

Power outage Friday, Saturday

A thunderstorm downed a power pole in an obscure location Friday morning cutting power to Purcell for 4.35 hours.

Power was restored to the town about 7:45 a.m. Purcell Electric Department crews were hampered by the location of the pole with no access by bucket truck to work on the damaged lines.

The pole was between Walnut Creek and I-35. Anthony Lamirand and Dillon Gardner had to physically

The hard way

Electric department heroes Dillon Gardner and Anthony Lamirand were forced to climb the pole the old-fashioned way to restore power to Purcell last Friday. The affected pole was between Walnut Creek and I-35 with no way to get a bucket truck close enough to work on the line. Once they came down power was restored after a 4.35 hour outage.

Whoever said it first got it right. It is love, not blood, that defines a family.

Need proof? Consider Angie and Kevin Wren and their son, Devin.

They learned it back in 2017 when Devin was 5-months-old and in need of an emergency weekend placement in a foster home.

The Wrens had decided to become foster parents when their second child started college and they were down to one child at home.

They chose to do emergency placement or respite care to give full-time foster parents

Some people pick a career. For others, the career picks them.

Tammy Lang is the latter. Nursing school was nowhere on her horizon when she graduated from Purcell High School with the Class of 1984.

Unsure what to do after high school, she helped care for her father, Dale Cypert, who had a bad heart.

"Dad was sick his entire life," she recalled.

From 1963 to 1966 or maybe 1968, he was a draftsman for the Oklahoma Department of Transportation during the construction of I-35.

But his declining health forced him to retire. Dale stayed home to care for Tammy and her younger brother, Jerry, so his wife, Sue, could work for GTE Telephone Company in Purcell.

In 1987, Dale was the recipient of a heart transplant. He was the state's 10th such transplant.

As Tammy continued to help care for him, the seeds of a future career were sown and nurtured.

"He lived 10 years with it (new heart)," Tammy said. "There was so much medicine they put him on. He started going downhill after five years."

Dale died April 29, 1997. He was 55.

Right before he died, Tammy went to work for a home health company and obtained her certified nursing assistant license.

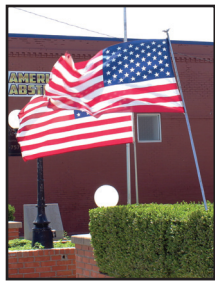

Her decision to pursue a nursing career soon followed.

She enrolled in Mid-America Technology Center's nursing program and graduated as a licensed practical nurse in 2000.

Avoid crop pest invasions with frequent field checks

Alisa Boswell-Gore
Agricultural Communications

As winter wheat is in the midst of being harvested, and summer crops are beginning to be planted, the best thing producers can do to protect their crops is check them regularly. Tom Royer, professor of entomology and integrated pest management (IPM) co-ordinator at Oklahoma State University, said this season of winter wheat has been what he calls the season of the mite. With producers already being in the midst of wheat harvest, mite damage is beyond prevention. “We are now seeing a change in the maturity of wheat, and at this point, there’s not a lot more one can do about mites,” Royer said. “By now, they have cycled out and any virus diseases have already been transmitted into the plants.” With mites no longer being an issue, Royer said the only current pest concern for winter wheat is the wheat head armyworm. “It blends in with the wheat head so much that people sometimes don’t notice it,” Royer said. “It literally chews the seeds, then when a producer harvests the wheat and takes it into an elevator, they declare the kernels as damaged. The official term is insect damaged kernels (IDK), and the wheat gets docked or rejected because of it.” The armyworm, which is a caterpillar, will usually invade anywhere from 5 to 30 feet into the edge of a wheat field. “If a person is looking closely, they can probably do something to knock them back to avoid confusion about kernel stock damage at harvest,” Royer said. As producers transition into summer crops, it’s important to pay more attention to summer crop pests. In July and August,

Summertime weather here

Several rounds of rain have moved through our area lately and it has helped our drought conditions tremendously as we head into the summer months. This week, we’re going to feel the heat as we see our first large stretch of temperatures above 90° for the year. We’ll have a couple showers lingering into the Thursday morning commute, but after that our pattern will remain mostly dry heading into the weekend. This weekend temperatures, will hang in the upper 80s and lower 90s, with some cloud cover to help out. Sunday, southerly winds will pick up and sustain into Monday, where gusts could be 30 plus m.p.h. Also, heat index values Monday could reach as high as 100° for the first time this year. The lower 90s will hang around as we head into next week and as we settle into our summer pattern.

Hundreds of bills passed the Legislature, just a dozen were authored by Democrats

Trevor Brown
Oklahoma Watch

Oklahoma Democrats’ recent struggles at the polls look to be carrying over to their impact at the state Legislature. An Oklahoma Watch review found that of the more than 430 bills making it to the governor’s desk during the four-month session that ended Friday, just a dozen bills had a Democrat as the original lead sponsor. Democrats introduced almost 600 bills (excluding shell bills that do not contain substantive language) during the last two sessions. With just 40 passing, including 12 this year, Democrats saw a legislative success rate of just 6.7 percent. Republicans, meanwhile, introduced almost 3,150 bills (again not counting shell bills) during that span. Nearly 1,000 made it through the full Legislature, earning the GOP a 32 percent success rate. This comes as Republicans have steadily increased their dominance in the Legislature. The GOP holds historic majorities in the Senate and House, occupying more than 81 percent of the Legislature’s 149 seats. That wasn’t always the case. Democrats held control over the House and Senate as recently as the mid 2000s. Almost every election cycle since then, Republicans have picked up seats, leading to their current historic super-majority position. Oklahoma Watch’s analysis categorized bills by lead author on the original version. Many bills have lawmakers sign on as co-sponsors after they are introduced. It’s not unusual to have bipartisan sponsors by the time bills are in their final form. But the data offers a look at some of the impacts on the legislative process as Republicans have solidified their influence in the Legislature. Even comparing the last two years to the decade preceding, Republicans have seen their impact grow in the type of bills that have passed and sheer quantity. During the 2011 and 2022 producers need to be wary of other species of armyworms – such as the fall armyworm – appearing in their crops, damaging sorghum and wheat planted early in the fall.

“A lot of the pests that come in the summertime, you just have to be aware of them and be checking your fields so that you know when they’re starting to build,” Royer said. “You have to use more corrective tactics than preventative and just keep your fingers crossed that you don’t have to correct.” Royer said producers usually have suppliers and custom applicators who are available to provide them with the appropriate insecticide resources to correct pest problems.

“Producers need to be looking at their crops regularly and not always be assuming that drought is the only problem they have,” Royer said.

Watch:

legislative sessions, lawmakers passed more than double the number of Democratic-led legislation as the previous two years. In both time frames, Republicans held solid majorities in both chambers. But the size of that majority seems to dictate how many GOP-led versus Democratic-led bills made it through.

This year saw the passage of the nation’s strictest abortion ban, an anti-transgender bathroom bill and a $9.7 billion budget that rejected Democrats’ goals to eliminate the state’s grocery sales tax, reform court fees and costs and increase funding for education and other areas.

Bills that have found success in bluer states, meanwhile, such as measures to increase the minimum wage, add more early-voting times and add police reforms died without committee debate or votes in Oklahoma’s Legislature.

With such a small minority, Democratic lawmakers were unable to stop votes they opposed and did little to push big changes though the Legislature.

Of the 12 Democratic-led bills making it to the governor’s office, the list hardly mirrors claims by some in the Republican party that the left is pushing a “woke” agenda.

It includes bills making the Lyric Theatre as the official theater of Oklahoma, removing a rule that allows court clerks to collect fees for language interpreter services in criminal cases and requiring insurance companies to cover diagnostic mammograms ordered by a physician.

