Trinity jail committee urges county to move forward on bond issue

By Tony Farkas editor@trinityconews.com

GROVETON — The spokesman for the Trinity County Jail Committee told the Commissioners Court that it was the decision of the board to move forward with a bond election to build a new jail.

District Attorney Bennie Schiro told the court at the Sept. 24 meeting of the committee's decision, and that they were mindful of costs related to the election as well as the costs for construction and operation of a new facility.

He also said that there will be public forums to provide county residents with information about all aspects of the process.

"The jail has long been a point of contention, and personal and professional relationships have been strained because of this," Schiro said.

Commissioner Neal Smith praised Schiro's mediation with the county and members of the committee.

If an election is approved, it would take place sometime in 2025.

Separately, the court approved its proposed FY 2024-25 budget items, including a tax rate of 53.9 cents per $100 of property valuation, which is the same as last year's rate.

The budget itself includes income and expenses of $11,995,529.

As part of the new budget, the court approved changing the county's pay scale to top out at 20 years of service, instead of 15 years, and approved pay scales for the County Auditor and assistant auditors and court coordinators, bailiffs and reporters.

In other business, the court:

• approved a surety bond for Lacey Mecham; • discussed creating a Foreign Trade Zone

Designation for the county; • approved a petition from the Lakewood at

Livingston Property Owners Association to set a public hearing to adopt all traffic laws, to be held Oct. 21:

· approved claims and invoices for disasterrelated purchases;

• approved budget amendments;

• approved bids for the purchase of road materials and materials hauling;

• approved a bid from Štrickland Plumbing for $17,500 for plumbing repairs and the county jail, with Commissioner Steven Truss abstaining;

• approved an agreement with Deep East Council of Governments for WebEOC at a cost of $1,500; and

• approved the coming year's slate of court meetings.

Every year, the Groveton Ex-Students Association celebrates homecoming; every two years, though, it's bigger and better, and this year was no exception.

With dances, pageants, reunions and parades, the 2024 Homecoming was two days of fun, with the coronation of Cassidy Mitchell as Homecoming Queen.

Groveton Ex-Students Hall of Fame inductees for the year are Taylor Hemness, Gina Safford Price, Jimmy Perry Price and Jean Parker-Rasbeary.

Parade winners are first, Freshman Class; second, Skills USA; and third, Food Service. Honorable Mention to Jerry Wilder with a Hot Dog entry.

Also, Jo Ann Anderson Beken retired from the association, and Tim Coker is taking over as president. New treasurer for the organization will be Laura Worsham Anderson, who is taking over for Coker. See more pictures on page 2A.

Groveton sees the same rate, with a little extra

By Tony Farkas editor@trinityconews.com

GROVETON — The Groveton City Council opted to keep its tax rate the same, but will realize additional funds, nonetheless.

Mayor Ralph Bennett said that the council adopted a property tax rate of 91 cents per $100 valuation at the Sept. 23 meeting; while the rate is the same, the city will see an additional $27,282 based on increased property values from Trinity County Appraisal District.

Additionally, the council approved its 2024-25 budget. Bennett said the council approved an increase to the utility budget for water and sewage, mostly for repairs, and added $50,000 for road and bridge improvements.

In other business, the council:

• approved providing copies of nuisance ordinances to deputies to begin enforcement throughout the city;

• approved a payment of $9,245.94 for water and sewer costs to Inframark:

• granted permission to the Groveton Community Association to put up lights on poles for the Downtown Christmas celebration, and approved closing the Square for the event, set for Dec. 14;

• approved closing the square for National Night Out on Tuesday; • tabled an application for a grant; and

• approve the use of Cash Management Service, which is new software to allow city to take direct deposits for utility payments. The city secretary will be point of contact for enrollmen

Trinity police chief back on patrol

By Tony Farkas editor@trinityconews.com

TRINITY — Trinity Police Chief Daniel Kee is back at work after being placed on leave during an investigation.

City Manager Tim King said that Kee was under investigation by Texas Rangers after an accusation was made against him, but did not specify what allegations were involved in the probe.

According to District Court Clerk records, a Trinity County Grand Jury met on Sept. 27 and returned a "no bill" on a charge of official oppression. A no bill means there is insufficient evidence to render an indictment.

King said that because of the nature of the allegations, that the Rangers presented the case to the Grand Jury to have full scrutiny into the matter.

Kee was placed on administrative leave with pay after the allegation was made regarding an unspecified action on Aug. 27. At a closed special meeting of the Trinity City Council on Monday, the chief was taken off of administrative leave by Mayor Billy Goodin.

At another special meeting on Thursday, the council passed its FY 2024-25 budget, which includes a tax rate of .60 per $100 of property tax valuation.

The budget shows total receipts of $2,215,600 and expenditures of $2,278,513.

King said the budget is business as usual and doesn't include new vehicles or high-ticket items.

Busy lifestyle leaves little time for things that truly matter

This was the "Week that Was". Do you remember that television show? Hot and cool weather, train and traffic jams, tragic decisions, and even deaths. I have felt every emotion this week.

Love, happiness, sorrow, kindness, selfishness, and prejudice are strong emotions, but to me, the feeling of guilt is the worse emotion one has.

A young man died alone and without help from anyone who might have cared several weeks ago, and I knew his plight. I didn't help. I was too busy.

The Christian Bible teaches that if you help someone in need, (an unknown brethren), it is the same as doing for the Savior. I lost the blessing.

How many times do we need to check on someone and we don't? They pass away before you talked to him or her knowing you should, but you don't, because you were too busy.

You feel guilty and promise you will not do this again, but you do. Guilt is horrible, but fleeting.

• The Garage Sale in Westwood Shores Subdivision was a huge success but was marred by tragedy. I heard a helicopter fly over my house Saturday night and learned later that Life Flight had to be called to help another young man who shot himself. He was not from Trinity.

•Last week I told you about the successful 42 Domino Tournament ay Joseph's, but I did not tell you who the winners were. Firstplace team was Rob Hutchings and June Harrell; second-place team was Ivy Phillips and Mary Barnet: and third-place team was Dean Decker and Marian McMillian.

Kelly Hartsfield was the hostess of this event, and she did a great job. She is the wonderful singer at our Christmas show who wows everyone with her voice, and a teacher in our school district. Thank you for all that you do for our community.

• Currently, I need to give recognition to people in our community who participate in organization and events that make a difference in our lives.

First, Charles Payne from Point Blank, who served 2 years as President of the Trinity Lions Club during the pandemic, then served again 2022 to keep out club functioning until old and new members could return to meetings.

Next is Areia Bacon, who was responsible for the Houston Food Bank Truck which came to the Trinity Community Center for years, and worked as an administrator for the Head Start Program of Trinity during this time.

She is now president of the Trinity Peninsula Chamber of Commerce with great plans for the Trinity Christmas Show, parade, and vendors while working for the Trinity Hospital District Board. She is also our newest member in Trinity Lions Club.

You can hear her valuable nutrition, health, and aging programs at the Martin Senior Center on some Thursdays each month to help the elderly citizens in our community. She is invaluable. Thanks again Areia for loving our community.

• Speaking of Martin Senior Citizen Center, we have a new dollar store and raffle corner inside the building at 400 Walker St. For a chance on some beautiful items, visit the Martin Center from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., eat lunch, and win a valuable prize.

• Great news. Dr. Amol Deshpande has returned his pediatric practice in Trinity at 317 Prospect Drive located inside the MidCoast Hospital facility.

• Congratulations to Tristan Gustafson, the 2024 Fair Queen Winner.

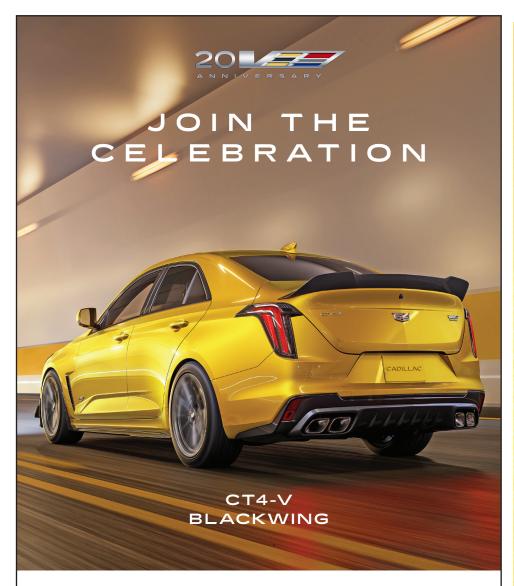

Also don't forget the purse bingo at the YMCA campgrounds on Saturday, and the Trinity County Cleanup Day also on Saturday. See you there.

