

A NEW hospital?

Sales tax extensions going to voters

Jeanne Grimes
The Purcell Register

One day in the not so distant future, Purcell's 32-bed hospital may be just a memory, replaced by a new, leaner, state-of-the-art healthcare facility.

If so, Purcell City Council took a first step toward that future by calling for a special election August 28 to extend the hospital's penny sales tax through Dec. 31, 2039.

The existing tax for three years received overwhelming support of the voters in 2016 and went into effect on Jan. 1, 2017. It will expire at the end of 2019.

The new proposition which will amend the original intent of the hospital sales tax to "fund the construction ... of health care facilities."

"Twenty years is a long time," said council member Graham Fishburn.

Mayor Ted Cox agreed, but also pointed out the hard choice the city is facing – spending "significant money on the old hospital or considering a new hospital."

Architectural and engineering estimates to bring Purcell Municipal Hospital up to code are $11 to $12 million, Cox said.

With an average daily census of four patients, 87.5 percent of the hospital's 32-bed capacity is unused.

A smaller state-of-the-art 8-bed hospital can be built for an estimated $15 million.

"The efficiency gains will make the payments," Cox said.

A new hospital and clinic can also be constructed with room to grow.

Kem Scully, chief executive officer of the hospital, said St. Anthony will offer shared services, but won't pay for construction.

City manager Dale Bunn said there are "two or three" similar facilities in the St. Anthony network.

One is in Weatherford and it is "very successful," according to Cox.

The 20-year life of the hospital sales tax will open funding opportunities for the construction.

"We feel we broke 10 percent and the city has adjusted," Cox said.

On the same August 28 special election ballot will be another sales tax proposition.

This one would add 1.5

City crews closing in on clean-up

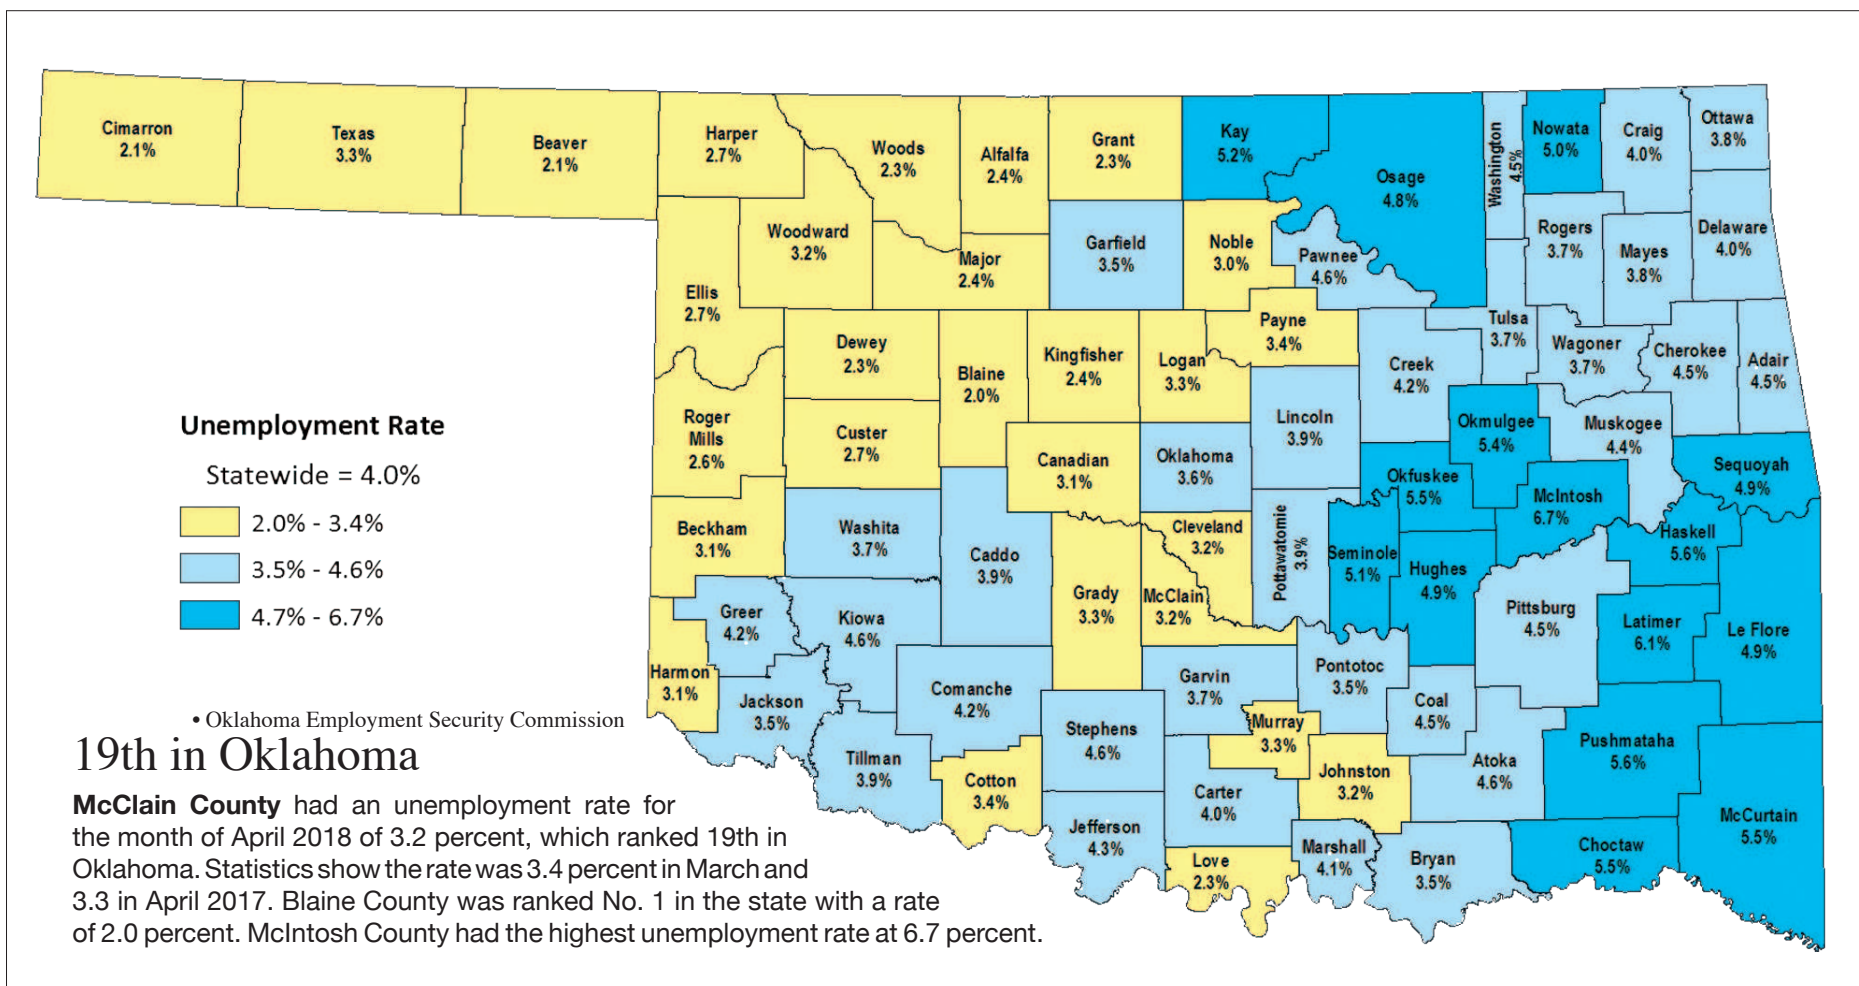

Mother Nature wasn't nice to Purcell in May.

