Somewhere an Alton Brown or Emeril Lagasse is smiling. And quite likely, Julia Child is spinning in her grave.

But it is what it is when you ask second graders to put themselves in the role of family chef and prepare a traditional Thanksgiving feast, with or without trimmings and dessert.

The Purcell Register

went East to West to query 10 second graders.

No, not coast to coast. We don't have that kind of travel budget. It was Lexington to Washington, OK?

To each we posed this scenario: you get up on Thanksgiving morning and are greeted by your mom (or grandmother) who says, "I am really tired today. I need you to cook the turkey (or

Operation Christmas deadline today

Jeanne Grimes The Purcell Register

Christmas may still be weeks away, but McClain County Operation Christmas' application deadline is today (November 22).

That's the word from longtime elves Peggy Christian and Peggy Howard, aka "the two Peggys".

The annual charity that hits close to home has been providing Christmas for the less fortunate among us since 1988.

Howard has been a fixture since the beginning and Christian joined her back in 1991.

Christian said Monday that applications are available at the Department of Human Services office, 1930 S. Green Ave., and Delta Community Action, 223 W. Washington.

Food baskets and gifts will be distributed December 15 at two locations.

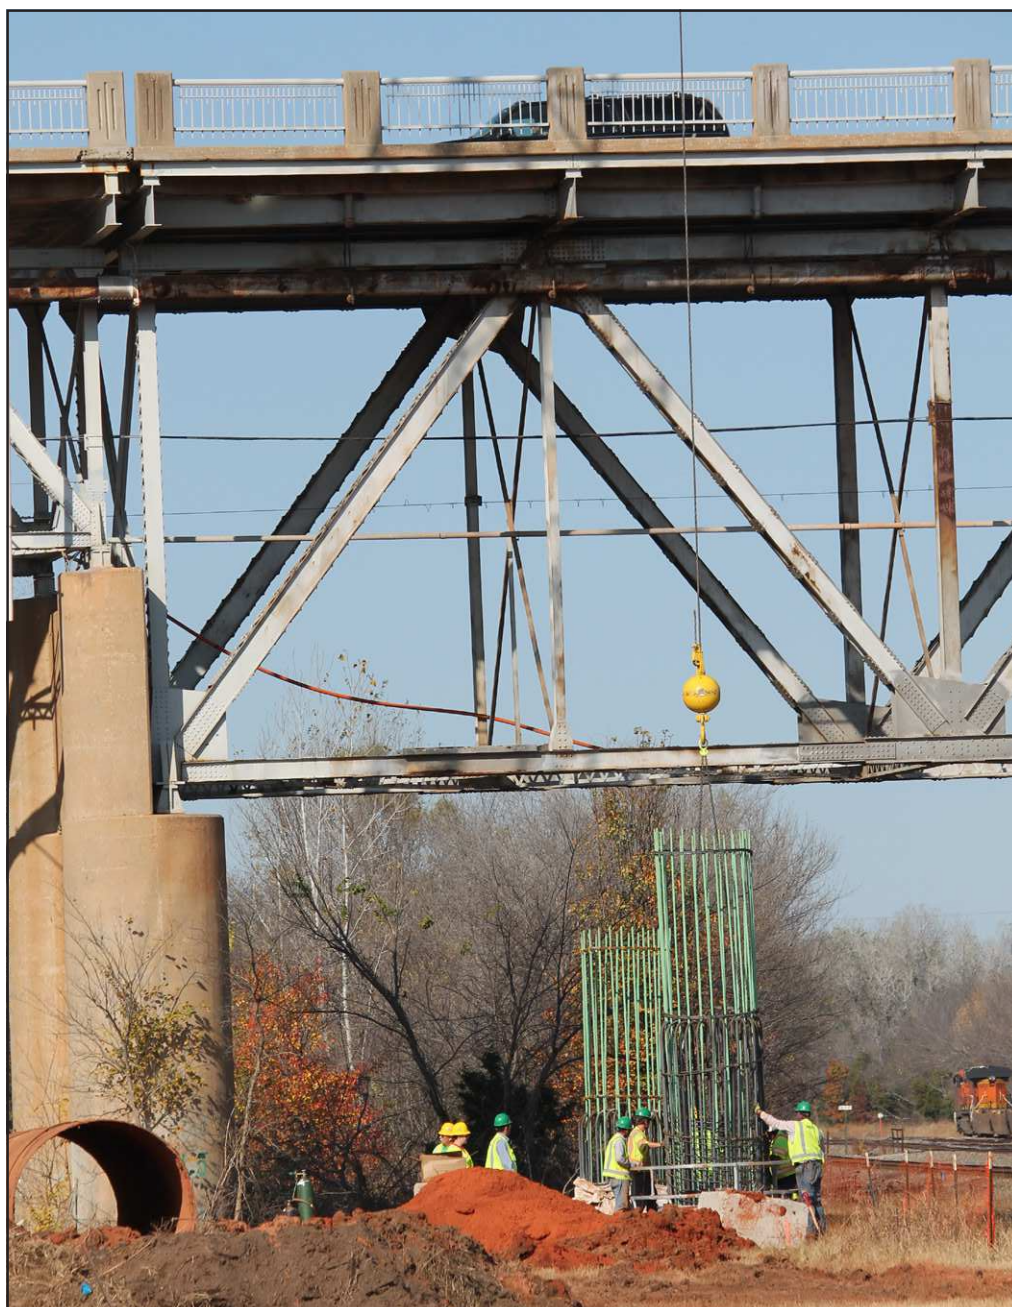

Recipients with Newcastle, Norman, Blanchard and Dibble addresses will pick up their items at First Baptist Church in Newcastle.

Those with addresses anywhere else in the county will go to the Multi-Purpose Building west of the golf course on Chandler Road. Christian said donors may drop off non-perishable foods and gifts at several locations.

Donation boxes have been set up in Purcell at the library, Walgreens, Dollar Store and The Purcell Register, in Wayne at the Family Dollar store and at First Baptist Church in Newcastle.

In addition to clothing and toys, the drive is also seeking donations of basic school supplies.

County clerk's office due renovation

Jeanne Grimes The Purcell Register

Property records in McClain County have always been stored in books safely tucked away inside a vault at the McClain County Clerk's Office.

But before this year ends, those volumes will be boxed, barcoded and moved to Hutchinson, Kans., for permanent storage in salt mines there.

County clerk Pam Beller said every page of every book has been digitally saved so that all of the records can be accessed by computer.

Once empty of the books, the vault is being renovated into a computer room.

A lack of room is the biggest reason for the changeover.

"There are 2,500 books in the vault," Beller said. "It is wall to wall books and we are out of room in the vault."

Only about 15 people can work in the vault at any time and imagers, who photograph pages in the books for oil and

This week we will see some up and down temperatures. Starting off on Thanksgiving we will have the 60s with sunny skies making it a perfect day overall. On Black Friday, we will see warmer temperatures with a high of 70. A cold front will make its way through Friday night which will cool things down to the 60s again. Next week we'll see another warm up on Tuesday followed by a drop in temperatures on Wednesday.

Motorists on Green Avenue got their first glimpse Friday of new street lights which will be erected in the median as part of the GreenScape program.

Lighting our hearts

11th annual light display opens Thanksgiving

For the 11th time in as many years, the City of Purcell will flip the switch on Christmas 2017 at 5:30 p.m. Thanksgiving Day. That's when Lights from the Heart will open around Purcell Lake. The nightly display will be open every evening through December 31.

Billed as a "one of a kind 2-mile lights display," the attraction this year will feature more than 650,000 holiday lights and displays, including a 75-foot Christmas tree. Lights from the Heart can be reached from exits 91 and 95 on Interstate 35. Individuals will be able to take "selfies with Santa" on Friday and Saturday nights during December. There is no admission charge. However, donations are appreciated as those enable the attraction to keep growing. Local groups volunteer to serve as hosts every night.

Getting reel

Christmas parade will be Thursday December 7

Jeanne Grimes
The Purcell Register

It will soon be time to get reel about Christmas in Purcell. As in any number of Christmas-themed movies. A Reel Christmas is the theme for this year's Christmas parade sponsored by the Heart of Oklahoma Chamber of Commerce. Participants are urged to be creative when thinking how their favorite Christmas movies translate to a parade. All entries must be lighted. The parade route on December 7 will follow Main Street, starting at 6 p.m.

At stake will be awards and bragging rights in seven categories – best overall entry, best riding club, best dance/drill team, best car club, best business float, best theme float and best band. And to ensure that there is a band or two in the parade, two corporate sponsors – The Purcell Register and Ace Hardware – are putting up a $200 cash prize in the category. Parade entries will be accepted until December 2 at the chamber office at 220 W. Main. Entry forms can also be emailed to mandydavis@theheartofok.com

One change will be implemented with this year's parade. No candy or other items may be tossed into the lines of spectators by parade participants. "We do not want any children running into the streets in front of cars," said Mandy Davis, the chamber's chief executive officer. Instead, parade participants may have walkers flanking their entry who will hand out candy to spectators. Santa Claus, of course, will be in the parade. To be clear, that is THE one and only live Santa.

Thankfully closed

For some area residents, the Thanksgiving holiday has already started. Purcell, Lexington and Washington Schools closed with the final bell on Friday and won't reopen until Monday. Wayne Schools and Mid-America Technology Center, however, are closed Wednesday through Friday. Monday and Tuesday were professional days at MATC. While Wayne city offices will close at noon Wednesday and remain closed on Thursday and Friday, city offices in Purcell, Lexington, Washington and Goldsby will keep regular hours on Wednesday and be closed Thursday and Friday. State offices and the McClain County Courthouse will also be closed Thursday and Friday, as will The Purcell Register and Purcell Public Library. The library will reopen Saturday for regular hours. Federal workers will only have Thursday off. There will be no mail delivery on Thanksgiving. Both First United Bank and McClain Bank will be closed on Thursday.

