Finfrock not eyeing changes as chairman

By Brad Jennings
Editor

OREGON – After spending a number of years a vice chairman of the Ogle County Board, John Finfrock had learned a lot about how the county operates.

That will serve him well as Finfrock is now chairman of the Board after the sudden death of former Chairman Kim Gouker.

“There was some trepidation there because this wasn’t in the script,” Finfrock said of being elected chairman at the County Board’s Sept. 17 meeting.

Woman finds ring on Rock River bank

Amy Holder has spent a lot of time combing the Rock River in Byron and Oregon.

Holder, of Stillman Valley, enjoys beach combing – although as she points out, searching river mud for items is actually mudlarking – and has found plenty of interesting items.

She said she has found a Liberty Head nickel, a ceramic doll head, Civil War button, Victorian era shoe and much more.

But recently she found a woman's 10K gold ring and would like to get it back to its owner. She found the ring on the shore of River Park in Byron. It is inscribed with the letter "K" and stamped 10K on the back. The ring is clearly old and it is damaged.

If anyone reading this knows anything about the ring, or who may have lost it, please contact the Ogle County Life via email at bjennings@oglecountylife.com.

County accepting board applications

Ogle County is accepting applications to fill the Board seat left open with the death of Kim Gouker on Sept. 10.

The candidate must reside in County Board District No. 6 and be a Republican. The applications are due on Oct. 10 by 4:30 p.m. to the County Clerk's Office. The remaining County Board members of that District – Dottie Bowers and Todd McLester – along with the Board chairman will hold interviews for the appointment recommendation to the County Board.

The County Board has 60 days to fill the vacancy.

FINFROCK: Has had plenty of support

Finfrock, who is retired from Kable News Co. and lives in Mount Morris, was first elected to the Board in 2010. He had served as vice chairman since 2012, when Gouker asked him to fill the role. He said he told Gouker he would do it, as long as it was understood that if asked his opinion, he would certainly give it.

"We didn't always agree, but we always worked something out," Finfrock said of Gouker.

Finfrock said Gouker's death was "unbelievable." He said that when Gouker did not show up for county meetings on consecutive days, they knew something was wrong. Gouker was found dead at his Byron home during a wellness check on Sept. 10.

Finfrock admitted that he will have big shoes to fill following Gouker as chairman. But he said he is confident.

"Basically, the board's in good shape," he said. "The county's in good shape. We've got probably the best group of board members that I've been around since I came on the board."

Another plus is that the county has a strong group of department heads, and that they all work well together.

"We all debate, and we all have our own ideas," Finfrock said. "But when there's a vote, the vote is it and you move on from there."

He said that he plans to stay "on the course that is charted." He said there may be some little differences in leadership, "but the objective is still the same."

First, the focus is on getting the new Judicial Annex completed, which was a priority for Gouker. He said the county is also facing issue like solar power and the question of how to handle legal cannabis.

But he main focus for now is keeping the county moving forward.

"I'd like to see the cohesiveness of the board itself stay where it is, because we've got a lot of cohesion there and a lot of people are engaged," Finfrock said. "I'm not going to try to change much. Everything's working well right now."

As he settles into his new role, Finfrock said fellow Board members and county department heads have approached him to ask how they can help.

"And that is a boost you can't believe," he said. "But that's the kind of people they are."

Join us for a musical journey into Argentine Tango music. Discover the variety of styles that have perpetuated Tango as one of the most popular music in the world.

This fascinating program is brought to us by Jacques Saint-Cyr, flute and Erik Olson, piano.

Saint-Cyr obtained a Bachelor of Arts in music education from University of Quebec in Montreal and a Master of Arts in flute performance from the University of Montreal under the direction of Lise Daoust.

Two-time recipient of a grant from the French Government, Saint-Cyr studied flute in Paris with Raymond Guiot and baroque flute with Jean-Christoph Frish.

Returning from his studies in Paris in 1993, he began dancing Tango.

He has studied with Argentine master teachers. From 1996 to the current year, Saint-Cyr has worked as a guest teacher in many cities across North America.

In 1997, Saint-Cyr and Maria E Castello created "It takes Three to Tango," a stage production with dance and live music based on the history of Argentine Tango. This production has been presented in many cities in Canada and the United States.

He has performed in France, Canada and the United States. Saint-Cyr joined the Rockford community in 2003.

He is on the faculty at the Music Academy in Rockford, Rockford University and Rock Valley College.

