

Lodging boon

Tax brings in $12,553 in first month

Consider it a good start. The first monies generated by a lodging tax hit the city's bank account last week.

The 5 percent tax generated $12,553.76 in its first month, according to city treasurer Victor Lohn.

That money, which is earmarked for tourism promotion, will remain untouched for a few months as the balance grows with successive deposits.

In the meantime, a 7-member lodging tax committee will consider how best to expend funds and promote tourism.

Serving on the committee are Purcell city council member Theda Engert, Parks & Recreation

Director John Blue, city manager Dale Bunn, Heart of Oklahoma Chamber of Commerce Director Elisabeth Baker, merchant Cindy Millsap, citizen-at-large Allen Eubanks, former owner of Purcell Ace Hardware.

Voters gave overwhelming approval – 203 to 103 – for the lodging tax in February.

The tax went into effect on July 1.

Good times in Goldsby

Fest on Saturday promises family fun

The Goldsby Fest on Saturday evening will have it all – things to admire, things to entertain and things to eat.

Providing live entertainment will be Rogue Gallery, Infinity Dance and Washington Warriors cheerleaders.

Activities will begin a 5:30 p.m. in the city park adjacent to Goldsby

Town Hall.

For motorists, there will be antique cars and tractors on display, as well as custom vehicles from DMD Off road and motorcycles.

Chamber luncheon

At Holiday Inn

Heart of Oklahoma Chamber of Commerce members and guests are in for a treat this Friday.

That's when superintendents from Wayne, Washington, Purcell, Lexington and the Mid-America Technology Center will be on hand to give updates on the schools thus far into the school year.

Chamber members will be charged $10 and non-member $15 for the luncheon set to be held at the Holiday Inn Express at noon Friday.

The State of the Schools program will feature speakers Toby Ringwald, Chris Reynolds, Sheli McAdoo, Chad Hall and Mike Eubank, all superintendents of their respective schools.

5 questions with Jason Sanders

Editor's note: Answering The Purcell Register's five questions this week is Purcell High School Principal Jason Sanders.

Q: What challenges come with the job?

A: Every day is unique and presents its own challenges. I would say the greatest challenge is juggling so many things at once. Fortunately I have an amazing staff including classroom teachers as well as support and office staff. Time management is easily the biggest challenge. You can plan your day as much as you want but kids come first and you have to always make them a priority.

Jason Sanders

Q: What is your management style?

A: I don't really think of it as a management style so I guess I don't have one! A principal's most important job is to build a cohesive vision amongst all individuals connected to the school: students, teachers, staff, parents, community members, district leadership, etc. It's hard because everyone has a stake and interest in the school and cares about its success. Sometimes those interests aren't completely compatible. It's the job of a principal to establish a vision that is centered around one goal: ALL students succeeding. It's one goal that we can

Susie Hyde has the accolades that testify to her skills along with some impressive contest results dating back to 2009.

That's the year she entered her salsa in a competition sponsored by Taste of Home magazine.

She aced the state contest and went on to national judging where her signature salsa finished fourth in the country.

Realizing she just might have something marketable, Hyde took her salsa and other canned products to the Robert M. Kerr Food and Agricultural Products Center at Oklahoma State University.

After testing of the products and completing training, Hyde met the state's requirements to produce,

Cole hosting telephone town hall

Congressman Tom Cole announced that he will host a constituent telephone town hall to discuss and answer questions about the latest legislative news and updates from Congress.

“I look forward to connecting with my constituents again during another telephone town hall,” said Cole.

“Between my travels across the Fourth District of Oklahoma, legislative business in Washington this week and the latest misguided actions out of the Biden Administration, there is a lot to discuss during this next phone call event.”

The call will be held from 6-7 p.m. Monday, August 30. The dial in number is (833)

August heat living up to bill

A warm and sunny stretch of weather is up ahead for us as we move toward this weekend and to round out August.

The hottest day on this 7-day is Thursday, with the high only touching 94, but the heat index could poke into the low 100s for some of us.

As we start the weekend, we see low nineties and lots of sunshine.

Some clouds will try to build in on Saturday, and they’ll slowly accumulate to give us some partly cloudy skies by Sunday.

Monday we’ll see a bit of a surge in moisture and this will bring some scattered chances for rain across Oklahoma.

The latest runs of long-range models are predicting a sizeable tropical system to make landfall in Texas giving Oklahoma a good chance to see some of that moisture make its way over the Red River.

Of course, this is still over a week away, and as usual with the tropics, things can change rapidly so it’s good to stay plugged into local media for your mid-next week rain chances.

3 injured in head-on crash

OHP: All 3 pinned in two vehicles for about 45 minutes

As of press time the Oklahoma Highway Patrol had not released the names of two of the accident victims in a grinding head-on accident August 16.

The high speed collision occurred on SH 39 just east of the Park Road intersection near the entrance to the cemetery.

Trooper Austin May said a 2002 Chevrolet pickup driven by David Wilson, 48, of Purcell went left of center on the highway striking a 2015 Chevrolet pickup with two Hispanic males inside.

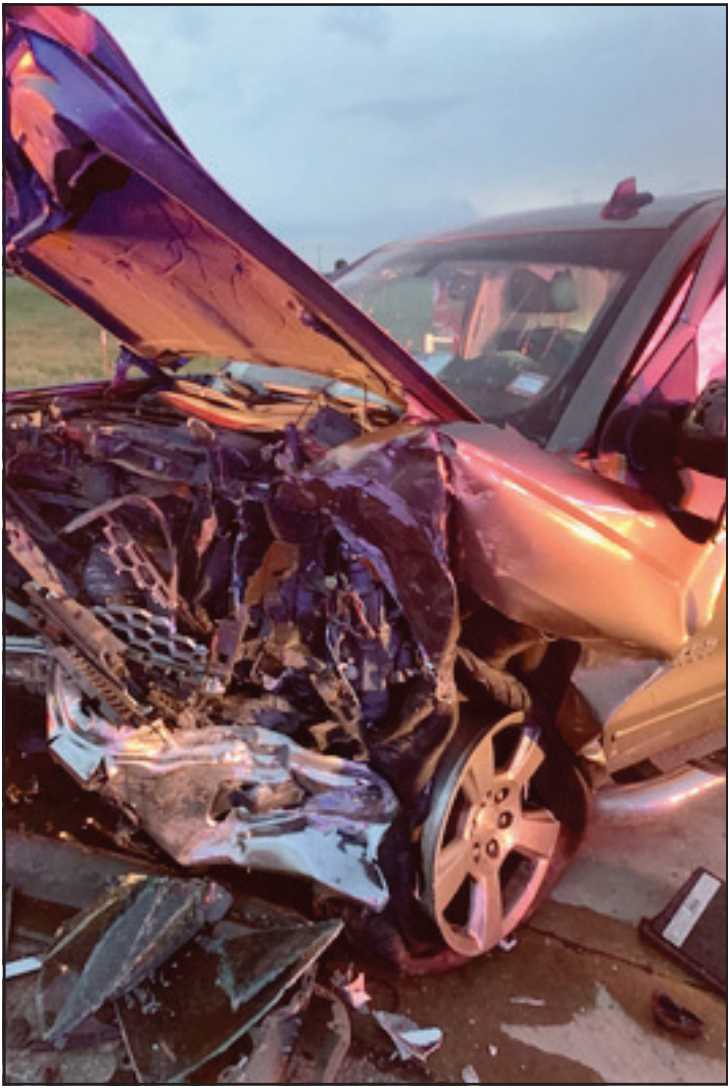

All three people were pinned in their vehicles for about 45 minutes before the Purcell Fire Department could extricate them using the Hurst Tool.

Wilson was transported to OU Medical Center in critical condition with trunk internal and leg injuries.

May said a 25-year-old Hispanic man was transported to the Norman Porter hospital in critical condition with trunk internal injuries.

The trooper said a 43-year-old Hispanic male was transported to OU Medical and also listed in critical condition.

In addition to the fire department, also assisting May at the scene were Purcell Police, the McClain County Sheriff’s Department and Wadley’s EMS.

Rotary Playground equipment at Purcell Lake would be upgraded and replaced under a grant proposal being considered by the city’s Parks & Recreation Department. A public hearing to discuss the issue is planned for 6 p.m. September 9 at the Purcell Multipurpose Center.

Playground upgrade is in the works

Public hearing September 9

A public hearing on September 9 will highlight the proposed Rotary Playground Replacement Project.

The hearing at 6 p.m. will be in the small banquet room of the Purcell Multipurpose Building. Hosting the hearing will be the city’s Parks & Recreation Department.

John Blue, department director, said the meeting will explain the application process for a Land and Water Conservation Fund grant.

If approved, the grant would reimburse the city half of the playground project’s cost.

“We will be displaying the chosen designs for the play structure, amenities and pavilion replacement, along with the timeline for completing the project,” he said.

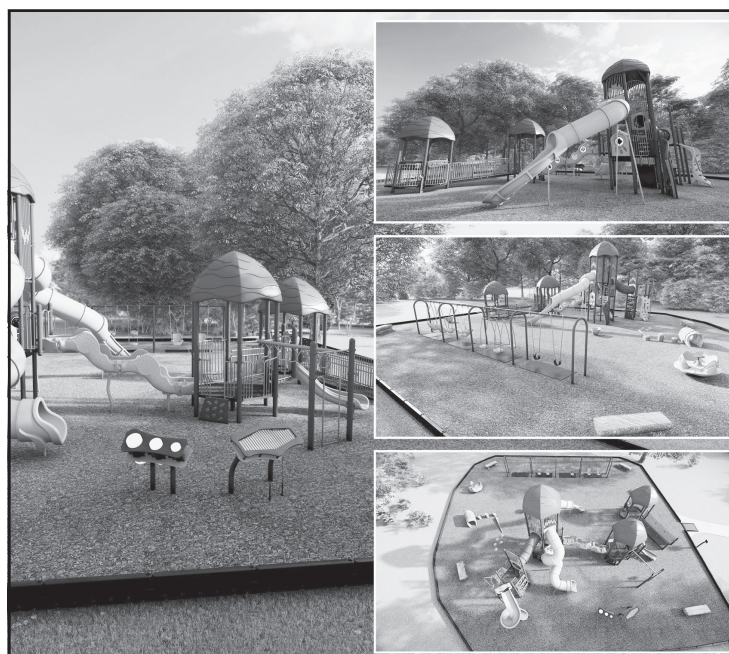

Blue added public input is a huge factor in the application process.

“We are still requesting people submit letters of support for the project,” he said. “Drawings by kids showing how they would play on the playground would be a fantastic addition.”

Also, Blue said the city is accepting donations to help pay for custom grills and benches or other extra amenities.

For more information, call 405-527-7227 or email parks@purcellok.gov.

Sharecropper’s son broomcorn memories

(Editor’s note: This is the second installment of broomcorn memories) By Dale Green

Now, to some of the technicalities and practices of raising broomcorn.

The land is prepared for planting in no special way. That is to say, it is first “broke” with a breaking plow (turned over). It might then be disked to break down the clumping of the soil. This depended on pop’s mood, the consistency of the soil, or other variables inside his head. You didn’t want to ask.

To add a little cultural spice to the story in our little corner of the World, this heavy work was accomplished by an ancient F20 Farmall tractor that was mostly worn out. You had to start it with the crank, which could break your arm if you weren’t careful.

We burned “drip” gasoline, which is to say, it was not refined gas. It had a lot of oil content that was not good for a new engine. Usually, the “drip” gas was delivered to us by the “Gas Man,” sometimes after midnight, in 60 gallon drums.