Rep. Melissa Provenzano, D-Tulsa, who authored the diagnostic mammogram bill, was joined by Rep. Brenda Stanley, R-Midwest City in sponsoring that bill. Provenzano said this shows that lawmakers can bridge the Republican-Democratic divide and pass meaningful legislation that helps Oklahomans.

“Decisions about women’s health care are made in the Legislature, and we must increase this representation,” she said. “I am proud of the work of my colleagues on both sides of the aisle who cast political affiliation aside to support this life-saving initiative.”

But elsewhere Democrats made it clear that they were frustrated by Republican leaders pushing legislation through without consulting them.

Minority Leader Emily Virgin, D-Norman, said earlier this month that Democrats and the public continue to be shut out of budget debates.

“While it is true that there are meeting and agency presentations that are public, we all know in this body that the real writing of the budget happens behind closed doors,” she said.

These complaints are nothing new.

Senate Minority Leader Kay Floyd, D-Oklahoma City, joked at the end of the 2021 session that among Democrats’ top accomplishments was just surviving.

“Is it frustrating? Some days more than others,” she said on the final day of that session. “Would I like to see more (Democratic) members? Of course I would, but this is where we are right now.”

Floyd said Democrats continued to play a role in shaping other legislation and working across the aisle on several measures.

“When you consider our size, I think we outperform quite often,” she said. “Our debates are pointed, they are researched and even though we can’t sway a vote, it doesn’t mean our constituents aren’t being heard and it doesn’t mean we can’t sway public opinion on occasion.”

Floyd added that, at times unlike the GOP majority, Democrats tend to provide a unified front that can boost their influence.

“We usually vote as a unit,” she said. “It’s not because of any pressure or anything, it’s just how our constituents think.”

I'm about ready for fall and some cooler temperatures. The only problem is we're just at mid-June.

The Oklahoma Department of Transportation has some work to do right here in River City.

The cable barrier, which by the way is a real life saver, needs tending to.

By its looks, it has been getting a real workout.

But ODOT needs to shore it up.

Between here and Norman there are at least 20 spots where the barrier is damaged or down.

That's simply not safe.

When it comes to intelligence gathering most of us think of the CIA and the FBI.

Those are definitely two of them but I learned from our congressional delegation at the Oklahoma Press Association meeting last weekend that there are 14 other agencies in the United States that gather intelligence.

Only three out of Oklahoma's five congressional seats were present with Tom Cole and Kevin Hern absent.

The three present were Stephanie Bice, Markwayne Mullin and Frank Lucas.

They reported the biggest and most time-consuming portion of their briefings is about right wing terrorists while turning a blind eye to the rest of the world problems.

They also explained how we got into the mess of 8.58 percent inflation.

They said it was due to the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP), that was enacted as part of the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES Act).

That provided small businesses with approximately $800 billion in low-interest uncollateralized loans from April 3, 2020, through May 31, 2021.

The congressmen and woman said it flooded the market with cash to purchase goods and services but the goods and services were not as plentiful causing a supply and demand price increase.

Bice said the problem is two fold.

First, the current administration's energy policies. U.S. oil production is hampered. That, coupled with Russia's invasion of Ukraine, has them negotiating with Iran and Venezuela for oil land gas.

What a pair of nations to draw to.

She said it should be domestic oil we're using and not from a dictator or socialist state.

A Father and a child can make a great family

By Dr. Glenn Mollette

Father's Day is coming one more time and you still have a chance at having a great family.

Fathers like most all people have good days and bad days. They have great seasons of life and some that are more difficult. Few fathers will look back over their lives and say, "Every day I was a perfect dad." Some days were better than others.

We all feel bad about the seasons of our lives when we had to work too much. Working all the time depletes energy we would prefer to spend on our families.

The problem is that like most fathers we want to keep a roof over our heads and food in the refrigerator. Making car payments, house payments, and all the basic things of life typically keep most dads and moms very busy.

Even in a home filled with love and patience the average dad lives a juggling life. He is pulled between work, kid's ballgames, meeting the needs of his wife and housework.

Add to this school meetings, homework, fishing, piano lessons, family events, all while trying to maintain and add to his career.

Most of us looking back can think of some endeavors or activities we wish we had let go in order to spend more time with our families. For some weird reason at the time they seemed all so important but now they feel like wasted time.

Throughout life the way we typically learn is the hard way. Education is always expensive. Our vision is 20/20 looking back. People tell us what we will regret and what we should do but we rarely believe them. When we get past the "fifty-five" mark of life we start to realize what the "old timers" told us was true.

You know how it is because you probably tell your kids about what is right and wrong and what they will appreciate or regret. In most cases they don't pay much attention to you.

The only season of being a father that you have is this one. No future is guaranteed and yesterday is gone. You do have today. Have a loving and forgiving heart. Extend grace and a second, third or fourth chance.

Try to spend time with those you love. You are probably finding out now that your grown children are too busy for you. They have lives of their own and you may not be a priority. It hurts some but they probably are being like you used to be. Don't lose sleep over this but be available and reach out as you are able.

Finally, you have to be more than the human ATM machine. You can't buy your children's affection for the rest of your life. Every parent wants to help their children but the best thing

NEWS FROM CAPITOL HILL

More inaction on inflation

Congressman Tom Cole

In his recent op-ed in the Washington Post, President Joe Biden claimed to have a "plan" for fighting our country's historic inflationary crisis.

Not only is this reaction too little too late, it also is out of touch and provides no new or sound policies to address skyrocketing prices, labor shortages and supply chain challenges. It is an abdication of executive authority and responsibility.

First, the president claims that his administration has "helped achieved the most robust recovery in modern history" and created more than 8 million jobs. This is simply inaccurate.

Democrats' so-called $2 trillion coronavirus stimulus discouraged work and severely exacerbated an already shaky economy caused by the pandemic.

Yes, the unemployment rate is trending down, and the jobs report shows jobs are being filled. However, these are jobs lost during the pandemic. That is, President Biden is not creating any new jobs. Additionally, a severe worker shortage still exists.

In fact, according to the latest Bureau of Labor Statistics Job Opening and Labor Turnover Survey, small businesses are still looking to fill nearly 5.5 million job openings – nearly two job openings per one job seeker.

Next, President Biden claims that "the U.S. is in a better economic position than any other country." While inflation certainly is occurring in several other countries worldwide, prices have been increasing at a much faster pace in the U.S. than in other western nations. Moreover, a recent report by the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco found that almost half the nation's 2021 annual price increase resulted from the federal government's spending response. This government overspending forms the basis of his claim that Americans are saving more than ever; but it is not private funds, and it is directly contributing to inflation.

To compare, consumer prices were up 8.6 percent in our country in March from a year earlier. In Germany, prices rose 7.6 percent in the same period and in the UK, prices rose 7 percent. The rate at which we are outpacing our global peers certainly demonstrates that inflation is a U.S. problem.

Many of these issues could be solved if the Biden Administration ended its war on

Population error

Dear John D. and Gracie,
Stop the presses. Hold your Heart of Oklahoma horses. John D.'s Editor's Notebook has a grievous error in his June 9th column that could rattle the economic, social and political decisions of thousands upon thousands of area citizens!

Not really. However, as a stickler for accuracy in articles written by others - but usually not so much in my own - I must point out a major numeric mistake in the editor's last paragraph in said column of the 9th.

Mr. Montgomery penned that the population of Norman currently is 292,558. However, another authority, that being the federal Census Bureau, claims, as of 2020, it is only 124,086, an error of something around 168,472.

Not to worry. John D. has never claimed to be a perfect mathematician. We only require that impossible standard of our hard working election board secretaries and woe to any one of them that occasionally misses the mark.