He performed and programmed many concerts for the Mendelssohn Performing Arts Center. He played as a freelance musician with many ensembles and choirs in Rockford: Trinity Lutheran Church, Unitarian Universalist Church Choir, Kantorei, Second Congregational United Church of Christ and First Free Church.

Saint-Cyr is first flute and soloist for the Rockford Wind Ensemble since 2012.

Erik Olson is a producer, composer, and multi-instrumentalist from the Chicagoland area. A fourth generation pianist, he began studying with Linda Poquette while garnering a relationship with Lewis University.

With performances from Indiana to Colorado, he continued his tutelage under the direction of instructors including Marilyn Taggart and Dr. James Breckinridge of Southwestern State University in Weatherford, Okla. Following a run of sold-out shows with Monica Raymund, including Space (Evanston), Andy's (Chicago), and Joe's Pub (Manhattan, N.Y.), he began his foray into the magical world of Tango.

Most recently, his production work and original composition was featured on FOX 32 in Chicago. Olson resides in Morris with his wife, four children and two dogs.

There is no charge for the concert, but a free will offering will be taken. A reception will follow the program.

Rockford area students spent two days recently competing and touring Angelic Organics in Caledonia, Ill. All teams were given a tour the farm and took classes on the principles of sustainable, organic growing techniques and the importance of supporting local farmers.

For the competition, they were given several locally grown vegetables, herbs and spices and instructed to create a soup or chili on site and in the time allotted. To prepare for the competition, the students practiced both on their own and with their teacher, Susan Freyer, to create their winning soup. Becky Hull chaperoned during the event and took photographs.

During the competition, students learned how to tune out the other students, work as a team and quickly prepare their dishes for the judges.

The judges graded the competitors on flavor, creativity, plate presentation and overall appearance of the soup. Griffith and Hull received a score of 57 out of 60 total points.

MOMENTS IN TIME

* On Oct. 25, 1881, Pablo Picasso, one of the greatest and most influential artists of the 20th century, is born in Malaga, Spain. Picasso's work comprises more than 50,000 paintings, drawings, engravings, sculptures and ceramics produced over 80 years. He had his first exhibit at age 13.

* On Oct. 24, 1901, schoolteacher Annie Edson Taylor becomes the first person to take the plunge over Niagara Falls in a barrel in an attention-getting stunt. She reached the shore alive, if a bit battered. Taylor claimed she was in her 40s, but records later showed she was 63.

* On Oct. 26, 1942, the last U.S. carrier built before America entered World War II, the USS Hornet, is so badly damaged by Japanese warplanes in the Battle of Santa Cruz that it must be abandoned and was later sunk. The Hornet launched the Doolittle Raid on Tokyo.

* On Oct. 21, 1967, in Washington, D.C., nearly 100,000 people gather to protest the war in Vietnam, and more than 50,000 later marched to the Pentagon. Polls taken that summer showed that American support for the war had fallen below 50%.

* On Oct. 22, 1975, Air Force Sgt. Leonard Matlovich, a decorated Vietnam War veteran, is given a "general" discharge after publicly declaring his homosexuality. Matlovich's discharge was later upgraded to "honorable," and he was buried with full military honors in 1988.

* On Oct. 23, 1989, 23 people are killed in a series of explosions sparked by an ethylene leak at a Phillips Petroleum plant in Pasadena, Texas. The blasts were caused by inadequate safety procedures.

* On Oct. 27, 2006, the last Ford Taurus rolls off the assembly line in Hapeville, Georgia. The keys to the silver car went to 85-year-old Truett Cathy, the founder of Chick-fil-A, who added it to his automobile collection.

LIFE letters' policy

Concise letters are most likely to be chosen for publication, but the use of any material is at the discretion of management. All letters must be signed or they will not be considered for publication.

During election times, no letters written by the candidates endorsing themselves will be considered for publication.

Editing may be necessary for space, clarity or to avoid obscenity or libel, but ideas will not be altered. Writers are urged to use discretion and refrain from sarcasm or personal attacks.

Criticism of individuals or organizations that is not broached tactfully will jeopardize the publication of a letter. Letters will be published in the order that they are received, unless there is a time factor involved, space permitting.

Hey, it's fine to leave those crazy kids at home

Thank you, Japan Airlines.

No, I have never flown Japan Airlines. No, I have never been to Japan. I probably won't in the future, either. That is a very, very long flight.

But if I was going to fly to Japan, I would use Japan Airlines because of one thing: When picking out seats, the airline lets you see where people traveling with babies are sitting so you can avoid sitting near them.

