CRESTON — At its monthly meeting Wednesday, the Creston Village Board of Trustees heard a presentation from Tim Hayden of Hayden Real Estate on progress regarding the building of new homes that has been taking place in the Creston Commons subdivision.

Hayden provided trustees with information on plans for new home locations along with navigating and fixing water service issues for the new homes. Seven new home permits were recently submitted for the subdivision, six of which will be built by Hayden. Two of the lots have been sold to other private owners.

Hayden said a total of 14 building permits have been issued since subdivision building work has started. Five homes are currently being built. The new homes have been sized around 1,600 square feet and are priced between $300,000-315,000.

"We are not only building, but we are thankfully having a little success in sales and pre-sales," Hayden said. "I would say everything is going well for the most part."

State fire marshal report: Propane heater was not source of fire flash

MANAGING EDITOR

ROCHELLE—A Jan. 7 fire flash that injured four employees at Silgan Containers at 400 N. 15th St. in Rochelle was caused by employees burning isopropyl alcohol, a Illinois State Fire Marshal report on the incident said.

The News-Leader previously reported that the incident was caused by a propane heater, which was not the case. The state fire marshal's report said that three of the injured employees fabricated that story initially.

At 3:52 a.m. on Jan. 7 the Rochelle Fire Department was dispatched to Silgan Containers for the report of a small explosion, no fire and two injuries. After arriving on scene, RFD personnel found there had been a total of four injuries. One patient suffered minor burns to their hands and opted not to be transported. Those that were transported suffered "serious, but not life-threatening" burn injuries and went to burn

The fire flash took place in an enclosure in the business's parking lot that is used for smoke breaks. The tent did have a propane heater in it for warmth during winter months, but that was not the cause of the fire flash. The state fire marshal's report said that employees in the tent would burn pie plates of isopropyl One employee took a gallon jug of isopropyl alcohol and poured it into the pie plate to keep the fire going, which caused the large fire flash.

The state fire marshal's report said the fire flash was not caused intentionally. Employees told the false propane heater story at first because of fear that they "would be in trouble," the state fire marshal

$349 million lottery ticket sold in Cortland, winner has not come forward CORTLAND – It's been over a week since a single Mega Millions ticket sold in Illinois won an astonishing $349 million jackpot. Yet, the mystery remains — who is the lucky winner?

The Illinois Lottery is eagerly awaiting the winning ticket holder to step forward and claim their life-changing prize. This historic win marks the fourth time in nearly four years that an Illinois Lottery player has won a Mega Millions jackpot. It also brings Illinois' total Mega Millions jackpot wins to 16 since the game began in 2002.

The $349 million winning ticket was purchased at Casey's General Store, located at 70 S. Somonauk Road in Cortland for the March 25 Mega Millions drawing.

"It's the talk of the town, and the store is still buzzing with excitement," said Kim Shaw, Casey's district manager. "This is the biggest jackpot-winning ticket our store has ever sold. We're thrilled for the winner, and selfishly, we hope it's one of our regular customers — keeping the winnings in the community would make it even more spe-

Casey's General Store in Cortland also got a piece of the celebration. For selling the winning ticket, the retailer will receive a cash bonus of $500,000.

The Illinois Lottery reminds the winner that they have 12 months from the draw date to claim their prize. To ensure their winnings are protected, the Lottery has three key pieces of advice for the newly minted millionaire:

Sign the back of the ticket and keep it somewhere safe.

Seek professional financial and legal advice.

RMU honored with national award for outstanding safety practices

ROCHELLE — Rochelle Municipal Utilities (RMU) has earned the American Public Power Association's Safety Award of Excellence for safe operating practices in 2024. The utility earned a Diamond award.

"We're proud of our safety culture at RMU."

City Manager Jeff Fiegenschuh said. "This award is a testament to the safety culture we have built and the hard work that goes into ensuring that our team members have a safe work environment."

More than 200 utilities entered the annual Safety Awards for 2024. The entrants are placed in accordance with their number of worker-hours and ranked based on the most incident-free records and overall state of their safety programs and culture during 2024. The incidence rate is based on the number of work-related reportable injuries or illnesses and the number of worker-hours during 2024, as defined by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA).

"Harnessing electricity to keep our communities powered is vital work that can be dangerous, even deadly, if the proper attention isn't paid to tried-and-true safety practices," said Jon Beasley, chair of APPA's Safety Committee and vice president of Electric Cities of GA. "This award honors utilities that hold fast to these practices and – in doing so – put the safety of their personnel and their customers above all else."

APPA has conducted the Safety Awards annually for more than 66 years. APPA is the voice of not-for-profit, community-owned utilities that power 2,000 towns and cities nationwide.

CRESTON: New library now open, grand opening event is May 10

"We've had a little bit of interest from Creston, a little bit of interest from the area, and a little bit of interest from outside the area. It's all ages. We're not overrunning the school, but we're seeing a little bit of family interest."

Hayden Real Estate closed on the ownership of the subdivision at the end of December 2023. The village has hoped in recent years to see clean up, new homes and a new agreement with the subdivision's ownership.