Chickasaw Holiday Dinner Dec. 1

The Purcell Chickasaw Community Council will host its annual Holiday Dinner on Friday, December 1, at 6 p.m. The dinner will be held at the Chickasaw Area Office, 1436 Hardcastle Blvd., in Purcell. The Council will provide the meat, dressing, bread and drinks. All those planning to attend are asked to bring a vegetable dish, salad or dessert. The Annual Fundraiser Auction will also be held that night. All interested Native Americans are cordially invited and encouraged to attend. Come and join in the fun and fellowship! Keeping vaccines at proper temperatures

Wes Lee
Extension Ag Educator

Respiratory disease in cattle, also known as BRD, shipping fever or pneumonia, may cost the U.S. cattle industry over $2 billion annually.

Management techniques can offset much of this cost and having a good vaccination program can maintain the health of a calf all the way through the production system.

A vaccine can cost over $3 a head, and if not stored properly that vaccine can be rendered in-effective. Producers cannot afford to overlook the importance of how they store vaccine and handle it prior to injection.

Biological products should be stored under refrigeration at 35 to 45°F unless the nature of the product makes storing at a different temperature advisable. If vaccines are not stored within this temperature range, efficacy to the calf can and will be reduced. Killed vaccines are especially susceptible to freezing temperatures.

Freezing a killed vaccine will alter the adjuvant or delivery system of a killed vaccine. This, in turn, negatively affects the immune response to the antigen in the vaccine. Modified live viruses (MLV) are more stable but can be inactivated if they are repeatedly cycled above or below the required temperature range.

In addition, once activated by mixing, MLV's effective life will be reduced to one-two hours and need to be maintained at the 35° to 45° F. This can be accomplished by only mixing the doses that you will use at that time and use a cooler to maintain temperature while working cattle.

Researchers from the University of Arkansas and Idaho analyzed the consistency of temperatures for different types, ages and locations of refrigerators over a 48-hour period. They found that only 26.7 percent and 34.0 percent of refrigerators were within the acceptable temperature limit 95 percent of the time, respectfully.

Refrigerator location can also effect temperature. Refrigerators located in barns (35.6° F) were colder than in mudrooms (41.72° F) and kitchens (40.82° F). Temperature within a 24-hour period can also be highly variable for individual refrigerators. Researchers demonstrated some refrigerators might take up to eight hours to cool down to the 45° F, while others will remain too cold varying from 24.8° F to 35.6° F.

Producers need to be aware of these variations in temperature so they are able to adjust refrigerator temperature as needed. Thermostats can also be very variable from unit to unit, so keeping a thermometer inside works well to monitor and to make adjustments as need. Simple indoor-outdoor thermometers work well to achieve this goal.

The outdoor unit can be placed in the refrigerator while the LCD display can be hung with a magnet on the door. This allows temperature to be monitored without opening the door and many models will record the high and the low temperature in a 24-hour period so producers can adjust accordingly. How a producer handles vaccines outside of the refrigerator is important as well.

Coolers are easily modified for syringes and are important to maintaining vaccine efficiency chute side. Using a

Lake trail

Public hearing will be held December 11

A public hearing for the proposed trails project at Purcell Lake will be at 6 p.m. December 11 at the Multi-Purpose Building.

Discussion will be on a final grant application to fund most of the project.

This will be the city's third attempt to secure the grant. The application is due by January 26.

"We would like to receive letters from the community," said Parks and recreation director Cody Penner. "The letters should say why people do or do not want the trail and how the trail will impact the city."

The grant from the Federal Trails Program would allow the city to construct a foot/biking/mountain biking trail completely around the lake.

The program is part of the Federal Highway Administration. Making the award would be the Oklahoma Department of Tourism.

The trail would be completed in three or four phases with the cost of each phase covered by a separate grant.

The grant would pay for 80 percent of the cost of the trail, which would be 10 to 12 feet wide.

In addition to the trail, the city would use grant monies to install a water fountain and bathroom at Rotary Park, as well as a bathroom on the opposite side of the lake.

Penner stressed that property owners won't see a tax increase to pay for the project.

Engineers have been consulted and are working on a cost estimate for the trail and each of the phases.

All coats will be donated to Award recipients were chosen by their hospitals for exemplifying the Spirit of Resilience because they recover quickly from a set-back or adversity; do not let failure define them, continue on a path to success; come back stronger than ever when knocked down; react optimistically when faced with sudden change or an unexpected outcome; or change a negative turn of events into a positive source of healing for their patients.

Happy Thanksgiving

You can always tell when it gets close to Thanksgiving around the newspaper office.

There is a hustle in the step of everyone knowing we print a day early so subscribers can get their papers in a timely fashion. As far as holidays go, Thanksgiving is my favorite.

One thing that makes is special for us because it falls at the end of the week and not on Monday like most every other holiday is celebrated.

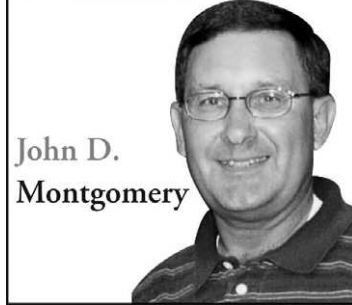

Thanksgiving is just that, a time for giving thanks.

It is a lot more relaxing than the hustle and bustle of Christmas.

There is always great anticipation for the parades, especially The Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade.

I always am happy to comfortably watch the parade on the tube in the comfy confines of a living room and not braving the elements and crowd in downtown New York City.

There is always at least one more run to the store to snatch up whatever has been forgotten, football and a late lunch.

Most everyone seems to get sleepy around 4 p.m. and someone will always say there is something in the turkey that makes you drowsy.

I feel sorry for employees of Walmart that have to go to work at 10 p.m. this Thanksgiving night or for folks who work at Target, Best Buy, Macy's and Kohls who have to show up for a midnight shopping kick off.

Seems like people should get Thanksgiving off to be with their families and let the shoppers do their thing on Black Friday.

Now Black Friday has spilled over to grey Thursday.

Problem for retailers is that on-line shopping never ceases.

In fact, the on-line shopping is damaging to retail and hurting other industries as well.

Even though Thanksgiving is getting so commercialized it's still my favorite holiday.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Striking a balance

Dear Editor:

It is one thing for Representatives Downing and Cleveland to cast votes against new revenue for a state budget that has now produced victims of impasse in very real terms for principled reasons. As a matter of fact, during discussions with Representative Downing we could often agree on some of the particulars. My conservative sensibilities, however, are offended by the insinuation that Oklahomans don't understand that a political ad in last week's Purcell Register thanking the Representatives for their votes paid for by Energy Engaged aka big oil is genuine only in its appreciation of untouched profits. I am not suggesting the Representatives ordered their own pat on the back, but am calling on them to push back by sharing locally meaningful reasons why they voted as they did.

The last time I checked working Oklahomans have families. Families from time to time have needs that include housing, care for the sick or elderly, and the education of children. When these needs are met production goes up. I will be patiently waiting on data to dispute this fact of economies big and small.

Among those who voted yes are those who would expect thorough audits and a budgeting process similar to zero sum where all expenditures are justified. Real conservatives should embrace these expectations, showing respect for taxpayers and striking a careful balance between leaving as much earned income as possible while establishing a path to the health, wellness, and productivity of Oklahoma's citizens.

News from District 42

• Rep. Tim Downing •

Behind the scenes: largest tax increase in Oklahoma history

The continuance of Special Session has been orchestrated for one reason: to intentionally create public crisis and fear to push for the largest tax increase in Oklahoma history, nearly half a billion dollars.

That plan failed during special session. We ended up with an agreement on an appropriations bill that made use of state funds as well as new revenue from gross production taxes on oil and gas wells drilled before July 2015, and it administers targeted cuts to some state agencies.

The bill would have allowed for the continuation of core health care services for our state's most vulnerable, and 12 state agencies would receive no cut to funding this fiscal year. Those included common education and the Department of Rehabilitation Services.

However, the governor backed out on her agreement and vetoed the budget, but fortunately signed a portion that will protect the public from lost services in the near future.

To be clear, there was never any reason for letters to be sent threatening the elimination of health care services for the elderly, those with disabilities or those in need of mental health services.

The money was in government accounts to provide relief immediately for these services, and everyone in the Capitol knows that to be true.

Members in both parties and chambers demanded relief be provided from day one, as at least the first step. Eventually, the House forced bills supported overwhelmingly by both parties and sent them to the Senate to appropriate the funds for relief. The governor, however, continued to refuse that action.

What I witnessed behind the scenes is disgusting, and I still cannot believe any person would intentionally terrify our most vulnerable for a political agenda. But that is exactly what happened, and I fought against it.

The state Constitution, as amended by State Question 640 in 1992, is clear. Increasing taxes requires a vote by the people of the state. The only exception to that is if it receives a three-fourths majority in both chambers of the Legislature when members vote to put it on the ballot.

Since 1992, the Legislature has never passed a tax increase under that standard. The people themselves have overwhelmingly rejected taxes in ballots even as recent as 2016. The voters have only approved one tax increase since 1992, tobacco products in 2004.

Yet, the governor keeps trying to circumvent the Constitution. Her refusal to sign a budget last session that did not include a tax increase required the previously failed cigarette tax to be redesigned as a fee. The state Supreme Court saw through that tactic and ruled the fee unconstitutional setting the Legislature up for special session.

House members were pressed to vote in favor of House Bill 1054x, the largest tax increase in Oklahoma history. Based on prior ballots, it is believed this bill would not receive 15 percent support in a statewide ballot. The public should know that despite it not receiving three-fourths support, HB1054x did pass, as it was a bill to place taxes on the ballot. The same is true of the prior tax increase bills. But knowing that voters will reject these proposals, procedures have been used to make sure these tax bills do not go to the ballot as required by the Constitution.

