Cleaning crew

Members of the Army National Guard and Air Force National guard were in Purcell Tuesday for a deep cleaning of Westbrook Gardens Senior Living Community. Administrator Sally Perry said the cleaning team was made up of guardsmen and women from across Oklahoma and is a program of the State of Oklahoma.

Westbrook Gardens Senior Living Community participated in a state-wide program for cleaning facilities across Oklahoma on Tuesday.

“We were contacted by the state and asked if we’d like to participate and we agreed,” Westbrook Gardens Administrator Sally Perry told The Purcell Register.

A unit of Oklahoma National Guardsmen and women has been assembled and that unit travels around to nursing home facilities that are participating in the program, where they deep clean the building, Perry explained.

The unit that came to Purcell Tuesday was comprised of one Oklahoma Army National Guardsmen and the rest were Oklahoma Air Guardsmen and women, she said.

Perry said they are testing staff daily for COVID-19 and are having ongoing testing for residents.

“Right now we have 100 percent of our staff that are negative for COVID,” Perry said. “We did have three residents test positive but none of them showed any symptoms.”

Perry said it is not true that one of her residents died from the virus.

“Right now we do not have any cases,” she said. “But we are on full quarantine.”

Perry said they are conducting daily screenings for temperature for any and everyone that comes into the facility including home health, hospice and they tested each of the National Guardsmen that came in for cleaning.

City pares down budget for FY2020-21

Jeanne Grimes
The Purcell Register

Purcell City Council passed a $80,797.60 equipment purchase to the 2020-21 fiscal year starting July 1.

The last-minute amendment at Monday’s meeting left the city with a $24,421,779 budget for the coming year.

That figure is a 6.5 percent drop from the FY2019-20 budget that pegged revenue at $26,125,081.

With the amendment, total estimated expenditures in the coming fiscal year are $24,783,161.

Vice mayor Danny Jacobs balked at approving the purchase in the current fiscal year, calling it “careless and reckless” to spend more than $80,000 when the city is presently operating $600,000 in the red.

“This is not an appropriate time at all. I’m a definite ‘no,’” Jacobs said.

By delaying the purchase until July 1, the city doesn’t have to dip into its emergency fund to pay for the John Deere compact track loader and a John Deere rotary cutter. A purchase order for the equipment will be issued on July 1.

The delayed purchase was approved unanimously as an

Steve Herberger eyes District 20 seat

Steve Herberger has announced his candidacy for the State House in District 20.

Steve was raised in Enid, Okla., and graduated from Enid High School before moving to Stillwater to attend OSU. He has lived in Blanchard for the last 20 years, and that is where he calls home, and where he looks forward to representing the people of his district—District 20.

In 1996, Steve started his own business: 2 Fellas & A Big Vehicle Moving Company (2 Fellas Moving Company) with a friend who he has known since he was 11 years old.

It started with a phone number and an ad in the yellow pages, and it has since expanded from Oklahoma City to Stillwater, and ultimately to a franchise, with the first location opening in Phoenix, Ariz.

Throughout the year, Steve donates both his moving services and his moving trucks to many nonprofits. Feed the Children, Catholic Charities, and Alzheimer's Foundation are just a few of the many organizations his company supports.

Steve has been married to his wife Heidi for over 20 years, and together they have reared two daughters—Sarah and Averi—who both graduated from Blanchard High School; and two-and-a-half years ago they welcomed their first grandson into the world!

Hudson, who calls Steve “Opa”, has him wrapped around his finger! Both Heidi and Sarah work with Steve at 2 Fellas Moving Company, and Averi helps out in her free time, while preparing to follow in her dad's footsteps and attend OSU this fall.

Over the last two years Steve and Heidi have dedicated their time to a local organization called CASA, which stands for Court Appointed Special Advocates. They watch over and speak up for abused and neglected children and teenagers during some of the most difficult times of their lives.

Steve is currently advocating for two boys, and Heidi, who serves on the board of directors, was recently named “Board Member of the Year.”

As the Oklahoma House of Representative for District 20, Steve, a pro-life, conservative republican who loves his country, traditional family values, and strongly supports and believes in the Second Amendment, has specific goals in mind to improve employment opportunities for everyone, and help underprivileged kids receive a higher education and career assistance if they choose not to attend college.

When Steve is not working full time or advocating for CASA, he enjoys golfing with his youngest daughter and living the “Opa” life!

Steve's quote to live by is from the former Prime Minister of New Zealand, who famously said “You get out of life what you put into it. I think you need a bit of luck but you also make a bit of luck. I think that if you're a pretty decent person you'll get back what you put in.”

Council called to award contracts

Two special meetings are planned this month for Purcell City Council.

City manager Dale Bunn told the council at Monday's meeting that the bid opening for sanitary sewer improvements at the site of the new hospital will be today (Thursday) at 11 a.m.

The first special meeting will be at noon Friday to award that contract.

The second special meeting at noon June 19 will be to award a contract for sewer line rehabilitation in the 9th Avenue alley between Pierce and Harrison Streets.

Chickasaw Nation receives HHS funds to combat COVID-19

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) through the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) awarded $1,195,132 to four organizations in Oklahoma to prepare, prevent, and respond to COVID-19 in rural tribal communities.

The Chickasaw Nation received $295,316; Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes, $300,000; Quapaw Tribe of Oklahoma, $299,816; and The Cherokee Nation, $300,000.

Nationally, $15 million was awarded to 52 Tribes, Tribal organizations, urban Indian health organizations, and other health services providers to Tribes across 20 states.

“President Trump stands with Tribal nations across the country as they grapple with COVID-19 in rural communities,” said HHS Secretary Alex Azar. “Today's funding gives Tribes critical support to build up their capacity for fighting COVID-19, boost testing capabilities, increase purchases of PPE, and hire and pay the personnel they need.”

These awards are funded through the Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security (CARES) Act that President Trump signed into law March 27, 2020. HRSA made awards to Federally Recognized Tribes and other tribal organizations based on their needs and capacity to implement COVID-19 related activities in their rural communities.

Tribes could request up to $300K in funding for these activities through the Rural Tribal COVID-19 Response (RTCR) program.

“The COVID-19 pandemic has hit many Tribal communities, particularly in rural areas, very hard,” said HRSA Administrator Tom Engels. “By directing new resources to these areas we are hoping to make a difference that will result in fewer new infections of this pernicious virus.”

The RTCR program funding allows Tribes maximum flexibility in how they respond to COVID-19 within their communities.

Activities include supporting their workforce by ensuring access to personal protective equipment (PPE) and offering overtime and hazard pay, building infrastructure to include maximizing telehealth services; increasing their capacity to test and isolate suspected COVID-19 patients, purchasing mobile clinics or vehicles for transporting COVID-19 patients to increase access to health care services and providing culturally-informed educational resources and information to promote behaviors that slow the spread of the virus.

For the complete list of Rural Tribal COVID-19 Response program award recipients, visit: www.hrsa.gov/rural-health/coronavirus/rural-tribal-covid-19-response-fy20-awards.

Van's turning 90

Van's Pig Stands, Oklahoma's oldest single family-owned Bar-B-Q restaurant, is celebrating 90 years in the business this June.

"Van's Fans are a part of our family and our history, and we love to hear their stories," said co-owner Jev Vandegrift. "Without our loyal customers, there would be no Van's Pig Stands."

Van's Pig Stands has been doing Bar-B-Q right since 1930, and has been an Oklahoma tradition for decades.

Famous for their hickory-smoked ribs, brisket, and Pig Sandwiches, customers across the state and even across the country consider Van's among the nation's top barbecue restaurants. There are currently five Van's Pig Stands locations including two in Shawnee and one in Norman, Moore and Purcell.

"It has been an honor to serve generations of families," co-owner Nina Shuman said. "Just like our grandparents, we plan to continue serving delicious family-friendly BBQ for generations to come."

"Good food, friendly faces, and faithful service to our customers have been part of our mission," co-owner Mark Shuman said. "From drive-up to drive-through from call-ahead to online ordering for 90 years, we have continued to innovate how we serve our customers."

