Unlikely intersection for such a violent collision

The Oklahoma Highway Patrol is continuing its investigation into a fatality traffic accident at Main Street and Green Avenue in Purcell last Saturday morning.

The OHP said Cherie Hudson, 62, of Purcell was killed in the accident when her 2016 Toyota Corolla was struck head-on by a 2014 Chevrolet Silverado pickup driven by Timothy McPherson, 64, of Maysville.

McPherson, who was reportedly traveling north on Green Avenue at a high rate of speed, was extricated by the Purcell Fire Department with the Hurst Tool. He was then transported by

“Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up.” Galatians 6:9

Growing up in Tuscola, Texas, there are several career paths John Wylie could have chosen for himself.

But then he would have missed the path chosen for him.

You might say it was a God thing.

John recalled a time when he started feeling an urge to do more than sit in the congregation at his home church, Gateway Baptist in Tuscola.

When God calls, you act. So John paid attention to that inner voice and surrendered to preach.

With his new vocation, John moved to Oklahoma where he spent more than 22 years in the pulpit.

He pastored a small Baptist church at Springer for 18 years and followed that by three years pastoring a Claremore church.

He stepped away from his role as pastor for two years, but continued to preach, filling in for vacationing pastors or bringing the Word to occasional revivals.

It was a period of regrouping and taking a serious look at his life and future needs.

After 20 years as a pastor, he had no retirement or insurance. So two years ago he took a transportation job with the Department of Corrections east of Lexington.

He drives a bus moving inmates around the state for the Central Transportation Unit based out of the Lexington Assessment & Reception Center.

Chauffeuring felons isn’t for everyone, but John hasn’t let that faze him.

CCRT organized in Purcell
McClain, Garvin Counties teaming up together

The Coordinated Community Response Team (CCRT) is organized.

CCRT is an interagency effort to create more effective interventions to enhance safety for victims, accountability for offenders, and change the response to violence in the community.

The purpose is to create a climate within the community where victims are safe and offenders are held accountable.

CCRT brings together key supporters in the community to develop strategies and procedures in response to domestic violence.

CCRT promotes consistency and collaboration among partnering agencies.

The key beliefs of CCRT are that domestic violence is a public health issue as well as a community issue.

In addition to Purcell, other McClain County towns that are scheduled to participate are Newcastle, Blanchard, Goldsby, Washington, Wayne and Dibble.

Organizers believe that community stakeholders need to think about how, as a community, we are reaching survivors and victims; that the burden shouldn't be solely on a victim to know where and who to call.

The mission of the Garvin/McClain County Coordinated Community Response Team is committed to the reeducation of domestic violence by coordinating a consistent message and response to domestic violence in our community.

The goal is to promote co-operation among multidisciplinary agencies to create a safe community for victims and to hold the offenders accountable.

Agencies currently participating in the Garvin/McClain County CCRT are Family Crisis Center, McClain County Sheriff's Department, Garvin County Sheriff's Office, Garvin County District Attorney's Office, Pauls Valley Police Department, Garvin County Department of Human Services, Lighthouse Behavioral Wellness Center, Legal Aid of Oklahoma, Office of Juvenile Affairs, and Chandler & Associates.

Weather pattern remains same

As we continue to see high temperatures above average, our first taste of fall will arrive within our next seven day forecast period. Thursday will still remain similar to what we've been seeing, with temperatures in the mid-80s, with some cloud cover building in. A strong cold front will arrive overnight Thursday into Friday, bringing highs down 10-15° for some Oklahomans, with Friday and Saturday mornings feeling like typical fall mornings, with highs in the lower-to- middle 70s. Cloud cover will hang on throughout the rest of the forecast period, with highs rebounding back into the lower 80s next week. Highs will return to a few degrees above average, but on the bright side, morning lows will feel very seasonal. Just beyond the current forecast period, a more stable fall pattern appears to be arriving.

Missing person assistance

OSBI seeking help in finding Jeremy Reagan

The Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation (OSBI) is asking for assistance from the public in locating 40-year-old Jeremy Reagan.

Anyone who saw Reagan or his Silver 2011 Nissan Frontier at any point on Aug. 27, 2022, in the area of the Lexington Wildlife Management Area is asked to contact the OSBI.

In September the OSBI was requested by the Forest

He was last seen at his home in the 3100 block of Forest Park Terrace, Forest Park, OK on August 27. When he wasn't home the next day, a family member filed a missing persons report with the Forest Park Police Department.

Reagan's truck was located by an Oklahoma State Game Warden August 28, at the Lexington Wildlife Management Area.

The Game Warden and the Cleveland County Sheriff's Office conducted an extensive search of the area between August 28-31 but Reagan was not located.

Anyone who knows anything or saw anything on August 27, should contact the OSBI at (800) 522-8017 or email tips@osbi.ok.gov.

Book coming out about Freemans
Story of faith and the healing power of God for Caleb

Mark Codner
For The Purcell Register

“Sir, your sons have been in a car accident. How quickly can you get here?”

The phone call no parent wants to receive would lead to a miracle only God could give.

When Jeremy and Emily

Freeman's teenage son Caleb was in a devastating car accident, doctors gave him a 10 percent chance of survival.

Fear of losing a child was all too fresh for the Newcastle family — their seven-year-old son, Trey, had died just four years earlier from a genetic immunodeficiency.

In a new book titled #butGod: The Power of Hope When Catastrophe Crashes In Jeremy Freeman, who is pastor at Newcastle First Baptist Church, shares the incredible story of Caleb's recovery.

It covers the darkness that nearly overtook their family in the waiting, and the #butGod movement that captured the prayers of Christians around the world.

Freeman's favorite scripture verse comes from 2 Corinthians 4:18: “So we fix our eyes not on what is seen, but on what is unseen, for what is seen is temporary and what is unseen is eternal.”

That has been and is the focus for the Freeman family.

The book, #butGod, includes heartfelt excerpts from Emily's prayer journal and encouragement from Jeremy that goes beyond platitudes to a hard-won trust in God's goodness.

The inspiring story offers greater understanding of the beauty God can bring through suffering; an honest glimpse of how one family grew closer together despite grief, tension, and doubt; a powerful example of how God works through the prayers of His people; and hope for whatever struggle you are facing.

Whatever sorrow you are walking through, #butGod leads you to the sweetness found in trusting God with suffering ... and the deeper faith that comes from seeing His purpose in the pain.

While talking about being a parent and having children, Jeremy said, “But this is the reality: you can't guard them from everything, as much as you try. They are in God's hands.”

The Freeman's son Trey “stepped into eternity” on September 1, 2013 at the age of 7, after fighting complications from Severe Combined Immunodeficiency (SCIDS), a group of rare disorders caused by mutations in different genes involved in the development and function of infection-fighting immune cells.

Four years after that, his brothers Clayton and Caleb were driving to an Oklahoma University basketball game and Caleb's truck hydroplaned on the road off Interstate 35 at State Highway 9, and a semi-truck crashed into them. Clayton was in and out due to suffering a concussion, but the truck had hit on the driver's side door.

Caleb was unconscious and Jeremy, who had arrived at the scene, said he just knew that Caleb had died.

Jeremy said he asked a nurse about his son, and she said, “... at this point we need a miracle.”

Caleb had suffered a brain in-

Reducing losses when feeding hay to beef cattle

Justin McDaniel
Extension Ag Educator

Feeding hay to cattle is expensive. Recent analyses show that hay costs between $0.08 and $0.10 per pound of dry matter; usually more than double the cost for the same amount of nutrients from pasture.

- Hay is expensive because:
- It requires a large investment in equipment;
 - It requires labor to make and feed;

- More than 50 percent of it can be wasted by either poor storage methods or improper feeding practices, or both.

Feeding methods
No matter how hay is packaged, if you waste it, you lose money. Below are some general rules that can help minimize waste during feeding.

Feed hay in small amounts or in a feeder to minimize waste. When fed a limited amount of hay at a time, cattle have less opportunity to trample and soil the hay.

Feeding hay in a rack or a “hay ring” also limits the opportunity that animals have to trample or soil hay and will reduce waste substantially if you intend to provide more than a day’s worth of hay at one time.

Feed hay in well-drained areas. If you intend to feed hay in a single location all winter, then providing a footing such as crushed gravel or even concrete can help minimize problems with mud.

Perhaps more cost effective is to move hay-feeding areas around the farm to minimize the damage to any one area of the pasture.

Feed hay stored outside before hay stored inside. Hay stored outside usually has more

Chickasaw Language Vitality and Speaker Survey

Preserving and protecting Chikashshanompa’, the Chickasaw language, is vital to Chickasaw cultural identity. The Chickasaw Nation is asking the community at-large to complete the Language Vitality and Speaker Survey available online.

The survey’s purposes include identifying Chickasaw language speakers and collecting language learner feedback. The Chickasaw Nation will use gathered information for tailoring future language revitalization efforts. The survey can be found at AnompaSurvey.Chickasaw.net.

Chickasaw Nation Governor Bill Anoatubby proclaimed 2022-2032 “Chikashshanompa’ llanompoli’! (Let’s Speak Chickasaw): A Decade of Chickasaw Language.”

This proclamation is in conjunction with the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization’s International Decade of Indigenous Languages.