The gas was hidden behind tall Johnson grass at the back of the house. The old F20 would burn the “drip”, blow black smoke high, and pull like crazy.

The piston rings were so bad that the unburned oil content would gravitate to the tractor’s crank case. We got a lot of mileage out of having the only tractor in the neighborhood that could make oil while it worked.

Some of the “poor” farmers burned the “drip” gas, and some didn’t. It was part of a subculture based on “just gettin’ by.” Farmers were by and large honest to a flaw. They couldn’t abide a thief. We had no locks on our doors. They helped each other out, and you trusted your neighbors. Were they hypocritical for burning “drip gas”? It would depend on who you asked. Life’s kind of like that sometimes.

The next stage of preparing the ground for planting in the spring was harrowing the fields, which smoothed and flattened the soil. This operation was accomplished with a little B Farmall, which also pulled our antique planter.

The broomcorn had to be planted in rows, so it couldn’t be “drilled” in like wheat. This was because the distance between the rows, allowed the Broomcorn Johnnys to harvest the broomcorn (to be explained later).

Although I never gave it a thought, until I was writing this letter, that some of the equipment (which came with the rent/lease) dated back to “horse and buggy days”. Dating even further back, the fact that the word “Landlord” was substituted, for the land owner,

Third round of vaccines

And the botched pullout in Afghanistan

I was visiting with an area physician this weekend and he told me he thought the COVID situation was bad back in 2020 but it doesn't hold a candle to what's going on now.

He told horror stories of losing patients to the virus that aren't even 50 years old. He told another story about a patient who needs to be in a COVID ICU bed but after checking there were only two such beds available nationwide, one in Iowa and one in Arizona.

But after hospital officials in those two places heard his patient was already in a hospital they cancelled their invitations.

All of the patients he was referring to were unvaccinated.

He also made the comment that his clinic went two months without having a single COVID patient, thinking we had kicked the pandemic to the curb.

But unvaccinated people have given the bug resurgence and it is running rampant, far outdistancing the first wave.

Cleveland County and possibly others are following the CDC guidelines and offering a third dose of the vaccine to

There are countless Americans that are scared to death over in Afghanistan who are outside the Kabul Airport security and cannot get past the Taliban.

One woman, who reports she has given up hope to ever see her children again, said there are 20 Taliban checkpoints between where she is hiding and the airport.

Their lives are in grave danger and it all because of the administration's handling of the pull out of American Troops in that country.

Why in the world did the Biden Administration not have all the people safely out of the country prior to pulling our troops is the $64,000 question.

And my last question for "President What Day Is It" is why did you shut down the Keystone Pipeline and then turn around and ask Saudi Arabia to produce more oil for us to buy?

NEWS FROM CAPITOL HILL

Disaster in Afghanistan

Congressman Tom Cole

For two decades, our brave men and women in the U.S. military have fought the Taliban and other elements of terror in Afghanistan to not only promote democracy but help stabilize the region and foster peace in this struggling nation.

Incredibly, last week, President Joe Biden completely botched the withdrawal of remaining troops from Afghanistan, leaving only fear, desperation and a resurgent Taliban.

The hasty and disorganized attempt to flee erased any sense of American resolve and principle and left behind thousands of dedicated people who have put themselves and their families in danger to help the United States for more than 20 years.

It also abandoned huge investments in sensitive military equipment, weapons and vehicles to the Taliban. Images across news and social media document yet more wreckage as we approach the twentieth anniversary of the devastating terrorist attack on our country on September 11, 2001.

Since this May, the Taliban rapidly began gaining territory in the north of Afghanistan. By July, United States troops were ordered to leave Bagram Air Base, our most significant base in providing a presence to deter Taliban incursions, a forward position for staging key assets and providing training to Afghans.

President Biden's failure to understand the military realities on the ground, the strength and prowess of the Taliban forces and the contrasting weakness of the Afghan military was key to the quick collapse of stability and our sudden evacuation.

While addressing the nation last week, President Biden blamed his poorly planned retreat on the previous administration. To be clear, while President Trump did plan to remove troops by May of this year, his plan was contingent on circumstance — meaning specific criteria must be met before moving on.

These conditions were not met, yet President Biden continued recklessly down this path. The fact that even our own safe evacuation of the embassy required thousands of U.S. troops be sent right back to Kabul underscores the Biden Administration's lack of understanding of the situation on the ground.

They were, unfortunately, taken completely by surprise at the Taliban's utter and almost instantaneous reconquering of the nation.

Twenty years of policy and effort obviously bear the mark of multiple administrations and Congresses. However, as Commander in Chief, President Biden cannot point fingers and blame anyone else for this national embarrassment of this

Not so civil discourse

Dear Editor:

It's a shame when a difference of opinion turns into mocking and insulting members of our community.

Our freedom comes from God, not government. Mr. Hobson used the term "freedom loving" as a slur, belittled gun owners, and disparaged patrons of a local eatery.

This all began with a discussion of COVID and vaccinations. Now Mr. Hobson thinks it's fine to denigrate anyone who disagrees with his opinions on the matter.

So, my fellow Americans out there who believe in freedom and The Bill of Rights, if you see me at Rubys Restaurant or anywhere else, please feel free to engage in civil discourse.

I assure you I will be respectful, unlike not-so-silent Cal.

Get ready for back-to-school season

By Oklahoma Insurance Commissioner Glen Mulready

After a long year of remote learning, hybrid models and constantly changing guidelines, many parents and students are looking forward to going back to school.

As a parent of three college kids myself, I know how exciting this is for both students and parents. However, leaving home without proper insurance coverage could spell financial disaster and put your student at risk.

Here are some insurance coverage tips that parents and their students should look at before heading off to college:

Home

Suppose your student is moving into a dorm room. In that case, your homeowners policy will likely cover their belongings in case of a loss. Just ask your child to let you know if they buy a new computer or other pricey items. You'll need to check with your insurance company to ensure your coverage will take care of these things.

Students living off-campus should consider renters insurance. This coverage will protect your child's belongings and insure you if someone is injured on the property.

Premiums for renters insurance range between $15-$30 a month, depending on the location and size of the rental unit and the value of the possessions. No matter where your student lives, a home inventory is a good idea. The list of items will make a future insurance claim quicker and easier to settle.

Auto

Oklahoma requires every car to have auto liability coverage or otherwise meets the financial responsibility requirements of Oklahoma law. Auto liability insurance pays for property damage and bodily injury to someone else if you are found responsible for an accident, up to the policy's limits.

If the title to the car is in your student's name, they will have to have their own policy. If your college student is driving a car you own, your child can likely stay on your policy.

Suppose your child is heading to college without a car. In that case, you might be eligible for a "student away at school" car insurance discount.

Check with your insurance agent or insurance company and let them know where the car will be stored if the address is different than what's on the policy.

Health

Students have several options for health insurance coverage while away at college. If your children are covered under your insurance now, chances are they will still be covered while away at school. Any insurance plan that offers dependent coverage must make that available until the dependent is 26 years old.

Before they head off to school, make sure your student has a copy of your insurance cards and knows what doctors, hospitals and pharmacies are covered within your network.

Many colleges and universities also offer their own student health insurance plans. The premiums and features vary widely from school to school.

Check with your student's school health center to see what coverage options are available.

The transition from remote or hybrid learning to new "normal" life on campus in the time of pandemics can be challenging and overwhelming for students. However, having the reassurance that the proper coverage is in place will make the transition go smoothly.

The Fall of Kabul

If you were to stop a Roman around the year 117 A.D. and ask about the future of the empire, he/she would probably boast that they were the greatest empire in the history of the world, and the Roman Empire would last forever.

In 117 it would be hard to see it any other way. The Romans were on top of the world. Yet starting around the 200s, serious infighting began hurting their power from within. By the end of the 300s, they had spread themselves too thin, spent too much money, leaders were corrupt, and they began to lose battles to traditionally lesser foes. By the end of the 400s, Rome was no more.

While the high-water mark of the Roman Empire was 117, I am now wondering if the American high-water mark was 1945. In 116 the Romans had just conquered Parthia, marking their furthest expansion. For the U.S., 1945 marked America's greatest victory, but in some ways its last. In 1945 the U.S. completely defeated the "empires" of Germany, Japan, and Italy.

Over the next 76 years, America engaged in four major wars. In two of the wars, Korea and the Gulf War, the U.S. repulsed a foreign invader from an ally's country, but did not defeat the enemy itself. In both circumstances, the government claimed all out-defeat was never part of the plan. In the other two wars, Vietnam and now the War on Terror against Iraq and Afghanistan, America lost.

I am not commenting on whether we should have pulled out of Afghanistan. Each person should make their own decision, but I would like to give some historical perspective and maybe offer a thought. Historically speaking, it is not that we lost a war that is bothering some. It's that we went 8-0 before 1945 and now have lost two conflicts within two generations.

It is also the way we exited both losses. I was too young to remember the fall of Saigon. I was not even a year old, but now, having taught this many times and showing numerous videos, the images are permanently ingrained in my mind. The day was April 28, 1975, and suddenly the North Vietnamese army was entering Saigon. They were at the airport making it impossible to land any American planes.

The song "White Christmas" began playing over the radio, which was the signal for all Americans to pull out. News crews captured the thousands of Vietnamese surrounding the embassy, trying to get on board the helicopters that were pulling out Americans. Many of these had worked with the U.S. and knew their fate if they were left behind. The video shows American journalists climbing the gate and being pulled over while Marines were keeping the rest at bay.

Helicopters were also landing on rooftops nearby and pulling out more Americans and some Vietnamese. Desperate, the ones left behind grabbed hold of the choppers as they took off, risking their lives but knowing they were dead either way. The helicopters flew everyone to ships waiting for them but also had to make rooms for the scores of people taking boats to the ships for safe passage.

Even the South Vietnamese army was flying its own helicopters over to the ships. The naval crews had to push choppers off the runways into the ocean to make room. It was not a good look for America.

Even though Secretary of State Antony Blinken said there is no comparison, watching the scene unfold a few days ago in Afghanistan had to bring back images of Saigon for anyone who remembers it. The optic I will always remember is the image of someone falling from a plane after they had grabbed on during takeoff.

As with the Vietnamese, the Afghans were desperate to leave, knowing those who had aided the Americans or had ever stood up or spoken out against the Taliban were likely to suffer a horrible fate.

Here is what history has taught us. The final scenes of Vietnam did not really hurt President Ford. Most Americans had already grown weary of the war and it had already been declared over. Pardon-ing Nixon and draft dodgers did much more to hurt Ford than the fall of Saigon and, even then, he only lost to Carter by two percentage points. Remember: Trump campaigned on pulling out of Afghanistan and it seems most Americans agreed it was time to leave, though not the way it happened.

The larger effect of Vietnam was that it scarred a generation and hurt the American government's credibility with other nations and its own people. The term "credibility gap" was coined by journalists during the war for Americans distrusting their government for the first time. What the American people were being told about the Vietnam war and what they saw themselves was not adding up.

On July 8, President Biden said, "The Taliban is not the south—the North Vietnamese army. They're not—they're not remotely comparable in terms of capability. There's going to be no circumstance where you see people being lifted off the roof of an embassy in the—of the United States from Afghanistan. It is not at all comparable." Compare that statement to many statements of President Johnson, such as one from 1964, "We are not about to send American boys 9 or 10 thousand miles away from home to do what Asian boys ought to be doing for themselves."

