty against Piloni evened the match before Piloni ultimately escaped Horn's grasp with seconds to spare. Bryan Garza put Rochelle back on track, defeating Jake Bell by 11-2 major decision in the 170-pound bout after Bell beat Garza on Saturday.

Former Rochelle student-athlete Riley Lodico has enjoyed his first season as a high school basketball coach. Lodico currently coaches the sophomores alongside Josh Johnson, but he's also on the bench for varsity games.

Lodico's hoops passion carries into coaching

BY RUSSELL HODGES

SPORTS EDITOR

IM Thompson's coaching career with Rochelle has spanned over two decades. Thompson has coached hundreds of prep players during his tenure, but not many of them have shared the same passion for high school hoops as former Hub shooting guard Riley Lodico.

Lodico grew up playing basketball in Rochelle, spending four seasons with the high school program and three seasons on Thompson's varsity team. Lodico's basketball fever never waned after graduating RTHS in 2018, and when Thompson offered him an opportunity to join the coaching staff, Lodico didn't hesitate to take the chance.

"I helped coach the freshman baseball team this past season, and coach Thompson and I had some conversations back then about coaching basketball," Lodico said. "I told him that I'd love the opportunity to spread my joy for the game to these kids... The experience has been better than I expected it to be because I didn't know what to expect. I'm trying to learn more about the game, and I love working with the kids in practice and developing their skills."

Lodico currently works as the sophomore assistant alongside head coach Josh Johnson, but he also sits on the bench with Thompson and his staff during varsity games. Rochelle's sophomore players frequently practice with the varsity players, allowing Lodico to spend time with both teams and learn from multiple coaches. A recent graduate who played up on varsity as a sophomore, Lodico said he's aiming to bring a new energy to the Hubs this season.

"The kids are very eager to learn more about the game," Lodico said. "I was a senior when a couple of the varsity players were sophomores, so I want to support them and give coach Thompson and the players as much information as I can to help them out. I feel like I have a good connection with the kids because they know where I'm coming from as someone who's been coached by all of these men in the past. I relate to them really well."

Johnson and Lodico's sophomore team has been very successful this winter, defeating Oregon on Thursday and improving to 12-4 overall after finishing fifth in the Plano Christmas Classic this past month. Rochelle currently rosters three sophomores on the varsity team including Ryan Simmons, Adam Kemp and Zach Sanford, and all three are in the team's rotation. Lodico said his relationship with the coaching staff has greatly evolved since his playing days.

"Our team had a lot of success when I was in high school and I understand what it takes to be in this program," Lodico said. "We expect a lot out of the kids offensively and defensively, and we know how their skills should translate from practices to games... The coaches and I have connected a lot more and we build off of each other's ideas. We discuss different teams and scouting reports, and having more minds in the room has been really great."

Lodico, who's currently studying at Kishwaukee College and planning to further pursue physical education at Northern Illinois University, played for the Hubs when Rochelle went 20-8 and reached the IHSA Regional Finals during the 2016-17 campaign. He'll be looking to help lead the program back there this season, and Thompson will be happy to have him along for the ride.

"I've had the blessing of coaching a lot of great kids and Riley is one of the best," Thompson said. "He loves high school sports... He's been such a breath of fresh air to have on our staff."

HUBS: Strong season continues for Rochelle grapplers

Belvidere went ahead 27-14 when Jonathan Urbieta earned a 9-5 decision against Noah Messer in the 182-pound bout. Ben Harvey controlled his 195-pound match with Ahmad Sheikhalia, turning him over with an arm bar for a pin in the second period.

The dual turned south for the Hubs when Belvidere's Trever Dawson won by fall over Gavin Ansteth in the 220-pound bout, giving his team a 33-20 advantage. But Rochelle rallied with three straight victories at 285, 106 and 113 to score 18 unanswered points and win the dual.

"The kids are realizing that they're a great team," Vruno said. "We had one of our top wrestlers get pinned tonight, but the kids didn't get down on themselves, and they stepped up with huge pins... We have that next-man-up mentality and we believe we're in every dual we wrestle."

