He was pinned in the wreckage for approximately three hours.

A passenger in the 2017 Peterbuilt tractor-trailer driven by Cannon was critically injured and died this week in a Boston hospital.

Jose Moura, 38, of Shrewsbury, Mass., was airlifted to OU Medical Center. He was later transferred to Massachusetts General Hospital where he died Tuesday.

Also involved in the wreck was a 2013 Mack tractor-trailer Hospital. She was ejected apdriven by Sabahudin Bukvic, 48, of Corinth, Texas, and a 2016 Kenworth tractor-trailer 39, of Mission, Texas.

Bukvic suffered internal and external trunk injuries and was treated and released at Norman Regional Hospital. Rodriquez refused treatment for a head injury at the scene.

According to Ozment the wreck occurred in the outside northbound lane. The Mack and Kenworth rigs were stopped due to traffic congestion. Cannon failed to stop, striking Bukvic's rig and causing it to hit the Rodriguez rig.

The wreck closed northbound I-35 for 4 hours and 45 minutes. It reopened at 5:05 p.m.

Assisting Ozment were eight other troopers, Purcell police on Cemetery Road and failed to and fire departments and Wadley EMS.

The third accident occurred Jamie Drain, 57, of Lexington,

The second fatality occurred at approximately 8:29 a.m. exit.

Randal L.Dunigan, 34, of Fittstown, was driving a 2015 according to Trooper Brian Freightliner northbound in the outside lane of I-35 when his rig drifted partially into the inside lane.

> A passenger, Shery Dophy, 35, of Roff, was treated and released at Integris Baptist proximately 25 feet when the rig overturned.

That wreck was investigated driven by Ramone Rodriquez, by Trooper Don Anderson. He was assisted by another trooper, Goldsby Fire Department, Purcell Fire Department and EMSSTAT.

> Another accident resulting in serious injury occurred shortly before 12:30 p.m. Sunday south of Noble on U.S. 77 at Cemetery Road.

Nathaniel Gardenhire, 22, of Lexington suffered head and back injuries. He was first taken to Norman Regional Hospital and from there immediately transferred to OU Medical Center where he was listed in critical condition on Monday.

Trooper Ken Pittman reported Gardenhire was driving a 1994 Isuzu truck westbound yield at the stop sign at U.S.77. A2015 GMC truck driven by

The GMC struck the Isuzu on the passenger side,

Drain and a passenger, Terri Searcy, 31, of Lexington, were both treated and released at Norman Regional Hospital.

Assisting Pittman at the scene were Lt. Brandon Schneider, Noble police and the Cleveland County Sheriff's Department.

Start by placing logs at the back of the fireplace or on a supporting grate. Do not overload the fireplace. Make sure the damper is open before lighting the fire and leave it open until the ashes have cooled. This allows gases to escape.

Avoid burning cardboard, trash or other debris in the fireplace or wood stove. Do not use flammable liquids to light or relight the fire.

When fireplaces and wood stoves are in use, children and pets, as well as decorations, curtains and other flammable materials should be kept at least three feet away.

Fireplace screens should cover the entire width of the fireplace and be sturdy enough to block any logs that begin to roll.

"No fire should be left unattended," Peek said.

After the ashes are cooled completely, put them in a metal container with a tight-fitting lid and store the container at least 10 feet away from the house or other buildings.

Finally, install smoke detectors and CO alarms on every level of your house. All fireplaces and wood stoves can generate both smoke and carbon monoxide.

"Working smoke detectors and CO alarms will significantly increase your family's chances of surviving a fire. Test them regularly and change the batteries at least once a year," Peek said. "Also, take the time to create a family escape plan and practice it regularly so everyone knows what to do and where to go in case of a fire or other emergency."

Reaching Your Lawmakers

The food and traditions of Christmas bring us together. They help us remember the time of rebirth in the name of Jesus.

But the main ingredient is not the place where you celebrate. That is very insignificant.

It's the people you surround yourselves with and who you share the traditions with that matter most.