Van's Pig Stands has been a Vandegrift family tradition since the 1920s. Leroy Vandegrift got his start in the restaurant business while working in the oilfields in early 1900's by selling breakfast and lunch to his co-workers in the oil field.

In 1928, Leroy opened his first Van's Pig Stand in Wewoka. That same year his brother, Briggs, opened a Van's Pig Stand in Wichita Falls, TX. They opened another pair in 1929, in Seminole and Wichita, KS.

On June 5, 1930, Leroy opened his third Pig Stand location at 714 Highland in Shawnee, which moved across the street to its present location five years later. Wanting to keep Van's a family-owned and operated business, Leroy passed the restaurant onto his son, Jerry Vandegrift. The family tradition continues into 2020.

The day-to-day operations are now managed by the third generation, which includes Jerry's son, Jev Vandegrift, and Jerry's daughter and son-in-law, Mark and Nina Shuman. This long-standing family tradition makes Van's Pig Stands the oldest single family-owned and operated Bar-B-Q restaurant in the State of Oklahoma.

"It was from humble beginnings my father started Van's," said Jerry Vandegrift, the Head Hog. "For coming up on a century, folks have looked to Van's to fill their bellies in good times and bad times, and we don't plan on stopping."

“Protesting”

The killing of George Floyd is an atrocity.

An atrocity. Words are difficult to come by to describe barbaric actions of some people in numerous American cities, including Oklahoma City, over the past few days.

It's one thing to cry foul when a police officer acts the way Derek Chauvin did to George Floyd.

Chauvin went from being a police officer to also being the prosecutor, judge and jury.

It would be one thing to march in the streets and hold prayer services and candle light services to commemorate the life that was taken.

But to burn businesses and steal merchandise under the guise of protesting?

How is that paying tribute to George Floyd?

Editor's Notebook

John D. Montgomery

How is looting and burning a protest?

It's just a ruse to commit further criminal acts, which dates back to the 1960s when Martin Luther King was murdered.

That's when Washington D.C. and other cities were set on fire.

What's changed? Nothing. On both sides of the ball.

People of color should not have to fear for their lives.

But likewise, businesses should not have to fear for burning and looting.

Thing is, the playing field isn't level.

Over the Memorial Day Weekend 28 blacks were killed in Chicago alone. By blacks.

No “protesting” about those poor victims.

Doesn't make it right. 28 families lost sons, husbands, brothers and uncles.

Awful, but there were no riots or looting.

Why are those lives worth less than George Floyd?

And the protesting is spreading world-wide.

Amazing.

We need for people to act in a civil manner, especially in times of strife.

So far, it isn't happening.

Someone tell me now

Why do we keep climbing Fools' Hill?

I am convinced the world has gone nuts.

Why are so many people determined to roll back the progress made in civil rights 50 to 60 years ago?

Someone tell me. Please. Eating ice cream and watching TV in one's home with the door unlocked isn't a crime.

And yet the man who did just that was murdered by a police officer who claimed later she thought he was in her apartment.

Jogging isn't a crime. Until two armed vigilantes decide it is and chase you down in a pickup and execute you on the spot.

Sleeping in your own bed in your own home isn't a crime. Until armed officers break in and kill you while searching for a suspect who is already in jail on another offense. A suspect who has zero connection to you or your home.

Playing video games with your young nephews in your own home isn't a crime. Until someone calls police and reports something “suspicious” at your address.

MUCH ADO

Jeanne Grimes

When officers arrive, they creep around peering in windows and thinking they are burglars, you get a gun to protect your nephews and your property. You are gunned down for your trouble.

Making deliveries is not a crime. You attempt to deliver furniture to a home in a gated development and are stopped by angry vigilantes. They have guns and block your truck so you can't leave.

Peaceful protests are not a crime. Until thugs show up and mob mentality takes over. That's how riots, destruction and looting start.

As a nation, we know this. So why does it continue to happen? Someone tell me.

A blue uniform and a badge don't preclude someone being a thug anymore than having skin of another color precludes someone being a good, decent person.

What is so hard about that? Someone tell me.

What I do know is this: when vigilantes take the law into their own hands, justice for all goes out the window. When those charged with protecting and serving the rest of us commit felonies in the line of duty, we as a nation built on equal measures of responsibility and personal liberty are in serious trouble.

And when we allow politicians for their own selfish gain to set us against one another like bloodied dogs in the pit, we are doomed.

So why do we keep climbing this Fools' Hill?

Someone tell me now.

NEWS FROM CAPITOL HILL

The people's house can show up

Congressman Tom Cole

While the coronavirus crisis has caused unthinkable disruptions and challenges nationwide, this is not the first time in history that Congress has navigated extraordinary circumstances and still preserved the longstanding traditions imagined by our Founding Fathers.

Throughout numerous emergencies and disasters in our nation's history, the American people have always been able to count on their elected representatives to be their voice. Indeed, even amid such crises as the Civil War and the 1918 influenza pandemic, members of Congress have still shown up and been physically present for their essential work in Washington.

To be clear, slowing and ultimately stopping a pandemic requires cooperation from us all in following precautions and guidance set forth by our health and government officials at any given point in time.

Though the COVID-19 pandemic has kept large portions of the U.S. population at home to slow the spread of the disease, there are many Americans whose jobs have become critically important to us all.

We are truly indebted to those who have gotten up each day, left their houses and gone out to fulfill several key roles.

Tremendous courage has indeed been on full display by those fighting on the front lines of this crisis. We see it in our doctors, nurses and health care workers, who are risking their own lives every day to treat COVID-19 patients.

We see it in those transporting essential supplies and making critical deliveries. We see it in our farmers and ranchers monitoring our food supply, along with workers in food processing facilities, meat packing plants and grocery stores, who are ensuring we have food to eat.

We see it also in our military service members, who are still in the field protecting us at home and abroad.

If these Americans can take on the risk and serve selflessly throughout this crisis and if the White House can continue to go to work every day, so too should Congress.

Although there are appropriate adjustments and precautions that should be taken to continue operations safely, both chambers of Congress are still capable of doing their essential work in person, as our forefathers certainly intended.

In fact, the U.S. Senate has now returned three weeks in a row for legislative session.

Even though the U.S. House of Representatives has held floor votes at a safe social distance and even successfully adapted in-person hearings on many occasions, House Democrats recently decided to erase more than 230 years of constitutional precedent

MOVIES WITH DAVE

As if 2020 wasn't already eventful years in decades, it had to throw in at least one more curveball for good measure.

I say “at least one more” because the year isn't even halfway over yet, and there's still a Presidential election coming up.

To those out protesting night after night, all I have to say to you is please be safe.

I know the vast majority of you are peacefully assembling,

News from District 43

• Senator Paul Scott •

Congratulations, Class of 2020!

A little time has passed since Memorial Day, but in light of the current news and world events, it's important that we all pray for our state, nation, first responders and law enforcement officers.

It's especially important that we remember all of the brave souls who laid down their lives for the freedom we enjoy today. We live in the home of the free because of the brave.

I attended Memorial Day events in Blanchard, Newcastle and Dibble in the northern part of the district. It was a privilege to attend their ceremonies, and I was honored to speak and express words of gratitude for the sacrifices made by our fallen soldiers and their families.

Your rights to a public education, to worship, vote and so many other freedoms were paid for with the blood of our service members. Memorial Day is a time to remember and honor their service and sacrifice. We will never forget it!

Another special group I would like to address is our graduating class of 2020. I know these past few months have been tough for our state and businesses, but an especially challenging time for our graduating seniors.

I cannot imagine how hard it's been to miss out on the many special events of senior year. I remember the events when my kids were graduating and how special of a time it was.

However, overcoming adversities in life is part of learning and growing, and I believe the class of 2020 will come out stronger for what they are going through today.

Dealing with the COVID-19 pandemic has taught us all an important life lesson - we must always be prepared for the unknown. It hasn't been an easy thing to get through for any of us, so I applaud the strength and creativity of our seniors during this difficult time to keep moving forward.

