Normandy may have decreased in population, based on latest Census reports, but the village of residents which still call the rolling hills home say they concentrate more on quality of life, rather than just numbers of people.

Normandy: looking toward preservation over growth

By ZOË HAGGARD
zhaggard@t-g.com

As residents in other counties throughout Bedford County watch an increase in California, Ohio, New York and Texas license plates showing up, Normandy remains as if in a time capsule below the hills.

At around 150 acres, Normandy stretches just a little ways down Highway 269. The Duck River sits at its northern border, while George Dam and its two best-known sites.

It's home to 108 residents, according to 2020 Census data. That's a decrease from 141 residents recorded in 2010 data. Why the change?

"You've got basically two types of people here," said Normandy Mayor Charles Whitaker. "The ones who have lived in Normandy most or all their life are in the greater Normandy area - some of them left and came back. And then you've got the folks like myself that found it a very attractive area..."

How Whitaker came to Normandy was by accident. Originally from Texas, Whitaker has lived in middle Tennessee since 1992. Working as an over-the-road commercial driver, he was sent down to the George Dickel Distillery to pick up a load one day.

"After getting lost in the woods and getting an 18-wheeler on roads I should not have been on, I finally found George Dickel," he recalled.

Back home, he mentioned to his partner about checking out this quaint town that had a little charm in its "downtown." They did exactly that, and the home that he now lives in for his retirement was on the market at the time.

Shortly after retiring, Whitaker became mayor in 2018 after the incumbent mayor moved outside Normandy city limits.

Normandy pastor encourages unity

By ZOË HAGGARD
zhaggard@t-g.com

She would drive down to Normandy in her early 20s, not knowing that one day she would become a pastor at the Methodist Church tucked away on Center Street. Pastor Laurie Raulston was appointed to the Normandy United Methodist Church five and half years ago.

Having gotten engaged on the banks of Normandy Lake and having always felt the presence of God in those "beautiful" rolling hills, Raulston said she nearly fell out of her chair when the superintendent called her and told her she was to go to Normandy.

"It just felt like home. I grew up in a very small, red-brick United Methodist Church. And it's eerily laid out similarly to this one..." she said with a laugh. "So, God's plan unfolds over what we consider an extended time."

Like many of her peers, Raulston did not have any early aspirations to become a pastor. She grew up in the Lebanon area, attended Middle Tennessee State University, and had a couple different jobs in Murfreesboro working in the public sector. She also volunteered with the Chamber of Commerce in Tullahoma where she lives with her husband, Mark, and two sons, Harrison and Jonathan.

Raulston said she came to truly know Christ her last year at college and admits, like everyone, that she's had ebbs and flows in that relationship. But she always remained active in church and eventually felt the call to go into ministry.

Now five and half years later, Pastor Laurie says she loves being with this "gracious" community.

"This place of Normandy...I can feel the Holy Spirit in this place. And you can feel it when out in town. And then you see these relationships being built."

Those relationships have proven not only beneficial to the Normandy Methodist Church but also to the Normandy Presbyterian Church, led by Pastor Tom Bagley and the Normandy Baptist Pastor Laurie Raulston said recently that for many, Normandy may be a drive-through hamlet with breath-taking views. But for the community, it's the start of a unity initiative. She has been pastor at Normandy United Methodist Church just over 5 years.

A Sims Road man was found dead of a gunshot wound at his home Sunday night, and investigators say foul play is suspected.

Family members arrived around 11 p.m. to find Thoutha Peter Souphom, 52, in the yard of his residence in the 3300 block of Sims Road, Sheriff Austin Swing said. He had been shot in the head, according to police scanner traffic.

TBI special agents were called into the investigation at the request of 17th District Attorney General Rob Carter.

"The investigation remains active and ongoing at this time," the TBI said in a press release.

It was a deadly weekend on Sims Road as a man drowned Saturday night several miles away, investigators said.

Trisha Luttrell has been found safe.

Searchers found 10-year-old Trisha, missing since Sunday, early this (Monday) afternoon hiding under the floor of a detached garage at a home near her U.S. 41A South residence, Sheriff Austin Swing said.

An ambulance was called to take Trisha to a hospital for a medical check, but Swing said she is not thought to be injured.

She had been missing for approximately 15-16 hours, Swing said.

It was fortunate that a regional training session for search dogs and their handlers was being held at the Rutherford County Church, led by Pastor Chris Heath.