"I think everybody here is really happy with what's going on out there," Byro said. "It's nice to see something finally going on out there. Hopefully people are buying these houses." Hayden said boring work has been done for water services to new homes and more of that work is planned. Work will also soon be done on parks in the area, including fencing for a potential dog park, a Jack Kerns Community Garden, playgrounds, and trees and landscaping, Hayden said.

Library

Village officials said Wednesday that the new

Creston-Dement Public Library is now open and a grand opening will be held Saturday, May 10. Village Building Inspector Aaron Moore said during the meeting that he recently did a final inspection of the building and provided feedback on small items and would be going back for a final reinspection on

The project broke ground March 15 at the corner of Main and Cederholm Streets. A referendum passed in June 2022 that allowed the Creston-Dement Public Library District to issue $2.2 million in bonds to build a new library building on the land that was donated years ago for just that purpose. The main reason for the desire for a new building is the library outgrowing its current space at 107 S. Main St.

Storm sewer

Village Building Inspector Kevin Bunge said during the meeting that Creston will likely approve a bid for a planned storm sewer project in Creston at its May meeting.

The project will consist of 36-inch storm sewer pipe being put in to replace broken drain tile and improve drainage in Creston. The storm sewer work will consist of adding pipe on both sides of the railroad tracks, but the current phase of it will not go under the tracks. The work was suggested due to issues with stormwater overflow.

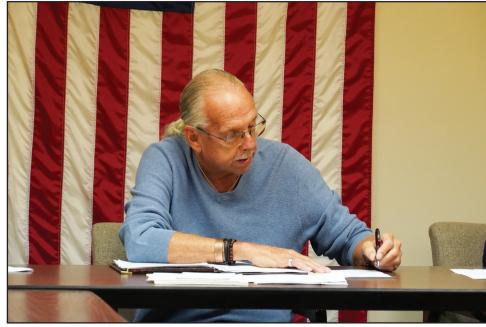

The work will likely begin in the late spring or summer of 2025. Bunge has estimated in the past that the project could roughly cost $180,000-200,000. The project would take around six

The preliminary storm sewer project work involved securing easements from property owners in the area of it.

Water issues

Bunge provided an update during the meeting on a project that will see Creston's water tower cleaned and inspected in an effort to try to alleviate rust issues in the village. Bunge said that after it was originally expected that the project would be started as soon as weather allowed, the contractor recently provided a start date of Aug. 20.

Bunge said he'd be going back to the contractor to attempt to get the project started as soon as possible. Back in December, the board unanimously approved a proposal from KLM Engineering for $16,836 to complete the work by July 1.

In other efforts to alleviate rust issues in Creston's water, the village recently had some locating work done on water service lines near homes that have seen rust issues to find each of them and their source.

Bunge said all service lines were located with the exception of two and he would soon be doing analysis work to determine what work the village should do to improve its system to alleviate rust

Bunge recently created a map showing areas seeing the worst rust issues in Creston, and he said he believes those areas coincide with bellies, low spots and old four-inch water mains in the village's water system.

Election

Village officials discussed unofficial results of the April 1 Consolidated Election that took place Tuesday. Byro (84 votes) and Village Clerk Jennifer Payton (82 votes) ran unopposed for reelection Tuesday. For two fouryear terms on the board of trustees, Justin Hibshman (64 votes) and Curt Ward (42 votes) ran unopposed Tuesday with the possible exception of a write-in candidate that could be tallied and determined later on. Hibshman would be new to the board. Incumbent Greg Hopkins (85 votes) ran unopposed Tuesday for a two-year

LOCAL VIEWS

Reed Harris: Consider this - What is a bully? CINCE I started out water because you stood up is good? Is this not like the become the 51st state, we security purposes." You with Greenland since 1951 my last article with a single definition, let's do the same this time. What is a bully? Let's look at the word in the fashion we see it today. In school, at work, in politics. Merriam Webster has it defined as; "a blustering browbeating person". "One who is habitually cruel, insulting, or threatening to others who are weaker, smaller, or in some way vulnerable". Does this sound like anyone you know or have known in the past? Can you put a name to that person? Did they make an impression on you, make your life miserable, or did most of their deeds just wash off you like water?

Even more important than the definition of, or even the bully themselves, however, is the fact that when a bully is stood up to, they usually crumble under the scrutiny. Have you experienced this? Did their deeds against you wash offlike tiny droplets of water because you stood up to the tirade? Did you barely feel wet after the bullies sputtering because it had no feeling, no sustenance? Did the bully quit bullying?

Currently, we are watching another country being bullied. My problem with it is that we are the bully. If you are wondering what country I am talking about then read the article by Ivan Pereria of ABC News "Trump keeps talking about making Canada the 51st state. Is he serious?". You can read this at the internet address: abcnews.go.com/ Politics/trump-talking-making-canada-51st-state/story?id=119767909. If you knew about this after reading the first sentence in this paragraph, then you have the same problem I do.