This is such an exciting time in their lives to spread their wings and fully embrace life. Whether our students are going straight into the workforce or continuing their education through career tech or college, it's a chapter of growth and maturity worth celebrating.

With the unrest in today's society, I'm challenging each of our seniors to be the change they wish to see in the world. It takes action to bring about real change, and I hope our future leaders will set their minds to make their mark.

Many have heard the saying, “if you can dream it you can achieve it.” To the class of 2020: believe in yourself, find your dream and your passion then reach for it! Do not be afraid of success. Let God use you to be a light in this world in whatever direction you choose.

“For I know the plans I have for you, declares the Lord, “plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future.” Jeremiah by pushing through a partisan plan to allow proxy voting and remote committee proceedings.

While I understand that there are real concerns about continuing in-person operations amid a pandemic, I don't think those concerns should fundamentally change how the House conducts official business, excusing members from their usual duties.

Moreover, any effort to change centuries-old rules of the House should be clearly bipartisan—no matter how difficult that may be to achieve. I regret that was not the case with the Democrats' partisan scheme pushed through last week with no Republican votes whatsoever.

After forming a bipartisan working group tasked with considering and arriving at changes to operations that would be acceptable on both sides of the aisle, it is particularly disappointing that Democrats abandoned those negotiations and charged on full speed ahead.

As Ranking Member of the House Rules Committee, I was directly involved in those bipartisan discussions on behalf of Republicans, alongside Republican Leader Kevin McCarthy and House Administration Committee Ranking Member Rodney Davis.

In fact, while discussions were still ongoing, we proposed four strategies for reopening the People's House that would not only enable lawmakers to safely and fully perform their key functions for the American people but also protect longstanding traditions and precedents of the institution.

Unfortunately, House Democrats opted to make history, but not for better and not in the best interest of the American people. Though they claim their plan to allow proxy voting and remote committee work is only temporary, it's a risky move that isn't constitutionally sound.

Not to mention, even temporary solutions become the precedents we follow and can't undo tomorrow. In the days ahead, I fear there will be severe consequences of allowing one single member to cast votes for up to 10 absent colleagues and shifting committee business to take place remotely—including challenges of validity in the courts sooner or later.

According to the Merriam-Webster Dictionary, the very definition of "congress" is the "act or action of coming together and meeting." While I appreciate that technology can keep us connected in many ways unimaginable to our forebearers, I don't think that gives members free reign now to substitute precious traditions for selfish convenience or to abdicate the personal responsibility of casting an in-person vote to another.

That is a grave disservice to constituents from every congressional district, who elected and entrusted their representais admirable and I fully support you.

To the police, National Guard members, and potentially the United States military, I would remind you that the people protesting are not your enemy.

Despite the rhetoric from our President, these men and women aren't domestic terrorists that must be "dominated." These are your neighbors. The people you should be sworn to protect.

Responding in force will only escalate this conflict further. Lethal force will only lead to more bloodshed. We've seen this ploy far too many times throughout our nation's history. I don't wish to see it again.

Officers, I beg you, please show patience and restraint during these trying times.

And one more thing to members of law enforcement. Please, for goodness sake, stop assaulting and arresting journalists.

Freedom of the press is guaranteed by the highest law in the land. You aren't above the law. These are the acts of authorities seen in totalitarian regimes. To see this kind of behavior in the United States is appalling.

These kinds of actions, including arresting a reporter live on cable news and assaulting a reporter and her cameraman so the President can get a photo op, should be offensive to anyone who supports the Constitution, and every American who values a free and open society.

Now I suppose I should probably talk about a couple movies since this is a movie column. Even if the nation is on fire right now.

This time around I saw a low budget sci-fi mystery set in the '50s, plus the tale of a struggling personal assistant who one day dreams of becoming a music producer.

Let's get to the reviews.

First up is "The Vast of Night." In the twilight of the 1950s, on one fateful night in New Mexico, a young, winsome switchboard operator Fay (Sierra McCormick) and charismatic radio DJ Everett (Jake Horowitz) discover a strange audio frequency that could change their small town and the future forever.

Dropped phone calls, AM radio signals, secret reels of tape, switchboards, crossed patchlines and an anonymous phone call lead Fay and Everett on a scavenger hunt toward the unknown.

What a rare treat this movie was.

It's not everyday you run across a new low budget science fiction film that impresses as well as this movie does.

One of the biggest elements that stand out here is the dialogue, most of which is between Fay and Everett.

Lines of dialogue come flying at the audience a mile a minute. It's like something you'd see from an Aaron Sorkin production, which I mean as the highest of compliments.

I love Sorkin's writing in films like "The Social Network," or more recently "Molly's Game," and the pacing of the dialogue in this film has a very similar feel. It gives such a wonderful rhythm to the overall film.

Of course great dialogue would be nothing without talented actors to perform it. Lucky Sierra McCormick and Jake Horowitz, who play Fay and Everett, do a fantastic job portraying the movie's leads.

The two of them have such a wonderful chemistry together and I loved the scenes in the beginning where it was nothing but them talking and interviewing each other.

I think I could listen to Fay and Everett chat about radio and tape recorders all day long and never get bored.

Speaking of tape recorders, this whole production feels like a love letter to old fashioned audio and radio equipment of the 1950s. Not only does the retro tech make for interesting looking set dressing, it's integral to the plot and how the story itself unfolds.

I love seeing the mechanics of all the old equipment. From the manually operated telephone switchboard filled with dozens of quarter inch audio jacks, to the giant reel-to-reel tape recorders which nearly take up an entire suitcase.

There's just something a little magical about the satisfying clicks made by all the devices with their giant plugs and switches. As someone who grew up at the beginning of the digital era, it's really cool to see all this equipment in use.

And not only does this movie sound good. It looks great as well.

The framing and the cinematography shown off here are ridiculously impressive. One moment in particular about 30 minutes into the film had my jaw on the floor.

In one, seemingly continuous take, the camera travels from Fay at the phone switchboard, all the way across town to inside the high school gym during a basketball game with dozens of extras. And if that weren't enough, the camera then exits the gym and goes all the way to the radio station where Everett is performing his nightly broadcast.

The scene is gratuitous, and frankly completely unnecessary for the story, but my goodness is it cool to watch.

Really, this three minute plus long scene is more of a showcase to the talent of the film's cinematographer, M.I. Littin-Menz, and the ambition of the movie's director, Andrew Patterson.

You wouldn't know it by the quality of the production, but this is actually the first feature film from not only Patterson, but also from the movie's co-writers James Montague and Craig W. Sanger. All three of which are Oklahoma natives.

It's an incredibly impressive first outing for the trio and I think it's great to see this kind of local representation in the movie making business.

That said, not everyone's perfect. And if I did have a complaint, it would be with how parts of the mystery unfolds here.

The movie basically explains everything, and I mean everything, in two long, slightly drawn out exposition dumps. Scenes where one character goes on and on, telling their life history for minutes on end, all with barely a word of interruption save for the occasional question from either Fay or Everett.

Both moments grind the movie's pacing to a screeching halt. This is especially noticeable thanks to the fast paced conversations seen throughout the rest of the film.

I don't mind it when a movie decides to slow down a little, and give the viewer a moment to catch their breath. But these two scenes just drag on way too long.

Still, these moments far from ruin the movie.

Overall, I found watching this film a deeply compelling experience. One that I could hardly look away from. If you love science fiction, fast paced Sorkin-esque dialogue, or have an interest in retro 1950s technology, this movie will be right up your alley. Heck, even if you're just someone interested in supporting local talent, this movie is well worth a watch.

"The Vast of Night" is rated PG-13 and is available to stream on Amazon Prime Video.

The other movie this week is "The High Note." Set in the dazzling world of the LA music scene comes the story of Grace Davis (Tracee Ellis Ross), a superstar whose talent, and ego, have reached unbelievable heights. Maggie (Dakota Johnson) is Grace's overworked personal assistant who's stuck running errands, but still aspires to her childhood dream of becoming a music producer.

When Grace's manager (Ice Cube) presents her with a choice that could alter the course of her career, Maggie and Grace come up with a plan that could change their lives forever.