LIFE TRIBUTE

Patricia Burwick

Born on Sept. 21, 1939, in Eagle Lake, to Raymond Earl Taylor and Elizabeth Lydia (Reuther) Taylor, Patricia passed away on Sept. 27, 2024, in Lufkin.

A devout member of her parish, Patricia served as an Extraordinary Minister of Holy Communion and a Lector, while also contributing to the floral committee for altar flowers. She was deeply dedicated to her family and cherished the moments she spent with them. Whether gardening, mowing, or simply enjoying the beauty of nature, Patricia found joy in working outdoors. Known for her warm personality, she never met a stranger, always eager to meet new people and make meaningful connections.

Patricia was preceded in death by her father, Raymond Earl Taylor; her mother, Elizabeth Lydia Taylor; and her son, Raymond Gilbert Burwick.

She is survived by her loving husband of nearly 66 years, Hampton Loyd Burwick, of Chita; her sons: Hampton Loyd Burwick Jr. of Dallas, Joe Pat Burwick of Fairport, N.Y., Paul Burwick of Redding, Calif., and Jason Burwick of Lufkin; her sister, Ray Beth Taylor Sills of Nursery; her granddaughter, Amanda Mosby of Chilton; and her greatgrandsons, Riggin and Everett Mosby of Chilton; and a host of nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

The family will receive visitors on Wednesday, Oct. 2, at Groveton Funeral Home in Groveton, from 5-7 p.m., with a rosary service to follow at 7 p.m.

Sept. 21, 1939 - Sept. 27, 2024

A Funeral Mass will be celebrated on Thursday, Oct. 3, at 10 a.m. at Most Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Trinity, officiated by Father Juan Carlos Rivera. Committal services will follow at 3 p.m. at Ryan Cemetery in Liberty County.

Pallbearers will be Hampton Burwick Jr., Edgar Burwick, Christopher Sills, Chad Sills, Russel Coaliron and Ryan Demming. 291

OPINION VIEWING IT DIFFERENTLY—

Two long-time newspaper editorial writers have agreed to take on the editorial pages, with their views on a variety of subjects. We welcome your comments.

This is not a candidate, this is a cardboard cutout

A question that has been bouncing around my mind over the last few weeks is, "Is this the best we can do?"

I'm speaking specifically of our presidential candidates, of course, but I'm sure that there's quite a few candidates on the lower fight card that we can scratch our heads over.

Given the abysmal state of the national media and its overarching disgust with conservative politics, there's ample "stories" out there describing President Trump as the second coming of Hitler, combined with the antichrist, Stalin and Ron Jeremy.

That same abysmal state, however, has left off the non-existent morality and the ever-present lack of veracity of the Democratic opponent, Kamala Harris.

I have yet to hear a cogent policy statement from her that doesn't involve beating up taxpayers. All of them, by the way, not just the billionaires who must be made to pay "their fair share." Moreover, the "candidate" (sarcastic quotes intentional) does have a tendency to coopt certain policy statements avowed by Trump, such as his idea to stop taxes on tips.

A further example of her mendacity is that It has been widely reported that she never was made border czar, despite information to the contrary, but she has the audacity to claim she plans to be tough on border crossings.

She repeatedly denies her failings while claiming she has been nothing but successful, that is, when she manages to string together a sentence with meaning (we'll leave the cackling alone).

Perhaps the most egregious example of Harris' failures, though, is that for the last presidential term of which she was the country's second-in-command, nothing has happened to improve the

My Two especially regarding the Common Sense economy. Inflation is up, pro-By Tony Farkas duction is down, and jobs are being filled by illegal aliens. She is yet casting the blame e on her opponent, saying over and over conditions in the country, again how inflation was 9 percent when in fact it was less than 2 percent, and that despite the crippling idiocy of the CO-VID mandates.

There were four years for the current administration — you know, the one with Harris in it — to affect the change that every elected official campaigns on, and yet, things have gotten worse, and will get even worse under a new Harris regime.

Speaking of which, even the way she became the Democrat candidate flies in the face of the method of electing leaders in this country — anointed instead of elected, and enjoying the full slate of presidential candidate bennies without having to have campaigned for a single primary vote. Say nothing of all of the Democrat donors who expected their dollars to go toward electing the current president. That's Joe Biden, in case you've forgotten.

Given the massive shortcomings Harris has, it's astonishing that just like magic she is revered as the candidate to end all candidacy. But to the point, while Trump has a proven record as leader of the free world, his opponent is smoke and mirrors, much ado about nothing, a holographic representation resembling a contender but with absolutely no substance.

So to answer my original thoughtquestion, this can't be the best we can do, for if it is, then we are truly doomed.

Should a President be a person of character?

"Nearly all men can stand adversity, but if you want to test a man's character, give him power." — Abraham Lincoln

In the months leading up to the 2024 Presidential election, I've watched numerous interviews with supporters of Donald Trump at his rallies and speeches. A common question posed to these supporters is whether they believe Trump is a man of character. The responses generally fall into a few distinct categories.

Some acknowledge Trump's very public character flaws—such as cheating on his wives, his affairs with porn stars, his reputation for stiffing contractors, and his fraud convictions. However, they argue that while they do not condone these actions, they support his policies on immigration, border security, and abortion. For these voters, the ends justify the means. They believe Trump delivers the political results they want, so his character flaws are less important.

Others, particularly evangelical Christians, agree that Trump has significant character issues, but they point to the Old Testament, where God used flawed leaders to accomplish His will. They draw parallels between Trump and these biblical figures, arguing that God works through imperfect people to achieve divine purposes, even if the individuals themselves are far from virtuous.

Still, others deny Trump's moral failures altogether, with some even believing he is divinely chosen to redeem the world. A few go as far as to claim he is the second coming of the Son of Man—a belief we'll address shortly.

To determine whether a person has character, we can look at core traits that are widely recognized as indicators of moral and ethical integrity:

• Integrity: A foundation for trust and ethical behavior, involving honesty and transparency.

• Honesty: The willingness to tell the truth, even when it is difficult. • Accountability: Taking responsibility for one's actions and working to correct mistakes.

• Empathy: The ability to connect with others emotionally and respond with compassion.

• Humility: A willingness to define a person of strong character. Jim Donald Trump has By Jim Powers been in the public eye for decades, and his moral and ethical short moral and ethical shortcomings are well-documented. From his narcissistic tendencies to his dishonest business practices, Trump repeatedly demonstrates that he does not embody these traits of strong character. To suggest he is a man of character is inconsistent with the evidence. For most voters in the U.S., character does seem to matter. Many polls and interviews suggest that people value integrity and ethics in leadership.

However, for those who believe character is irrelevant, the argument often comes down to either prioritizing political results over morality or believing that God is working through Trump to accomplish a higher purpose. While this belief might seem superficially plausible, it doesn't hold up when examined closely.

It is true that the Old Testament depicts God using flawed leaders to carry out His will. These figures often had significant character flaws, but they were used to deliver God's retribution or guide His people back to righteousness. However, we don't live in the world of the Old Testament. Modern society rejects the brutality of those times and strives to embrace the New Testament message of love, peace, and compassion.

While some believe God continues to use flawed leaders today, there are many modern leaders who possess strong character and Christian morals. Why would God choose someone like Trump who has shown little regard for Christian values—when there are better candidates who align with His teachings?

If you believe Trump is the second coming of Jesus, you must also believe that Jesus seeks to rule the world as a cruel, despotic king. This contradicts the teachings of Jesus, who was not interested in establishing a kingdom on earth but in guiding his followers to a new heavenly creation. Jesus made it clear that he was not the earthly king that the Old Testament Jews expected.

critical juncture. The upcoming election will determine the future of the democratic experiment. Now, more than ever, we need leaders who possess the moral and ethical character to guide the country through these challenging times. Leaders of character inspire trust and confidence in their people. We should not settle for agents of chaos in the White House when what we need are agents of integrity.

Texans' right to free speech is under attack ... again

Americans' right to speak their minds is considered sacred, which is why we must fight to protect the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution and the Texas Citizens Participation Act. Both measures were carefully written with protection of the individual — the "little guy" — in mind. They're designed to give a David a fighting chance if he finds himself in a legal duel with a Goliath.