I think some are just feeling that the acquisition of Canada would just make us bigger. But does bigger make better? Can anyone say that repressing a country is good? Is this not like the invasion of Ukraine? And if anyone says that we'd have the Canadian citizens vote on it, don't bother. We've already been told by the government in their speeches and by the citizens with their reactions to our tariffs and their protests.

Speaking of tariffs, in the same article there is the following sentence. "The United States can't subsidize a country for $200 billion a year". It goes on to say we don't need their cars and lists other commodities from them we don't need. Also, "We do it because we want to be helpful.". Huh? No, we do it because we want their goods and services. We used to build/produce some of these things here, in America, but we don't anymore. We could start to once again but why would we want a 51st state then if we'll just produce it here? It sounds confusing, but the simplicity of it is that if they become the 51st state, we have the control and reap the profits.

I would love for the United States to have the manufacturing of the past, but we don't need to control others, we just need to do it. Yet, what if we decided to close the Canadian border? We would save the $200 billion"subsidy". Looking at it closer, however, the internet site "www.investopedia. com/terms/g/gnp.asp" lists the gross national product of the United States in 2021 as $23.8 trillion. So, the $200 billion would be 0.0084% of this total. Notabig factor. On the other hand, what would it take to begin the production here? More, I presume. Much more than the single year of $200 billion.

Another country is trying to hold up against constant harassment. In the article by Will Weissert and Zeke Miller of AP News, President Trump said, "We need Greenland for national security purposes." You can find this at apnews. com/article/trump-biden-offshore-drilling-gulf-of-america-fa66f8d072eb-39c00a8128a8941ede75. In addition, on Vice President Vance's recent trip to Greenland he said, "I think that they ultimately will partner with the United States," Vance said. "We could make them much more secure. We could do a lot more protection. And I think they'd fare a lot better economically as well." This is in an article by Philip Crowther, Kirsten Grieshaber and Aamer Madhani of AP News and can be found at www.msn.com/ en-us/politics/government/ vance-and-wife-to-tourus-military-post-in-greenland-after-diplomatic-spatover-uninvited-visit/ar-AA-1BOoW8?ocid=BingNews-

Both statements about security in Greenland are very puzzling since we have had an agreement and could build more bases, more military presence at any time. Mette Frederiksen, Prime Minister of Denmark, has recently said "Denmark did not oppose ties with the United States, citing a 1951 bilateral agreement that established U.S. rights to move freely and construct military bases in Greenland, given Denmark and Greenland are notified." You can find this at www.cbc. ca/news/world/us-greenland-visit-1.7493029.

So, what could our administration want other than what they already have? Minerals come to mind; however, we also have American companies mining there currently. I guess, however, if we had ownership of Greenland, we would have ownership of the minerals and be able to remove and sell as much as we want as quickly as we can. Does this remind anyone of a country in the east?

Kurt Wolter: The amazing steam engine

▼ EVERAL episodes ago, we learned Jabout the carbon cycle while following a hypothetical carbon atom through its circular journey while it is passed through several natural and technological reactions. Carbon makes the Earth unique in our solar system. It possesses a long list of impressive physical characteristics, and it is the essential element in important chemical energy conversion processes in our environment and through technology. A prominent characteristic of carbon when it combines with oxygen is the amount of heat it gives off. (If you have ever stood near a charcoal fire you know howhotthey get!). When this heat is used to boil water into steam there is a huge increase in the volume of space the water occupies. A steam engine takes advantage of this expansion to create mechanical energy. So, let's takeacloserlook at one of the energy conversion machines humans have built – the steam engine.

The steam engine is one of the most significant inventions in human history, revolutionizing transportation, industry and technology. From its early development to its widespread use throughout Europe and the United States, the steam engine played a vital role in shaping the modern world.

The concept of harnessing steam power dates to ancient times, but the first practical steam engine was developed in the 17th century. In 1698, Thomas Savery, an English engineer, created a steam-powered pump to remove water from mines. However, his design was inefficient and prone to explosions. Building on this idea, Thomas Newcomen developed the first working atmospheric steam engine in 1712. His engine used steam to create a vacuum that powered a piston, making it useful for pumping water from mines. This is a hard thing to picture, but if you have thoroughly rinsed out a gallon milk jug with hot water, and then tightened the cap back on the jug, and then observed the jug shriveling up from the air pressure around it, you can begin to understand how this early steam engine worked.

Important improvements to the steam engine came during the late 1700s with James Watt. Watt's 1765 engine dramatically increased efficiency by adding a separate cooling condenser which reduced wasted heat. This breakthrough helped usher in the Industrial Revolution by letting steam engines power ships, locomotives, and production machinery such as textile mills and iron foundries

The steam engine had far-reaching effects on society. Steam-powered locomotives could pull heavy cargo loads and passenger trains. This led to the rapid expansion of railways which made travel and trade much faster. Steam-powered ships enhanced England's maritime strength and paved the way for expanded global trade for the British Empire. In the United States Robert Fulton's steamboat, the Clermont, launched in 1807 and was the first commercially successful steamboat. It significantly reduced travel time along major rivers like the Mississippi and Hudson enabled faster trade between north and south.