It's rare I run across a movie with such a misleading synopsis directly from the studio.

From the description above, you'd probably think that the movie focuses mostly on Grace, her point of view as a character, and her career as a music artist slightly past her prime.

And to be fair, Grace does play a prominent role in the film. But she's hardly the main character though.

This movie is about Maggie, her struggles as an underappreciated assistant for an out of touch egomaniac of a boss, and her trying to fulfill her dreams despite having an employer who rarely thinks of anyone but herself.

The synopsis doesn't even mention the film's other main character, David (Kelvin Harrison Jr.). A man who is a talented singer in his own right, Maggie's first client as a producer, and Maggie's love interest in the dang movie.

But I suppose none of that makes a guy worth a mention when writing the description for your movie. Even if your film is a romance.

I swear there's something annoyingly unfocused about this movie, and the synopsis only serves to showcase that.

It's like the film doesn't know what it wants to be about, so in the end it doesn't build towards any kind of satisfying conclusion.

To be fair, I enjoyed the romantic elements of the movie. I liked seeing Dakota and Kelvin's characters bouncing off each other and I thought they had decent chemistry together.

I think I would have enjoyed the film a lot more if it was just focused on the two of them, even if it would have still fallen into using some annoyingly common rom-com tropes, like someone pretending to be someone they're not.

But of course, the filmmakers had to make everything revolve around Grace.

It seems the writer thought we'd care about Grace despite her being completely out-of-touch, and shockingly callous to her employees, especially Maggie.

I'd go as far to say that Grace is the movie's main antagonist. Yet despite her numerous bouts of pure cruelty, she is allowed to be fully redeemed in the end after the most conceded of apologies. I guess the moral of the story is if you're rich enough, people will forgive you no matter how big of a jerk you are.

The movie tries to make up its unfocused narrative by offering up a surprise at the end. One that I'll admit I didn't see coming.

But the entirety of the film's conclusion feels rushed. I wanted a chance to absorb this dramatic shift, but apparently the filmmakers didn't see fit in giving the audience that chance.

I guess pointlessly focusing on Grace's career, which hardly plays into anything at all in the end, was more important than crafting a satisfying ending for your movie.

I'm probably being overly harsh here. I didn't hate watching "The High Note," I just found it horribly unengaging for the most part. A cardinal sin for a film attempting to charge $19.99 for a 48 hour rental.

I suppose those desperate for a new romance to watch might find something to like here. Otherwise, despite some decent performances and a smattering of catchy tunes, this film's narrative is off key to the point of being annoying.

"The High Note" is rated PG-13 and is available to rent for $19.99 on video-on-demand.

Witzkes to celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

Long time Purcell residents, Leo L. and Patricia A. Witzke will celebrate 50 years of marriage on June 12.

The two long-time southwest Kansas residents met in the early spring of 1970 and after an abbreviated courtship were married at the Liberal Menonite Church by then pastor Bill Stucky.

The two quickly settled into life, raising five children in Liberal and rural Turpin before relocating to Purcell after Leo's retirement.

Mr. and Mrs. Witzke both worked in Liberal for many years. Mr. Witzke was employed by the U.S. Postal Service where he retired after 35 years of service.

Mrs. Witzke worked at both USD 480 and The Landmark Center, for its director, Oliver Brown. She subsequently earned certification as a Registered Nurse from Seward County Community College and went into practice upon relocation.

The couple has lived in Purcell for more than 20 years and have five children, 15 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

In light of the COVID-19 pandemic, no gathering will be held to celebrate the occasion. In lieu of a celebration, the children are organizing a card shower and request that all well-wishers send cards and letters of congratulations to the Witzkes at their home address in Purcell.

Cards and letters can be mailed to Leo and Patricia Witzke, PO Box 914, Purcell, OK 73080.

Here is a really good recipe from Joanna Gaines new book Magnolia Table Volume Two.

Friendsgiving Casserole
 1 baguette torn into 1-inch pieces (about 6 cups)
 7 tablespoons unsalted butter
 1/2 cup minced yellow onion
 1/2 cup minced celery
 1 garlic clove, minced
 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
 1 teaspoon garlic salt
 1 teaspoon kosher salt
 1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
 1 1/2 cups heavy (whipping) cream
 5 cups shredded cooked chicken breast (home-roasted or rotisserie chicken)
 1 cup sour cream
 2 cups chicken broth
 Freshly cracked black pepper, for serving

Lay the torn bread on a sheet pan and place it in a warm oven until dried out, 1 hour on low heat.

Preheat the oven to 325°. In a medium saucepan, melt 3 tablespoons of the butter over medium heat. Add the onion and celery and sauté until tender and translucent, 6 to 8 minutes.

Add the garlic and flour and cook, whisking constantly, until fragrant but not burned, about 1 minute. Add the garlic salt, salt, and pepper and slowly pour in the cream. Cook, whisking often, until just at a simmer, about 5 minutes.

Spread the chicken in a 9 x 13-inch baking dish and spread the sour cream on top. Pour the cream sauce evenly on top and sprinkle on the bread cubes. Melt the remaining 4 tablespoons butter, mix it with the chicken broth, and pour it over the casserole, coating the bread well.

Bake, uncovered, until bubbling, about 30 minutes. Broil the last 3 or 4 minutes for a good toasty top. Top with freshly cracked pepper and a sprinkle of minced green onions and parsley, if desired.

Scoop out the casserole to serve with mashed potatoes, green beans, and cranberry sauce on the side.

Store in an airtight container in the refrigerator for 3 to 5 days.

Brock Harmon returns three first quarter interceptions for touchdowns

For the second straight week, Washington's football game took a weird turn.

With six minutes to go in their 2013 homecoming tilt with Hinton, a Comet player was injured. After a lengthy delay to have the player properly transported to a hospital, officials called game with Washington winning 57-14.

It was just last week the Warriors had to travel to Hobart on both Friday and Saturday to complete a game with the Bearcats.

The tide was turned in the opening quarter when Brock Harmon set a national high school record with three interception returns all for touchdowns.

"It was great for Brock to make the interceptions but he doesn't score without a lot of key blocking," head coach Brad Beller said.

On his first interception for a score, Brandon Frizell blocked two Hinton players to spring Harmon.

"Brandon had a chance to pick off one guy early but didn't decide to pancake him," Beller said. "He allowed another player to get closer and then blocked both of them.

"It was amazing how we transitioned from defense to offense on those interceptions," the coach continued.

"On one of his touchdowns all four of our defensive linemen picked off a player while Brock was on his way to the end zone," Beller said.

He was referring to the key blocks thrown by Taylor Adkins, Logan Fertic, Andrew Wilkerson and Josh Baldwin. "It was a total team effort that allowed him to score on all three picks," Beller said.

Amanda Graddy stands just 5-foot-5 and could be considered a pixie. But, make no doubt about it. She was a monster on the basketball court and on the softball field.

Graddy is a graduating senior from Lexington High School who carried a marvelous 3.57 grade point average throughout her prep career.

Moreover, she earned several accolades not only in the classroom but on the court and in the field.

The list is lengthy, to say the least. In basketball, she was the Canadian Valley Conference Most Valuable Player her senior year.

She was the Grady County Tournament MVP her senior year, too.

Graddy was chosen for the all-tournament team at the Heatly Tournament in Lindsay during both her junior and senior seasons. She made the Big 8 all-tournament team twice and she was an all-academic all-star athlete for 2018-19.

Graddy was named one of the top 100 basketball players in the state of Oklahoma by VYPE magazine. She joined the 1,000-point club at Lexington along with teammate Lauren Beason her senior season.

In addition, Graddy was named an honorable mention selection to The Oklahoman's Little All-City team and she made the Oklahoma Coaches Association (OCA) all-star team.

And, that's just for basketball.

Graddy accomplished more honors during her softball career. She was her fast-pitch district's second baseman of the year during her senior season. She was also the 2018 slow-pitch co-defensive MVP her junior season.

