John D. Montgomery
The Purcell Register

If you want to see Santa Claus in his sleigh just cross the bridge to Lexington and go south on Fourth Street as far as you can and hang a left.

That's where Robert Potvin has a dazzling Christmas light display, officially located at 505 Hudson Street.

The display includes not only Rudolph and his Reindeer buddies pulling a sleigh, but 24 Christmas trees dot Potvin's yard. Also, he's got a couple of dozen deer, a lighted train traveling through a snow covered town and a lighted Nativity Scene.

He flips the switch about 6 p.m. each night and the show begins including him in the

An Interesting Neighbor

Everyone has a story

Maybe it was fate that led Wilson Lyles to toss his hat into McClain County politics back in 2008.

Ask Wilson and he has another explanation – when one door closes, another will open.

At least, that's what happened when Wilson was more than 25 years into one career.

Wilson was born in Norman to Billie Lyles and the late Raymond Lyles.

"I grew up in a perfect family," he said. "Parents need to be involved in their children's lives. Kids grow up with what they see at home."

For the past 50 years-plus he's called the Washington and Goldsby communities home.

He graduated from Washington High School in 1978 and began working for grocery firms Scrivner Wholesale Food and Fleming Co., in warehousing and transportation.

It was there he met his future wife, Andrea.

They married in 1989.

She left the company 20 years ago to take a job in the insurance industry, handling commercial lines of insurance.

Today, Wilson and Andrea live in Goldsby and attend Goldsby Baptist Church. Their extended family includes son, Blake, a Norman firefighter; daughter-in-law, Vanessa, a nurse; a granddaughter, Reagan and a second grandchild due in February. They also make their home in Goldsby.

Wilson stayed with Scrivner and Fleming for more than 25 years and it looked as if that would be his lifelong career.

But as doors do, that one closed when Fleming went

Officer charged

Gaetano Cipriano suspended

Tulsa County prosecutors charged a Purcell police officer in connection with a domestic incident in September.

Gaetano Cipriano pled not guilty to three misdemeanor charges — one count of domestic assault and battery and two counts of assault and battery.

According to an affidavit, the incident occurred September 9 in Jenks when Cipriano allegedly threatened to bash in his girlfriend's skull before knocking her to the ground.

When her brother tried to intervene, Cipriano reportedly threw him down.

After the girlfriend stood up, Cipriano allegedly continued pushing and shoving her.

He also allegedly knocked the brother's girlfriend to the ground during the altercation.

The charges were filed October 25 in Tulsa County

District Court.

Cipriano was suspended from the Purcell Police Department on September 10.

Chief Kevin Williams said Tuesday the department has taken no further disciplinary action at this time.

The department later released the following statement:

"Detective Corporal Cipriano is on administrative leave with pay, pending the outcome of an Internal Affairs investigation. This ongoing personnel matter is deemed confidential at this time. In the event that any disciplinary action should be taken in the future that constitutes an Open Record, it will be disclosed. However, no such decision has been made."

Cipriano remains free after posting a $5,000 bond.

Voters to decide on bond

January 8 election for Lexington Schools

Jeanne Grimes
The Purcell Register

Residents inside the Lexington Public Schools district will go to the polls January 8 to vote on an $11.235 million bond issue.

Superintendent Chad Hall said property owners won't see an increase in taxes if the measure passes.

That's because a 2006 bond issue for construction of a new high school will be retired before the new bond goes into effect.

"Basically we'll continue use of the district's valuation following the retirement of the former bond," Hall said.

Revenue from the new bond will allow for construction of storm shelters at the elementary, intermediate and middle schools.

All schools would receive secure entry and access control.

In addition, repairs to the elementary school roof are included, as well as roof replace-

Physician of the Year

Dr. Rick McCurdy, a 1961 graduate of Purcell High School, was recognized as Physician of the Year by the Norman Regional Health Foundation. With him is his wife, Carol.

PMH's Cinda Keller presented Spirit Award

Purcell Municipal Hospital's Cinda Keller was one of the 43 hospital team members statewide who received an Oklahoma Hospital Association (OHA) Spirit of Passion and Dedication Award during the 2018 OHA Annual Convention held December 6.

The 43 front-line, behind-the-scenes and administrative employees received the award because they are committed to the true mission and purpose of their hospital, provide compassionate care, and often go above and beyond with strong dedication and passion.

Award recipients were chosen by their hospitals for exemplifying the Spirit of Passion and Dedication because they: have a passion for helping others; are unwavering in their dedication and resolve to provide excellent service; go the extra mile to provide compassionate care to patients.

Also to remain steadfast in their efforts, even when faced with unexpected or unsettling challenges; or exhibit consistent dedication to the true mission of the organization.

"We are pleased to honor these special hospital employees who have dedicated time, talent or expertise to improve their organizations and their communities," said Patti Davis, president, Oklahoma Hospital Association. "These are the type of team members who continue to provide the very best care even when faced with adversity."

Another year in Operation Christmas releases numbers

Jeanne Grimes
The Purcell Register

Preliminary numbers are in for the 2018 McClain County Operation Christmas.

Gifts and food baskets were distributed Friday.

Peggy Christian said Monday more than 600 children will find toys and gifts under the Christmas tree this year, courtesy of the annual charitable drive.

There are 1,042 individuals and families for whom the holiday season will be a bit brighter.

Christian said the distribution included 222 food baskets containing all the fixings for Christmas dinner.

"The numbers are a little over last year," Christian said. "We are up in people and down in families."

The families this year, however, were larger than a year ago. She thanked all who donated money, food, gifts or time.

Purcell Schools had a food drive, as did Washington Schools.

McClain County 4-H and realtors conducted a coat drive.

"There were four full racks of coats and all but one were taken," Christian said.

That coat is being sent to the homeless shelter in Oklahoma City.

Volunteers at the Multi-Purpose Center included James New and his crew of workers performing community service.

District 2 Commissioner Wilson Lyles was there daily, as well.

Taco Mayo, Pizza Hut, Rubys and CashSaver provided meals for the volunteers.

First Baptist Church and Union Hill Baptist Church held toy drives, while Emmanuel Baptist Church and Landmark Church contributed with food drives. In addition, ladies from Sunray Baptist Church made pillow cases and ladies from Union Hill Baptist Church sewed hobo bags.

Elves from Wayne and Purcell High Schools National Honor Society, together with Purcell FFA, helped organize the Multi-Purpose Center before Friday's distribution.

Christian also thanked The Purcell Register for publicity.

Grinch steals Christmas cash

Suspect identified for taking jar at Murphy USA station

A charge is pending by Purcell Det. Sgt. Scott Stephens following the theft of an FOP Cops N Kids bucket.

The money jar was taken late December 10 from the Murphy USA gas station in the Walmart parking lot.

Stephens said he hasn't released the name and won't until the District Attorney files the charge.

Stephens said the two attendants were outside the building when the cash was heisted.

