Honoring veterans

BY ANDREW HEISERMAN STAFF WRITER

ROCHELLE-While the snow continued to fall outside on Veterans Day, Rochelle Middle School students, staff and local veterans gathered inside the gymnasium for a ceremony to honor the country's veterans Monday morning.

The ceremony began with RMS principal Jordan Young introducing Jerry Olsen, a five-year Marine Corp. veteran, who also helps out with the Darkhorse Lodge in Tennessee, a place where combat veterans go on retreats. Olsen discussed what the American flag means to veterans who fight for their country and their flag. He also had all of the veterans in the room, including staff and family of students stand up to be honored for their

Following the presentation by Olsen, Rochelle VFW Commander Bill Bumgarner gave a short presentation on the history of Veterans Day, what it was like when the draft was still in act, and the explained that everyone in the armed forces today volunteered and chose to do so.

Following Bumgartner's presentation, the seventh and eighth grade choir performed the National Anthem while ev-

Zoning ordinance to get revamped

Entirity of code hasn't been updated since 1996

BY JENNIFER SIMMONS MANAGING EDITOR

ROCHELLE — City officials will move forward with a plan to update city ordinances following a presentation from Pete Iosue from Teska and Associates Tuesday night.

Iosue has reviewed the city's current zoning ordinance and informed council members that after that review there are numerous issues that need to be addressed.

ROCHELLE – Rochelle VFW Post 3878 is once again helping those in need of a Thanksgiving dinner this upcoming holiday.

For more than 50 years post members have been serving members of the community who either need a place to go for Thanksgiving or have no way of making one for themselves or their family at home. Dinner will be served at the VFW from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Thanksgiving day or people can sign up to have the dinner delivered to their home.

The meals will include all of the aspects of a traditional Thanksgiving dinner.

"We do turkey and ham, mashed potatoes and gravy, a vegetable, stuffing, dinner rolls and then a dessert," explained Wilma Adamski, VFW club manager.

The VFW serves more than 200 guests each year with the majority being deliveries.

There is no cost to anyone for dinner — the VFW just asks that the people who want their meal delivered to them, please call and provide their name, phone number and address to them by the Tuesday before Thanksgiving.

All of the food for the meals is provided by the City of Rochelle and organizations within the community.

"The City of Rochelle has been very gracious donating us money to buy turkeys with and Kim Montgomery from the Rochelle Area Community Foundation has been very helpful," said Adamski.

While the dinners are provided to anyone in need for free, the Rochelle VFW Post 3878 is always accepting donations of any amount. Donations can be made at the VFW post, 318 4th Ave. in Rochelle.

LOCAL NEWS A breakfast for champions

Annual Veteran's Day breakfast hosted at Rochelle Township High School Monday morning

ROCHELLE School administrators were keeping their eyes on the weather and road conditions Monday morning and the grounds crew at Rochelle Township High School had been out since before dawn preparing.

Hub Cafe Manager Rayna Bennett didn't sleep at all Sunday night — Monday morning was her very first RTHS Veterans Day Breakfast where there are usually between 125 and 150 served.

After Superintendent Jason Harper's opening remarks, Rochelle Mayor John Bearrows spoke, sharing with the audience a conversation with wife, Dina, that morning.

"She asked, 'Do you think they'll cancel given the weather?' To which I replied, 'They may cancel school, but they're not gonna cancel the Veterans Day Breakfast. Those guys didn't not go into battle because it was snowing'."

As done every year, the absence of longtime guests who have become old friends was noted. For a few with mobility issues, staying home was prudent, but more than 100 came, reminisced, enjoyed a wonderful breakfast buffet, posed for photos with students, and stood at attention as their branch song was played by the senior members of Ron Duval's marching band.

The breakfast was a success and so were the panel discussions that followed. Hosted by U.S. Army veteran Michael Koolidge, of the Michael Koolidge Show based here in Rochelle and broadcast in radio markets throughout the midwest, the panel included veterans whose service spanned seven decades including the Korean War, Vietnam, Desert Shield, Storm, Operation Iraqi Freedom through today.

Panelists included Lt. Col. Don Karper, U.S. Army Retired (41 years service); Cmdr. Mary Beth Papke a nurse with the U.S. Navy Reserves (active since 1985); and paratrooper Richard Schutte (Korea) who is also a beloved former RTHS science teacher, track and cross country coach. Koolidge introduced guests and fielded questions, generously sharing his experiences. They earned standing ovations.