Unfortunately, the Texas Citizens Participation Act is under attack once again. The Legislature is being lobbied fiercely by well-heeled business interests and law firms who want the law either repealed or gutted. On Wednesday the Texas House Committee on Judiciary and Civil Jurisprudence will conduct a hearing to consider whether to gut the TCPA or stand up for a good law that's been giving David a fair shot since legislators passed it 13 years ago.

It appears that Committee Chairman Jeff Leach, R-Plano, who has taken aim at the TCPA over the last several legislative sessions, wants to make sure Goliath's side gets multiple shots at David. The panel of witnesses Leach invited to testify at his Wednesday hearing includes three witnesses from business and legal interests who have been opposed to the TCPA and one lonely First Amendment attorney.

Ironically, that same First Amendment attorney is also representing Leach in a lawsuit in which Leach is accused of defamation, and Leach has used the TCPA as part of his defense. It seems that even the chair of one of the most powerful committees in the Texas House finds himself feeling like David at times.

When they were omitted from Leach's invitation list, at least eight organizations who support the TCPA requested the opportunity to testify. They were all turned down. Among those denied the opportunity to testify are Texas Right to Life, the Young Republicans of Texas, the General Counsel for the Tarrant County Republican Party and the Protect Free Speech Coalition. Regardless of his political persuasion, few things are more dangerous to a David than a defamation lawsuit filed against him by an angry Goliath with deep pockets. David may have the truth, the law and the man upstairs on his side, but Goliath can afford an army of lawyers to fight all the way to the Supreme Court. In the process, he can be bled to death financially from the thousand cuts of discovery and depositions that come with a lawsuit.

If he can get the court to grant a motion to dismiss the suit, David is off the hook. The odds of David winning a motion to dismiss a nuisance suit are higher in an appeals court than they are at the local trial court level, however. Without the current stay in the TCPA, David would have to pay lawyers to appeal his denied motion while simultaneously paying lawyers to handle the discovery and deposition tasks that are necessary before trial. With the TCPA in place, the discovery and depositions come to a halt until the appeals related to the motion are exhausted. This makes it faster and less expensive for David to win, which is why the angry plaintiffs who sue their Davids don't like the law.

Here's a fringe benefit that often goes unmentioned but should not be: The dismissal of a groundless suit not only helps the defendant but removes a case from the perennially overcrowded court docket. That makes it a win not just for David, but for judges and taxpayers.

The bottom line: The TCPA protects Texans from lawsuits designed to chill their First Amendment rights. It makes our court system more efficient. And most importantly, it assures that while free speech may not always be free, it should never be something that the Davids among us – which is most of us – cannot afford.

The Texas House Committee on the Judiciary and Civil Jurisprudence would do well to remember that. So would the entire Texas House, the entire Texas Senate and the Governor of Texas.

What God Hath Joined Together

The following want ad appeared in a local newspaper: "For sale: 52-year-old husband, never remembers anniversaries, birthdays, or special occasions, never says 'I love you,' never hugs, squeezes hand tightly, or tenderly touches. Will sell for 2 cents. Call 663-9666. Will dicker."

While attending a marriage seminar on communication, David and his wife listened to the instructor declare, "It is essential that husbands and wives know the things that are important to each other." He addressed the men, "Can you describe your wife's favorite flower?" David leaned over, touched his wife's arm gently and whispered, "Pillsbury All-Purpose, isn't it?"

My kids still give me a hard time about the lovely, romantic gift I gave my wife for Christmas one year. It was a beautifully wrapped vacuum cleaner. I think I may go all out and give her a chainsaw this year.

Once, when the Pharisees asked Jesus about the legitimacy of divorce as recorded in Mark 10:2-9, Jesus quoted Old Testament scripture to them from Genesis 1 & 2 about the sacredness of marriage. Jesus said, "At the beginning of creation, God made them male and female. Because of this, a man should leave his father and mother and be joined together with his wife, and the two will be one flesh. So, they are no longer two but one flesh. Therefore, humans must not pull apart what God has put together" (Mark 10:7-9).

Tragically, divorces happen, but the most important question married couples should ask is not, "Can I get a divorce?" but "What can I do to nurture my spouse and be in unity and harmony with him or her?" Marriage is a sacred gift of God, and our spouses deserve our best efforts to make our marriages healthy.

The bedrock of every good marriage is mutual commitment. Husbands and wives must be committed to loving, honoring, and cherishing each other. Our spouses must know that we are committed to meeting their needs, even when that is very difficult for us. We all need to be nurtured and cared for, and married couples must be committed to meeting as much of that need as possible.

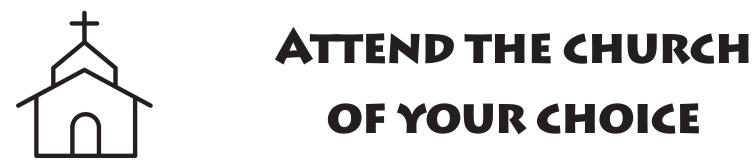

None of us can make someone else happy, but we can all be there for someone else as they make the long, difficult journey toward wholeness and completeness. It is God's intention that every marriage be marked by intimacy, edifying partnership, and mutual service.

Every marriage partner has married someone very different from themselves. We will not always understand why our partners do the things they do, say the things they say, and feel the things they feel, but we can make the choice to always be there for them as they struggle with the issues of their lives. They will make mistakes along the way, and we will find it challenging to forgive them rather than hold onto our resentments and hurt feelings.

The truth of the matter is, we will make mistakes, too. If we want to be forgiven, we must learn to be forgiving. As Jesus said, "Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy" (Matthew 5:7). When we reach out to fill the cup of another, somehow, we will find our own cups filled.

Jesus gave good marriage ad-vice in Luke 6:37-38: "Don't judge, and you won't be judged. Don't condemn, and you won't be condemned. Forgive, and you will be forgiven. Give, and it will be given to you. A good portionpacked down, firmly shaken, and overflowing-will fall into your lap. The portion you give will determine the portion you receive in return."

Dr. Dan Darby is a retired United Methodist pastor.

Phelan's GOP foes back one challenger

Texas House Republicans who want to oust Speaker Dade Phelan have coalesced behind a single opponent: state Rep. David Cook, R-Mansfield. A total of 48 representatives are backing the twoterm representative, including four who dropped their own bids for speaker.

Phelan's opponents, including Lt. Gov. Dan Patrick, claim he has given too much power to Democrats by naming some to lead legislative committees.

"This vote highlights the growing momentum for change within the Texas House, as members rally behind a shared vision of a decentralized leadership model that empowers all members," Cook said in a statement.

Phelan is seeking his third term as speaker after narrowly surviving a challenge for re-election to represent his district in the GOP primary, winning a runoff election.

"Not only are their actions disappointing and unacceptable, they are futile, as I proudly have the clear majority votes needed to be the Speaker today and will have the clear majority support needed to become Speaker again come January," Phelan said in a statement.

Polls show near tie in Cruz-Allred race The U.S. Senate race in Texas has tightened, with a poll last week showing Democratic challenger Colin Allred nearly within the margin of error in his race against incumbent Republican Ted Cruz, the Austin American-Statesman reported. A poll released by the Texas Hispanic Policy Foundation shows Cruz ahead of Allred 48 percent to 45 percent, nearly within the margin of error of 2.83 percent.

Capitol Highlights

By Gary Borders Texas Press Association

Cruz is seeking his third term in the Senate. He won his last race against challenger Beto O' Rourke by just 2.6 points.

The tightening race prompted the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee to announce last week that it is sending millions of advertising dollars to Texas to boost his campaign. The committee plants to put its money toward airing more Allred campaign ads. Committee chair Gary Peters said the Democratic candidate needs more funding to get his message out.

"But it is his message," Peters said. "He knows Texas inside and out."

Texas Supreme Court rules on gun ban at state fair

The State Fair of Texas opened last week with its newly enacted ban on weapons intact after the Texas Supreme Court rejected a challenge by Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton just 13 hours earlier. The Statesman reported the court ridiculed the state's legal arguments in a fivepage opinion, with Justice Jimmy Blacklock writing that "the State's filings do not even attempt to answer" the question at the heart of the case.

Two lower courts also rejected Paxton's attempt to lift the ban, enacted after three fairgoers were injured in a shooting inci-

The state fair runs through Sunday, Oct. 20.