Here in Illinois, steam-powered railroads also transformed the economy and society. On Nov. 8, 1838, The first railroad steam locomotive ever operated in Illinois transported a small group of passengers to what was then the end-of-track. eight miles east near Chapin, Illinois, and back to Meredosia. An 1863 map of the Galena and Chicago Union Railroad shows a branch called the Chicago, Fulton, & Iowa passing through a town called Lane which would eventually become our City of Rochelle. Galena was a prominent source of lead ore (named, "galena") for the Civil War.

The completion of the Transcontinental Railroad in 1869 connected the east and west coasts, facilitating trade, migration, and economic expansion. Steam locomotives allowed for the rapid transport of goods, including agricultural products and raw materials, fueling more industrial growth. In addition to transportation, steam engines powered American factories, mills, and even printing presses. This mechanization led to mass production and urbanization, helping the U.S. emerge as an industrial power by the late 19th century.

The steam engine brought numerous advantages for humans. They increased our labor efficiency by allowing factories to produce goods more quickly and consistentiy than manuai labor or waterpower. Because steam powered trains and ships dramatically reduced travel time, steam engines increased how far we could travel, also enabling faster trade and communication. This fostered globalization as international trade and travel expanded, strengthening economic and cultural exchanges. Economic growth increased as industrialization created jobs, expanded markets, and improved living standards for people.

Because steam could be produced anywhere enough fuel and water were available, factories were no longer dependent on waterpower near rivers and streams, allowing them to be built in cities.

The steam engine had its many disadvantages as well. Steam engines require large amounts of coal or wood to produce enough heat to boil water and they are very fuel inefficient. This causes more environmental degradation and deforestation as humans take trees to use for fuel. Burning coal produces smoke and soot which greatly contributes to air pollution and health issues. Steam engines were difficult to maintain and dangerous. Early steam engines were especially prone to explosions, mechanical failures, and required constant maintenance.

Though lesser known, it can be argued that steam powered locomotives enabled the mass killing and near extinction of the American Bison for both pleasure and profit. Because American Indians relied on the bison heavily for their existence, the U.S. Government encouraged hunting bison. Passenger train trips for people to shoot bison from the safety and comfort of their slow-moving train was a popular endeavor. Finally, steam engines displaced human workers. As machines replaced manual labor, many workers lost jobs, leading to social unrest in some regions. While steamengines have Whilesteamengines have largely been replaced by internal combustion engines and electric power, they are still used in specific applications. Steam turbines, a modern evolution of the steam engine, generate electricity in power plants, including nuclear, coal, and geothermal facilities. Some heritage railways and ships continue to operate steam engines for tourism and historical preservation.

Looking to the future, steam technology could play a role in sustainable energy. Advanced steam cycles, such as supercritical and ultra-supercritical steam turbines, improve efficiency in power generation. Additionally, researchers are exploring ways to use steam in renewable energy systems, such as solar thermal power plants. Stayedtuned for more about that!

NIU Steelband Concert at Burpee Museum is April 17

ROCKFORD – The Northern Illinois University (NIU) Rockford Alumni Club and the NIU Alumni Association announce the first-ever NIU Steelband concert at the Burpee Museum of Natural History, in Rockford, on April 17 from 5:30-7:30 p.m. Proceeds from this unique concert will go to the NIU

Rockford Alumni Club's newly established fund to support expenses related NIU Rockford students' pursuit of their education at NIU.

The band, led by nationally acclaimed NIU Steelpan Director Liam Teague, will entertain guests with musical selections including classical and light-hearted island

"The Steelband is spirited and talented, making for a fun evening of entertainment," says John Frana, local NIU graduate and host for the evening. "Proceeds from the fundraiser support Rockford-area students attending NIU. While scholarship programs typically cover tuition and fees, they rarely cover incidentals. Sometimes travel and housing and books present a financial strain that make staying in school challenging." Proceeds from this event will be one way the local club and other supporters help close that gap. "We are grateful to

to support local students," says Michelle Gorham, local alumni club co-president. "One of our goals is supporting local students who can earn a degree and then return to the area to use their skills and abilities to build Rockford and the region. We are excited to work toward closing the Register for the concert at https://www. myniu.com/store.htm-1?event_id=2722. Cost is $5 and additional donations will be welcome onsite. Heavy appetizers will be provided.

Unmatched field knowledge is gained at Illinois Extension youth crop competition

URBANA—For youth looking towards a career in agriculture, specifically within the agronomy sector, the Youth Crop Scouting Competition with University of Illinois Extension is aperfect stop along the way. Not only can competition experience be added to a resume, but it is a unique opportunity for high school students interested in agriculture to work as a team to explore and help solve today's crop-related issues. The competition is a platform for students to demonstrate their expertise, skills, and knowledge towards becoming future agriculture professionals.

On Aug. 4, teams of high school students will rotate through various crop testing stations set up in corn and soybean fields to test their knowledge on topics including weeds, insects, disease identification, corn and soybean growth stages, abiotic disorders, pesticide application, and integrated pest management.