When that happens who knows the consequences. Some fool may even claim the election in question is rigged, causing riots to break out in the streets, activation of the National Guard and the fall of democracy as we know it.

Not really. Americans are not that gullible...are they?

Fighting illegal marijuana grows

When I'm traveling in House District 42, I continually hear from constituents who are concerned about the prevalence of unlicensed marijuana grows in their communities. Addressing these illegal actions were a top priority for me this session.

One of the biggest bills we tackled this year was Senate Bill 1543, which separates the Oklahoma Medical Marijuana Authority (OMMA) from the State Department of Health (OSDH).

This makes it a separate and distinct state agency so OMMA can more effectively complete their work. The measure gives OMMA the authority to investigate violations of criminal medical marijuana laws, seize illegally held product, refer evidence, reports, or charges to appropriate law enforcement authorities, and aid enforcement authorities in prosecutions of violations of the Oklahoma Medical Marijuana and Patient Protection Act.

Another major bill was House Bill 3208. It directs OMMA to establish a two-year moratorium on issuing business licenses for dispensaries, processors, and commercial growers beginning August 1, 2022.

Licensure renewals will be accepted during this moratorium. The executive director of OMMA may end the moratorium at any time if they determine all pending licensing reviews, inspections, or investigations have been completed.

HB3208 also prohibits change in ownership of a business if the licensee has a current violation that may necessitate revocation, suspension, or nonrenewal of the license. This moratorium was a suggestion from the Legislative Office of Fiscal Transparency (LOFT) last year to help OMMA catch up on their many pending licensing investigations.

Senate Bill 1511 prohibits any medical marijuana commercial grower from being within 1,000 feet of any public or private school, as measured from the nearest property line of the school to the nearest property line of the licensed grow operation.

House Bill 2179 separates the medical marijuana grower license into tiers, distinguished by two categories: indoor, greenhouse, or light deprivation, and outdoor.

The initial license fee will be calculated based on the total amount of square feet of canopy or acres the grower estimates will be harvested for the year. The annual license fee will be based on the total amount of square feet of canopy harvested by the grower during the previous year.

The medical marijuana processor license is also separated into tiers based on pounds of cannabis biomass and liters of cannabis concentrate.

On Monday, June 13, the Legislature will adjourn the special session called by the Governor to eliminate the state sales tax on groceries and re-

PLS kicks off Summer Learning Challenge

The time is now—explore oceans of possibilities at your library with Pioneer Library System's Summer Learning Challenge 2022!

Seasoned participants will know it as SLC, and that it's a fantastic way to continue learning during the summer months.

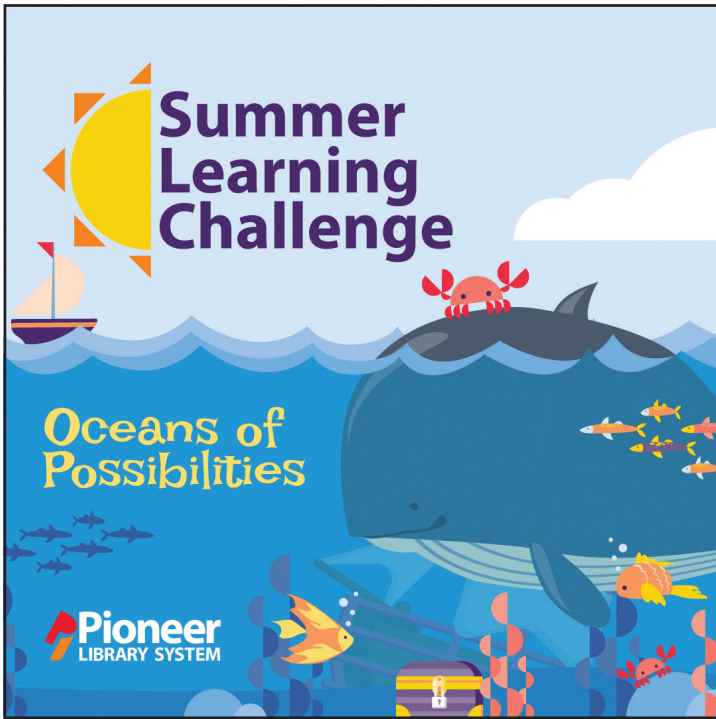

Ashley Welke, Director of Community Engagement & Learning at PLS, knows just how crucial this time of year is for students.

"Summer is such an important time! Our goal with SLC is to prevent summer learning loss and engage community members of all ages in connecting, reading, and learning. Research shows that students who fall behind over the summer are less likely to graduate from high school or go on to college,"

Participants complete the SLC upon reaching 1,000 points and can select items from their library's treasure chest at 250, 500, and 750 points. Those signed up in the Early Childhood, Child, and Teen categories also get a free book at 1,000 points.

For each age category, every 1,000 points logged will earn an entry for the grand prize drawing!

Grand prizes at each branch will include Blockaroo Magnetic Foam Builders for Early Childhood, STEM robot building kits and Lego Classic brick boxes or fort building kits for the Child category, Remali CaptureCam 4K camera kits for the Teen group, and Samsung Galaxy tablets for the Adult category.

Welke shared.

SLC is not only for younger students, however. With categories for Early Childhood, Child, Teen, and Adult, this is one summer activity for the whole family to enjoy!

The program will run through August 15, and the SLC encourages participants to log their time spent reading, learning, or at library events, both in-person and virtual. Once logged, one minute of learning becomes one point, and that point goes towards a community goal of 7 million points!

Upon smashing the community goal, the Pioneer Library System Foundation will donate books to children enrolled in WIC programs throughout the PLS service area of Cleveland, McClain, and Pottawatomie counties.

Wondering what's in it for you and yours? So much! Apart from staying sharp, learning new things, and giving back to the community, participants can continue logging those points to earn prizes!

The SLC is about much more than prizes, however, librarian Kim Zahller reminds her customers.

"The best thing about the SLC is the fact that your brain is engaged in one of the healthiest activities one can imagine—an activity that is building sophisticated pathways in the brain, igniting imagination, expanding vocabulary, improving empathy, concentration, and social-emotional skills!" said Zahller, a 25-year SLC veteran at PLS.

"Not only that, when grown-ups read to children, play games with them, help them with experiments, take them to zoos and museums and parks or learn a new skill with them, it also strengthens bonds and encourages play, which is children's most underrated mode of learning," Zahller concluded.

New state law on youth tobacco possession will allow for more effective prevention

Officials at the Tobacco Settlement Endowment Trust (TSET) and TSET Healthy Living Program in McClain County staff praised the signing of a new state law that will modify youth purchase, use or possession (PUP) laws to hold the tobacco industry responsible for their efforts to addict children.

PUP laws were passed in the 1990s to reduce youth access to tobacco, but the policies did not stop retailers from illegally selling tobacco products to children.

The new law will eliminate fines for youth caught with tobacco and instead require them to attend a course about tobacco addiction through the Alcoholic Beverage Laws Enforcement (ABLE) Commission. The new law also requires parents to be notified.

“Penalizing children is not effective in reducing youth tobacco use,” said Julie Bisbee, TSET executive director. “Interventions that provide young people the tools they need to quit are much more effective. This new law restores the burden of responsibility to those who illegally sell tobacco products to children. I want to thank the Legislature and Gov. Stitt for protecting Oklahoma youth from Big Tobacco.”

Bisbee noted an American Heart Association survey showed 75 percent of youth who tried to buy tobacco products reported they were not refused sale.

The tobacco industry spends $137 million every year marketing their products in Oklahoma, and 27.8 percent of Oklahoma high school students have reported vaping at least once in the past 30 days.