Graddy was instrumental as a point guard for Derek Clark's Lady Bulldogs. During her senior year, she averaged 16.3 points per game along with 4.5 assists per contest. She also averaged 2.2 steals per game.

Over her basketball career with Lex, Graddy scored 17.3 points per contest.

"Amanda is an amazing player and person," Clark said of Graddy, who will be going to Southwestern College in Winfield, Kan., on a scholarship. "She was our point guard and team leader. She set the tone for us on the court during practice and in games. She is really fun to watch play."

Under Lexington head softball coach Kayla Stewart, Graddy was also a stout performer for her softball squad.

She hit for a career .307 batting average and, as a pitcher for the slow-pitch seasons, she excelled with 57 wins against 31 losses.

"I feel very accomplished," Graddy said. "I was really excited for my senior year. But, I wasn't expecting it to be cut short. We had planned on going to state in the spring in slow-pitch. Our seniors weren't ready for it to be over. It happened unexpectedly but it's just something we had to deal with."

When the Covid-19 epidemic struck the United States in February, everything in local sports came to a screeching halt soon after in the middle of March. Graddy and every senior at Lexington was disappointed with the way the 2020 school year unceremoniously had to end.

"It's an amazing feeling to know that I accomplished so much," Graddy said. "But, personally, it was very hard for me in the beginning of the shutdown. It was my senior year and I just wasn't ready to leave my friends yet—knowing that we would all be going our separate

Purcell gridders on the job

Workouts began Monday on staggered schedule

Purcell football players began summer workouts Monday.

That's the word from head coach Tracy Scott with juniors and seniors working out from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m.

Sophomores and freshmen are going from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. with junior high players working out from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m.

"They will have to have a face covering," Scott said. "A bandana will work. If they want something to drink they will have to bring their own."

Players will be responsible for bringing their own towels.

"It's staggered to keep numbers low," the coach continued. "We will follow the new OS-SAA guidelines."

Wayne also started on Monday with the varsity going at 8 a.m. and the Middle School at 10 a.m., according to head coach Brandon Sharp.

Washington returns to play with guidelines for safety

Angie Steele
Washington Correspondent

In light of the current situation regarding COVID-19, Washington Public Schools has released the following guidelines for the summer of 2020.

Clarification on the guidelines can be directed to the head coach of your sport or administration. This policy is a basic guideline for returning students to campus for Extracurricular Activities. At any time, there may be a "sudden stop or adjustment" based on health guidelines from federal, state and local agencies.

The risk of having contact with individuals who have been exposed to or have been diagnosed with one or more infectious diseases, including but not limited to COVID-19 or other medical conditions, viruses, or maladies, does exist.

It is impossible to eliminate the risk that a person could be exposed to or become infected through contact with or close proximity with an individual with a contagious disease. With this assumed risk, parents should know we are taking every precaution necessary to provide the safest environment for our students and staff.

Coaches are being instructed that athletes who do not attend because they or their parents are not comfortable with the health risks will not receive any consequences or be held responsible in the future for non-participation.

Established Safety Measures:

1. Each person entering a school facility or gathering will have their temperature checked upon arrival by a touchless thermometer. Any individual with a temperature registering 100.4 degrees or above will not be permitted to stay. If a high fever is detected, you must have a doctor's note or a negative test to return.

2. If any person is showing signs related to COVID-19, they will be required to return home and encouraged to speak with their primary care doctor.

3. A record of all students and coaches in attendance for that time and day will be kept via sign in, attendance sheet, etc.

4. Hand sanitizer will be available at all times.

5. A majority of student participation should be done outside if at all possible. Obviously, this is not possible with all sports, but it should be done where it can be. Appropriate distancing when meeting, working out, etc. is required.

6. Facilities and equipment will be sanitized before and after use. Participants will be required to use hand sanitizer or wash their hands properly.

7. Athletes/Participants will need to bring their own water bottle and are asked to not share with anyone under any circumstance. Locker rooms will not be used.

8. No sharing of towels, gloves, headphones, or any other personal equipment is allowed.

9. Coaches/Sponsors will be instructed that open gyms, batting cage work, etc. will only be available if the coach is in attendance to monitor and ensure sanitary conditions. Set times will be announced.

10. Normal OSSAA policies are in effect for summer extracurricular activities.

11. Until further notice, No parents or fans in attendance at WPS facilities. June 1-7, Planning and acclimation period (Pending State of Oklahoma Entering Phase 3 of the Open Up & Recover Safely Plan)

- HS & MS students can participate in "small group" settings for activities on campus and in school facilities with coaches/sponsors present. Current CDC guidelines for small group gatherings are 1-10. (coaches will communicate times, etc.)
- Cheer tryouts may take place during this time period, in a small organized setting, that is closed to the public. (practice guidelines will fall along the lines of other sports - information on website, etc.)
- A "Team Camp" with only WPS enrolled student/athletes can be conducted during this time. Each camp should consist of fundamentals of the sport with no scrimmaging or contact between players. This time should allow players to prepare for full Team Camps with other teams at a later date. No travel to an off-campus site for Team Camp is permitted during this time.

June 8- June 28

- Performance Course begins on June 8 (M, Tu, W, Th) Last day is July 30. HS Boys 7-9:15 a.m. HS & JH Girls 9:15-10:45 a.m. JH Boys 11 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Cost is $100.

Performance Course session information: (information forms will also be passed out by coaches)

<https://oklahoma.performancecourse.com/school-district/washington-schools>

Performance Course safety information: (under register now tab) <https://oklahoma.performancecourse.com/>

- Outside Team Camps, Summer Leagues, etc. These will possibly be allowed during this period, pending the State of Oklahoma moving to Phase 3 of the state's reopening plan, but we will have to wait to hear official word from the state. Coaches are free to schedule team camps, summer leagues, etc. within this policy, as long as players and parents are notified that phase 3 may be delayed by the state, which would cause camps and summer leagues to be canceled.

June 29 - July 5 DEAD PERIOD

- The OSSAA dead period is in effect June 29-July 5. No athletic activities will be allowed during this period, and no contact between players and coaches and campus facilities are closed to everyone.

If the OSSAA decides at their next board meeting to negate the dead period for this year, this time period will fall into the category below.

July 6 - July 31

- Participation may continue to include weights/conditioning and or practices/open gyms/etc. (normal OSSAA guidelines per sport)
- July 15 is the start date for fall sports in terms of practice (with the exception of football)
- Normal fall semester first practice start dates:

- * July 15 - Fast Pitch, Cross Country
- * August 6- Physicals more information sent out later
- * August 10 - Football
- * October 1 - Basketball

Washington Graduation
Washington Public Schools has received information from the State of Oklahoma Governor Kevin Stitt and the Oklahoma State Department of Education, providing initial guidance for the resumption of school activities.

We appreciate our students, parents, and community for demonstrating patience as we diligently consider the guidance provided and make the best decision. Please remember the safety of our students and staff is of the utmost importance as we work to provide a graduation ceremony for our graduating class of 2020.

The WPS Board of Education approved the revised 2020 Graduation plan during a special board meeting on May 12. Our revised plan attempts to take into consideration current conditions while planing for the unknown.

An in-person, public 2020 Graduation ceremony is scheduled for Saturday, June 20, at 9:30 a.m. Graduation will be held outdoors on Reed Field. Attendees will be asked to abide by health guidelines that meet the current conditions on the date of the ceremony. Washington Schools will follow the Governor's Open Up & Recover Safely three-phase plan.

Graduation procedures and health precautions will be adjusted to meet the conditions on the date of graduation. Washington Schools will communicate expectations in advance of the commencement. Students, staff, parents and the community should be prepared to adjust graduation procedures and health precautions to meet the existing public health conditions on the date of graduation.

If health conditions prevent public graduation on June 20, an alternate date of July 25 has been scheduled.

Should all in-person graduation options be canceled, Washington Public Schools shall host a virtual 2020 Graduation ceremony on Saturday, July 25, at 9:30 a.m. This ceremony will be streamed online. The district will post a link to the virtual ceremony on our website and send out communication through media outlets. The purpose of the virtual ceremony is to ensure that our graduates have some form of graduation regardless of future COVID-19 conditions.

