Following his passion

Works on shrimp species identification

BY ANDREW HEISERMAN

STAFF WRITER

ROCHELLE – One college sophomore from Rochelle is conducting research on clam shrimp shells in hopes to create a new way of identifying the different species.

Nikos Konstans, a graduate from Rochelle Township High School, has been conducting research using an electron scanning microscope, looking at the shells of different species of clam shrimp.

"A clam shrimp is a small shrimp-like creature that lives in a shell," explained Konstans.

Konstans became interested in fossils and paleontology when he was 5 years old and went through a dinosaur phase. When he grew up, that love stuck with him and carried over into his studies of clam shrimp.

Board approves pay raises

BY ANDREW HEISERMAN STAFF WRITER

CRESTON – During its monthly meeting on Tuesday, the Creston Village Board discussed its three-year contract with Petry Farms ending this fall and the possibility of renewing it.

The previous contract leased at $300 per acre plus a bonus based on price and yield, paid after harvest. Petry Farms would like to renew the contract at $300 per acre but drop the bonus if possible, for a total of $43,380 for 144.6 acres that would last another three years. The land is part of the village farm located on the Southwest side of Route 38, just west of town that is rented out to farmers to help with income. Sending this to a bid could end up costing the village more than helping it.

"If you throw it out for bids and somebody else comes in at $250 and he bids $275, we could have had them for $300," explained Wayne Williams, village president.

It was decided to hold this discussion over until next month's meeting to talk about options.

nances that he provided to the mayor, along with the government cannabis policy resolution. Both of these topics will be discussed at next month's meeting.

During the meeting village trustees also passed a motion to higher Casper Manheim as the building inspector at a cost of $850 per month with him traveling to Creston twice per week for approximately two hours each time.

"Everybody I have talked to speaks very highly of him," said Williams.

Along with the new building inspector, a motion to increase the stipends and salaries for certain board members for 2021 was also passed.

Data breach

Teacher, student information compromised

ROCHELLE — Parents in Rochelle Elementary District 231 are being notified of a data breach in conjunction with a testing platform previously used within the district.

On Aug. 5 the elementary district received a confirmed communication from Pearson Clinical Assessment that one of its testing platforms, AIMSweb, had experienced a data breach back in November of 2018. The company became aware of the breach in mid-March of 2019. Rochelle is one of many districts in Illinois and across the nation involved in this data breach.

Pearson has confirmed that personal information of past and present students and teachers has been compromised.

 Student first names, last names, and date of birth has been accessed by unknown parties.

 For teachers, first names, last names, and email addresses has been accessed by unknown parties.

 For both students and teachers, the data breach did not contain Social Security numbers, credit card data, or other personal financial information in the Pearson system.

Gearing up for Heritage Fest

BY ANDREW HEISERMAN

STAFF WRITER

ROCHELLE – The City of Rochelle is gearing up for its 22nd annual Lincoln Highway Heritage Festival.

The festival will take place from Aug. 16-18 in the downtown area of Rochelle and will feature attractions for people of all ages. Some of the activities include live bands, carnival rides, a kid's zone, a car show, a beer garden and a parade on Sunday with many local businesses and organizations participating.

"The parade is at 1 p.m. on Sunday and it is getting bigger every day, I get e-mails about participating and then I send them to our parade coordinator," said Laura Thomas, marketing coordinator for the festival. Unlimited ride wristbands for the whole weekend can be purchased before the event for $50, $60 at the event, or tickets can be purchased individually or by the sheet.

"This is a social time, a fun time, a lot of people who have left come home for their reunions. It is like a reminiscing and I think people enjoy the atmosphere of the whole thing, pulling the community together." Naomi Baldwin

Unlimited ride single day bands can also be purchased for Friday or Sunday for $25 or $30 for Saturday. Each ride costs between two and five tickets, so organizers recommend purchasing a wristband to save money. Wristbands can be purchased at one of the following locations: Ray's New and Used Merchandise, Rochelle City Hall, RMU, Colonial Flowers or Quinn's Jewelry.