"We've been doing the Cops N Kids program for many years," Stephens said. "We try to give $100 to about 10 kids to shop."

Private donations are also welcome to the program.

Stephens said there could have been anywhere from $20 to $50 or more in the container.

"We just don't know. But even if it was only $20 that's a big hit for us," he said.

"This is a way for the Fraternal Order of Police to give back to the community," Stephens said.

Mid-America Technology Center BPA students host Christmas party

The Business Professional Students of America (BPA), who are enrolled in MATC's Multimedia and Network Systems programs, hosted a Christmas Party for the residents of Westbrook Gardens in Purcell.

This party was filled with the usual Christmas amenities including great conversation, gifts, music and sing-a-longs, games, and photos with Santa. But, this party also featured travel and excitement.

Through the use of VR (virtual reality) everyone was able to take a trip to faraway lands that before they could only imagine.

These trips to Rome, San Francisco, and Rio, plus more were all done in VR fly-by mode.

VR technology allows for a multi-sensory experience of actual site-seeing and activity.

The residents enjoyed this because they got to go to places they cannot visit anymore, and one resident got to re-visit places he had been to in his military career.

Lola GREAT SELECTION & SERVICEAND ALWAYS A HELLO!

Dave:

has since stepped away from the DCEU, beyond having a producer role in the new films.

Because of that the DCEU is turning a new leaf. No longer is it beholden to the brooding confines of Snyder's vision.

This new wave of superhero movies from DC is looking much more lighthearted, and frankly, a lot more fun.

In comes James Wan, the director of "Aquaman."

Best known for his horror movies "Saw" and "The Conjuring," Wan probably wouldn't have been many people's first choice for helming a new lighthearted superhero flick. But anyone who's seen Wan's previous movies knows the man has a talent for creating remarkably well shot and broadly appealing films.

When I heard Wan was directing "Aquaman" I was thrilled. Sure, after the release of "Justice League" it was hard to trust anything DCEU, but with Wan in charge I knew this film would be in good hands.

And I was right. This is a very fun movie.

Jason Momoa is back reprising his role as the half Atlantean superhero, this time taking a lead role.

I've been a fan of Momoa ever since his role as Ronon Dex in the TV show "Stargate: Atlantis." It's been great to his career over all these years.

I wouldn't say he has the best emotional range as an actor. He's not exactly a man of many words and his characters have always been pretty one note, but he's still an incredibly charismatic guy and quite suited for the role as Aquaman.

The story itself is very conventional.

Two brothers fighting for control of a kingdom, Aquaman has to discover an ancient artifact to make a legitimate claim for the throne, while at the same time dealing with feelings of inadequacy.

And of course the fate of the world is at stake. Can't forget that.

The plot itself isn't going to win any creativity awards, and the dialogue is a bit rough around the edges, but it's a perfectly serviceable story. Plus hey, at least there's some humor in the DCEU now.

Unfortunately though, the jokes were pretty hit or miss with me and I found the movie a bit less funny than the filmmakers wanted it to be.

There were still plenty of funny moments don't get me wrong, but the amount of toilet humor did take me off guard.

Either way, I'll take occasional so-so jokes any day over the constant brooding of a Snyder film.

So the story is generic and the dialogue is okay, but not great. Then what's the selling point for this movie? What's the reason to spend $10 on a ticket and drive out to see this film?

The answer is spectacle.

This movie is visually stunning.

The underwater scenes are just absolutely beautiful and the amount of work that went into making something to this scale is simply mind blowing to me.

Even small details, like making all of Aquaman's hair flow around naturally underwater must have taken dozens of man hours.

I don't think there's ever been a movie with this many underwater scenes. The technical undertaking it must have been to make it all look this authentic is ridiculous.

But they pulled it off. The action, especially in the final scene of this film, is just massive, on a scale rarely seen even in big blockbusters. It was such a huge treat watching it all unfold.

If you're looking for amazing looking superhero action on the big screen, then you should watch "Spider-Man: Into the Spider-Verse." Seriously, it's one of the best comic book movies ever made. You should see it right now.

However, if you've already seen "Into the Spider-Verse," or if you just have some strange aversion to animation, then I'd say you could do a lot worse entertainmentwise than seeing "Aquaman" on the big screen.

"Aquaman" is rated PG-13.

Last this week is "Mortal Engines."

Hundreds of years after civilization was destroyed by a cataclysmic event, a mysterious young woman, Hester Shaw (Hera Hilmar), emerges as the only one who can stop London, now a giant, predator city on wheels, from devouring everything in its path.

Fiercely driven by the memory of her mother, Hester joins forces with Tom Natsworthy (Robert Sheehan), an outcast from London, and together Hester must stop Thaddeus Valentine (Hugo Weaving), the man responsible for Hester's mother's death, from once again unleashing devastation on the world.

Fans of the "Lord of the Rings" movies will be very familiar with the writers and producers for this film. Fran Walsh, Philippa Boyens, and of course Peter Jackson.

The three of them have done quite a bit of work together over the past two decades, though none of it was quite of the same prominence or quality as the "Lord of the Rings."

But even though Peter Jackson's name is more prominently featured than anyone else in the trailers of this film, he actually actually wasn't the director of this movie.

No, the director here is Christian Rivers, a relative unknown. It seems this is his first time in the director's chair, at least for a feature length film.

An interesting choice giving someone this inexperienced a film of this cost and scale. But it's a gamble that pays off, at least visually.

This movie is gigantic. The scale of these moving cities, especially London, is absolutely insane.

The wheels for the cities alone are ridiculous, leaving mini canyons as tire treads in their path.

Yes, the concept of this film is pretty silly. Massive cities roaming around the countryside with only the materials they're able to collect from other cities to sustain them. It's completely impractical.

That doesn't make the world this movie resides in any less stunning though.

Unfortunately this is where the positives for this film come to an end.

No amount of expansive sets, or beautiful cityscapes can save a movie if the characters that reside inside it are dull and uninteresting.

Our two leads, Hester and Tom, just aren't the least bit charismatic.

Hester herself has almost no personality, nothing to endear her to the audience. She's just brooding and angry.

Tom fares a bit better, at least he's a somewhat likable, but he doesn't have any screen presence whatsoever.

You could throw him in a lineup right now with a bunch of other white guys with brown curly hair and there's no way I'd be able to pick him out. He's just completely forgettable.

The worst part of all though is that we're actually meant to believe these characters, our two forgettable bland leads, are actually falling in love with each other.

To the surprise of no one, they have zero chemistry together, and the whole romantic angle should have been thrown out in the early drafting stages of the film.

The only character with a single shred of charisma is in fact the man who plays the villain of the film, Hugo Weaving.

Sadly he isn't in the movie all that much, at least in the grand scheme of things. Still, I loved every time he happened to appear on screen.

It's a shame they couldn't get anyone remotely as compelling as him in the lead roles.

And the problems don't stop with the characters. The storytelling itself is incredibly messy as well.