Enrollment numbers for HUB, dual language program up

BY ANDREW HEISERMAN STAFF WRITER

ROCHELLE–During its monthly board meeting Tuesday, the elementary board heard a special report from Amy Hayden about the district's Hub Program.

During her report, Hayden discussed the significant increase in enrollment in the program compared to the previous year. She attributes the increase to the change in the way enrollment in the program is done or possible enrollment of siblings of current members.

"We changed our enrollment procedure this year and folded it into the general enrollment at the beginning of the year and I think that accounted for some increase," said Hayden.

She also discussed the goals of the program and certain areas that could be improved upon.

One of the main areas that leaders would like to work on is emotional and social support for kids.

"We know that there our kids need social and emotional support and we also know that is one area where we don't have as much staff as we do for academic support," explained Hayden.

The main goal of improving this area of support is to give the kids more face time with counselors if they need it.

The second part of the special reports was an update on the district's dual language program. Hayden informed board members that enrollment in the district's dual language program has also been very good, with approximately 68 applications already handed in for next year's program. She added that anyone who signs up after moving forward would be put on a waiting list. Following the special reports the board passed a motion to pay the bills and approve the financial report.

Another topic of discussion during the meeting was the previous idea to change the way the Rochelle Middle School graduation ceremony was held. The idea was to change the current formal ceremony held at night to a more informal ceremony held during the day. The district surveyed Rochelle Middle School parents to get their opinion on the change and the responses were clear.

"We went out and surveyed the parents and I am really glad we did, it was very clear among the parents that we, as a district, continue to have a formal ceremony," said district superintendent Jason Harper.

COUNCIL: Property purchase approved

"The city has obviously paid a great deal of attention to zoning related issues throughout the years, as numerous amendments are inserted throughout the document. Unfortunately, this has resulted in certain topics (such as accessory uses) being addressed in multiple sections within the document, definitions being spread out in multiple sections of the document, and references to other regulations being unclear and hard to find."

The last time the city's zoning ordinance was updated was 1996. Many current zoning issues (such as gaming, medical/recreational cannabis, wind turbines, solar panels, beekeeping, chickens/goats, modern telecommunications, etc.) are not addressed.

In addition, a number of major issues were identified that should be rectified immediately, including sign regulations that are not consistent with recent court rulings, and questionable standards for granting variances, according to Iouse's findings.

Changes to the ordinance could take up to a year to complete.

"It's a comprehensive project...you're talking about codes that are guiding the growth of your community for the next generation. We want to make sure it's done right," city manager Jeff Fiegenschuh said. "It's going to be a time consuming and expensive process but we also don't want to have language in our code that contradicts certain sections where you've got staff interpreting one chapter and another staff interpreting another chapter."

Other business

The purchase of a garage and property located at 608 West Second Avenue for a well house to be constructed just east of the Rochelle Municipal Electric office was approved.

The city currently owns several lots located along the east end of 2nd Avenue where the old Patterson Lumber Company storage area was and approved the purchase of additional lots in the area at the Aug. 12 council meeting. This is the final property that needs to be purchased to move forward with the construction of the new well house. The purchase price of the property is $65,000.

A conditional use permit for Sinbad Vapors, LLC, 1231 Caron Road, was not approved. Voting against the proposal was Mayor John Bearrows and councilmen Bil Hayes and Don Burke. Kathryn Shaw-Dickey was absent from Tuesday's meeting.

Switchback concert rescheduled

ROCHELLE — The two-show Switchback Concert originally slated for Nov. 23 in Franklin Grove's historic H.I. Lincoln Building will be rescheduled due to a broken leg injury suffered by key performer Brian Fitzgerald.

The H.I. Lincoln Building is currently closed and undergoing additional historic restoration to enhance the work started in 1995. Special preparations were being made to reopen the building for the Nov. 23 concert.

Fitzgerald, along with musical partner Marty McCormick expressed regret in the delay of the much anticipated show but promised a rousing performance when they return at the earliest possible date. Rescheduling is difficult due to their extensive international travel schedule which includes Italy, Scandinavia, U.K. (especially Ireland), and Costa Rico in their annual performances.