Family and friends is what it's all about, both those present, and those that are elsewhere. It's also a time of remembering those that have gone before us.

Beautiful decorations

I'm very pleased with the Christmas decorations in my living room. I have a gorgeous blue and purple tree that's all glittery and bright. I have a small peacock on top of it instead of a star.

I have a small white tree decorated with colorful, traditional ornaments and tiny hand-made ornaments with a picture of a member of my family on each one.

I have a gold tree that is about a foot tall and decorated with little red and green ornaments.

I also have a pine cone tree painted silver in a small clay pot, a couple of Christmas stockings waiting to be filled by Santa Claus and two poinsettia plants.

I enjoy three cute snowmen on my door and candy canes can't eat it, I don't want it."

Congressman Tom Cole

When the 114th Congress began its session in January of 2015, many Americans had concerns about the direction of our nation, and the job approval of their Congressional leaders was appropriately low. Early Christmas presents corner and as legislators we brings hope and joy to everywill receive an early Christmas present this week from the Board of Equalization. With the expectation of removing the bow and wrapping paper to find another budget shortfall this session there is still reason to rejoice this Christmas.

For one, while we may face another shortfall, it will likely be less than legislators faced this time last year and there are indications that we may be entering an economic recovery.

Just as our challenges as a state exist so do the many personal challenges in homes this Christmas. There are many examples, but first in my mind are those who received news of a family member facing a terminal illness this Christmas. For that reason, it is not sufficient to place hopes of Christmas cheer in a potential economic recovery.

The truth is Christmas tran-

one who hears the miraculous story of their savior's birth.

More than 2,000 years ago, Jesus came as baby, born in a humble manger in the small village of Bethlehem. I find it ironic that the leading scholars and political leaders of the day missed the signs of His coming. Instead, the angels heralded the news to a group of shepherds, and wise men from the East were the only ones cognizant of the true meaning of the brilliant star lighting the night sky. They alone brought gifts for a king.

You see, Jesus was born during circumstances far worse than you and I experience today. Yet to those who knew of His birth and that He was the savior of the world, they rejoiced and brought gifts.

I don't want to be like those religious scholars who studied their whole lives for signs of scends challenges, including the coming Messiah only to budget shortfalls and even a miss Him when He arrived.

Christmas is just around the terminal illness. Christmas Instead, I want to pause for a moment from the importance of state government, from the heaviness of challenges in all our homes, and rejoice in the miraculous birth of our savior and king.

Feeding the hungry

Dear John D.,

My husband, John Hobbs, and I began a journey in September of this year that has been very rewarding. We learned over a year ago we have children in Purcell that are chronically hungry, sometimes they have no place to sleep, sometimes, all they have to eat is what they receive from the school at breakfast and lunch, and most times, our high school kids take care of their younger siblings.

After much prayer and discussion, John and I decided to collect food for the kids to supplement what they receive through the partnership the school has with the Regional food bank. It's just not enough for a weekend. Then, the Lord led Justin Blankenship to us, then our Pastor at Trinity James Kim. With the help of these two gentlemen, Mrs. Natalie Bevil, Mrs. Amy Tolle - Counselor at the Purcell High School, Mrs. Thompson -Counselor at the Intermediate, Mrs. Sarah Rangel - Counselor at the Elementary school and Mrs. Sharon Cottingham - librarian at the Jr. High and Superintendent Jason Midkiff.

The Superintendent and the counselors gave us permission and necessary guidelines to follow for the project. Mr. Midkiff of Lennox Valley During my lifetime, I've been invited to the White House for dinner with the president, dated an actual princess from a real country, walked across the Rio Grande to swim in the hot springs of Mexico, lived through two earthquakes and driven through more tornadoes than I can remember.

Unfortunate Event Welcome to Lennox Valley, my hometown! or divine intervention? Kevin Slimp's The Good Folks

Hardly anything surprises me these days, but that wasn't the case in August 1998. None of those things had happened yet, and I was still open to unexpected wonderment.