Clerks caught selling to tobacco to those under 21 years old could still face a $100 fine for a first offense.

According to Ariel Anglin, the law will provide more effective enforcement and tobacco-

ODOT receives $41.5 million loan to speed rural highway construction

NancyMarieSpears

Narrow state highways in eight Oklahoma counties are to be repaved and widened under a $41.5 million loan of federal funds to the state highway department.

The low interest loan to the Oklahoma Department of Transportation will fund nearly half of the $85.97 million needed to make nearly 35 miles of highways safer in Bryan, Caddo, Ellis, Harper, Kingfisher, McClain, Pontotoc and Pittsburg counties.

“The loan will help ODOT build more projects now and then pay them off during the next 20 years at a very favorable interest rate,” said Cody Boyd, a spokesman for the Oklahoma Department of Transportation. “With construction costs expected to continue to rapidly increase, this initiative will help deliver the safety benefits of added paved shoulders on rural two-lane highways quicker and at a lower cost to taxpayers.”

The U.S. Department of Transportation’s Rural Projects Initiative provides 49 percent of the funding for eligible projects as opposed to the 33 percent the federal government typically provides.

Boyd said the additional money provided by the federal loan “frees up ODOT funding to be used on other two-lane highways.”

The U.S. transportation department intends for its funds to pay for adding 8-foot shoulders and asphalt to nearly 27 miles of highway in addition to 6.7 miles of roadway construction.

Oklahoma Public Safety’s most recent “Highway Safety Crash Facts Book” shows that in 2020 rural crashes in Okla-control measures.

“Many youth smokers are addicted and need help to quit tobacco successfully,” said Anglin, McClain County Healthy Living Program Manager. “Rather than treating these children like wrongdoers, our youth access laws should focus on enforcing restrictions on sales to minors. The most successful youth access approaches incorporate rigorous enforcement with programs that provide children with the resources they need to quit. I’m grateful to the Legislature and governor for this much-needed reform.”

Anglin added, “The new law will better support their community retailer education efforts to prevent the sale of tobacco products to young people. With tobacco companies luring younger customers with candy-like flavors and youth-focused marketing, implementing effective strategies to protect youth from a lifetime of nicotine addiction are more important than ever.”

In counties across Oklahoma, TSET Healthy Living Program grantees are educating retailers and working with them to reduce and prevent the sale of tobacco and vaping products to youth under the age of 21.

That work is happening in coordination with the ABLE Commission, the Oklahoma State Department of Health and the Oklahoma Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services.

Future efforts will engage local law enforcement to understand the number of violations and help educate partners, stakeholders, policy makers and the public about the important role retailers play to ensure youth don’t illegally obtain tobacco.

TSET grantees are also working with local governments to update city ordinances to mirror state laws that prohibit the sale of tobacco products to people under the age of 21.

Cities can also adopt ordinances that mirror state law in prohibiting tobacco or vapor retailers within 300 feet of a playground, school or other facility primarily used by persons under 21 years of age.

TSET also provides cessation coaching through My Life, My Quit, a program that offers teens ages 13-17 a variety of free tools and resources to help them quit.

Each teen is helped by trained staff via text, phone or web-based coaching.

Teens can enroll online and learn more about the program at MyLifeMyQuit.com, or text 36072 for real-time coaching.

Tobacco Stops With Me, also a program of TSET, provides information to Oklahomans on how to protect their families and communities against the harms of tobacco and improve the health of all Oklahomans.

ODOT:

homa accounted for roughly 25 percent of total crashes statewide. Despite representing a minority of the statewide crashes, rural crashes accounted for 60 percent of statewide crashes that ended in fatalities.

“Oklahoma has 5,300 miles of two-lane highways with deficient shoulders, which is a significant safety concern for drivers,” said Boyd. “ODOT’s Eight-Year Construction Work Plan includes improvements to 1,013 miles of two-lane highways.”

Oklahoma was one of the first states to take advantage of the federal Rural Project Initiative that is designed to accelerate rural, two-lane improvement projects already in the state’s Eight-Year construction plan.

The focus of the Rural Project Initiative is to develop transportation infrastructure in rural communities by making loans more accessible to small communities.

“The Bureau’s RPI provides flexibility to deliver much-needed improvements sooner with very favorable financing terms,” said Bureau Executive Director Morteza Farajian in a statement. “This is our fifth RPI loan closed at half the Treasury rate, which saves project sponsors money and avoids escalating costs that make the projects more and more unattainable.” The current treasury rate is 2.88 percent.

The Federal Highway Administration released findings stating nationwide roughly 40 percent of county roads are inadequate for current travel and 38,000 rural bridges longer than 20 feet are structurally deficient.

Oklahoma’s investment in infrastructure has been a focus for over a decade. Oklahoma is currently ranked as the No. 7 state for highway bridge conditions. A dramatic shift from the state’s 2004 ranking of No. 49.

ODOT’s investment in the widening of shoulders and resurfacing of asphalt would give drivers space to remedy errors or safely pull over during emergencies.

“Over the last five years, 38 percent of all serious and fatal crashes in Oklahoma have occurred on rural roads with no shoulders,” said Deputy Transportation Secretary Polly Trottenberg in a statement.

Neighbor:

She worked one year at Purcell Municipal Hospital before Dr. Rick Schmidt offered her a job in his practice..

She took the job and has been with Schmidt ever since.

There is one other nurse—RN Cheryl King – in the office.

Both nurses share the tasks generated by the practice – taking x-rays, drawing labs, checking patients in, etc.

It is an ideal fit for Tammy.

“I like the people, the interaction when someone needs help,” she said. “I’ve made a lot of good friends there.”

The downside (if there is one) is “telling someone they have cancer or a family member isn’t doing well,” she added.

Although she considered additional schooling to become an RN, Tammy knows that is not for her.

“I am doing what I love to do.

I’m close to home and satisfied with my life,” she said.

Some patients Tammy has known ever since she started working for Dr. Schmidt.

It’s not an exaggeration when Tammy says she “feels their happiness, their pain.”

Tammy met Barry Lang in 1986 while dragging Main Street.

They dated for two years before getting married in 1988 and settling on a couple of acres by the river at Rosedale.

Her commute is an easy 20 minutes.

Barry has a construction company and vegetable stand.

Tammy leaves the horticulture to Barry.

“I’ll pick them if I have to cook them,” she said of the produce.

But that isn’t strictly true.

Tammy hates snakes and has balked at entering the garden after encountering a rattlesnake there one day.

She and Barry have two adult children. Kasia, 33, is assistant manager at Cato’s in Purcell and Jeffrey, 31, works for a construction company in Norman.

There are also two grandchildren, Brantley Lang, 10, and Dallas Brooks, 7.

“Brantley and his mom live with us,” Tammy said, adding she and Barry are also raising their 3-year-old niece, Corrine Cooper.

In addition, McAdoo said, the district partners with the Department of Homeland Security for independent safety audits every other year.

In the future, McAdoo said, the district will meet quarterly with the Purcell Police Department to discuss safety concerns and run drills.

Ten projects to spruce up Purcell’s schools have started or will begin soon.

Those projects are new flooring in the elementary and intermediate school cafeterias, floor refinishing and carpet cleaning at the high school, refinishing the gymnasium floor at the high school, roof repair at the intermediate and high schools, painting the cafeteria/commons area at the high school, installing outdoor walk-in freezer at the intermediate school, adding new furniture at the elementary school and adding a new big toy at the intermediate school playground.

Board members approved the brief agenda, including:

- a TSA trip to national competition June 28-30 in Dallas;

- $38,342 purchase of intermediate school playground equipment $38,342 in playground equipment from Noah’s Park and Playground’

- district’s Return to Learn Plan through 2024, and

- student transfer capacity numbers for the 2022-23 school year.