Twice now we have invaded a nation with the promise of freedom. Both times we have left people behind who believed us and worked with us for that goal. Again, I am not saying we should not have left. America spent 20 years in Afghanistan. I am just saying it will become harder for others in the future to believe us.

What I most fear is that America may have lost its place, I hope not. We are still a powerful nation, but so was Rome. It was not the battlefield that hurt Rome as much as what was going on back home. The battlefield losses were just representative of the larger problems. The same can possibly be said for us.

Our soldiers did not lose this war, they performed their duties with courage and effectiveness. What is hurting us is back home. Everything, even war, becomes a political issue and it seems impossible to find common ground. Not to mention our leaders seem inept or corrupt, not sure what one is worse.

Vietnam is a stain on our history, and the way we left Afghanistan puts the fall of Kabul right next to Saigon. Yet just as disconcerting as this failure was, like with Rome, the real failures are not on the battlefield but by the way our leaders are acting at home.

American Legion needs your help

Dear Editor:

Local veterans from the Washington and Goldsby area are asked to attend an American Legion meeting at the Washington Senior Citizen Center at 6 p.m. on Monday, September 6.

American Legion Post 310 has been in Washington since 1948 and has remained active in support of the community and school; however, it is currently in need of revitalization. Many of the members served in WWII, Korean and Viet Nam and remain active, but new members are needed to continue our presence and support in the community.

The American Legion was established in 1919 as a fraternal veteran organization to support veterans, America's youth, national defense, and Americanism. The need in our country is greater now than ever. The primary purpose of the local post is to foster Americanism in the local community and schools. Post 310 has worked hard to meet this need over the years.

One of the most effective and popular programs is Boys State. The program gives high school juniors the opportunity to participate and learn how the government functions. There is currently a critical need for civic education in our country and Boys State, along with Girls State sponsored by the Auxiliary, does an excellent job of filling this need. Many participants are inspired to become involved as future leaders of our state and nation. Washington Post 310 normally sponsors two boys each year to attend the program.

It is also important to remember our history and veterans. Post 310 has remained steadfast to assure proper recognition to our veterans on Veteran and Memorial Days. Post members are also available to speak in local schools upon request.

Commander JD Kinard has done an outstanding job managing the post over the last several years, but he needs help. All veterans who have served since December 7, 1941, to include National Guard and Reservist, and those currently on active duty are eligible for membership.

The most urgent need is someone to serve as Adjutant. The Adjutant performs the administrative functions for the post. It only takes a few hours per month and basic computer knowledge is helpful.

Veterans and members of the community interested in more information are invited to attend the meeting at 6 p.m. on Monday, September 6. Anyone who cannot attend but desiring more information can also contact District Commander Dale Haynes at (405) 823-9051 or okdistrict5b@gmail.com.

ending but himself.

The Biden Administration ignored the clear advice of his most senior military experts – that the modest American force left in Afghanistan that he chose to withdraw was critical to maintaining stability and holding the Taliban at bay.

Americans should have no illusions about the nature of the evil regime reconsolidating power in Afghanistan. The Taliban are enemies of America. They hosted and sheltered Osama bin Laden, and they maintain robust relations with the likes of ISIS and Al-Qaeda.

They can be expected to impose a brutal, medieval fundamentalist Islamic regime that will oppress, abuse and kill innocent women, men and children. It will be the antithesis of the democratic and egalitarian values championed by the United States.

Most acutely though, are the estimated ten thousand United States citizens still trapped in Afghanistan with no ability to get to the Kabul airport, which is their only way out of the country. As the Taliban is already searching door to door for those unsympathetic to their regime, we must put every effort into rescuing those stranded.

President Biden must provide clear guidance to the U.S. Department of Defense to negotiate safe passage for American citizens and our many dedicated partners.

Unfortunately, the president ignored the advice of his national security team in the interest of making a desired political point, and now he must accept responsibility for this humiliating national defeat and for the human tragedy that is already unfolding on the ground and being felt around the world.

While no plan to leave a country, especially one riddled with the issues Afghanistan faces, is perfect, we can expect the Taliban and other terrorists and extremists to exploit this reckless abandonment of the people and principles we spent decades of blood and treasure to protect.

Hello from District 43

• Senator Jessica Garvin •

Update from the Capitol

Oklahoma has a proud military heritage. For such a small state, we have and had have one of the highest military populations per capita in the country of military service members.

We are so blessed to live in a state of patriots and heroes. Sadly, recent events in Afghanistan have made many of our veterans, who have served in that country at some point in the last 20 years, feel that their service and sacrifice was for nothing.

But I want these brave men and women to know that your service wasn't in vain. While complete freedom from tyranny was the ultimate goal for the Afghan people, many other things were achieved through your service.

Most importantly, you showed the people of Afghanistan that their lives mattered, that they were worth fighting for and that they had the ability to fight for their freedom. You gave them a glimpse of independence, democracy, and peace, which is America's dream for so many people around the world and one that many die for every day trying to obtain.

Your service and sacrifice empowered them and taught them how to defend themselves. You did your job, and what is happening is on the current administration, not you or your brothers and sisters in arms.

It reminds me of when a kid is getting bullied at school. That child will continue to suffer because, for whatever reason, they don't feel confident enough, worthy enough or strong enough to fight the bully.

We teach our children, though, to look out for those being bullied and to do the right thing and stand up for them.

The U.S. military's mission is much bigger than a school cafeteria or playground. They defend those around the world who can't protect themselves.

Think about the enormity of their service—it's one thing to defend your own country from terrorists, but it is a whole other deal to sign up to defend complete strangers in other countries at the risk of losing one's life, being badly hurt physically or emotionally, being away from your family and missing precious moments in your children's and family's lives.

Yet more than 1.4 million Americans are currently serving in the U.S. military, along with another nearly 860,000 Reserve and Guard members. This is what the U.S. military does for the world. They are the guardians of freedom.

Our hearts go out to the families and loved ones of the more than 2,300 American service members who paid the ultimate price during this 20-year conflict. Their service and sacrifice will never be forgotten.

Please pray for our military members, their families, and the people of Afghanistan that they may all have strength during this very difficult time, and that the Afghan people will find their voice and courage to rise up and defend their homeland against terrorism.

If you have any questions or concerns on legislative matters, please contact me at the Capitol. Please write to Senator Jessica Garvin, State Capitol, 2300 N. Lincoln Blvd. Room 237, Oklahoma City, OK, 73105, email me at Jessica.Garvin@oksenate.gov or call (405) 521-5522.

Society

Purcell and Wayne Senior Citizens

By Val Blackburn

Everyone over 60 has a standing invitation to come visit and participate in friendship, meals and activities. It's great to meet new visitors and make new friends. If you have any questions about the senior center, the activities we offer or coming for a visit call Val at 405-527-5070 or drop by 228 N. 2nd Street in Purcell.

The activity groups are going strong. On Monday a Crafts Class is offered at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday and Friday is Light and Lively Exercise at 10 a.m. Wednesday brings "Music Speaks" at 10:45 a.m. Bingo is played Thursday mornings at 10 a.m. "Everyone Has a Story" is beginning on Tuesdays right after lunch.

The Purcell Senior Center has a very large main room. The area is usually used for dining and activities. It is also rented for gatherings and parties. If you need space for a get together or party the center is available for a minimal cost. To find out information or to reserve a date call the center at 405-527-5070.

The senior center garage sale is every Thursday and Friday from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. at 228 N. 2nd. The inventory changes frequently thanks to donations. Much appreciation goes to everyone who donates items to the center for the sale. All donations can be dropped at the center and left under the awning by the south door. Donations boxes at the front of our parking lot also benefit the senior center. The items you donate to the sale and in the boxes help many of your neighbors.

Lunch meals are offered at both the Purcell and Wayne Senior Centers by Delta Nutrition. The ability to offer reasonable and nutritious meals on weekdays to our citizens is very much appreciated. They ask anyone who is going to come dine to just let them know. A phone call is great before 8:30 a.m. to 405-527-9462 to let them know you're coming for that day.

Sign up sheets are also available inside the senior center. You can sign up to eat for a day, a week or a month if you want to. Delta can also help you do the paperwork to receive a meal for a $2 donation. Your presence is welcome and appreciated at every meal. Lunch is served beginning at 11:30 a.m. Of course you are free to visit, play cards, borrow a book from our library, play dominoes, shoot a game of pool or participate in an activity for as long as you like after you dine. Menu for August 30-September 3:

Monday—Chicken tenders, mashed potatoes and gravy, peas and carrots, bread, fruit.

Tuesday—Chef salad, pickled beets, crackers, fruit crisp.

Wednesday—Sloppy joe, potato casserole, green beans, banana pudding.

Thursday—White beans and ham, tomato relish, coleslaw, cornbread, chocolate pan pie.

Friday—Barbecue chicken, oven roasted potatoes, broccoli/cauliflower mix, dinner roll, pineapple upside down cake.

Milk is available with every meal.

Thank you to everyone who has contributed and continues to support the Purcell and Wayne Senior Centers. Your sharing means so much to these communities and our seniors.

This is another good recipe to fix ahead and have ready for your football crowd.

Slow Cooker Crack Chicken Pasta

5 cups shredded rotisserie chicken
10.5 oz can cream of chicken soup
8 oz. Velveeta cubed
2 cups chicken broth

1 cup water
One Packet Hidden Valley Buttermilk Recipe Ranch Dry Seasoning, found by salad dressings

3 cups Penne/Mostaccioli Pasta, uncooked
1-1/2 cups mild cheddar cheese
1 cup bacon pieces

Cut the meat off your Rotisserie chicken and shred it or dice.

In your crock pot combine your shredded chicken, ranch packet, cream of chicken soup, chicken broth, water and cubed Velveeta.

Put the lid back on your crock pot and cook on high for three hours. After three hours on high, add the noodles and give it a good stir.

Place the lid back on the crockpot for 20 more minutes on high. Give it another good stir and place the lid back on for 10 minutes.

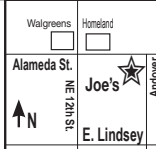

Give it (yet another!) good stir and top with the cheese, and lastly the bacon pieces.

Replace the lid and let the cheese melt for about 5 minutes.

Bobby Lee Williams

Bobby Lee Williams, 88, of Criner died Wednesday, August 18, 2021, in Norman. The son of Homer Fleetwood Williams and Carrie Lee (Roberts) Williams, he was born December 21, 1932, in Criner, Oklahoma.

Bobby graduated from Dibble High School in 1950 and then served in the U.S. Navy during the Korean Conflict.

Bobby married Marjorie Joan Mills on his birthday, December 21, 1957, at the Free Will Baptist Church in Dibble.

He was a computer operator for Tinker Air Force Base for over thirty years until he retired. In his spare time, he enjoyed gardening and piddling on his farm and raising cattle. He coached softball for many years when his children were young. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

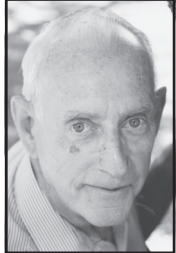

He was preceded in death by his parents; one granddaughter, Carrie Leann Lawrence; and a son-in-law, Andy Smith.

Bobby is survived by his wife of nearly 64 years, Marjorie Williams of Criner; two daughters, Beverly Smith of Flower Mound, Texas, and Robin Schein and her husband, Ken, of Criner; one son, Barry Williams and his wife, Patrice, of Moore; twelve grandchildren, Lauren Smith, Nick Smith (Kiera), Dusty Lawrence, Wesley Lawrence (Jacqui), Austin Lawrence (Malori), Aaron Schein (Amanda), Mackenzie Forbes (Keith), Cole Williams, Noah Williams, Kayla Hallford (Josh), Mika Miles, and Cason Miles; fifteen great-grandchildren and two more on the way; two sisters, Joann Plumb of Norman and Judy Williams of Norman; one brother, George Williams and his wife, Jean, of Del City; and many other loved ones and friends.

