Area veterans will be honored today (Thursday) during a Veterans Day assembly at Purcell High School.

Honoring our vets

Tom McCurdy to speak at assembly

One hundred three years after the armistice ended World War I, Purcell High School will observe Veterans Day with an assembly that is open to the public.

Like the original armistice in 1918, the assembly today (Thursday) will begin at the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month.

Keynote speaker will be Tom McCurdy.

The program will last one hour, followed by a luncheon for all veterans attending the assembly.

The annual assembly is sponsored by the National Honor Society at the high school.

Let us REMEMBER

Veterans Day honors all who served

By late 1918, the world was weary of war.

The global conflict of World War I ended with an armistice on the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month.

And the world gave a collective sigh. Armistice Day was remembered one year later and a Congressional resolution in 1926 called for November 11 to be an annual observance.

The date gained national holiday status in 1938. It was celebrated as Armistice Day until 1954 when President Dwight Eisenhower renamed it Veterans Day.

In 1971, the observance was moved to the fourth Monday in October. But the date change was short-lived and in 1975

Tyler and Lauren Norcom really are two happy campers.

Which may be why their Happy Camper Cafe on Main Street is such a lunchtime hit with Purcell area residents.

Tyler is originally from Stillwater and Lauren hails from Drummond.

They met while she was attending Oklahoma State University and working as a bartender at Eskimo Joe's.

Tyler was a cook. And he's still cooking today while Lauren handles the front of the house.

The couple have spent 15 years give or take in the restaurant business.

They lived and worked in Daytona Beach, Fla., for five years but longed to return to Oklahoma and open their own place.

"We wanted close to Oklahoma City but in a small town," Lauren said.

They looked at Tuttle and considered Blanchard. But the moment Lauren crossed the bridge from Lexington, Purcell was far and away the winner in her eyes.

"We liked Purcell the most," she said.

It didn't hurt that 216 W. Main was vacant or that the

Corea retreats to Quartz Mountain for fall workshops

Changing leaves and dropping temperatures signal the approach of an annual tradition for educators and artists across the state — a return to the Oklahoma Fall Arts Institute (OFAI) at Quartz Mountain.

Jon Corea of Purcell High School was among this year's attending educators.

"Oklahoma Fall Arts Institute is a very special place for teachers," said Corea. "It is a place to collaborate with peers, share ideas, learn new techniques, build professional and personal relationships, reflect, and create. It is a powerful experience to be at this workshop. I feel blessed and recharged each time I am able to attend this amazing place."

Corea

After a year away due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, hundreds were eager to journey to the newly renovated Quartz Mountain State Park this October for hands-on training through a series of intensive weekend workshops taught by nationally renowned artists in the literary, visual and performing arts.

Since 1983, the Oklahoma Arts Institute has offered this opportunity for teachers and artists to sharpen their skills, or learn new ones altogether, in an immersive environment with innovators in their fields. This program supplements the organization's flagship Oklahoma Summer Arts Institute for high school students, held each summer since 1977.

OFAI connects Oklahoma educators and creatives with some of the nation's leading teaching artists, offering professional development and valuable training for teachers to take new skills back to their classrooms across the state.

Oklahoma public school educators attend OFAI on full scholarship, with tuition discounts for those who teach at private schools.

Unlike other workshops, all meals and lodging are included in tuition. Removing or reducing the financial burden allows participants to focus on growing in their artform and to develop strategies for integrating workshop techniques into the classroom.

Throughout the all-inclusive, four-day workshop retreat, participants also enjoyed activities and electives in tai chi, screenprinting, 3-D needle felting, guided stargazing and more.

OFAI workshops are geared to a variety of interests and teaching backgrounds. This year, participants chose from classes in painting, printmaking, poetry, photography and more.

Workshops especially designed for educators included Stop Motion Animation for Teachers, Transforming Learning through Arts Integration and Teach Like It's Music.

"We couldn't be more thrilled to be back at our Quartz Mountain home, continuing our tradition of providing Oklahoma educators with professional development opportunities of the highest caliber," said Julie Cohen, Oklahoma Arts Institute President & CEO. "OFAI gives these educators and artists the unique opportunity to broaden their artistic horizons in a beautiful setting, while learning techniques they can take back to their students across the state."

Breaking habit

PMH helping patients kick tobacco

Purcell Municipal Hospital referred 204 people to Oklahoma's Tobacco Hotline as part of the Hospitals Helping Patients Quit initiative.

The Oklahoma Hospital Association using grant money provided by the Oklahoma Tobacco Settlement Endowment Trust to develop the program.

Since 2010, HHPQ has served more than 50,000 tobacco users wanting to kick the habit.

According to the OHA, this has resulted in an estimated 35,000 years of life saved and $17.7 million in reduced health care costs.

Working together, 73 hospitals and more than 400 outpatient clinics made the milestone possible.

HHPQ provides comprehensive support to hospitals and clinics to develop robust tobacco treatment programs for patients.

Tobacco users who receive a clinical cessation visit from their health care provider, use a cessation method and receive follow up Helpline services are up to seven times more likely to successfully quit than those who attempt cold turkey.

"Referring 50,000 patients to the Oklahoma Tobacco Hotline is a tremendous achievement for Oklahoma hospitals and their affiliated clinics," said OHA President Patti Davis.

"The health hazards of tobacco use are widely understood, yet we continue to struggle with it.

"We understand the best ways to help people quit and are happy to help hospitals and clinics around the state with this life saving work."

I'm mad, too, Eddie

If you are the prosecutor, the judge and the jury you've got a lot of power.

That's exactly what the NCAA is and they've done it again.

This time they poked Oklahoma State and boy they stuck it in deep.

No post season play in 2022 for the Pokes. But wait there's more.

The loss of three scholarships over three seasons and other recruiting penalties.

The real rub is that South Carolina had the same coach Lamont Evans do the exact same thing there yet they didn't get near the penalty OSU received.

Same coach. Same conduct but the punishments were nowhere close to the same.

Likewise, Alabama got a three year probation and a fine when a former athletic director accepted bribes after facilitating a player's father to meeting with a financial advisor.

And what about Kansas? Their laundry list of naughty things at a season kickoff event a couple of years ago would make a sailor blush.

They didn't even get a slap on the wrist.

Just think about it.

If Mike Boynton would have done the things Bill Self is accused of, the way the NCAA treats OSU, the Cowboys would probably get the death penalty.

OSU officials believe this is the first time in NCAA history a program was banned from postseason play despite no violations of lack of institutional control, failure to monitor, recruiting, head coach accountability, participation of an ineligible athlete or academic fraud.

It's a heartbreaking and downright shameful action by the NCAA.

And now there's absolutely nothing OSU can do about it.

Hello from District 43

• Senator Jessica Garvin •

Update from the Capitol

On November 1, more than 350 new laws went into effect in Oklahoma. You can learn about all of the measures on the Senate and House websites, but I wanted to go over some of them this week that I thought would be of interest.

My Senate Bill 320 expands the criteria for those seeking medical parole, also known as compassionate release, to those deemed medically frail and vulnerable. While reforms have been made in recent years to our criminal justice system, our prisons are still at 107 percent capacity.

Much of the prison population is over the age of 65 and a large portion of those have medical conditions that keep them from being able to take care of themselves daily. Our prisons are also understaffed, and these individuals require extra care and attention at a great cost to the state.

Previously, only those near death or dying were being considered for early release due to the interpretation of our state's medical parole statute. This was leaving out a large group of individuals with chronic, debilitating illnesses who were no longer a threat to public safety.