New hires for the 2022-23 school year were also approved following an executive session.

Those are Kelton Clary, junior high science (pending certification); Shandra Elmore, high school secretary/registrar; Susan Bennett, high school paraprofessional; Hilary Venegas, junior high office assistant; Katrina Wilkins, first grade; Brian McCalip, 8th grade social studies and assistant coach football and track and Kristy Behrens, junior high paraprofessional.

Also, Leigh Ann McGregor, junior high library assistant; Toney Cooper, head girls basketball coach; Ricky Hammer, high school assistant principal/athletic director; Shelly McGowen, director of special services; Samantha Resendiz, high school English (pending certification) and Matt Maral, custodian/maintenance.

In other personnel action, the board reassigned Brandy Black from intermediate school paraprofessional to second grade teacher and approved five resignations/retirements.

Those were Amber Hines, junior high library aide; Cody Weaver, junior high social studies; Jaci Lemieux, first grade; Hailey Thurston, junior high paraprofessional, and Julia Arnold, elementary teacher.

Four patrons signed up to address the board including Bryan Johnson, Angela Pliler, Tracy Faust and Jeff Page.

Johnson spoke of bullying in the district and mentioned the fact that a group of parents ran off a coach.

Pliler told the board she has tried every way possible to get her children transferred to another school due to the bullying here.

“The bullying gets worse and the education gets worse,” Pliler said.

Pliler spoke for Faust and Page gave an update on the booster club.

Page said the booster club has met with the administration and every head coach.

He reported there is now an app for football fans to order from the concession stand cutting down on lines. He also said all the financials are on quick books among other things.

Embezzlement

Couple face two counts each

Jeanne Grimes
The Purcell Register

The Oklahoma Attorney General’s office filed two counts of embezzlement against a husband and wife who failed to perform work for which they were paid.

The charges were filed last month in McClain County District Court by the AG’s Consumer Protection Unit.

Arrest warrants are outstanding for Ricardo M. Trinidad, 61, and Ruth Ann Trinidad, 60.

According to an affidavit, the charges stem from two incidents in March 2021.

Ricardo Trinidad was doing business as Ricardo Chavez when he quoted Timothy Jones of Wayne $11,000 to do concrete work for an outbuilding at Jones’ home.

Jones paid $3,500 cash upfront to Ruth Trinidad, who gave him a receipt. Work was to begin one week later.

The couple never returned to do the work and ceased all communication with Jones.

In the second incident, Ricardo Trinidad quoted Scottie Hogue of Purcell $16,500 to build a concrete driveway at Hogue’s home.

Hogue agreed to pay for the work in phases, giving Ruth Trinidad a $5,000 check that day and a $5,700 check to purchase concrete supplies the following day.

Although Ricardo Trinidad set some forms and rebar the first day, he never returned and again ceased all communication.

Hogue then hired another contractor to complete the job. That contractor estimated the preparation work done by Ricardo Trinidad was worth approximately $1,000, according to the affidavit.

A 46-year-old Purcell man is free on $20,000 bond after prosecutors charged him in McClain County District Court with neglect by caretaker.

A preliminary hearing conference for Justin Gamble will be at 9 a.m. July 27.

According to an affidavit, police were called last month to make a welfare check on an elderly woman at 1001 W. Adams.

Gamble admitted police and directed them to his mother’s bedroom.

Carolyn Rowland was found laying on the floor in the doorway. She was nude except for a soiled disposable diaper, according to the affidavit. The officer reported Rowland was unable to speak and could barely raise her arms.

When asked how long she had been on the floor, Gamble reportedly said “since yesterday morning.”

According to the affidavit, Gamble said he didn’t know what to do and so didn’t call 911.

The officer reported an odor of alcohol on Gamble’s breath and said he appeared to be intoxicated.

Mr. Willis passed away Thursday, June 9, 2022.

Charles DeWayne Willis was born September 16, 1953 in Council Bluffs, Iowa, the younger of two children born to Charles Livingston Willis and Ida Margaret (Smith) Willis. He was raised in Council Bluffs and attended school there. By age 16, the Willis family settled in Oklahoma near Afton.

Love:

The couple had cared for two short-term foster placements.

And then late at night on a Friday – St. Patrick’s Day – a call came from a caseworker. Could they take a 5-month-old infant for the weekend?

“We knew nothing about him,” she explained.

Other than the telling fact that he’d been in foster care since birth, that is. Also, he has older siblings, all of whom were in the foster home system.

But that fateful night, case-workers had lost all contact with his biological mother.

The reality, Angie explained, sunk in during the drive to Norman at 10 p.m. to pick up an infant and was confirmed at 3 a.m. when he was fussing in his crib instead of sleeping.

“I forgot every word to every song I knew,” she said.

So she made up songs of nonsense words and sang him to sleep.

The Wrens had been told that the baby couldn’t hold anything down and promptly threw up whatever he swallowed.

They tried different formulas until they found one he could keep down.

They took to calling him Baby D.

A caseworker came to the Wren home on March 20 to retrieve Devin and was shocked that he was eating without throwing up.

When she said they would try to get him a permanent placement in the next few days, Kevin spoke up.

“I think he should stay here,” he said and it was settled.

That summer, the Department of Human Services started procedures to terminate the mother’s parental rights.

The caseworker asked if the Wrens would be willing to adopt the baby.

Angie voiced concerns if they were too old or too white.

“You are the bonded parents to him,” the caseworker said.

It was a record-setting adoption, finalized in Oklahoma

County on Dec. 28, 2017.

It was, Angie said, the best day ever.

With his new last name, they decided their new son needed a new first name as well. Keeping the letter D, they settled on Devin since that is close to Kevin. Their three biological children insisted on Trey for a middle name since he is the third son in the family.

Their oldest, Colton, is 28 and works with his father in the family’s construction business.

He and wife Laney, have two children, Beckham, 4, and Josie, 2.

Daughter Riley is 24 and a law student at the University of Oklahoma. She is married to Brennon Barger.

The youngest is Avery. The 17-year-old will be a senior at Purcell High School.

It amuses Angie that Devin is barely older than his nephew and niece.

The Wrens are guarded where Devin is concerned. They have learned to stay away from prejudiced folks who can’t accept a black son in a white family.

At some point, Angie sat down and in a couple of days wrote a children’s book about a black baby and a white mother.

“The older kids and I were going to illustrate it ourselves,” she said. “But we were either too busy or not creative enough. So I talked to Mr. Corea.”

The high school art teacher agreed to illustrate the book, using pictures of the family as a guide.

“It took a few months,” Angie said.

Unsure where to turn to find a publisher, Angie contacted a former student who’d had a book published.

The student recommended her publisher, Atmosphere Press in Austin, Texas.

“The editing didn’t change much of it,” she said, “and there was very little tweaking on the illustration part.”

“I Got You” is the title and Angie is donating a share of the book proceeds to Kehila Park Foster Care Community in Sulphur and the Oklahoma City Crisis Nursery.

News of the book has been spread on social media and through friends.

Though Angie did do one book signing at Savvy Park in downtown Purcell, she admits she isn’t very comfortable with book promotions.

The Wrens are no longer foster parents, a decision that left Angie feeling guilty. She promised the caseworker that she was always willing to recruit others.

“It is difficult to foster and work full time,” she said.

As for Devin, now 5, he sailed through pre-K and will start kindergarten this fall.

He loves sports, especially his T-ball team and watching the Purcell Dragons on the gridiron. He loves the beach and any opportunity for a swim. Any spare time is spent practicing basketball.