As I stood just inside the entrance to the Fair Pavilion. I watched as "Silver Tongue" Dick Bland lifted Raymond Cooper, still covered in dirt and hoof prints, from the Pavilion floor. In spite of my youth, I realized something substantial had just taken place.

In one brief moment, Raymond Cooper, adored by many and loathed by others, was transformed from near superhero status to mere flesh and bones. His quick thinking to insinuate blame upon his opponent and the elite media might have placated his most ardent supporters, but for others it was an eye-opening experience.

Could it be Raymond Cooper was not the intellectual giant many of us had assumed? Was Iris Long right all along? Had Cooper created his own reality and manipulated his listeners into believing things that weren't true?

It's amazing how many things can go through a young man's mind at a moment like this. I wanted to get back to Mary Ann and our sheep, as FFA judging was only hours away, but I couldn't help but think something important had just happened. Like most others in the Pavilion, I stood stupefied for what seemed like hours but was probably only seconds.

By dinner time, most everyone in the Valley was discussing what has been referred to as "the great pig panic."

As one might expect, Raymond was more than a little flustered as he attempted to fill the remaining two hours of "Renderings with Raymond." The afternoon was supposed to have been a celebration of Cooper's many accomplishments but instead became a muddled attempt to explain what had just taken place.

Mayor Bland, manning his own campaign booth less than 50 feet away, told his supporters the episode reminded him of a story in the Bible when Jesus cast a demon into a herd of pigs, who then stampeded to their own deaths.

"I am a simple man, not a theologian," Bland told those gathered, "so I am not suggesting that Raymond Cooper has any affiliation with demonic forces."

Then, after a pause, he added, "I would suggest, however, that discussion might best be held in conjunction with your family and clergyman."

No wonder they called him "Silver Tongue."

None of us had ever seen Raymond so discombobulated. For the next two hours, most of his show was comprised of his most ardent supporters sharing their theories concerning the stampede.

Earl Goodman reported seeing a mysterious figure in what appeared to be a "Stick with Bland" t-shirt near the gate holding the pigs just before the attack. Elbert Lee Jones said it was common knowledge that pig farmers were big fans of Bland.

In bed that evening, I thought about the FFA judging that afternoon. I thought of how pretty Mary Ann Tinkersley looked in her Round House overalls. And I wondered, just wondered, if those pigs - demon-possessed or not - might have ruined Raymond Cooper's plan to be our next mayor.

Asian and American Christian Speakers Toastmasters Club

By Xiaoming Hu

December 17, on a chilly winter morning, 15 people filed into the warm fellowship hall in the Southern Oklahoma Chinese Baptist Church for the Asian & American Christian Speakers Toastmasters.

The meeting started with Jin-Song's humorist speech. At a big party, a note beside a bowl of apples read, "Please take one apple per person, God is watching" while the other note beside a bowl of cookies reads "Please take whatever cookie you want, because God is watching the apples."

Following that, Leslie hosted the table topics speech session. Three questions were raised related to the weather in the winter season.

in Oklahoma.

In the prepared speech session, four well-prepared speeches were nicely presented.

Tom recalled the fantastic hunting dog he raised, an ugly looking dog who can not jump over a narrow stream and who got lost in the forest and stepped on a live snake.

Following that, Xiaoming talked about one of the most important persons in his life, who changed Xiaoming's life forever, in a good way.

In the third speech, Jin-Song presented the techniques how to cast the screen of smart phones on TV, which is very useful if some one loves singing Karaoke.

In the end of the session, Jin-song recalled his most Cathy delivered her ice-breaking speech regarding how to break "ice" in front of her.

Even though Yifei eventually captured the best evaluator award, the other three also did impressive evaluations, particularly, Renxing as a rising fine evaluator, once again gave a fantastic and helpful evaluation.

A few other members served other meeting roles to help the meeting become more organized and successful, including Eric (Toastmaster), Vivian (Word of the Day), Leslie (Ah Counter and Grammarian), Aifen (Timer), and Haifeng (general evaluator).

Meeting times are 9:45-11:30 a.m. every second and fourth Saturday of the month except in December when the club holds meetings on the first and third Saturdays.