Winnebago

Rochelle opened Tuesday's meet with a 54-17 victory over Winnebago. The Indians forfeited five matches for the Hubs including the 113-pound bout (Josey Weber), the 160-pound bout (Zeke Horn), the 195-pound bout (Noah Messer), the 220-pound bout (Gavin Ansteth) and the 106-pound bout (Ivan Pineda). Caleb Nadig crushed his match against Matthew Bloomquist, pinning him in 15 seconds to win the 126-pound bout.

Keegan Davis-Carter notched a 6-4 decision over Havden Faworski in the 138-pound bout and sophomore Ethan Tooley held his own in the 152-pound bout with a 6-2 decision against Micah Bloomquist. Senior Wade Samp turned over Charley Murray for a pin in the 145-pound bout and Ben Harvey recorded five first-period takedowns before pinning John-Victor Murray in the 182-pound

Logan Ortega started his afternoon strong with a 656 series over the first three games of the Interstate 8 Conference Championship at Mardi Gras Lanes on Tuesday. Head coach Jim Lyles will be hoping to see a similar performance from Ortega and the Hubs when Rochelle competes in the IHSA Regional Series on Saturday.

Ortega broke off a 267 opening game and topped the 200 mark three times in the tournament, leading Rochelle with an 1,178 sixgame series and helping the Hubs finish fourth overall with 6,063 pins. Ortega recovered from two tough second-series games to end the day with a 211.

"I thought Logan was concentrating hard and I think he really wants it," Lyles said. "He's a senior and I think he wanted to bowl well for his last conference meet. I thought he threw the ball well, even in the games he struggled in... Spares are going to be the key for these guys."

Ortega finished ninth overall in the Interstate 8 Conference individual standings after his performance on Tuesday. Rochelle totaled 1,033 in the opening game behind Ortega's 267 and sophomore Dylan Milton's 195. Sophomore Devansh Patel rolled 194 in his second game to aid the Hubs to a 1,023 team total, with Ortega adding 202. Sophomore Sergio Guevara shot 191 in the third game, where Rochelle finished with a 1,042 total score.

Games 4 and 5 were tough for the Hubs, as no players topped the 180 mark and the team finished with respective scores of 894 and 896. Rochelle saved its best group effort for the Hubs, while sophomore Maddex Ramos fired a 189 and Patel chipped in 185. Milton rounded out with 180. "Weknow what we have to work on in practice," Lyles said. "We're going to work on our spares and we're going to get our kids lined up to bowl on more oil. We'll need to slow our shots down to where we can get our balls through the oil. I think they'll get there, and I think our kids will have a chance to make it out of the regional on Saturday."

Sophomore bowler Alyssa Schwanert rolled a season-best 549 series when Rochelle took down Ottawa on Wednesday for the team's first win of the season.

Lady Hubs earn first win

Sophs step up in victory at Ottawa

OTTAWA — Sophomore bowlers Alyssa Mickley and Alyssa Schwanert rolled their highest series scores of the season on Wednesday, when the Lady Hubs defeated Ottawa 2,486-2,193 for their first victory. Rochelle (1-10) snapped its 10-match losing streak with the win over the Ottawa started the series with an early lead, taking the first game 712-683 behind 176 from McKenzie Lewis. Mickley and Schwanert delivered big performances for Rochelle in the second game, with Mickley shooting 220 and Schwanert following with 214 to help the Lady Hubs claim the game 921-743.

The win put Rochelle ahead in the series count entering the final game.

"I was really proud of our team because we've put a lot of effort in this season," Schwanert said. "I was finally lifting through my shots and keeping my form straight. I was really focused and shooting 214 was really exciting for me. I definitely have more confidence going into our next few meets because we know we're capable of winning and having fun while doing what we love."

Three sophomores including Mickley, Schwanert and Anna Samo came through at the end of the match, leading the Lady to win the third game and take the series. Mickley rolled 203 to finish with a season-high 582 series, while both Schwanert and Samo scored 180 for Rochelle. Schwanert also ended the evening with a season-best series total, knocking down 549 pins.

"It felt really good because everybody bowled really well," Mickley said. "Everybody was happy and we were cheering each other on... I was really focused and what I was doing in the moment. I wasn't thinking ahead and I wasn't thinking about my score. Having my teammates there to cheer me on was really fun. The win really boosts our confidence."