There's no throughline to the plot and the narrative just has a general lack of flow to it. It makes the movie feel like it goes on for an eternity, even though the film is actually under two hours long.

I love the filmmakers behind this project. I really wish I could recommend their movie.

Honestly, it's not an awful film. But with all the many higher quality alternatives in theaters right now, there's no place for this movie.

"Mortal Engines" is rated PG-13.

You

THANK YOU to the constituents of House District 42 for your overwhelming support during the general election. I'm honored and excited to serve you at the State Capitol over the next two years, and am so thankful to have the support of Garvin and McClain counties.

I look forward to using my life experience to better the quality of life for my constituents in rural Oklahoma. Years as a mother and grandmother has shown me the importance of education in the lives of children. I'll work hard to fight to ensure our tax dollars are spent in the classroom rather than adding to bureaucratic waste.

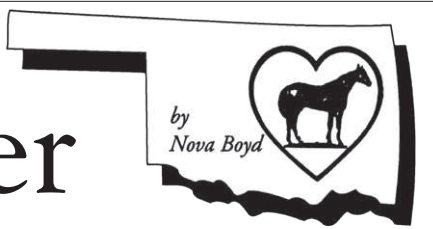

I've also witnessed government waste firsthand in my career as a nurse practitioner. I believe my insight on healthcare will help us establish a more effective system for taxpayers and stop wasting your hard-earned money on inefficient, state-run programs, such as Medicaid. My time as a small business owner in Pauls Valley will also prove invaluable as I work to find better economic opportunities to bring more businesses and jobs to District 42.

Throughout my campaign, I stood on your doorsteps and listened to the real concerns you have about the future of our state and district. I was elected to serve as your voice and I look forward to hearing your thoughts and ideas on upcoming legislation. If you have any questions, comments, or concerns, please feel free to contact me at my office. You can reach me by phone at (405) 557-7365 or by email at cynthia.roe@okhouse.gov.

Bittersweet day for Susan

Haney made friends, memories

Jeanne Grimes

The Purcell Register

Monday was a bittersweet day for Susan Haney.

She walked out of the McClain County Assessor's office, ending a career that began Sept. 9, 1991.

Or 27 years, 3-1/2 months ago.

She started when the Assessor's Office was downstairs. There were no computers, so all the work was by hand.

It was a time of window air conditioners and radiator heaters.

In the mid-90s, the courthouse underwent renovations and the Assessor's Office moved upstairs to the second floor.

"I worked for four assessors," Haney said. "I was hired by Pat Wren."

Wren was followed in turn by Glenda Cypert, Kathy Ladlee and Pam Irwin, who lost her bid for another term.

Haney only filled in as needed at the front office. Most of her time was in the back, working in CAMA (computer-assisted mass appraisal) which is used to arrive at a structure's market value.

The program relies on square footage, type of construction, year constructed and other factors.

Haney has always been work-oriented. She started babysitting when she was 12 years old.

And in the way some things come full circle in life wound up working with one of her former charges, Jason Benefiel, in the Assessor's Office.

She also worked for a time at First American Bank.

She was 23 when she joined the staff at the courthouse.

Haney said she's been around so many people at the courthouse for so many years they've become a family.

Truth be told, however, the family ties are deeper than that.

Her father, the late Robert Parton Sr., was undersheriff 12 years for Sheriff Don Smith.

A sister, Robin Sheehy, worked for a time for County Clerk Nelda Gray.

And her mother, Sue Parton, is a job coach for physically and mentally handicapped adults. One of her clients is Debbie Cater, who cleans the courthouse.

Although she won't be spending every day at the courthouse, Haney won't be idle in her retirement.

A longtime member of Memorial Assembly of God, she's taught the same class at Sunday School since she was 16. She also volunteers on Tuesday's at the church's food pantry.

Possibly she might look at becoming a substitute teacher at the elementary school "if they need me."

For now, she is committed to working one day a month for the McClain County Election Board.

Haney said when Irwin was elected to office, she asked Haney to remain on staff.

"I told her I would stay as long as she was the assessor," Haney recalled. "I made a promise to Pam and I kept it."

OSDH encourages preparedness for winter weather

The Oklahoma State Department of Health (OSDH) encourages the public to take safety precautions for the upcoming winter weather. Proper planning can reduce the risk of injury and illness while also ensuring a family is prepared for a major winter weather event. Cold outdoor temperatures require residents to monitor not only their home temperature, but their body temperature as well. Reports from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) advises infants less than 1 year of age should never sleep in a cold room because infants lose body heat more easily than adults. Room temperatures should remain above 65 degrees. In a sleeping area, babies should not be wrapped in blankets, but rather dressed in warmer clothing such as footed pajamas. Also, a baby's face and head should not be covered while sleeping. It is important not to over bundle a baby, because overheating can be dangerous as well. Parents and caregivers should watch for signs of overheating, such as sweating or the baby's chest feeling hot to the touch. If a comfortable indoor temperature cannot be maintained, temporary arrangements should be made to stay elsewhere. It is also important for adults age 65 and older to remain in a warm environment as they often make less body heat because of a slower metabolism and less physical activity. Scott Sproat, director of the OSDH Emergency Preparedness and Response Service, said it's important to use caution when heating a home with a fireplace, space heater or wood stove, using them only when they are properly vented. "You can protect yourself from carbon monoxide (CO) poisoning by installing a battery-operated CO detector," said Sproat. "Never use generators, grills, camp stoves, or similar devices inside the house, in

Mr. Wilson passed away Thursday, December 13, 2018.

Born June 6, 1930 in Bristow, Okla., he was the third of four children born to Almon Manning Wilson and Addie Octavia (Jenkins) Wilson. He spent his early childhood in Southeastern Oklahoma, and like many during this time, he worked to help his family. Alongside his dad, they worked as sharecroppers and really whatever they could find.

After a short time in California, Joe returned to Oklahoma, and by age 17, he joined the Navy. Joe was a true patriot, and served his country proudly during the Korean War. Upon returning to Oklahoma, he found work in the Purcell area.

Joe worked as an aircraft electrician at Tinker, and retired after more than 25 years of dedicated service. He then worked a few years alongside his son, Larry, driving tractors and working cattle. He was a master mechanic, who enjoyed tinkering on things, and he could fix anything from a washing machine to a car.

He enjoyed tending to his garden and was proud to be able to feed his family throughout the years. Joe greatly enjoyed fishing and looked forward to a good day fishing with his buddies, Gene Mayo and Fred Wiley.

He was a quiet and unassuming man; never complicated and enjoyed every day. He was a man of great faith and a member of the New Mission Holiness Church. Joe cherished Tiny and his boys, and the family they created. He will be dearly missed!

More gridlock

I-35 projects create traffic woes

The gridlock that frustrated northbound travelers on I-35 Tuesday switched sides on Wednesday.