Along with all of the other activities, new this year is an open mic that will be taking place on Sunday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., on the main stage. Time slots for open mic are 15 minutes each and are first-come first-serve. People are just asked to bring their own music and equipment if they plan on performing. The 50/50 raffle tickets will be sold throughout the weekend as well, with the final drawing on Sunday at 6 p.m. Donations to the raffle will be accepted up until Friday.

Without all of the many sponsors, this event could not have happened.

"We appreciate all of the help, we wouldn't be able to do this without our sponsors. Sponsors are a very, very big deal here," explained Thomas.

Rochelle Elementary School District 231 stopped using Pearson's assessment program (AIMSweb) as a progress monitoring test in 2016. The district has not used AIMSweb for the past few school years.

"The district moved to Renaissance Learning's STAR testing platform in 2016 because STAR uses a dynamic testing model. This means the assessment changes based on the performance of the student during the assessment. Because of this testing model, we feel STAR results give parents and teachers more accurate and timely data to measure student growth," superintendent Jason Harper explained.

Pearson says there is no evidence that student or adult information has been misused as a result of the data breach and that they are working with law enforcement on the matter.

"If a parent/guardian has questions about personal information, contact Pearson at 866-883-3309 or e-mail aimsweb1request@pearson.com. Please note that Pearson is offering free credit monitoring services from Experian," Harper said. "I understand that this data breach is concerning for parents. I recommend that parents/guardians make contact with Pearson and take advantage of the credit reporting services being provided."

Until now there are generally two different ways of identifying clam shrimp, the biological way — which involves looking at the head, body, legs and tissues of the clam shrimp — or the paleontological or fossilized way - where all you have is the shell so all you can look at is the ornamentation patterns.

Many biologists don't believe the paleontological way is accurate but Konstans is hoping his finding will prove this wrong.

"Alot of biologists don't see the shell as viable for identifying a species, because up until recently it has been seen as a variable thing. What I am working on is proving that it is not variable, that it is specific from species to species. So that the shell can be used to identify them," said Konstans

Clam shrimp were first being discovered during the Cold War era when scientists from different cultures and countries did not interact with each other. This led to three or four different ways of identifying the same species of clam shrimp. Since then it has become a little bit more unified by culture, but still varies greatly from field of science to field of science. One of the goals of Konstans's research is to integrate fossilized clam shrimp into the records and the same way dinosaurs are recorded.

"Before this research there were different schools "...What I am of thought on clam shrimp working on shells, one guy back in is proving the 1980s bathat it is not sically said we should ignore variable, that the fossilized clam shrimp it is specific entirely and from species put them all into one catto species. So egory," addthat the shell ed Konstans. "Which was can be used very wrong, because there to identify wasn't just one species of them." clamshrimp."

Nikos Konstans

day, there are approximately 40 different known species of clam shrimp and for his research Konstans looked at 17 species. For his process, he would take the specimen and coat it in a special metal that would reflect the electrons from the microscope to help brighten and show detail in the photo. Pictures were then taken of the shell from different angles and distances to compare the ornamentation patterns.

As of to-

Along with looking at the differences in shell patterns, the location of the shell was also a big factor in helping to identify these species. Konstans conducted his research with the help of his University Professor Dr. Thomas A. Hegna. His professor then asked him to accompany him on his trip to the city of Sha Tin in Hong Kong. There he attended the annual meeting of the Crustacean Society in May and set up a poster to present his research for a few hours on the first day.

Along with attending the conference, Dr. Hegna is also helping to get their research published in a magazine titled Zoological Studies to help continue Konstans's goal of becoming a paleontologist. "He has been a huge help in me pursuing my goal of eventually becoming an actual paleontologist, which is what I want to do,' said Konstans. "Having a published paper is huge in your undergrad years. It is very helpful not only by looking good on a resume, but for getting scholarships, getting accepted into grad school and ultimately getting my PhD."

Publishing his work means that it can also be used as a resource to reference for future projects.