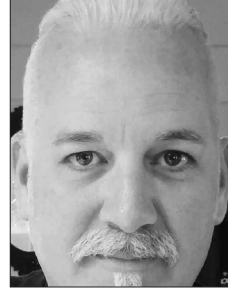

Bravo.

I don't hate children. I had a couple. But honestly, I like them better as adults. They listen, are pleasant, take an interest in things that aren't themselves, don't poop in their pants. You know, the basics.

When my kids were little, they were like a lot of kids. They ran around a lot. They cried and threw fits. In general, they annoyed their parents and pretty much everyone around them (except for their grandparents. For My wife and I will wait for a table in a restaurant if the only one available is near kids. Why? Because parents these days don't know how to tell their little tykes to knock it off.

I read a recent letter to an advice columnist where a parent was angry because a waitress told little 4-year-old Johnny to go sit down after his parents let him

"explore" the restaurant while they ate. The dad got mad at the waitress and gave her a tiny tip. He even complained to her boss.

This is why fewer people are having kids these days, and why those having kids are not having as many and why people are losing patience in a world where parents seem to think it is fine to let their kids run riot.

Well, it is not OK. In fact, it is very, very bad. Telling your kid "no" is perfectly fine, young parents. Sure, your kids will pout and whine and have a mini meltdown. It's called being a kid. And setting boundaries is called being a parent.

Pro parenting tip: You don't have to give your kids everything they want. In fact, if you do give your kids everything they want, chances are they will grow up to be entitled brats. So please, learn to say "no."

And if your kid is prone to run around, not sit still and cry loudly when told to do so, feel free to not take them out to dinner, or to a movie theater, or on a long flight.

Look, the rest of us should not have to suffer for your lack of parenting.

I understand that parents of young children want to go out to dinner sometimes. No problem. If you do and bring your kids, teach them how to behave. If they can't, don't bring them. I certainly don't want to go out to a dinner with my wife and have to put up with your little darling running around, or jumping up and down in the booth behind me.

I did not go out to eat much for years when I had young kids. I tried to be thoughtful of those around us, and often we just stayed at home until my children were old enough to behave well in public consistently.

What a concept, eh?

Help the Polo Police Department create Go Bags

Dear Editor,

Two weeks ago, Polo Police Department and Polo Community Unit School District #222 launched a collaborative initiative as part of our emergency planning efforts to grow our access to resources in the event of a crisis. The creation of Go Bags in the schools was an opportunity that both the schools and police department felt could greatly enhance our response to such an incident and provide another tool for safety.

So, you might ask, what's a Go Bag exactly? A Go Bag is a backpack of essential items that a teacher or staff member would have quick access to in each of their rooms. These on-the-go bags would contain key items for survival should the class need to quickly move and evacuate or even be on lockdown within a classroom. Such bags contain standard first aid items, but also have other vital needs for the students, including flashlights. So, how can you help? Right now, the Polo Police Department is rallying the community for the items that will be placed into each bag. In total, 75 Go Bags will be placed throughout the district's three buildings. These bags will include the following items:

- * Band-aids: Accepting assorted sizes
- * Nitrile Non-Latex Gloves: (one size fits most size)
- * Rolls of Gauze
- * 4"x4" Gauze Sponges
- * Roll of Medical Tape
- * Emergency Trauma Bandages
- * Triangular Bandages
- * 1 SWAT-Tourniquet (Pressure bandage wrap)
- * LED Flashlight (rear button power)
- * Single packets of Kleenex
- * Medical scissors
- * Travel size hand sanitizer (1 or 2 ounces)

Items can be turned into Polo Police Department at 116 S. Franklin Avenue or by simply placing a phone call to 815-946-2444 and an officer will stop by your local residence for pick-up. We would like to thank the many community members that have already contributed to the cause. We're making considerable progress due to the generosity of our great community!

Thank you again for your support and stay safe.

Chief Jon Mandrell, Polo

Legion membership rules change

Dear Editor,

Congress recently passed the Legion Act which states that the United States has been in a state of war since 1941. This means that any honorably discharged veteran may join the American Legion.

The eight American Legions in Ogle County are dedicated to helping veterans, their communities, youth, giving honors at veteran's funerals, remembering our POW/MIAs, and honoring those who made the ultimate sacrifice for our country. The Oregon American Legion meets at the VFW the fourth Tuesday of the month at 6 p.m.