Hubs outlast Woolsey, Oregon for home victory

Rochelle runs win streak to four

BY RUSSELL HODGES

SPORTS EDITOR

ROCHELLE — Oregon standout Trey Woolsey can score the basketball, but the Rochelle defense did enough to limit his chances when the Hubs faced the Hawks on Thursday.

Rochelle quieted Woolsey in the first half, holding him to 12 points and forcing him into more perimeter shots than closerange layups. Despite getting loose in the third quarter, Woolsey and his game-high 27 points would not fold the Hubs, who absorbed a 15-8 run in the quarter and held off the Hawks for a 65-55 win. Rochelle (8-9) has won four straight games.

"I was proud of our guys," head coach Tim Thompson said. "He was going to score in the upper 20s no matter what we did because he was going to get enough shots. I thought he struggled from the perimeter early... I knew if we could get our defense set, we could at least try on him. When he got going in transition, it was because of our missed shots."

The Hubs started the game with a 9-1 run that featured baskets from four different players including a 3-pointer from sophomore Ryan Simmons. Senior guards Seth Gould and Landan Martin combined for 12 points in the first quarter, helping Rochelle build a 17-11 lead.

The Hubs increased their distance in the second quarter behind two triples and a layup from junior guard Garrett Burdin, who scored all 10 of his points in the first half. With his team leading 31-23 entering the third quarter, senior guard Austin Brown attacked the basket on three straight plays, scoring seven points including an old-fashioned 3-point play that gave Rochelle its largest advantage of the game at 38-25.

"Austin's scoring was a huge lift for us," Thompson said. "He was going north-south and attacking the front foot of the defender. We knew he could get to the basket and we knew they weren't providing much help-side defense for him. He was big in that third quarter."

Oregon took a timeout to stop the game, and when action resumed, Woolsey kicked into high gear, scoring 11 quick points on four layups and a triple to run his total up to 23 for the night. A pair of post-up scores from sophomore forward Zach Sanford helped Rochelle stomach the Oregon surge and remain ahead 46-40 entering the fourth quarter.

Martin and Brown teamed up for 14 of their team's 16 points in the final quarter, and both players ended the game in double figures. Martin led the Hubs with 20 points, while Brown scored 15 points, with 13 of those coming in the second half. Both players made the bulk of their free-throw attempts down the stretch to seal the home victory.

Arquette won a Best Actress Golden Globe last year for playing a prison guard who fell in love with an inmate and helped him become a fugitive in "Escape at Dannemora." She did indeed win an Emmy for her hit show "Medium," which was based on real-life psychic Allison Dubois. Arquette also was awarded an Oscar for supporting actress for the movie "Boyhood," which was filmed over a 12-year period. Arquette can always be counted on for a lengthy speech in which she hopes to raise awareness and spark activism. At this year's Golden Globes, she talked about the devastating fires in Australia.

Q: Is it true there is going to be another Superman series? If so, who will play the lead role? -- P.I. A: Between Marvel, DC Comics and Star Wars, I don't think we'll ever run out of genre TV shows. "Superman & Lois" is next on the assembly line. It's a spinoff of "Supergirl" and will be brought to you by the executive producer of "The Flash." However, it's uncertain at this time if it will be a multi-episode series, as it's being billed as a "stand-alone pilot" on the CW network. Perhaps if it does well, it'll get the greenlight for more episodes or movies.

going to be on Netflix? I'm sad it's the last one but really eager to see how it all pans out. -- R.M.

A: The fifth and final season of the cult hit "Lucifer" has no official air date yet, but a big announcement was made recently about a highly important character, God, who will be played by Dennis Haysbert. You might remember Haysbert (who also voices the Allstate insurance commercials) as the president of the United States in the FOX series "24."

When Mark Twain was editing a newspaper in Missouri, one of his subscribers wrote in, saying that he had found a spider in his newspaper and wondered whether it was a sign of good or bad luck. Twain's response:

"Finding a spider is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our newspaper to see which merchant was not advertising, so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door, and

HEALTH & WELLNESS

Stop eye strain before it starts

T'S that time of the year when many areas of the country are under the cold cloak of winter. Unforgiving temperatures can translate into an increase in hours spent indoors, whether at work or at home, and more time relying on devices to pass the hours.