Party game company sues SpaceX for trespassing

Cards Against Humanity, makers of a humorous adult party game, is suing Elon Musk's SpaceX company for trespassing and damaging land the company purchased in Cameron County. The company purchased the land in 2017 to send a political message to then-President Donald Trump's campaign to not build a border wall.

KUT reported that the company raised money to purchase the land by soliciting $15 donations from 150,000 people. It says the land has been kept in its pristine state, but SpaceX has dumped gravel, tractors, and space garbage on it.

A website maintained by the company announced it is seeking $15 million in damages and displayed photos purportedly showing "before and after" images of its land. SpaceX did not respond for comment from Texas Public Radio.

Going lights out for migrating birds

Audubon Texas is asking residents to not leave the porch lights on this fall, during peak migration season for millions of birds. The Texas Standard reported the 2024 Lights Out, Texas, campaign is underway, and Texans are urged to turn off unnecessary lights to minimize light pollution. Migrating birds can become disoriented when traveling through densely populated areas.

Úp to 1 billion birds are killed each year due to collisions with buildings. Peak migration runs through Oct. 29, with fall migration ending around Nov. 30. One of every four birds migrating through the U.S. passes through Texas, according to Audubon Texas.

Building owners, businesses, developers and homeowners can help protect migrating birds by turning off all nonessential lighting from 11 p.m. to 6 a.m. each night. Lighting shields that direct light downward can reduce bird casualties. More information is available at tx.audubon.org.

Looking back on last summer's weather

The summer of 2024 is in the books, and Dr. Mark Wentzel, hydrologist with the Texas Water Development Board, says it ended up in the middle of the pack when compared to the last 25 summers – the 12th most miserable during that time period.

The amount of the state in drought declined to 28 percent from a high of 88 percent during the summer of 2022, Wentzel wrote. Last summer certainly was an improvement over the two previous, which were considered the second and third most miserable in the past quarter century. But they both pale in comparison to the summer of 2011, which had the worst drought conditions in Texas history, and wildfires swept the state.

Relatively plentiful rain made last summer seem more tolerable, but records indicate it was the fourth-hottest summer of the past 25 years.

Thank goodness for autumn.

Committee hearings center on DoD, SEC

We packed a lot into a quick week in Washington.

On Sept. 24, Chairman Gary Gensler appeared before the House Financial Services Committee along with other SEC commissioners. Under Gensler, enforcement in the SEC is neither fair nor balanced.

I told him that he should remind himself every day of the SEC's mission statement and uphold its charge of protecting investors, maintaining orderly markets, and facilitating capital formation. It's time to restore basic fairness in the SEC.

I also joined my colleagues on the House Oversight and Accountability Committee in a hearing entitled "Defending America from the Chinese Communist Party's Political Warfare, Part III."

We spoke with expert witnesses on the need to counter the influence of the CCP waging political war from within our borders. We need to address this threat, and it is concerning to me that we allow Chinese nationals to stay in our country illegally.

Ambassador Joseph Cella recommended that we address this threat with "eyes wide open." We can find common ground in identifying this problem and must find common ground in our solutions.

Finally, I chaired my Subcommittee on Government Operations and the Federal Workforce this week in a hearing to oversee the egregious spending habits of the Department of Defense. Taxpayers deserve transparency in how their hard-earned dollars are supporting them.

The DOD is the only federal agency unable to achieve a clean audit. Using the Oversight Committee's new DOD Financial Management Scorecard, we can identify where the DOD needs to improve. Texas Farm Bureau

reau paid my office a visit on Sept. 27.

The TFB serves hundreds of thousands of member-families, including myself. They are the "voice of Texas agriculture."

As part of their mission, the TFB advocates for legislation that would support and defend the agricultural community. As of today, the House has yet to vote on the Farm Bill, the most important piece of legislation for our farmers, ranchers, and foresters. The Farm Bill includes disaster relief funding, increases commodity prices, and ensures economic stability in our agricultural sector.

I am a proud supporter of the Farm Bill and hope to be given the opportunity to vote yes on this essential legislation that provides necessary funding and protection to our nation's agricultural providers.

The Doctor's Forum fly-in

On Wednesday, I had the opportunity to speak with a group of physicians at the Doctor's Forum fly-in this week hosted by the Market Institute. These doctors are on the front lines, facing the failures and critical challenges of our health care system. Providers and recipients of care alike recognize that our health care system is in urgent need of reform. Lawmakers must address these issues, and I appreciate this group of doctors for taking the time to visit Washington to join these crucial conversations.

Legislation of the Week

HR 9747 — Continuing Appropriations and Extensions Act 2025. This week, I voted in favor for the Continuing Resolution to fund our government through Dec. 20. While continuing resolutions are never the first choice, they are preferable to a harmful government shutdown.

Some wins of this legislation include a prevention of spending on existing programs, with the same terms and conditions. This prevents the Administration from starting new programs and ensures that existing riders, like the prolife Hyde Amendment, remain in place.

Moreover, it includes more funding for the Secret Service — an absolute necessity in these dangerous times when our leaders face constant threats. This isn't just about enhancing protection; it's a stark reminder of the escalating risks and the precarious state of our nation's security.

This funding is contingent upon the Secret Service delivering documents to the House Task Force on the Assassination Attempt, ensuring accountability.

HR 8790 — Fix Our Forests Act. Having seen first-hand the successes of good forestry management at the three national forests in TX-17, I was proud to vote yes to spread these practices nationwide.

HR 3334 — STOP CCP Act. This legislation sanctions the top policy-making entity of the CCP responsible for violating human rights. I voted yes.

HR 8205 – Keep Violent Offenders Off Our Streets Act. Violent crime is on the rise across America. By providing needed oversight of charitable bail bonds, this legislation ensures violent offenders stay off our streets. Another yes from me.

Pete Sessions represents District 17, which includes Trinity County, in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Committee focused solely on state coffers

On a foggy morning of Oct. 2, 1835, a fight erupted in Gonzales, marking the beginning of the War for Texas Independence. The conflict began when a Mexican commander, informed that Texas settlers had refused to hand over a small cannon, sent 100 soldiers to reclaim it.

Facing them were about 140 Texan rebels, standing their ground under a hastily made flag that defiantly proclaimed, "Come and Take It." With that, the first shots of the Texas Revolution rang out.

This pivotal day would forever change the course of Texas history. The iconic "Come and Take It" flag has since become a lasting symbol of Texas pride, representing the unwavering courage and determination that still define the Texas spirit, nearly two centuries later. The events at Gonzales ignited a movement that ultimately shaped our state's enduring identity.

With that piece of history, we'll step back into our examination of House interim charges.

The Texas House Committee on Ways and Means oversees matters related to state revenue, encompassing taxation, state funding, and financial resource administration.

The committee has jurisdiction over the Office of Multistate Tax Compact Commissioner for Texas and the Comptroller of Public Accounts. Its primary focus includes shaping economic policy, managing property taxes, and ensuring effective revenue collection for the state budget, playing a pivotal role in the fiscal health of Texas and the allocation of state funds. During last year's second special session, the committee was instrumental in passing Senate Bill 2, a significant piece of legislation that provided approximately $18 billion in broad property tax relief.

This bill reduced school district property tax rates by compressing the maximum tax rate, effectively lowering the overall tax burden for Texas homeowners and businesses. Complementing Senate Bill 2, the committee also advanced Senate Bill 3, which raised the homestead exemption for school district property taxes from $40,000 to $100,000, significantly reducing the taxable value of homes and easing the financial strain on homeowners.

Together, these measures reflect the committee's commitment to delivering property tax relief while balancing the needs of school districts and local governments. Over the interim, the Texas House Committee on Ways and Means has been tasked with monitoring the implementation of key legislation passed by the 88th Legislature, including overseeing the effects of Senate Bill 2 and House Joint Resolution 2, which provide property tax relief through reforms in public school finance and property tax administration.

Perhaps most importantly, the committee has been directed to assess the effectiveness of Senate Bill 2 and House Joint Resolution 2 in lowering property taxes and make recommendations for future policy proposals to further reduce the property tax burden on Texas taxpayers.

The mobile office is on the road again in September, and our District Director looks forward to seeing you on the following dates at the following times: Oct. 2 at the San Augustine County Courthouse in San Augustine from 9:30-11:30 a.m.; Oct. 9 at the Polk County Commissioner's Courtroom in Livingston from 9:30-11:30 a.m. and the Tyler County Commissioner's Courtroom in Woodville from 1:30-3:30 p.m.; and Oct. 16 at the Houston County Courthouse Annex in Crockett from 9:30-11:30 a.m. and the Trinity County Courthouse in Groveton from 1:30-3:30 p.m.