Both northbound ramps from State Highway 9 to I-35 were shut down on Tuesday to allow crews to resurface two northbound lanes on the interstate. The bottleneck stalled traffic for several miles with some northbound traffic being diverted through Purcell.

That work was scheduled to be completed by 6 p.m. Tuesday. Crews were back at the location Wednesday morning to resurface southbound lanes.

Motorists are advised to find alternate routes.

out of business and Scrivner sold to Sysco.

Wilson's interest in government had been growing since 2005 or 2006. Then in 2008, the District 2 commissioner, Lloyd Tucker, died.

That vacancy turned out to be the door to a new opportunity.

"With his passing, I made my decision to go ahead and run for commissioner," he said. "I've been in office for 10 years now. I've truly enjoyed serving all the citizens of McClain County."

In short, he became a leader in a leadership role.

From the courthouse to the district barn and the job site, no two days are ever exactly alike.

"Each and every day presents some type of new challenge," he said. "There's not anything that can't be solved. One of the big issues (facing McClain County) is our overcrowded jail. We deal with that on a day-to-day basis.

"Changes happen every day and you learn to change with it."

The ease with which that happens is facilitated by the county's elected officials, Wilson said.

"We all get along," he said.

The retirements this year of fellow commissioners Benny McGowen and Charles "Shorty" Foster means Wilson will have the edge of experience when the new board convenes in January.

As for McGowen and Foster, "I wish them the best for the next chapter in their lives," Wilson said.

"We're losing two great commissioners and bringing two new commissioners in," he continued. "I look forward to working with them. There will be some learning curves at the courthouse, but it will all work out."

Indeed, change is the one absolute constant in McClain County, which is ranked the second fastest growing county in Oklahoma and one of the top 100 fastest growing in the country.

"We all have different possibilities," he said of the county's officials.

His responsibilities reach beyond roads and bridges in District 2 and overseeing the day-to-day operation of county government.

In addition to serving four terms as chairman of the Board of County Commissioners (he is presently vice chairman), Wilson's time is also devoted to serving on a number of state boards.

That list includes boards devoted to economic development, as well as engineering, community action, transportation and more.

"Sometimes I'm kind of boarded out," he admitted.

Still, he's able to average more than 30 hours a week at the district barn or out on a job site.

He also attends quite a few events at night, in addition to stopping in at the district's senior citizens centers for lunch occasionally.

"My days are so full," he said. "Each week varies."

When he works with county commissioners across Oklahoma, Wilson realizes "how fortunate we are here in McClain County."

He had a strong inclination for serving others, even before politics ever entered the picture.

For 23 years Wilson was a volunteer firefighter with the Goldsby Fire Department.

When the department began working accidents on I-35, it opened Wilson's eyes to "how precious life is."

"In high school, being a firefighter is always on a young person's mind," he said.

Beyond that his goal was to be able to provide and "make a good living for myself and my family."

The department initially had equipment gleaned from the military.

But over time, the town gained some resources and was able to upgrade its firefighting equipment.

Though Wilson never had the time to step up through the department's ranks, he doesn't regret the years he was on call. "I worked alongside some very good people," he said, "and I was happy to do it for my community and my neighbors."

Blake also got his start with the Goldsby Fire Department. He was two years a volunteer while attending Oklahoma City Community College before being accepted by Norman Fire Department.

Wilson said his life has been perfect. There's nothing he would do differently.

For now, at least, he's not looking beyond McClain County. Nor is he contemplating retirement anytime soon.

He is content as District 2 commissioner "as long as I have my health and that desire to go after the grants to get federal dollars back to McClain County," he said.

And beyond that?

"Who knows?" he said. "Who knows? A door closes, another door opens."

Santa:

sleigh.

You can visit Santa daily (except Fridays) from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

Pictures with Santa are free as is the entire gala show.

Potvin and Mrs. Claus (Stephanie) have family around here and all the way to Maine where Robert is originally from.

Stephanie said all the wood cases were made by Robert and they purchase the Christmas trees at garage sales and purchase the lights when they are on sale after Christmas.

Robert was in the Air Force for 21 years working at Tinker Air Force Base. After retiring he worked for the Department of Corrections for 15 years and has since retired from that.

But he's far from kicking his legs up on the sofa.

He starts decorating the first of October since it takes six to seven weeks to get all the decorations in place.

He added arches over his driveway this year.

"Every year it gets bigger and bigger," he reports. "But now I think it is about as big as it's going to get."

He has been putting up the super display for the last seven years.

"I sat in a rocking chair on the porch for the first three or four years. That's when I found the dilapidated sleigh. I fixed it all up and now that's where I sit."

The lights officially don't come on until Thanksgiving night.

"I leave them on until the first of the year," he said.

"There is one grandmother who only gets to see her granddaughter once a year since she lives in Oregon," Potvin said.

"They visit on Thanksgiving every year so I made an exception for the granddaughter."

Last Monday he was Santa for the Cub Scouts at Cross Pointe Church.

The handy man for the Delta Delta Sorority lives in Wanette and is a friend of Potvin.

The House Mom called him to come to their Christmas dinner but didn't tell the girls.

Santa parked in front of the house, at 1611 College Avenue in Norman, went to the front door and knocked.

When the member or member to be opened the door she screamed and slammed the door right in Old Saint Nick's face.

"No matter how old you are, Santa is something," Stephanie said.

Potvin will do Nursing Homes on Friday and has several Christmas parties during the season.

"And sometimes I will just walk around in Walmart," he said with a grin. "I know the manager and he likes it," Potvin said.

He works in Purcell, Lexington, Norman and for both the City of Purcell and Lexington and doesn't charge a cent.

"But I do take donations," he said. "And every penny that's donated goes to the Lexington Clothes Closet that gave out nearly 500 gifts to children last week."

"Usually I raise about $300 but this year I've raised nearly $600 since the House Mother at the Tri Delt House gave me $210."

He has one set of twins that first came to see him when they were eight months old.

"They haven't missed a year since," he said. "The kids are the most gratifying part of the deal. Sometimes they will just run up to me and start hugging."

It really is the most wonderful time of the year.

The List:

you think you're on?"

We visited with eight randomly selected students last week – two each from pre-K through second grade – asking them two questions.

Are you on Santa's nice or naughty list? And here's the kicker – Why?

Five-year-old Jacob Fink is in kindergarten. Not only is he on the nice list. He's at the tip top of Santa's nice list!

Jacob says he owes that high regard to his habit of "being nice to other people" and doing some chores.

As for that other list, Jacob knows about that one too.

"My cousin is at the top of the naughty list," he confided.

Graci Pollard, 5, is another kindergartner ensconced on the nice list. Or so she thinks.

"I don't know if I'm on the nice list or not, but I was on it last year," she said, while disavowing knowledge of anyone on the naughty list this close to Christmas.

Or even what would land a kid on the naughty list.

Graci said she's nice to other people and keeps her bedroom clean.

Eli Fox, 5, is in pre-K.