Let's be clear, if HB1054x had passed, we still would have used the same state funds we should have used from day one to prevent fear. Those funds still would have to be used for the 90 days before the bill could take effect and the taxes could start being collected. And, we still would have had to make almost identical cuts to the ones made by the appropriations bill that the governor vetoed even after agreeing to it.

I respect other members' positions, but I did not believe it was right representation for me to vote for a massive tax increase knowing the voters of my district would overwhelmingly reject it in a ballot. But I have advocated for my district, including those who sincerely do believe taxes should increase, to have their constitutional right to vote on such a new tax.

I want to clarify that Speaker Charles McCall has asked that the tax proposals go on the ballot as intended when failing to get three-fourths votes, and I have appreciated his stance on that.

Due to the governor's incessant creation of chaos and unrest to leverage unwanted taxes, there has been an increased desire to audit the executive branch itself to determine whether money is in designated accounts and being used as specified by the legislature.

We have already seen several recent examples of major mismanagement, including the Department of Health missing over $30 million dollars. I have been told that the governor was aware of this for a long time. The House is forming an investigative committee for this purpose, which I will help lead.

Meanwhile, the unconstitutional bills and wasted legislative days are the result of the governor's continual demand to raise taxes but refusal to adhere to what voters demanded in 1992, their approval in a ballot question.

I am very thankful for the amount of input I receive from the district. Please always let me know that you live in the district, so I can sort your message out from the thousands we receive.

State of Oklahoma Legislative update

By Sen. Paul Scott

After eight weeks of tireless negotiations and meetings, special session has adjourned Sine Die. The outcome is disappointing and not what most of my colleagues or I wanted but it was the best we could do under the circumstances.

Although I voted for HB 1019, it was really a NO vote but I couldn't risk hurting our state's home healthcare, rural hospitals and other programs and services that our seniors, disabled and other vulnerable citizens depend on. It was by far the hardest vote I've placed because I'm not about kicking the can down the road.

As a freshman, I feel like I need to take some of the blame for the predicament we found ourselves in this year. Being new, I didn't know what issues to tackle and bills to file to best help the state. While I did file legislation, I was mostly trying to watch and learn as did most of my freshmen colleagues.

The legislative process is an extremely complex one. It's not a simple cut and dry, allocate some money and everything will be fine. Oklahoma's budget structure is inefficient and the legislature must require more of agency heads, as far as providing us with more detailed information about their budgets and the programs supported by state funds.

We should be looking ahead and taking action to better the health of our state, improve our roads and bridges, support education and other vital state services in the future. Unfortunately, the past few years, the legislature is too focused on filling budget gaps to plan for the future and our agencies are suffering.

It is imperative that the legislature establish and agree on a long term plan this coming session. All good business owners have a plan. As the saying goes, "failing to plan is planning to fail". The House and Senate must start working together to move the state forward. There are too many agendas but the legislature's only agenda should be making our state better.

We lost the battle but we are determined more than ever that next session we will win the war. Budget meetings will continue and the bill request deadline is a week away. We are not finished and we will do better.

The Senate presented several revenue raising measures that I believe will be brought up again and, hopefully, our colleagues across the rotunda will be more amenable to them.

This past session, we approved a bipartisan bill creating an independent commission to conduct comprehensive performance audits of state agencies. Under HB 2311, the commission will also conduct a diagnostic analysis of the state's budget to identify spending trends.

They will then make recommendations to the Legislature on how to implement best practices from both the private and public sector to ensure state government services are run in the most cost-effective manner. I'm anxious to see what the commission finds.

If you have any questions or concerns, I can be reached at paul.scott@oksenate.gov or (405) 521-5522.

MOVIES WITH DAVE

By David Stull

DC's back at it again this week, once again uniting some of the biggest names in comicbook history. Also, we have a touching flick featuring a child living with facial deformities, plus a retelling of the first Christmas story from the perspective of the animals. So, no sense in wasting any more time. Let's get to the reviews.

*** First up is the next chapter in the DC Extended Universe (DCEU) "Justice League." After the events of "Batman v Superman: Dawn of Justice" with Superman (Henry Cavill) dead and the threat of an otherworldly invasion imminent, Batman (Ben Affleck) enlists the help of his newfound ally, Wonder Woman (Gal Gadot), to face the oncoming threat. Together the two must work quickly to recruit a team of extraordinary individuals including The Flash (Ezra Miller), Aquaman (Jason Momoa), and Cyborg (Ray Fisher) in hopes to save the planet from an assault of catastrophic proportions. I love DC heroes. Growing up I couldn't get enough Superman or Batman, heck I even watched the 1970s Wonder Woman TV show with Lynda Carter on the Sci-Fi Channel all the time when I was a kid. These are the heroes I grew up with, heroes I still dearly love to this day. This is the reason I can't stand what Warner Bros and director Zack Snyder has done to these heroes in this series of films. With the notable exception of "Wonder Woman" earlier this year, these movies have been one disappointing disaster after the next. This film is the culmination of all the bad from "Batman v Superman" (BvS). Why they chose to keep going with this series after that abomination I will never understand. Much like BvS, this movie tries to establish too much too quickly. None of the moments between characters, scenes that in theory should be amazing, feel remotely earned. As a huge fan of DC, all these heroes teaming up for the first time on the big screen should be mind-blowingly amazing, but here all it feels like is a means to an end. Warner Bros was in such a hurry to copy what Marvel achieved with their cinematic universe, they ignored what made "The Avengers" so much fun in the first place. Likeable heroes. Heroes you actually care about. I'll give the filmmakers some credit here. They did try their hardest to inject some levity in this film. Ezra Miller's Flash is basically a walking talking awkward joke machine and this movie certainly isn't as glum as some of the other DCEU films have been. Sadly most of the humor fell flat for me and most of the quips felt more forced than funny. Not only that, but for some reason these movies have their characters do one thing and say something completely different all the time. Batman acts like he and Superman were old, beloved friends before the Man of Steel's untimely death, but the two of them were literally at each other's throats, trying to murder each other up until the last few minutes of BvS. The world still acts like Superman was a great hero and a symbol of hope, even though we hardly ever saw him do anything heroic without moping about, unless you count him saving Lois Lane for the billionth time. Zack Snyder certainly knows how to make visually interesting movies, I'll give him that, but he's awful at storytelling and creating consistent characters. But all that's just the heroes. I haven't even gotten to the action or visual effects yet. Some of the effects are great, The Flash in particular looks very impressive when using his speedster abilities. Others, like the film's main villain Steppenwolf, look like something created in the early 2000s. He looks embarrassingly bad. I can't believe terrible CGI like this made it in the final version of the movie. The film has an enormous $300 million budget and this is the best effects they could muster? Unbelievable. Plus, once again we get another ending climax located in a drab, monochromatic hellscape. Why do all DCEU movies have to look visually awful in the last 30 minutes? Is it an unwritten rule I don't know about? I just don't understand. The more I think about this movie, the more angry I get. I set my expectations low and I still ended up disappointed. I love these heroes, but I despise what Snyder has done to them. He should have never touched this movie after creating the hack job that is "Batman v Superman."

Fans of DC heroes deserve better than this mediocre mess. "Justice League" is rated PG-13.

*** Next up is "Wonder." Based on the bestselling novel of the same name, this film tells the heartwarming story of Auggie Pullman (Jacob Tremblay), a child born with a genetic disorder and facial deformities that have, up until now, prevented him from going to a normal school. That all changes though when Auggie finds himself the newest 5th grade student at Beecher Prep, and with the help of his mother Isabel (Julia Roberts) and father Nate (Owen Wilson), Auggie tries his best to fit in at his new school. This movie actually surprised me. Going into it I was expecting an over-sentimental, feel-good fest featuring a kid who's winning personality encourages an entire school to look past what he looks like on the outside and see how special he truly is on the inside. That's the film the trailers try to sell, and it's true, the movie's overall message is basically just that, but to say this film is just a simple feel-good film would be doing it a huge disservice. Not only does this movie follow Auggie and his struggles with fitting in at school, but it also goes into detail about the people around him as well. People like his long-suffering sister Via (Izabela Vidovic), who finds herself pushed to the side and often ignored by her parents because of Auggie's condition. Or Auggie's new classmates who aren't quite sure how to act around the new different looking kid. The characters here are so three dimensional it's ridiculous. Even people who would normally just be a bully or rival in any other film are given individual screen time here and we're actually allowed to get to know them as human beings. Almost every character is given their moment to shine in this movie and I love it. Performance wise, Jacob Tremblay was great, especially for a kid who had to have all that makeup and prostheses on constantly. He nailed both the funny moments and more emotional scenes alike. Julia Roberts and Owen Wilson don't have huge roles, but they play Auggie's parents well and both have a handful of their own touching moments. I suppose some of the kids were a bit wooden with a couple lines here and there, but it wasn't anything too bad overall. It definitely doesn't take away from the movie as a whole.

All in all, this is a very sweet film. One that was much deeper than I originally anticipated. You'll leave the theater with a smile on your face and happy tears in your eyes. "Wonder" is an easy recommendation that just about everyone will enjoy. "Wonder" is rated PG.

*** Last this week is "The Star." When a bright new star shows up in the sky, it inspires a small but brave donkey named Bo (Steven Yeun) along with his wise-cracking dove friend Dave (Keegan-Michael Key), to break free of their day to day lives and seek adventure. Along the way, the pair runs into an overly friendly sheep named Ruth (Aidy Bryant) and together they, along with a host of other colorful critters, became the unlikely heroes of the very first Christmas. What would you get if you took the most famous Biblical story ever told and threw it in a blender with a copy of "Rio" on DVD? Well you'd probably have a giant mess of shredded plastic and paper along with a side of sacrilege on your hands. Or you might just end up with this movie. To even say this film is a loose telling of the Christmas story would probably be giving it too much credit. Sure they hit all the main bullet points you'd expect. Mary, Joseph, bright star, born in a manger, it's all there. But all that's just a backdrop to the antics of our main animal characters. And it's basically exactly what you'd expect from an animated movie featuring a cast of critters. Mostly just a bunch of slapstick and animals making wise cracks. There's nothing particularly wrong with it. The voice acting is okay, the animation is okay. The characters, while low effort and generic, are all okay too. It's about as mediocre as animated movies come. I can't really say I'd recommend going out of your way to see it, but if your kids need a 86 minute distraction, you could do far worse. It's not the best movie to show your children for a serious telling of the first Christmas though. Not unless you want them thinking a fast-talking dove shaking it's butt was a notable part of the Biblical tale. "The Star" is rated PG.