Original Texans knew only how to lose

The Dallas Texans, the first pro football team in the Southwest, proved their season opening defeat was no fluke by losing 37-14 to the San Francisco 49ers on Oct. 5, 1952.

Seventy-two years ago, the National Football League did not remotely resemble the sports spectacle of today. No Monday Night Football, no Super Bowl and no fat contracts for gridiron gladiators who risked crippling injury every Sunday.

There were 12 teams instead of the current 31 and none between Chicago and California. The idea of selling new franchises to pigskin hungry cities had yet to dawn on current owners, so the rest of the country had to wait until a team became available.

At the end of the1951 season, singer Kate Smith's manager begged the league office to take the money losing New York Yankees off his hands. Commissioner Bert Bell was happy to oblige because he had a buyer in football crazy Texas.

A group of businessmen headed by Giles

Martin, 31-year-old heir to a textiles fortune, paid $300,000 for the privilege of moving the club to Dallas. Since no self-respecting resident of the Lone Star State would root for a team called the Yankees, the name was changed to the Texans.

Unlike the expansion teams to come, the Dallas Texans were not a bunch of over-thehill veterans and green-as-grass rookies. Talent may have been in short supply, but Buddy Young was a nifty little runner and two linemen, Gino Marchetti and Art Donovan, were destined for the Hall of Fame.

Thirty-three players survived a scorching training camp in Kerrville and a flurry of cuts and trades. Six Southwest Conference alumni were on the opening-day roster: fullback Dick McKissack (SMU), ends Bruce Alford (TCU) and Stanley Williams (Baylor), guard Weldon Humble (Rice) and UT tackles Ken Jackson and lim Lansford.

The 17,500 curious spectators, who showed up at the Cotton Bowl on the last Sunday of September, had lots of elbow room in the stadium built for $75,000. Gov. Allan Shivers hailed "this new era in sports in Texas," and a beauty queen released helium-filled balloons that soared skyward with a gold football entitling the finder to an undisclosed prize.

Tom Landry fumbled the opening kickoff on the New York Giants' 22-yard line to set up the hosts' sole score. Crowd favorite Kyle Rote, Doak Walker's running mate at SMU, received the biggest cheer of the day with an exciting 52yard touchdown dash, and the visitors coasted to a 24-6 triumph.

Matty Bell, athletic director at Southern Methodist, generously blamed the disappointing turnout for the pro debut on football fatigue. The SMU-Georgia Tech game attracted 40,000 to the Cotton Bowl on Friday night, and the Texas Aggies packed the place the next afternoon for their contest with Oklahoma A&M.

Excuses were harder to come by the following Sunday, when the Texans' tussle with the 49ers drew 2,500 fewer fans. Y.A. Tittle, Marshall native and Louisiana State signal-caller, picked apart the Dallas defense as San Francisco rolled to a 23-point victory.

A change of scene failed to alter the outcome a week later in Chicago. The Texans managed to muster 20 points at Wrigley Field, but the Bears were 18 points better.

Returning to the wide-open spaces of the Cotton Bowl, the Texans actually led Green Bay 14-7 at halftime much to the surprise of the sparse crowd of 14,000. But the Rice Institute pass-and-catch combination of Tobin Rote and Bill Howton powered the Packers past the hapless home team 24-14.

The Texans suffered their fifth and sixth defeats on a road trip to the West Coast. The 49'ers ran wild in a 48-21 rout, and the Los Angeles Rams shellacked them 42-20.

Giles and his partners had bought the franchise in the naive belief they would at least break even that initial season. Finding themselves a quarter of a million dollars in the red by early November, they asked the Citizens Association for a $250,000 loan to tide them over, but the unelected city fathers turned them down flat.

Ten thousand hardy souls braved the cold and rain to see what most expected to be the Texans' last game in Dallas. The Rams won the muddy melee by three TDs.

Three days later, Giles Miller dumped the team in Bert Bell's lap. The commissioner gave Coach Jimmy Phelan marching orders for Hershey, Penn., which the strays called home for the rest of the strange season.

The orphans were adopted by Baltimore and "became heroes for life," as colorful Art Donovan put it. Renamed the Colts, they developed into the NFL's best winning back-to-back championships in 1958 and 1959.

Dallas residents did not miss the original Texans, though in private they probably envied Baltimore's luck. The NFL gave the city a second chance in 1960 by awarding an expansion franchise to oilman Clint Murchison. Lamar Hunt, founder of the rival American Football League, countered with the second coming of the Texans, and for the next three seasons Big D had its choice of two professional football teams.

Strength training

My mom knew me well. So well, in fact, that as I left for college she outfitted me not only in the latest fashions for my body but she also armed me for life by the gift of a ceramic "book, a slightly worn piece that had resided on the kitchen window sill as long as I had memory. She knew me well. The "Serenity Prayer, in faded gilt script has resided with me ever since, on dorm dressers, in apartment alcoves and finally, on my own kitchen windowsills.

The "Serenity Prayer, known to millions, was written by Reinhold Niebuhr, in the early 1940s. In original form it reads, "God, give us the grace to accept with serenity the things that cannot be changed, courage to change the things which should be changed, and the wisdom to distinguish the one from the other. It speaks to important, even life-saving, skills everyone who lives life successfully must develop. My mom had already seen to it that I had the models for courage for wisdom ac ceptance and serenity that I needed to learn those skills. The prayer, given to her by her mom, was to serve me as a reminder to use these skills. How do children develop the strengths they will need to become successful, happy, contributing adults? Where do the models for learning courage, serenity, wisdom and acceptance come from? Parents, obviously, are an important source. Children who live with kindness become kind, children who live with acceptance learn to love and children who live with anger become bitter. Beyond parents are aunts, uncles, grandparents and teachers, all who serve as examples for children to copy. Uncles who always have time for nieces and nephews teach them most of all the importance of having a caring special person who thinks they are important. There are others, those important members of our "extended families, the friends so close our children call them "aunt,, or "uncle,, and daily interact in our lives and from whom our children take their cues about the kinds of adults they will become. Our children watch and copy ... and they copy everything, good or bad.

Adults are the mirrors for what children will alter become; good examples are critical. By watching grown-ups cope successfully with joblessness, sorrow, hard times, death, disaster, children learn that adverse circumstances can be overcome, changed or accepted. By observing adults who look beyond imperfection of body to the inside perfection of spirit, who love the unlovable and forgive the unforgivable, children learn to do the same. Young people copy the way adults react to difficult situations ... by blaming or by problem solving. When their own tough times come, they remember and reach for the strengths that were planted in years past by the strong adults about them. They cannot use what we have not given them

Indians fall to Frankston in a big way

By Scott Womack TCNS correspondent

GROVETON — Despite big games from Sophomore Haygen Townsend and Senior Carter Cox, the Indians couldn't overcome the Frankston offense and lost 61-0 on Homecoming night.

More than half of the scores -34 points - came in the first quarter on the back of the Frankston ground game.

Trinity

Coming off an impressive 4-0 start to the season, the Tigers opened district with the No. 9 ranked Woodville Eagles, an experienced and tough opponent, and lost 53-6.

The Tigers took the opening kickoff and after gaining 25 yards with a run and pass combination, the Eagle defense took over and forced a punt after consecutive sacks. The fast-paced Eagle offense took their opening drive 75 yards and scored their first touchdown of the game.

After forcing another Tiger punt, the Eagles were able to again march down the field, but a defensive stop by the Tigers forced the Eagles to kick a field goal and take a 10-0 lead.

The second quarter did not fare any better for the Tigers as they were consistently stopped by the Eagle defense and were unable to stop their high-powered offense and the Eagles were able to add two more scores and take a commanding 32-0 lead into the locker room at halftime.

The Eagles received the opening kickoff of the 3rd quarter and drove the ball 61 yards and extend the lead to 38-0. The Eagles were able to force another Tiger punt and again found the end zone and a 45-0 lead.

The 4th quarter opened with the Tigers in possession of the ball and on a drive that began on their own 30-yard line, were finally able to find the end zone with a 4-yard run by Jonathan Baker. With Trinity trailing 45-6, the Eagles were able to score another touchdown as time expired and defeat the Tigers 53-6.