Race day registration will begin at 6:30 a.m. The entry fee for each runner will be $25.

You can get a registration form on Facebook@Heart of Oklahoma Lake Run.

The first 100 registrants will be guaranteed a T-shirt commemorating the run.

Checks should be made payable to the Purcell Public School Foundation.

There will be the opportunity for local businesses, churches, civic organizations, etc., to enter five person relay teams.

The cost for a corporate team is $100 and for a non-corporate team the fee will be $50. The 5K Relay is the championship relay for the state of Oklahoma.

Relay teams will be taken to their particular leg or kilometer marker prior to the beginning of the race. There will be one water station on the course at the half-way point.

After the race, awards will be given to overall male and female runners, as well as the overall masters runner which will be over 64.

There will also be an opportunity for all that attend the event to be entered into the door prize drawings. One of the really big things for this run is that there will be homemade ice cream for everyone to enjoy.

The Wayne Fire department will also be providing smoked sausage sandwiches to all in attendance.

Proceeds of this year’s run will benefit the Purcell High School Track and Cross Country Teams. These teams receive limited funds from the school district and the proceeds from this run help make up that shortfall.

The coaches are able to purchase warmups, shorts and other needed equipment for their runners.

“Bring a friend and get some exercise and help us support this worthy cause,” said organizer Dr. Rick Schmidt.

Go tobacco free

With Father’s Day approaching, the Oklahoma Tobacco Helpline (OTH), a program of the Tobacco Settlement Endowment Trust (TSET), is encouraging fathers to take a powerful step toward reclaiming their health by quitting tobacco.

The Helpline offers free services to assist Oklahomans on their quitting journey, including access to free text and email support.

Plus, those who sign up for the Helpline’s All Access plan before June 30 will get eight weeks of patches, gum or lozenges and five Quit Coach calls for free. That’s four times more than traditionally offered.

Tobacco remains a serious problem among Oklahoma men. More than 20 percent report being smokers and nearly 14 percent use smokeless tobacco. Male tobacco users are at higher risk of developing numerous health problems, including cancers, heart disease, lung diseases and diabetes.

Firefighter and father Shaun Pryor of Edmond was a smoker and smokeless tobacco user for many years. After suffering a heart attack in his early 30s, he began his journey to a tobacco-free life, thanks to his son’s urging.

With the help of free services provided by OTH, Pryor was able to successfully quit. After seeing the improvements in his father’s health, his son has also become a proud advocate for tobacco-free living.

“The people I talked to when I called 1-800-QUIT NOW were so encouraging – I had people in my corner that I didn’t expect,” Pryor said. “Now my son has joined me in speaking out against young kids vaping and staying smokefree. He’s become

Dale K. Graham Veterans Foundation
One of the reasons so many people are requesting our help with their VA benefits is the extreme increases in the cost of everything that we buy. Yesterday I stopped for gas in my F-150 and it cost me over $100 and did not fill it up. I do not know about you but being on a fixed income we will have to make some changes in what we buy and where we go.
We are encouraging all veterans and surviving spouses to consider filing a claim for the VA benefits they may be eligible to receive. A veteran or surviving spouse can start a claim for VA benefits by calling 1-800-827-1000 and telling the agent that you want to start a claim. By doing this you will have one year to file a fully developed claim for benefits from the date the call was made.
Our volunteers are working extremely hard to process all of the claims of veterans and their families who have asked us to help them with their claims for benefits. We are always looking for other caring people to join us as a volunteer to help us make a difference in the lives of the men and women who have served in the military of this United States of America.
We are partnering with Tinker Federal-Credit Union to host a 2-part financial literacy series at our Foundation. The goal is to educate and empower veterans until all have the financial stability they and their families deserve.
If you have questions about the saving and investing please register for the seminar held Friday, July 22nd: Saving & Investing Workshop <https://airtable.com/shrxGiDVx-HZzekGji>. Limited seating is available.
Please remember volunteer training is available either online or in person for most every volunteer position we have. Volunteers have the option of working from home or at our location in Norman at 1233 West Lindsay Street.
We are a 501c-3 non-profit organization and there is never a charge for the services we provide to veterans and their families. We do accept financial contributions to be used to support veterans and this organization. We also accept donations of wheelchairs and other types of handicap equipment that can be given to other veterans or their families. Other items that we accept are cars, trucks, motorcycles, or items that can be given to veterans or sold to raise funds.
We are open to active clients Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to noon each day.
To donate to our Foundation, you can do so online at dalekgrahamveteransfoundation.org or mail a check to Dale K. Graham Veterans Foundation, 1233 West Lindsay, Norman, OK, 73069. You can contact us on our website or by calling 405-550-8806.

Flowers in remembrance

Every day at the Foundation, we get reminders of why we serve the Veterans Community. Our nation's veterans continue to work and sacrifice for the greater good of our community and our country even after service. We were recently made aware of three separate veterans who asked that donations be made to the Foundation en lieu of flowers at their funeral services, and two more who left us a gift in their will. These are men and women who, even in their final moments, were thinking more about their brothers and sisters in arms than themselves. It is truly humbling to be able to work with such kind, courageous, and honorable people. We have placed flowers in our office in honor of these veterans. Their memory and impact will not be forgotten.

but also for their support of Mid-America to help make the Lineworker program the best in the state.”
MATC’s Lineworker Technology program trains high-voltage lineworkers utilizing hands-on instruction in indoor and outdoor labs, as well as theory-based learning on safety and electricity. Students gain a wide variety of skills, from pole climbing and framing to principles of electrical transmission and distribution.
The gift was made by Center Phase Energy in celebration of its 100th storm restoration effort since its inception in 2017.

Center Phase Energy LLC is a family-owned business headquartered in Oklahoma City, specializing in emergency power restoration for investor-owned utilities, co-operatives, municipalities and other industry participants.
Its sister company Imperium Utility Services provides daily contracted construction and maintenance of overhead and underground electrical distribution and network systems for investor-owned utilities.
Chad Hefty, founder and principal of both Center Phase Energy and Imperium Utility Services, noted, “We are excited to support Mid-America in developing future lineworkers. With the surge in demand for electricity and an aging grid, we have a lot of work ahead of us. This is a great career option.”

IUS President Michael Thornton said, “We chose Mid-America for this gift because we believe they are deeply committed to teaching future lineworkers to work safely, consistent with our company values.”
This donation will help ensure that industry standards will be met or exceeded, thus facilitating the students in obtaining the skills they need to be gainfully employed in the electrical lineworker field.

Green Avenue Church of Christ

Wednesday evening in our Bible study we examined 2 Thessalonians 4:13-5:4. It was pointed out that Christians have hope and comfort facing death and the afterlife which those who are not in Christ do not share. The study emphasized that as far as Judgment Day is concerned, nobody knows when it shall be but it shall come unexpectedly “as a thief in the night.”

In our Bible study on Sunday we began wrapping up our study on abused and addictive substances (i.e. drugs and alcohol). We looked at a question many have regarding wine and strong drink in the Bible. It was noted that there are nearly 550 references on this subject in just the Old Testament, which is a large number but it is not an impossible task to look at every one of them to see what the Bible says about that subject.

Also on Sunday morning, Keith Shackelford presented the conclusion of his series on the “I Will” statements of Jesus from the book of Matthew. Overall he presented about 15 of these statements, and discussed the context of each one.

It was like having a series of 15 mini-lessons because each “I Will” presented a different point, such as “I will make you fishers of men,” and “I will give you rest,” and “I will build my church,” and some negatively presented like “I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine.”

The lesson Sunday night began with the reading of the entirety of 2 Peter and then focused on a statement from 2

Pet. 1:12 where Peter says “I will not be negligent to remind you...”