Farley's List

1998 takes its toll on Valley residents

Passing through Lennox Valley, any visitor might think of my hometown as a peaceful, tranquil place during the fall of 1998. It wouldn't take long, however, to learn that life in The Valley was anything but tranquil in November of that fateful year.

Don't get me wrong. The year 1998 had its share of high points. Celebrity appearances became almost commonplace. Between TV evangelist Todd Cecil and singing superstar Tange Blevins, there was a lot of excitement in the air.

I'm certain no one in attendance has forgotten the appearance by wrestling legend "Cowboy" Bob Orton, who lost to Jimmy Snuka after interference by Snuka's manager, Lou Albano, at the VFW post in February 1998.

Still there we were, just three days away from Thanksgiving with so much to be thankful for, yet Raymond Cooper somehow found a way to convince his listeners that times had never been worse for the Good Folks of Lennox Valley.

Hinting at tomorrow's headline in his now bi-monthly newspaper, The Valley Patriot, Cooper spent a good deal of airtime on Monday talking about all that was wrong in The Valley. To hear him tell the story, 1998 was undoubtedly the most dreadful year in Valley history.

"I don't know about you, Farley," Raymond said to his guest cohort, Farley Puckett, owner of Puckett's True Valley Hardware Store, "but I'm not sure this town can take much more."

Puckett, longtime friend of Cooper and sole paying advertiser in The Valley Patriot, was quick to respond.

"I couldn't agree more!" Puckett shouted into his microphone. "The events of this past weekend pretty much sum up everything that has happened to our community this year."

Puckett recited a list of "Valley disasters of 1998," which he read from the back of an envelope he had picked up at the Best Western Motel in Branson, Missouri, during a family vacation in 1976. Cooper started to ask where the yellowed envelope came from, but decided not to interfere while Farley was on a roll.

"It's like a 'Who's Who' of everything that could go wrong, and it all took place in one year!" Puckett shouted.

"You've done a lot of serious research," Cooper interrupted, obviously stroking the ego of his guest.

"You bet I have," Puckett nodded before continuing. "About the only good thing that happened this year was Dale Earnhardt winning the Daytona 500 in February. After that, the whole year pretty much went on a downhill slide." "It was one heck of a year," Raymond chimed in, almost as if rehearsed.

"First, the Methodists decide to get a woman preacher, then a woman decides to run against you for mayor, then those two get together to try to ruin the most sacred annual event in our town."

Raymond jumped in, "You're talking, of course, about the men's breakfast at the Baptist church."

"You're darned tootin', I am," Puckett shot back before stopping to apologize to the listening audience for using such offensive language.

"So," said Raymond, taking command of the conversation, "what you're saying is that just about all of the problems in our beloved Valley this year have been caused by the so-called 'newspaper editor,' Iris Long, and her minions."

"That's right!" Puckett answered. "And I'll tell you something else. She's at it again."

"What do you mean?" Cooper asked, sounding as innocent as possible.

"I mean," Puckett shot back, "now she's making up this whole 'A.J. sighting' story to get people all worked up so they will forget everything she has done this year."

"So you don't believe that was A.J. walking through the Methodist playground 10 days ago?" Farley was quick to answer. "No, I don't. As a matter of fact, I was talking to Barry Jarrell the other day, and he told me he took a stroll through that very playground on that very evening. I'd bet money it was Barry, alright. That Bascomb Finch had probably started his Friday night drinking early when he said it was A.J. that he saw."

After pausing to let the idea sink in among listeners, Farley continued, "And that newspaper editor and preacher woman are getting half the town all stirred up believing it was A.J." At Frank's Barber Shop, Frank Bell and Sarah Hyden-Smith were sharing a boxed lunch from the Hoffbrau and listening to Farley's rant on the radio. Looking at Sarah, Frank spoke, "How can you be so calm when that loudmouth is talking about you that way?" "Let him talk," Sarah answered as she smiled. "He's just digging a deeper hole for himself."

"What are you talking about?" her friend asked. "What hole?" Sarah answered, "Let's just say we've got a little surprise for Raymond Cooper and Farley Puckett." After a short pause, she added, "Yes, a very nice surprise."

Purcell Senior Citizens

By Fredda Perry

Thanksgiving is almost here. In fact, the seniors had their traditional Thanksgiving lunch last Friday. The seniors had a full day Monday and Tuesday and on Wednesday there was a short day with a brunch of scrambled eggs, breakfast potatoes, orange juice, biscuits, sausage gravy and mixed fruit salad at 10 a.m.

The seniors and their leaders are so thankful that their numbers have been increasing. There have been several days when the number climbed to the 40s and there was a couple of days in the 50s. That is what we like to see because we never know when the state will start closing centers and that will be done based on the number of participants.

Anyone who is 60 or older is invited to come visit the center where there is always something cooking and plenty of activities. Be aware if you plan to eat lunch at the center, you will need to call the kitchen at 527-9462 the day before or by 8 a.m. the day you want to join the seniors for lunch. If you do not do this, there may not be enough food to feed everyone and the ones who have reservations will get to eat first. Start making your plans and mark your calendar now. The senior center will be having its Annual Christmas Craft Show the first Saturday of December. If you make some kind of craft and would like to have a booth for December 2, call and ask for Fredda. Call the regular senior number of 727-5070 or Fredda's number of 810-877-2919. At the present time there are 13 tables rented by vendors.

The seniors will also be having a bean and cornbread lunch for $2.50 per plate. Lunch will include beans, cornbread and a dessert.

The seniors are in need of a piano bench for the piano at the

Okeyha Mothers Club Holiday Home Tour set for December 3

The annual Okeyha Mothers Club Holiday Home Tour is scheduled for Sunday, December 3, from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

This year's tour will include four Heart of Oklahoma area homes.

Holiday Home Tour patrons will have the opportunity to view the homes of Jason and Melissa Pruitt, Kenny and Valerie Lee, Greg and Sheila Hitchcock and Daniel and Cindy Feedback.

The home of Daniel and Cindy Feedback will be featured in this issue of The Purcell Register.

The Feedback's home is located at 10337 N. County Road 3260 in Pauls Valley.

"I love our front doors that were custom-made in Mexico," Mrs. Pruitt said. "They are 12 feet high and 8 feet wide and are made of knotty alder."

"Our home features American black walnut floors and natural marble floor with floor heating," she said.

The four bedroom, 3-1/2 bath ranch-rustic home is decorated using southwestern earth tones.

A Country Kitchen will be stocked with home-baked goods available for sale. It will be located at the home of Jason and Melissa Pruitt, 2315 Oakridge Dr., in Purcell.

The Holiday Home Tour is a yearly fundraiser for the Okeyha Mothers Club. The club uses funds raised to support community projects and give a scholarship to a graduating senior.

Tickets can be purchased in advance for $10 from any Okeyha Mothers Club member or at the Purcell Vision Clinic or may be purchased at the door for $12.

Kaps for Kids Serve Homeless

Wayne High School's "Kaps for Kids" students will be preparing and serving a meal at Norman's Food and Shelter for Friends on November 29.

The Norman Shelter serves lunch to about 175 people each day. The dedicated "Kaps" students have been crocheting warm hats and scarves during their after school meetings. In addition to serving a meal, the "Kaps" kids will be handing out their creations to those in need of some winter warmth.

Each hat and scarf set was made with compassion and imagination. The kids want their gifts to lift the spirits of all those who wear them.

Penguin Patch Returns

The Penguin Patch Christmas Store will return to Wayne's Elementary and Middle School students December 4-7.

Students may shop at the Penguin Store for gifts for family members, friends, and teachers. Each gift is wrapped so the student can surprise the recipients during the holiday gift exchange.

Although we encourage students to keep the surprise until Christmas, many of the younger elementary students hardly make it home before they have "helped" with the unwrapping of the gifts.

Proceeds of the Penguin Patch Christmas Store are used to honor Wayne's teachers and staff during Teacher Appreciation Week in May.

Having all of those records available on computers in the office will speed up that time frame, Beller said

The renovation means the county clerk's office will be closed from Tuesday through December 8.

"We are hoping to reopen on December 11," Beller said.

However, persons with business in the office are asked to call 527-3360 to make sure it is open. Beller said she will leave an updated message on the phone system by the end of the day December 8 to "let the public know for sure the re-opening date."

Beller said she plans to use the time the office is closed to train two new employees.

The clerk stressed her staff will be available to help members of the public through the transition.

Anyone with documents to file while the office is closed are asked to mail them to McClain County Clerk, P.O. Box 629, Purcell, Okla., 73080.

Beller said McClain County records can also be accessed online at OKCountyRecords.com.

Chefs:

ham)." Abby Byrd, of Washington, knows where to start.

"You get flour and put it on the turkey. Pat it on. And put it in the oven. Twenty degrees for 10 minutes."

The 7-year-old wasn't stopping with just a holiday bird, though. She would also make biscuits, stuffing, sweet potatoes and a cranberry salad.

Oh, and a dessert. Brownies. Phyllis Webb is from Lexington. She is "willing to try to cook a turkey if I have to" but says she would be really surprised that her mother would want her to.

Perhaps for good reason. Phyllis would set the oven to 7 degrees and cook that turkey for a whopping two minutes. The rest of her Thanksgiving menu includes mashed potatoes, green beans, macaroni, pumpkin pie and cookies.

Nothing cranberry, thank you very much.