“Chikashshanompa’ (the Chickasaw language) is integral to our identity as Chikasha (Chickasaw) people. It is the source of ancestral knowledge of our history and culture, one of our most scarce, precious and valuable resources,” Governor Anoatubby said.

Joining the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization’s efforts, the Chickasaw Nation is eager to draw attention to the need to preserve Indigenous languages through this decade-long campaign.

“Woven within our language are the priceless fibers of our cultural identity,” Governor Anoatubby said. “These ancient Chickasaw words that connect us in body, mind and spirit are the essential components in the practice and expression of Chickasaw culture.”

The Chickasaw Nation is committed to providing access to multiple language programs and services for those interested in Chickasaw language, history and culture.

The Chickasaw Nation Language Revitalization Program began in 2007. The language revitalization program is designed to provide access to resources that promote the Chickasaw language.

Opportunities and resources dedicated to revitalizing the Chickasaw language include the Chickasaw Language Basics App, Chickasaw Nation Culture and Humanities You-Tube Channel, AChickasaw-Dictionary.com and language clubs for all ages.

“When we speak our native tongue, we reaffirm our unique tribal sovereignty that is so important to us now and to Chickasaw generations to come,” Governor Anoatubby said. “With fewer fluent Chickasaw speakers living today, we are more commit-jury, but miraculously no bones were broken. The Freemans were told that Caleb would probably never walk or talk again. He was in a coma for two months. During this time people throughout the nation were praying for him.

Friends and others who were concerned could follow along with Caleb’s progress on a page on Facebook titled Pray for Caleb, which now has more than 91,000 followers. The family also has a website at calebs-hope.com.

Slowly and steadily, Caleb made progress. Emily said the only way we could do that was one day at a time.

“God provided enough for each day,” she said.

Six months after the accident, Caleb walked out of the rehabilitation hospital to return home.

Jeremy said, “He had to relearn how to eat, how to breathe, how to swallow. The one thing he hadn’t had to relearn how to do was trust in the Lord.”

Jeremy said Caleb’s spiritual life was never taken from him.

“Because if God is in you, He never leaves you,” Jeremy said. “God is using Caleb in ways that are absolutely miraculous.”

Two years after the accident, Caleb, who had been a cross country runner before the accident, finished a 5K race with many of the runners from Newcastle and other schools who had already finished their runs, joining him and cheering him on.

Caleb’s and the Freemans’ journey has been followed by local television stations KFOR Channel 4 and KWTV News 9. It also has been broadcast nationwide on NBC News.

After running the 5K, Caleb said, “They said I would never run again, but God had other plans.”

Caleb graduated in May 2022 with a degree in communications from Rose State College. He still has a condition that makes everyday tasks challenging, but his family continues to pray for Caleb’s complete healing.

Jeremy said Caleb travels around the country and tells his story. He gets to see people who connect with that and come to know Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior.

“Sometimes you might wonder what God is doing,” Caleb said. “But one day you will come to not want to trade it for the world.”

The book, #butGod, is being released October 18 and is available through Amazon in paperback for $17.99 and through Kindle at $9.99.

You can get all the details about the book at butgodthebook.com. On the morning of Sunday, October 16, Jeremy will have 2,000 signed copies from him and Caleb at First Baptist Church Newcastle.

“I am releasing the book to my church and community before the book officially releases on the 18th,” Jeremy said. “We pray God uses the book mightily.”

From #butGod, Freeman writes, “‘We tend to think we would see better if our eyes were dry and clear, but it is when we are broken, crumbled, and lost in desperate prayer that things make the most sense.’”

Also from #butGod, “Without a belief in God, there is no beauty in the story of life, nor is there a point to suffering.”

And, “A person’s greatest need is not physical healing but spiritual healing.”

Several have already given praise for the book including Craig Groeschel, Life Church founding and senior pastor and New York Times bestselling author.

Groeschel said, “#butGod will build your faith and equip you with the strength to overcome.”

Michael and Lauren McAfee, cofounders of Inspire Experiences, said, “The Freemans’ story is breathtaking and meaningful as they share their challenging circumstances yet remain ever steady in their trust in a good and loving God. Not only have they endured unimaginable hardships and survived, they have come out the other side of their suffering with astounding joy and exuberant hope. Read this book, and see the goodness of God!”

Jeremy is lead pastor at First Baptist Church in Newcastle, and served as first vice president for the Oklahoma Baptist convention.

He is a sought-after speaker for inspirational events hosted by churches, conventions, conferences, businesses and schools.

He writes regularly at his blog site, pastorjfreeman.com, many of which are republished in The Newcastle Pacer. Jeremy and Emily and their six children, live in Newcastle.

Legislature distributes ARPA funds

On Wednesday, September 28, the Legislature returned to the State Capitol to reconvene our second extraordinary session.

We called this special session in May to give us time in the interim to consider projects that applied for a portion of Oklahoma’s American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) funding.

The Joint Committee on Pandemic Relief Funding, comprised of members from both chambers and both sides of the aisle, was created to consider which projects to send to the full Legislature for approval.

Businesses, nonprofits, state agencies and individuals had the opportunity to submit projects for consideration. Ultimately, more than 1,400 requests were submitted to the online portal requesting a total of $18 billion.

Requests were sent to a subcommittee most closely aligned with its subject matter, and subcommittees sorted through projects based on eligibility under federal law and priorities created by the Joint Committee last year. The subcommittees then voted on which of the qualifying requests should be considered by the full Joint Committee.

The Joint Committee met several times over the past few months to consider different projects. Ultimately, they recommended over 60 projects totaling $1,753,479,428 of our $1.8 billion in funding.

This package of projects was considered by the full Legislature this week, and after careful consideration of each project, we ultimately sent 25 bills to the Governor designating appropriations for 51 ARPA projects.

The Governor must sign off on these bills as well. Funds must be allocated by December 2024 and fully expended by December 2026.

If you have any questions about certain projects we are considering, please reach out to me at 405-557-7365 or cynthia.roe@okhouse.gov.

treatments in the world. Unfortunately, life expectancy in our country has fallen two years in a row, which is the most significant drop since 1943.

In addition, health insurance costs have gone up by 17 percent in the past year. Republicans know that we can combat these challenges by personalizing healthcare to provide affordable and better-quality options and improving access to telemedicine.

Finally, a government accountable for its actions will preserve our nation’s constitutional freedoms and strengthen trust among its citizens.

During the last few years, Democrats have refused to conduct needed oversight and find answers to several disasters around the world, including the origins of the coronavirus and President Biden’s botched withdrawal of U.S. troops in Afghanistan that resulted in the death of 13 American service members.

The aftermath of the decision to withdraw U.S. troops from Afghanistan in the days and weeks that followed was nothing short of disastrous, and the devastation and consequences of this failure remain. Unfortunately, the Biden Administration has still left many questions surrounding this decision unanswered, a true disservice to the American people.

Additionally, with the IRS poised to hire 87,000 new employees for auditing, Americans are rightly becoming more frustrated and untrusting of their elected leaders and institutions. By working for the people instead of against the people, Republicans will restore trust in our government and our Constitution that all men and women are created equal and endowed with God-given rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

This Commitment to America reflects the optimism and tried-and-true principles of freedom, hard work, personal responsibility and the rule of law that have always made our nation successful and the leader of the world.

While the mess created by Democrats will take time to clean up, the good news is that Republicans have been hard at work identifying the policies needed to restore our nation.

When people hear the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) they automatically get visions of farms, wheat, cattle and tractors. While it’s true that USDA serves the needs of the farm and ranch families across the country, it’s not our only mission.

USDA-Rural Development serves the people and families who call rural cities and towns home in ways that many people are not aware.

It is important to remember that most of our vital resources and values come from rural America. We get our energy from rural areas. Our food supply is grown in rural communities. The water we need to survive often begins in rural areas that many of us never see. And it’s important to remember that it’s where some of America’s best ideas are born.

The mission of USDA-Rural Development is to not only help rural communities survive but prosper. We take our jobs seriously and look for ways to create opportunities to help rural cities and towns achieve progress by providing investments in both public and private sectors that improve the quality of life and economic stability.

When I was appointed by President Joe Biden to lead Rural Development in Oklahoma, I was reminded the President felt rural communities across America have been left behind.

If you take a moment to reflect, you might realize that over the last few decades they have been. Populations are shrinking, job opportunities have been lost and infrastructure is crumbling. We in rural Oklahoma know this story all too well!

Under the Biden-Harris Administration, there has been a renewed effort to make real investments in rural communities. These include new opportunities for families in rural communities with substantial investments in housing,

Ian - When devastation happens

By Dr. Glenn Mollette

Life changes all the time. Nothing is permanent. The only constant is change.

Hurricane Ian proved again that life is unpredictable and so is the weather. One reminder from Hurricane Ian is that we can’t fight the weather and come out very well. Category four hurricanes are certain to bring devastation and loss of life to what or who is in its path.

Dozens of people in Florida lost their lives to Ian last week. Hundreds of millions of dollars of damage occurred. We can always hope that the weather will not be as bad as forecasted. We can always hope we will hold out, hang on, and survive but bad weather is a formidable foe.

California fires, Midwest tornadoes, Appalachian flooding and now a gulf coast hurricane proves again that it’s best to get out of the way of mother nature. This often means hurrying to a place of safety depending on the threatening weather.

USDA: We serve rural communities too infrastructure, healthcare, and economic activities in ways that we have not seen since President Franklin Roosevelt’s New Deal.

