celebrity scoop

Checking in with TERRY CREWS Terry Crews hasn't always been the host of "America's Got Talent," but some fans of the contest might be hard-pressed to remember that.

The NFL veteran had built a career as a comedic actor when he was summoned to start presiding over the NBC competition in 2019, succeeding Tyra Banks (and her forerunners Nick Cannon, Jerry Springer and Regis Philbin), and he's continuing that job in the contest's 18th season on Tuesdays. Crews actually had hosted the spinoff "America's Got Talent: The Champions" first, setting him up well to transfer to the mothership.

He also had a warmup of sorts by hosting the syndicated daytime version of "Who Wants to Be a Millionaire" for one season (2014-15), since that helped him hone his skills in dealing with contestants and being his own personality. That was a big personality to begin with, which Crews had established by starting an acting career after his time in pro football. Performing on the series "Battle Dome" convinced him to continue that path, and he built his comedy cred in movies including "Friday After Next," "White Chicks" and the 2005 remake of the football-themed "The Longest Yard."

Television had more in store for Crews, his next series stop being "Everybody Hates Chris," on which he played the family patriarch. He was cast as another family man on "Are We There Yet?," then came his run as Sgt. (and later Lt.) Terry Jeffords on the critically acclaimed police satire "Brooklyn Nine-Nine." He also starred in the reality show, "The Family Crews."

For all the laughs he has generated, Crews also has managed to maintain an action image, thanks to such projects as the "Expendables" movies and "Deadpool 2." Still, his ongoing presence on "America's Got Talent" trumps all else for many fans ... meaning that he's still got that show for the foreseeable future.

'The Wheel of Time' returns for Season 2

Within the realm of the fantastic, several novels, movies, video games and series exist to tickle the adventure bone. However, despite the plethora of content, few franchises have the hold that Harry Potter, Game of Thrones and The Lord of the Rings do. One series that has recently re-entered the chat, however, is "The Wheel of Time," which is about to begin its second season on Prime Video.

First written by Robert Jordan beginning in 1990, the 15-book series was expected to comprise just six novels. In 2009, the book series was taken over by fellow fantasy writing powerhouse Brandon Sanderson, following Jordan's death two years earlier. As time progressed and more books emerged, fans of high fantasy craved a TV or film adaptation that would do the then-still-growing book series justice. Finally, in 2018, following nearly two decades of rights disputes, low-budget pilots and controversy, it was announced that Amazon Studios would partner with Sony Pictures Television to make everyone's otherworldly dreams come true.

Now, following further setbacks brought about by the COVID-19 pandemic and more, "The Wheel of Time" Season 2 premieres Friday, Sept. 1, on Prime Video.

Already renewed for a third season ahead of the Season 2 premiere, WOT fans can rest easy knowing that the series' writers did not need to rush to fit several books' worth of content into one (potentially) final set of episodes. Instead, audiences get another eight episodes in the second season, while looking forward to even more come Season 3 (likely to be released 2024-25).

When Season 1 began, viewers met Moiraine (Rosamund Pike, "Gone Girl," 2014) as she began her quest to find the Dragon Reborn in the Two Rivers. As a member of the powerful Aes Sedai, an order of women with the ability to channel

Naked and Afraid: Castaways

(45) 7 p.m.

During this episode: Medics intervene when Justin tries fruit known as the Little Apple of Death; a clash about fire sparks into a raging fight between Kerra, Na'im and Bulent; Andrew and Heather question Patrick's hunt for a saltwater croc.

The $100,000 Pyramid

998 p.m.

A new episode of this game show airs, following as celebrities- paired with everyday contestants – compete in a word-association game that could lead to big bucks in the winner's circle. This week, Wendi McLendon-Covey dukes it out against Matt Walsh.

Telemarketers (401) 9 p.m.

Don't answer that call. It seems like telemarketing schemes are now even more opportunistic and sketchy with the implementation of robocalling, PACs and AI. Former telemarketers Sam and Pat continue their investigation, hoping to force changes.

LET THEM KNOW WHO YOU ARE!