Veterans are welcome to ride on our float at the Stillman Valley Fall Festival Parade and Autumn on Parade in Oregon.

John Tuttle, Commander Oregon American Legion, Chaplain Oregon VFW

The workshop will be held at the Oregon Public Library, 300 Jefferson St. in Oregon from 6-8 p.m. Registration along with

Serenity intern

*Serenity Hospice hosted a paid marketing intern this summer who is interested in working for a non-profit. Alexis Bialas from Rochelle spent the summer learning about how non-profits operate and she worked on projects for not only Serenity Hospice but also The Serenity Shed and both Angel Treasures Re-sale shops. At the end of her internship, Bialas was presented with a $500 scholarship from the Serenity Hospice Foundation Board. Bialas attends Kishwaukee Community College. ## Variety of water aerobics classes available from Oregon Park District

OREGON – The Oregon Park District offers three different types of water aerobics classes.

Classes meet 14 different times per week to accommodate schedules. Classes are held at the Nash Recreation Center pool. The pool is accessible for everyone with not only your traditional ladder but offers walk-in stairs or a chair lift for those that need extra assistance.

The Nash Recreation Center pool has a 13-person hot tub that is available for use when the pool is open and at least 15 minutes before and after all aerobics classes.

Water aerobics classes are for participants 18 years and up and can be paid daily with a drop-in fee or by purchasing a 5, 10, or 15 punch pass that is good for up to a year for any of the classes.

Cost for a drop-in water aerobics visit is $5.50. Passes are available for 5 visits ($21 resident/$25 non-resident); 10 visits ($36 resident/$43 non-resident); 15 visits ($47 resident/$56 non-resident).

The traditional water aerobics class meets seven times per week with morning and evening options to choose from. In this class, you will exercise your entire body without putting stress on your back and joints. The class works on toning, cardiovascular strength, endurance and flexibility. Class takes place in the shallow and deep end of the pool. Fall classes are Monday-Friday from 8:30-9:30 a.m. and Mondays and Wednesdays 6:30-7:30 p.m.

Twinges class meets four times per week with morning and afternoon times available.

The natural buoyancy and resistance of the water helps improve joint strength and flexibility along with improving cardiovascular endurance while walking and jogging in the shallow end. Participants do not need to know how to swim to participate in this lower impact class. Classes are Tuesdays and Thursdays 1-2 p.m. and Wednesdays and Fridays from 10:30-11:30 a.m. Deep water aerobics is a more intense workout than traditional water aerobics class and meets Monday and Saturday mornings. Working out in the deep end allows you an intense cardiovascular workout without the impact. Participants will also increase endurance, flexibility, and strength. Participants do not need to know how to swim. An aqua jogger belt will be provided. Fall classes are Mondays from 9:30-10:30 a.m. and Saturdays from 9-10 a.m. New class offered Wednesdays in October and November (No 10/16) from 9:30-10:30 a.m.

Check out the water aerobics schedule online for the most up to date times. For more information please contact Jena Wehmhoefer, Aquatics Coordinator at 815-732-3101 or jena@oregonpark.org.

How can you say “no” to a pretty face like mine?? My name is Mindy and I am 6.5 years old. I lived with lots of other cats, but my owner had to move so she knew Tails would help me find the best new home. I am quite independent and can be a bit shy when you first meet me. Once I’ve decided we’re friends then I will gladly accept head scratches. If you’re looking for a sweet kitty to keep you company then I am your girl! Please stop by to meet me at Petsmart where I now live. As an added bonus, a kind Tails staff member has donated my adoption fee!

Oregon Park District has upcoming activities

Pack walk

Dogs have a strong instinctual need to socialize with and explore the world. We introduce a pack walk to satisfy this need. Dogs can safely socialize without physically interacting. Even though the dogs are not physically touching each other, they can smell and see the other dogs, which is still considered socialization. Walking your dog is so important for training, and it's something most owners do not do enough. Join us for a pack walk on Thursday, Oct. 17 at Lowden State Park for just a 1 mile walk from 5:30-6:15 pm. Bring a 6-foot leash, a proper collar, water and treats. 1 dog per handler but family members are welcome to join. Each walk is $2/Resident and $3/Non-Resident. Deadline is Oct. 10.

Annual “Pride of Oregon” Luncheon Cruise Oct. 24

Join us for the 4th Annual Luncheon Cruise on the Rock River on Thursday, Oct. 24, aboard the “Pride of Oregon.”