"It's exciting when youth and teams return year after year wanting to place higher or earn more points at a certain station," says Meagan Diss, competition coordinator and commercial ag specialist with Illinois Extension. "That truly shows the impact of the event and dedication the youth have to keep growing." Understanding what is happening in today's farm fields strengthens relationships with growers and provides the advantage of strategically making the best management decisions to maximize yield and profit. Students are helping push the future of agriculture forward by participating in competitions through Extension's Illinois 4-Hand Illinois Association FFA.

University staff will judge the teams to determine results, and the top four teams will win cash prizes sponsored by industry and university partners. Cash prizes awarded to the top four teams include $500, $300, $200, and $100. The top two teams will also advance to represent Illinois at the regional competition hosted this year in Iowa.

"University researchers and Extension experts always look forward to the annual event for the conversations and questions youth bring with them," says Diss. "It's truly an unmatched experience for networking, educational opportunity, and personal growth while having fun."

The competition field rotations begin at 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign Crop Sciences Research and Education Center, 4202 South 1st St., Champaign. Team check-in starts at 8 a.m. The competition is open gap for current and future

to high school students completing grades 9-12 in the spring of 2025. Official teams include two to five students, and an adult coach must lead all teams. Teams are encouraged to sign up prior to the end of the current school year, as space is limited to 10 total teams.

For event details or to register teams by July 3, visit go.illinois.edu/Crop-Scouting. New this year, all teams will be required to provide completed release forms, by physical or digital copies, turned in prior to the competition, or the team will not be allowed to participate.

For questions or if you need a reasonable accommodation to participate in this program, contact Meagan Diss at mcdiss@ illinois.edu or 217-300-5386. Early requests are strongly encouraged to allow sufficient time to meet access needs.

Heller dazzles in loss to Guilford Sophomore righty strikes out 17 batters during complete-game outing Monday

ROCHELLE—Sophomore Emma Heller dazzled in the pitcher's circle Monday evening, when the Rochelle Lady Hub softball team returned home for a varsity matchup against Guilford.

Heller took control of the circle, overcoming a trio of earned runs to fire a complete game while striking out a season-high 17 batters and allowing only one walk. Despite Heller's dazzling display in the circle, Rochelle was unable to deliver timely hits in the late innings, scoring one run in the fourth inning but falling short in a 4-1 loss to the Vikings. Rochelle (2-3, 0-0 Interstate 8) hit the road for a nonconference game against Mendota on Thursday evening

"I thought Emma did a really good job of mixing up her pitches," head coach Deanna Jacobs said. "We've been working really hard with coach [Bella] Lodico and she's been calling the pitches and really challenging our pitchers, which has been huge. I thought Emma jumped out of her comfort zone and trusted us to let us call the pitches and she was hitting her spots.'

Heller struck out six batters over the first two innings, but Guilford took a 2-0 lead in the top of the second inning, where third baseman Mary Bielefeldt ripped an RBI double to center field before scoring on a passed ball later in the frame. The Vikings tallied two more runs in the top of the third inning, taking a 4-0 lead after pitcher Malia Welch belted an RBI triple to deep right and catcher Georgia Eklund brought her home on an RBI groundout to the second-base side.

The Lady Hubs threatened in the bottom of the third inning, putting two runners on base after sophomore Jaclynn Lira singled to center and junior Madigan Williams reached on an error. Although two strikeouts and a flyout ended the threat, Rochelle broke through in the bottom of the fourth inning, where senior Lauren Dyer smacked a lead-off double before coming home on an RBI single from sophomore Camryn Metzger, who sent a grounder through the right side.

"Cam's confidence level between last year and this year is a night and day difference," Jacobs said. "She's a lot more confident in her abilities and she's able to pick herself up a lot more. She's able to take a breath and go get the next ball and she's really been able to push herself."

man Cheyenne Somers sending a single to right field and Williams drawing a two-out walk to move Metzger over to third base. But a groundout to the second-base side quashed a promising frame for the Lady Hubs, who finished with seven hits in the game. Dyer singled in the bottom of the fifth inning and Metzger singled in the bottom of the sixth inning, but the Lady Hubs were unable to score.

"Looking past this game, I think our hits have been really timely and that's been huge for us," Jacobs said. "We've been able to bond as a team and gain that chemistry and talk a ton, which has been big for us. That was lacking today and that was reflected in our score."

Metzger attempted to spark a late rally in the bottom of the seventh, belting a oneout triple into deep right field. Rochelle couldn't capitalize, however, as Welch struck out consecutive batters to strand Metzger at third base and seal Guilford's win. Welch Sophomore Briel also pitched a complete game, striking out 11 batters with only one walk. Dyer and Camryn Metzger each went 2 for 3 to lead the Rochelle offense.

Flores signs to play soccer at Rock Valley College Senior defender was named All-Interstate 8 honoree for Rochelle last season

BY RUSSELL HODGES

SPORTS EDITOR

ROCHELLE — It was a "no-brainer" for Rochelle Township High School senior Betty Flores to commit to continuing her academics and her soccer career at Rock Valley College. Flores has several connections to the school, as some of her former club teammates currently play for the Golden Eagles and her older brother Atl once played for the school's men's soccer program.