Last year, only 12 people in our state's prison system were granted medical parole.

The medical determination will remain a three-step process with a prison medical provider and DOC's director and medical director all making the assessment. The DOC director will then request that a person be added to the medical parole docket before the Pardon and Parole Board (PPB).

I want to again thank the law enforcement members, district attorneys, judges and DOC officials who helped me in drafting this important legislation to ensure more medically frail and vulnerable inmates are considered for compassionate release.

Several new laws came about as a result of the pandemic. One of them was the "No Patient Left Alone Act," which requires hospitals to allow patients to have at least one visitor, even during state of emergencies. While this practice was used during the pandemic last year, it has been found that the isolation had a detrimental impact on patients' mental health.

Another issue is many patients passed away without getting to properly say goodbye to their families and friends, which also has caused incredible anguish for many Oklahoma families.

Another new law I'd like to mention will help better protect and support victims of domestic violence, stalking or sexual violence by allowing them to

NEWS FROM CAPITOL HILL

Unwavering support for our veterans

Congressman Tom Cole

On Veterans Day, we show our unwavering support and appreciation for those who have served in America's military.

As we recognize the selfless service of our veterans rendered throughout history, including by the millions living among us today, we also solemnly remember those who did not make it home.

During this 20th anniversary year of the vicious terrorist attacks that took place on Sept. 11, 2001, I am certainly thinking of those veterans who engaged in conflicts in the Middle East as part of the Global War on Terror.

That included many who fought the Taliban and other elements of terror in Afghanistan to promote democracy and help stabilize and foster peace in this struggling region.

While those efforts were not in vain, I remain deeply saddened by the disastrous manner our troops were withdrawn from the country – which led to the tragic loss of 13 of our U.S. service members, who were assisting with evacuation efforts at the Kabul Airport.

Although there is no action great enough to express our gratitude for their service and ultimate sacrifice rendered in the line of duty, I am encouraged that the U.S. House of Representatives recently passed legislation to posthumously award the Congressional Gold Medal to those courageous 13 Americans.

As a proud cosponsor of the bill, I am hopeful that the Senate will soon take it up as well, so that this honor can be bestowed and bring some level of comfort to their families as we continue to mourn the loss of these heroes.

Indeed, we owe all our veterans a debt of gratitude for their service. Just as they volunteered to protect our nation both at home and abroad, so do we have a duty to them upon their return from combat, many of whom sustained life-altering injuries fighting for the cause of freedom.

The legacy of American military service extends beyond the founding of our nation. Throughout history, tens of millions of individuals have selflessly answered the call to secure, defend and preserve freedom.

As we celebrate our distinguished veterans this week, please join me in remembering too that America remains free because of those who willingly take the oath to defend our country. For that, we are forever grateful.

If you are a veteran and have experienced problems related to your earned benefits, please contact my Norman office at 405-329-6500, so my staff can help you get answers.

Also, if you are a veteran experiencing a crisis, please call the Veterans Crisis Line at 1-800-273-8255 and press 1, or text the number 838255 to receive confidential support.

Honor and care for our veterans

By Dr. Glenn Mollette

During World War II, on April 9, 1942, 75,000 United States soldiers and Filipino soldiers were surrendered to Japanese forces after months of battling in extreme-climate conditions.

Soon after the bombing of Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, Japanese forces began the invasion of the Philippines. The capture of the Philippines was crucial to the Japanese. It would bring them one step closer to the control of the Southwest Pacific.

The Philippines were just as important to the U.S. Having troops in the Philippines gave the U.S. footing in the Southwest Pacific. After the invasion of the Philippines, U.S.-Filipino troops defended the crucial lands.

These brave soldiers were responsible for the defense of the islands of Luzon, Corregidor, and the harbor-defense forts of the Philippines. They fought in a malaria-infested region, and survived on little portions of food.

Some lived off of half or quarter rations. The soldiers lacked medical attention. U.S. medics did what they could to help their fellow soldiers. They fought with outdated equipment and virtually no air power.

The soldiers retreated to the Philippine Peninsula when Japanese forces were reinforced and overwhelmed the U.S.-Filipino soldiers.

On April 9, 1942, the U.S. and Filipino soldiers surrendered after seven months of battle combined with exposure to the extreme elements, disease, and lack of vital supplies. The tens of thousands of U.S. and Filipino soldiers were forced to become prisoners of war to the Japanese. The soldiers faced horrifying conditions and treatment as POWs.

The soldiers were deprived of food, water, and medical attention, and were forced to march 65 miles to confinement camps throughout the Philippines.

The captive soldiers were marched for days, approximately 65 miles through the scorching jungles of the Philippines. Thousands died. Those who survived faced the hardships of prisoner of war camps and the brutality of their Japanese captors.

The POWs would not see freedom until 1945 when U.S.-Filipino forces recaptured the lost territory.

In 1945, U.S.-Filipino forces recaptured the Philippines and freed the captive soldiers who were suffering in the confinement camps. These soldiers would be impacted by the poor conditions of the camps and the mistreatment by their Japanese captors. About one-third of the prisoners died from health complications after they were freed. (The above information is from Bataan.com).

My wife's grandfather, Lyle C. Harlow, was one of the thousands who lived through the 65-mile march and almost four years as a prisoner of war. When he and the others who survived were freed, he came back to his wife in Kentucky who had also survived and a daughter born right after his departure overseas.

He returned broken, weighing less than a hundred pounds and had to rebuild his life essentially from zero.

Harlow like thousands of others, never received a dime from the United States government after his release from the military. He received some VA medical benefits and would later die in a VA hospital.

Until the last few years the VA has been a very undesirable place for medical attention but there has been improvement in recent years.

He and so many others had to rebuild their lives with no help from our country. This makes it difficult to understand how our government can consider handing out thousands of dollars to illegals pouring into our nation. Do we just hand them the American dream simply because they made it across our border?

Most Americans are charitable people. We do more than any nation to help others. Yet, when our homeless Veterans are sleeping on America's streets while shelters, medical insurance and even cash are made available for those who are unwilling to salute our flag, hate our culture and despise many of our values, then something is seriously wrong.

How can parents prevent digital damage to teens?

Brian Brus
Agriculture Communications

Social media algorithms can subvert children's normal social growth patterns and replace them with reinforced negativity about bullying, unrealistic body imagery and depression, Oklahoma State University Extension specialists said.

Fortunately, parents and other caregivers still wield some of the strongest tools to counter damage caused by those digital platforms. But winning the fight won't be easy.

"It's about keeping up with our kids' lives, knowing who they talk to, how it makes them feel, the problems they're struggling with," said Rachel Morse, OSU Extension youth mental health specialist. "Sometimes, ultimately, we make our best guess. But as long as parents and guardians show their attention is coming from a place of love and concern, it will make a difference."

Leaked Facebook documents examined by Congress in early October show company officials knew for years that its Instagram app was making body image issues worse for teenagers, particularly girls.

By its very nature, social media influences users to click hyperlinks to popular material instead of steering away from harmful content, a point emphasized by the Facebook whistleblower.

The congressional documents also show company algorithms prioritized angry emoji news posts. Online platforms push content tailored to each user's profile of online behavior, creating a spiral of self-perpetuating negative interests.

A key difference between the experience of electronic media and face-to-face interaction is the speed at which it occurs. The smartphone echo chamber never ends, whereas talking with people in real space provides time to reconsider toxic thoughts and allows the opportunity for parents to enter the conversation, Morse said.