The sermon explored many of the things about which Peter was compelled to remind his audience. Among the reminders were things like (1) to truly partake of the divine nature we must escape the corruption of the world’s lusts; (2) the gospel is not fables, but it is truth established by eyewitness testimony; (3) the world shall have a fiery cataclysmic end, but the righteous shall be saved.

We invite you to meet with us for Bible study at 7 p.m. Wednesday night and 9:45 a.m. Sunday and our worship services on Sundays are 10:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.

Bible correspondence courses are available, call 527-4052.

James Kyzer sang “Look Who’s Here” for the morning special.

Brother David preached from Matthew 8:5-13 which told of Jesus healing the centurion’s servant of palsy from a distance.

The centurion believed in Jesus. He had a serious faith and knew that Jesus’ authority was much more than his. Jesus marveled at the centurion’s faith and healed his servant immediately.

Jesus is the real thing! Only He can satisfy the longing in your heart.

The evening service was a video presentation from the “God Who Speaks” series and discussed “Understanding the Bible.” There is clarity in scripture because God wants us to understand it. Scripture should be applied individually but only after the broader meaning of the text is understood.

We observed the Lord’s Supper to close the day’s activities. This coming Sunday we will honor our fathers with a desert fellowship following the evening service.

On Saturday, June 25, beginning at 6 p.m. we will be hosting our annual SummerSing gospel singing service. Noted soloist and songwriter Mark Bishop, from Irvine, Ky., along with the well-known family group, The Williamsons from Wetumka, will be singing.

Admission is free but a love offering will be taken to help with expenses. You will enjoy this special evening of worship, praise and song.

Please join us for Sunday School and worship at Sunray Baptist Church. We are located at 2223 North 9th Street in Purcell. For additional information call 405-527-6808.

Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church

On June 19, 2022, we celebrate the real presence of Christ in the Eucharist during The Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ, also known as the Feast of Corpus Christi. On this day, we recall the institution of the Eucharist at the Last Supper.

The Gospel reading, Luke 9:11b-17, is about the occasion when a huge crowd had gathered to hear Jesus and it was late in the afternoon. Jesus fed the crowd: “16 he took the five loaves and the two fish, raised his eyes to heaven, and said the blessing over them; then he broke them and handed them to his disciples to distribute among the crowd. 17 They all ate as much as they wanted, and when the scraps left over were collected, they filled twelve baskets.

In the second reading, 1 Corinthians 11:23-26, Paul reminds the Corinthians about what Jesus said and did at the Last Supper. “23 For the tradition I received from the Lord and also handed on to you is that on the night he was betrayed, the Lord Jesus took some bread, 24 and after he had given thanks, he broke it, and he said, ‘This is my body, which is for you; do this in remembrance of me.’

25 And in the same way, with the cup after supper, saying, ‘This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Whenever you drink it, do this as a memorial of me.’ 26 Whenever you eat this bread, then, and drink this cup, you are proclaiming the Lord’s death until he comes.

In both scripture passages, Jesus blessed, broke, and distributed. The consecrated bread we receive during the Eucharist is made from wheat that has been crushed just as Jesus was crushed during his crucifixion. The consecrated wine we receive is made from grapes which have been crushed as Jesus was crushed.

How blessed we are that Jesus continues to feed us today. “My flesh is true food, and my blood is true drink. Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood remains in me and I in him.” (John 6:55-56)

We celebrate the love of Jesus at Our Lady of Victory parish all year long. Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church is located at the 307 West Jefferson. The office is open weekday mornings (405-527-3077). Weekend mass services are Saturday, 5 p.m.; Sunday, 11 a.m.; and Sunday, 1 p.m. (Spanish). Until late June, we will not be having daily masses. However, there will be communion services on Wednesdays at 12 noon in English and on Thursdays at 7 p.m. in Spanish.

Peace be with you.

Lexington and its surrounding communities are invited to the first of a series of films today, Thursday, June 16, at 12 noon. These will be family friendly, so bring a sandwich for yourself plus an extra sandwich for a friend to “Munch and a Movie.” We will provide chips and beverages.

The film will begin at approximately 12:30 p.m. and should last for about two-and-a-quarter hours. We will be showing one of the movies from the series “Patterns of Evidence.”

There are four different films: one on Exodus, one on Moses, and two on the Red Sea Miracle. They are all from filmmaker Timothy P. Mahoney. Each is about the search for scientific evidence that these things actually happened.

So, bring your sandwiches, and join us for the movie. Feel free to invite a friend or two.

Our next Food Give Away will be this coming Saturday, June 18, from 12 to 4 p.m. Masks are still advised for those who have serious medical conditions; we have masks available. We also provide hand sanitizer. Please pass this info on to anyone who may be hungry and low on food.

What makes Methodists different from other Protestant Christian churches? This week we explore the Wesleyan Quadrilateral and five beliefs that set Methodists apart.

The Wesleyan Quadrilateral consists of four sources of theological and doctrinal development. They are scripture, tradition, reason, and Christian experience. Scriptural basis is similar to, or even the same as, other churches out of Judeo-Christian history.

In the Wesleyan tradition, the second work of grace after conversion is the cleansing of the heart of its inclination to sin. This is not seen as a necessary or normal part of standard Methodism but is a tenet of Wesleyan Methodism.

There are five beliefs that set Methodists apart from other Protestant Christians. The core belief of all Protestant Christians is that of belief in the Bible and in Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior. The beliefs specific to Methodism are: logic and reason; evangelism and mission; covenant services; inclusiveness; and music.

As Methodists, we must use logic and reason in all matters of faith. Using these gifts we evaluate faith statements given by others. We don't accept statements without question.

Charitable work and other acts are a part of the evangelism and mission of the Methodist Church. Historically Methodism is characterized by emphasis on helping the poor and the average person to alleviate suffering. This has led to establishment of hospitals, universities, orphanages, soup kitchens, and schools.

We believe in the building of loving relationships with others through social service by means of working toward the inclusiveness of God's love. Most Methodists teach that Christ died for all humanity, not just for a limited group. Thus everyone is entitled to God's grace and protection. This denies that God has pre-ordained an elect number of people to eternal bliss while others are doomed to hell no matter what they do in this life.

Covenant services are encouraged annually, often on the first Sunday of a new year. This is based on John Wesley's call of renewal of the covenant that we make with God as part of our faith.

Music is a large part of Methodism with singing emphasized in the Methodist church service. Many of the traditional Methodist hymns were composed by Charles Wesley, John's brother.

Overall, Methodists believe in the ability of all people to accept or reject salvation from sin by their own choice. There is universal salvation for those who are obedient to the Bible's commandments, with the Holy Spirit's personal assurance of that salvation. Finally, humans are capable of Christian perfection in this lifetime resulting in churches that encourage faith and good works.

We invite you (and your father!) to worship with us at 9:30 a.m. this Sunday which is Father's Day. Sunday school starts at 11 a.m. Our address is 631 East Ash, just west of Lexington High School.

For more information, please call the church at (405) 527-3506 to leave a message, or contact Pastor David Cook directly at (405) 406-6174.

Best tips for avoiding summer mosquitoes

Alisa Boswell-Gore
Agricultural Communications

While rain is a good thing for most landscapes, it also often invites unwanted guests around the home in the form of pesky, blood-sucking mosquitoes.

More than 60 mosquito species appear seasonally in Oklahoma from March through November, but most adult mosquitoes are pests in the May through June timeframe, particularly after heavy rains.

According to David Hillock, Oklahoma State University Extension consumer horticulturist, mosquitoes breed in open water sources, so the best way to eliminate these pests is to get rid of their breeding grounds.