"I would go to the store and get all my ingredients and come back and cook it," offered Darbi McCaskill of Washington. "I would put it (turkey) in some powder to give it a good taste. Sweet and sour."

Preheat oven to "80 or 90 degrees" and roast the bird for an hour or maybe just 45 minutes.

"I would mix mashed potatoes with some pepper and salt and make green beans with carrots."

Also on the table would be stuffing, cranberry relish, pumpkin pie. And whatever you do, don't forget the whipped cream.

Back in Lexington, James Gabehart, 8, has some misgivings, recalling last year's turkey.

"It wasn't that good," he said.

But if his Me-Maw wants him to cook, he will give it the old Bull-dog try.

"I don't know how to cook a turkey," James said, adding his mom doesn't let him help with cooking lest he get burned by the stove. "I know you've got to put it in the oven and have one of those things to do temperature and stuff."

Speaking of temperature, how will James set the oven? "400 to 500 degrees and you cook it half a day."

Head-on collision Friday

Byars man killed in crash

A Byars man died at the scene Friday morning when his car was hit head-on by a motorist attempting to pass in oncoming traffic.

William Von Frankovich, 51, was pinned in the wreckage for approximately two hours after the 7:18 a.m. collision before being freed by the Wanette and Asher firefighters using a Hurst tool.

Von Frankovich was taken to De'Armon Funeral home in Stratford.

Oklahoma Highway Patrol Trooper William Arnett reported the other driver, Marshall D. McBride, 20, of Wanette, was treated and released at Norman Regional Hospital.

McBride was driving a 2001 Chevrolet Silverado pickup eastbound on State Highway 39 east of Asher and was attempting to pass another vehicle when he found himself in the path of Von Frankovich's 2007 Dodge CXT that was westbound.

According to Arnett, both drivers tried to take evasive action, leaving the highway on the north side before hitting head-on.

Assisting Arnett at the scene were Lts. Michael Lane and Brandon Schneider, Wanette and Asher Fire Departments, and Pottawatomie County Sheriff's Department.

No worries about salmonella there and who's to say there's anything wrong with some turkey jerky.

Washington's Phoenix Taylor is certain of only one thing. She couldn't cook a turkey. Period.

But urging her to use her imagination and pretend generated these results - set the oven at 100 degrees, insert fowl and wait.

Not a long time. Pinning her down on the time took some effort.

Two hours? No, less. One hour? Less, but more than 30 minutes.

Phoenix, 7, may be more comfortable with mashed potatoes. Let's see, those will need seasoning. But not salt and pepper.

Sofie Williams, 7, of Lexington, is a veteran kitchen helper. When macaroni is on the menu, it's Sofie who adds the noodles.

But face it, a turkey isn't pasta. And therein could be a problem. Sofie would roast that turkey for 12 minutes in a "kind of like medium oven."

Kind of like? Medium??

"Thirty degrees," she clarified, before adding she'd also serve "rice or something, cranberries and maybe pumpkin pie or cherry."

Austin Wells, 8, of Washington, thought through all the steps he'd take in preparing that bird.

Starting with getting dressed. That's Austin, not the turkey.

"I'd get something ready to cook it in," he continued, "and put it in the oven."

Said oven being set to 50 degrees.

He's not sure of the cooking time, but doubts it is all day.

"Maybe four hours," he ventured. "You tell it's done by looking at it."

Austin would also put milk and butter in the mashed potatoes and would serve corn on the cob and store bought rolls.

Xavier Perry, 7, of Lexington, is a little ambivalent about being pressed into service as the family chef and is skeptical that his mom would ever dream of asking him.

Xavier would stick an unseasoned bird directly into a 100 to 200 degree oven, leaving it for 30 minutes.

"We never do (season the turkey before roasting)," he said. "We put the seasoning on after."

He would also serve mashed potatoes and corn, but no homemade dessert.

"We always buy the pumpkin pies," he said.

Kai Palacol, 7, of Washington is looking forward to Thanksgiving, knowing that the turkey will be cooked by his GG (great-grandmother). He knows he will get a turkey leg. How great is that?

"I can't do that (cook a turkey)," Kai said.

Sure you can, Kai. Just think it through.

"I'd start by killing a turkey," he said, "and then taking off all the skin. I would cook it for two hours. I would say if I was cooking, probably 200 degrees."

"And then you eat it."

Kai is looking forward to the rest of GG's meal - chips and dip, egg salad, apple pie.

"And she makes ice cream!" the youngster added.

Of everyone interviewed, one boy clearly had more culinary experience than his classmates.

Roland Loux, 8, is from Lexington.

"Me and my dad used to cook a lot and me and my mom cook a lot."

So you know your way around a kitchen?

"It's a pretty small kitchen," he added.

While Roland doesn't like eating what he terms "used to be alive," he's perfectly willing to cook meat for others to enjoy.

After all, "it's called Thanksgiving, not Thanksgetting," he explained.

So the prospect of cooking a turkey or even a ham doesn't worry him.

First off, Roland would like to hunt that turkey. Then he would "probably put some condiments on it, salt and pepper, and put it in the oven. I think the oven would melt the salt. It wouldn't have crunchy salt on it."

So it's in the oven, cooking away for "somewhere like 30 minutes" at level 9 or 120 degrees.

"I think it would be better to do it in the oven, but a microwave is much easier to set," he said. "You put it on a plate, pop it in there and set the time."

There you have it and as Julia always signed off, "Bon appetit!"

Washington was physical and made the plays to advance to round three of the State Playoffs with a convincing 34-14 road victory over Chisholm last Friday night.

That victory paves the way for the Warriors to host Commerce this Friday night in a quarterfinal matchup on Thanksgiving weekend.

"It's always a goal for a team to be playing on Thanksgiving," head coach Brad Beller said.

"It's family and football. With all the plans made during the year, it gives you great pride to know you are in rare company. That's because most teams have moved on to another sport.

"Hopefully it is just a springboard for more things to come for us," he said.

Commerce, which is 9-3 on the year, is very athletic.

The Tigers utilize anything from the spread formation to the power I and don't substitute.

"They are very, very multiple with what they do and have really good backs," Beller said. "They don't have to change personnel to change from the spread to the I so we've got to be mentally sharp to key on their alignments for all their formations and play great technique."

Defensively the Tigers utilize a four man front but again they are very multiple.

"They can go from a 4-2 to a 4-3," Beller said.

The lone returning starter for this year's edition of Dragon basketball is senior Adam Wells, who played point guard last season.

Wells is a sharp-shooter from beyond the arc and his experience will be key for the Dragons this season.

David Sikes takes over as new Dragon Girls Head Coach

John D. Montgomery
The Purcell Register

David Sikes enters his first season at the helm of the Purcell Dragons but it's not his first rodeo.

He actually begins his 10th season as a head basketball coach after spending the last three seasons at Lexington.

The 2003 Mill Creek graduate coached his Alma mater for three seasons.

Sikes and assistant Taylor Wollenberg are expecting to field an aggressive team on both ends of the court this season.

Gone off last year's 12-11 team are the likes of Jaden Webb and Addie Burton.

Returning with either playing or starting experience are Haylee Swayze, Cady Wollenberg, Savannah Ibarra and Chelsea Spain. "We're going to be a little bit of a different team than they've had around here in the past," Sikes said. "We are going to try to speed things up, put more full court pressure on than we have in the past.

"We're looking to play a little more wide open on the offensive end," Sikes continued. "Hopefully, our defense can produce some layups."

Sikes said one of the strengths of this year's Drag-

Lexington's boys basketball team ready for new season

New coach J.D. Beck at the helm

Todd Newville
The Purcell Register

The Lexington boys' basketball team is ready for the 2017-18 season to begin under the guidance of new head coach J.D. Beck.

But, the term "new" only applies to Beck in the sense that this is his first year at the helm of the Lex's hoopsters.

In fact, Beck is fulfilling his third role this year for the Lexington athletic program. He is the Bulldogs' athletic director and an assistant football coach, also.

"I'm excited to start this chapter of my career," Beck said. "I was here 10 years ago back in 2007 as an assistant football coach, also. I really enjoyed the community and the people who worked here - and I still do. A lot of those people still work here and I'm grateful for that. I'm happy and excited to get the season started. I think we have a great chance to build a firm foundation here in Lexington."

The 'Dawgs were 6-18 last season. But, they have some returning talent which leads Beck to believe that they will be competitive this year.

"The expectations are always going to be there for any team at the beginning of the season," Beck said.

"Ours are no different. We're going to try to mix things up. The old coaching staff that was here taught these guys well. We have some athletes and some talent. We can improve upon last year."

Junior Toby Prevost is a guard who will play the "2" and only played about half the season a year ago due to hip and ankle injuries.

But, he can shoot.

Andre Ibarra is a junior point guard and will direct the Bulldogs on the floor.

"The one thing about Toby is, when he goes out there on the floor, he goes hard," Beck said.

"You almost expect something to be hurting him just because he always gives it everything he's got.

"Andre is probably going to be our point guard. He didn't finish out the year last season but we're looking for him to contribute good things to our team. He is a good ball handler and sees the floor well. He's got a good knowledge of the game."

Senior Hunter Findley is Lexington's returning starter at small forward while senior Blane Olson will be the power forward down low.

Senior Caden Jones returns as the Bulldogs' center and, "He's going to be our big guy in the middle and will control the paint for us," Beck said.

Senior Dylan Reed and junior Jordan Land will be looked upon to lend a hand off the bench for Lex.

Junior Hayden Pruitt is a move-in from Noble and will also provide strength off the bench for Beck.

Plus, sophomore Colton Penner could be a force as a backup to Jones in the paint. Penner (at 6-foot-3) is Beck's tallest player.

"We're not very tall," Beck said. "But, Colton has a good build on him and, for a young guy, he's got some mass and we believe he'll get taller as he gets older.

Dylan Reed hasn't played in a couple of years. But, he's a senior and we're looking at him to help us out with his maturity.