The Pride of Oregon is an authentic Paddle Wheel Riverboat, 102 feet of real river charm. She docks at the historic Maxson Riverside Restaurant and Paddle Wheel Inn. Built in 1989 as a replica of the famous Rosie O’Shea paddlewheel, her festive exterior and graciously appointed interior provides a relaxing atmosphere for memory-making cruises. She has the capacity of 149 sight-seeing passengers.

Reserve your seat on the Pride of Oregon for lunch as this charming and elegant paddlewheel boat glides down the Rock River, barely stirring a wake. This true paddlewheel boat offers sit-down dining for a capacity of 120 people, and features a full bar, as well as air conditioning and heating. The boat is wheelchair accessible.

The 15-mile river cruise will take you past Lowden State Park and under the watchful eye of Chief Black Hawk, the largest concrete monolith in the country.

Here is our schedule:

Depart RRC for Riverboat: 10:30 a.m./ Boarding time: 11 a.m.

Departure dock: 11:30 a.m. /Return time: 1:30 p.m.

There will be a 4-course meal (vegetarian/gluten free option available), with coffee, tea, and meal tip included. Soda and cocktails available for purchase. Denny Jacobs and Mike Bratt will be our entertainment this year.

The cost of this luncheon cruise is $36/ seniors and $38/others. The deadline for registering, payment, and meal selection is Tuesday, Oct. 14. Acceptable payment options are cash, check or credit cards.

Call Rock River Center at 815-732-3252 if you would like to see the fall colors with us from the river. And remember, we are available to provide transportation to and from the boat as well.

Q: I'm searching for information on a series that aired last year about an airline flight that disappeared for five years and then mysteriously reappeared. I can't remember what it was called. I thought I had read that it would be back for a second season. -- M.U.

A: The mystery drama you're thinking of is "Manifest," starring Josh Dallas and Melissa Roxburgh. Fortunately, it will be back for a second season, but not until the winter or spring of 2020. The 13 episodes will air Monday nights on NBC without any hiatuses. It's the closest you'll be able to get to binging the entire season at once. I think it's a smart move for network television to do this, as it decreases the chances of fans losing interest.

Q: I just finished watching season three of "Stranger Things" on Netflix and can't wait for more. Has it been renewed for a fourth season yet? -- P.S.

A: Netflix just announced that it has renewed the popular sci-fi horror series for a fourth season, so we'll be seeing more of Eleven (Millie Bobby Brown) and company as they try to finally close the portal to the Upside Down. And it looks like the kids could be leaving their Indiana hometown behind, as a caption in the season four trailer noted, "We're not in Hawkins anymore."

The Duffer Brothers, the creative minds behind the breakout streaming series, reportedly signed a lucrative multi-year deal with Netflix that goes beyond just "Stranger Things" to include other series and film projects. "We can't wait to see what The Duffer Brothers have in store when they step outside the world of The Upside Down," Netflix said in a statement.

Will season four be the last? The brothers have said in the past that they see the show running four to six seasons, but that could change with their expanded Netflix deal.

Q: What happened to "The Village" that aired last year?

It was my favorite series. Didn't it have the same writer as "Parenthood," which was a very successful show? -- S.S.

A: I hate to break the sad news to you, but "The Village," starring Warren Christie, was canceled by NBC in May after just one season. Set in an apartment building in Greenwich Village, the ensemble series was aimed at attracting fans of absorbing dramas like "This Is Us" and "Parenthood," but unfortunately it just didn't generate very high ratings.

Producer-writer Mike Daniels doesn't have any connections with "Parenthood," but his credits include several episodes of the biker drama "Sons of Anarchy" and the Jennifer Lopez police show "Shades of Blue."

“Spider-Man: Far From Home” (PG-13) -- Peter Parker (Tom Holland) sets off on a well-earned trip to Europe with his classmates after the death of his mentor. His attempt leave the Spider-Man suit at home is derailed by Nick Fury (Samuel L. Jackson) and the mysterious appearance of both parallel-universe hero Quentin Beck (Jake Gyllenhaal) and a group of havoc-wreaking creatures called Elementals -- harnessing the power of Earth, Water, Fire and Air. All the while, Parker attempts to weave a web of good-old fashioned teen romance around friend and schoolmate MJ (Zendaya). The vibe is slightly more relaxed than “Homecoming,” and definitely earned my kids’ stamp of approval.