"Particularly in the role of church, community to the Christian faith is imperative," said Raulston. Such community starts within a congregation but then leads to bringing it outside the church's walls, she said.

That's why these churches started the Normandy Music Nights last spring, where local worship leaders and friends bring their banjos, guitars, and accordions to gather on Normandy's Front Street for live music.

"What I hear repeatedly from locals is that they want a strong sense of community, of quality of life, of relationships with their neighbors. I think that's universal but in a small little hamlet," which is the word Raulston uses to describe Normandy,

"it is possible in a place this size for most people to know each other," she said.

"In our culture today, we think we're more connected, but we're honestly really more isolated."

It's also another reason why many of the churches' laypeople prayer walk through the neighborhood to build relationships and trust with the locals, something that has never happened before, Raulston said.

"There are people living within a stone's throw of each of our churches who need to hear 'I want to know your name' and 'God loves you.'"

So, for many, Normandy may be a drive-through hamlet with breathtaking views. But for the community, it's the start of a unity initiative.

"I love what God has called me to do. It feels right," Pastor Laurie said.

Normandy

its. He practically became a "shoo-in," being the only one on the ballot, and needed a total of 25 signatures from registered voters, in two weeks.

He went door-to-door and did just that. The "rest is history," he said. He said he'll have lived in Normandy for about eight years come this winter.

So is the story of how the mayor ended up in Normandy. And now, Whitaker says, the goal of Normandy residents is to preserve and improve their little town, not necessarily grow it commercially.

"They don't really want to see growth. They want to see preservation and improvement, but they are not very much interested in commercial growth," Whitaker said.

For instance, people would like to see the café put back on the square. But something like a Dollar General, absolutely not, the mayor explained.

Preservation and improvement

Mayor Whitaker described his responsibilities as "nebulous" but there's still quite a few tangible things to do in Normandy.

For example, the street lighting there was "obsolete" back in 2018, he said. So when Duck River Electric Membership Corp. had a program to update to LED street lighting, the Town of Normandy took a part in it. And the community provided a positive response, Whitaker said. They also had volunteers from town and from the subdivisions who wanted to beautify the park, which required water from the Bedford County Utility District. But the community had a mixed response on that, Whitaker said.

"Right now we're having electricity put in the park where we can have seasonal lighting, like for Christmas," Whitaker said. "We can also have food trucks there and have events."

United Communications also put a tower in their park. Whitaker said most residents in Normandy are "not living in the electronic world of millennials," but still need decent internet connection.

It will at least get them into the 20th century, not to mention 21st, Mayor Whitaker added jokingly.

Mayor Whitaker also mentioned there's much support for consolidating the (currently non-existent) town hall, post office, and police station into the Schmiede building at the corner of Division Street.

But there is one improvement that has yet to be done, according to Whitaker. "For Normandy to exist over the long term, we are going to have to annex some area and some people into the city limits," he said.

Such annexation would require either a 100 percent buy-in from the residents in the area of annexation or a ballot initiative tied to a normal election, which would then pass through simple majority. Annexation, Mayor Whitaker explained, would provide city services to a greater number of residents in Normandy as well as increase a tax pool.

Still, the mayor is positive, saying that at some point they might have a turnaround with some people moving back in. "It's kind of nice that it's country, but it's also close to Tullahoma and not that far from Shelbyville, so everything you need is close by," Whitaker said.

Southwest cancels hundreds more flights

DALLAS (AP) — Southwest Airlines canceled several hundred more flights Monday following a weekend of major disruptions that it blamed on bad weather and air traffic control issues. The company and the pilots union said the cancellations were not in response to the airline's decision to mandate vaccinations.

Southwest canceled more than 360 flights — 10% of its schedule for the day — on Monday, and more than 1,000 others were delayed, according to the FlightAware tracking service.

Shares of Southwest Airlines Co. briefly fell more than 4% before a partial recovery; they were down 3% by afternoon.

The third straight day of large-scale cancellations left thousands of passengers stranded and upset.

"My concern is we had no explanation really that was, I feel, very legitimate or believable," said Brian Gesch of Cedar Grove, Wisconsin, who was traveling through Reagan Washington National Airport with his wife. He doubted that weather and air traffic controllers were the real issue. "So we are frustrated and missing a day of work."