Johnnie McNutt

Funeral services for Johnnie McNutt, 81, of Newcastle, formerly of Lexington, were held August 24, 2021 at the Wilson-Little Funeral Home. Interment was at the Lexington Cemetery under the direction of the Wilson-Little Funeral Home in Purcell.

Mrs. McNutt passed away Thursday, August 19, 2021 surrounded by her family.

Johnnie Lynn Banks was born April 15, 1940 in Paris, Texas, to Albert Cecil Banks Sr. and Imogene (Morgan) Banks. She married young, and to this union, sons, Kenny and Dennis, and daughters, Penny and Lisa, were born.

Johnnie worked hard to provide for her family. She began working at Westinghouse, later retiring from York after more than 20 years of dedicated service. She later married Dub McNutt, and welcomed his children, and now two families became one.

She loved spending time in her garden and tending to her flowers. She was a gifted quilter and shared her many talents with both family and friends. Johnnie loved the Lord, and had a true servant's heart, and she served faithfully as a member of the Pentecostal Holiness Church. She cherished her children, and especially her grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren. She will be dearly missed!

She was preceded in death by her husband, Dub McNutt; Sandra Wages, Donnie McNutt and Bobby McNutt; parents, Albert and Imogene Banks and four brothers, Albert C. Banks Jr., Wayne Banks, William Banks and Jerry Banks; and grandchildren, Kristopher Sugg and Christy Wages Grier.

Johnnie is survived by her children, David McNutt and wife, Rose, of Pauls Valley, Larry McNutt and wife, Connie, of Pauls Valley, Roger McNutt and Tommy Martinez of Lakeside, California, Kenny Sugg of Lexington, Penny Willhite of Phoenix, Ariz., Lisa Shahan and husband, Dennis, of Newcastle and Dennis Sugg of Harrah; 18 grandchildren, Jarrod Willhite, Randi Shahan, Becky Whitehead, Dennis Sugg Jr., Kelsi Callaway (Mary Ann), Tara Randol (Jimmy), Kevin McNutt (Pam), Kerri Webb, Teresa Mann, Donna McNutt, Allica Cox (Eddie), Angel Baird (Jeremy), Daniel McNutt, Zach Copeland and Steven Martinez; 31 great-grandchildren and one on the way; two great-great-grandchildren and one on the way, and a host of other family and friends.

Ronald Eugene Coulter

Ronald Eugene Coulter died August 16, 2021 in Norman, Oklahoma, at the age of 82 years 6 months 5 days. Funeral services were held Saturday, August 21, 2021 at the First Baptist Church in Lexington. Interment followed at the Lexington Cemetery, entrusted to the care of Wadley's Funeral Service. Online condolences may be made and the service was lived streamed at www.wadleysfuneralservice.com.

Ron was born February 11, 1939 in Anthony, Kansas, to Willis "Paul" and Maxine (Elliott) Coulter. He was raised in Wakita, Oklahoma, graduating from school in 1957. Ron received Jesus as his Savior and was baptized at age 10 in the Wakita Christian Church.

While in high school, he was a member of the Future Farmers of America. Ron enjoyed showing cattle and working on the family wheat farm. He exhibited the champion Shorthorn heifer at the American Royal livestock show in 1956 and 1957. Ron was awarded the State Farmer degree in 1957, served as a State FFA officer in 1958-1959, and was awarded the American Farmer Degree in 1960.

He continued his education at Oklahoma State A&M, which became Oklahoma State University while Ron was attending. Ron was a member of Alpha Gamma Rho Fraternity and graduated with a Bachelor's degree in Animal Science in 1961. He was then inducted into the United States Army on October 15, 1961, proudly serving his country until his honorable discharge on July 31, 1963.

Ron and Shirley Giroux were united in marriage on August 16, 1974 in Lexington, and just celebrated 47 years of marriage. They made their home in Noble. Ron worked as the Cleveland County 4-H Extension Agent for 30 years, retiring in 1995. Ron founded and led the Cleveland County spring Livestock Organization. He then served on the Cleveland County Fair board for numerous years and loved fall fair season.

He enjoyed raising pigs, gardening, fishing and eating. Ron was an avid OSU fan, and enjoyed watching and cheering on his Cowboys. He loved spending time with his family and sharing his life goals and outlook with them with his witty sense of humor. Ron was an active member of the Lexington First Baptist Church.

Ron is preceded in death by his parents, Paul and Maxine Coulter; his son, Bryan Scott Coulter; his infant sister, Beverly Coulter; his special aunt and uncle, Ida and Buck Coulter; his father-in-law, Donnie Giroux; and his brother-in-law, Jimmy Deskin.

Survivors include his wife, Shirley Coulter of the home; his son, Randy Coulter of Haskell, Okla.; his daughter, Robyn Blair and husband, Jeff of Noble, Okla.; his son, Nathan Coulter and wife, Stephanie of Valliant, Okla.; his daughter, Julie Enlow and husband, Josh of Sapulpa, Okla. He is also survived by his nine grandchildren, Carmen Coulter of Tuscon, Ariz., Chad Coulter of Tulsa, Okla., Weston Blair of Noble, Okla., Lawson Coulter and Landi Coulter, both of Valliant, Okla., Alexis Enlow, Leo Enlow, Allie Enlow and Ainsley Enlow, all of Sapulpa, Okla.; his close cousin, Speedy Elliott of Pattonville, Texas; his mother-in-law, Doris Giroux of Lexington, Okla.; his sister-in-law, Donna Deskin of Lexington, Okla.; his two nephews, Jason Deskin and wife, Ashley of Goldsby, Okla., and Booger Deskin of Lexington; as well as numerous other relatives and friends.

In lieu of flowers, the family has asked that memorials be made in Ron's memory to the Cleveland County 4-H Foundation or to the Lexington First Baptist Church.

Broomcorn:

pointed to the “deep south,” and perhaps even to colonial days, or further back.

Our “two row” planter was originally designed to be pulled by a team of horses or mules. It therefore had to have a long tongue to allow for the horses, or mules, to pull the thing. When pulling it with a tractor it made turning the corners tricky. It also made the operation a “two man” proposition.

The second person (me), sat on the planter seat, and pulled the large lever that pulled up the planter “sweeps” and stopped the flow of seeds. This required coordination on the turns; Pop would raise his hand high when it was time to pull the lever for the turn. It was not pleasant if you didn’t do your job well.

Of course, all of the old equipment had to be maintained. Pop could fix or “rig” about anything. We kids watched him work, fetched tools and learned. We knew what a half inch, or nine sixteenth wrench looked like, long before we learned numbers and “fractions.” You didn’t want to fetch the wrong wrench.

When Pop finally took a day job in town, we “farmed on the side.” That meant that us kids learned how to run and maintain machinery. This came in handy, when several years later, “Iran a combine (wheat harvest), to the Canadian line, and pretty soon that college degree was mine.”

After planting the broomcorn in the spring, and everything went well, it was time for harvest in deep summer’s sweltering heat. Your article covered and described this well. But the farmers themselves didn’t do the direct work, at least in our family.

Pop was the manager. It was mostly the kids that dreaded the backbreaking misery. There were not many full-time farm workers at that time, that’s what kids were for. Pop had a network of farming/hunting friends, and they all had kids. He was a coyote hunter, and his hunting buddies had kids. Since we didn’t have telephones, he would put out the word for the “broomcorn cutting day.” Some kids had cars, or access to cars. Others, who needed a ride, were given a “lift” in mom’s old 1948, teardrop, Plymouth.

There were two types of broomcorn grown - standard and hybrid. On both types, it was close to being ready for cutting when it “headed out.” The “heads” looked like other “feed” crops, such as “maze,” except the seeds of broomcorn were a little smaller (about half the size of “bbs”), and worthless, as far as I know. When the “heads” turned dark, it was close to cutting time. Just exactly when was inside “Pop’s” head.

The standard type broomcorn grew higher than a man’s head, which required an extra step in the harvesting cycle. It had to be “broke.” This added to the Johnny’s heat misery level, as it was hard to even catch as much as a breeze through the broomcorn stalks. This was often done in pairs, with one Johnny on the left row and one on the next right row.

The one on the left positioned one arm in front of him, with several stalks in back of the arm. This allowed the other arm to fold or bend the stalks over about waist high. When the other Johnny repeated this the opposite way, it formed a table of stalks that could be cut about where the bend was.

After cutting the broomcorn, one made a small stack, which would be picked up later (“bucked”), and then stacked on the old “float” wagon or trailer. It too, was a relic from the past; it had iron wheels, and one had to pull it at a snail’s pace, to the broomcorn shed.

The hybrid broomcorn grew about chest high. Therefore, it could be cut without “breaking” it. Because of the different positioning, of the stalk, when cutting, you turned the Johnny knife upside down. You reversed the knife (upright in the hand) for cutting the standard broomcorn. One way you pushed the knife, and the other, you pulled.

The Johnny knife was about six or seven inches long, half handle, half blade, and totally blunt on the end. It was kept sharp. For the kids, it was a “Rite of Passage” when old enough to be allowed to use the Johnny knife.

Of course, in the stifling, hot as hell heat, hydration was important. It was the farmer’s obligation to provide water for the Johnnys.

Dibble Senior Citizens

By Eddie Cantrell

Greetings to the Seniors of the Dibble Community!

Wow what a trip! Last Tuesday 12 Dibble Seniors went to see the Express Clydesdale Horses in Yukon. Those are the biggest horses I have ever seen. They must have drunk a lot of Budweiser to get that big. Fun was had by all.

Linda Bourne, our Activities Director, is planning several trips for us including Senior Day at The State Fair of Oklahoma. Stay tuned!

Our sick and injured are holding, with Alma Elam hurting from a bad back. Arthur and Mary Evett are holding their own as are James and Ermaelene Godwin. Get well all.

We received a pleasant surprise this week with the Woodman Lodge in Blanchard donating $1,500 to our cause. They have always been very supportive and even driven a Food Recovery Truck for us.

We appreciate Darrel and Mark and all the other Woodmen for their continued support.

Get a shot or not? Wear a mask or not? These seem to be the big issues of the day. Most of the Dibble Seniors have had shots so I guess we are okay.

I am getting the booster as soon as possible. As far as the mask mandates, it seems to still be up in the air.

I see it like this:

Suppose two neighbors live side by side and get along really well. Then one day neighbor A as sewer starts running over and backing up and putting raw sewer in neighbor B’s backyard.

Neighbor B asks the other to cap it off or do something to stop raw sewer from running in his yard. Neighbor A says neighbor B has no right to make him cap off raw sewer.

Neighbor B says the stuff might give him and his family hepatitis and then insists on a cap for the sewer.

Yes, you should wear a mask whether you like it or not because it could affect my health. Don’t know how it will turn out. So stay tuned.

My cousin Oscar says he is as agile as he was when he was two. I went to his house and he was sitting in his underwear watching a ball game. He had a TV remote in one hand and a beer in the other. And amazingly he was eating potato chips with his toes.

When I asked him if that was hard to do and he said “no...the hard part is licking the bean dip from between my toes.” I told him he was disgusting! He

McClain County 4-H’ers recognized at 4-H Roundup

Two McClain County 4-H’ers made a big showing at the Centennial State 4-H Roundup that took place recently on the Oklahoma State University campus.