The President has also charged the men and women who serve these communities at Rural Development with achieving his priorities in creating an economy that rewards every person and every community regardless of their zip code or wealth.

In Oklahoma alone, we are making significant investments in rural communities throughout the state. I am proud of the efforts of our team in ensuring rural leaders and families are aware of the opportunities in their city or town that could become a reality through the USDA-Rural Development programs.

The President is focusing on healthcare to ensure access and affordability for all. Rural Development has invested millions of dollars in rural healthcare facilities in this past year. You can see some of those investments in places like McAlester where $375,100 was used to update and expand laboratory space to improve patient care and response time for pandemics like COVID-19.

The James Dennis Medical Foundation in Wakita was awarded a $85,400 grant for a generator to serve a local nursing home facility. This ensures that essential and critical services can continue in power outages such as those caused by emergencies and disasters.

Adair County Health Center will receive $499,100 for upgrades to meet the ever-evolving needs of their patients. And the Pawnee Nation of Oklahoma was awarded $1 million to construct a healthcare facility to meet critical needs of their tribal members as well as the community.

This past year Rural Development helped communities with critical needs to better serve their communities. In the area of public safety, more than $500,000 will be used to purchase ambulances for communities such as Anadarko, Erick and Atoka County. Chickasha will use USDA-Rural Development funding to acquire much needed police vehicles to patrol neighborhoods and provide reliable response times.

Communities can also find USDA-Rural Development funding for other projects that improve the quality of life. There are opportunities for community centers like the one in Tamaha that will receive funding for renovations.

In Muskogee County, a community facility grant will be used to improve the drainage system that will help protect both the health and life of the public as well as property. Schools like Tupelo Public Schools will receive funding for security equipment to help protect students and staff.

Let’s not forget about the serious need in rural America for real investment in improving aging water and wastewater infrastructure. Right here in Oklahoma, Rural Development has reinvested in our rural communities’ water needs through loans and grants, which total more than $61 million in water and wastewater projects this year alone.

Some of these recipients include water districts located in the cities of Wewoka, Seminole, and Idabel, as well as Sequoyah, Pittsburgh and Wagoner Counties.

USDA-Rural Development is also investing millions of dollars in high-speed internet development across our state. This brings the real possibility of business expansions, educational opportunities and access to healthcare via telehealth to every corner of Oklahoma.

An example of our investment in rural Oklahoma are the awards made to Pine Telephone in Broken Bow with a $13 million grant and the loan/grant combination to Southern Plains Cable Company totaling more than $16 million in funding.

USDA-Rural Development committed more than $163 million dollars in guaranteed loans to rural businesses that will create jobs and wealth in the communities in which they are located.

Business and Industry Guaranteed loans were funded to a micro-hospital in Ardmore, sod farms in Spiro and Bixby, and oil and gas pressure fabrication operation located in Duncan. USDA-Rural Development is committed to help finance new and expanding businesses in rural communities so families can stay living and working in those communities.

USDA-Rural Development can also help rural Oklahomans achieve the American dream through home ownership. Opportunities for home loans for both low- and moderate-income households are available through direct and guaranteed loan programs. There is also a grant/loan program to help address health and safety issues with existing homeowners, especially those who are elderly and low income.

There is a world of opportunity available through USDA-Rural Development. Under President Biden’s leadership, rural communities and their needs are not being forgotten. The team at USDA-Rural Development stands ready to provide guidance and assistance in helping make life better in rural Oklahoma.

There is an old saying, “the last one out of Oklahoma, turn off the lights.” Oklahoma Rural Development wants to turn on the lights of opportunity, hope, and growth for rural families and communities. Give our team at USDA-Rural Development a chance to serve you and your community, so that we can make rural Oklahoma proposer.

And next time you hear someone say USDA, ask them if they know that we are more than just farms.

MATC provides specialized training for Wynnewood refinery

Mid-America Technology Center recently provided a specialized Steam Turbine training class at their facility in Wayne. This class was presented by the Elliott Group from Jeannette, Penn., for the maintenance employees at the Wynnewood Refinery (a CVR Energy company).

These Wynnewood employees maintain, service and troubleshoot more than 250 turbines within the plant at the Wynnewood facility. This specialized training was requested from the refinery to enhance the skill level of their Maintenance Pump Mechanics and Industrial Millwrights.

The men spent a week with Gabe Jordan, Technical Trainer with the Elliot Group, understanding steam turbine theory, components, functions, governors, operations, trouble-shooting, and preventative maintenance of the YR Steam Turbine.

A 2120 lb. training turbine was also provided for the men to disassemble/assemble for the "hands-on" aspect of the training and to gain a better understanding of the internal parts of the turbine.

Wolf Schrader, Mechanical Integrity Program Administrator at Wynnewood Refinery, was very appreciative of Clarissa Robison and Bruce Bridwell with Mid-America's Business & Industry group for their ability to find the skilled technical trainer and provide specialized training for them ...Success with Industry Partners!!

Hello again, how's everybody?

Thank goodness for the cooler weather. I have finally been able to turn off my air conditioner and I hope I can leave it off until late spring!

And you know what goes great with cooler weather? Garage sales! We had a work day last Saturday at the WSCC garage sale. There were about six of us working to straighten and reorganize so we can reopen next week. We pulled out so many items from inside the building and so many nice folks stopped by to see if we were open. We told them what we were doing and invited them to browse around and there were so many items sold we didn't bring nearly as much back in as we took out. It was awesome!

We will probably have one more day to get it ready to open for your shopping experience.

Delta Senior Nutrition provides a delicious meal every Monday through Friday (excluding holidays) serving at 11:30 a.m. Reservations are required to ensure we prepare enough food for all who wish to attend. The number to call to make or cancel a reservation is 405-527-9462 in Purcell. If you need information about our meal program, and how to qualify for congregate or home delivered meals, please call the same number.

Here is the menu for October 10-14:

Monday—Chicken pot pie, Harvard beets, bread pudding with lemon sauce.
Tuesday—Cheeseburger with lettuce, tomato, pickles and onions, tater tots, baked beans, frosted brownie.
Wednesday—Scalloped chicken with gravy, sweet potatoes, green beans, dinner roll or sliced bread, pumpkin pan pie.
Thursday—White beans with ham sliced onions, oven-roasted potatoes, spinach, cornbread, peach crisp.
Friday—Chef's salad with meat and cheese, choice of dressing, pineapple chunks, iced cinnamon roll.
Milk is available with every meal.

This is Red River Rivalry Week, so let's hope the Sooners rebound from the last couple of weeks and take down the Longhorns. Oklahoma needs to turn things around and soon. If they keep playing like they have lately, schools will be choosing them for their homecoming opponents! Can't let that happen. Boomer Sooner!

Finally, I'd like to express my appreciation for our volunteers at both the garage sale and daily help with lunch at the senior center. I also appreciate the WHS Class of 1969 for the fall decorations they blessed us with. The center looks great!

Until next time...

spoilage during storage and lower palatability than hay stored inside.

Cattle will waste a greater percentage of poor-quality hay than they will of good-quality hay. Animals fed high-quality hay early in the season will often refuse poor-quality hay when it is offered later.

Big packages
Large bale systems are designed to minimize labor, not waste. It is important to remember that outside storage of large bales will increase hay losses due to weather-related spoilage. Spoiled, rotted, or moldy hay is often refused by all but the hungriest of cattle and will result in more waste during feeding.

Large round bales
The simplest system for feeding large round bales is to set the bale in the pasture or feeding area where the stock will have free access to hay. This system does not require the purchase of any extra equipment for feeding, but it is prone to high feeding losses.

Losses are greatest when a several-day supply of hay is fed at one time. Feeding a one-day supply of hay each day minimizes waste but increases labor costs.

When feeding large round bales without a ring or rack, a good way to estimate how many bales to have available each day is to figure one cow per foot of outside diameter of the bale. Even then, feeding losses can be excessive.

A better system for feeding large round bales is to set the bale in the pasture or feeding area but limit access to the hay with a rack or hay ring. This system requires an initial investment in hay racks or rings, but feeding losses are low, even if a seven-day supply of hay is left at one time. Feeding hay in racks or rings is crucial for producers who do not or cannot feed hay to their cattle on a daily basis.

When hay rings are used, you need to consider the space available around the feeder. Most hay rings have enough space for approximately 10 cows at a time. The more aggressive cows will eat first and consume the more desirable hay.

Cows that are timid will be forced to eat the lower-quality material or go hungry. To make the most efficient use of hay rings, you may need to purchase several rings and feed more bales at one time.

As an example, a 30-cow herd would consume one 900-pound round bale per day. To feed a 30-cow herd, we could use one hay ring that is filled daily.

But a better alternative would be to use three hay rings that are filled every three days. This gives every cow in the herd an opportunity to get the hay she needs, in addition to cutting labor costs. Similar calculations can be used with other types of hay feeders.

Small packages
Feeding small hay bales is labor intensive but reduces waste if fed properly. Small hay bales can be fed intact, in bunks or racks or spread throughout the field.

Since you usually have greater control over the amount of hay available to the cattle, these bales often have low trampling and soiling losses.

No matter what size hay package or feeding style you use, some hay will be lost or wasted. Proper feeding management minimizes these losses.