Arrest solves wave of tool thefts

T-G STAFF REPORT
 A recent wave of tool thefts from construction sites in Shelbyville and Bedford County – and neighboring counties – may have ended with a traffic stop Wednesday.
 Detectives with the Bedford County Sheriff's Office stopped a pickup on Fairfield Pike matching the description of one reported stolen earlier.
 Jonathan Blade Sachs and Lauren Nichole Makin were charged.
 "Their investigation led them to a home on Philippi Road where they found a trailer which was stolen with the truck, another stolen trailer from Unionville and a large assortment of tools," a BCSO press release said.
 Additional investigation by Shelbyville police linked stolen items to two separate burglaries including one in Coffee County. The 17th Judicial District Drug Task Force also assisted.

charged since Wednesday by the Bedford County Sheriff's Office, Shelbyville Police Department, Tennessee Highway Patrol or 17th Judicial District Drug Task Force. They are only charged; guilt or innocence will be determined by the courts.

Don't be a litterbug!

Today's Sound Off is about littering: Dear Heloise: This afternoon, I parked my car in the parking lot, and as I was walking to the grocery store, I noticed someone had tossed two dirty diapers in the parking lot. Not only is that disgusting, it's also unsanitary and really, there's no excuse for it.

Two days ago I went to the cemetery to place flowers on my mother's grave, and as I pulled into the cemetery, I noticed a bunch of empty beer cans scattered over several graves. And disposable masks seem to be on the ground almost everywhere.

What is it with people? Why can't people pick up after themselves? These are just a few examples of littering, but I've seen many more of late. It shows a real lack of respect for the property of others, as well as a careless disregard for safety and health of the public. -- Holly E., Minnetonka, Minnesota

Holly, I don't like litter, either. Respect for the property of others begins in the home, where a number of things should be taught. -- Heloise

- Some additional uses for plastic grocery bags:
  - Use a couple in your luggage to store your soiled clothing.
  - Carry a couple in your glove compartment to use for litter.
  - Use as packing material.

Heloise

the new products on the market for their kitchens, but I have a tiny kitchen in my condo. So instead of buying a number of new gadgets, I make my "tools" do double duty. My blender really gets a workout because I don't have a juicer, and I can blend so many things with it. I have a grater that I use for a number of things such as carrot curls (or chocolate curls for dressing up dessert), as well as for making lemon and orange zest. My utility shears are indispensable. My wok and electric frying pan can cook nearly anything.

By using a little imagination and a few useful tools, I can save a lot of cupboard space and a lot of money. -- Davis W., Bellevue, Ohio

MAKEUP IDEA

Dear Heloise: I hate to carry a purse around, especially at work. I finally saw an eyeglass case that was big enough for me to put a tube of lipstick and a comb inside, and that is all I carry with me these days. -- Jessica V., Claymont, Delaware

BUG FREE

Dear Heloise: Here in Hawaii we have our share of insects. So to keep crawling and flying bugs from attacking my sister's wedding cake at her oceanside wedding, we covered the cake with a lightweight sheet of plastic and anchored it down with tape. Then we placed each leg of the table in a pan of water to keep crawling insects from getting to the cake. This is a rather common way of protecting food here in the islands when we have a barbecue or special event. -- Malia K., Hilo, Hawaii

AG NOTES

BY JOHN TEAGUE
 UT/TSU Extension

WHAT'S THE MARKET?

Dr. Andrew Griffith and Aaron Smith, livestock and crop economists for UT Extension, shared these market comments. (If I have any comments, they'll be in parentheses.)

Fed cattle traded steady compared to last week on a live basis. Prices on a live basis primarily ranged from $122 to $124 while dressed prices were mainly $193 to $196. The 5-area weighted average prices through Thursday were $122.96 live, up $0.31 compared to last week and $195.40 dressed, up $0.24 from a week ago. A year ago, prices were $107.59 live and $169.29 dressed.

Based on Tennessee weekly auction market data, steer prices were $3 to $8 lower for cattle weighing less than 500 pounds and steady to $3 higher for cattle weighing 500 pounds and heavier compared to last week. Heifer prices were unevenly steady compared to last week with light cattle generally displaying lower prices and heavier heifers receiving higher prices compared to a week ago. (To me, this is a market signal to hold these lightweight calves a bit longer to get them heavier and to get more price per pound. And this has been a signal for some time now.) Harvest cow prices were steady to $3 lower while bull prices were steady to softer compared to the previous week.

Corn, soybeans, and wheat were down; cotton was up for the week. (We don't grow cotton here, but the market affects several animal feed ingredients that we use.)