His answers were short and to the point.

He's on the nice list so he knows gifts from Santa will be forthcoming.

Kids on the naughty list "never get presents," he said.

Though Eli said he knows some on the naughty list, he wasn't naming any names lest tattling be a naughty list offense?

Another pre-K student, 4-year-old Jessie Blue, insisted she is on the "good" list because she does "whatever Mommy and Daddy tell me."

She denied ever doing anything naughty in her four years.

Still, "If my bubba punches me in the stomach, I'll punch him back!"

As for stomach-punching bubba, well, she isn't sure which list he is on. However, he loses "all the time" when they play the Mousetrap Game. So draw your own conclusions. Jessie is just sad that her folks won't play the Poop Head Game, which is her all-time favorite game.

After all, she said, the poop is fake.

Blane Nicklas is 7 and in first grade.

"I believe Santa is real, but I've been wondering if that is true," he said.

Still, he's convinced that Santa sometimes sends an elf to watch kids.

"I don't know, maybe I'm on the nice list," he said. "I like helping other people and being kind. In the dark I help my sister because she's afraid of the dark."

Blane also takes care of his animals, a veritable mini zoo. He has rabbits, chickens, pigeons, a cat and two dogs.

As for the naughty list – well, it's like this.

"There's some kids in class who aren't that kind," he said. "I'm not trying to get all up in their business. But there's one boy and he's very rude."

Oh my, Collier Goad BELIEVES.

And not just in Santa. "I also believe in Christmas magic, Christmas spirit, Christmas elves," the 8-year-old second grader said. "I believe in that stuff."

Nothing written in stone, but Collier thinks he's on the nice list because, really, he doesn't know anyone on the naughty list.

Such is second grade logic. "I like helping and when I see other people need help, I want to help them. I really do," he said.

Belen Resendiz, 7, is another second grader.

She was a believer once. But, hey, maybe someone other than Santa has one of those lists too.

Best not take chances.

Belen said she's on the nice list for "cleaning the whole upstairs." Another time she cleaned her playroom and bedroom.

Plus, she's seen firsthand the consequences of being on the naughty list.

She recalled a boy at her previous school. He would pull her hair and say bad words. Eventually, the school kicked him out.

First grader Molly Ward, 7, has a good reason for believing in Santa and the lists.

"When I was 4, I saw Santa. But everyone was asleep so they don't know that," she said. "It's my secret."

"I think I'm on the nice list. When my mom tells me to do something, I have to do it."

She also makes it a point to avoid any action that someone might perceive as naughty.

Like breaking a window while playing ball. Definitely naughty.

"And if they have a stocking, they should just get a sack of coal. No candy. No toy. Nothing," she said.

In contrast, nice kids find candy and a surprise in their stocking on Christmas morn.

Tax:

call the election for March 5 at their meeting last week.

The proposition is a two fold question which will require voters to vote twice for the same election.

Proposition 1 is for 1/4 of the existing half cent sales tax to fund 4-H, the OSU Extension services, the senior citizens centers, county free fair and county economic development purposes.

Proposition 2 calls for 3/4 of the half cent tax to fund McClain County law enforcement and emergency management services, rural fire departments and county facilities.

Regular polling places will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The importance of extending the sales tax cannot be overstated.

"If that fails, I'll have to immediately let six deputies go," McClain County Sheriff Don Hewett said.

"And, I won't be able to buy any units. That's basically what my portion of the money goes to, salaries and units," Hewett said.

All three county commissioners have stressed the need for the extension to fund the county government and services.

The tax has greatly affected the rural fire departments.

The Dibble ISO fell from a 10 to a five rating which saves homeowners approximately $1,000 a year on home owners insurance, according to a Dibble Firefighter.

And that is just one example.

There are plenty more ranging from the senior citizens centers to 4-H and the county fair.

Dragons win back-to-back

Victories hike season mark to 4-3

John D. Montgomery
The Purcell Register

With back-to-back victories over Marlow and Pauls Valley, coach Roger Raper's Dragons improved to 4-3 with one game left before Christmas.

The Dragons were to host Bridge Creek Tuesday to close out the pre-holiday portion of their schedule.

The Dragons had four players in double figures in both the 54-38 victory over Marlow and the 69-52 win over the Panthers.

Gavin Nation and Garrett Galyean led the way with a dozen each against Marlow. Right on their heels was Jake Berrey with 11. Mojo Browning added 10.

Galyean led all scorers in the Pauls Valley victory pumping in 17 that included two treys. Off the bench freshman Nate Willis threw down 15 along with Browning with 11.

"I was really pleased with our effort in that game. Defensively it was our best game,"

"We hope to give the guys a little break and get away from it and get back into the right mindset. We are definitely not playing bad. We just need a little time to fix some things and get ready for the rest of the schedule. We want to be fresh for the rest of the season."

Things started off very well for Lexington last week. They traveled to Meeker and won an exciting ballgame, 69-61.

The Washington Warriors picked up a pair of wins last week to bring their season record to 5-1.

They defeated Latta 61-40 in a weather-postponed tournament game at the Latta Tournament.

Wayne third at Big 8 Conference

Play resumes Jan. 4 against CCS

EmilyMontgomery

The Wayne Bulldogs were 2-3 during the Big 8 Conference tournament over the weekend, snagging third place.

A 62-52 win over Stratford in the first game and a 63-46 win over Wynnewood bookended their stint in the tournament.

The Bulldogs fell 70-43 to CCS in their second game.

Facing Wynnewood in the third place game, Wayne came out firing, scoring 18 first quarter points and 15 in the second.

Foul trouble plagued Wayne in the contest, but the Bulldogs fought through it. Singeing the nets for 21 points in the final stanza, Wayne pulled away for the 17 point, 63-46 win over the Savages.

Senior Rodney Gray and freshman Brannon Lewelling led the team with 15 and 14 points, respectively. Ethan Mullins and Garrett Deo added 10 and Dawson Mantooth had nine.

"We fought through for the win and had well balanced scoring," head coach Josh Trent said.

Wayne faced a tough CCS team their second game and only loss of the tournament.

Despite having eight Bulldogs contribute on the offensive end, the Royals were just too much for Wayne.

CCS outscored the Bulldogs in each of the four quarters.

In the opening game of the tournament, the Bulldogs notched a 10-point victory over Stratford.

Gray and Mantooth led the team in scoring with 14 and 10. And, once again, several Bulldogs contributed offensively.

Dragons:

Raper said. "The scoring from the bench was a huge factor. That really helped.

Berrey was also in double digits with 14 points.

Coach David Sikes girls played Marlow tough last week, leading 17-16 at half-time before former Dragon Terry Reimer's Lady Outlaws pulled away in the second half to post a 41-33 victory over the Dragons.

Purcell fell behind early at Pauls Valley last Friday and dropped a 67-36 decision at the hands of the Lady Panthers.