Since hay is some of the most expensive feed used on beef operations, it makes sense to try to keep waste as low as possible through good management practices.

If you have additional questions about feeding hay or similar topics, please come by or call the OSU Extension office at 405-527-2174.

Experts available to discuss anxiety screening recommendation

Gail Ellis
Agricultural Communications

The U.S. Preventative Services Task Force recommended last week that all adults under age 65 get screened for anxiety.

Mental health has become a priority for many Americans over the past few years, and the World Health Organization reports that anxiety and depression increased 25 percent worldwide from 2020-21.

Earlier this year, the task force also recommended that children and adolescents ages 8 to 18 also be screened for anxiety.

The following OSU Extension experts are available to discuss this topic.

Rachel Morse, mental health educator for Oklahoma State University Extension in Oklahoma County and a 4-H youth development multi-county educator who focuses on youth mental health, said the U.S. Preventative Services Task Force recommendation is an important step for the health care industry in addressing the nation's mental health crisis. The guidance will help primary care clinicians identify early signs of anxiety during routine care.

Steve Beck, Oklahoma 4-H program leader, said youth development programs such as 4-H present opportunities to check in with children and teens and offer support should anxiety or mental health issues arise.

For more information, contact Gail Ellis, Editorial Communications Coordinator, at 405-744-9152 or email gail.ellis@okstate.edu.

NEWS

from the City of Purcell

From the Purcell Fire Department Quinn Kroth, Fire Marshal

Not only does October feature Halloween but it has another important week that we need to be aware of. Fire Prevention Week is October 9-15. When we talk about fire prevention we immediately think of "Stop, drop, and roll." That message is important, but let's try to prevent fires so we don't get to that point.

We can prevent fires by buying proper safety tested products. Cell phone charging cords are best to buy from the original manufacturer or a product that has a United Laboratories (UL) mark. UL tests products for safe consumer use. Another product we need to pay close attention to are products that have lithium-ion batteries. Those batteries can react when they are undercharged, overcharged, or damaged. They may react suddenly or they may react many days after the damage. That reaction could be in the form of an explosion or excessive heat. You must dispose of these batteries properly.

Home Depot and Best Buy have recycling bins for lithium-ion batteries, or you can find another place to recycle them by going to Earth911.com. Both lithium-ion batteries and improper electronic charging cords are high on the list for fire starters in homes, but the number 1 cause of home fires is cooking fires. We can prevent fires in our kitchens by not leaving stoves unattended, keep towels and potholders away from burners, keep children out of the kitchen while cooking, check to make sure there is nothing in the oven before turning it on, and by making sure burners and the oven are turned off when cooking is complete.

It's a good idea to keep a fire extinguisher in the kitchen and educate yourself on how to extinguish a grease fire. Remember, do not use water.

These few tips can help prevent fires, but sometimes incidents happen beyond our control and it's important to have devices in place to warn us so we can get our family to safety. Devices, such as smoke detectors, save lives and can give you enough time to exit your home. However, if you don't check the batteries and they have failed, the device cannot help protect you and your family. Change those batteries this month. If your smoke detector is older than 10 years, replace it. If you can't see the date, replace it. Test your smoke detector monthly.

We can do everything right and still be faced with a fire in our homes, so stay educated and teach your family members on what to do in case a fire occurs. For example, press that button on the outside of your detector and listen for the beep. Let your children hear that beep and explain to them what they need to do when they hear it.

Make a plan with your family on how to get out of your house in case there is a fire, especially your children. Draw a map and set a meeting place outside away from your home. A simple escape plan can get your family to the meeting place faster and safer; it can keep you from searching for a loved one. Use this week to educate your family on the dangers of fire and what you as a family need to do if your faced with this situation.

Pauls Valley Opry lights up the night

Pauls Valley Opry

The Pauls Valley Opry welcomes Paul Lopez back to its stage on Saturday, November 5. The show begins at 6:30 p.m. at the Pauls Valley High School auditorium.

The fall season is upon us, football season is here, the days are warm and the nights are cool. However, it was smokin’ inside the old auditorium as all the guests were lighting it up during the October edition of the Pauls Valley Opry! Mary McDonald’s roots are in traditional country music

Pauls Valley Opry debut, taking us back to the early 60s with the Patsy Cline classic, “Leavin’ on Your Mind.” She did a great job on The Talley’s song “Broken World” and you could feel every word.

and nobody can sing a country song like Mary! She treated all of us with the Hank Williams’ megahit, “Your Cheatin’ Heart” and then she shared one of her compositions, “Never to Old.” The latter was a song that she penned for her husband, Louie. Our “Singing Spanish Teacher,” Wayne Gibbs tore it up! Wayne is such a character on and off stage, so we knew that we were in for a fun time as he got our toes tappin’ with the Mel McDaniel hit, “Louisiana Saturday Night.” This country crooner then took us back to yesteryear with the Merle Haggard classic “Farmers Daughter.”

Cathy Lake is known for her smooth tones and she wooed the crowd with the Cox Family’s version of “Blue Bayou.” This songwriter kicked it into high gear and excited the crowd with the Kim Richie hit, “Those Words We Said.”

Terry Wilson knocked it out of the park with the Randy Travis hit, “1982” and then he rocked the house with the Dwight Yoakam hit, “Dim Lights, Thick Smoke.”

April Davis, “Little Miss

Dynamite” was off the charts! This gal may be small in size, but her voice is as big as her heart. April melted our hearts with the LeAnn Rimes version of “Unchained Melody” and then she took us to church with the Rachel Robinson song, “(Amazing Love) You Are My King”! Wow, what a powerful song!

Pauls Valley Opry Hall of Fame Member Steve Bratcher sat in for John Williams and did a great job with the emcee duties. As always, the Memory Makers Band added a few songs to round out the night with hits from Bobbie Gentry, Brenda Lee, George Strait, Bobby Tomberlin, Hank Williams, Kathy Mattea and The Animals.

We appreciate our sponsors for helping to make this happen every month and to the patrons who attend.

Please join us for the next edition of the Pauls Valley Opry on Saturday, November 5, when we welcome to the stage Tanner Young, Annie Reed, Paul Lopez, Donna Kilmurray, Mike Deviney, Haylie Bagwell and Micah Ayache. We’ll see you at the Opry!

Obituaries

Nathan Noel Reichert

Nathan Noel Reichert was born in Guymon, Oklahoma on December 25, 1987 to Steven Reichert and Karen (Roberson) Reichert. He left his temporary home surrounded by his loving family and met Jesus face to face October 2, 2022. Nathan is now in his eternal home, healed and pain free, as God’s promise to us all!

His Grandpa Gary, Grandpa Carl; Grandma Jerita, Grandma Woody; Uncle Stan; Aunt Shari; and best friends Lauren and Clint, were waiting with open arms to greet him in Heaven.

He is survived by his parents; brother, Caleb Reichert and his wife Chelsea; sister, Andrea Yeager and her husband Steven; nephews, Bentley and Cutler Reichert, and Porter Yeager; and a host of family, and friends.

What brought Nathan the biggest smile and full of joy was being with his siblings, Caleb and Andrea. He loved being with his family and seeing and playing with his three nephews, Bentley, Porter, and Cutler. He loved holding babies. He enjoyed seeing and petting animals. Growing up Nathan had several pets; a cockatiel named Andy, a parakeet named Sparky, a chicken named Missy, and his puppy named Lucy.

Over the years, Nathan and his family would take family vacations to the lake at Greenleaf State Park, the cabin at Medicine Park, and a lifetime experience through Make-A-Wish to Disney World. Nathan loved riding the school bus. He graduated in 2007 from Washington High School.

As a child he liked to watch Elmo and Barney. As he got a little older, he enjoyed watching the “Price Is Right,” “Wheel of Fortune” and the Weather Channel.

Visitation will be held Sunday, October 9, 2022 from 2-4 p.m., Tribute Memorial Care, 708 24th Ave NW, Event Center, Norman, Okla. A Celebration of Life will be Monday, October 10, 2022 at 11 a.m. at First Baptist Church, 100 S Main St., Washington, Okla. Online condolences and memories may be shared at www.tribute.care.

The family would like to suggest memorial contributions be made in honor of Nathan Reichert to Make-A-Wish Oklahoma, 1900 NW Expressway, Suite 700, Oklahoma City, OK 73118 or to the J.D. McCarty Center, 2002 E Robinson St., Norman, OK 73071.

Jeri Thomas

Jeri Thomas was born June 4, 1944 (and, as she was quick to add) two days before D-Day. She was taken home to be with the Lord on August 16, 2022, with her husband, Warren, close at her side.

Jeri’s parents were Jack and Dorothy Jones, both of whom preceded her. Children born to Jeri and Johnny Horton were Darin Horton of Rush Springs and Destry Horton, a firefighter, who was fatally injured in a tragic fire in 2006.

In fact, allow me to share what Jeri wrote, somewhat prophetically, just two years ago.

“I miss my son Destry. It has been 14 years, and as most mothers would say after such a loss, I miss him every day and never forget his smile, hugs, sense of humor, an infectious laugh... and so very much more. His faith was first, his family second. He loved everyone, helped everyone and never missed an opportunity to show the love of Jesus. His youngest daughter McKenzie is in Heaven with him and I’m certain they are singing God’s praises. Destry was Praise Leader in his church on the Sundays he was not at the firehouse. I believe in Jesus as my Lord and Savior, so I know I will see my son and granddaughter soon. God bless all firefighters and keep them safe.”