Washington Prom
Washington's High School Prom will be held at Southwind Hills on Monday, June 15, from 8 to 11 p.m. After-prom will be held at the Washington High School facility from midnight to 3 a.m. There will not be a public promenade due to COVID-19 concerns.

Washington Summer Meal Program
Washington School will offer a grab and go weekly meals on Tuesdays weekly from 9:30-11:30 a.m. now through June 29. Each student will receive five breakfasts and five lunches.

Washington Pre-K and Kindergarten Enrollment
All day Pre-K and kindergarten enrollment has begun at Washington Public Schools. Pre-K spots are limited. You can enroll your student online at https://www.wps-isd.com/233653_2 or you can pick up an enrollment form at the Fourth and Fifth Grade Center, Monday-Thursday from 8-11:45 a.m.

If you have any questions, please contact 288-6190.

School Board Election Date Change

The Washington School Board Election has been changed to June 30 due to the COVID-19 outbreak.

Dale K. Graham Veterans Foundation

As we are waiting to reopen our Veterans Foundation many of you have contacted me or other volunteers wanting to know when we will be able to begin assisting veterans and their families.

We are aware of the financial difficulties many people are facing after they have lost their jobs through no fault of their own. We are hoping we will be able to start our programs soon. As our volunteers and the veterans we serve are mostly over 60 years of age and older, we have an obligation to plan our reopening with everyone's safety in mind.

We do know we will not be able have business as usual. The number of people in our building at any one time is going to be reduced. There will also be safety measures in place to protect both volunteers and veterans. Personally, I do not know how long this new way of business doing will last, or if it will ever return to what it was before. One of the changes that will be implemented is we will have a system for veterans and surviving spouses to schedule an appointment.

We would like to introduce you to board member Marlon T. James. Mr. James is a native of Oklahoma City, where he attended Northwest Classen High School. Upon graduating from Northwest, Marlon attended Langston University on an academic scholarship. While enrolled at Langston, Marlon simultaneously served in the Oklahoma National Guard and was a cadet in the ROTC program at the University of Central Oklahoma (UCO).

He successfully graduated with a Bachelor of Business Administration in Business Management from Langston and days later, received his commission from UCO, as a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army. After graduation, Marlon entered active duty and has been stationed all around the world.

Throughout his 23-years in the Armed Forces, he has held positions of increased responsibility in management, human resources, operations, and leadership. Marlon was fortunate to command two companies, including one in combat where he was awarded the Bronze Star with "Valor" due to his actions.

Now retired from the Army, he is currently employed with the Department of Defense as a Program Analyst in the Strategic Planning Unit, located at Tinker Air Force Base. He is also an adjunct professor at the University of Oklahoma.

Marlon most recently completed a Master of Arts in Management and Leadership degree from Webster University. He is also a proud and active member Pam Kyzersang “God’s Love Never Changes” and Debbie Clark sang “For Those Tears I Died” for the specials at our morning service.

Brother Dennis used Hebrews 12:3-11 for his sermon and told of “The Discipline of God.”

Discipline is an essential tool in the believer’s life and the race we run. God equips and powers us and is an active part in our race. We are to contemplate or observe intently what Christ went through and what He did for us.

When God chastens us, He does it for instruction. This is proof that we belong to Him. He never disciplines wrong. It is for our good. Discipline produces joy but is grievous when we go through it.

The evening message told the characteristics of a friend. Proverbs 18:24 and 17:17 were some of the verses used. A true friend is consistent and honest. God has given us a friend in Jesus. He is a true friend. If you know Christ you are never alone. What a friend we have in Jesus!

We finished our service with the observance of the Lord’s Supper.

Sunray has decided to resume all services. Sunday school for all ages will meet again at 9:45 a.m. Sunday morning worship is at 10:50 a.m. Evening worship begins at 5 p.m. Wednesday Bible study is at 6:30 p.m. We will resume our study of Zechariah.

Noted southern gospel singer and songwriter Mark Bishop from Irvine, Ky., will return to Purcell for the seventh time on Saturday, June 27, at 6 p.m. to headline Sunray’s annual SummerSing. He will be appearing along with The Williamsons from Wetumka.

Mark has been in gospel music since 1984. Many remember the beginning of his career when he sang with his brother Kenny and dad Kenneth as the family group The Bishops. They enjoyed enormous success across all outlets with 27 national top 40 songs, including 12 top 5 songs and 2 number ones.

Since embarking on a solo career in 2002, Mark has not missed a beat. He has been

The History of the Church (Part 2)

Good day to all. Welcome to the “front porch.”

The case we have before us here may best be stated in the form of a question: What happened from 33 A.D. – when Christ establishes His church on the Day of Pentecost – to 2020 when we have hundreds of denominations across the world.

We know by our reading of the scriptures that the church of the first century was united. It was one. Denominations did not sit on every corner. The Thompsons didn’t leave the house Sunday morning and go to one denomination of the Christian faith, the Millers to another, and the Wrights still another. What caused things to change so that such a picture is commonplace today?

The answer lies in about 14 centuries of history. But here’s the beginning of that answer. --An early transgression

The underlying cause for the splintering up of the church into many denominations is that error and transgressions entered into the church. Even in Bible days, the apostles continually fight many false doctrines. I mean, between Judaism and paganism, they have to fight tooth and toenail to keep the church pure. But after the death of John, men quickly begin to deviate from the pure “apostles” doctrine of Acts 2:42; and unscriptural changes in the church increase.

Church historian Robert Brumback writes, “Human philosophy and paganism crept into the church, and it became difficult for the church to preserve the simplicity of the gospel, the purity of the worship and the form of government that existed in the church in the beginning” (History of the Church through the Ages, p. 16).

One of the first deviations begins fairly innocently, perhaps. When small churches would have trouble, often a group of elders from surrounding congregations would step in to help. Eventually, as a result, instead of having elders

The Work of the Holy Spirit in the Life of the Disciple

When we talk about the prayer of Christians, we use the term “spirituality.” Why?

Because when a Christian prays, he is uniting his own spirit with the Spirit of God. He is, for a time, uniting his desires with the desires of God – desire for what is true, what is good, what is beautiful. God’s desires become my desires. God’s intentions become my intentions.

Gradually, I become remade into the image of Jesus. This remaking is the work of the Holy Spirit. This is the Holy Spirit at work in my life.

How do I know the way in which the Holy Spirit works? One good place to look is in Paul’s letter to the Romans, chapter 8. “The law of the spirit of life in Christ Jesus has freed you from the law of sin and death. . . . For those who live according to the flesh are concerned with the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the spirit with the things of the spirit.” (Rom. 8:2-5).

Paul says that we have a choice – to live by the flesh or live by the Spirit, the Holy Spirit. To live by the flesh is to live in slavery, because we are bound and limited by the desires of the flesh – for pure physical satisfaction, for immediate gratification.

But if we live by the Spirit, we are truly free. We are free because we set our minds on things above, things that are enduring, things that give life and peace.

In this same chapter, he also writes: “In the same way, the Spirit too comes to the aid of our weakness; for we do not know how to pray as we ought, but the Spirit itself intercedes with inexpressible groanings.” (Rom. 8:26)

Sometimes our emotions get in the way of our prayer – we might be angry, or disappointed, or hurt. The Spirit prays for us beyond our emotions, beyond our words.

Let me be more specific with one example. Thomas Merton had just lost his father. The most important person in his life had just died. Thomas himself had just recovered from a serious illness. He was living a sin-

Green Avenue Church of Christ

The Wednesday evening auditorium Bible class, still in the first chapter of Ephesians, looked at God’s power and what He has done for us as referenced in the last two verses of the chapter.

Sunday morning the adult Bible class studied the importance of avoiding the use of our bodies to commit sin.

During the morning assembly Keith Shackelford followed up the previous weeks sermon on memorials, many of which are designed to motivate us to remember God, with a lesson on how God contemplates us.