A look at the corn market showed December 2021 corn futures closed at $5.30, down 11 cents since last Friday. For the week, December 2021 corn futures traded between $5.27 and $5.47. In Tennessee, new crop cash corn prices at elevators and barge points ranged from $4.87 to $5.63. March 2022 corn futures closed at $5.39, down 10 cents since last Friday. May 2022 corn futures closed at $5.44, down 10 cents since last Friday.

The average daily close for the December corn contract in 2021 has been $5.20 with a range of $4.30 to $6.37. So, it is very likely that the high and the low has been established for this year. Moving forward export sales will be the key for price direction. USDA projects exports for the 2021/22 marketing year at 2.475 billion bushels with current export sales commitments of 42% of that total five weeks into the 2021/22 marketing year -10% higher than the 5-year average.

November 2021 soybean futures closed at $12.43, down 3 cents since last Friday. For the week, November 2021 soybean futures traded between $12.31 and $12.62. In Tennessee, new crop cash soybean prices at elevators and barge points ranged from $11.65 to $12.55. January 2022 soybean futures closed at $12.54, down 2 cents since last Friday. March 2022 soybean futures closed at $12.63, down 1 cent since last Friday.

December 2021 wheat futures closed at $7.34, down 21 cents since last Friday. December 2021 wheat futures traded between $7.31 and $7.63 this week. March 2022 wheat futures closed at $7.47, down 19 cents since last Friday. New crop wheat cash prices at elevators and barge points ranged from $7.06 to $7.30. July 2022 wheat futures closed at $7.38, down 3 cents since last Friday.

December 2021 cotton futures closed at 110.6 cents, up 6.07 cents since last Friday. For the week, December 2021 cotton futures traded between 103.58 and 116.45 cents. March 2022 cotton futures closed at 107.91 cents, up 6.47 cents since last Friday. May 2022 cotton futures closed at 106.77 cents, up 6.33 cents since last Friday.

WISDOM

This month's Progressive Farmer's Cornerstone section focuses on corn, which is appropriate since we are in the middle of the corn harvest. It seems that it is the basis for all rations, both human and animal alike. Civilizations have developed as the ability to grow food and feed developed. Corn is one of the staples of both. Think about it.

There are some good quotes, and I'll share some of them. President Dwight Eisenhower said "Farming looks mighty easy when your plow is a pencil and you're a thousand miles from the corn field." Many folks of today don't know this but he had a farm at Gettysburg where he raised crops and registered Angus cattle, which he took a lot of pride in.

Alice Waters said "I have a love affair with tomatoes and corn. I remember them from my childhood. I only had them in them in the summer. They were extraordinary." I have said that the ones who have the first ripe tomatoes and sweet corn win the race at the Farmers Market.

Corn kernels are often used as an image for planting knowledge. Dorothy Canfield Fisher said "Libraries are the vessels in which the seed corn for the future is stored."

THE KIDS

Saw them this weekend. They are good.

Hank is recovering from his knee injury, and he says he's ready to play again. I said he needs to let the doctor decide that. But he really is doing well and middle school is working so far.

Ford is making great strides in school, and he's working hard at this third-grade thing. He's learning to study and it's helping him a lot.

Piper is learning lots of things at her daycare, and she is wide-open at everything. She is happy and energetic and that goes a long way. Inquisitive, curious about things, and now asking that age-old question, "Why?"

Love 'em!

THREE-PEAT

Champion senior wins 3rd straight title

SEVIERVILLE — In 2018, the state of Tennessee got a small taste of what then-freshman Evan Woosley-Reed could do on a major stage of golf for high school athletes.

At Willowbrook Golf Club, he posted a cool 142, two-day score and finished second in the Small Class tournament.

He followed with back-to-back state titles at Willowbrook as a sophomore and junior, and to be frank, not much has changed atop the leaderboard in the past three seasons.

Woosley-Reed completed his historic career on Friday at Sevierville Golf Club, the site of the 2021 state championship and recorded his third-straight state title to end his career at Cascade.

In perhaps his toughest fight of his high school career, Woosley-Reed outdueled North Greene's Aidan Collier to win by one stroke to record his state title.

Through the first day of competition, Woosley-Reed posted a 66, two strokes up on Collier, but saw the North Greene standout shoot a 65, one stroke up on Woosley-Reed, on the second day of the tournament.