The month began with an EF-1 tornado's damaging path through town on May 2.

Coincidentally, that was during the first week of the city's annual free pickup of brush, limbs and other yard debris.

Then on May 20, straight winds clocked in excess of 100 mph split and uprooted trees,

Officially open

The new Harvest from the Heart Farmer's Market opened for business Friday afternoon in Chandler Park at Purcell Lake. The market will be open every Friday from 5-8 p.m.

Taking a dip

Swimmers flock to Purcell Lake

About 70 people waded right in on Memorial Day, enjoying a dip in the previously forbidden waters of Purcell Lake.

Acity ordinance as old as the lake itself had banned swimming and wading in the lake.

The city council amended that ordinance in April to permit both at a designated swimming area.

The Parks and Recreation staff subsequently had sand brought in and created a beach at the newly designated swimming area.

City manager Dale Bunn told the council Monday evening that the area was well received by users.

Swimming at the lake is at your own risk. There are no lifeguards.

Last rain of spring?

Parts of Purcell get nearly 1/2 inch

Parts of the Heart of Oklahoma received a good rain overnight Monday and into Tuesday morning.

In Purcell, .4" was recorded bringing the total for the year to 15.48".

That compares to 10.02" at

Will Rogers World Airport. The normal for the year-to-date is 14.49".

Rain chances diminish as summer temperatures and conditions take a strangle hold on the state.

Beginning Conger's makeover

Construction on Purcell's new football facility has begun. The improvements were made possible after voters overwhelmingly passed a nearly $30 million bond issue. Also included in the bond are a new junior high school with a safe room large enough for the high school as well, technology equipment and new band uniforms.

Grass Clippings
From: Code Enforcement
We appreciate the hard work you do in keeping your property mowed. This is just a reminder that you are not allowed to deposit the clippings in the street or sidewalk. Please sweep them up or blow them back in your yard, not your neighbors or across the street. This not only makes the street and property look bad, the clippings wash into the storm drains, clogging them. This is a code ordinance 90-34. The fine is $249. Again thank you for maintaining your property. If you have any questions please feel free to call us at 527-6561 or 527-4656.

Community garden for Lexington residents

Lexington 4-H member Conrad Moffat has organized a Community Garden for Lexington residents.

The community garden is a place to grow food, flowers and herbs for those in the community who do not have fresh vegetables.

A Community Garden serves several other purposes, including a place to reconnect with nature or get physical exercise, for those who lack adequate space at their house or apartment to have a garden, and to build or revitalize a sense of community among neighbors.

Residents of Lexington who want to participate in the Community Garden will be asked to volunteer time in the garden or if not physically able may help in others ways.

A work time is scheduled for Saturday, June 9, beginning at 9 a.m.

The Community Garden is located at 900 E. Broadway, on the south side of the First Baptist Church Family Life Center.

The garden has many vegetables planted and some will be ready to harvest at the work time. Other vegetables will be planted and the garden needs to be weeded.

More information is available on the Lexington 4-H Club Facebook page or by calling Conrad Moffat at 527-0766.

MOVIES WITH DAVE

By David Stull

Another week, another set of new movies. This time we have a sci-fi film set in the not so distant future, a survival romance based on an amazing true story, and Johnny Knoxville is back attempting to injure himself repeatedly for our collective amusement. Let's get right to it.

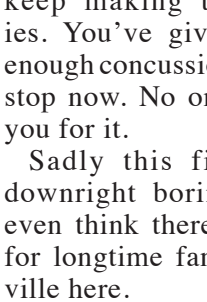

First up is "Upgrade." Set in a near-future, where technology controls nearly all aspects of life, Grey Trace (Logan Marshall-Green) has his world turned upside down when a shot to his spine leaves him paralyzed from the neck down. To get the use of his body back, Grey is granted an experimental cure, an artificial Intelligence implant that gives him incredible physical abilities. Allowing him to seek revenge against those who left him for dead. This movie kind of appeared out of nowhere for me. I think I might have seen a trailer for it a few months ago, but nothing recent, and leading up to its release I didn't have a clue what "Upgrade" was about beyond that it was a sci-fi movie. Nothing like going into a film nearly blind. But I'm happy to say this movie was a pretty pleasant surprise. Considering it's lower budget, this is a fairly well put together film. I just love the setting. A future with self-driving cars, complete home automation systems, and hundreds of drones in the sky monitoring every single thing you do doesn't seem all too far off, and the filmmakers do a good job bringing this vision of a potential near future to life. In some ways it reminded me of the recent "Blade Runner" film that was released last year. Not just in its setting, but with its intense synth musical score as well. But beyond the general atmosphere and soundtrack, the movies aren't all that alike. This film takes itself much, much less seriously than "Blade Runner 2049." There's much more of a focus on the action, which leads to easily my favorite part of the film. I love the way the fight scenes are filmed in this movie. It's like the camera is in lockstep with the movements of our main character. If Grey dodges out of the way of an attack, the whole frame dodges with him. If he gets knocked on the floor, the entire camera falls down with him. It really emphasizes the mechanical, almost robotic nature of Grey's fighting style and makes every action scene a real treat to watch. As for the story itself, the idea of a broken man given superhuman powers by technology is far from a new concept, at least not to someone who grew up watching "The Six Million Dollar Man" and "Robocop." The filmmakers do add their own flair to the concept though. Giving the device that grants Grey's ability to walk a voice (Simon Maiden) and having the two of them talk back and forth certainly does add an interesting twist, not to mention a fair amount of comedy. And despite not being terribly original, the movie does take plenty of turns to keep things interesting. But as interesting as some of the twists and turns were, the story itself doesn't feel like it was all too well thought out. In hindsight of the ending, entire sections of the film feel completely pointless now. At least they did to me. Maybe I missed some important plot point that explained it. It wouldn't be the first time. Despite all that, this was still a very enjoyable movie to watch. One that's easy to recommend to those seeking entertaining sci-fi. "Upgrade" is rated R. ***