Humans are naturally prone to make social comparisons – among family, peers, coworkers and even celebrities – but coping with emotions that accompany those comparisons is a skill that takes a lifetime to hone, said Ron Cox, OSU Extension child and family sciences specialist.

As children enter adolescence, they need feedback from peers to help them determine their own identities. That is why they seemingly soak up comments like sponges, both good and bad. It is not a new phenomenon, but it has gotten more problematic since the advent of the internet.

Because the internet is always on with such easy access, the youth become addicted to their friends' approval.

"Social media has become a fertile ground for kids trying to navigate that stage of development," Cox said. "Developmentally, they're trying to figure out, 'Who am I? And who am I in relation to you?' They can't do that in a vacuum."

When a teen's emotions take a dark turn, it might be more than an age-appropriate bad mood. Over time, toxic social media exposure can build up and trigger eating disorders, anxiety attacks, substance abuse, suicidal thoughts and other problems.

Pandemic pressures – health, isolation, uncertainty – have made social media's influence even tougher to manage.

Being able to assess subtle behavioral shifts requires knowing the child's or teen's baseline behavior, which a parent can only develop from conversations, said Laura Hubbs-Tait, OSU Extension parenting specialist.

Changes in daily behaviors related to health and safety are important signals to parents to initiate more serious talks with the youth and to seek professional help if the conversation doesn't reduce parental concerns.

A particularly dangerous aspect of the influence of social media is often referred to as the contagion effect. Like a virus, ideas can spread over the internet, provoking kids to do things they wouldn't otherwise do.

Cox said research has found spikes in suicide attempts shortly after news of an adolescent committing suicide hits the media.

Parents should be especially vigilant during those times and not be afraid to ask even the toughest question: "Have you been thinking about harming or killing yourself?"

Other tips provided by OSU Extension specialists include:

- Set online time limits – this is more than a response to a toxic environment; it can also help children learn to manage other interests.

- Activate electronic parental controls – native apps and third-party developers offer ways to put boundaries on social media use.

- Talk more – still the most useful approach overall, engaging in meaningful conversation with children face to face lays the foundation for years of good judgement and self-respect.

Also, don't make social media changes feel like punishments or personal judgments. Focus on the power to make good choices, discuss alternatives and consider consequences, they said.

"Parents need to remember that cutting kids off completely is like keeping them from a necessary developmental process of figuring out who they are," Cox said. "Don't forbid all access. Discuss it. Be more involved in your child's life and help them navigate difficult areas."

Anti-mandate

Biden Administration in Oklahoma AG's crosshairs

Oklahoma filed a lawsuit November 4 against the Biden Administration to stop its mandatory vaccination requirement for federal contractors.

"Biden's vaccine mandates are a clear abuse of power. He does not have the authority to make health care decisions for Oklahomans," Attorney General John O'Connor said.

"It is sinister that Biden is threatening Oklahomans with the loss of their jobs if they do not surrender their personal rights and freedoms to the federal government. The President is using private employers to do his dirty work," the AG continued.

The mandate against federal contractors will directly cause many hardworking, unvaccinated Oklahomans to lose their jobs.

It is unknown whether Oklahoma or any state would fully recover from the mandate's economic impact, O'Connor said. The Biden Administration previously said it is not the federal government's role to enforce vaccine mandates.

O'Connor and 20 other Attorneys General wrote President Biden in late October to challenge the mandatory vaccination requirement for federal contractors.

The Oklahoma Attorney General's office has acquired outside counsel to assist with the lawsuit.

O'Connor said his office is finalizing another lawsuit to challenge OSHA rules.

Garvin to serve as state director for Women in Government

Sen. Jessica Garvin, R-Duncan, was chosen Tuesday to represent Oklahoma as a state director by the nonpartisan Women in Government (WIG) all-legislator board of directors.

The Duncan Republican was nominated for the position by her fellow colleague and Oklahoma's current WIG state director, Sen. Carri Hicks, D-Oklahoma City.

"With more and more women getting elected to office across the country, this organization plays an important role in helping female officials become strong leaders, who can drive sound policy," Garvin said.

"I'm honored to have been chosen to represent our state. I'm looking forward to learning how I can be a better leader for our district and state as well as successfully push more critical policies to improve the lives of Oklahomans and make our state better," she concluded.

State directors are WIG's go-to ambassadors in the states and help keep the organization informed about pressing policy issues and how they can help.

Headquartered in Washington, D.C., WIG is a national nonprofit organization that for over 30 years has provided leadership opportunities, expert forums, and educational resources to address and resolve complex public policy issues for all women state legislators across the country.

Mothers Entwined Club Goldsby Country Christmas Home Tour

Mark your calendars for the Mothers Entwined 2021 Christmas Home Tour which is scheduled for Sunday, December 12, from 1-4 p.m.

The home highlighted this week for the Mothers Entwined 2021 Goldsby Country Christmas Home Tour is the home of Timmy and Tammy Hardcastle.

The Hardcastle home is located at 208 SW 24th Ave. in Goldsby.

They have lived in their home for six months.

The home was custom built for the previous owner but not for the Hardcastles. They are currently working on a custom pool but will not be doing the work themselves.

Mrs. Hardcastle said, "My decorating style tends to be modern with a few traditional accents throughout. I would classify our home style as contemporary/colonial."

The home is decorated in ivory, gray and navy with pops of color in each room.

"Interesting things to notice in our home are the abstract art, mustache cups and our grandson's room which is sports themed," Mrs. Hardcastle said.

"Tour participants should make sure they take note of the art in the home," Mrs. Hardcastle said. "My daughter is an artist and her art is displayed throughout our home."

You can purchase your tickets for $15 from any Mothers Entwined Club member, Savvy Parke, Goldsby Town Hall, the office of Roger Cudd, Marcum's Nursery and Althea's Vault.

Home tour

The events center of Jim and Sandra West, 23509 170th Street in Purcell, is one of the featured stops on the Okeyha Mothers Club Holiday Home Tour set for Sunday, December 5, from 1-5 p.m.

Okeyha Mothers Club Holiday Home Tour set for December 5

The annual Okeyha Mothers Club Holiday Home Tour is scheduled for Sunday, December 5, from 1 to 5 p.m.

This year's tour will include three Heart of Oklahoma area homes and one venue.

Holiday Home Tour patrons will have the opportunity to view the venue of Jim and Sandra West - Turkey Creek Events Center, and the homes of Bryan and Amberlea Johnson, Jason and Melissa Pruitt and David and Jenny Goodspeed.

The Turkey Creek Events Center of Jim and Sandra West will be featured in this issue of The Purcell Register.

The Turkey Creek Events Center is located at 23509 170th Street in Purcell.

From McDonalds continue south on Highway 74 (towards Maysville) for 1 mile. Turn right (west) on 180th Street, continue on 180th 2.2 miles to Sooner Ave.

Turn left (south) on Sooner for 1 mile to 170th Street. Turn right (west) on 170th and continue 1/2 mile west just past Turkey Creek.

Google works great, and look for the water tower and gazebo.

Turkey Creek Events Center is a new concept to the annual Okeyha Mother's Club Christmas Home Tour as there is no home to tour.

Turkey Creek Events Center was originally built to host owners Sandra and Jim West wedding on October 5, 2019. The weather forecast was for 70 percent chance of rain, so we opted for a climate controlled area. And as our forecast crews normally do, they missed the forecast, and it was a steamy 80 degrees with no rain in site but you know the rest of the story.

The event center is a small 1/2 acre parcel of land that was part of my parents, Ermon and Mattie West, 80 acre farm which they purchased in the early 50s for a total of $3,500 (not per acre) which included a house and barn.