The Tigers will try and even their district standings Friday night as they travel to Kountz to play the Lions. Kickoff is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Apple Springs

The Eagles dropped their Friday tilt against Leverett's Chapel 88-40.

On offense, Nate Sanders completed 21 of 48 passes for 329 yards and 4 TDs. Zeth Dugat carried twice for 24 yards and a TD, and pulled in 7 of 14 passes for 128 yards and another TD.

Rounding out the offense was Noah Thompson, who caught 3 of 6 passes for 62 yards and 2 TD; Preston Murray caught 2 of 3 for 47 yards and a TD; and Peyton Williams pulled in 4 of 9 for 64 yards. Nate Sanders went 5 for 5 at point after attempts.

On defense, Noah Thompson had 13 tackles, Peyton Williams had 6 and Rance Howell had 5, while Drake Pierce caused a fumble and picked up a fumble recovery.

Brayden Reynolds pulls in a pass.

Armando Bautista and a Frankston defender go up for the ball.

Playing the 'slots' at Lake Tawakoni

Guide Tony Pennebaker slowed his big catfish guide boat and studied the sonar closely.

"This is the spot we fished yesterday and landed limits of 'eater' blue catfish in the slot and a couple of trophy catfish which we released that measured over 30 inches and weighed 35 to 40 pounds apiece."

The water was relatively shallow, about 5 feet deep and we were positioned a long cast from the edge of a big patch of standing timber. Long casts improve the bite when fishing for blue catfish which are sensitive to vibrations. With power poles lowered into the soft lake bottom, the big craft was stationary.

Eight rods with fresh shad rigged Santee Cooper-style with small floats set about 8 inches above the hook to keep the baits dangling up from bottom were positioned around the boat and we didn't wait long before the action to begin.

I've fished with Tony many times and he knows ole' Luke is all about a fish fry. I share his love of catching these hardfighting fish and eating those snow-white blue catfish fillets but I won't snub my nose at a platter of tasty channel cat fillets either. We could have baited a spot with cattle range cubes or soured grain, used his Tony P's Punch bait and undoubtedly landed our limits of channel catfish weighing 1.5 to 2 pounds but with the bigger blue catfish on a dependable bite, our choice of species was a no-brainer.

At Tawakoni the daily limit on blue and channel catfish is no minimum length limit; daily bag and possession limit is 25 blue and channel catfish in any combination. In the 25fish bag, no more than five fish 20 inches or greater in length may be retained, and no more than one of those can be 30 inches or longer. This slot between 20 and 30 inches is made up of what we refer to as good eaters — fish weigh-ing from about 5 to 15 pounds. Any catfish angler/eater understands that five of these slot fish equate to several freezer bags full of tasty fillets.

We were fishing a big shallow flat with what's left of a ditch or old creek channel near the edge of standing timber. Through the years, most of the submerged creek channels have silted in but a close look at sonar will show many of these depressions still visible. It doesn't take much elevation difference in bottom structure to attract and hold not only catfish but the bait fish they feed upon.

This is one style of fishing where I'm convinced more hook ups will occur with the rod in a holder rather than in the fisherman's hands. The drill went like this; heave the baits out far from the boat, as far as we could cast, allow the weight to pull the bait to bottom and the floater suspend it up a few inches-which makes it easier for the catfish to scent and position in its mouth. With the butt of the rod in a rod holder, crank the reel handle to take up slack.

With all the rods positioned, it was a waiting game. I kept an eye on the rods in front of the boat and Tony watched the rear rods. Blue catfish usually don't nibble a bait as is common with channel catfish. The bigger fish simply grab the bait and run with it. The circle hooks we were using are designed to thread into the corner of the fish's mouth as it swims away. Shaped with a bit of a corkscrew twist, these hooks are ideal for this style fishing. When the rod is bowing heavily toward the water, begin cranking as fast as possible on the reel (with the rod still in the holder). This takes the slack out of the line and ensures pressure is maintained on the fish.

You'll know when the hook set is solid, the rod will be bending in a sharp arc and it's time to reach down and winch the rod from the holder. This can be a trick when a big trophy blue is applying pressure. When fighting these big fish, it's best to grab the rod a few inches forward of the reel and place the butt of the rod somewhere around your beltline. This gives more control, the trick is to let the rod and the reels drag system do the work to tire the fish.

Tawakoni guide Tony Pennebaker with a big blue catfish landed last week. The trophy blue catfish season is under way but now is prime time for catching lots of big 'slot' fish between 20 and 30 inches. PHOTO BY LUKE CLAYTON

ing was to boat a limit of slot fish for an upcoming fish fry I have planed. If we were lucky enough to catch a trophy, then photographs and quick release was the plan. After only a couple hours fishing, we had a big ice cooler filled with big slot fish weighing from about 4 to 15 pounds and were thinking about heading to the marina to transform our catch into several gallon bags of tasty snow-white fillets.

Our plan changed quickly; the rod on the port side bowed heavily and there was no need to crank on the reel to take up slack line. The big blue had already accomplished this. My goal was to get the action on video and as Tony muscled the rod out of the holder, I grabbed the video camera and had it rolling on the action. Big blues are known for making long, strong runs and this one didn't disappoint. We were lucky it didn't tangle up with a couple of lines still in the water.

As the fish began to tire, it was time for the net man to go to work. Because there were only two of us in the boat, the cameraman (me) had to do double duty with the net. I was able to get most of the fight on camera before setting the video camera down and reaching for the net. With the big blue in the boat, I resumed filming duties for our TV show "A Sportsman's Life." The action should now be on YouTube as well as Carbon TV at www.carbontv.com.

Tony says the blue catfish bite is right on schedule — the majority of fish he's landing now are in the slot but as the water continues to cool more and more of the trophy class fish weighing from 25 to 50 pounds will begin taking the bait.

It's a challenge for some of us to get out of the fall woods and go fishing but take it from me, a few hours on the water with someone like Pennebaker is likely to pay off in not only a box full of some of the best eating in freshwater but memories to last a lifetime as well.

Texas Game Wardens provide archery season tips

Special to the News-Standard

AUSTIN — Texas' 2024 archery-only hunting season for white-tailed deer, wild turkey and mule deer began Saturday and will run through Nov. 1. Before Texans start filling their freezers, Texas Game Wardens have some tips for hunters to keep in mind before they hit the woods, high plains or fields. hunt alone if they have completed their hunter education certification. If not, they and anyone using the deferral, must be accompanied by a licensed adult who is hunter education certified or exempt. Public Hunting Permit is required in addition to standard licensing requirements.

Those hunting on TPWD property are required to wear at least 400 square inches of hunter there's anything you're unclear on after reviewing the regulations in the Texas Outdoor Annual, call the game warden for the county you will be hunting in. We're here to help." ing it, you are prepared and will stand a greater chance of recovering the animal."

Weather and terrain challenges

Texas weather is often inpredictable, especially during archery season. Some parts of the state may still be hot while others could experience unexpected cold snaps. Temperature swings can happen quickly, so don't be caught unaware and without proper gear. Warmer temperatures can also be a concern post-harvest. Have a processing plan in place ahead of time to prevent meat spoilage. Additionally, if participating in a spot-and-stalk style hunt, do your research ahead of time and familiarize yourself with the terrain and challenges that may arise.

preseason is also helpful." Harvest reporting, check stations and carcass disposal neighboring landowners

In certain counties, whitetail deer must be tagged and reported within 24 hours of harvest via the Texas Hunt &

Safety is paramount

Hunters should always make safety a top priority for hunters, no matter the season.

While bows and crossbows are not firearms, they should still be treated like they are when an arrow is on the bow's string, or a bolt is cocked on a crossbow. Always keep them pointed in a safe direction and remember while handling that arrow broadheads are very sharp.

"The number one injury we see with archery hunters is people falling out of tree stands," said Kurt Kelley, Wood County game warden. "I recommend anyone hunting off the ground wear a safety harness, use a safety line while climbing and maintain three points of contact."

Licensing, hunter education and archery-specific requirements

In addition to having a valid hunting license, hunters must have an archery endorsement to hunt during the archeryonly season. Hunters 17 years or older must have completed their hunter education certification, unless they have elected to participate in the onetime deferral or were born before Sept. 2, 1971.

Hunters under 17 may

Hunters must have proof of a valid hunting license and hunter education while hunting.