Her loving and nurturing nature was indispensable to her mother (MeMa, as she was affectionately known) and her father in helping to rear her four younger siblings, Steve, Janel, Betty Jean, and Justin. Anyone who truly knew her, knew that those qualities defined Jeri Thomas.

See if these resonate with you: loving unconditionally, generous, non-judgmental, a kind and sweet spirit, easily approachable, humble, grateful, and empathetic (defined as “the capacity to enter into and participate in another’s feelings”). Do I hear an Amen?

Jeri graduated from Rush Springs High School and went on to complete her degree at the University of Science and Arts of Oklahoma. She then taught English Literature, including Shakespeare, at Norman High School. Driven by her business acumen and entrepreneurial spirit, Jeri began a life-long career in commercial real estate, ultimately starting her own company.

The dye had been cast. As a child, Jeri was Shirley Temple incarnate, stunningly beautiful – inside and out; as a teenager, she was Rush Springs pre-eminent Watermelon Queen (in other words, royalty in Rush Springs, Oklahoma) and that infectious, contagious beauty would continue right to the end of her life. She was beloved at MD Anderson Hospital, where she and Warren have practically lived in a small hospital room since February, 2022. The same was true with her neighborhood friends in Houston, just like her beloved church family in Lexington, Oklahoma.

Jeri married Warren Thomas in December of 2000 at the First Baptist Church of Washington D.C., their absolute favorite part of the country. Anyone who knew them was aware of how in love and deeply committed Jeri and Warren were to each other and their blended family. They were bound by their commitment to their Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, and His word, the Bible, which they read entirely every year of their marriage. They together read a chapter of the Proverbs nearly every night before they went to sleep. Warren would remind Jeri on or about the 31st of every month that she was the embodiment of the Proverbs 31 woman: she had an innate “sixth sense” mind for business, cared personally for the well-being of her employees just as she did her household; her children (and grandchildren) would rise up and call her blessed; and though obviously and profoundly beautiful, Jeri was forever humble and self-effacing when reminded of her beauty and tell how the Bible admonishes that “charm is deceitful and outward beauty is fleeting – BUT a woman who fears the Lord is to be praised.” Warren readily acknowledges that any business and financial success attributed to him would not have been possible were it not for what the Bible refers to as their one flesh – with his partner and wife, Jeri.

Together with Warren, and after losing two sons and a granddaughter during their years of marriage, Jeri has temporarily left her devoted husband, Warren, and her dear family – just as the Lord would define family with the firm conviction that one day – yes one glorious day – there will be a reuniting of those we cherished and loved only to become separated for a season that given eternity is but for a short while. And that ever-present hope and confidence is what helps sustain us from day to day – especially when our loved ones’ absence is so unspeakably painful and raw.

In addition to her husband, Warren, Jeri leaves behind son, Darin, of Rush Springs, four siblings and their spouses, two sons and a daughter from their larger, blended family, and numerous cherished grandchildren (who affectionately refer to her as ‘ChiChi’) and many nieces and nephews. Jeri’s extended family includes nearly innumerable cousins and friends – most of whom would testify that she had a God-given gift for making them feel as though they were her favorite. Until we meet again, we will always love and miss you!

A Celebration of Jeri’s Life will be held on October 22, 2022, at First Baptist Church, 900 E. Broadway St., Lexington, Oklahoma. If you plan to attend this event, please RSVP to jerithomascelebration@gmail.com by October 9, 2022.

Bonna Deen (Mayes) Freeze

Funeral Services for Bonna Deen (Mayes) Freeze, 89, of Goldsby were held Wednesday, October 5, 2022 at the Washington First Baptist Church. Interment was at Hillside Cemetery in Purcell under the direction of the Wilson-Little Funeral Home in Purcell.

Mrs. Freeze passed away Sunday, October 2, 2022. She was born October 3, 1932 in Coal County, Okla., the middle of three children born to Joe Lee Mayes and Stella Fay (Hart) Mayes. She started school in a two-room school house at Lone Oak. She graduated from Tupelo High School with the Class of 1950.

By chance, Bonna Deen met a young man named Gene Freeze. She was working as a waitress at a local café, and they hit it right off. Gene asked her to marry him, and three weeks later, on August 22, 1951, they slipped off to Gainesville, Texas, and were married. They first made their home in Oklahoma City, where they welcomed son Kim and daughter Gail.

Bonna Deen worked tirelessly as a homemaker, caring and providing for their every need. They bought a farm near Purcell in 1959, and began to build their homestead. By 1964, they settled on the farm, and she worked with Gene in the day-to-day operations of the farm.

She was a gifted baker and cook, and began baking cakes, and she catered countless weddings and events for the next 30+ years. Bonna Deen retired from the Lexington A&R after 17 years of work. She was an excellent seamstress, and designed men’s and women’s clothes. She loved the lake, and enjoyed it both from her family cabin on the water and water skiing behind the boat. She was an avid sports fan from playing basketball, taking her grandson to his first OSU game at only a few months old, cheering on the OKC Thunder, and being the loudest whistle at countless of her grandchildren and great-grandchildren’s ball games from little league to college.

She was strong in her faith and studied scripture intently, sharing her knowledge by teaching Sunday School for many years. She encouraged, supported, and prayed fiercely for her family through all seasons of life. She was a wonderful mother, grandmother, sister, aunt, cousin and a true friend. She will be dearly missed!

She was preceded in death by her husband Gene Freeze; her parents, Joe and Stella Fay Mayes and a brother, Billy Joe Mayes Sr.

Bonna Deen leaves behind her children, son, Kim Freeze of Goldsby and daughter, Gail Webb of Goldsby; brother, Eldon Lee Mayes and wife, Barbara, of Harrah, Okla.; two grandchildren, Greg Snow of Goldsby and Casey Wilson and husband, Blythe, of Purcell; eight great-grandchildren, Alexandria Harris and husband, Nathan, Oliver Wilson, Stella Wilson, Arlie Pearl Wilson, Zeke Wilson, Brighton Snow, Cal Snow and Delia Snow; two great-great-grandchildren and a host of other family and friends.

designed to raise public awareness and excitement about the new facility.

The plan was approved by the hospital board, trustees were told at Monday’s meeting.

Sandra Payne, a marketing specialist with SSM, said the three-prong plan will rely on print advertising, billboards and social media.

In addition, the hospital’s website will be updated and will include a video tour of the new hospital.

There will be a VIP event at the new hospital on October 24, followed on October 28 by a ribbon cutting.

The hospital will officially open on November 2.

Payne said two billboards will catch the collective eye of motorists traveling I-35.

There will be one billboard each for north and southbound traffic.

One billboard will go up November 1 and remain in place through April 15. The second will go up January 2 and remain through April 23.

The campaign will also include what Payne termed a “healthy number” of newspaper advertisements in The Purcell Register, Pauls Valley Daily Democrat and Garvin County News Star.

In addition, SSM officials will be available for speaking engagements at civic clubs.

There are also plans for printing pamphlets outlining the services available at the new hospital.

Payne said SSM has budgeted $30,489 for the campaign.

With the hospital board’s approval in place, there was no need for any action by the city.

Trustees also approved a request to subsidize the new hospital at a rate of $100,000 per month for six months starting in December.

The increased funding will backfill to cover increased expenses during that period.

During the city council meeting, members tabled a decision on replacing the Rotary Playground at the lake.

There will be a special meeting later this month to decide which of three options to accept.

The council approved a preliminary plat for developing Arbors Addition on a 64-acre tract.

The development will include 181 lots, most measuring 65-by-120 feet.

Residents in the area expressed concerns about flooding precipitated by rainfall runoff from the development.

In other business, the council:

- approved three budget amendments totaling $3,082,580.53;

- approved a payment of $53,068.50 to Haskell Lemon Group for paving 3,696-by-10 feet for the Lake Trail Phase 2 project; and

- approved city ordinance amendments governing animals.

Deadly:

Wadley’s EMS to OU Medical Center in Oklahoma City. He was admitted in critical condition with head, arm, leg and trunk internal injuries, the OHP reported.

Investigating OHP Shayne Ballard said the pickup, “traveled through a red light at excessive speed, swerved to the left and struck the Corolla.”

First responders were called to the scene at 9:15 a.m.

The collision was reported to have occurred at Main Street. The Corolla, reportedly in the left turn lane, was knocked about 1/2 a block to the northwest coming to rest on the west side of Green Avenue about half way to Washington facing northeast.

The red Silverado pickup did not come to rest until a block later at Washington and Green Avenue, facing north. Both vehicles were total losses.

Substantial debris littered Green from Main Street all the way to Washington.

While firefighters were working the active accident scene, another accident was reported on I-35 where assistant chief Rocky Claunch and another firefighter left the Main and Green scene and responded to the interstate accident.

With Purcell responding to two accident scenes, Lexington and Wayne Firefighters were called upon to help at the downtown Purcell accident.

The main thoroughfare was closed from 9:15 a.m. until 11:48 a.m. Firemen reported using six bags of oil dry on fluids that leaked from both vehicles.

Leading the OHP investigation is Ballard. He was assisted at the scene by Trooper Pletcher, Purcell Police, Purcell, Lexington and Wayne Firefighters, the McClain County Sheriff’s Department and Wadley’s EMS.