Mom would have enjoyed what we have done...Dad would have thought what a waste of good grazing land.

We have hosted other weddings, Fourth of July parties and last year decorated it for Christmas Photo Ops which we will do during the Okeyha Mother's Club Christmas Tour. So bring your camera and keep your money in your pockets and take as many photos as you wish. There may be a donkey for photos as well!

A Country Kitchen will be stocked with home-baked goods available for sale at the Pruitt home, 25378 187th St. in Purcell.

The Holiday Home Tour is a yearly fundraiser for the Okeyha Mothers Club. The club uses funds raised to support community projects and give a scholarship to a graduating senior.

Tickets may be purchased in advance for $15 from any Okeyha Mothers Club member or may be purchased at the homes the day of the event.

Prevent diabetes from managing you

November is National Diabetes Awareness month. Shape Your Future, a program of the Tobacco Settlement Endowment Trust (TSET), is providing Oklahomans with tools and tips to combat diabetes, a leading cause of death in the United States.

In the past 20 years, the rate of Oklahomans living with diabetes has tripled. This chronic disease affects more than 330,000 in the state every single day, and Oklahoma has the 5th highest diabetes death rate in the country.

"Making just one healthy change, like replacing sugary drinks with sugar-free options, is a great first step towards preventing diabetes, especially for kids," said Dr. Ashley Weedn, director of the Healthy Future

Clinic. "Swapping out processed foods for healthy foods, including fruits and vegetables, also goes a long way."

Small changes like being more intentional about the food you eat is just one way to lower your risk. Being tobacco-free, getting the appropriate amount of sleep each night and increasing your daily physical activity are all effective steps to reduce the risk of diabetes in your life.

Type 2 diabetes is most commonly seen in adults and children who are inactive and overweight.

This form of diabetes occurs when your body can no longer produce insulin properly to support you in the best way possible.

Luckily, type 2 diabetes is preventable and manageable just by making healthy lifestyle changes. Getting active with your family each day is

Dibble

Senior Citizens

By Eddie Cantrell

Greetings to the Seniors of the Dibble Community!

A good week last week as we ended up with a big crowd on Friday for steak and shrimp. We also had our Halloween Contest with our cook, Charlene, taking the prize! (A picture is attached and Charlene is the witch dressed in black.)

Our sick and injured are holding their own as Lou McGaha is still in Grace Living Center in Norman and Arthur and Mary Evett are still trying to recover from their car accident that tore them both up pretty badly. Alma Elam is still having back pain. Get well everyone!

Our ongoing building project is making steady progress as the floor is now rebuilt. McClain County Sheriff, Landy Offolter, has been helpful to us in letting some inmates from the jail do the heavy lifting in this project. We will be starting the move of the Community Food Pantry this Thursday and the inmates will be of great assistance!

Our field trips are on hold as our Activities Director, Linda Bourne, is out of pocket due to her husband's illness. Stay tuned!

We will be having our Thanksgiving Dinner on Friday, November 19. This is a community dinner so feel free to come in on that day and join us for Thanksgiving! Everyone is invited! We have a lot to be thankful for this year!

Serving on Mondays and Wednesday will be from 9:30-11 a.m.

My cousin Oscar has had to take his dog to the vet this week as Oscar ran over his foot and chopped it off! Oscar's dog has had a history of close calls. A cat put out one of his eyes. Another bigger dog chewed off one ear in a vicious dog fight and his tail froze off last winter. Oscar calls him Lucky! He ain't right!

All for now...

Friday—Enchiladas.

A-OK Alpaca Blast-Off Show celebrates 15th anniversary

Alpacas and alpaca enthusiasts, as well as fiber art enthusiasts, gather every year for the A-OK Alpaca Blast-Off. For this year's 15th Anniversary celebration, the show will be held for the first time at the Grady County Fairgrounds & Event Center in Chickasha on November 13 and 14.

What better way to learn more about the alpaca industry than to talk to hundreds of breeders and meet their alpacas face-to-face, all in one location? Now you can. And it's free!

Show hours are Saturday, November 13, from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. and Sunday, November 14, from 9 a.m. -noon.

Alpacas will be featured in the show ring competition, comprised of classes judging conformation and fleece quality in many categories for both Suri and Huacaya alpacas.

Watch as our younger participants show their alpacas in the Youth Competition on Saturday, November 13, at 9 a.m.

Throughout the weekend, attendees can learn how alpaca fleece is processed, along with the opportunity to enjoy spinning and fiber demonstrations. This year's photo contest entries and winners will be displayed for all to enjoy.

Finally, don't forget that

Downtown Story Walk

The Purcell Public Library encourages families to experience its Story Walk while visiting Downtown Purcell during the holiday season.

The Purcell Public Library invites families to experience its Story Walk while visiting Downtown Purcell this holiday season.

The Story Walk is a literal walk through a book, with pages of the book presented at the front of participating downtown businesses on a loop that takes readers from the festive front cover to the final pages.

There's a holiday theme for the Story Walk. Downtown businesses currently have the pages of the book Tis for Turkey by Tanya Lee Stone displayed in honor of Thanksgiving. In December, a Christmas story will go up.

The downtown walk begins at Savvy Parke, 222 W. Main St. The route continues east down the south side of Main Street, before readers cross the street and come back to the west.

Participating businesses in the Story Walk are Savvy Parke, the Heart of Oklahoma Chamber of Commerce, Sheehy Signs, Happy Camper, Elara Caring, The Rustic Sunflower. And Pride Popcorn, American Abstract, Natural Look Salon, Inspire Wellness Clinic, Delta Community Action Center, Tyler's Furniture, Insurance Professionals II.

Also Grapevine Antiques, Auntie Mae's Antiques, Farmers Insurance, Fired Up Nutrition, YaYa's Bakery, The Purcell Register and Ron Davis Insurance.

Go online at www.pioneerlibrarysystem.org, calling 527-5546, or through the Pioneer Library System Connect App, available on Google Play or the Apple App Store.

Legal Aid offers free help to Oklahomans needing health insurance

This year's open enrollment period for the online Healthcare Marketplace began November 1 and Legal Aid Services of Oklahoma is offering Navigators across the state to help Oklahomans weigh their options.

Legal Aid's Navigator Project is the result of a federal grant to help consumers make the right insurance decisions for their families and has provided training and certification for more than 40 Navigators across the state.

The Navigators are prepared to answer questions and assist consumers with health insurance decisions. The Navigators will not offer advice or suggestions to consumers and have pledged to be unbiased. They do not accept payment or gifts and have no interests in insurance companies.

To speak with a certified Navigator, Oklahomans in all 77 counties can call or text 405-313-1780.

Open enrollment, which ends Jan. 15, 2022, allows consumers to enroll in new policies and make changes to existing coverage. In order to enroll in a Marketplace policy after open enrollment ends, consumers must apply for a special enrollment period (SEP).

In addition to providing information concerning the private companies offering insurance in the Marketplace, Navigators can help with SoonerCare, Oklahoma's Medicaid program, and Medicare.

Fifteen certified navigators are on board at several legal aid offices across the state, ready to help Oklahomans understand the fine print of health insurance coverage and take advantage of the Healthcare Marketplace's current open enrollment period.

This open enrollment period, which lasts through May 15, allows new enrollments as well as changes to existing coverage.

Legal Aid has 15 Navigators on staff, all trained and certified both by the federal government and the Oklahoma Insurance Department, and located in Altus, Ardmore, Bartlesville, Guymon, Hugo, Lawton, Oklahoma City, McAlester, Muskogee, Norman, Poteau, Stillwater, Tulsa, Weatherford and Woodward.