"A lot of my past club players are there and they recommended the coach to me on several occasions," Flores said. "It's close to home too and I can commute. It's a great environment and I like how the coaches are involved in not only improving your skills, but also academically. It opens up more opportunities and if I want to continue playing soccer, I can go to bigger schools with bigger programs. They have a great community there and it's a great environment."

Flores, who plays club soccer with Shadow Premiere FC in Belvidere, has from last season, when been with the varsity soc-Rochelle went 3-20.

cer program at RTHS over each of the last four years. Flores rotated between midfield and defense as a freshman before becoming a starting defender during her sophomore season, when she earned All-Interstate 8 honors and helped lead the Lady Hubs to seven victories.

"Some of my friends are over there and it'll be really nice to see them and play with them again," Flores said. "It's very competitive there and I feel like that's one way I can push myself to be a better player and person. I can't wait to play with other people and I'm really excited to be with people who share the same ambition as I do. Playing tougher teams will improve me overall."

Flores became a twotime All-Interstate 8 honoree during her junior season, when she returned to a starting defensive role at center back and added two goals with one assist. Now a senior, Flores is one of three team captains for the Lady Hubs, who are off to a 3-2 start this season and who've already tied their season total for wins

"Our first game was rough, but we needed that so the girls could see what it's going to be like," Flores said. "I'm really glad that they all stayed because a lot of them are new and it was a bit discouraging at first, but seeing how they play and how they look up to me, Makayla [Lara] and Emma [Kennay] shows that we can lead and we can be an example for them. Even though a lot of girls are new and half of them haven't played competitively, I'm glad that they didn't give up and they're very passionate. They aren't easily discouraged and they're giving it their all."

Flores, who's considering nursing and intends to pursue a career in the medical field after high school, has earned Rochelle's Defensive Player of the Year Award over each of the last two seasons. Her experience in the back row has been a tremendous asset to the Lady Hubs, who've shut out two of their five opponents this season. Flores said that her ability to adapt and adjust during her four years at RTHS have helped prepare her for a chance to play collegiately.

Senior Betty Flores will be continuing her academics and her soccer career at Rock Valley College next year. Flores aims to pursue a career in the medical field.

"I told coach [Kevan] Watkins that I'm a soccer player and wherever I play, I can adapt," Flores said. "As long as I'm on the pitch and I'm playing, that's all that matters to me. I'm never going to change the way I am on and off the pitch. I'm very vocal and I hope to continue playing with confidence... I know to trust in my abilities and play the way I've always been playing."

Lady Hubs break out the bats against Mendota Rochelle records season-high 22 hits during 17-6 win over Trojans on Thursday

MENDOTA—Lauren Dver showed off warning track power across the outfield Thursday evening, when the senior first baseman went 4 for 4 and drove in four runs to fuel the Rochelle Lady Hub offense during the team's nonconference varsity softball game against Mendota.

Dyer finished with three singles and one double for the Lady Hubs, who erupted for 22 hits over six innings in a 17-6 win over the Trojans. The Wartburg College commit drove in the first of Rochelle's three first-inning runs, belting an RBI single to the center-field wall that brought home freshman Mya Martinez, who also totaled four hits and four RBIs on Thursday. The Lady Hubs (3-3, 0-0 Interstate 8) will continue nonconference play at Freeport on Monday, April 7 at 4:30 p.m.

"We've been working on our hitting a lot during practice and I feel like our team dynamic is so much better this year," said Dyer, who reached base five times on Thursday. "We're all friends and we're all getting along.

I tried to stay disciplined and when I saw a pitch to hit, I swung as hard as I could. It helps our confidence because we know that when we hit the ball, we can stay with any team. We're off to a really good start and I'm excited for the rest of the season."

Sophomore Camryn Metzger gave the Lady Hubs a 3-0 lead late in the first inning, using the opposite field to deliver an RBI single that scored freshman Audrina Rodriguez, who reached on a dropped third strike earlier in the frame. Metzger was one of six Rochelle players to record at least two hits in the game. Martinez, who pitched all six innings and struck out four, sparked a fourrun surge in the second inning, rolling a two-run single through the left side of the infield.

"We showed a lot of confidence at the plate and we showed an ability to make adjustments," head coach Deanna Jacobs said. "They were able to learn from their past swings and the past swings of others. They were able to scoot up in the box, adjust their hands and wait a little bit. I thought their ability to make those adjustments today was huge. Defensively, we wanted the ball and we wanted to make plays. They played together on defense and I thought that was huge."

Rochelle held a 7-1 lead after the top of the second inning, where Dyer launched an RBI single into deep right field before Rodriguez laced an RBI double on a hard grounder to left. Despite a home run for Mendota's Addy Perryman in the bottom of the second inning, the Trojans were unable to contain the Lady Hub bats, which drove in two more runs in the top of the third inning, where sophomore Phelisity Lopez hit an RBI double to right before scoring on a passed ball.