While getting his work published would help Konstans advance his future in paleontology, he also hopes it can be used to open doors for future people identifying species of clam shrimp or adapted to be used on any species with a shell.

Konstans feels that through the examination of 17 different types of clam shrimp species, he has good grounds to prove that shells can be used for identification. But to ensure his data is accurate he plans to examine every type of known spe-

"We only had access to 17 species but what we are going to do is broaden our research. So we can make sure its 100 percent true we need to look at each species, which is going to take some time," explained Konstans

This was all preliminary research for Konstans's next project which he will be starting in a couple weeks when the next semester of classes begins. The first part was more of taking pictures and observations and the next step is going to be acting on that. Looking at what is causing these patterns, why, how, environment factors and coming up with theories.

While Konstans has been working very hard on his research, he is very grateful for the opportunities he has received and has enjoyed every second of it.

"I am very thankful for my professor Dr. Hegna for giving me this excellent opportunity to have this amazing experience as a freshman. I actually have real experience in the field, an idea of what my future as a paleontologist is going to be like. And it has reinforced that I really enjoy it and love doing it," said Konstans.

COMFORT IN RITUAL

After a person dies; there is a period of several days when the members of the family are more or less expected to participate In a fairly standard sequence of events. The death rituals observed ill the United States are nearly universal within our nation's borders. In many ways, it is a comfort that our funeral practices have become so standardized. What that means for the family is that they may not have to make too this period of emotional stress. Unlike a wedding, which is elaborate and unique, funerals generally follow a standard pattern. The familiarity of the funeral events can also be a comfort because it is not unique or new.

For families that do have special observations in mind for the funeral, the best time to make these arrangements is prior to the time of need. Most funeral directors will work with you to make sure the funeral you are planning is in keeping with your personal preferences, but this is best taken care of many trying decisions during when time and emotion are not strained.

The village meter reader will go from $12 per hour to $14 per hour; the clerk will go up to $450 per month; the president pay will go to $500 per month; and the trustees will be paid $100 per month.

Pay increases for the clerk and president would go into effect in 2021 while the meter reader would go into effect during the next pay

A 50-year-old agreement with NICOR gas was also discussed during the meeting, the agreement would give NICOR the franchise rights to all of the gas lines. The only difference between this agreement and the old one was a $5,000 bond that could be used in the case of a gas leak that is not in the new agreement.

"I don't think $5,000 would do a whole lot if there was a gas leak today, with today's funds," explained

Another issue that was resolved during the meeting was a walking path that cuts through a subdivision that children use to get to and from school. Where the sidewalk has an "S" curve has become overgrown and could be dangerous to a child if a coyote or animal ran out, or if they weren't paying attention when biking. The board passed a motion to spend $500 to clean that area up to keep the children safe and will contact Abe's Tree Service about

The final topic discussed during the meeting was the concern of people speeding down South Street and blowing the stop sign. Officials are concerned someone is going to get hit, and is looking into the option of installing either speed bumps or speed tables to help ensure drivers slow down and use the stop sign. It was an idea to put a speed detecting sign near the stop sign as well.

Parents encouraged to include emergency preparedness in back-to-school plans

SPRINGFIELD -

Students from kindergarten through college soon will head back to school. As families prepare for the new academic year, the Illinois Emergency Management Agency (IEMA) and local emergency management agencies are encouraging parents to include emergency preparedness in their backto-school plans.

"Emergencies can occur any time of the day or night, including when children are in school," said Acting IEMA Director Alicia Tate-Nadeau. "The start of a new school year is the perfect time to make sure you know your school's plans for keeping students safe during an emergency and then talking to your child about those plans." Here are some tips for parents to consider:

• Find out where children will be taken in the event of an evacuation during school hours.

- Ensure your current emergency contact information is on file at your child's school.
- Pre-authorize a friend or relative to pick up your children in an emergency and make sure the school knows who that designated person is.
- Teach children with cell phones about 'Text First, Talk Later.' Short, simple text messages, such as "R U OK?" and "I'm OK," are more likely to get through than a phone call if phone service is unavailable immediately following an emergency. As phone congestion eases, you can follow up with a phone call to relay more information.