Next is "Action Point." D.C. (Johnny Knoxville), the owner of a low-rent, out-of-control amusement park, has the future of his park threatened when a corporate mega-park releases nearby. To save his theme park, D.C. risks everything, pulling out all the stops to make his park even wilder and more dangerous than before. All this while trying to maintain his relationship with his estranged teenage daughter (Eleanor Worthington-Cox). Oh boy. Another Johnny Knoxville film. For those who don't know, Knoxville has made almost an entire career out of injuring himself. He's best known for creating and starting the MTV TV series, "Jackass." A show filled with numerous dangerous stunts and pranks that often lead to real life injury. All in an attempt to make the audience and their fellow cast members laugh. I'll be frank. I'm not the biggest fan of Knoxville's comedic work. Seeing people mutilate their own genitals and nearly breaking their necks isn't exactly my idea of a good time. Nor do I much care for Knoxville's style of pranking. Just last week, I watched one of his more recent film's "Bad Grandpa," a movie with Knoxville dressed as an old man with full elderly makeup. The entire movie pretty much amounted to Knoxville going around, acting like a creepy sex pervert, and generally making everyone around him very, very uncomfortable. Thankfully this latest movie has none of Knoxville's awkward pranks. It's closer to a typical film with actual actors, and not the loose collection of pranks on real people held together by a thin, afterthought of a narrative like "Bad Grandpa" was. Unfortunately, the story in this movie is so generic, it still felt like it was just an afterthought. It's just the "big evil organization trying to buyout the little guy" narrative you've seen dozens of times, with a dash of "estranged father too busy for his child" thrown in for good measure. That wouldn't necessarily be a bad thing if they weren't just so incredibly lazy with that concept. The writing here is completely painted by numbers and there's not a single creative, or surprising thing that happens in the entire film. But fine. This is a comedy right? Who cares about story? We're just here to see Johnny Knoxville get hit in the head. Well this movie does have that. Poor Johnny gets hurt dozens of time during this film's 84-minute runtime. So it's a shame, with all his many injuries, that I didn't find a single moment of this film funny. And it wasn't just me either. During the entire movie I only heard a single laugh from anyone else in the audience. There were no good jokes. It was just Knoxville giving himself various injuries over and over again for no reason. At this point it's just kind of sad. Why are you doing this to yourself Johnny? You're 47 and a multimillionaire. You don't have to keep making these movies. You've given yourself enough concussions. You can stop now. No one will hate you for it. Sadly this film is just downright boring. I don't even think there's anything for longtime fans of Knoxville here. Even as a rental, this injury heavy "comedy" would be a total waste of a good evening. "Action Point" is rated R. ***

Last this week is "Adrift." Based on a true story, this movie follows a young couple (Shailene Woodley and Sam Claflin) who are forced to fight for their lives after their boat is ravaged by a deadly hurricane during their journey across the Pacific Ocean. Well what an incredible story this is. It's astonishing that it's all based on actual events. And overall, I'd say the movie did a pretty decent job of bringing this extraordinary tale to life. The story is told in two halves. One half being pre-storm showing Woodley and Claflin's budding romance, and the other post-storm with the couple doing everything in their power to survive. Each half is intercut with the other and it's not until the very end that you actually see the terrible events of the storm. It's a fine way to tell a story. A bit predictable, but the movie managed to keep my interest the whole way through. At the very least, it was much better than "The Mountain Between Us," last year's dud of a survival romance film. As for the acting, both our leads are pretty solid all around and the two of them also have a fair amount of chemistry together. This was the first non "Divergent" film I had seen Shailene Woodley in. I can't say I was a big fan of her in those movies. Frankly, she probably wouldn't have been my first choice to star in this film. But I have to admit she does a pretty good job here. It's certainly the best acting I've seen from her yet, though I never did watch "The Fault in Our Stars," a movie Woodley also stars in. For as reliant as this movie was on believable performances, she does good work here. All in all, this is a pretty decent movie. I wouldn't rush out to see it in theaters, but for the price of a rental, I'd say this film is well worth the watch. "Adrift" is rated PG-13.

but not high enough for a diabetes diagnosis. Pre-diabetes is treatable. But only one in 10 people with the condition will even know they have it. Left untreated, one in three will develop the full-blown disease within several years. Confronted with those statistics, Medicare is ramping up its efforts to prevent diabetes among the millions of Medicare beneficiaries who are at a heightened risk of developing it. Several years ago, Medicare partnered with YMCAs nationwide to launch an initiative for patients with pre-diabetes. The pilot project showed that older people could lose weight through lifestyle counseling and regular meetings that stressed healthy eating habits and exercise. About half of the participants shed an average of five percent of their weight, which health authorities say is enough to substantially reduce the risk of full-blown diabetes. Through adopting a healthier lifestyle, people diagnosed with pre-diabetes can delay the onset of the disease. Based on the trial program's encouraging results, Medicare is now expanding its coverage for diabetes prevention. Using the pilot project as a model, it will help pay for a counseling program aimed at improving beneficiaries' nutrition, increasing their physical activity and reducing stress. If you have Medicare's Part B medical insurance and are pre-diabetic, you'll be able to enroll in a series of coaching sessions lasting one to two years and conducted by health care providers as well as community organizations like local senior centers. There will be no out-of-pocket cost. Medicare is currently recruiting partners to offer the program so that it will be widely available to beneficiaries. Diabetes can be a terribly debilitating disease. It can mean a lifetime of tests, injections and health challenges. Every five minutes in this country, 14 more adults are diagnosed with it. And in the same five minutes, two more people will die from diabetes-related causes. If we can prevent more diabetes cases before they even start, we can help people live longer and fuller lives, as well as save money across our health care system.

Distance champion

Blazen Panther (2) pulls clear in the stretch to win the $53,300 Remington Park Distance Championship on Saturday, June 2, 2018. Jockey Daniel Torres was up for the victory.

Blazen Panther wins Remington Park Distance Championship

The Grade 2, $53,300 Remington Park Distance Championship was won by Blazen Panther who used an inside post position to his advantage, pulling away to a 1-1/4 length win.

Blazen Panther won his second straight race around the turn at 870 yards this season at Remington Park. Owned and trained by Luz Chavira of Purcell, the 7-year-old gelding was ridden by Daniel Torres who gave huge credit to his veteran for a professional performance. "He got a good jump on the field and that's what he needed to get himself a good spot and save ground. He did and he just kept running. Once we got to the straightaway I just asked him for a little bit more and he pulled away. He handled the trip perfect."

Blazen Panther was clear into the stretch and had plenty left to hold off the rally of Zoomin Racer who finished second as the beaten 4-5 betting favorite.

Jess A Hilbily Bone was third, three lengths behind the winner.

Away at odds of 7-1 in the wagering, Blazen Panther paid $16.80 to win, $5.80 to place and $3.20 to show. Zoomin Racer paid $3 to place and $2.40 to show. Jess A Hilbily Bone, winner of the Remington Park Distance Championship in 2017, paid $3.20 to show.

The win for Blazen Panther was his ninth from 37 career starts and his fifth at Remington Park. He has now won seven career races at the turn-distance of 870 yards. Bred in Oklahoma by B. Cockrell and L. Vanhoozer, Blazen Panther is by Panther Mountain from the Blazen Bryan mare Blazen Madie. The first-place check of $33,138 boosts the overall earnings for Blazen Panther to $166,916.

Blazen Panther provided the first win in the Remington Park Distance Championship for all of his connections.