LASO is offering this Marketplace assistance as the result of a federal grant to help people know what kinds of coverage are available and to enroll in such coverage if they so choose.

To find the nearest Navigator, call 405-313-1780.

The Marketplace is the online platform created to help people enroll in health insurance through private companies with the benefit of a tax credit for most who enroll. Companies offering health insurance through the Marketplace in Oklahoma are Blue Cross Blue Shield of Oklahoma (BSBOK), Bright Health, CommunityCare Oklahoma (CCOK), Medica Insurance Co., Oscar Health and United HealthCare (UHC). BCBSOK and Medica offer statewide plans while Bright, CCOK, Oscar and UHC serve limited areas of the state.

Legal Aid Services of Oklahoma is a not-for-profit law firm providing free civil legal assistance to eligible low-income individuals and their families and to elderly persons in the areas of family, consumer, housing, health and employment.

Legal Aid attorneys and staff work through a network of fully-staffed law offices and satellite offices, serving eligible clients in all 77 counties of Oklahoma.

OMRF receives $2.57 million to study gender differences in disease

The National Institutes of Health has awarded the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation $2.57 million to study the impact of sex hormones and their receptors on chronic diseases.

OMRF scientist Michael Stout, Ph.D., received the five-year grant to study an estrogen receptor that may play a role in the likelihood and severity of conditions such as Type 2 diabetes and chronic liver disease in males.

“We know males and females age differently and develop chronic diseases in a sex-specific manner,” said Stout, who joined OMRF this fall. “Females tend to live longer, and males often display age-related diseases earlier in life. A potential contributing factor is sex-specific hormones.”

While certain conditions are more common in males, the gender gap frequently closes when females undergo menopause.

Previous research by Stout and others has shown that in male research models, a type of estrogen called 17 α -estradiol increases lifespan and “healthspan,” the period of life without disease and disability. The same estrogen has only minor effects in females.

“Our goal is to determine the mechanisms that enable this estrogen to slow disease onset and extend lifespan in males,” Stout said. “Receptors act like an on-off switch for a certain activity in the cell. If we remove specific receptors and the benefits of 17 α -estradiol disappear, we will know we are on the right track.”

The grant will also support research into why 17 α -estradiol does not have the same benefit in females, Stout said. The researchers will limit natural estrogen production and provide 17 α -estradiol as a replacement while looking for changes in disease outcomes.

“This could tell us something important about sex-specific aging processes,” he said.

The work will put scientists a step closer to developing drugs that can help extend lifespan and mitigate disease.

“Understanding the differences in how males and females age is a critical barrier to developing sex-specific treatments,” Stout said. “This is an important building block in combatting diseases of aging and chronic illness.”

The grant, R01 AG070035-01A1, is funded by the National Institute on Aging, a part of the NIH.

Q: How is this generation different from your youth?

A: I think COVID has played a tremendous impact on our youth. Those effects on our youth are what will forever set them apart from past and future generations.

Q: Is there too much emphasis on standardized testing?

A: I believe that there is not one data point from a standardized test that shows the impact teachers have on their students.

Q: What is the single biggest thing you want students to take away from middle school?

A: Middle school is a difficult time for students. I want all students to know that they are cared for and I believe in them.

Remember:

President Gerald Ford, citing the historical significance of the date, returned Veterans Day to November 11.

In the United States, the day honors living and dead veterans of all wars.

There are roughly 19 million American veterans alive today who served in at least one war.

Of 16 million who served during World War II, an estimated 240,000 are still alive. But their years are numbered and they are dying off at a rate of 234 every day.

Oklahoma is home to an estimated 3,626 World War II veterans still alive in 2021.

There were 933,000 who served during the Korean Conflict.

According to the History Channel, 11 percent of all veterans are women.

Some 5.9 million veterans served during the Vietnam War and another 7.8 million in the Gulf War and Global War on Terror.

The nation remembers – and honors – them all.

Neighbor:

space had been a restaurant.

“We wanted to open a restaurant,” Lauren explained. “Looking back, we’re definitely glad we picked a city with a Walmart.”

Tyler had his own requirement for choosing Purcell.

“And a lake,” he said, adding fishing is “my favorite thing to do.”

The rookie outdoorsman has also taken up hunting, going after deer and turkey with a bow and arrow.

In fact, he took his very first deer ever recently and it is now in the freezer at the restaurant.

Lauren’s degree is in restaurant management. Tyler’s expertise is in the culinary side.

Lauren down plays their combined skill set – “we’re not good at anything else” – but the success of the Happy Camper says otherwise.

They opened the restaurant July 23, 2019.

In a few months, the economy went into lock down due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The menu was all Tyler’s creation.

“We were close to opening and she didn’t believe me that it was all up here,” he said, tapping his head. “I’m a good cook and I nailed the menu in a week or two. The only time I messed up was cole slaw. I had to redo that.”

They briefly tried staying open at night, but soon realized Purcell resembles a ghost town come 5 p.m.

“We like our banker’s hours,” Lauren said. “It’s definitely nice working during the day and then going home.”

Tyler was the more confident when it came to opening their own restaurant.

“It was hard work, but I don’t think it was intimidating,” he said. “We knew we could do it.”

They are in full agreement that Purcell is the ideal town to raise their “furbabies” – a Border Collie/Australian Shepherd cross and a cat that is the alpha of the pair.

Lauren likes being able to see family often and has nieces and nephews in the Oklahoma City area.

Tyler’s family is a bit more scattered from Texas to Tulsa and Choctaw.

With Purcell Lake, this really is an unbeatable place in his view.

“I like how it’s tight knit,” he said. “I don’t like traffic or very busy cities.”

And here they can be two really happy campers.

Another laughter for Warriors

Washington defenders pitch third straight shutout

Warrior quarterback Major Cantrell has time in the pocket thanks to lineman Tanner Winlock (55). Cantrell and the Warriors notched their tenth win with a 59-0 shutout of CHA. Cantrell had 213 yards passing and four touchdowns for Washington.

Christian Heritage Academy was the latest victim for the No. 1 ranked Washington Warriors when they whitewashed the Crusaders 59-0 last Friday night in Norman.

Washington's defense hasn't been scored on since Oct. 8. Lexington fell on a fumble in the end zone for a safety on the offense Oct. 14.

No one has been in the Warrior end zone since Oct. 8 when CCS scored a touchdown.

"Overall, I was very pleased by the way both our offense and defense played," head coach Brad Beller said. "That was our best first quarter on both sides of the ball we've played all year. They executed at a high level."

Beller said the thing that really caught his eye on the defensive side of the ball was the speed of his players.

"I noticed how fast and physical we were. We just did a great job of getting to the football," he said.

Jamison Holland had a key interception in the first quarter while the offense was racking up big numbers.

"We rotated a ton of guys in on defense and everyone that went in did their job to make plays," Beller said.

The Warriors scored four touchdowns in the first period alone.

First round of playoffs in Stephens County

John D. Montgomery
The Purcell Register

As the State Playoffs begin, Purcell has a tall order traveling to No. 2 Marlow Friday for a 7 p.m. kickoff.

The undefeated Outlaws are flat good.

"Marlow is pretty much as advertised," Purcell Head Coach Tracy Scott reports. "They've got a good quarterback and a really good running back. And, they get after you on defense."

The Outlaws operated out of a 4-3 and some 4-2 on defense and use double tight ends on offense with a one back formation.

"They pretty much run right at you and they're good at it," Scott said.