Spending more time watching television, playing video games, texting friends, or browsing the internet can lead to a condition known as "computer vision eye strain." Eye strain also may be caused through intense eye use, such as while driving long distances or engaging in activities that require close attention, such as crafting or reading.

The American Optometric Association says digital eye strain can result in various forms of discomfort, which increase with the amount of screen use. The most common symptoms include:

- headaches;
- blurred vision; • dry, watery or burn-
- ing eyes; · increased sensitivity
- to light; and
- neck and shoulder pain.

The AOA says viewing a computer or digital screen often makes the eyes have to work harder. The AOA notes this is different from reading a printed page. The letters are not as precise or sharply defined, and areas of contrast can be muted. Also, the presence of glare and reflections on the screen may make viewing difficult. Furthermore, the Mayo Clinic says people tend to blink less while using digital devices, and view them at less than ideal distances or angles.

Alleviating eye strain from digital sources involves making changes in daily habits or the environment. Taking regular eye breaks, and looking at objects from different distances can help them focus. These tips may help as well.

- Adjust the lighting to reduce glare on screens or your task.
- Limit screen time as much as possible and engage in other activities.
- Consider the use of artificial tears products to lubricate dry eyes.
  - Choose the right

eyewear, and work with an eye professional to find products that can assist you. Specialized glasses or contact lenses are designed for computer work. Investigate tintings and coatings that also may help.

- Blink often to refresh the eyes.
- Talk to a doctor if eye strain persists or changes in severity.

When the weather gets cold, people may rely on digital devices for recreation more than they otherwise would. Avoiding eye strain in such situations can help people avoid discomfort.

Make the dentist a fun experience for kids

ISITS to the dentist for periodic cleanings and checkups are an important component of oral hygiene. Dentists also may be the first people to identify potential issues that can affect health elsewhere in the body. Many people are unaware that children should visit the dentist early in their lives. The American Academy of Pediatric Dentistry recommends that a child should visit the dentist by age one or within six months of the eruption of his or her first tooth. However, many parents wait until much later — age two or three — to take kids to the dentist, offers Delta Dental Plans. Hesitance to visit the dentist may stem from personal fears or perceived reactions by children.

Primary teeth may eventually fall out, but they shouldn't be ignored. They save space for permanent teeth and serve other functions. Therefore, parents should begin to acclimate children to the dentist at a young age to make the experience fun and even enjoyable.

Lead by example

Children who witness their parents putting off going to the dentist or being apprehensive about visiting the dentist may develop their own fears. Always paint the dentist in a positive light and keep appointments.

Focus on the good aspects

Talk up all the benefits of going to the dentist, such as having a squeaky clean and fresh mouth. Many hygienists will hand out small toys after a successful visit, or at the least a great new toothbrush and other fun products to try.

Get a tour of the office

Ask the staff if your child can get a special tour of the office with explanations of all the tools and equipment. Understanding what to expect the next time around in a no-pressure situation can make the process much easier for everyone involved. The dentist may be able to also give a test ride on the exam chair, moving it up and down, as well as showing off the water fountain and oral that "everything will be OK" at the dentist's office. If a child needs treatment that may be uncomfortable, he or she may not trust you the next time a dental visit is scheduled, according to Joel H. Berg, D.D.S., M.S., Director of the Department of Dentistry at Seattle Children's Hospital. Avoid words like "shots," "pain," "hurt," or even "cavities." Dentists, particularly pediatric dentists, may have their own vocabulary that can assuage fears and seem less alarming to kids.

Over time, dental visits can become an easy routine with children, setting them up for a lifetime of healthy mouths and teeth.

HEALTH & WELLNESS

Risk factors that can compromise mental wellness

of a new year, much is made about the popularity of resolutions focusing on improving physical fitness. While it's important to be physically fit, a new year also marks a great time to examine one's mental wellness. The World Health Organization defines mental wellness as "a state of well-being in which the individual realizes his or her own abilities, can cope with the normal stresses of life, can work productively and fruitfully, and is able to make a contribution to his or her society." Men and women who are mentally unwell may find it difficult if not impossible to achieve their other goals, including those pertaining to their physical fitness.