Plan outdoor adventure with ideas from Camping and Backpacking event

The Purcell Public Library presents an evening of ideas for outdoor adventure with its program Camping and Backpacking 101, at 6 p.m. Thursday, June 14.

The library will welcome National Park Rangers who will discuss some basics of camping, hiking and backpacking, including examples of the proper gear and knowledge to take out into the great outdoors.

Either teens or adults may attend and registration in advance is requested.

For more information, visit the library, call 527-5546 or go online to www.pioneerlibrary-system.org/purcell.

Happy birthday to our Register employee Doris Caldwell. Doris celebrates her birthday June 9.

Happy birthdays also go out to James Kyzer, Darrell Ford, Charlie Lizana, Jeannie Lohn, Alicia Ibarra, Stephanie Woods, Miriam Chaves, Erica Estrade, Carol Frazier, Glenda Roberts, Susan Roberts, Maria Gracia Velasco, Pat Stejskal, Howard Dawson, Rick Stevenson, David Hope, Kristi Lawson, Gina Johnson, Jon Clary, Jennifer Holmes, Patty Johnson, Debbie Wollenberg, Adrienne Foshee, Jordan Sheehy, Sawyer Midkiff, Marshall Honeyman, Pam Hobbs, Teresa Langley, Madisyn Tolle, Tom Martin, Kathe Green, Jeremy Cudd, Brody Anderson, Jason Bryant, Ashley Cargill, Jaycee Holman, Kaylee Keeler, Ulmer Miller, Kanina Pendley, Dan Todd, Harper Trent, Kooper Trent, Pat Bain, Victoria Johnson, Cody Webb, Ticia Dyan Whatley and John Mantooth.

Attending the 2018 Purcell High School graduation in which Adam Wells participated were Gary Goodfriend and his close friend, Debbie Crisp.

Gary is the cousin of Suzanne Krapf Wells and her children and nephew of the late Joe and Pauline Krapf.

Gary and his family made countless trips to Purcell since childhood to visit grandparents, aunt and uncle and cousins. He works in Dallas and will shortly be retiring to Round Rock, Texas.

Debbie, a native of Pasadena, Texas, has been a long-time friend and lives and works in the Austin area.

Both enjoyed attending the graduation and seeing family and friends.

Joining in the festivities after graduation were Hallie, Zoe and Honey Wells along with their new cousin. Especially enjoyable were a trip to Jo's Pizza after graduation followed by a festive gala honoring the graduate hosted at the Wells home.

Purcell Schools will serve summer breakfast and lunch starting June 4 through July 27 at the elementary school.

There will be no meals served on July 4.

The meals will be served Monday through Friday with breakfast from 8-9 a.m. and lunch from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Purcell Junior High will be available for a grab and go breakfast and lunch.

The Purcell Public Library will offer its resources and the knowledge of an experienced genealogy researcher in a series of Genealogy Help programs on Wednesday afternoons during June.

Sessions will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. on Wednesdays, June 13, 20 and 27 in the Meeting Room of the library, 919 N. Ninth St.

Participants can bring their specific questions or just learn more about starting their family research and about all the resources the library has to offer.

Ages 18 and up may participate, and no advance registration is required.

For more information, visit the library, call 527-5546 or go online to www.pioneerlibrary-system.org/purcell.

The Purcell Public Library is offering families with young children a chance to enjoy the variety of programs and story times offered by the library on Thursdays during June.

Programs begin at 10:30 a.m. and the schedule for the month features:

June 7 and 14—Preschool and Toddler Story Time, featuring stories, songs and more activities for preschool-age children;

June 21—Story Time Play Date, with the Chickasaw Nation visiting for a program on healthy eating;

June 28—Viva GLART! Grow a Learner Through Art, a bilingual event with learning through art and play;

Registration is requested in advance for each of the programs.

For more information on any of the programs, visit the library, call 527-5546 or go online to www.pioneerlibrarysystem.org/purcell.

Here's a super simple one-pot meal.

Crock Pot Pepper Jack Chicken

3-4 lbs. boneless skinless chicken thighs or breasts
1 tsp. onion powder
1 tsp. garlic powder
2 tsp. cumin
Salt and pepper to taste
10 oz. frozen whole green beans
1 bell pepper- seeded and sliced
8 oz. fresh mushrooms- sliced
1/4 cup butter
10 slices Pepper Jack Cheese

Place chicken in the bottom of a slow cooker and season with garlic powder, onion powder, cumin and salt and pepper.

Layer frozen green beans, then mushrooms and peppers.

Season again with salt and pepper, top with butter and cook on low for 4-6 hours until chicken is shreddable when stirred.

Stir chicken until shredded and then top with cheese and cook on high until the cheese melts.

Prom named to honor roll

Kylie Prom of Purcell was named to the President's Honorable Mention Honor Roll at Northwestern Oklahoma State University.

Prom, an undergraduate, had a 4.0 in a minimum of three to a maximum of 11 semester hours.

UCO names honor students

The University of Central Oklahoma recently announced the students named to the university's honor rolls, a distinction given to those who achieve the highest academic standards.

For the spring 2018 semester, 1,291 students were named to the President's Honor Roll, an honor achieved by those who recorded a "straight-A" or 4.0 GPA.

In addition, 1,940 students were named to the Dean's Honor Roll, a list of those who achieved a 3.5 GPA or better for the semester, and no grade lower than a B.

To be eligible for the President's or Dean's lists, students must complete at least 12 hours of on-campus class credit for the semester.

Named to the President's Honor Roll were Kathryn Curry, Alexis Huff and Skye Elizabeth Tompkins, all of Purcell; Makayla Noelle Zimmer of Washington and Angela Vega of Wayne.

Named to the Dean's Honor Roll were Ryan L. Rogers of Purcell and Hannah Tru'Angel Eoff of Washington.

Johnson selected for program

Kristy Johnson of Blanchard, a student at Oklahoma State University is one of seven undergraduate students who have been selected to a competitive summer program working in cancer research laboratories at the Stephenson Cancer Center at the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center.

The Cancer Undergraduate Research Experience (CURE) Program provides students experience working on nationally funded research projects under the mentorship of senior investigators. Students gain valuable hands-on knowledge of research methodology and the latest approaches in cancer medicine.

"A component of the Stephenson Cancer Center's mission is to provide education, training, and mentorship to students at all levels," said Julie Stoner, PhD, Associate Director for Education and Training. "The CURE Program is important for sparking student interest in future careers related to science and medicine."

At the completion of the eight-week program, students will present their research to gain experience in organizing, interpreting, and discussing their research results.

EPIC Charter School graduates

The state's largest charter school and 14th largest public school district, EPIC Charter School held its commencement ceremony June 2 at the Cox Convention Center. The ceremony honored a record number of 1,299 graduating seniors, the largest class of EPIC graduates since the school's inception.

Heart of Oklahoma graduates included Abigail Riggall of Byars; Gabielle Bledsoe, Garrison Duke, Jared Spencer, Laramie Shea and Shylynn Edwards, all of Lexington; Chloe Smith and Eunice Munoz-Yeverino, both of Purcell; Adrian Lewis and Tye Lee, both of Wanette; Rozlynn Birdsong of Washington and Cayley Lambert of Wayne.