The coach said his club has its chances last Friday night in a tough home loss to Bethel, 34-13.

"Penalties and miscues at crucial times cost us," the coach said. "We've got to execute this week and take care of the ball. We need to play really clean at Marlow."

Scott said overall his team played pretty well defensively with Brodrick Smith leading the charge with 18 tackles.

"Brodrick played really well," Scott said. "Creed (Smith) played well and so did Zicorrie Davis and (Jose) Ochoa. We just couldn't get off the field for whatever reason."

Davis registered 17 tackles followed by Brody Holder with 15, Creed with 14 and Ochoa with nine.

Up front, Tavian Engert, Brody Holder and Brendan Bacon all drew rave reviews from their head coach.

Holder nailed runners 15 times. Engert finished with seven tackles with Bacon right on his heels with six.

On the offensive side of the ball Scott praised the play of Creed Smith, who had 55 yards rushing and a touchdown. He also threw the ball for 93 yards and a touchdown. Scott pointed to the play of Titus Mason, who had 82 receiving yards and a 27 yard touchdown. Mason also rushed the ball once for Wayne opens the State playoff Friday night with a date with the Tonkawa Buccaneers.

The Bulldogs travel north to Tonkawa (7-2) for a 7:30 p.m. kickoff.

The Buccaneers finished second in their district behind Class A's No. 1, Cashion (8-1).

"Tonkawa is a really good football team," said Wayne head coach Brandon Sharp. "They're a talented team and are very athletic."

Running back Cam Jackson has the attention of the Wayne coaching staff.

"If the running back isn't the best we've seen he's close to it," Sharp said. "He's a short, power back with good moves. We'll have to rally to the football and not get out of position."

Offensively, Tonkawa lines up in multiple formations and will play with the quarterback both under center and out of the shotgun.

"They may be in the I-formation or in trips open," Sharp said.

The Buccaneers are also multiple on defense and have shown both three and four-man fronts.

No doubt they'll crowd the box to try to contain Wayne's potent rushing game.

"Their linebackers run down hill and the linemen are physical," Sharp said. "They are extremely well coached. (Mike Kirtley) has been there a while and you can tell they know what to do. This game will be one of those games of who doesn't make the big mistakes."

Lex closes out 2021

Lexington's Bulldogs closed out the 2021 football season on the road at CCS last Friday night, 55-6.

Coach Keith Bolles said his defenders played really hard.

He noted the play of Chase Johnson, Josh Scott, Jimmy Northrup, Heath Winterton, Seth Pyle, Buddy Cormany, Dalton Brewer, Chandler Soto and Wyatt McBride.

"Cormany stepped in and played some linebacker for us," Bolles said. "We had some young kids that played well. Some of them played in the line that had never played in the line before."

And, when you talk about utility players

Northrup stands alone.

Bolles said Northrup stepped in for a play at quarterback the only position on offense he hadn't played this season.

"He played running back, tight end, receiver and now quarterback," Bolles said. "You talk about a utility player."

"This year is in the books," Bolles said. "But our players gave effort and as coaches all you want is for them to buy in and give effort."

"We're going to miss those seniors but we're looking forward to getting into the weight room and getting ready for next season," the coach concluded.

Lexington finished the season 3-7.

Wayne:

Achilles heal - holding penalties," Sharp said. "We were penalized more Friday than we have been all season. We can't have all those mistakes we made this Friday or we'll be done."

Once the Wayne offense found its footing it was full steam ahead in the second quarter.

Led rushing dynamo Ethan Mullins' four second-quarter touchdowns, the Bulldogs quickly slammed the door on any hopes Stratford had of an upset.

Mullins scored touchdowns on runs of 1, 25, 45 and 3.

"We started to pull away in the second quarter and got rolling to finish it up," Sharp said.

As a team Wayne rushed for 380 yards.

Mullins added a 50-yard touchdown run in the third quarter to finish the night with 321 yards rushing on 22 carries. He scored five touchdowns on the ground and added 72 yards through the air.

Mullins has rushed for over 2,500 yards this season and has 38 touchdowns to his credit.

Sophomore Issac Hill scored Wayne's other touchdown - a five-yard plunge in the third quarter.

Big Brannon Lewelling had 19 yards on the ground in the win.

Kaleb Madden had two carries for 23 yards and one catch, not in the giving mood and Stratford had to settle for minus two yards on the ground.

They found a little success through the air, putting up 166 yards, but weren't able to put many points on the board.

"We were sloppy at times and weren't communicating,"

Sharp said. "We had a few mental mistakes but for the most part we were playing off guys and making tackles. We were not giving up big plays."

Lewelling led the team in tackling with 15 stops and a sack.

Mullins registered six tackles, a sack and picked off a pass.

Kevin Bynum had six tackles and two sacks and Andy Lee had seven tackles.

"The D line played really well and did a good job stuffing the run," Sharp said. "I wish we could have gotten to the quarterback a few more times."

Deja vu? Now it's on to Tonkawa where the senior class has experience in playing.

"We went up to Tonkawa in the second round of the Playoffs when they were freshmen," Sharp said. "Some of them got a lot of playing time in that game."

Wayne looks for a better outcome this visit after falling 23-14 in 2018.

"Once the Playoffs start these kids know it's win or go home," Sharp said. "They're excited and they're ready to play."

Notes

Wayne head coach Brandon Sharp nominated Ethan Mullins for Offensive Player of the Week. Brannon Lewelling was Sharp's nominee for Defensive Player of the Week.

The nomination for Defensive Lineman of the Week was Kevin Bynum.

The Offensive Lineman of the Week nomination went to Andy Lee. Lee graded out at 86%.

coach said.

Scott finished the game with eight carries for 116 yards.

"We were very efficient running and throwing," Beller said of his offense that scored four out of their first six plays. We only had one negative play in the first quarter and that was a bad snap."

Backup signal caller Jaxon Hendrix got into the act passing 13 yards to Nate Roberts for Washington's only score in the third period.

The final touchdown of the night was an 80 yard romp by Brayden Arthur.

"We weren't trying to score," Beller related. "We just ran up the middle. Both Major Cantrell and Jaxon Hendrix did a good job of running the offense."

They spread the wealth around to five different receivers.

On the defensive side of the ball, Cole Beller led the tackling with 10 stops and a quarterback sack. Hudson Howard registered seven tackles while Case Taylor had an 83 yard beauty to Lane Steele. Cantrell hooked up with Kobe Scott for a 35 yard score for Washington's second tally of the quarter and then found Luke Hendrix on a 50 yard scoring strike.

Cole Scott closed out the first period rampage with a 57 yard gallop to pay dirt.

Scott scored two more touchdowns in the second quarter on runs of one and 29 yards sandwiched around a Sam Hegeman 28 yard field goal.

"As many yards as Cole has gained this season that was the first game where he scored three touchdowns," the six stops including two for losses. Dominik Jackson had five tackles and the Warriors got interceptions by Tanner Olson and Jamison Holland.

As district champions the Warriors host this week when Comanche rolls into town for a 7 p.m. kickoff Friday night.

The 7-3 Indians have lost to Marlow, Davis and Lindsay.

"They are very, very athletic at the skill positions," Beller reports. "Two years ago their skill players were all sophomores so they are a veteran team in that department."

"The key for us will be slowing their skill kids, especially their quarterback. He's got a good arm but is a dual threat and is even more scary when he runs."

Defensively, the Indians work out of a 4-2-5.

"They like man coverage and just try to get physical with you on the edge. They want to force you to do everything up inside the tackles. They also take away the deep balls."