Along with this rescheduling of their 2019 Lincoln Building appearance, dates are being discussed for their 2020 schedule to include Franklin Grove. While it is unusual for popular musicians that regularly play to audiences measured in thousands, the Switchback/H.I. Lincoln connection goes back over a quarter of a century to their musical friendship with the late Jack Kelley.

Jack was an outstanding musician as well as a part of the restoration, begun in 1995 that saved the historic Lincoln Building. It was only natural that the combination of music, historic preservation, and friendship with Switchback would put Franklin Grove on the group's international touring line-up.

Gas tax hurting small businesses few days ago, I pulled into Walt's Service Station in Rock Island and as the manager filled my gas tank, I asked, "How's business?"

Joe Schaecher glanced across the street at a competitor's station and said, "I'm not losing business to that guy. But I sure am to Iowa since the governor raised the gas tax."

Walt's is a mom and pop enterprise that has been owned by the same family since 1962. It's the sort of place where gas jockeys still fill customer's tanks and where you can schedule an oil change or brake job.

But like many gas stations, it is feeling the pinch since Illinois lawmakers raised the tax on gasoline by 19 cents a gallon beginning July 1.

"I'd guess the amount of gas we are selling is down 15 to 20 percent since they raised the tax. I really can't blame folks for going over to Iowa to save. My distributors tell me when you pull into Iowa stations all you see are Illinois plates," Schaecher said.

The story is much the same for border communities across Illinois, said Josh Sharp, executive vice president of the Illinois Petroleum Marketers Association.

"What we are hearing consistently from members in border communities is that business is down by 15 to 25 percent. The industry has been hit by a triple whammy this year. First the gas tax was doubled, then the cigarette tax increased [by $1] and finally the minimum wage was increased. I just got off the phone with a member in Quincy who doesn't know if he will be able to stay in business."

cents to 38 cents per gallon. This brings state fees and taxes to about 54.98 cents per gallon. This does not include federal, municipal or county taxes on gasoline.

State government is raking in an additional $100 million more per month in fuel taxes.

Illinois now ranks third in the nation for its tax on gasoline, according to data compiled by the American Petroleum Institute.

By comparison Iowa ranks 25th with its total state tax on gasoline being 24.5 cents less per gallon. The differential is more pronounced in the Metro East portion of the state. Missouri ranks 49th and taxes gasoline at 37.5 cents less per gallon than the Land of Lincoln. Taxes are 29 cents per gallon less in Kentucky, 8 cents less in Indiana and 22 cents less in Wisconsin.

"Look at a town like Edwardsville. It's basically a suburb of St. Louis. People live there and work and shop in Missouri. It's no problem for them to just fill up across the river too," Sharp said. "That hurts the economy in Illinois."

Illinois has been financially mismanaged for so many decades that there is a deep suspicion that money raised by the gas tax won't go where it is supposed to go: road and bridge improvements.

State government has a history of raiding the road fund to pay for other state operations. And although state now has a constitutional amendment prohibiting this practice, tax revenues still could be diverted before they actually reach the fund. "The worst part is there is no guarantee that the money will actually go where it is supposed to go," Schaecher said. Proponents of the tax hike say the state's roads are in bad shape and money to fix them has to come from somewhere. But the burden of years of state neglect and fiscal mismanagement is unfairly being borne by Illinois drivers and the businesses that sell them fuel. State revenue projections don't factor in long-term revenue losses that will come as commerce shifts to neighboring states.

As Illinois businesses fail to compete, stations will close or reduce their number of employees. This means over time there will be less business, income and sales taxes collected.

Of course, at this point no one knows just how much less.

Contrary to popular perception, most filling stations are small businesses.

"People may see a sign out front that says "Shell" or some other brand of gasoline. But the reality is that these are mostly family-owned businesses," Sharp said. "This gas tax is hurting small businesses across the state."

Letter to the Editor

Have an impact on the future of your community

Dear Editor,

For a number of years, on a given Wednesday morning at the Presbyterian Church in Rochelle, you may find a host of retired educators volunteering through teaching and tutoring. Their students are members of the community who are interested in improving their English language skills in an effort to become more integrated into the community.

I have seen first-hand the pride these students take in their accomplishments and the bonds they form with their volunteer teachers and mentors. What a joy it was to learn about Delia and Rosa. As their skill improved over four years, they each decided to begin preparing for a quest to become a citizen of our country. They participated in the classroom sessions regularly and used their tutored time to study for the citizens test. After a lot of diligent work on the part of the student and the tutors, they both passed their tests and are now U.S. citizens.