Huddleston initiated

Abigail Huddleston of Purcell was recently initiated into The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi, the nation's oldest and most selective all-discipline collegiate honor society. Huddleston was initiated at The University of Oklahoma.

Huddleston is among approximately 30,000 students, faculty, professional staff and alumni to be initiated into Phi Kappa Phi each year. Membership is by invitation only and requires nomination and approval by a chapter. Only the top 10 percent of seniors and 7.5 percent of juniors are eligible for membership. Graduate students in the top 10 percent of the number of candidates for graduate degrees may also qualify, as do faculty, professional staff and alumni who have achieved scholarly distinction.

Phi Kappa Phi was founded in 1897 under the leadership of Marcus L. Urann who had a desire to create a different kind of honor society: one that recognized excellence in all academic disciplines. Today, the Society has chapters on more than 300 campuses in the United States and the Philippines. Its mission is "To recognize and promote academic excellence in all fields of higher education and to engage the community of scholars in service to others."

Lamb, Murphy at meeting

Monday in Newcastle

McClain County GOP continues its "meet your governor candidate" series Monday at 7 p.m. at the Newcastle Storm Shelter. This month features Lt. Governor Todd Lamb as the guest speaker.

Lamb, an Enid native, and Monica, a school teacher, have been married 22 years and have two children, Griffin and Lauren.

Lamb is a proven and conservative leader.

A former special agent with the U.S. Secret Service, Lamb has always taken on leadership positions, including being president of his secret service academy class.

As a special agent, Lamb was responsible for developing detailed plans and contingency plans, a skill we need at the state capitol.

Lamb's private sector experience includes working as a petroleum land man and as an executive in the telecommunications industry.

Elected to the State Senate in 2004 and as Lt. Governor in 2010, Lamb has successfully championed a conservative agenda and has been recognized as a proven pro-life leader and advocate for economic growth.

Lamb helped override a gubernatorial veto of important pro-life legislation as well as pass meaningful tort and workers' compensation reforms to improve the business climate in Oklahoma, according to the Newcastle GOP.

In 2012 he was named recipient of the Christian Business Men's Coalition Salt and Light Award. The Lambs attend Quail Springs Baptist Church where Todd serves as a deacon and Sunday school teacher.

In addition, we will have Linda Murphy, a Republican Candidate for State Superintendent. She has served as Education Advisor to the Governor of Oklahoma and as Deputy Commissioner of Labor for Workforce Education and Training. She has been a certified teacher for 30 years in Special Education and Elementary Education.

Linda worked with students who have learning difficulties including visual perception problems and developmental delays. She is certified in testing and training students to develop their skills using the SOI Structure of Intellect program. She has spoken to hundreds of groups of parents and teachers about education, child development, vision and learning, education policy and politics, around the state and nation.

She is a magna cum laude graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University. She has taught children and adults in all subject areas. Linda received a statewide award for her work with visually related learning problems from the State Optometry Association and Liberty Optical.

In addition, Murphy is a founding partner in GPS-Guidance and Policy Solutions, a public policy consulting group which provides solutions that help grow Oklahoma's prosperity with smaller government and local control.

"Please join us as we meet and hear from both Lamb and Murphy about our state government and how they seek to represent you as your newly elected officials. The Newcastle Storm shelter is located at 901 North Carr Drive, Newcastle," Newcastle GOP said.

Injury accident

Purcell Police investigated a two-vehicle injury accident last Thursday at the intersection of SH 39 and Green Avenue. Officer Todd Carpenter said a 2009 Chevrolet Silverado driven by Todd Haney, 26 of Norman, and a 2007 Lincoln Towncar driven by Jo Ann Larrabee, 58 of Purcell collided about 11:45 a.m. Ms. Larrabee and a passenger in her vehicle, Johnie Ghiglieri of Lexington, were transported to Purcell Municipal Hospital by Wadley's EMS.

Garvin County Republicans

The Garvin County Republican Party will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday, June 11, at 7 p.m. at Christian Life Church, 820 S. Walnut, in Pauls Valley.

Cathy Costello, candidate for Labor Commissioner, is scheduled to be the guest speaker.

Call (405) 740-5131 for more information about the meeting or the Republican Party.

Lexington Community News

By Hazel Shockey Daniels

The Lexington Senior Citizen meal program is going strong. Every day we look forward to seeing a lot more of our neighbors coming in to enjoy the good food and friendship.

This community service began when the bridge was down for about a year. Watch for the menu in The Purcell Register and hard copies will be available at the desk in the Center.

We are thankful to Loving Care for looking out for our blood pressure and blood sugar levels once a month. The exercise program is available to senior adults free of charge and you can call Sue Peery or ask at the Center for this information.

Invite your friends to go to the center in Lexington, and just tell them to find out for themselves if the food is as good as everyone says.

Lunch is served from 11 a.m.-12:30 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday for a $6 donation. To-go orders are $7. The lunch is open to the public and home cooked and served by the volunteers at Lexington Community Center, 131 S. Main.

All menus are subject to change.

Menu for June 7, 13 and 14:

Thursday, June 7—Fried chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, green beans, corn, rolls, salad bar, bread pudding.

Wednesday, June 13—Fried fish, fried potatoes, baked beans, hush puppies, coleslaw, apple crisp.

Thursday, June 14—Chicken fried steak, mashed potatoes and gravy, green beans, corn, rolls, salad bar, apple cobbler.

Heifer giveaway

Program targets 4-H, FFA youth

FFA and 4-H members have until July 15 to submit applications to the British White Cattle Association of America Youth Heifer Program.

Applicants must be between the ages of 9 to 15 years as of Jan. 1, 2018.

The program is designed to help youth get started raising British White cattle while promoting the breed and spreading awareness.

Selection will be based on merit, goals and ability to care for the heifer.

An independent committee will choose the recipient and the heifer will be awarded during the National Show and Sale in Purcell on October 13.

The heifer will be co-owned by the youth and BWCAA until the heifer has a calf which is re-invested in the Heifer for Youth program. At that time, the youth will attain full ownership.

The association will assign an active member to serve as the youth's mentor.

The youth will report on his or her heifer at the National Show and Sale for three years.

In addition, the youth must remain in FFA or 4-H for the duration of the program.

The youth is responsible for the heifer's nutrition and health and must follow vaccination and worming guidelines set by the association. The heifer must be covered by liability insurance.

The youth must exhibit the heifer at two local, county or state livestock shows each year, as well as the breed's national show.

Entry fees at the national show, as well as youth membership dues, will be waived the

McCLAIN COUNTY

Purcell Senior Citizens

By Fredda Perry

Just when we think we have settled in for a long hot summer, we get a few cooler days. We will not complain. Cooler days are good. One thing the weathermen will agree on is hotter days are coming.

Remember to take your precautions during the day when it is so hot. Drink lots of water, stay inside in the air conditioner and do not go out in the heat of the day and try to work your flower beds or your mini gardens. Be smart.