Holiday:

mail delivery.

State offices, however, will be open, as will public schools in Purcell, Lexington, Washington and Wayne.

Mid-America Technology Center will be open, as well.

McClain Bank and First United Bank are both closing for the day. The Purcell Pioneer Library, however, will be open.

Washington finished the Regional tournament with an unblemished record

JohnDennyMontgomery
The Purcell Register

The Washington Warriors punched their ticket to State after sweeping Kellyville (4-0), Alva (6-1) and Purcell (3-0) in the Regional softball tournament.

This makes 25 consecutive softball seasons, counting fast pitch and slow pitch, the Warriors have made it to the State tournament.

“There isn’t anything better than that record in Oklahoma,” Washington head coach Tylor Lampkin said. “When you do the things this program has done - it’s special. It shows what this softball community is all about.”

Sophomore Olivia Palumbo opened the tournament for the Warriors in the circle against Kellyville. She threw seven innings and allowed no runs with eight strikeouts.

“It was a good situation and we didn’t have to throw Maggie (Place) twice on the first day,” Lampkin said. “Ellie Loveless has pitched in those situations in the past but she’s so vital for our defense. She gets everyone where they’re supposed to be and gives us our best defense.”

Senior Abby Wood went 1-3 and knocked in two batters. She also stole a base.

Ellie Loveless went 2-3 and had two stolen bags.

“She’s such a special kid,” Lampkin said. “She works on her craft daily and when she goes home she works on her spins. She has two or three pitches that she throws with command and it makes it hard on hitters.”

Lucas and Wood were both 2-4 at the plate with both of Wood’s hits being doubles.

The game was scoreless until the fifth inning when Washington put three on the board.

Wood hit a line drive to center field that drove in Palumbo, who walked, to start the scoring.

Loveless knocked in Wood in the next at-bat.

State

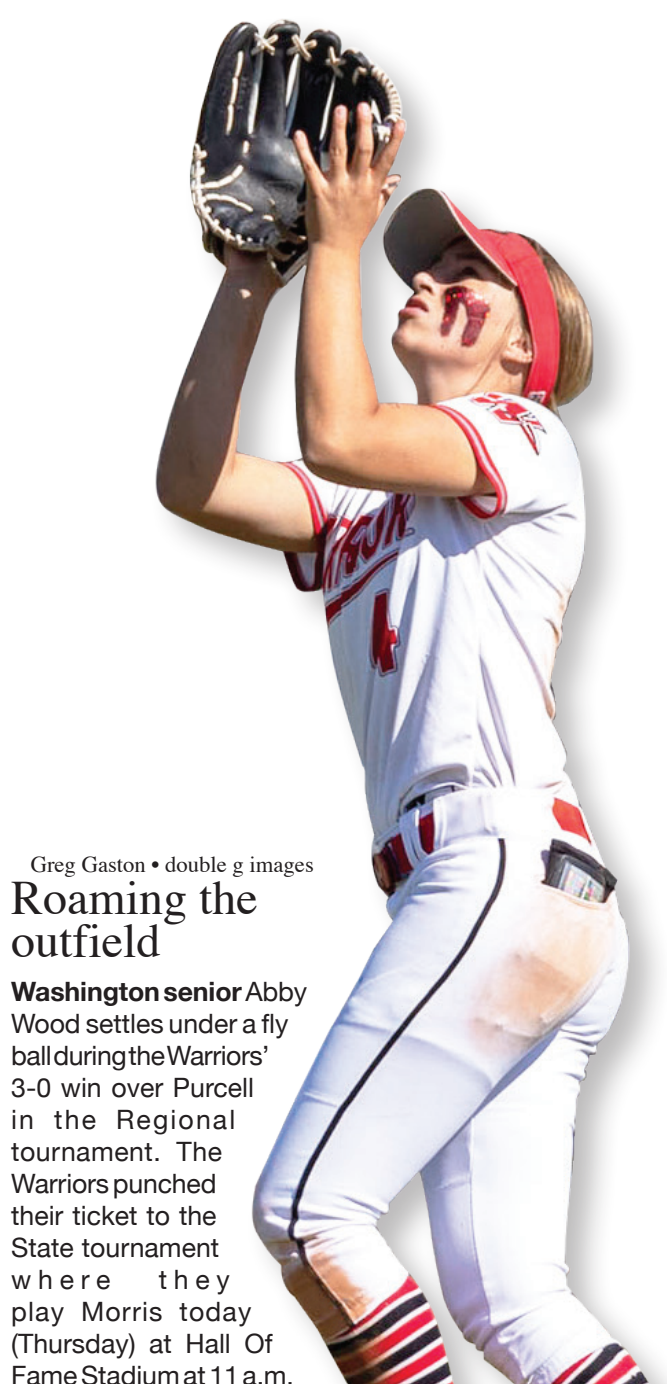

The Warriors open the State tournament at Hall of Fame Stadium today (Thursday) at 11 a.m. against Morris.

Morris (34-9) has two of the best athletes in the state in their catcher and shortstop, according to Lampkin.

“They’re a very scrappy team,” he said. “They’re real aggressive on the base paths.”

“Getting to State is really the hard part,” he said. “We’re excited to get rolling. I hope our experience plays in big favor for us and we can relax and not get caught up in the moment. For the seniors it’s their 10th State softball tournament.”

Washington is 35-3.

Wayne to Rush Springs

A key District showdown for the Bulldogs

Wayne travels to Grady County Friday night for a District clash with Rush Springs. The Redskins (1-4) are coming off a win against Healdton last week and Wayne head coach Brandon Sharp said they will be playing with momentum.

“They’re coming off a big win and they’re feeling good,” he said. “They’ve been competitive in their games.”

Rush Springs has a capable quarterback overseeing a version of the flexbone.

“They run it out of the shotgun with the running back behind him in a pistol look,” Sharp said. “They use misdirection and we have to tackle better.”

Defensively they base out of a 4-3 front.

“After watching them on film you can tell they play tough and go hard in every game,” Sharp said. “Good things happen for them because they go hard.”

Sharp said keeping on blocks will be one of the keys for the Wayne offense’s success.

Another key will be using the whole field and getting to the sidelines.

“We have to protect up front and get the ball to our play makers,” he said. “If we can’t get to the perimeter it’s not good.”

Kickoff is set for 7 p.m.

Stratford

Wayne, now 2-3, was defeated 42-14 by Stratford last week.

Mistakes plagued the short-handed Bulldogs in the loss.

“We didn’t help ourselves out,” Sharp said. “We had too many miscues and missed tackles. If it could go wrong, it did.”

Wayne was down in the game but came out with life at half-time and scored twice.

“We came out in the second half and gave effort,” he said. “Our young guys are getting good reps right now.”

Wayne’s first touchdown came via sophomore quarterback Jaxon Dill’s one-yard run. The two point conversion failed.

Wayne’s next score was on a three-yard run by freshman Logan Simpson.

Fellow freshman Aiden Beck capped off the scoring by converting the two-point conversion.

As a team, Wayne had 107 yards rushing on 29 carries. They were 5-7 for 14 yards through the air.

Dragons:

twice driving inside the Lindsay 20 yard line and twice coming away with no points.

The Dragons’ lone touchdown was a one yard Brody Galyean plunge followed by Devan Martin’s point after touchdown.

But it was Purcell’s tenacious defense that was the main story.

“I think our defense grew up a little bit last week,” Scott said. “I expect that type of play for the rest of the year.”

Scott praised the defensive play of Payson Purcell, Kash Guthmueller, Jose Ochoa, Ryker Fink, Luke Edelman and Adam Edelman.

Payson and Guthmueller led the team with 14 tackles apiece. Austin Burton finished with nine stops followed by Brody Holder with eight, Fink and Luke with seven, Ochoa with six and Adam with three.

“We just played a good football team,” Scott said. “We played hard and played really well on defense.”

Scott said it hurt giving up a pass right before halftime.

“But we had some big stops like the goal line stand and when Payson came in on fourth and one and stopped them from making a first down. And, Kash had a fumble strip when they were driving.”

Scott said it hurt when the Dragons drove down deep twice and came up empty.

“We couldn’t capitalize on some things. But as a whole our defense came up big. The guys up front don’t get the credit they deserve. That’s how our defense is set up. The linebackers and safeties are able to come down hill and make plays.”

The coach was referring to the play of Brody Holder, Tavian Engert and Brendan Bacon.

“Holder had a good game,” the coach said. “Tavian played hard and Bacon had a really good game at nose guard. Ty Jaspersen played really well at corner and Burton had a good game at times. Nine tackles for a corner is pretty good for a corner.”

Up next is a 7 p.m. date Friday with the 4-2 Frederick Bombers at Conger Field.

Scott labels the Bombers another good football team.

“They’ve got some athletes and are big up front,” the Purcell head man reports.

Two of their better athletes are their four-year starting quarterback and wide receiver. The quarterback, Adrian Gaytan, has a good arm.

He likes to get the ball to his 6’5” receiver, Alfred Cathey, who has good hands and speed to go with his size.

“We’ll have to account for him,” the coach conceded.

Against the Bombers’ 4-2-5 defense, Scott reports his team will have to be more efficient offensively and finish drives and keep playing defense.