This story — along with the countless others like it — demonstrates the importance of community foundations in this country, which are uniquely situated to improve their regions through supporting innovative solutions and creating powerful partnerships. From Nov. 12 to 18 we celebrate Community Foundation Week, a time when we can share and reflect on the stories of impact over the last year. Though you may not yet know your local community foundation, you've likely felt its impact.

That's because the Rochelle Area Community Foundation and more than 1,000 other community foundations across the country help to bring donors and residents together. Community foundations work to support the efforts that will help the places we call home continue to flourish and grow.

Members of the Rochelle Area Community Foundation board and staff are passionately interested in enhancing life in the communities we serve. As a convening partner and fiscal sponsor of "Revved Up Rochelle," we have enjoyed working alongside community volunteers in visioning and planning innovative solutions to enhance the quality of life in the Rochelle area.

As we enter the giving season, millions of people from every background will be looking to give back to the communities that have supported them. They'll also look to ensure that their heartfelt giving—however they choose to give — will have the most impact. That's why so many of them will choose to give to a community foundation.

A gift to your local community foundation is an investment in the future of your community. We like to say that community foundations are "here for good." At the Rochelle Area Community Foundation we don't think about the next election or business cycle, we think about the next generation and the next after that.

That can seem a daunting task, but it's one that we all share. During Community Foundation Week, I hope you'll join us in recognizing our collective impact and the difference we can make together.

VOICE ON THE STREET

Question:

Winter is hitting hard early this season with the snowstorm on Halloween and temperatures aren't expected to get out of the teens and Wednesday will be only in the 20s. Do you think this is a sign of a long, cold winter? Is there anything you do to prepare for the cold temperatures or snowfall?

College presenting film series Immigration to the Midwest this month

MALTA—Kishwaukee College's International Ed Committee is presenting an Immigration to the Midwest Film Series. Light refreshments will be provided and a brief discussion will follow each showing. The series is free and open to the public. No registration is required.

Each film will be shown twice. The first showing will run 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. in room C1121 on college campus. Guests to the 9 a.m. showing are encouraged to park in lot A and enter through Door 6. The second showing will run 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. in room A1225 on campus. Guests to the 2 p.m. showing are encouraged to park in Lot A and enter through Door 16 or 17.

Nov. 13, Mountains, Mists &

Mexico, 56 minutes

The documentary tells the general history of Mexican immigration to the United States, focusing on the personal narrative of several generations of one family that settled in Wisconsin. Included in the film are interviews about experiences of racism and adapting to American culture, as well as the contributions of Mexican-Americans to the nation's history. The film touches on concerns facing Mexican-American immigrants that are still prevalent today.

Nov. 20, The Fourth

Partition, 75 minutes

The film describes the arrival of Polish immigrants to Chicago, which became the largest center of Polish culture outside of Poland itself. Incorporating both historical and present day footage, the documentary shows the neighborhoods where Poles congregated to work in Chicago's burgeoning industries, and it depicts their life, which was built around work, faith and a love of their mother country, as Poland fought for independence in the 20th century.

For more information on the film series, contact Tammy Tiggelaar, coordinator of international education, at ttiggelaar@kish.edu or 815-825-9478.

STATE NEWS House Republicans unveil more ethics proposals

Pritzker says comprehensive reform will likely have to wait until 2020 session

BY PETER HANCOCK CAPITOL NEWS ILLINOIS

SPRINGFIELD -Illinois House Republicans unveiled another package of proposed ethics reforms Thursday that they say are prompted by the wide-ranging federal probe into alleged corruption by some high-profile Chicago-area Democrats.

Speaking at a news conference in Chicago, Minority Leader Jim Durkin, of Western Springs, said the reforms are needed to restore public trust in Illinois state government. He challenged Democrats, who control both chambers of the General Assembly with supermajorities, to act on the proposals when lawmakers return to the Statehouse for the last three days of the veto session next week.

"Illinois government has sunk to an even lower low," Durkin said. "A crisis of confidence has never been more profound.'

The GOP package includes House Bill 3954, which would require lawmakers to disclose more of their personal financial information on their statements of economic interest.