Just a reminder, the center will be closed this Friday, June 8 and Friday, June 22. Both of these days are budget cut days.

We are still feeding between 45 and 50 meals a day. It is a good room full of people, and a room full looks so much better than a room with lots of empty chairs. Remember if you are planning to come to the center to eat lunch, it is necessary that you call by 8 a.m. that day or the afternoon before to make reservations for your lunch. This is necessary so the cooks can get a correct count for lunch. Call Donna or Evelyn at 527-9462.

We would like to remind everyone the senior center is not based on income. Some people do not understand the center is a good place for anyone who is 60 or older to hang out and enjoy cards, dominoes, pool or exercise. Age is the determining factor for who is eligible to attend the center.

Anyone who is 60 or older is invited to come visit the center where there is always something cooking and plenty of activities. Individuals under 60 are welcome to visit the center. The only difference is meals for people 60 and over are $2 and the cost of meals for other individuals is $5.85. This is the amount set by ASCOG, a state entity which governs all senior citizen centers. Remember, if you plan to eat lunch at the center, you will need to call the kitchen at 527-9462 the day before or by 8 a.m. the day you plan to eat.

Activities are continuing on a regular schedule. The seniors have especially enjoyed the exercise class which is held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and walking on Tuesday and Thursday. Some of the people have extended the walking time each day after their exercises. We have seen such a difference in some of the ladies since we started the exercise class.

We will be celebrating Father's Day next week. We always try to celebrate the fathers just as we celebrate our mothers.

The senior garage sale for this week will be Thursday, June 7, and Friday, June 8, starting at 8 a.m. and lasting until 3 p.m. We have several eight foot tables and two good White sewing machines. Come by and check out the items in the sale. We get new items almost on a daily basis.

Thursday is bingo day every week. Bingo starts promptly at 10 a.m. Everyone needs to be in their chair at 10 a.m. so the games can begin on time. Everyone is a winner before we are finished. We have been having a full house each week. Thursday morning is an exciting time at the center as we usually have new people.

If you know someone who needs help with their noon meal at their home, call the Delta Nutrition Center at 527-9462 and ask for John, the site manager. Once an application has been submitted, the site manager will do an evaluation and if you meet the criteria, meals will begin being delivered to your home.

Need a place to have a special event? The center is available for $70 a day. If you're interested call 527-5070 and ask for Fredda or Hester. Call early so you can get the date you want.

Menu for the week of June 11-June 15:

Monday—Beef pot pie, sweet potato, spinach and peaches.

Tuesday—Chicken & noodles, steamed broccoli, glazed carrots and pineapple upside down cake.

Wednesday—Oven fried chicken liver, mashed potatoes w/ gravy and mixed fruit salad.

Thursday—Pinto beans, oven fried potatoes, steamed cabbage, cornbread and strawberry dessert.

Friday—Baked spaghetti, green beans, whole kernel corn and chocolate mousse.

Thought for the Week: There are blessings to count every single day.

Musicians ready to rock

Rock out at the Purcell Public Library with SquishBAND, which brings part of its Summer Reading Program tour to the library for a Summer Jam at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, June 12.

SquishBAND is comprised of a group of siblings who play instruments and sing a variety of music, ranging from the Beatles to the Wiggles, Playhouse Disney and the Beach Boys, and they may even slip in a classic rock anthem or two for the parents in attendance.

SquishBAND has played shows around the region for several years, and fans can get ready for the concert by learning more about the band at its website, www.squishband5.com.

The performance is geared to children up to age 11 and registration is not required in advance.

Sponsors for this year's Summer Reading Program are the Anne and Henry Zarrow Foundation, Friends of the Library groups, Hitachi Computer Products of America Inc., Institute of Museum and

Protect yourself from summer sun

From stinging, blistering and swelling to more serious side effects like headache and nausea, even a run-of-the-mill sunburn can make you wish you'd applied your sunscreen before going out in the sun.

But as bad as the instant regret can be, the long-term effects pose the most substantial threat, said Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation President Stephen Prescott, M.D.

"A number of issues can arise over time, including premature aging, deep wrinkles, eye damage and, most significantly, skin cancer," he said. "Ultimately, the takeaway is: sunburns are bad news and can have serious consequences."

Although most people are aware of the dangers burns can present, that doesn't mean they're taking the necessary precautions. In fact, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention report that more than one-third of adults and 70 percent of children have been sunburned within the past year.

Those numbers, particularly in children, strike Prescott as alarming.

"There is a clear link between sun exposure and certain types

SHAZAM!

Lex's Jones makes baseball all-star team

Todd Newville
The Purcell Register

As Gomer Pyle might have said, "Surprise, surprise, surprise!"

When Lexington head baseball coach Jarod Ennis was informed last week that his outgoing senior first baseman Caden Jones was named to the 2018 Oklahoma Coaches Association's Class 3A Large West All-Star baseball team, Ennis had no idea.

"Did he really?" Ennis asked.

And, before anyone else could relay the news to Jones, Ennis asked if it would be okay to be the first to tell his all-star the good news.

Shazam!
 "I really didn't know that," Ennis said with a gasp. "I hoped he would get some recognition for what he did for us at Lexington. That's awesome! As a teammate, he was superior!"

"As for me, he was a great leader for our team and helped me tremendously. I've had the privilege of knowing Caden since he was about in seventh or eighth grade. He's a real heady kid. He's a smart guy and has a good head on his shoulders."

Jones hit a lofty .406 during his senior season for the 'Dawgs.

He also had a .475 on-base percentage, 23 runs batted in, and 20 runs scored. Of his 28 total hits, 21 were singles, six were doubles, and he hit the only home run of his high school career as a senior.

His love for the game and his demeanor on the field, in the dugout and away from the field were all attributes for the 6-foot-1, 270-pound slugger.

"He certainly carried his maturity onto the field," said Ennis, a Lex alum who just finished up his fifth season as the 'Dawgs' head coach. "He has a great work ethic and keeps the younger guys in mind when they act up and need a little push. I could always coach him."

It's hard to say if any previous Lexington baseball player has ever been awarded such post-season honors.

"I can't be for certain how many others from Lexington have ever gotten such an honor in baseball," Ennis said.

Jones was named a first baseman on the Class 3A team along with two other first basemen - Cody Farmer of Jones and Austin Gilley of Marlow. Jones and Lex didn't play the Jones Longhorns this year.

But, he remembers Gilley well since Lexington played the Marlow Outlaws back in April and lost, 7-2.

The Outlaws were good; they were 27-8 and lost in the first round of the Class 3A state tournament, 2-1, to Beggs.

"It feels pretty good to make a team like this," said Jones, who helped Lex to a 10-13 overall record after the 'Dawgs began the season in the spring with an inspiring 8-5 record.

"My baseball career at Lexington was pretty good. We could have done better this past season.

"It wasn't anything any of us players or coaches did. That's just the breaks of the game. We all did the best we could and I can look back and say it was really good. It was a lot of fun.