"We need to get off the field on third down. They are very efficient on third down," the coach said. "We need to control our emotions and stay focused and enjoy every game."

Warrior notes:

Washington Head Coach Brad Beller nominated Major Cantrell as the Offensive Player of the Week. Cantrell was 7-12 passing for 200 yards and three touchdowns.

The Offensive Lineman of the Week nomination went to Wyatt McCauley, who graded out at 86 percent.

Getting the nod as the Defensive Player of the week was Cole Beller, who had 10 tackles and a quarterback sack.

Beller nominated Dominik Jackson as the Defensive Lineman of the Week for his five tackle performance against CHA.

Extension partners to Heal the Harvester

Gail Ellis
Agricultural Communications

In a profession that involves backbreaking labor, life-altering financial decisions and the favor of Mother Nature, farmers and ranchers are especially vulnerable to mental health issues.

The number of Oklahomans who struggle with a mental health condition such as anxiety or depression jumped 25 percent during the pandemic. Other research also published by the Oklahoma-based, non-partisan Healthy Minds Policy Initiative reported the state's rural suicide rate has increased 27 percent since 2017, compared with a 3 percent rise in urban areas.

That's why the Oklahoma Department of Agriculture, Food and Forestry requested help from the Oklahoma State University Center for Health Sciences and OSU Extension to develop Heal the Harvester, a Project ECHO line of assistance for rural Oklahomans. Hundreds of Project ECHO programs worldwide connect community providers with support specialists through virtual sessions on learning and mentorship.

OSU's Project ECHO offers several training courses on topics, such as addiction medicine and pediatric psychiatry.

Heal the Harvester launched in October to help increase awareness of needs and resources to support rural residents experiencing mental health crises.

"Life in agriculture is sometimes tough and isolating," said Blayne Arthur, Oklahoma Secretary of Agriculture. "Producers are certainly some of the most resilient people, but natural disasters, disease, retailer demands, market uncertainties and misconceptions, and a seemingly growing list of other issues, wear on everyone."

While OSU's Project ECHO provides the management and information technology infrastructure of Heal the Harvester, OSU's Jason Beaman facilitates video sessions on mental health education and consultation for Extension educators.

Beaman is chair of psychiatry and behavioral sciences at OSU's Center for Health Sciences and the director of training and education for OSU's Center for Wellness and Recovery.

"Extension educators interacting with farmers and ranchers on the ground is paramount," he said. "When someone comes into a county Extension office with schizophrenia, or a rancher is going to lose his ranch because of alcohol disease, educators can offer information and support. We want to equip educators with the skills to do their daily jobs even better."

The education segment of each biweekly video session involves a 15- to-20-minute lecture followed by designated time for Extension educators to discuss real cases of farmers or ranchers in need of mental health assistance. Beaman answers questions and directs educators to therapists, physicians and other mental health professionals.

Damona Doye, associate vice president of OSU Extension, said helping health care providers reach people in rural areas where access is limited is a blessing to many families. Educators naturally connect with farmers and ranchers, families and youth.

"Addressing mental health issues contributes to our mission of providing practical, research-informed knowledge for communities," Doye said. "We've assisted in this educational area throughout my career, dating back to challenges experienced during the financial crisis. The pandemic has added to everyone's stress, and we want to assist."

Beaman has also conducted research that shows the opioid epidemic, often a factor in mental health struggles, has affected more residents and spread faster in rural counties than any other demographic.

"Farmers and ranchers have a strong work ethic that sometimes works against them," Beaman said. "When they are injured and are instructed to take it easy, they take medication to work through the pain. Opioids block the pain the body uses to signal a need for rest."

As the Heal the Harvester program progresses, Beaman plans to identify three county Extension offices that can offer telemedicine services. Heal the Harvester training is funded through support from ODAFF and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. In addition to the program, Arthur said there are other resources available that also address the unique challenges of production agriculture.

"Reach out, check in, lighten a load, have a conversation with a friend," Arthur said. "We are all in this together."

Dale K. Graham Veterans Foundation

Over the weekend one of our local veterans, Lawrence McKiddy, contacted me about the dedication of a bridge on Thursday, November 11, at 1 p.m. a few miles north of Lexington on highway 77 in honor of his Marine stepbrother, PFC Tommy W Haley who lost his life in Vietnam on May 13, 1967.

He died from wounds received near the Quang tin Tin Province. Tommy was assigned to the 1st Marine Division, 3rd Battalion, 5th Marines, M Company as a Rifleman. I am immensely proud of him and all the men and women who have served or are currently serving in our military.

Veterans Day is a time for us to remember and reflect on the young men and women who made the ultimate sacrifice while serving our country. As several of our volunteers are veterans of the Vietnam War, it means a lot to see some of our military brothers and sisters honored.

We are so happy to announce that Dale K Graham Veterans Foundations' first ever fundraiser was a huge success! We raised over $30,000 to go towards helping veterans! We owe a huge thank you to every sponsor and every player. Each and every one of you have helped to change the lives of our nation's disabled veterans for the better.

Special shout out to Duane Coy, Renada Anderson, Jessica Sifuentes, Chasen Shaw and the Twin Hills Golf Course and Country Club. We could not have done it without you!

As we are continuing to assist more veterans and surviving spouses digitally, an intake event is scheduled for November 15 from 8 a.m. through 12 p.m. By using this type of computer system, we can help them apply for VA benefits without ever leaving their homes or businesses.

Several more volunteers are being trained to help us to alleviate veteran's claims that have not been processed yet. We will continue to add more volunteers until we have enough trained people to process their claims the same day they are submitted to us.

The 2021 Norman Veterans Day Parade and Memorial Ceremony is Sunday, November 14, from 2 to 4:30 p.m. at Reaves Park located at 2501 South Jenkins to honor local veterans and their families. More information is available at the Norman Veterans Day Parade Facebook page.

We appreciate the City of Norman's Veterans Committee for organizing this incredible event to support our veterans. Check out their Facebook page below for more details on the parade!

To donate to our Foundation, you can do so online at dalegrahamveteransfoundation.org or mail a check to Dale K. Graham Veterans Foundation, 1268 N. Interstate Drive, Norman, OK, 73072.

Senior Spotlight

Senior Spotlight: Jamison Holland #9, Jamison is an extremely skilled and talented player. Offensively he runs great routes and has some of the best hands-on the team. Defensively he has a natural ability covering receivers that can't be coached. His football IQ is one of the highest on the team. After high school, Jamison plans to go to college and become an eye doctor. We enjoy watching Jamison play! Go Warriors!

Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church

By Stella Bledsoe

The thirty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time is November 14, 2021. Our liturgical year is ending.

“Of that day or hour, no one knows, neither the angels in heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father.” (Mark 13:32) We are to be watchful and vigilant. Look for signs. Know that the end could come at any time. Be prepared.

November is a time for reflection and it comes in a season of loss. We pray for the souls of the faithful departed. We lower the flag for Veterans Day.

The harvest time is at hand.

We see the leaves falling and the skies darkening and the temperature dropping. We revert to standard time and even lose an hour of sunshine at the end of the already shortening day.

A sense of sadness and gloom could overcome us. But we as Christians have a huge opportunity to drive the darkness away. Daniel 12:3, offers this beautiful image: “The wise shall shine brightly like the splendor of the firmament, and those who lead the many to justice shall be like the stars forever.”

What could we do to shine like the stars forever? Try these: spend time with someone who is alone, comfort someone in pain, listen to someone who is angry, or pray for someone you do not even know.