New this academic school year, state law requires schools to hold a minimum of three evacuations drills while students are present to better prepare students and personnel for emergencies. Specifically, within the first 90-days of the school year, schools must conduct at least one law enforcement evacuation drill. These drills must be conducted according to the school's emergency and crisis response plans, protocols, and procedures.

Students headed off to college also need to be prepared for emergencies. While doing back to school shopping, consider picking up the essential items for an emergency preparedness kit. Every home, dorm and apartment should have the supplies needed to endure a storm, power outage or disaster. You can find a list of emergency kit essentials online at www. ready.illinois.gov.

Many college campuses also offer email and text messages to alert students of potential dangers, such as severe weather and other threats. Encourage your college student to sign-up for such alerts. Some colleges also provide alert messages for parents so they also are aware of potential dangers on campus. In addition, make sure your student knows the emergency plans for their dorm or apartment building.

In addition, a great resource for both parent and college students is the FEMA Weather app. This free app provides fast and reliable alerts from the National Weather Service (NWS). Best of all, the app can be tailored to offer alerts for up to five different locations. This convenience can provide peace of mind for parents who have kids that have moved away to college.

Additional preparedness information is available on the Ready Illinois website at www.Ready. Illinois.gov. You can also follow Ready Illinois on Facebook and Twitter.

LHHF: Activities planned for entire weekend

When the event first started 22 years ago, it was much smaller with only three rides and no parade. After a few years had gone by without any events for the community, the idea was formed at one of the downtown meetings about having a festival and decided to name it after Lincoln Highway because that is the road everything was located on.

Since then it has continued to grow into somewhat of a tradition the community looks forward to each year.

The Hub City Cruisers Car Show will be held downtown on Saturday, Aug. 17 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. A variety of carnival games will also be on hand all weekend (right).

"This is a social time, a fun time, a lot of people who have left come home for their reunions.

Unlimited ride wristbands for the whole weekend can be purchased before the event for $50, $60 at the event, or tickets can be purchased individually or by the sheet. Unlimited ride single day bands can also be purchased for Friday or Sunday for $25 or $30 for Saturday. Each ride costs between two and five tickets, so organizers recommend purchasing a wristband to save money. Wristbands can be purchased at one of the following locations: Ray's New and Used Merchandise, Rochelle City Hall, RMU, Colonial Flowers or Quinn's Jewelry.

It is like a reminiscing and I think people enjoy the atmosphere of the whole thing, pulling the community together," added Naomi Baldwin, former president of the committee.

People have come and gone and others have stepped in to take on the hard work of putting this together for the community, but when looking back on her 13 years as president and her time as parade marshal, Baldwin only has fond memories.

"It was a neat thing when I look back on it, when you see how it has continued. It is a great group of guys and girls that are running it now too," said Baldwin

While the event has grown throughout the years, the number of members on the committee has dwindled. The committee is asking for new volunteers to attend a meeting and find out how they can help.

"Seven years ago, when I started there were 22 members, now we are down to only 12," explained Pete Agnos, vice president of the committee.

Meetings usually take place on Monday at Hickory Grove either in the VIP or Baldwin room. Any information the community would like to know along with upcoming meetings will be posted to the Lincoln Highway Heritage Festival Facebook page, or the website at www. lincolnhighwayheritagefestival.org.

The Little Miss Peanut contest will be held Friday at 6 p.m. on the main stage.

VOP: Celebrating a legacy of service

mer I've been rummaging through the Village of Progress archives, preparing for our 50th anniversary. A few things surprised me. They might surprise you, too.

It always starts with Long before there was a Village of Progress there were a group of parents raising children with developmental disabilities. These parents believed that their children deserved a life of opportunity and respect. And so they formed the Blackhawk Association for the Mentally Retarded. That was in 1957.

This parent's association learned what other communities were doing to aid persons with disabilities and advocated for their children's education and for their future.