Nikodym
Wyatt Nikodym and Hunter Haxton were recognized for their achievement and brought home a share of the $140,000 worth of educational scholarships that were presented during the Honors Night Assembly.

Haxton
Nikodym, of Newcastle, was named the state record book winner in the geology project. He received a $1,200 scholarship sponsored by OERB. An active 4-H’er for 11 years, he is a member the Newcastle 4-H Club where his main project areas are photography, geology and outdoor recreation. “I’m proud of my McClain County Ballot Boxes project. We help our local courthouse during elections by helping carry the heavy voting boxes and equipment,” Nikodym said. Through his outdoor recreation project, he has participated in 4-H Outdoor Adventure trips to Minnesota and Colorado. He has served in leadership roles at the local, county and district levels. In addition, he has been a delegate to National 4-H Conference and Citizenship Washington Focus. His school activities include National Honor Society, Student Leadership Council and wrestling. Wyatt is the son of David and Kim Nikodym. Haxton, of Blanchard, received the $1,200 Ira Hollar Advanced Leadership Scholarship sponsored by the Ira Hollar Endowment. He is an eight-year veteran of 4-H and a member of the Blanchard 4-H Club. His main project areas are health and fitness, safety and leadership. He said he enjoys the opportunities 4-H offers to interact with others. “I’ve led workshops at the National Healthy Living Summit and helped teach youth and adults about ATV safety at the Oklahoma Wildlife Expo,” he said. “One of the best things about 4-H is the tradition of passing on knowledge to others and helping when we can. I’m thankful for those who have helped me throughout my career.” He just completed a year as president of the State 4-H Leadership Council, as well as president of his senior class at Blanchard High School. He also was named a Noble Cause Award winner for his Vitals of Life project, which helps people understand the importance of having their medical information readily available when they’re unable to speak for themselves. Hunter is the son of Greg and Leah Haxton.

Fatal rollover Vehicle landed atop driver

An Oklahoma City man was killed early Tuesday when he was ejected from his vehicle, which overturned and came to rest on top of him. The single vehicle wreck occurred around 2:52 a.m. near mile marker 87 on I-35. Oklahoma Highway Patrol Trooper Austin May reported Zachary Mann, 42, sustained massive injuries and died later at Purcell Municipal Hospital. According to May, Mann was northbound when he lost control of his 2009 Ford Econoline van. The vehicle ran off the left side of the highway. Mann overcorrected, running off the right side. The van rolled a number of times, ejecting Mann and coming to rest upside down on the driver. The cause of the wreck is under investigation. May noted Mann wasn’t wearing a seatbelt. Assisting the trooper at the scene were Purcell Police and Fire Departments and Wadley’s EMS.

USDA accepting applications to help cover costs for organic certification

Organic producers and handlers can now apply for U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) funds to assist with the cost of receiving or maintaining organic certification. Applications for the Organic Certification Cost Share Program (OCCSP) are due Nov. 1, 2021. “USDA is here to help all producers, including those who grow our nation’s organic food and fiber. Many farmers have told us that cost was a barrier to their ability to get an organic certification,” said Zach Ducheneaux, administrator of USDA’s Farm Service Agency (FSA). “By assisting with the costs, this program can help organic farmers get their certification along with the benefits that come with it.” OCCSP provides cost-share assistance to producers and handlers of agricultural products for the costs of obtaining or maintaining organic certification under the USDA’s National Organic Program. Eligible producers include any certified producers or handlers who have paid organic certification fees to a USDA-accredited certifying agent during the 2021 and any subsequent program year. Producers can be reimbursed for expenses made between Oct. 1, 2020 and Sept. 30, 2021 including application fees, inspection costs, fees related to equivalency agreement and arrangement requirements, travel expenses for inspectors, user fees, sales assessments and postage. For 2021, OCCSP will reimburse 50 percent of a certified operation’s allowable certification costs, up to a maximum of $500 for each of the following categories (or “scopes”):

- crops
- wild crops
- livestock
- processing/handling
- State organic program fees.

Organic farmers and ranchers may apply through an FSA county office or a participating state agency. This funding will be complemented by an additional $20 million for organic and transitioning producers through the Pandemic Assistance for Producers initiative. More information on that funding will be available in the coming weeks. More Information To learn more about organic certification cost share, please visit the OCCSP webpage, visit usda.gov/organic, or contact the McClain/Cleveland Counties USDA Service Center at 405-527-3160, Ext. 103.

house – “the old white farm house types,” Hyde said – and how said house was decorated. They wanted women who could can, bake, cook, garden and help out with the livestock. Right up Hyde’s alley. In April 2020, three representatives from the magazine came to Hyde’s home. They surveyed her garden and made note of such niceties as her crocheted wash cloths and dish towels, the decorated canning jars she uses for vases and her chicken coop built with framing taken from a greenhouse and topped by an old camper shell – home to a small flock of Barred Rock, Black Copper Maran and Red Lace Wyandotte hens. As for livestock handling skills, they asked her to pick up one of her chickens. They also watched her at work in the kitchen. In January, Hyde got word that she was in the top 10 of 100 contestants. That notification was followed by a virtual interview. On July 23, she found out that she placed second in the national contest. “They told me they were impressed with my canning line,” Hyde said. “And they would be in contact later.” Not one to rest on her laurels, Hyde is back at work, busier than ever. Susie’s Secret Recipes is on Facebook and Hyde plans to start a You Tube channel. Hyde was raised on a farm and describes her mother as “Martha Stewart/ranch hand.” With further testing at OSU to gain information for nutritional labeling, the university could help market her products. However, Hyde is reluctant to take that step. “They would change my recipes,” she explained. She loves the garden and those chickens as much as the kitchen. “I try to use what I grow,” she confirmed. Her garden includes 60 give or take tomato vines – Roma is her favorite variety – along with 50 or so varieties of peppers. There is also squash, cucumbers, onions, carrots and more. “I love to garden,” she said. “I am enjoying what I’m doing.”

Coming off last week’s scrimmage at Anadarko, Purcell will officially start the 2021 season off on the road Friday night.

Kickoff for the game at Lone Grove will be at 7:30 p.m.

Purcell Head Coach Tracy Scott said he liked what he saw last Friday night in Caddo County.

“We played pretty good,” Scott confirmed. “We did some good things but we still have a lot to work on.”

“But, I’m pleased with the effort. I felt like we got after them pretty good,” he said.

Purcell’s lone score in the scrimmage was a pass from quarterback Creed Smith to Titus Mason.

When the two teams start the season Friday, Scott expects

Washington goes undefeated at Murray County Bash

Also threw a no-hit shutout against Dale

JohnDennyMontgomery
The Purcell Register

The Washington softball team went 4-0 at the Murray County Bash over the week-end behind solid defense and outstanding pitching.

The Warriors only allowed five runs in the four games. Opposing batters only mustered seven hits in the same span.

“When you’re throwing it as well as we are in the circle it makes it nice,” said head coach Tylor Lampkin.

Washington had wins over Sulphur (11-1), Lindsay (3-2), Pauls Valley (8-0) and Purcell (7-2).

The tournament was turned upside down due to weather and games had to be re-scheduled and moved around.

As a result, a championship game was not played but Washington was the only team to go undefeated on the weekend.

In the Sulphur game Maggie

Place struck out eight batters in only four innings and allowed just one hit.

Elly Allison went 3-3 at the plate and knocked in three RBIs.

Against Lindsay, Ellie Loveless struck out 10 batters in five innings of work. The Leopards only had three hits.

Dragons extend record to 7-3

Pick up victories over Pauls Valley and Vanoss

John D. Montgomery
The Purcell Register

Led by Ella Resendiz’s four RBIs, Purcell won their seventh game of the season Monday at home in a 4-0 victory over Vanoss.

Resendiz went 2-3 at the plate and knocked in all four of the Dragon runs.

She also pitched three innings fanning two and giving up one hit. Coty Sessions was the winning pitcher. She tossed four innings, striking out three and giving up two hits.

Savanna Edwards had a triple in the game and KK Eck had a single.

The game was deadlocked at 0-0 heading into the bottom of the third when the Dragons pushed across a pair of runs. They added two insurance runs in the fifth.

“This was a great win for us,” head coach Sarah Jones said. “I am beyond proud of the girls.

“This is one of the better pitchers that we have faced besides the Washington pitchers and the girls did really well. Ella Resendiz came up with all 4 of our RBI’s and we made Vanoss defense work. We still could have pushed more runs across, leaving seven runners on but we had quality at bats, so we are getting better,” she said.

In Purcell’s 8-5 victory over Pauls Valley in the Murray County Festival last weekend, Edwards carried the big stick for the Dragons going 2-3 at the plate and knocking in a pair of base runners.

Eck was 2-2, including a triple, and had two RBIs. Resendiz was also 2-2, that included a double, and had an RBI.

Brynley Jennings lined an RBI double and Hadleigh Harp had an RBI single.

Hannah Whitaker, who was the winning pitcher, teamed with Sessions in the circle. Both pitchers struck out two Lady Panthers and each gave up four hits.

“We got down early in the first but we responded slowly,” Jones said. “We both had eight hits but our timing was perfect in the second and third innings to fight back.

“Defense again was a little rocky but we didn’t give up. We had quality at bats and only left three people on base.”

Purcell dropped three games in the Murray County Festival, losing 7-2 to Washington and losing a pair of one-run affairs, 4-3 at the hands of Sulphur and 5-4 to Norman High.

“Washington got the clutch hits when we didn’t,” Jones said. “We left too many people on base (seven).

“We had the bases loaded twice and didn’t come up with a clutch hit. I have full faith in these girls in being prepared to have a different outcome when we play them later in the season.”

The Dragons jumped out to a 3-love lead against Sulphur

but they responded with a pair of runs in both the bottom of the first and in the second to nip Purcell by a run.

Harp was the leading hitter for Purcell in that game with two hits and had a pair of RBIs.

“Sulphur was a tough game across the board,” Jones said. “We were not where we needed to be mentality to play that game. We hit the ball pretty well but again defense got us. Six errors in three games is not OK,” she said. “We will see Sulphur again next week and are prepared for a rematch.”

Purcell also led the Lady Tigers pushing across two runs in the top of the first. But Norman came back to score a run each in the third and fifth frames but it was the fourth where they did the most damage, scoring three times.

In that contest, Eck went a perfect 3-3 including a double. Lauren Holmes had an RBI double and Resendiz doubled and had two RBIs.

“This week is a good week of competition that we desperately need and I am excited to see what the girls do with it. We have added a game Tuesday with North Rock Creek. We will head to Tuttle on Thursday and then have the Plainview Tournament on Friday and Saturday. We face Healdton in our first game at 11:30.”

Next week Purcell will host Sulphur on Monday beginning at 6 p.m.

Lady Bulldogs add two wins

Season record sits at 6-4 with road games all week

Emily Montgomery
The Purcell Register

The Wayne Lady Bulldogs added two more wins last week with a 13-5 victory over Bray-Doyle on Monday and 4-2, extra innings win over Konawa.

They dropped a 8-3 decision with Alex earlier this week.

Their scheduled games with Ninnekah and Maud were canceled.

In Monday’s loss to Alex, the Lady Longhorns put four runs on the board in the second inning and held Wayne scoreless through three.

The Lady Bulldogs scored three runs in the top of the fourth to come within one.

But, Alex widened the gap with two runs each in the bottom of the fifth and sixth innings.

Sophomore Haylee Durrence led the team at the plate with three RBIs and two hits in four at-bats.

Last Friday, Wayne was in Konawa where they bested the Lady Tigers 4-2.