Trichomoniasis, commonly referred to as "Trich," is a highly contagious sexually transmitted disease in cattle, resulting in abortions and infertility.

It is caused by a microscopic protozoan parasite Tritrichomonas foetus.

For many years Trich was considered a reproductive disease in cow herds in mountainous or high desert regions of the United States. In these regions there are large acreages of government controlled grazing lands that allow for multiple herds to graze common pastures during the breeding season.

Because of the multiple herd breeding pastures, the venereal disease Trich was hard to control and spread easily from herd to herd

SU EXTENSION News Surviving family stress during the holidays

Leilana McKindra Communications Specialist

The holidays can get stressful enough without the potential for drama sparked by overheated debates and contentious conversation during the traditional family meal.

The reality is every family can expect some degree of tension in the air at holiday gatherings. Folks who have likely traveled at least some distance for the occasion are coming together under the same roof and often in tight spaces.

Trouble can start brewing, though, when someone locks in on a point and cannot let it go, said Matt Brosi, Oklahoma State University Cooperative Extension marriage and family state specialist and associate professor of marriage and family therapy.

"Sometimes people are looking to make their point known and defend their position, while others are simply interested in dialoguing about relevant versations turn from curiosity and reflection to blaming and people feeling that a closely held value is attacked, they often become defensive."

"Folks need to truly reflect." In attempting to mend any rift, tolerating differences and being flexible in terms of others' points of view, rather than seeing them as a threat, should be top priorities.

That said, combative exchanges may not be the worst thing ever. However, family members need to be willing to let down their guard, accept others' positions and be open to validating that others are ful of others who are different just as passionate about their from us."

Conversational gridlock can frequently occur between people when everyone tries to defend their position, which can easily lead to raised voices, passion, blaming and a virtual inability to hear what others are saying.

In an effort to head off what could be an ugly clash of perspectives and personalities, begin by spending more time listening rather than talking, said Nathan Hardy, assistant professor of marriage and family therapy at OSU.

"Don't be afraid to share your position, but do it in a loving, respectful manner. Try reflecting on being together and what the holiday season is really about," Hardy said. "Be sensitive to others who may be feeling emotionally raw and try not to provoke a reaction from them."

If despite best efforts things do boil over, someone needs to step up to help diffuse the situation.

"Be the one to say 'this is a good conversation, but it may be best for everyone to take a break," said Hardy, who emphasized the importance of everyone taking ownership of their role in an out-of-control situation, including taking stock of how their emotions, anxieties and values may have contributed to the breakdown in communication.

"Don't deceive yourself into believing you're the 'rational' person in the debate," he said.

Scarberry, a sophomore, will be a 2018 recruiting class commitment.

Scarberry said she liked the feel of the Campus at Tulsa.

"I visited other colleges but they seemed too big with me coming from a small town," she said.

Scarberry said she has developed a good relationship with Tulsa head women's golf coach Emilee Klein-Gille.

"Coach Klein and I talk at least once a week," she said.

Scarberry likes the fact Klein-Gille has experience playing on the LPGA, of which Scarberry called "her dream".

Klein-Gille spent 11 years on the LPGA tour.

Assistant coach Sarah Bradley also has professional tour experience, Scarberry said.

Scarberry was initally offered a scholarship the summer after her freshman year of high school, she said.

Scarberry already has two individual State titles and two team State championships on her resume.

Led by Austin Nation's school record 10 three-pointers and 34 points last Tuesday, Purcell's Dragons knocked off a very good Marlow Outlaw team, 63-52 at the Reimer Center.

Nation threw it in from downtown in every quarter opening the first quarter with three treys.

He canned three more along with two charity tosses in the second period and he didn't cool off at intermission.

Nation came out on fire in the third for another hat trick of treys and nailed one in the fourth quarter to help seal the deal over the Outlaws, who had made a little run on the Dragons.

Riley Hamilton was also in double digits cutting the strings for 13 points but it was three nights later at Pauls Valley where Hamilton went off for 22 points to lead all scorers in a dramatic 83-49 Dragon victory on the road at Pauls Valley.