Green Avenue Church of Christ

The Wednesday evening Bible class examined the lyrics of four more songs in the song book the congregation uses in the light of scripture.

The Sunday morning adult Bible class, continuing a study of racism, looked at some of the terminology used by those promoting Critical Race Theory. The terms “racist,” “not-racist” and “anti-racist” and their definitions were discussed.

During the Sunday morning assembly Keith Shackleford presented a lesson which examined the reign of King Uzziah of Israel. First it was noted from the 26th chapter of Second Chronicles that he became king when he was 16 years old and reigned 52 years.

As long as his teacher, a priest named Zechariah, lived he did what was right in God’s sight and accomplished much. We learned this from Isaiah chapter six. Then he became arrogant like King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon and unfaithful to the Lord.

The Sunday evening message was a close examination of the nature of the Lord’s supper. The lesson noted that the Lord’s supper is a memorial of the crucifixion to be done in remembrance of the actual event (1 Corinthians 11:23-26) not the actual event itself. Jesus’ statement that “this is My body (First Corinthian 11:24),” like His statement that “I am the door (John 10:7, 9),” is figurative.

It was also pointed out that the statement in First Corinthians 11:27 that “whoever eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner will be guilty of sin against the body and blood of the Lord” refers to the worthiness of the manner which it is taken, not the worthiness of the one who partakes.

The final point of the lesson was that the Lord’s supper is to be taken by all Christians on the first day of each week (1 Corinthians 16:2-3, Acts 20:7, Acts 2:42).

The church is located at the intersection of Jackson Street and Green Avenue in Purcell.

Worship services are at 10:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. each Sunday with Bible classes at 9:45 Sunday morning and 7 p.m. each Wednesday evening.

Sunray Baptist Church

We welcomed many visitors to our “High Attendance Sunday.”

Debbie Clark sang “Jesus, He is the Son of God” for the morning special.

Brother David used Malachi 3:6-12 for his sermon.

God wants us to turn from self-sufficiency to a complete confidence in His provision for our lives.

He wants His people to turn their hearts to Him. We should trust the Lord to provide for us. He will provide protect and bless us.

Most everyone stayed to enjoy fellowship and good food at our youth sponsored lunch. Brother David read from Philippians 2:5-11 for his after lunch devotion. These verses tell you what the mind of Christ is. He is both a man and God, having all the attributes of the Father. Jesus is our example and Savior. When we are saved, we are joint heirs of Christ.

There was no evening service.

Our next Food Give Away will be Saturday, November 20, from 12 to 4 p.m. This will be the Saturday before Thanksgiving. We are still asking people to be cautious, since many have not been vaccinated. Masks can be provided if you do not have one, and hand sanitizer is also available.

Today is Veterans Day, when we remember all of our U.S. military veterans both living and dead. This was originally known as Armistice Day. An armistice is a ceasefire signed between two or more parties for the suspension of armed hostilities. The signing parties maintain the state of war between the parties, but suspend hostilities for a period of time.

An armistice is a truce, not a peace treaty. The armistice initially expired after a period of 36 days and had to be extended several times. A formal peace agreement was only reached when the Treaty of Versailles was signed in 1919. Many Western countries and associated nations have since changed the name of the holiday from Armistice Day to Veterans Day. It was changed in the United States in 1954.

Pastor David’s sermon this past Sunday told the story of Desmond Thomas Doss, who was born Feb. 7, 1919 and died March 23, 2006. He was a U.S. Army corporal who served as a combat medic with the 77th Infantry Division in World War II. He was twice awarded the Bronze Star for actions in Guam and the Philippines.

Doss further distinguished himself in the Battle of Okinawa by saving 75 men, becoming the only conscientious objector to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor for his actions during the war. His life is the subject of the documentary “The Conscientious Objector” and the 2016 Oscar-winning film “Hacksaw Ridge.”

In March 1941 he started working as a ship joiner at Newport News shipyard in Virginia. When the U.S. entered the Second World War after the Battle at Pearl Harbor, he volunteered to join the Army despite being given the option of deferment because of his work in the shipyard. He joined the Army on April 1, 1942, in Virginia.

He was a devout Seventh Day Adventist who refused to carry weapons to the battlefield. He staunchly believed in “Thou shalt not kill” and in observing the Sabbath on Saturday, which put him in conflict with his Army superiors from the start of his training days.

He later said that he wanted to help those who were fighting for our country, even though his religious beliefs did not allow him to bear weapons. He preferred to describe himself as a “conscientious cooperator” instead of a “conscientious objector.”

When he enlisted, he refused to carry weapons and had to endure a lot of criticism, ridicule, and bullying at the hands of his colleagues and superiors in the Army because of his religious views. Though he wanted to become a combat medical soldier, i.e. a medic, he was assigned to a rifle company because his superiors wanted him to quit the Army. He was almost court-martialed for refusing a direct order to carry a rifle.

There was also an attempt made to file a “Section 8” charge against him so that he could be discharged from the Army on mental health grounds. However, he survived these attempts and continued his training. In spite of the efforts to force him out of the Army, his superiors finally decided to train him as a combat medic and to exempt him from duty on Saturdays. His selfless dedication to his work earned him the respect of these same people, resulting in his being awarded many medals for his service.

In John 15:13, “Greater love has no one more than this, that someone lay down his life for his friends.” In 1 John 3:16-18, “By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. But if anyone has the world’s goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God’s love abide in him? Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth.”

Doss exemplified these teachings. After he completed his training, his division was assigned to serve on the Eastern Front in Asia to fight the Japanese. He was recognized as a fearless combat medic who did not care for his own life while tending to the injured on the battlefield.

He earned a reputation of going fearlessly into battle to help and evacuate his injured comrades without bothering much about the flying bullets or exploding shells around him. While serving in Guam and the Philippines in 1944, he was awarded a couple of Bronze Stars with a V device for his heroic service and meritorious achievement in battle.

In May 1945, he participated with his platoon in the Battle of Okinawa with the mission to secure “Hacksaw Ridge.” The Japanese had a diabolical plan. They offered minimum resistance until the Americans climbed up the ridge to reach the plateau.

When the Americans successfully reached the plateau, the Japanese launched their counterattack resulting in many casualties. Overall, America lost 12,281 soldiers while 110,000 Japanese troops were killed in the Battle of Okinawa.

In this battle at Hacksaw Ridge, Doss showed no regard for his own safety. He tended to the injured American soldiers on the Ridge and single-handedly lowered each and every soldier from the plateau. He refused to leave a single soldier behind, although his own life was at risk.

He worked continuously for 12 hours amidst heavy gunfire, exploding artillery shells, and hand-to-hand combat to save as many soldiers as he could. He helped rescue at least 75 wounded men, including some Japanese soldiers, by treating their injuries after lowering them down the cliff. The level of courage and endurance Doss demonstrated is beyond the imagination of most of us.

In the New Testament, war is universally seen as evil. Jesus emphasized peace instead of war and advised us to avoid retaliation and revenge, extending love even to our enemies. Unfortunately, that is not the nature of mankind. Too often we look for battle when peace and love are the true solution.

Desmond Doss took his faith in God and made the transition we often face in life with the very character God placed in him. He made that transition with his deeply held beliefs in the value of human life without regard to a particular nationality. He put aside his fears and anger, reaching out to the world in which he lived and made a difference. Can we as Christians really do any differently?

We invite all of you to worship with us at 9:30 a.m. to see how we’re different from other churches. Sunday School starts at 11 a.m. Our address is 631 East Ash, just west of Lexington High School.