"Jordan Land transferred last year from Purcell within the district and didn't get to play. We are looking at him to do some good things for us this year, too. We've just got a lot of puzzle pieces to work with.

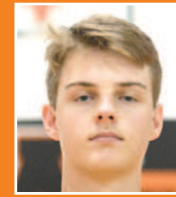

"Our job as a coaching staff is to put those puzzle pieces together and make them work."

Head coach Jost Trent is entering his fourth season at Wayne, his second season at the helm of the Lady Bulldogs.

Lost to graduation off of last year's team were Kaylan Doshier, Paige Hunt, Gracie Dill and Peyton Spencer.

But, Trent is looking forward to some continuity with seniors Hannah Wissinger and Jaidah Wilson, two starters from last season, back for the 2017-2018 campaign.

"Last season Jaidah was hurt, which hurt us, but she's healthy and we're looking forward to having her in the lineup," Trent said.

Junior Morgan Posey moved to Wayne from Washington and Trent expects her to help a lot.

The head coach feels his girls are improved from last year and is expecting to utilize some of the athleticism that makes up his bench.

Returning juniors include Raegan Dill, Sydney McGow-

New coach Ryan Perry leads team

The Lexington girls' basketball team is looking to improve upon its 9-14 record from a year ago.

They are eager to get the season underway under new head coach Ryan Perry, who has 10 years prior experience at Millwood, Cyril, Verden, and Gracemont.

"It's been good," Perry said of his team's preparation for the upcoming campaign. "We hope to do better this year."

Perry was reluctant to single out any particular player or players who might be possible stalwarts for his club this year.

Instead, he seemed to think it's going to be an all-out team effort to garner any and all victories in the win column this season.

"We're the Lexington Bulldogs," Perry simply said.

Gone from last year's team are Tiffany Hinkle, Rachel Beason, Jacie Jones, and Morgan Hamm.

season. Sophomores include Macie Woody, Abigail Lee and Elizabeth Johnson. Three freshmen could also see playing time. They are Allie Walck, Coralee Castle and AJ Gray.

The Lady Bulldogs' schedule is filled with tough opponents, as usual, and Trent feels his team is ready to tackle the season.

"We're improved from last year and I'm eager to get the season started," Trent said.

Boys

The Wayne Bulldogs start their season next week and head coach Josh Trent expects there to be some growing pains.

"We lost a lot of experience to graduation, so the young guys will have to grow up and help out.

"We'll rely on the bench, getting guys playing time to figure everything out," Trent said.

Eight cagers were lost to graduation including Justin Macie Woody, Geoffrey Montanez, Brock Walck, Braden Smith, Jackson Embry, Trey Alderman and Matthew Garza, all of whom saw substantial playing time last year.

But, Rodney Gray, a starter from last year, is back and will be the cornerstone of the Bulldogs' game bringing much-needed leadership to the court.

"We're a different team than last year and I'm hoping we'll be able to peak late, giving us a good chance at the playoffs," Trent said.

With some inexperience comes a new game plan and the coach plans to play a slower game in attempt to shorten the game and get more gametime experience for his team.

The Bulldogs tip off for the start of the season Tuesday, November 28 at Wilson.

Dragons:

Galyean and Berrey had good summer camps.

"They both had really good summer leagues," Raper said. "I think Jake could be a double digit scorer if not also a double digit rebounder."

"It's going to take the entire team," Raper said referring to Milner, Corey Nimsey, Grant Smith, Ryan Rogez and others.

"It's going to be a bit different," the coach admitted. "There is more than one way to get the job done. I'm trying to change the way we play on defense and to be more aggressive pressing the ball.

"I've got to get them to do it on a consistent basis. They are making strides and are a very smart bunch. In the summer league I could just draw up a play and they would be able to go run it," Raper said.

"It doesn't take me long to put in something new. I'm excited about the team."

Raper said with Garrett, Adam, Jake and Reece the Dragons have an opportunity to be "very long defensively".

"They could cause some havoc," Raper said. "And, they can all play multiple positions which can sometimes create some mismatches."

Raper said his team is in the midst of finding out a lot about itself.

The Dragons hosted Noble in a scrimmage Monday and traveled to Harrah for scrimmages on Tuesday against Harrah, McGuinness, Duncan, Chickasha and Centennial.

"We will know a lot more about ourselves after those scrimmages," the coach confirmed.

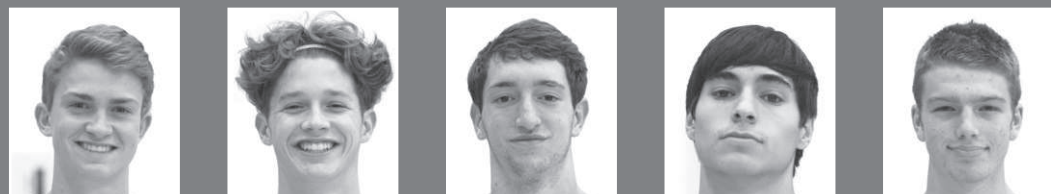

The Dragons open the season on the road at Tecumseh Tuesday.

"I'm looking forward to it," Raper said. "We need to be mentally tough. If we are that will take us a long way."

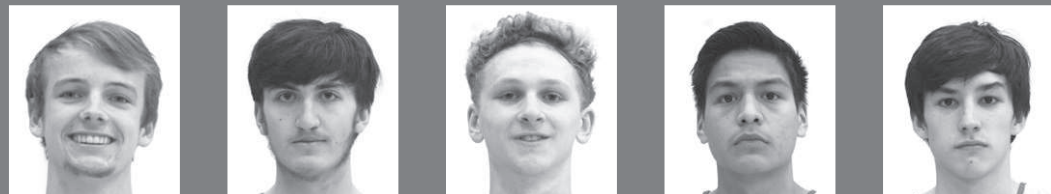

Tip off for the girls game Tuesday is at 6:30 p.m. with the boys to follow.

their outside shooting.

"That's what we need to work on the most," he confided. "Haylee worked hard all summer expanding her three point abilities. We've got some sophomores that have shot the ball well in scrimmages."

He was talking about Alicia Baker and Anoli Billy.

Several girls were on the State Championship Softball team and Sikes hopes that spills over.

"They started slow in softball so I assume they are going to get progressively better and hopefully we hit our stride just before the playoffs.

Asian & American Christian Speakers Club

Asian & American Christian Speakers met Nov. 4, 2017. After greeting each other and especially greeting our visiting guests, Sergeant at Arms Eric kicked off the meeting.

Leslie was the Toastmaster of the day and first introduced our honored guest, area director Emiley. Emiley was asked to give the word of the day, and it was "accommodate."

Leslie started the meeting by accommodating Emiley and other guests into the prepared meeting agenda. The meeting was warmed up with Jin-Song's humorist speech: A woman questioned about the $1,200 anesthesia bill for her recent surgery, "why is so expensive just to make someone to sleep?" The doctor explained, "Making you sleep is actually free. $1,200 is for bringing you back from your sleep!"

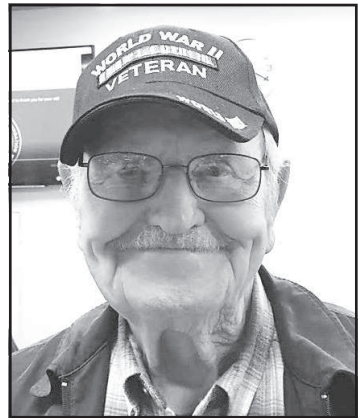

Harley hosted the Table Topics speech session. A few questions regarding obesity were raised. Beulah first analyzed the causes of widespread obesity in recent years.

Honored guest Xirong participated in the session by answering the second question regarding the solution to the obesity. She planned to do more exercise and more housework. Her family members may particularly like her ideas. Xiaoming listed the benefit of keeping your body in good shape, including easy travel on an airplane and even saving your lives in a storm situation.

Harley concluded the session with some more discussions, which was further supplemented by Toastmaster Leslie's sharing of her own experience (particularly related to table armchairs).

In the prepared speech session, two interestingly titled speeches were delivered. Beulah's speech was "not yet!" She recalled the history of our Toastmaster club. How did our club grow from threemembers to more or less 20 members today.

Ms. Hao's speech was "Yes, maybe!" She presented her patent regarding designing a dynamic password. A complex geek issue was nicely presented in a very understandable plain language. Eric and Jin-Song evaluated the two speeches. Particularly, Jin-Song encouraged Ms. Hao to remove "maybe" in her future speech titles, because Toastmasters are determined to speak under whatever circumstances.

The meeting was wrapped up by self-introduction around the table to give our visitors more idea about ourselves and our Toastmaster experience.

Asian & American Christian Speakers meet every second and fourth Saturday (first and third in November and December) from 9:45 to 11:30 a.m. in the National Weather Center Conference Room in Norman. # Lexington wrestlers excited for this season to begin

The Purcell Register

Lexington wrestling head coach Jared Garrett is entering his third season at the helm of the Bulldogs and he is anxious to see what his grapplers can do this year on the mat.

"We're really young and we have quite a few kids where this is just their first or second year out for wrestling. But, we have a couple who are returning who have done pretty decent in the past. Overall, we are excited and ready to compete," Garrett said.

Senior Vincent Elijah Cherry is probably Garrett's most outstanding and promising wrestler at 145 pounds.

"Vincent Cherry was just one match away from qualifying for state last year," Garrett said.

"This year, he's on his way to being a state qualifier, I think, since they changed the rules — taking the top five instead of just the top four from each region. He made it all the way to the semi-finals last year and lost to a guy from Heritage Hall who is now at OSU."

Garrett himself was a stand-out wrestler for the Bulldogs a decade ago.

"I'm from Lexington and I graduated in 2006," he said.

"I qualified for state as a junior and was a runner-up when I was a senior. I lost in double overtime that year."