Even with Collier's 65 on Day 2, Woosley-Reed was able to keep his composure and make back-to-back birdies on 14 and 15 on Day 2 before closing out with a birdie on the Par 5 Hole 18 to secure his third-straight title.

Woosley-Reed wasn't the only Cascade golfer to make an appearance in the state championship.

Tatyana Greene also qualified as an individual and her performance was nothing short of special during her first trip to the big dance.

Greene shot a combined, two-day score of 167 to finish tied for ninth. Joining Greene in the three-way tie for third was Cornersville's Annabelle Mulliniks and Kingston's Kailey Lane.

Greene turned in an 84 on her first day of competition, but rallied with a strong finish by shooting three-straight pars before closing with a birdie on 18.

Gordonsville's Sophie Linder won the girls tournament with a two-day score of 132.

Webb finishes 4th at state

By CHRIS SIERS
sports@t-g.com

SEVIERVILLE — Competing among the best in the Division II Class A state tournament, the Webb School was led by a trio of Browns to the team's fourth-place finish.

Webb shot a combined 619 score through the two-day event and finished just a stroke behind third-place finisher Clarksville Academy.

CAK won the tournament with a final score of 593, beating second-place finisher Trinity Christian by 20 strokes.

It was the usual cast of suspects that led the way for Webb, highlighted by senior Conner Brown's final competition for the Feet.

He shot a two-day score of 145 and finished fifth individually to conclude his career for Webb.

Brown had a strong finish to the first day of competition and following a double bogey on Hole 12, rallied to shoot even, including birdies on 15 and 17, to finish with a 70 on the first day.

He followed up with a 75 on the second day to round out his 145.

Eli Brown, an eighth-grader for Webb, finished just five places back with a 153, good enough to tie for 10th overall.

He shot a 78 on the first day and improved his overall standing by dropping three strokes for his second day score.

Noah Brown turned in a 77 on the first day of competition and followed with an 83 to finish with a 160, while freshman Andrew Reeves finished a stroke back at 161.

Preston Hall was the final player for Webb to compete in the boys tournament and finished with a 173.

Champs stop Jo Byrns, return to win column

By WILL CARTER
For the T-G

WARTRACE — After suffering a loss to the Forrest Rockets last week, the Cascade Champions returned to the win column with a 22-14 victory over Jo Byrns on homecoming, but the Red Devils did not go down without a fight.

The Champions (7-1) controlled the ball for the majority of the first half Friday night, producing 85 rushing yards and 57 passing yards with a pair of touchdowns from the legs and arm of Ryan Inmon.

The Red Devils (3-5) struck early in the first quarter on a 39-yard run by quarterback Ryan Dowlen, but the Champions' defense held strong, allowing only seven yards the remainder of the first half.

Homecoming celebrations took place at The Stable before kickoff, but the Champs were able to focus on the task at hand once the first whistle sounded.

"Bouncing back from last week with a win is huge. It's a big distraction with it being homecoming, but the guys battled through it and bounced back," Cascade coach Jake Tyre said. Momentum carried into the second half for the Champions on a healthy kickoff return by Taylor Dowell deep into the Red Devils' territory.

A few handoffs and keepers later, Inmon crossed the goal line for his second rushing touchdown of the game giving the Champs a 22-8 lead.

Right when it seemed the Champions would run away with the win, turnovers started piling up.

Inmon threw his only interception of the game after Taylor Dowell came away with an interception in the Champs' favor.

On the ensuing Cascade drive, Inmon broke loose up the middle before coughing up the ball for his second turnover of the game.

But the Cascade defense battled all night, giving up only six points off turnovers and totaling five sacks.

"The defense played lights out. We gave away too many opportunities, and the defense held strong for us," Tyre said.

With the win, the Champions end their non-region schedule before making a trip to Loretto next Friday for a Region 5-AA contest with the Mustangs who are (0-3) in region play so far this season.

"It's a huge region game. Our goal is still out there for the taking, so we just gotta come out and do it," Tyre said.

Shelbyville Central's defense turned in an outstanding performance in a matchup where points were a minimum.

A couple of missed scoring opportunities early proved costly as the Golden Eagles dropped a 14-12 decision to talented Hendersonville in a non-district clash on Friday night at the Eagles Nest.

The Commandos (5-2) entered the game scoring an average of 30.8 points a game, featuring a very good run attack.

Shelbyville Central's defense only gave up one touchdown, with Hendersonville's other score coming off a pick-six.

"Our defense really played well against a very good team that can run the football," defensive coordinator Jud Dryden said. "Their only touchdown against our defense was aided by a three penalties that we had."