After years of helping to establish and support special education classes these parents started to dream about life for their children after they graduated from school. And so began the Village of Progress.

Wherever you see changes that help those with disabilities, you'll always find a group of parents who began with a dream.

It takes leaders with passion.

In the Spring of 1969 this Association asked Robert Glaser, then just a 26-year old instructor at the Dixon State School, to create a Day Training Center in Ogle County. By the fall of 1969, the Village of Progress officially opened its doors in Mount Morris. True to Bob's vision, the VOP offered a sheltered workshop and a day care for children not able to attend public schools. Not long after, Bob was introduced to John Herrmann, the Operating Manager of Caron Textile. John was a man with a passion for excellence in business that was a strong as Bob's passion for excellence in disability services. The two men quickly became strong friends and allies.

As the VOP grew, John arranged for the operation to use part of its building for production work. Six months later, John followed up on this unprecedented show of support by leading his company to donate two acres of their land to the VOP and advance a loan to help the VOP construct its facility. That's where the Village of Progress has been located ever since.

Since then, the VOP has expanded from 6,000 square feet to its current size of more than 25,000 square feet. Bob believed in the power of industry and was never afraid to explore new opportunities for the workshop. John believed in the power of industry as a force for good in the community.

In 1972, John traveled to Springfield to receive the Francis J. Gerty Award for excellence in communitybased mental health care. John remained actively committed to serving adults with disabilities until his death in 2000.

It takes a village.

No matter how strong the parent base or how passionate and capable the leadership, social good seldom happens without the support of the community. In this case, that support has come in many forms.

A driving force in moving from a parents group to a functioning day training center was passage of the Ogle County 708 referendum to provide funding for local mental health and disabilities services in 1968. The county, its residents, and its many townships, clubs, and churches, have been faithful supporters of the VOP ever since.

I imagine that the parents who helped create that first Blackhawk Association over 60 vears ago could hardly imagine how far their dream has progressed, and how many families have been touched and served.

So you see, we're not just celebrating 50 years of the Village of Progress, we are also celebrating 50 years of a county constantly demonstrating its kindness and compassion.

Thank you. Without each of you we could not be who we are.

Please join us on Wednesday, Aug. 28, from 1-2:30 p.m. as we celebrate together a wonderful legacy of service.

Movie going experience not the same anymore

HEN was the last time you went to see a movie?

And by that, I don't mean going over to a friend's house to watch "Field of Dreams" for the 46th time on his giant 4K TV as you try not to blubber too much as father and son have a catch near the end of the movie. I am tearing up just thinking about that I mean when is the last time you drove to a movie theater, bought a ticket, grabbed a small popcorn and small drink for $134, sat down and watched a flick?

My guess is that it has been a while.

In fact, the older you are the less likely you are to go to the theater. I read recently that in 2002, about 27 percent of Americans said they were "frequent moviegoers." Now, it is about 10 percent or so. That is a big drop. And most moviegoers trend younger.

The question facing the movie industry is why?

Well, there are many factors, of course. As I mentioned, televisions themselves are bigger and better than they used to be and offer a real theater experience at home when paired with a great sound system. They are pricy, but worth the investment if you like movies and video games or even TV programs to look and sound better.

Also, not everyone wants to see a sequel or a super hero movie. That seems to be just about all you can see at the multiplex these days. Explosions, battles, fights and abnormally fit men and women who make you feel bad about yourself dominate the screens.

I haven't been to a theater in years. I know I haven't been to a theater since we moved to Rockford nearly four years ago. The last movie I saw in a theater was when we lived in Schaumburg, but I honestly can't remember the movie.

I used to love going to the movies. When I was a kid I lived at the local theater. I saw all of the "Planet of the Apes" movies. It was 75 cents to get in, and the popcorn and Milk Duds were cheap too. And they always had double features. Plus, my parents got a break from having my annoying self around for a couple of hours.

When we were old enough, we also went to the drive-in nearly every weekend. There were two in my hometown and open all year. The drive-in was not necessarily a place to actively watch movies, of course. It was a place to hang out with friends and, honestly, make out with your girlfriend. Hey, don't act like you didn't do it too.