Dragon notes:

Head coach Tracy Scott nominated Payson Purcell as the Defensive Player of the Week. Purcell had 14 tackles against Lindsay.

The Defensive Lineman of the Week nominee was Brody Holder, who finished with eight tackles last Friday night.

The Offensive Lineman nominee went to Brendan Bacon who graded out at 87 percent against the Leopards.

There were no nominations for Offensive Player of the Week.

Wash:

“I’m sure he’d be the first one to tell you to credit his offensive line and give his receivers a lot of credit for yards after the catch,” head coach Brad Beller said.

The first touchdown pass of the night in the first period and the last one in the fourth quarter were both to Nate Roberts.

The first quarter score was a 68 yard play with the fourth quarter touchdown going for seven yards.

Hendrix connected with Cage Morris for a 19-yard score later in the first quarter and found Mason Singletary open for a 60-yard bomb in the second quarter. He hooked up with Mayson Thomas for a 28 yard score before halftime.

“He threw extremely well,” Beller said. “Of those passes, none were longer than 12 yards down field. He did a great job of getting the ball to our receivers in space and the receivers did a good job making yards after the catch.”

Beller said his offensive line was dominant but due to 13 penalties for 125 yards, the offensive rushing stats really didn’t show how well they ran the ball last week.

Cole Scott rushed the pigskin 16 times for 93 yards and a 10-yard touchdown.

“We dominated up front but those yellow flags took away from how well we were running the ball,” Beller said.

Mayson Thomas toed a 33 yard field goal as time expired in the first half.

For the second straight week it was another smothering night of defensive football for the Warriors.

“It was just a dominating performance by our defense,” Beller said. “CCS had 25 rushing attempts for 38 yards. The defense did a great job of being physical. We had a good pass rush that forced them into throwing two interceptions that were big stops in the second half.”

Junior Naithen Spaulding led the team with 10 tackles, five of those were behind the line of scrimmage. The aggressive defensive lineman also had one quarterback sack.

Ben Vaughn registered eight tackles including one for a loss. Jake Coles was right on his heels with seven stops while Cole Beller made five tackles.

Hendrix had an interception to go with a trio of tackles and Tatum Wilk stepped in front of an errant CCS aerial for an interception.

“I’m proud we played as well as we did for as long as we did,” Beller said. “That’s two complete defensive games. The one the week before against Frederick and last week against CCS. They really stepped it up.”

Washington will host the 1-4 Crooked Oak Ruf-Nex this Friday night at 7 p.m.

The Ruf-Nex will operate out of the Wing T or Flex Bone on offense.

“They have improved significantly from what they were last year and are moving the football,” Beller said. “It may not be showing up in wins but they are moving the ball at times and trying to execute.”

On defense the Ruf-Nex will base out of a 4-3.

“They like to bring pressure mixing it up both inside and outside,” Beller said. “Their coach, Farold Smith, is doing an excellent job.”

Warrior notes:

Washington Head Coach Brad Beller nominated Jaxon Hendrix as the Offensive Player of the Week for his 12 of 18 passing performance for 341 yards and five touchdowns.

Beller nominated Caleb Bruce as the Offensive Lineman of the Week. He graded out at 88 percent against the Royals.

Getting the nod as the Defensive Player of the Week was Ben Vaughn who had eight tackles including three for losses.

Naithen Spaulding was nominated as the Defensive Lineman of the Week. He registered 10 tackles with five of those behind the line of scrimmage. He also had one quarterback sack.

Lexington's season ends

22-13 season record for Lady 'Dawgs

Emily Montgomery
The Purcell Register

It seems Lindsay was Lexington's Achilles Heel as an 11-0 loss to the Leopardettes last Friday that sent the Lady Bulldogs home.

McKenzie Manuel's single in the second inning was a bright spot for Lexington in their loss. Other than that, there was not much offense to be had.

Brodie Anderson led the game off in the circle for Lexington. She went two innings and allowed four runs on two hits. Cora Vasquez and Hannah Garrett came in in relief, but weren't able to stem the tide.

Regional Tournament
To kick off the Regional, Lexington beat Newkirk 9-3 on Thursday afternoon. The Lady Bulldogs consistently put up runs on the Lady Tigers, led off by Anderson's double in the first inning to get them going.

Izzy Pack had a long ball in the fourth.

Lexington had 12 hits in the win. Anderson was the leader at the plate going 3-4. Kieley Givens and Kora Parker had two hits each. Pack, Vasquez, KK Vazquez, Maison Sissney and Abby Sample had one hit apiece.

After the win, Lexington faced host Lindsay. They fell to the Leopardettes 8-3.

Lindsay's pitcher was red hot, finishing the game with 13 strikeouts.

Lexington managed six hits with Anderson and Givens leading the way with two.

Vasquez was in the circle, but she didn't last long. Pack came in in relief, fanning five batters.

The loss to Lindsay forced another game with Newkirk on Friday.

Lexington beat the Lady Tigers 5-2 in walk-off fashion.

Down 2-1, Parker had a single in the fifth inning to score a run and tie the game.

With the score knotted at two-all in the seventh inning, Sissney had a walk-off double to score three runs and win the game.

Lexington had five hits and five RBIs, led by Sissney who was 2-3 at the plate.

Earlier in the season, Lexington beat Lindsay in the Murray County Bash, 8-3.

The Lady Bulldogs finished their season with a 22-13 record.

Several girls will be lost to graduation including Pack, Vasquez, Maddie Manuel, Leslie Barber, and Alexis Feuerborn.

Routine

Washington senior Ellie Loveless fields a ball from her shortstop position during the Regional tournament. Washington advanced to State and will play Morris today (Thursday) at 11 a.m. at Hall of Fame Stadium.

Allowance feature winner

Ragan's Jet, Gerardo Mora up, wins the allowance feature for Oklahoma-breds on Thursday, September 29, 2022 at Remington Park.

Ragan's Jet wins featured allowance race

Trained by Joe Offolter

Ragan's Jet had to overcome an objection from the jockey of Sunday Flashback in the featured allowance race at Remington Park on Thursday night, but a quick glance by the stewards left the 5-year-old mare up as the winner.

Ragan's Jet won her second consecutive race, taking this $49,000 open allowance race for Oklahoma-bred fillies and mares that are 3-year-olds-and-older and the $45,000 Muscogee Creek Nation Stakes at Fair Meadows in Tulsa July 18. It was also the mare's third win in four tries at Remington Park in her career.

The daughter of Mister Lucky Cat, out of the Song and a prayer mare She'sgothorownjet, had won two first-level allowance races, one open and one for Oklahoma-breds, in two of her three races at Remington Park last year.

Jockey Jose Alvarez, aboard even-money favorite Sunday Flashback, claimed foul against Ragan's Jet's jockey Gerardo Mora in the stretch. However, the video showed very little of anything in the way of interference and the Oklahoma Horse Racing Commission stewards denied the objection, leaving Ragan's Jet as the winner. She had blown past the field in the stretch to win by 2-1/4 lengths over Sunday Flashback.

The Joe Offolter-trained mare was sent off as the 2-1 second favorite in the race and paid $6 to win, $2.60 to place and $2.20 to show across the board. She covered the 5-1/2 furlong distance in 1:04.21 over a fast track.

Our Bet (5-2), the third-place finisher 3-1/4 lengths behind the runner-up, was the pacesetter in the first quarter of a mile, but Ragan's Jet had taken over at the three-eighths. The early fractions were :22.65 for the quarter-mile, :46.16 for the half-mile and :57.98 for five-eighths of a mile.

Ragan's Jet earned $28,449 for the victory and improved her record to 13 starts, five wins, four seconds and two thirds for a bankroll of $157,766. Offolter conditions the mare for owner Bryan Hawk of Shawnee. She was bred in Oklahoma by Mil-lar Equine.

We track the results of the claims we have assisted veterans with on an annual basis. From October 1, 2021, through October 1, 2022 was a successful year for many of the veterans who are represented by our foundation volunteers.

Over 500 veterans received a 100 percent rating for their service-connected disabilities. We are very proud to have made a difference the lives of those disabled veterans. Over 1,500 veterans were awarded VA ratings from 10-90 percent for their service-connected disabilities during that same time period. Both groups of veterans will receive annual disability payments from $1500 to $35,000 per year depending on their rating percentage.

When it comes to helping surviving spouses receive VA benefits, the biggest roadblock we see is when their veteran did not file for benefits before their death. Over the years we have found that when a veteran has a service-connected disability that is listed as a primary cause of death or a condition that contributed to their death, the spouse can be approved for VA benefits.

A surviving spouse could receive from $1,250 to $1,600 per month in DIC payments if the cause of death is a service-connected condition. From October of 2021 through October 1, 2022 we assisted 35 surviving spouses in receiving VA benefits.

Our volunteers are what make this organization successful when it comes to assisting veterans and their families with their applications for VA benefits. We appreciate each one of you for your time and dedication.

Last Saturday morning several of us made the drive to Langston, Okla., to participate in the Grand Opening and Ribbon Cutting Program of the Wm Conrad Veterans Memorial Gardens. The Veterans Garden was founded and developed by Mr. Stewart and Marcona Williams along with their Board of Trustees and the Langston Veterans Community. We were honored to take part and attend.

We are a 501c-3 non-profit organization and there is never a charge for the services we provide to veterans and their families. We do accept financial contributions to be used to support veterans and this organization.