The Commandos offense got on the board when Torin Baker rushed 16 yards at the 1:40 mark of the first quarter.

Shelbyville Central responded with a nice pass play from Kade Cunningham to Gavin Donegan, covering 38 yards for a touchdown to cut the lead to 7-6 early in the second quarter.

The Eagle defense made a huge play and forced a fumble that was scooped up by sophomore Logan McBee and returned 53 yards to the end zone for a touchdown for the 12-7 advantage at the intermission.

The lone score in the second half was a pass interception by Ellis Ellis that was returned 65 yards for what proved to be the game-winning touchdown.

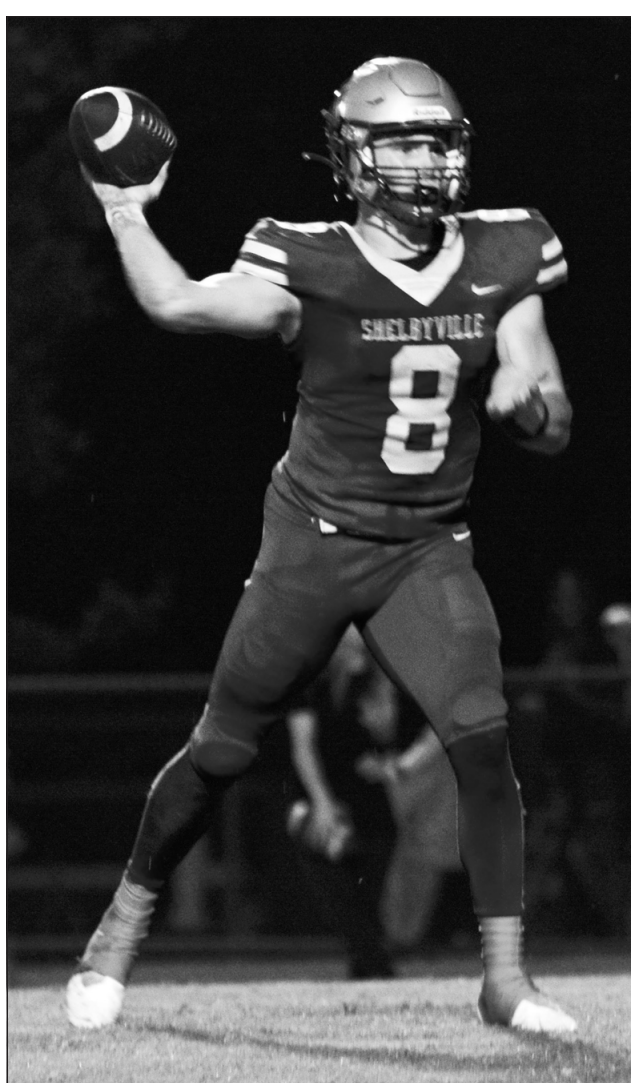

"It would have been nice to have been able to punch one of those early scoring opportunities in and it might have been a completely different game," Dryden said. "Our guys fought tonight and we thought we had a good week of practice."

Cunningham connected on 10-of-22 passes for 142 yards and added 37 yards on the ground to lead the Eagles.

Donegan had a pair of catches for 75 yards

The Eagles (2-5) travels to Warren County for a region matchup on Friday night at 7.

Lady Champs take second in district

T-G STAFF REPORT

With the program still in its infancy, the Cascade Lady Champion volleyball squad has made quite the impression early on, and the results speak for themselves.

After a solid regular season, the Lady Champions blazed their way to a second-place finish in the district tournament and for the first time in program history, qualified for the region tournament.

In the district semifinals, Cascade made quick work of Culleoka and won in straight sets to secure a rematch against perennial power Eagleville in the finals.

Against Culleoka, Cascade posted a 25-14 first set win and followed with back-to-back 25-20 victories to complete the three-set sweep.

Senior Caroline McKamey provided a bulk of the offense with 12 kills and three aces, along with 10 digs.

Hayden Jones added four aces, three kills along with 21 assists.

But as swiftly as the Lady Champion sweep against Culleoka came, the Lady Champs were dealt an equally difficult loss in the finals against Eagleville.

The Lady Eagles claimed the district title by defeating Cascade in three sets.

Eagleville took the first set with a convincing 25-15 win.

Cascade rallied and pushed the Lady Eagles to a 25-19 second set before dropping the third set, 25-18.