Emily Madden led the Purcell scoring against Marlow with 10 points. Alicia Baker paced the offense in the Pauls Valley loss with 16.

"We need to cut down on our turnovers," head coach David Sikes said. "If we can do that we will be right in there."

Warriors:

Preston Milligan took four charges in the game and energized the team.

"We've been struggling shooting the ball but held them in the second half," said head coach TJ Scholz. "We shot better in the second half of the game."

Manny Trejo pumped in 21 points in the win.

He was joined in double figures by Alex Foster with 15 points and Kaleb Kilcrease with 10 points.

"Alex Foster went from averaging four minutes of playing time per game to averaging 12 points per game," Scholz said. "We felt like he was going to be good after watching him this summer."

PV

Washington squared off against Pauls Valley on Tuesday night and captured a 72-60 win.

"We gave up too many points and I'm not happy about how many we allowed," Scholz said.

Pauls Valley's Jack Grimmett put up 26 points against the Warriors.

"I'm not sure if it was our (tired) legs or what," said Scholz.

Kilcrease had a big night defensively, as did Milligan, and the Warriors held Pauls Valley's big post man scoreless.

Overall, Scholz is happy with the way his team is approaching the game from both ends of the floor.

"I wish we were shooting the ball better but it's good to win while not shooting the ball well," the coach said.

One player who is shooting the ball with success is Harrison Keeler, who is knocking down 48 percent of his shots from downtown.

"He's shooting the ball really well for us," Scholz said. "Manny, Kade Hendrix and Jackson Adams are all capable of knocking down outside shots when they get going."

Trejo led the Warriors in scoring with 23 points, followed by Foster with 19 and Kilcrease with 15 points.

Scholz said he'll keep working to get more players more game minutes as the season continues.

"I'd like opportunities to play more guys and we need to get more guys more minutes," he said. "I'm looking for consistent play."

The Warriors played Lindsay (5-3) Tuesday night.

big minutes and helped sustain our lead," Trent said.

Wayne outscored Stratford in every quarter thanks to helpers Gage Holland, Dezmen Wilson, Cooper Chick and Mullins.

"This was a good team effort with well balanced scoring," the coach said.

Last Tuesday Wayne fell to Minco, 71-49.

According to the coach the Bulldogs got behind early and could not get much-needed stops on the defensive end.

"Minco is the best team we have played and probably the best team we will have played all year."

Gray once again led the team in scoring with 19 points. Lewelling added 12 in the loss.

The Wayne Bulldogs are 6-3 on the season. They were scheduled to travel to Dibble

Tuesday night as their final contest before the break.

Play will resume on January 4 as Wayne will host CCS.

Girls

The Wayne Lady Bulldogs finished out the Big 8 Conference with a 45-24 win over Dibble.

"The girls played well. We're finally starting to get some offense going," Trent said.

Senior Morgan Posey led all scorers with 16 points while Lorensa Martinez added nine. "Lorensa sparked us off the bench with her defensive pressure. I'm excited to see the girls coming together."

Games one and two were tough offensively for the Lady Bulldogs. They fell 57-13 to CCS and 43-37 to Wynnewood JV.

In their loss to CCS all facets of the game were off, according to the coach.

"Nobody had a good game. We did not play any defense and we could not score.

"But, we are going to move on and get better and better each game."

Posey was the scoring leader in both losses, scoring 20 points through two games.

Last Tuesday Wayne fell 71-40 to the CCS Lady Royals.

Posey had 13 points in the loss.

Though they were slow to warm up, head coach Trent was pleased to see his Lady Bulldogs playing well in the second half.

"I know we can play a complete game. We just were not able to get it going in the first half tonight."

The Lady Bulldogs are 2-7 and were scheduled to play Dibble Tuesday night.

while Hayden Pruitt added 14 points. Jordan Land (13) and Andre Ibarra (10) also posted double figures against Meeker.

In the Big 8 Tournament, the Davis Wolves beat Lexington, 58-44. The 'Dawgs beat Davis, 55-42, earlier this season but the Wolves returned with a vengeance.

Cottrell led Lexington with 17 points.

"We played Davis and they took it to us," Beck said. "They were prepared for us the second time. We didn't shoot very well at 24-percent for the game. They played us tough. The next night we played Dibble and we played better."

Lexington beat the Dibble Demons, 54-49, even though Dibble's Ty Sparks scored 23 for the Demons. The 'Dawgs featured four players in double figures in points: Cottrell (14), Ibarra (13), Seth Comer (10), and Colton Penner (10).

"We did everything we could to try and slow him down," Beck said of Sparks. "We had four people in double figures so that was a good sign. Our next game against Stratford was for the consolation finals."

Lexington lost to Stratford, 41-38. The opposition was able to get Cottrell into early foul trouble and the big playmaker for the 'Dawgs ended up fouling out of the game.

"One of our biggest contributors - Jaylen Cottrell - fouled out and he didn't play but a quarter and a half because of foul trouble," Beck said. "That really hurt us and took us out of our rhythm and what we were trying to do."

After the Meeker game, Beck was expecting a better showing in the tournament. But, he has confidence that his team will rebound with a little break during Christmas.

"Meeker was a great win," Beck said. "We were down but we found some gumption and came back to win it. That's why I thought we would play better in the tournament. The teams in the tournament hit us when we were light. I still feel great about our team. We just need to focus and get back after it."

Girls

The Lexington girls' basketball team had a productive week last week and the Lady 'Dawgs enter Christmas break with a fine 5-2 record.

"I'm enthused and proud of our team," said first-year Lexington head coach Derek Clark. "We're definitely going to try and get better. We have girls who really love the game and play hard. That's all you can ask to have as a coach."

Last week started with a convincing 65-38 victory at Meeker.

Lauren Beason led the way with 28 points while Amanda Graddy followed with 16 points.

In the first game of the Big 8 Tournament, Lexington beat Wynnewood, 50-30, behind Graddy's 19 points.

The 'Dawgs then defeated Community Christian, 71-43, as Beason poured in 28 points and Graddy contributed another 20 points in the winning effort.

"We played really well on Friday against Community Christian," Clark said. "Everything went right for us in that game. We played a really strong third quarter against Meeker. This year, we're striving to be a really good team in the third quarter - coming out strong and refreshed in the second half."

Lexington used a 17-9 push in the third quarter to fly past Meeker in the second half of the game.

That came after the 'Dawgs went on a 23-9 run to end the first half.

"We really opened it up against Meeker," Clark said. "When we can play up to our potential, we are really hard to handle."

In the championship game of the Big 8 Tournament, the 'Dawgs dropped a tough 45-38 decision to Class 2A Stratford.

Lexington led most of the game until the fourth quarter, when Stratford outscored Lex, 22-6.

Graddy and Beason each scored 12 points to lead Lexington's offense.

"We led against Stratford nearly the entire game," Clark said. "We were up by 11 with about five minutes to go. But, they started making their shots.