No one is immune to mental health problems, which the American Mental Wellness Association notes are never the result of a single risk factor. Many people whose mental wellness has been compromised are dealing with a variety of risk factors. The AMWA breaks down those risk factors into four categories: biophysical, psychological, social, and spiritual. Learning these risk factors can help people learn more about themselves and might even compel them to seek help before their mental wellness is compromised.

Biophysical

Family history of mental health problems Complications during pregnancy or

Personal history of traumatic brain injury

Chronic medical conditions, such as cancer or diabetes. Hypothyroidism or other brain-related illnesses, such as Alzheimer's or Parkinson's disease, also can compromise mental wellness

Use of alcohol or drugs

Poor nutrition Lack of sleep

Psychological

Stressful life situations, such as financial problems or breaking the law

Traumatic life experiences, such as rape or serving in the armed forces

Low self-esteem, perceived incompetence and/or a negative view of life

Poor academic achievement

Social

Being abused or neglected as a child

Being in an abusive relationship or friend-

Having few friends or few healthy relationships

Recent loss, either by death, divorce or other means

Bullying; both victims of bullying and perpetrators can be at risk for mental health problems

Growing up, or currently living, in poverty

Poor social skills, poor communication skills

Discrimination Lack of access to support services

Spiritual

Perception of being irredeemable or inherently flawed beyond repair

Perception of insignificance

Conflicting thoughts or doubts surrounding deep religious beliefs The good news for people who think their mental wellness has been compromised is that various treatments are available. Talk therapy or speaking with a peer who has had similar life experiences can help some people as they confront problems regarding their mental wellness. Information about additional treatments, including specialized therapies, is available at www.americanwellness.org.

Fitness goals are popular New Year's resolutions. But the start of a new year also marks a great time to consider one's mental wellness.

the needs people need to do to protect their physical well-being. For example, a healthy diet and routine exercise, while beneficial to mental health, are often viewed as lifestyle choices that can make people feel better physically. But taking steps to protect one's mental health also is vital to a long, productive life.

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services notes that positive mental health and mental wellness can have a profoundly positive impact on a person's life. Positive mental health can help people realize their full potential, cope with the stresses of life and make meaningful contributions to their communities.

> What can I do to protect my mental health?

Learning to recognize the early warning signs of mental health problems can help prevent such problems from escalating and compel people to seek help. The DHHS advises anyone feeling these signs or recognizing these signs in others to seek help for themselves or their loved ones:

- Eating or sleeping too much or too little
- Pulling away from people and usual activities
- Having low or no energy • Feeling numb or as if nothing matters

out of your head

- Unexplained aches and pains
- Feeling helpless or hopeless • Smoking, drinking, or using drugs more than
- Feeling unusually confused, forgetful, on edge, angry, upset, worried, or scared
  - Yelling or fighting with family and friends • Severe mood swings that cause problems in
- Persistent thoughts and memories you can't get
- Hearing voices or believing things that are not
- Thinking of harming yourself or others
- An inability to perform daily tasks, such as taking care of your children or getting to work or school Taking steps to protect one's mental wellness is a vital component of preventive care. More information about mental health is available at www.mentalhealth.gov.

Beating the winter blues

TEWER daylight hours can adversely affect mood and productivity. Seasonal affective disorder, often referred to as "SAD" or "the winter blues," has been recognized and included in the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual for Mental Disorders. Clinicians say that, as days become short and dark, a predictable set of symptoms of SAD may emerge. Individuals with SAD may experience a host of symptoms, including difficulty waking in the morning; diminished energy levels; a tendency to eat more; an inability to concentrate; and depression.

A combination of self-care strategies as well as professional medical treatment may help those with winter blues or more severe SAD. The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services says that these strategies can help people coping with SAD.

- Get out of the house into sunlight or brightly lit spaces early in the day when the sun is out.
- Increase time spent outdoors. Take a break midday and enjoy lunch outside or take a walk, even if it's chilly.
- Try to spend time with other people and chat with friends and relatives.
- · Avoid overloading on carbohydrates like cookies and candies.
- Talk to a doctor about using light therapy, which is the first line of SAD treatment, according to the University of Maryland School of Medicine.
- Consider cognitive behavioral therapy or talk therapy with a licensed mental health provider. He or she also can make recommendations about the use of medication to alleviate symptoms if other treatments do not provide results.