The Panthers scored 25 of their 49 points in the fourth quarter when head coach Bret Petty cleared the bench.

"Every player contributed against Pauls Valley and everyone scored," Petty said.

"The kids came out focused and turned up the heat early," the coach continued. "With their athleticism they put themselves in a situation to control the game from start to finish.

"It really shows their depth," Petty said. "Riley Hamilton had a big game scoring 22 points."

Friday to Lindsay.

Scholz said his team's defense was improved but their offense never materialized.

Out of 30 missed Washington shots, Scholz said 15 were makable shots that he would have expected to go in.

He also said his team was plagued by turnovers.

"The keys to that game were too many missed shots and turnovers," Scholz said.

He said Lindsay got easy baskets off turnovers and second-chance rebounds.

"Our offense was better than in the Lone Grove game but we gave them too many points," Scholz said.

Washington was able to get Lindsay into foul trouble, which forced the Leopards into a zone defense.

Scholz said his team did a good job of keeping Lindsay's 6'5" guy off the glass and limited his rebounds.

The Warriors led after the first quarter.

But Washington's inability to hit outside shots allowed Lindsay to take the lead in the second quarter and build upon it in the third and fourth quarters.

Scholz said his team had worked extensively on their offense against a zone in practice, but it wasn't carried over and executed during the game.

He said going forward his team will continue to work.

"I've been preaching 'take care of the ball, block out, play good defense'," Scholz said. "That's what we want to hang our hats on and the scoreboard will take care of itself."

Good chilly, December week are heartwarming, and the story to all! Welcome to the "front of the babe born in a manger is inspiring.

Years ago – when I was a you is born this day in the city was asked to step up and lead of David a Saviour which is a song at the old, red brick der and taking a basin of water Christ the Lord" (2:11), to the church of Christ building here and bowing down to wash the glorious declaration over 30 in our Southern hometown. feet of his disciples. This one years later by an angel outside I'll always remember the title reminds us to be a servant, not of the hymn. After forty-plus years, in a way it kind of tells my own life story:

Who would take men whose lives were battered and torn, and He'd mold them so that when they walked away you wouldn't recognize who they were at all. Just like the old violinist.

It's the story of the King of kings finishing supper, then tossing a towel over His shoula king.

His story – from the beginning that glorious holy night to the powerful grave-defying ending - is the greatest I've ever told.

There is none to compare.

To tell it in a page or two is impossible, but I can at least introduce Him to you, just as Preacher Miller and Grandma and Mama and many others introduced Him to me a long time ago. And as we come to this time of the season, I know there are many people who need this story and the simple touch of this Friend more than any gift the world could afford.

This is one of the reasons I like to see a year wind down: It is during those wintry days of December that the world focuses on Jesus the Christ more than any other time. The scenes and songs that fill the air

"I love to tell the story." I still do.

I think I love to tell it more now than ever. It means more. I've had more years to weigh its value. I have the thrill of blessings and the burden of failures to give it more meaning. It is still the story of a beautiful child born in Bethlehem, born among the animals in a barn.

But it's more.

It's the story of a Man who ate with sinners and healed the diseases of the afflicted and gave strength to the tired and weary.

It's the story of more than a man – the son of God –

It's the story of a Man whowhen He washed the disciples' feet - washed the feet of a man by the name of Judas. At that we must pause.

It's the story of a fearful woman facing a mob with rocks in their hands; but the Master passed by, and she walked away with grace in her hands.

It's the story of the blind man who had never seen a single thing his whole life.

Until he met the Carpenter.

That evening, this blind man watched the scattering of the sun's oranges and blues, yellows and reds across the western horizon.

The United Methodist Church believes in Open Communion which means that anyone who desires to partake in Holy Communion may do so regardless of his or her religious affiliation, background or age.

The service will close with the singing of Silent Night as each individual holds a lighted candle. It will be a meaningful time to prepare for the celebration of the birth of the Christ child.