It was tough to lose the championship of the Big 8 Tournament. We just let it go in the end. The kids played hard but Stratford was pretty good and they are well coached. They always had five girls on the floor who were disciplined.

"They clamped down on us low in the paint and they slowed the game up with ball control. They handled our press pretty well. We press a lot but they were ready for it. In the end, they just hit their shots when they meant the most. They finished strong but to be 5-2 at the break means a lot."

Clark certainly feels good about his club's showing so far this season. "We've got some scrimmages and practices scheduled during the break," Clark said. "We're just going to try and build on what we do best."

Salvation Army Bell Ringing

Angie Steele
Washington Correspondent

This is the time of year that you hear the bell ringing for the Salvation Army Kettle.

D. Brown is the contact person for the Salvation Army in McClain County. This is the fifth year Washington resident Phyllis Linker has been the coordinator for the bell ringing schedule.

The ringing begins the first day after Thanksgiving and goes until Christmas Eve from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Phyllis has “rang the bell” since 1989 when she retired.

Some businesses sign up bell ringers for the whole day, while others stand two to four hours on several days. D and Phyllis would like everyone who participates to know they are appreciated.

mas Day and on New Year’s Day.

Each week we recognize veterans for service to our country who served during World War II or the Korean War. Each of them is given a military cap representing their service. The biggest job we then have is deciding which one of them will be our Veteran of the Week. We are proud to recognize Paul Keller who served in the Korean War as a member of the United States Army during the 1950s. Mr. Keller makes his home in Sulphur.

As we draw closer to the end of 2018, I would like to say that what our volunteers accomplished during the last 12 months for our veterans and their families has never been seen anywhere in this United States. We are assisting an average of 300 veterans and surviving spouses each week with their claims and questions. Considering we are only open on Tuesday and Thursday morning that is quite an accomplishment for a group of volunteers.

Our only goal is to improve the lives of men and women who served in our military. As many of you have gone to different organizations for help yet have been turned down for VA for benefits, we do things a little differently in Norman. We file evidence-based claims for veterans using the VA Disability Benefits Questionnaires (DBQs) available on the VA website. These DBQ forms are filled out by medical professionals as they evaluate the veteran’s disabilities.

We then submit a Fully Developed Claim on VA form 21-526EZ without DBQ evidence. Some of these claims may be decided using only the evidence provided while others may require another medical opinion by VA. By using these forms, most of the claims we file are approved by VA on the first time around. If a claim is denied, we review it making any changes that are needed and then follow our first process again. Our system is proven over and over every day.

When I filed my first claim back in the 80s the only choices we had locally were the American Legion, VFW, or ODVA. Back then I did not understand why VA denied my claim for service-connection of an eye condition that occurred while in Vietnam. I thought because I was treated for it in the military, the VA would automatically service-connect my eye condition after filing my claim.

It did not take long for me to start reading everything that was available on how to receive VA benefits. I finally wound up with a copy of Volume 38 parts 0 thru 17 of the Code of Federal Regulations. That book has every disability for which a veteran can be service-connected. It also has rating tables showing the different percentages a disability should be rated. I figure the more knowledge that both our volunteers and the veterans and surviving spouses have the more likely we will be able to help them with their VA claims for benefits.

The Department of Veterans Affairs developed the DBQ system to establish a level playing field for all veterans. The VA disability system is based on evidence that either supports a veteran’s claim or not. If the veteran has no evidence of a disability, it can be or is usually denied unless it is presumptive to their military. The only thing I know for sure is we are assisting veterans from all Oklahoma’s 77 counties, 48 states, and four different countries up until last week when I received a request from a veteran living in Kenya and Dubai. It looks like we now have veterans from six countries who are visiting Norman Oklahoma for help with their VA claims and questions.

As many of you know we set a goal of helping one thousand veterans to receive a one hundred percent rating in 2018. As of today, there have been 968 who have received that rating. We will reach our goal in the next week or so, I just don’t know what number we should set for our 2019 goal. This week we have several new volunteers who are joining our team of men and women who are making a difference in the lives of veterans and their families. Our people don’t wonder if they helped anyone or not as we receive all of the decision letters on the veterans and spouses who we serve. Have you thought about the lives of the three hundred plus veterans and family members that we assist weekly? It looks to me like well over 10,000 of them visited us in 2018!

Please remember if you need a ride to visit us contact our drivers at (405) 550-8806, extension 105 and 106. These very dedicated volunteers logged almost 80 hours last week transporting 40 veterans more than 1,200 miles.

In the mailbag from the VA this week we received more 350 pieces of mail including VA decision letters for 30 veterans who received a rating at 100 percent. These folks will receive $1,207,395 on an annual basis. Sixty-seven veterans were awarded benefits at the rate of 10-90 percent and will receive $1,178,670 on an annual basis. Four surviving spouses were awarded benefits and will annually receive $59,450.

If you would like to donate to Dale K. Graham Veterans Foundation, you can do so at dalekgrahamveteransfoundation.org or mail a check to Dale K. Graham Veterans Foundation at P.O. Box 592 Washington, Oklahoma 73093. As a 501(c)(3) your gift may be tax deductible. We appreciate your support of our nation’s veterans and their families.

Dale K. Graham Veterans Foundation has food sacks available to those in need. An application for this type of assistance will be available on Tuesday and Thursday mornings. A DD-214 or military discharge will be necessary to apply. Please contact 405-550-8806 Extension 103 to request a food sack.

If you need a ride to and from a VA Medical Appointment, please contact 405-550-8806 to reach Clayton at Extension 105 or Louie at Ext. 106.

We are available every Tuesday and Thursday morning with the doors opening at 5:30 a.m. We begin working as soon as volunteers have their computers ready. We stop taking clients as soon as we reach the quota for the day, and that time varies depending on the number of visitors and the number of available volunteers, which usually occurs around 7 a.m.

Last week our area endured the effects of a cold blustery northerly wind accompanied by driving rain. The winds took a toll on our manger scene in the front of the church.

With the help of Mark Brown and Clyde Gilman, the shepherds and magi were refitted and appeared normal by Friday afternoon. We also appreciate Mark and Clyde for replacing 11 florescent lights in our church sign.

A good group of family and friends were present Sunday morning to enjoy a special Christmas program presented by Abygail Mayo and Ginger Clifton and directed by Sandra Mayo.

The Christmas Story, presented beautifully by the two young ladies, was entitled "Cooking Up Christmas." The young ladies are to be commended for their work in memorizing their roles in the program.

Scripture text for the morning sermon was taken from three passages in the Gospels of Matthew and Mark. The Wise Men traveled from a distant land to honor Jesus with gold, frankincense and myrrh. One of the 10 lepers healed by Jesus, a lowly Samaritan, returned, fell at the feet of Jesus and gave thanks.

A recognized sinful woman in the city appeared at a religious man's house, stood behind Jesus, knelt down, washed His feet with her tears, kissed His feet and anointed His feet with oil.