The Lady Hubs broke the game wide open in the top of the fourth inning, tallying five runs to take a 14-2 lead over the Trojans. Three straight hits opened the frames, with sophomore Jaclynn Lira lofting an RBI double on a fly ball to right field before junior Madigan Williams floated an RBI single to left. Martinez and Dyer capped off the frame, with Martinez blasting a two-run double into the left-center field gap and Dyer taking an RBI single through the middle.

Sophomore Phelisity Lopez went 2 for 2 and scored three runs during the Rochelle Lady Hub softball team's nonconference win over Mendota on Thursday.

Mendota fought back in the bottom of the fifth inning, scoring three runs on five singles to erase their double-digit deficit and avoid the run rule. But the Lady Hubs continued to attack at the plate, scratching three runs in the top of the sixth to carry an 11-run lead into the bottom half. A lead-off double from Lopez led to an RBI single from sophomore Emma Heller, who hit a soft liner into shallow center. Dyer drove Heller home on an RBI double to the left-field fence.

"We're young, but we have a lot of experience and I think that's going to help us a lot this year," Dyer said. "My goals for this year are to be supportive of the girls and to be a leader."

Metzger brought in Rochelle's final run of the evening, sending a high fly ball to deep right field for an RBI triple. Metzger and Williams each finished with three hits, while Martinez, Dyer and Lopez each scored three runs in the victory. The 22 hits are a new season-high for Rochelle.

Illinois High School Association

Henry, Troha promoted to associate executive director positions THE Illinois High School Association (IHSA) Board of Directors approved the promotion of Tracie Henry and Matt Troha to Associate Executive Director positions during the Board's March meeting, which was held in Champaign on Saturday, March 15.

Henry and Troha both currently hold Assistant Executive Director titles on the IHSA staff and will assume their new roles on July 1.

"The IHSA Board of Directors and I are excited to be able to offer this opportunity to Tracie and Matt," said IHSA Executive Director Craig Anderson. "They have each shown strong leadership skills and worked diligently on behalf of the IHSA membership to achieve our mission. They have diverse backgrounds and experiences that I believe will help shape the future of the Association, and I look forward to supporting them as they adapt to their new roles."

In December, as a part of the IHSA's annual legislative process, the IHSA membership approved a by-law change that would allow for the IHSA Executive Director to establish Associate Executive Director positions, while giving the Associates the ability to make eligibility rulings. Previously, IHSA by-laws only allowed for the Executive Duirector to make eligibility rulings.

A bio on each is provided below:

Tracie Henry

Tracie Henry joined the IHSA staff in August of 2010 as the Coordinator of Special Programs and was promoted to Assistant Executive Director in April of 2012. She is currently the IHSA administrator for girls flag football, competitive dance, girls gymnastics, and softball. She also oversees sanctioning, wheelchair basketball, the IHSA's internship program, and is the staff liaison to the IHSA Foundation. Henry had the unique experience of starting two different IHSA sports thus far in her career, as she oversaw the creation of the Competitive Dance State Series in 2013 and followed suit with Girls Flag Football in the fall of 2025. She has served on four different national rules committees for the NFHS, including in flag football, gymnastics,

The 2001 Stillman Valley Female Athlete of the year graduated from Illinois State University (ISU) in 2005 with a Bachelor's Degree in Health Education and then earned her Master's Degree in Sports Management from ISU in 2008. Prior to joining the IHSA, she was the Director of Events and Game Operations at ISU from 2005-2008 and continued in ISU Athletic Development until 2010. Henry serves on the ISU Recreation and Sport Management Advisory Council and is also on the Bloomington-Normal YMCA Board of Directors.

Matt Troha Matt Troha was hired by the IHSA as an Assistant Executive Director in August of 2008. Troha's main role initially was communications, media relations, publications, and serving as the administrator of the sport of softball. "I feel both humbled and privileged to be selected to serve the IHSA in the Associate Executive Director role," said Troha. "My high school coaches had an immense impact on shaping me into the husband, father, and professional I am today, so it means a great deal to me to be able to continue to support the IHSA's mission in this new role. I remain appreciative of the opportunity Dr. Marty Hickman gave me nearly 20 years ago at the IHSA, and the continued support I have received from Craig Anderson and the IHSA Board of Directors in the time since."

Troha is a 2000 graduate of Joliet Catholic Academy, where he participated in football and served on the sports staff of the high school yearbook. Huskies open spring practice with new energy NIU football team takes the field Thursday, March 26 for first of 15 workouts DEKALB-The Northern Illinois University football team opens 2025 spring practices with a new energy fueled by six new assistant coaches, 19 new players, including 16 transfers, and after the departure of 18 starters from a year ago, new opportunities for players to step up and step into key roles.

NIU head coach Thomas Hammock begins his seventh season leading his alma mater after becoming the first head coach to lead the Huskies to two (FBS) bowl wins as NIU closed out the 2024 season with a 28-20 double overtime victory over Fresno State in the Famous Idaho Potato Bowl.

"We have a lot of new faces, a lot of new coaches and to me it's a great thing," Hammock said. "I couldn't be more excited about the coaches we brought in the building. We have a bunch of hungry guys that are unafraid to prove themselves; a bunch of hungry coaches who are excited to enhance and elevate our program for next season. I think our players feel that energy."