Then on Sunday, December 25, Christmas Day, there will be a worship service at 9:30 a.m. as is held every Sunday.

What better way to celebrate the birth of Christ than to worship our Lord. Please take time on Christmas Day to remember that Jesus is the reason for the season.

These are only a portion of the expenses in support of our mission. Without your support, we would not be able to continue the work that we do each week for the men and women who have served our country as members of the military. Please remember that we are a free service that is offered to all veterans and their families. Today, less than one percent of all Americans have served in the military. Never have so few done so much for so many.

With the cold weather last week there were only 190 veterans and surviving spouses assisted with their VA claims and questions. We will be open both days Christmas week to accommodate those veterans who need our assistance. We have made ourselves available during this time as many of our veterans have a difficult time making it to see us because of work schedules or other responsibilities through the year.

If you need a ride to visit us, please call Clayton or Louie. Last week these two great volunteers spent 47 hours and logged 893 miles to transport 19 veterans and their spouses. They will also help get you to your VA appointments. Clayton can be reached at (405) 684-8860. Louie can be reached at (405) 642-7100.

As a VA Accredited Claims Agent, I receive all of the VA rating decisions and other correspondence for all of the veterans and surviving spouse claims we represent. During the last 10 days or so the following rating decisions were made by the VA. Thirteen veterans received 100 percent ratings for their service-connected disabilities. These veterans will receive a combined annual income of $481,208.88 per year. There were 34 veterans who received disability ratings from 10-90 percent. They will receive a combined annual income of $459,257.52 per year. There was one surviving spouse of a veteran who was awarded DIC benefits of $15,095.40 per year.

The money these veterans and surviving spouses receive will help their families while also helping our local economy. Some of the other benefits available to veterans who receive a 100 percent rating are the property tax exemption on their primary residence, sales tax exemption and possible Champ-VA medical insurance for their dependents along with educational benefits. We always urge every veteran who receives a VA rating or a denial of benefits to return for a follow-up visit.

During the past several years the Department of Veterans Affairs has gone through many changes in the way they operate their Compensation and Pension Benefits procedures and their Medical Benefits made a complete turnaround claims for veterans. Just a few website. years ago there were hundreds of thousands of veterans and waiting for the VA to make a decision on their application for VA benefits. Those numbers have been reduced dramatically by the dedication and can-do attitude the employees of our VA Regional Office in Muskogee did for our veterans. The VA Health Care system has also undergone some very important changes. To my way of thinking the Health Choice Card is making a difference in veterans receiving timely medical care. I also like the idea of more local clinics for veterans. This certainly keeps a lot of us out of the crowded VA Hospital system The last couple of times I have been to a VA facility for medical care my wait time was less than one hour which is better than some of the outside doctor offices. Our ladies who assist the surviving spouses of veterans are staying very busy answering questions and helping surviving spouses file for VA benefits. I encourage every spouse of a veteran to consider visit-Aid and Attendance benefits community. from the VA. Shirley can be reached at (405) 361-9322 or call (405) 550-8806.

On each visit, veterans should bring all their DD-214's (discharge papers), all VA rating letters, and all VA forms that have been filed. For privacy reasons, we do not keep your information on file and does not have access to any of this information. Acouple of things are sometimes needed to file for VA benefits are D214 discharge papers, bank account information (voided check), marriage information, social security information, and all VA rating decisions.

If you would like to support our effort, you can mail your donations to Dale K. Graham Veteran's Corner, PO Box 592, Washington, OK 73093 or you may donate online at dalekgrahamveteranscorner. operations. Because of these org/donations. As a 501(c)(3)changes, the wait times for we are a transparent organizarating decisions are down tion with your donations being significantly. As everyone tax deductible. Explanation of use tax:

(This is in addition to the sales tax reported monthly.) Every state with a sales tax has a companion tax for outside the state. In Oklahoma, that tax is called "use tax."

Those having purchased items for use in Oklahoma from retailers who do not collect Oklahoma sales tax, the buyer owes the state use tax on those items.

The use tax in the state was first enacted in 1937.