“It was a long game. They hit the ball well in the gaps, but we had good defense,” head coach Charles Durrence said.

The Lady Bulldogs had just five hits in the win and Faith Brazell was the leader at the plate. She went 2-3 with three ribbies.

“We didn’t have many hits and had to manufacture some runs,” Durrence said.

“But I was proud of our defense to keep us in the game.”

Brazell was in the circle and had ten strikeouts and gave up one walk.

Last Monday, Wayne racked up 19 hits in their 13-5 win over Bray-Doyle.

“It took us a while to get going, but as a team we hit the ball well,” Durrence said.

Seven Lady Bulldogs had multiple hits in the win. Durrence, Brazell, Haiden Parker, Kaylee Madden, Daliyah Fuentes and Emily Woody each had three while Allison Ryan had two.

Parker pitched for Wayne.

She gave up five runs on eight hits and fanned nine batters.

Wayne was scheduled play Central on Tuesday and be in Asher for a tournament starting Thursday.

Their first game is against Waleetka at 12:30 p.m. today (Thursday).

Offense lacking for Lex

Runs were scarce for Lexington in the Murray County Bash last weekend.

The Lady Bulldogs were shut out by Dickson 11-0, Tecumseh 12-0 and Davis 4-0.

They did play Cache tough, dropping a close 5-2 decision. In that game, sophomore Kiley Givens led the club with a pair of hits.

Izzy Pack smacked a double while coach Ryan Perry got hits from Cora Vasquez, Promise Houck and Abby Sample.

Cache drew first blood pushing across a single run in the top of the second and added two more in the top half of the fourth.

Lexington responded with a pair of runs in their half of the fourth before Cache rounded out the scoring with two runs in the fifth.

Lexington out-hit the Cache Lady Bulldogs 6-5.

Monday Chandler paid a call on the Lady Bulldogs and pinned a 6-0 loss on Lexington.

Izzy Pack had the only two hits for the Lady ‘Dawgs in the game.

Up next for the Lady ‘Dawgs was a scheduled trip to Crooked Oak on Tuesday and the Roff Tournament Thursday through Saturday. Lexington is scheduled to travel to Little Axe next Monday and host Meeker next Tuesday.

Tinley Lucas was 2-3 with two doubles. She also scored two runs and drove in two more at the plate.

Loveless and Place teamed up against Purcell to throw a no-hitter against the Dragons. They struck out five batters in three innings.

Skylar Wells was 2-2 with two RBIs.

Loveless also had two ribbies.

“Mattie Richardson and Ellie Loveless have been hitting extremely well,” Lampkin said.

“Isa Portillo has been hitting well also. I think those three hit at or over .500 in the tournament.”

For the season Richardson is hitting .517.

Lampkin also said Abby Wood is swinging the bat well, although it’s not showing up in her stats.

“What crazy is it looks like Abby Wood is struggling but she doesn’t really have any strikeouts and everything she hits is hard hit,” he said. “The balls are just going right to people.”

Dale

Washington picked up a big 7-0 win over Dale last Tuesday.

Place pitched a masterful 15 strikeout no-hit shutout.

“Maggie was just doing what Maggie does,” Lampkin said. “She was spinning it really well and we made a couple nice plays on defense that solidified the no hitter.”

Warrior batters scattered 13 hits over the seven inning game. Mikinzy Bost and Allison both doubled in the game.

North Rock Creek

Washington got another big win over North Rock Creek on Monday after a 5-1 final.

Place got the nod in the circle and threw four strikeouts in the seven-inning game.

Wood was 2-4 with a triple. Allison and Richardson both hit doubles.

Washington played Prague Tuesday before they head to Heritage Hall today (Thursday).

The Warriors are 12-1 this season.

Last Friday at Tuttle Beller said he was "very, very pleased" with his eighth grade, ninth grade and junior varsity on both sides of the ball.

"The varsity had some really good and really bad plays on both sides of the ball," Beller said. "We got what we wanted.

We knew Tuttle would test us and prepare us for non-district, district and playoff games.

Luke Hendrix got the lone touchdown for the Warriors on a slant pass off the arm of Major Cantrell.

The other Warrior drive ended with a tackled runner at the three yard line.

"We've got to cut out the big mistakes in the offensive line and play better technique on defense," Beller concluded.

Debbie Clark sang “Consider the Lillies” for our morning special.

Brother David used II Thesalonians 2:5-12 for his sermon which spoke of the “music of our hope.” This dies when we lose the influence of the Holy Spirit, when we turn our hearts from God and when God turns His heart away from us.

Our world is experiencing a “falling away” now. When the Holy Spirit is taken out, it will get a lot worse. We should pray for courage to “be the music” people need to hear. We should receive Christ as our Savior.

The evening message was from II Timothy 1:1-7. The apostle Paul was writing from prison facing his upcoming execution. He encouraged Timothy to preach against false teachings and to use his gifts. The Gospel is the promise of life. We should have prayer time, continuously and in times of trouble.

We will be observing the Lord’s Supper at our evening service this coming Sunday. We will try again to take our senior adults to lunch at Golden Corral at 11 a.m. on September 3. Our trip this past Friday had to be cancelled because of vandalism to our church van.

Come to Sunray Baptist Church! Pastor David Pickard and our church family invite you to attend Sunday School, worship and all activities. We are located at 2223 North 9th Street in Purcell. For additional information call 405-527-6808. Our Sunday morning worship service can be seen live on our Facebook page.

Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church

By Stella Bledsoe

August 29, 2021 is the twenty-second Sunday in Ordinary Time. During Ordinary Time, the Gospel focuses on the teachings and miracles of Christ during his time on earth.

All the readings for this Sunday concern religious actions being our hearts’ desire rather than simple adherence to rules.

In the first reading, Deuteronomy 4:1-2, 6-8, Moses tells the Israelites to listen and observe the rules he is teaching them and to put them in practice. By practicing their faith, others will note their wisdom and prudence and recognize that no other nation has laws and customs which are as upright. (The Pharisees in the Gospel passage reveal an adherence to rules and an absence of love.)

The responsorial psalm is Psalms 15:2-3, 3-4, 4-5. The person who lives blamelessly, acts uprightly, speaks truthfully, and honors God can never be shaken.

In the second reading, James 1:17-18, 21-22, 27, James admonishes Christians to not just listen to the Word but to welcome it into their hearts. “27 Pure, unspoiled religion, in the eyes of God our Father, is this: coming to the help of orphans and widows in their hardships, and keeping oneself uncontaminated by the world.”

The Gospel reading is Mark 7:1-8, 14-15, 21-23. The Pharisees observed the disciples eating their food with “unclean hands.” Traditions included washing one’s hands and arms up to the elbow, washing cups and pots and bronze dishes in a ritualistic manner, and many other observances. The Pharisees and scribes asked Jesus why the disciples did not honor tradition. Jesus said the Pharisees were hypocrites who had been prophesied by Isaiah. “You honor me with lip-service, but your hearts are far from me. Your reverence of me is worthless and you put aside God’s commandments to observe human traditions.” Then Jesus told the people that “15 Nothing that goes into someone from outside can make that person unclean; it is the things that come out of someone that make that person unclean. 21 For it is from within, from the heart, that evil intentions emerge. 23 Evil things come from within and make a person unclean.”

In 1 Corinthians 13, the Apostle Paul gave an example of Pharisee-type behavior. If I could speak in every language of heaven and earth, but did not love others, I would only be making noise like a clanging symbol.

The motivation for our actions as Christians must be hearts full of love. That’s what Jesus is pointing out in the Gospel reading. Performing actions without love is just paying God lip service. What matters is the motivation of our actions. What matters is what is inside of us. Sin springs from hatred and selfishness within a person and takes its expression in the terrible actions enumerated at the end of the Gospel reading, fornication, murder, theft, adultery, etc. Virtue springs from hearts full of the love of God and responds with charity, kindness, and upright decent behavior. (Rev. Msgr. Joseph A. Pellegrino, Diocese of St. Petersburg, FL.)

Our Lady of Victory parish is located at the 307 West Jefferson. The office is open weekday mornings (405-527-3077). Weekend mass services are Saturday, 5 p.m.; Sunday, 11 a.m.; and Sunday, 1 p.m. (Spanish). Daily masses are Tuesday, 9 a.m.; Wednesday, 12 noon; Thursday, 7 p.m. (Spanish), and Friday, 9 a.m. Peace be with you.

Green Avenue Church of Christ

On Wednesday night we continued studying Philippians 4:1-8 noting in particular the two women at Philippi who were having some sort of falling out and how they were exhorted to work towards unity “in the Lord.”

We learned that this phrase (“in the Lord”) is found 10 times in the short book of Philippians. Obviously this phrase was being used with special emphasis by the apostle with regard to the Philippian church in particular.

Sunday morning our Bible study continued examining the subject of racism. Some have historically criticized the Bible (and the KJV in particular) as promoting racism or at the very least that the KJV lent itself towards those ideas. We have been studying the handful of questioned texts in their context to see what the Bible taught and have found that what some people have claimed the Bible said simply was not true.

For correction: a couple of weeks ago, in the reporting for the sermon on the baptism of the Holy Ghost, it was stated that the “Holy Spirit filled the house where the apostles and a crowd of people from numerous nations where Jews had been scattered after the destruction of Jerusalem had gathered.”

The crowd of people were not in the house, only the apostles; it was a sound that filled the house but the apostles were filled with the Spirit; and the nations listed where many those Jews were from was likely one of the results of post-Babylonian exile and the natural movement of any people.

Our Sunday morning sermon took up the text of Luke 24:13-49 and focused on the evidences Luke provides for the resurrected body of Jesus. (Last week the sermon was on the proofs for the death and burial of Jesus.) There are three groups of witnesses Luke provides: two traveling men, Simon Peter, and the 11 apostles with a group of others.

Luke also provided three proofs which Jesus gave to the large group to help them believe it was really Him in His crucified body. He urged them to touch Him, to watch Him eat and to listen to Him repeat some things He had already told them.

Sunday evening Keith Shackelford’s sermon centered upon one of the greatest questions recorded in the Bible. At the

Lexington Westside Church of Christ

Good day to all. Welcome to a special ‘front porch’ view.

We have been sharing points from our discussion here in Lexington from the first Sunday of August, a presentation based on spiritual lessons from our amazing and potentially tragic trip to Yellowstone from July 11-18.

Here is the third lesson, one I want every reader and friend to take with them: Whatever you do, wherever you go, seek with all that is in you, and find, that rare peace that flows like a river.

When I returned home and began to absorb, as best as possible, the events of that six-day expedition, my mind often went back to the river – the Snake River – to which my hiking friend Todd and I had come on that fourth day, Wednesday morning, July 14.

It was the morning that all doubt about being lost had been lifted. We were 20 miles deep into the wilderness, and there was no trail to be found, just an expanse of mysterious unexplored forest. It was ironic that it was that morning that became the most peaceful morning of all, for this reason: It was the realization that you were with God, in His presence, and there was no other communication in this entire life except with Him.

But it seems that the Lord did not just stamp that thought on your mind but that He gave you a symbol of its truth and power. He gave us the great river.

“And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus” (Phil. 4:7). That verse means more now than ever.

Clearly, we are limited in our space here to give detail of this story. But I want to share a series of thoughts about the Snake River that I wrote down. As I look back, I’d like to share as it may be something to take with you this week.