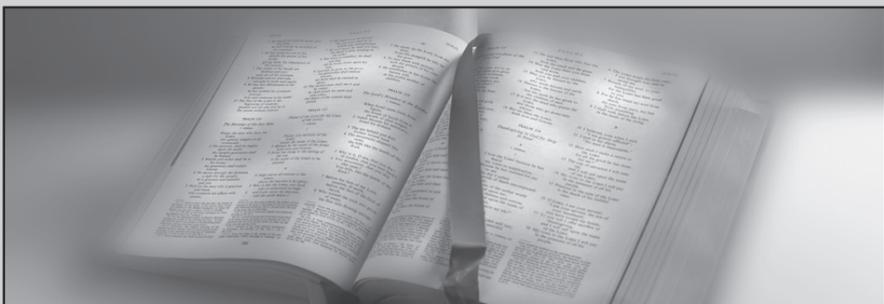

The sermon began and ended with the reading of the fifth verse of the fortieth psalm. God’s attention includes both providing for us and being aware of how we live.

The Sunday evening sermon considered the question, “What is the purpose of life?” The sermon began with the reading of Ecclesiastes 12: 13 and went on to demonstrate why we should follow Christ.

The church meets at 407 Jackson and Green Avenue. Worship assemblies are at 10:45 a.m. and 6:30 .pm. every Sunday and Bible classes at 9:45 a.m. Sunday and 7 p.m. Wednesday.

presiding over one congregation, as the Bible's pattern is (Titus 1:5), certain elders – also called bishops – begin to rule over other congregations. City congregations often would expand and parent new, rural congregations, so an elder or bishop from the city church would look after the affairs of the smaller, rural church.

Note that the Bible does not endorse any man from outside of a local congregation to rule over that congregation. The government of the church lies with the local church. Paul, remember, instructs the evangelist Timothy to “ordain elders in every city” (Titus 1:5).

But when men began to expand the authority of an elder – or bishop, since the Bible uses the terms synonymously – this practice gave rise to the elevation of elders or bishops to Archbishops and other unscriptural positions in the church. The apostasy does not stop there, either. When the dust settles – in 533 A.D. – the Roman emperor Justinian had named one man, the Bishop of Rome, to be over the entire church on earth.

By this time, the church of the New Testament is unrecognizable and has gone into an apostate state. The book of Revelation, of course, prophesies that such would happen and that the faithful church would take the wings of a great eagle and “fly into the wilderness” (Rev. 12:14).

--1200 years of darkness
Mr. Brumback writes ominously about this period that begins there in the sixth century, pointing out that as this apostasy developed, “the authority of the word of God was rejected, (and) an ecclesiastical hierarchy began to form by which the church was swept into a midnight of darkness where it remained for 1,200 years” (p. 18).

Note that the 1,200 years of darkness and apostasy also aligns with the book of Revelation, as John writes again in Revelation 12 that the “woman clothed with the sun ... fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there a thousand two hundred and threescore days” (vs. 1, 6). Understanding that a day in Revelation is likely a “year,” we begin to see a picture of a long dark period in which the New Testament church in its purity was nowhere to be seen.

But regardless of how a man views Revelation, we know that, historically, we have little if any history of the true church for more than a millennium. When we say “true church,” we mean the church of the New Testament that was comprised of many local congregations, all of which were autonomous and were governed only by elders and deacons in that congregation.

The only “head” of the true church is Jesus Christ” (Eph. 1:22-23). The Lord never gave any man on this earth the authority to be over the Lord's church.

The “dark ages” – these 1200 or so years – do not last forever. For that, we are thankful. And the church that has flown into the wilderness will not stay hidden away forever, either. More of that story as we move on, the Lord willing.

ful life, with no direction and no purpose. He found himself wandering around Europe.

One day he stopped at a quiet church in Rome. He writes this: “And now for the first time in my life I began to pray, to pray from the very depths of my being. I prayed that God might reach down and lift me out of this terrible darkness, to free me of the thousand terrible things that held my will in their slavery.” (Seven Story Mountain)

Thomas Merton became one of the greatest spiritual teachers of modern times. It was the Holy Spirit that led him to that church. It was the Holy Spirit that taught him to pray. It was the Holy Spirit that answered his cry for help.

Today we place ourselves at the same mercy of this Holy Spirit – the one who defends us from temptation, who frees us from sin, the one who prays for us when we have a hard time.

This is the Holy Spirit who re-shapes our desires into the desires of our Heavenly Father.

We are having public Masses again, with masks and social distancing. Our Mass schedule is Saturday, 5 p.m., and Sunday 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. (Spanish).

You can also watch a recorded Mass on our Facebook page or website.

Attorney for Personal Representative

Lexington United Methodist Church

We have scheduled our next Food Bank Give-Away for Saturday, June 20. We will be obeying the CDC guidelines of social distancing, wearing masks to protect others, and although currently we are still emphasizing “sheltering in place.” If you are getting low on food before then, please call the church or call Pastor David Cook directly to arrange to get more food.

Our plan is to start coming to church again on Father's Day, June 21. We have plenty of room to spread out in the sanctuary and social distance. We will also encourage each other to wear masks. Please remember that wearing masks is not to keep ourselves from getting the virus. It is to keep from giving the virus to someone else before we even know that we are a carrier of the virus. What a small step to show compassion to others!

We have had a rough time over the past couple of weeks with all the protests and riots.

Remember: God is watching us, although not necessarily from a distance. Please help us to protect people who are being beaten, no matter what race, religion, or gender they may be.

Please join us at the church on Sunday mornings at 9:30 a.m. Our address is 631 East Ash, near Lexington High School. For more information, please call the church at (405) 527-3506 to leave a message, or contact Pastor David directly at (405) 406-6174.

Johnson Road Baptist

Have you taken note of the display of greenness that surrounds us on all sides? We want to express our appreciation to those in our congregation that have assisted Mark Brown in mowing the church lawn at Johnson Road. It is so important that our church provide inspiration to those that pass by on Interstate 35.

Three faithful members of the First Baptist Church of Purcell have recently said goodbye to their families and friends and joined their Savior and family members in Heaven.

We want to remember the families in the home going of Rudean Miller, Ernestine Cavnar and George W. Stone.

Ernestine could never say enough good things about her Deacon husband Corky who led her to the Lord and her wonderful family.

George W. Stone was an outstanding Baptist Deacon and servant of the Lord. His footsteps carried him far and wide in proclaiming the Gospel Message. During his final years as a resident at Westbrook Gardens, George was the music man for the Sunday Morning Bible Study.

Pvt. A.J. Root, great-grandson of Donna Brown, has graduated from basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C., and will begin his advanced training in helicopters at an Army Post in West Virginia. Pvt. Root is to be commended for his desire to serve his country.

Gynean Gentry provided the special music Sunday morning. The scripture passages for the Sunday sermon were taken from the Epistles from James, Paul and Peter.

James said, “The testing of our faith produces steadfastness.” Paul said, “Our present sufferings are nothing when compared to our glory in heaven.”

Peter said, “Don't be surprised when fiery trials test your faith in God.”

Several years ago two couples made a fast road trip in a Jeep Wagoneer through Canada, Alaska and the northwestern part of the United States.

The trip lasted less than two weeks. It was a fast trip in a vehicle that had unknown mechanical malfunctions.

You never knew when or where the Jeep would stop running. In spite of stoppages, the couples visited the town of North Pole, Fairbanks, Denali National Park, Anchorage, Glacier Park, Yellowstone Park, Salt Lake City, Brice Canyon, Grand Canyon, Flagstaff, Petrified Forest, Albuquerque and Amarillo.

It was a big day when the four travelers returned to Oklahoma. Life is like that Alaskan road trip. Life for a Christian is filled with great joys, adventures, failures, frustrations and dangers. Life is a growing experience.

By the time we reach old age, we learn that strength grows with patience, experience, knowledge and faith in our Lord. Faith allows us to see beyond our suffering.

Faith in God provides security in time of need and hope for tomorrow.

We hope to see you in church this Sunday. The sermon title for this Sunday is “The Forgotten Commandments.”