McKamey again led the way with nine kills and a pair of aces, while Abrielle Presley was a stopper at the net, recording 12 blocks.

Even with the loss, Cascade racked up quite the number of accolades for its effort during the 2021 season.

Coach Kendall Hampton was named district coach of the year, Ashley Cope was a named tournament MVP and McKamey and Addison Pope earned all-tournament nods.

Cope and McKamey also were named to the regular season all-district team as well.

While the loss dashed the hopes of a district title, Cascade's season is still alive with a berth in the upcoming region tournament.

Cascade will travel to Sale Creek on Tuesday for the region quarterfinals.

Eaglettes claim win in Senior Night match

T-G STAFF REPORT

Shelbyville Central's Golden Eaglette soccer team claimed a 4-1 victory over visiting Spring Hill in a non-district Senior Night match Thursday.

Paige Blackburn scored a pair of goals while Kira King and Sharaid Palmeros each added a goal for the winners.

"I am so happy for these seniors. Many of them have overcome injury and other issues throughout the season to compete," Eaglette coach Chris Fritz said. "Many younger girls stepped up to the plate to help celebrate their dedication to our soccer program. We thank them for the time and hard work they have put into this year especially."

Shelbyville Central (8-4-2) plays at Warren County in the district tournament this coming week.

Byard opening blast sparks Titans past Jags

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Tennessee safety Kevin Byard has a plan for the ball from his first NFL touchdown.

It's a fairly unique one, too.

Byard won't be putting the ball on a shelf or in a display case. He's going to add it to a collection of turnover footballs stashed in a closet back home and eventually have them turned into a leather couch or chair.

This one probably deserves to at least not be used as a cushion.

Byard scooped up a fumble on the third play of the game, went untouched for 30 yards and gave the Tennessee Titans a huge spark that propelled them to a 37-19 victory at Jacksonville on Sunday.

"It's been a long time coming," said Byard, in his sixth season. "I just decided to make a play."

Rookie cornerback Elijah

Molden got the momentum-changing turnover started when he knocked the ball loose while tackling tight end Dan Arnold on a third-and-10 play. Byard fell on the ball, realized no one was around him, popped up and ran the other way for a 7-0 lead.

The Titans (3-2) never looked back, winning their fourth straight and eighth in the past nine meetings in the AFC South series.

"Great to pop off the game like, was super excited," Byard said.

It was one of two huge plays that Tennessee's much-maligned, injury-riddled defense turned in against Jacksonville (0-5), which lost its 20th consecutive game.

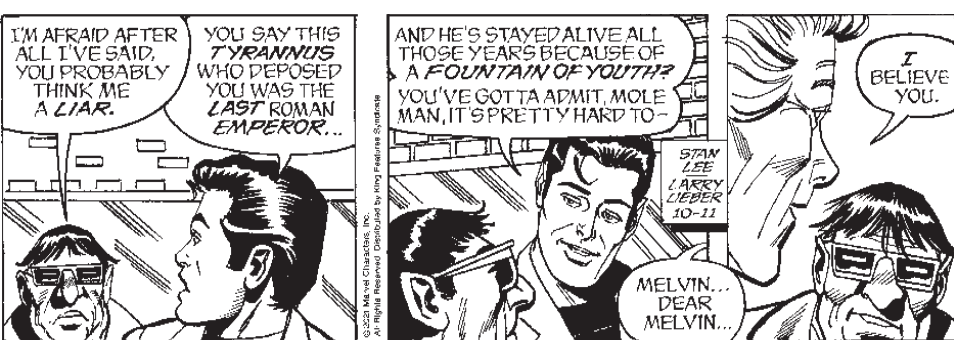

The other was a fourth-down stop in the fourth quarter when the Jaguars were trying to rally from an 18-point deficit.

Trevor Lawrence appeared to run for his second touchdown of the game on a third-and-goal play from the 5. But it was overturned on replay, and officials placed the ball inside the 1. Instead of calling for a quarterback sneak — coach Urban Meyer said Lawrence was uncomfortable doing that, which Lawrence later denied — offensive coordinator Darrell Bevell dialed up an outside run for backup Carlos Hyde.