"The guy from Marlow and his whole team were pretty salty. (Gilley) was just good all around - a good athlete from what I remember. I'm sure the other guy (Farmer from Jones) is a great player as well. You have to be in order to be named to that team. I'm just happy to be recognized."

This summer, Jones is doing some good, honest summer labor for Cleveland County - weed eating, mowing, and some road work. He hopes he can continue to play baseball at the college level.

"Randall University wants me to come and play there," Jones said. "I've also heard from Rose State (in Midwest City) which is a good place. They have a good baseball history."

If nothing else, Jones' honor is a blessing to the Lexington baseball program, Ennis said.

"It's a big deal for Lexington baseball," Ennis said. "It's a great honor for Caden and this program. He brought it to us and I'm just happy for him right now. He definitely earned every bit of it."

ECU endowment recipient

Casie Henderson, center, of Purcell was the recipient of the Dr. Gerald Williamson Centennial Business Administration Endowment during East Central University's recent Harland C. Stonecipher School of Business Scholarship and Awards Banquet. At the discretion of the dean of the Stonecipher School of Business, this fund is used for student development opportunities such as educational trips, internship support or team-building events. This fund is also used for scholarships with the emphasis on an upper division student that has or will be representing ECU via business competitions, athletics, Greek leadership or campus activity involvement. Williamson, a former faculty member in the School of Business and vice president for student development, was honored with this fund provided by his former students. Spam:

"I might be interested in half," I replied.

"When you butcher one these days, do they wrap the Spam separately?"

That was an important question to me, because we had hogs butchered when I was a kid and I don't recall ever getting any Spam back from the butcher.

Pork chops, bacon, hams, all wrapped in white paper. They went into the freezer, but the very best cut of pork - Spam - still came from the store in a can.

This mystified me then, as it does today.

When I was a kid, my parents went through streaks where they grew much of what we ate.

I now realize those streaks matched the times when my mother stayed at home and didn't work outside the house.

When she was at home, we would have a large garden and eat like royalty. Fresh purple-hull peas, new potatoes, fried okra. Corn, pinto beans with fried cornbread.

She would can a cellarful of vegetables, jelly, peach butter, pickled cucumbers and beets.

And at divers times, as they say in the Bible, my parents would have a hog or calf butchered.

When my parents were kids, people commonly butchered hogs at home, and Mom and Dad routinely celebrated the fact that they had evolved beyond that practice.

And I am, too. I can't imagine butchering a 300-pound hog, no matter how big of a family there was to help.

At last communication, my brother was still trying to get a line on a suitable butcher in the Pushmataha County area.

As to the Spam being wrapped separately.

"I think you have to specify that when you place your order," he said.

Bonner named recipient of scholarships at ECU

CeJay Bonner of Lexington was named the recipient of the Bertha and Myrtle Sturdevant Scholarship, Bill Walden Business Administration Scholarship and the Kevin Turner Business Administration Scholarship during East Central University's recent Harland C. Stonecifer School of Business Scholarship and Awards Banquet.

The Sturdevant Scholarship is awarded to fulltime ECU students who are employed by the Stonecifer School of Business as student employees.

Preference is given to those with the greatest financial need for the scholarship at the time of the award. Preference is also given to those with a 3.0 grade-point average or higher and classification of junior and senior.

The recipient is selected by the Stonecifer School of Business Scholarship Committee or a designee. The scholarship is funded by Lynda K. Simpson, who has a long history with ECU and is thankful for the education she received from the School of Business.

Bertha and Myrtle Sturdevant were professors in Business Education.

The Bill Walden Scholarship is awarded at the discretion of

Chickasaw Nation plans public stomp dance can making classes

The Chickasaw Nation will offer five community stomp dance can making classes open to the public at no charge from 6-8 p.m. on June 1, 7, 11, 19 and 25 at the Ada Chickasaw Nation Community Center, 700 N. Mississippi.

The focus for these classes will be on creating women's shaker cans, used to create rhythm and percussion during dances.

Public stomp dances are also planned for 8 p.m. to 1 a.m., on June 9, August 25 and September 28 at Kullihoma. For July 21, a stomp dance is planned from midnight to 6 a.m. at Kullihoma. Dances will include traditional song and dance, food and fellowship.

Stomp dancing has deep roots in the Chickasaw culture, as it does with most southeastern tribes.

There are still different dances for various occasions. The Chickasaws remember

Falls Creek campers

Sunray Baptist Church

Doug and Laverne Rolin, James and Pam Kyzer, Donna Stillwell, and Dennis Clark sang "Heavenly Sunlight" for the special at our morning service. This group is known as our "nursing home singers", singing for the residents at Sunset Estates twice monthly. They are scheduled to sing there again at 10 a.m. June 15.

Brother Dennis used 1 Corinthians 2:6-16 for his sermon. There was a problem with division among the people at the church in Corinth. They were looking at things from the world's perspective. The apostle Paul wanted to show them the distinction between the wisdom of God and the wisdom of the world. The worldly perspective leaves God out completely.

God gives believers divine revelation and reveals truths to His people. The believer has the spirit of God which illuminates their heart to God and gives spiritual understanding.

The evening message was from 1 Timothy 1:12-14. Paul warns Timothy about false teachers. Paul taught the gospel which at one time he tried to eradicate. His personal testimony showed he was thankful for and excited about the gospel ministry. His ministry was totally dependent on God and totally undeserved. It was a work and service that God called him into.

The youth will be sponsoring lunch and a dessert auction following this coming Sunday's morning service. There will be no evening service. Our senior adults will be traveling to Oklahoma City at 10:30 a.m. June 14, to enjoy lunch and fellowship at Ingrid's.

We will be hosting our 12th annual SummerSing gospel singing service on Saturday, June 30, at 6:30 p.m. Noted soloists and songwriters Mark Lanier and Mark Bishop will be performing. Please join us! You are always welcome at Sunray Baptist Church. We are located at 2223 North 9th Street in Purcell. For additional information call 527-6808.

Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church

By Elizabeth Amya

The month of June is dedicated to the Sacred Heart of Jesus, so that the faithful will venerate, honor and imitate more intensely the generous and faithful love of Christ for all people.

This dedication has its origin in the appearances of Christ made to St. Mary Margaret Alacoque, a French religious sister. Joining the Visitation Convent at Paray-le-Monial in 1671, she began in 1673 to receive visions revealing the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

She was rebuffed by her superior and by the theologians for a time, about the validity of the visions, but remained humble, obedient, and charitable those who persecuted her until the truth of the mission given to her by Our Lord convinced those who opposed her.

The task given her by Christ, who called her the Beloved Disciple of the Sacred Heart, was to teach and encourage devotion to His Sacred Heart. It was based on this Christly inspiration that St. Margaret Mary was moved to establish the Holy Hour and Sacred Heart Devotion in the modern form.

Prior to this time, there was a devotion to the love of Jesus and to the wounded Heart of Christ, but not established as the devotion is today. The practice encouraged by the saintly woman, at the guidance of Christ, included the Holy Hour on Thursdays, to share in the mortal sadness He endured when abandoned by His Apostles in His Agony, and to receive Holy Communion on the first Friday of every month. Additionally, He appointed through St. Margaret Mary for the Friday after the octave of the feast of Corpus Christi to be the Solemnity of the Sacred Heart.