We also accept donations of wheelchairs and other types of handicap equipment that can be given to other veterans or their families. Other items that we accept are cars, trucks, motorcycles, or items that can be given to veterans or sold to raise funds.

We are open to active clients Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to noon each day.

Sunray Baptist Church

Melisa Dubbs sang “Hold On to Me” for the morning special.

Brother John used Luke 5:12-16 for his sermon relating when Jesus healed the leper. In the leper, we see us. Jesus is the only one to do anything about the human condition.

Leprosy was a terrible disease. The leper was desperate. He came into the city, approached the Lord and fell on his face, begging to be healed. Jesus is a God of compassion and responded. He touched the leper who was immediately healed.

Jesus is the undefiled incorruptible Savior. He can transform a sinner and they are changed. He is the solution to every problem, every need.

This Friday and Saturday, the BMA of Oklahoma will be holding its annual state meeting at Unity Baptist Church in Wayne. This Sunday, October 9, is National Pastor Appreciation Day. We will have our annual Ladies Casserole Cook-off following morning worship. There will be a devotion after lunch and no evening service. Our evening services will resume at 5 p.m. on October 16 with our quarterly business meeting. Snacks and fellowship will follow.

John Wylie began his “official duties” in serving as our pastor this past Sunday. We appreciate him and his wife, Rhonda, and pray blessings on them as they joined the Sunray Baptist Church family.

Come join us at Sunray! We are a small traditional church with a lot of friendly people. We are located at 2223 N. 9th Street in Purcell. For additional information, call 405-527-6808.

Is that the Old Ship of Zion? (Part 1)

Good early autumn to everyone. Welcome to the ‘front porch.’ This past Lord’s Day we visited an old account of the story of ‘Zion.’ It is one of the most beautiful names, I think, in the English language.

The beautiful name of “Zion” is splashed throughout the deep writings of the Old Testament prophets. Solomon’s magnificent temple once rested on Zion’s western slope, the highest hill in Jerusalem. From her fixed position high above the hills, Zion served as a fortress of protection and a beacon of light to the land of Judah.

Those Old Testament writers honored this place called Zion and often wrote fondly of her as they looked ahead by faith to a better Zion, the church of our Lord.

“Let Mount Zion be glad!” writes the psalmist in the 48th psalm; then, a moment later, he says, “Walk about Zion, go around her, number well her ramparts, go through her citadels, that you may tell the next generation that this is God, our God forever...” (vs. 11-14).

This Zion of the psalmist’s era points to the church our Lord promises that He will build (Matt. 16:18). It is a greater Zion, by far. In one striking scripture, the apostle contrasts the bountiful blessings of the church that by that time already had been established – mount Zion, he calls her – with the limitations of the old regime: “But ye are come unto mount Zion,” he writes, “and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels” (Hebrews 12:22).

We, today, have come to that just such a place. We have come to mount Zion, to the heavenly Jerusalem and city of the living God, to that innumerable hosts of angels. Think on that a moment. Sometimes I think we tend to take for granted the glory of the church of our Lord that we become a part of when we obey the gospel of Jesus Christ (Romans 6:1-6, 17). But those old faithful prophets did not take Zion for granted. They loved her, even as we love the Lord’s church today.

Many song poets through the years have taken this image of Zion and the church and used her it in their music. How often have we sang in powerful union, ‘We’re marching to Zion,’ or ‘O Zion, Zion, I long thy face to see,’ ‘Zion’s call is ringing over land and sea,’ along with so many others.

One of my all-time favorites is a Zion song that looks at Zion as an old ship. It was in 1977 that Conrad Cook penned the beautiful words to “Is that the Old Ship of Zion.” His song is the narrative of a man standing on a river bank. As he looks out over the waters, he sees the old ship of Zion sailing gallantly in the distance. He strains his eyes to make out this ship, and it is easy to see that she has been through quite a journey, her “hull bent and battered.”

“Waves were rough,” he writes, “but that old ship was sailing. Is that the old Ship of Zion I see?”

What a true and poignant image of the Lord’s church! Surely, through the ages, the church has been bent and battered, just as that old ship. She has had to endure many storms and a multitude of attacks and will do so until – as Revelation looks her glorious plight – “the Lamb shall overcome them” (17:14). Yes, that old ship is still sailing. As Daniel of old looks toward her five hundred years away, he reminds the world that Zion “shall never be destroyed.” She, the old prophet writes, “shall stand for ever” (Daniel 2:44).

Today I am so glad to be part of that everlasting ship of Zion, to be able to sail life’s sea in this old ship. I want to tell you that I love this church, and I hope that this look back at her beauty will excite you to a greater love for her, too. When we look at her – when we “walk about Zion” – we cannot help but love her. It is in her that salvation of the world comes. From the very beginning, the Lord added to the church those who were being saved (Acts 2:42).

Oh, she’s an old ship; but she is still sailing steadily along. coachbowen1984@gmail.com

Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church

By Stella Bledsoe

October 9, 2022 is the twenty-eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time. During Ordinary Time, the Gospel focuses on the teachings and miracles of Christ during his time on earth.

The Gospel reading is Luke 17:11-19. In this reading, Jesus is travelling through borderlands of Samaria and Galilee on the way to Jerusalem. Ten men suffering from leprosy call to Jesus, “Jesus! Master! Take pity on us.” Jesus tells them to show themselves to the priests and as the lepers were going away, they were cleansed.

One of the 10 men, upon realizing he was cured, turned back praising God at the top of his voice. Jesus said, “Ten were healed but only one returned to give praise. Where are the others?” Then Jesus said to the foreigner (a Samaritan), “Stand up and go on your way. Your faith has saved you.”

As Christians, do we thank Jesus for the healing he has given us? Do we stop at least once a day to thank him for the gift of eternal life? Choosing to have an attitude of gratitude is not a character trait many display these days.

In my working career, many employees came to Human Relations complaining about everything related to their job. Sometimes to get the conversation back on track, I would ask them to name something good about their job. If they could not, I would start with a list of good things that all the employees had.

We get paid every two weeks. Our employer never says he cannot pay us. We get to park for free. Most of us work Monday through Friday during the daytime and have 10 paid holidays a year. If we are sick, we can be excused from work. We receive enough paid leave that we can have a break from work for at least two weeks each year. If we need to use the rest room, no one tells us to wait. Even if our current job leaves much to be desired, we still have it better than tons of other people.

Perhaps we can start developing an attitude of gratitude by remembering our first-grade teacher. Mine was Mrs. Marshall. Even before she taught us to read and write, she taught us songs like “This Old Man.” It is a rare day I need to sing “This Old Man” but not a single day passes without me reading and writing. Thank you, Mrs. Marshall.

When was the last time you thanked your spouse for being your companion and work mate? Do you routinely tell the cook that the food was tasty? Do you thank the cashier at Walmart and say, “Have a nice day”? Have you ever called your best friend’s parents and thanked them for welcoming you and giving you guidance? When we begin to develop an attitude of gratitude, it becomes a habit. Even better, it helps us to feel better about ourselves as

Green Avenue Church of Christ

Steve Adams continues to lead us in our Bible study Wednesday evenings. He is presenting material on the subject of what it really means to be a Christian.

During our Sunday morning Bible study we are continuing to discuss the subjects pertaining to life and death, like war, abortion, suicide and such like.

Our Sunday morning and evening sermons were back-to-back discussions of a theme built up in 2 Corinthians. In chapter 3 and verse 18 we are informed that the Christian becomes changed by the spirit of the Lord. Both sermons discussed this matter in detail showing that chapter 3 identified that spirit as the Word and chapter 4 picked up that same thought by discussing preaching the gospel.

Keith Shackelford noted that there are many areas that a Christian begins to change in. For example, his hope changes, and who he serves changes, he gains liberty in that change, but the biggest change in the Christian is that he becomes more and more like Christ.

The more he sees the figure in the glass, the more he wants to be like Him: “But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.”

We invite you to meet with us for Bible study at 7 p.m. Wednesday night and 9:45 a.m. Sunday and our worship services on Sundays are 10:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.

Bible correspondence courses are available, call 405-527-4052.

well as others.

Jesus does not need us to tell him “Thank you” but we need to tell him. At the end of the day, my final prayer is one of loving gratitude. I always begin with Our Father. Then, “Thank you Lord for all your blessings. I especially thank you for sending Ron into my life. I asked you for a practicing Christian who placed his family above himself. He’s that and a ton more.

“Thank you for the children. I thought you had forgotten me when I learned I could not bear children, but in your generosity, I am now a mother of six, a grandmother of 11, and great-grandmother of two. Thank you for staying with me when I jumped off track a few times. Thank you for making it possible for me to graduate college at 33 years old. Thank you for giving me a good work ethic and a desire to succeed.

“Thank you for a roof over my head, food in my body, and sufficient clothing to wear. Thank you for all the Christians who have been in my life. They showed me your love and care and helped me navigate life’s rapids. Finally, thank you for sacrificing your life so I can live in your presence when I leave this earthly life behind. I am looking forward to seeing you. In your name I pray, Amen.”

We celebrate the love of Jesus at Our Lady of Victory parish all year long. Our Lady of Victory parish is located at 307 West Jefferson. The office has relocated to 501 N. 4th in Purcell and is open weekday mornings. You can call the office at 405-527-3077.