“I have stood out on the rim of the Grand Canyon looking out over that broad expanse in amazement and wonder. I have stood looking out over the emerald-green sea waters of Alaska, those glassy and mysterious waters hemmed in by majestic, snow-capped mountains. I have admired the changing mosaic leaves of fall from the midst of the regal Smoky mountains, to which we’ve gone to absorb for decades now – but I have never been more inspired, more touched deeply in the soul, than the morning of looking out over Yellowstone’s cool flowing Snake River that Wednesday morning, the 14th day of July, 2021. That day never shall I forget.”

Ah, peace like a river! It only comes from one Source. Let us seek that peace that comes from above, and find her.

Dale Haynes to speak at Rose Hill Pentecostal

“Community Church” Rose Hill Pentecostal Church of God has scheduled community leader, our neighbor, Dale Haynes, to speak on Sunday, August 29, at the 6:30 p.m. evening service.

Everyone is invited and welcome to come to worship and fellowship with us. A “Linger-Longer” with refreshments will follow the service.

The church is located 10 miles east of Lexington, 19251 State Highway 39.

Bowman Methodist Church

The Lord created the heavens and the earth. Let us rejoice in the Lord.

Our pastor is doing messages over the 12 disciples. Last week Pastor Ashley gave a message over Andrew. He was the first disciple to become an apostle. He first led Nathaniel to meet Christ and the second one was his brother, Peter. Andrew told Peter we have found the Messiah. Andrew is considered a disciple that led people to Christ.

Besides taking Nathaniel and Peter, he took the gentile to meet Christ and also knew about the boys with the five fish and bread. This allowed Jesus to do the miracle of feeding 5,000 people with five tiny fish and bread. Andrew played a supporting role in the Kingdom of God by leading people to Christ. He had a gift of connecting with people. Sometimes it is by our word or actions that we lead someone to our Lord.

He preached in many lands and searched out the despised and rejected. Apostle Andrew is considered the Patron Saint of Russia and Greece. He was condemned to death on a cross and his final words were “That I had time to teach the word to my murderers. Let us take up our calling as Andrew did to share our faith in Jesus Christ.

This week Pastor Ashley gave a wonderful message over Apostle Peter. Peter was a man of action. He was not afraid to speak his mind and was introduced to Jesus by his brother, Andrew. Jesus saw something in Peter and he was part of his inner circle. Peter always said what he was feeling and maybe it was not the right thing to say. He usually was the first disciple to speak up, even if it was the wrong thing to say, but Jesus stated that His church would be built on people like Peter.

Jesus chose us, people like Peter, to build His church upon. Jesus believes in us. Peter denied Christ and forsook our lord in His darkest hour. Jesus is alive and wants us to know that He is alive. When the women went to the tomb and found it empty, the angel of the Lord, God’s messengers, told the women to go and tell Peter and the disciples that He was alive. We may turn our backs on Jesus but the Lord does not forsake us or turn his back on us.

Jesus said He would build His church on this rock. This rock is imperfect, but that is the rock Jesus chose. At the end, Peter was also crucified but asked to be crucified upside down. He loved Jesus so much that he did not feel worthy to be crucified like Jesus was.

Next Sunday our pastor will continue her messages over the disciples. We have 10 more disciples to learn about and the messages are so pertinent and timely in today’s chaotic world.

Come join us for services which start at 9 a.m. It is not possible for God to do nothing. God is always moving in our world and moving on our behalf. Ask and you will receive and Jesus will bow down his ear and hearken to your cries. Jesus is alive.

trial of Jesus, just before Pilate handed Him over for crucifixion, Pilate asked “What is truth?”

It was pointed out that Jesus claimed to be the truth and that His word is truth and that He sent the Holy Ghost to the apostles promising to reveal to them all the truth so they could teach it to the world. On almost every page the Bible claims to be that inspired word of truth.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Applicant, Native Exploration Operating, LLC, has filed an application in this cause requesting the Corporation Commission of Oklahoma to enter an order, to be effective as of the date of the execution thereof or as of a date prior thereto, as follows: (i) amending pooling Order Nos.
693856 and 716263 so that Native
Exploration Operating, LLC, OTC
Operator No. 24070, 123 NW 8th
Street, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma 73102-5804, is designated and declared as Operator under each such pooling order as to, and only as to, any subsequent well or wells to be drilled under or otherwise covered by such pooling orders; and (ii) granting such other and further relief as may be proper based upon the evidence presented in this cause. Such application states that pooling Order Nos. 693856 and 716263 pooled the working interests, and adjudicated the rights and equities with respect thereto, of various oil and gas owners in the 640-acre drilling and spacing units formed for the Mississippian and Woodford separate common sources of supply in Section 23, Township 8
North, Range 4 West of the IM,
McClain County, Oklahoma.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN
that the application in this cause requests that the order to be entered in this matter be made effective as of the date of the execution thereof or as of a date prior thereto and seeks to further amend pooling Order Nos. 693856 and 716263

in the manner described above.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN
that this cause is set before an administrative law judge for hearing, taking of evidence and reporting to the Commission. Notice is further given that the application in this cause may be amended at such hearing in accordance with the rules of the Commission and the laws of the State of Oklahoma.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN
that any interested person or party desiring to protest the application in this cause shall have fifteen (15) days from receipt of this notice in which to file with the Corporation Commission of Oklahoma a written protest. Failure to submit a written protest within said fifteen (15) day period shall be deemed consent to the granting of the application.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN
that this cause will be heard before an administrative law judge on the Conservation Docket at the Western Regional Service Office of the Corporation Commission,
Jim Thorpe Building, 2101 North
Lincoln Boulevard, Oklahoma City,
Oklahoma, at 8:30 A.M. on the 14th day of September, 2021, and that this notice be published as required by law and the rules of the Commission.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN
that if this matter is unprotested, testimony may be offered by telephone or video conference, and if this matter is protested, testimony may be offered by telephone or video conference only with the consent of all parties of record and the Administrative Law Judge. The cost of telephonic communication and video conference shall be paid by the person or persons requesting its use. Interested parties who wish to participate by telephone or video conference in an unprotested matter or a protested matter where the necessary consents have been obtained shall contact Applicant or Applicant’s attorney, prior to the hearing date, and provide their names and telephone numbers.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN
THAT due to the COVID-19 pandemic, access to the Jim Thorpe Building is restricted. The referenced hearing may be conducted via teleconference or videoconference. Before coming to the building for this hearing, please visit the Oklahoma Corporation Commission website at www.occeweb.com to determine the status of building access. Instructions for participating via teleconference or videoconference are available on the Commission’s website.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN
that all interested persons may appear and be heard. For information

Jiu-jitsu gold, silver

World Tour winners have Purcell ties

The North American Grappling Association made a World Tour stop in Oklahoma City recently, drawing Brazilian jiu-jitsu competitors and coaches from several states, including Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas.

At stake on August 14 at the Oklahoma City Farmers Market were gold, silver and bronze honors.

In addition to medals, contestants also competed for WWE-style wrestling belts and Samurai swords.

Danny Bull holds a purple belt in Brazilian jiu-jitsu. He trains at Empire Brazilian Jititsu in Norman under black belt Dustin Brooks.

Bull also teaches Brazilian Jiu-jitsu and MMA at JFA Academy in downtown Purcell.

The academy is owned and operated by Mark Jimboy.

Bull and his student, Josh Biser, both competed at the World Tour event.

By the competition's end, Biser was a silver medalist.

Bull won gold in gi, earning a WWE-style belt now displayed at his home gym. He also won a silver in no gi.

ABOUT THE COVER

Not much can be said about the year 2020 that hasn't already been said somewhere else.

It has been one of the most trying years in human history, much less American history.

As people try to find some sense of normalcy, one activity shines through like a beacon in the night: Friday Night Lights.

In Oklahoma and across the country, high school football is a way of life for many and people thirst for some distraction from the problems of the day.

From school pride, to attendance streaks, to watching friends or family participate in the games, everyone has their own unique reasons for wanting to be in the stands Friday night.

So as we begin the downward slope of 2020 to 2021 let us be reminded of how lucky we are to see something we love make its return.

GOOD LUCK TO ALL OF YOU

Have a great season!

Dragons plan on ground attack

Heavy emphasis on run game this season

I'VE BEEN PLEASED WITH THE YOUNGER GUYS. AND THEY ARE ONLY GOING TO GET BETTER AS TIME GOES BY.

TRACY SCOTT,
HEAD COACH

As Tracy Scott heads into his fourth season as the Purcell Dragon Skipper he will be counting on young players with limited playing experience.

Graduation hit the Dragons like a sledgehammer with the likes of Mojo Browning, Cale Walker, Kody Kroth, Gavin Constant, Sam Wofford, Dayton Smith, Johnny Marquez, Gage Askew, Jaysen Shea and Gammy Solis all earning diplomas last spring.

Scott reports the 2021 Dragons will be more run-oriented after losing the pass-happy Kroth. Replacing him at quarterback could be by committee with Payson Purcell returning with some experience.

But, Scott said he may play Creed Smith at that position and possibly Kash Guthmueller later in the season.

"We're going to be more of a run team," Scott confirmed. "We are going to use some formations and do some shifting and use motion to run the football."

In the passing department, Scott says this year's team will utilize more play action and bootleg passes.

Returning to anchor the offensive line is Mateo Ramirez. The remainder of the forward wall will be filled with inexperience, the coach said.

Those new faces belong to Brendan Bacon, Rowan Ardery, Jace Clary, Jake Scott, Luke Edelman, ►

Titus Mason will be one of the go-to offensive playmakers for Purcell this season. The senior will also play in the defensive backfield.

▶ and Carter Goldston.

"I've been pleased with the younger guys and they are only going to get better as time goes by," Scott said.

In the skilled positions, seniors Creed Smith, Titus Mason, Zicorrie Davis and Hayden Harp lead the charge. The Dragons will also rely on junior Jose Ochoa while Adam Edelman and Brodrick Smith will man the H-back or blocking back positions.

"I feel like we're going to have to run the football with how we're packaging and overloading sides," the coach said.

"We plan on running the clock," Scott said. "We'll huddle on offense since we will be having a lot of kids playing on both sides of the football.

"We're having to move kids around but we've had a good off season," Scott confirmed.

Again, it'll be running back by committee with Ryker Fink and others seeing action, Scott reported.

Creed Smith, Brodrick Smith, Mason and Ochoa will return to anchor the defense that will also rely on ▶ ► rely on young players at several positions.

Scott was referring to Tavian Engert, Ardery, Clary, Brody Holder and Brendan Bacon.

Both Creed and Brodrick will play inside linebacker with Ochoa at one outside linebacker spot. Scott said Adam Edelman, Harp and Davis are competing for the other outside linebacker spot.

"We've got a pretty good line backing crew," Scott said. "Titus has three years of starting experience. Both of our safeties will be new and one of our cornerbacks will also be new."

Competing for the other cornerback slot are Austin Burton, Ty Jaspersen, Colt Taylor and Quentin Goforth. Scott said freshman Boston Knowles may play later in the season.

WE'RE HAVING TO MOVE KIDS AROUND,
BUT WE'VE HAD A GOOD OFF SEASON.

1-7

MULTIPLE

Heath Winterton will play a critical role for the Bulldogs this season. The Swiss Army Knife senior can play multiple offensive positions if needed, including quarterback, receiver and running back.

Developing experience key for Lex

OBVIOUSLY, OUR GOAL IS TO BE IN THE PLAYOFFS BECAUSE ONCE YOU GET IN, ANYTHING CAN HAPPEN.

KEITH BOLLES,
HEAD COACH

Lexington is another team that graduation hit like a ton of bricks.