Our weekly Mass schedule is Saturday at 5 p.m. (English), Sunday at 11 a.m. (English) and 1 p.m. (Spanish).

For more information, call our church office at 527-3077. Please visit our parish, and like us on Facebook.

Green Avenue Church of Christ

The congregation spent Wednesday evening singing hymns and spiritual songs.

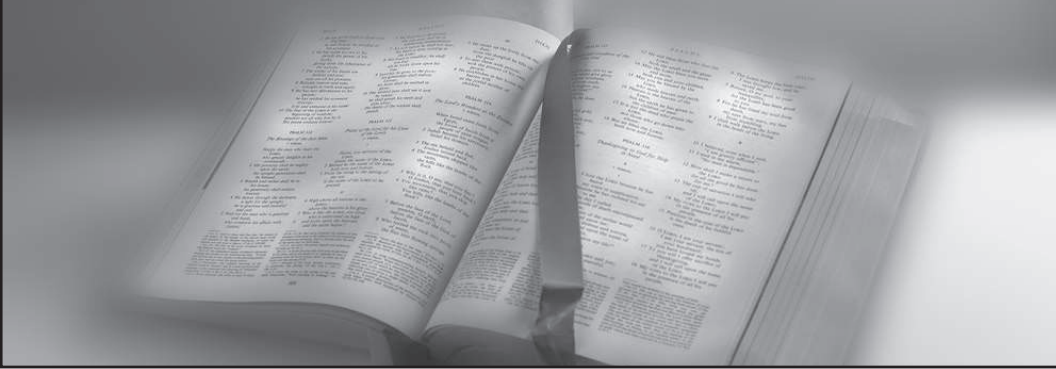

The Sunday morning Bible class concluded a study of the incident where Jesus fed five thousand men and an unspecified number of women and children with five loaves of bread and two fish recorded in Matthew fourteen, Mark six, Luke nine and John six.

During the Sunday morning assembly, Keith Shackelford continued on the theme of fear he began last Sunday morning. This week he concentrated on God's character, noting that God is good, holy, unique and just.

The Sunday evening lesson looked at the requirements and restrictions God has placed on eating and drinking throughout history. The sermon included regulations peculiar to the garden of Eden, the law of Moses and the gospel. There was also application made to spiritual food.

The church is located at 407 Jackson Street in Purcell. Bible classes begin at 9:45 a.m. Sunday morning and 7 p.m. Wednesday evening, with worship at 10:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Sunday. Bible study correspondence courses are available. You can call the office at 527-4052.

Our church appreciates the community for supporting us in our bake sale. We enjoyed meeting new people and having fellowship with you. One of Pastor Bryan's past messages was on faith. His messages are always to the point and steadfast. His message was on faith and how we cannot please God without faith. Faith is something we have to work on. When we have a 911 situation, or financial situation, healing situation or one of our kids has a 911 situation, we have to realize that God is working with us. God is by our side. We have to have faith going in and out or going to and fro, because we don't know when we might come across something or someone that is crazy. God's magnificent power is right there; be still and wait on the Lord. It is not a time for us to give up on faith. We are faithful to God and our members of the church when we hold up each other in prayer. The scripture was over Hebrews 11:1.

Our church services are on Sunday at 11 a.m.

Hebrew 11:1: Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

Have a blessed and great week. Our church loves the community.

Arbor Day tree ID book helps people identify tree species

The Arbor Day Foundation has a book that helps people identify trees in a simple, step-by-step process. The book, What Tree Is That?, is available for a $5 donation to the nonprofit tree-planting organization.

What Tree Is That? is a fun, easy-to-use tree identification guide that features hand-drawn botanical illustrations highlighting the distinctive characteristics of many tree species.

Nature lovers and professional arborists alike have called this pocket field guide a must-have, user-friendly resource. Its beautiful, full-color illustrations are in precise detail and depict natural colors, shapes, and textures so users can make a positive species identification in just a few easy steps.

The Arbor Day Foundation offers this book to help people identify trees throughout the Eastern and Central regions of the United States.

What Tree Is That? uses a unique step-by-step approach for identifying the species of each tree, explaining what to look for in the shape of the leaves, differences in the leaf stems and twig structures, and specific characteristics of fruits, flowers, buds, and bark. "Our What Tree Is That? Pocket guide is an ideal resource for developing a greater appreciation for trees," said Matt Harris, chief executive of the Arbor Day Foundation. "The Arbor Day Foundation strives to help people enjoy and appreciate trees, and we feel our pocket field guide will do just that."

What Tree Is That? is also available as an online interactive version at arborday.org.

To obtain a tree identification guide in full color, send your name, address, and $5 for each guide to What Tree Is That?, Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Ave., Nebraska City, NE 68410. You can also order the book online at arborday.org.

Stomp:

their dances for their spiritual nature, yet they have become mainly social today. No matter the type of dancing, it is always an opportunity to come together as a community.

Men sing stomp dance songs in a call-and-answer format, following a male song leader, who often sets the dance rhythm using a handheld shaker made of materials like the horn of a bull or turtle shell.

Women enhance the rhythms with shakers worn on their legs. These shakers are often made of turtle shells, deer toes or milk cans.

Social dances often have animal-themed names, like the gar fish dance and the raccoon dance. Each social dance has a fun and unique technique.

The gar fish dance, for example, has dancers line up, alternating male-female, into a circle formation. Dancers move in one big, continuous rotation. When the song leader signals, partners rotate each other. These spins inside of a larger rotation are like the waves a gar fish would make in the water.

Kullihoma is located seven miles northeast of Ada on state Highway 1. Watch for the Kullihoma exit signs.

Registration is not required to join stomp dance classes, but it is appreciated. Contact the Chickasaw Nation Cultural Resources Department at (580) 622-7140 to register or for more information about the Kullihoma stomp dances.

Screen printing process shown off in summer teen activity

Get a look at the Pioneer Library System's Screen Printing Maker Space Kit as the Purcell Public Library hosts the summer teen activity "Screen Print Teen Ts," taking place at 2 p.m. Tuesday, June 12.

Participants will learn the basics of screen printing, choose from a collection of designs and print one onto a shirt they then can take home for themselves or as a gift.

Curtis Jones, fine arts professor at the University of Oklahoma, will lead the classes, which are for grades six through 12 and part of this year's series of Summer Reading Program activities for teens.

All supplies will be provided but space is limited, so registration in advance is required to participate.

A similar program for adults ages 18 and up will be hosted at multiple PLS libraries during July, including a stop in Purcell on Thursday, July 12.

Sponsors for this year's Summer Reading Program are the Anne and Henry Zarrow Foundation, Friends of the Library groups, Hitachi Computer Products of America Inc., Institute of Museum and Library Services, the Pioneer Library System, Pioneer Library System Foundation, Sonic - America's Drive-In, Corp., the Oklahoma Department of Libraries and the Oklahoman Newspapers in Education.