The Wise Men, the leper and the sinful woman expressed the power and glory of Jesus to heal and forgive. What Jesus did in bringing joy and eternal hope to every individual should inspire each of us to present many gifts of love to Him. There are countless ways to express our love.

Our gifts are best represented by our commitment to actions that express genuine love for our Master that left His heavenly home and traveled to this world to bring us Salvation.

For His eternal gift, we should continually thank Jesus, worship Jesus, serve Jesus and honor Jesus. Our love for Jesus demands our best.

We would like for the rich and poor to attend Sunday morning services at Johnson Road Baptist Church. We need some more families to fill our empty pews.

Sermon title for this Sunday is "Christmas Never Disappears."

The weekly prayer meeting is a one hour session of prayer and Bible study that begins at 6 p.m.

Sunday morning worship begins at 11 a.m.

Writing from the mountain-top!

Gatlinburg, Tenn.: We write and send greetings to you all this week from the high mountains of Tennessee's Great Smokies. Each year, usually about this time in December, the amazin' blonde and I fly to Atlanta and spend a few days up in these mountains as well as back in my hometown of LaGrange, Ga. Our best friends, Coca-Cola Mike and Glory, hosted us for a few days there until we headed north to Tennessee after the Lord's Day services.

Such a trip, obviously, is refreshing, both in the clean mountain air we are able to breathe for a few days and in the great people we are able to lay our eyes on again. Perhaps it was more of my own inner excitement in being home than anything, but it seems that the spirit in my old hometown church where I was raised was better than I had seen it in a long time.

Perhaps it could never surpass some of the old days when my grandparents Preacher Miller and Grandma, and my auburn-headed Uncle Alton and Aunt Florence graced that Southern landscape. As we know, few things can surpass those "days of yore."

But our current church loved-ones are in high spirits as they now meet in their just-completed new church building off of the Roanoke Road that leads to the Alabama line fifteen miles further. The building is beautiful, Coca-Cola Mike oversaw much of its construction, and the spirit inside equaled the outer beauty.

I wish I could introduce you Oklahoma friends, one by one, to all of those old Georgia loved ones. Few of them are left that have the same blood flowing in their veins as I. But those who have gone on are still there in spirit, and their works "follow them," as the great apostle John writes (Revelation 14:13).

What a great privilege it always is, too, to be able to address the congregation as we have done almost every time we have gone back home since we left in the autumn of 1973. We opened the Word of God to John's writings twice on that day - to the first chapter of the gospel of John in the morning, and to the epistle of 1 John in the afternoon.

Now, I am the worst gauge of my own sermons of anyone, so you never know the impact a presentation of scriptures may have on an audience. But I am not a poor gauge of the impact that standing and looking out over that hometown audience had and always has on me. It is one of life's great blessings. I can truly say with John, "I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day" (Revelation 1:10).

With the Lord's Day past and our having put that experience in the top file of our memory, we write now, as is our custom, on the Monday following, now looking out over the Smokies and God's handiwork in the beauties of Tennessee. Both views, the one in that Four Oaks Church of Christ pulpit of LaGrange, Ga., and the one high up in these mountains, inspire us to say, with John, that the Lord "carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountain" (Rev. 21:10).

Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church

By Fr. Jim Chamberlain

When teaching college students, we notice a gradual process in learning. In their first two years, we expect them to learn the "tools" of their major - math, science, reading comprehension, project execution - that are required for them to excel in their chosen field.

But in their last two years, we also want them to learn how to be creative and to have new ideas. And mostly we want them to have a love of learning so they can continue to teach themselves as they get older.

Their college teachers won't always be around. They will need to think for themselves and to come up with their own answers that are reasonable and grounded in truth.

In a similar way, learning how to live as Christians is a gradual process. The disciples of John the Baptist asked him "What should we do?" (Luke 3:10-18) In other words, how shall we act? Our children first learn simple things. They hear and follow the teaching of Jesus "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." (Mt. 7:12)

All of us know how we would like to be treated. And so we tell our children:

"Would you like someone to be mean to you?" "Would you like someone to take away your toys?" "Would you like someone to tell you a lie?" The answer is always "no". And so we learn the basics of morality - to treat our sisters and brothers in the same way that we would like to be treated.

As children get older, they will have deeper experiences. They will already know how it feels to be afraid. And they may also soon learn what it means to be lonely, to feel like you do not have a friend. These are experiences of longing to feel safe, of longing to be in the company of others who love you.

Their faith then becomes more and more mature. And they will soon begin to see the connection between their actions and the things they hear at church. It is like the game of "connect the dots."

But most importantly, they will see that they are the happiest when they are living lives of love and generosity, when they have developed good habits of treating each other with respect. They will have more friends. More people will like them and love them.

Finally, the last stage of growing in faith is when someone begins to live not for their own individual salvation but for the building of God's kingdom, a kingdom where people live as brothers and sisters, a kingdom in which love is not the exception, but the rule.

The Wednesday evening auditorium class studied from the first two chapters of Second Corinthians.

The Sunday morning adult Bible class looked at the resurrection of Jesus and some events immediately following from the latter chapters of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

During the Sunday morning assembly Keith Shackelford contemplated the world without God, based on the apostle Paul's statement to the church at Ephesus that they were without hope and without God in the world in Ephesians 2:12.

The lesson examined some of the things people who do not have God have tried to replace Him with, such as idolatry, atheism and accepting some of God's teachings while dismissing others.

The Sunday evening sermon was a character study of Joseph of Arimathea, the wealthy man who furnished the tomb where Jesus was buried. The lesson emphasized his courage in standing up for Jesus when it was not popular to do so.

Bible classes begin at 9:45 a.m. Sunday morning and 7 p.m. Wednesday evening, with worship at 10:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Sunday. Bible study correspondence courses are available. You can call the office at 527-4052.

Christmas ornaments for soldiers

Lexington Middle School students grades six through eighth collected individual Christmas ornaments and made Christmas cards for members of the 1245 Transportation Company (TC) of the Oklahoma Army National Guard. The 1245TC is currently deployed to Kuwait supporting contingency operations in Southwest Asia and will not be home with their families for Christmas. The hope is the individual ornaments will be made available to the individual members of the unit to decorate their quarters during the holidays and will become a part of their individual trees in years to come as a reminder of the sacrifices of themselves and their families during the holidays. The students appreciate members of American Legion Post 301 for providing the postage to deliver the ornaments and cards.

Paying it forward

Plains All-American Pipeline gave the town of Tribbey $6,000 to cover electric bills at the town's community center. Mayor Michey Roberts, left, accepted the donation from Plains local district manager Monty Morris. Until recently, the company operated a pipeline near Tribbey and has been paying electric bills for the Dale Smith Community Center since 2003. The donation is expected to cover the bills for the next four to five years. The town, pop. 371, uses the center for monthly meetings and it is a place for citizens to gather for group activities, public information and other purposes.