PROJECT DESCRIPTION / PURPOSE

Headwaters Reserve, LLC proposes stream and wetland impacts associated with various mitigation treatments. Stream impacts include preservation of approximately 130 linear feet, re-establishment of approximately 1,191 linear feet, and restoration of approximately 14,286 linear feet of unnamed tributaries to Buchanan Branch. Wetland impacts include enhancement of approximately 1.68 acres and re-establishment of approximately 0.28 acres of wetland. This work is associated with the development of a stream and wetland compensatory mitigation bank known as the Duck River Mitigation Bank and is currently under review by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Tennessee Interagency Review Team.

ANTIDEGRADATION
In accordance with the Tennessee Antidegradation Statement (RULE 0400-40-03-.06), the Division has made the preliminary determination that the proposed activities will result in no more than de minimis degradation and will not result in an appreciable permanent loss of resource values.

FACTORS CONSIDERED
In deciding whether to issue or deny this permit, the Division will consider all comments of record and the requirements of applicable federal and state laws. The Division will consider the nature, scale and effects of proposed impacts. The Division will consider practicable alternatives to the alteration, loss of waters or habitat, diminishment in biological diversity, cumulative or secondary impacts to the water resource, and adverse impacts to unique, high quality, or impaired waters. In making this decision, a final determination will be made evaluating appreciable permanent loss of resource values and proposed compensatory mitigation to ensure the project will result in no overall net loss of state water resources values.

HOW TO COMMENT
TDEC is requesting public comment on this proposed permit action. Obtaining a broad range of facts and opinions on Agency actions is one of the best ways to ensure appropriate decisions. Persons wishing to comment on the proposal are invited to submit written comments to the Division. Written comments must be received within thirty days following distribution of the approved public notice materials (including signage and newspaper ad). Comments will become part of the record and will be considered in the final decision. The applicant's name and permit number should be referenced. Send all written comments to the Division's address listed below to the attention of the permit coordinator. You may also comment via email to water.permits@tn.gov.

After the Division makes a final permit determination, a permit appeal may be filed by the applicant or by any person who participated in the public comment period whose appeal is based on comments given to the Division in writing during the public comment period or in testimony at a formal public hearing. If it is hard for you to read, speak, or understand English, TDEC may be able to provide translation or interpretation services free of charge. Please contact Saul Castillo at 615-532-0462 or saul.castillo@tn.gov for more information.

PUBLIC HEARING
Interested persons may request in writing that the Division hold a public hearing on this application. The request must be received by the Division within the comment period, indicate the interest of the party requesting it, the reason(s) a hearing is warranted, and the water quality issues being raised. When there is sufficient public interest in water quality issues, the Division will hold a public hearing in accordance with 0400-40-07-.04(4) (f). Send all public hearing requests to the attention of the permit coordinator at the address listed below or via email to water.permits@tn.gov. Any scheduled public hearings will be advertised through a similar public notice process.

Motlow is 100% on state audit

T-G STAFF REPORT

Motlow State Community College recently underwent a comprehensive audit, conducted by the Tennessee Comptroller of the Treasury, that resulted in zero findings. While this is not unheard of, it is extremely rare.

“This zero finding is another example of how Motlow supports its students...how it works to provide students with the best financial aid,” Motlow president Michael Torrence told the Times-Gazette.

He also emphasized how this is an example how the college is not independent as they worked with the State of Tennessee to complete this audit.

“When we have zero

findings, it's a collective effort: it's a team effort. I couldn't be more pleased with our staff," he said.

And what people don't see is the amount of work staff puts into what they do-coming in Saturday mornings and working late evenings to get these accomplishments done, Torrence said.

MOTLOW STATE

“Whenever you have an audit, it's up to auditor and his or her judgment to assess risks of material misstatements that could be due to fraud or error. Auditing brings a systematic, disciplined approach to evaluating and improving risk management, control, and governance processes. It's an independent and objective consulting activity.

The Financial and Compliance Audit Report reviewed Motlow's financial statements for the years ending on June 30, 2019 and 2020.

The audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

“To achieve a zero-findings State Audit is a testimonial to the degree that the business/finance unit strives for to be accountable for student tuition dollars, grants, fundraising, and State appropriations,” said Hilda Tunstill, executive vice president for Finance and Administration at Motlow in a recent press release.

The areas that were reviewed in the audit include the Business Office functions, Financial Aid, Foundation Office, and Information Technology.

How staff received that rare zero finding, Dr. Torrence explained, was in large part due to “attention to detail and painstakingly” going through all the accounts.

“What Motlow has meant for the last 50 years to region is how seriously we take what we do. We want to exhaust our reliability for students and give them confidence...” he said.