Species identification and antler restrictions If hunting in an area where mule deer and white-tail deer are present, species identification and knowledge of regulations for each is very important. Some Texas counties have antler restrictions while others don't (13-inch spread or wider for white-tail deer; 20-inch spread or wider for mule deer).

Hunters may also harvest antlerless white-tail deer during the archeryonly season but may not harvest antlerless mule deer.

"Mule deer in some areas of the Panhandle offer hunters a pretty high percentage of success due to lack of pressure," said Ryan Hunter, Potter and Randall County game warden. "With them being fairly common to see, I encourage hunters to do their research ahead of time. Know the bag limits, restrictions and be able to distinguish between the two deer species open for hunting."

Public land hunting

There are multiple types of public land available for archery hunters. The managing authority for each property sets specific requirements, so be aware of those before going hunting.

To hunt on property owned or leased by Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, an Annual orange material, including orange headwear and at least 144 square inches appearing on both chest and back during daylight hours. Even if hunter orange is not required to hunt other public property, it can be beneficial to wear as other seasons can run concurrent with archery season and additional hunters can be in the woods.

Hunters should also be aware of other regulations surrounding baiting, hunting blinds, alcohol consumption and more.

Archery-only counties and county-specific ordinances

Hunters need to know which county they are hunting in and follow all state, local and federal regulations.

Texas has four archeryonly counties: Collin, Dallas, Grayson and Rockwall. These counties allow crossbows to be used during the general whitetailed deer season, Nov. 2-Jan. 5, but hunters may only use a compound, recurve or longbow during the archery-only season.

Hunters should also keep in mind that county and city municipalities may set their own ordinances such as no archery hunting within city limits or on property smaller than 10 acres.

"Regulations are updated from time to time and can sometimes be complex, especially in counties with unique requirements," said Daron Blackerby, Grayson County game warden. "If

Preparation and equipment maintenance

It's a good idea to carry basic survival gear like a first-aid kit, tourniquet, GPS, compass, zip ties, rain gear and enough water and food to get you through a day or two in case you get lost.

Know your equipment and practice with it regularly. Wardens recommend keeping bows in good working order and wearing proper safety equipment like arm guards.

"Don't buy a new bow at the beginning of September and then hunt with it opening morning," said Randy Stovall, Nacogdoches County game warden. "Practicing with it regularly will not only improve accuracy but can also help prevent accidents."

Ethical hunting practices

Ethical hunting should be the goal of every hunter. This includes knowing the target and the area around it, avoiding rushed shots or shots outside effective range, knowing equipment and ensuring quick, humane kills. Waiting at least 30 minutes before tracking a deer is also recommended.

"While we know hunters always try to do their best, sometimes things happen and a shot doesn't turn out as intended," said Zack Fisher, Childress and Hall County game warden. "In those cases, it's a good idea to have contact information for someone with a blood tracking dog. That way, if a deer runs far and you need help track-

Retrieving an animal

It is not uncommon for deer shot with a bow to travel immediately after being shot, which can mean leaving the property you have permission to hunt. Going onto someone else's property without permission from the landowner is trespassing, even if it is to retrieve your deer. If the deer crosses multiple properties, permission is needed from each landowner before entering the property.

"It's a misconception that game wardens can go onto private property to retrieve a deer for you," said Ryan McGinley, Comal County game warden. "I suggest hunters mark the fence or property line where the deer crossed and then use one of the outdoor apps that provide property owner information or go knock on the door of a house if you see one to ask for permission. Getting to know Fish app or online. For digital license holders, execution of a digital tag serves as completion of mandatory harvest reporting in applicable counties.

Hunters who harvest white-tail or mule deer within designated Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) areas must comply with mandatory testing requirements at a TPWD designated check station within 48 hours of harvest. Hunters that are within the voluntary testing areas are strongly encouraged to have their harvest tested so biologists can monitor the potential presence or spread of CWD.

Statewide carcass disposal requirements must also be followed to help reduce the risk of unintentional transmission of CWD.

Get outside

All in all, archery hunting is a unique challenge that the whole family can participate in while spending time outdoors, something game wardens also enjoy.

"I hope hunters know that as game wardens, we aren't out to get them and are here to help," said Kelley. "If you blatantly do something wrong on purpose, we will address that, but if you're trying to do the right thing, we want to help educate you and help you enjoy the outdoors just like we do."

Many of the tips above focus on regulations and the issues wardens commonly come across in the field. All hunting regulations for this year's hunting season can be found in the Texas Outdoor Annual mobile app or at OutdoorAnnual. com.

Entergy Texas welcomes fall with safety reminders Simple tips can help you avoid accidents and injuries

Special to the News-Standard

THE WOODLANDS - Although warmer weather is still lingering around, soon cooler temps will be here.

This time of year can also bring opportunities for customers to tackle home improvement or landscaping projects. As fun and gratifying as these activities can be, no one wants them to result in an accident or injury. Entergy Texas has some helpful tips for staying safe this fall.

Stay safe outdoors

The Halloween season brings children the fun of wearing costumes, enjoying candy and attending fall festivals and carnivals. The American Academy of Pediatrics offers tips to help children celebrate safely.

Prepare to welcome trick-or-treaters to your home safely by checking outdoor lights and making sure walkways and steps are well-lit and free of any tripping hazards.

Any extension cords should be specifically designated for outdoor use.

Use rubber gaskets in light sockets or hang sockets downward to keep water out and remember to turn outside lights and decorations off when you are away from home or asleep.

Help children learn about safety with videos, activities and other resources.

Keep safety first with home projects

Fall is a great time to tidy up and prep your property for winter. When cleaning up fallen leaves and branches or trimming trees, always use caution and be aware of overhead lines.

Position your ladder away from overhead wires, so trimmings will not fall onto power lines. If this happens, always assume downed wires are energized and call 1-800-ENTERGY for help.

If your fall spruce-up includes digging up flower beds, trees or shrubs, remember to call before you dig. Calling 811 before you dig will keep you safe and prevent disruption of utility services to your neighborhood.

When performing maintenance activities that require a ladder inside or out, be sure to wear proper footwear, position the ladder on a flat surface, and have someone nearby to spot you.

Daylight Saving Time ends Nov. 3

When Daylight Saving Time ends on Sunday, Nov. 3, fewer hours of daylight will make it harder to see children going to and from the school bus in the mornings and evenings. When driving, avoid distractions and watch for children in the neighborhood. The National Association for Pupil Transportation offers additional tips for ensuring children arrive to and from school safely. When setting your clocks to fall back an hour, take the time to check the batteries in your smoke alarms and carbon monoxide detectors. All homes should contain a carbon monoxide detector to help identify the colorless and odorless gas that can cause serious illness or death.

Stay safe and warm indoors

Candles can add a warm ambience to an autumn evening, but remember it is never safe to leave candles burning unattended. A small sputter or an errant flame can cause a fire in an instant.

Space heaters should only be used with caution. They are large consumers of energy and a fire hazard and should be kept at least three feet away from draperies, rugs and furniture. Additionally, homeowners who use a gas or electric furnace should schedule an appointment for service by a certified technician to make sure it is safe for operation and for greatest efficiency.

A wood-burning stove or fireplace can add warmth and coziness to a room but should also be used with caution and proper preparation. Have your chimney cleaned by a professional before the first fire is lit. Fallen leaves, animal nests and other debris can cause the smoke to vent into your home rather than outside and cause a fire.

Remember to replace dirty air filters inside and remove debris from the unit outside to ensure your HVAC unit works efficiently through all seasons.

Be ready for inclement weather

Hurricane season lasts through the end of November, so it is important to not let your guard down even when the weather begins to cool. Prepare now for severe weather that may come your way by making a plan and a kit.

Grants given to East Texas veteran service organizations

Special to the News-Standard

AUSTIN - Gov. Greg Abbott announced eight Fund for Veterans' Assistance grants totaling more than $1.4 million were awarded to eight organizations in East Texas as part of the Texas Veterans Commission's (TVC) Grants Across Texas presentations.

Presented by TVC, the funding will provide services to more than 690 veterans and their families across 38 counties.

"Texas will always stand with the brave men and women who fought for the freedoms we enjoy today," Gov. Abbott said. "These Fund for Veterans' Assistance grants will provide financial support and other crucial services to veterans and their families in East Texas. Texas is home to more veterans than any other state, and we will continue to support them to help ensure our nation's heroes prosper for generations to come."