It also includes a proposed constitutional amendment, HJRCA 36, which would change the way vacancies are filled in the General Assembly by requiring special elections. Currently those vacancies are filled by party officials from the precincts within the legislative district.

Deputy Minority Leader Tom Demmer, of Dixon, said that proposal is a direct response to the recent resignation of former Rep. Luis Arroyo, a Chicago Democrat, who was arrested in October and charged with trying to bribe a state senator who was also working as a confidential FBI informant. Arroyo, as a Democratic committeeman for the 36th Ward, would be part of the process of selecting his replacement.

"Today we have a situation where former Representative Arroyo recently resigned amid federal corruption charges, only to then be still a part of the selection process to choose a successor for the seat from which he just resigned," Demmer said.

House Republicans have also introduced a resolution, House Resolution 588, which would enable a chief co-sponsor of any bill that has at least five co-sponsors from each party to call for an up-or-down vote on that bill in a substantive committee.

Demmer said that bill is a response to Sen. Martin Sandoval, the former chairman of the Senate Transportation Committee who stepped aside from that post after federal agents executed search warrants at his district and Statehouse offices as well as his home.

Demmer said Sandoval was known for bottling up bills in that committee, even when they had broad bipartisan support.

Republicans also are proposing House Bill 3947, which would ban members of the General Assembly, their spouses, and immediate live-in family members from working as lobbyists paid to influence local units of government.

Finally, Republicans are offering House Bill 3955 to create publicly available documentation of any communication a lawmaker has with any state agency regarding the awarding of a contract.

Sandoval is reported to have intervened with the Illinois Department of Transportation on behalf of a company that provides automated red light cameras for cities and villages in the Chicago area, a company that also has made substantial contributions to Sandoval's campaigns.

Speaking at a separate and unrelated event in Chicago Thursday, Democratic Gov. J.B. Pritzker did not speak directly to the Republicans' proposed package. He did, however, renew his call for comprehensive ethics reform, including more disclosure by lobbyists, while saying he thinks it is unlikely that lawmakers will be able to pass very much legislation next week.

"We've seen that Representative Arroyo was a lobbyist for other levels of government," Pritzker said. "I think that is challenging and problematic, but once again, I'm not sure we'll be able to do the proper amount of investigation and hearings in the three legislative days that are left this year. But that doesn't mean we shouldn't aim at getting the best and most comprehensive ethics package through that we can."

State medalist Harvey headlines returning wrestlers this winter

BY RUSSELL HODGES SPORTS EDITOR

ROCHELLE — Last season was a learning experience for many members of the Rochelle wrestling team including first-year head coach Alphonso Vruno. Armed with more experience this winter, Vruno and the Hubs are planning to field several returning varsity wrestlers as Rochelle gears up for its first campaign as an Interstate 8 Conference competitor.

"I'm really excited for this season," Vruno said. "We were all over the place last season due to a lot of injuries and other unforeseen issues. But I'm really excited about what we can do if we stay healthy. We have 21 dual matches this season and our goal is to win about 15 of those. I think that's a realistic goal for us."

The Hubs open their season with the nonconference triangular meet against Dixon and Burlington Central on Tuesday, Nov. 26. At least four sectional qualifiers will be in the Rochelle lineup including state medalist Ben Harvey, who went 44-5 this past year, as well as seniors Gavin Ansteth, Zeke Horn, Junior Ben Harvey will look to follow up a fifth-place finish in the IHSA 2A State Championships this past season, where the Hub standout went 44-5 overall. Harvey is one of four IHSA 2A Sectional qualifiers returning to the Rochelle wrestling team this winter.

RTHS Boys Basketball

Senior guards leading Hubs into new season

Rochelle faces Belvidere in Strombom Tournament opener Nov. 26

BY RUSSELL HODGES SPORTS EDITOR

ROCHELLE-Moving to the Interstate 8 Conference means new competition for the Rochelle boys basketball team, and head coach Tim Thompson thinks the league title can be won by any of the eight high schools taking the floor this winter.

The Hubs tipped off the 2019 season with practices Monday afternoon, and the boys will have about two weeks to prepare for their opening game against Belvidere in the first round of the Strombom Thanksgiving Tournament at Sycamore High School on Nov. 26. Rochelle has several guards returning from 2018 including starters Austin Brown, Landan Martin and Seth Gould.