Gone off last year's squad are the likes of Dakota Tarp, Seth Pearman, Carter Neal, Destrie Shea, Josue Calixto, Jesus Espinoza, Avery Armstead, Blake Penner, Dalton Matthews, Wyatt Webb and Cam Conner.

Coach Keith Bolles really had more questions than answers heading into fall camp with holes to fill most everywhere.

The Offense: Spread

The Bulldogs have a nucleus from which to build upon with the return of senior skill players Josh Scott and Heath Winterton.

Winterton has done it all for the 'Dawgs last year playing wide receiver, running back and quarterback.

Add in wide receivers Jimmy Northrup and Chase Johnson and Lexington is pretty well set in the skill positions.

And that's not to mention Ean Caywood who got a couple of starts as a freshman at quarterback in last year's topsy-turvy world of COVID.

CUT UP-FIELD

Lexington senior Josh Scott will carry a large part of the load for the Bulldogs on offense this season.

LEXINGTON BULLDOGS

SEASON PREVIEW

► “Ean came in in a tough situation and did a real good job,” Bolles said. “He also played a little wide receiver and a little defensive back.”

So the quarterback job will probably be between Caywood and Winterton or a combination of both.

The coach added Israel Trejo into the mix as a wide receiver. “He had a real good spring,” Bolles said.

Conor Wesson and Baron Steelman are the two returning linemen with experience.

“We’re going to be inexperienced in the line,” Bolles said as he begins his second season at the helm of the Bulldogs. “We have some young players like Hunter and Phillip Hervey and some freshmen coming up that just need experience.”

Bolles said every practice session and especially the two pre-season scrimmages are key for the development of his players with less playing time under their belts.

The Defense: 3-4

Due to the COVID pandemic the Bulldogs were limited to playing only eight football games last year and that hurt for the younger players cutting into the number of practice sessions, Bolles said. ►

PACK HUNTING

Lexington head coach Keith Bolles wants to fill his defense with players who will chase the ball like Heath Winterton (6) and Josh Scott (4).

LEXINGTON BULLDOGS

► Bolles said he and his staff and team are looking forward to getting this season off on the right track.

"On defense I'm looking for people that will chase the football," he confirmed.

Winterton will man one of the outside linebacker spots while Northrup may line up at the other outside backer slot, or play in the defensive backfield.

"Again, we're lacking in experience but we've got some young kids that will do nothing but get better and better. We're looking forward to getting them in there with our more experienced players and see what they can do," Bolles said.

Overall, Bolles said he is going into the season with the expectation of using each practice to get better and let the young guys grow.

"That'll be the key to our success," he said. "I think we have a shot at being competitive. Obviously, our goal is to be in the playoffs because once you get in, anything can happen."

The kicking chores this season will be handled by Trejo.

"He's a great punter," the coach said. "He will also kick off and be our PAT and field goal kicker."

As far as a kick returner goes Bolles said there is always the steady Winterton.

"We'll wait and see who develops," he said.

AGAIN, WE'RE LACKING IN EXPERIENCE BUT WE'VE GOT SOME YOUNG KIDS THAT WILL DO NOTHING BUT GET BETTER AND BETTER.

Nine on defense and 8 on offense from last year's State Runners-Up team

WE HAVE TO FIND A QUARTERBACK THAT CAN GET THE BALL DEEP DOWN THE FIELD TO OUR PLAYMAKERS. ... IT WILL BOIL DOWN TO WHO IS MOST CONSISTENT.

BRAD BELLER,
HEAD COACH

Coming off a State Runners-up and 12-2 campaign last year, Washington is looking to reload for the 2021 football season.

Washington grad Brad Beller begins his 12th season at the helm of the Warriors and welcomes nine returning starters on defense and eight on offense.

Gone off last year's squad due to graduation are Jaxon Sanchez, Emmitt Wilk, Kelton Schultz, Jadon Sanchez, Chase Allison, Luke Steele, Caleb Turner, Austin Smith, Kaden DuBois and Seth Tague.

Returning in the offensive line are Rope Scott, Caleb Bruce and Tanner Winlock.

But where the Warriors are especially experienced is in their receiver corps. They return every one of them from last season including Luke Hendrix, Kobe Scott, Lane Steele, Jamison Holland and Rhett Vaughn, who missed last season but started as a sophomore.

Finding a quarterback that can get the ball to their playmakers may be job No. 1 in the fall camp for Washington.

Junior Jaxon Hendrix will be battling sophomore Major Cantrell for the starting signal caller slot. Hendrix started five games at quarterback in 2020 when Emmitt Wilk was injured.

► field to our playmakers," Beller said. "We're going to see who's gonna' rise up and take on the mental as well as the physical qualities necessary. It'll boil down to who is the most consistent." And the Warriors have some holes to fill in the offensive line.

"We have to make sure we find us a good center and another good tackle," Beller continued. "We're thinking about moving Caleb Bruce to center, opening up a spot for Jordan Vanya, Wyatt McCauley, Nathan Rainey, Naithen Spaulding and Wyatt Denton to battle for the two tackle spots.

"We've got to make sure these boys are mentally and physically ready to go," Beller said. "We've got five guys battling for two positions."

In addition to an outstanding receiver corps, the Warriors return junior Cole Scott at running back. "He's like lightning in a bottle," Beller said. "He's that quick and is at top speed on the second or third step. He's strong and will be a big weapon for us."

Calling the offensive plays will be new Offensive Coordinator Queston Autry, who moved over from Purcell.

Autry played high school football at Blanchard when current Washington Coach Jeff Kulbeth was coaching for the Lions.

"That's where the connection was made," Beller said.

Rope Scott, Hayden Milner, Spaulding and Bruce will anchor a very experienced defensive line for the Warriors this season.

Layne Spaulding and Jake Wells both return to man their linebacker positions and the ►

▶ secondary is back with the exception of Jadon Sanchez.

Luke Hendrix, who started at the nickelback slot last year will move over to a safety spot. Joining him are returning starters Kobe Scott, Lane Steele and Reese Stephens so they will be deep and experienced in the back end.

In addition to Jadon, Washington only lost Jaxson Sanchez and Kelton Hendrix off the defense.

"Last year we rotated 18 guys on defense and that's what allowed us to make such a deep run in the playoffs. We were able to keep guys fresh especially in the defensive line."

So once again the Washington coaching staff is tasked with developing depth so they can continue with the big rotation numbers.

"We're building depth at all three levels, the defensive line, linebackers and defensive backs," Beller said. "We're going to have some sophomores and juniors that have never started but have a lot of ability."

Beller was speaking of the likes of Brayden Arthur, Jacob Jones, Kade Norman, Ben Vaughn and Cage Morris, who will likely be the nickelback in 2021. Rhett Vaughn is also back for duty after starting as a sophomore but missing last season.

"Our returning experience is a big, big strength for us," the coach conceded. "Our conditioning and attitude has been great. This team has really worked hard and the way it feels right now is they have something to prove."

"They are not acting like they are coming off a State Runner-up last year. They want to prove that we were supposed to be there. We want to make a deep run every year."

"This is one of those teams that has the focus and determination to get back to the highest level week in and week out to give us the opportunity to get where we want to be," Beller said.

Special teams will have a much different look with the graduation of Kade DuBois.

Beller reports DuBois has been working with Blake Madden, who will be the PAT kicker.

"He's very accurate," the coach said, "he just needs to increase his leg strength."

The punter will be Kobe Scott and freshman Mason Thomas will kick off. The returner for both kickoffs and punts will be Kade Norman.

WAYNE BULLDOGS

BIG BRUTE

Brannon Lewelling throws a straight arm on a Lexington defender last season. The senior running back and linebacker returns for his senior year with Wayne.

Wayne loaded with talent

The Wayne Bulldogs return one of the most talented backfield duos in the state with quarterback Ethan Mullins and running back Brannon Lewelling.

The two seniors have been stat machines during their careers.

Mullins has accounted for 4,412 yards rushing and 60 touchdowns in his 20-game career so far.

During last season's COVID-shortened eight game schedule he reeled off 1,556 yards rushing and 22 touchdowns.

Both Mullins and Lewelling play iron man football and Lewelling is a terror at linebacker.

He registered 91 tackles, five sacks and four forced fumbles in seven games last season. He has north of 330 tackles for his career.

The two bell cows lead a team with loads of talent but razor thin in numbers.

"They'll pretty much all play both ways," said head coach Brandon Sharp, who is entering his 14th season as the head Bulldog.

Besides Lewelling and Mullins, Wayne returns a good nucleus of their offensive players.

Andy Lee (guard), Maddox Mantooth (guard) and Cody Davis (tackle) all return along the line.

Kolton Miller will slide inside to play center and has plenty of experience under the Friday night lights and veteran Kevin Bynum will play the other tackle position.

Senior Jairo Hernandez will rotate at running back to give Lewelling an occasional breather.

Junior Rhett Kennedy, back from a knee injury last year, will play wide receiver along with Kaleb Madden.

Wayne's approach on offense is no secret and Sharp isn't changing anything this year.

They will run the football.

Teams will see a heavy dose of the quarterback run game and power plays with the Bulldog running backs out of a one-back formation.

"The quarterback run game has been successful for us for a while," Sharp said.

It's smash mouth football that's won in the trenches and Wayne's offensive line will need to make blocks to keep ► defenders, who are already keying on the backfield, off of the Bulldog backs. "It will come down to our offensive line," Sharp said.

Defense

Defensively, Wayne will stay in their traditional 4-3. Lee and Mantooth will anchor the middle tackle spots on the line while Davis and Miller stay on the edge at the end spots.

"They're all seniors," Sharp said. "Hopefully they'll step up and have a good season."

Lewelling sets up shop again as the mike linebacker and Mullins and Kennedy will handle weak and strong sides, respectively.

The secondary is another talented group with sophomore Hernandez, Issac Hill, Madden and Dom Sampson filling the duties in the defensive backfield. Eli Hobson has experience as well and will be a helper.

"This is the best secondary we've had in years," Sharp said. "They're going to be a good group."

Wayne's defensive game plan will be to match up their best defender against the opposing team's best receiver.

After that the front seven can concentrate on the run and stopping it.

The assistant coaches for Wayne are Sammy Sharp, Chance Sharp and Shane Collins.

Wayne was 6-2 last season and, like everything else in 2020, had an unconventional route there. Games against Walters, Healdton and Stratford were called off due to COVID.

Their playoff game against Crescent went down as a forfeit after Wayne didn't have enough players left standing after a round of quarantining hit the team.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

29TH EDITION

29th Player of the Week

Weekly winners eligible to be Heart of Oklahoma Players of the Year

The Heart of Oklahoma Player of the Week begins its 29th year. The Purcell Register and area merchants have sponsored this honor for over a quarter of a century.

Nominations are made by head coaches and The Register's staff makes the final selections for each week's winners. Players chosen receive a T-shirt, picture and short story in The Register.

Statistics are compiled to be used for the end of the year selections.

The 2020 Offensive Player of the Year was Purcell's Kody Kroth. Kroth completed 218 of 415 passes for 3,567 yards and 35 touchdowns. He also had a rushing touchdown and gained 50 yards on 20 carries.

The Defensive Player of the Year was Purcell's Sam Wofford. Wofford registered 130 tackles averaging 14 tackles a game. He also had two quarterback hurries, broke up a pass, registered two sacks and recovered a fumble.

The Offensive Linemen of the Year was Jaysen Shea of Purcell. He graded out at 90 percent.

The Defensive Lineman of the Year was Johnny Marquez of Purcell. Marquez made 90 tackles and had three quarterback sacks.