"The Pineywoods of Texas is home

many veterans who have served our country and now call East Texas their home," said TVC Commissioner and Marine veteran Chuck Wright. "These grant awards will improve the lives of veterans in the area with important services, such as home modifications in the Housing for Texas Heroes program to transportation programs to help veterans get to their appointments and other necessities." Wright presented the grants at Habitat for Humanity of Smith County in Tyler. This is the sixth stop of Grants Across Texas. The grant presentations will continue through the second week of October with a total of 10 stops. The FVA grant recipients and their services include: • Cass County: a $300,000 grant for financial assistance

• Deep East Texas Council of Governments and Economic Development District: a $70,000 grant for financial assis-

• Habitat for Humanity of Smith County: a $250,000 grant for home modifications

• Northeast Texas Habitat for Humanity: a $230,000 grant for home modifications

• RISE-Resource Information Support and Empowerment: a $145,000 grant for transportation programs and services

• Sabine Valley Regional MHMR Center: a $145,000 grant for peer support services

• The Salvation Army - Lufkin: a $100,000 grant for financial assistance

• Trinity County: a $180,000 grant for financial assistance

In May, the governor announced 181 grants totaling over $44 million to 161 organizations across Texas. It is projected to provide direct services to more than 41,000 veterans, their dependents, and surviving spouses.

Since 2009 through the current 2024-2025 grant cycle, more than $313 million in grant funding has been awarded through 1,400 FVA grants.

The grants support a wide range of services from emergency financial assistance to transportation, legal services to family support services, and home modification to rental and mortgage assistance. The TVC awards grants in five categories: General Assistance, Housing for Texas Heroes, Veterans Mental Health Grants, Veterans Treatment Courts, and Veteran County Service Officers.

Funding for these grants is generated primarily by the Texas Lottery Commission's games designated for veteran support. Other sources of funding for the grants come from individual donation options on drivers' licenses, licenses to carry a handgun, outdoor recreation licenses for hunting and fishing, and vehicle registrations.

Texas veterans in need of assistance can find the organizations providing help in their area and how to contact them at https://tvc.texas.gov/fund.

USDA launches assistance network for distressed farmers, ranchers

Special to the News-Standard

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. – The U.S. Department of Agriculture is announcing the launch of the Distressed Borrowers Assistance Network, an initiative designed to provide personalized support to financially distressed farmers and ranchers across the nation.

Through a series of Cooperative Agreements, this national network will connect distressed borrowers with individualized assistance to help them stabilize and regain financial footing. USDA's Farm Service Agency made this announcement Sept. 21 at the Farm Aid Festival in Saratoga Springs, N.Y.

"Having someone with experiences in ag finance help producers work through financial difficulties can be the difference between them losing the farm or prospering," said FSA Administrator Zach Ducheneaux. "The Distressed Borrowers Assistance Network underscores our dedication to farmers and ranchers receiving the tailored support they need. These partnerships also illustrate that USDA acknowledges the importance of these advocates and sees them as part of the solution to ensure program access for all farmers, ranchers, and producers."

Network partners include Farm Aid, Rural Advancement Foundation International, the University of Arkansas, the Socially Disadvantaged Farmers and Ranchers Policy Center at Alcorn State University, and the University of Minnesota.

Through this initiative, the FSA is collaborating with community-based organizations to better serve financially distressed producers. Network partners will provide farm loan policy training to the community-based organizations so the organizations can work alongside FSA to help producers understand financing available through FSA, ensuring that when they visit an FSA office, the partner organization representative and FSA staff can better assist.

FSA, in collaboration with farm support organizations and land-grant institutions, will facilitate this network, which will provide the technical resources and guidance of USDA partners to experts from distressed and underserved communities. The network's approach includes integrating knowledgeable service providers to deliver one-on-one support to borrowers so they can best make plans and understand options to overcome their financial challenges.

The Distressed Borrowers Assistance Network will address the immediate needs of distressed borrowers and provide comprehensive, wraparound services aimed at addressing the unique challenges faced by financially distressed producers.

Once stabilized financially, these borrowers will be better positioned to access new opportunities and continue contributing to the agricultural economy. These investments will also build a system of service providers that can better support agricultural communities for years to come. Investing in a network of agricultural financing service providers to help bridge access to FSA loans is a benefit for rural and agricultural communities.

Additional programs

FSA recently announced significant changes to Farm Loan Programs through the Enhancing Program Access and Delivery for Farm Loans rule. These policy changes, which took effect Sept. 25, are designed to expand opportunities for borrowers to increase profitability and be better prepared to make strategic investments in enhancing or expanding their agricultural operations.

FSA also has a significant initiative underway to streamline and automate the Farm Loan Program customer-facing business process. For the over 26,000 producers who submit a direct loan application annually, FSA has made several meaningful improvements including:

• The Loan Assistance Tool that provides customers with an interactive online, stepby-step guide to identifying the direct loan products that may fit their business needs and to understanding the application process

• The Online Loan Application, an interactive, guided application that is paperless and provides helpful features including an electronic signature option, the ability to attach supporting documents such as tax returns, complete a balance sheet, and build a farm operating plan.

• An online direct loan repayment feature that relieves borrowers from the necessity of calling, mailing, or visiting a local USDA Service Center to pay a loan installment.

• A simplified direct loan paper application, reduced from 29 pages to 13 pages.

•A new educational hub with farm loan resources and videos.

USDA encourages producers to reach out to their local FSA farm loan staff to ensure they fully understand the wide range of loan making and servicing options available to assist with starting, expanding, or maintaining their agricultural operation. To conduct business with FSA, producers should contact their local USDA Service Center.

$5,000 reward offered for information on Tren De Aragua gang members

Special to the News-Standard

AUSTIN - Gov. Greg Abbott announced that the Office of the Governor's Public Safety Office is offering a reward of up to $5,000 for information leading to the identification and arrest of known or suspected members of the dangerous Venezuelan gang Tren de Aragua who have been or are involved in criminal activity and pose an increasing danger to the public safety of Texans.

"Tren de Aragua has spread terror and carnage in every country they've been in, and Texas will not allow them to gain a foothold in our state," Abbott said. "I am announcing a reward for any information that leads to the identification and arrest of known or suspected members of this gang who have been or are involved in heinous crimes. Texas will not let these thugs use our state as a base of operations to terrorize our citizens. I encourage anyone with information on Tren de Aragua to call the Texas Crime Stoppers hotline or submit an anonymous tip online. With the public's help, combined with the hard work of federal, state, and local law enforcement, we will capture these dangerous gang members and put them behind bars for good."

To be eligible for the cash rewards, tipsters must provide information to authorities using one of the following methods:

•Call the Texas Crime Stoppers hotline at 1-800-252-TIPS (8477)

•Submit a tip online through the Texas Department of Public Safety

All tips are anonymous regardless of how they are submitted, and tipsters will be provided a tip number instead of using a name. Callers' anonymity is guaranteed by law, and you could earn up to $5,000. Fugitives should be considered armed and dangerous. Texans should never try to apprehend a fugitive.

Recently, Gov. Abbott launched a comprehensive, statewide operation to aggressively target TdA to disrupt their criminal operations and deny their foothold in the state. The Governor also designated TdA as a foreign terrorist organization and directed the Texas Department of Public Safety to elevate them to a Tier 1 gang and to create a TdA Strike Team that will identify and arrest TdA gang members.

Schools mull oil change and a haircut, for a few bits

By Tony Farkas editor@trinityconews.com

TRINITY — The Trinity ISD Board of Trustees is investigating the need to institute additional Career and Technical Education programs, and heard a presentation from CTE director Misty Coleman and High School Principal Brittaney Cassidy about two schools that recently have added to their offerings.

Superintendent Dr. John Kaufman said that at the Sept. 23 board meeting, the two administrators related their finding after visiting Crockett ISD, which is in its first year, and Livingston ISD, which is in its second year after adding cosmetology and auto mechanics programs.

Kaufman also said that the district polled its students from sixth through 12th grades about participating in those classes, and of the 311 responses, 186 students, or 60.2 percent, said yes to a cosmetology program, and 179, or 59.9 percent, said yes to auto mechanics.

"We're pursuing it, looking at what we need to do to get this done," Kaufman said.

In other business, the trustees: • approved hiring a full-time LVN for the junior high and high schools, as the current provider is also a teacher and is missing too much classroom time. Kaufman said the district is now seeking qualified applicants; and

• divided 700-plus votes between candidates for the Trinity County Appraisal District board, and 28 votes for the candidates for the Walker County Appraisal District.