In addition to coordinators Rob Harley (defense/ safeties) and Quinn Sanders (offense/quarterbacks), the Huskies added Cory Connolly (special teams coordinator/linebackers), Justin Robinson (defensive tackles) and Kai Ross (nickels) to the defensive coaching staff. Ty Boles, who made an impact on the Huskie staff in a graduate assistant role over the past two seasons, will work with the running backs. Boles came to NIU in 2023 after one season at Tennessee State and was a four-year letterwinner at Samford University at running back.

Connolly joined the Huskies after 10 seasons at Ball State, where he moved up from graduate assistant to linebackers coach and for the last three seasons, special teams coordinator and outside linebackers coach. He helped the Cardinals to the 2020 MAC Championship and to the program's first bowl win. Connolly played defensive end at Quincy University in Quincy, Illinois where he was a four-year starter and three-time team captain.

Robinson was named the 2023 NAIA Assistant Coach of the Year by the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) while coaching at Marian University in Indianapolis, where he served as associate head coach and defensive coordinator, helping the to a 17-4 record, a 2023 NAIA playoff appearance and back-to-back conference championships.

Like Boles, Ross was on the Huskie staff in 2024 as a graduate assistant where he helped tutor the NIU safeties. He spent the 2023 season on staff at McKendree University and also coached at Saddleback College in California, where he was a CCCAA All-American defensive back in 2019. He closed out his playing career at Lindenwood University where he was a first team All-Great Lakes Valley Conference DB in 2021 and a two-time CSC Academic All-American.

'Our staff has done a phenomenal job getting prepared, getting up to speed, making sure we're all on the same page from a scheme standpoint, from an evaluation standpoint, from a competitive standpoint," Hammock said. "With the new coaches, the great thing is, there is an unbiased perspective. How you compete and how you move forward will be evaluated by someone who comes in with no preconceived judgement."

In terms of the players, Hammock said the Huskies have put in the work in the weight room and the classroom to prepare for the spring and the new players have made an almost seamless transition to NIU.

"I like where our guys are mentally and physically," Hammock said. "We have a mentally strong group. We are excited to get on the field and have a chance to work with them. The great thing I've seen is you can't tell who's new and who's not. That's a testament to the culture in a building and to our older players. The [newcomers] have come in here and worked and put themselves in position to help our team. We've filled some needs from a depth standpoint, from a competitive standpoint. We look at production over potential. We want guys who have played, who know what it's like to be out there in competitive environments. I'm excited to watch them compete."

All four of the January transfers on the offensive side of the ball are wide receivers, while eight of the 16 players new to NIU this spring are defensive players, including five defensive backs. NIU also added four specialists, an area Hammock said must and will, improve.

Opportunities for the transfers, for the 34 players that spent a redshirt season in 2024 and for the 31 returning letterwinners, are plentiful. NIU returns just four players – two on offense and two on defense - who started six or more games a year ago. However, the group of returning letterwinners features a list of people with significant playing experience, including some in a starting new opportunities begins Thursday morning at 7 a.m. at NIU. The Huskies will practice on Tuesday and Thursday mornings and Saturdays at Noon with the annual Spring Showcase set for Saturday, April 26 at Huskie Stadium.

A new season full of

Season ticket prices for the Huskies' six 2025 home games begin at as little as $110 each for a general admission ticket. With the purchase of the Huskie 4-Pack (four or more tickets), pay $110 each for a reserved seat in sections A, B or F on the West Side. Reserved west side seating begins at $152 with discounts available for NIU alumni, NIU faculty/staff, DeKalb County residents, seniors (62+) and members of the Varsity Club (former student-athletes).

STREATOR — The Rochelle Hub tennis team took all three doubles points during its season opening nonconference varsity match against the Streator Bulldogs on Thursday evening.

Behind a pair of shutout victories, Rochelle won its first dual match of the season, taking down the Bulldogs 4-1 on the road. The Hubs (1-0, 0-0 Interstate 8) took the first two points of the match, with sophomore Noah McKinney and freshman David Eckardt shutting down Streator's Tyler Barbee and Lucas Gutierrez 6-0, 6-0 at the No. 2 court while sophomores Derek Swartz and Owen Carmichael cruised over Quinn Baron and Jacob Wang 6-0, 6-0 at the No.

Rochelle clinched its match victory at the No.

1 doubles court, where junior Caleb Mortensen and sophomore Sam Sergeant engaged in a tough first-set battle against Clayton Lehman and Devin Thompson. After taking the final game in a tiebreaker, Mortensen and Sergeant controlled the second set to take the match 7-6(10), 6-2 and seal the decisive third match point. The Hubs will return to action with a home match against Belvidere North at 4:30 p.m. on Monday.

Rochelle and Streator split the two singles points on Thursday. Junior Philip Winters fought

No. 2 singles, overcoming a close first-set loss to defeat Brad Minick 6-7(10), 6-2, 10-5. Junior Mark Green also played a three-set match for the Hubs, falling just short in a 7-6(2), 2-6, 6-10 loss against Streator's Ryan Beck