The other senior this year for the Bulldogs is Ivan Huerta at 106 pounds. The juniors include Christian Lobough at 126, Kaleb Robertson at 132, and Hunter Mooneyham at 145. Sophomore wrestlers for Lexington include Hunter Forbes at 120, Colton Turner at 132, and Levi Griffith at 195.

Sophomores Nate Clegg, Levi Free, and Estin Stovall are all listed at 138 pounds at the moment while Tanner Jones and Alex Serrano are at 145 pounds.

Lexington's freshman grapplers include Avery Armstead at 170 pounds and heavyweight Cameron Conner at 221.

"I think Levi Griffith has a chance of qualifying for state," Garrett said.

"He's a tough kid at 195 pounds and he's wrestled for quite a few years. We have Nate Clegg and this is his second year of wrestling. He's a scrapper and he's going to wrestle at 138 pounds or 145, just depending on the situation."

The Bulldogs will do their best in dual competition.

"Our dual records haven't been that great the last few years," Garrett said. "We've been trying to build the team back up. As far as dual records go, it's a numbers game and it's about being able to fill all those weights. We probably won't fill all the weights.

"It just depends on where we get kids to match up at. When you don't fill a weight, it's a forfeit.

And, when you can't fill, say, four weights, that's six points each match. So, it makes a big difference whether you can or can't fill a weight in a dual situation."

The Lexington wrestlers will be debuting new uniforms and sweats this year. Overall, there is a sense of pride and optimism throughout the wrestling room, Garrett said.

"We are very excited to get the season underway. I think our wrestlers are just anxious to get out there on the mat and show people what they are capable of."

Warriors:

in the back end and have great athletes back there," Beller said.

Kickoff for the Tigers and Warriors is 7:30 p.m. Friday.

When Washington traveled to Chisholm last Friday it was the defense that rose to the occasion.

"We made all the plays and were just more physical," Beller said. "When you play hard and try to get things right it gives you a chance to have the opportunity for success."

Washington drew first blood with a 47 yard Logan Clemence touchdown jaunt.

After Chisholm knotted the game at 7-7, Tyler Stuever hauled in a pass from younger brother Trevor for a 79 yard touchdown play and the Warriors never trailed again.

Tyler Stuever scored on runs of two and 41 and Clemence added a 41 yard scamper for the Warriors.

Washington took a 21-7 lead into halftime and turned that into a 28-7 advantage at the end of the third quarter.

"Our entire defense played their best game of the year," Beller said.

Three times Chisholm started drives inside Washington territory and came away with only one touchdown.

"It was one of the best performances I've ever been a part of," Beller said.

"Coach K (Jeff Kulbeth) had a great game plan but our kids did a great job. It's something we need to continue this season.

"We were solid and made plays by just being physical." Beller said his entire defensive unit played well.

"But the unsung heroes were our down linemen in Cale

Winton, Logan Lyles, Trestin Miller, Tanner Thompson and Justin Simmons.

"They all played outstanding and had great technique.

They allowed our linebackers to all finish with double digit tackles.

"It was a true great effort on their part and a very disciplined effort," the coach said.

The coach mentioned Colton Goelz, Hunter Nixon, Logan Clemence Brandin Keith and all the secondary players for their play.

"Chisholm has a great defense and since we scored 34 points people might not think that. But, it took us a while to get started."

And once they got started they moved the ball with senior running back Tyler Stuever rushing the ball 25 times for 232 yards and two touchdowns.

three games in the Regional tournament a year ago. They were just one point away from advancing to the area tournament under former head coach David Sikes.

The Lady Bulldogs beat Douglass (43-42) and Marietta (44-38 in overtime) before losing to Lindsay (40-39) in Regionals.

Beason and Morgan Hamm (each with 31 total points) did their best in the three games to try to advance Lexington into the next round of the playoffs.

"I'm proud of my team and the way we played down the stretch," Sikes said last year after the season ended.

"Everyone played hard and did their job. This season hasn't been great but these girls came to practice every day ready to work. I believe God's timing is great and we started playing well at the right time."

Now, Perry (as the new coach) steps in and hopes to try to build on last year's season-ending vibe.

The Lady Bulldogs are a young bunch this year.

Just three seniors are on the Lexington varsity roster —

Kenzi Griffith, Lacey Barber, and Selena Chavez.

The Lady Bulldogs feature two juniors in Bri Webster and Ciara Winterton. The rest of the roster is comprised of sophomores and one freshman.

Lauren Beason, Emilee Jenks, Kyra Lehman, Hannah Robbins, Anna Sample, Lindsey Barber, Kenzie Lawson, and Kaylee Fink are those sophomores.

Jaci Idlett is the lone freshman varsity player for the Lady Bulldogs, who travel to Lone Grove for their season opener at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday.

Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church

By Fr. Jim Chamberlain

The term "spirituality" is used to describe the way in which we choose to practice our life with God, our prayer life, our devotional life. For example, someone uses lectio divina (divine reading) to pray with Sacred Scripture. Another prays a centering prayer in complete silence. Another follows the exercises of St. Ignatius in seeking to "find God in all things" in her daily life.

A very appropriate spirituality for today is one that is centered on gift and stewardship. A "steward" is not one who owns but one who manages responsibly, and thereby protects and improves and enhances that which he is given. Jesus told the parable of the talents to encourage us to seek a rich harvest with the talents we are given. (Matthew 25). We must not bury them in a field or hide them under a basket.

If I remember that I am a steward, I may make my choices differently. I will begin each day with a prayer of thanks for the day that is before me, for which I am a steward. I will ask myself: How will I use my time this day to improve the world around me? How will I care for other living creatures and all things of the created earth? How will I put my gifts and talents to work in the service of the Kingdom?

Will I treat my body as a gift, giving it the proper nourishment and the exercise and the rest that it needs? How will I responsibly attend to my marriage? How will I treat these children or grandchildren of mine who I have under my care for just a little while before they are given back to God? All is given back to God in the end.

The composition of our stewardship can change over the years. At one time of our life we may have much time and little treasure to share. At another time in our life, we may be blessed with a good-paying job but have little time to give. We trust that our needs and responsibilities will be met, in good time, when we are generous. It is true that "God loves a cheerful giver" (2 Cor. 9:7). But God will also take care of a cheerful giver.

Finally, if we practice giving thanks for the good gifts, perhaps we can one day understand the grace in receiving the "not-so-good" gifts, such as illness or painful loss. The grace in these gifts is most often seen at a later time.

Stewardship is the prayerful acknowledgment that "all good giving and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights" (James 1:17). This one prayer should belong to us all: "Thank you, Lord, for this good life, and forgive us if we do not love it enough."

The spirituality of stewardship teaches patience. It teaches balance. And it teaches a kind of "letting go" that ultimately God is the Giver and Master. I am only his servant. Perhaps this is what Jesus meant when he said "My yoke is easy and my burden is light." (Mt. 11:30) If I am but a steward, I can only manage that which God has given me to manage. I am responsible for no more.

Last Sunday we had our biggest crowd ever for our Thanksgiving meal - 250 people! We want to thank the Altar Society and all the people who helped set up, cook, and clean up after such a lovely gathering.

We will have a special Thanksgiving Mass at 11 a.m. (bilingual) on Thursday, November 23.

Our Mass schedule is Saturday at 5 p.m. (English), Sunday at 11 a.m. (English) and 1 p.m. (Spanish).

Lexington Westside Church of Christ

Happy Thanksgiving to all of you who sit "out on the front porch" with us each week faithfully! May the Lord bless you all richly!

There's just something special about Thanksgiving. The mood seems to stick to you kind of like that turkey and dressing. It's one of those holidays that last far beyond that special Thursday every year. We seem to write about Thanksgiving all the way through the holiday season into the next year.

A Thanksgiving never comes around that I don't think about my grandfather, E.H. Miller. "Preacher Miller" was an old-time, tell-it-like-it-is, back-to-the-basics church of Christ preacher. He preached a great many sermons in his days. But one of the best sermons of his life wasn't one he preached. It was one he lived!

In the mid 60s, Preacher Miller and some friends got in a bad car accident driving home from a revival in Marietta, Ga. Two cars were drag racing that night on the two-lane Atlanta highway, and Preacher Miller met the car in his lane when he topped a hill.

"It happened so fast," he later would say, "that we didn't even have time to swerve."

I still remember the phone ringing late that night at our little house on Juniper Street. The news wasn't good for anyone, but the four in Granddad's car were the fortunate ones.

Those riding with the preacher had numerous injuries, but Preacher Miller was hurt the worst. The impact was so great that his shoe melted to the gas pedal, and the workers had to pull his foot out of his shoe to get him and his broken hip out of the burning car.

The doctor did all he could for the preacher for several days, but one morning he walked into the LaGrange, Ga., hospital room and delivered the news: "Preacher Miller," he said, "I'm sorry, but I don't think you'll ever walk again."

The preacher didn't buy it. He said, "Doctor: you, me, and the Lord can do better than that."

And they did.

In a month he was walking — and preaching — on crutches. In three months he was walking with a walker. In six he walked, period. Just with a limp.

While he was a man of great faith, he also became discouraged often during his rehabilitation. One day when he was really feeling sorry for himself, he started wheeling through the hospital, looking around. He was surprised by what he saw.

He saw a man who was missing a limb. He saw another who couldn't get out of bed. He saw one he knew wouldn't see too many more sunrises.

So he went back to his room and gave thanks.

He never took walking for granted again. From that time on, he walked stairs every day of his life, back when walking really wasn't the "in" thing.

Walking stairs, of course, isn't something you can do at home. So every day he'd go out and find one of the tallest buildings in his hometown; and there he'd walk the stairs. It was a place he attended every day in his visits anyway, and it was a place where he could go and never feel sorry for himself. He had always tried that.

He learned a long time ago. You can't feel sorry for yourself...walking the stairs down at the hospital.

Sunray Baptist Church

James and Pam Kyzer sang "Give Thanks" for the special at our morning service.