"We have a lot of guards and some of those guards gave us a lot of minutes last year," Thompson said. "Those guys will have to carry the load because they've been through all of the battles. I thought they went through all the ups and downs that come with being a new player on the varsity team last year and I thought they played their best basketball down the stretch."

Junior 3-point specialist Garrett Burdin also returns to the Hubs this winter, and Rochelle will need all the production it can get as the varsity program looks to replace All-Conference forward Johnny Beck, who averaged over 20 points, eight rebounds and three blocks per game last season. The Hubs are seeking to build off their 15-17 record from 2018.

"We have to shoot a high percentage from beyond the arc," Thompson said. "You can't just replace an All-State caliber player like Johnny who was probably the best shot blocker I've seen in my 21 years here. Every type of defense we ran would funnel guys to him and he blocked a lot of shots. We don't have that same rim protection this year so our defense will be different."

While the Hubs will have plenty of guards to rotate into the game, building depth at forward will be critical moving forward. Thompson said that sophomore Ryan Simmons and senior Ben Hickey are two players who could see meaningful minutes at that position. Rochelle begins conference play against Kaneland on Dec. 6.

"The kids who played last season would love to win a conference championship and a regional championship this year," Thompson said. "I think it's going to be a very open league and I don't think there's really a top end of the conference like there was in the Northern Illinois Big 12. I think most of the teams this year are pretty equal and whoever wins the conference this year will likely have some losses. We're really looking forward to competing in the new conference."

Ortega shines as Rochelle falls to Sycamore

Hub senior rolls team-high 661 series against Spartans

BY RUSSELL HODGES SPORTS EDITOR

DEKALB — Logan Ortega entered this season as Rochelle's most experienced varsity bowler, and the senior showed his skill when the Hubs battled the Sycamore Spartans in their 2019 opener at Mardi Gras Lanes on Tuesday.

Ortega started the match with 203 before rolling 232 and 226 to round his series out with a team-high 661 score. His second and third games included one fivestrike sequence each, and while Ortega's individual effort was impressive, it wasn't enough to take down a talented Sycamore squad, as the Spartans took all three games and won the series 3,685-2,833. Rochelle fell to 0-1 overall with the loss, and the Hubs will host Sterling on Thursday at 4 p.m.

"It's good to be back," Ortega said. "The main thing I focused on was not dropping my right shoulder and I think that's what really helped me out tonight... We have a lot of young guys and I want to help all of them. We didn't come out expecting to win but I thought we did well."

Sycamore's Riley Runowiecki and Jeffery Gasso dominated their home lanes on Tuesday, with Runowiecki posting a match-best 726 series score while Gasso added 672 to lead the Spartans. Ortega was the only Rochelle bowler to break 200 during the match, and the senior accounted for nearly 25 percent of the team's pins. Sycamore's Tommy Reboletti scored 626 in the match.

Sycamore claimed the opening game 1,178-894 before the Spartans threw a huge score on the monitors in the second game, winning 1,303-971. Sycamore closed the match out with a 1,204-968 victory over Rochelle in the third game to complete a 10-0 sweep of Interstate 8 Conference points. Junior John Henson rolled 502 and a high score of 178 for the Hubs, while junior Keith Holland recorded 467 with a high game of 183.

"We want to go to regionals and bowl well there," Ortega said. "We really want to show what we have... I really want to help the younger guys who are bowling on varsity and it's nice to have bowlers who look up to me. They listen when I show them things and I think they're going to get better as we go." Sophomore Devansh Patel recorded 404 for Rochelle, while sophomore Sergio Guevara added 422 and freshman Maddex Ramos rounded out the varsity lineup with 377.

ROCHELLE — The winter celebration of Meet the Hubs has been scheduled for Friday, Nov. 15 at Rochelle Township High School. The doors will open at 5:15 p.m. with the marching band starting at 5:45 p.m. and the main event starting at 6 p.m.

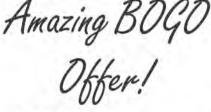

All winter sports programs will be introduced to the crowd including boys basketball, girls basketball, wrestling, boys bowling, swimming, cheerleading and dance. Parent meetings with athletic programs, as well as freshman, sophomore and varsity basketball scrimmages, will take place after team introductions.

Tables will be set up in the commons for the RTHS Athletic Booster Club, Bee Designs, ticket sales, concessions and more.