Throughout my life, movies have been something I have enjoyed. I used to like going to the theater. The sound, the communal feeling of seeing a great movie with a group of strangers. It was fun.

Then it just became annoying. The dude smacking on his popcorn behind you. The girl slurping her soda. The guy answering – yes, answering – his phone during "Rocky Balboa," which my wife and I went to see when we lived in California.

Now, we just stay at home and watch movies. We have a great TV and good sound, so why put up with the high prices and annoyances?

I do worry that eventually, the experience of seeing a movie on the big screen will go away, but that probably won't be anytime soon.

In the meantime, I look forward to watching the second part of the movie "It" from the comfort of my home home when it comes out later this year.

OREGON — Enthusiastic golfers and generous supporters helped raise more than $16,000 at this year's John Herrmann Memorial Golf Play Day.

Headon represents Team USA at World Para Athletics Junior Championships

BY RUSSELL HODGES

SPORTS EDITOR

ROCHELLE — U.S. Paralympic athlete and Rochelle Township High School graduate Aubrey Headon had one final stop to make before departing the United States to represent Team USA in the 2019 Para World Athletics Junior Championships in Nottwil, Switzerland, this past weekend.

That stop took place at MedCare in Rochelle on Saturday, July 27, when Headon united with family members, friends, veterans, policemen and firefighters before receiving a special escort away from the 'Hub City.' Headon and her family spent roughly one week in Switzerland, where she competed in three events including the shot put, the 100-meter dash and the 200-meter dash at the junior championships, which ran

"The send-off was great," Headon said. "It was awesome to see how much this city supports me. Overall, my time in Nottwil, Switzerland, was awesome. I made a new friend named India Oates from Great Britain who is the same classification as me. I think I performed well."

Headon set a new personal record in the 100-meter dash, clocking in at 17.99 seconds to take ninth place in the mixed heat.

Headon finished eighth in the mixed heat of her 200-meter dash with a time of 39.50, and despite rainy conditions, Headon marked 4.73 meters in the shot put to place third in her group.

Team USA selected only 20 athletes to compete in the junior championships including Headon, who will now prepare to begin her academics at Carroll University, where she plans to study exercise science with an emphasis in physical therapy. Headon also said she hopes to compete for the Carroll University track and field team.

Headon will leave for school on Aug. 30.

RTHS graduate Aubrey Headon competed for Team USA in Switzerland at the 2019 World Para Athletics Junior Championships. Headon ran a personal-best time in the 100-meter dash while also competing in the 200meter dash and shot put. At left is Headon with Great Britain's India Oates.

Lawhorn lands All-NACC honor in final season

BY RUSSELL HODGES

SPORTS EDITOR

TANDING 6 feet 3 inches and weighing 275 pounds, former Rochelle student-athlete William Lawhorn has been an anchor on the offensive line for the Rockford University football program over the last four seasons.

Lawhorn appeared in 30 games throughout his time with the Regents including all 10 games his senior season, when his play warranted First Team All-Conference recognition from the Northern Athletics Collegiate Conference. His favorite moments from his playing career were defeating Lakeland 37-20 and topping Concordia University Wisconsin 24-0 in 2018.

"We had one of our best seasons during my time there," Lawhorn said. "We ended up 3-7 my senior year but we competed in every game. We beat Lakeland who was the four-time reigning conference champion, and we beat Concordia Wisconsin who we had never beaten. Our record didn't show it, but we were in every game and almost all of them went down to the wire."

Rockford University recorded eight wins throughout Lawhorn's time with the program. While he said that pursuing graduate school is definitely in the future, he said he's accepted an assistant coaching position with the MacMurray College football program. Lawhorn recently completed his bachelor's degree with the Regents.

"The biggest thing that Rockford football taught me was to not only trust the process, but to also fall in love with it," Lawhorn said. "I got addicted to results throughout my time in Rockford. Whether it was in the classroom, the weight room or the football field, I loved seeing results, and I still love seeing results."