"Look around your landscape at anything that collects water. Flowerpots, rain gutters, watering cans, old tires or birdbaths are prime breeding grounds for mosquitoes," Hillock said. "Through some landscape design, we unintentionally create an atmosphere pleasing to mosquitoes. Fortunately, just dumping out the water is an easy fix."

Hillock said people should be aware of the life cycle of mosquitoes, so they can take steps to avoid the growth of mosquito larvae in standing water on their property.

What to do:

- Eliminate larval breeding sites, such as discarded tires, beverage cups/litter and unused children's wading pools.

- Clean and replenish pet water, bird baths and small swimming pools at least every three days (every day may be advisable through the summer months). Swimming pool covers can help to prevent mosquitoes in larger pools.

- Prevent standing water in flower pots, ensure good property drainage and plug hollow tree stumps. Clean your roof gutters to allow proper drainage.

- Treat water gardens or small fountains with larvicides or house mosquito-eating fish to prevent emerging adult mosquitoes.

- Keep plant life trimmed and neat.

- Invest in mosquito dunks (a bacterial bar you place in standing water) for ponds and other standing water that cannot be regularly replaced or cleaned.

- Maintain screen doors and windows to prevent adult mosquitoes from entering the home.

- Wear insect repellent such as DEET (N,N diethyl-m-toluamide). Repellents containing 10-30 percent DEET products are most effective but always read and follow label directions for proper application. Special care should be taken when applying repellents to children.

- Avoid being outside at dawn, early evening and dusk when the majority of biting female mosquitoes are active. Wear long-sleeved clothing with long pants.

- Work with neighbors to reduce mosquito potential by asking everyone to manage their landscape and standing water.

- Check with the local city government to see if they offer an abatement program that will treat landscapes for mosquitoes and other pests.

Hillock said residents should do their research before trying pesticide products other than DEET. Citronella products are popular but are only effective in small, tight spaces with no wind or breeze. Foggers are effective only temporarily and have the potential to kill beneficial insects.

Any container that holds water for five to seven days is a potential breeding site for mosquito larvae, Hillock said. If it is not possible to drain areas, then treating them with larvicides is an alternative.

Many mosquito larvicides on the market are very host specific and only disrupt the larval stages of mosquitoes and do not harm non-target species.

"The best control is just eliminating those breeding sites, such as standing water, so anything you can do around your home to eliminate that is good," Hillock said.

Paola Klein, OTH coordinator, said the customizable resources provided by the Helpline are designed to give users the best possible chance to quit successfully. This helps give Oklahoma fathers more time with their families.

"All of our resources are tailored to the specific needs of each user, depending on their lifestyle and personal preferences," she said. "This Father's Day, we encourage Oklahomans who want to quit or are even thinking about quitting to call the Oklahoma Tobacco Helpline to give their family the gift of a healthy, tobacco-free life."

Father's Day is also a time to talk with family about the impact of tobacco use on loved ones. Studies have shown that children with parents who smoke are twice as likely to become smokers themselves.

For Oklahoma teens struggling with tobacco use, MyLife My Quit, a program of the Tobacco Settlement Endowment Trust, is providing resources to assist in the process of quitting.

The free program offers live text support, web chat and phone coaching for teens ages 13-17 who struggle with tobacco use.

AG: executions on

Clock is ticking on death row

Inmates on Oklahoma's death row are one step closer to execution following a federal district court decision that the state's execution protocol is constitutional.

Attorney General John O'Connor confirmed receipt of the decision Tuesday.

In a case that has spanned nearly a decade, with multiple trips to the U.S. Supreme Court, the Honorable Stephen P. Friot issued a final judgment in the State's favor, alongside conclusions of law fully supporting the State's positions.

"The people of Oklahoma and the families who have suffered the murder of a loved one moved one step closer to justice with today's ruling," O'Connor said.

Oklahoma's current execution protocol involves administering midazolam, vecuronium bromide and potassium chloride. The Court held the drugs render the inmate unconscious and unable to feel pain.

O'Connor said the ruling is "definitive," adding the plaintiffs "have fallen well short" of making their case."

Midazolam, he continued, "can be relied upon... to render the inmate insensate to pain."

Judge Friot's ruling comes after he held a week-long trial earlier this year, in which the testimony of numerous expert and fact witnesses was presented.

The judge singled out the testimony of the state's expert witnesses – Drs. Joseph Antognini, and Ervin Yen – as being the "best-supported and most persuasive" in the case because their respective testimony was "rooted in their extensive professional experi-

Purcell Senior Citizens

By Val Blackburn

A big note of appreciation to the volunteers from Mercy Chapel who helped get our exercise/craft room cleared out! Soon our new exercise and craft activity schedule will be out. The center received two exercise machines from a generous donation. We can't wait to try them out!

The normal Center Garage Sale is open every Thursday and Friday from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. Thank you to all who donate items and/or purchase from our sale. We have a large variety of items to choose from. You will find household goods, decorative items, clothing and many other treasures. In this time of rising prices everywhere, we are happy to be able to help by offering bargains in many areas.

Fellowship, exercise, cards, bingo (10 a.m. on Thursday), pool, crafts and a lot of laughter are going on Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the Purcell Senior Center, 228 N. 2nd, in Purcell. Soon we will have a new exercise room also! Coffee, tea and cookies are always available. Everyone 60 and over is invited and welcome. If you have any questions, please call Val at 405-527-5070.

Our center is available to rent on the weekends for parties, meetings and/or gatherings. The price is very reasonable. For information or to make a reservation, please call Val at 405-527-5070. We do book in advance, so the sooner you make a reservation, the better chance you have for an open Saturday.

Delta Nutrition provides meals Monday through Friday beginning at 11:30 a.m. They also deliver in-home meals. Any questions you have about meal service can be answered by the kitchen at 405-527-9462. This number is also the one to call to let them know what days you will be here to dine.

It is becoming more important to remember to make your reservation for meals. That can be done weekly or daily, whatever works for you. The rising cost of food and supplies is making it more essential every day for Delta Nutrition to have a count of the meals. Please let them know if you will be here or if you won't. They always want to have plenty of food for all who would like to join us. Thank you for being understanding of their policies.

Menu for June 20-24:

Monday — Delta will not be cooking today. The center will be having a potluck lunch and...they are always great! Good food and fellowship. Can't beat it!

Tuesday — Loaded spud, soup, coleslaw, roll, pie.

Wednesday — Chicken salad, tossed salad, fruit, crackers, peanut butter cookies.

Thursday — Chili dog, potato salad, baked beans, rice krispy bar.

Friday — Spanish rice, green beans, corn, fruit.

Milk is served with every meal.

A huge thank you to all who continue to donate and support the senior centers. Your donations continue to make a big difference in the lives of our seniors and the operation of our center.

Executions:

ence administering midazolam, their observations of its effects on their own patients, and, not least, their credible observations" at the four recent Oklahoma executions.

Relying on that testimony, Judge Friot found, among other things, that "500 milligrams of midazolam will easily accomplish general anesthesia" and that the "recipient of that dose will feel no pain."

"The evidence persuades the court, and not by a small margin, that even though midazolam is not the drug of choice for maintaining prolonged deep anesthesia, it can be relied upon, as used in the Oklahoma execution protocol, to render the inmate insensate to pain for the few minutes required to complete the execution."

The Court also issued definitive findings on the execution of John Grant, which has been repeatedly mischaracterized in numerous media sources. The Court found that it was "unsurprising" that Grant regurgitated during the execution, given that he had a full stomach at the time. The Court also rejected unfounded "speculation" that Grant was conscious during the execution.

O'Connor now plans to seek execution dates from the Oklahoma Court of Criminal Appeals for those on death row.