“Anna and the Apocalypse” (R) -- There’s a school of thought that in film, bloody violence and Christmas are a natural mix -- e.g., “Gremlins,” “Die Hard” or even “The Nightmare Before Christmas,” although that one was just spooky, not scary. “Anna and the Apocalypse” has one more genre thrown in for good measure: a musical, centered around Anna (Ella Hunt), a normal Scottish teen with friends, a job at the bowling alley and a zombie problem. When her town is overrun by the undead, Anna and her friends must band together to save themselves and their families. I found it to be quite fun, with a lot of humor and catchy show tunes.

“Driven” (R) -- The first of TWO films chronicling the life and personality of car designer John DeLorean, “Driven” tells the automaker’s crazy story from the perspective of low-level FBI informant Jim Hoffman (Jason Sudeikis), who is endearingly sleazy, a nice foil to DeLorean’s (Lee Pace) outwardly rock-hard confidence. Of course, that confidence hides the soft center of desperation in a man who staked his reputation on a very impractical vehicle. He enlists Hoffman to raise an obscene amount of capital, and in 1980s California, you know that means a drug deal. Based on the life that was stranger than fiction.

“Framing John DeLorean” (NR) -- John DeLorean was a weird, visionary and iconic personality, so it’s only fitting that his story is told in a phenomenally odd but entertaining docudrama with three interweaved but distinct parts. First, it’s a documentary, with footage of DeLorean’s meteoric rise at GM, interviews and insight of his family members and colleagues. Then it’s a dramatization, with Alec Baldwin stepping into the shoes (and wigs and prosthetics) of DeLorean, reenacting some pivotal moments alongside other key players. The cherry on top is the bizarre documentary within the movie within the documentary: Baldwin examining, analyzing DeLorean’s motivations as he prepares to portray him. It should be insane, but it’s like a fascinating circus act you can’t look away from. And why would you?

Hollywood

By Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD -- Hollywood tried to compete for viewers in the 1950s with Cinerama, CinemaScope, Smell-O-Vision, scratch-and-sniff cards and, of course, 3D, which gave new depth to black and white horror films like “Creature from the Black Lagoon,” “The Scorpion,” and even the musical “Kiss Me Kate,” starring Kathryn Grayson, Howard Keel and Ann Miller. When the movie moguls realized it wasn’t working, they produced bad TV shows to drive people back into movie theaters.

Now IMAX and 3D rule the box office, and films that don’t go big and three-dimensional may have action, but no WOW factor. In today’s marketplace, a film must make twice its cost to break even. “Dark Phoenix” had the benefit of the “X-Men” franchise, as well as James McAvoy, Michael Fassbender, Jennifer Lawrence and Nicholas Hoult, but is considered a flop because it cost $200 million and earned only $252 million.

“Godzilla: King of the Monsters” would’ve benefited from IMAX and 3D, and a big name star (Kyle Chandler and Vera Farmiga didn’t draw big) because costing $200 million and earning $386 million didn’t impress. The reboot of “Shaft,” despite starring Samuel L. Jackson and Regina Hall, fell short of its $35 million cost, making just $21 million. “Once Upon a Time in Hollywood,” with Brad Pitt and Leonardo DiCaprio, should have killed, but grossed only $330 million, less than a blockbuster when you compare it to DiCaprio’s Oscar-winning film “The Revenant” (cost $96 million and amassed $533 million).

Director Quentin Tarantino’s previous film, “The Hateful Eight,” cost only $50 million and earned $156 million. Judging from reviews, Brad Pitt’s current release, “Ad Astra,” will probably make more than “The Hateful Eight” and “Once Upon a Time in Hollywood” combined. The problem with making films by the numbers is that most of the time, the numbers don’t add up.

“Superman” Henry Cavill, who stars in the Netflix series “The Witcher,” is trading his cape for a magnifying glass as Sherlock Holmes in “Enola Holmes.” The story revolves around Holmes’ child sister, played by Millie Bobby Brown, who at age 13 broke out in the Netflix series “Stranger Things” as Eleven and the aforementioned “Godzilla: King of the Monsters.” She returns with Alexander Skarsgard for the sequel, “Godzilla vs. Kong.”

Skarsgard passed on another season of “Big Little Lies” to topline the CBS Access miniseries “The Stand,” with James Marsden and Whoopi Goldberg. The Stephen King novel was a miniseries in 1994 starring Molly Ringwald, Jamey Sheridan and Laura San Giacomo, and it won Emmys for make-up and sound mixing. But can a “Superman” succeed as a “super sleuth” playing second fiddle to a 15-year-old? Stay tuned!