Brother Dennis used Psalm 138 for both morning and evening services. He said a priority for us when we join together is the true worship of God and praise. The text told of David whose kingdom was divided and whose son was pursuing him to kill him. At the time, David's heart and mind was concentrating on praising God, who took precedent over everything else going on in his life.

The Psalm revealed the priority, testimony, and motivation of praise. It revealed that God strengthened David. It also shows us why God tests us with trials. He reveals where we're at spiritually.

He allows struggles and weaknesses to help teach us about ourselves, to have our faith strengthened, to do something amazing, and ultimately to bring Him honor.

There will be no Wednesday night bible study this week to allow our members to be with their family for the Thanksgiving holiday. Pastor Dennis Clark and the church family at Sunray Baptist Church extends warmest wishes and blessings to everyone this Thanksgiving 2017.

Green Avenue Church of Christ

The Wednesday evening auditorium class went into the eleventh chapter of 1 Corinthians where the apostle Paul continues to teach that Christians do not have the right to do things that are right within themselves but cause weak Christians to stumble. This chapter discusses head coverings.

The Sunday morning adult Bible class studied Jeremiah 27-39, 2 Kings 24-25, 2 Chronicles 36 and the 74th and 79th psalms. The class discussed the rule of Judah's last king, Zedekiah, and his relationship with the prophet Jeremiah during his rule.

During the Sunday morning assembly Keith Shackelford brought a lesson on the apostle Paul's life of thankfulness beginning with the reading of the first fifteen verses of Colossians one.. The lesson pointed out that Paul was thankful for such things as spiritual blessings, the faith of others and the triumph of good over evil.

The Sunday evening message was an analysis of the seventy-fourth psalm. The psalmist writes about the misery and perplexity of defeat and seeks understanding. God also withdraws from evil on occasions but takes care of good people all over the earth.

The church is located at 407 Jackson Street in Purcell. Bible classes begin at 9:45 a.m. Sunday morning and 7 p.m. Wednesday evening, with worship at 10:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Sunday. Bible study correspondence courses are available. You can call the office at 527-4052.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF JOHN D. MAXSON, DECEASED.

Case No. PB-2017-109 ALIAS COMBINED NOTICE TO CREDITORS AND NOTICE OF HEARING

TO: All persons interested in the Estate of John D. Maxson, Deceased. You are hereby notified that on the 14th day of November, 2017 the Petitioner, Anita A. Bailor, of 2501 N. The names and last-known addresses of the heirs and devisees of the decedent, so far as known to the Petitioner, are as follows:

Name/Address	Name/Address

In an Order for Combined Notice entered herein, the Court found that it should dispense with the regular estate proceedings prescribed by law and order notice to creditors and issue an order for hearing upon the Petition for Summary Administration and Admission of Foreign Will to Probate, and the Final Accounting and Petition for Determination of Heirs, Legatees and Devisees and Distribution.

Pursuant to the Order for Combined Notice, all creditors having claims against John D. Maxson, deceased, are required to present same, with a description of all security interest and other collateral, if any, held by each creditor with respect to such claim, to the Petitioner, Anita A. Bailor, c/o Jeremy E. Brown, MCCALLA BROWN PATEL LLP, 126 W. Notice is hereby given that a hearing will be held on the 11th day of January, 2018, at 9:30 o'clock a.m. at the McClain County Courthouse, Purcell, Oklahoma before the undersigned Judge of the District Court. At the hearing the Court will decide whether to approve the Petition for Summary Administration and Admission of Foreign Will to Probate, and the Final Accounting and Petition for Determination of Heirs, Legatees and Devisees and Distribution, of the Petitioner.

You are hereby advised that you must file objections to the Petition for Summary Administration and Admission of Foreign Will to Probate and the final accounting and petition for determination of heirs, legatees and devisees and distribution at any time prior to the hearing and send a copy to the Petitioner's attorney, Jeremy E. If you have no objections, you need not appear at the hearing or make any filings with the Court.

If an objection is filed before the hearing, the Court will determine at the hearing, whether the will attached to the Petition shall be admitted to probate, whether summary proceedings are appropriate and, if so, whether the estate will be distributed and to whom the estate will be distributed.

The claim of any creditor not shown in the Petition will be barred unless the claim is presented to the special administrator on or before the 15th day of December, 2017.

It is so ordered this 15th day of November, 2017.

No. 973-November 23-3 Times
Purcell City Lake Trails Project
Public Hearing

December 11th, 2017 6:00pm
Purcell Multi-Purpose Center
The Purcell Parks & Rec Advisory Board will be hosting a public hearing regarding a grant application for improvements to the Purcell Lake walking trail.

This grant would create a foot/biking/mountain biking trail around the entirety of Purcell Lake.

The grant would upgrade the current walking trail to meet the Americans with Disabilities Act codes.

This grant is administered by the Federal Highway Administration to the Federal Trails Program which is then distributed by the Oklahoma Department of Tourism.

The trail would be 10' to 12' wide, depending on equipment used.

It would be a phased project of three to four phases, each with its own separate grant.

The grant would pay 80% of the cost, and the city would pay 20% of the cost.

There will be no tax increase to fund the project.

Engineers have been consulted to begin drawing up an estimate of the overall trail and each of its phases.

The project would create a trail all the way around the lake and add a water fountain and restroom to the Rotary Park area. It would add a bathroom on the opposite side of the lake.

This will be the third time the City of Purcell has applied for this grant. The previous two attempts were passed over. This will be the last time we can apply for this grant.

This grant request is due January 26th, 2018.

We would like to receive letters from the community. The letters should say why people do / do not want the trail, and how the trail will impact the city.

Dale K. Graham Veteran's Foundation
I want to express my appreciation to everyone who helped us have our own place to make a difference in the lives of veterans and their families. For those not able to be at the Grand Opening, please visit any Tuesday or Thursday morning. We are located in the Robinson Crossing Shopping Center at 1268 North Interstate Drive in Norman. We accept the first 130 veterans and surviving spouses beginning at 5:30 a.m.
Dale K. Graham Veterans Foundation Veteran of the Week Charles Waddle from Oklahoma City served in the United States Army during World War II.
Many of our volunteers were in training last week provided by the Department of Veterans Affairs and the Oklahoma Department of Veterans Affairs (ODVA). The classes are an excellent way to introduce volunteers to any VA changes and is also a way to introduce new volunteers to the VA claims processes. We were easily identified by the red shirts with our logo and names on the front. To me, this helps our volunteers remain part of our team whose mission is to serve veterans and their families.
As many of you know, as a VA Accredited Claims Agent I receive a copy of all the rating decisions. I review each one to make sure we have done everything possible to help each veteran and surviving spouse.
As I was going through them I came across a surviving spouse of a Vietnam veteran who died in 2000. When she came to us a few months ago, we learned she had been denied numerous times for benefits. Shirley and a team of volunteers researched her case. They found several things that had not been sent previously to VA as evidence.
Our group supplied this evidence along with a request to reconsider the previous denials. We are happy to report the VA granted our request and granted DIC benefits with a start date of 2001. She will receive more than $100,000 back pay plus $1,250 per month for the rest of her life. These are the kinds of things that our organization can do for veterans and their surviving spouses. I for one appreciate the many hours and commitment that our volunteers make in the lives of veterans and their families.

We received the rating decisions from VA last week that awarded a 100 percent rating to four veterans. They will receive an annual combined amount of $169,422 per year. There were also 15 veterans who received disability ratings for their service-connected conditions from 10-90 percent. They will receive an annual combined amount of $194,537 per year. There were three surviving spouses approved for DIC, Pension or Aid and Attendance benefits. They will receive a combined annual dollar amount of $44,652 per year.
I would like to have more trained volunteers available to assist veterans and surviving spouses with their applications for VA benefits. I believe we will continue to see an increase in the number of veterans and their families. We are averaging more than 300 visitors each week. We also need more financial assistance, to keep us from being forced to turn people away in their time of need.
Currently, it requires around $30,000 each month to provide services at our current levels. In the last 11 months, we have provided more than $104,500 for medical diagnostic testing. We have provided almost $30,000 to help with emergency housing and back rent. Paying for our clients' emergency food and gasoline totaled nearly $19,000. Close to $15,000 was spent on veterans past due utility payments. We provided nearly $6,000 in burial expenses and another $6,000 for past due car payments. This week our drivers spent 80 hours transporting 28 passengers 1,356 miles. The year to date cost for our transportation services is more than $6,000.
More than 300,000 veterans are living in our state, and many are not aware of the VA benefits that they may be eligible to receive. As we have already assisted veterans in all 77 counties, I believe that their success stories will reach many others in their communities. With these thoughts in mind, we are going to see a continual increase in the number of veterans and spouses who visit us. With these cost figures and our mission in mind, we ask you to consider helping us, so we can continue our services helping veterans and their families.

On another note, other organizations are taking notice of what we do for our veteran community. Last week we had a visitor who identified himself as from the Oklahoma Department of Veterans Affairs (ODVA). This man was taking pictures of our facility and the hundreds of veterans and surviving spouses who were there for assistance with their VA claims and questions. Maybe they will offer to help us make a difference in the lives of the thousands of veterans in Oklahoma who unfortunately go to sleep both cold and hungry. It seems to me that all organizations such as the ODVA, DAV, American Legion and others should be working together to improve the lives of all veterans and their families.
Dale K. Graham Veterans Foundation has food boxes available to those in need. An application for this type of assistance will be available on Tuesday and Thursday mornings. A DD-214 or military discharge will be necessary to apply. Please contact Rhonda (405) 550-8806 Extension 103 to request a food box.
We are at 1268 North Interstate Drive in Norman, Exit 110 off of I-35 each Tuesday and Thursday morning at 5:30 a.m. Please arrive by 8 a.m. Contact Dale with any questions at (405) 550-8806 Extension 101 or dale@dalekgrahamveteransfoundation.org or Shirley Clark-Cowdin for spouse benefits at Extension 104. Visit our website at www.dalekgrahamveteransfoundation.org. Semper Fi!