Our pastoral services will still be available 24 hours daily.

He traveled all over the world with stops in Germany, Italy, Greece, Greenland, France, Turkey, Japan and the Philippines. Lee retired after a very long and distinguished career.

Washington, Okla. She started to school at Washington and graduated in 1946.

She was married that year to Raymond W. Lyles Jr. for over 48 years, who had served his country in the U.S. Navy. They lived in Oklahoma City where both were employed until moving to Norman where she worked for Southwestern Bell, as a telephone operator and Raymond was employed at Tinker AFB. They later bought a farm in Goldsby and raised their two children.

She then started working at Norman Regional Hospital and on to Goddard Health Center. Both were very involved with their children's activities, she being Home Room Mother, FFA Mother and attending ball games and church activities, to taking them to music lessons and Boy Scouts. Billie loved to cook, sew and travel. Family dinners were a must for her, and she also hosted family reunions. She loved her cousins, nieces and nephews. She was a friendly outgoing person. Her grandchildren were truly a joy for her, and especially her great grandkids. They had a special place in her heart, and everyone knew her as "Nanny Bill."

Billie was a widow for 10 years, when she married Jake R. McAlister, February 26, 2005, a fine and honorable gentleman who attended school in Washington and graduated in 1944. He was retired from the U.S. Air Force. He passed away June 21, 2006 after just 16 short months together.

Billie was a member of Washington First Baptist Church. She loved her church family, and her wishes were, in lieu of flowers, to give to the Washington First Baptist Church Building Fund. George Stone Funeral services for George Stone, 101, were held Monday, June 1, 2020 at First Baptist Church in Purcell. Interment was at the Byars Cemetery under the direction of the Wilson-Little Funeral Home in Purcell.

George William Stone was born April 17, 1919 and grew up on the family farm in Byars, Okla. He passed away on May 26, 2020 in Purcell, Okla. He was the sixth of eight children born to William A. and Martha (Jones) Stone. He graduated from Byars High School in 1937 and Oklahoma Baptist University in 1948.

He married his teenage sweetheart, Maskell L. Weed, in 1937 and they were married for 74 years before her death in 2011. Four sons were born to this marriage.

Soon after they married, George and Max, as she was known, moved to Oklahoma City to seek work. He worked various jobs before being called to preach in the Baptist Church. He was ordained to the ministry at Kentucky Avenue Baptist Church in Oklahoma City. He served as mission pastor to what later became Bethel Baptist Church. He also served as pastor as First Baptist Church in Mustang, First Baptist Church in Bethany, First Baptist Church in Keyes (in the Oklahoma panhandle) and at University Heights Baptist Church in Oklahoma City. He was forced to leave the full-time ministry due to throat complications.

He later went to work for Oklahoma Farmers Union (OFU), serving in different capacities until he was elected President of that organization in 1956. He served in that position until his election as President of National Farmers Union in 1980. During his time in these positions he traveled the world, meeting with national and international leaders representing the family farmer. George also met every President from Truman to George W. Bush.

While working for OFU the Stone family lived in South Oklahoma City before moving to Choctaw, Okla., in 1966. While in Choctaw he served on the City Counsel and as Mayor. During this time he was instrumental in building the town's shopping center and forming Choctaw State Bank. He served as Chairman of the bank from 1974 to 1986.

On his retirement in 1984 he returned to his roots with the purchase of a working farm in Stratford, Okla., just a few miles from where he grew up. In addition to the normal farm crops he ran a cow-calf operation and raised peaches. After 10 years of farming George and Max "moved to town" with the purchase of a house in Purcell. Although recognized by state, national and international leaders, George knew that the most outstanding and most cherished award was that Given by God when he sent His Son, Jesus Christ, to be the Savior of his soul and grant eternal life.

George was preceded in death by his wife, Max; his parents, William and Martha Stone; five sisters, Maud, Esther, Pauline, Lucille and Leveta; two brothers, Delmer and Dale; and two grandsons, Michael and Andrew.

Hunt:

Wheat and his son Kyston Wheat hunted bears.

"It was a challenging hunt on many levels," Greg Wheat said. "The weather was constantly changing between snow, sunshine, and rain. The terrain was rough, rugged and steep.

"When the sun started going down, it got so dark you couldn't see your hand in front of your face.

Budget:

amendment to the new budget.

But a resolution adopting the new budget received just four of the five votes on the council.

Council member Jay Tate was the lone dissenter.

Tate wanted to address personnel numbers in the Parks Department, but city attorney Ted Haxel told him staffing was the decision of the city manager, not the council.

Among estimated expenses in the new budget are electric department, $4,602,987; Public Works Authority, $3,124,503; capital improvements, $2,362,000; police, $2,129,446; $1,233,553, water; $1,123,201, fire; and street department, $992,477.

The council also approved the new budget for Purcell Municipal Hospital.

That budget calls for capital expenditures of $7,989,908, the lion's share of which is earmarked for maintenance.

Revenue for the new fiscal year is budgeted at $34,944,103 and total expenses of $10,827,721.

In other business, the council:

- approved a contract for engineering and consulting services on construction of an interchange at I-35 and State Highway 74;

- approved budget amendments of $17,702.88 and $1,471,128.53;

- denied tort claims filed by Star Plaza service station and a trucking company's insurance company; and

- acknowledged a permit for construction of 4,716 feet of 12-inch sewer line for the area around the new hospital.

Following an executive session, the council renewed contracts for city manager Dale Bunn and city treasurer Victor Lohn.

Bunn gave an update on bond sales for the new hospital.

Standard and Poor has given the city an A- rating, which will save the city about $2.8 million from the anticipated BBB+ rating.

The bonds will be sold June 17 or 18, Bunn said, with the closing on June 30.

Commenting to the Purcell Public Works Authority, hospital CEO Kem Scully said the hospital was granted eight weeks of payroll protection through the Cares Act. That grant is more than $298,000.

The hospital has been able to reduce expenses $466,000 during the economic shutdown due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

She also told the trustees that construction documents for the new hospital are 90 percent complete and on budget.

Jackie Wadley of Wadley EMS provided an update on his business.

Currently employed are 14 paramedics and an additional 10 are in paramedic school.

Graduation for the 10 will begin in July and continue until November 2021.

Wadley also addressed his concerns for the Riley Boatwright Act which Gov. Kevin Stitt signed and which goes into effect July 1.

He noted lawmakers sought no input from schools or EMS in drafting the act and instead relied on an association of athletic trainers for advice.

"It's a well-meaning law...but there's not a lot of guidance for either side (EMS or schools)," he said, adding there is "no enforcement power in the law."

be Friday and Saturday.

Also, Main Street merchants are joining in with sidewalk sales on Saturday.

As of Tuesday morning, 30 people had registered their garage sales with the chamber.

"They're calling every minute," Elisabeth Baker, the chamber's executive director, confirmed.

The chamber will publish a map on which garage sale locations are marked.

Baker said any resident who wants their sale on the map has until 4 p.m. today (Thursday) to notify the chamber by calling 527-3093 or emailing chamberoffice@theheartofok.com.

Information required includes name, address, date(s) of sale and a contact telephone number.

The map will be posted electronically tonight on Facebook and the chamber's website.

Printed copies of the map will also be available Friday at the chamber office, 220 W. Main.

The chamber advises browsers, buyers and sellers to respect social distancing and stay safe.

Food:

food to individuals being tested for COVID-19 who state they are food insecure.

Over the last 30 days, emergency food boxes have been provided to more than 4,880 individuals.

"This partnership is very integral to our response to the COVID-19 pandemic," said Deb Bunting, interim CEO of the Regional Food Bank.

"Not only does it get much-needed food to Oklahomans who are suffering from food insecurity, it works to limit potential spread of the virus," she concluded.

During the testing process, individuals are asked screening questions to determine if they need food assistance. Individuals are provided enough food to help feed their families for two weeks.

Thanks to an extension from the USDA, the program will continue at testing sites through the end of June.

For more information about the program, contact the McClain County Health Department at 527-6541 or the Cleveland County Health Department at 321-4048.