Lawhorn earned First-Team All-NACC honors for the first time in 2018. The former Hub helped the Rockford University offense record one of its most productive seasons in the NACC, totaling 3,643 yards on offense (second-most since 2008) including 1,663 rushing yards (second-most) and 1,980 passing yards (third-most). Lawhorn said the relationships he built with players and coaches are what he will miss most about the sport.

"Going to a small school like Rockford, the team really turns into a family," he said. "I've really missed just hanging out with the guys."

"The biggest thing that Rockford football taught me was to not only trust the process, but to also fall in love with it... Whether it was in the classroom, the weight room or the football field, I loved seeing results, and I still love seeing results." William Lawhorn

THE YOUNG AND THE RESTLESS Mariah offered to throw

lor/bachelorette party, which upset Abby, who felt that Mariah was infringing on her maid of honor duties. Needing a date to the party, Abby bluntly asked Nate, leaving him confused about where they stood. Lola extended an olive branch to Summer, inviting her to the celebration as well. Theo planned to accompany Summer so that he could make Kyle uncomfortable at the wedding. Victor continued to struggle with his illness, but promised to stay strong for his family. Nick vowed to do whatever it took to bring Adam down. Sharon interrupted their heated exchange and blamed Nick for taunting Adam. Billy's new therapist called him out for continuing to punish himself for Delia's death. Wait to See:

of "Suits"? Is there any chance that Meghan Markle will guest star on the show? -- K.M.

Q: Is the new show "Pearson" a spin-off

A: "Pearson," which debuted July 17

on the USA network, stars Gina Torres as Jessica Pearson, the character she played on "Suits" for many years.

Having been disbarred, she is no longer practicing law in New York and has moved to Chicago to take a job as the mayor's "fixer." Torres actually attended her former "Suits" co-star Markle's wedding to Prince Harry. However, I highly doubt that the Duchess will be appearing on her friend's new series. Raising her baby boy, along with her royal duties and charity work, should keep her very busy for years to come.

Q: Does "Loudermilk's" Brian Regan have a brother who is also a stand-up comedian? I saw him on "Huckabee" on the TBN channel, and his voice was similar to Brian Regan's. -- G.J.

A: Yes, Dennis and Brian Regan both are stand-up comedians. Dennis often opens for Brian, and both are considered family friendly in that they don't use profanity. Dennis was a writer for the hit sitcom "King of Queens" for several years before following in his brother's footsteps.

Q: Whatever happened to actress Kim Delaney? I loved her as Jenny on the soap opera "All My Children," and then I watched her make it big on "NYPD Blue."

Has she retired from acting? -- S.S.

"A Summer Ro-

A: No, in fact, she's been acting steadily since her time on "NYPD Blue" ended in 2003. She starred in several TV miniseries, as well as other hit prime-time shows like "Army Wives" and "Chicago Fire." Even better, a revival of "NYPD Blue" will be coming back as a likely midseason replacement on ABC, and Delaney will be leading an all-new cast. She'll reprise her role of Det. Diane Russell, Gina and Bill Brochtrup will be back as John Torres Irvin. Actor Dennis Franz, who played Andy Sipowicz on the original series, appears to be retired from acting, but his character's son, Theo Sipowicz, will be in the new version. He'll be played by actor

Fabien Frankel.

Q: I noticed that CourtTV is back on cable. Whatever happened to the channel in the first place? -- A.K.

A: CourtTV debuted in 1991 and became must-see TV during the O.J. Simpson murder trial. It also covered several major cases in courtrooms around the country that allowed live cameras, but eventually lost popularity and became TruTV in 2008. With the renewed popularity of true-crime stories on TV and podcasts, it went back to CourtTV.

Its first high-profile case will be the sexual-assault trial of former movie mogul Harvey Weinstein. However, cameras will not be allowed inside that courtroom, so don't expect it to be like the OJ experience. Instead, Court-TV will have reporters outside the courtroom giving live updates on the proceedings.
